Roxas Holds Lead of More Than 50,000 Over Osmena in Filipino Election

Present Chief Said Gaining Luzon Support

MANILA (AP)—Manuel Roxas held a lead of more than 50,000 over Sergio Osmena for the presidency of the Philippines tonight on a tabulation of unofficial returns from 1,704 precincts, but Osmena was steadily closing the gap as returns trickled in from central Luzon.

An Associated Press tabulation at 11:30 p.m. (9:30 a.m. CST) of returns from 1,074 precincts out of the 14,238 voting in Tuesday's election gave: Roxas—184,141; Osmena—132,035.

SENATE PRESIDENT

Roxas, president of the senate, built up his lead in Manila, which voted heavily for him. Still unreported was the bulk of the returns from Pampanga province, an Osmena stronghold. Unofficial returns from 403 precincts in that province gave Osmena 19,897, as against 3,810 for Roxas.

Earlier, Osmena claimed he had taken the lead in the presidential race on the basis of 67,000 votes in Pampanga, but the figure could not be confirmed in any Manila quarter by other official sources.

OSMENA MEN KILLED

Osmena lost two of his staunchest supporters in Pampanga province when they were killed by three masked men but there were no reports today of fresh violence.

figures were available for personal candidates. Hilario Mondado, Osmena's managers claimed that victory was certain.

'Instrument of Ill Will' Solon's Term

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today the United States is buying "50 years of friction" with Great Britain by offering a $3,750,000,000 loan. He suggested instead a $1,250,000,000 gift.

Opposing passage of loan authorization legislation, Taft told his colleagues in a prepared address that every time the British pay the $141,000,000 annual interest on the loan "they will grow heavier and the press will recall what they consider harsh treatment to an ally in the war."

"It is likely that in many cases the interest will be forgiven," the Ohio senator said, "and then everyone in the United States who doesn't like the British will rise up and denounce them for failing to pay interest and imposing additional charges on the American people."

"I feel deeply that this loan is an instrument of ill will and not of good will."

FREEING WORLD TRADE

TAFT said he doubted that the loan would produce the expected freeing of world trade from currency and other restrictions, a move the British have promised to undertake in return for financial help. He said the Russian government does all trading in the Soviet Union and in Soviet-dominated areas of the world and added that England has gone so far as to have its government buy all cotton.

POLICY OF LENDING

"This British loan is only part of a policy of lending about $20,000,000,000 during the next three or four years," he continued. "That policy can only result in inflation, boom, and depression. We put $6,000,000,000 into Bretton Woods to stabilize the world."

TAFT said the net value of British assets in this country is more than $3,000,000,000, with about $8,000,000,000 in other British property scattered throughout the world.

TAFT AND BILBO

"I cannot see that Great Britain faces any tremendous crisis to justify the extraordinary treatment we are asked to give her," he said. Taft gained the floor in advance of Senator Bilbo (D-Miss) who had asked for "several hours of speaking time."

Whether those hours might run into days was anybody's guess. Bilbo's arguments against legislation he doesn't like sometimes have occupied the senate for a long time. The Mississippi tells friends he speaks "by inspiration."

Meanwhile, Majority Leader Barkley (Ky.), pressing for a final vote by the end of the week, contended

Transport Crashes Into House, Kills 3

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—A western air line's transport, on a test flight with passengers, crashed into a house today, killing its three crewmen.

Occupants of the house, Matthew Brychta, his wife Mildred, and their three children, Ronnie 5, Janet, 3, and Carol, 18 months, escaped injury. The residence, on busy Lanekershim boulevard, was severely damaged by flames.

The crash occurred four miles from Lockheed airterminal, transcontinental terminal for major airlines serving the Los Angeles metropolitan area.

Western air listed the plane's occupants as: Wayne Fiederoff, pilot, Burbank; Marvin Schwartzbach, co-pilot, Roscoe, Calif.; Leon Turgeon, mechanic, Hollywood.

Lockheed's controller said the plane crashed in a moderate fog after a flight of nearly two hours, during which it had been unreported for the last 45 minutes. The test followed an engine change in the transport.

U. S. Support Of Australian Proposal Seen

NEW YORK (AP)—Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., U. S. delegate to the United Nations security council, was reliably reported today to have indicated he would support the Australian proposal for a thorough investigation of Franco Spain.

This word came as the council took a one-day recess after yesterday's stormy session in which Soviet Russia lost her battle to have the council drop the Iranian case and announced she would boycott any further discussion of the case.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, also was reported to have received instructions to back the Australian proposal. Mexico and Poland previously had indicated they would support the measure, and it was believed Russia and France were ready to go along.

The other delegates, while reluctant to commit themselves in advance, were expected to follow the lead of the big powers, which for once seemed to be in agreement.

It thus appeared that the Spanish question was finally headed toward a harmonious solution when the council meets at 2 p.m. (CST) tomorrow.

Such action would avert a showdown on Poland's move for a worldwide diplomatic break with the Franco regime for at least four weeks the time allotted for the inquiry by a five-man committee.

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko fought to the last to push through his resolution to strike the Iranian case from the council's agenda, but in the end he recognized his defeat by associating himself with a milder resolution offered by French Delegate Henri Bonnet.

The French proposal provided that the case be dropped from the agenda but it had an additional provision that the secretary-general report to the general assembly on any new developments on the Iranian question.

Bonnet's resolution, however, was defeated when it received only three of the council's 11 votes. It was supported only by Russia and Poland. All the other delegates during the debate had expressed a desire to keep the case on the agenda until May 6, the date on which Russia has promised to have all her troops out of Iran.

Drive for Waste Paper Scheduled

With the war against shortages increasing in intensity every day, the Boy Scouts of Pampa have "chipped in" again to do their part. This time, the seven troops in Pampa will collect waste paper—both magazines and newspapers—in a drive to be conducted Friday and Saturday.

A market for 4,000 pounds of waste paper has been secured and the money derived from the paper sale will go toward the purchase of pumping equipment for each troop.

It has been pointed out that the need for waste paper is as great as it was any time during the war. Newsprint for papers, paper for packaging and wrapping and for magazines and journals is still needed, it was said.

The scouts, under the direction of the troop committees, will pick up the paper Friday and Saturday in trucks loaned them for the drive. Magazines and newspapers should be tied separately in bundles at least 12 inches high, tied on all sides.

The separate wrappings of the different types of paper is necessary because of the varied prices brought by different grades of paper.

Members of the troop committees are to meet tomorrow night in the city commission rooms. Plans for the routes to be covered by trucks are being made ready.

Military War Trial Witness Is Threatened

NUERNBERG.—(AP)—Justice Robert H. Jackson told the international military tribunal today that threats had been uttered "in this courtroom this morning" against Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former reichbank president, and a Gestapo officer who was about to testify.

The American prosecutor's assertion threw the courtroom into turmoil, just as the Gestapo officer, Hans Bernd Gisevius, attempted to testify.

The witness barely had started to mention a conversation he had overheard between Otto Stammer, attorney for Hermann Goering, and Rudolf Dix, counsel for Schacht, when Stammer leaped to his feet protesting.

He objected to testimony concerning a "private conversation," but Jackson intervened to say:

"This incident was reported to me and I think it important that the tribunal know of a threat against Gisevius made in this courtroom this morning against him and the defendant Schacht."

