Peace Conference Ends Sixth Week Amid Bitter Territorial Dispute

Boundary for Yugoslavia and Italy Is Issue

PARIS—AP—Yugoslavia served notice on the peace conference last night she would refuse to sign a treaty with Italy if the delegates approved the Italo-Yugoslavia boundary recommended by the foreign ministers council, and the conference ended its sixth week embroiled in bitter territorial disputes.

The Italian political and territorial commission overwhelmingly rejected a Brazilian proposal to defer decision on establishing the Yugoslav-Italian frontier after Yugoslav Vice Premier Edvard Kardelj denounced the proposal as one aimed at giving Italy all she wanted, and only Brazil voting in favor.

The Soviet Ukrainian republic lined up with the other states of the Russian-influenced Slavic group in supporting Yugoslavia's claims to Venezia Giulia before yesterday's last word was spoken by Kardelj.

The Yugoslav vice premier demanded a major portion of the disputed area and an economic link between Yugoslavia and the protected free territory of Trieste. Replying to U. S. Senator Tom Connally (D-Texas) who warned that territorial disputes were the road to war, Kardelj said:

"We agree with Senator Connally that territorial claims lead to war but what were the implications? To whom was his appeal addressed? We think it was not necessary for him to address it to us—we were the victims. We never waged a war of aggression. We have a claim to our own land, wrested from us by the invader. Senator Connally should have addressed his appeal to Italy."

Kardelj said Yugoslavia was willing to agree to the establishment of a free territory of Trieste only on condition that "from an economic point of view Trieste is sufficiently linked to Yugoslavia and to other countries of her interest, which she serves as an international port."

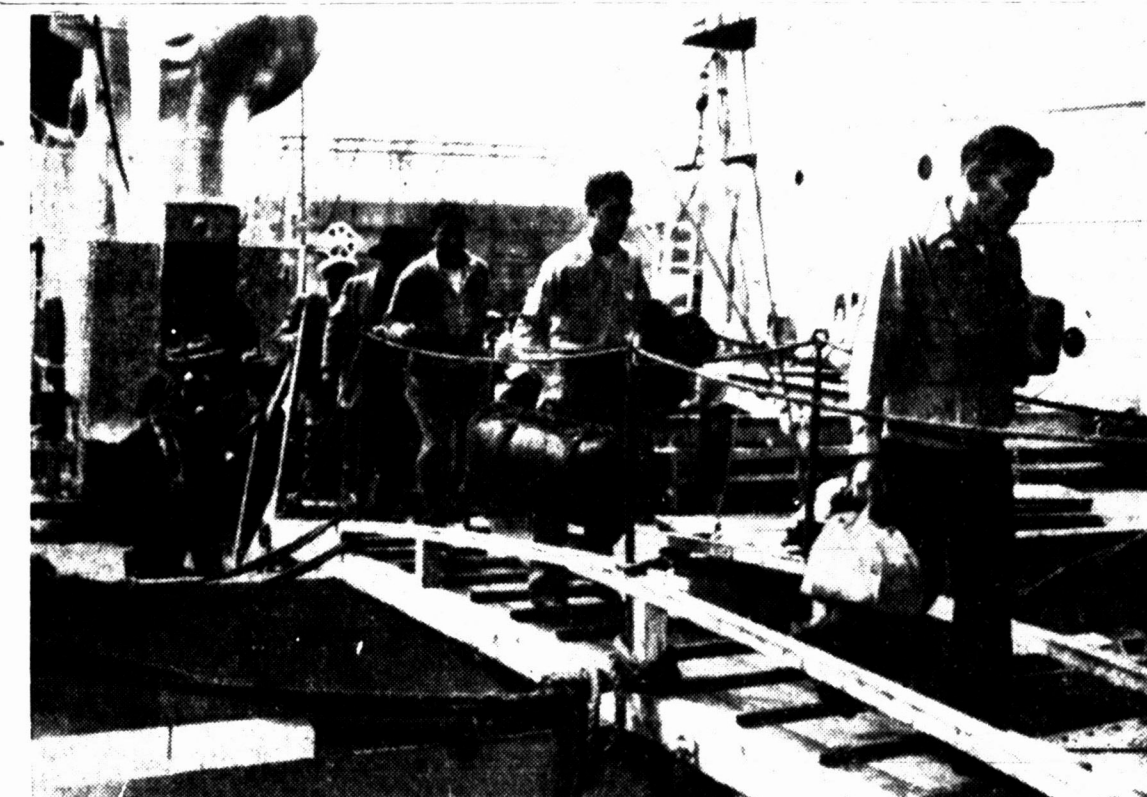

He said if the foreign ministers' decision on the so-called French line, which gives Gorizia and sea-coast towns to Italy, was not changed, Yugoslavia will not recognize any decision taken and will not sign the peace treaty with Italy.

The Ukraine's delegate, Prof. N. Petrsky, proposed acceptance of the boundary suggested by White Russia, giving Gorizia to Yugoslavia and cutting off the coastal corridor.

OPA Plans Tough Winter Drive

Ceiling Increases On Meat in Texas Average 8 Cents

DAKAR—AP—The Dak'rs regional OPA office announced yesterday meat retail ceiling price increases averaging eight cents a pound for beef and seven to eight cents a pound for pork in Texas, Oklahoma and Western Missouri.

The ceilings take effect Tuesday.

New ceilings will raise lamb prices an average of 10 cents a pound and mutton about four cents. Veal cuts and sausages go back to June 30 prices but lamb prices are increased 5 1/2 cents a pound.

New ceilings in the region are (grade AA listed first grade A last):

- Beef—Porterhouse steak 56 and 52 cents; round steak 48 and 45 cents; rib roasts (10-inch) 35 and 33 cents.
- Lamb—Loin chops 72 and 68 cents; shoulder chops 49 and 46 cents.
- Pork—Canadian bacon 82 cents; sliced bacon 13 cents.

The new ceilings on fresh meat will go into effect Tuesday instead of Monday as originally planned. Ceilings on canned meat, lard and shortening will become effective Monday.

Not all cuts of beef were increased in price and most of the increase was in the two top grades.

Psychologist Says 'Good Job Done'

PHILADELPHIA—AP—Dr. Thomas H. Harrell, University of Illinois psychologist, yesterday offered "circumstantial evidence completely contrary to popular conception that the army kicked bright people around and placed them in routine jobs."

Saying that the army air forces had made a survey of the general intelligence of air forces enlisted men doing military jobs that had a definite civilian counterpart, he declared the results were compared with a survey of men who were definitely known to be following the same occupation in military life that they had followed in civilian life.

He told the American psychological association that the latter group was thus considered as a "civilian" presentation, whereas the former was considered as a "military" presentation in the respective jobs.

It was found that the test average of the "civilian" group in the army's general classification test, which includes arithmetic reasoning, word knowledge, and so forth—was at least five points greater than that of the "military" group.

"I would say the air forces did a damned good job in making good use of the intelligence that was available," Harrell added.

Poorest grades, he said, were achieved by "airplane handlers" who "were men who pushed the airplanes around."

United States Is Racing to Keep Naval Supremacy

WASHINGTON—AP—The United States is racing to maintain its naval supremacy already is building the world's first atomic age capital ships armed with man batteries of robot rockets instead of guns.

The navy disclosed this last night in a somewhat terse announcement that the 45,000-ton battleship Kentucky and the 27,000-ton battle-cruiser Hawaii would be "guided missile warships."

The announcement was made by Vice Admiral E. E. Cochrane, chief of the navy's bureau of ships, left broad implications. Said he:

"The design studies now being made for the Kentucky and Hawaii together with the development of missiles guided by carrier-based aircraft, will lead to a revolution in the striking power of naval warships. It is still too early to make any forecast of the ultimate design characteristics of these ships except that they will be guided missile warships."

It was patent, however, that the announcement marked the end of an era—the age of the rifled gun in the main batteries of American naval ships.

Naval design men pointed out that the destructive power of capital ships can be increased enormously by use of fat-reaching missiles homed to the target by electronic beams or drawn there by the attraction of the steel or heat in the target itself. And, designers say, the advent of the rocket with atomic warhead is just around the laboratory corner.

There is no indication that atomic pile power plants have reached the point where they can be installed as propulsion units in vessels. Both hulls have conventional design power plants.

However, lessons learned from the atomic bombs exploded against the fleet at Bikini undoubtedly will influence superstructure design. The results may be emphatically streamlined topside structures designed to reduce the effect of the enormous wide-area pressures produced by atomic bomb blast.

Explaining that the weapons themselves still are in development, navy men declined to predict any specific guided missile types for the main batteries. They pointed, however, to a recent navy summary of research in this field. This summary said that "atomic missiles" will be launched from ships and at other points discussed the current experiments with the V-2 type rockets.

Loaded Food Ships Tied Up

By The Associated Press

A spokesman for the American Federation of Labor last (Sat) night termed "ridiculous" an AFL maritime leader's threat to seek a general strike as the greatest shipping shutdown in American history slowed the industrial pulse of the nation.

The general strike threat came from Paul Hall, New York port agent of the Seafarers International Union (AFL).

Hall declared that if the government attempted to move any of the hundreds of strike-bound ships in U. S. ports "we will call on all organized labor to come out with us."

Philip Pearl, director of the information section of the AFL headquarters in Washington, said he had been assured the government did not contemplate using troops to man ships and declared:

"This scarehead of a general strike threat is ridiculous on its face and has no basis in fact."

William Green, head of the AFL, who previously expressed support of the seamen, was not available for comment immediately, but the CIO's Philip Murray told a reporter in Chicago "I wouldn't have any comment on a thing like that."

In Washington an official in contact with the shipping said there had been discussion of what steps the government could take to supply U. S. troops abroad in the event of a prolonged strike.

But he said that up to now no specific plan had been drawn up. UNRRA Director F. H. Ladd said he was in New York to appeal personally to strike leaders to free 125 ships with 150,000 tons of relief cargo for Europe and Asia.

But Joseph P. Ryan, head of the International Longshoremen's association, AFL, said the former New York mayor knew the futility of such a move.

The third-day of the strike of 30,000 members of the SIU and the Seafarers Union of the Pacific—joined by an estimated 400,000 allied shipworkers, dock hands and CIO seamen—found confusion spreading inland from the nation's hushed seaports.

The Association of American Railroads, said between 5,000 and 20,000 loaded freight cars were tied up because of the strike.

This added to the shortage of rolling equipment desperately needed to move the grain harvest, already piling up on the ground in some midwestern areas.

The industrial east doubly punished by a strike of more than 30,000 AFL truck drivers in New York.

Number of Idle Ships in Port Is Increasing

By The Associated Press

The number of idle ships along the Gulf coast increased today (Sun), day as vessels which were at sea when the AFL seamen's strike was called in port docked and entered paralyzed ports and docks.

The strike of Corpus Christi became effective Saturday morning on arrival of the freighter Cape St. Elias. Picketing was issued by the AFL union for the dock. Corpus Christi seafarers went to Brownsville Saturday to set up picket lines.

Approximately 40 seamen were beached at Corpus Christi, including 36 on the S. E. Elmer who came ashore with their gear packed for a walkout. Some 109 longshoremen agreed not to cross the picket lines.

The situation elsewhere in Texas remained unchanged. Houston and Galveston lay quiet. Port Arthur, Beaumont and Brownsville relatively unaffected.

Pickets of the Seafarers International union and the Sailors Union of the Pacific were active. Honoring their lines and refusing to work were members of the International Longshoremen's association (AFL) and the National Maritime Union (CIO).

The AFL unions are striking against a wage decision made by the wage stabilization board. Wages, indirectly, are involved.

The huge port of Houston was silent and idle yesterday. Pickets were withdrawn from the Gulf Atlantic Warehouse company and the Manchester Terminal company after a temporary restraining order against picketing was issued but the two docks remained unmanned.

"There's still a theoretical picket line there and the men won't cross it," a union spokesman said.

