

BABSON GIVES IMPRESSION OF NEW YEAR

Business and Financial Outlook for 1947

1. One great event of 1947 will be a beginning of a movement of population from the big coastal cities to the small interior cities, unless definite steps are taken for world disarmament.

2. A year ago the U. S. Babson chart registered 190. Today it is estimated at 160. The Canadian Babson chart registered 190 a year ago. Today it is estimated at 124. Some charts during 1947 these charts will register higher figures.

3. Reconversion of industry from war to peace has been completed although the great government surplus has not yet been disposed of. Leaving much more to be sold in 1947.

4. Inventories, quoted both at their price values and their volumes, will increase during 1947. Both raw material piles and manufactured goods will be in greater supply in 1947.

5. Some rationing and priorities may continue into 1947; but both will rapidly be eliminated. Government regulations will gradually be lessened. World War II will officially be ended.

6. The retail prices of most manufactured products will be higher sometime during 1947 than at present. The prices of some of the food products may decline.

7. The unit sales of some department stores will begin to decline sometime during 1947; but the sales of food and variety chains may continue at peak figures.

8. The great question mark of 1947 will be how labor is to behave. Higher wage rates and less production per man inevitably mean higher prices.

9. Pending a weather upset, more bushels of corn and wheat and of some other products will be raised in 1947 than ever before in our history. Although some prices may slide off, the total farm income for 1947 should hold up fairly well. But farmers should diversify more in 1947.

10. There should be an increase in certain fruits, fish products and vegetables with a decline in prices. The United States will have more to eat in 1947 than in 1946, probably 10 percent over the prewar level.

11. Dairy and poultry products will continue to increase in volume with no increase in prices, but fat, sugar and some canned goods will continue short.

12. Farmers will start in 1947 to work to extend legislation on their war program due to fear of a collapse in farm prices.

TAXES

13. Taxes will not be increased during 1947; and there should be further reductions. More nuisance taxes may be eliminated altogether.

14. The federal debt will be decreased during 1947 and the federal budget may be balanced by June 30, 1948.

15. The cost of living will continue to rise during 1947 due largely to the lack of interest in their work by so many wage-workers.

16. Providing jobs for returning soldiers at satisfactory wages will be a big political task of 1947. There should be jobs for all, but not at the wages desired.

RETAIL SALES

17. The total volume of all retail sales will be the same as in 1946. Poor quality goods will suffer, but many items now unavailable will be purchased.

18. The total dollar value of all retail sales should exceed 1945 with an increased demand for women and cotton textiles.

19. There will be a continued demand for men's clothing and especially for shirts and underwear.

20. Wise shoppers will buy only what they need and not grab to stock up on goods not absolutely required.

FOREIGN TRADE

21. The United States will own over 50 percent of the world's shipping in 1947 and foreign trade will increase.

22. We will continue our policy of making foreign loans, provided the borrowers will agree to spend a fair proportion of the money in America.

23. Both the British Empire and Russia will keenly compete for foreign trade during 1947; but cartels and government monopolies will be frowned upon.

24. Throughout 1947 war talk will continue, the thought being that, sooner or later, England—who truly is in a "terrible predicament"—will "shoot" to stop further Russian aggression.

25. Even President Truman's "eighteen and one-half cents" will be forgotten during 1947. The year will be noted for threatened strikes and labor disturbances.

26. Industrial employment during 1947 could be up both in hours and in pay rolls, labor leaders' discouraging attitude notwithstanding.

27. Many industries, now operating on a forty-hour week, will return to a longer week during 1947. There will be no wage reductions and some further advances.

28. The government will try to demand better management and closer labor-management relations. Such prospects are not bright for 1947; but Congress will repeal or amend some of the present labor laws which are very unfair to management.

INFLATION

29. The Inflation Era, which we have been forecasting for several years, will be in full swing; but the reckless printing of currency will not come until after 1950. The purchasing power of the dollar will continue to decline.

30. All 1947 wage increases will be distinctly inflationary.

31. Sometime during 1947 production in many lines will have caught up with consumption, people will have spent their savings and then there will be a surplus of goods.

32. If Stalin's health continues good, he will be the world's most powerful man in 1947, even from an economic standpoint.

STOCK MARKET

33. The rails may suffer still further declines sometime during 1947. Certain industrial manufacturing and other war stocks will further decline during 1947, but the Dow-Jones Industrial average will register higher prices sometime during 1947 than the December, 1946, averages. All depends upon how labor behaves in America and how Russia behaves abroad and upon what the United Nations do as to disarmament.

34. The safest stocks to buy—considering value, income and safety—will continue to be "chain-store" and "recreation" stocks.

35. 1945 saw a large decline in certain stocks compared with the averages. Something will be the out-coming market feature during 1947. Especially watch for bargains in airline stocks.

36. The stock market will continue to witness creeping general inflation and no evidence yet exists as to whether the "communist break" in 1946 was the beginning of a real bear market or only a reaction of a bull market.

BONDS

37. Although bank loaning rates should continue a slowly upward tendency, interest rates in general will remain low through 1947. The money supply is now 25 percent above normal and government financing demands continued low rates.

38. Anticipating an expected reduction in federal taxes, 1947 should see a further falling off in the prices of most municipal and other tax-exempt bonds.

39. Some high-grade corporation bonds may hold steady, but sooner or later will decline considerably. The federal government's 2 1/2's, which once sold above 100, will sell down to par or new 2 1/2's will be offered at par. Investors will give more attention to diversification and staggered maturities during 1947.

40. More public utilities will be taken over by federal and other

STATE BRIEFS

Mex. Cattle Stopped

LAREDO, Texas—(AP)—Several hundred head of Mexican cattle awaiting shipment into the United States from Mexican border points were caught by Thursday's government order halting such importations. U. S. Department of Agriculture officials have revealed.

Approximately 500 head were waiting importation from Nuevo Laredo and another 400 at Eagle Pass.

At El Paso, approximately 1,800 were moved across the border from Juarez on Thursday shortly before the ban went into effect. Dr. John Redmond, inspector of the Bureau of Animal Husbandry office there, said.

Vote Out Constables

MARSHALL, Texas—(AP)—The Harrison county grand jury has recommended to Judge W. H. Strengh of 74th District Court that the 50th Legislature submit to a state-wide vote a constitutional amendment proposing abolishment of the office of constable in Texas.

The jury called for abolition of the office and action to curb certain alleged practices which the group's report to the court said have been called to the grand jury's attention. The report was signed by all members of the jury.

DALLAS—(AP)—Police Chief Carl Hanson Friday night told the newly organized Dallas Crime Commission that a reactivation of the old Al Capone gang of Chicago has been trying to establish a gambling syndicate already has entered Dallas in the liquor business and to some extent in the operation of slot machines.

The commission adopted a resolution approving Hanson's recent announcement that future law enforcement against gambling and other crimes would be strict.

Labor Leader Resigns

HOUSTON, Texas—(AP)—B. F. McClellan, president of the Texas State Federation of Labor since last June, announced yesterday his resignation to become vice-president of the Operative Plasterers and Cement Finishers International Union, effective January 4.

A meeting of the state executive board has been called to meet in Austin that day, McClellan said, to select a president for the unexpired term.

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Maury Maverick, former mayor and congressman, arrived here Friday by plane from Los Angeles to visit his father, Albert Maverick Sr., 92, who is seriously ill at his nearby ranch home. During the war he was head of the Smaller War Plants corporation and since then has been practicing law in California.

