Government Is Alloting More For Each State

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government estimated today that states will get $152,208,000 more a year from the treasury for public health programs under the newly broadened social security act.

This will swell the annual federal contribution to about $560,281,000 the federal security agency announced.

Simultaneously Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) told reporters that the "minimum American social security program" of the future should include payments of $150 a month to every unmarried person over 60 and $200 for married couples above that age.

"There are a group of us who are going to start fighting toward that program when the new congress convenes in January," Pepper said.

Long a supporter of more comprehensive social security coverage, Pepper said the "minimum program" also should assure:

1. A payment of $150 a month to a widow with one minor child and an additional payment for each additional child.
2. Hospital, medical, dental and nursing care for everyone needing it.
3. An opportunity for every mother to bear her child in a hospital and to have pre-natal care.

Jobs Sought Here By Residents of Other Plains Area

Pampa has been receiving a large number of applications for jobs from nearby sections. The South Plains and other places where conditions are critical due to lack of moisture, according to a statement made today by J. P. Port of the United States Employment Service.

The majority of these people come from the small farm and ranch towns, hoping to find work in an oil town such as Pampa. At the present time, the job offerings are very meager, there being only 90 openings with applications from 432 persons, 114 women and 213 war-time civilians, said Port.

Every effort is being made to develop jobs by telephone and personal calls throughout the Pampa area. Exchange of information with other offices shows that there are jobs open in other areas over the region, including Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Louisiana. Most of these openings require high skill, such as tool designers, tool and die makers, sheet metal workers, etc.

On August 11, which was the last closing day, the U. S. C reported approximately 400 claims and readjustment pay. This is a new high for the Pampa area, according to Fort.

Rodeo Tickets Are Placed on Sale

Advanced ticket sales for the Top of Texas rodeo performances, now under way, according to an announcement made this morning by John Plantt, chairman.

Tickets are being sold today at the Prescription Shop and beginning tomorrow will be on sale at a special booth to be located in the front of Moses store. They will remain on sale both places until Friday 5 p. m.

Early purchase of tickets will greatly elevate the crowded conditions at ticket windows during the rodeo proper, Plantt said.

Seventeen Persons Treated for Rabies

MERCEDES—(AP)—Seventeen persons have been treated here for possible rabies infection. Police Chief Troy Bone said eight dogs and four cats were under observation. He said a number of cats had been infected with the disease and had been destroyed.

PARIS—(AP)—Romania, first of the Soviet-conquered German satellites to address the peace conference, proposed today that she receive reparations from her former allies, Germany and Hungary.

George Tatarescu, Romanian vice premier, also lauded Russia's claims of $300,000,000 reparations against Romania as moderate, and opposed proposals of the western allies on economic phases of the draft treaty of peace for Romania.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov told the Paris peace conference today "fascist Italy bears a tremendous responsibility" but that "does not mean that Italy should lose her importance as a power in the Mediterranean."

Speaking in response to pleas for leniency expressed Saturday by Premier Alcide de Gasperi of Italy, Molotov paid tribute to the "historic services" rendered by Italy. He said the Soviet people were "confident for the future of Italy as a great country."

He added, however, that De Gasperi's address was an "attempt to evade the fundamental problems of Italy's democratic resurgence."

The head of the Italian delegation failed to condemn fascism. He failed to make a single remark against the work of Mussolini, Molotov declared.

The Russian foreign minister said De Gasperi's suggestion for a year's delay in completing the peace treaty, especially with relation to the future of Trieste, "can meet with no support from this conference."

He said Italy's demand for postponement was an attempt to exploit divergences in the views between the Allies, and was based on the hope that "it will be possible to insert certain compromises of the former 'minority' council."

Molotov recalled that it was only after the Russian victory at S. Alingrad and the Allied victories in North Africa and Southern Italy that Italy got out of the war and began to reorganize on a democratic basis.

Molotov charged that "certain powers are trying to gain power in the Mediterranean at the expense of Italy and France," and said both countries "feel responsibility as Mediterranean states."

To stand on its feet, Molotov said, "Italy must carry out radical reforms."

Continuing his comparison of the two postwar periods, Hoover said "far fewer nations" have freedom than 25 years ago and predicted "another world explosion" from attempts to "redistribute people to a level of perpetual poverty."

"Today there is a universal desire in all nations except Russia to make peace," said Hoover. "My own impression is that Russia is obstructing the process of peace."

Hoover took occasion before leaving on a mountain trip with his son Allen to score what he regards as Russian designs on Manchuria and areas adjacent to the Soviet Union.

He urged the U. S. to stop playing "Soviet games" with the nation's resources, "hold the atomic bomb until there is real cooperation for lasting peace," and "at all times assert the principles of the Atlantic charter."