Two more ships entered the port Friday night, bringing to 23 the number at all docks at Houston. Approximately 3,000 men are idle there.

No grain will be allowed to spoil, union officials said. They said men would be available to turn in the grain in elevators when needed, although the workers will not be allowed to load it on ships.

Approximately 1,000 seamen and 50 ships were affected at Galveston.

Five ships arrived at Port Arthur late Friday and yesterday. Four had NMU crews. At Port Arthur, one AFL vessel is being up by pickets but is moored in such a spot that NMU members won't have to cross picket lines to go to work. Two other AFL ships are reported en route there.

There was no strike activity reported at Beaumont, Corpus Christi or Brownsville yesterday.

Vocational Training Offered Gray Veterans

Gray county veterans can get first-rate vocational training—not just on-the-job style, but with regular school classes—right here at home with full benefits under the GI Bill of Rights.

There's just one hitch—enough of them have to want it.

County superintendent of Schools Fuchsia Laycock explained yesterday that the vocational school idea for veterans originated with the Veterans Administration which referred it on to the Texas State Board of Vocational Education, which in turn passed it on to the county school board.

Classes would be set up for eligible veterans, but the veterans would have to be engaged in the same type of work in which they received instruction at the school.

"The idea would differ from the job training in that the veteran would learn more about working at a job also through classroom study."

The same allowances of $65 a month for single men and $90 for married men—with a $200 a month combined salary and allowance ceiling—would apply.

Major types of instruction would include:

1. Agriculture
2. Distributive wholesaling retailing, etc.
3. Home-making
4. Trade and industrial

Whether or not such a program is set up for Gray county, Laycock said, depends on the demand for it among veterans. At least 20 veterans must apply for training in a certain field before classes in the subject could be established.

Classes will be held in Pampa and at the city hall in McLean.

Olson Attends Scout Training Conference

Hugo Olson, local scout executive, is one of the scouts attending the annual Region Nine scout executive training conference, opening today at Mineral Wells.

A companioning Olson to Mineral Wells were Donley Watkins, field executive of Perryton, and Thomas Cochran, Berger executive.

Olson will lead a discussion group concerning public relations and finances at the meeting.

Harold Lowman, Dallas, regional executive, will be in charge of the conference. He succeeds James Finch, retired.

Youth Injured in Wreck Taken in Custody of FBI

William L. Altner, 18, of Normal, Ill., injured in an automobile accident near Shamrock August 26 has been placed in the custody of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, state highway patrolmen reported yesterday.

Altner, driver of one of the cars in the crash that killed his companion, Dwight H. Beckman, Jr., 18, also of Normal, had been charged with a misdemeanor by Wheeler county authorities.

The youth was seriously injured in the crash and is still in the Shamrock hospital. Patrolman Bill White and Preston Wayne reported.

Both youths were later reported to be wanted in Normal for forged and stolen plates, on a charge of armed robbery.

Officers investigating the wreck found that the car in which the two were riding, contained two pistols, and a 12 gauge shotgun, as well as two extra sets of 1946 license plates, one from Missouri and the other from Oklahoma. The automobile had a California license plate.

Another report from the National Automobile Theft Bureau stated that the car had been stolen from See HELD BY FBI, Page 6

Woman With Scar on Her Hip Is Missing

ST. JOSEPH, Mo.—Police detectives E. L. Murphy and H. A. Hopkins said yesterday that they did not think they could be expected to locate a certain missing woman from the description furnished them.

"All the 'old pros,' Murphy explained, "was that she had a scar on her hip."

Government May Yield to Fashion

WASHINGTON—AP—The government may yield an inch to fashion in the battle of the bare knees. But not until next spring. The civilian production administration says it will fight it out on the present hem line all winter.

Clothing Chief Theodore Maynard promised the women's dress industry that OPA will "seriously consider" an industry plan to let skirts down by easy stages, starting with the cutting of spring and summer models.

The plan would lengthen house dresses and street frocks one inch, and would abandon evening dresses completely to the caprices of couturiers.

Also, all other curbs on styling would end—the ban in big, fancy sleeves and extra pockets, the limitation on frills, flounces and pleats, and the two-inch hem.

However, Maynard told representatives of the dress and women's sportswear industries who met with him Friday that OPA will not change the rules of the game during the fall cutting of garments, now under way.

Some segments of the fashion industry have been agitating for longer skirts, at once. They even displayed them in fashion shows until OPA Administrator John D. Small, guardian of the textile supply, issued a reminder last week that it is illegal thus to what feminine desire for a fashion change.

Man Killed While On Servicing Job

Thomas H. Davis, 46, 710 N. Sumner, was instantly killed Friday near Berger when a mast on a portable w-l-servicing unit collapsed and pinned him to machinery on the unit.

According to witnesses, Davis was working with a crew employed by the Gibson Well Servicing company of Pampa on a well being drilled by the Power Petroleum company near miles east of Pringle in Hutchinson county.

It was reported that the mast, which was being lowered, got out of control and Davis was pinned between it and the pumping unit on the machinery.

Davis, a native of Ellis county, Texas, was born April 10, 1900.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Maudie Lee Davis, Pampa; his mother, Mrs. Alice Bird, Pampa; two daughters, Mrs. Earl Jones, Pampa, and Mrs. Bert Simmons, Hobbs, N. M.; five brothers, R. C. of Pampa, F. D. of Waxahatchie, R. L. of Orange, Endo of Odessa and Sherman of Freer, and three sisters, Mrs. Alice F. Moore, Berger; Mrs. Marvin Wallace, Pampa, and Mrs. Edna Butle of Kilgore.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Assembly of God church here Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Officiating will be the Rev. H. H. Woods, pastor, assisted by the Rev. J. A. Thomas, pastor of the Assembly of God church in Berger.

Burial will be in Fairview cemetery under the direction of Duengel-Carmichael Funeral home.

Pampan's Father Dies As Result of Burns

R. W. Campbell, of Fairfax, Okla., father of Mrs. Ray C. Wilson, of 216 Doyle, was burned to death at Wewoka, Okla., Friday night, according to information received here yesterday.

Mrs. Wilson and her husband, the Gray county auditor, left immediately for Wewoka yesterday after a telephone call had informed them of Campbell's death.

No details of the accident were known here.

Campbell was a guest in the house of his brother at Wewoka.

Today's Schedule of Redeployment

There are no scheduled troopship arrivals at U. S. ports today (Sun) but two ships will bring in 2,155 passengers tomorrow at Seattle and San Diego.

The U. S. A. T. La Grande Victory from Yokohama with 1,465 army and two navy personnel docks at Seattle tomorrow, and the Carrier ordered yesterday, because it causes "riggles and zuffaws."

Instead, he recommended, the bride and groom should hold hands.

"Kissing in public is never in good taste," said the Rev. Walter Schlie of Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran church in a statement to the congregation.

General kissing of the bride was forbidden in the church, but the pastor's order allowed kissing of the bride by the best men and members of the newlyweds' immediate families in the church vestibule.

'Twas Good Idea—But 25 Years Late

County Attorney Bruce Parker, who believes in giving a break to people who have to fumble around in the dark, was struck with an idea.

Why, he reasoned, should you have to get out of bed and turn on the light when you realize at a late hour that you've forgotten to make a phone call?

Parker figured the answer was a gadget which would light up the telephone dial when the receiver was lifted.

He settled down to invent such a gadget.

When he finally succeeded, he and his secretary, Mrs. June K. Hall, drafted a schematic drawing of the invention and hustled it off to the U. S. Patent office in Washington.

Yesterday the answer came back. When he opened the envelope, Parker grinned with disgust.

"The thoughtful bureau had sent him drawings of four similar gadgets already patented.

Examining one of them, Parker remarked:

"This one is almost exactly like mine. The only difference is that the bulb is attached vertically while mine was horizontal."

That earlier inventor had received his patent 25 years ago.

Parker grinned: "And it cost me $10 to find out that somebody back in 1921 got onto something that it took me until 1946 to figure out."

Just the same, he said, it's high time the telephone companies got around to catching up with the inventors.

Tide of Leftist Violence Rising In Wide Area

ATHENS—(AP)—Drastic emergency measures were reimposed over a wide area of Greece yesterday to meet what Acting Premier Stylianos Gonatas said was a rising tide of leftist violence which was "not exclusively an internal matter."

Friction between Greece and Yugoslavia intensified as the government weighed a protest against the crowning of a Greek military plane, and Greek political leaders protested Yugoslav declarations at the Paris peace conference concerning Macedonia.

The Yugoslav delegate at the peace conference Friday said it was "time to settle this question of the liberty of the Macedonian people. The people until now have found their liberty only in the popular republic of Macedonia within the Macedonian Yugoslav federation."

Greek leaders apparently interpreted this as a Yugoslav claim to that part of Macedonia which, was given to Greece after World War I. Gonatas announced the cabinet's decision to reinvoke drastic emergency measures, including the establishment of military courts empowered to impose the death penalty, to meet violence which he said had increased since last Sunday's plebiscite recalling King George II to the Greek throne.

The Greek government meanwhile considered protesting to Yugoslav Premier Marshal Tito over the downing of a Greek military plane across the Yugoslav frontier.

The official Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said two other Greek planes attempted to destroy the craft "in order to obliterate evidence of violation of Yugoslav territory," and were repelled.

(In London an exchange telegraph dispatch from Athens said the pilot of the downed Spitfire, Lt. George Tunkalakis, once risked his life for Tito during the war and held the Yugoslav Military cross. It said that in 1944 Tunkalakis flew into Yugoslavia and picked up Tito, who was endangered, Yugoslavia said the pilot was interned.)

Deputy Chief of Staff Petzopoulos conferred for 45 minutes with the Yugoslav military attaché yesterday and later quoted the Yugoslav official as saying there was no doubt the Greek pilot had "lost his bearings."

Albanians Will Present Charges

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—Albania yesterday drafted a series of bitter charges against Greece which its representative hopes to present personally Monday when the security council again takes up the Soviet-Ukrainian complaint against Greece and Great Britain.

Col. Tuk Jakova, Albanian minister without portfolio, has demanded a seat at the table to offer his side of the case, and this Soviet-supported move was expressed to touch off another sharp debate.

Persons close to Jakova said the charges would center around these points:

1. A new list of Greek-Albanian border incidents which Jakova holds are being provoked by the Greeks.
2. Contentions that the Greeks are persecuting Albanian minorities in Chamuria in northern Greece.
3. A detailed rebuttal to Greek claims on northern Epirus (southern Albania).

It is understood that the United States would not oppose Jakova's bid for a seat, a precedent-setting request in that a non-member of the U.N. never before has been granted a place at the council table.

However, Great Britain contends that there is no case and was expected to question the request.

It was not established whether the Netherlands, which along with Great Britain would like to throw the whole complaint, would join directly in such opposition.

The U. S. Treasury in 1939 printed a national bank note showing $50 on one side, and $100 on the other.

Republicans To Charge Democrats With Communism

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Republicans are attempting to pin a communist label on some democratic opponents in a crescendo of attacks indicating they hope to make this charge a major issue in the November congressional elections.

Democrats generally are meeting this maneuver by calling the charge untrue and asserting the republicans are appealing to prejudice.

GOP Chairman Carroll Reece and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York took the lead this week in almost simultaneous assaults on what they termed the left-wing connections of the regular democratic party.

Sen. Nickelodeooper (R-Iowa) told a reporter it is his judgment that the issue of American relations with Russia is beginning to loom large in the congressional campaign in the mid-west.

In an editorial in the current issue of the Republican News, Reece quoted comments of the Russian trade union newspaper "Trud" to support his charge that there is a "sympathetic" understanding between the Moscow dictatorship and the PAC.

In a radio speech attacking the democrats' nomination of Henry Epstein for associate judge of the New York court of appeals, Dewey charged that the democrats were "buying" American labor party sup-

Assault, Fresh From Hospital, Winds Up Third in Discovery

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Assault came back to the races from the hospital yesterday and while he didn't win, he showed the folks that there's still plenty of zip left in his running shoes for future reference.