Stammer then told the court he had discussed Gisevius' impending appearance at the trial with Goering last night and that Goering had told him he was intent on keeping out of the testimony any reference to the late Field Marshal Werner von Blomberg's marriage.

"Goering said Schacht was expected to speak about this thing," Stammer declared. "He said that he would drop any consideration for Schacht. That is what I told Dr. Dix. I did not even know Gisevius was present."

Dix then told the court that Stammer came to him and said:

"Listen, Goering has the point of view that Gisevius can attack him as much as he pleases but if he attacks the death of Blomberg, then Goering will tell things about Schacht and several things about Schacht that will be dangerous."

Dix asserted that he subsequently told Gisevius of this conversation since the witness already had heard bits of it.

Gisevius began laughing at Goering from the time he started testifying.

He said he had not intended to mention von Blomberg's marriage, an act which caused Hitler to remove the field marshal as minister of war in 1933, but had planned to speak of other matters involving von Blomberg.

"I know why Goering doesn't want me to speak about this because it is the worst deed he ever done," the Gestapo officer said. "Goering here is using a cloak of chivalry to try to silence me."

The court ruled that Gisevius should proceed with his story.

Wilhelm Frick, declining to take the witness stand, began the defense of his life before the international military tribunal today by submitting documentary evidence designed to show that he had been hoodwinked by Adolf Hitler.

Frick, former German minister of the interior and one-time Nazi "protector" of Bohemia and Moravia, presented to the tribunal through his counsel documents seeking to establish that he actually was a well-meaning but powerless official who fought in vain to restrain Heinrich Himmler and the Gestapo.

Butter Outlook Dim as Government Plans To Buy 60,000,000 Pounds for Military

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The government plans to re-enter the butter market about May 1 to buy 60,000,000 pounds to supply the armed services and military hospitals during the next 12 months.

To assure itself of this quantity, the government probably will require manufacturers to set aside a portion of their output during May and June.

Last summer it purchased 325,000,000 pounds under a set-aside order, but later turned 75,000,000 pounds back to civilian markets when supplies became very scarce.

Government buying for the year ahead will be concentrated in the May-June period when butter production normally reaches its peak for the year. By obtaining a year's needs in this period, the government thus eliminates itself as a competitor with civilians during low production periods.

But despite the government's plan to secure military needs during the flush production season, the outlook for civilian supplies of butter next fall and winter is not bright.

Second, consumed demand is at record levels. Because of this, it is quite likely that the great bulk, if not all of the production of the heavy production season—May through July—will be consumed as rapidly as it is produced.

If this happens, none from the flush season's output would be reserved for consumption next fall and winter when production is expected to be far short of demands.

During the war rationing limited consumption during the flush production season, and some of the spring and summer output was stored into storage for sale later.

In normal times, the butter industry itself stores a part of the summer output for sale during the fall and winter season of low production. There is an incentive to do this, because prices usually are lowest during the peak production season and highest during the fall and winter.

Under the government's price control program, there is no financial inducement to store for the future. Price ceilings are the same the year around.

About 100 Parking Meter Violations Listed First Day

Parking meter violations were comparatively light here yesterday, it was reported by the police department. About 100 tickets were written.

City officials expressed the belief that Pampans would become adjusted to the new system of parking in a short time and violations will decrease rapidly.

Other cities that have installed them have experienced a high number of violations the first few days, it was said.

The clause in the contract for the purchase of the meters reads that they may be removed if they are not found to be satisfactory.

Police today cautioned against the use of "stubs" in the meters. A state law prohibits the use of them and offenders are subject to heavy penalties.

The 500 meters installed here are of the penny-nick type, giving the motorists a choice of saving a few cents provided he only parks for a short time.

One cent entitles the motorist to 15 minutes of parking time. Coins should be inserted and the handle turned to the right for each insertion.

The meters are in operation from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on weekdays and 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturdays.

Reds Reduce Demands Made Upon Austria

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—United States diplomatic officials reported today that Russia has trimmed its land use demands upon Austria to a small fraction of the 150,000 acres originally sought.

The action came as the aftermath of an UNRRA decision at Atlantic City late last month to ban relief aid to any country whose armies are found to be "living off the land" of countries they occupy at the expense of the local population.

The exact extent of Russia's reduced request remains uncertain, but one state department official, in close touch with the situation, said privately the Soviet Union now is limiting its request to such unutilizable lands as those previously used as German grain fields.

The original Russian demand had raised grave concern in diplomatic quarters here on the double grounds that:

(1) It would cut deeply into the potential of Austria's agricultural production and;

(2) Indicate clearly Soviet intention to maintain a large force there for months.

This country, now helping to feed the Austrian people as the major contributor to UNRRA, has advocated reduction of occupation forces in that country to hasten restoration of economic stability.

Meanwhile, UNRRA planned tentatively to reassemble delegates from its 48 member nations for a brief meeting here soon to hear a new report on potential food-relief supplies.

It also was learned that Russia has been approached, thus far informally, to learn whether she would accept an official invitation to join the combined food board. The United States, Britain and Canada now sit on this board, which controls allocation of available supplies from the three countries.

Thus far there has been no official response. "In view of the invitation will be a condition that Russia become a contributor to the general food pool and that she furnish the board with full information on her present or anticipated surpluses."

The group elected Manton Hannah of McLennan county, president. He is one of 11 consultants to the U. S. public works administrator.

Other officers elected yesterday were Vice-President Henry Cook, Tarrant county; E. J. Roster, Webb county; W. J. Warren, Harrison county; and Lee R. Jones, El Paso county. L. L. Andrews, Wichita Falls, was named secretary-treasurer.

Under the government's price control program, there is no financial inducement to store for the future. Price ceilings are the same the year around.

Fabulous Fashions Created For Rio de Janeiro Revue

Climax of the American Dressmakers Association fashion show April 24 in Rio de Janeiro will be Tappe's medieval design ivory satin bridal gown, center, worn with veiled white wheat coronet. Other outstanding designs in the 33-piece collection are Sally Milgrim's gold and rhinestone beaded, tunic coated evening gown, lower left; Muriel King's black taffeta, bell-shaped dress, jet embroidered on pink satin, upper left, and her Grecian draped white jersey evening gown, lower right; and Czetka's long sleeved gray dinner gown, bead-embroidered with sprays of yellow mimosa at shoulders and waist, upper right.

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK—(NEA)—Designed to make a pure Yankee Doodle fashion splash in Brazil before the elite of that country on April 24, a 33-piece collection of fabulous dinner, evening and bridal gowns previewed here before the take-off furnished proof a-plenty that the U. S. A. can hold its own with other leaders for the South American luxury trade.

Acc designers creating fashions to raise the blood pressure of wealthy Brazilian women represent top-flight custom-order house. Their designs, sponsored by the American Dressmakers' association, will make their bow at the opening of the swank Casino of the Copacabana at Rio de Janeiro. More Yankee Doodle fanfare will be the exhibit of nine long-stemmed American beauties, hand-picked from a group of 250 mannequins, chosen to model the breath-taking duds. Both models and clothes will be flown in a chartered plane by TACA.

After a six weeks' exhibit and a whirlwind tour of Brazil, the clothes—but not the models—will be auctioned off for a Brazilian charity to be designated by Senhora Santa Gaftara Dutra, wife of Brazil's president.

