Hurricane Headed for Florida's West Coast

Winds Place Citrus Crop In Jeopardy

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—The entire West coast of the Florida peninsula was placed on an urgent alert today with hurricane warnings flying as far North as Cedar Keys as a vicious tropical storm with winds of more than 100 miles an hour bored into the Gulf of Mexico and placed Florida's $100,000,000 citrus crop in jeopardy.

The weather bureau said the present course of the hurricane will send it taking along the coast and crop-producing section of the west coast. The storm center which has veered slightly in its direction at least twice since it surged to hurricane strength, very likely will strike the coast somewhere between Fort Myers and Tampa, but may howl inland north of Tampa, it was indicated.

At 10:30 a. m., CST, the center was 130 miles due west of Key West. Top winds of 60 miles an hour at Key West began to diminish, and unless a radical change of direction develops, the Florida keys and the rich Miami-Palm Beach "gold coast" will miss anything stronger than heavy squalls and moderate gales.

A record citrus crop is nearing harvest with some picking already going on, and a hurricane could wreck maximum damage on it at this time.

Gales are predicted for the Green Groves which are concentrated inland, but many of which slope down toward the lashing waters of the Gulf.

C-47s Replacing Forts on Route, Vienna to Udine

BELGRADE (Delayed)—(AP)—The Yugoslav government released Sunday an American construction engineer with UNRRA who had been held 16 days on charges of espionage.

Simultaneously, U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson announced that regular C-47 transport planes were replacing B-17 Flying Fortresses in "full airline service" between Vienna, Austria, and Udine, Italy, on the route which skirts Yugoslavia.

The UNRRA engineer, Robert Burnup of Independence, Mo., left Belgrade by plane for Rome on his way to the United States. Authorities here refused to comment on his release, which was understood to have been conditional upon a See AIR ROUTE, Page 6

2500 Ranchers Attend Field Day on Range

Overly wind swept, rain soaked roads approximately 2500 cattlemen, including two ranchers from the Pampa vicinity, drove and walked to his- to educational talks on grasslands and made inspection tours of experimental ranges during the annual Range Improvement Field Day and Chuck Wagon Feed held at the U. S. Great Plains Field Station, Woodward, Okla., and the experimental range, Fort Supply, Okla., on Saturday, Oct. 5.

Shortly after introductory remarks at the station by L. P. Locks, acting station superintendent, he group toured the various grass lands of the range. Cars, pick-up trucks and buses with cattlemen from Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Arizona and even California, made up a half-mile long procession.

Under a sunless sky in the midst of steady rains the group wound through range lanes inspecting the various grass crops, all of which were posted as to time of planting and time of mowing, of Texas blue grass, buffalo grass, weeping blue grass, imported from South Africa, native grass, and other imported grasses.

The cattlemen were shown on what grasses cattle gained on or showed improvement over an experimental number of years. During the informal talks the cattlemen were permitted to ask questions on matters not clear to themselves.

Around noon the group started for Fort Supply where they were to meet the chuck wagon. For a change the wind died down and the rain stopped falling. At the chuck wagon three lines were formed to pass three steaks where the food and coffee were passed out.

Receiving their portions the men broke off in various directions to sit down and eat their noon day meal of barbecued beef, beans, onions, See FIELD DAY, Page 6

Truman Plans Visit To Naval Academy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman plans to visit the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., today to inspect the midshipmen and attend a football game.

Charles G. Ross, press secretary, told a news conference today that the date for the visit has not been set.

Mr. Truman visited West Point Sept. 28 for an inspection of Cadets and to attend the Army-Oklahoma football game.

JACKSON HOME—Associate Justice Robert H. Jackson, of U. S. supreme court, and American prosecutor at the Nazi war criminal trial, is shown as he arrived in Washington by air from Nuernberg.

Supreme Court Opens Term With Full Membership

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Supreme Court opens its 1946-47 term today with a full membership of nine justices for the first time in a year.

But two other firsts heightened interest in the brief opening ceremony set for noon, 11 a. m. (CST):

1. The initial appearance on the high mahogany bench of Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson.

2. The first public appearance together of Associate Justices Robert H. Jackson and Hugo L. Black since their spectacular court feud flared into the open last summer.

Jackson's assignment as chief American prosecutor at the Nuernberg war crimes trials left the court with only eight members last fall.

U. S. Stands Fast On Trieste Issue

PARIS—(AP)—Senator Tom Connally told peace conference delegates today the United States would make no further concessions on the Trieste issue and urged the adoption of commission recommendations.

Connally (D-Texas) was the first speaker in general discussion on the Italian treaty as the conference went into plenary session under the chairmanship of British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin for its final sprint of treaty drafting.

Connally reminded delegates the outline of principles for the projected free zone had been backed by two-thirds of the Italian political commission and then added:

"It outlines principles without which no settlement is possible."

The senator declared that, for the United States, the Trieste agreement was "one decision, one agreement," in which "no part can be separated from the whole."

"A just solution of the problem of Trieste and the frontier between Italy and Yugoslavia," he said, "is the keystone of the peace treaty."

"Unless this statute becomes operative," the senator warned, "our obligations toward the population of Trieste cannot be discharged."

"The city must be founded on democratic principles. It must be free and independent, so organized that it can have a life of its own, free from outside influences, from any one power or group of powers."

Connally answered a question that Trieste was intended as an Anglo-American base on the Adriatic.

"There were indications that the delegates would be compelled to sit day and night for the next eight days if they are to adhere to avoid conflict with the impending United Nations general assembly session in New York."

Local Fire Brings Warning in Fire Prevention Week

No damage was reported when firemen made a run to Bell's Liquor Store at 801 West Brown shortly after 11 o'clock this morning.

Two trucks answered the call but the fire was extinguished with water on one of the truck storage tanks.

Following this, the first fire during National Fire Prevention Week, Fire Chief Ben White urged citizens to cooperate fully with the extensive fire prevention campaign now in effect in the city.

At the same time a report from County Agent Ralph Thomas, made particularly in regards to fire prevention on the farm, said "fire losses on the farm are hazardous because the farmer must be his own protector against fire. He usually doesn't have sufficient facilities to extinguish a fire once it gets under way so his only alternative is to be doubly cautious about fire prevention."

If farm losses keep pace with the general average as the NFPA forecasts this year's farm loss will reach $104,000,000, Thomas said.

"At least 50 percent of all farm fires are directly attributable to faulty construction," Thomas said. "Now, when farmers are planning new buildings and remodeling See FIRE PREVENTION, Page 6

Confederates Hold Annual Reunion

HILOXI, Miss.—(AP)—The 56th annual confederate reunion opened today at nearby Edgewater, bringing together a group of former soldiers whose average age is computed at 80 1/2 years.

