Farm, Ranch Production Goals for State Set at Near Wartime Levels

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—The Texas USDA Council has set 1947 farm and ranch production goals for the state at or near wartime levels.

Goals for the various crops as suggested by the U. S. Department of Agriculture were changed in several cases to fit Texas conditions.

B. F. Vance, chairman of the council and state of the Production Marketing Administration, said the high levels were necessary because of:

1. Strong domestic demand.
2. Critical shortages of food in many foreign countries.
3. The need to build up reserves of many commodities.
4. Allowance for possible poor growing conditions and low yields.

The goals were based on estimated requirements for food and fiber.

USDA Secretary Anderson, in a message to the Texas council, pointed out that unlimited demand no longer exists for all farm commodities and that farmers could easily over-produce some crops, such as potatoes and peanuts, if the goals were exceeded.

He added that he realized that the acreage in cash crops suggested by the goals is larger than desirable for proper use and conservation of the soil and asked the council to check closely on the relation to good land use, even though the need may justify a request for increased acreage of soil-depleting crops, as in the case of cotton.

The 1947 wheat goal for Texas has already been set at 53 million bushels from 6 million acres, almost exactly the 1946 acreage, but up 32 percent over the 1934-41 average.

Other Texas goals for 1947 are:

- Rye, 200,000 bushels from 20,000 acres, up 11 percent from 1946 and 54 percent from 1937-41.
- Rice, 19,120,000 bushels from 400,000 acres, same as for 1946 and up 39 percent over the pre-war average.
- Dry edible beans, 7,000 bags from 4,000 acres, double the 1946 acreage.
- Feed grains, 10,837,000 acres, an increase of more than a million acres over 1946 plantings and a million and a half over the 1937-41 average. The feed grains are to come from corn, 4,200,000 acres, up 4 percent from 1946 but down 15 percent from the 1937-41 average; oats, 1,375,000 acres, about the same as 1946 plantings and the 1937-41 average, (up 1 and 4 percent); barley, 312 acres, up 25 and 13 percent over 1946 plantings and the 1937-41 average; 75 million bushels from 4 1/2 million acres, up 22 percent over 1946 and 90 percent over the pre-war average.
- Soybeans for beans, 2,000 acres.
- Peanuts, 669,000 pounds, down 13 percent from the 1946 figure of 764,000 acres but up 129 percent over the 1937-41 average.
- Flaxseed, 73,000 acres as compared with 31,000 acres harvested in 1946. The USDA suggested 120,000 acres, up 43 and 364 percent over 1946 and 1937-41, but the Texas council's figures showed that, with most of the 1947 crop already in the ground, only 70,000 acres would be planted.
- Cotton, 8,460,000 acres up 33 percent from 1946 but down 12 percent from 1937-41.
- Irish potatoes, 55,500 acres as compared with 63,300 acres in 1946. Farm allotments are now being set.
- Sweet potatoes, 65,000 acres, the same as for 1946 and up 8 percent over the 1941-45 average.
- Hay, a million and half acres, 8 percent over 1946 and 85 percent over 1937-41.
- Beef cattle, 2,700,000 head on farms and ranches suggested as desirable at end of 1947; compares with 2,877,000 head estimated to be on hand as of January 1, 1947. This would mean 6 percent fewer cattle than were on hand at beginning of 1947, but 1 percent more than on January 1, 1946 and 16 percent above the 1937-41 average.
- Milk, 4,225 million pounds—around 500 million gallons—up 3 percent over 1946 production. This from an expected 1,300,000 dairy cows, 1 percent less than 1946 numbers.
- Hogs (sows to farrow in the spring of 1947), 198,000 head, 14 percent more than in 1946 and 1 percent above the 1937-41 average.
- Stock sheep and lambs, 9,575,000 head at end of 1947, down 1 percent from present numbers and 4 percent above pre-war level.
- Chicken numbers, slightly more than 35 million, practically no change from the 1946 and 1937-41 figures.

Pampans Purchase Surplus Property at McLean Camp

McLEAN, (Special)—Five Pampa purchasers were among the several hundred buyers from the Panhandle who participated in the site sale of surplus building materials from the recently dismantled prisoner of war camp at McLean, conducted by the War Assets Administration of Fort Worth.