After ailing for six weeks, the club foot comet from the wide open spaces made his comeback in the Discovery handicap at Aqueduct, and closed 8 1/2 lengths in the last three eighths of a mile to wind up with a third.

Up there at the head end of the paying teller's window, however, was a grey galloped from Chicago, a 33-to-1 shot named Mighty Story, who lunched in by three lengths to chalk up the first important stake victory of his career—at $68 for $2.

Closest to him at the wire was the Philadelphia-owned Mahout from the barn of Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords.

Assault, himself, just didn't seem to wind up about running at all for the first three quarters of a mile.

He made up his mind to go to work, as the field rounded the stretch turn and he came a-winging home with little comfort to the bankrolls of the conholders in the crowd who backed him down to 7 to 10.

Some horsemen said he seemed to wind up a little "choppy," indicating he might still be a bit sore after his layoff since the Arlington classic.

Mighty Story picked up a $20,000 pay-check to boost his lifetime earnings to $92,780. His owner, Chicago contractor John Marsch, bought him from the Kentucky breeder, Henry Knight.

Jockey Basil Brown, of Sunnyside, Wash., astride Mighty Story, closed off the mile-and-an-eight in the good time of 1:51 4/5.

Far back in eighth place—next to last—was the wire, as The Dude, the reformed plater from the barn of Mr. Al Gaal of New Orleans. The Dude is the young fellow who whipped the chocolate champ from Texas and the rest of them in the Arlington classic in July.

Mangrum, Sneed Lead in Match

CHICAGO—(AP)—Two: ex-serve-femen, U. S. open champion Lloyd Mangrum and British open titlist Sammy Sneed, thumped identical three-under-par 69's yesterday to share the halfway lead in George S. May's unique $10,000 "world championship" golf tournament.

"Substitute" Byron Nelson and all American champion Herman Barron carded 71 and 75 respectively, in the opening round of May's winner-take-all, 36-hole show-down.

Mangrum and Sneed staged a private feud in which Lloyd came from behind on the back line to deadlock the scrambling, but brilliant-recovering Sneed.

Nelson, who replaced P. G. A champion Ben Hogan in May's spectacle which attracted an opening-day throng of 3,000, played erratically for a 35-36, one under par 71.

Bigbe Turns in One-Hitter for Dodgers

Brooklyn (AP)—Kirby Bigbe turned in a magnificent one-hitter against the New York Giants yesterday as the Brooklyn pennant contenders opened a 14-game home stand with a 4-1 victory to take the St. Louis Cardinals National League lead to two games. A capacity crowd of 31,117 watched the game.

Ernie Lombardi spoiled Bigbe's chance for a no-hitter in the second inning with his 11th home run of the season.

Bigbe fanned nine batters and walked three.

Dave Kelo, who started for the Giants, was chased in the fourth after allowing five hits and was charged with all four Dodger runs. Woody Abernathy and Gene Thompson held the Dodgers the rest of the way.

Bigbe checked and found that he should be credited with 15 wins.

Scott's Scrap Book

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

Foster White, lanky Oiler right-hander, approached us the other day about the possibility of us digging up his other two pitching victories. He's only credited with two, so there's two missing some place and we are inclined to believe that those two wins could only belong to White.

Here's why. Through Friday, Pampa had won 96 games, divided among all pitchers who are now with or have been with the team as follows:

Bill Garland 23, Warren Hacker 26, F. I. Leiker 13, Jim Carliners 7, Joe Isaacs 4, Norman Harriman 2, and Al Johnston, Grover Seitz and Dickinson, one each. Add White's 16 to that and you have only 88, so there's two missing some place and we are inclined to believe that those two wins could only belong to White.

Leiker, Norman Harriman and Dickinson are no longer with the club.

We are certainly going to check with Tom Miller, league statistician, on White's record because, after all, after this season is over White won't have much to go up on except the cold facts and figures in the record book.

White has lost some pretty tough games and he's worked hard, both in relief and starting roles. He certainly deserves those two wins and, if they're rightfully his (and we are sure they are) he's going to get them.

Speaking of the Oilers, they are finishing the regular season today with a spot in the Shaughnessy playoff "in the bag". Baseball is a pretty hard proposition. Only a few get in the really top brackets, where the pay is good and the game better.

Since Thursday, the fans have been contributing to the player "kitty," which is divided equally among the 14 players—Manager Grover Seitz having turned down his share.

We would like to see all those who didn't contribute to the "kitty" at the Oiler appreciation banquet tomorrow night at the high school cafeteria.

The plans by the chamber of commerce sports committee originally called for the banquet to be held in the Palm Room but the demand for tickets is too great so it had to be moved.

There are still, however, a few tickets left and fans may get them by calling or going by the following places before Monday afternoon:

Edmondson Dry Cleaners (Bill Whisnant), Walsh and Altman station (Dink Altman), DeLuxe Dry Cleaners (Morris Enloe), Fort Worth & Denver depot (D. M. Dickey), Behrman's Store (Bunny Behrman), the chamber of commerce office or seeing this writer at the Daily News.

The program will be short and snappy and good to say nothing of the delicious eats prepared by Mrs. Roy Kilgore and her staff. The price is only one dollar, which pays for the meal.

Bob Clark of Shamrock will be there with some outstanding magician's specialties and Ken Bennett will have some surprise music in store so it all promises to be fun.

The ladies, by the way, are definitely invited. The ball players will bring their wives and girl friends, so we want the fans to do the same.

Fencil Declares Their Fuses Good

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The William M. Fencil company of Huntley, Ill., said in a statement yesterday that "at no time up to V-J day was there ever reported a single instance in which a fuse loaded by the William M. Fencil company had been involved in a premature burst."

The Fencil company was one of four firms named in a war department report Thursday as principal manufacturers of fuses for 4.2 mortar shells. Defective fuses for this type of ammunition caused the deaths of 38 American soldiers and injuries to 127 others, according to the war department. The report, filed with the senate war investigating committee, said that shells produced by the Garsson munitions combine were not at fault. It was the fuses, the report said.

The Fencil company's statement said the war department's report "does not coincide with facts that are or should be known to the chief of chemical warfare service."

Industrial League Playoffs Are Set

Two playoff games in the Industrial softball league are scheduled for Monday night, according to Frank Leder, chairman of the league.

Stanolind, which finished on top over season's play, will battle Skelly Schaffer at Skelly's home grounds, while Heikel battles Montgomery Ward at Phillips.

Phillips draws a bye in the first round. The playoff will be a double-elimination affair with five teams participating.

Hacker Wins 20th as Oilers Take Rubber Game of Series

By FRANK STALLINGS

News Sports Writer

Two three-run outbursts, one in the first and one in the sixth inning, gave the Pampa Oilers a 6-4 victory over the Lubbock Hubbers in the last game of the season between the two teams here Friday night.

Warren Hacker notched his 20th victory of the season as the Oilers, although their 11 hits were matched by Lubbock, came from behind to take the rubber game of the series and gain a 10-10 split over the season.

Hodge and Kuykendall led the Lubbock swatters with Hodge collecting two doubles and single in five trips while Kuykendall collected two hits in three trips.

Jack Riley, Oiler centerfielder, slapped a double and triple in four trips to lead the Oilers.

Pampa took an early lead in the first inning, scoring three times. Otey led off with a single, Harriman doubled, and Otey scored on Watkins' overthrow. Range banded a triple to right and scored. Harriman, Riley jumped out and scored after the catch of Richardson's fly.

Lubbock retaliated with two runs in the second as Rooney was safe on Otey's error. Kuykendall got a scratch hit and Nelson tripled, sending both runners across the plate.

The Hubbers tied the score in the third as Sullivan beat out an infield hit and scored on a double by Hodge. Miller hit into a double play—Otey to Harriman to Richardson—to halt the rally.

Lubbock took a 4-3 lead in the fifth when Hodge hit his second double and scored on a single by Miller.

The Oilers jumped on Nelson for three runs off five hits in the sixth to put the game on ice. Harriman singled to center, Riley tripled to score Harriman and scored on Richardson's single, Fortin singled Richard to second and the ladder scored on a single by Seitz.

Pampa and Amarillo were scheduled to play last night in the first of a three-game series, the finale of the regular season for both teams. They will meet today at 2:30 and 8:15 in the last two games of the series that will decide which team leads in the second place spot.

Brown Rises To Heights to Give Mulloy Beating

FOREST HILLS—(AP)—There no longer was any doubt tonight that a new and brilliant star had shown up in the world tennis firmament—after 15,000 pop-eyed fans had watched that slugging ex-mortal gunner from San Francisco, Tom Brown, Jr., give Gardner Mulloy of Miami an unmerciful 6-4, 6-2, 6-4 beating in the National semi-finals.

Capt. Walter Pate of the American Davis Cup team, exploded "that boy is playing—out-of-this-world tennis."

If anything, Brown, who is not even ranked in the first 10 nationally, flashed a more superlative all-around game today than he did yesterday in turning back the defending champion, Frankie Parker, in five sets.

Tomorrow the sweet swinger from the coast meets the final test of his potential greatness in a five-set final against Jack Kramer, only surviving member of the Davis Cup team.

Kramer scarcely drew a deep breath in winning his semi-final from Bob Falkenburg, Hollywood, 6-0, 6-4, 6-4.

One of the most remarkable features of Brown's smashing win over Mulloy was refusal to lob. So deadly accurate were his passing shots that he did not send up a single floater until the final set, and then used only two. His service was blistering, and his overhead something to gawk at.

Pauline Betz disposed of Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd of La Jolla, Calif., 6-2, 6-3.

In the women's final, which will open tomorrow's program, Miss Betz will attempt to null down her fourth national title at the expense of

Serious Lack of Meat Predicted

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—Housewives received bad news yesterday as representatives of local stock yards predicted the worst meat shortage in its history.

They said very little livestock had arrived in the yards since the new price controls went into effect this week and still less is expected.

The uncertain market, the quota system and the new price controls were cited as causes of the cut-down.

One meat broker declared that wholesalers will probably be put completely out of business.

Meanwhile Fred Dykhuizen, head of the Southern division of independent meat packers' association, asserted that a famine would be caused by "unfair and restrictive government regulations." He said meat flowed to markets in enormous quantities during July and August when restrictions were off.

"New Orleans housewives will be right back where they were before—getting meat only spasmodically and then, only when they had an in with the butcher—but this time it will be worse," declared Dykhuizen.

Mud should be cleaned off shoes immediately, never left to dry on and make a permanent stain of the leather.

WAA Makes Plan For Distribution Of Surplus Items

DALLAS—(AP)—Plans to speed the distribution of government surplus items and commodities on the set-aside list to veterans were promulgated at a two-day conference Friday and yesterday here of war assets administration regional directors and veterans division chiefs in the southwest called by General Richard Donovan, zone 5 administrator.

Regional officials representing Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Mississippi discussed identification and acceleration of sales of set-aside items to veterans, and transfers of inventories wherever excesses existed or were disproportionate to regional requests.

Regional directors, armed with information with respect to veteran needs in their regions and figures concerning availability of materials to meet these needs as well as data on quantities of materials to be brought immediately into the disposal program took steps to effect equitable distribution of quantities among regions in the Southwest zone.

Commitments were made by the directors to allocate excesses to those regions where urgent needs existed on the part of veterans to have such materials and where the veteran population warranted.

While it was understood that present inventories or anticipated acquisitions were not sufficient to satisfy all veteran requirements, the objectives of the meeting were to transfer as much as is available to veterans immediately and on an equitable basis as possible.

General Donovan expressed to the officials present his desire to assure veterans of his recognition of their needs from government surplus, and said he believes that the results of the conference, the programs developed, and the enthusiasm on the part of those present in carrying out the program will result in meeting requests of the veterans by making available to them every item which is in inventory of WAA and on the set-aside list for veterans.

Hearing on October Oil Allowable Set

AUSTIN—(AP)—Demand for Texas crude oil in October has been forecast by the United States bureau of mines at 2,120,000 barrels daily, the Texas Railroad commission said it had been notified today.

