Big-Four Hopeful for Agreement

PARIS—(AP)—U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and a party of 15 other persons, including Senators Tom Connally (D-Texas) and Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.), left today for Washington after the deadlocked foreign ministers conference had adjourned until June 15.

Before departing, Byrnes expressed the conviction that, despite the failure of the current conference to draft any major treaty, the outstanding differences between Russia and the western powers would be settled at the next meeting. Similar views had been expressed by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

ITALIAN REPARATIONS

American sources said that Byrnes' attitude was based on progress made on such questions as Italian reparations, colonies and Balkan frontiers.

They said that these advances should assure the calling of a 21-nation peace conference, even if the next meeting of foreign ministers should adjourn without total agreement on peace treaties.

CITY OF TRIESTE

American officials said that the city of Trieste, key to the Italian peace treaty, had become a symbol of whether the next conference would succeed or fail.

At the conference just terminated, the United States insisted that Trieste remain Italian; the Russians were just as insistent that the important Adriatic port be ceded to Yugoslavia.

Britain and France, which originally supported the United States, were reported willing to compromise by declaring Trieste an international city.

WILLING TO YIELD

The American informants said that previous experience with Russia led them to hope that by next month Moscow would be willing to yield or compromise.

American authorities still were puzzled over Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov's opposition to Byrnes' proposal for a four-power mutual assistance pact to supervise German disarmament for at least 25 years.

Just before adjournment yesterday, the ministers initiated a resolution to liberalize control over Italy and aid her reconstruction.

Terms of the document will not be announced.

Negro Confesses Firing Shots That Killed Americans

FRANKFURT, Germany—(AP)—An American negro private signed a confession today that he fired three shots at a civilian going up the road, which resulted in the deaths of two American sergeants Friday night.

The negro was identified as Pfc. James C. Devone, 28, of North Carolina (no town given).

Officials said the negro asserted that the jeep in which the sergeants were riding "got in the way" of the last bullet he fired.

The bare outline of the statement released at headquarters of the theater provost marshal did not identify the civilian or explain why Devone fired at him.

Devone probably will be sent to the Nuernberg prison stockade from Erlangen, where he had been taken for final questioning by former G-men of the criminal investigation division.

He was said not to have implicated anyone else, asserting that he was alone at the time of the shooting.

Authorities said the negro confessed after ballistics tests showed the fatal shots were fired from an army carbine which had been traced to him.

Four other negroes had been detained for questioning last Tuesday when tests showed that the death weapon had been issued to their outfit.

The victims were T/4 Paul R. Skehan of McKinney, Texas, and S/SGT William R. Timmons, of West Haven, Conn., both 21 years old and assigned to the fiscal department of "Stars and Stripes."

They were slain from ambush while riding a jeep with another soldier and three young Allied women, on the way home from a night club.

Authorities said both men were killed by the same bullet, which went entirely through the body of one and penetrated six inches into the body of the other.

Three shots were fired, the agents said and the empty shells were found behind a clump of bushes near the scene, in a bomb-shattered residential section of Nuernberg.

Rogers Admitted to Supreme Court Bar

Walter Rogers, attorney of the Texas 31st judicial district, was admitted to the bar of the federal supreme court in Washington, D. C., Monday.

He was recommended to the bar by T. L. McKevitt of the Lands and Tax division of the Department of Justice, who introduced him to supreme court.

Justice Hugo Black, acting chief justice, accepted the candidates to the bar, including Rogers, in impressive ceremonies.

Rogers is now qualified to represent cases in any court in the United States.

The district attorney, who returned to Pampa yesterday, said the late Chief Justice Stone's centrally situated chair was robed in black, as well as the front paneling of the bench, the period of mourning being until May 23.

Hail Damages Some Panhandle Wheat

According to Irvin Cole, the wheat situation around Pampa and in Gray county is good, and luckily enough, there was not enough hail last night to do it any damage. The hailstones were small, about 3/8 of an inch in diameter, and fell for only about ten minutes.

Byrdton, six miles east of Groom, however, was not so lucky. Max Wade of the Groom News reported that the hail caused heavy damage to the wheat, but a complete report on the damage was not available. It was also stated that heavy rains also caused a flood in that section.

He stated that the wheat was not as good as it could be, as there were bad spots and good spots, as is the case with most of the Panhandle wheat. With luck, farmers are expecting to harvest from 7 to 10 bushels per acre in the section of the country, according to the Groom News.

Canadian reported 75 inch rain, and no hail, which makes them among the luckier ones. White Deer had very little hail, and what there was, did no damage to speak of.

556 Cans Food in At Lefors, Drive Is To Continue

Lefors' school drive for canned food, which comes to a close today, has netted 556 cans, Rex Reeves, Supt., announced this morning.

The drive will continue for another week in the city. It will be conducted through the grocery stores and the churches. The Boy Scouts are making a house-to-house campaign in order that everyone will have a chance to give food for the benefit.

Lefors scouts are working under the direction of R. B. Johnston and L. B. Penick.

The Lions club will pack the tin the last week in May.

With an enrollment of 120, the primary grades collected 117 cans; the junior high, 212 enrolls, 228 cans; high school, 115 enrollment, 111 cans.

Cities Clean-Up To Fight Polio

Clean-up campaigns were spreading today as Texas cities attempted to prevent the strike of poliomyelitis and encephalitis, which was reached at least five cities.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, reported that more than 100 Texas towns and cities have requested aid from the state health department to inaugurate sanitation control measures to prevent spread of the epidemic.

Physicians are undecided whether the sickness is encephalitis or poliomyelitis.

Dr. Cox said there might be many unreported cases.

An Antonio, where the outbreak was first noticed, apparently had brought the disease to standstill. Dr. S. Edward Sulkin, Southwestern Medical college research expert, said outbreak appears to be on the wane.

Known deaths to date are four in San Antonio, one in Amarillo and one in Laredo. Corpus Christi and Gorgor reported cases, none of which have been fatal.

Texan Selected as Variety Club Head

NEW YORK—(AP)—Selection of William McCraw, former Texas attorney general, as executive director of the Variety Clubs of America was approved yesterday by delegates to the annual meeting of the clubs.

McCraw will receive $12,000 a year. He is the first paid national official in the organization's history, a spokesman said.

Former State Senator Joe Hill, representing the American Liberty Oil company, criticized the commission's practice of estimating that a total need for oil is usually from 10 to 15 percent below nominations.

"Unless the commission takes the uncontroverted testimony given at these hearings and bases its orders on it, you are going to keep every independent refinery on the verge of starvation," he said.

