

Bombings Believed To Be Protest Against Program of Denazification

German Arms Caches Seized By U. S. Army

STUTTGART, Germany — AP — American army officials, still investigating triple bombings of German and American installations in the Stuttgart area Saturday, disclosed today that "about 10" German arms caches were seized over the week-end in widespread searches in Southern Germany.

Two caches of arms were unearthed at Donauhal, southwest of Ulm, and the remainder in Southern Bavaria.

The officials said, however, the seizures were not connected with the Stuttgart bombings. A high ranking American army officer said he expected more bombings as "protests against the denazification program."

The American military government expects a widespread outbreak against the denazification program, the official, who may not be named, said in Berlin.

U. S. military and German criminal police worked with counter intelligence agents in efforts to crack the bombing of two denazification board headquarters and a U. S. military jail which some investigators thought might be connected with the approaching German trial of Hjalmar Schacht, truculent old banker who was acquitted at Nuremberg. No one was hurt.

Schacht, under arrest in a German prison, is being held in a German prison. See GERMAN RIOTS, Page 6.

Car, Truck Are Ruined as Fire Sweeps Street

A 1936 Ford coach and a 1940 Dodge dump truck were ruined as eight homes endangered when a freak fire broke out yesterday afternoon and enveloped approximately 300 feet of the 800 block of Murphy St., shortly after 2 p. m.

According to Fire Chief Ben White several persons had gone to get and coated the street with crude oil shortly after noon yesterday. The chief added that he was told a woman walked across the street lit a cigarette and tossed the match on the freshly oiled surface causing an immediate flare up which enveloped the car and truck in flames.

The truck, owned by E. V. Himple, stood charred and blistered on the street with its four new tires on the rear dual wheels ruined. The tires and tubes cost $90 per wheel.

Facing it head-on was the 1936 Ford, also parked when it was caught in the flames. It never got started, ruined. Its paint blackened and peeled, its upholstery burned and bedraggled and most of its windows broken from the intense heat.

The assistant chief's account stated that firemen upon reaching the scene found the car and truck or automobile due to the high flames and dense smoke. After they battled the street blaze with a spray nozzle they finally saw the vehicles and immediately started extinguishing the fire surrounding them in order to save as much as possible, and then finished with the street fire.

A heavy odor of gasoline hung over the street. See STREET FIRE, Page 6.

Pampan Injured In Auto Wreck

L. N. Atchison, owner and operator of the Pampan Office Supply, was injured in an automobile accident 8 miles south of Childress, shortly after noon yesterday.

According to reports received here, Atchison is suffering from a broken rib, multiple lacerations to the mouth and the loss of two teeth. He is now resting in a Childress hospital but hopes to return home tomorrow afternoon.

The accident occurred when the driver of a light pickup truck attempted to dodge a horse, that suddenly decided to cross the highway, and as a result collided head-on with Atchison's car, reports stated.

Reports on the extent of injuries to the occupants of the pickup are not available.

Following the collision Atchison's car caught fire and was reported to be a total loss. The pickup was reported to have damages estimated at $400.

Texas Violent Week End Deaths Climb to Eight

By The Associated Press
Gun and plane accidents caused more deaths than traffic accidents in Texas over the week-end. Eight are dead and at least 10 injured.

In Huntsville, Albert Rucker, 27, quarreled with his wife and she jumped from a car, injured herself. She died later. Rucker was arrested to treat her. During his visit at the Rucker home, Rucker shot and killed Dr. Garrett, then turned the rifle on himself and committed suicide.

George Frank Artice, 25, of Fort Worth and Syracuse, N. Y., was shot and killed at a roadside hotel near Wichita Falls. A murder charge was filed against the hotel manager, John D. Alter, 26, of Wichita Falls.

Two residents of Dalhart were killed instantly near Canyon yesterday when their airplane crashed in taking off at the Canyon airport. They were Wilford C. Russell, 24, and William N. Nite, 31. Russell, owner of the plane was a fighter pilot in the Pacific during the war.

Elizabeth Lupe Callaway, 32, was injured fatally and three other prominent San Antonians were hurt in a traffic accident on the San Antonio-Austin highway near the Randolph field cutoff Saturday night. They had attended the Texas-Arkansas football game in Austin.

Injured were John H. Kuntz, his daughter, Mrs. Mary Jane Jeffers, 33, and V. R. Hood, 38.

Johnnie B. Hughes, about 45, of Hillsboro was fatally injured Saturday night when the automobile he was driving and a Greyhound bus collided six miles south of Hillsboro. A. V. Garrett of Wylie, bus driver, and several of the 32 bus passengers were slightly injured.

Four were injured near Dallas in a head-on collision of two automobiles yesterday. They were Wallace Hunt, 41, Amarillo, who received a broken back and internal injuries; Johnny Dagnell, 24, of Fort Worth; Miss Beverly Butler, 16, Dallas; and Miss Barbara Durrett, 15, Dallas.

Donald L. Franklin of Dallas sustained minor injuries Saturday when he was knocked 20 feet from an overpass to the ground below by a train.

An undetermined number of persons were hurt Saturday night when an automobile struck a wall, mangled 22 members of a Paris church club. The wheels on the left side of the wagon were torn off, but the wagon remained upright. The car turned over, but none of its five occupants were injured.

Carlos Zuzana, 25, of Brownsville, was killed Saturday in an automobile collision a half-mile north of Lyford. His body was taken to Laredo. His parents live in Nuevo Laredo.

Ceremonies for N-Day Planned

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—Special flower ceremonies with contributions of single blooms from each donor will again mark memorial services at Corpus Christi on Navy Day, Sunday, Oct. 27, for all persons who died at sea during World War II, eight naval district headquarters announced today.