The forecast is the same estimate the bureau made for the current month.

During the past week 50 oil wells and 14 gas wells were reported completed in Texas, boosting the year's total completions to 3,180 oil wells and 449 gas wells. The completions are well ahead of last year's 2,412 oil wells and 201 gas wells for the comparable period.

One wildcat oil and one wildcat gas well were drilled during the week.

Libel Suit Against Waco Paper Dismissed

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Judge Young of 48th district court yesterday dismissed the $75,000 libel suit of U. S. Senator W. Lee O'Daniel against the Southern Publishing Company of Waco, publishers of the Waco Times-Herald.

O'Daniel brought the suit last March, alleging a libelous article appeared in the Waco newspaper March 17, 1945.

The case was dismissed at the defendant's cost and with prejudice. Defense counsel said the matter had been "mutually adjusted to the satisfaction of all parties."

English Airman Sets New Record

LONDON, Sunday.—(P)—Capt. E. M. Donaldson of the royal air force, established a new world air speed record yesterday by flying 616 miles an hour in a twin-jet engined Gloster Meteor IV at Tangmere, England, it was announced officially here today.

A sister plane piloted by Squadron Leader William Waterson also broke the existing record by flying 614 miles an hour at Tangmere after Donaldson established the new mark.

A previous record of 606 miles an hour, recognized by the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, was set Nov. 7, 1945, in another Meteor by Group Capt. H. J. Wilson of the RAF.

Both Donaldson and Waterson's figures were the average for four runs made over a course between Little Hampton and Worthing. Air Marshal Sir James Robb announced that the new record had been established.

by which the foreign ministers planned to link Italy with the internationalized zone. He claimed the French line would create "an artificial Italian corridor to Trieste which deprives Yugoslavia of an outlet to the sea."

Still ahead of the conference were other stormy territorial disputes—Bulgaria's demand for Western Thrace from Greece and a corridor to the Aegean sea, and Czechoslovakia's request for a small strip of Hungary south of the Danube and below Bratislava. Bulgaria's demand has the support of the Soviet Union and the Slav group.

A new complication in the problem of demands on Greece and a corridor to the Aegean sea, and Czechoslovakia's request for a small strip of Hungary south of the Danube and below Bratislava. Bulgaria's demand has the support of the Soviet Union and the Slav group.

Brightest spot of the week of argument over territorial demands was the announcement by Italy and Austria of an accord on their differences over the South Tyrol.

New Jersey, Virginia and Maryland workers particularly vital to 7 1/2 million New Yorkers.

Union tugboat crews quit work in the vast New York harbor Saturday on orders by Capt. William Bradley, president of Local 323, United Marine division, International Longshoremen's association (AFL), in sympathy with the AFL seamen.

Harry Lundberg, head of AFL seamen in the west, said he was permitting his men to continue work on troopships and relief vessels.

Secretary of Labor Schwelb's personal emissary, Philip Hannan, reached San Francisco to beseech Lundberg for a truce in the paralyzing walkout.

The AFL boss, however, already had given a negative answer to Hannan, who telephoned him from Cleveland Thursday night.

if the demand is sufficient, in other county communities, Laycock said.

He listed the objectives of the program:

1. To assist veterans in re-establishing themselves in vocational pursuits under terms of the GI Bill of Rights.
2. To provide higher schooling for those who do not wish to leave their own communities.
3. To assure "economic, emotional and social stability" for veterans and their families.

Time of day in which classes would be held is dependent on the needs for desires of the students, Laycock stated.

Held by FBI

This is on August 25.

Both Altnen and Bateman are reported to have been AWOL from the army.

Altnen's mother, Mrs. Sol Sterns, of New York City, rushed to Shamrock by chartered plane after the accident and has been constantly at his bedside.

Patrolmen said Bill Lampey, U. S. Marshall at Amarillo, would turn Altnen over to the FBI.

2 Accidents Are Reported on 66

Mrs. Sarah Radin, 47, of 3731 Indian School avenue, Phoenix, Ariz., and Woodrow Wilson Humphries of 301 Pierce avenue, Amarillo, lay seriously injured in the Shamrock City hospital last night following two major automobile accidents, which occurred on U. S. highway 66, within a five mile distance of each other, yesterday afternoon.

The first accident occurred one mile west when the 1942 Chevrolet coach going east driven by Sam Radin, 67, of 3731 Indian School avenue, Phoenix, Ariz., collided with the 1939 Lincoln Zephyr, going west, driven by John H. Peite, of 2103 Charlotte avenue, San Gabriel, Calif., shortly after noon.

An eyewitness, Venner S. Sappfield, also of 2103 Charlotte avenue, San Gabriel, stated the accident occurred when two cars, driving east attempted to pass a third car while approaching the top of a hill, and met a fourth car heading west.

State highway patrolmen from the Pampa area charged Radin with driving on the left side of the road. He was fined $25 and costs in the Justice court at Shamrock.

At 4:45, less than five hours later, the second accident occurred three miles east of Shamrock when the 37 Chevrolet sedan driven by Humphries collided with the 1941 Plymouth five passenger coupe and trailer, five belonging to Roland Deo, 37, box 87, Parkridge, Ill.

Humphries was taken to the Shamrock city hospital where his attending physician found him to be in serious condition.

Minister Makes Bond for Release

The Reverend Antonio Marino, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., charged with negligent homicide by Gray county authorities, has been released on $1,000 bond, it was announced yesterday.

The Reverend Marino, a Baptist minister, was driver of one of the cars in the head-on collision near Altnen August 27 in which his brother, Cono Marino, of Providence, R. I., and three Catholic priests were killed.

Highway patrolmen said the Reverend Marino had been released from the Shamrock hospital where he was under technical arrest. He requested the bond, patrolmen added, in order to be with his wife and small son, also injured in the crash, who are being transferred from the Groom hospital to Dallas.

His case will come up for trial at the next session of county court, officials said.

Man Questioned On Two Murders

VAN BUREN, Ark.—(P)—A 22-year-old South Carolina man is being questioned here in connection with two murders—one in Oklahoma and another in Texas—police chief Vol Russell reported last night.

No formal charge had been placed against the man who chief Russell said had admitted robberies in several states, including Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, Oklahoma and Texas.

He probably will be released to Texas authorities for car theft, or to South Carolina officers who have warrants out for his arrest on robbery charges, the police chief said.

Two sheriff's deputies from Houston are in Van Buren questioning the prisoner in connection with the slaying July 20 on the Houston-Beaumont highway of Roy Jones, and the fatal shooting Aug. 30 of Jerry St. Clare, Tulsa, Okla., police officer.

Last May, 12-year-old Melvin Carlson fell three floors from the roof of his Chicago home and had remained in a coma ever since. Physicians declared his case hopeless. But his mother, Mrs. Esther Carlson, had unshaken faith that the boy would recover and he did. Happy mother and son are pictured together after he has greeted her for the first time in over three months.

Communists Ignore Speech by Byrnes

BUCHAREST.—(P)—The complete Stuttgart speech of U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes was published in the entire Romanian press yesterday, except by the communist newspaper, Scantela, which ignored it entirely.

More than 130,000,000 blood donations were made in the United States during the war.

More than 60,000 British civilians were killed in air raids between March, 1940, and March, 1945.

Iowa farmers had 569,000 horses and colts on their farms in 1945, largest number of any state in the Union.

Reluctant

TULSA, Okla.—(P)—Sheriff Garland Marrs reluctantly complied with a court order to return a bottle of rum taken from a Tulsan in a liquor raid—but not before the sheriff looked long and well into a law book.

The defendant, on trial on a charge of liquor possession in dry Oklahoma testified the rum was for his personal use. Oklahomaans are entitled to possess one gallon for personal consumption.

In the Middle Ages, barbers extracted teeth and did surgery.

47 Years of Waiting Pays Off for Yank of Spanish-American War

CHILDRESS.—(P)—Ex-Private Edward H. Denny of Childress has been notified by the war department that his claim for travel pay and allowances for subsistence has been approved. The money will be forwarded later.

Private Denny received his discharge from the army in the Philippines.

He ate with the 20th infantry while waiting transport to Japan. Aboard ship officers refused to feed him and others of his group free.

Some volunteers from California let them eat until they arrived at Nagasaki. The American consul there arranged rations to last Denny and his men until they got back to the States.

Back home, Denny tried to get travel pay and food allowances. Four times his claim was vetoed. Finally, however, President Truman gave it his approval.

Denny was discharged June 30, 1909, having served in the Spanish-American war as a volunteer. Presidents who vetoed his bill were Wilson, Coolidge and Franklin Roosevelt (twice).

He will receive $374.30 after waiting 47 years.

Dog Gone, Too

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(P)—"Spoty" is missing but Mrs. C. E. Hobbs told police it would do no good to whistle for him.

She explained that when her pet dog "Spoty," a setter, died several months ago she had a wooden replica made from a colored photograph of the dog.

Last night, she said, some one stole the replica.

★ World-wide in its distribution, whooping cough is endemic in large cities, becoming epidemic on a large scale every two to four years. The seriousness of pertussis, especially in young children, is evidenced by the mortality rate—about 26 percent in infants less than one year old.

Children should be vaccinated during the first year of life. Do not wait for an epidemic. It takes several weeks after vaccination for the body to produce antibodies. Ask your physician now about protection from whooping cough for your baby.

We carry fresh stocks of vaccine under refrigeration at all times.

We've Become a Nation with Itchy Palms

NEA Staff Writer
The veteran student had the apartment owner's spoken promise that the apartment was his, and everything looked rosy.

Of course, he didn't like it much that the landlady had been so blunt as to say, "I presume you and your wife won't be having a baby while you live here—because I never rent to anyone with children."

But he didn't say anything because with his wife working a baby wasn't in their plans. He was surprised, though, when the apartment got away—until he found out that the landlady's palm had been crossed with a fifty-dollar bribe.

Then he was bewildered. He never dreamed the landlady was the type to take a bribe. He should have known. The number and the type of people who are taking bribes today—under one name or another—is a national disgrace.

ANYTHING YOU WANT
You can get almost anything you want with a bribe. And you have chances of really insulting the man with the goods—whether the goods happen to be a railroad reservation, a hotel room, or a new car—with the discreet offer of a pretty sim.

"That isn't necessary, you know," has become the accepted phrase of the man who reaches out for the bribe. Of course, it's the buying public's own fault. They started the bribery racket. And now they're stuck with it.

The choice of whether or not to succumb to the bribery technique is still technically up to the individual. He can bribe—or he can let somebody who does get what he wants.

PAMPA BOOK CLUB HAS BIRTHDAY

When the city club rooms open Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock, the Pampa Book Club will celebrate its second birthday and begin its third year of activity. Though the book club is young in point of years, it has had an interesting history according to those who have been connected with it since its beginning. Officers to be installed at this initial meeting are: Mrs. Luther G. Roberts, president; Mrs. Miles Morgan, vice-president; and Mrs. Mildred Laflerty, secretary-treasurer.

Organization of the club was perfected Oct. 18, 1944 in the city club rooms. Miss Jewel Polk was its first president; Mrs. W. E. Abernathy vice president; Mrs. J. C. Pattillo secretary-treasurer. The club is sponsored by the local chapter of the American Association of University Women. That organization was responsible for its founding and each year appoints an educational chairman who works with the book club officers. Miss Lillian Mullinax served in this capacity last year and has been selected to do so again this year.

Name Changed
The A. A. U. W. Book Club was the original name but the change to Pampa Book Club became official in the December meeting of the initial year.

Purpose of Club
The object of this organization is to make available to its members the best of current literature and to create and promote an interest in this literature by means of monthly discussions and book reviews. Attendance at the meetings is not compulsory. The group owns a bookcase which is kept in the public library. More than one hundred volumes are now there and are available to all club members. There are many books of non-fiction as well as numerous best sellers in the line of fiction. The only cost to club members is the annual dues. These dues are two dollars to all those who are A. A. U. W. members and three dollars to those who are not. Hence it can be seen that it costs less than three cents a volume to be able to read these books. New books are being added to the shelves every few weeks.