Hoover Backs Conservation Of Resources

SALT LAKE CITY—(AP)—In a world dominated by "fear and frustration," the United States should conserve its economic resources, "keep our powder dry," and cooperate with the United Nations "to maintain peace," ex-President Herbert Hoover cautioned today.

In a birthday statement issued on his arrival here from inspecting mining properties near Pioche, Nev., where he became 72 years old Saturday, the only living ex-President of the U. S. cited the differences between the period following World War I and the present.

"The dominant note in the world a year after World War I was hope and confidence," he said. "Today it is fear and frustration."

Hoover took occasion before leaving on a mountain trip with his son Allen to score what he regards as Russian designs on Manchuria and areas adjacent to the Soviet Union.

He urged the U. S. to stop playing "Soviet games" with the nation's resources, "hold the atomic bomb until there is real cooperation for lasting peace," and "at all times assert the principles of the Atlantic charter."

JUST A YEAR AGO TODAY—In the tense, anxious, nerve-racking heat of Aug. 13, 1945, all the world waited for the news that for years it had hardly dared hope for. Each hour was taut with expectation of word that Japan was willing to surrender at whatever terms the Allies went permitted. But the news didn't come that day. American fighters went on bombing territories, the Russians fought deeper into Manchuria, and a U. S. destroyer was lost to "kamikaze" attacks.

Meat Packers Heard By Decontrol Board

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Wesley Hardenbergh, president of the American Meat Institute (packers), argued today against revival of meat price ceilings on the grounds that the industry is rapidly meeting public needs.

This return to "order" in the business, he told the OPA price decontrol board, contrasts with the chaos created by four years of price control.

Hardenbergh said a survey of meat advertisements in cities throughout the country recently showed consumers are buying meat at "prices generally in line with OPA's ceiling," plus the subsidies OPA formerly paid to help keep retail prices down.

Senator Connally (D-Texas) became the first member of congress to take part in the decontrol hearings when he introduced a fellow Texan, Jay L. Taylor of Amarillo, Taylor appeared for the joint livestock committee composed of 134 association of livestock producers, feeders, marketing agents and stock yards.

Taylor, a beef producer and stock yard operator, said:

"By every test of the law, by every test of logic, by every test of morality, and by every test of public interest, the answer is the same: Livestock should be left to remain decontrolled."

Specifically, at issue today is whether ceilings shall be restored on all meats, livestock and livestock products one week from tomorrow.

Also with large corn and feed crops, Smith said producers are assured a regular supply of beef and other meats during the next year.

Restaurant Operators Organize Foundation

AUSTIN—(AP)—Restaurant operators in Texas have set out to raise the standards of their industry through a foundation to assist education and research.

Patrick D. Moreland, executive secretary of the State Restaurant Association, announced that $50,000 of the proposed $75,000 Texas restaurant foundation fund has already been raised.

The foundation will encourage training of young people in restaurant management in vocational schools, set up college scholarship help for present personnel, and finance research in improvement of restaurant equipment.

Illegal Immigrants Are Deported to Cyprus

HAIFA, Palestine—(AP)—British troops fired tommyguns and rifles to clear a crowd of rioting Jews who were trying to storm through tanks, trucks and soldiers in protest against the deportation to Cyprus of 1,600 illegal Jewish immigrants.

A girl was killed. Several policemen and troops were injured by stones, bottles and other missiles which the Jews hurled soon after the outlawed Hagana radio exhorted them to "storm the streets."

Two troopships sailed with the thousand illegal immigrants during the morning, but another ship bearing 650 Jewish immigrants without landing certificates arrived and was placed under watch outside the harbor.

An unconfirmed report said yet another illegal ship, the Venezia, had arrived off Haifa with 600 illegal immigrants.

The illegal Jewish boat had a captain to demonstrate against the deportation. However, the rioting and the curfew was lifted this afternoon. Police reported the city was quiet at 2 1/2 p. m. British soldiers became visible in the streets.

But another 600 illegal Jewish immigrants arrived off the harbor of Haifa with 600 illegal immigrants.

The illegal Jewish boat had a captain to demonstrate against the deportation. However, the rioting and the curfew was lifted this afternoon. Police reported the city was quiet at 2 1/2 p. m. British soldiers became visible in the streets.

Several hundreds of youthful men and women were taken to police detention camps in Haifa for breaking the curfew.

No arson charges were reported although several shops and homes were reported struck by stones, bottles and other missiles hurled by the mobs.

As noon approached the situation quieted considerably although large crowds still milled about the streets in the lower section of the city near the docks. Police and helmeted soldiers trained barbed wire barricades at virtually every street intersection and appeared to have restored a measure of order.

In other parts of Haifa fighting was running hotly but apparently there was no concerted move to join the rioters in the lower part of the city.