All purchasers were mostly veterans and all were holders of HH priority certificates issued by the Federal Housing Authority or CPA to help veterans and contractors obtain scarce building materials. The sale to HH priority holders opened Dec. 16 and ends Dec. 20 and will be resumed to subsequent buyers Dec. 30 and will continue through Jan. 14. Over $45,000 was paid in cash the first two days for materials.

The Pampa buyers were: K. H. Cambren, 704 N. Somerville, who bought a set lot of oak flooring for $39.50, 1 janitorial heater for $30, 12 window sash for $52.80, 1332 board feet of lumber for $59.94, and 2000 board feet of 2 by 6 lumber for $90.

Jack P. Stroup, 412 Rose, purchased a lavatory for $4.30, 3 electric glass globes for $1.80 each, and 50 union for 50 cents each. A. M. Patterson, 118 N. Purviance, bought a screen for 55 cents a lavatory for $4.50.

Jerome Marak, 844 E. Beryl, bought a lavatory for $4.50, 280 board feet of 1 by 4 lumber $12.60, and a window sash for $4.75. Lonnie

Youth Training To Be Reviewed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Recommendations on universal youth training—going into and beyond the military field—will be laid before President Truman by an advisory group in time for Congress to be informed.

Dr. Karl T. Compton, head of the committee chosen by Mr. Truman who urged the members to follow the idea of "insuring the continuation of our form of government," said the report likely will be ready late in March.

Record Deer for Season 'Colossal' Says San Angelo

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff James Deltreich of Coleman has named the kingpin of all deer hunters of the Southwest by a sports column in the San Angelo Standard Times.

Taxidermist Max Feuge has the deer head about mounted, and he said it was colossal—30 1/2 inch spread of antlers that boast 28 points; neck 18 1/2 inches around at the smallest part, and 47 inch circumference at the briskeet.

The deer was killed by Deltreich in the New Mexico mountains. He said it weighed 403 pounds dressed.

C. E. Rainey, a teen-ager who lives at San Angelo, swept into the hunter championship with a 16-point, 26-inch-wide set of deer antlers that so far rate among the broadest exhibited in San Angelo this year.

The deer was killed in Kimble county, and dressed out at 107 pounds.

For the benefit of deer and turkey hunters holding out until the last minute, the San Angelo paper said that numerous ranch and farm operators down in the hill country call a halt to hunting Dec. 15, applying some home-grown conservation. This is common where the leases are heavily used early in the season.

The San Antonio Light noted with a certain amount of alarm a sign in a store there: "Deer storage. Fresh fish bait."

One of the best stories of the season was about the San Antonio man who brought his buck home alive, and put it in jail!

A small spiked buck was trapped in a fence near Boerne. Thomas Smith, of San Antonio, rescued it and carried the 60-pound animal to his car. Unable to find a game warden, he brought it to the sheriff's office.

The buck was put in the boiler room of the county jail after prisoner treated it for a leg injury.

Thomas says he is going out hunting now with the intention of bringing one back dead.

The duck season has closed for the Lake Texoma area, the State of Oklahoma and the intermediate zone.

It was called one of the poorest seasons in years, result of severe drought conditions in the Northern duck factories during the spring mating season.

Sherman hunters worked hard to find good shooting on Texoma (the season opened Oct. 25) but there were few reports of bag limits being taken.

Hunting elsewhere in Texas continues.

Fishing on Lake Texoma has been "average" good, especially in the Little Mineral arm of the lake.

Game Warden Eddie Laird said bass are still hitting top water baits, which he said is very unusual for this time of year.

For example: Henry Foster and party from Honey Grove, Tex., a string of eleven big bass; Marvin Turner and J. R. Graves took two black bass and a few sand bass from the vicinity of the islands, using dive bombers; Pete Treadwell landed a string of six black bass, the largest over six pounds in weight.

Leslie Mitchell and Ben Spencer of Denison brought Randall Lake near Denison into the spotlight when they landed a 50-pound catfish.

Near Corpus Christi, both hunting and fishing have been better than usual. F. H. Angerbiller nipped an eagle in flight with a shot from a .300 Savage. The bird had a six-foot wingspread.