Participants were asked to send one blossom or bud, preferably white or some grown in the front yard, and flowers purchased for more than a modest sum.

Flowers received before midnight, Sunday, Oct. 26, will be put aboard navy ships or planes and scattered over the oceans in expression of the sentiments of a grateful world.

Services for all faiths will be observed in the continental limits and in Alaska, Pearl Harbor, Guam, Manila, San Juan, The Canal, Samoa, and the Virgin Islands.

Commission To Hear Ordinances

An ordinance that will officially approve the reduction of the city rate on the use of property is being read at the city commission meeting tomorrow morning.

The reduction, from $1.80 to $1.65, was recently approved by the commission after it was found that the new ordinance would allow the reduction, despite an overall salary increase for over 100 city employes.

The rate was also reduced after an arrangement with the Pampa school board which equalized the valuation of various properties taxed by the two groups. The city reduced its tax rate to compensate for higher evaluations on property.

Also to be read is an ordinance approving the city budget for the next fiscal year.

Election Routs Soviet-Backed German Party

BERLIN—AP—The Soviet-backed socialist unity party (SED) appeared today to have been routed in Berlin's first free municipal election in 14 years, which an AMG official termed of continental-wide significance in the issue between Eastern and Western political philosophies.

Virtually complete returns from yesterday's election of municipal and borough councilmen showed the SED running a poor third in a field of four parties.

The social democratic party (SPD) scored a smashing victory, capturing almost half the total vote. The Christian democratic union (CDU) was second, well ahead of the socialist unity party.

With only 109 out of 2,284 precincts yet to be heard from, the vote was: social democrats, 948,431,916; Christian democratic union, 383,182; liberal democratic party (LDP), 182,097.

This would give the social democrats 48.7 percent of the total and the socialist unity party only 19.6 percent.

Balloting, by straight ticket only, was heavy and orderly. There were 2,349,722 eligible voters. By 10:30 a. m. (4:30 a. m., EST), 1,945,938 valid votes had been tabulated. Total ballots, then numbers, 37,272.

Before the election, Lt. Col. Louis Glaser, political affairs chief of the United States military government's Berlin branch, said the issue clearly lay between Eastern and Western political philosophies.

"Germany must ultimately make a decision in this respect," he said. "The Berlin vote, establishing such a decision, will have great influence upon the ultimate destiny of Germany and therefore upon the position of Europe."

This party, formed in the Russian zone by a fusion of communists and social democrats, waged a stronger campaign than other parties because it had more paper and better material advantages.

In campaigning, it claimed time and again that it carried more weight with the Soviet military administration than any other party.

The SED had claimed that the social democrats would show length only in the American and British sectors. But an early breakdown of the vote made it plain that they were strong all over the city and whipped the SED even in some important districts of the Soviet sector.

Inspection teams representing the four occupying powers—the U. S., Britain, France and Russia—toured the city watching for fraud.

Social democratic party officials registered a complaint that SED followers were tearing down or pasting over SPD posters. Some observers said they saw children ripping down all but SED bills.

Newsmen visiting polling places, mostly in the beer-hall backrooms, were hung with pictures of Prime Minister Stalin.

Third Dallas Liquor Store Murder Unsolved

DALLAS—(AP)—Dallas police today were faced with their third unsolved liquor store murder within recent weeks.

Joe Enna, 63, died in a Dallas hospital yesterday of wounds received in an attempted hold-up of his liquor store last Thursday.

Enna, who had three murders can be traced to one Negro.

Mother 'Explains' Big Dallas Army Air Show to Her Daughter, 'Baby'

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
DALLAS—(AP)—We went to the big army air show here yesterday. There were 20,000 people there but fate sat us beside a large woman of middle age who explained the whole performance to her 10-year-old daughter whom she called "Baby."

Although she bristled with confidence, never during the entire afternoon did she get anything right. The army air forces would have shuddered to hear her.

For example: "That's a glider, Baby, that thing with the funny nose. They don't have any engines or anything but they float on the air because they are lighter than clouds, even. Sometimes they float clean across the Atlantic ocean. The army uses them because they're so cheap."

As a dumb, three B29s flew over, each with two of their props stalled. "That's the way they save gasoline, Baby. They run two of those motors until they give out of gas, and then they run the other two. It saves a lot of money."

A F51 performed a mock enemy and its machine gun chattered. "Listen to that, Baby. The man's having motor trouble. A number of parachutists spilled out of a transport plane and floated HITLER DEAD—Former Lt. Col. William F. Helmick, now chief of U. S. intelligence in Berlin, believes that Adolf Hitler, his mistress, Eva Braun, and Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy, are still alive. Helmick, now a civilian serving in the Berlin military government, led the search for Hitler's body. He says that nothing has been found to indicate that the fuhrer is dead.

Cotton Exchange May Be Forced To Close Again

DALLAS—(AP)—Possibility that cotton exchanges may be forced to shut down again tomorrow was foreseen in Dallas today, after the bottom dropped out of the market in the first 10 minutes of trading on the Dallas exchange.

May futures plunged $10 a bale in five minutes after trading opened on the Dallas exchange. Karl Hunt, exchange secretary, reported. The exchange was closed Saturday.

Hunt would not predict that the exchange would be closed again tomorrow, declaring that "we'll have to wait and see how prices go during the rest of the day."

"The storm is by no means over," the secretary said. "The market is pretty weak."

It is difficult to get to the real cause of the market break, which began early last week, as various big cotton men gave conflicting reports indicated that one very big operator, supported by several friends, precipitated the crash by dumping his vast holdings.