The arrival of the 700 additional immigrants brought to more than 2,000 the number of unsheltered Jewish wanderers confined in the Haifa harbor, even with the deportation of the 1,600. Only 1,500 Jews were permitted to enter Palestine per month under current British rules.

The fence several weeks ago brought another group of Jews from La Spezia in Italy. The ship had been allowed to depart from Haifa because its passengers received landing certificates and thus were not illegal.

The fence apparently tried to land its passengers on the beach but was intercepted by a police boat. It refused an order to leave to anchor the harbor five miles off shore. The ship was anchored outside the harbor and its passengers, under the new British policy, probably will be deported.

Higgins Elevator Guttured by Blaze

HIGGINS—(Special)—This entire city was threatened yesterday afternoon when flames gutted two sections of an elevator belonging to the Higgins Wheat Growers. The blaze caught about 2 p. m.

A strong southerly breeze swept sparks from the blaze over the business and residential section of the city, causing numerous small fires. A small out-building remaining in the gutted sections was known.

Fire companies from Canadian and Shattuck, Okla., were called to the scene and did much to help control the fire.

The blaze was discovered by Mrs. Boone Tyson.

Texas Will Testify At Kronberg Trial

FRANKFURT, Germany—(AP)—Army officials have announced plans to fly nearly 20 witnesses from the United States to Germany to testify in the Kronberg castle crown jewels trials which are scheduled to start Friday.

Col. Alton C. Miller, special war prosecution investigator, said the prosecution witnesses included Royal C. Carlton, Longview, Texas, the former army sergeant who first unearthed the fabulous Hesse crown jewels from their hiding place.

Search for Bank Bandits Still On

ANTLER, Okla.—(AP)—A cat-and-mouse chase of 100 policemen for two bank bandits continued today in the rugged Kiawatch mountains of southeastern Oklahoma with the outlaws so hard pressed for food that they tried to steal a sack of potatoes from a farm woman.

Mrs. Leas Trent, who lives three miles west of here, told officers she supposed a man, tall, dark-haired and answering the description of one of the robbers in her house as he returned from gathering eggs. He was attempting to steal a sack of potatoes.

She related the man knocked her against a backyard fence and fled a few minutes before Highway Patrol Captain Dale Peaty came along. Officers set up a tight blockade about the area and bandits were recalled from the state penitentiary. Presence of the bandits around Antlers indicated they had gone nearly 20 miles through rugged country since Saturday when officers got so close to them that the bandits had to abandon their food and water supplies.

Deputy Sheriff R. S. Low of Electra, Texas, meanwhile reported the second bandit in the $38,000 Walters, Okla., bank holdup had been identified by one of the victims through a picture. The other bandit previously had been identified through a picture. The two bandits were identified as brothers.

Victory Day To Be Celebrated Quietly by Nips

TOKYO—(AP)—Victory day will be celebrated quietly tomorrow in Japan where problems of peace overshadow the memories of war.

Those memories will be present in an investigation of the past by the relatively small percentage of American occupation forces who saw combat service. They will be recalled by the Japanese who survived the last crescendo of fire bombs.

But the whole tone of this anniversary here will center on the present and future. The major military display will be a parade before the imperial palace of the second cavalry division, chosen because it has borne the brunt of occupation duties in the capital.

The anniversary coincides with a year toward the future completion of two great American airfields in Japan. One, a transport field at Haseda, between Tokyo and Yokohama, will be dedicated formally tomorrow. The second, at Okinawa, will be dedicated tomorrow.

On the day, the city of Tokyo will be opened Thursday—its railroads built by B-29s and other military planes.

The general Japanese attitude on this occasion is gratification that the anniversary should mark the end of peace and a better physical condition than was expected a year ago.

General MacArthur will wait until Sept. 2 anniversary of the signing of the surrender to make a public statement on the first year of occupied Japan under his control. Headquarters sources said he remains confident that date is more fitting for his public analysis of the situation.

Cats Increase Lead With 5-1 Win Over Shreveport Sports

Sports Shots

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
DALLAS — (AP) — At the Texas coaching school in Corpus Christi I timidly advanced the forecast that Texas and Texas A. M. would meet at Austin Nov. 28 with the Southwest Conference and national football championships riding in the results.

It was quite a build-up. That would mean that both would be undefeated and that the Southwest's most dramatic moment had arrived: D. X. Bible would be making his final appearance as a coach in the game he would want to win above all others. Horner Norton would be striving for his first victory over Texas in seven years. But our pleasant thoughts of such a great game were rudely shattered by a few crisp observations from Norton.

In the first place, said Homer, it will take something of a miracle to pilot a team to an undefeated season in the Southwest Conference this year. "The conference champion will lose at least one game," he predicted. "This is going to be the toughest league ever. The teams are loaded."

