United States Submits Information of 'Great Importance' on Franco Spain

Contents of U. S. Report Not Disclosed

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States today submitted to the United Nations a voluminous report which an informed source said contained information of "great importance" to the Security Council subcommittee investigating Franco Spain.

The contents of the report were not disclosed, but U. S. delegation sources said it consisted of a 62-page general document and 15 attachments, which altogether made up an exhibit between eight and 10 inches thick.

Much of the material previously had been published, but an informant who would not be identified said it contained more new material on the Franco regime than the subcommittee had received up to now from all other sources.

The main document was said to deal with the following subjects: German assets in Spain, Germans in Spain, Spanish war potential, efforts of Franco Spain to penetrate the American republics and the Franco regime's reactions in relations with the United States.

'URGENTLY STUDIED'

A spokesman for the U. S. delegation said some points on which the subcommittee requested information still were being studied "urgently" by the state department and

Bathing Beauties Entering Jaycee Contest Total 30

Twenty-eight entries from Pampa and at least two from out-of-town have received in the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce bathing beauty contest, to be held next Friday night at the Junior high gymnasium.

The entries include two sets of twins, Ruth and Frances Mathieu and Margaret and Marjorie Wilson. Shamrock's Jaycees have entered Reta Faye Caton, and an entry from Miami and possibly one from Lufkin also expected. Joe Fischer, local Jaycee president, said yesterday.

The winner in the local contest will receive an expenses paid trip to Vernon where she will compete for the $500 first prize there, May 31.

Second and third place winners here will receive $15 and $5 each prize, respectively. All three winners will be given a pair of nylon.

A "dress rehearsal" has been called for Monday night at 7 o'clock in the Palm room of the City hall and all contestants are urged to attend and should wear their bathing suits.

Another "dress" rehearsal will be held Thursday night in the Junior high gym.

To help defray the cost of sending the contestants to Vernon, the Jaycees are sponsoring a dance which will follow the contest Friday night. The money will also be used to pay for prizes.

Tickets are being sold by Jaycee members and will also be distributed by the contestants. Admission is 75 cents per person, tax included, for the contest and dance. Pinky Powell and his orchestra will provide entertainment.

Contestants and sponsors are Ruth and Frances Mathieu, Bentley's; Gwen Weston, Murfrees; Margaret and Marjorie Wilson, Zales'; Anna Lois Beasley, Franklins'; Anna Lewis, Levis'; Joan Conrod, Penny's; Wanda Hyatt, Smith's Shoe Store; Evelyn Moorehead.

Russia, West Are Split on Social Issues

NEW YORK (AP)—A split between Russia and the west on important social issues was evident last night in the final preparations for the meeting of the United Nations economic and social council here next Saturday.

ANALYSIS OF WORK

An analysis of the work this month of the various commissions named by the council at its meeting in London last February shows there is disagreement on these issues:

1. Whether representatives of governments or experts in particular fields should sit on commissions being set up to study and try to alleviate world social and economic ills.

2. The refugee problem. Russia has made it clear, particularly in the commission on human rights headed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, that the Soviet Union feels governmental representatives, empowered to act for their states, should be named on the commissions.

The divergence of opinion whether non-governmental representatives qualified in a particular field should serve on a commission or whether it should be strictly on the basis of governmental representation has extended to other groups during the month.

United Nations' servers said this will be one of the problems the council must deal with when it meets.

The second issue—that of the refugees—finds a special commission on refugees and displaced persons in some disagreement.

Russia was reported to be insisting on a clear definition of general refugees and those who are Quislings and traitors. In London, the Soviet wanted all war criminals disguised as refugees to be sent back to their countries immediately.

Mrs. Roosevelt contended that

Soap Box Derby Film Shown Here

Soap Box Derby enthusiasts were treated to a moving picture Saturday night of the 1941 running of the All-American derby at Akron, Ohio. Some details of the forthcoming races here—to be held sometime in July—were explained to those boys present. Bob Dedmon, past local winner, was seen in the film as he registered at Akron.

Another film is to be received for showing here next week. Bob Grammer, general chairman of the Pampa Daily News-Lions club derby committee, said. The date and place of showing will be announced in The News, which sponsors the races with Lions and Cubeson Chevrolet company here. The film was shown with the Cabot companies projector, Bill Kelley, employe, operating.

Boys between 11 and 15, inclusive, are eligible, but their parents must sign the entry blanks. Registration is made at the Pampa Daily News or at Cubeson Chevrolet. There is no charge for entry. Rule books may be secured without signing for the races.

Grammer told the youths, who saw the picture, in the Palm Room at the city hall, that the local derby would be run on the old Miami highway north of the city, provided permission is granted by the county commissioners court.

Steel helmets, which boys will wear in the races, are available—at no charge—to boys who sign up.

Connally said in a formal statement that "substantial progress" had been made at Paris which, it was believed, would "help the next meeting on June 15 to agree upon treaties."

Some of Vandenberg's friends report that he considered the Paris meeting pretty largely a failure, but he declined public comment at the airport.

Murray Urges His Steelworkers To Fight Dissension

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—CIO President Philip Murray urged his united steelworkers yesterday, in an address closing their third biennial convention, not to let dissension and distrust grow in your ranks.

"As a crusading, militant, thoroughly democratic organization, carry on in the interests of men, women, and children and the nation," Murray told the steelworkers.

The address came half an hour after the convention was thrown into uproar by an alien law during which a number of men engaged in 10-minute fist-fighting.

Witnesses said the fighting flared over the administration of a union district and that men involved were from the Inland Steel company plant at Hammond, Ind.

Murray told the convention that the nation's destiny was in the hands of labor, which "has been fighting with its back to the wall to maintain constructive programs passed by congress from 1933 to 1935."

"The said the steelworkers union was a 'big, powerful, influential organization' which 'I, as president, challenge to elect substantial, progressive citizens to office this year.'"

"Remain steadfast in your loyalty to the CIO. It has done much for you. Do not let dissension and distrust grow in your ranks because men, women and children are bigger than issues."

The convention revised sections of its constitution in the closing session, approving, after heated debate, an increase in monthly dues from $1 to $1.50.

Harvester Annuals Will Be Distributed

The Harvester, Pampa High school annual for the school year of 1945-46, has arrived from the publishing company and will be distributed Monday at 10 a. m. from the principal's office. Co-editors for the year book are Alberta Williams and Erma Lee Kenney. Miss Clara Glick is the publications sponsor.

Boys 16 to 18 years of age must have the consent of their parents written and notarized before they may be accepted. Physical examinations by a local physician are also required.

Reverend West stated that anyone may apply to him in reference to making an application and full details will be explained as they are received.

He added that applications are wanted now, although there will be boats going out over a period of several weeks.

Byrnes Reports to President Truman On Paris Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes reported to President Truman for two hours yesterday on the Paris conference of foreign ministers—which failed to settle the peace of Europe out in Byrnes' view as reported by associates, did not fail completely to advance the prospects for a settlement.

The secretary will report to the nation on the conference by radio Monday night.

Returning with him were Senators Connally (D-Texas), chairman of the foreign relations committee, and Vandenberg (R-Mich.), leading top spokesmen on international matters.

Connally told a news conference that he would report to the senate Wednesday on the conference. Vandenberg is expected to speak to the senate Thursday after Byrnes' Monday night talk.

Trip to Europe Offered 'Cowboys'

A two-month, expense-paid trip to Europe and $100 salary is being offered to men and boys, ages 16 to 20, who will go to serve as attendants on boats carrying cattle for the United Nations rehabilitation and relief organization.

Rev. Russell G. West, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, said yesterday that application blanks had been received here and urged that all who were interested in making the trip should contact him.

The church had volunteered to enlist men and boys for the trip. "This would be an experience no man or boy would soon forget," Reverend West said. "The cause is one of the most worthy of our time and this is a great opportunity for men and boys to take advantage of such an offer."

The rules of the trip state that the applicant should have some experience in the handling of cattle, as the importance of keeping the cattle in good condition cannot be stressed too much.

In addition, the applicant must be of good moral character, must be a task undertaken by a Christian organization.

Boys 16 to 18 years of age must have the consent of their parents written and notarized before they may be accepted. Physical examinations by a local physician are also required.

Reverend West stated that anyone may apply to him in reference to making an application and full details will be explained as they are received.

He added that applications are wanted now, although there will be boats going out over a period of several weeks.

Newspapers Hit As Loggers Halt

A Canadian mill strike and a possible extended tie-up in transportation, both having a direct bearing on already hard-to-get newsprint, threatened Saturday a further reduction in the size of Texas newspapers.

A CIO woodworkers' strike which closed down British Columbia's Powell River newsprint mills prompted drastic moves on the part of some Metropolitan papers to conserve meager supplies of newsprint now on hand.

Threats of a drastic newsprint shortage in some sections of the nation will not immediately affect the Pampa Daily News, although three other local newspapers face sharp curtailment.

Summarizing the local newsprint supply situation, Enigh Julliard, Daily News publisher, said the News obtains its newsprint from Eastern Canada, an area which is not now affected by a strike in Canadian mills.

Three other newspapers owned by the Hollis family—the Colorado Springs Gazette-Telegraph and the Santa Ana and Marysville, California, papers—already have, or will immediately take steps to cut the use of newsprint, as they are served by the Powell river, Canada, news-

Loggers Strike at British Columbia Newsprint Mill

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—British Columbia labor minister George S. Pearson was quoted yesterday by the News-Herald as saying he was "satisfied that some move will be made in the next two or three days to end the strike by 37,000 loggers, which has threatened the province's rich newsprint industry."

Mills producing newsprint for many United States newspapers reportedly had only a three-week supply of logs on hand when the loggers struck Wednesday in a wage dispute.

Although the News-Herald story did not elaborate upon the labor minister's statement, it said that James Gordon, senior report to federal labor minister Mitchell in Ottawa recommended the exercising of any authority which would be "binding upon the disputants." Judge Sloan acted as conciliator in the dispute.