Monthly Meetings
The second Monday evening in each month from September to May has been chosen as the meeting date. Interesting reviews and general book discussions are being planned for the year. Some of the reviews given by club members and friends of the club are: Victoria Grandolet, Star of the Wilderness; We Live in Alaska, The Gauntlet, So Well Remembered, Brothers Under the Skin, Lovely Is the Lee, and The Egg and I. Well remembered also is a Texas program given one March.

Officers who served the club last year were Mrs. H. Y. Cornelius, president; Mrs. Quentin Williams, vice-president; and Mrs. Mildred Laflerty, secretary-treasurer. The public is invited to all reviews. Names will be taken for membership at the meeting Monday evening. Also, those desiring membership may call Mrs. Luther G. Roberts at 584 or Mrs. Miles Morgan at 978W.

No 'Omelet' Egg Shampoo, Now

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
How to obtain the brightening effects on the hair of an egg shampoo without lathering an uncooked omelette over your head is a feat cosmetic science helps you to put across.

A new, ready-prepared egg shampoo, containing the real ingredients in concentrated form, makes the egg as easy for the hair to take as a pleasant liquid soap. Two latherings of the stuff, rubbed into hair like suds and rinsed off with tepid water, will free hair of dulling film like a fairy-tale princess freed of her thrall. Women who use egg shampoos as subtle bleaches will like this one also for the other ingredients it contains to make the hair stay put and give it extra shine.

Utilize Chores

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
You can utilize two of the least-pleasant household chores—scrubbing the bathtub and mopping a floor—as a forward pass in a game of figure improvement. The bonus you'll get from polishing off both tasks—the exercise-way is a more stem-like midriff. Take bathtub scrubbing, for instance. Squat on the floor beside the tub, when you go at this one, with a straight back and flattered middle and you can accomplish the two objectives with one resolute attack. Next, take floor-mopping, but take it on all fours. To make it a muscular workout of your muscular girdle brace your back and push up from the small of your back as you mop or scrub. Every reach of your arms can be made to give muscles a pull that will, in less time than you think, whittle down a waistline. Clothes hung away for the summer should have all pins or metal ornaments removed. They are likely to rust and leave stains on the fabrics.

CARBON BLACK VITAL INDUSTRY TEXAS PRODUCES THREE-QUARTERS OF CARBON BLACK MADE IN U. S.

Texas produces nearly 76 percent of all the carbon black made from natural gas in the United States according to figures compiled by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

In 1927, Texas produced 56,396,000 pounds of black cut of the U. S. production of 198,429,000 pounds; 1932, Texas 200,440,000 pounds, out of entire U. S. production of 242,700,000 pounds; 1937, Texas 421,068,000 pounds, U. S. 510,616,000 pounds of carbon black; 1942, Texas 434,859,000, U. S. 574,006,000 pounds; and in 1945, Texas produced 662,900,000 pounds of carbon black, while the entire United States produced 875,000,000 pounds of carbon black.

The state now has in operation 45 carbon black plants, which consume about 1.83 pounds per thousand cubic feet in the Texas Gulf Coast area the average recovery is over six pounds per thousand cubic feet. However, the Panhandle area produces over 70 percent of the State's carbon black and in this area the average recovery is about 1.61 pounds per thousand cubic feet.

The rubber industry consumes a-hout 96 percent of the carbon black produced in the United States, which indicates that approximately 68 percent of the carbon consumed in the manufacture of rubber comes from Texas. Since natural rubber supplies were cut off during the war with Japan, the eyes of the nation turned to Texas as the most likely source of the petroleum by-products needed for the manufacture of synthetic rubber. At the present time, synthetic rubber supplies about 40 percent of the nation's productive capacity and is expected to supply a sizable share of the annual rubber requirements of around 900,000 tons annually. About 75 percent of the nation's rubber supply is synthetically produced.

Other items requiring the use of carbon black are shoe polish, lamp blacks, inks, dye, some types of paint, rubber preserver, house roofing, and many other well-known household items.

However, this does not mean that Texas and the United States produce all of the world's carbon black. An article in the Oil Weekly reveals that development of oil and gas fields in Russia, Saudi Arabia and other areas may result in new competition in the international market for carbon black.

Prior to the war America was practically the sole supplier of carbon black in the world market. The American industry must now prepare to meet competition from other countries, it was testified before the Federal Trade Commission in the closing hearings of a two-year investigation of the activities of the Carbon Black Export Association under the Webb-Pomeroy Act.

Russia is known to have at least 22 gas fields, and while its own requirements for carbon black currently are heavy it is considered more than possible that it will be a competitor in the world market in the near future. Competition from Saudi Arabia and other areas which are already, or soon will be developed, is seen by officials of the export association.

Even before the war, it was said, Rumania and Germany showed signs of getting into the carbon black export market, the latter with a synthetic product which it was forced to develop because of its lack of natural gas. Between 1937 and 1939 exports of American carbon black to Germany were cut from 24 million to 16,350,000 pounds and exports of the German synthetic was getting under way.

Gray County Has One Well Tested

Three oil and four gas wells were tested by the Railroad commission, oil and gas division last week. In Gray county, the Gulf Oil Corp. No. 9, R. B. Thompson, et al, tested 35 barrels in a 24-hour retest. In Hutchinson county, the Penna. Oil & Gas, No. 1, Harvey "A," tested 111 barrels in a new test. The other oil well was in Carson county where the Gulf Oil Corp. No. 2, B. F. Block, produced 12 barrels of oil in a 24-hour retest. Hutchinson county also had a gas well, it being the J. H. Huber Corp., No. 1, Sanford "J," which tested 11,800 MCF in a new test. Moore county had one, the Kerr & McGee Oil Industries, No. 1 Estate, which produced 4,500 MCF of gas.

The last two came from Carson county, they being the Burnett & Cornelius, Poling, No. 3, I-C and I-B, the former testing 18,400 MCF and the latter 10,200 MCF in a 24-hour test by the Railroad commission.

FCC To Give Exams to Radio Operators Soon

Applicants are required to write the examinations in ink. All necessary paper will be furnished by the examiner.

Lack of Meat May Close Up Packers

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—A possibility that one or more San Antonio packing plants might be forced to close their doors within the next 30 days unless supplies of cattle and calves at the local market increase, was stated yesterday.

Representatives of several of the city's plants voiced the opinion that present conditions are "very rough."

Cruz Lozano, an official of the Apache Packing Co., declared that "we may close our plant about Oct. 1 if we can't get the cattle. He described conditions at this time as being "worse than before" last June 30 when the former OPA price ceilings expired. "We can't buy cattle at the present ceilings," he declared.

Several other packing plants reported that they had been making reductions of up to 30 percent in their personnel because of the lack of cattle and calves for slaughter, supplies of cattle and calves arriving at the San Antonio market this week were smaller than those marketed last week during the opening day of last year.

Rains of last week which will enable the producers to keep their cattle on the ranges until later in the year, plus the new OPA ceiling, are reported to be the determining factors in the reduced supplies.

NGAA Convention Will Be in Dallas

The twenty-sixth annual convention of the National Gasoline Association of America will be held April 23-24-25, 1947 in Dallas, Texas, according to a recent announcement of William F. Lowe, NGAA secretary. Originally scheduled to be held in Tulsa immediately preceding the International Petroleum Exposition, the NGAA board of directors decided on a return to Dallas in 1947 after announcement was made of the postponement of the exposition until 1948.

In stressing the need for early reservations, Lowe stated, "The growth in registration in recent years and the difficulty in obtaining hotel accommodations have made it necessary to solicit the aid of all the leading hotels in meeting the requirements. Both the Baker and Adolphus hotels have already agreed to reserve large blocks of rooms and will accept reservations at any time, giving preference to requests for double occupancy."

Protest Expected in Truce Team Bombing

PEIPING—(AP)—Informed sources at Sino-American truce headquarters yesterday said U. S. officials could be expected to protest strongly to Chiang Kai-shek over the bombing of a truce team near Chengteh and the reported wounding of three Americans.

The Chinese government's air force "all along has been a thorn in the side" of executive headquarters, the source said.

Unconfirmed Chinese communist reports placed casualties in the Chengteh bombing at 20—including three Yanks wounded, one seriously, and four communist killed. The team had evacuated Chengteh a day or two before that Jehol province was captured by government forces.

The government air force flies U. S. planes and uses U. S. bombs, gasoline and supplies.

It has been estimated that triplets can be expected once in 7500 births in the human family.

Deepest Well Is 16,655 Feet Deep

The world's deepest well was drilled in Texas in 1945, at a depth of 16,655 feet, according to figures compiled by H. J. S. Ruth. This well, owned by Phillips Petroleum company, is located in the Millican salt dome area of Brazos county.

The trend of drilling depth in the Texas oil industry has shown a marked increase in recent years. Drilling depths were materially greater during the war years, since most of the industry's efforts were concentrated upon exploration for new fields.

In 1941, the average depth of wildcat discovery wells was 4,452 feet, while in 1945, the average had increased to 6,322 feet. Meanwhile, the average depth of all wells drilled in Texas increased from 3,627 feet in 1941 to an average of 4,485 in 1945, said the report.

The world's greatest depth, established in 1921, pales into insignificance the deepest hole drilled prior to 1921; 16,655 feet, against only 2,900 feet. The average depth drilled in the past five years is about 3 1/2 times the average recorded prior to 1921, according to the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas figures.

Schwartz & Brady To Drill New Well

Four notices of intention to drill were filed with the Texas Railroad commission during the past week. One of these was from Gray county.

Gray-Schwartz & Brady, No. 1, H. B. Ruscoe, I&G, survey, located 690' from south and east lines E/2 SE/4 section 11, block 3; 9 miles south from Pampa.

Hutchinson-Dave Rubin No. 8, Barnhill, Matinez survey, 1320' from north, 960' from east lines of lot 5, block 2; 9 miles northeast from Stinnett.

Dave Rubin, No. 1, Carver (J. A. Whittenburg), Wm. Neil survey, 330' from south and east lines of lot 20, block 3; 9 miles southwest from Stinnett.

Moore-Phillips Pet Co., No. 1, Fullingim, H&TC survey, 1320' from south and east lines section 220, block 44; 5 miles southwest from Dumas.

October Oil Demands Same as September

AUSTIN—(AP)—The United States Bureau of Mines has forecast demand for Texas crude oil in October at 2,120,000 barrels daily, the Texas Railroad commission said today.

The forecast is the same as the bureau's estimate of September demand.

The railroad commission bases its monthly oil proration orders on the forecast and on testimony on its monthly statewide oil hearing. Hearing has been set for Sept. 13 to consider testimony regarding October allowances.

Nickel originally was known as kuper-nickel.