Mrs. N. W. Brelsford caught a six-pound drum with rod and reel, plus a Comand; Clifton Lewis of Corpus Christi got his limit of geese near Austwell; Van Court of Ingleside and Winifred Cole of Aransas Pass got their limit of geese on the C. R. Coward place. Ducks were reported scattered in the Port Aransas sector. Quail hunting was not too good there.

Arthur Schull and Eddie Carlisle bagged their limits of mallards while hunting near Wallisville.

Doves were reported plentiful in the Hungerford area.

The trapping season opened Dec. 1, but young boys in Llano county, who ordinarily make their Christmas money that way, received a rude jolt—prices paid for pelts are way down.

For example, a hunter brought a trapper's license and tried his luck one night, getting a possum. After skinning the animal, he sold the pelt to a dealer for one dime—one-tenth of the price of his license.

Food Prices Drop During Past Period.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Food prices dropped in 11 of the 12 large cities between Nov. 26 and Dec. 17 the Bureau of Labor Statistics has reported.

Prices in New York declined 3.5 percent, Kansas City, Boston and Washington, 3 percent, Los Angeles and Pittsburgh, 2 percent, Chicago and Detroit, 1.5 percent. Minor declines took place in Cleveland, Houston and Denver, while in Savannah prices were unchanged.

Meats, except chickens, declined in most cities. Round steak, chuck roast and bacon were lower in 10 of the cities. Pork chops dropped in all 12.

Butter declined in eight cities and averaged 92 cents a pound. Cheese declined two to eight cents a pound in 10 cities. Milk increased a penny in Los Angeles, but was unchanged in other cities.

Gather Ye Rosebuds

By JEANNETTE COVERT-NOLAN Copyright by J. C. Nohring Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: At a meeting of the Daughters of the Old Dominion in the Blakesville chapter at the annual convention in Washington, D. C. Miss Amy is delighted. Rose doesn't want to go.

JEFF straightened in his chair. It was no use. He was absolutely no good, and a blasted dumb-bell for working so hard. Every night for a week—and all his stuff perfectly foul. Try as he would, he seemed unable to do the hillbilly sketches he'd talked about to Sidney; instead, he invariably wound up with another of these caricatures of his father. He had dozens of the damned things, done at random, almost without volition—now wadded balls of paper, they littered the room; pictures of Papa in his gray uniform, many different poses.

"Must be a brain quirk," thought Jeff. "A psychological something." Stopping over the newest picture, he drew a large button on the front of the Major's tunic and, on the button, the words: "I Chew Spunky Mule." . . . A further indication of the mental chaos; because, of course, Papa didn't.

"Oh, hosh!" Jeff groaned, and slammed down his pencil. It was as she dusted that Sidney came upon the many discarded pictures of Papa. They were all clever, especially the seated poses (she always thought of Papa as sitting) and the one with the "I Chew Spunky Mule" button made her laugh outright. Those pictures not too crumpled she carried to her own room, gradually accumulating a pile of them. They really should be submitted in that contest—but they wouldn't be, and she began to think nothing would be, for Jeff only dallied with the hillbilly cartoons. Too bad, though, that somebody, somewhere, couldn't have this proof that Jeff Cameron was an artist. . . .

But what about Rose? She didn't want to go to Washington, Sidney knew it now. Rose was the kind of person who can smile over the tailgate of a tumble, but there was no heart behind her smile, as she stood long hours for fittings, whipped seams, ran strips of velvet and grosgrain through eyelets. Something was definitely amiss with Rose but even adroit questioning elicited no clues.

THEN there was Papa, more detached than ever, an abstraction so profound that Sidney doubted if he knew it was spring at all or, knowing, would have cared. In a negative way, Papa was amiable, not protesting that Miss Amy squandered the house-keeping money on finery for Rose, going bravely out on his route. Yet Papa was not himself.

Sidney had tried to diagnose the change in Papa. It couldn't be due to flashes of literary inspiration, for he had shelved his precious manuscript as if for good. And he was surprisingly brisk, almost breezy, though this briskness was for himself only. Briefly Sidney had wondered if a tardy romance might have beset Papa. An untenable idea ("Just my evil mind," thought Sidney, without shame) because you could as easily imagine flutterings in the bronze breast of Abraham Lincoln's statue standing in the courthouse square. But there were all those morning promenades to the St. George. Several times a week he went to the hotel to see Mr. Milgrim. Well, who was this Mr. Milgrim, and why was he interested in Papa? Ingenious as she was, Sidney couldn't think that Papa was ever interesting to anybody—so he must be up to something. But what?