The loggers, represented by the International Woodworkers of America (IWOA), originally sought a 10 per cent increase in pay of 25 cents, later offering to settle for 15 cents. Management's latest offer was a boost of $1 per day, and the operators have challenged the union to poll its membership on this proposal.

Business Survey To Be Taken Here

A business survey of all business and professions will be made this week, starting tomorrow, by the chamber of commerce.

The survey will include listings of all concerns, names of managers, number of employees, addresses, telephone numbers and other pertinent information.

It is being made due to the numerous requests received by the office for the above information, said E. C. Weitzinger, manager, and because the information is not available through any direct source.

Information collected will be available to anyone requesting it at the C. O. office.

Mr. Margaret Eavin, bookkeeper and representative at the C. O. office, will make the survey.

Announcement Made 'Minutes' Before 4 P.M. Strike Deadline

By The Associated Press

A troup of the nation's vast railroad system was averted for at least five days yesterday (Saturday) — minutes before the paralyzing walkout of 250,000 engineers and trainmen was set to get underway.

Widespread confusion was reported in many major rail centers as trainmen preparing to strike waited for receipt of official word, particularly in Eastern Standard Time zones. Similar situations were reported in Central zones but in Chicago there was comparatively little disruption and most major roads reported nearly normal operations and no tieups of trains.

In New York, official announcement of the postponement came shortly after 6 p. m. (EST), thus ending a stoppage of train service which for two hours left thousands stranded in stations.

A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and Alvanley Johnston, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, agreed to reset the strike call for 4 p. m. (local standard time) Thursday after a telephone conversation with President Truman.

SPECIAL CODE MESSAGES

They wired special code messages to their members to stay on the job, even as pre-strike preparations had begun to slow the pulse of the nation's $27,000,000,000 rail system and government agencies shaped hurried plans to meet the crisis.

The President, in his telephone conversation with Whitney and Johnston, had asked they delay the strike for five days and come to Washington today (Sunday) for further negotiations with the carriers. He felt, he said, further talks might be rewarded with an agreement.

DELAY THE STRIKE

A spokesman at the office of the trainmen's union in Cleveland said Whitney had made a proposition to delay the strike if Mr. Truman could assure the Brotherhoods of further concessions and that the postponement would not be a violation of the Smith-Connally act. Mr. Truman gave these assurances, the spokesman added.

The postponement was made public almost simultaneously in Washington and Cleveland a few minutes before 4 p. m. (EST).

CONSIDERABLE CONFUSION

The development caused considerable confusion in the Eastern

Tension Relaxing In Polio Centers

By The Associated Press

Tension was noticeably relaxing today (Sunday) at San Antonio and Corpus Christi centers of a fight against the spread of poliomyelitis, but vigorous cleanup campaigns there continued.

And additional ammunition for the battle was due. Three freight planes, delayed in their takeoff for Austin, Texas, yesterday (Saturday), with 18,000 pounds of DDT and 2,000 spools, were to leave Newark, N. J., early today.

The insecticide, provided by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, will go to Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, who said he would receive the gift for distribution to those Texas communities most in need of DDT, and which have not been able to purchase it.

San Antonio mounted the number of persons stricken there with poliomyelitis or cephalitis since May 1 at 29. A 22-year-old youth was reported yesterday, as the latest polio case.

Delayed Order Disrupts Texas Rail Schedules

By The Associated Press

Texas rail schedules were disrupted Saturday afternoon when official orders postponing a scheduled railroad strike were not received by Texas union officials before 4 p. m. today (Sunday).

Trains were reported at Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth, Galveston, Dallas and Big Spring and Brownwood.

E. G. Johnson, chairman of engineers for the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad at Dallas, said he was asked by his telephone three hours for official calls from Cleveland that didn't come through.

There was a delay in handling through trains at Dallas because Union Terminal company did not receive the word.

Locomotives rolled to a halt at Houston promptly at 4 p. m.

E. E. McNeil, general chairman for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers for Southern Pacific lines in Texas and Louisiana said "I've heard the word, but my hands are tied."

Also at Houston, a spokesman for the Brotherhood of railway trainmen on Southern Pacific lines in Texas and Louisiana stated: "The strike is on until we have contrary orders from our higher ups."

Sixteen minutes after the 4 p. m. deadline, B. A. Erwin, general agent in charge of operations for the M-K-T lines at Houston, declared: "Our trains have quit running."

At Fort Worth, the Burlington-Rock Island-Zephyr for Houston, the Katy to St. Louis and the Texas and Pacific to New Orleans, all past their schedules to leave, were marooned, crewless. The rail Brotherhoods at Fort Worth explained they had received no official notice from headquarters that the strike had been postponed.

Santa Fe trains were at a standstill in Brownwood as 225 men went out on strike at 4 p. m. Union officials said they had gotten no official word of postponement.

API To Stress Safety at Next Spring Meeting

Seeing an increasing need for safety education and training of oil men, the next spring meeting of the Panhandle Chapter of the Production Division of the American Petroleum Institute will be devoted to safety.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, May 23, in the Palm room of City hall, and will be open to the public.

Dr. R. M. Bellamy, Pampa, will adapt safety films shown by the Halliburton company to the oil field. Recently returned from army service, he will also explain first aid techniques developed during the war.

Safety programs in the fields were considerably relaxed during the war. With the return of former employees and many inexperienced workers the API hopes to assist in establishing improved safety programs.

Gordon Burch, independent oil operator of Borger, will be on hand with his packet of Black Magic for entertainment at the Thursday night meeting.

Officers Elected To Panhandle Producers Assn.

New officers of the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners association, elected by over 150 members at the annual meeting held in Amarillo Friday night, are J. R. Phillips, Borger, president, who succeeds R. C. Kay, Amarillo, who served for two years; Cecil O'Brien, Amarillo, vice president; H. D. Thompson, Amarillo, secretary-treasurer, and Lester Wiles, Borger, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Directors elected are E. J. Dunham, Jr., and M. E. Davis, both of Pampa; Earl Blackburn, Borger; C. J. Oates, Stinnett; W. B. Allen, A. E. Hermann, R. C. Kay and T. G. Nichols, all of Amarillo.

Substance of the talks given by Barry Brown the association's tax representative, and Harold Fell, executive vice-president of the Independent Petroleum association of America, was to warn oil men of greatly boosted taxes in the near future and action being taken by the IPAA in regards to the removal of control of the petroleum industry by the Office of Price Administration.

Snell Nominated for Governor in Primary

PORTLAND, Ore.—(AP)—Gov. Earl Snell, seeking a second four-year term, won republication nomination in Friday's primary election by a 5 to 1 margin.

The governor defeated Henry Black, Portland house painter, and will run next November against Carl C. Donagh, Portland, former U. S. district attorney who was unopposed for the democratic nomination.

Oregon's four congressmen, all republicans, were unopposed for re-nomination and there were democratic contests in two of the districts.

Bandits Arrested In Try for Opium

TIJUANA, Mex.—(AP)—Police fought off eight men and captured two in an attempt by bandits to raid the Tijuana courthouse and seize 25 cans of contraband opium Friday, Police Chief Rowolfo Valles Ponce reported yesterday.

The night watchman at the jail was shot in the hip during the early morning exchange of gunfire.

Ponce said all the raiders, traveling in two automobiles, were believed to be Americans. The two arrested were jailed as Lester Woodrow Titgen, 32, of (1054 W. Platte St.) Los Angeles, and Joseph Totenberg, 39, of (2515 Border St.) Los Angeles.

One of the raiders' cars was seized. Ponce said it was registered to a Los Angeles man (whose name was withheld) suspected of being active in illegal narcotic activities.

The courthouse fight started after Federal Judge Higinio Guerra, who has an apartment in the building, observed the raiders' approach and summoned police.

Officers said the opium had been seized recently in Mexicali.

Shed Collapse Kills Customs Inspector

LAREDO—(AP)—One Mexican customs inspector was crushed to death and three other inspectors were injured when a shed at customs quarters on the Mexican side of the International bridge collapsed early yesterday.

The collapse occurred after supporting posts had been struck by an automobile.

Inspector Rinaldo Montemayor was killed. Chief Inspector Hilberto Ruiz, Inspector Jose H. Guerrero, and Inspector Ricardo Rio Rodriguez were injured.

Singapore Rice Ration Drastically Reduced

SINGAPORE—(AP)—Drastic reductions in rice rations for the population of Singapore and the Malayan union were announced yesterday with the official explanation that the government expects to receive little more than half of the 69,000-ton combined food board allocation for the current quarter.

The ration for men will be cut 25 percent to three pounds of rice per week. The women's will be reduced 40 percent to two pounds and the children's will be slashed 50 percent to one pound.

American Lawyers To Represent Japanese

TOKYO—(AP)—Fourteen attorneys from the United States arrived yesterday to join 10 other American lawyers assigned to represent Hideko Tojo and 27 other top Japanese defendants at war crimes trials.

Navy Capt. Beverly M. Coleman, chief of defense counsel, said that ultimately each of the 38 defendants would be represented by an American attorney in addition to Japanese lawyers of their own choosing.

First Aiders From Four Towns To Attend RC First Aid Instruction

Six Pampans will attend the Red Cross first aid instruction course which opens Monday night in the city commission room of the City hall. H. M. Cone, chairman of the Pampa Chapter Red Cross first aid committee announced yesterday. First Aiders from adjoining chapters of Spearman, Wheeler, Shamrock, Miami, McLean, Panhandle and Borger have been invited to take part in this course.

Those having signed up in the Pampa chapter for the course are Miss Marie Siedle, Girl Scout executive; Hugo Olsen, Boy Scout executive; Frank Stallings, public accountant; Frank H. Walker, H. M. Cone, Paul J. Thurston, and E. L. Norman, all of the Cabot Co.

The 15-hour course, which will continue until Friday, May 24, is under the direction of Edwin C. Cram, first aid, water safety and accident prevention field representative of the National Red Cross.

Upon completion of the course, covering first aid techniques, skills and procedures, as well as teaching methods the members will be qualified to teach junior, standard and advanced first aid courses, and will receive instructor certificates from the National organization.