VIBRANT COLORS
Although vibrant colors and a few quiet grays paraded the ramp at the preview, black and white for next fall and winter wear scored heaviest in the collection. In it was silhouette variety beginning with pencil-slim sheaths and winding up with drifting styles, using yards of bouffant net.

Making black gowns more sophisticated, fine fabrics were enriched by winking black sequins, paillettes, velvet-bow appliques, and nude-pink and silver lame aphanous organza and lace. One breath-taking black taffeta dinner dress with a fitted bodice and a bell skirt was yoked with pink-lined marquisette paillette-embroidered in an elaborate lily design matching inset panels slashes through the skirt.

NEW 'NAKED' LOOK
From wicked black the collection swung to aneagle white gowns as richly encrusted as their siren sisters. Gold and rhinestone beading wove a glittering pattern over a tunic coat, worn over a sheath evening gown. While resting stately quietly on line alone, a white jersey evening gown draped in the Grecian mode almost stole the show because of its new naked look—one shoulder bare, one primly covered with brief puffed sleeves.

One of the most spectacular gray gowns shown—long sleeves dinner sheath—was bead-embroidered to make a garland of yellow mimosa.

Climaxing the revue was a bridal gown of ivory satin of medieval design worn with yards and yards of illusion veil which drifted from a spectacular coronet of white wheat.

Dallas Seeking Second Straight Win Over Oilers

(By The Associated Press)
Al Vincent's Dallas Rebels meet Tulsa again tonight in Dallas, and the Rebels are all set to break a second-place tie with the Oilers.

Hank Oana, the veteran Hawaiian hurler, chalked up victory No. 2 last night for the Vincentmen, allowing but six bingles moving the Texans into a second place deadlock with the Oklahoma Oilers, following their 11-1 win.

League-leading San Antonio's scheduled game against Shreveport was postponed because of rain.

In Fort Worth last night, the cellar-dwelling Oklahoma City Indians took their sixth loss of the young season by bowing to the cowtown Cats, 3-6. Eddie Chandler made his Texas league debut in Fort Worth, by hurling his mates to their victory, holding the tribe scoreless until the seventh.

A two-game losing streak was snapped in Beaumont when the exporters defeated the visiting Houston Buffs, 3-7 in the opener of a three-game series.

Today's schedule:
Tulsa at Dallas (night)
Oklahoma City at Fort Worth (night)
Houston at Beaumont
San Antonio at Shreveport (night)

Brooklyn Mound Staff Presents Challenge to Vaunted Cardinals

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Ed Head's no-hitter dwarfs the rest of the baseball news today, emphasizing the latent strength of a Brooklyn staff that may give the St. Louis Cardinals many anxious moments.

The lean righthander from Selma, La., couldn't have picked a more effective way of proving to the Brooklyn management that he had completely recovered from an arm trouble that once threatened to end his big league career.

Making his first start since July, 1944, Head walked three men and one got on base on an error by Shortstop Pee Wee Reese. Fine fielding plays saved him three times.

The most exciting touch was provided by Rookie Catcher Ferrell Anderson who had hit his first big league homer in the sixth for the Brooklyn Braves, 3-0 margin over Boston's Mort Cooper. After Head walked Pinch Hitter Chuck Workman in the ninth, he struck out Connie Ryan and Anderson's bullet peg to first picked off Workman for a most important double play.

Head was a sixth straight win for the Dodgers but they needed it to remain in a first place tie with the St. Louis Cardinals who also reeled off a sixth successive victory at the expense of Cincinnati, 3-2.

Freshman Billy Cox bobbed a ball at shortstop that helped Chicago's trim Pittsburgh, 3-1, for Claude Passeau's first win of the campaign.

Oscar Judd bounced back from an opening day shellacking to toss Philadelphia to an 8-1 edge over the New York Giants with the help of Ron Northey's two-run homer off Harry Feldman.

The New York Yankees advanced into a first place tie with Boston by blanking Philadelphia 3-0.

Washington pulled the Red Sox back into a dead tie with the Yankees by scoring six times in the 11th for an 8-2 verdict over Fireman Mike Ryba.

Bill Dietrich outpitched Al Benton as Chicago trimmed Detroit, 3-1.

A scheduled Cleveland at St. Louis contest was rained out.

Registration of Students Limited

AUSTIN—(AP)—Because maximum possibilities are being approached in faculty, class rooms and laboratory space at the University of Texas, the faculty council has approved a proposal to limit registration of out of state students.

The proposal, subject to review by the general faculty in May, will be presented to the board of regents.

The faculty council approved this program suggested by the standing committee on admissions:

Applicants who have attended another college or university must have an average of "B" or better on all courses taken in the last two semesters of attendance as a regular student or on total attendance if less than two semesters.

Applicants who are graduates of accredited secondary schools must rank in the highest 25 percent of their graduating classes.

To be admitted to the school of law, applicants who are not residents must have a scholastic average of "B" or better in certain specified courses, or must be graduates of standard colleges or universities.

No Texas resident will be denied admission, but some may have to enter on scholastic probation.

Approval Given to Employ of Lobbyist

AUSTIN—(AP)—Galveston county may legally employ a lobbyist to represent the county's interests in Washington, the attorney general's department held in a ruling yesterday.

Charles H. Theobald, county attorney, wrote in asking for the opinion that the county wished to employ a representative to assist in securing federal aid for an extension of the Galveston sea wall, the Texas city protective works, and a new courthouse and jail.

Theobald said that part of the lobbyist's salary would be paid by the City of Galveston and part by the Galveston chamber of commerce.

Sight of Texas Flag Surprises Parisians

PARIS—(AP)—Parisians passing under a window of the Lotti hotel, billet for officers of the American graves registration office, were surprised to see the Lone Star flag of Texas flying.

The flag's owner, Maj. Homer Fry, 5325 Manett St., Dallas, Texas, proudly said he carried the banner with him ever since he came overseas 18 months ago. He unfurled it Sunday for San Jacinto day while he and five other alumni of Texas A. and M. college had a quiet celebration.

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
Lubbock's Hubbers are gaining favor as the team to beat for the West Texas-New Mexico league pennant by virtue of convincing wins over several league clubs, including the strong Amarillo Gold Sox.

The Hubbers, managed by the veteran Hack Miller, former White Sox player will open the season Friday against Pampa's Oilers in Lubbock Friday for a two-game series and will be strongly favored to take the two games.

The Borger Gassers, always one of the top teams in the league, are also expected to cause a lot of trouble under the able management of Ted Clawitter with hard-hitting Gordon Neil, league veteran, providing power hitting.

As for Pampa's Oilers, we'd say that Grover Seitz will pilot his charges to a good first division finish, with excellent hitting from Shortstop Earl Harriman, Outfielder Emmett Fulenweider and First Baseman Virgil Richardson.

Seitz' hurling staff will probably be headed by young Warren Hacker, a fine righthander who has provided good hurling in all of his exhibition games.

Bob Seeds' Amarillo Gold Sox, too, are one of the better teams. The Sox will have some experienced players, with their tieup with Little Rock affording them quite a bit of talent.

Harold Webb's Clovis Pioneers are shaping up good, too, having won several exhibition tilts, including a convincing verdict over the House of David nine. Heading the list of Clovis is Red Kramer, league pitching veteran.

Little is known of the strength of the Albuquerque Dukes, Abilene Blue Sox and Lamesa Lobos, but Abilene is expected to be the strongest of the three.