THE tag ends of Sidney's thinking had to do with herself. Every spring for several years, she had made it a practice to fall in love—not so deeply that it hurt, but just for the fun of it—and this year too she had rather counted on an interlude of innocent flirtation, perhaps with Basil, since he was right at hand and she was sure of his reflexes. Indeed, she had exerted some effort to see Basil in a romantic light; saturating herself with violet cologne, she had sat for hours before the gramophone listening to a tenor voice singing the "Bedouin Love Song."

But it wouldn't work. The idea of Basil in a turban and one of those flowing white robes was just too ludicrous.

"I'm afraid," thought Sidney, "Ace Lathshaw cured me for good." Not that she had actually cared a fig for Ace. . . . It was mighty funny, though, about him; and she sometimes had the notion she would meet him again. . . .

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—(U.S.A.)—Mills bought wheat futures today following overnight sales of a fair quantity of the bread wheat to Mexico, but this support was unable to stem the decline which started with the Agriculture Department's announcement that a record-breaking winter wheat crop was indicated.

Wheat was down around a cent most of the session. Corn and oats went off small fractions. Both feed grains were adversely affected by indications that the increase in the spring wheat crop will not be as large as feared. There was a good shipping demand for corn, sales totaling 20,000 bushels.

December oats in which trading ended at the close, finished on a profit quotation, 83 1/2-81. This was 3-2 1/2 under yesterday's finish. Wheat finished 1/2 lower to 1 cent higher, January 82 1/2, corn was 1/2 lower to 1/2 higher, January 81 1/2-81. Deferred oats contracts were 1/2-1/4 higher.

Farmers, ranchers and business men of the Hereford irrigation area held a meeting last week at which they took the initial steps to oppose any bill applying to or concerning any control of irrigation water on the big high plains.

They proposed to fight any control move through the actions of an organization known as the Deaf Smith County Water Users Association.

The Deaf Smith County organization will work in conjunction with many similar groups in Plains Counties to combat any proposed legislation to control the use of irrigation water or the digging of irrigation wells on the high plains.

The Wellington High School Sky-rocketers finished a highly successful football season last week even though they did lose the regional battle to a powerful Phillips eleven.

The Rocketers zoomed through district play without a single defeat to earn their record. They romped over Spur by a one sided score to win the bi-district title and succeeded in placing eight men on the all district team.

Sole of the surplus building supplies at the McLean POW camp, which opened last week, was dominated by veterans waving HH priorities.

Other buying days are scheduled for Dec. 30, 31 and Jan. 2, 3.

Clarendon business men and women took hurried steps to appropriate $3000, to be used to give teachers at the Clarendon Public Schools the raise they requested, last week.

The move was made shortly after 16 of the school's teachers gave the board a 30-school day resignation notice.

Week's Activities
JAYCEES—The State Health Department film, "Hash Slingshot to Food Handling," was shown at this week's meeting. Ray Salmon, city health officer, and Herman Jones, projector operator, were in charge. President Joe Fischer announced there would be no meeting next Tuesday, Christmas eve.
ROTARY—"Club Relations and Fellowship" was the subject of a program held this past week, during which members told what they "knew" on each other. An interesting program, designed to promote good fellowship among members, emerged from the plan. It was directed by Rotarian E. Douglas Carter. . . . J. P. Wehrung spoke briefly at the Christmas season and its meaning. A collection to buy clothing for some local children netted $36.43. The membership voted not to hold the next two meetings, one of which falls on Christmas, the other on New Year's.
LIONS—Membership this week, among other things, sacked enough candy to go around at the Kiddies Party which will be held at the La-Nora theatre tomorrow. They hope they sacked enough, at any rate. The show is sponsored by the club and the theatres. . . . A mock wedding was held, during which the Lions sweetheart was taken as "wife" by Lion Boss McCune, amid what the reported called "cigar smoke and discordant cheers." . . . A girls' trio, composed of Gerlie

CARNIVAL By Dick Turner

Lake, Phyllis Scheig, and Pat Price, sang a number of Yule selections under the direction of Mrs. Fay Reeder.