In announcing the course for instructors Cone pointed out that this will increase the facilities of the Panhandle chapters for first aid instruction. Upon certification of these new instructors, a new series of classes in both standard and advanced first aid will be offered, he said.

"The need for every housewife and worker in the Panhandle to become skilled in first aid is apparent when the figures are consulted," Cone stated. "Latest figures available from the National Safety Council show that during the calendar year 4,550,000 persons were injured in accidents which occurred at home, or 100,000 more than the total of all other accidents. It is the prevention of such accidents which the Red Cross first aid program seeks to promote, as well as proper care in emergencies. Now, with the addition of qualified instructors, everyone in the Panhandle will have an opportunity to participate in this human conservation program of the Red Cross."

SPECULATION AND CONCLUSION

Russia being what it is, a land where an outsider has no privilege at all, what one might say about it would be nothing more than a matter of conjecture. Perhaps that is one of the reasons the world cannot understand just what are Russia's objectives in this world; and, consequently, justifies most people in their misgivings toward her.

However, not all of our conjectures can be taken lightly for some things are overly obvious, though we do make our observations from the far outside.

For instance, it is not too difficult for us to analyze some of the things that go on there as they are released from the Kremlin. Since the war ended last August, there have been numerous stories out of Russia about further demobilization of armed force there. And now and then information leaks out of Russia—information which would never be permitted by Stalin.

It is a fact that during the war large numbers of peasants were taken from the farms and placed in the factories. They came to like urban life, and now prefer to stay on. The men whom they replaced are being demobilized. This has created a problem for the government.

The soldiers who fought the Germans on foreign soil and finally came in contact with the British and American soldiers have seen some of the things people in other lands enjoy. They are considerably better than those things found back in communistic Russia.

Concurrently, Stalin has asked his people to make sacrifices for another of his "five-year plans," a system of severe regimentation in order to make the state and the party stronger.

These things are somewhat discouraging to people who have come in touch with the outside world. They yearn for the freedom of self-determination.

A large segment of these dissatisfied, we can imagine, are in the army; and a strong army is a dangerous thing when those in its ranks are disgruntled.

Somehow—without knowing the true conditions, of course—we feel that the army is demobilizing, not because Stalin has no future plans for it, but because it might turn on the hand that directs it, at Moscow.

LET'S REVIEW

Education, or the lack of it, gets blamed for about all the world's ills. It is pretty generally agreed that the peoples of Earth need teaching, or perhaps re-teaching. Moreover, it is not such a simple matter in any company to start a free-for-all discussion about the science of education. In fact there are some who insist that teaching is an art and not a science at all.

Some commentators crusade for penetrating study in narrow fields of learning while others whoop it up for wider browsing ranges. Both philosophies can be run to extremes. Over done, specialization gets people in a rut, cutting vitality, gone wild, leads men's minds at wool-gathering. Surely there is a happy medium, seeing that both extremes are selfish and quite short-sighted.

What to Study

Schooling, actually, does not help people much unless it makes better neighbors of them. It should, by all means, train them to engage in activities which are today in the clearest benefit of all. Today this is clearly the most essential feature of education because people who don't understand cooperation are being led by the nose straight through collectivism to dictatorship.

George William Curtis once wrote: "While good men sit at home, not knowing that there's anything to be done, it is better to know half persuaded that this republic is the contemptible rule of a mob and secretly longing for some splendid and vigorous despotism, than to be a government mastered by ignorance; it is a government betrayed by intelligence."

Betrayed by What?

We have a sad state of affairs indeed when intelligent people realize that they are taking place which they suspect are very bad for the country, yet fail to take a hand in remedying matters. Preserving the personal liberty of all people ought to be every man's personal duty. Those who have been without freedom consider it a high moral obligation.

Some men have deep leaning in fields that do not embrace history, government or economics. Others have gained far-flung knowledge without sensing the duties of citizenship or any obligation toward other people. Curiously, long life ended before this century began but he saw the political dangers of this day with amazing clearness: "Betrayed by intelligence," he said.

Time Fades Facts

The notion that a nation may be governed, not by a ruler but by the people themselves, was not a new idea. Mr. Curtis' view, our own republic, was hardly new. It is now when he began writing for "Harpers Monthly." Otherwise he had all the examples we have. One big difference in this generation and ours is this: They still appreciated their freedom.

Students of this age would not be helped much by a "speaking acquaintance" with more arts. Neither is there a crying need for deeper penetration for have we not lately opened the potent atom? Consolidating our recent scientific gains and preserving our freedom is our No. 1 problem. The vital classroom need now is a welfare course in comparative government, where and under what system have the most people lived the best lives? Answer: We have it, right here in the U.S.A.

CRAZY MEN MAKE A CRAZY WORLD
(The Chicago Tribune)

In announcing the restrictions on the use of electricity imposed by the coal strike, the utility companies of the Chicago area informed the public that early in the war they had maintained a supply of coal to last 122 days. Government fuel regulations had compelled them to cut their reserve to 50 days' supply by the time the strike started on April 1.

This is another debt of gratitude that the people of this area owe to their tax dodging ex-neighbor Harold Ickes. He was sold fuels administrator when the limitation orders were put into effect. Any fool could have seen, labor conditions and John L. Lewis being what they are, that a coal strike was almost certain this spring. The only action Mr. Ickes ever took to increase coal production, however, was designed to get some for the French.

Millions in Europe are starving for want of bread. Americans have been asked to curtail their use of bread. The supply of flour to bakers has been cut. Meanwhile, a report at Springfield, Mo., discloses that the farmers in that area are feeding good wheat flour to their hogs. The practice is not limited to those few counties. Correspondents in the West have reported a month or more ago that the same thing was going on in Wisconsin and other areas. What happened was that feed dealers were loaded up with flour by millers and when farmers went to them to buy ground feed for their cattle and hogs, the farmers had to buy equal quantities of flour to get the feed.

The famine in Europe comes as a surprise only to the nitwits in Washington, who spent most of the last six months denying reports that it was approaching. This country had a bumper crop last year. It had so much wheat that the Washington planners encouraged its use for animal feeding, both directly and by the price restriction which they put on corn, which made it impossible for many farmers to buy that grain for their live stock. When the planners suddenly discover the famine that every body else has seen coming for months, they discover simultaneously that by their price and rationing policies they have dissipated one of the greatest wheat crops this country ever had.

The Socialists, in the past, were always screaming about the dumping of bananas in New York harbor when people were hungry. It is not certain that anybody ever saw any bananas being dumped in New York harbor, but if they were dumped it was only because they were already so many bananas in the channels of trade that people would not buy more. But under the free price system of which the Socialists were so critical, farmers never fed flour to their hogs or utility companies were never permitted to buy government edit from accumulating enough coal to carry them thru a predictable strike.

Those things could only happen in a planned economy in which little minds in Washington substitute their ignorant guesses and their caprice for the informed calculations of all of the people in the country who have to use foresight in the operation of their business of going broke as a penalty.

We are living in a crazy country. It is a crazy country because it is being run by crazy men. If we don't rise up and vote them out of office, the rest of us will either be driven crazy or will starve to death.

During their occupation of Russian districts, German troops burned and devastated more than 70,000 villages.

No Ceilings To Worry About

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

WASHINGTON

BORDER-LINE—Capable and objective reporting by Washington's three leading newspapers—The Post, The Star and The Times-Herald—may tip the scales in favor of John L. Lewis in his current dispute with angry legislators on Capitol Hill and the operators of the nation's soft-coal mines.

An additional item in his favor is the administration's obvious fear of his popular following of 500,000 miners in several electorally important states.

When the diminishing supply of the fuel began to pinch the nation's industry and slow up the shipment of food to hungry people overseas, and when the U. M. W. czar became the butt of many liberal politicians and newspapers, The Star sent its crack labor reporter, "Jimmie" Newton, into the coal fields of Kentucky. He did a first-rate factual job of describing the horrible conditions under which the miners and their families live.

Since The Star rarely goes in for "crusades," and is not regarded as a particularly radical newspaper, its report of the border-line existence of Mr. Lewis' followers created a reaction in the latter's favor among many hitherto antagonistic members of congress.

It won strong support for his demand for some sort of a health and welfare fund.

SHOCKING—Even more shocking stories of the feudalistic pattern of life in the Kentucky mining sections soon came from the typewriter of Mrs. Agnes E. Meyer, the gifted and socially conscious wife of Eugene Meyer, owner of The Post and former chairman of the federal reserve board.

She spent many days in the coal-mining area, and her vivid picture of the miners' struggle for a decent livelihood won many congressional friends for John L.

Even those who condemned what they called his "ruthless and dictatorial methods" is gaining his end, and he had a real grievance in demanding a fund to improve the lot of his people. Mrs. Meyer's articles were inserted in the Congressional Record, and they formed the theme of many an address, urging a compromise under White House auspices.

The Post received scores of letters from readers who admitted that Mrs. Meyer's series had given them an entirely new viewpoint regarding the coal strike.

Communications' condemnation of the operators also poured into the editorial offices. There were

Peter Edson's Column:

SENATOR BILBO'S FOUR 'PECKERWOODS'

WASHINGTON, (NEA) — When Senator Theodore G. Bilbo, of Poplarville, Miss., walked out on a filibuster of the British loan to go home and campaign for re-election, he said he was to take care of "four peckerwoods" who were trying to take his job away from him.

Prominent Mississippians who follow closely the way politics is played in their native state claim that a year or so ago Bilbo was beaten. The word had got around that Bilbo was doing his state no good in Washington, that he had no patronage to speak of, and that he had got the state little or nothing in the way of federal money.

Then the bills to abolish the poll tax and to create a permanent Fair Employment Practices Commission came up in congress. Bilbo took out after them. And a choice crew of northern newspaper columnists and radio commentators, aided by the CIO political action committee, took out after Bilbo. All during the poll tax and FEPC fights these professional bleeding-hearts railed while Bilbo ranted.