Among early arrivals was Gen. William Mercer Buck of Muskego Okla., commander of the Trans-Mississippi division of the confederate veterans.

The last official membership book was published four months ago and listed only 112 surviving confederate veterans. Of that number 40 or 50 are expected here.

General Buck said the main business of the reunion would be to elect a new commander "for life." General Henry T. Dowling of Atlanta was unable to continue in office because of failing health.

Fred P. Myers of Washington, D. C., leader of the sons of confederate veterans said one of the chief objectives of the meeting was to insure additional improvements and maintenance of behavior, in Mississippi, last home of the statesman Jefferson Davis.

Five-Year Treasury Bonds On Way to Vets

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Crisp new five-year Treasury bonds headed for their final ride through government channels today, enroute to pay off some $2,700,000,000 in terminal leave claims for World War II veterans.

The bonds, for settling most claims totaling more than $50, are expected to be in the hands of all service finance and disbursing offices this week.

Pending receipt of the bonds, only small claims could be settled in cash. Army officials hope they will be able to pay claims within 60 days of the date of application.

An estimated 15,000,000 servicemen and women are eligible for the terminal leave payments voted by the 79th congress.

Stevenson Locates Tender Steak, Bacon

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Coke Stevenson expressed doubt today that OPA's slashes in the ceiling price of calves and low-weight cattle will have much effect on the beef market.

"I don't think OPA is doing anything but keeping people who eat in legitimate places from getting meat," the governor declared.

He reported that he had purchased four pounds of nice tender round steaks for $1.80 and a pound of bacon for 40 cents at Fredericksburg over the week-end.

The governor admitted that the purchase was not likely indicative of conditions elsewhere in Texas.

5.10 Inches of Rainfall Hit Pampa Vicinity

Starting with a deficit of 4.70 inches under the normal annual rainfall for the year to date, Pampa has received .03 more than normal, following rains the last three days which totaled five and one-tenth inches.

The local weather bureau reported at 12:30 today that rainfall up to noon today brought a total for the year to 17.64 as compared with the normal 17.61 for the same period last year.

No extensive property damage was reported although some damage resulted in the basement of the city hall, where water entered the store room of the Adobe Walls Boy Scout council.

Hugo Olsen, scout executive, said this morning that water ruined several boxes of finance reports, several dozen special posters and damaged a large carton of 22 rifle shells belonging to the council.

Traffic Deaths In State Total 9 Over Week End

Nine persons died in Texas during the week-end in traffic accidents.

Five of the nine deaths resulted from accidents in the Houston area.

William Chester Hale, 25, of Houston died instantly yesterday and his wife was injured in a motorcycle collision at Arcadia, near Houston.

Ora Montgomery, 22, of Arcadia, driver of the automobile, received cuts and bruises.

Frank Baucum, 18, of Coleman, student at John Tardion college at Stephenville, was killed about midnight Saturday when his car and a cattle truck collided nine miles north of Jacksonville.

Corpus Christi's 140 day record without a traffic fatality was broken yesterday as William George Eubanks, 68, was struck by an automobile and killed.

Seventy-nine-year-old H. G. Culpepper of Chantrelview, near Houston, died of injuries received when struck by an automobile Saturday at Chantrelview.

Feliciano Gonzalez, 81, of Mercedes was fatally injured when struck by a car there Saturday.

Two San Antonio Negroes were killed early Saturday as their automobile collided with a six-wheeled truck at Katy, near Houston.

Pete Traxler Is Again in Custody

Pete Traxler, who, after having been convicted on armed robbery charges a number of years ago, got his freedom from the penitentiary in Texas on a court order and then disappeared, was arrested Sunday morning on the outskirts of Denton, according to the Associated Press.

Traxler, who was beaten by a sheriff's posse a mile north of Canadian in 1936, was the No. 1 public enemy in the Northeast Panhandle for a number of months.

He is believed to have been implicated in a number of banking incidents in this area, some of which were never cleared up.

Traxler, according to the AP story, will fight extradition charges to Oklahoma, where he is wanted in connection with a robbery at Durant.

RELATIVES WAIT FOR NEWS OF INJURED—Collapse of a 125-foot tower at the height of the $300,000 fire at Marcus Hook, Pa., oil plant, caused most of the injuries to the 135 persons by spraying flaming gas on fire-fighters. At least three died in the blaze. Shown outside a Chester, Pa., hospital are a few of the throngs of relatives who jammed streets in search of news of their injured loved ones.

Possible End to Two Serious Strikes Seen

Possible breaks in two strikes which have seriously affected industry were reported today.

In the week-old maritime strike, a union leader told newsmen in New York that "things look more favorable than at any time since negotiations started," and added an agreement might be reached by tonight.

And in the two-week-old power strike which has crippled the heavily industrialized Pittsburgh area, the striking union said it had submitted a new offer to officials of the Duquesne Light Co.

In Pittsburgh, George L. Mueller, president of the striking independent union of power workers, said his group had submitted a new bid secret proposal to the Duquesne Light Co., and that its provisions would not be made public until the company looks it over.

The two-week strike has curtailed industrial production and halted streetcar service. Department stores in the city's golden triangle, closed more than a week, decided to reopen today on a limited basis with emergency power generators.

In Chicago, a "continuous union meeting" staged by bus drivers for the Chicago Motor Coach Co., still open today, after a series of conferences between Mayor Edward J. Kelly and union and company representatives ended with no settlement. Higher wages have been asked by the union, the AFL-ambalgamated association of street, electric railway and motor coach employees.

In Warren, O., members of the CIO-utility workers union walked off their jobs at the Ohio Public Service Co., and picket lines formed around the company's huge generating plant. The strike threatened to curtail electric power for Warren's 53,000 residents and 16,000 persons in nearby Niles. The union is seeking an 18-cent hourly pay boost.

Our Motto: 'A Free Press—Voice of Freedom, Guardian of Liberty!'

(This is the fifth in a series of seven photographs to be published by and about The Pampa Daily News in connection with National Newspaper week, now being observed. Their publication and comment upon them are in the interest of reader information as to the making up of a daily edition of the newspaper.)

We have spoken here of the press' public trust, the barrier (which is the advertising department) between a subsidized press and a free press, and of our "ambassador" to the readers (our circulation boys).

We had not spoken of another quite important part of the newspaper. That is the mechanical department. Of course, as the name implies, it is the department which puts the paper into the mechanical form for printing the paper.