President D. T. Mangel, Jr., of the New Orleans exchange announced last night that this operator liquidated his holdings over the week-end and it was hoped that his withdrawal from the scene would strengthen the situation.

Negro Soldier Is Sought in Murder

EL PASO—(AP)—Police early today were seeking a Negro soldier for questioning in connection with the fatal stabbing of Earl D. Thompson, 24, ex-serviceman.

Thompson's body was found Saturday in a box car here.

Police said there were 40 small wounds on the body and expressed a belief they had been made by a pitch fork or hay hook. Police also reported finding a bloody pitchfork along the railroad west of Horse-shoe Bend, 72 miles east of El Paso.

Thompson had been accompanying four horses from Skidmore, Texas, to Phoenix, Ariz. Detectives said he had been dead about six hours at the time the body was found.

earthward. The woman commented: "If there was any trees around here, they would try to light in them. They light in trees when they can because it's so much softer."

She also explained to Baby that parachutists "hit a lot harder when they fall from up there in the atmosphere because the higher they jump from the more speed they build up."

She added that paratroops "never wear neckties because if they did the neckties might get caught in the parachute and choke them to death."

Later, the mother revealed to her daughter that the nylon rope used for launching gliders "is just like a lot of stockings tied together" and that fast flying jets pilots "liver weakness."

And then the P-80 jet planes whizzed past. "Look how fast they go, Baby, and to think that all that makes them run is a little old gas flame just like a refrigerator."

"That was just too much. 'You have that all wrong,' we told the woman. She looked as we narrowly. 'Do YOU have a son in the air force?' she inquired.

Ceilings May Fall From Bread, Flour

WASHINGTON—(AP)—OPA's efforts to hold the line on auto prices appear fairly good, a top official said today as the government's decontrol speedup seemed likely to sweep ceilings off bread and flour.

Breakfast cereals as well as all bakery products would be affected by the bread and flour decision, which an agriculture department spokesman described as imminent.

On the automobile front, where four industry-wide increases in the last year have boosted ceilings roughly 22 percent above 1942 prices, the OPA official told a reporter:

"Most of the major manufacturers agree with us that automobile prices have gone about as high under ceilings as they should."

The official declined to comment specifically, however, on a pending General Motors request for an additional price boost similar to that granted the Ford Motor company some weeks ago under terms of a hardship provision of the new OPA act.

The Ford increase amounted to about 10 percent and was in addition to the general hikes granted to offset higher wage and material costs and to restore normal profit margins to dealers.

OPA has refused to say exactly how much of a boost GM has asked, although the figure of $100 a car has been mentioned by company executives at Detroit.

Officials have stressed that automobiles, along with building materials and other similarly scarce items are to be exempt from the administration's November 1 goal of getting rid of most price controls, and some have interpreted President Truman's meat decontrol speech as meaning that wage controls are to be junked only as price restraints are taken off specific industries.

Hence it was not clear here what the government's official reaction would be to the action of the CIO-United Auto Workers union yesterday in calling for "substantial" wage adjustments from all motor makers whose contracts have reopening clauses.

A statement designed primarily to clarify the status of the resignation-ridden Wage Stabilization board reportedly is being prepared.

Elsewhere on the rice front, OPA announced: Suspension of ceilings on work gloves made from imported oil-tanned sheepskin and on apparel and apparel accessories made by disabled veterans will be lifted.

A six percent boost in ceilings on new metal co's.

10 Texans Named As Consultants

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The army's surgeon general has solicited the aid of Dr. James W. Bass, Dallas, Texas, city health official, in compiling a history of preventive medicine in the Southwest Pacific area.

Dr. Bass was among ten Texas doctors a group of 122 physicians and surgeons just appointed as civilian medical consultants to Secretary of War Robert Patterson and Major Gen. Norman T. Kirk, surgical general.

Previously 200 other doctors throughout the nation, including several Texans, had been named to serve as consultants. Nearly all were medical officers in the army during the war.

Besides Dr. Bass, other Texas doctors whose appointments have just been announced, and the fields in which they specialize, are: Internal medicine—Dr. William W. Bondurant, Jr., San Antonio; Dr. Henry M. Winslow, Dallas; General surgery—Dr. John A. Hardy, El Paso; Otolaryngology—Dr. M. P. Spearman, El Paso; Neurophysiology—Dr. Titus H. Harris, University of Texas medical branch, Galveston; Dr. Martin J. Towler, Galveston; Dr. Hamilton F. Ford, Galveston; Dr. Melvin W. Thorne, San Antonio; Psychiatry—Dr. Jack R. Ewalt, Galveston.

Sports Round-Up

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK—(AP)—There's still strong resistance to coaches with a professional background in some college circles—as witness our Mid-Western institute, which threatened to bounce a combination coach-instructor from both jobs if he officiated in national league games. In fact, where you used to hear a lot about the Warner or Notre Dame "system" of coaching, a few years from now you may be involved in arguments as to whether the Hales, Lambeau or Owen system produces the best results. Names in names figures assembled by Geo. Stetler, NFL drumbeater, show that 72 former pros are head or assistant coaches of college teams this year. Of these, George Sauer, Kansas State; Mike Michalske, Iowa State; Cecil Isbell, Purdue; Rex Enright, South Carolina; and Bill Kern, West Virginia are to some extent products of Curly Lambeau's Green Bay school. . . . George Hales, who really popularized the "T" formation, can claim Bernie Masterson, Nebraska; Denny Meyers, Boston College; Walt Holmer, Boston University; Ray Nolting, Cincinnati; and Boatie Feathers, North Carolina State, as well as assorted minor league pro coaches like Keith Ransport, Joe Mancini and Gene Rozzani. Spherical Steve Owen's graduate department include E.J. Danowski, Fordham; Mel Hein, Union (N.Y.); Glenn Killinger, West Chester, Pa.; Teachers and Bob Troccoli, who doubles as coach of the Paterson, N. J. Panthers and Bergen Junior College. Even A. A. Stagg, who gave pro football its first eight-column headline by announcing that the colleges would break the pro "menace" has a former or pro assistant, Larry Steiner.