The result was that the people of Mississippi reacted as anyone with a grain of sense should have anticipated. They decided that if the north didn't like Bilbo, he must be all right. He became a hero, and he practically cinched his own re-election.

ONLY THE PRIMARY COUNTS IN MISSISSIPPI
Actually, it isn't the November election that counts in Mississippi. Since there is no republican opposition, few people bother to vote unless it's a presidential election year. If nominated, Bilbo will probably be returned to the senate by a vote of little more than 50,000, out of a voting-age population of a million.

Smith is a landscape architect and greenhouse operator in Jackson. He ran for congress once, and got less than 1000 votes in the primary.

Neison Levings is just out of the navy, in which he was a lieutenant commander. He saw no battle action, but he saw "a bang the bell in his Mississippi was flown from the mast of the U. S. S. Missouri when Mac Arthur came aboard to accept the Japanese surrender. Levings was in Washington recently, and arranged to have himself photographed riding on a trolley-car with Bilbo. Levings once ran for lieutenant governor of Mississippi, and was defeated.

The fourth candidate is Frank (Pea-tee) Harper. A great hitchhiker, he is 73 years old and weighs 90 pounds. He used to carry peach-tree seedlings around, selling them, and got his nickname from that. He served in the state legislature for a while, and gained fame by introducing a bill to plant peach trees along the state highways.

Just before the election lists closed, a sixth candidate got into this race for the senate, in the person of Tom G. Ellis, of Water Valley, Miss., a town of about 200. Ellis for the past 10 years has been clerk of the Mississippi supreme court, a job to which he was elected and re-elected overwhelmingly. He has been all over the state and has a wide acquaintance. Tom Ellis may give Bilbo and Ross Collins a little trouble.

Another source of hope is that with six candidates in the field, no one will get a majority on the first primary, and a runoff between the two high men will be necessary. In such a run-off, a combined opposition might beat Bilbo. But it's doubtful.

MACKENZIE'S Colonna

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

When Alexander Parodi, French delegate, yesterday assumed the presidency of the United Nations security council for the ensuing month, he emphasized that "our task is to maintain and develop the spirit of cooperation."

The evening before that Dr. Hafez Afifi Pasha, the Egyptian delegate, on relinquishing his month's presidency, made a remarkable little speech in which he confessed that he was somewhat depressed because he felt that "during the month of my chairmanship we have not succeeded in fully accomplishing the task that was entrusted to us by the United Nations." He continued:

"I believe that the peace-loving DEWITT MACKENZIE people of the world—and I am convinced that the great masses inhabiting this planet are all peace loving—this great mass of humanity is disappointed with the state of affairs that prevails in the world a year after V-E day. XXXX it is disconcerting and it feels that a just and lasting peace is still far off. It is disappointed because it believes that the powers are not working as a united family of nations in the interest of all the people, but are trying to further their own interests without regard or consideration for others."

The steadily growing divergence of views among the big three certainly has got the United Nations organization off to a bad start. These same differences have in painful degree nullified the labors of the big "foreign ministers" conference in Paris.

Sharp retorts are flying about among the big three like sparks from the village blacksmith's anvil. Here are a few items I picked at random from the news report of the past twenty-four hours, and it's not exactly the same as in this country. Compulsory medicine did not reduce sickness. Quite the contrary. Doctors and nurses became negligent, lacking incentive. During the years when American medicine and private German medicine moved from miracle to miracle, the compulsory medicine of Germany went to pot.

The story is the same in England where nearly half the people have been forced into government health program for a third of a century.

Why our leftists—the CIO-PAC and fellow travelers—can't see such figures beats me. They need not go outside our own country to find them. They might take a look inside the veterans' hospital where, in spite of all the money we have poured into them, in twenty years their doctors and nurses have lost interest to note that yesterday seems to have been "America day" in Moscow.

MOSCOW—A Pravda writer today called Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg "a town crier of reaction" and said he tried to play the role of grave-digger at the four power foreign ministers' conference.

WASHINGTON—The Russian embassy said "the more vicious British and American reactionaries" are seeking to block development of international cooperation and particularly to thwart the Soviet "peace and security" policy.

LONDON—Dr. I. L. Levin, Soviet economist, in an English language broadcast over the Moscow radio, said that in what he described as American efforts to retain military bases in Iceland, Latin America and British territories "have already led DEFIANCE—White House political aides have warned "the head man" of the ballot-box danger in defying John L. too openly or violently. Their warnings probably accord for Mr. Truman's delay and hesitancy in cracking down on the Welshman.

The miners have not always taken their leader's political advice. He affected hardly a vote in the coal regions when he declared for Wendell Wilkie in 1940, and promised to resign as head of the newly organized C. I. O. if F. D. R. were re-elected. States like West Virginia and Pennsylvania, where the majority of his henchmen live, plumped for the democratic ticket.

But John L. rang the bell in his people's hearts when he made the health and welfare fund the key issue in the current controversy. And he knows it—a realization which has stiffened his defiance of his opponents and his critics on and off Capitol Hill.

UPTON CLOSE:

How Do You Want It—Voluntary Or Otherwise?

If Americans cherish freedom as much as I think they do they will whip up a fizzle-edge to the backers of bills to federalize medicine.

If liberty means anything to us, it means the right to pay our money and take our choice of doctors when we are sick or have a sick child. And if congress can be pressured to take away this right, then congress can pick our wives for us. Being readied for action on the floor of the senate are two bills which will surely take away that distinctly American right.

The Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill and the Pepper bill, if enacted into law, will tax every employed and self-employed person, hire nearly all the doctors and nurses, and take over, under a virtual dictatorship of one man in Washington, nearly all medical and hospital care. Employed persons will be compelled to pay four percent of their income up to a maximum annual tax of $144.

Self-employed persons will pay five percent of their income, up to an income of $3,600 yearly. The cost would be considerably more than that of American medicine today.

But the greatest cost would be in liberty and health.

Proof of the greatness of our system of private practice is everywhere. All nations look to us for the latest in hospital planning and facilities, for new medical and scientific science, for advanced methods in reducing human suffering and disease. In our country this is the golden age in medicine. The countries which have extensively socialized their medicine—Germany, England, Australia, New Zealand—are far behind us.

Among the fifty percent of Germany's people under a compulsory government health program for six years, the average incidence of sickness was several times as great as in the United States in the years just preceding the war, while in the other fifty percent of the population the average was almost exactly the same as in this country. Compulsory medicine did not reduce sickness. Quite the contrary. Doctors and nurses became negligent, lacking incentive. During the years when American medicine and private German medicine moved from miracle to miracle, the compulsory medicine of Germany went to pot.

The story is the same in England where nearly half the people have been forced into government health program for a third of a century.

Why our leftists—the CIO-PAC and fellow travelers—can't see such figures beats me. They need not go outside our own country to find them. They might take a look inside the veterans' hospital where, in spite of all the money we have poured into them, in twenty years their doctors and nurses have lost interest to note that yesterday seems to have been "America day" in Moscow.

MOSCOW—A Pravda writer today called Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg "a town crier of reaction" and said he tried to play the role of grave-digger at the four power foreign ministers' conference.

WASHINGTON—The Russian embassy said "the more vicious British and American reactionaries" are seeking to block development of international cooperation and particularly to thwart the Soviet "peace and security" policy.

LONDON—Dr. I. L. Levin, Soviet economist, in an English language broadcast over the Moscow radio, said that in what he described as American efforts to retain military bases in Iceland, Latin America and British territories "have already led HOLLYWOOD, (NEA)—The Cashah was out-of-bounds to GIs, so to keep them happy the USO gave them a "exotic temptation" in a new movie, International's "Bella Donna," and in a Hollywood night club, the Morocco.

Her night club dances are pretty much the same as those the GIs swooned over in Africa and in Italy.

When the war ended, Roubia followed the boys home, and got herself an agent. Now she's doing her "exotic temptation" in a new movie, International's "Bella Donna," and in a Hollywood night club, the Morocco.

The censors said firmly: "Clean it up."

ROUBIA LOVES AMERICA
Roubia, black-haired and tiny, told us: "American audiences are wonderful. They just whistle and stamp their feet and watch and say nothing. But then they follow you home."

Roubia was born in Tunis, the daughter of a French army lieutenant and Lola Freeman Calvert, a Columbus, Ohio, school teacher who went to Tunis to teach in the harem of Mohammed Bey, Roubia was raised in the harem, started dancing there when she was six years old. Just before the war, she was a North African night club star, getting $1000 a week.

When the Germans took Tunis, Rommel heard about Roubia, ordered a command performance. Roubia refused. Rommel threatened to kill two Jewish boys who were playing in her night club orchestra.

"So I danced for him at German headquarters," Roubia said. "He spoke perfect English. One of his aides handed me some money. I gave it to him and he went home."

Roubia may like American audiences, but she says she cannot understand why her "exotic temptation" is so objectionable to the movie censors.

"They are only native dances," she said, naively.

I don't know whether she was kidding or not. Anyway, her mother picks her up and takes her home after every night club performance.

MODERN INTERPRETATION
A writer working on a new script about medieval England was called to the studio front-office the other day and confronted by a wild-eyed executive. "Look," stormed the big boss, "aren't you getting too much modern slang into this script?"

The writer was puzzled. "Not that I know of," he said.

"Okay," said the producer, tossing him a page from the script. "What, then, is all this 'Yes, sir,' and 'No, sir-ee,' stuff doing in the script?"

DEBBY RECEIVES A CONFIDENCE

XXXI

DEBBY combed her hair vigorously, turning her head sideways to study her face. In the last year, it seemed to her, her cheeks and neck had filled out some, and her skin became smoother and whiter. It was quite a beautiful neck, she thought dispassionately, and she threw her head back and turned it from side to side, watching the curve of the throat and the slow-moving sinews beside it and the pale blue veins.

She went on with her dressing in a leisurely way, enjoying her aloneness, savoring the languid luxury of soft textures against her skin, stopping to look at herself in the mirror. It hadn't been hard, this getting to feel at home here in the Kendall house—just a few weeks, and then it began to seem natural to have a bathroom all to yourself and mirrors around everywhere and plenty of closets.