"Here it is May 17 and we don't know where we will get the crude for our refinery next month. How can you run a refinery like that?" Hill said the commission was

'Not a Thing' New In Coal Deadlock

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The White House today reported there is "not a thing" new in deadlocked soft coal contract negotiations.

President Truman, rebuffed on his proposal for arbitration of the dispute, turned his attention to the threatened nationwide rail strike which would halt movement of coal from mines.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told a news conference he didn't think there was any chance that Mr. Truman would call John L. Lewis and Charles O'Neill, spokesmen for coal operators, to the White House today. He added, however, that "anything could happen at any time."

The United Mine Workers and the operators rejected last night the presidential proposal for arbitration of their differences.

Mr. Truman arranged to remain at the White House to handle any developments, cancelling a weekend trip to Missouri.

And despite the generally gloomy outlook, Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach said he found grounds "very intangible" though they might be—for believing that the negotiations might be resumed.

LEWIS'S DEMAND—These came to an abrupt halt over the barrier by Lewis's demand for a seven percent payroll levy to finance a miners' health and welfare fund.

Mr. Truman's arbitration suggestion followed.

Lewis turned it down cold. He told the President his negotiating committee was not authorized to agree to such a step.

NON-WAGE ISSUES—The operators rejected the proposal on all of the non-wage issues raised by Lewis, but acceded on the question of wages and hours. They already have offered Lewis the equivalent of 18 1/2 cents an hour in a wage.

But the health and welfare demand, the controversy over unionization of foremen, the acceptance of federal mine inspectors' safety

Senate in Mood To Vote Ban on Benefit Funds

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The senate was in a mood today to slap an outlaw ban on employer contributions to benefit funds which unions may spend as they see fit.

Even opponents of the proposal conceded it had majority support, but debate on the turbulent labor picture kept denying the chamber a chance to vote.

The legislation is aimed at the type fund which President John L. Lewis of the united mine workers has asked operators to provide for his union's health and welfare activities.

Lewis's demand was credited by opposing sides with having created majority support for the pending "outlaw" measure offered by Senator Byrd (D-Va.).

Byrd told a reporter he is certain a majority wants his proposal tacked on to a "mid" labor disputes bill placed before the senate by its education and labor committee.

Byrd manifested impatience over the way debate has been prolonged. He told newsmen it seemed "very clear that a filibuster is on."

Meanwhile, individual senators turned thumbs down on a suggestion by John D. Small, civilian production administrator, that congress outlaw strikes for six months. The general verdict seemed to be that lawmakers considered the idea unworkable.

OPA Authorizes Oil Ceiling Increase

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The OPA has authorized increases ranging from five to 35 cents a barrel for producers' ceiling prices for crude oil from 20 pools. The increase is retroactive to April 1.

Texas pools granted increases were: McCamey, six cents; Rocknail, 20 cents; Sewell, 20 cents.

Suggested Proration Order Is Opposed

AUSTIN—(AP)—Sharp opposition to the suggestion that the railroad commission issue a 90-day proration order developed today at the statewide hearing at which the oil regulatory body is taking testimony on which to base permissive production schedules.

Refiners, who have been asking for increases in recent months, continued their plea for more production and producers as consistently opposed increased allowances.

Former State Senator Joe Hill, representing the American Liberty Oil company, criticized the commission's practice of estimating that a total need for oil is usually from 10 to 15 percent below nominations.

"Unless the commission takes the uncontroverted testimony given at these hearings and bases its orders on it, you are going to keep every independent refinery on the verge of starvation," he said.

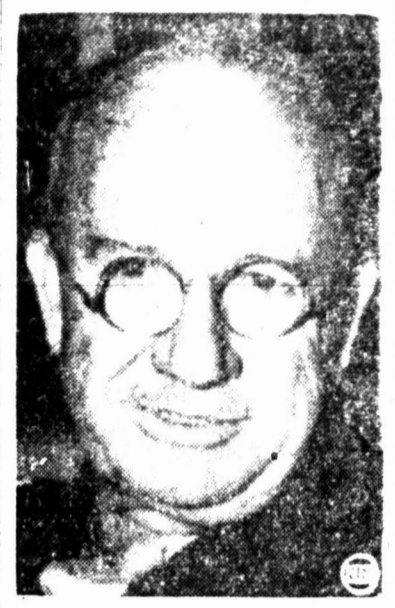

"Here it is May 17 and we don't know where we will get the crude for our refinery next month. How can you run a refinery like that?" Hill said the commission was

"Killing little pigs like Henry Wallace did" under its system of allocating allowances.

H. P. Nichols of Tyler spoke out against the proposal advanced by Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson that the commission issue an order for 90-days, rather than the customary 30 days order.

He said this might cause unnecessary turmoil in the industry. He recalled that as recently as April the commission had been forced to change a 30-day order, and asked

Scientist Sees Practical Use Of Atomic Energy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Dr. Leonard I. Katzin, West Coast scientist, today rated large commercial atomic energy plants a practical possibility in two years and saw them curtailing industry's reliance on other sources of power.

A research chemist with the plutonium project at the University of California, Dr. Katzin described why he considers such a development financially and technically possible in an article written for the current issue of Army Ordnance Magazine.

Through industrial application of atomic energy, undeveloped areas rich in minerals like Canada, could be made highly productive, waste in general could be curtailed and life made more livable, he theorized.

"In its present state of development, atomic energy does not compete with common fuels, but this need not be the case in the future," said Dr. Katzin.

One pound of uranium completely consumed by fission, he pointed out, will release as much energy as the combustion of 1,500 tons of coal, 250,000 gallons of fuel oil or gasoline, 80,000,000 cubic feet of artificial gas or 40,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas.

Whether atomic power can compete financially with ordinary fuels depends on the cost of production. In order to compete with bituminous coal at $5 a ton a pound of U-235 should cost not more than $7,500 to produce, Dr. Katzin said.

"Competition with 15-cent gasoline is effective at $30,000 a pound. To compete with artificial gas costing 50 cents a 1,000 cubic feet it may still cost $39,000 a pound, while natural gas at the same cost would

Missing Man Found; Throat Cut, Stabbed

BURNET—(AP)—The body of Ab Clayton, 61, of Lampasas, Texas, with his throat cut and nine stab wounds in the back, was found yesterday at a bridge crossing the Colorado river 12 miles from Burnet. Sheriff Wallace Kiddell of Burnet county reported.

Sheriff Riddell said he had arrested two men but the investigation was continuing. Clayton had been reported missing for his home at Lampasas.

Truman Calls Train Factions To Conference

WASHINGTON—(AP)—With a nationwide rail-railroad strike set for 4 p.m. (EST) tomorrow, President Truman asked both sides in the wage dispute to the White House today for a series of conferences starting at 2:30 p.m.