The Oilers will open their home stand against Abilene here May 2 for a two game series.

New York Yanks Don't Always Win, But Win All Ways

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK—(AP)—The New York Yankees may not always win but they certainly win all ways.

Sometimes they'll take advantage of their opponents' misuses; sometimes they'll blast 'em silly with their hitting; sometimes, and maybe not so often this year, they'll win on a high-class pitching job, sometimes they'll combine all the methods.

They dished out one of these combination salads last Sunday against the Washington Senators.

Spud Chandler killed them off with his pitching, and Charley Keller and Joe Di Maggio with their home runs, but it was the gift runs which ruined the Nats.

In the second inning Di Maggio singled, Keller was up next. He and Di Maggio both were safe when Gerry Priddy threw wide to second after taking Keller's ground ball. Sherry Robertson then fumbled Mick Etten's swinging hunt to fill the bases. Bill Dickey went down swinging, but Catcher Jake Early let the knuckle ball get away from him, and all runners advanced a base.

Undefeated in conference play, Texas is fresh from two victories over TCU last weekend. SMU, meanwhile, was trounced twice by Baylor.

Bobby Layne was indicated as Coach Bibb Falk's probable choice for today's pitcher for Texas. Two other rested Texas pitchers are also available: A. J. Hamilton and Fred Brent.

McNarney Cracks Down on Yanks

FRANKFURT, Germany—(AP)—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney today ordered a disciplinary crackdown on all American troops in Europe because "discipline in certain localities and commands in this theater has deteriorated to the point of discrediting the fine performance of our troops in general."

In orders issued to unit commanders, the theater commander declared "all commanders and their subordinates must now devote themselves to the reestablishment of discipline."

"This," he said, "becomes their most important immediate function."

General McNarney's written order said:

"Due to rapid demobilization and frequent changes of station of units and assignments of enlisted men and officers, firm ties of unit pride have been weakened. The traditional constant concern of officers for the welfare of their men and consequent mutual loyalties have been difficult to maintain during the transition period. Teamwork often has been forgotten.

"Consequently discipline in certain localities and commands in this theater has deteriorated to a point of discrediting the fine performance of our troops in general.

"Indications of this state can be found in:

"A. Participation in black market activities and in indulgence in drunkenness.

"B. A high absent leave rate and an excessive incidence of other disciplinary infractions.

"C. High automobile accident rate.

"D. Excessive venereal disease rate.

"E. General lack of smartness in appearance and conscientious observance of military courtesies.

"F. Complaining attitude toward constituted military authority and those duties essential to maintain high standards of soldierly efficiency."

The walls were papered, furniture painted, curtains hung, tablecloths laid, the bed made. Mickey had sold her mattress when she left, now she has it back.

Friends also stocked Mickey's cupboards with utensils, canned goods and other foods.

The former "little cafe" owner left a lot of her things in St. Louis. She had had a number of pictures, mainly of friends and those of a religious nature, but she brought many of them back and they're already up in their places.

Main reason for Mickey coming back to Pampa is that she loves it—every bit of it. "How lovely it looks," she exclaimed.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff

Once a year the dogwoods bloom and tens of thousands of Texans make a bee-line for Palestine to marvel at the beauty of the breathtaking Dogwood trails winding through a forest there.

During the other eleven months of the year one doesn't hear much about Palestine. Something ought to be done about it.

Nature has been kind to Palestine, a fascinating century-old city perched up 525 feet on a ridge between the Trinity and the Neches rivers.

Towering oak, walnut, pine and sweetgum trees abound. Bluebonnets and Indian paintbrushes form carpets in open fields. There are

AT BAYLOR

Army veteran, E. Neal Holden, above, is attending Baylor university, taking a course in pre-med, under the GI Bill of Rights. The son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Holden of this city, he was discharged from the army in July, 1945. He is the holder of the Victory Medal, Purple Heart, and two battle stars on his European theater ribbon.

fascinating little lakes nearby.

In the forests and in the lakes sportsmen find dove and quail, squirrels, rabbits and fox; fishermen find bass and game perch. In season there are ducks and geese.

Palestine is old and rich in history. It was one of the first towns in Texas. It celebrated its 100th anniversary last March 24. It was one of the first in Texas to have street cars, now abandoned. The residential area is still dotted with homes built almost a century ago, giving Palestine an atmosphere of solidity and security and, somehow, a peaceful confidence not found in booming, mushroom, boisterous towns elsewhere.

The town was named not for the noted Biblical city, as you'd think. Not directly, anyway. It was named for Palestine, Illinois, the town from which Elder Daniel Parker, a primitive Baptist clergyman, migrated to Texas in 1833. Parker established perhaps the first Protestant church in Texas some six miles southwest of Elkhart and 15 miles southwest of Palestine.

Palestine first was built around the courthouse square but when railroads came, the business area moved nearer the railroad station. Today there is an "old town" and a "new town."

A blacksmith shop still does business in the very shadow of the courthouse in the center of old town.

Anderson county, of which Palestine is the county seat, was named for Kenneth Anderson, last vice-president at the republic of Texas.

But Palestine is not asleep, basking in a pleasant past. It has an abundance of oil and gas; natural asphalt; seven known salt domes; timber forests; agriculture with crops of peanuts, cotton, corn and fruits; a growing livestock industry; iron ore. Its industries include a huge recycling industry, termed America's greatest; a large glass bottle plant; hardwood mills, cotton seed mills, food specialty plants, machine shops serving the oil fields where there are 570 producing wells, a railroad shop of importance, and other factories and plants.

A pilgrimage to Palestine is recommended. Take along your fishing poles and plan to relax in an old-south atmosphere of calm and beauty. It would be quite a vacation.

The practical limit for transport planes or other large aircraft flying below 20,000 feet is said to be between 350 and 400 miles an hour.

Airplane service is said to be taking more than a million dollars' worth of business from railroads entering New York City.

Approximately 20 per cent of all school children under the age of 20 have defective eyesight.

The United States ranks 25th among nations of the world in maternity case mortality.

Work Begins on Swimming Pool

With the warm summer season drawing near, the city has begun extensive repairs and clean-up work on the municipal swimming pool, located on the end of Sloan street in the northeast section of the city.

City Manager Garland Franks said today that painting work would soon start and dressing rooms and restrooms would be remodeled.

He added that the city planned to engage experienced life guards at the pool and also would purchase "doughnut" type life preservers to be attached to the sides of the pool where they would be ready for quick use in case of an emergency.

The work to be done includes the complete repainting of the sides and bottom of the pool. New diving boards have been sought and will be kept in the best condition, it was said.

Legion Meeting Set For 8 P. M. Tomorrow

E. J. Dunigan, commander of the Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion, has announced the regular meeting tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, in the Legion hall. This is to be an important business and social meeting.

A Dutch lunch will be served, after which important business will be transacted. On top of the list is the election of two vice commanders, the others having moved away or resigned. Also plans will be made for a baseball game between World War I and World War II veterans.

Commander Dunigan is asking that all Legionnaires be present for this meeting. They are also asked to bring along an ex-serviceman or woman, who does not belong to this post.

Filipino Election

election might be so close that the outcome could depend on returns from an isolated province like Batanes, between Luzon and Formosa. It is so remote that it received its registration forms a month after the remainder of the territory had registered.