QUICK RESERVE
When Harvard's Dick Harlow hired Ex-pro Harry Jacuski as his end coach, the only instruction he gave was "teach em to be big and tough." After the first scrimmage this fall, Dick called Jacuski aside and told him to have his ends so easy so the Harvard backs wouldn't be wrecked before the season opened.

MONDAY MATINEE
Southern cities are criticizing the PGA for demanding $10,000 purses for open golf tournaments to insure the presence of "name" pros and then failing to produce the desired players. Virginia Tech grid-ders say they stopped North Carolina's Charlie Justice in that 14-14 tie by shouting "give the ball to moneybags" every time Carolina went on offense. They say Justice, recalling talk of subsidies when he went to Carolina, got too jittery to play. Eddie Dooley, the old Dartmouth quarterback, boasts that his 12-year-old son can swim a quarter mile faster than most adult swimmers. But can he hold his breath?

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
Our football guessing improved just a slight bit Saturday and we're slightly delirious over the whole thing, having gotten the astounding total of 18 right and only 8 wrong, bringing our total for the season to 30 right and 13 wrong for an average of .630. We'll raise that to .700 this weekend.

Borger crossed us up by beating Pampa and Abilene doing the same to Lubbock. Tennessee should've never beat Alabama—anybody knows that. Also, Iowa surprised us and Indiana—even more probably—by beating the Hoosiers. Georgia had to get nasty in beating Oklahoma A&M 33-13 and Detroit wasn't supposed to beat Tulsa at all.

Cornell and Yale tied in a game that we had to count as a wrong and we should have known that UCLA, undefeated and untied, would stomp California. Otherwise, our score was perfect.

Getting closer to home—where we had better stay—we find with joy and delight that Panapa's Harvesters have an open date this week, meaning that this writer will accompany Al Donaldson and the radio boys to Lubbock Friday where they will broadcast the Lubbock-Borger game. Otherwise, we're taking a busman's holiday.

Next week, we'll go to Fort Worth where the Harvesters will battle the undefeated untied and almost unscathed eleven boasted by North Side high school. North Side, which took its district championship last year, has only eight regulars back from that team. Task, task.

Harold V. Ratliff, Associated Press sports editor for Texas, conceded Sunday that Borger could possibly unseat Amarillo from the District One favorite's spot. As far as we are concerned, Borger is sharing that seat right now. It's hard to say that Borger is "the" favorite now, but the Bulldogs have what it takes if they'll just put it to good use.

We were just reminiscing about the 1946 football schedule. Take these three teams—Borger, Sweetwater and North Side—and what do you have? Their wins total 12 and their losses exactly zero. Sweetwater had six regulars from 1945, Borger had seven and North Side has eight. Pampa has one and he has not seen too much action lately due to an injury.

We're not apologizing for the Harvesters nor are we trying to break down their morale. It's just the cold facts of a vicious cycle that produces a good team for two years and then starts over with a new crop.

Just remember this: eight of the regulars on this year's team will be back next year and only seven players will be lost off the entire squad. Draw your own conclusions.

Rice-Texas Contest May Determine Southwest Conference Title-Holder

By The Associated Press
Southwest Conference football championships are determined in October but this week's terrific Houston battle between the Rice Owls and the University of Texas Longhorns may produce results that will send the remainder of the campaign into a race for runner-up position.

Rice and Texas, two strong rivals and two strong, versatile grid teams, are expected to stage an afternoon of thrills for the 30,000-plus crowd that will jam-pack the Houston stadium.

Dana X. Bible's Steers have rolled over Missouri, Colorado and Oklahoma A. and M., took a rough and tough win from Oklahoma and coasted to a 20-0 Saturday victory over the previously unbeaten Arkansas Razorbacks.

After losing the season opened to L. U. 6-7 the Owls swamped the Southwest team and ran over Tulane before opening their conference drive Saturday by outclassing, outrunning and outpassing Southern Methodist, 2-7.

But while Texas and Rice are worrying each other and setting their smoldering feud, the Texas Aggies, still in the running despite a miserable pre-conference start, will try their second conference win by taking on the Baylor Bears at Waco, Texas, Saturday.

A. and M. shook off its defeat habit last week by planking Texas Christian, 14-0, while Baylor was the third Southwest conference victim of the Texas Aggies, bowing to the Riders at Lubbock 13-6.

Other teams will return to inter-sectional, with T. C. U. plying Oklahoma A. and M. in a Friday night game at Oklahoma City, and S. M. U. clashing with Missouri at Columbia, Mo., and Arkansas at Memphis on Saturday afternoon.

Leaders Face Tough Games This Weekend

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
NEW YORK—(AP)—The college football season, a cockeyed campaign in which surprises are a dime a dozen and nothing seems impossible, reaches the halfway mark this week with only a handful of major teams still clutching untarnished records.

Many previously unbeaten outfits were engaged today in pulling themselves from the wreckage strewn across every section of the land in the past weekend's wave of upsets, and there was a strong possibility that similar embarrassment lay ahead for some of those who escaped.

Army, Notre Dame and Texas—all the nation's top trio—all have their work cut out for them next Saturday when they face tough opponents ready, willing and able to blemish their all-victorious records.

The Cadets, who blasted Columbia from the unbeaten rank, are expected to move into New York's polo grounds for their annual battle with Duke. The Blue Devils warmed up for this one with a 41-0 whitewashing of Richmond.