Mitchell told the conference,

Panthers Capture Car

EL PASO, Texas—(AP)—Three panthers Friday night held undisputed possession of a railway express car while officials of the Texas and Pacific railroad and local police left them strictly alone and awaited the arrival of a Dallas animal trainer—who, it was hoped, would have some influence with the wayward animals.

The panthers, being shipped from Dallas to Camarillo, Calif., chewed their way out of a cage in the car yesterday as the train neared Spring, Tex. Since being discovered out of their cage by H. Cooper, baggage man, the animals have provided the railroad car—alone and behind locked doors.

Noble Hamiter of Dallas, shipper of the panthers and their trainer, was to have left Dallas late Friday night by plane to come here to supervise the capture of the animals. Word that he was enroute here came as police, aided by a veteran lion tamer, Raymond Hathaway of El Paso, were completing preparations to enter the express car. They were armed with gas and riot guns. The group decided to await the trainer's arrival and ordered the car shunted to a rail siding near the night.

The panthers were being shipped to the Louis Gosbel wild animal farm at Camarillo.

Deaf, Dumb Man, Blinded Last May, Made to See Again This Christmas

BROWNWOOD—(AP)—By the Grace of God and the skill of a surgeon, Joseph S. Dewees, 65, Brownwood, had a good reason to be merry this Christmas. He can see again. Unable to hear or speak, the old man was also blinded last May when a boy tossed a firecracker at him. Since then his only communication with others was through the sense of touch.

Joseph F. Dewees

He told about it in a written interview, when he visited offices of the Brownwood Bulletin. Answering typewritten questions in long-hand, in the peculiar wording of one who has never spoken or heard a sound, Dewees wrote: "They say me that any doctors can't cure any blind people. "A great many people thought I can't see again. They think it is wonderful that I can see again. "I am in good health and a strong man. I go streets and meet people. They were very much surprised to meet me. "I am very glad to see people again."

Dewees wrote that he was blinded by a firecracker tossed by a boy in a town near Temple, Texas, last May. His plight was brought to the attention of Brownwood Police Chief M. D. Eldson when Eldson found that there was no one to care for Dewees and no agency could assume responsibility for his care on grounds that he was not proved to be a Texan. Eldson called in a reporter for the Brownwood Bulletin. The Bulletin started a fund with a donation to care for Dewees. People all over Texas sent in donations to the fund, which reached a total of $335.

Then things began to happen. Dewees was taken to a Brownwood eye specialist, who decided that an operation might restore sight. The Brownwood Lions Club sight conservation committee became official sponsor of efforts to restore Dewees' vision. The operation was successful. Slowly the sight came back to his right eye. Joe Dewees can see again, and Joe is very happy.

Show to Benefit Paralysis Drive

DALLAS—Made-in-Dallas fashion, Hollywood celebrities, Frankie Master's big-name band and a dinner will share billing at an entertainment announced for January 21 in the Adolphus Hotel, by the Dallas Fashion Group, regional organization of the New York Fashion Group, Inc. Called "March of Fashions for the March of Dimes," the program will be staged for the benefit of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Net profits from the sale of $12.50 per person tickets will go to the foundation's work. Reservations have already been made by many of the Southwestern buyers, who will be in the Dallas fashion market for the January openings, and by the public. This will be the first large-scale showing of men's, women's and children's apparel manufactured in the South-west's biggest fashion market since Pearl Harbor.

In Hollywood

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—New York bobbers, reportedly banned by Frank Sinatra from his radio studio audience because of "unnecessary rowdiness," have a friend in Glenn Ford, recently voted "man of the year" by the Bobby Soxers of America. "How," says Glenn, "can Frank Sinatra turn his back on the kids who have adored him so much and have spent so much of their personal time trying to prove it? Are we actors in danger of forgetting that the public gave us our break? Let's give them a break, too. "If you just talk to these kids and ask them to go easy, they'll co-operate. They're not nitwits." Bill (Hopalong Cassidy) Boyd, just returned from personal appearances in New York, said he encountered no difficulties with the New York soxers. He would have been a good President Truman, with Art Baker replacing him. And Edward Erie has replaced Harry Carey in the role of the President's secretary, Charley Ross.

Hedy LaMarr's suit against producer Arnold Pressburger, seeking declaratory relief from a film contract, has more to it than meets the eye. Hedy wants to be completely discharged from contract because she is expecting a baby—and contends the act of God frees her from fulfilling the contract now or at any time. There's more than just a success target, too, wearing a white 10-gallon hat. END OF "THE BEGINNING" MGM is having more trouble with the President Truman sequence in the atom bomb picture, "The Beginning or the End."

Two weeks ago President Truman himself requested some changes. Apparently it was more than just a few minor changes. Actor Roman Bohlen is out as story, too, in the Hollywood stage show "Blackouts," starring Ken Murray.

Five years ago Ken couldn't get a job in Hollywood. Hollywood said he was washed up. So he invested $200 in a stage show, helped put it together, became its master of ceremonies, and called it "Blackouts." The show is still running and has grossed $3 1/2 million.

Ken is laughing at Hollywood. END OF THE LINE Bob Preston will soon get a big starring film at Paramount, as a result of his work in Producer Ben Bozeman's "The Macomber Affair."

Before the war, Bob, who served four years, got all the scripts Fred Macchurray and Ray Milland turned down. He told us: "Fred turned down a script and passed it to Milland. Milland turned it down and passed it to me. But I didn't have anyone to pass it to."

Every big name in Hollywood turned out for the dinner dance and preview of Frank Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life." Jimmy Stewart's first postwar movie. But the big surprise of the evening was Margaret Sullivan—on Stewart's arm.

Courthouse Cafe Is Specializing In Sirloin Steaks

Striving to offer the residents of Pampa and this trade territory exactly what they want in quality foods, prepared and served in a friendly atmosphere the Court House Cafe is now in the process of remodeling and reorganization. A few months back price controls were in force and meats and many other foods were not available but now the food situation seems to be improving almost daily. In accordance with these better times, Herbert M. Munson, who is now the cafe owner, has projected a complete reorganization of the menu and serving system.

The first step taken was the securing and installation of new sanitation and refrigeration equipment throughout the cafe. A complete observance of sanitary technique in food handling, not just now, but from now on, is the plan at the new Court House Cafe. All of the cafe's waitresses that could be spared attended the recent food handlers school.

Under the new setup the cafe prepares two complete menus each day. During the war most cafes, under the strain of food and labor shortages, prepared only one menu each day and cooked all the food for the whole day's run in the morning. Many cafes are still operating under this plan; but the Court House is now preparing two complete menus each day to assure the customer of more palatable, fresh cooked food.

In addition to its regular meals the cafe specializes in large, tender K. C. sirloin steaks served with a lettuce and tomato salad, fresh cooked french fried potatoes and delicious Folgers coffee. Drop in and try one of these excellent steaks today. Your complete satisfaction is their guarantee.

Good coffee has for many years been an outstanding feature of the Court House Cafe because Folgers has always been used. The serving of good coffee is one policy of the cafe that will not be revised. It will continue as it has in the past.

To assure more prompt and courteous service the serving staff has been increased and under the new booth arrangement more space has been allotted for your comfort.

In order that quality foods are always purchased and to ascertain superior meat preparation at all times, Munson has secured the services of Jack Musgrave, head chef, who has had over 30 years experience as a cook and baker.

The next time you are planning a meal in town eat at the new Court House Cafe located at 121 West Kingsmill. The cafe offers quality food at economical prices served in a friendly, courteous atmosphere designed to please you.