To Agnes the house was both a fulfillment and a challenge—a challenge to prove to herself and to everyone else that they were good enough to know how to appreciate a place like this, and to know how to take care of it. Debby doubted if there ever was a house kept so clean as Agnes kept this one. And, strangely enough, since they had moved in here Agnes had become as conscientious of smells as Debby ever was. So that this kitchen never smelled of boiled potatoes and whenever they had cabbage or Agnes went around opening windows and not caring how much Ellie grumbled about the drafts. The only smells in the house were the clean ones like floor wax and furniture polish and ironed linen.

Debby nodded solemnly. "I know what you mean, Gordy," she said.

Turnabout: Actor Raps Broadway's New Stage Shows

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Favorite sport of some New Yorkers is knocking Hollywood. Reserve English is now applied by Walter Catlett who has returned from his first trip to Broadway since 1929.

Expecting a Baby?

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisite prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy... it helps keep the skin soft and pliable... thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the runks, itching or burning sensations of the skin... for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use. Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Millions of bottles sold. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin emollient and lubricant. Do try it.

I know I can LOOK YOUNGER with GOURIELLI ESTROLAR

Contains an Estrogenic Complex.

Yes, I'm over thirty, quite a bit—but I don't look it—and I'm going to continue to not look it! I've found a wonderful cream called Estrolar containing an estrogenic complex—abundant in youth but which diminishes with advancing years. I've used my beloved Estrolar faithfully on my face and throat, as directed, and have been elated with the results. 30-Day Supply, 5.50. Twin Jars, 10.00.

HARVESTER DRUG

"The first thing I noticed," Catlett said on the set of "Oh Say Can You Sing," "was the fact that it cost $2.00 to see the equivalent of a burlesque show."

"In addition, the shows were too full of propaganda and lacked talent."

Catlett is no novice when it comes to things theatrical. He started his career in minstrel shows, graduated to the circus, then Broadway and fame in the "Ziegfeld Follies."

"Talent like Marilyn Miller, Eddie Cantor, Bert Williams, Will Rogers, Fanny Brice, W. C. Fields, Fred and Adele Astaire and Leon Errol is to be found no where on Broadway today," Catlett said.

"As soon as a youngster shows talent—boom!—he's bragged up by Hollywood."

Catlett was greatly perturbed by the gaudy, or today's theater-goers. "I used to look over the footlights and see nothing but clean laundry and sparklers," he said. "Those days are gone."

He blames the decline on the theater to three things: The automobile, golf, and the movies.

"When cheap cars came on the market," he laughed, "the family piled to the top and drove 100 miles to see Aunt Emma. Instead of packing the theater Saturday and Sunday. Then the golf craze started and everyone and his sister took to the greens. So the matinees suffered."

"Later silents and stage shows, all for four bits, cut down the legit theater attendance. And now, of course, 28 million people go to the movies every night to see their favorites. Only a couple of thousand a week can go to the theater."

The result of all this is that Walter is returning to Broadway this fall with his own show, "Eloise." It will be written, directed, costumed and designed by Catlett.

Guess who the star will be.

REAL FUN was the order of the day, when Kiwanians dressed as women for "parade" at a recent meeting of the club. Members and visitors had occasion to see examples of what they will enjoy if they attend the Kiwanis Fashion Parade and Imitation Tom Breneman's Breakfast in Hollywood Monday and Tuesday nights at the Junior high auditorium (see ad). Free Swims For Everyone At Pool Today

Free swimming for everybody, starting at one o'clock this afternoon, will mark the opening day of the 1946 season at the municipal swimming pool, located at the north end of Sloan street.

The pool has been thoroughly repainted and remodeled, much new equipment has been installed and an experienced life guard and swimming instructor has been hired.

Noel Blackwood, a native of Sayre, Okla., where he was an all-state football player, has been engaged as senior life guard.

Blackwood, who served over three years in the army, is certified to give certificates in life guard work.

After graduation from Sayre high school, Blackwood enrolled at Santa Barbara State college in California but enlisted in the army when war was declared.

Three life guards will be on duty at the pool at all times. In addition, three "doughnut" type life savers will be placed around the pool ready for instant use in case of an emergency.

The showers in the pool have been remodeled and painted and baskets for clothes will be available, instead of the usual canvas sacks.

A new water and chlorination system has been installed and will be kept clean at all times, it was said. The pool proper will be regularly cleaned to avoid any possible contamination.

Thousands of Japs Demanding More Food

TOKYO — (AP) — American troops in the Tokyo-Yokohama area yesterday were placed under alert orders as organizers of a mass demonstration claimed that tens of thousands would gather at the imperial palace gates today demanding more food.

A second gathering was planned for Yokohama.

Americans, as is their policy, will not interfere, but will be prepared to protect U. S. property and lives if trouble develops.

GRANDVIEW, Mo. — (AP) — Talking at a chamber of commerce meeting in President Truman's home town, Victor V. Allen of Kansas City told of seeing this message carved on a desk in the Junior high school at Independence:

"Harry Truman X Bess Wallace."

And in the corner of the same desk: "Harry and Bess."

From the back of the room spoke up Vivian Trump, the President's brother:

"Aw, they were carved there after Harry became president."

Sure Fire

ATCHISON, Kas. — (AP) — No one can accuse A. F. Matthias of owning a temperamental cigarette lighter. His really works.

Matthias left the lighter on the lower sash of a window in his home. When a member of the family raised the window the lighter flipped open and set the house on fire.

The fire department put out the blaze before much damage resulted.

The Douglas DC-8 transport is unique in that contraptions have been moved into the tail assembly, and the power plant has been shifted to the center of the craft.

What the coal strike means to industry using electric power is pointed up in a recent report of the Edison Electric Institute, stating that soft coal was used to make about 50 per cent of all electricity produced in the U. S. last year. Map shows areas dependent upon coal-produced electricity and those where other fuels predominate. Entire Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast areas are serviced either by oil or water power.

Cattlemen

(Continued from page one) were no beef ceilings or subsidies, and if supply and demand were allowed to work, Hobart stated. The big packers and smaller independent slaughterers have been able to operate at a profit only because of subsidies paid them by the government, an artificial method of holding up prices.

"This is bound to have an extremely harmful reaction on the cattle industry if it does away with now while prices are high," said Hobart, speaking for himself as well as for the association with which he is affiliated. Basically, urging removal of OPA ceilings and subsidies by cattlemen is backed by the following reasoning, explained Hobart: Cattle on the range are not beef but simply potential beef. With the exception of about three months in the year when there is a relatively small supply of grass beef, the nation's supply of meat comes from corn (most) and other grains being fed into the range cattle in the feedlots of the cornbelt.

It takes on an average at least six months in the feedlot to produce good beef. With present OPA ceilings and subsidies on beef corn belt feeders are not interested in feeding cattle which would supply the meat for which the public is clamoring. Feeders find it more profitable to sell their corn directly to elevators. Removal of OPA ceilings and subsidies, by making it possible for corn belt feeders to be interested in feeding cattle, would consequently help the condition of the cattle industry to converting a much larger per cent of the alarmingly large number of cattle on the range into beef.

OPA restrictions have also been an incentive to the feeder to sell what are called "warmed up" cattle, meaning cattle that have just been fed for a very short time and are not good beef, in an endeavor to get a fed price for range cattle and keep from losing money. The feeder, trying to do his regular good job of feeding cattle, could not help losing money under the OPA rules. He found it out pretty quickly and quit feeding, the reason why we are out of meat today. Hobart's summary of the reasons why cattlemen are urging the removal of OPA controls is similar to that of the old woman who had a pig won't go over stile, and I will stile. (Fire, fire burn stick, stick won't beat dog, dog won't bite pig, big won't go over the stile, and I will never get home tonight.)

For, said Hobart "If OPA ceilings and subsidies on beef were thrown out, as cattlemen everywhere recommend, the price of meat to the consumer might rise for a time over the present ceiling price—but certainly not equal to the black market price—and the tremendous supply of cattle on the ranges flowing normally through the feedlots, the packers, and the retail meat markets, would soon adjust the price of cattle and the price of meats, and the black market operator would cease to exist.

About 18 pairs of nylon hose will be given away during the two nights, it was said. Other equally valuable prizes are to be given away, it was announced by the show committee. (For interesting pictures concerning the Fashion Parade, see Page 3.) Reserved seats and general admission tickets are on sale at the Harvester drug. Creteyru drug also has general admission tickets for sale. Ken Bennett's orchestra will be engaged for the show, and the Squarey Door Four will be on hand to sing special tunes. Probably one of the funniest features of the fashion parade will be a "mother and baby" combination. One of the tallest members of the Kiwanis club dressed in women's clothing, will bring the shortest member on the stage in a baby buggy. A household of laughter is expected from this. Receipts from the show—after somewhat heavy expenses are paid—will go to the Kiwanis fund for aid to underprivileged children of this city, as well as for conducting the church softball leagues this summer.

The Register at Santa Ana and the Appeal-Democrat at Marysville plan immediate steps in an effort to prolong their newspaper supply. In addition, the rail strike, which has been postponed for five days, would have a very serious effect on the publication of papers all over the nation, as newspaper is shipped exclusively by rail. Jullard pointed out that a rail strike and subsequent transportation tie-up after the first World War caused a serious newspaper shortage. Elsewhere in Texas, according to the Associated Press, newspapers receiving newspaper from the Powell River mills are taking steps to conserve their supply. The Lubbock Avalanche and Journal will publish four-page papers on Saturday morning and Monday afternoons. The Fort Worth Star Telegram, which obtains 60 percent from Lufkin, Texas, will make a 50 percent reduction in pages. The Dallas Morning News will cut advertising space 44 percent, news space 23 percent and circulation 10 percent.