Notre Dame, idle last week, invades Iowa, which pulled one of Saturday's many surprises by blanking Indiana 13-0. Texas, which dumped previously unbeaten Arkansas 20-0, visits Rice, an improved team that dropped Southern Methodist 21-7 for its third triumph since losing a 7-0 opener to Louisiana State.

Pennsylvania's Quakers, who kept their record clean by smearing Virginia 40-0, entertain navy, downed 21-14 by North Carolina for their third loss.

Cornell, tied 6-6 by Yale, visits Princeton, 14-7 winner over Rutgers, and Columbia goes to Dartmouth, upset 20-13 by Brown. Elsewhere in the East, it will be Coast Guard at Yale, Holy Cross at Harvard, Syracuse at West Virginia, and Boston University at Brown.

Midwestern fans will be treated to two conference games in the big nine, where the form already has been broken beyond recognition. Illinois, 27-21 victory over Wisconsin, will be at Michigan, which tied Northwestern, 14-14, and Minnesota, which swamped Wyoming 46-0, will go to Ohio State, tied 14-14 by Purdue.

Tennessee, which knocked Alabama from the ranks of the all-victorious, 12-0, will risk its perfect record in a try for a fourth triumph at Kentucky to Alabama, which kept its record clean by romping over Oklahoma A. and M., 33-13, will be at Furman.

The Southeastern conference slate sends Kentucky to Alabama, Auburn to Georgia Tech, Louisiana State to Vanderbilt and Mississippi State to Tulane.

Texas A. and M. will be at Baylor in the Rocky Mountain section. In Denver, which dropped Utah from the unbeaten ranks, will be at Texas Tech.

UCLA, which struggled past California 13-7 to bring on a tie with a thin edge, if any, belonging to the Pacific Coast conference, steps out of league play to take on Santa Clara on the West Coast.

New Mexico will be at Colorado and Wyoming at Utah in the Rocky Mountain sector.

Pirates Play Howard Payne in Top Contest Of Texas Conference

(By The Associated Press)
Southwestern and Howard Payne collide in Georgetown Friday night in a game that will go far toward determining the 1946 Texas conference football champion.

The game looms as a toss-up with a thin edge, if any, belonging to the rebounding Pirates, who will have the advantage of playing at home.

Payne pounded Austin College, 24-0, last week in a league tilt while the Pirates were sinking Southeastern (Okla.) Teachers 21-6, in a non-conference melee.

McMurry nudged Texas A. and I. 13-10, and previously unbeaten Abilene Christian was surprised by Southwest Texas State of San Marcos, 18-0, in other non-conference tilts.

Austin Maroons Gain Favor As No. 1 Schoolboy Team

By MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Staff Writer
Austin's Maroons are rapidly gaining a firm grip on the number 1 spot of Texas high school football but like their neighbors, the University of Texas Longhorns, they have a rough pattern cut out for them before they can realize any championship ambitions.

Stan Lambert's boys have several big brothers in far-flung District 15. They are so big that the district champion probably will have to produce a state play-off brand of football prior to collecting the title. Before any December plans can be made the Maroons must win over Brackenridge and Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio and Laredo, three of the state's 16 undefeated teams, and from Corpus Christi, still a power despite having bowed to Thomas Jefferson, 18-7, last week.

The seven teams of the district hold an average of 126 points scored so far this season, a figure nearly twice that gathered by teams of any other district.

Austin won its fifth straight victory Friday night by trouncing Stephen F. Austin of Houston, 48-0. Although Jefferson's upset of Corpus Christi was the biggest surprise of the week-end, the expected win of Odessa over Amarillo was accomplished well beyond the range of predictions. After running up 26 points, the Broncs first string turned the game over to the subs. The final score was 26-13.

On paper, at least, a state championship game between Austin and Odessa seems to be drawing near.

Resides Austin, Brackenridge and Odessa, seven other teams continue among the undefeated and untied. They are Borger, Graham, Sherman, North Side of Fort Worth, Marshall, Galveston and Orange.

Along with Thomas Jefferson and Laredo in the unbeaten but tied bracket are Wichita Falls, Sweetwater, Lamar of Houston and Pasadena.

Corpus Christi and Amarillo were accompanied to the defeated ranks by Milby of Houston (13-7 loser to Jeff Davis), Gainesville (defeated by Sherman, 7-0), and Edinburg, (2-0 loser to Harlingen).

Last week's scores by districts:
1—Odessa 26, Amarillo 13; Borger 34, Pampa 7; Sweetwater 26, Plainview 14; Big Spring 14, Brownfield 12.

2—Wichita Falls 32, Electric 6; Vernon 7, Quanah 6; Graham 40, Childress 0.

3—Lamesa 27, San Angelo 13; Abilene 14, Lubbock 12.

4—Austin (El Paso) 33, Las Cruces, N. M., 6; Bowie (El Paso) 18, Phoenix, Ariz., 6; El Paso 12, Yuleta 12 (tie).

5—Denison 7, Paris 6; Sherman 7, old-time city rivals, mfx in Abilene Saturday night in another game that will have some bearing on the title race. The Wildcats are decked for second place in conference standings as result of their 12-12 tie with Southwestern. This means the Payne-Southwestern winner will take the inside track in the title race.

In the only non-conference game on this week's card, East Texas State, Lone Star conference power, plays Austin College Friday night in Sherman.

Dallas Man Wins Bowling Tourney

HOUSTON—(AP)—With a 30-game point total of 140.78, Arnold Pergande of Dallas won the Texas individual match game bowling championship here yesterday.

