

Salvation Army? He Walks On

An old man, in torn and dirty overalls, walked hesitantly into the police station this morning.

"Can I help you?" the desk sergeant asked.

"I hope so," he said. "I lost 100. I had it on my dresser and when I went out for a little while and came back it was gone."

"When was this?"

"Declaration day."

"Labor Day? Why didn't you report it then?"

"I kept thinking I'd find it. But that ain't what I'm interested in. I'm hungry and I ain't got any more money."

The desk sergeant sent him to the welfare office. He re-told the story.

"We can't help you, I'm afraid," the welfare official said. "You have to have been a resident here for six months, and you say you've lived here only a month."

The welfare office sent him back to see Police Chief Louis Allen. The chief had stepped out of his office.

"You folks know me," the old man told the sergeant. "These here policemen picked me up before."

The desk sergeant held the story again. She decided he should try the Red Cross. The woman in the Red Cross office listened.

"We take care of veterans and their families and people who've been here six months," she said. "Can't you work?"

"Yes, ma'am, the old man replied. "I'm a go-to-worker, but I ain't got anything to eat on now."

She told him the Salvation Army, which looks after transients, was his goal.

The old man walked wearily out of the office. "That's fine of 'em I been in so far," he said. He shuffled off toward S. Cuyler and the Salvation Army.

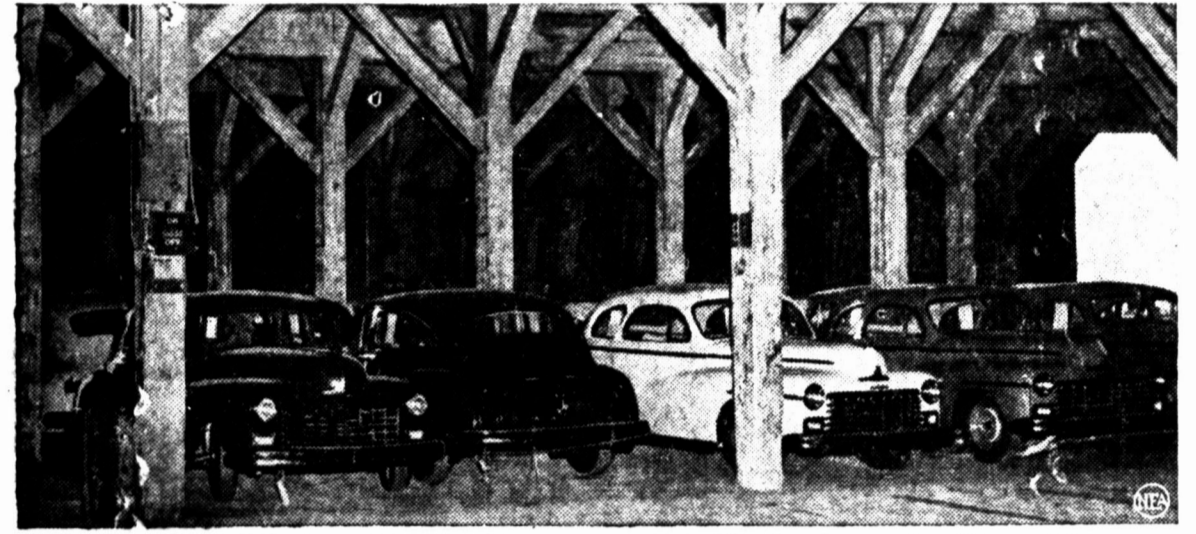

Back in his office, Police Chief Allen held the story.

"We're sure going to look into this this afternoon," he said.

The old man's name is James Fendergast. He said he lived in a "shack" in the rear of the 900 block of E. Francis.

Asked where his real home was, he replied:

"I guess that's a hard question to answer. My brother I lived with, he died a while back."

WANT A NEW CAR? GO ABROAD AND YOU'LL GET IT—American-made, 1946 model cars are lined up on a Newhaven, N. H., pier, awaiting shipment to Newfoundland. Export surveys revealed that American manufacturers are sending thousands of their new autos to foreign markets, shipping 9,000 in June alone. Recently Nash production was halted at Milwaukee and Kenosha by what company officials said was "unprecedented refusal of employees to work on cars for export." Manufacturers say they are merely fulfilling normal export commitments.

Molotov Absent From Parley

PARIS—(AP)—The four-power foreign ministers' council met for the second time during the Paris peace conference today with Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky representing the Russians.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who earlier was reported by a French foreign ministry official to have returned from Moscow, was not present.

French foreign officials said their latest information was that Molotov had not returned, and Kassin, his spokesman, said he would not be back until "sometime" later this week.

A French foreign ministry official earlier had said Molotov returned this morning and that the four foreign ministers would meet to discuss peace conference problems. Molotov left Paris Saturday.

British sources said the meeting of foreign ministers was requested by Vishinsky.

Senate Tom Connally (D-Texas), chairman of the senate foreign affairs committee, told the peace conference today that the Venezia Giulia area of Italy "was a fertile soil for war" and appealed for the nations to "forget hatreds and prejudices."

From within the board and outside, members were being urged to review their August 23 ruling denying 43,000 AFL seagoing unionists wage boosts in excess of the $17.50 monthly grant that rival CIO unions last June 15.

John Hawk, vice president of the AFL seafarers international union, said in New York yesterday that from 24,000 to 100,000 AFL seamen on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf Coasts were ready to walk off their ships Thursday.

The issue took on aspects of a test of the government's wage stabilization program because of this background.

In July the AFL-seafarers union of the Pacific negotiated a contract with the Pacific American shipowners' association calling for a $22.50 monthly increase for able-bodied seamen.

Later the AFL-seafarers international union won a $27.50 a month hike from the Atlantic and Gulf Coast general agents.

Although the war shipping administration approved the higher rates for AFL seamen, the wage board ruled the increase could not exceed the $17.50 a month amount accepted by the CIO-National Maritime Union at the climax of the June strike crisis.

The board held that any raise over $17.50 would be inflationary.

That touched off the new strike threat.

The CIO union, strong on the Atlantic coast, pledged its support. Members watched eagerly for developments since approval of the higher rates for AFL seamen would provide them with a strong argument for matching boosts.

Shipping Tieup On All Coasts of U. S. Threatening

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The threat of a shipping tieup on all coasts tomorrow built up pressure on the wage stabilization board today to alter its 12 day old "pay cut" decision affecting AFL sailors.

Dads Ask Higher Job Training Pay

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Resolutions asking congress to increase allotment ceilings for married war veterans participating in the job training program and seeking an emergency program to build veterans homes on the same basis as war plants were built during the war have been adopted by the Texas State Association of American War Dads.