In the second place, Norton added, his prospects are nowhere near that good. "You must consider," chided Norton, "that most of our lettermen are fellows who made numberals during the year. Many of them wouldn't even have gotten to play in normal times. We don't have many fellows returning who made letters in pre-war years when the going really was tough."

Further, the Austin coach pointed out that the men returning from the service are not in football condition. "I can't give you any idea right now who will make up our starting team," he said. "We are not choosing them according to who we think are best. We have a number of teams lined up. Each will take the name of the center. Which is the A team will have to be determined when practice starts. I don't know about most of the boys because they have been away several years. What they did in service athletics gives me little to go on."

The Rice scouting system is running well ahead in correlating top football prospects. "This is the assumption when you use the all-stars squads that appeared in the Texas coaching school game at Corpus Christi last week as a guide."

Rice took 10 of the boys, including two of the outstanding players in the contest—Ed Mattson, the South San Antonio husky who is being likened to John Kimbrough as a ball-carrier, and James Williams, Waco's great wingman who has yet to play anything but a star game.

Texas got six of the all-stars; Baylor, Texas Christian and T. A. A. and M. each drew five while Southern Methodist only carried away two.

Texas Tech showed up with four on the line. The remainder of the 48 boys were distributed as follows: North Texas State one; Hardin-Simmons, one; Tulane, one; and undecided or entering the service, eight.

Among those who will enter the service is Billy Svoboda, the one Bonham fullback. He is going to be a marine. Eliot particularly liked Svoboda whom he affectionately called "Savold" after Joe Davoli, the former Notre Dame all-American quarterback. Svoboda is a powerful runner and a rugged boy on defense.

Cards' Pitching Staff Is Reviving

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Stian Musial's slugging spree of 12 hits in his last 14 trips, coupled with the revival of the St. Louis pitching staff, have put the Cards only a half game or one percentage point back of the National leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Of big import to the Cardinal pinnacled aspirations is the recent form of Pitchers Johnny Beazley and Al Brazle. Manager Eddie Dyer has manipulated his staff all season so as to have Howie Pollet, Harry Brecheen and Murry Dickson ready for the Dodgers and the top teams, only to have Beazley and Brazle fall him in the next series.

Beazley now has two straight wins and Brazle's three-hit 5-0 job on Chicago yesterday may be an indication of things to come.

Claude Passeau was the loser as St. Louis came up with three runs in the sixth inning.

Brooklyn held the lead by rallying with three runs in the seventh inning for a 3-2 decision over New York. Giant homers by Walker Cooper and ex-Dodger Jack Graham had given Ken Trinkle a 2-0 margin.

Victor Lombardi recorded his ninth in a row over New York. Cincinnati lost its seventh straight, bowing to Pittsburgh's Ed Bahr, 3-2. The rookie right-hander scattered seven hits.

Detroit shaded Cleveland, 3-2, in 10 innings in the only American league tilt, moving to within two games of the second place New York Yankees.

Frankie "Pancho" Womack of the Bears gave up five hits and fanned five, but didn't get as solid support as the Jays gave their hurlers. Houston committed seven errors.

Baptist Girls Best Methodist, 16 to 7

The First Baptist girls team of the Kiwanis softball league defeated First Methodist 16-7 in a close girls game last night.

Errors on both sides were costly, but heavy hitting by the Baptists was the main thing that won the game for them.

The two cellar-dwelling girls teams, First Christian and Central

Nita's First Pie Is Great Success

Editor's note: Here's another letter from Nita Polasek, who's sharing the occupation of Germany with her soldier-husband—and sharing her adventures with you in letters, made available through NEA Service, which appears each week on the woman's page in the Pampa News.

NEUBERGER.

DEAR SIS: This is a red-letter day in my life! Congratulate me, sis, I baked my first pie—pineapple! And from the chump my husband ate I'm positive he likes it. Looks like I'm on the way to being a good housewife, doesn't it?

Last Sunday, Jack and I went to church at the base. After the service we invited Chaplain Clayborn Landers for dinner. Chaplain Landers, who is a very nice person, brought a very nice meal and showed a true southern enthusiasm for fried chicken. I never saw one man eat so much fried chicken at one sitting. It's been so long since he's had a good home-cooked meal that he just couldn't seem to get enough. I felt like an experienced cook.

The base chapel is small but charming. About 75 or 100 people can worship there at the same time. Both Catholic and Protestant services are held but at different hours. I haven't been to any of the village churches, but those in Munich were badly damaged by bombs. All that's left of some of the beautiful churches is the framework.