Pergande finished ahead of the defending champion, R. R. Gartner of Houston, who wound up with a total of 135.50.

Charley Kaiser of San Antonio was third with 135.50.

In yesterday's competition, a 300 game was rolled by Arno Tessonman of San Antonio and a three-game series total of 703 was turned in by George Laue, also of San Antonio. Other scores:

N. Peshorn, San Antonio, 133.44; Arno Tessonman, San Antonio, 132.12; Jack Tavenor, Fort Worth, 130.52; Charley Treuter, San Antonio, 129.65; Charley Lykes, Amarillo, 129.44; N. B. Ross, Houston, 128.84; George Laue, San Antonio, 128.60; James Fletcher, Amarillo, 126.90; Louis Smith, Houston, 126.88; J. R. Collins, Houston, 125.36; Paul Peters, Tyler, 125.24; Chuck Greenlee, San Antonio, 122.80; and T. O. Walkins, Houston, 115.50.

Ruptured Men Get $3.50 Truss

Now or Ever

Kansas City, Mo. — A doctor's invention for reducible rupture is proving so successful, an offer is now being made to give everyone who will test it a $3.50 truss at no cost. This invention has no leg straps, no elastic belts or leather bands. It holds rupture up and in. Is comfortable and easy to wear. After using it many report entire satisfaction. Any reader of this paper may test the doctor's invention for 30 days and receive the separate $3.50 truss at no cost. If you are not entirely satisfied with the invention—return it, but be sure to keep the $3.50 truss for your trouble. If you are ruptured just write the Physician's Appliance Co., 4938 Kook Bldg., 2908 Main St., Kansas City, Mo., for their trial offer.

STRANGE CENSORSHIP

Strange indeed are the workings of the censorial mind. And none of recent memory is stranger than the mental process which evolved the decision to ban a Japanese newspaper editorial which informed the Japs that General MacArthur was not a living god, and counseled them not being thinking of him as a symbol of democracy and not "the reincarnation of the Emperor Jimmu."

This editorial first appeared in a paper bearing the fascinating name of Jiji Shimpo. The censors didn't mind its being printed for and read by the Japanese. But when it was translated into English and reprinted in the Nippon Times (whose circulation is largely among Allied occupation troops) the occupation government put the lid on.

By the best American standards, the Japanese editorial was eminently sensible. It deplored the ancient and persistent Japanese habit of hero worship. It pointed out that many who think the American general the last word in human perfection had thought the same thing about Hitler. It cautioned that such thinking might lead to a search for a "superman" dictator, after General MacArthur's departure, who might revive the conditions and thinking that led Japan into the recent war.

Further, the newspaper gave its readers this pertinent definition and admonition: "Democracy means freedom. It asserts human rights and does not entail divine rights or the deification of personalities. If the conception that government is something imposed upon the people by an outstanding god, great man or leader is not rectified, democratic government is likely to be wrecked."

The only objection which we can conceive of, might be to this added piece of advice—but the objection would have to be on military rather than democratic grounds. "The way to express the gratitude of the Japanese people toward General MacArthur for the wisdom with which he is managing post-war Japan and for his efforts to democratize the nation is not to worship him as a god but to cast away the servile spirit and gain the self-respect that would not bow its head to anybody."

Perhaps the occupation authorities prefer a servile people as being easier to manage. It may be that they think of themselves as conquerors rather than as educators who, for the good of world peace as well as of the Japanese, must lead the former enemy nation toward the enlightenment and sense of human dignity which are prerequisites of self-government.

We do not know that this is so. But we are reasonably sure that the Japs are also studying the editorial and wondering at the reasons for keeping it out of the hands of the soldier-citizens of a democratic nation.

It could scarcely be hoped that whatever conclusions they reach would be flattering. And they might have a right to think that if it were not against occupation policy for a Japanese newspaper to preach democracy to its readers, at least it was against that policy to permit the occupation troops to know it.

The identity of the person who issued this censorship order is not revealed. Somehow it does not sound like the work of General MacArthur. But whoever is responsible seems not only to have committed a senseless error, but also to have hurt our effort to "sell" democracy to Japan at a time when, beyond the broader and more idealistic aspects of the program, it is decidedly to our national self-interest to do a positive, effective job of salesmanship.

Personnel Is Being Recruited by FBI

The FBI is recruiting additional personnel, it was announced today by the special agent in charge, Dallas.

The qualifications for a clerical employe are that the applicant must be an American citizen, a high school graduate, 18 to 35 years of age, and physically fit. The entrance salary is $1,954.00 per annum.

Special agent applicants must possess a law degree or an accounting degree and must have had at least three years of actual accounting or auditing experience.

There are also positions available in the service for individuals who have a college degree from an accredited university, are physically fit, and are between the ages of 25 and 40 years.

Anyone interested in receiving an interview in connection with his desire to become affiliated with this bureau should communicate directly with the special agent in charge, Federal Bureau of Investigation, 1318 Mercantile Bank Building, Dallas 1, Texas, it was announced.

Relief Offering Is Over $700,000 Mark

Brooks Gasse, officer of the executive board, Baptist General Convention of Texas, in a letter to the editor of The Pampa News last week, says that the Baptist World Relief Offering has now gone beyond the $700,000 mark and will likely reach $725,000 by Nov. 11, when the conventions will meet at Mineral Wells.

When the sun is going down, it's also coming up.

Peter Edson's Column

THEY ARE WANTING TO COME HOME

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Congressmen are besieging the state department in numbers to get some of their constituents home from Europe—in time to vote—but there isn't much the dear old department can do about it. One of the worst passenger traffic bottlenecks in the history of European transportation has now developed on the other side of the pond. What's more, it's going to continue till the end of the year.