Minutes of Paris Peace Conference Are Published

WASHINGTON (AP)—The troubles of today's world—hunger, territorial disputes and the effect of rapid demobilization of victorious armies—are reflected as counterparts of its problems 27 years ago in hitherto secret official documents published yesterday. These documents, minutes of the Paris peace conference sessions during July and August 1919, were released by the state department. Then, as now, Herbert Hoover was telling the world of starvation conditions in certain areas. He grimly related then: "It is impossible to depict the situation in Armenia, for up until the last 60 days, the population has been eating the dead." Territorial questions concerned the peace conference. The delegates debated the critical Italy-Yugoslav boundary dispute and sweated over peace treaty drafts for Austria, Hungary, and Bulgaria. The Americans, British and French feared the spread of communism in Eastern Europe. Frequently, delegates observed that rapid demobilization in the United States and Britain had left the Allies with insufficient force to back up their policies. The problems facing the 1919 conference were strikingly similar—some virtually identical—to those over which the current Big Four foreign ministers failed to agree in the Paris meeting which ended this week. The minutes released today cover the period immediately following the signing of the Versailles treaty with Germany on June 28, 1919. President Wilson had returned to Washington and Prime Minister Lloyd George to London. France's "Tiger," Georges Clemenceau, continued as chief French delegate. Russia, in the midst of revolution and with its territory under invasion by Allied forces, was not represented at the council table. The army air force has converted the C-47 glider into a craft that can carry a seven-ton payload and can be towed at speeds up to 270 miles an hour.

Texas Roads

Continued from Page One general manager of the Santa Fe railway at Galveston said no Santa Fe train had been delayed more than five minutes there. Operations continued without interruption at Beaumont. Two switching crews reported for duty at Denison, railway terminal at 4 p.m., and then walked off the job. Official notice of postponement had not been received there. Traffic operations in the Texas and Pacific yards at Big Spring were at a standstill, pending official word from union headquarters. At 6 p.m. Warren George, chairman of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers at Palestine for the International-Great Northern, Gulf Coast lines, and the San Antonio, Uvalde and Gulf railroads, said 250 engineers in his unit were still out as a result of word of the strike postponement had been received. Getting the word out to the engineers would take some time when it is received, George predicted. The Texan, Missouri-Pacific train bound from Houston to St. Louis, came to a standstill at Palestine with about 100 passengers aboard. The Texas and Pacific railroad's Sunshine Special, bound from Mexico City, Houston and San Antonio to St. Louis cleared Palestine for Longview, Texas, one minute before the strike deadline went into effect. A trainload of vegetables, bound from the Rio Grande valley to northern points, was tied up at Palestine. The vegetables were being iced during the delay. Despite rationing and lack of new cars, auto registration in California reached an all-time high during the first six months of 1945—2,972,223. The Hercules H-4, being built under the supervision of Howard Hughes, will carry 700 passengers and weigh 200 tons. It dwarfs the Martin Mars with a wingspread of 320 feet and will cost $20,000,000.

Oilers Pound Clovis for 23 Hits in 17-1 Victory

Garland Whiffs 12 As Every Pampan Hits at Least Once

CLOVIS—(Special)—Lefty Bill Garland set the Clovis Pioneers down with seven hits and every Oiler batsman hit as the league-leading Oilers swamped Harold Webb's gang 17-1 there Friday night for a clean sweep of the two-game series.

The Oilers played Albuquerque late last night and were scheduled to meet the Dukes again there this afternoon before returning to Pampa to battle Lubbock tomorrow night.

Results of the Albuquerque game last night were not available because of the differences in time, Albuquerque being in the Mountain Standard time zone. The complete box scores of the Saturday and Sunday games will be published Monday.

Garland whiffed 12 batters to bring his week's strikeout total to 27 and his season's number to 57. He issued only one walk.

A revamped Oiler line-up knocked two Clovis pitchers all over the field except Norman Harriman, who saw a short tour of duty in right field.

Earl Harriman, Oiler shortstop, was forced to leave the game because of a hurt arm and Jack Riley was shifted to the shortstop position with Earl Johnson playing at third base and in right field and Al Johnston in left field. Manager Grover Seitz of the Oilers berthed himself for the game because of an injured leg.

The Oilers hit eight doubles in the game and Bob Johnson and Norman Harriman both contributed triples.

The win was the Oilers' 15th in their last 16 games and enabled them to maintain their game and a half lead over the challenging Amarillo Gold Sox, who won their ninth straight victory with a 9-7 win over the Lamesa Lobos Friday.

Following the two games with Lubbock tomorrow and Tuesday, the Oilers will entertain the Gold Sox in a two-game series that is expected to show a real test of strength between the two teams.

Norman Harriman was scheduled to go to the mound for the Oilers last night and Ed Leiker will go today. Seitz will then use Hacker and White in the two games with Lubbock and will have Bill Garland ready again to face the Gold Sox Wednesday.

Richardson Retains League Batting Lead

Slugging Virgil Richardson, Pampa Oiler first baseman, still leads the West Texas-New Mexico league hitting parade, according to latest figures released by Tom Miller, official league statistician.

Miller's figures for most games through May 14, show Richardson maintaining a blistering above-500 pace, having collected 31 hits in 60 trips to the plate for a .517 average, far ahead of Guy Sturdivant of Lamesa, who slugged out a .425.

Emmett Fulenwider, Oiler outfielder, lost his home run leadership to Joe Bauman of Amarillo, 6-5, but kept his runs batted in lead with 25 over Bauman's 24. Fulenwider's average was still a blistering .371.

The averages released do not include Pampa's two games with the Berger Gassers May 6 and 7 but Miller has said all averages will be fully complete within the next few weeks. Some reports are late in reaching him by mail.

Sam Malvica, Oiler first baseman before the war, took up where he left off before the war to clout a .542 for the Lamesa Lobos. Malvica joined the Lobos two weeks ago and has played brilliantly ever since.

Five players—all of them infielders except Ed Kraige of Abilene—had hit three triples at the time the averages were compiled. The others were Pete Spatator of Abilene, Frank McAlexander, Lubbock, Dwight Collins, Clovis and Alex DeLaGarza of Albuquerque.

Ken Olsen of Abilene and Foster White of the Oilers had notched four pitching victories (White now has seven). Three game winners without a loss were Warren Hacker, Pampa, Joe Behl, Albuquerque, and Chris Haskins, Amarillo.

Amarillo twirlers dominated the strikeout picture, with Colorado Bill Evans making a runaway of it. The big right-hander had 65 whiffings to his credit in six contests. Dub Lonergan had put the third strike past 40 and Haskins was three behind.

Abilene still led in team batting with a .301 while Pampa was two points behind with .299. Others were: Lamesa, .278; Berger, .274; Amarillo, .268; Lubbock, .256; Albuquerque, .253 and Clovis, .234.

Batting and pitching averages of all Oiler players during the period covered by Miller's figures are:

Dallas Wins as Fort Worth Falls To San Antonio

DALLAS—(P)—The Dallas Rebels, overcoming their anemic batting habits of the past week, downed the Houston Buffs 6 to 4 yesterday in a Texas league baseball game.

With Fort Worth's defeat at the hands of San Antonio, the victory boosted the Rebels within one game of the league-leading Cats.

Dallas got a total of eight hits, including two home runs and three doubles. The circuit clouts both came in the eighth inning with the bases empty. Clint Conster sent one over the left field wall after one out. With two outs, Bob Moyer slammed one against the left-center fence. Two Houston outfielders, Ed Fijo and Ed Knoblauch, collided in racing for the ball, giving Moyer an opportunity to circle the bases.

FORT WORTH—(P)—The San Antonio Missions managed a roaring seven-run rally in the eighth inning of their Saturday afternoon ball game with the Fort Worth Cats to win 10-6. Three pitchers were victimized by seven hits in the big round. Fort Worth had a 6-0 lead after the first two innings.

The veteran Pitcher John Marcum, who formerly served for a long time in the American League, sparked the San Antonio comeback. He entered the game as a pinch hitter and delivered. He stayed in and pitched and made two more hits. San Antonio . . . 000 300 070-10 17 2

Baseball Clinic To Be Held in Dallas
DALLAS—(P)—Another free baseball school and clinic for coaches and players will be an added attraction to the ninth annual Texas high school baseball championship, to be held here June 3 to 8 inclusive.

The school, originated last year by the Dallas News, will be sponsored this year by the News and the Dallas Baseball club. Al Vincent, manager of the Dallas Rebels, will be head professor for the 1946 school.

NEW YORK—(P)—Unloading their fiercest barrage of the season, the Chicago Cubs unmercifully pummeled five New York fingers for 18 hits to bury the Giants under a 19-3 score in the opener of a scheduled doubleheader. Rain came to the rescue of the Giants forcing the postponement of the second game.

Bill Voiselle was the first New York chucker to feel the Cubs' power giving way to Bob Joyce in the first inning after facing seven men and giving up four hits and as many runs in the Cubs' six-run frame.

Joyce followed Voiselle to the showers in the second frame to be succeeded by Mike Budnick, Jack Kraus and Rookie Jack Carden in that order.

Lefty Johnny Schmitz registered his second victory over the Giants by holding the Ottmen to five hits. A two-run homer by Buddy Kerr in the fifth and another round tripper by Buddy Blattner in the seventh prevented the southpaw from whitewashing the Polo Grounders for the second successive time.

ST. LOUIS—(P)—The Boston Red Sox pulled out of their batting lethargy in impressive fashion yesterday to wallop the St. Louis Browns 18-8 with heavy hitting that included a four-run homer by Ted Williams.

Williams had drawn four bases on base, three of them intentional, when he came to bat in the fifth with the bases loaded. The Boston star then slugged Ellis Kinder, the Browns' third pitcher, for the grand slam blow, his seventh circuit hit of the season. Glen Russell hit a homer earlier in the same inning. Don Dimaggio scoring ahead of him.

Mickey Harris, Boston's unbeaten pitcher, registered his seventh win of the season in the contest which drew 11,291 paid fans, although he was touched for 12 safeties, including two home runs by outfielder, Chet Laabs.

Todd Takes Over Lead in Colonial National Tourney

By HAROLD W. RATLIFF
FORT WORTH—(P)—Long Harry Todd, the blond belter from Dallas who shed his amateur status less than two years ago, shot even par 70 today to edge into a one-stroke lead at the end of the third round in the $15,000 Colonial National invitation golf tournament.