The association, in the final session of a three-day convention here yesterday, also voted to request Governor Coke Stevenson to set a "remembrance day" on a Sunday nearest to Dec. 7, Pearl Harbor anniversary, for paying tribute to servicemen who paid the supreme sacrifice in World War II.

Other resolutions approved by the convention included:

1. Demands that the war assets administration grant to veterans a priority to buy surplus household or other items for personal use.

2. Petition the State Medical Association to make contracts with the veterans administration for out of hospital treatment of veterans who need medical care.

3. Petition Gov. Stevenson to proclaim Oct. 6-13 as "employment of a disabled veteran" week.

The resolution on job training asserted that single men receive $175 a month and married men $200. The group asks an increase for married men, based on the number of dependents. No increase was asked for single veterans.

Fall Fashions Coming Into Own

Fall comes in on its own today through the pages of the Pampa Daily News. Throughout the paper the reader will find display of the fashion of the day being employed during the forthcoming season.

Borrowing richly from the past, fashion designers have brought out an entirely new wardrobe for mid-lady, with all the color and "flash" of the day being employed to the most advantageous degree.

Americans have the opportunity to see this year some of the things that France, once the mecca of fashion, has produced during the past five years, despite the fact that there was a war on.

And even the casuals look much dressier this autumn than in past seasons. New and interesting textures, pleasing lusters and novel finishes are being shown. This is possible because rayon is man-made fibre—and it can be controlled in the laboratory—to assume many different characteristics.

Turn through the paper today, and be introduced early to the things midlady will wear in the coming weeks.

Heirens Pleas 'Guilty' to 3 Chicago Crimes

CHICAGO—(AP)—Seventeen-year-old William Heirens, Jekyll-Hyde personality with a "deep rooted" sexual perversion, today pleaded guilty to the murders of Suzanne Fenner, Mrs. Josephine Ross and Miss Frances Brown.

The scarily, bushy-haired university sophisticate stood quietly, showed no emotion as the clerk read the long list of 26 burglary, assault and robbery charges against him. To each he pleaded guilty.

When the clerk announced the indictment accusing him of the brutal murder of Suzanne Fenner, 6, Heirens wrung his hands, his lips quivered and he responded haltingly.

"Guilty."

Chief Justice Harold G. Ward of the Cook county criminal court, then interrupted the proceeding to warn Heirens of his constitutional rights and the jeopardy into which such a plea placed him.

"You understand, Heirens, that in pleading guilty you are waiving a trial by jury and that convicting you would not be back until sometime later this week."

The judge told the youth, who waived that trial the court may sentence you to death, or natural life imprisonment, or for any number of years not less than 14."

Dogs, Not Weather Mailman's Worry

DETROIT—(AP)—It's not snow, rain nor gloom of night that bothers the mail carrier. It's some 184 other obstacles that get in the way of these couriers on their appointed rounds.

The National Association of Letter Carriers, with 6,000 members in convention here, came up today with a list of the things that make them unhappy—184 in all.

For instance, Florida and Missouri mailmen want legislation holding dog-owners responsible "for the biting of postmen."

Pittsburgh Faces Great Possibility Of Power Strike

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Industrial Pittsburgh grided today for its second power strike in seven months following a strike vote by Duquesne Light Co. employees.

The workers members of the Independent Association of Duquesne Light Co. employees and associated companies, voted 1008 to 590 last night to call a strike "as soon as possible" to enforce a wage increase and other contract demands.

The company's executive committee was scheduled to meet this morning to set a deadline for the work stoppage.

George I. Mueller, union president, said a strike might be called within three or four days, depending on working shifts, vacation schedules and other factors.

A 39-day strike notice filed by the union in Washington under the Smith-Connally pact, expired at midnight Saturday.

Mayor David I. Lawrence, who had been in almost continuous session with the company and union since Friday in an attempt to avert the strike, appealed to the public to "use every influence it can on both company and union."

Union demands include a 20 percent wage increase and a master contract for the nine associated companies.

Last February 12 a 19-hour power strike resulted in a partial blackout over an 817-square-mile area, including Metropolitan Pittsburgh, and virtually paralyzed business and industry.

That strike was "suspended in the interests of the public." A board of arbitration later gave the employees an 18-cent hourly pay boost.

Deaths Soar High Following Violent Bombay Clashes

BOMBAY—(AP)—Casualties resulting from bitter Hindu-Muslim clashes which began in Bombay Sunday, soared to 152 dead and 494 wounded today following a night of sporadic violence during which police several times opened fire on rioting mobs.

The disorders occurred mostly in the northern section of the city, but extended to the main business section, where mobs tried to break into stores and attempted to burn a house of worship. Streets in several areas were littered with rocks hurled at police patrols.

Under the threat of further trouble many places of business closed their doors, while markets began to feel the pinch of a food shortage.

A health menace developed in one trouble section where sewers became clogged and wastes refused to clean them in fear of their lives.

A government commissioner said the general situation showed "no signs of improvement."

Police announced that a total of 1,163 persons had been arrested on charges of rioting since the beginning of the disorders.

Acting Governor Sir Alexander Cow and Moraria Desai, minister for law and order, toured trouble areas in Bombay yesterday to take charge of control measures. Aerial troops were posted into the city to assist police.

Lack of Teachers Postpones School

NORWALK Conn.—(AP)—Norwalk high school students cheered today as school Superintendent Philip A. Jakob, addressing them from the steps of the city building, told them to go home.

"There are no teachers for the opening day of the fall term," he declared.

Although only one of 236 teachers have signed contracts for the coming year and the Norwalk Teachers' association, involved in a pay dispute, had announced its members would not report duty, about 800 of the high school's 1,000 pupils showed up.

The pupils cheered the "no school" announcement, but many expressed concern that a protracted dispute might force them to attend classes during winter vacations or next summer to make up for time lost now.

The contract offered the teachers in June provided for salaries ranging from $2,000 to $3,400 a year, an increase of approximately $500 for women teachers, but no increase for men. A new state law provides that men and women teachers must be paid equally.

The association is seeking recognition as the collective bargaining agency for teachers and an increase of $300.00 over the board's estimate and taxation's school budget of $813,000. The board of education has countered with an offer of $31,000 which it says represents an increase of five percent for each teacher.

Incidents To Be Closed If Slavs Pay Up

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton said today that if Yugoslavia will pay indemnity for loss of life and property, the United States stands ready to close the dispute over the downing of two American planes.

Clayton told a news conference this country hopes to have its bill for damages ready for Belgrade in the near future.

He added that the United States considers its 3100-word note to Yugoslavia yesterday as closing correspondence on the matter, except for the indemnity issue.

He recalled that Marshall Tito had not offered other American demands, including formal apology and a pledge that the Yugoslav armed forces would never again fire on American transport planes.

Five American lives were lost in crash of one of the two transport planes.

Tito to date has given no definite indication of his reaction to the projected indemnity claim, although he did assert in a recent note that his government could not assume responsibility for the crashes.