It is caused primarily by lack of sufficient passenger ships and transport airplanes to haul the available traffic. Reconversion of the Cunard liner Queen Elizabeth, now making her second "maiden" voyage to New York, will help some. But most of the passenger ships which served as troop transports during the war haven't been reconverted for the quality and tourist trade.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG news behind the news WASHINGTON By RAY TUCKER REVOLT—The republicans' careful cautious study of the registration results throughout the nation strengthen their belief that they will win the house, and possibly the senate, as a prelude to a presidential triumph in 1948. The registration turnout is exceptionally large.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst That's pretty strong mustard which the Moscow Pravda (official communist newspaper) handed me with our breakfast this morning—I mean the accusation that American and Turkish diplomats have been participating in "extraordinarily crooked secret talks" on the future of the Dardanelles.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOLES Price Fixing and Guarantees We have not yet begun to see the end results of the government's attempt to regulate prices. It will be remembered that the government has guaranteed parity prices for farm products to extend two years after the war has been legally ended.

We have a little sample of what is in front of us, however, by the experience of the government's guaranteed prices on potatoes. The United States government, through the "bain" trust, guaranteed the potato producers a minimum price. In order to maintain that minimum price they have recently bought 4,000 bushels in one district. They paid $1.67 a hundred pounds which is equivalent to about $1 a bushel.

Pictures of huge mountains of potatoes in Long Island show them being sprayed by the Department of Agriculture to make them unfit for human use so that the guaranteed price can be maintained on the mountainous housewives in New York City, only a short distance from the huge supply of potatoes being destroyed, are paying as much as 6 cents a pound for potatoes.

Of course these bureaucrats are thinking of purchasing power from one standpoint only. They think the farmers will have more purchasing power by having a high price guaranteed. They fail to realize, however, that the housewives will have less purchasing power for other things when they are obliged to pay a government-fixed price for potatoes.

Total purchasing power comes from one thing, and one thing only—the production of something that somebody else wants. Free market prices are the only practical guide to direct the producers as to what the consumers want produced. We have infinitely more waste, more errors, when the government attempts to direct production by price, than we do when all the people direct production by prices.

This is so because the directors of price control do not directly suffer for their mistakes. But when the producers err in what prices tell them should be produced, they suffer. Therefore, they are infinitely more painstaking, more careful and wiser in their judgments than the bureaucrats are in ordering this or that produced or in guaranteeing this or that price in order to secure production.

"Had Enough?" I n the eastern part of the United States big electric signs are being used for political advertising. The signs are "Vote Republican." Then another lash comes on: "Vote Republican ticket."

The city is that most Republican themselves have not "had enough" of government interference with prices and free enterprise. It would be wonderful if some party would stand against government price-fixing.

But the scarcity of meat begins to make more and more people realize that price-fixing by the government is not a practical solution for a high standard of living or for justice and progress.

Looking at the film reviews, everyone agreed that Mike, a little man with wavy black hair, a bulbous nose, and a Chaplinesque mustache, turned in a remarkably good performance.

All Mike said, after seeing himself on the screen for the first time, was: "No wonder the girls throw themselves at my questionable title—and ignore me."

If the fan mail had started pouring in, Mike looked indignant. "Romanoffs," he said, "always get fan mail."

It reminded us of the time, some years ago, when he came to Hollywood as technical adviser for a movie based on Ellis Island. It was Mike's golden opportunity to become a part of glamour, and he made the most of it.

In a remarkably short time he became a Hollywood character, was invited to sip cocktails wherever the best people gathered, became a bosom pal of the late Bob Benchley and Cary Grant. It was as simple as that for Mike, with a way of ingratiating himself with people and is a brilliant and witty conversationalist.

Finally, he was accused of going Hollywood. "No, no," he said. "A Romanoff will never go Hollywood. Hollywood is for the masses. Surprisingly enough, it did."

But even with his film debut, Mike was unhappy. Even royalty, it seems, can't escape eviction notices these days. The landlord of Romanoff's restaurant is trying to evict the "prince" on charges that he made some alterations without permission. Lawyers are bawling about it now.

Rulers of ancient Persia and Assyria exchanged gifts of leveled sandals as symbols of their royal affection.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Our favorite Hollywood character, his Royal Highness, "Prince" Michael Romanoff, has become a movie actor. We are surprised it didn't happen long before this.

"Prince" Mike—his real name is Harry Gersowson, and he's the son of a Brooklyn tailor—gave an Academy Award performance some years back, impersonating a Russian nobleman on the Riviera, in Paris, in London, and at various other points of the compass.

Since that time, Uncle Sam investigated his nationality upon his return to the U. S. minus a passport, under the assumed name of Russian royalty. But the performance stamped him, much to his joy, as a celebrity.

Since then Mike has prospered as boniface of Mike Romanoff's Beverly Hills cocktail and caviar emporium—still playing the role of the Russian prince to an audience of movie stars, socialites, and tourists. There's a Romanoff cross on the door, a painting of Mike wearing a crown above the bar.

HE HATES PHONIES It isn't out of the ordinary for lapsed citizenship in these days.

CITIZENSHIP RIGHTS WILL BE PROTECTED In every instance, says Mrs. Ruth B. Shipley of the state department's passport division, the rights of citizens will be protected unless their claims are proved false. The law was not written, however, so that people could easily take advantage of it, and in many cases there may be considerable delay before claims can be investigated and ruled upon.

No one has any idea as to how many of these expatriates there may be. Many are children born abroad to American parents. Others were stranded by the war and have lost all their papers.

Paris and London are apparently the worst bottlenecks, with from 250 to 500 applicants backed up and yelling lustily in these cities. Americans in the Balkans are trying to get out through Istanbul. Middle eastern applicants are concentrating on Alexandria.