Panhandle Field Greatest Source Of Natural Gas

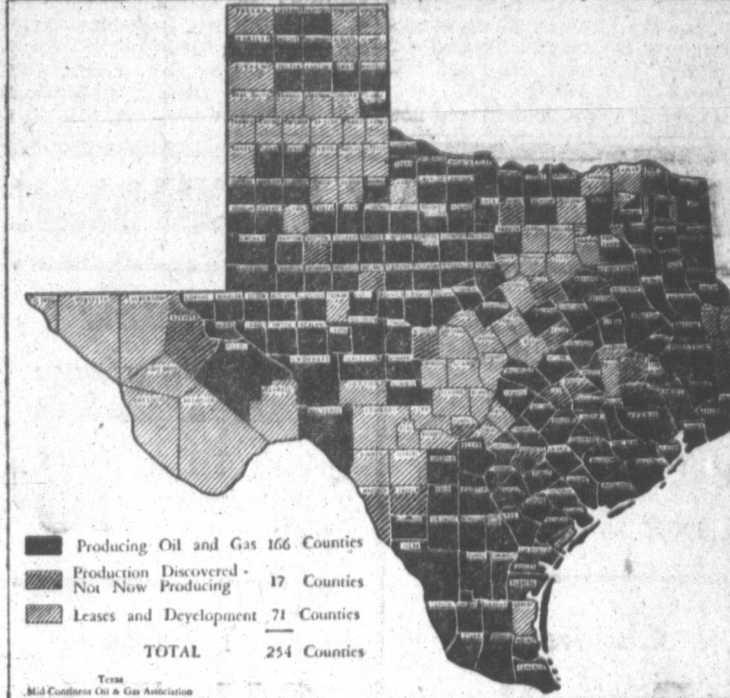

The natural gas business, which is an integral part of the Texas petroleum industry, represents one of the most important natural resources in the state. That it is relatively the largest in the nation is shown by the fact that Texas has over 58 percent of all the gas reserves in the United States. An exhaustive and authoritative survey of the nation's natural gas reserves as of January 2, 1945, made by DeGolyer and MacNaughton, top-ranking geologists of Dallas, credited Texas with 82 trillion cubic feet of gas reserves out of a total of 141 trillion cubic feet for all of the country's gas fields, according to a statement in the seventh edition of Important Facts About Texas Oil and Gas, compiled by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association.

The 1945 gas report for Texas, covered 223 of the larger gas fields in this state. The Texas Panhandle, district 10 and the Gulf coast, district 2, are credited with over 47 trillion cubic feet of the 82 trillion cubic feet accounted for by the survey, according to Oil and Gas association in their recent report.

Reserves credited to the Panhandle covered only two fields, the Panhandle and Hugoton gas fields. The latter field extends into Texas from Kansas and Oklahoma. These comprise the greatest source of natural gas in the nation and perhaps in the world, said the report.

Preliminary estimates of marketed natural gas production for 1945 credit Texas with 40 percent of the national output to its highest level, according to the report. All of the gain shown by the United States between 1944 and 1945 was contributed by Texas, since all other states reported a decline of 15,000,000,000 cubic feet, while Texas showed an increase of 80,000,000,000 cubic feet. Total gas production reported for 1945 by the Texas Railroad commission was 2,648,000,000 M cubic feet, according to the figures.

Oil, Gas Development Covers All 254 of Texas' Counties

Oil and gas development covers all of Texas, a map prepared by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association shows. Every one of Texas' 254 counties now produces oil or gas, or has land under lease for oil and gas exploration, the map reveals.

Nearly 54,000,000 (million) acres, or virtually one-third of the state's total land area, are now leased to Texas oil and gas operators. Last year their lease and royalty payments to Texas farmers, ranchers and other land-owners totalled $215,000,000, providing a large "extra crop" for Texas agriculturists. Since 1919 such payments have aggregated more than two billion dollars, or an extra cash bonus of nearly one-seventh of the value of all Texas agricultural crops during this period, the association reported.

Oil and gas are now produced in approximately 1,100 different fields in 166 counties scattered through Texas, while an additional 17 counties formerly produced. The 71 other counties are now being actively explored for oil and gas, with land under lease for drilling.

The husky meal on the tray before Leland Bowlin is just a promise of things to come. Doctors who removed his stomach completely in a rare operation in San Mateo (Calif.) Hospital, say he'll be able to eat such a meal very shortly. At present he's still on a soft-food diet.

Week's Activities
JAYCEES—Preliminary consideration of ways and means of getting a civic auditorium for the city was given during the luncheon. A round-table discussion of the problems incident to such undertaking was led by Joe Fischer.

ROTARY—Club members this week heard an interesting information discussion of America and its people by Travis Lively, local hardware merchant. Mr. Lively, who is noted for his informal-yet-informative discussions of current affairs, left the idea that, in spite of the confusion through which the country is struggling, underneath there is the quality of the early Americans. "We are the same kind of folks, anyway," he emphasized.

LIONS—L. P. Fort, director of the U. S. employment service office here, discussed employment. Getting veterans firmly established with satisfactory jobs as quickly as possible is the main problem facing the service, he said. Those veterans who acquired skills in the service, he added, should use them; and those who do not have specialized training should get it.

KIWANIS—Sponsors and captains of winning softball teams in the club Sunday school leagues this summer were guests of the club. They were formally awarded plaques for their victories. Second-place winners were also honored. Lieb Langston conducted the ceremony. A brief resume of the achievements of the softball committee this year was made. Two new members, Thomas Brooks and Emmett J. Howard, were inducted.

Second Conviction Nets Man 60 Days

Laverne Francis Keough, of Pampa, was sentenced to 60 days in jail yesterday after pleading guilty in county court to charges of driving while intoxicated.

The conviction was Keough's second on the same charge. Witnesses testified that a fine would place a heavy burden on Keough's family.

NTSC Registration Will Start Tuesday

DENTON—(AP)—Registration at North Texas State college will begin Tuesday, Sept. 10. President W. J. McConnell said yesterday he expected 3,500 to 4,000 students to register for the fall semester, a record. Additional housing facilities for veterans obtained by the college this summer, Dr. McConnell has announced, will enable the college to accommodate more students than ever before.

Texas Residential Building Slumps

AUSTIN—(AP)—Residential construction awards in Texas slumped last month to $10,353,070, less than half the amount recorded for the preceding month, the Texas contractor reported yesterday.

The construction news publication said 1,072 contracts were let for 1,464 family units.

In July 2,515 contracts for 2,580 family units totalled $22,423,800.

The Journal compiles its data from reports of actual awards and includes only those projects on which work has actually been started.

Despite the August slump, however, contract awards on all types of construction were reported at a new postwar high for the first eight months of 1946.

Awards for the eight-month period totalled $320,328,916. There were 16,320 separate contracts. Small residences amounted to $69,463,213. One family unit provided by all construction totalled 15,757.

The Journal noted that many of the jobs put under contract have not been completed because of material scarcities and other problems.

The first automobile was equipped with pneumatic tires in 1892 by Panhard and Levasseur, French manufacturers.

'Max and Jim' Do Big Business

"Good Evening, Good Looking!" The familiar strains of this melody at 3:15 each weekday afternoon introduce the all request program produced and announced by Chuck Maxwell above, and engineered by Jimmie Terrell, right.

The program was turned over to Maxwell late last June. At that time all requests were made by telephone, a system which Maxwell believed was impractical because it gave so little time for proper program arrangement. He decided that written requests would correct this time shortage, allowing him to improve his program and thereby increase his number of listeners. He was right for at this time, barely 10 weeks later, the program receives 350 to 400 requests a week, and has extended from its original 30 minute broadcast to a full hour and 45 minutes on the air.

One of the more humorous aspects of the program came about quite accidentally. Maxwell, who had been receiving numerous requests for Latin-American tunes, without previous rehearsal, one day found himself saying in a heavy Spanish-American dialect, "Ladies and gentlemen, this is Pedro. I wish to play for you at this time some recordings from my own country."

As a result of this outbreak Pedro became a "must" on the show. Latin-American requests were no longer sent to Max or Jim but were addressed to Pedro. Everything went along fine. Max would break into his own conversation by slamming the door near the microphone and then give his Pedro dialogue. It was a good stunt until one day fate took a hand and Pedro was forced to his final.

That fateful day Max went on the air with a severe cold and a bad cough. When the Latin-American requests came up it was soon evident that Pedro had a terrible cold, which seriously complicated his accent. Even under those difficulties Pedro was progressing fairly well until, for reasons beyond his control he was forced to sneeze in Spanish-American dialect. That sneeze was the last sound they ever heard from Pedro at KPDM, though he still gets occasional requests from his ex-listeners.

During the Top of Texas rodeo and quarter horse show, Max hit on another plan to increase his listening audience. He started a contest offering a $25 cash prize to the person who could guess the number, or nearest the number of paid admissions, to the rodeo and quarter horse show.

There were approximately 700 entrants and their guesses ranged from a very conservative 300 to a liberal $4,000,000. The contest winner was Claude Steele, a 12-year-old Pampa boy who guessed 12,321. The total paid attendance was 12,321.

Max and Jim figured this contest alone caused a sharp increase in their listening audience. To substantiate this belief they noticed an increase in their number of daily requests.

The majority of the requests received are for hit tunes of the day. Practically all the rest are for western hillbilly and novelty numbers. They do have a few requests for light classics.

Most of the requests come from the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles, with a few from New Mexico. They are written on almost every type of paper and in every style imaginable. Several listeners who are poetically inclined even write their entire requests in flawless rhyme and rhythm. In addition to this, when their request has been played, they often write another poem to Max and Jim thanking them for their trouble.

Max and Jim, by their own confession, enjoy their request program more than any other program they work. They appreciate the many cards and letters that they receive from you, which help them to furnish the recorded music that you want to hear.

And so, as the haunting melody "The White Star of Sigma Nu" fades into the background Max closes with, "Ahi friends, we hate to leave you but that's all the time we have today. We'll be back tomorrow with another friendly get-together on the all request program, with some music, fun and a bit of foolishness. Until tomorrow afternoon from 3:15 to 5:00 o'clock, this is your old buddies Max and Jim saying so long for now. Be good to yourself!"

Woman's Purse Stolen By Sleepwalking Man

NEW YORK—(AP)—A 22-year-old man told police yesterday he was strolling innocently in his sleep when he entered the apartment of Miss Sylvia Voorhees and departed with her pocketbook.

"When I awoke last Saturday morning," John Malone told acting Capt. Raymond McGuire in police lineup, "I was fully dressed and sitting in a big chair in my own room. I had the handbag in my hand and I didn't know where it came from."

Police said they found the handbag in his room. He told them he intended to throw it away but "never got around to it."

Miss Voorhees said she saw Malone enter her apartment via a fire escape and take the purse. Police contending the legal problem of whether a person can be guilty of a crime if actually sleepwalking.

So long as labor fails to recognize that wage increases without a corresponding increase in production feed the fires of inflation and make even wage rises meaningless, the upward pressure on prices will continue.—Robert R. Wason, president National Association of Manufacturers.

Man Charged With Assault of Woman

EL PASO—(P)—Carlos Masden, 22, was charged yesterday with the rape last Sunday of a 21-year-old mother of five weeks while her husband, an army corporal, was away from home on recruiting duty. The criminal complaint was filed late Friday before Peace Justice Charles Windberg. Preliminary hearing has been set for Sept. 12. Detective Capt. W. C. Woolverton said Masden made a statement, which he has since repudiated, that he assaulted a woman early Sunday while "floating around in a dream." Mrs. Marie Venegas, Masden's aunt with whom he lives, said he has been ill for several years. His parents are dead. The victim told police that although she did not see her attacker because her bedroom was dark, she thought she recognized Masden's voice. Rewards for arrest and conviction of the rapist total $1,875.

Lichfield Officer Is Acquitted of Charges

BAD NAUHEIM, Germany—(P)—Capt. Joseph A. Robertson of Toledo, Ohio, was acquitted yesterday by a military court of charges that he authorized and permitted cruelty to American soldier prisoners in the U. S. army's Lichfield, England, guard-house. Robertson, former commander of a guard company at Lichfield, was the last of six officers and ten enlisted guards to be tried in connection with mistreatment of prisoners there during the last year of the war. His acquittal left the final score on the tallies: nine enlisted guards and four officers convicted; one enlisted guard and two officers acquitted. The misery that is left of wartime Europe must remain there. Argentina cannot put up with that useless human wreckage.—Dr. Santiago M. Perella, Argentine director of migration.

Repatriation of Nips In Russia Is Asked

TOKYO—(P)—Japanese government officials yesterday renewed pleas to General MacArthur for repatriation of Nipponese from Russian zones, expressing fear that many might die of cold, hunger and exposure in Manchuria and Siberia during the winter. Their appeal estimated that more than 100,000 Japanese died in previous winters in areas now controlled by the Russians. A copy was forwarded to the state department. The appeal came on the heels of a complaint by Russia that Allied headquarters had refused ships for repatriating Japanese nationals from Russian zones and an American reply that the Soviet refusal to include war prisoners had stalled negotiations.