Your Laundry & Dry Cleaners Still Making Improvements

Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners have announced the continuance of their regular three to four day laundry service immediately after the holiday season is past. They will also maintain their usual two day dry cleaning service.

Due to the very heavy rush of cleaning and laundry during Christmas week your Laundry was thrown just a little bit behind their usual schedule, but as soon as the big rush has been taken care of the service will return to its normal speedy service.

Purchased early this year by Steve Matthews and Oran J. Payne, the laundry has shown a steady improvement in service and management. Several new pieces of equipment have recently been added to replace badly worn prewar relics and the new owners have taken every advantage of their customers suggestions in an attempt to improve the service.

The latest problem that has recently confronted the laundry owners was the fact that it was almost impossible to finish shirts as well as they wished and have them stand the rigors of mass delivery service. No matter how excellent the job of starching and ironing the dress shirt was, when it was bundled and wrapped to return to the owner it was often crushed and wrinkled. The customary cardboard collar band simply was not sufficient support to keep the shirt in best shape for delivery. To make matters worse the still severe paper shortage hampered the purchase of almost any new shirt holder. Now Your Laundry has been able to secure a new type cardboard and paper shirt holder. This new holder not only offers support to the collar, but completely covers and protects the whole shirt.

In addition to the service offered individuals Your Laundry offers a complete service to Pampa's commercial establishments. Towels, sheets and all other types of commercial articles are laundered to meet rigid regulation and fulfill even the most strict sanitation requirements. The service is prompt, efficient and economical and special speedy delivery is made on required items.

Your cleaning plant is under the supervision of Ernie Voss, who has had 18 years actual experience in the cleaning and pressing business. The plant is completely equipped with the latest modern cleaning and pressing equipment. For the utmost convenience to the customer Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners maintain a fleet of modern delivery trucks and furnish a prompt, courteous service to and from your door. The telephone number to summon one of the efficient, reliable delivery truck drivers is 675. The outstanding advantage to the customer in calling one of these pickup and delivery trucks is that you can send your Unbeknown to Leeuwenhoek, he had discovered a vicious and unseen world of killers, now known as bacteria, or germs.

The span of time between Leeuwenhoek and Pasteur was almost 200 years. Only an average lifetime has passed since Pasteur's experiments, during which practically all we know about disease and its treatment has been discovered. ## Harvesters Lose in Consolation Round

DALLAS — Pampa's Harvesters, smarting from a 47-22 loss to Crozier Tech, defending state cage champs, lost their "consolation" round game to Forest Avenue High of Dallas in this city's big invitation cage tourney here Friday night, 32-20.

Baylor Defeats Missouri Cagers In Sooner Meet

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Baylor university won the consolation title in the All-College basketball tournament here yesterday, tumbling Missouri 38-31 in a hard-fought battle.

In the other consolation game deciding seventh and eighth places, Tulane university nosed Rice university 60-57 in a hectic see-saw battle that saw the lead change hands several times.

Waxing hot and cold, the Tigers managed to keep up with Baylor, last year's finalist, for the first three-quarters of the contest. However, with James Owens leading the way, the Texans pulled ahead for good in the last six minutes.

Owens topped the scorers with 14 points while Pleasant Smith led Missouri with 12.

Tulane and Rice played evenly at the opening of their contest but toward the end of the first half the Green Wave began to pull away and held a 35-26 edge at intermission.

In Friday's games, the Oklahoma Aggies, defending national champions, marched into the finals of the tournament, by knocking Texas' powerful Longhorns from the unteamed ranks with a thrilling 40-39 victory.

Meeting the Aggies in the finals are the flashy Kansas Jayhawks, who walked past a sluggish Oklahoma university outfit, 51-45, in the semi-finals.

The Aggies met Kansas last night in the second game of a double-header, with Oklahoma and Texas playing the opener for third-place honors.

Eastern Gridders In Secret Work

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The doors were slammed yesterday on the East football team's practice sessions for the annual Shrine game Jan. 1, but a few miles away in quietude fans could get a free look at the West.

Head Coach Homer Norton, leading his Western charges at Menlo Junior College, scoffed at spy scares as he ordered scrimmages with both T formation and single wing offenses.

"We have no spy worries here," said the Texas A. and M. mentor. "Anyone can watch us from the road. Half of the town of Menlo Park is here every practice."

Hubert Bechtel, six foot, two inch end from Texas U., got his 201 pounds into practice for the first time and fitted immediately into the Western offense.

Derby To Be Run for 73rd Time in May

LOUISVILLE (AP)—May 3 is the date for the 1947 Kentucky Derby Col. Matt J. Winn, president of Churchill Downs, announced yesterday.

The Oetogenarian race promoter said this 73rd running of America's biggest turf classic, again will carry an added value of $100,000 the sum which was offered for the first time last May.

Bronchos Edge Tough Thomas Jefferson Gridders, 21-14

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AUSTIN—P—Odessa's battering Bronchos, as hardy as the mesquite that dots their West Texas prairie country, won the state schoolboy football championship here yesterday with a 21-14 decision over Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) in one of the thrillers of Inter-scholastic League history.

The second largest crowd ever to see a schoolboy game in Texas—40,000—thrilled to a battle between a running attack and a passing offensive with the Bronchos, staying on the ground except for four tries, one of which paid off with a touchdown, giving the Jefferson line a beating but almost succumbing to the passing wizardry of Kyle Rote, the Mustangs' great versatile backfield star.

The mighty running of Byron (Santone) Townsend told the story. This spearhead of the Bronchos' close to argue with any of the new for Skip's teams at Boys Town.

The Texas Interscholastic league, however, forbids any of its member teams to play a post-season game, although individual players may do so. With proper rules and regulations set up, this rule could be relaxed for a worthy cause.

Back in 1940, Amarillo's mighty Golden Sandies challenged the powerful Massillon, Ohio, high school team to a battle for the national high school title (mythical) and Ohio boys, who have long dominated Ohio high school football, refused the invitation. They were with a spotless record. Even last season, Highland Park of Dallas was tied in the finals. And it was in that game that the largest crowd ever to see a Texas schoolboy game turned out—49,000 paid and 47,000 actual—in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Odessa and Jefferson played smart football and it was probably the best football as well as the most thrilling game in the 27-year history of the Interscholastic League gridiron plan.

Odessa scored first and never was behind, although the half ended 7-7.

An 84-yard surge brought the initial Broncho score. Even a clipping penalty did not halt the snorting, bucking, crashing West Texans. From their 16-yard line, Townsend, Harvey (Pug) Gabrel and Hady Fry lashed the Jefferson forward wall to bits and roared to a touchdown that Gabrel made in two tries from the Mustang three-yard line.

Jefferson came storming back from the kickoff to sweep 87 yards for a touchdown. Wilbert Heinenman, Rote and big Pat Knight did the carrying and from the Odessa 12-yard stripe, Rote circled right end for the score.

Ralston Chapin swept through to block Townsend's punt just before the half ended and Sonny Payne passed to Chapin for a first down but the great Townsend intercepted a pass from Knight on the next play as the period closed.

Odessa went ahead as it paraded 64 yards to a touchdown from the game with 2:00 left in the second half and Jefferson never could catch up again. The brilliant Gabrel and Townsend blasted the line in an inexorable surge and from the Jefferson 17-yard stripe, Townsend pitched a pass that H. L. (Sonny) Holderman took on the goal line for the score. It had required just 11 plays to get the touchdown.