Should he refuse to pay damages, the United States might have to dust off its 13 day old threat to take the case before the United Nations security council.

Most American officials concerned with the matter appeared to believe Tito would agree to indemnity terms, following his recent expression of regret over the incidents and assurances that they would not recur.

But no one was willing to predict.

Resolution Gives Pension to Most World War I Vets

BOSTON—(AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars 47th National encampment today adopted a resolution advancing "disability and age pension" to World War I veterans under the same provisions governing benefits to veterans of the Spanish-American war.

The proposed legislation, veterans of the World War I who had served 90 days or more would be entitled to these grants "irrespective of whether said disabilities were of proven service origin."

Until now, World War I veteran have been granted disability and age pensions only after proving disability occurred while in the service.

The resolution said that it was difficult to prove service origin of disability because of "lack of adequate medical records."

It added:

"The average age of World War I veterans is now 54 years and many of them are afflicted with disabilities which may have originated in service and which make it difficult for said veterans to compete in the employment field or build up an insurance estate for their dependents."

This resolution was adopted without debate as delegates drafted a program that covered a wide field ranging from advance of statehood for Hawaii to support for the Anglo-American committee's recommendation of 100,000 Jews into Palestine.

The resolution was unanimously adopted another resolution—see VET PENSIONS, Page 4

Crash Victims in France Mounting

PARIS—(AP)—Twenty-one persons were killed in the crash of an Air France liner taking off from Paris for London today, bringing to 36 the total number of dead in French plane accidents in three days.

The latest crash, which killed 17 of 21 passengers and three of the crew of five, occurred at 9:15 a.m. when the Paris-London liner failed to clear a factory roof at Le Bourget.

At the same time the line continued the death toll of 17 passengers and three crew members when another of its planes crashed just 16 minutes before 21 miles out of Copenhagen.

Three French airlines and four English aviation operators were killed Monday when an army plane crashed in a wood shortly after taking off from the Villacoublay air base in Paris for Grenoble.

A 21st victim of today's crash was a workman killed by collapse of a roof of an automobile radiator factory hit by the plane.

The dead in today's crash were believed to include Harry Field, 46, Denver, Colo., British-born American director of the National Cyclotron Research Center at the University of Denver and founder of the British Institute of Public Opinion.

Chances to Meet Housing Goal Dim

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt took a dim view today of prospects for meeting this year's homes-for-veterans goal.

While some 607,100 dwellings were started during the first seven months of 1946, Wyatt's monthly report said the number of priorities issued in July was too small to assure hitting the target of 1,200,000 new homes under construction by year's end.

In addition, home construction is running into a labor shortage.

Furthermore, Wyatt reiterated that even full attainment of this year's goal still would leave the nation with a greater shortage of homes than existed at the beginning of the year.

The report placed the number of new dwellings completed through July at 287,000. But of these only 14,200 were permanent houses and apartment units. The rest were trailers, conversions of existing buildings or surplus war housing put to re-use.

Only about 60,000 of the individual permanent homes started in 1946 have been finished, which means that a majority of the dwellings begun under the program are still in progress or are standing in various stages of completion.

Bums Shade Phillies To Slice Card Lead

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers fell on their old "cousins" from Philadelphia last night to clip a half game off St. Louis' lead.

The Cardinals were idle, so the Dodgers moved to within two games of the National league lead. Each had 24 games to play.

Kirby Higbe, manager Leo Durocher's "stopper" showed signs of wear and tear in earning his 14th victory of the season over the Phillies 6-4.

The Phils sputtered for three in the eighth, and Hank Behrman saved the day.

For what was supposed to have been an open date in both leagues, yesterday was a busy day with six games.

Lafayette Bob Chisholm shut out Pittsburgh with five hits, 2-0, as Chicago's Cubs continued their belated drive which probably will do no more than assure them of finishing third ahead of Boston.

Tommy Holmes was the big gun in Boston's 5-4 shade over the New York Giants, the Braves' outfielder lunging a bases-loaded double during a four-run rally in the seventh that knocked out starter Dave Koslo.

Chicago and Detroit struggled for 15 innings before the White Sox managed a 4-3 verdict. The Tigers broke a 2-2 tie with a run in the first of the 16th but Chicago came back to score twice and beat Stubby Overmire who pitched to only two batters, but allowed two hits.

Cleveland climbed into a first-place tie with Chicago on a double win over St. Louis, 5-3. Lou Eondroun had to use Bobby Feller on relief to save the opener.

Native Sons in 16-14 Triumph

If one ruled out the umpires and the score-keeper, he would say the "Oklies" and other "turners" defeated the "native sons" in the softball game at the Kiwanis diamond last night.

However, if you wanted to be prejudiced, you would say that the "natives" won the game, as the scorebook showed (which as we have said was in the hands of one of them).

The score-keeper said the score of this rugged game was 14 to 16 in favor of the Texans, and the players, many quite reluctantly, left it that way. There is, however, a great deal of talk for a return engagement.

There was a split in the ranks of the Kiwanis club last night, when the players converged at the field for the feud game. It was quite easy to tell who was born in Texas and who was born elsewhere in the U. S. Healed foreign soil to those with heart-felt allegiance to the Lone Star flag.

The players were put in shape for the game with a stag luncheon at the city park prior to the engagement.

President Harrison established the Yellowstone-Timber Land Reserve in 1891. This was the first such reserve in the U. S.

Pitcher Racks up No-Hitter in E-T Loop, Loses 1-0

By The Associated Press

Carl Carter moundsman for the Jacksonville club of the East Texas league, must have a funny feeling today.

He hurled a no-hit game last night against the Lufkin Foresters and lost by a score of 1-0.

An unearned run in the seventh inning of the first game of a twin bill gave the cellar club Foresters the win. The lone run came on a walk, a sacrifice, a passed ball and an outfield fly.

It was the first no-hit game of the East Texas circuit season.

Jacksonville came back in the second game to win, 2-1, by pushing across a run in the last half of the seventh inning.

In other games last night, first place Henderson and third place Tyler split a twin bill, Tyler taking the first, 5-2, and the Oilers the second, 2-1.

Second place Texarkana took 12 hits while the Greenville Majors collected 18 safeties off two Sherman pitchers to take a 9-2 game.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Until some one knocks 'em over on the field, there's only one school in the Southern California Trojans on the Pacific coast conference doespeeth: the top.

Every other coast school is loaded, sure; but Jeff Cravath's T-model machine is surging at the seams with high-powered talent returned from the service. Cravath welcomed back 45 lettermen, only 16 from last year's squad, as practice began yesterday.