Mother 'Convinced' Skeleton Is Daughter

BALTIMORE—(P)—Mrs. Elizabeth M. Hildreth of Baltimore said yesterday she was "convinced" that the armless skeleton of a girl found in a thicket on the city's outskirts was that of her long-missing daughter. The daughter, Jane N. Hildreth, 17, disappeared the week before Christmas, 1944, leaving a note asserting she was going to visit her father and that her mother would never see her again. A hunter found the skeleton on a wooded estate Friday. William S. Hildreth, Charlottesville, Va., banker, the girl's father, was en route to Baltimore yesterday. More than 6 percent of the U. S. population or 8,000,000 persons, suffers from some form of mental illness.

U.N. Food Conference Reaches Halfway Mark

COPENHAGEN—(P)—The United Nations food and agricultural organization (FAO) conference, at the halfway mark of its two week sessions, appears ready to launch a powerful world food board to stabilize farm prices and control surpluses. In plenary sessions this week, speaker after speaker supported the idea of food board in principle. A conference committee now studying world food board proposals is expected to recommend late next week the setting up by the FAO of a commission to plan the food board's organization and powers. Director General Sir John Boyd Orr expressed hope a board with funds and authority would be a reality by the autumn of 1947. The first barber of Rome had a statue erected to his memory after death.

England 'As 'Er' Ousing Troubles, Too; 'Omeless Are Moving in on the Harmy

WAIT FOR THE WAGON, and we'll all have tea: This English family, homeless in a housing shortage as tough as the one in U. S. A., scooped at the idea of becoming "squatters" in vacant army camps. They bought a delivery wagon, minus the horse, and moved in.

LONDON, (NEA)—England's common man has come to grips with the housing shortage, just as in America, and the government doesn't know quite what to do about it.

LONDON, (NEA)—England's common man has come to grips with the housing shortage, just as in America, and the government doesn't know quite what to do about it.

So far, only about 165,000 of the 450,000 families who urgently need housing have been able to get new homes through the government's housing program. The rest are beginning to take matters into their own hands.

Hundreds of families, homeless or crowded into one or two substandard rooms, are swarming over unoccupied army camps and setting up housekeeping in barracks, Nissen huts and administrative buildings. Faced with a fait accompli, the government so far has done nothing about evacuating the "squatters," but the situation has become serious enough to become subject for cabinet discussions, it has been reported.

Some 859 surplus army camps are vacant throughout England, but the Ministry of Health believes most of them will be of little use as homes. These might be all right for troops living under military discipline, but insufficient sanitary facilities, lack of proper heating and other factors make them dangerous to health if occupied by families, the ministry believes.

"They may be all right in August," a ministry spokesman says, "but not in December."
Let December come, is the attitude of the "squatters." "If local authorities try to move us they will have a bit of a job now," one says.

The movement, which began on a small scale, has spread throughout England. Most of the "squatters" are perfectly willing to pay rent; it's just that they lack any place to rent. Most of them already have started "rent funds" to compensate the government for use of the property. Rentals vary from five to more than seven shillings a week. The government hasn't tried to collect any of the money.

TAKE OVER USAF CAMP
Most of the camps are close to large urban centers like London and Liverpool. Abandoned U. S. army camps have been occupied just like the rest. Fifty families moved into the old USAF base at Langley Way, Watford.

At Amersham, 70 families with 120 children moved into a camp. All were on the list as prospective tenants for houses which have not even been started. The "squatters" lack their names above the doors of the quarters they occupy, hang curtains across one end of a barrack to make bedrooms a little more private, and decorate as best they can. Old heating fireplaces and stoves double for cooking.

A delegation of "squatters" called on Prime Minister Attlee at No. 10 Downing Street, but the Prime Minister was off at a cricket match and they could only leave their petition, requesting official sanction of their move.

The Bristol Housing commission disclaimed all responsibility for the families in camps there, but Alderman W. H. Hennessey told one group:

"Sit tight. Carry on. Take no notice of rumors. The police cannot touch you. They cannot drive you out of your huts unless they are given sanction of the Ministry of Works in London, and I am satisfied that the Minister will not give the police power to enter this estate and turn the people out."

In addition to wanting the camps cleared for health reasons, the government contends that most of them are not "spare" even if temporarily unoccupied, because they will be needed for British troops coming home for demobilization and for Polish soldiers being brought to England.

Whatever the reason, the homeless, whether they are living in camps or just camping out on property owned by others, have a good deal of public sympathy behind them.

Even the word "squatter" is coming into social disrepute, and Mrs. Winston Churchill says:
"I wish the press would not use this word about respectable citizens whose only desire is to have a home and keep their families together and who are perfectly willing to pay rent and taxes."

WHAT WAS IT YOUNG HEIRENS FAILED TO GET OUT OF LIFE?

The gates of Joliet, as Clarence Darrow described the prison when he defended Loeb and Leopold, opened this past week to admit William Heirens, 17-year-old University of Chicago student who pleaded guilty to one of the most heinous crimes in all our history.

When this youth strangled 6-year-old Suzanne Degnan, and then mutilated her body and strewed the parts about the sewers of Chicago the atrocity was far, far worse than that perpetrated upon little Bobby Franks, by Loeb and Leopold at Chicago, after the first world war.

Defense Where, When?

I have just finished reading William C. Bullitt's book, "The Great Globe Itself." It will be remembered that Bullitt was United States Ambassador to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics from 1933 to 1936.

Mr. Bullitt is certainly convinced that the Russian idea and the American idea cannot work in harmony to produce a permanent peace. He is convinced that Russia determined to expand and control Europe and Asia. He believes that we can defend ourselves only by preventing Russia from taking possession of those two continents.

This "defeating" the American people thought when they went to war to keep Hitler from doing the very thing that Stalin now proposes to do. Whether the American people have now changed their minds is a question.

When history is used as evidence that we do not need to go across the ocean to defend ourselves, the atomic bomb is brought into the picture. Of course, the atomic bomb requires a different kind of defense than would have been required without the bomb.

But the statement that "the meek shall inherit the earth" is still true. To the degree that people are meek and respect human initiative, to that degree are nations strong, everything else being equal.

Russia today has more natural resources than the United States but she is not strong because for centuries the people have not been free men to develop them.

The trouble with America trying to fight a defensive war of the continent of Europe or Asia is that, by so doing, we lose our humility and our meekness. We are not to rule nations other than our own.

The laws of self-preservation are just the same today as they were at the time Jesus declared, "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth." If America becomes meek, that is, if we return more nearly to respecting human initiative and free enterprise, we will thus be in the strongest possible position to defend our continent.

This, of course, does not mean that we should not develop the atomic bomb and implements of defense. We might need them if Russia does what many people think that she will do.

But what most people fail to see is that a slave nation never becomes strong and powerful. It cannot become a strong and powerful nation for the reason that it uses only a very small part of its potential human resources.

Most of it is suppressed or wasted in governing and controlling their own people. They do not have time to study and create. In time of war the nation that respects the initiative of man.

It is for that reason that America's best defense is not trying to rule the rest of the world but making our own nation strong. If the rest of the world is ruled by a tyrant, undoubtedly it is due to the fact that the conquered countries to a large degree gave up their freedom and initiative.

Wonderful Wizards Of Washington—The Lost Co-ord(inators)

news behind the news

WASHINGTON—By RAY TUCKER

BREAK—The most sensational unwritten political story at Washington on the day after the fall elections is that there has been a complete break between President Truman and National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan.

There have been reports that Mr. Hannegan is thinking of resigning and that he will submit his resignation on the day after the fall elections. The fact is that Mr. Truman might have asked him to quit long ago except that a change in the party leadership now would weaken the national organization on the eve of voting.

HANDICAP—Complaints against Chairman Hannegan have reached their peak. Mr. Hannegan has been accused of being a "handicap" to the party because of his insistence that the administration must maintain its alliance with the "liberal" labor and business elements which backed Franklin D. Roosevelt in four presidential contests.

DAMNED—Chairman Hannegan's radio broadcast angered President Truman to the degree that he has issued a friendly or hostile statement save for Senator Wayne L. Morse's charge on the senate floor that he staged a "ham act" in the last-minute announcement of the settlement of the threatened railroad strike.

In his broadcast, Hannegan announced that his 1948 presidential slate would consist of Franklin D. Roosevelt, "the greatest leader of his time," "the greatest leader of his time," and somebody for the vice presidency, his identity unknown at the moment. In short, Mr. Hannegan damned Mr. Truman with faint and shadowy praise.

EULOGIZED—A White House study of the speech shows that Truman Hannegan eulogized F. D. R. five times before getting on to mentioning President Truman.

He used the name of Roosevelt eight times and, although he brought in the name of Truman nine times, he did so only to emphasize that the present administration is not the one struggling loyally and energetically to carry out his predecessor's policies in the domestic and foreign fields.

Modest and self-effacing as Mr. Truman is, and although he realizes that the democrats may win another victory on the basis of Rooseveltian tactics, he did not like this sort of disparagement.

He realizes that he must be rejected in his own right, and not as a result of this information, Mr. Hannegan's speech was a masterpiece of printed Truman ballots so neatly that the ink was not dry on them when he circulated them through his ward. Despite his somersault, Mr. Stark got 1076 votes as against 2856

On the night before election, as a result of this information, Mr. Hannegan's speech was a masterpiece of printed Truman ballots so neatly that the ink was not dry on them when he circulated them through his ward. Despite his somersault, Mr. Stark got 1076 votes as against 2856

UPTON CLOSE: New Guinea—Why Not the Home of Europe's Jews?

Here's a Home for the Jews

You think the book of discovery went shut when Columbus ran aground on the Americas? You think new nations could spring up out of virgin earth on this well trampled world?

If so, think again. On the map of the future I can see a small empire of gleaming cities, hundreds of miles of lush fields, paved highways, airfields, railroads, factories, harbors, all on land now deep in jungle where wild animals prowl and the human voice is seldom heard.

In fact I can see several such nations—in Central and South Africa, on Borneo, on Sumatra, on New Guinea.

For years I have thought of the virgin little continent of New Guinea as a spot of earth we might use to settle an old debt to our Negroes and they ever demand it by settling them up in a free United States of their own. But a few days ago someone writing the Washington Star under the initials C. T. M. gave me a new idea for the United States of New Guinea.

"Let the Jews have it for a home land," wrote C. T. M. In a few years time Jewish money and enterprise could raise up on this tropical wilderness a nation capable of making its influence felt all over the political and commercial world. In a few years your map would show dotted shipping lines converging the New Guinea's harbors and trailing round the world.

Your travel guide would show cities like Miami Beach, with parks and playgrounds and rows of hotels and office buildings, and libraries and universities.

I have no doubt that the Netherlands or Australia, who hold the island under League mandates, would be willing to let the United Nations cut out a slice for the New Jerusalem. With this Garden of Eden waiting to be taken, it seems to me that the Jews and Gentiles can settle the Jewish problem with one hand tied behind their backs.

The new horizon makes the squabbling and pressure and bomb throwing about Palestine amount to little more than a new birth of anti-Semitism—while hundreds of thousands of Jews in Europe live virtually as DPs.

C. T. M. says, "I was on New Guinea three different times and being a country boy I marvelled at the agricultural possibilities of the island. Near the seacoast one finds pineapples, bananas, papayas, breadfruit, mangoes and wild cucumbers growing in profusion. Further up the hills and on the plateau one finds many strange fruits and vegetables—oil forest. New Guinea has minerals, water power, lakes, rivers and harbors. Fish and game abound. It is warm in the daytime but cool at night, and without finding a native, the climate reminds me of Miami Beach in the summer."

Here are 330,000 square miles—equal to a rectangle a thousand miles long by 330 miles wide, with millions of acres of untouched land as rich as the Nile valley, with heavy rainfall and a year round growing season. By comparison, the rich, unyielding Palestine looks like a desert.