This will be one of his last, if not the final, effort at government intervention to prevent a rail tie-up by a walkout of 250,000 engineers and trainmen.

SEIZURE EXPECTED—The President has said on two occasions that he will seize the carriers if a settlement is not reached before the strike deadline.

Wage negotiations stalled yesterday when the representatives of the management rejected a modified proposal by the trainmen and Engineers Brotherhoods for a wage increase of 15 per cent or a minimum of $144 cents a day. They originally asked 25 per cent or a floor of $240 a day.

EMERGENCY BOARD—The carriers would not go beyond the 16 cents an hour or $128 a day recommended by the President's emergency board. The employers consent even this would cost $504,600,000 on the basis of estimated employment for 1946.

First on the President's list this afternoon are A. F. Whitney, president of the trainmen, and Alvanley Johnson, head of the engineers.

Mr. Truman then will talk with C. J. Goff, representing the firemen; T. C. Cashen of the switchmen; and W. W. Fraser of the conductors.

These three operating unions were awarded a 16 cents an hour

Applications for Entrance to U.N. Group Delayed

NEW YORK—(AP)—The security council adopted unanimously today a United States resolution which in effect delays immediate consideration of Albania's request for admission to the United Nations.

The council then adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

The resolution offered May 10 by Edward R. Stettinius, jr., U. S. delegate, provides that all applications for united nations membership submitted not later than July 15 shall be considered by the council in August.

Albania's application is the only one on file.

Albania is sponsored by Yugoslavia and is supported by Russia and Poland. Britain has opposed the Albanian application but the British delegate did not speak on the point today.

The resolution provides that applications received up to July 15 will be turned over to a council subcommittee for a report and then will be considered by the council "at a meeting or meetings to be held in August, 1946 for this specific purpose."

Alexander Parodi, French delegate, told the United Nations security council today on assuming the council presidency that "our task is to maintain and develop the spirit of cooperation."

The first council chairman to conduct the meetings in French, Parodi said.

"I think I may express the anguish of all peoples of the world today in the face of the difficult situation and express the hope they have in us. The task of our organization can only be a difficult one."

The council then turned again to a discussion of rules on admitting members.

"Doubting Thomas" among such disciples of faith and action as Peter, James, and John, possesses an unenviable distinction. LEADERS NEED PRAYER, NOT CRITICISM

By Grady Adcock

"AND the Lord said, Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation? And to what are they like? They are like unto children sitting in the marketplace, and calling one to another, and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned to you, and ye have not danced." Luke 7:31-32.

Jesus is hitting the Pharisees with criticism sharp and cutting in these two verses. John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine, but preaching repentance. He spoke out against sin. He told men the ax was at the root of the tree of no fruit. Then his head dropped into a dish because he was not tactful.

The Pharisees would not except John because he was too hard and harsh. They wanted a gospel full of sweetness and light.

THEN Jesus came calling men to repentance too, that they might have life, giving new freedom, and joy in their hearts. Jesus was widely different from John in message and personality. But since He came eating and drinking with the sinners, the Pharisees would have nothing to do with Him.

Throughout the ministry of Jesus He pointed out the need of coming to God with child-like faith. But the Pharisees were being childish in rejecting both John and Jesus with such weak excuses.

Are we child-like today, or childish? Are we playing the game, or criticizing those who are? Are we lifting our share of the load, or adding to the overburdened shoulders of others?

The cure for childishness is childlikeness. May we come to God with faith and pray for help in an hour of need. The leaders of the nations need our prayers and not our criticism. The same is true with the Church—if you have a helpful word help us. The Church makes mistakes because men have a part in it. It is the hope of the world because it carries the message of Jesus.

Program Subject For Church Given

Sunday school of the First Baptist church is holding up the attendance. Last Sunday the attendance was 954. The Sunday school begins at 9:45 a. m. The morning hour of worship at 11 a. m. Rev. E. Douglas Carver will preach, using this subject for discussion: "My Utmost for The Highest." This entire program may be heard over station KPND from 11 until 12 a. m.

The evening activities will begin with the meeting of the Training Union at 7, and the evening worship in song and sermon is scheduled for 8 o'clock. The speaker of the evening will be a local man and a member of the church, Mr. Howard Lyons. Mr. Lyons was ordained a deacon in the First Baptist church, Borger, about five years ago. He has been active in Sunday school and Training Union work for many years and is interested in the entire program of the church.

Mr. Lyons will preach his first sermon Sunday evening. He has recently answered the call to preach the gospel, and plans to further prepare himself for the gospel ministry sometime in the future. R. Virgil Mott will sing "Teach Me To Pray" by Jewett at the Sunday morning special music time. The Vacation Bible school is scheduled to begin June 24th.

Regular Services To Be Conducted Sunday

Regular services will be held in the Calvary Baptist church on Sunday May 19. Sunday school begins at 9:45 a. m. under the direction of C. H. Batt, superintendent. Morning worship begins at 10:50 a. m. with A. L. Abernathy leading the song.

Rev. Noel V. Guice, who is now pastor of the College Heights Baptist church in Plainview, will speak for both morning and evening services. The College Heights church has had a large increase in numbers since Rev. Guice has been their pastor, and he has been highly recommended for his leadership.

Training Union begins at 7:00 p. m. led by Frank Slaten, the director. Immediately following the close of the evening worship, the young people of the church have their Fellowship hour. The public is invited to attend all of these services.

Great Challenge Faced by Radio

AUSTIN—(AP)—Radio today faces the greatest challenge and the greatest opportunity in its history to contribute to adult education. A. L. Chapman, director of research in education by radio at the University of Texas, last night told the Fourth Southwest Regional Conference of Adult Education.

Chapman said he believed radio stations are more receptive than ever to local live programs, programs designed by minority groups, programs produced for and by non-profit organizations and programs of an experimental nature.

State Librarian Francis Henshaw discussed the part the library plays in adult education and Lynn Lan-crum, Dallas Morning-News columnist, spoke on the role of the press in the education of adults.

The three-day conference will conclude tomorrow. Catastrophes in the United States during the Red Cross' 1944-1945 fiscal year killed 1192 persons, injured 6218, and damaged or destroyed 158,457 buildings. Cakes of salt once were used as money in both Tibet and Abyssinia.

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—The Southern Baptist convention today chose St. Louis, Mo., as its meeting place for next year. The meeting will be held May 14-18 with Dr. W. A. Criswell, of the First Baptist church, Dallas, Texas, as the convention preacher. Dr. Claud Bowen, of Calvary Baptist church, Jackson, Miss., was named alternate preacher.

Dr. Louis E. Newton of Atlanta, new president of the Southern Baptist convention, today spearheaded the organization's renewed demand that the United States recall its representative to the Vatican.