Not long ago we drove to Starnberg lake, about 30 miles from Munich, where there is a rest home for GIs. The peaceful countryside is lovely. The Alps make a verdant background for a patchwork picture of a well-kept pine forests, pastures and tiled land. I saw acres on here of potatoes and wheat. There are also vegetable gardens of string beans, peas, carrots and onions. With all the rain we have been having there should be a rich harvest for the farmers in this part of the country.

Nita.

Canadian Youth Camp Is Held at Lake Marvin

CANADIAN (Special)—The Canadian Association Youth camp which was held at Lake Marvin last week had a registration of 149 from the following churches: Canadian, Locust Grove, Miami, Follett, Higgins, Perryton, and Spearman.

Teachers for the various groups were adults, Rev. W. H. Moore of Miami; young people, Mrs. Leonard Moore of Higgins; intermediates, Mrs. S. Smith of Miami; intermediates (younger), Mrs. S. D. Key of Perryton; juniors, Mrs. E. V. Johnson of Locust Grove; and juniors, Mrs. Geo. M. King of Memphis.

According to Rev. Fern Miller pastor of the First Baptist church of Canadian, the enrollment was not as large as some years, but he considered the camp a success.

Cullers, Tallant Marriage Is Told

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Patsy Joan Cullers of this city, and James Ray Tallant of Corsicana, July 27.

Wedding vows were spoken in Wheeler at the parsonage of the First Baptist church, in a double ring ceremony, with Rev. P. D. Fullingim, pastor, officiating.

The bride was attired in a dress of aqua crepe accented with black accessories. Her corsage was of deep pink carnations.

Mrs. Tallant is the daughter of Mrs. H. W. Settle of Shamrock, and attended Shamrock high school.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Tallant of Corsicana. He is a graduate of Corsicana high school and served with the army 31 months, with 27 months spent overseas in the European theater of war. He plans to enroll at N. T. A. C. in Arlington for the fall semester.

Hope Makes Plans To Alter Program

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—(P)—Don't worry about Bob Hope doing a Mr. District Attorney or a take it or leave it on his radio show this fall. He is going to change the program, but not to that extent.

Despite the fact that he has long had the largest radio audience, the Hope show received considerable sniping from critics last season. It was little surprise when the word got around that he was altering the half-hour.

"I decided with everything in the country changing since the war ended, we'd better change, too," he told me.

Does that mean the opening monologue will go?

"Oh, no, we'd be lost without that."

Will there be more characters?

"No, Fibber McGee before us and Red Skelton after us have character shows. It would be too monotonous. Frances Langford and Skinnay Ennis will be gone, but Colonna and Vera Vague will be back."

Less noise, then?

"No, people expect the slam-bang style."

What's so different, then?

"After the monologue, the rest of the show will be a well-developed skit. That'll give the writers more to play with. It will make the show more logical." As if that were possible.

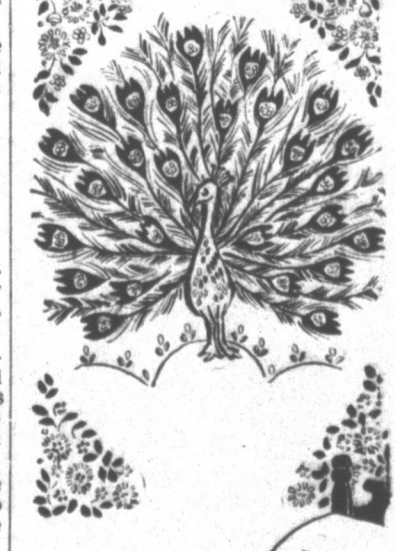

"You know," he mused, "it'd be funny if the whole country said 'this new show stinks.' But I don't think he's worried."

Groom Church Plans Harvest Festival

St. Mary's church of Groom will hold the annual Harvest Festival Thursday at the church grounds. Barbecue dinner will be served at 1 p. m. and live stock auction will begin at 4 p. m.

A dance will be held in the evening. The public is invited to attend.

"I want to thank every one of them from the bottom of my heart."

War Is Blamed on Democratic Party

MINERAL WELLS—(P)—Senator E. H. Moore, Oklahoma republican, last night called for a return to private enterprise and business freedom and blamed the democratic party for the war, national debt and "lowered standard of living."

Moore, speaking here on the eve of the Texas republican state convention, said that for 160 years America grew on a foundation of free enterprise and individualism, but that in 1932, when the democrats took power, "out of intrigue, mystery and misrepresentation arose a leadership that has forged the shackles of government and planned economy on the people, saw a seriously lowered standard of living, impoverished the nation, depleted our treasury, led us to war and set up rules and procedures for the conduct of our every activity."

He said "now we have been asked to permanently accept this anti-American philosophy of life."