Odessa won the game deep in the third period after the fleet Fry ran a great punt by Rote to the Jefferson 34. This time Fry, Gabrel, Townsend and Holderman shared honors in the march and from the one-foot line Townsend crunched over tackle for a six-pointer.

The second and final Jefferson touchdown — and the last of the game — was a sensational play. It was just that, a sensational play. Payne took the kick-off back to the Jefferson 45 and Rote threw a pass that Payne gathered in on the Odessa 12-yard line to sprint untouched to the score.

It was a hard-fought, bruising game but fought cleanly all the way. Only three penalties were called and they totaled just 25 yards, all against Odessa. One was for clipping and two for too much time.

It was probably the only schoolboy game of the year in which there wasn't a single fumble recovered by the opposition. Smartly-coached, hard-fighting Bronchos and Mustangs played a game that will stand as a standard for brilliance in schoolboy football annals.

Odessa had a wide edge in the statistics with 230 yards, of which 275 were on the ground. Jefferson got 157, 90 of them in the air. In first downs Odessa led 19-10.

The great Rote turned in a classic punting exhibition with an average of 47.5 yards but Odessa helped itself greatly by its mighty returns. The Bronchos carried back Jefferson kicks 114 yards.

Second to Townsend in ground-gaining for the day was the tough Gabrel who made 73 yards on 18 carries. Knight was next with 39 on seven runs.

Townsend's passing average wasn't so bad when you consider he threw only two. He completed one—and it was for a touchdown.

After the second Jefferson touchdown, the teams fought the rest of the way between the 25-yard lines. Once, early in the fourth period, Jefferson got a good chance for another score when Rote returned a punt to the Jefferson 32 then combined with Rheiner Cody to drive to a first down, after which Rote passed to Knight for eight yards and "personally" plowed the line to the Odessa 47. Knight made two yards and Rote passed to Payne who fumbled but Ralston Chapin recovered on the Odessa 30-yard line. But Odessa threw up a stone wall and took over at its 27.

Odessa held on to the ball until

Gilmer Sparks Rebs To Win Over North

By CHICO HOSCH
MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Harry Gilmer, Alabama's All-Southeastern conference halfback, pitched the Rebels to a 20-13 victory over the northern eleven yesterday in the ninth renewal of the North-South football classic to the delight of 22,500.

The elusive little star threw a 41-yard scoring strike to Duke's Kelly Mote in the final period to clinch the Rebel's 5th victory of the series. He had set up the winning score with a pass interception late in the third period, and prior to that had stood out, defensively as well as offensively.

The South scored on drives of 35 yards, 30 yards and 52 yards, while the North registered on a 50 yard effort, which left the score tied 7-7 at the half, and on a 17-yard movement for the event's final points with two minutes to play.

Shorty McWilliams, Mississippi State's great halfback, scored by Rebel's first two touchdowns, on a 16-yard end run in the opening period, and the second on a one-foot plunge early in the fourth quarter.

The announcement was made at a news conference attended by James Crowley, All-America commissioner, and Robert D. Rodenberg of Washington, who was awarded the franchise at a figure of "around $100,000."

The announcement was made at a news conference attended by James Crowley, All-America commissioner, and Robert D. Rodenberg of Washington, who was awarded the franchise at a figure of "around $100,000."

El Paso Awarded Coaching School

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas High School Coaches Association, largest organization of its kind in the world, will go to El Paso next year for its annual coaching school.

The board of directors, meeting here Friday, selected the border city from three bids. San Antonio and Houston also sought the school.

El Paso presented an active bid for the 1946 coaching school held at Corpus Christi.

It will be the first time for the clinic to go that far West.

Harold Dement of Galena Park, president of the association, said instructors for the school also were considered and a list prepared but that none of the men had been contacted and no announcement would be made until they are.

The school, which attracts hundreds of coaches and athletic directors, features football, basketball and track and it is likely baseball will be added to the curriculum next year.

Scott's Scrap Book

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
It's a little late in the day, but Odessa's victory over Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio for the state high gridiron brings to mind that a match between the Bronchos and Skip Palrang's great unbeaten eleven at Boys Town, Nebraska, would be a wonderful sight to see.

Palrang is a former "formation" coach, which Odessa used to perfection this year, piloted his 1946 team to the Nebraska prep title (13 games in all) without tasting anything close to argue with any of the new for Skip's teams at Boys Town.

The Texas Interscholastic league, however, forbids any of its member teams to play a post-season game, although individual players may do so. With proper rules and regulations set up, this rule could be relaxed for a worthy cause.

Back in 1940, Amarillo's mighty Golden Sandies challenged the powerful Massillon, Ohio, high school team to a battle for the national high school title (mythical) and Ohio boys, who have long dominated Ohio high school football, refused the invitation. They were with a spotless record. Even last season, Highland Park of Dallas was tied in the finals. And it was in that game that the largest crowd ever to see a Texas schoolboy game turned out—49,000 paid and 47,000 actual—in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

Odessa and Jefferson played smart football and it was probably the best football as well as the most thrilling game in the 27-year history of the Interscholastic League gridiron plan.

Odessa scored first and never was behind, although the half ended 7-7.

An 84-yard surge brought the initial Broncho score. Even a clipping penalty did not halt the snorting, bucking, crashing West Texans. From their 16-yard line, Townsend, Harvey (Pug) Gabrel and Hady Fry lashed the Jefferson forward wall to bits and roared to a touchdown that Gabrel made in two tries from the Mustang three-yard line.

Jefferson came storming back from the kickoff to sweep 87 yards for a touchdown. Wilbert Heinenman, Rote and big Pat Knight did the carrying and from the Odessa 12-yard stripe, Rote circled right end for the score.

Ralston Chapin swept through to block Townsend's punt just before the half ended and Sonny Payne passed to Chapin for a first down but the great Townsend intercepted a pass from Knight on the next play as the period closed.

Odessa went ahead as it paraded 64 yards to a touchdown from the game with 2:00 left in the second half and Jefferson never could catch up again. The brilliant Gabrel and Townsend blasted the line in an inexorable surge and from the Jefferson 17-yard stripe, Townsend pitched a pass that H. L. (Sonny) Holderman took on the goal line for the score. It had required just 11 plays to get the touchdown.

Odessa won the game deep in the third period after the fleet Fry ran a great punt by Rote to the Jefferson 34. This time Fry, Gabrel, Townsend and Holderman shared honors in the march and from the one-foot line Townsend crunched over tackle for a six-pointer.

The second and final Jefferson touchdown — and the last of the game — was a sensational play. It was just that, a sensational play. Payne took the kick-off back to the Jefferson 45 and Rote threw a pass that Payne gathered in on the Odessa 12-yard line to sprint untouched to the score.

It was a hard-fought, bruising game but fought cleanly all the way. Only three penalties were called and they totaled just 25 yards, all against Odessa. One was for clipping and two for too much time.

It was probably the only schoolboy game of the year in which there wasn't a single fumble recovered by the opposition. Smartly-coached, hard-fighting Bronchos and Mustangs played a game that will stand as a standard for brilliance in schoolboy football annals.

Odessa had a wide edge in the statistics with 230 yards, of which 275 were on the ground. Jefferson got 157, 90 of them in the air. In first downs Odessa led 19-10.

The great Rote turned in a classic punting exhibition with an average of 47.5 yards but Odessa helped itself greatly by its mighty returns. The Bronchos carried back Jefferson kicks 114 yards.

Second to Townsend in ground-gaining for the day was the tough Gabrel who made 73 yards on 18 carries. Knight was next with 39 on seven runs.