Osmena's home island of Cebu, his headquarters said, gave him better than a two to one majority in early returns from 11 of 52 districts, rolling up 13,537 for Osmena to 6,635 for Roxas.

Gov. Marino Santo Romano of Nueva Ecija meanwhile registered an official protest with the secretary of the interior, charging that "a guerrilla organization supporting Roxas" raided polling places in Gapan, Starosa and Guimbat districts and carried off eight ballot boxes which would have tallied "heavily for Osmena." He asked a reinforced military police detail to prevent violence.

One Manila newspaper report also said 300 armed men had seized one precinct in Nueva Ecija province. Roxas, 54, long-time political li-gure in the commonwealth government, remained in hiding. His secretary said reports had spread that an attempt would be made to kidnap him. Grounds of his residence were guarded by Philippine troops last night.

Osmena, 68 and a lifetime political leader in the islands, succeeded the late Manuel L. Quezon as president. Previously topping Quezon on the Philippines political scene, Osmena stepped down a notch in the mid-1940's when voters favored Quezon's independence ideas over Osmena's.

The winner in their race will be president of the republic of the Philippines, scheduled to be established on July 4 when independence from the United States is achieved.

Construction Held Up For Federal Approval

PHARR—(AP)—A $324,000 highway construction program in the Rio Grande valley is being held up because of lack of federal approval and issuance of work orders, division highway engineer J. W. Purckett said.

One of the projects for which contract was let at $217,000 to E. B. Darby and Co., of Pharr more than a month ago, is construction of new concrete bridges to replace two present spans across the valley floodway south of McAllen. Purckett said the work has not been approved by the public roads administration.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

ROME—(AP)—The liner Vulcania is speeding toward America today with hundreds of happy warbrides.

Pretty Julia isn't one of them, although she wanted to be.

Julia was a real life "Madame Butterfly"—one of the thousands of girls who lost their hearts to foreign soldiers in wartime.

Two and a half years ago Julia first met her American captain in Caserta. She was only 19—soft, pretty and unworried. She had never gone out with men before.

It is an old, old story but it was all new to Julia. She fell deeply in love with the young captain. He was married but she told friends he had assured her he would divorce his wife and marry her.

She bore a child that could bear no family name. She loved it dearly and for a time was happy over the prospect of future life in America.

Then the baby sickened and died.

In her loneliness Julia was cheered only by thoughts of that life ahead in the new world with her captain. But six months ago the captain returned to the United States, his army service completed.

"I will be back for you in six months," he told her. "If I am not back in six months I will never come."

Only two letters came. In both the captain said his wife was seriously ill and that he feared to ask her for a divorce. After that Julia's letters and cablegrams went unanswered.

She brooded for weeks. On Holy Friday Julia was to meet her sister, Carla, but she had no heart for the gaiety of Rome's pre-Easter crowds.

From a drawer she pulled a pistol and held it to her body and pulled the trigger. And with the bright agony of that first bullet flaming within her she squeezed the trigger a second time and died.

ROME—Italy is one of the most hopeless countries in the Western world today because its people feel it is impossible for them to make both ends meet, the problem of the masses in all countries and all ages.

Their morale has been beaten to pieces on the anvil of shortages and low wages by the hammer of high prices. This feeling that there is little use in working because their labor brings them no adequate return has spread like a wave of disaster through the nation, paralyzing efforts at personal and civic recovery from the ruin of war.

And the reflex defensive result of this feeling of hopelessness in the Individual is a "don't care" attitude about his job, a lowering of all moral standards and a cynical indifference to everything except his own belly and his own amusement.

Authorities estimate that it takes a salary of 20,000 lire a month—about $89—for a family of five to buy the food needed to keep them in good health.

Yet the average Italian office or technical worker, including the college graduate, does not average better than half that amount. Shelter is one of the most reasonable items in the budget because the fascists froze rent levels and they have been kept low since. Clothing is so high that most families simply have to do with what they have, and patching has become so commonplace it constitutes a new style of Italian Mores Al Fresco.

A poor suit costs $70. A good suit costs $150 to $200.

In Rome there are scores of stores stocked with high-priced luxury goods. But these displays are for the rich of all Italy who have thronged to Rome, where they live off their financial fat. Many are absentee landlords.

They live here partly through fear. They don't like to live too close to the people from whom they draw the income that permits them to live better than their neighbors. Things might happen to them if they stayed at home in the provinces.

In the old days of Roman glory the Caesars solved temporarily the periodical problems of hard times and mass content with the formula of providing "bread and circuses." The Italian soul for 2,500 years has fed on pomp and pageantry, the splendor of painting and statuary and music. The Italian still has his mandolin for his spirit, but there's not enough spaghetti for his stomach.

Italy needs less history, more hope.

O's and A's on Rent Control

Following is a question and several answers to that question relative to rent control—submitted by the local rent control office:

1. Q. Upon what grounds may a landlord apply for an increase in rent?

A. The landlord may petition to raise his rents on the following grounds on which he may get more complete information at the nearest Area Rent Office.

(1) Substantial alterations to the premises, by a major capital improvement.

(2) Substantial increase in services or furnishings.

(3) Rents based on personal or special relationship between the landlord and tenant, where the rent on the maximum rent date was substantially lower than comparable rents in the area.

(4) In some cases where there has been an increase in the number of occupants of the property.

(5) In some cases where special leases call for different monthly rents during the lease.

(6) Where the terms of the lease in force on the maximum rent date began more than one year before that date and provided rents substantially lower than comparable rents in the area.

(7) In some cases where the premises are rented on a seasonal basis, such as resort areas.

(8) Where the property was temporarily exempt from real-estate taxes on the maximum rent date and the landlord passed the benefit of this tax exemption on to the tenant by giving a rent substantially lower than comparable rents in the area.

(9) Where a peculiar circumstance caused the rent on the maximum rent date to be substantially lower than comparable rents in the area and an unavoidable increase in property taxes and operating costs, since rent control, has resulted in a decrease in net income to the extent that it has become a substantial hardship.

(10) In some cases where a housing unit built with priority rating was rented prior to March 29, 1944, at a rent below comparable rents in the area.

(11) In some cases where the tenant was an employee of the landlord on the maximum rent date, and the tenant and the landlord agreed upon a rent increase in connection with a wage increase and the wage increase agreed upon has been put into effect.

Chapel Fund Now Totals $20,206

CANYON—More than one thousand dollars was added to the West Texas State chapel building fund in the first half of April, according to President J. A. Hill.

The total received stood at $20,206.41, Dr. Hill said, in addition to several thousands dollars pledged but not paid.

Among the recent donors were Gamma Phi sorority, which paid the last $50 of a $100 pledge, and Kappa Tau Phi sorority, which gave $100.

Other contributors were Robert Kilgore, Canyon; Mary Lou Robertson, Lubbock; Miss Linnie Babson, Canyon; Dr. Fred W. Oberst, Lockland, Ohio; Mrs. Floyd R. OFFICE CAT

When it comes to housework, children can be a help—sometimes, if all depends on how you go about it. There was, for instance, the Mother who had been looking for Junior and couldn't find him. A cat was allowed to help.

Mother—Where have you been?
Junior—Playing ball.
Mother (severely)—But I told you to heat the rug.
Junior (correcting her)—Oh, no, you didn't. You told me to hang up the rug, and heat it.