The 54-year-old Georgian, who has been pastor of Atlanta's Druid Hills Baptist church since 1929, was elected last night in Miami's Bayfront park, where the convention is holding its 101st annual meeting.

He defeated Dr. Robert G. Lee, of Memphis, in a run-off after none of six candidates nominated received a majority on the first ballot. Dr. Newton succeeds Dr. Pat M.

Neff of Waco, Texas. Dr. R. C. Campbell of Columbia, S. C., and Dr. Roy C. Angel of Miami were elected vice presidents. Porter Routh of Nashville was named secretary and Joe E. Burton, also of Nashville, assistant secretary.

In a strongly worded resolution, the more than 8,000 "messengers," as delegates are called, urged recall of Myron C. Taylor as presidential representative of the Vatican and the entire embassy staff.

Dr. Newton, who submitted the resolution, said it was the strongest recommendation yet made and added "We intend to keep at it until we get something done."

The resolution said the convention which was organized in 1845 had "repeatedly and earnestly" since 1940 protested the appointment of Taylor.

Fur Wedgies, Romany Road Sandals Delight Teen-Agers

Romany Road-inspired leather sandals airily dancing their way into teen-age fashions are styled in nine basic colors with wedge soles, though-like straps. Center figure wears white unlined cowhide moccasins with hand-braided tongue. Sketched top right is soft elkskin gypsy sandal. Other sketches, a sling-back oxford and open sandal, are fur "dogies" made of unborn calf in black or brown with natural white fleckings.

By EPSIE KINARD
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Able to take the teen-ager to town or country, to school or into a jitterbug's dance at the drop of a nickel in a slot are new California-styled wedge shoe fashions which can put every color she can handle in leather and two in "fur" on her feet.

The "fur" wedgies, made of black or brown unborn calf with natural fleckings of white are aptly enough called "dogies." They come in sling oxfords and open-type sandals. These, together with all types of sandals and a new type of moccasin boasting hand-braided uppers made of all-of-a-piece leather, bowed before their public recently at a ballet-fashion show to prove what the cobblers claim: That is, these shoes will turn walking into dancing for agile young things.

What backs up this claim are buoyant platform or wedge soles. To make feet gayer and more light-footed, instep-cleaving moccasins are unlined and are made of soft, pliable cowhide in nine basic colors, including white.

All leather sandals of elkskin, available in as many colors, are criss-crossed in every conceivable way to give style-conscious girls air-conditioned shoes with good support built up behind the lattice-work. Many of these with wedge leather soles of matching or contrasting color were inspired by the legends of the Barbary Coast and have a Romany Road look.

El Progresso Club Has Last Meeting

As Mrs. Jones gave the highlights in the life of Mr. Foster, Mrs. W. R. Ewing played several of Foster's songs, among them the first known published and the last published song, Mrs. Edgar Henshaw and Mrs. Beauford Norris sang "My Old Kentucky Home," and Mrs. Norris sang "Beautiful Dreamer," accompanied by Mrs. Ewing.

Members present were Mesdames George Briggs, C. P. Buckler, D. V. Burton, W. C. Jones, C. T. Highower, Beauford Norris, S. D. Stennis, W. R. Ewing, James Todd, Walter Purviance, Dave Pope, P. C. SYSTEMS AND RESULTS In his valedictory address as retiring president of the United States chamber of commerce, Eric Johnston called for a "new national fervor" for the "new capitalism" which he advocates—a human institution, vibrant and evolutionary, capable of constantly adjusting itself to new conditions.

This thesis, which Mr. Johnston argued with good sense and realism, is not new. But it hasn't been common of late to hear a man in public life urge a positive, aggressive pride in the capitalistic system, and at the same time admit its shortcomings.

There are many, of course, who will take an aggressive stand for the status quo, and who consider capitalism "a closed and perfect system of life, resting on congealed and unchangeable dogmas," as Mr. Johnston put it.

There are others who are on the defensive, who apologize weakly for the system or, more extremely, charge that capitalism is fundamentally wrong, that it is getting worse, and that it might better be scrapped than overhauled. It is they who tell us that we must "show Russia" that capitalism works better than communism, or else adopt communism.

To be sure, capitalism is not at the top of the economic heap today. The British people have elected a government pledged to a modified socialism. And most of the liberated countries of Europe are turning either toward Britain's new course or toward Russia's communism.

But does that mean that capitalism is wrong in theory? Or have Europeans turned their collective back on capitalism because they blame it, as it was practiced in their own countries, for many of the misfortunes that befell them? If capitalism hasn't worked fairly and justly in China, for example, must we then call it wrong for the United States?

The results are important. And if the results are bad, people tend to change the technique when they are free to do so. But famine is famine, whether under communism or oligarchy—and it has occurred under both.

Let us look, then, at the material results of capitalism in America. They are imperfect, but what other system offers more in human comfort? And the imperfections are being remedied, though there is still a long way to go.

Today's capitalism is not the capitalism of 50 or even 20 years ago. It is not the capitalism of the Jay Goulds and the Jim Fisks, the sweat shops and 12-hour days and "the public be damned." Gradually freedom of opportunity and advancement are realization for the many has been advanced at the expense of freedom of exploitation for the few, though some have fought all advancement bitterly.

By all the evidence around us, capitalism works in America—not perfectly. It will probably work better with a little more of the "national fervor" Mr. Johnston suggests, and considerably less apology, selfishness, class bickering, and defeatism.

Common Ground

By A. C. HOLES

"If majority rule had determined with the curb right never have become round. The laws of economics prevail in spite of what majority opinion happens to be."—F. A. Harper.

Not A Majority Rule Country

Most people fail to realize that this is neither a majority rule nor a minority rule country.

Down through the ages men believed that one group had a right to rule, control, extort, or dominate over another group, no individual, no group, or no state has a right to rule anybody else.

No man or group of men has a moral or natural right to make another individual or group do good or even to make him help protect life and property without the other's consent. The only purpose of a legitimate state is to restrain one man from doing something to another that cannot be done to every individual without injuring society.

This should be a country in which nobody rules anybody else. It is not a "rule" country. It is a country where men are to be free. It is not a rule country that rules over the initiative of its people. It is simply a country in which people have joined together to restrain one man from taking the property or the life of someone else by force or fraud.

This idea of ruling is a hangover from the belief in the divine right of kings. This government was based on the idea that a government receives its just powers from the consent of the governed. Therefore, the government will have to be very limited in order to get the consent of those who want to obey moral laws.

I know of no man who would not publicly admit that he wanted his property protected or that he wanted other people's property protected. Therefore, he would give his consent to hiring policemen and judges. If a very, very few people did not want to give their consent to hiring policemen and judges, let them be outside of the government just as we take children and insane people be outside of the government.