Townsend's passing average wasn't so bad when you consider he threw only two. He completed one—and it was for a touchdown.

After the second Jefferson touchdown, the teams fought the rest of the way between the 25-yard lines. Once, early in the fourth period, Jefferson got a good chance for another score when Rote returned a punt to the Jefferson 32 then combined with Rheiner Cody to drive to a first down, after which Rote passed to Knight for eight yards and "personally" plowed the line to the Odessa 47. Knight made two yards and Rote passed to Payne who fumbled but Ralston Chapin recovered on the Odessa 30-yard line. But Odessa threw up a stone wall and took over at its 27.

Odessa held on to the ball until

'The Shining Hour' To Be Next West Theatre Production

"The Shining Hour," a three-act play by Keith Winter, will be the second production of the West Theatre, local repertory group headed by Charles Thomas and Leslie Walter.
 Opening in Canadian Jan. 14, the production will go on a tour that will include seven Texas Panhandle cities and towns and several more in Oklahoma.

The local production, scheduled for Jan. 20 and 21 at the Junior High Auditorium, will be sponsored by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, with the Jaycee share of the proceeds going toward a community center fund.

The theatre group recently finished a tour featuring the play, "The Second Man."
 Miss Ruth Wilcox, veteran Broadway actress and dancer, recently joined the group and will direct the coming production, Thomas said yesterday.

He also announced that Larry C. McMurtry, Pampa, former army colonel had joined the group as business manager.
 A "preeminently human" type of play, "The Shining Hour" centers around the lives of the Linden family and its marital troubles. The story develops after Henry Linden brings home his English bride and the ensuing troubles, building up to an emotional climax, nearly wreck the family.

The cast will include Ida Obers, Loretta Hunt, Leslie Walter, Stueck Germain, Ethel Korosy and Charles Thomas.
 The schedule of the tour includes: Canadian, Jan. 14; Shamrock, Jan. 15; Wellington, Jan. 17; Pampa, Jan. 20 and 21; Berger, Jan. 22 and 23; and Dumas, Jan. 24.

 labor views than the new Republicans.

However, Senator Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla.) has declared himself in favor of effective government machinery to prevent strikes in vital industries. Senator John J. Sparkman (D-La.) indicated his views on the labor question by a vote in the House to over-ride the late President Roosevelt's veto of the Smith-Connally Act, which organized labor opposed.

Senator-elect Edward J. Thye (R-Minn.) is expected by friends to share in part the views of former Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota on the labor question. Stassen has called for revision of the Wagner Act to label and forbid a set of unfair practices for labor unions such as mass picketing.
 Here, in brief, are views of some of the other new senators:

William E. Jenner (R-Ind.)—Spoke against pressure groups during campaign and urged organized labor to abandon attempts to purge legislators who do not always follow its dictates in voting.

Harry P. Cain (R-Wash.)—Called for revision of Wagner Act to equalize bargaining powers.

Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah)—Declared for "tightened" controls and long range labor legislation.

George W. Malone (R-Nev.)—Asserted that "unrestrained collective bargaining between labor and management, with mutual responsibility, with the right to strike unimpeded, represents the best method of approach."
 Thomas Edison invented the talking machine when he was 30 years of age.

Republicans

 the role of speaker without opposition.

But a four-cornered fight for the Republican House leadership awaits Thursday's party meeting. Rep. Haleck (R-Ind.) with the blessing of Dewey, apparently holds the edge.
 Chief opposition to Dewey has rallied behind Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio) who has declared himself "available" for the post. The other candidates are Reps. Dirksen (R-Ill.) and Jenkins (R-Ohio).

Over southern opposition, Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts seems assured of the post of Democratic floor leader. Retiring Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) is supporting him.
 The opening session of the 80th Congress Friday will be routine. The members will get down to work the following week on one of the most important peacetime programs in history.

Youths Charged

 Craig was in Gray County jail at the age of 13 and was released to his mother on Christmas Day of 1944.

Hill added that at that time Craig and two other boys were picked up on charges of forcing entry into the Phillips Service Station and the Alamo Service Station on S. Cuyler St., and the Tom Rose Ford Co., where they had taken a quantity of gas.

The members will get down to work the following week on one of the most important peacetime programs in history.

Hill gave O'Pry's address as 307 Robinson St., Amarillo, and Craig's as 1606 Buchanan St., Amarillo. Craig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Smith Craig, Amarillo.
 James Boyd Wilde, another member of the gang, was removed from city jail in Amarillo earlier last week by authorities. He, too, was in on the hold up of the Coffee Cup Cafe at Happy, but only had charges of auto theft lodged against him here.

Three other boys connected with O'Pry and Craig were picked up in other cities, according to Chief of Police Louie Allen Saturday. Allen stated that the names of the other boys were not given him by officers.

Texan Not Listed Among Heroes Who Raised Iwo Flag

PHOENIX, Ariz., (AP)—Ira Hayes, Pima Indian and former marine who participated in the historic flag-raising on Iwo Jima, insists there was a mistake in the official identification of one of the six men who hoisted the stars and stripes on Mt. Suribachi.
 He said his buddy, Corp. Harlan H. Block of Weslaco, Tex., was not included in the list of names announced as the flag-raisers.

Hayes told his story to Lt. Col. Alan H. Suttler, who came here from Washington, D. C., to investigate the reported mistaken identification.
 The Indian marine said he had attempted to right the purported identity error on several occasions without success, and had advised Block's mother, Mrs. E. F. Block of Weslaco, that her son was with him on Mt. Suribachi.
 Block and the man who Hayes says was listed in his place are dead.

Even so, the identification should be correct, Hayes maintains because "it's not fair to my buddy."

Bilbo Probe

 "Ital matter," Ferguson said, "and the Senate should not let anyone take the oath of office if it has knowledge of facts that should prevent him from serving."
 The Michigan senator said that Bilbo "should be instructed to stand aside" on Friday when 34 senators take their oath.

Other Bilbo opponents have suggested that Bilbo be allowed to take his oath so that the Senate will not become involved in a controversy before it is fully organized.

Involved in this strategy is a parliamentary question as to whether a simple majority of votes is sufficient to keep Bilbo out or a two-thirds majority will be required to oust him if he is allowed to take his oath.
 Ferguson said "the two-thirds question will not be involved because on Jan. 3 Bilbo will not be a senator."

Plane Crash

 guson, 25, a native of Dell Rapids, South Dakota, and former De Pauw University student, now living in Jackson Heights, N. Y.

She dragged unconscious persons away from the fire, bandaged wounds and directed the rescuers when they came. She worked on despite a wrenched knee.
 She collapsed as she was being taken to an ambulance.

Miss Ferguson and the passengers had no inkling that anything was wrong as the plane prepared to land in a fog and drizzle.
 "I had just told the passengers to fasten their safety belts for the landing," she said. "Then we crashed without a moment's warning."

Flight Service Officer Joseph Logan of Atlantic City, N. J., who also played a conspicuous role in the rescue work, said last night from his bed in St. John's Hospital in Limerick:

"Miss Ferguson and I and one passenger were still strapped in our seats when I recovered consciousness. We crawled out of the broken end of the fuselage.
 "It seemed like hours before we saw the first flashlight of those coming to our help across the bog."
 The rescuers had to "flounder" waist-deep in mud to reach flat-bottomed swamp boats, on which the victims were placed and ferried across the river to waiting ambulances a half mile away.

PANHANDLE BRIEFS

J. R. Porter, president of the Clarendon school board, announced last week that over three thousand dollars had been raised through voluntary contributions in order to keep the Clarendon schools in operation throughout the remainder of the school year.