"State and local elections," he continued, "shall bring us face to face with whether we submit to regimentation or bring the government back to the control of the people, with individual freedom and guarantees of the constitution."

He said the new deal had invited and was responsible for the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Oil used in skyrocketing is made in accordance with a secret, patented formula and a gallon is needed to produce a single letter.

FCC Authorizes Three Texas Radio Stations

WASHINGTON—(P)—The federal communications commission has granted authorization for the operation of three new radio stations in Texas.

The Goggin radio shales, a partnership of Benjamin F. Goggin, Jr. and Howard E. Dennis of Henderson, Texas, received a permit for a 250-watt station, operating during daytime hours at 1,000 kilocycles.

A five kilowatt station, daytime hours at 1360 kilocycles, has been approved for R. T. Wadell, P. C. Harbour, H. F. Postell and J. S. McBeth of the Odessa Broadcasting company, Odessa.

THE TROUBLE SEEMS TO BE AT THE TOP

When Gen. Omar Bradley, head of the veterans administration, the other day "warned" that the on-the-job training program for veterans would likely end up in a national scandal, involving millions of dollars of taxpayers' money, we are assuming he was making some allowance for the fact that there is bound to be some waste in a program so big.

But in that statement he made special note of "dishonest employers," who would seek to feather their own nests, and would fail to give the veterans the training for which the government would be paying under that program.

We do not doubt that there will be some misuse of this training program, when it reaches into almost every type of business in this broad land. But we do doubt that all the blame for corruption of that program can be laid at the feet of "dishonest employers."

In the first place, the employer cannot tell too well whether or not the veteran he hires is honestly seeking training in the work he is taking, and is not just creating a job to receive money to which he feels he is entitled for his services to the flag.

In the second, and most important, instance, there seems to have been more than a little confusion in setting up this program. In most of the states, we understand, there were many months during which it was not exactly clear who would administer the program; and in some cases, veterans could not seem to get their prospective employers certified for on-the-job-training—by virtue of that confusion.

Some of the fault for all this uncalculated bureaucracy, it seems to us, can be ascribed to the veterans administration. The program was loosely handled from the top, and it certainly was not the employers' nor the states' fault. It seems those "dishonest employers" who will be benefitted by the program, will be permitted to participate through lack of proper controls of the program.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

NEA Staff Correspondent

Rightly so, too. She's already a top favorite to win an Academy award for her performance as the Australian nurse who created a method of preventing crippling from infantile paralysis.

Roz told us a cute story about a little Negro girl named Cassy whom Sister Kenny was treating at her Minneapolis institute. The children, from constant association with Sister Kenny and her technicians, learn the names of their muscles in medical terms instead of layman's terms.

Roz said, "One day while teaching doctors her method, Sister was demonstrating with Cassy. She asked Cassy to sit up on that part of her anatomy where little girls get spanked."

Cassy did not respond at first, then piped up with: "Oh, yes, you mean sit on my glutinous maxims."

OUT OF CHARACTER
Today's Irony: Peter Lawford, who has a different date every night, playing a Brooklyn boy in "The Happiest in Hollywood." It couldn't happen in Hollywood. . . Tom Conway will get a romantic leading man buildup at Eagle-Lion. RKO, meanwhile, is looking for a new Falcon. Ronald Colman will go to London for a movie.

Bob Stanton, that swell singer you hear on the Jack Haley show, tells me he studied French with Lana Turner at Hollywood high. "She wasn't glamorous then," he said. "She was a shy little thing who always sat at the back of the room. None of the boys paid any attention to her." How times have changed.

Producer Fritz Lang spent $212 on a trans-Atlantic phone call to James Mason to lure him Hollywood way for "The Secret Beyond the Door." Mason is reading the script.

"RED RYDER" BUILDUP
Republic will toss $500,000 into a publicity campaign to build William Elliott into a top-budget star. He got his break as Red Ryder. . . Singer Ella Mae Morse is warbling again after a retirement that didn't pan out. . . Roy Rogers will give Gene Autry competition on the air. He just bought a surplus AT-21 plane from the army. . . Mary Rogers, daughter of the late Mary Mullen, the stocks and bonds broker, at the Kings. . . Chance of pace for Don Ameche: He'll play a gambler in the Steve Fisher story, "Gambler Man."

Tex Ritter, known as a fearless singing two-gunner to his screen fans, will play a minister in his next. "The Parson of Cripple Creek."

Short sad story: Couple of years ago Henry Hull decided to give up the movies for good and go back to New York. He sold his home in Beverly Hills for $28,000, and went back to the stage. Now back in Hollywood for "A Miracle Can Happen." Hull sought to buy back his old hometown. Yes, he could have it — for $100,000.