People?—In all of New Guinea the total is less than a million, about two-thirds that of little Palestine, where Jews and Arabs are packed in nearly 200 to the square mile. The big island could support 50,000,000 to 75,000,000 inhabitants. Down in the lush Markham river valley of eastern New Guinea you might hunt all day without finding a native. It would be hard to start a fight there.

We are "settling" the Jewish problem the hard way. Palestine is too small either to accommodate the European hundreds of thousands of DPs or to provide an ultimate homeland for the world's ten or fifteen million Jews—as some Zionists agree. As for "Senator" Truman.

So, despite denials and surface appearances, there is no love lost or found between President Truman and National Chairman Hannegan!

THE STORY: Charlotte's health improves and she and Cecelia plan their long-delayed picnic. Col. Fitzgerald unexpectedly joins the picnic, over-rides Charlotte's protests that he is not wanted. He settles both young women in the canoe, paddles them off to look for a good picnic spot. He tells Charlotte that men wander when there's nothing to keep them at home.

XVIII COLIN paddled to the shore, congratulating himself the while on being such a wonderful guide, added to all his other amazing gifts and talents, and helped us out of the canoe. And he wanted his flag then, his handkerchief on a stick.

W. MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the most important points of Secretary of State Byrnes' Stuttgart speech on American policy regarding Germany strikes me as resting in this basic truth:

"Germany must be given a chance to export goods in order to import enough to make her economy self-sustaining. Germany is part of Europe and recovery in Europe, and particularly in the adjoining states, will be slow indeed if Germany with her great resources of iron and coal, is turned into a poor-house."

That is indisputable, and it interlocks with other vital issues. These include the push for the reform of the Reich, France's claims to the Rhineland and the Ruhr (which Mr. Byrnes rejected), and the boundary between Poland and Germany (which the Secretary says America doesn't consider as settled).

It's just a matter of every-day horse-sense. Germany long has been the keystone of continental Europe, and if you rip the keystone out of a structure there will be a collapse.

The division of Germany into four zones for purposes of allied occupation was in accordance with the Potsdam agreement among the Big Three. But it also was agreed that those zones should be unified for economic purposes so that there might be an exchange of foodstuffs, raw materials, manufactures and other essentials, and thus permit legitimate recovery of the stricken Reich.

Ever since the occupation began the United States and Great Britain have had to import large quantities of foodstuffs in order to prevent actual hunger among the Germans. However, neither Russia nor France has been willing to implement the Potsdam pact regarding economic unification. On the urgent invitation of the United States, England has agreed to weld the two zones economically, and this will help considerably. But if Germany is in an air-tight Soviet compartment, and the French in the Rhineland have no desire to see Germany's great industries revived, the Reich will rise and for a third time try to conquer Europe.

Byrnes didn't stop with the advocacy of economic unification. He lined a broad plan for eventual unification of the Germans under a federal government.

He made it clear, however, that the United States has no intention of foregoing any of its obligations in the reform of the Reich.

As things stand it may be a long cold day before the occupation is ended.

We can be sure, I believe, that so long as any red soldiers remain in eastern Germany, just so long will American, British and French troops stay in their zones of occupation.

The dismemberment of the German state and the attempt to redivide the German people to a level of perpetual poverty will some day break into another world explosion.—Herbert Hoover.

In this country communism is busy night and day trying to undermine our system of government and trying to wreck our economy so that the doors will be open for the Moscow form of government, which would put in effect national socialism. This would of course mean public ownership of homes, of farms, and of all industry. This I solemnly believe is a real danger.—Frank E. Gannett of Rochester, N. Y., newspaper publisher.

DEVILS LAUGHTER

By Alice M. Laverick Copyright, 1946, NEA SERVICE, INC.

"It's passing strange," said Colin, "how a Queen with such glorious blue eyes and such a bewitching smile can let us alone."

"Ah," said Colin, "and what if the ship were to get loose from its mooring? We would all be stranded here for the rest of our lives and you would have only me to depend upon to kill deer and rabbit and fish and snail and one thing and another."

"How very true," said Charlotte. "That is, it would be except that just up over the hill the state road runs and we could all get on the trolley and ride out to North Lynchester in about ten minutes."

He looked quite pained at this and told her she had no romance in her soul; indeed, she had an extremely mundane mind and why he bothered to stay here he did not for the life of him know.

Then he began to sing, and after a while he joined in, and he went on to quote more poetry. He seemed to quote snatches of quite a few poems but no one got to the point, after a while, when he laughed at everything that was said, whether it was funny or not.

Eventually we noticed that the sun was getting low, and reluctantly decided that it was time to pack up and leave. It was when we started to rise, with Colin taking our hands and helping us, that Miss Charlotte twisted her ankle. And Colin, quickly, the bit of nonsense dying on his lips, his eyes serious put his arm about her.

She straightened up just as quickly, however, and took my arm, saying she was perfectly all right, it was nothing. And after a moment, he took the pillows and the basket and we went back to the canoe.

"We took our time coming back, drifting slowly down river, watching the sunset. We sang a little, not much, all of us so relaxed and feeling so lazy after our day in the open that we didn't want to exert ourselves, even that much. Colin looked browner than ever, if possible, and Miss Charlotte's eyes sparkled and her face was slightly pink from the sun. I knew I had a sunburn, too, that would mean a few freckles to the more than plenty I already had, but I did not care. It had been such fun."

Colin told us jokes, mostly flat ones, with an excellent imitation of a brogue, and we laughed some more. He kept looking at Miss Charlotte and now and then I saw that familiar feeling of being completely unnoticed.

Looking back later, I did not know whether we should be glad or sorry that we had been so gay that afternoon. For when we arrived at Innisfail, there was a great shock awaiting us. I found Ellen in the kitchen, rocking back and forth, wild with grief. And at first I could not comprehend what she was telling me, until when I did, I was stunned.

For old lady Fitzgerald had died that afternoon.

While we sat on the mossy slope under the trees, and sang and laughed and enjoyed our tea thoroughly, she had been lying dead there at Innisfail.

I could not believe it. It was not possible. But it was so. In her last sleep, Honora Fitzgerald was really noble-looking. They had somehow made her look like the portrait, and with those restless eyes forever closed, her face was calm, her features stamped with grandeur. And I realized, as I gazed at her, that I had grown fond of her during those few weeks I had known her. Arrogant and opinionated she had been, to be sure, but something about her was forever to keep a place in my heart.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
BERLIN—(AP)—Every Friday afternoon between 50,000 and 60,000 Berlin youngsters, aged six to 18, have a date with the "Ami" soldiers. At 1:30 p. m. they swarm onto 24 playing fields in the American sector of the city for an afternoon of supervised play. They are instructed by hundreds of American soldiers who regard themselves as teachers of democracy as well as sports coaches.

The Berlin program—unmatched by any other occupying power—is part of a German youth activities program launched several weeks ago by Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, theater commander, with this pronouncement: "This is an extremely important job, perhaps more important than any other one job we can do today. Other things we must do, such as demilitarization and de-industrialization of Germany, are negative. This is a positive action."
Take it from the man who heads the program, it's also a lot of fun. He is Maj. Emmette O. Huff, tall, soft-spoken, 40-year-old southerner whose wife and daughter live at Greenwood, S. C. Huff, who weighs a trim 190 pounds, still is about as rugged and certainly as enthusiastic as when he played guard and tackle

Having accepted the government appraised price on the gymnasium at the POW camp at McLean, the Clarendon public school system plans to start the moving and reconstruction just as soon as all government regulations are cleared.
The value on the building was set at $37,855, but there is a good possibility that a 40 percent reduction can be acquired if Washington approves it.
A proposal for a dam across Elm creek in the northern part of Collingsworth county was seen put before the United States Bureau of Reclamation and to date the interest of that department is favorable.

According to officials, the dam would be used for the purpose of flood control, irrigation and recreation. It would be located about 22 miles north of Wellington and would include 2,000 acre feet of water or 60 surface feet with a maximum depth of 60 feet and 8 inches.
The first game of the football season for the Groom Tigers has been matched with Price Memorial of Amarillo and will be played at Groom. The game will begin at 3:30 Friday afternoon, September 13, and will be played on the baseball field location south of town.
Seventeen Miami Boy Scouts accompanied by Scoutmaster George Philpott, motored to Lake Fryer, 16 miles south of Ferrington, last Thursday morning.
The group set up a camp upon their arrival and spent that afternoon, Friday, and part of Saturday fishing and swimming.
Superintendent of Schools E. M. Balengee of Spearman has announced that the faculty will meet tomorrow morning to introduce new school teachers, and assist them in finding suitable living quarters.
Tuesday, the entire faculty will arrange schedules for each individual teacher, check out books for class distribution, submit credentials to the superintendent and business manager and any other necessary arrangements necessary for definite class distribution.
All students will register on Wednesday morning and class schedule will be held throughout the day.
The Hemphill county chapter of the American Red Cross has been cited for their contribution during the war by a comparable British agency.
The citation is from the Central Hospital and Supply Service, the "War organization of the British Red Cross Society and Order of St. John."
The citation was signed by the Duchess of Gloucester.
According to Bill Stubbe, there is to be an open meeting at the McLean Lions hall Tuesday night for the purpose of perfecting plans for the McLean hospital.
Frank Overturf, state secretary of Farmers Union will be present and outline plans for securing members. All persons interested in the hospital are urged to attend, especially representatives from outlying communities.
Mayor Woodall Rodgers of Dallas recently paid tribute for some of Dallas Smith county's more choice agricultural products.
In response to a gift of a sack of grade A onions, sent to Mayor W. F. Dameron of Hereford, Rodgers wrote: "Thanks very much for the sack of onions. The mellow onions are so good that they are almost considered a delicacy. If California peaches tasted as good as Hereford onions, California would really have a reason to be proud and boast."
The Canadian Rotary club has voted to have their regular meeting place at the Kallantry, which, previous to this time, has been held in the WCTU building.
The Rotary will hold all special meetings in the WCTU building and continue paying the WCTU ten percent of the price of meals as they are in a worthy project in the community.
Fall opening of West Texas State has been postponed until October 1, according to an announcement by President J. A. Hill. By that time Randall Hall and all of the barracks will be ready to receive students.
Work of the barracks is progressing slowly due to the scarcity of materials. Dr. Hill states that the barracks will be converted into apartments by the middle of the month if materials are available.
The Greenbelt Electric cooperative of Wellington has received approval of a new loan of $285,000 from the REA to finance construction of rural power lines in Wheeler county. It has been announced. This loan, plus amount available from previous allocations, will finance construction of 186 miles of lines to provide electric service to 362 farms and other rural consumers.
New consumers are now being connected to the lines of the cooperative at the rate of approximately 30 a month as a result of construction made possible by previous loans.
A large number of Carson county organizations and individuals have promised their support to the Carson county Fall Festival which will be held Saturday, September 21, in Panhandle.
Proceeds from the festival are to go to the War Memorial Fund, which has received much attention in Carson county during the past year.
The events of the show will include agricultural exhibits, parade, barbecue, white elephant sale, kid penny show, and games and dances.
Workers hope this festival will be the beginning of a permanent annual event for Carson county.
Plans for more street paving in business and residential districts of Ferrington were completed last week and the city council accepted the bid of O. C. Watson of Perrinton.
Specifications for the paving include a concrete curb and gutter with the street to be covered with six inches of compacted caliche topped by a double asphalt wearing surface.
The cost of paving the street in front of a 50 foot lot will be approximately $300 to the property owner. In order to pave the entire street it is necessary to have each property owner agree to the paving, otherwise that block will be left unpaved.
Dr. J. L. Adrian of the State Livestock Sanitary commission will be in Lipscomb county on September 16 to test cattle by the agglutination method for Bangs disease.
County farmers and ranchers interested in the program may make arrangements to have this test made by contacting Martin Gossett at the county agent's office and giving the number of cattle that he desired to have tested. This must be accomplished before September 10 in order to arrange a schedule of county testing.