Cravath's plans center around 144-all-America tackle John Ferraro and former all-coast halfback Gordon Gray. Ferraro's 250-pound bulk will spearhead a line in ending all-coast ends Jim Callahan and Lon Hardy Gray, carrying the mail from right half, is expected to spark a backfield including Mickey McCordie and Duane Whitehead at fullback.

McCordie, all-coaster in '42 and '43, heads a group of slick passers including Leo Riggs, 1942 Frosh sensation; Keith Spath, a St. Mary's transfer; and Bobby Musick, two-year letterman.

How far the Trojans will go nationally depends largely on how tough a line Cravath can rig around Ferraro.

On paper, it's hard to see how the Trojans can miss making their fourth straight trip to the Rose Bowl.

Oilers Open Final Home Stand Of WT-NM Season Tonight, 8:15

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
News Sports Editor

Although Abilene's Blue Sox have nearly clinched the West Texas-New Mexico league pennant, four teams continue to stage a battle-royal behind the sockers, fighting for second and a fourth position.

Pampa's Oilers bring their second, place aspirations home with them tonight as they meet the Lubbock Hubbers in the first of a three-game series at Oiler park, starting at 8:15.

Their game with Abilene last night cancelled because of wet grounds, the Oilers lost ground in the battle for runner-up spot as Amarillo defeated Albuquerque 9-7 to pull a half-game ahead of Pampa.

Lubbock, too, will have every reason for wanting to sweep the series from Pampa. The Hubbers are only two and one-half games ahead of the fifth-place Borger Gassers and both teams are still struggling to land a berth in the post-season play-offs, involving the top four clubs.

Borger's hopes, however, suffered a severe blow as they dropped three straight games to the downtrodden Lamesa Lobos, who rose up to defeat the Gassers twice Monday and again last night.

Meanwhile, the Amarillo Gold Sox, who play here Saturday and Sunday to close the regular season, must first go to Borger to battle the Gassers four times, the extra game a make-up affair.

The Sox have not succeeded in winning a single game out of six at Borger, although they have taken eight of 10 at Amarillo.

Abilene, meanwhile, goes to Clovis today to open a three-game series with the seventh-place Pioneers while Lamesa is playing at Albuquerque.

Saturday, the clubs shift with Pampa playing host to Amarillo, Abilene playing at Albuquerque, Lamesa at Clovis and Lubbock at Borger.

The teams will play single games Saturday night and close the season Sunday with double-headers all the way around the league.

Provided the Oilers play all the rest of their games, they will finish the regular season two games short of the regulation 140 games. A las-of-the-series contest was rained out at Albuquerque and last night's Abilene game also had to be cancelled.

In the playoff which will start next week, the two teams that finish highest in the standings will battle the other two teams at the high club's own grounds in the first two games of the playoffs.

Otherwise, Abilene will meet Borger or Lubbock, whichever finishes fourth in two games at Abilene and then will move to Lubbock (or Borger) for one or two more. If a fifth game is necessary, it will be decided on at that time.

In the case of Amarillo and Pampa, neither of whom can finish worse than third, the first two games of the playoff will be played at whichever town finishes second.

Following the first series of games, the two winning teams will meet in a four-out-of-seven series to determine the champion.

Reapers Begin Practice Under Coach Davis; Several Games Being Sought

Over 20 boys, six of them lettermen, have reported to Coach Jack Davis to begin practice for the Junior High Reaper football season.

Davis said he expected about 39 to report after the first few days of school.

The Reapers will again be entered in the Panhandle Junior high School conference, made up of Horace Mann, Nixon and San Jacinto schools in Amarillo, Borger Junior high and Pampa Junior high.

However, Davis said he would have several open dates on his schedule and would like to match games with Junior high schools of this area.

A conference schedule has not been arranged pending a meeting of coaches and officials of the five member schools.

Boys who were out for the Reapers yesterday were: Mitchell Rowe, Jimmie Farley, Leon Taylor, Marvin Harvel, Bill Runyon, Lulu Hughes, Jimmie Campbell, Jimmie Hays, Tony Jones, Eddie Schieg, Carroll Smith, John Kennedy, Glenn Tarpley, Elmer Wilson, Bob McPherson, Bill McPherson and Leroy Brown.

Bufs Move Past Sports Into 6th Place in Texas

(By The Associated Press)

Houston's Bufs, who have had somewhat of a lease of seventh place in the Texas league this year, moved up a notch last night and passed the Shreveport Sports, scoring four runs in the sixth to defeat the Sports, 7-2.

The win placed the Bufs a full game ahead of Shreveport.

At Tulsa, Gus Mancuso's Oilers swept a twin bill from the Oklahoma City Indians, 3-7, and 7-4, to gain a half-game on the San Antonio Missions in the battle for third and fourth spots in the final league standings.

Combined with a San Antonio defeat of Beaumont, 7-2, the double win moved the Oilers to within two full games of the Missions. San Antonio has five games to play, Tulsa six.

At Fort Worth, big Lou Ruscher, Cat first baseman, tripled in the eighth inning, with the score tied, 4-4, to drive in what proved to be the winning run against the Dallas Rebels. He crossed the plate a few minutes later for an unearned run, making it a 5-4 victory for Fort Worth.

Roman Brunswick went the route at Houston to lead the battling Bufs. Houston led the game away with a four run spurt in the sixth.

In the first game at Tulsa, Eddie Haneyszewski of the Oilers gave the Tribe only two hits, both of them singles. In the nightcap Tommy Warren notched his nineteenth victory of the season.

The double-header sweep gave Tulsa a 13-to-8 advantage over the Oklahoma City club in the season's campaign. It was their last clash.

The San Antonio Missions broke up a 2-2 tie game with Beaumont in the eighth inning with a five-run spurge.

The Dallas-Fort Worth game wound up the calendar for the two long-standing rivals with each club having won eleven games. Fort Worth broke even by sweeping the last two games of a six-game series.

Willard Ramsdell, although clubbed for 12 hits, managed to finish against the Rebels. Johnny Corriem topped a possible Dallas threat in the ninth, however, by taking a line drive from the Rebels' first sacker, Bob Moyer, and whipping it first for a double play.

Lockhart Named Player of Week

RATON, N. M. (Special)—Maurice Lockhart, captain and rugged center of the Harvester football team, was named by his teammates as player of the week yesterday.

The players select one of their number for that honor after every six workouts.

Under coaches Otis Coffey, Jiggs Whittenton and Dick Livestone, the Harvesters are working hard on fundamentals, blocking, tackling, punting and passing. Ball handling is being stressed.

Boyle, Boyles and Roscoe Russell are looking good on defense. Boyles is over six feet tall and weighs about 210, while Russell has the honor of being the largest on the squad at 229 pounds.

Kelley Anderson, end candidate, is showing improvement in speed and pass receiving ability while Carl Maves, red-headed speedster, looks continually good in a broken field.

No injuries have been reported and Coffey has reported the squad of 33 in "great spirits."