It is the mechanical skill of the newspaper. Whereas, the work of the advertising and editorial departments requires use of words, blended with initiative of brain, and—regardless of popular notion—at least some imagination, the mechanical department requires skill of hand. Copy—the written word for publication—must be set up in lead letters; and this is done with molten metal—with a machine somewhat like a typewriter. Some is set by hand from "foundry" type. Then a makeup man—like the one in the foreground—must "make up" the material in the form of pages, from which the impression is made on the paper by the press.

It sounds easy. It isn't. Not only a mechanical department man—collectively classed as a "printer" (though he is more than that)—knows his type, that is, its sizes, and so on, he must also know the rules of putting that type into the newspaper forms.

Yes, a newspaper is more than the editor, the ad-man; it is also that portion of making a paper which requires getting oneself dirty with printers' ink.

The Fourth Estate—the press—must not only walk the streets, use the telephone, keep the books, carry the paper—it must also wade through black ink, handle molten metal, to make possible the paper you read.

Longhorns Have Scored 172 Points, Rolled Up 1,462 Yards in 3 Games

By MAX B. SKELTON
NEA Staff Writer

Mighty Texas is being ranked nationally along with Army and Notre Dame as college football's greatest and Dana X. Bible and his Longhorns can produce a record crammed with statistics that support the selection.

In steam-rolling three inter-sectional rivals, Missouri, Colorado and Oklahoma A. and M., the Longhorns have piled up 172 points while allowing their goal to be crossed only once, have gained a total of 1,462 net yards as compared with 433 for their opponents and have intercepted more than a fourth of the passes thrown against them.

Heralded in pre-season publicity as a team that would depend largely on passing, the Longhorns have gained 894 yards from rushing and 568 via the air. The majority of their touchdowns have been made through a ground attack, which carried the football field after being injured on a line play where he had hit hard by several opposing players.

Henry Frnka, Jr., Dies as Result of Football Injuries

TULSA—Henry Frnka, Jr., 17, son of the Tulane football coach, died here yesterday following a Saturday operation to remove a blood clot on his brain, which resulted from injuries received in a football game Friday.

Young Frnka, star fullback of the Tulsa Will Rogers high school football team, underwent a delicate operation Saturday after he was injured in Friday night's Will Rogers-Tulsa Central football game. The operation was performed by Dr. Jess Herman of Oklahoma City.

Attendants at Hillcrest hospital said young Frnka took a turn for the worse after the operation. He had been unconscious since being carried from the football field after being injured on a line play where he had hit hard by several opposing players.

York's Four-Bagger Wins for American League Champions

By JACK HAND
ST. LOUIS—(AP)—One explosive home run blast off the bat of "the new" Rudy York has revived Boston talk of a fair-weather sweep over the crafty St. Louis Cardinals in the 1946 World Series.

Not that Joe Sox looked like a runaway fire engine in passing out a 3-2 edge over Howie Pollet in a tough 10-inning struggle yesterday. The opener was a ball game the Cardinals easily could have won.

Stranahan Wins Tourney; Ferrier Rakes in Money

PORT WORTH—(AP)—Frank Stranahan, the muscled young man from Toledo, O., had the glory but a flock of other guys pocketed the cash today as the nation's top golfers took off for Montgomery, Ala.—the next stop along the tournament trail.

Stranahan, the 24-year-old amateur, finished first in Fort Worth's $10,000 open yesterday with a closing three-under-par 68 for a 72-hole total of 270 but the real winner was Jim Ferrier, Chicago professional, who finished second and grabbed off first money of $2,000. Amateurs, you know, don't touch the cash in the tournaments.

Ferrier laid down a 70 for a total of 272 while Dick Metz of Chicago wound up with 275 on the basis of his closing 66 for third place and second money of $1,400.

Some 18 bettered par 37-34-71 over the 6,350-yard Glen Garden course on the final 18 holes with the best being done by that Jimmy Demaret, the Texan who now plays out of New York. Demaret shot a 65 that put him in a seventh-place tie with Byron Nelson of Toledo at 277.

Another Fistic Plum May Turn Out As 'Lemon'

By NED BROWN
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—Mike Jacobs is quite the husbandman at making two fistic plums grow where only one flourished before.

But of late he has developed a burbling touch, in that the seedling plum turns out to be a lemon. Such was the case with Joe Louis and Billy Conn, is more than likely to be the case when Tony Zale and Rocky Graziano meet again next week at Madison Square Garden at a $50 top.

Zale was keyed to his highest pitch and Graziano was out to do or die in their first clash, which made your heart beat faster. In the final Tony's heart triumphed over Rocky's discouragement. So when the Gary steel worker stabbed a broken right to the solar plexus and hooked a left to the shin, the Rocky Kid, magnifying the fullness of his punching a doggy-gone adversary, went down for the count in the sixth. He got up too rapidly and too full of fight at the count of 10 to have been out. He just up and climbed.

When they meet again it may well be a case of one thing a-fear'd and the other dassen't. Zale won't relish taking a shellacking like the one he barely withstood in that glory fifth round. Tony, who will vividly recall the futility of bouncing his Sunday punch off the Zale button and his own culminating debacle, has long been recognized among promoters that return matches usually are disappointments, especially where the first battle was terrific enough to enthrone them into rematching the contestants.

Instances of a fighter turning the tables on his knockout conqueror in a return bout have been exceptional. Stanley Ketchel accomplished the feat against Billy Papke. Joe Louis did the same against Max Baer, but the Michigan Assassin and the Brown Bomber were more richly equipped in an essential imperishable department than the Rocky Kid.

There also have been historic series, notably those of Jack Britton vs. Ted Kid Lewis and Benny Leonard vs. Johnny Dundee.

Britton and Lewis fought a smashing bout in old Madison Square Garden in March, 1915, and that was the start of a beautiful enmity which continued over a stretch of six years, during which the pair clashed 22 times. Some of their contests were not as hot as others, but the last in February, 1921, was the best of all, Britton winning in 15 rounds in the old Garden. Most of their jousts mind you, were for the welterweight championship.

Zale and Graziano, who are entirely different aspect. The middleweight champion is approaching the serene and yellow of his fighting career, and, I believe, shot his bolt against Graziano, when he gave a splendid exhibition of gameness.

The fight took much more out of the winner than it did from the loser. Graziano has the youth to bounce back, and after all, he wasn't beaten at all. He was just licked.

The Rocky Kid can improve. Something Zale definitely cannot do.

Therefore I believe Graziano will have a fine chance of turning the tables on the old Gray steel piddler, but it may not be too much of a contest, perhaps a replica of the second edition between Louis and Conn.