That is not anarchy either. It is the farthest thing from anarchy. It is exactly what Jesus Christ was advocating and what the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence advocated. All of these great documents attempted to get away from one man or group of men ruling over somebody else.

If we had this kind of government with the consent of all people who wanted their lives and property protected from someone else taking it from them without their consent, then the government would cost very, very little. Then they would be free to use all their God-given energy to develop their own character, their own soul, and to add to their wealth and the wealth of the world.

No, this is not a majority rule country. It was never intended to be a mere majority rule country. If that was what the founding

Another Lost Leader

After Wordsworth was appointed poet laureate, Robert Browning wrote a commemorative ode that has found its way into almost all the anthologies. It is entitled "The Lost Leader," and begins:

"Just for a handful of silver he left us, Just for a ribbon to stick in his coat, There is no reason to suppose that Mr. Vandenberg got a handful of silver for his support of the gift-loan to Britain, but the "ribbon to stick in his coat" comes closer to the mark. He has accepted the role of Mr. Truman's Republican diplomatic agent and, as such, has been privileged to move in what are often called the most select of European social circles, hobnobbing with the great men of a dozen bled countries. To gain and hold this bauble he has associated his name for all time with the follies and infamies of the Truman foreign policy, with the squandering of our own resources no less than with the wrecking of Europe's economy and the starvation, enslavement, or exile of tens of millions of innocent people.

Blot out his name, then, record one lost soul more, One task more declined, one more footprint untrodden, one more devil's triumph and sorrow for angels, One wrong more to man, one more insult to God!"

Mr. Vandenberg took his stand in the gift-loan on the eve of his departure for the so-called European peace conference. No doubt his speech has assured him an invitation to a number of dinner parties in Paris quite a friendly reception at the British embassy.

We've been handicapped in Germany by the lack of a decisive policy. We've got to be determined to carry through, which means we must maintain strong occupation forces in Germany.—Sen. Homer Ferguson (R) of Michigan.

Every woman can cooperate with President Truman's Famine Emergency committee by using less wheat and fats and oil products, but probably the most tangible contribution most housewives can make to this world food shortage is the used cooking fat she saves and turns over to the meat dealers for 4 cents a pound.—American Fat Salvage Committee.

Fathers hoped to establish the Declaration of Independence, they would never have written the Constitution, they would never have adopted the Bill of Rights. They were afraid of both majority and minority rule. They tried to establish a government that would set men free from men, a government in which no man ruled another man.

To leave the impression that this is a majority rule country is to confound and confuse the public. It can lead only to tyranny.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

WASHINGTON By RAY TUCKER EXPLANATION—Seemingly sincere Russian spokesmen here have confidently explained to equally earnest groups of prominent Americans the real reason for Stalin's belligerent, postwar attitude to the western powers.

Under pledges that their identities would not be revealed, they have talked with members of congress, the cabinet and the correspondents' corps, as well as with some of the nation's key business men.

Their explanation is that Moscow regards recent deals between London and the United States as evidence that the two western powers, although not admitting it publicly, have actually formed the permanent Anglo-American alliance Winston Churchill asked for in the Fulton, Mo., address, which he delivered in the presence of President Truman and without definite negative response from the chief executive.

ANSWER—The Soviet representatives cite five major agreements between 10 Downing street, and remark that the several had been negotiated even before the defeat of Germany. They also note that these pacts, which have financial, military and political aspects, were framed by the executive branches of the two western nations, although most of them require approval by the American senate and house.

In addition to these actual agreements, Messrs. Stalin, Molotov and Gromyko complain that the U. S. and Britain are even now arranging for a distribution or common operation of commercial and military bases in the Atlantic and Pacific, some of which are not far from Russia's shores or sphere of operations.

Last, they point out that Secretary Byrnes and British Foreign Minister Bevin have usually joined forces at the periodical conferences of the foreign ministers to oppose the Soviet's aims.

AGREEMENTS—Although at least a score of the men in these backstage audiences were members on congress, they were amazed at the Russians' summary of the international agreements which, in Stalin's opinion, align our interests and fortunes with Great Britain's more

Peter Edson's Column: CAPITAL GHOST STORIES, WRITERS

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Republican Senator Forrest C. Donnell of Westler Groves, Mo., touched off a hot one the other day, when he objected to Secretary of Labor Schweinfelt's presentation of a statement prepared for him by someone else, in support of the National Health Insurance bill.

Up the Mail is Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson. He made four speeches in April, two radio talks, two appearances before congress, and issued three important statements on food policy. He, likewise, could not have carried this load without the help of a whole staff of economists and experts.

MACKENZIE'S Column

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

India at long last has independence within her grasp—and this time it is being handed to her on a silver platter.

That's the meaning of the British project of forming a federal union for self-government in India. The great Indian political parties have failed to settle their bitter differences in the recent round-table conference at Simla.

There are indications of strong opposition to the plan among Moslems, who desire a wholly independent state (Pakistan) for themselves. But Mahatma Gandhi, most powerful political figure in the country and guiding light of the all-India congress (mainly Hindu) has advised careful study of the proposals.

Whether people like the announcement or not, it is going to be the most momentous one in this history of India. That puts the thing in a nutshell. Ever since my last visit to the Middle East, this column has been insisting that such a procedure seemed the most likely one to break the deadlock.

Britain's new socialist Prime Minister Attlee and his government have moved with great courage and vast daring. For India is among England's most cherished possessions.

There are imperialists who will charge Attlee with having thrown away one of the most priceless of the crown's jewels. Still, somebody has to make the move, for the Indian problem has been a menace to world peace.

The British plan on thumbnailed is this: The federal union will comprise the provinces (called British India) and the some 600 Indian states which are ruled by princes and lesser potentates. There will be a central government which will control foreign affairs, defense and communications.

There is a vital deviation in the matter of the provincial governments. The provinces will be permitted to form regional groups which will have their own legislatures and executive branches. These group legislatures will be interdependent between those of the provinces at the bottom and the federal government at the top. Now the point

In short, Messrs. Truman and Byrnes have "lobbied" openly for the advance. Through various means the administration plans to give France almost a billion dollars in cash and surplus property that will not require Capitol Hill sanction. This generosity is interpreted in Moscow as a move to influence the forthcoming French elections and to attract Paris to the Anglo-American rather than the "communist orbit."

OPEN-MINDED—Meanwhile, Russia's request for a billion dollars was "lost" or "misaid" in the state department, although no Soviet statesman puts any faith in that explanation for our six-months failure to make any reply to their note asking financial assistance. Incidentally, it was during these six months of silence that Moscow formulated and prosecuted the "imperialist program" which now ricks London and Washington.