The team will break its fall camp this weekend to return home for a week's practice before the Electric game here Friday, September 13.

Bechtol Returns To Texas Today

LUBBOCK (AP)—Today is moving day again for Hubert Bechtol.

The twice all-America end, after working out Monday with the Texas Tech Red Raiders, announced yesterday he will return to Austin today to rejoin Coach-Darr K. Bible and the University of Texas Long-Horns.

Bechtol, who made the all-American teams while attending the university as a naval reservist, ten days ago left the Bible-coached eleven after asserting he could not find living accommodations for himself, his wife and his three-week-old child in Austin.

He announced his new decision here after receiving a telephone call from an Austin friend with the information that an apartment had been obtained for him and his family.

"I've had two very successful years down there and feel I ought to go back," Bechtol said. "They have an apartment for my family and have promised me a coaching job after I get out of school."

Law Investigates Death of Soldier

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Police today were investigating circumstances leading to the death of a soldier, identified as Pvt. John T. Varner, 29, formerly of Fort Worth, whose body was found last night on railroad tracks here by a Santa Fe freight train crew.

City detective G. D. Hale and John Dunwoody quoted H. W. Bratton of Cleburne, conductor of the train, as saying he saw the body on the tracks but was unable to stop the train before reaching it.

Investigating officers feared that the soldier may have been slain and his body placed on the tracks. District Attorney Clyde has ordered an autopsy prior to an inquest verdict.

Varner's clothing possessed papers indicating that he was on orders from Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, to Scott field, Ill., with a delay enroute for Fort Worth.

Road Didn't Call So He Didn't Go

DALLAS—(AP)—Robert Roland Anderson explains it this way: "I never did have any kind of hankering to go anywhere. If the open road ever called at me it made mighty little noise."

At any rate, Sept. 9 will be an event in the life of 34-year-old Anderson who averages better than 50,000 miles a year driving a city bus. On that date he will spend his first night outside of Dallas.

Only once in his whole life has this six-foot two-inch slow-talking Texan ever been outside the city. That was June 16, 1933, his wedding day.

"Got up early that morning," he remembered. "I went over and picked up my girl and we drove to Marietta, Okla., where my mother was, and got married. Then we came right on back here—got here before sundown."

On the ninth of this month, Anderson will travel 19 miles to Forney to visit a sister, Mrs. Katherine Buice.

Anderson is a product of West Dallas. When he was in the fifth grade, a boy named Clyde Barrow sat to the left of him. Another school companion was Raymond Hamilton. Both became nationally known desperadoes. Both are dead.

"Those boys," Anderson said pointedly, "got around. I stayed in Dallas."

Oklahoma City Pastor To Speak at Banquet

The Rev. Bill Alexander, pastor of the First Christian church in Oklahoma City, will be the principal speaker at the chamber of commerce quarterly banquet September 24 at the Senior high school cafeteria.

E. O. Wedgworth, manager of the chamber, said Rev. Alexander spoke here last year at a meeting of the Brotherhood of the First Christian church and his address was "very well received." He is widely known as an after dinner speaker.

The banquet will be prepared by the staff of the Senior high cafeteria under the supervision of Mrs. Roy Kilgore.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale at the chamber of commerce office for $1.25 each. Approximately 400 persons can be served, Wedgworth said.

joined Soviet Russia in a bare seven-vote affirmative majority to place it on the agenda over the bitter opposition of Great Britain and the Netherlands.

U. S. Delegate Herschel V. Johnson, in voting for immediate discussion, made it clear that the United States was making no commitment on the merits of the charges, which had been assailed by Britain as "wild accusations."

After a hot four-hour debate yesterday the United States, Russia, Poland, China, France, Egypt and Mexico gave the minimum majority vote of seven out of the eleven on for hearing the case. Great Britain and the Netherlands voted against it. Australia and Brazil abstained.

As the council prepared for the possibility of a long wrangle over the charges that Greece is fomenting frontier incidents with Albania and threatening the peace of the world, interested persons from the Balkans stood by to offer their testimony.

They included Greek Ambassador Vassil Dendramis, Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmitri Manuilsky, who filed the charges more than a week ago; Col. Tuk Jakova, of Albania, whose country was denied membership in the U. N. last week; and Pavle Lukin, acting chief of the Yugoslav delegation to the U. N.

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. joined Soviet Russia in a bare seven-vote affirmative majority to place it on the agenda over the bitter opposition of Great Britain and the Netherlands.

U. S. Delegate Herschel V. Johnson, in voting for immediate discussion, made it clear that the United States was making no commitment on the merits of the charges, which had been assailed by Britain as "wild accusations."

After a hot four-hour debate yesterday the United States, Russia, Poland, China, France, Egypt and Mexico gave the minimum majority vote of seven out of the eleven on for hearing the case. Great Britain and the Netherlands voted against it. Australia and Brazil abstained.

As the council prepared for the possibility of a long wrangle over the charges that Greece is fomenting frontier incidents with Albania and threatening the peace of the world, interested persons from the Balkans stood by to offer their testimony.

They included Greek Ambassador Vassil Dendramis, Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmitri Manuilsky, who filed the charges more than a week ago; Col. Tuk Jakova, of Albania, whose country was denied membership in the U. N. last week; and Pavle Lukin, acting chief of the Yugoslav delegation to the U. N.

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko told the council last night that the presence of British troops in Greece had deprived the Greek people of the opportunity of deciding freely on their form of government and demanded to know why it was necessary to have foreign armies in the country of a U. N. member at election time.

Proper Cultivation of Soil Is Of Prime Importance in China

By GENE WORLEY
Congressman, 18th District

Our first contact with China was along the southeast coast which is a very mountainous section. The over-all population of China is about four hundred and fifty million and in order to feed that many people, proper cultivation of the soil is the difference between life and death. It is my understanding that the Orientals were the first to develop terracing several thousand years ago, and no matter how high the mountains were, it seemed that every inch of space clear to the top was growing crops of one kind or another, with thousands of terraces, one after another presenting a very neat pattern. I was unable to secure information as to the average rainfall in that part of the country, but I understood that the terraces prevented disastrous erosion even on the steepest mountains.

Leaving the mountainous regions, we flew over one of the broadest valleys in the world, practically all of which was irrigated by the yellow silt-laden streams, that are the lifeblood of Chinese agriculture. Literally hundreds and thousands of tiny villages dotted the landscape being each village built along either a river or an irrigation canal. There were no farms or farmhouses as we know them in Texas. The villages were built as protection against marauding bandits. Telephones or radios are practically non-existent and how the average Chinese ever knows what is going on either in his own country or elsewhere in the world is a profound mystery—assuming he does know. Through this part of China we saw no highways at all, the people's means of transport being by foot or by water. We were told that millions of Chinese never got more than ten miles away from their birthplace. Famines often overtake certain parts of China when other sections of the country have an abundance of food. The reason for such a condition is the woeful inadequacy of transportation facilities. There are but few railroads and most of these seem to be in northern China.