Soviet Union Opposed To Closing Conference

LONDON — (AP)—Tass, official Russian news agency, indicated today the Soviet union would oppose recessing the Paris peace conference in order to open the fall session of the United Nations general assembly in New York on Sept. 23.

In a Paris dispatch reviewing the first two weeks of the conference, Tass termed it "not impressive" and said "one cannot pass by the desire of certain circles artificially to protract" the session.

Western European and American officials must admit frankly that they have only confused reports of what goes on in these satellite nations. What's more, they are almost powerless to do anything but protest when they believe the Potsdam agreement is being violated in content or in spirit.

Take Poland. The provisional government of National unity was agreed to in Moscow by U. S. Ambassador Averell Harriman in the spring of 1945, six months before the Potsdam declaration.

The new Polish government wasn't new, but it looked new because it included elements headed by Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, leader of the Peasant Party and the refugee government that sat in London during the war. The United States recognized this new government in July, 1945, just before the Potsdam conference opened.

The three powers at Potsdam agreed to facilitate the return to Poland of all Polish people in western Europe "who wish to go." A lot of the Polish refugees and servicemen did not wish to go.

Movement was practically stopped during the winter because the only transport available was unheated cattle-cars.

This spring and summer more refugees have been going back, but today more people are leaving Poland than are returning to it. They don't like it there.

Poland hasn't had the promised free elections.

The Potsdam agreement called for "free and unfettered elections as soon as possible." The one election held thus far has been a referendum on the creation of a one-house legislature, the nationalization of industry, and on the new Polish frontiers desired—a matter tentatively determined at Potsdam but left for final settlement in a formal peace treaty. The results of this election were known before it was held. It was hardly a "free and unfettered" election.

General elections have been announced for November, but there is little indication that they will be free, fair, and in the American viewpoint these elections, scheduled for 15 months after Potsdam, are not being held "as soon as possible."

The only reference to Austria in the Potsdam agreement was one short section saying that a Russian proposal for extending the Austrian provisional government to all of Austria had been received and would be studied further after U. S. and British forces had occupied Vienna.

In October, this provisional government was recognized. In November, elections were held, the Catholic party winning 85 seats, the Socialists 76, and the Communists four.

Since that time there has been an almost continuous strife between the recognized Austrian government and the Russian occupation authorities. There have been disputes over Russian land seizures, property seizures, refugees, property formerly held by Nazis in Austria, reparations, nationalization of industry, and so on.

Only a formal peace treaty with Austria can straighten out this tangle. But when Secretary of State E. A. Tamm proposed drafting an Austrian peace treaty at the April meeting of the Foreign Ministers in Paris, the Russians refused to discuss the matter.

Other tasks ahead of the Council of Foreign Ministers under the Potsdam declaration will be discussed in the sixth and last article of this series.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

WASHINGTON — President Truman's political and wage-price difficulties with the nation's squabbling and disorganized labor movement have forced a radical change in the administration's attitude toward the handling of this postwar problem. He has also responded to congressional resentment against too intimate a tie-up between the White House and unions of the right or left.

Several seemingly unrelated moves reflect Mr. Truman's decision that, as far as it can, the federal government should withdraw from this field of controversy.

Recent unpublished presidential orders and congressional mandates combine to turn this problem back to labor and management for orderly settlement, and to the forty-eight states. In some respects Washington is even abandoning its previous role of umpire in industrial disputes.

CONFERENCE—Like his predecessor, President Truman has discovered that it is almost impossible to remain on friendly terms with all the factions of the aggressive and articulate labor movement.

It favors one faction, he alienates a rival wing. More important, constant federal intervention in controversies affecting millions of consumers, workers and employers tends to keep the White House in a continuous stream of hot water.

Canny Walter P. Reuther, president of C. I. O.'s United Automobile Workers, was the first labor leader to recognize the prospective withdrawal. Like certain rival union chiefs, he does not want an end to the political alliance which has proved so profitable to himself and his followers.

Which explains why he recently demanded another labor-management conference under presidential auspices in an attempt to hold the roll gains which the C. I. O. obtained in the recent wave of strikes.

HANDS-OFF—The most spectacular sign of the new hands-off policy at Washington is Labor Secretary Lewis B. Schwellenbach's decision to reduce to a skeleton the arbitration facilities and services which the government once rendered when two or more parties to a strike could not agree among themselves.

In the past the U. S. conciliation service dashed into a dispute with the velocity and whoopee of firemen rushing to extinguish a four-alarm blaze, even if it was only a back-alley difference.

Uncle Sam swarmed in with arbitrators, furnished a panel of arbitrators and bore the entire expense from start to finish. In a single arbitrator ran from $50 to $100 a day plus expenses.

Except in aggravated cases, the unions and employers must bear this burden in the future. Federal officials will intervene to bring the disputants into a bargaining mood, but from then on the labor department will adopt a pontius-plate attitude.