The American, who were permitted to listen in on this "Apologia pro Stalino" do not agree with it in its entirety. But they are open-minded enough to admit that "Uncle Joe" and his salesmen put up a stiff defense—or offense.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—They've put "Amber" to bed for the summer, with John Stahl out as director and rumors that Peggy Cummins will be replaced when the movie goes back to the cameras. The film had been in production 39 days, with half a million dollars already missing from the budget, when Darryl Zanuck yelled "stop."

Zanuck says he will look at all the film shot, then decide whether Peggy will continue as the trollop with the wallop. No one is talking, but it's pretty obvious that Peggy's leap from "Junior Miss" on the London stage to "Amber" in Hollywood was too much of a leap.

Although conceding that she's a very competent actress, Stahl never quite saw Peggy as Amber. There's a censorship angle, too. After release of "The Outlaw," the censor was standing beside Stahl for every scene.

Inflation note: Lucey's is now serving "scrambled eggs financier." Ed Gardner can take a bow for devoting his entire radio show to the UNRRA food-for-starring-Europe campaign. It always happens: Two days after signing a seven-year Universal contract, comedian Fred Brady was offered starring roles in three Broadway stage-shows.

Shirley Ross and Bob Hope will get together for a new series of comedies. Promised and hoped for: A radio cavalcade, from crystal set to television, which Jerrold T. Brandt will produce as a $2,000,000 movie under the title "Magic in the Air." Alan Dinehart's widow Mozelle Britton, will stage Alan's hit play, "Separate Room," at the El Patio Playhouse in Hollywood.

Ann Dvorak and Igor, of the dance team of Igor and Yvette, are romancing after doing a dance routine together in "The Bachelor's Daughters." Producer-director Andrew Stone will build a Hollywood night club, using the ornate walls and ceilings from the fabulous Fifth Avenue mansion of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt II.

America's "1946 dream girl," says model boss Rita LaRoy, measures 5 feet, 5 1/2 inches in height, with bust 34 waist 24 or smaller, hips 34, thigh 17 1/2, calf 13 and ankles 8. Veloz and Yolanda have grossed an average of $4500 per concert on their current tour. All of Carmen Miranda's costumes in her new film, "That's for Me," are the work of Sascha Brastoff. He's an sergeant who burlesques Carmen in the most hilarious scene of the Army Airy Force show, "Winged Victory."

Someone asked Gregory Peck on the set of "Short Happy Life of Francis Macomber" what he happened to cut short his career as a medical student and take up acting instead. "I figured," he said, "that a bad actor would do a lot less harm in this world than a bad doctor."

The oldest parliamentary body in the world is said to be the Icelandic Althing, which has been going more than 1,000 years.

of these group legislatures is this: The Moslems have been demanding Pakistan on the grounds that they fear the Hindus, who outnumber them three to one. It was this insistence by the Moslems on an independent state outside any federal government that caused the collapse of the round-table conference, since the Hindus want a federal government. Under the provision for group legislatures, the Moslems can combine and so safeguard their interests, thus avoiding a division of India.

By GODFREY ANDERSON LUDWIGSBURG, Germany—(AP)

Several hundred former nazis are having time to reflect on the departed glories of their regime atop the hump of democracy, which rises 270 feet above the plain of Wurttemberg near here.

The grim old fortress-citadel of Hohenasperg, which houses hem snugly inside 30-foot walls girdled by a deep, dry moat, got its name of demokratenbuckel (hump of democracy) just about a century ago when leaders of the German liberal revolution of 1848 first filled its white-washed cells. Today, run by Americans and guarded by Poles, it is known by the less picturesque name of internment camp No. 76.

Hohenasperg had a long and chequered history both before and since it got its local name. Another dictator, Napoleon Bonaparte, once scaled the hill to gaze with admiration on the cannon which aligned its mighty walls. German students, sentenced to illegal duelling, stroiled across its tree-lined yard, while the Americans call "central park" today.

Chained with great links to the chainy wall of a dungeon in one of the towers, the German poet Christian Schubart had plenty of time to reflect that the year 1777 was no time for free speech, after he had criticized the luxurious life led by Karl Eugen, Duke of Wurttemberg, and his mistress, the fair Francesca von Hohenheim. Friedrich List, the economist, suffered a similar fate in 1824 because he attacked government deficiencies in the state assembly.

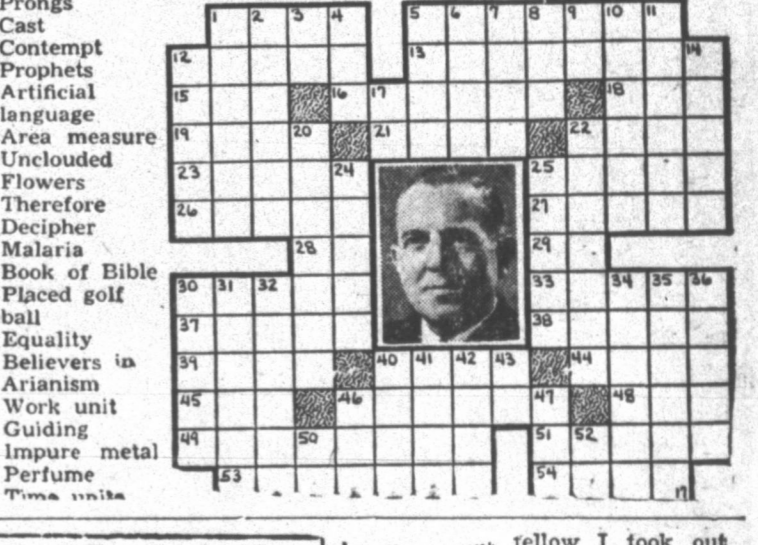

After the revolution of '48, all Hohenasperg's cells were filled. The hump-of-democracy had other names too—Trautenberg (mountain of tears) and Hoellenberg (mountain of hell).

Any war commencing within the next few years would of necessity initially be fought primarily with weapons now on hand or in production.—General Eisenhower.

Spring Flight

By WILLIAM MAIER

NEWKIRK EXPLAINS XXIX EVERY article of clothing Debby had on was new, brand new, never worn before. What fell funniest was the hat—and her hair underneath it, with a permanent wave in it.

She looked out of the window of the Qualeys' guest room to see if anybody was coming up or down the street and then ran down the stairs and out to the beach wagon. And she didn't breathe comfortably until she was out of the village on her way up the Cape toward Orleans.