But wily Uncle Mike Jacobs will go Burbank one better.

His fistic plum turned lemon will eventually into another juicy melon.

St. Louis Cardinals Running Over Three Opponents

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
NEW YORK—(AP)—Texas, Notre Dame and Army—the big three of college football at this stage of the campaign—face a busy afternoon next Saturday, with the Cardinals taking the toughest challenge of the trio.

After hounding Villanova, Oklahoma and Cornell, Army now runs smack into a powerful Michigan crew to show its place among the nation's leaders.

Texas meets Oklahoma in their annual state fair classic at Dallas. As the Sooners were squeaking past Texas A. and M. 10-7 last week, the Longhorns crushed Oklahoma A. and M. 54-5, handing the Aggies their first defeat in 22 starts. Having piled up 172 points in three games, Texas looks like the No. 1 power of them all.

Notre Dame, which breezed past Pittsburgh 33-0, will be home to take on Purdue, which absorbed a 49-7 beating by an Illinois team that lost to the Irish by 20 points the previous week.

The Army-Michigan scuffle at Ann Arbor, expected to draw 90,000, obviously will be the top attraction of the day.

Western conference tussles will send Illinois to Indiana, 21-0 conqueror of Minnesota, Ohio State to Wisconsin and Minnesota to Northwestern.

Big six games will find Missouri at Kansas State and Kansas at Iowa State.

In the East, Columbia and Yale will get together at New Haven for a battle between two unbeaten clubs, and Dartmouth, fresh from a 21-14 triumph over Syracuse, moves in against the power of Mississippi State, which smothered Lafayette 65-0. Columbia turned back Navy 23-14, and Yale topped Colgate 27-6.

Stout O.C.I.A., which humbled Washington 38-13, will entertain Stanford, 33-7 winner over a good San Francisco club, in the Pacific Coast headliner. Southern Cal. rapidly relinquishing the favorite's role in the Coast conference to UCLA, invades Oregon State, and Washington will be at Washington State.

Southeastern conference struggles will send Florida to Vanderbilt, 7-0 conqueror of Mississippi Georgia Tech, 32-6 winner over VMI. Tulane, which whipped Florida 27-13, will entertain Rice, and Texas A. and M. will visit Louisiana State, 13-0 victor over Mississippi State, in non-conference games.

In the Southern conference, front runner North Carolina State, which topped Clemson 14-7, entertains Davidson, with Maryland going to North Carolina, Clemson to Wake Forest and Virginia Tech to William and Mary.

Baylor and Arkansas get together at Fayetteville in Saturday's only Southwest conference game. Southern Methodist and Oklahoma A. and M. play in Dallas Friday night. Texas Tech, which knocked off SMU 7-0, will invade Tulsa, which crushed Drake 48-13.

Scott's Scrap Book

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

The Tigers of Norman, Oklahoma, whom the Harvesters play here this week, have played three games and lost them all—but to come of the top-rated teams of Oklahoma, including Lawton, Enid and Oklahoma City Central, so the Harvesters won't have any pushover.

Look what Vernon, a team that also had failed to win, did to our boys. Glenn Bradley, sports editor of the Norman Transcript, told us the Altus team, which defeated Vernon 7-0, is one of the best teams in Western Oklahoma. Sherman, as other team to defeat Vernon, is as yet unbeaten, having taken out the unbeaten state co-champs, Highland Park, last Friday.

Norman opened up with a 20-13 loss to Lawton, dropped a 13-12 decision to Enid and lost to OC Central, 12-7, in a game marked by 376 yards in penalties—most of them against Central.

Oklahoma allows boys to play football until they are 21, although the Sooner state—our native state, incidentally—does have a semester rule. Texas, meanwhile, allows boys to play until they are 18, making quite a difference, but one that can be overcome by a hustling ball club.

The Harvesters had no allies for their loss Friday. Pampa was favored to Enid and lost to OC Central, 12-7, in a game marked by 376 yards in penalties—most of them against Central.

Our percentage on guessing the winners in District 1-AA and Southwest conference games wasn't too good last week. We missed on three of the five schoolboy games and one of the six games involving Southwest conference schools.

Brownfield and Levelland crossed up by tying after we had picked Brownfield. Plainview lost to Midland and Vernon defeated Pampa. The Texas Tech victory over Southern Methodist was our lone miss in the Southwest. We were hoping Texas would win but hated to stick our neck out.

5 Warships Will Attend Ceremony

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Five American war ships, including the super battleship Wisconsin, will go to Chile for the inauguration of President Gabriel Gonzalez Vidua November 4-5.

The navy announced that in addition to the 45,000-ton Wisconsin the group will include the 27,000-ton carrier Zeke and the destroyers Massey, Douglas H. Fox and Joseph P. Kennedy.

The navy said it will decide later whether the group will pay "courtesy calls" on other Latin-American nations en route to Chile.

Texas Rated No. 1 Team After Running Over Three Opponents

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
NEW YORK—(AP)—Texas, Notre Dame and Army—the big three of college football at this stage of the campaign—face a busy afternoon next Saturday, with the Cardinals taking the toughest challenge of the trio.

After hounding Villanova, Oklahoma and Cornell, Army now runs smack into a powerful Michigan crew to show its place among the nation's leaders.

Texas meets Oklahoma in their annual state fair classic at Dallas. As the Sooners were squeaking past Texas A. and M. 10-7 last week, the Longhorns crushed Oklahoma A. and M. 54-5, handing the Aggies their first defeat in 22 starts. Having piled up 172 points in three games, Texas looks like the No. 1 power of them all.

Notre Dame, which breezed past Pittsburgh 33-0, will be home to take on Purdue, which absorbed a 49-7 beating by an Illinois team that lost to the Irish by 20 points the previous week.

The Army-Michigan scuffle at Ann Arbor, expected to draw 90,000, obviously will be the top attraction of the day.

Western conference tussles will send Illinois to Indiana, 21-0 conqueror of Minnesota, Ohio State to Wisconsin and Minnesota to Northwestern.

Big six games will find Missouri at Kansas State and Kansas at Iowa State.

In the East, Columbia and Yale will get together at New Haven for a battle between two unbeaten clubs, and Dartmouth, fresh from a 21-14 triumph over Syracuse, moves in against the power of Mississippi State, which smothered Lafayette 65-0. Columbia turned back Navy 23-14, and Yale topped Colgate 27-6.

Stout O.C.I.A., which humbled Washington 38-13, will entertain Stanford, 33-7 winner over a good San Francisco club, in the Pacific Coast headliner. Southern Cal. rapidly relinquishing the favorite's role in the Coast conference to UCLA, invades Oregon State, and Washington will be at Washington State.