A meeting of the school board was held recently at which time it was voted to give the teachers the $20 per month raise, and in turn the teachers were notified. This settled the salary question as far as the current year is concerned. If money had not been raised through donations, Clarendon schools would have had to close as 16 teachers had turned in their resignations prior to the salary raise.

Three judges from Shamrock, two women and one man who preferred not to be named, drove around in McLean last week and selected winners of the nine prizes offered by the McLean Garden Club in the club's first civic project since its organization a few weeks ago—that project of sponsoring a home-lighting contest during Christmas. Prizes were awarded for best window decoration, best outside lighting and best decorated door.

Mrs. J. A. Ackley, longtime resident of the Washita community, Hamphill county, died at the Wheeler hospital Christmas afternoon. She had been a patient there for the past three weeks. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon from the Washita school house.

Three new Carson County commissioners will be sworn in at 10 a. m., January 1, along with other county officials.

J. C. Jackson of White Deer, who was county judge from 1935 to 1941, will become commissioner of Precinct No. 4 to succeed H. T. Dickerson, who has held the office for several years.

D. L. Siegle will become commissioner of Precinct No. 3, succeeding Leo Detton, who had served several terms.
 J. C. Murray will succeed Arthur G. Gripp, who was not a candidate for reelection, in Precinct No. 2. Others on the commissioners court will be Judge O. R. Beddingfield and George Crossman, Precinct No. 1 commissioner, who was reelected.

Attract Respectful Attention, Girls

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer
At the University of Washington prominent senior men have taken over a job that on most campuses is done by the dean of women. They lecture freshmen women on campus standards.

Now there's a sensible arrangement. Few freshmen girls are very attentive to what a dean of women has to say about drinking, smoking, proper dress, etc. If they do listen, it is usually with outward respectfulness. But such inner reservations as young people make whenever a member of the older generation is holding forth on what is fitting and proper conduct for the young.

Yule Customs of Other Lands Are B-PW Discussion

The City Club room was the setting for a most delightful and entertaining party for the Business and Professional Women's club on December 22. A Christmas tree heaped high with gaily wrapped packages was the center of attention.

Mrs. Mildred Lafferty presided at the guest register which was cleverly decorated with the Christmas Stars and the message "Greetings" that welcomed each person as she arrived.

Hand-painted programs and a Christmas publication was given each guest. The program opened with the introduction of new members and guests. The group sang "Jingle Bells" and seven junior high girls, under the direction of Elouise Lane, sang three Christmas songs.

Christmas customs in other lands were discussed. Lillian McNutt told of the customs in Norway; Lucille Foster, Sweden; Inez French, Czechoslovakia; Mary Wilson, Italy; and Tommie Stone, Poland. Mrs. Dan Wallace presented some vocal selections, and Marilyn Steele gave a reading. The group sang more Christmas carols and to conclude the program, Jan Foster presented a piano solo "Silent Night." Santa arrived to distribute the gifts.

The serving table was centered with a Christmas scene and small miniature Christmas trees were plate favors.

Annual of 100 Years Standing Jan. 3 Will Usher in New Congress

By HOWARD DOBSON
 WASHINGTON 19—When the House and Senate of the 80th Congress convene at noon January 3, each will follow ritual more than 100 years old.
 It has changed only in minor details since the first Congress met on March 4, 1789, in New York.
 Each House will be called to order by a Democratic employe who will be out of his job less than an hour later when Republican control is formally asserted.
 This is the opening day scheduled for the senate.
 The call to order will be by Secretary Leslie Biffle. He will preside because the senatorial term of the current presiding officer, Senator McKellar (D-Tenn), expires with the 75th congress at the moment the 80th convenes. Thus for a few minutes, McKellar will be just another senator-elect.
 Following the prayer, the senate will receive the credentials of 32 men elected to full six-year terms and four more to complete terms

THE STORY: Eligible Dixon has fallen in love with Rose and keeps her busy the whole time she's in Washington. But Rose thinks only of Richard Breen. When she admits she's not formally engaged, Dixon says that he intends to marry her himself and makes up her mind that he's coming to Blakesville.

considerably impoverished by the costs of stationery and stock certificates. Many other items must also be charged against initial capital, Mr. Milgrim said, and all were valid and necessary, though perhaps "unseen." But the stationery and certificates Major Cameron could see and judge for himself. And wasn't he pleased with them?

PLEASED, indeed! The Major cut in several sizes, with matching envelopes, the stationery was a creamy white, so heavy that it cracked when folded. At the top of each sheet was an embossed picture in colors of an Indian chieftain wearing a feathered headdress. Beneath, similarly embossed, were the words Shenandoah Investment Company, a title of Major Cameron's own inspired choosing.

"As president, you must perform the christening rites," Mr. Milgrim had said.
 Then Mr. Milgrim and Mr. Richard Breen, their courtesy knowing no bounds, had insisted that only his name appear on the stationery.
 "It should be in large type," they said.
 It was in large type. Whenever he felt a bit regretful that he must do something more than sit, Major Cameron got out the stationery and gazed at it and was soled.
 "Mr. Milgrim wasn't offering the Shenandoah stock on the open market, and he was keeping the price at a nominal figure. He had no desire, he said, to see any one person gaining a preponderance of control; he was temperamentally opposed to monopolies; he liked to see lots of people profiting and the luck passed around to all. Mr. Milgrim was at heart a humanitarian—and not ashamed to admit it, either. Therefore, the stock would sell at ten dollars a share, in blocks of five shares. Thus, each certificate would sell for fifty dollars, and rushed out an enlarged print. The picture was delivered in 21 minutes after it was taken.

And somehow, it seemed to provide the tiny spark which started the mother on the road to recovery.
 Attendants at the Frances and Lutecher Hospital and relatives alike said the picture turned the tide.
 Mrs. Goldsmith began to show rapid improvement. Her condition was so much better the following day that she was taken from under the oxygen tent.

"DOUBLE" WEDDINGS
 In Chile, the church is forbidden by law to perform marriages unless state marriages have first been performed. Therefore, all devout Catholics who wed are married twice on the same day.

A sister, Mrs. Ed Gullory of Orange, suddenly conceived the idea of having a photograph made to console the mother in what she believed to be her last hours.
 The Park Avenue Photo Shoppe was informed of the situation. They dropped all other work immediately. They took a picture of the child

House To Investigate Maritime Commission

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republicans today announced a bill for a full-dress investigation of the billion-dollar "business of the United States Maritime Commission."

Party members disclosed that one of the first things they will demand when the new congress convenes January 3 is that the House Merchant Marine committee be given authority to extend its probe of maritime activities.

While the committee has been inquiring into commission operations for many months, "some things haven't even been scratched," said Rep. Weichel (R-Ohio), a committee member.

The Ohioan told a reporter he is not satisfied with progress of the investigation to date and contended that some of the facts have been suppressed.

Riders Attempt To Rob Kind Motorist

FORT WORTH (AP)—The Christmas Day kindness of an Abilene resident in giving two hitch-hikers a ride from Texarkana last night was rewarded with their unsuccessful attempt to rob him of his money and car.

Bobby Ray Fincher told police here he had reached the western limits of Fort Worth on Highway 80 when one of the riders, 21, drew a knife and his companion, 32, remarked that he had a gun in his pocket.

The older man took over the car wheel. After taking his billfold containing $4, the men directed Fincher to cash a check in a North Side cafe. Fincher instead called police, who, after a chase, caught the men in North Side.