Agnes and Ellie had gone to Boston, and Debby had moved into their room at the Qualeys' for the time they were gone. As she drove along, she somehow got to wondering about how it would be to live in a place like the Kendall house, with everything white like that and a bathroom all to yourself and all those closets. She guessed it was about it, there wasn't enough closet space for her new clothes either in the Qualeys' guest room or in her room over at the other house.

Before she got into Orleans, she stopped and, using the rearview mirror, straightened her hat and patted her hair and put on some lipstick.

MR. NEWKIRK was not in his office, and the same man in the same room down the hall said again that she might find him over at the Grille. Trying to breathe naturally, she walked into the Grille, and there he sat, talking to some people at one of the tables. He looked right at her, blankly, until she smiled. Then he started, and frowned, and slowly he began to smile, looking perplexed. He said something to the people he was with and came over, holding out his hand. "Well," he said, "I didn't know you. You look very fancy." He motioned toward a table, "Let's sit down." She nodded and sat stiffly with her elbow on the table and her chin on her fist, and he sat opposite her. "I just stopped in to tell you we got the check all right," she said. "Good." He looked genuinely pleased. "That's fine." "Did you fix it up for us?" "Well, I didn't know it." She paused, and then, looking up at him timidly, "How did you do it?" He looked off across the room, with his tongue in his cheek, and then he looked back at her and asked, "Would you like something to drink?" "Beer? Ale?" he suggested. "Scotch and soda." He chuckled. "Tough, eh?" She avoided his eyes and said nothing. He wasn't saying the things she had imagined him saying.

HE held up a finger toward the man behind the bar, and when the man came over, he ordered one Scotch and soda and one beer. Debby took off her gloves and sipped her drink cautiously. "Now," she said, "maybe you'll tell me how you fixed it up about our insurance money." He thought a minute and then he said, "I told them your dining room furniture was worth five thousand dollars." Debby sat still, sipping her drink and thinking. Finally she asked, "And they believed you?" "Not me. But they believed Mardrosian when he told them the same thing." "Who's he?" (To Be Continued)

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN

Well, I just read that someone had invented an electrical screen that will kill flies, and in the same paper I read that Chicago had used candles to save electricity during its recent dim-out caused by the coal shortage.

I think there's a very good moral in these two stories. With all our wonderful new inventions, it's still a sound idea to keep old standbys like candles and flyswatters around, just in case. It's ducky to have you work done by dishwashing machines and vacuum cleaners, but if something happens so they won't run, it's awfully convenient to have an old working model husband in reserve.

So girls, even when you finally get that new refrigerator, don't forget to smile at the ice man when you pass him on the street. Things can happen to all mechanical contrivances, but as the poet says, "There'll always be an ice man."

Tips for Teens

By ELINOR WILLIAMS
Here's a bright girl who not only sends a kind word about "Tips" but also tells 'hich ones are on her special list parade, so they'll help you, too.
"I've read 'Tips for Teens' ever since I've been in the 'teens and they help me a lot," she writes. "I've tried dozens of them and keep them in a scrapbook. These are my favorite ones that I use all the time:
"Quick clean up for hair between shampoos—slip a stiff-bristled hair brush into an old rayon stocking with the bristles extending through the mesh of the stocking. Brush your hair a strand at a time. Surface oil, dust and scalp flakes quickly come off on the stocking, leaving your hair softer and cleaner. (I use this when I have a cold and can't shampoo my hair, too.)
"Lemon rinse—strain the juice of half a lemon and add it to the last lukewarm rinse after a shampoo. You were right when you said it makes hair fluffy.
"Tooth brightener—this is easy. Simply brush your teeth two or three times a week with baking soda. It does seem to help keep my teeth white. My dentist said they look nice and that it's all right to use baking soda sometimes. He said to add a little salt to it, if I wanted to. Did you know that?
"For oily skin—my nose and forehead get shiny with oiliness, so I put a pinch of salt in the last cool rinse after washing my face, as you suggested. I do it before a dance and my face doesn't get oily so quickly. 'Blotting' the oil with a handkerchief also helps. I wish boys would do it; lots of them have oily skin, too."
(For suggestions on the care of dry or oily hair send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elinor Williams, c/o Pampa News.)

Nevada Has Four Times as Many Fatal Accidents as Rhode Island

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Four times the fatal accident rate prevails in Nevada as in Rhode Island, according to the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, who point to this as the extreme variation among the states of the Union. Generally the rates are lowest in the New England and the Middle Atlantic states, and highest in the mountain and Pacific areas.
In Nevada, about 190 persons in every 100,000 are killed in accidents annually. The figure for Rhode Island is 50 per 100,000, and for the country as a whole, 72 fatal accidents per 100,000 persons. Of the ten states with the highest rates, nine are in the mountain and Pacific regions; Florida, which ranks seventh, is the lone exception. All these figures apply to the years 1939-1940, a good representative period since it is not affected by the abnormal situation prevailing in many states during the war.
Aside from perhaps some survival in the west of the pioneers' disregard for personal safety, the variations in the rates, of the various states are, in the opinion of the statisticians, probably due, in the main, to economic and social factors. They are determined by differences in the type of industry, in age composition and density of the population, in type of housing, and the amount and character of automobile driving—whether mostly urban or rural—as well as on the character of the main highways. Differential rates of some of principal types of accidents are bound to reflect these varying conditions.
Not only in total accidents, but also specifically in motor vehicle accidents, the Pacific and mountain states rank highest, with Nevada leading them all. The North Atlantic states, which as a group have the lowest rates for total accidents, likewise register minimum rates for motor vehicle accidents.
Massachusetts holds the dubious honor of ranking first in the rates for fatal falls. Divided into groups, the North Atlantic and North Central areas lead in deaths from this cause, while the South Central and South Atlantic regions are at the other end of the scale.
Deaths from burns are relatively most frequent in the southern states and least frequent in the North Atlantic and Pacific states.
Gas poisoning deaths are most frequent in the North Atlantic states; deaths caused by firearms, in the southern and western states.

The most embarrassing "wrong number" of the month was reported in Sherman.
Three slightly tipsy men wanted another pint of whiskey. Someone, a practical joker no doubt, gave them a number to call.
They called—and got the police station.
The stork embarrassed Abilene. St. Ann's hospital there sponsored a baby derby. The first baby born at the institution on Mother's Day was to get a prize.
The stork, however, returned the place. Not a single baby was born during the 24 hours.
Last September the sheriff's department at Big Spring was notified that a wallet containing a lot of money was missing.
Young Edwin Harper, 14, has found the purse now. It contains $700 in cash and money orders.
But now the owner is missing. Police can't locate the man. His name is Rutledge, too—Charles V. Rutledge, that is.
Lufkin has found a new use for DDT.
L. L. Biggs believes he has a solution for the eradication of crawfish which plague Lufkin's beautiful lawns and flower gardens.
He puts a 10 percent solution of DDT on small bits of pork, drops the treat into holes.
The next day, he says, crawfish will be found outside the hole, not dead but very sick. They must be removed immediately, he cautioned, for they are poisonous and would cause death to pets.
A horse trough has been overturned in McAllen and the chamber of commerce is indignant.
They don't use the old wooden trough—McAllen is a very modern town—but it is the city's oldest landmark, and was placed in the middle of the main street by pioneers who founded McAllen in 1844.