Southeastern conference struggles will send Florida to Vanderbilt, 7-0 conqueror of Mississippi Georgia Tech, 32-6 winner over VMI. Tulane, which whipped Florida 27-13, will entertain Rice, and Texas A. and M. will visit Louisiana State, 13-0 victor over Mississippi State, in non-conference games.

In the Southern conference, front runner North Carolina State, which topped Clemson 14-7, entertains Davidson, with Maryland going to North Carolina, Clemson to Wake Forest and Virginia Tech to William and Mary.

Baylor and Arkansas get together at Fayetteville in Saturday's only Southwest conference game. Southern Methodist and Oklahoma A. and M. play in Dallas Friday night. Texas Tech, which knocked off SMU 7-0, will invade Tulsa, which crushed Drake 48-13.

Rebs Take Third Game of Playoff

DALLAS—(AP)—Atlanta's Crackers made their last stand tonight in the battle for the baseball championship of Dixie with Earl McGowan, the Southern association's leading pitcher, to take the mound against Dallas' Hank Oana in the fourth game of the series.

Dallas made it three straight yesterday as the Texas league champs splurged for five runs in the eighth to break up a tight pitching duel between the Crackers' Bill Ayers and tall Tom Puller. The Rebels won 5-1 as a crowd of 11,068 turned out to greet Dallas' return to the home ballpark.

The three games thus far have drawn 23,596 and gross receipts of $31,945.83 of which $15,334.01 goes to the players.

Wayne Davidson Is On Varsity Eleven At Military School

Wayne Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Davidson, 810 Wilks, has earned a place on the college varsity team at Wentworth military academy at Lexington, Mo. Captain P. (Chink) Coleman, director of athletics, has informed The News.

Davidson plays a back position on the squad. It is expected that he will see plenty of action during this season when the Wentworth Red Dragons will meet spirited competition from grid rivals in five states, the director said.

Wentworth will play nine games this season, four of them being with colleges in the Interstate conference.

Red Raider-HSU Game May Decide Circuit Winner

By EDDIE LEE
AP Sports Writer

The outcome of the border conference football race may remain undecided until the last conference game is played at Abilene, Nov. 30.

That game matches Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons, currently the only unbeaten teams in the conference and both giving every indication of a determined bid for the conference honors. They are threatened by the once-defeated Wildcats from the University of Arizona.

The Wildcats cross swords with Hardin-Simmons at Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 2 and if they win that one, the conference race may be decided Nov. 23 when the Wildcats are hosts to the technicians.

Tech continued its unbeaten string Saturday with a 7-0 victory over Southern Methodist university, the second Southwest conference team to fall before the Red Raider attack. The first was Texas A. and M. 6-0, a week ago.

The Cowboys from Abilene smashed San Jose State 34-7 for their third straight victory while Arizona went down to a 14-7 defeat at the hands of Utah university at Salt Lake City.

The Arizona State Bulldogs scored their first victory of the season by a narrow 13-12 margin over George Pepperdine college at Tempe, Ariz., and Arizona State at Flagstaff tied 6-6 with Fresno State at Fresno, Calif., in other Saturday clashes.

The New Mexico University Lobos moved into the lead of the conference race Friday with a 6-0 victory over the luckless West Texas state team. It was the third straight setback for West Texas.

The win gave the Lobos two victories over conference opposition, Arizona and Texas Tech have one each.

Two conference tilts are scheduled next weekend when all the conference teams except the Cowboys and Arizona State at Flagstaff see action.

Texas Mines and Arizona meet at Tucson and the Lobos visit the New Mexico Aggies at Las Cruces.

The Raiders seeking their fourth victory, battle Tulsa University at Tulsa, Arizona State at Tempe flies to Reno to meet Nevada U., and West Texas State seeks its first victory in four starts against Colorado College at Canyon.

College enrollment in 1946 is estimated at 1,750,000. In 1920, it was 600,000.

Scott's Scrap Book

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

The Tigers of Norman, Oklahoma, whom the Harvesters play here this week, have played three games and lost them all—but to come of the top-rated teams of Oklahoma, including Lawton, Enid and Oklahoma City Central, so the Harvesters won't have any pushover.

Look what Vernon, a team that also had failed to win, did to our boys. Glenn Bradley, sports editor of the Norman Transcript, told us the Altus team, which defeated Vernon 7-0, is one of the best teams in Western Oklahoma. Sherman, as other team to defeat Vernon, is as yet unbeaten, having taken out the unbeaten state co-champs, Highland Park, last Friday.

Norman opened up with a 20-13 loss to Lawton, dropped a 13-12 decision to Enid and lost to OC Central, 12-7, in a game marked by 376 yards in penalties—most of them against Central.

Oklahoma allows boys to play football until they are 21, although the Sooner state—our native state, incidentally—does have a semester rule. Texas, meanwhile, allows boys to play until they are 18, making quite a difference, but one that can be overcome by a hustling ball club.

The Harvesters had no allies for their loss Friday. Pampa was favored to Enid and lost to OC Central, 12-7, in a game marked by 376 yards in penalties—most of them against Central.

Our percentage on guessing the winners in District 1-AA and Southwest conference games wasn't too good last week. We missed on three of the five schoolboy games and one of the six games involving Southwest conference schools.

Brownfield and Levelland crossed up by tying after we had picked Brownfield. Plainview lost to Midland and Vernon defeated Pampa. The Texas Tech victory over Southern Methodist was our lone miss in the Southwest. We were hoping Texas would win but hated to stick our neck out.

THE FUTURE OF AMERICAN FREEDOM

The rising tide of inflation is sending ominous chills tingling along the spines of the American people, it is not pleasant to see the value of savings and pay checks dwindle as the price indexes climb. Two thousand dollar autos and fifteen thousand dollar homes were not included in the postwar plans of most people. They indicate hardship, not prosperity, in the future, and not so far in the future at that. In fact hardship, real hardship, is already here for the great number of "unorganized" workers and those who live on fixed incomes.

The feeling is inescapable that only now is the home-front beginning to come face to face with the consequences of the "total" war. With inflation developing, the question arises of how strong are our ideals of free enterprise and free government. Repeatedly, supposed realists express fear that should depression sweep the country, it would inevitably shake the foundations of basic American institutions. They point to other lands where desperate, hungry people turned to despotic government for direction.

The people at home, for the first time in over a century have a chance to demonstrate their faith in the general idea of individual initiative and opportunity. If the realists are right in the theory that economic trouble will lead to the kicking out of private industry and restriction of principles of government that have lifted the individual in this country to an eminence never before known, America and all her people will get just what they deserve—serfdom.