This is the story of a snapshot that probably saved a woman's life. That, and of mother love and human kindness.

Mrs. A. M. Goldsmith of Port Arthur was visiting in Orange. She was stricken with acute asthma. Her condition was so critical she was rushed to a hospital, and doctors said she could live only a few hours.

During the infrequent periods of consciousness she cried constantly for her baby, six-months-old Glenn Huber Goldsmith.

But the baby had a severe cold. Doctors were afraid to move it. Further, the cold might be given the mother, complicating her condition.

A sister, Mrs. Ed Gullory of Orange, suddenly conceived the idea of having a photograph made to console the mother in what she believed to be her last hours.

The Park Avenue Photo Shoppe was informed of the situation. They dropped all other work immediately. They took a picture of the child

WARNING TO FARMERS

What the "planners" have in mind was demonstrated in a news dispatch from England that ought to be of interest to every farmer and every farm organization in the United States.

The English socialists have made a formal announcement of plans to put a strict control on the nation's agriculture. The farmers will be told what to plant and how to conduct their farms and if any of them object to the plan they will be kicked off their land and replaced by those "on the inside with the government."

Along with this certain very attractive inducements will be offered to farmers, but there is no attempt to disguise the fact that the plan in the final analysis deprives them of individual choice—they will obey or else.

This is by no means a new idea in Britain. It was put into practice during the war. Some farmers were ousted from their land and in some cases there has been raised the suspicion, which may be totally unfounded, that such action was not wholly in the interest of food production; there were curious circumstances whereby friends of the local committee took possession of the premises that the owners were forced to vacate.

So we see again the results of the planned economy. It comes in with its glistening and attractive promises of better things, its denunciation of the wastes of competition, its sneer at the "profit motive." There are the charges that some shadowy figures, never accurately identified, control the economy for their own benefit. These unidentified devils are indeed to lose their tail and have their cloven hoofs well trimmed, but it is no better than they deserve.

Such are the promises but what is the performance? Because a farmer will not obey the orders of some central bureau, he is to be banished from the occupator to which he has devoted his life and from the home that very probably has been handed down from his forefathers. In face of these occurrences, we have various dreamers going about the country pointing to Great Britain as an example of the planned economy which does not interfere with the liberties of the individual.

It was not until men were given individual ownership of the land they worked and made free to work it as they wished and until inventive genius was given free rein to create improved methods of production and transportation that men could even hope to fill their stomachs.

MACKENZIE'S Column

By NORMAN CARIGNAN (Foreign Affairs Analyst) (Subbing for Mackenzie)

The old ghost of U. S.-Argentine relations is stalking the corridors of the State Department again.

In Washington, apparently for a full review of the question, is veteran career diplomat George Messersmith, U. S. ambassador to Buenos Aires, bearing ideas on what should be done about Argentina.

His views reportedly are at variance with those of Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden, a bulky 230-pounder who has charge of U. S. relations with Latin America.

The problem basically is the same that has riddled many a diplomat before and split the State Department wide open on a number of occasions.

Crucial is the question: "Should the United States forgive what it sees as the sins of its sister republics for the sake of maintaining unity?"

As applied to Argentina and her president, Gen. Juan Domingo Peron, Braden doesn't think so. Messersmith, according to his friends, has his own views.

Secretary of State Byrnes is slated to refer to this dispute next week when he returns from his South Carolina vacation. Byrnes recently called Messersmith home for consultations.

Briefly stated, the current argument springs from these developments:

The administration has repeatedly charged and sought to prove that Argentina collaborated with the Axis during the war and that Axis agents, firms and institutions flourished there.

Argentina subscribed to various inter-American resolutions containing pledges to wipe out all Nazi influences. The U. S. claims—and Argentina denies—that these promises were broken.

Last April Secretary Byrnes told Argentina the U. S. would include her in a proposed arms swapping arrangement and a mutual defense treaty provided she first got rid of Nazi influences.

Subsequently Ambassador Messersmith was sent to Buenos Aires to see whether Argentina came through with her end of the bargain. Shortly afterwards, reports began filtering back from Argentina to the effect that the ambassador had a different interpretation of Byrnes' April statement from that of Braden's.

In letters to various friends in the U. S., Messersmith suggested that this country shouldn't be tough on Argentina than on other Latin American countries when it comes to cleaning house of Nazis. He also insisted that unity of the hemisphere is paramount.

Braden has stood fast on his contention that Argentina should comply substantially because in most cases the Nazi agents within her borders are more dangerous than any others in Latin America put together.

Army Patchwork Nets Dollars for 'Uncle'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army Quartermaster Corps, patching up everything from typewriters to tubs, has salvaged and returned to stockpiles nearly $150,000,000 worth of equipment since the war ended.

Repairable stuff flows into repair depots from both former battle areas and domestic army camps. The quartermaster corps said that clothing and textiles make up 67 percent of the salvaged material.

Button-sewing jobs and patching make the clothes ready for use by another GI.

The labor cost of the salvage program was estimated at nine percent of the $150,000,000 valuation of the material, or $13,500,000.

STASSEN'S CANDIDACY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen's path of glory that leads but to the White House—or the political graveyard—is about as difficult an obstacle-course as was ever laid out.

Reporters needed the former governor into saying flatly, quote: "I am a candidate—maybe." The way he said it the first time was "I intend to be a candidate." That wasn't satisfactory. Why didn't he come right out in the open? So he did through for a long time that has been no uncertainty on what Stassen was up to.

Harold Stassen's real purpose in coming to Washington just before Christmas was not only to be as good as he could be, but also to announce the opening of Washington headquarters. He will spend considerable time in Washington, he said, "to move the Republican party along the path toward true liberalism."

If Stassen can do that, it will be something you must see. At a time when most of the liberals have taken to the tall timbers and tried to disguise themselves as "progressives," this is a refreshingly frank statement of policy.

To achieve this noble ambition, Stassen says he will work with the Republicans and House, taking particular interest in labor policy as the first phase, with the three sub-issues of housing, health and small business as the second phase. He says in conference with individual legislators, or in small group sessions.

Common Ground

INTERPRETATION—Extension of the portal-to-portal pay demand on almost every industrial unit in the United States, with an additional burden on production costs of an estimated $100,000,000, was never contemplated by Congress when it enacted the Wage-Hour Act in 1938 to combat the sharp drop in purchasing power that occurred in that year.

That is the considered opinion of members of Congress, lawyers and government labor experts, who are surprised and dismayed that a simple law providing for a 40-hour work-week at forty cents an hour should be built into an economic Frankenstein at this late date.

The history of this now blazing controversy, including a study of Congressional debates, briefs submitted to the lower and higher courts and the unions' earlier activity, discloses that the statute's basic purpose has been completely misunderstood and misapplied.

The current interpretation of the law, which could destroy American industry if upheld or not corrected by Congressional action, is regarded as a grave reflection on the good sense of Congress, the executive departments involved and the federal judiciary, including the Supreme Court itself.

"OVERTIME"—Although the "40-40" law, as it was called, was put on the statute books in 1938, there was no attempt to introduce the portal-to-portal pay feature until early in 1943, when John L. Lewis's smarter lawyers thought out that scheme to strengthen the demands for higher wages in certain low-wage mines in Tennessee and Virginia.

The United Mine Workers' briefs in the inferior and higher courts suggested that the counting of preparation and getting to work as legitimate "overtime" should be applied solely to the mining of coal. They stressed the time required for donning the diggers' special clothing and equipment, the difficult journey down deep shafts and the dangerous crawling to particular veins far underground.