Visitor—You don't mean to tell me that you have lived in this out-of-the-way place for more than fifty years?
Brushville Citizen—I have.
Visitor—But, really, I cannot see what you find to keep you busy.
Brushville Citizen—Neither can I—that's why I like it.

If each of you had saved a slice of bread a meal we could have saved 20,000,000 bushels of grain and that would mean 20,000,000 lives. But in the weeks since we asked for it, there has been a very heavy consumption of bakery goods in this country.

LANGUAGE AND MEANING

One of the fundamental difficulties in the troubled sphere of international relations is, of course, the lack of a common interpretation of the same words by different nations and governments. It is, perhaps, even more troublesome than is the lack of a common language.

The example of this difficulty that comes most readily to mind is the varying conceptions of the word "democracy." The American and British definition is best and most famously expressed in the last sentence of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. To the Russians, however, "democracy" is government of, by, and for the party—with secret police, controlled press, one-party elections, and so on.

But there are other differences. Take, for example, the matter of "equality among nations." From the evidence at hand, it would seem that among the great powers America and Britain, in particular, construe the phrase to mean that small nations have a right to be heard, to resent being pushed around, to choose their own form of government, to be granted equality of sovereign standing among the United Nations.

It would also seem from recent evidence that Russia considers "equality among nations" to mean an equally free hand among the powerful nations to do about as they please.

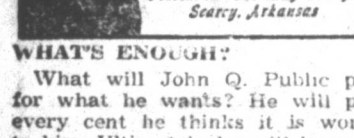

At least, "equality among nations" has been invoked in unofficial complaints from Moscow in protest against the fact that, in effect, Britain maintains armed forces in the Near, Middle, and Far East, and the United States keeps troops in China, Iceland, and elsewhere, yet Russia is not considered justified in doing the same thing in Iran.

Perhaps the western democracies have not lived up to the letter or spirit of their ideal of equality among nations. Surely, the world will be a happier and more peaceful place when all foreign troops are withdrawn from every country.

Meanwhile, it can be pointed out that, in some instances, American and British forces are present on foreign soil at the request of that foreign nation's duly constituted and recognized government. In no case are they present in violation of a treaty agreement to withdraw, and despite a recognized government's protest of their presence to the United Nations.

But protests and excuses can lead to no solution in an international organization without real legal power, and, thanks to weakening compromises, without any real strength to act against the Big Five.

Lacking legal teeth, the United Nations can depend only on good will for its good work. And good will seems to be an unhappily scarce commodity in the international market these days.

WHAT'S ENOUGH?

What will John Q. Public pay for what he wants? He will pay every cent he thinks it is worth to him. Ultimately he will be willing to pay more to find out what the item is worth more than he first thought. On the other hand he will kick at the price and refuse to pay it as soon as he finds out the thing is worth less to him than the money he paid for it.

These statements are so plain and simple that any schoolboy is able to understand them. You would hardly think anybody could get these facts mixed-up, but they are often mixed-up in the world. Under them is hid the 1946 labor-management problem which is the most serious and the most dangerous one that has ever confronted this nation. What lies behind all the headlines telling about strikes?

CANT GET TOGETHER

In extreme brevity, union laborers are asking their employers for more pay—more wages than the employer is willing to pay. They are willing to lay out. Why not pay work? In what whatever they ask? All trades, especially farmers, want laborers to draw high wages because that's the way to good times. Farmers whose fields feed the workers have good markets and prosperity when labor prospers.

The answer is not hard: The workers' wages, come like the owner's profits, are set by what John Q. Public will pay for what he wants. If the price is too steep for John, then there's no sale and no profits and presently no wages. If the price is too low, then the range of John's pocketbook, he buys. That makes profits and wages, better jobs and more of them, and prosper.

HIGH WAGES POPULAR

There is a feeling of general depression; I have seen it in China. There is such a thing as exploitation of labor—ignorant labor. But it's foolhardy to mistreat workers in a modern American factory. If an employer should try holding wages down to fatten his own bank account, his customers would all favor higher pay for his workers because (in such a case) it could be done without boosting prices.

In most cases, when wages advance prices have to advance to cover the expense. There is no other way to raise wages except by boosting prices unless the prices already in force are fictitious, unfair figures, which competition seldom permits. Customers object to wage increases only when they call for price increases to cover them. Even then, Mr. Public is not always right.

WHO CAN SAY WHEN?

Many a wage increase is appropriate and economically sound even when prices have to be raised immediately to cover them. Lifting prices to pay better wages, the good business, up to a point. But what point? Up to the point that John Q. Public gets slow about buying. So long as volume can stay large, the price is sound. When volume drops off and prices have to be boosted to pay for the blunder, that's unsound.

There are experts in every business who can estimate with remarkable accuracy how many of

FRANCIS DOCUMENTS
(Chicago Tribune)

The state department recently published a white book to prove that Franco is a Nazi sympathizer who should be driven from office by the Spanish people if they wish to enjoy good relations with us and our partners in the war. It is the Spanish government has repudiated a 5,000 word statement to show that we have no just cause to complain of Franco's conduct toward us during the war.

The truth about the matters at issue is not particularly obscure, but many details are lacking. Franco rose to power with the help of Hitler and Mussolini. Franco thus owed the axis a debt of gratitude and money and sought to discharge it by enlisting Spain as a nonbelligerent member of the axis team. Partly because of the poverty of his country, which our purchases there were tending to relieve, and partly because of the fact that the axis would triumph in the end, Franco did not declare war against us. He did allow a few thousand Spanish soldiers to fight against the Russians and no doubt was helpful to the axis in other ways.

The Spanish reply to the white paper consists in telling us that things in the United States were engaged in espionage in Spain, thus violating her neutrality and her sovereign rights. Franco asserts, against us, that we did allow a few thousand Spanish soldiers to fight against the Russians and no doubt was helpful to the axis in other ways.

For our part, we hope that even without that stimulus the documents will be published. The American people are eager to know the secret history of the war years and, as the Pearl Harbor incident showed, our administration is more than a little reluctant to open the record to public inspection. If Franco wants to acquire credit in this country he must first get our confidence before and during the war.

COUNT WITHOUT CONCLUSION

(St. Louis Post-Dispatch)
The Pulse Milk association has dealt a mathematical blow to the dangerous tendency of men to generalize about women. A group of farmers' wives was polled on whether they would rather have their husbands give them flattery or the milk check. The result was a tie vote, with 5 per cent undecided. In other words, the women were equally divided between happy romanticists and hard-headed realists, while very few sought refuge in the alleged feminine fallacy that make up their minds. So, men, let's look facts in the face and admit it—women are people, no less.

The German Me-109 rocket plane in use during the latter stages of the war had a maximum speed and was able to climb almost vertically to 53,000 feet. Allied gunners were practically ineffective against it.

Ship-to-ship will sell for some stipulated price. They know long before the first one is made. This year, when steady jobs at good pay are so vital to everybody, prices should be set in advance to get volume sales. Labor, as well as industry, should be interested in the right prices.

THE CHIEF PRIESTS OF SPECIAL INTERESTS

Back in the 1948 presidential election, the Grand Old Party's ticket, although current polls by certain opinionators show him running behind Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota and the future senator from Ohio, John W. Bricker.

Although the erstwhile isolationist who helped to found the United Nations will not discuss his political future, his friends are happy over his lowly position in the national derby at this moment.

They prefer to keep "Van" under wraps and in the backstretch until the race begins to count. The front-runners two years before the candidates are called to the finish line usually lose out in the photo finish.