KIWANIS—The Kiwanis Club program this week was presented by the local Toastmasters Club, and Bill Kelley, who is also a member of the Kiwanis Club, was in charge. A regular Toastmasters program was presented, with the following members taking part: Fred Sweeney, Hugh Peoples, H. P. Doster, Grover Heard, J. L. Swindle, Fred Shryock, and Irvin Cole. . . . Two new members were installed: Homer Doggett, and Dr. Charles Finley.

Pampan Present At Lewis Trials

Harry Schwartz, who with his wife, has just returned from a business trip in the East, attended the recent trials in Washington of John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers, he reported yesterday. The Schwartz' live at 618 N. Somerville St. Schwartz, a tailor here, said he was present when Judge T. Alan Goldborough handed down in district court at Washington a $3 million fine for the union and a $10,000 fine for Lewis. They were charged in contempt of court for refusing to withdraw a breach of contract order with the government as operator of the soft coal mines.

Noting the wire news that Lewis had almost been held in contempt of court a second time, he said the mine leader's legal counsel had to pull him back in his seat after the judge had warned him against further outbursts in the courtroom.

Schwartz said that when Lewis appeared in the courtroom on the day he was sentenced he sat for 45 minutes glaring at those in the audience. Never once, he said, did Lewis change his position—not even to turn to talk with his battery of lawyers.

"When Lewis rose to hear sentence, there was a lot of ugly talk in the courtroom as to what should be done with him," Schwartz said.

Those who have agonized twice in one generation over the infinite solemnity with which the American people can be induced to draw the sword even in the open face of imminent peril will be inclined to laugh out of court the notion that American "imperialism" presents the gravest threat of aggressive warfare.—The Economist, London publication.

Sandusky Farmers Pep Their Pockets With Peas, Peppers

By WILBUR MARTIN, AP Staff Writer

Even farmers get tired of peanuts. After all, you can buy a lot of goobers for a nickel.

Under a change of crop rotation plan, farmers at Sandusky have decided to scale down the peanut crop. They'll pop up pocketbooks with peas and peppers. And for promised profit.

A. C. McGinnis, of the Wilson Laboratories at Pittsburgh, Texas, took a look at Sandusky soil and told the farmers to get wise. They'd been working for peanuts. How about a little pepper?

A guaranteed price of $65 per ton, or three and one-half cents per pound, was promised on black eyed peas. Pimiento pepper plants are to be furnished by Wilson Laboratories for $1 per bushel. Mexican labor, furnishing its own living accommodations, would be brought by the company to help harvest.

McGinnis was promised 2,000 acres, one farmer near Whitesboro signing his entire 300 acres.

The peas will be planted around

April 20, or as soon as the danger of the last frost is over. The California Black Eyed Susan was said the most suitable type for planting, averaging 1,000 to 2,000 pounds per acre. Pimiento pepper yield per acre an estimated 300 to 500 bushels.

Threshing Time:
Who wants to keep 'em down on the farm. Not when you can get $37,000 for 22.68 acres of land. That's what lot 160, Kelley Pharr Subdivision, near Pharr, Texas, brought E. H. and Martha Weerts. P. N. Barbee was the buyer.

Bell County has its first farm-to-market road under the new state setup. It's an eight and one-half mile stretch from Belton to Little River. Joe Brown, resident engineer, said the road carries one of the heaviest traffic loads of any country road in the county—400 vehicles daily on the average. The Rogers-to-Zabackville project is next on the plan in Bell County.

Kenneth Edwards, formerly a county agent in West Texas, has been appointed chief of the American agricultural mission to Saudi Arabia. The mission will establish a department of agriculture. Quite a few former Texas A. and M. men will be in the initial group, Edwards said.

Rewards are still paid for rustlers. Frank James, sheriff at Ozona, has posted $500 for apprehension and conviction of guilty parties in every theft of livestock in Crockett county.

Texas mohair stocks are down to around 400,000 pounds, the Boston Commercial Bulletin reports. West Texans report the usual lull in the wool business.

India's Assembly Postpones Vote

NEW DELHI (AP)—Members of India's Constituent Assembly agreed today to defer until January a vote on Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru's resolution declaring India a sovereign, independent republic.