In short, reaching the actual place of work was maintained to be a hazard peculiar to this industry. Numerous operators accepted the Lewis interpretation as a convenient way of avoiding the grant of clear-cut hourly increases, especially as their lawyers advised them that the counting of "overtime" would never be upheld by the courts.

Although defeated in several District and Circuit decisions, the Lewis contention was eventually upheld in a Supreme Court opinion that precipitated the fan sus Jackson-Black row.

CHRONOLOGY—Despite this 1943 ruling by the Supreme Court, the chronology now becomes significant—no one at Washington seemed to sense its explosive meaning and power.

The Wage-Hour Division of the Department of Labor, for instance, issued no regulations for the guidance of employers or employees. It broadcast no warning that management should negotiate new agreements with unions to avoid eventual presentation of a bill for a pay running into billions of dollars.

Congress clearly did not appreciate the repercussions of the high tribunal's holding. Not until early this year was there a legislative attempt to limit the number of years for which portal-to-portal overtime could be assessed against the employer.

So unaware of the far-reaching implications was the "reconstruction Congress," as well as the White House, the Labor Department and the President's chief economic advisers, that the proposed limitation was allowed to die in the closing days of the session, although it now turns out to have been one of the most vital measures on the calendar.

Panhandle Scouts Have New Master

PANHANDLE—(Special)—Nolan Sparks has been named to succeed S. R. Lanning as scoutmaster of the local troops, it was announced.

Jack Farney was named as assistant scoutmaster. Farney had sought a successor for the position he had held two years.

At this meeting plans were also made for the work for the coming year with special emphasis on Scout week in February.

Members of the committee were Rev. W. E. Fisher, S. R. Lanning, Nolan Sparks, Jack Farney, M. C. E. Landon, J. C. Smith, C. F. Hood, Mack Lemons, O. Z. Light and Earl Nunn.

Gracie Reports

BY GRACIE ALLEN

1946 is coming to an end none too soon!

Things were getting mighty mixed up in this fair country of ours in Bakersfield.

The job that Stassen has set for himself is important. Somebody should keep needing the Republican majorities, to keep them from going too far to the reactionary.

But all congressmen are jealous of their prerogatives, and they don't like to have it known they get their ideas or directions from anyone else, even when they do.

If Stassen is to develop as the Republican Party leader and fair-haired boy, more power to him. He has done considerable studying and thinking on all issues, domestic and foreign. He knows what he thinks, and he doesn't pussyfoot on his answers.

His labor program for contending high production with no major strikes, increasing white-collar salaries, opposing restrictive labor legislation and exercising consumer resistance to high prices is sound. He probably made all the CIO leaders mad by blasting at the Nathan report recommendation for 25 percent wage increases out of profits. But he didn't weasel-word his statement just to curry favor with labor.

It may be that Stassen's directness will win over a big popular following. No one would suffer if that happened.

But a first rule of horse-racing and politics is that it doesn't pay to get too far out in front, too early in the race. Stassen is young, sound of limb and feeling his oats. But will his wind hold out?

Refinery Closed Due To Lack of Crude Oil

GALVESTON (AP)—D. R. Zachry, vice president of the American Liberty Oil company, has announced that the company's Texas City refinery will be shut down immediately because of a shortage of crude oil.

"For some time the restricted crude oil production allowances in Texas had made the operation of the refinery very difficult," Zachry said. "In fact, for the past several months the plant has operated at approximately two-thirds capacity."

He said it will be impossible to continue operation of the operation as long as "this situation" exists.

Corrosion Combatants Discovered By Texas Univ. Chemistry Prof.

AUSTIN — Two chemicals have been found helpful in combating natural gas condensate well corrosion which now costs the oil industry millions of dollars annually, Dr. Norman Hackerman, associate professor of chemistry at the University of Texas, recently told members of Sigma Kappa, honorary graduate research organization.

Dr. Hackerman's findings were made in a special research study sponsored by the Natural Gasoline Association of America. The research work is continuing in an effort to discover still more corrosion inhibitors.

The inhibitors already found effective in some cases are naphthenic acid and sodium chromate or dichromate, Dr. Hackerman said.

"Natural gas condensate wells have become increasingly important in recent years as a source of a number of valuable chemicals as well as gasoline and natural gas for fuel," he explained. "About three years ago it became apparent that a number of these high-pressure condensate wells showed a serious type of attack on the interior of the pipe through which the gas is produced. Since that time the corrosion has been found in increasing numbers of fields and has become a problem of growing concern. The wells operate at very high pressures and when the pipe well becomes too thin due to the corrosion serious accidents are likely to occur."

"The necessity of replacing corroded equipment to prevent mishaps and maintain production has reached the point where the cost to the industry per year runs into millions of dollars.

Carbon dioxide, water and organic acids cause the corrosive attack which Dr. Hackerman described as erratic, in that wells standing side by side do not show the same effects or the same intensity of effects. The wells themselves were used as the laboratory for the research work.

A container was designed to hold 18 one-by-three-inch pieces of sheet steel, in such manner that they could be removed individually at any given time. The container was welded into the gas flow at a point just after the piping emerges from the ground. Then, by exposures lasting from a few days to several months, changes took place on the sample surfaces equivalent in most respects to those which occurred in the well itself. The steel samples were removed and taken to the laboratory in special containers designed to keep out moisture and air.

In the laboratory the surfaces were subjected to examination, which included the use of microscopical techniques and it was found that the wells could be grouped in three general types.

One type was the critical corrosive type where the rate of attack was found to be not only steady and severe, but where small deep holes or pits appeared in the metal. Another type was described as the "protective attack" where, after the initial attack, there was little if any further attack until that surface was removed. No pitting and very little penetration or corrosion of the steel took place with this type of well, the research work disclosed. The third type noted was intermediate between the corrosive and the so-called "non-corrosive" well. In this type the corrosion took place at a slow steady rate, but local attack and pitting did not

Famous Oil Man Dies From Heart Attack

TULSA (AP)—Bother F. Wilcox, 62, Tulsa oil man and financier who discovered the prolific oil sand bearing his name, died yesterday at his home from a heart attack.

He retired four years ago from the H. F. Wilcox Oil and Gas Co., which he founded. Wilcox came to Tulsa in 1913 from Buffalo, N. Y., where he had been engaged in the real estate business.

Wilcox's oil career had its ups and downs. In the beginning he hit so many "dry" holes he was known as "Dry Hole Wilcox."

In 1943, Wilcox sold his interest in the firm to Edward J. O'Herron, a Charlotte, N. C. drug store chain operator, and agreed to become chairman of the board.

He is survived by his widow, two daughters, and two sons.

SOLD YOUR SADDLE?

WESTERNERS have left the impress of their insight and vigor on practically every phase of American life. It is amazing how many of our current activities are described in terms of the range. Take, for example, the man who abandons his responsibility to himself and his fellowmen.

A cowboy who "sells his saddle" gives up his whole reason for existence. He is brother to the carpenter who sells his kit of tools — or to Esau, who sold his birthright for a mess of pottage.

If you wish "security," work it out for yourself. No real red-blooded American wants to "sell his saddle" and be regimented by dictatorial Federal employees. That is exactly what would happen to you, your Doctor, Drug-gist, Hospitals and all health services — IF you allow COMPULSORY health insurance to become a law of this land, under the guise of "social security."

VOLUNTARY, inexpensive pre-paid Medical plans are NOW available to 100,000,000 Americans. Ask your Doctor.