It is difficult to believe that the future of American freedom will turn on material considerations. More than that, it is fantastic. It is, in effect, believing that the soul of the greatest nation on earth will perish if the people cannot have all the refrigerators and automobiles and gadgets they want.

In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Tennis champion Alice Marble's autobiography, "The Road to Wimbledon," has Ginger Rogers posing in front of a mirror with a tennis racket in her hand. She may buy the film rights in order to star herself. She thinks it has the making of another "Pride of the Yankees."

Now that he has signed a five-year contract with David Rose Productions, James Mason is due in Hollywood before the end of the year. Mason and Rose will make their own pictures with Mason open to loanout offers. . . . June Lang is making a film comeback in PRC's "Lighthouse."

Hollywood has been getting along for years without plots in musicals. But now M-G-M comes up with a new twist—a musical without chorus girls. Only the principals sing and dance in "Summer Holiday," a new version of "Ah, Wilderness."

Sara Allgood, typed as a mother, plays another one in "My Wild Irish Rose." This time she mothers Dennis Morgan.
"But," says Sara, "you can never really be type-cast as a mother, because mothers come in so many different styles."

George Burns and Gracie Allen are celebrating 15 years as an air team. POTPOURRI OF NEWS ABOUT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The best guess on the number of atomic bombs the U. S. might be able to produce is contained in the new United Nations scientific report on control of atomic energy. It is a deduction based on three previously known facts which the experts put together for the first time.

The critical mass of rare Uranium-235 necessary to set up a chain reaction has been revealed in the Smyth report as "more than two and less than four kilograms." That's approximately 4 1/2 to 220 pounds, to make one bomb. It was also known that normal U-238 contained one percent U-235. And the Engineering and Mining Journal had estimated world uranium ore production at about 1000 tons a year.

Putting these three facts together, the UN experts calculated that "the number of bombs which could be produced would be between 70 and 3500 per year." That's a wide margin, but it's the best estimate so far.

One of the principal criticisms of government administration in the last war effort concerned the lack of a unified procurement agency to do all the government's buying. The idea behind this criticism was that the army, navy, air forces, treasury department and agriculture department in the market at the same time made for confusion and duplication of effort.

The army-navy munitions board, now preparing a new mobilization plan for U. S. industry, isn't so sure that this unified procurement would be a good idea. Decentralized buying is now considered a better solution.

Carman Cavallero, now on the bandstand at Clev's, says that June Allyson's favorite tune in "Shadow Waltz." She told him it was her favorite romantic song because she thought Dick Powell, the singer who introduced it a few years ago, was romantic, too.
But she never dreamed she'd marry him.

Ida Lupino's penchant for changing the color of her hair enlivens the script of her next movie, "The Man I Love." In one scene her little nephew greets her with a black eye. "That isn't the same color eye you had when I last saw you," comments Ida.
The little boy replies: "And that isn't the same color hair."

Republicans Would 'Clean Up' Country

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—(AP)—Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio) said here that if the republicans win control of congress next month they will start cleaning up "one of the worst messes of all history" by "getting rid of about two-thirds of the bureaucracy on the federal payroll."
"We will drive out of public office and positions of influence the radicals who are creating confusion and friction here for the benefit of other nations," he said.

In an address prepared for the Missouri Federation of Republican Women's clubs, the GOP national campaign director said Saturday:
"The American people are disgusted and humiliated by the spectacle presented in Washington today."

of course, neither England herself nor the British commonwealth of nations. Now the socialist government in London has offered India the same dominion status, with the same privilege of withdrawing from the commonwealth if she so desires.

Still, since all the signs are that Russia is going to wield vast influence in the Orient, we can see that Churchill has in mind. Also one might make the observation that if India's interests seem to her to lie with England, then Hindustan will remain within the commonwealth. If she thinks she belongs exclusively in an Asiatic bloc—not unlikely, dominated by Soviet Russia—then the British empire will be the loser.

So They Say

We need more goods, not more dollars. Take care of production and the dollars will take care of themselves.—William K. Jackson, president of U. S. chamber of commerce.

Once the United Nations gets into the economics of this world, what now appear to be serious international issues will disappear.—Florence H. La Guardia, director general of UNRRA.

If the democratic approach to problems—which I believe to be the only hopeful approach for the world is to prevail, we must develop a true sense of neighborliness, springing from understanding each other's ways of life and habits of thought.—Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee.

It is imperative to the success of our production system that labor have not only its constitutional right of bargaining collectively with management concerning wages, hours and working conditions, but also that the law assure the continued enjoyment of that right.—Sen James M. Mead of New York.

But the present-day idolater repeats this prayer in the following form: 'The State is my shepherd; I shall not want.' In America we print on our coins, 'In God we trust,' and yet we are creating a situation in which we will be forced to trust it for our help, our food, our security, our all. We shall be forced to place on our coins—if not the actual words, at least the present words to read, 'In the State we trust.'"

Again he says:
"One might suggest that, if there were many gods, we could make a place for the god of the State. But even this would not work because, when the State puts itself in the position of attempting to be a god, it insists on being the only god! Just mention God's existence, and we bump squarely into this question of freedom versus tyranny."

I am quoting further today from the book "Author of Liberty" by the Rev. Carl McIntire. Under "False Gods" he makes this statement:

"The Christian believes and rejoices in the charter of his liberty: 'The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.' But the present-day idolater repeats this prayer in the following form: 'The State is my shepherd; I shall not want.' In America we print on our coins, 'In God we trust,' and yet we are creating a situation in which we will be forced to trust it for our help, our food, our security, our all. We shall be forced to place on our coins—if not the actual words, at least the present words to read, 'In the State we trust.'"

Again he says:
"One might suggest that, if there were many gods, we could make a place for the god of the State. But even this would not work because, when the State puts itself in the position of attempting to be a god, it insists on being the only god! Just mention God's existence, and we bump squarely into this question of freedom versus tyranny."

It is imperative to the success of our production system that labor have not only its constitutional right of bargaining collectively with management concerning wages, hours and working conditions, but also that the law assure the continued enjoyment of that right.—Sen James M. Mead of New York.

About half the people on the island (pop. 2,000,000), came to San Juan for the inaugural day parade. The affair was supposed to be a great triumph for democracy and the common people of Puerto Rico, in that a native son was made governor.

But 5000 invitations went out to politicians for the reception at La Fortaleza the governors palace that night, and after that the affair broke up into smaller parties. Those parties are just now beginning to taper off, weeks after the inauguration.