HOWL—Mr. Schwellenbach advances numerous technical reasons for the change, but they boil down to a single, significant explanation: The former federal judge believes that the imposition of costs and responsibilities on labor and management in this way will prevent them from "passing the buck" to Washington every time they have a falling-out. In other words, he aims to shoo these politico-economic troubles away from the White House stoop.

His new ruling has provoked a howl from many small unions and firms. They complain that they cannot stand the expense, and that the result will be to prolong any aggressive strikes by imposing a prohibitive cost on resort to peaceful arbitration.

So far, however, he minimizes these fears, and insists that if employers and unions get into an argument, they must settle it among themselves. Uncle Sam will be only an innocent and remote bystander.

HOME-RULE—Congress, relieved the administration of many other troublesome responsibilities in the labor field, and although President Truman went through the motions of opposing Capitol Hill modifications, he was only too glad to approve them.

The legislators virtually stripped the National Labor Relations Board of its authority in labor-management disputes. It handed back to the states the administration of the U. S. Employment Service and its employment compensation duties. In

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By JAMES DEVLIN

HERFORD, Germany—(P)—Without peanuts and popcorn, an estimated two dozen circuses are bringing some cheer to the civilian population and occupation troops in Germany's drab, ruined cities.

The estimate is that of Mario Jean Mayerhoff, manager of the Althoff circus playing here.

Mayerhoff is an anti-Nazi born in Berlin of Argentine parents.

The young veteran of Oswestri and Dachau said his father was Enrico Mayerhoff, of Buenos Aires, and that he has an American aunt, Mrs. Betty Atlas, of Chicago.

Mayerhoff spoke ruefully of hardships under which the circuses operate. He said a number of the great shows suffered serious bomb damage, and that few had any wild animals left.

Food is scarce for both artists and animals. Transportation is a constant problem. Much of the equipment is old and battered.

Yet, the show goes on. The Althoff circus is typical of the postwar shows. Its one tent, with German flags of blue, white, red, white and blue horizontal stripes flying from its peaks, is surrounded by horse-drawn trailers in which the performers live.

It is more intimate than larger shows. German men, women and children and British troops sit on benches placed so close to the ring that sometimes tankard is kicked into their laps.

American notice two main differences from their type of shows. The music is provided by an orchestra instead of a band. And the clowns are vocal, often halting to tell jokes instead of relying solely on pantomime.

Horse acts predominated, including one in which two horses gave themselves a well-balanced ride on a see-saw. Cilly Feindt, blonde star of the show, rode a horse which danced a foxtrot to "Lili Marlene" and a waltz to "Blue Danube."

Troops and civilians alike were spontaneous in applauding the thrillers and laughing at the jokes.

LEVELLAND—(P)—Tying 12 calves in a total of 197.7 seconds, Toots Mansfield (left) of Rankin, Texas, world's champion calf roper, Sunday defeated Troy Fort (right) of Lovington, N. M., New Mexico champion, in a roping match sponsored by the Levelland Rodeo association.

Mansfield averaged 16.4 seconds per calf. Fort, in tying 12 calves in 227.3 seconds, averaged 18.9. Fort's average was sharply cut when he broke the barrier twice, causing two penalties of 10 seconds each.

For an individual calf, Fort had the best time, roping his eighth in 13.1 seconds. Following the match Fort took the jackpot roping contest with a time of 15.3 seconds. Approximately 7,000 persons witnessed the contests.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff. Sciences up with some pretty surprising things these days. Take the case of the soldier at Brooke army medical center at San Antonio. He lost an eye in combat, and was fitted with an artificial eye.

It was a good eye. But the soldier was an active young man who liked to dive and swim. The eye often came out during such strenuous exercise. Particularly when he bounced off diving boards.

The plastic eye laboratory of the medical center couldn't make an eye guaranteed to stay in place at such times, but it did the next best thing—it perfected one that floats! The soldier is satisfied. At least he can find the artificial eye easily now.

Doctors don't just dream up things like that. They have to work hard at them. A well-known Dallas surgeon who loves children was to perform a delicate heart operation known as the "blue baby operation."

He had a well-earned vacation coming—and he spent it studying at Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore where the operation was perfected.

Stanley G. Chadwell of Myra, Texas lost the use of both legs in 1936 in an oil rig accident. But he gets around all right in his room now, after being bedridden ten years.

He asked the army air forces for a parachute harness. It was given him and suspended from the ceiling of his room. Parachute Foreman Ben Nelson at Perrin field built a frame on a wheel that operates on a rail. It permits Chadwell to move about his room on his feet.

Today he stands as he works and follows his hobbies, hopes the exercise may redevelop the use of his lame legs.