The average Chinese is very industrious and generally raised enough for themselves and their very large families. While they are very devout in their form of ancestor worship and treat the dead with great reverence, life is still held cheap by them; in fact life itself is one of the cheapest commodities in China.

For example, one of our fliers told me that during the war he was flying a group of Chinese soldiers to the front. One man pretended he was going to push another one out of the plane—which drew a laugh from the others. Indeed this prank got such a big laugh that the man was encouraged really to push the other one out of the plane which he actually did. On another occasion a plane similarly loaded with Chinese soldiers ran into extremely rough weather which made most of them uncomfortably sick. The Chinese suspected the pilots had purposely made the trip rough and upon landing wanted to shoot them. They would have done so had not a higher ranking Chinese officer who was passing quite by accident learned what the trouble was; whereupon he immediately lined up three of the still angry Chinese who had been aboard the plane and had them shot dead. These incidents point out the fact that life does come cheap over there. Shanghai itself is quite a city.

The buildings downtown and in the international settlement are about as modern as any we have in America, but the outlying sections look congested and bedraggled. The streets are clogged with rickshaws and carts carrying heavy loads and being pushed or pulled by Chinese coolies in tattered, nondescript clothing. How they avoid killing at least a thousand a day in traffic accidents is a mystery, but we understood their traffic death rate was very small. Along the murky and yellow Yangtze river are Chinese junks or wooden boats packed tight one against the other. To thousands of Chinese these boats are home, where they are born and live and die. The death rate from nearly every conceivable kind of disease is very high.

Breakfast Club Is Organized by Men of Canadian

CANADIAN (Special)—The first meeting of the Breakfast club was enjoyed by 23 business men and ranchers Monday morning in the new dining room at the Killarney cafe.

It is believed that this club is unique in that it is absolutely unorganized. There are no officers, no rules, no dues, and no attendance records. You simply attend if you can and there will be no programs, and no speeches will be heard unless there be some important announcement of general interest.

Every man orders his own breakfast, and waitresses are instructed to make an individual check for each man.

The club met at the suggestion of C. W. Callaway, and its sole object is to enjoy a visit and get better acquainted with your fellow citizens. Nowcomers in the community are especially welcome, and should find the club a splendid place to get acquainted with the men of the community.

The breakfasts start at 6:30 each Monday morning and are over by 8. The time of arrival or departure is nobody's business but the individual's, but the first breakfast would indicate that most of the men will enjoy the entire hour and a half.

Attending the first breakfast were: C. W. Callaway and five of his six sons—Thad, Carl, Burl, Max, and Dallas, Preston Hutton, A. A. (Bud) Webb, Tom, Naceh, and N. Abraham, Hub Hext, Jim Reid, Hiram Park, Harry Wilbur, Jr., R. E. Carver, Chas. Douglas, C. R. Higgins, L. A. McAdams, Claude Jones, Noble Trueblood, Albert Lieke, and Robert Fry.

Tall tales from "Texarkana": A minister called the mayor. He told the city officials that he was a dead mule on his lawn. He asked the mayor to come and get the animal and bury it.

"But," protested the mayor flippantly, "I thought it was the duty of ministers to bury the dead."

"So it is," the minister agreed solemnly, "but we always notify the relatives of the deceased."

D. M. Pinkham, Bowie county commissioner known for his swapping ability, met his match in a farm agent.

The agent asked for a raise in salary. Pinkham said the amount asked was "getting way up yonder" and suggested a compromise figure.

"Would you be satisfied with that?" he asked.

"Well, I guess I'd be satisfied," the agent said reluctantly. "But, Mr. Pinkham, you know there's different degrees of satisfaction."

Old Age Pension Checks in Mail

AUSTIN (AP)—Old age assistance checks are being mailed to 185,984 persons this week.

Average payment will amount to $23.55, the same average as for August and $2.30 short of the authorized grant, reported John H. Winters, executive director of the state department of public welfare.

Recent amendment of the social security act by congress allowed the federal government to pay $10 of the first $15 paid to old age assistance recipients.

Anticipating the increased federal aid, which becomes available in October, the state public welfare department was able to hold this month's cut to $2.30 by transferring additional federal balances to the assistance fund.

Winters said the cut in checks this month will be the last one that the aged will take this year.

He also reported that assistance applications of the aged, the blind, and dependent children, are continuing to increase rapidly. Approximately 3,500 new applicants were placed on the rolls in August.

Total assistance to the three groups in September will amount to $4,759,237, Winters said.

Market Briefs

WALL STREET
NEW YORK—One of the sharpest sell-offs of the past several years struck the stock market today and sent down leading stocks, motors, rails and industrials 1 to 14 points, many to new lows since last fall.

Aggregate sales of around 2,200,000 shares was the largest since February.

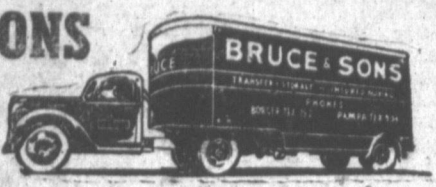

Development on the stump were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio, Eastman Kodak, Allied Chemical, Du Pont, Douglas Aircraft, Goodrich, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, North American, American Telephone & Telegraph, Westinghouse, General Electric, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Cigar, Westinghouse, General Electric, standard Oil (NJ) and Texas Co.

Brokers found little in the spot news to cause for the relapse and most attributed it to a variety of circumstances including the idea of professionals and public commission house customers that the market, in its slide of the past three months, may have been discounting a business peak later in the year or in 1947. Technical forces turned bearish when the industrial average broke through the spring low level. The foreign situation also was cited by analysts as still a bit discouraging market-wise.

IN QUEST OF PEACE—GYRATING TOWARD WAR

The world, it seems, is faced with more paradoxical situations now than at any time in recorded history. At least, the problems which it faces are more complex, and man has probably never desired peace more intensely.

However, contrary to the opinion that man will get about what he wants, it seems unlikely that peace will reign from here out.

When one looks at the situation abroad, he wonders if there are such attributes as loyalty and gratitude. For instance, during the war Bulgaria fought on the side of the Germans; Greece fought for the Allied cause. Yet, today Russia is giving armed assistance to Bulgaria, her former enemy, in a political war against Greece, her former Ally. Stalin wants an outlet to the warm waters of the Mediterranean, and he is using all means in that campaign.

A writer said recently that if Stalin in his feverish quest for the secret of the atomic bomb should find how to use the atom for destructive purposes, "his present aggressions would seem like pitching woo at rival western powers."

Although we have no direct word on the subject, there is little doubt that fact is giving a good deal of worry to official Washington.