The real reason U. S. coal mines are still in government hands, have not been returned to the private owners, is that Northern and Southern operators can't agree on a formula for taking back their properties. Meetings of the operators are far stormier than sessions between the miners' union and the operators.

In the meantime, the operators put out the word that John L. Lewis is stalling the negotiations for return of the mines till he can dictate better terms. And Lewis puts out statements that the operators are stalling till the next congress convenes, when they hope legislation will be passed, repealing the Smith-Corona act, which makes government seizure of the mines possible.

Actually, the U. S. gets no cash, but $35 million worth of real estate, plus $20 million worth of cultural relations. And the U. S. has to pay out $20 million to deliver the goods to China.

of course, neither England herself nor the British commonwealth of nations. Now the socialist government in London has offered India the same dominion status, with the same privilege of withdrawing from the commonwealth if she so desires.

Still, since all the signs are that Russia is going to wield vast influence in the Orient, we can see that Churchill has in mind. Also one might make the observation that if India's interests seem to her to lie with England, then Hindustan will remain within the commonwealth. If she thinks she belongs exclusively in an Asiatic bloc—not unlikely, dominated by Soviet Russia—then the British empire will be the loser.

Field Day

(Continued From Page 1) buns and coffee. After an estimated three-quarters of the crowd were supplied and comfortably seated it began to rain. This time in earnest. Men scurried hither and yon seeking to find a dry spot only to discover that the wind was lifting the rain and throwing it out instead of letting it come down straight. Buns were soaked. Steaming hot meat and beans cooled off in a matter of seconds, and the coffee became diluted in the cup with sky juice. The crowd held throughout the meal in the downpour, but dispersed quickly after dinner when the program was read to resume. Several talks, muffled by the wind and rain, were given before the remainder of the party visited the stock pens.

Here they were shown several small herds fed on different grasses and mixtures of grasses. These demonstrations were accompanied by the history of each group of cattle including the weight gained from start to completion of the experiments.

Some of the groups showed good increases while others showed fair increases and still others made very little impression on either the experimenters or the cattlemen.

At the close of the demonstration the last group of cattle was put through the dining tent, one of the most uncomfortable parts of a cow's short life.

Some of the outstanding results of the technical work deals with the seeding of pasture grasses on cultivated land. One of the best methods of seeding is by mowing, spraying of cattle with DDT to control flies, and the feeding of cattle on the various grasses.

It was pointed out that cattle fed on native sand love grass did not increase in weight as much as those fed on alfalfa. Cattle that grazed on the weeping love grass produced only 82 pounds of beef per acre. Cattle that were grazed on a mixture of winter and summer grass produced 84 pounds of beef as compared to those grazed on native range gained 42 pounds of beef per acre.

The experimenters told the group that the weeping love grass did not do as well as the others, but that the weeping love grass can produce enough food to graze twice the amount of cattle that had been used on it. The sand love grass could have been stocked 25 to 50 percent better than it had been.

It was also shown that cattle grazed on native sandy range where the grass was mowed gained 89 pounds of beef as compared to the 47 pounds gain on untreated pasture.

Spraying cattle with DDT also aided in the weight gaining. Those sprayed once a month gained 27 pounds more per head than those that were not similarly treated against flies.

Prior to the demonstration a new weed mower was demonstrated by the range hands. This machine was built on the range and tore up weeds as readily as brush in quick order without disturbing the feeding grass.

At the close of the day-long demonstration the cars, buses and pick-up trucks pulled out in various directions for home. Throughout the tour autos and some pick-up trucks had to pull to the side of the road from breakdowns, flats or overheated motors. The cavalcade was escorted from start to finish by Oklahoma state police and county sheriff office attendants.

Those attending from the Pampa district were Willis Price, H. L. Ledrick and Quentin Williams, district conservator.

Weather conditions prevented many from attending the session, including local ranchers.

Court Term

(Continued From Page 1) It then was reduced to seven by the death of Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone in April.

When the tribunal recessed for the summer it had left undecided 21 cases, many of them involving highly complex legal issues.

After today's opening remony, the justices will hold several closed conferences this week to decide which cases filed during the summer will be reviewed and which will be thrown out. Stacks of petitions outlining about 500 new cases confront them.

Announcement of the decisions on some of the petitions will be made October 14. The same day the court will begin hearing rearguments in the cases held over from last term.

Reserve Officers To Hold Meeting

All Reserve and AUS officers are requested to attend a meeting at the Palm Room of the city hall at 8 Tuesday evening, October 8, for the purpose of organizing a local chapter.

Colonel Blaucher S. Tharp, PA, instructor of the Amarillo Military district, will attend this meeting to help the Pampa chapter get organized.

Wearing the uniform at this meeting is considered appropriate and usual, although not obligatory.

A school for winerygrowers was established at the University of California 75 years ago.

Local Rains

(Continued From Page 1) in use in the basement of the post office since Friday night to keep water from damaging supplies there. Duemel-Carmichael funeral home also reported this morning that the firm's below their building at the corner Frost and Browning had been damaged. The building has no basement, the floor furnace being set in an excavation under the building.

Roads around Pampa, including paved highways, were reported to be covered with water in some sections. The highway to Wheeler was reported to be under water in several places while a thin layer of water covered the ground near Pampa army air field.

Little or no damage to communication lines belonging to the Southwestern Public Service company was reported. Joe Key, local manager, said a few difficulties had been reported locally in the last few days but they had all been cleared up.

Telephone operators of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company were said to be "swamped" with calls this morning, some of them trouble probably being due to connection difficulties caused by the dampness.

The Borger Daily Herald reported this morning that no high water had been noticed there although the city has received nearly six and one-half inches of rain since last Thursday. The Canadian river was hardly above normal at the bridge between Borger and Stimmett.

Elsewhere, according to the Associated Press, Crosbyton, 30 miles east of Lubbock, reported the heaviest rain, seven inches Saturday and Sunday while nearby Ralls received four and one-half and Lubbock received nearly the same amount up to 10 o'clock this morning.

Rural road traffic all over the Plains was virtually at a standstill and some streets in small towns were turned into lakes. (At Pampa, opening of district court was postponed due to the inability of jurors living outside the city to "make it in".)

Cooler weather for most of West Texas is forecast for tomorrow with a cold wave moving in on the South Plains and general cloudiness and scattered showers predicted for the entire area extending as far south as El Paso.

Dalhart reported the lowest temperature last night, registering a low of 41, while Amarillo and Miami had 44 and Pampa 45.

The cold wave brought a 10-inch snowfall at Landers, Wyoming, with snow also reported at Denver and Colorado Springs in the Pikes Peak region. The western portions of the Dakotas also reported snow.