During the month two ships have been scheduled out of Italy, one out of Bremerhaven, but none from Polish or Greek ports.

Air transport capacity from all European points for August is estimated to have been 300 planes with 13,000 seats. September figures will be 20 per cent higher and October figures still higher.

garded by G. O. P. strategists as a sign of the spirit of revolt. In an off-year election in rural and suburban areas rarely show any interest in national politics and do not qualify for voting where periodical signing-up is required. But the registration in these usually indifferent neighborhoods has been greater than ever before in a non-presidential year, and the number of housewives affixing their Joanne Hancock on the political books for the November 5 struggle has been exceptionally large.

It is not believed here that they took the trouble to sign up simply to cheer for President Truman's appointment of Frances Perkins as a civil service commissioner.

PRICES—The republicans, especially National Chairman Carroll Reece of Tennessee, look upon this reappearance of the "lost vote" as evidence of a domestic determination to oust the "ins."

They think that the family budget balancers have ganged up in a friendly and understandable way to bail-box against meat shortages, rising prices and the spread of "communism" throughout the United States.

The opposition chieftains do not believe that President Truman's belated lifting of food controls will aid the democrats two weeks from next Tuesday. Their meaty advisers inform them that beef and pork will not return to the tables for at least six weeks, and that will be after the election.

Furthermore, prices on all necessities will remain high until volume production cuts them down. The high cost of trying to live is expected to be another burden for democratic candidates from Maine to California.

RECORD—National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan, however, reports that the republicans are talking through their political hats when they forecast a landslide that will enable the opposition to gain a majority in either branch of congress.

The boy from St. Louis, as well as President Truman himself, are excited over the results of registration in New York City. The total turnout amounted to approximately 2,600,000 people a record for a non-presidential year. Even allowing for the increase in population, the large registration is regarded as a gain for the democrats.

Inasmuch as the nationwide vote usually amounts to about fifteen times the electoral tally in the eastern metropolises, the 2,600,000 registration points toward almost a 40,000,000 vote on November 5, which will be a record for an off-year. The total was only about 48,500,000 in the Roosevelt-Dewey contest, including the minority parties' vote.

CONFIDENT—Messrs. Truman and Hannegan insist that even a 35,000,000 turnout will mean retention of democratic control of congress, key gubernatorial posts and other state offices.

But the republicans reply that their survey shows the folks to be rushing to the polls to vote against rather than for the party in power. In fact, the G. O. P.-ers are so confident that they now predict for the record the defeat of such popular figures as powerful vote-getters as Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, ex-Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York in the senatorial race in that important state, and of Governor Frank J. Lausche of Ohio.

DECISION—Commercial aviation interests will soon respond to protests against their postwar failure to modernize equipment by installing both radar and landing control devices within a few months. Recent tragedies in the United States and elsewhere led to the decision.

The protective instruments, which are now being manufactured by California concern, will first be installed at the National Airport at Washington, LaGuardia Field at New York and at the Municipal Airport in Chicago. The congestion at these centers has caused great confusion and delays in airline schedules.

The new viewpoint works like television. It enables tower operators at landing places to determine the distance, direction and altitude of approaching planes, and to "direct" them to their proper course by radio messages.

A sort of "seeing eye" allows the directing operator to observe incoming ships for approximately thirty miles, and to warn them against collisions with other planes in the same area.

These facilities were regular equipment for many army-navy planes during the war. But this will be the first time that they have been employed by the civilian lines.

TAX-CUTTING—Despite Truman-Snyder disagreements on the prospect of balancing the budget at the end of the current fiscal year, treasury statisticians and republican experts on the house ways and means committee have prepared tax-cutting programs for presentation to the next congress.

Secretary Snyder says that he will not initiate any general tax reduction schedule; but he will be ready with suggestions if the elected legislators ask for them. There is a widespread demand for relief before the 1948 election; with Capitol Hill democrats quite as vociferous as the men on the other side of the aisle.

Congressional G. O. P.-ers, headed by Representative Harold Knutson of Minnesota, ranking republicans on ways and means, will demand removal of all luxury levies and a twenty percent slice in personal income taxes. They will probably compromise on a ten percent figure.

Well, good bye, then Helen—what's on her mind?

Let's not talk about money at a time like this, Lard!

Let's talk about it for just a minute—have you got $10.55?

Of course I have! Then what are we worried about? Let's enjoy our selves!

Janet Litt had invited Hardy Blake and me to dinner on her boat the same night her brother was directed to pay $10,000 blackmail.

Janet insisted that I bring you along tonight, vic. She's taken quite a shine to you.

I'm holding your men, running crooked game, saying, "I'll question 'em about the shooting of the sheriff last week."

How'll we lock 'em up? The sheriff's got the keys.

The sheriff told me where he hid the keys to the jail. I'll get 'em.

Where he hid the keys to the jail, I'll get 'em. I'll get the keys.

What's the dope on the new job, gut? When do I start being assistant king?

Just as soon as we can arrange a coronation ball, we'll have Ramoaddin the affair!

More pepper? Yes, just a pinch, an' a few more turtle eggs, now you help, you!

Yes, yes, just a pinch, an' a few more turtle eggs, now you help, you!

When this lost city is finally found, some smug archaic gaw will dig you up, and go nuts trying to figure out how a prehistoric man got those store bought teeth of yours, and this beauty's shoes, you can wear to the happy hunting grounds!

You're a card, mocho!

Gosh, jeep, only three more going out of your lift.

Run out in the country, ten miles from here, starting off all over again—any you'll be here in the old familiar old days. Well, nothing but memories from now on.