And as words grow stronger at the peace conference and in the sessions of the U. N., as Kremlin satellites, like Yugoslavia, grow bolder, we can, perforce, be thankful the secret of that weapon is still in our possession.

Granted, yet we lock with some apprehension to recent American scientist reports that Germany missed the secret of the atomic bomb only by a hair-breadth. Hitler's researchers, we are told, did not hit upon the right degree of thickness that divides the neutron force from the exploding essentials.

That set of facts, linked with the fact that those scientists are supposedly now in Russia working for the Soviets, gives us reason to seek some sort of understanding with the Big Bear. Either that, or we might be caught between a war of the atom masters—Russia on one side, and America on the other.

That is a reasonably clear picture of what we have in mind today. Startling, yes; nevertheless, true. And all the while man really is in search of peace; yet, he gyrates toward war.

So They Say

There really is nothing of Europe in this conference except for the English. It is a conference of Slavs and Americans, with scarcely anything of the European spirit in it.—Dr. Raoul Fernandez of Brazil, peace conference delegate.

When comes this talk of blocs? Ey what right do those who vote ballot after ballot with the Soviet Union call those of us who do not always agree with the Soviet Union a bloc?—Secretary of State Byrnes.

This business of fighting for peace is getting tiresome to the world.—General Eisenhower.

We have made tragically little progress toward the establishment of a lasting era of goodwill among nations. We might as well accept the grim truth. Our peace efforts are being obstructed. And the blame rests squarely on Russia.—John Steele, national commander, American Legion.

Forty-eight percent of our population has absolutely no connection with the either church or synagogue. BIT OF SOCIAL SUFFERING IN THE CAPITAL

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Washington Correspondent

(Peter Edson is on vacation)

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The deathly calm which has settled on the nation's capital with congress out of town and most of the cabinet members vacationing is causing great suffering.

Among those hardest hit are the numerous members of the brotherhood of professional luncheoners.

Next to being the cocktail capital of the world, Washington is probably the top luncheon town of the globe, too. During normal times you can find four or five luncheons being thrown at any of the big hotels daily.

This has developed a special group of people who volunteer a good part of their existence to keeping these functions well attended. Members of this fraternity can be lesser government officials, dockagers, embassy clerks, female and male social climbers and wives of ambitious bureaucrats who attend under the pretense of helping their husbands but who are only raising their waistlines.

The practice of asking anyone to produce a written invitation was abandoned long ago. The great law—but nobody's feelings were there around—is carefully observed. A host even politely inquiring who a person is when he shows up verges on bad taste.

THE LEAN DAYS ARE HERE

Some members of the brotherhood are such skilled artists they have even been known to pay off social obligations this way. They invite friends to go with them and handle the crashing maneuvers with such finesse that the guests—once removed—don't realize what has happened.

But lean days have arrived. The number of luncheons being thrown has dwindled disastrously, principally because there are no "names" left in town on which to peg them. Congress is gone and the President is gone and so is the swarm of satellites whose only excuse for being in Washington is because the other two are here.

The net result is pandemonium in the ranks of the brotherhood. And the few brave persons who are giving luncheons are really "catching" the brotherhood.

Recently a "breat" of turkey affair drew three times the number of invited guests. The smarter hotels usually plan for a 20 percent over-attendance especially for "the brotherhood." This one caught them flatfooted. Tables had to be set up in the hall.

Breakfast of turkey or Lobster Newburg are the best drawing cards. It's easy to check before with the hotel chef and find out what's being served. The warning is out now, however, and the few noon affairs that are being given are sticking to mock chicken legs baked short ribs and cold plates. There are still

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

Force And Statism

It is strange how many people do not realize that whatever our government does is done by physical force.

There is nothing wrong with the government having the right to use physical force. That is the only purpose of government.

Whether or not the government is obliged actually to use physical force makes no difference. The threat of physical force is there nevertheless. A man pays his taxes to support something he believes is harmful without actually requiring the state to use physical force to make him pay. He pays because he knows the sheriff will take possession of his property if he does not pay. And if he resists strongly enough, the sheriff will use physical force just as people are liquidated in Russia when the government does not like what the individual is doing.

We are a little more courteous about using force than they are in Russia. We acquiesce in paying taxes without protest, and we acquiesce in just as the man in bad repute in Russia acquiesces in going to a slave labor camp without using physical force to resist the state.

Of course the state should use physical force for one purpose only. That purpose is to prevent one person from doing something to another that he does not want done. But we are using physical force by way of the tax route and imprisonment for nearly as many things as they do in Russia. We only do it in a little more polite way. In the end, if a man resists the physical force the government proposes to use, our tactics are very similar to those of Russia.

The man who believes that the government has a right to take from one to give to another, such as by tariffs, graduated taxes and public schools, cannot tell the difference between the Russian form of government and his ideas of government other than in degrees.

We are in the trouble we are in because we have, to too large a degree, departed from the government's proper use of force. The greatest of all Teachers taught against this improper use of force. He said, and a weakling's excuse, "The sword (force) shall perform the word." It looks as if he knew what He was talking about, judging from the condition we are in today.

If Majority Rule Country, Why The Oath Of Office?

In reading an essay on "Washington Witch Doctors" written by Ernest O. Kooser of Somerset, Pennsylvania, I ran across another refutation of the idea that this is a mere majority-rule country.

Mr. Kooser says, "Too often the representative excuses himself as to any kind of voting idea that theory that a majority of his constituents, that is the ones with the greatest political pressure, want him to vote their way. It is a false notion, and a weakling's excuse."

Mr. Kooser points out that each representative is sworn to uphold and defend the Constitution. This Constitution does not say anywhere that majorities can do as they please.

This is neither a majority-rule nor a minority-rule country. It is a country in which no one rules. It is a country in which the purpose of the government is to restrain one man from doing injury to another.

If ours were a majority-rule country, we certainly would not want to have our legislators sworn to uphold and defend the Constitution. The purpose of the oath was to protect the rights of the minority as well as the rights of the majority.

Mr. Kooser sums up the purpose of government by saying: "The true purpose of government is to protect the rights of the people, that is the right of each human being to live, breathe, move about, think, speak, produce his food, trade his products, procure his comforts and happiness, when not violating his necessary reciprocal duty not to interfere with like rights of his neighbor."

At a senator who quit to see active service, Mr. Lodge will make a strong appeal for the veterans' vote. Like Mr. Walsh, the young men may want to declare for or against new legislation that demands for bonuses and pensions and other measures distasteful to conservative and economy-minded Yankees. He will also seek the support of racial blocs.

Italy, who may have been disillusioned by post-war history.

Senator Walsh, however, has always been popular with these same blocs. He also has the backing of the workmen because of his pro-labor record. He is flooding the state with copies of his address denouncing President Truman's draft-labor proposal. And Mr. Lodge, the 1944 presidential campaign, chided him gently.