Clovis Falls 7-4 As White Wins Seventh

CLOVIS, (Special)—Foster White racked up his seventh victory of the season as he set the Clovis Pioneers down with seven hits, to pitch the Pampa Oilers to a 7-4 victory.

White, rookie hurler from Nebraska, made a shaky start but settled down to a steady game while the Oilers, named Jack Riley, Virgil Richardson and Emmett Fulewider, got behind him with their big sticks. Successive doubles in the second inning by Richardson and Fulewider, a two-base error in the Pioneer outfield on Seitz fly ball and a single by White gave the Oilers their first three runs. Riley hit his second home run in two games in the third and Fulewider slapped a roundtripper in the seventh.

The Oilers will battle the Pioneers again tonight and will travel to Albuquerque for a two game series before returning here Monday and Tuesday against the Lubbock Hubbers.

LEGALITY CLAUSE Enters Quarrel
NEW YORK—(AP)—Legality of the player contract, the cornerstone of organized baseball, has been questioned in New York state supreme court by the Mexican league in a surprising counter-attack against what is termed an "American monopoly."

Charging that the American player contracts were "monopolistic, unreasonable, illegal and against public policy," Jerome Hess, counsel for President Jorge Pasquel and the Mexican league, yesterday insisted that players are held in "peonage for life."

As a result of this new approach by the Mexicans, Justice Julian Miller reserved decision on the New York Yankees' request for a permanent injunction, restraining the Pasquels and their agents from tampering with Yankee players.

The court also reserved decision on the Mexican charge but strongly indicated it thought the whole thing should come up for trial, probably May 27 when the Yankees and the Pasquels and their agents from tampering with Yankee players.

Upstart Leads in Fort Worth
By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
FORT WORTH—(AP)—George Schneider, Oregon, Utah, comparatively an upstart in PGA touring golf, boasted a competitive course record of 67, $250 for doing it and promise of a lot more as he led the way today into the second round of the $15,000 Colonial National Invitation tournament.

The 32-year-old westerner, making his first full trip with the top play-for-cash boys, shot a three under-par yesterday over the tough 6,522 yard Colonial county layout while the heralded stars floundered. For registering the lowest score—ones under the competitive course record set by Ben Hogan in the 1941 national open—he got the $250, an award offered daily in the tournament, and took the lead at 18 holes over 23 other professionals and 5 amateurs.

Only Schneider and little Tony Penna, the wise-cracking pro from Cincinnati, were able to better par. Penna's 69 giving him second place by two strokes over four players—Harry Todd, Dallas; Sam Snead, Hot Springs, Va.; Bob Hamilton, Chicago, and amateur Wilford Wehrle of Louisville.

In the two-over-par bracket was Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., tournament favorite who lost three strokes to water hazards, while Hogan, of Hershey, Pa., another top-rated entry, scrambled for a 73.

Softball Sponsors Will Meet Tonight To Complete Plans
All sponsors of teams entered in the Kiwanis church school softball league have been asked to meet tonight at 7:30 in the city commission rooms.

Aubrey Jones, head of the league, said tonight's meeting was very important and asked that all sponsors be there or send a representative if they could not be.

Collapse of Red Sox Is Puzzling Baseball Experts

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Next to the legality of the reserve clause in the players' contracts, baseball's most puzzling question today is what has happened to Boston's power laden Red Sox?

Held to only three hits by Jack Kramer in last night's 3-0 defeat by the St. Louis Browns, the receding Red Sox stumbled through their fifth consecutive contest in which they failed to produce more than four safeties.

In the last five games, in which they've dropped three to reduce their first place American league lead to five games, the Red Sox have made a total of 15 hits in 147 times at bat for a puny team batting average of .102. Compare this with their 297 compiled in their first 24 games, and it is almost unbelievable.

Individually the players averages have shrunk alarmingly. Before the slump, six regulars were batting over .300, with Johnny Pesky and Ted Williams soaring above .400. Now only Williams, Pesky and Dom Dimeglio are .300 hitters.

Only brilliant pitching by Mickey Harris and Dave Ferriss has prevented the Sox from losing all five games.

In a parade of players including nine pitchers, the St. Louis Cardinals edged out the Boston Braves 9-8 in another arduous contest to solidify their position at the head of the National league.

Twice the Braves came from behind to deadlock the count, but went down in order in the 10th after the Redbirds had tallied on a scal of home by Pinch Runner Jofre Cross. Cross had gone in for Catcher Ken O'Dea, who had opened the final frame with a double.

Enos Slaughter of the Cardinals treated Mont Cooper, a bigroomer of a few hours, most harshly by clubbing him for a pair of homers, each with a man on base, but the Braves came back to tie in the sixth 5-5. St. Louis went ahead again with three runs in the seventh, but the Cardinals tied twice in the eighth and once in the ninth to force the game into extra innings.

Rain washed out the rest of the major league schedule.

First Division In Texas League Due for Shuffle
(By The Associated Press)
The Fort Worth Cats' stock took another climb last night as they defeated the Shreveport Sports, 7-0, while their nearest rivals, the Dallas Rebels and the San Antonio Missions suffered losses.

Tulsa, making a strong bid for third place, defeated San Antonio, 4-2, for its second consecutive victory over the Missions. Dallas ran its losing streak to four when it fell for the second consecutive time before Beaumont, 3-4, and Oklahoma City bested Houston, 5-2, for its seventh victory of the season.

George DeCina, pitching his first game for Fort Worth, hurled a shut-out, allowing only four bunts, while the Cats were reaching two Shreveport pitchers for 13 hits.

Dallas' loss to Beaumont dropped it a game and a half behind Fort Worth, to which the Rebels retained their lead in the league.

Clarence Maddern's third double of the game broke a ninth-inning tie to give Tulsa its victory over San Antonio. The Missions had tied the score, 3-3, in the first half of the ninth.

Oklahoma City's Ralph McCabe and Houston's Andy Mohrlock each gave up only one run during the first five innings and each allowed six hits for the route, but Oklahoma City's three-run spurge in the sixth was enough for victory.

Today's schedule:
Beaumont at Dallas.
San Antonio at Tulsa.
Houston at Oklahoma City.
Shreveport at Fort Worth.