In his second year along the PGA tournament trail and winner of $2-150 all told, the big fellow gained the top spot when Slammy Sammy Sneed of Hot Springs, Va., yesterday's 36-hole leader, faltered with a 72. Todd's total was 211 for the 54 holes while Sneed showed 212.

In third place, a stroke behind Sammy, was George Schneider of Ogden, Utah, who had a 72 today.

Six players bettered or equaled par on the rugged 6,952-yard Colonial country club course with Lloyd Mangrum of Los Angeles shooting a 65 as low mark of the day.

that other documents would be presented.

The subcommittee has until May 31 to complete its investigation on Poland's charges that the Franco regime is a threat to world peace. So far it has received documents from Russia, Great Britain, Brazil, Belgium and the Spanish government-in-exile.

Meanwhile, several delegates to the United Nations security council said they expected Russia to boycott discussions of the Iranian case which will be resumed next week, probably on Tuesday or Wednesday.

None of the delegates would comment for publication, but some said they would be greatly surprised if Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko reversed his declaration of April 23 that he would not take part in any further discussions on Iran.

Gromyko already has walked out on one discussion of the Iranian question and boycotted another. The Soviet government ignored the council's request for a report on whether all Russian troops had been withdrawn from Iran by May 6.

AFL Concerned Over Threat of Third World War

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The executive council of the AFL said yesterday that it viewed "with the gravest concern the mounting threat of another world war."

The council, asserting that "we must reach a clear understanding with Russia," said that country had "employed the methods of aggression (rather than self-defense)."

Further delay and "appeasement" offer little hope of success and "may only widen the breach" with the Soviet union, the governing body of the American Federation of Labor added, and went on:

"If the policy of Soviet Russia is to be 'touché,' we must show her that we can be tougher in our defense of basic principles."

"We call upon the government of the United States to insist that Russia observe her wartime commitments based on the Atlantic Charter."

These views were expressed in a statement approved by the council on Friday and released today.

The statement said: "It is now more than a year since V-E day and nine months after V-J day, yet world peace has not yet been established. The failure of the foreign ministers' conference at Paris to reach an agreement is grievously disappointing. Continuation of hostilities in Asia appears to baffle all attempts at settlement."

But even more dangerous, the statement continues, is "the deep cleavage in policy" between the U. S. and Britain on one hand, and Russia on the other.

"The American Federation of Labor unequivocally condemns the attitude taken by Soviet Russia since the war ended. In Europe and in Asia, she has employed main force instead of consultation with other powers. Russia has seized captured territory, she has trampled solemnly to extend her influence and domain over most of Asia and Eastern Europe."

"If the policy of Soviet Russia is to be 'touché,' we must show her that we can be tougher in our defense of basic principles."

"We call upon the government of the United States to insist that Russia observe her wartime commitments based on the Atlantic Charter."

These views were expressed in a statement approved by the council on Friday and released today.

The statement said: "It is now more than a year since V-E day and nine months after V-J day, yet world peace has not yet been established. The failure of the foreign ministers' conference at Paris to reach an agreement is grievously disappointing. Continuation of hostilities in Asia appears to baffle all attempts at settlement."

But even more dangerous, the statement continues, is "the deep cleavage in policy" between the U. S. and Britain on one hand, and Russia on the other.

"The American Federation of Labor unequivocally condemns the attitude taken by Soviet Russia since the war ended. In Europe and in Asia, she has employed main force instead of consultation with other powers. Russia has seized captured territory, she has trampled solemnly to extend her influence and domain over most of Asia and Eastern Europe."

not quite so pessimistic about this as when he left for Paris April 23.

He is believed to feel strongly that no effort should be spared to end left-over war conditions in Europe as quickly as possible, to wind up occupation armies except in Germany, and to hold a European peace conference without undue delay.

To attain these and related objectives he expects to return to Paris in about four weeks, for resumption June 15 of his meetings with foreign ministers Bevin of Britain, Molotov of Russia and Bidault of France.

Nice Pickings

Something of a record in all-movie, even for Hollywood, is held by Cleatus Caldwell, above, who collects $3100 a month from her ex-husband, comedian Ken Murray. In addition she got a cash settlement of $22,000. One year after her recent divorce, her monthly alimony will drop to a mere $100 until she remarries.

EVERYONE SALVAGES!

Leo Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, finds that Willie, the raccoon, has beaten him to the used fat can. Even Willie seems to know that fat salvage is vital in peacetime as well as war and that conservation in America, makes more fats and oils available for the rest of the world.

Rail Situation

Standard Time belt zone, arriving almost on the strike deadline.

At 4:25 p. m. (EST) Thomas J. Harkins, eastern representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers said he had not received notice of the postponement and that "trains are still tied up."

At Cincinnati, J. A. Zanger, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said at 4:35 p. m. EST, "We've received nothing official and at 4 p. m. 7,500 railroad workers in the Cincinnati area went out on strike."

The vast rail hub of Chicago, however, reported virtually no disruption of service.

Railroad labor officials predicted some trains might be held up temporarily, until the workers received word of the postponement.

Some railroads already had declared embargoes on shipment of perishables and numerous railway express offices had refused to accept such shipments.

The office of defense transportation had conferred with representatives of the army, navy and non-rail transportation systems. One plan under consideration was for army and navy planes to deliver the mail and non-rail systems, such as waterways, bus and truck lines, to handle vital freight and passenger service.

This was the situation before the postponement:

TRAINS ARE CANCELLED
The New York Central railroad cancelled its Ohio State Limited to Cincinnati and its Pacemaker to Chicago after; railroad crews declined to sign up for the runs.

The Hudson and Manhattan stopped dispatching trains out of Newark, N. J., after 3:21 p. m. (EST)

'Police Career Tops for Gals' Says Lady Cop

BY ADELAIDE KERR
AP News Features Writer

The blonde sat in the Hell's Kitchen police station on a bitter winter day in 1911, wrapped in seal-skins and silence. Day of grilling had failed to shake her stony calm or extract a word of evidence concerning a dope smuggler's murder. The inspector, exasperated, strode out to the matron's desk.

"I wish you'd talk to that dame and see if you can't get something out of her," he said to Mary Agnes Sullivan, named for a nun, born a Sullivan, widow of a Sullivan and former traveling saleswoman, who became a police matron so that she could live in New York with her small daughter.

Mary Sullivan walked into the room, sat down beside the blonde, talked to her woman to woman and gradually pulled from her the evidence that convicted the slayer. Thus—in a day when there were no New York police women—was born the career of America's best known policewoman, who retired in mid-April, after 35 years service as director of the New York policewoman's bureau of 195 lady cops.

"And may there be many more policewomen—not only in New York, but all over the world," says 64-year-old Mollie Sullivan, who sprang from a family of policemen and holds three honor medals for distinguished detective service. It's a fine career for a woman. Of course it's no job for anybody who's simply seeking excitement, because you have to work hard and always be on your toes. But you love the satisfaction of knowing you're adjusting homes and helping mend lives.

"A number of our policewomen are assigned to the missing persons or juvenile aid bureaus, the pickpocket, shoplifting or narcotic squads. Women make fine detectives because of their intuition, their understanding of human nature and their patience. They try to prevent crime as well as control it."

At the time she resigned her saleswoman job to become a policewoman, her old boss said in horror, "That's no job for a lady!" Since then Mary Sullivan has been in many a spot that was no place for a lady.

She had herself committed to jail on a false charge in order to scrape acquaintance with a suspected murderer and collect the circumstantial evidence on which she was later convicted. She lived for weeks with a gangster's opium-smoking moll to collect information on the murder of Herman Rosenthal, shot down in front of a New York hotel. She moved into the suite of a killer's wife to learn her peculiarities of speech—and later mimicked her on the telephone so well that she learned the killer's hideout and thus brought about his arrest.

The most hair-raising of her experiences were the evenings she spent in a Harlem drive to collect evidence on a white slaver. Wearing milquetoile makeup, decked in dime store jewelry and accompanied by a Negro "boy friend," she gave the signal that filled the house with detectives. So perfect was her makeup that, when she entered the station house later with the prisoners, the captain failed to recognize her and said, after one look at her gaudy array, "Stand over there, lady, and keep quiet."

After a life like that you might expect Mrs. Sullivan, now a grandmother, to stay "retired." Instead she is going back to work. This time on the radio, where she expects to appear in a crime series.

Serious Problems Face Married Vets

AUSTIN—(AP)—Serious financial problems face married students attending college under the GI Bill of Rights, the fourth regional South-west conference on adult education was told Friday night.

T. A. Rausse, coordinator of the University of Texas veterans' advisory service, said:
 "Many of them are using surplus savings now, about a year from now, with the cost of living still going up, living on $90 a month will be almost impossible."
 "Where there are no children, veterans' wives not working probably will be forced to seek employment in order to keep going. Veterans with children, however, will have difficulty solving the problem."
 Rausse called for more assistance from churches and other community agencies in providing wholesome, low-cost entertainment for married veterans in school. He cited the losses sustained by the University of Texas union in sponsoring big-name orchestras on the campus this semester as evidence that the vetereran cannot afford high-priced entertainment.

 "Yet, we know cramped housing conditions demand that the veteran seek some kind of recreation in order to keep his mind and spirit healthy," he added.

Basic Survey Begun For Texas Hospital

DALLAS—(AP)—Work has begun on a basic survey for the $2,570,000 veterans administration hospital to be erected at Big Springs, Texas. A. P. Rollins, VA chief of construction, announced.
 The Big Spring hospital will have a 250-bed capacity.
 Other VA hospitals are to be built in Shreveport and Alexandria, La.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barceltrate (formerly called Barcel Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.
 If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Specially Equipped Cars Given to Vets

PASADENA, Calif.—(AP)—George M. Church, Pasadena and Ft. Worth, Texas, philanthropist, ordered five new specially equipped automobiles for five war veterans who lost both hands in battle—but he died before he could present the gifts.
 However, the disabled veterans will get the cars. The machines have special devices on the steering wheel to permit easy operation with artificial hands and arms. The army's McCormack General hospital here reported.