It will be a contest of youth against a racial bloc, a Lodge against a Walsh. It is doubtful if any other campaign test will furnish as accurate an advance reading of 1948 possibilities.

THREE DOWNS
OAKLAND, Calif.—(AP)—A bucking motorcycle had three Oakland policemen on the injured list today.

Officer Herbert Soares, 28, swung a leg over the cycle and kicked the starter. He didn't know the machine was in gear. It knocked him down, rocketed up the station steps, bowled over Martin Mission, and crashed through a door, flooring Harold Sherbourne.

In the Middle Ages, lutes, zithers and other instruments were part of a barber shop's furnishings to amuse waiting customers.

HOLLYWOOD.—The house-building program in Hollywood is as bad as ever. Gordon Jenkins, the musical director of Dick Haymes, shows signs of taking him so long the termite are sitting around drawing unemployment insurance.

MIDGET HORSES
A band of midget horses, scarcely larger than dogs, found in the mazes of the Grand Canyon, was believed to be descended from normal-sized horses trapped in the canyon long ago by a landslide, but degenerated, due to a lack of body-building materials.

frogs made too much noise and it took that long to make frogs out of them. Well, that's what Hollywood gets for inventing talking pictures.

Although out of the army for four months, Donald O'Connor has yet to appear before a film camera. No starting date for his first starring film has been set. Neatest trick of the week: Tony Martin singing a love melody to Rita Hayworth while eating cracked crab at the Kings.

I see that a famous scientist is working on a scheme to send radio broadcasts to the moon and later on to achieve reception here from the moon. Well, the ones from here should give comedians their first opportunity in years to tell their jokes to someone who hasn't heard them before.

It's the programs we may get from the other end that worry me. I have enough trouble listening to all our daytime serial programs without trying to keep up with such new items as "The Man in the Moon's Other Wife," sponsored by Luna Girl green cheese makers.

I suppose earth-to-moon radio would be a great achievement but dear me, I wish that famous scientist had the courage to tackle the even tougher problem of making model 1639 cars go up to model 1946 hills.

Things are rocking along smoothly between the United States and Mexico despite the fact the United States has selected the American bald eagle in preference to the hairless Mexican Chihuahua dog as their mascot.

"The choice," said Joseph P. Landry, Port Arthur, president of U. B. A., "must not be construed as a gesture which would violate the good neighbor policy. The eagle barely wca. I personally know many solid members who love the Chihuahua like a brother."

The selection was made some time ago, and the U. B. A. has kept a wary eye on diplomatic relations since.

The U. B. A. was organized last year. Members are bald. They scorn hair restorers, tonics, and refrain from such contrivances as wigs and toupees.

Exalted High Dome Landry refers to such things as "shameful creations of shaven-pated fifth columnists."

Referring again to the mascot,

Landry said members of the non-dues-paying, non-political, non-hirsute organization had quite a hair-pulling fight in choosing between the eagle and the canine nudist from below the Rio Grande.

Tall Texans who need longer beds and higher awnings are going to do something about it.

They've organized a group in Dallas known as the Tip Toppers club. Women members must be at least six feet tall, men six feet three inches.

Organizer Mildred Mladenick of Dallas says there are about 25 such clubs over the country.

DEVIL'S LAUGHTER

By Alice M. Laverick

Copyright, 1946, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: For reasons of her own, old Mrs. Fitzgerald refuses to acknowledge Colin's friendship with Beatrice Harrington. Charlotte is disgusted with herself for fattening and Mark attempts to reassure her. But it is two weeks before the doctor allows her out of bed.

XV

FOR the next few weeks, then, we had two invalids instead of one, and I grew used to carrying trays. The doctor had advised a complete rest for Miss Charlotte and the house was comparatively quiet, even Colin seeming quite subdued. He spent much of his time at the Harringtons' and, except for Beatrice, who came once or twice, he had no guests at Innisfall.

"Ah, he's the thoughtful lad, is Colin, after all," Cousin Ellen said affectionately, actually believing what she was saying, for the moment.

Classes at the Academy now being over, Mark had only the two youths who came daily to be tutored and who seemed to be forever in the library when I went to dust it or to find a book to take to my room.

I was beginning to feel at home at Innisfall and getting slightly more proficient in my various duties, and my homiesk spells were few and far between. Cousin Ellen was moved to say once that she didn't know what in creation it-self she would have done without me that summer.

Even Mrs. Fitzgerald seemed to have grown used to my plainness and lack of color. At least, during this time she made no reference to them. But if she had, I would have forgiven her. For I never entered her room without being struck all over again by the cruel contrast between the queenly lady in the picture downstairs and Honora, serene and wrinkled like an old leaf in the midst of her ruffles and lace. Only her eyes were the same, black and burning.

It was difficult to reconcile him at such times with the man who an hour or so earlier had been in such a temper with Colin. For the arguments still continued. Indeed, they grew to be an almost nightly proceeding. It would truly seem that the two brothers never by any chance saw eye to eye with each other. There was dissension between them regarding everything, from whether or not you passed Donegan's Inn to get to McEvoy's shooting lodge on the creek back in Mayo County to who won the football game between Holy Cross and Boston College in any given year.

THERE was the controversy over who painted the picture of their mother that hung over the fireplace in the living room, Mark contending that the painting had been done by Sean Farrell, the well-known Dublin artist, while Colin declared that it was some obscure little man by the name of O'Shea. Colin distinctly remembered their father telling the story. He'd found the beggar starving to death in the garret of a house belonging to the Fitzgerald family and he'd been so taken with the fellow's work that he had hired him to paint Honora's portrait. The pity of it was that the poor fellow had been exposed to hunger and cold for so long that he had just managed to paint the one picture and had died immediately, before he'd even had time to sign it. Otherwise, he would have been heard from, because he had obviously been a man of great talent.

Mark said that never in all his life had he heard such utter rubbish, and that Colin was inventing this story as he went along. It was exceedingly strange had this been the case that his father had not told him about it, also. As for the signature, Farrell's famous "F" was easily distinguishable in the left hand corner, if you looked for it. Farrell had painted the picture and that was the end of it.

They wrangled over this for some time, while their food grew cold, neither one giving in to the other in any way. In fact, I never heard one of them at any time admit that he was in the wrong. The arguments were sometimes interrupted or they led to other arguments but they were never settled.

She continued to be a most difficult against short beds and low awnings and other irritants to tall persons.

FARGO, N. D.—(AP)—Fern Oberg, Georgetown, Minn., schoolteacher who recently pleaded guilty to a speeding charge and was sentenced to teach traffic safety at the Fargo Police school, has tired of her job.

In a request to the court, she asked that the remainder of her sentence be commuted to a fine. Her fine was $10.