PREVIEW. Here is a preview of the republicans' 1948 national convention and the struggle for the presidential nomination as the politicians at Washington see it. The G.O.P.'s Old Guard do not like or want Stassen. They think him too new dealish and untrustworthy. They remember that he once advocated a world state with common citizenship—Union Now—and that he shared the more moderate United Nations plan when he discovered that the American people did not like the idea of abandoning individual or national sovereignty.

More practically, the politicians point out that neither party takes a man from a state which has only eleven electoral votes. There is also the prospect that Mr. Stassen may be ruled off the campaign by the handicappers if his hand-picked candidate for the senate, Gov. Edward J. Thye, is defeated in the August primary by Senator Henrik Shipstead, the nation's leading nationalist.

PRECEDENT. The President makers in the G.O.P.'s inner circle, like John W. Bricker, He comes from an influential and politically powerful state. He has made a good record as chief executive of the Buckeye commonwealth, and, despite the Democrats' depiction of him as an "honest Warren Harding," he is extremely popular with organized labor.

Stassen hasn't this support because of his enactment of compulsory arbitration measures in Minnesota and the advocacy of similar national legislation by his senate vote, "Joe" Ball.

Mr. Bricker, however, was the vice presidential candidate on the unsuccessful Dewey ticket in 1944. The G.O.P. has never renominated a whipped man, and that precedent seems to rule out Messrs. Dewey or

More practically, the politicians point out that neither party takes a man from a state which has only eleven electoral votes. There is also the prospect that Mr. Stassen may be ruled off the campaign by the handicappers if his hand-picked candidate for the senate, Gov. Edward J. Thye, is defeated in the August primary by Senator Henrik Shipstead, the nation's leading nationalist.

PRECEDENT. The President makers in the G.O.P.'s inner circle, like John W. Bricker, He comes from an influential and politically powerful state. He has made a good record as chief executive of the Buckeye commonwealth, and, despite the Democrats' depiction of him as an "honest Warren Harding," he is extremely popular with organized labor.

Stassen hasn't this support because of his enactment of compulsory arbitration measures in Minnesota and the advocacy of similar national legislation by his senate vote, "Joe" Ball.

Mr. Bricker, however, was the vice presidential candidate on the unsuccessful Dewey ticket in 1944. The G.O.P. has never renominated a whipped man, and that precedent seems to rule out Messrs. Dewey or

"... FOR THEY KNOW NOT WHAT THEY DO"

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—If the spirit displayed by Washington during the 1946 Easter season, the traditional time of sacrifice and of hope for a better world, could be summarized in a single phrase, that phrase would be, "Greed is risen."

While millions go hungry in the old world, few in the new show any signs of willingness to make voluntary sacrifice and to share. Like Fontius Pilate, everyone wants to wash his own hands of responsibility for the crimes against humanity committed every day.

Eat dark bread for a time, in place of white? Don't like it. Fast on less bread or go bread at all? Only if it's rationed and required by law. Give up the use of grain in brewing and distilling, till the emergency is over? What a kill-joy idea that is, and think of all the taxes that would be lost. Cut down the fattening of livestock on grain until humankind has enough in its belly to sustain life? What nonsense.

During the adjuration that "Man shall not live by bread alone," this is the spirit of brotherly love, 1946 A. D. Forgotten completely is the doctrine, "He who gives of his aims feeds three; himself, his hungering neighbor, and Me."

MODERN "MONEY-CHANGERS" ATTACK OPA CONTROLS

The chief priests of special interests make a great noise before the congress, like the money-changers scoured from the temple, bemoaning the wrongs done their traditional privileges.

Their demand rises in chorus for an end to all price and wage controls, to satisfy their lust for more and more gain. They seek instead to thrive on industrial strife. They gain on threats and stoppages of industry when reason will not support their demands of more pay for less work.

And many employers of labor fight them back, not in the interest of seeing that every worker has work at a wage that will guarantee him a decent standard of living, but more in the interest of exploitation for profit.

Meanwhile, the $200-a-week chosen representatives of the people, in congress assembled, haggle over efforts to set the minimum wage of the people at $26 a week, believing $20 is enough.

The politician, of course, thinks not first of wise and good government for his country. Maintenance of his own position of power and influence takes precedence.

On the war-torn wounds of this nation and the world the politicians pour their vinegar mingled with gall.

Yes, this was Washington in the joyous Easter season, dedicated to remembrance of those days in 1916 years ago when there came from the Cross the pitiful prayer for the unthinking: "Father forgive them; for they know not what they do."

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—The last time Bette Davis and Paul Henreid were teamed, the result was a vogue for dual lighting of cigarette. He's scheduled to slip her face in "Deception." Would it be unfortunate if that started a vogue, too?

The fate of Amber, whether she lives or dies, will be up to the censors. In the book, she continues her hopeless pursuit of Bruce Carleton. But in the film, there's the matter of movie ethics. A wringer must pay for his or her sins, and leave the question of life or death up to the censors.

Sight of the week: Five-foot, one-inch Peggy Weckins in a clinch with a six-foot, four-inch Vincent Price, for a scene in "Forever Amber." Peggy was standing on a step-ladder!

LITERARY INFLATION

Inflation already has hit the literary market, says story editor Julian Johnson. The price of story properties has gone up 50 percent since the beginning of the war, and has more than doubled since 1935.

Coincidence: Ronald Reagan, ex-U. S. Cavalryman, becomes Larry Hanrahan, horse doctor, in "Stallion Road."—There's plenty of privacy for John Ford when he films "My Darling Clementine" on location at Monument Valley, in the far north-west corner of Arizona. The nearest town is 365 miles away, the nearest telephone, 40 miles.

Within a week's time, Jean Harlow celebrated his 40th screen anniversary and 22nd wedding anniversary, was knighted by the king of Denmark, was awarded a gold plaque by the Independent Producers Assn. for his services to the industry and public, and was given a new five-year radio contract for "Dr. Christian."

SUBTLE STRIPPER

Gypsy Rose Lee is getting a Hollywood counterpart, Rita Hayworth, who did "infernal" strip-teases in "Tonight and Every Night" and "Gilda." Will do another one in "Down to Earth."—Director George Sidney wrote the theme song for his latest movie, "Holiday in Mexico." The title is "Why Don't You Come?"—Director Archie Mayo made his professional debut as the target for a knife-thrower in a medicine show. "And," says Mayo, "I'm still dodging 'em."

Add Hollywood oddities: The bartenders will be on roller skates at the new Hollywood Rotisserie, opening at Sunset and Vine May 15—Los Angeles Police Radio Car No. 42A is manned by officers Abbott and Costello.

Gene Tierney will go through her entire role in "The Razor's Edge" minus makeup. She convinced the studio that she looks better that way.—Rudy Vallee has discovered a new blonde, Mary Ann Nyberg, the new housewife at the Billmore Bowl.—Velozy and Yolanda are getting the greatest rave reviews of their career on their current dance tour.

Red Cross Explains Disposition Of Prisoner of War Food Parcels

Did the American Red Cross sell prisoner of war food parcels to the United Nations rehabilitation and relief administration?

The prisoner of war food parcels referred to were presumably purchased by UNRRA from the federal economic administration, or other similar American government agencies. The American Red Cross is not now planning to engage in relief operations on behalf of the German civilian population.