Among the five double amputees will be Pfc. Lomie Carberry, of Pasadena, who is now visiting relatives in Fort Worth.

Church and his wife selected the five veterans as the most deserving after numerous visits to hospital wards. Shortly after he ordered the cars, about two months ago, Church died.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By EDDIE GILMORE
LONDON—(AP)—"I think," whispered my British friend, who was 13 pounds lighter than when I saw him here five years ago, "I can find us a steak."

After seven days in Britain's justifiably weary capital, I needed a steak. I had come here from Moscow where steaks—to foreigners and to some Russians—are as common as Samovar's and sometimes about as tough.

Arm in arm, we went steaking. "I'm taking you to a restaurant where I've known the manager for years," said my friend, who happens to be one of England's best-known swing band leaders. "We have a system. If he shakes his head when we come in, we won't be eating steaks."
I asked why the mystery.
"Because," said my friend, "if he shakes his head it means that what he has listed as steak really is horse. But we won't sell horse to his pals. That is, not as steak."
Considering my ample 222 pounds, nurtured by years of good feeding in Moscow since the advent of "commercial stores" where you can buy numerous unrationed meats, I frankly felt up to horse.

We found the restaurant, one of those neat, tiny places tucked away in Soho.
The manager sighted us about the same time we sighted him. Eagerly I stared at his head. It shook.
"Horse," said the musician with the same sad manner in which he croons.
Too many persons far more able to speak on the subject than I have gone into the question of what Britain has given, what she has one through and her present food situation.
I'd like to add only that I've eaten in everything from the townhouse of an ancient, once gouty earl to a low-price restaurant and by conclusions are cut and dried.
The British people are down to what would appear to be the bottom of the barrel. They don't expect the American loan is going to bring them a great deal more, but they do expect some. They definitely are eating worse than they were the last time I was here—in the middle of the blitz.

'Dragonwyck,' With Gene Tierney, Opens Four-Day Showing at LaNora

An emotional scene from "Dragonwyck," starring Gene Tierney, with Vincent Price and Walter Huston.

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
The smashing comeback of Gene Tierney as she appears in one hit film after another in one of the big stories of movie-land during the current season.

The 20th-Century-Fox studios goes the credit of casting Miss Tierney in good roles—which she failed to get for a long time.
First it was "Leave Her to Heaven," one of the most popular pictures shown here in recent years and now comes Anya Seton's "Dragonwyck," a story of the anti-rebellious 19th century period, when the nation's rich landlords first began to feel the desire of the tenant farmers to get out from under the yoke of almost total slavery.

Fox has selected a perfect cast for the fiery picture, including Walter Huston, who is said to give the finest performance of his career, and Vincent Price, who skyrocketed to stardom in "Song of Bernadette".

Glenn Langan, one of Hollywood's most versatile actors, scores in a good part, and Spring Byington and Anne Revere turn in their usual outstanding performance.
Little Connie Marshall, child star of "Sentimental Journey" is seen as Price's small daughter and Henry Morgan is outstanding in a small role as leader of the tenants.
Further dramatic effect is added to the film by Alfred Newman's outstanding music score, composed especially for the picture.
"Dragonwyck" opens a four-day run at the LaNora today.

The hit tune "Along the Navajo Train" forms the title for the current Roy Rogers thriller, showing at the Rex Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Rogers fans will like this one for its action and songs, including a song which has popularized the Sons of the Pioneers—"Cool Water".
The regular Rogers bunch is in this one, including Gabby Hayes and Dale Evans, along with a cute Mexican dancing star, Estelita Rodriguez, and dependable Douglas Fowley.

Warner's effective drama, "Mildred Pierce," which won the Academy Award for Joan Crawford, opens a two-day run at the Crown today.

Miss Crawford's performance as the "women all men want but none should have" is really deserving of the award and a fine supporting cast which makes it even better.
Included are Zachary Scott, Jack Carson, Eve Arden, Bruce Bennett and Ann Blyth. The latter gives a fine performance as Joan Crawford's hateful daughter.

Immediate resumption of construction of the Plains Museum addition, if materials can be obtained, was recommended by retiring officer and directors of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society in the 25th annual session recently.

Of a goal of $60,000, about $31,000 has been raised, according to an official report. The drive will be completed in the coming fiscal year. If the 75 directors from various Panhandle counties, will cooperate, in raising the money.

Folklore Society Of Texas Meets

AUSTIN—(AP)—The humorous folklore of the Negro, the simplicity of the Latin-American nursery lore, and the flavor of Southwestern lore as exemplified in songs, cattle brands, and word play focused attention here today on real American folklore as the Texas folklore society met in its annual session at the University of Texas.

Native Texas folklorists contributed to the two opening programs, along with a Spanish refuge, and a South Carolina Negro folklorist.

Ramon Martinez Lopez, associate professor of romance languages at the university, formerly of Spain, traced the history of the legend of St. James.

Mrs. Frank C. Allen of Corpus Christi gave a character sketch of the "oracle of the kitchen"—"Aunt Polly," whose various philosophies of life were expressed in homely and humorous sayings religious fervor, and fragments of spirituals.

Well, I see that the director of the Penn state marriage counseling service told a group of Massachusetts women that New England has so many spinsters because the women there are so intelligent.

He said a man wants a wife with a lower I.Q. than his.
Goodness, I'm glad George didn't feel that way!
Still, I guess the average man finally gives up the search for a girl with less intelligence than he has—look at all the marriages there are.
Anyway, just to be on the safe side, girls, when the man you'd like to hook comes calling, cover up your brain power. If he asks you how the atomic bomb works, don't tell him; pretend you don't know. And above all, never tell a man he's good looking. It'll make him think you're very intelligent, and big! You've lost a good prospect.

ALLRED DECISION CUTS GUBERNATORIAL FIELD

By Dave Cheavens
AP Staff Writer
 Former Governor James V. Allred took himself out of the governor's race Saturday, his decision leaving only two big unanswered questions with the final date for filing drawing nearer.

These were on the possible candidacies of Gov. Coke Stevenson and former Governor W. Lee O'Daniel. Stevenson's name is already on the ballot and he has until June 10 to withdraw it, and there was no news on the O'Daniel front.

There seems to be little doubt that Dr. Homer P. Rainey, the other announced candidate, would be in the race. His name, like Stevenson's, has already been filed by friends.

Meanwhile, the announced candidates were on the job.

At Austin, Beauford H. Jester issued a statement pledging that if elected governor he will ask the legislature to make adequate appropriations to offer professional training for Negro students at Prairie View university. He said he did not favor admitting Negroes to the University of Texas or other state-supported colleges as it would provoke racial animosities.

Grover Sellers wound up his first campaign tour, making a sweep through West Texas and the hill country. He started off the week by affirming his unwavering loyalty to the democratic party, answering the state executive committee's questionnaire. In a speech at El Paso, Sellers advocated expansion of the state highway patrol to cut down traffic deaths.

Speaking at a farm machinery demonstration at Mineral Wells, Dr. Rainey urged industrialization as a means of helping farmers raise their living standards. He was in the midst of a string of commencement addresses.

Gubernatorial candidate Caso March urged his ad valorem tax abolition program in a speech at Corsicana Saturday after speaking throughout the week in North Texas. Former Mayor A. J. Barks of Odessa made a swing through West and Northwest Texas.

Opposition developed for Veteran Sen. Tom Connally. Terrel Sledge of Kyle, 42, war veteran, Rhodes scholar and now editor of a weekly, the People's Business, announced he would oppose Connally in this summer's primary.

The supreme court race also got under way with announcement of Tires Repaired and Recapped. A wise man gets his tires serviced NOW.

Wesley Lewis

New Tires Still Scarce—Better See O.K. Welders

Are your tires getting worn? Does your car shimmy, bump, and rattle? Does your motor miss or just stop running for no apparent reason? If you have troubles such as these, go down to the O. K. Tire Shop, located on 309 West Kingsmill, right here in Pampa. The O. K. is a hospital for automobiles. They can cure all its ills, and take away that tired, wheezy sound that the old buggy just can't get rid of. When your car is released from this "hospital," you will hardly know it, for it will run like a new one.

If your tires are bad, too bad for recapping, you are sure to find some good second-hand recaps or if you are the lucky kind of person, perhaps a new one.

Perhaps you want to have your tires recapped. If so, you can be sure that O. K. recapping is your best bet. With O. K. recaps you receive extra value, more miles, a guarantee, and sure safety. O. K. repairs and recaps do not come off or blow out. When they are "Rubber Welded" they become a permanent part of your tire.

The O. K. Shop began business in September of 1945, when the owner, Wesley Lewis, decided it was time Pampa had a really modern tire shop. Not only does he service tires and tune-up automobiles, but he also will sell you that Good Gulf gasoline and oil. Or if you prefer other types of oil, he has that, too. He has a good supply of auto parts, such as batteries, generators, sparkplugs, and many other items necessary to

Proof of Fatherhood Should Be Presented

AUSTIN—(AP)—All Texas selective service registrants between the ages of 20 and 29 are being advised by state selective service headquarters to advise their local draft boards in writing with authentic proof if they are fathers.

Gen. J. Watt Page, selective service state director, explained that extension and amendment of the selective service training and service makes non-fathers of that age group liable for military service.

Page said the term "children" would include legitimate and illegitimate children from the date of their conception, children legally adopted, stepchildren, foster children, and children who are supported in a good faith by the registrant in a relationship similar to that of a parent.

WARSAW—(AP)—A strike of approximately 10,000 students in Poznan and Krakow ended Friday night after university heads assured them efforts would be made to release "as quickly as possible" 500 to 700 fellow students reported jailed in Krakow during May 3 demonstrations there.

Protests over reports of impending governmental curbs on the autonomy of the national universities have been sent to the council of ministers by the university heads. A decree providing such curbs had been reported already drafted by the government.