Balmi Florida was in for a hurricane that is expected to strike the tip of the state near midnight tonight. The storm lashed the western end of Cuba last night.

Fire Prevention

(Continued From Page 1) old ones. In the time to stamp out structural hazards that take such a high toll of life and property by insisting on fire-resistant materials and construction.

This year, more than ever before, NHA and all construction programs are pushing the fire prevention program. At this time, when there is such an acute shortage of both housing facilities and building materials, the growing fire loss must be controlled.

In 1945, a time of widespread material shortages and world-wide demand for food, fire destroyed property valued at more than $484,000,000 in the U. S. Judging from the pace set so far this year, NFA has estimated the toll may reach the all time new high of $590,000,000.

Now is the time for each individual to educate himself as to the proper means of fire prevention and to remind himself constantly to practice procedure he has learned.

District Court Is Again Delayed

Once again district court was delayed for another week this time because of a lack of jurors reporting for duty.

Of the 45 jurors subpoenaed only 17 were in court this morning for roll call, and according to state law court cannot proceed unless an actual count of 32 jurors are present for duty.

Judge W. R. Ewing in addressing the jury expressed displeasure at Pampa residents who did not show up for duty. The judge however did excuse those living out in the country or in neighboring towns who were unable to get over impassable roads.

The judge did not discharge the jury, but ordered them to reappear at 10 p. m. Monday, October 14.

Negro Is Being Held On Assault Charge

Rodger Haynes, Negro, Pampa was picked up early Sunday morning by city police and placed in jail on charges of assault following a disturbance in the flats.

Haynes, in a scuffle of cutting Sam Ware, Negro on the shoulder, near the throat and along the left cheek with a razor.

According to Ware, who was questioned by officials, Haynes came up in back of him and reached over his shoulder and lashed him several times. Ware would give no motive to investigating authorities for his being attacked.

The fracas, according to the district attorney, Walter Rodgers, occurred in Sweet Dick's place in the flats.

Ware was brought in to the sheriff's office this morning with heavy bandages around his face and neck. He is employed at a local service station.

Money Taken From Grocery in Lefors

Guthrie said the screen of a window at the store had been ripped open, the window itself jimmied open by the thief or thieves to gain entrance to the building. He added that several suspects will be picked up later for investigation.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By JAMES DEVLIN ESSEN, Germany—(P)—The Krupp munitions family, like thousands of other German families, now is scattered by death, illness and the aftermath of war.

It was different in the summer of 1930 when nine members of the Krupp family posed for a huge oil portrait that reflected unity, security and wealth.

The canvas, 10 feet high and 18 feet wide, still hangs in the Krupp estate, Villa Hugel, now occupied by British authorities in charge of Ruhr coal.

Berthold, third son, then about college age, wearing a dark coat and flannel trousers, standing with his arms reclining on the back of a chair—now living in Austria.

Alfred, eldest son, seated on the arm of the chair, dressed in a gray business suit with black and red stripes—director of the Krupp works in Essen, he was arrested at Villa Hugel when American troops took the town shortly before the war ended. Disposition of his case still is to be determined.

Harald, fourth son, then about high school age, wearing sports clothes with a fawn colored sweater and white sport shirt—captured by the Russians at Bucharest.

Waltraut, youngest daughter, a child of about 12 with blonde curls, wearing a pink dress with white collar, white socks and black leather slippers—married to a wool merchant.

Eckbert, youngest son, about 10 years old, dressed in a white Eaton type suit with white socks and low black shoes—killed in Italy in April, 1945, while serving with the German army.

Bertha, the mother, seated in a chair, wearing a blue dinner dress, pearls and a white shawl over her shoulders, and holding the youngest boy's hand—living in Austria.

Gustav, the father, and head of the once-powerful Krupp dynasty. He looks the part of a big industrialist. A man with steel gray hair, ruddy complexion and alert expression, he stands, in morning attire with winged collar, behind his wife. He was saved by illness from going over to the British in 1918. He was one of the Nazi leaders at Nuerenberg. Depending on his recovery he still faces the possibility of being tried for his share in arming Germany.

Claus, another son, seated in a tan business suit—killed in air accident in 1939.

In brief, most of the male members of the family encountered disasters of one kind or another.

Hurricane

The storm gained in speed from 15 miles an hour yesterday to 15 to 18 miles an hour as it approached Florida today.

As the storm approached, Floridians recalled the state's past disastrous hurricanes.

The 1926 storm hit the Miami area and crossed the state in the Lake Okechobee region, killing 450 and injuring 6,000. Some 18,000 were left homeless. Property damage in the Miami area alone was about $75,000,000, and elsewhere, $30,000,000.

Two years later another big storm roared into Florida at Palm Beach and swept across the Everglades. More than 2,500 were killed as dikes holding back Lake Okechobee broke, allowing the waters to sweep on unsuspecting laborers in the rich vegetable country. The damage was estimated at $75,000,000.

A 1935 storm of small diameter ripped through the Florida keys killing 500 persons, many of whom were World War I veterans building the old sections of the overseas highway.

As the storm approached the Florida keys, a fleet of Red Cross trucks, escorted by state highway patrolmen, rumbled over the overseas highway to bring out all who cared to leave their island homes for shelter in either Miami or Key West.

Residents of Key West and Fort Myers braced for the blow. Disaster and relief workers were alerted.

Others in the southern sector of the neckless islands stretching southward from mainland to Key West were instructed to secure their homes and boats and board busses for city shelters.

The storm center was 140 miles southwest of Havana at midnight with winds of 60 miles an hour at Dry Tortugas, a group of 10 coral islets 68 miles west of Key West.

At that time the Cuban town of San Julian was being buffeted by 112 mile winds.

W. O. Johnson, federal storm forecaster, urged the more populous areas of the rich "Gold Coast" from Miami northward and the West Coast above Fort Myers to remain on the alert.

Ominous black and red hurricane warning flags flapped over the area from Key Largo, 40 miles south of Miami, to Key West, and along the Florida West Coast to Fort Myers.

Army and navy establishments cancelled liberty and shore leave

For all personnel and began an emergency alert.

Dozens of airplanes flew northward to escape the storm, and two blimps hurried from the Key West naval air station to Glynnco, Ga., to seek haven.

Small boat owners headed for protected coves and rivers. Pan-American Airways cancelled all its Clipper flights to Havana, Guatemala and Merida, Yucatan, but its longer range schedules—the Panama Canal Zone and South America—departed on schedule and sped around the hurricane.

It was the first real hurricane threat to the Florida peninsula since the beginning of the storm season in August.