Four American Red Cross civilian relief representatives are continuing to supervise in Germany the distribution to displaced persons of food parcels from former prisoners of war reserves. One of their primary duties is to keep the food parcels off the black market. Title to such packages normally remains in the agencies' name although, in order to insure delivery in time of war, such packages are assembled and delivered to a neutral point through American Red Cross facilities.

The packages distributed by UNRRA, were surplus packages that had been stored in Sweden, Switzerland, Germany, and France under protection of the International Red Cross. Further distribution of them is UNRRA's responsibility. There are two stipulations made by the American Red Cross and by the original owner:

1. The packages must be distributed free of charge. 2. Although the packages are moved in their original American Red Cross containers, UNRRA has undertaken to destroy those containers and American Red Cross receipt cards prior to delivery of the contents to the final consumer.

No prisoner of war food parcels have been sold to individuals by the American Red Cross, but many were made available to other relief agencies to expedite distribution of relief to war-devastated countries during the winter just past.

It is the aim of our fiscal policy to balance the budget for 1947 and to retire the national debt in boom times such as this.

—President Truman.

Wheat, corn and barley were bid at ceilings.
At the finish May rice had advanced the close 5 cent daily limit over yesterday's close, up 10 cents from the day's low.

"This was the snoring you heard, wise guy!"

California Men To Hear Texan

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—Congressman Iatton W. Summers, Texas democrat, speaks before the Merchants and Manufacturers association's 15th anniversary dinner here tonight.

In a press conference held here yesterday, the Texas representative said the reasons he plans to retire from congress at the conclusion of the present session, is to devote himself to "arousing the people to a sense of the totalitarian-type dangers confronting them."

"Our democracy, if we are to preserve it, must be renewed, and this must come from the people," said Summers at the press conference.

"In order to cap the barrel, we weakened on states' right," he said. "But, we the people cannot get federal money without having federal power come back on us. He who controls the purse strings controls the nation."

"We must get back to the fundamental truth that democracy is an association of private people engaged cooperatively in governing themselves, and that the success of democracy is dependent on the general capacity of its people in directing small units of government which they can control and which are created to do few specific things."

"That means, to save our democracy, we must get the general responsibility of government back to federal business. This must be done. Government has got to be the next field of scientific exploration."

"We must make the government operate under laws enacted by congressmen as distinguished from directives issued by appointive personnel. But there is no chance congress can do this by itself. Congressmen become mainly liaison agents between their constituents and powers-that-be in Washington. Reform must come up from the people."

Pampa Business Review

SUPPORT THESE PROGRESSIVE FIRMS WHO ARE BUILDING A NEW AND GREATER PAMPA

Ward's Cabinet Shop Ready To Serve You With Furniture 'Made to Order'

Need a new cabinet? Does your roof leak? If so, why not go down to Ward's Cabinet Shop and tell them your troubles. They can fix that leaky roof, or build you a new cabinet, just like you have always wanted. If you want a desk, made to order for you, go down and give them your plans, and they will do their best to please you. Of course, many materials are still scarce but you can be sure Ward's will do their best with what they have.

They have received a supply of Sealmaster Roof Coatings and some of the famous Youngstown Steel Kitchen Cabinets. These products are famous for their durability and everlasting good looks. Every day, they get in new merchandise, and they always seem to have more customers than materials.

Ward's Cabinet Shop is located on 324 S. Starkweather, and is owned by Charles E. E. V., and M. V. Ward. They have been in business in Pampa since January 1, 1938, when they opened their cabinet shop. They are members of the First Methodist church in Pampa, and belong to the chamber of commerce.

It is needless to say that if you go to Ward's you will be satisfied with their work, and reasonable prices.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN

Well, there's a controversy going on at the University of Illinois where the men say that the co-eds whistle at them and otherwise act like she-wolves. It seems the men have to take courses in things like judo to protect themselves when they go past a drustore.

Strangely enough, the men seem to prefer the old-fashioned kind of girl who ran away from a man until she had caught him. That type of female gave the male a certain feeling of superiority after she hooked him, and males find they miss it. The dears—they're pretty silly, aren't they?

However, aggressive women and shrinking men may be news at the University of Illinois but not in Hollywood. It's a common sight out here to see a lovely young girl chase Charles Boyer clear up Vine street just to get near him. What's more, sometimes I do.

As for the great mass of returning men, it has been my personal experience that they have remained fundamentally unchanged by military service and motivated largely by a feeling of relief in being able to resume their civilian status.

Name 'Schneider' Means Good Hotel, Real Part of City

The Schneider hotel is a stopping-place along the road of the traveling public. The management wishes to remind the people of Pampa and environs that good meals can be enjoyed at the Schneider and to remind the traveler that it is a good place to stay overnight.

Traditionally, the best of service is offered. Eighteen years of operation go to substantiate that statement. That is the present business. The original Schneider hotel was founded here about 35 years ago, and since that time, through establishment of a name as a service institution, has grown into what it is known as today.

Alex Schneider is a name well known here, and it means good hotel accommodations.

When mail was first transported through the air there was no such thing as an airmail plane design. Commercial manufacturers now build ships designed especially for carrying mail.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

Railroad and bus transportation was delayed in Beaumont for almost an hour and you'll never guess the reason.

A big boat got in the way and blocked traffic.

Transportation on four main city bus lines was tied up, motorists were stalled, 250 school students were late for classes and business workers were held up because a long freight train blocked a major artery.

And the railroad explained the train was held there for 40 minutes because a U. S. naval tanker took that long to maneuver through a draw bridge.

George P. Williams, a railroad official, said the train moved up to the bridge when it was thought the tanker, one of the largest afloat, would clear in the usual time. But a great deal of maneuvering, aided by three tugs, was necessary before the tanker could pass.

George Troutwine, manager of the Beaumont city bus lines, said it took an hour and 20 minutes to restore service to normal, since buses had to run off schedule to pick up passengers who had been waiting along the routes.

But in Denison the opposite occurred.

The Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad announced with pride that one day last week all trains maintained perfect schedules for the 24-hour period. And as for passenger trains, they maintained a perfect schedule for two days in a row—a vast improvement over wartime conditions.

But the Rev. O. C. Robinson of the Midway Baptist church, Fort Worth, isn't worried about such things.

He sold his car last fall and gave the money to the congregation to apply on a parsonage. He got a motorbike to make his pastoral calls,

Local Concern Is Gathering Scarce Items for Autos

Following a trip to the East by Clyde Bassett, one of the partners, the Motor Supply company of Texas here gradually is stocking more and more of the scarce items for which auto business and individual motorists have sought during and after the war.

Motor Supply, which is located at 314 West Foster street, offers all kinds of automotive replacement parts, supplies and equipment. This service includes parts for cars, trucks, tractors, and for the oil fields.

The business has expanded rather rapidly since it was installed here on Feb. 1, 1944. The concern has businesses in other Panhandle cities, in Oklahoma and New Mexico. Other partners in the concern are Carl L. Ring and Tom C. Connally.

WTS Homecoming To Be Held in October

CANYON.—West Texas State's first homecoming since the war will be held next October 26.

In announcing this date, President J. A. Hill said this occasion would be the largest homecoming in the history of the institution. Every effort will be made to provide a program which will attract ex-students from distant as well as nearby cities.

During the first nine months of 1934 there were 1104 strikes in the United States.