Congress Party circles immediately turned their attention to consideration of the question of referring the British cabinet mission's proposal for eventual independence for India to a federal court for interpretation.

There were indications that a resolution calling for reference of the problem to the courts would be considered tomorrow.

When the Ounce of Prevention Fails

★ Warning against accidents in the home and on the highways is old stuff to most of us. Many industries have made real progress in accident prevention, but our homes continue to produce minor and major injuries on an ever-increasing scale.

In spite of every precaution, accidents will occur. When the "ounce of prevention" fails, it is wise to have "the pound of cure" ready and at hand. See that your medicine cabinet is amply stocked with standard first-aid materials. Keep a first-aid kit in the pocket of your car. We shall be pleased to help you select the essential items from our complete stock.

FBI Investigating Ku Klux Letters

AUSTIN—(AP)—Literature mailed here under the name of Columbians, Inc., the anti-Negro, anti-Jewish Georgia organization, was under investigation today by federal authorities.

Cards were mailed bearing the signature of a prominent Austin physician who said he knew nothing about the literature until it was brought to his attention by friends calling him about it.

Texas Traffic Toll for 1946 Soars to 1,935 Persons Killed

By BO BYERS, AP Staff Writer
Texas traffic accidents during 1946 will have killed 1,935 persons, injured 67,423 others and caused economic loss exceeding 64 million dollars when final statistics are tabulated.

This was the report, based on a total of 145,000 accidents of all types, issued by Homer Garrison Jr., State Director of the Department of Public Safety.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

CINCINNATI, Ohio—(AP)—Susie is the biggest glamor gal in the mid-west.

But she's strictly an old-fashioned home girl. She doesn't use rouge or powder, and she said "nix" to a Hollywood producer who wanted to costar her in the movies with Ellen Drew.

She keeps in shape—and, gentlemen, what a shape!—on a strictly vegetarian diet. She never has smoked, but she will take a nip of bourbon in private—just to clear up a cobweb.

She has midnight-colored hair, stormy brown eyes and she grew up to the perfect feminine height—five-foot-two. But she doesn't go in for coiffing—not Susie.

It is quite an event when Susie has her twenty-first birthday next August. But there are sound reasons for believing that she won't have a "coming out" party and never will become a pinup girl anywhere but in the Congo.

In the first place Susie tips the beam at 450 pounds. And, of course, after all she is a gorilla.

Susie isn't just "another gorilla." In many ways she is unique in the animal realm. She was the world's first trained gorilla, she is the largest known female of her kind, and she is the oldest gorilla in captivity.

"She's a wonderful animal—the greatest in the world today, bar none," said her trainer, Bill Dressman, 32, who rates her as the best of hundreds of animals he has handled in the last 43 years.

Susie is shy, Moody and temperamental and only Dressman can make her obey. He has been in charge of her since she flew to America as a passenger aboard the first German dirigible to span the ocean. She had been captured shortly before in the Belgian Congo.

After touring with the Ringling Bros. circus for two years, she came to the Cincinnati zoo and has been the reigning star for 16 years.

For old Bill's sake she will wear an apron, and dine like a lady, using her fork, spoon, cup and napkin properly. But she isn't fond of zoo audiences and hates camera flash bulbs worse than John L. Lewis.

"She understands practically every word I tell her," said Dressman, "but after more than 16 years, together I don't know for sure what her outlook on life is. All I know is that she didn't ask to be put behind bars, and she deserves all we can do for her."

Susie leads a lonely life, with no other gorillas closer than Chicago. Perhaps that's why she sniffs.

"She's never had a boy friend," Dressman grinned, toggling her hairy

TEXAS WOMEN KEEP THEIR WARTIME JOBS

By MARTHA COLE
AP Staff Writer

Time was when women stood on the front porch and waved the menfolk off to a day's work.

Not any more. In Texas last year an estimated 200,000 women grabbed their hats and went with the men to work in factories and stores. Thousands more joined the affairs of community and state and played prominent parts in the political campaigns that heated the state.

The guns at Pearl Harbor were the final death knell of the perennial kitchen apron. To prove it, women were still running street cars and taxis, cutting hair in a barber-shop and making good during peacetime with the other jobs that came with the war.

"It's a good job, hard, but I'm going to stay with it as long as the company will let me," said Miss Marie Carter, woman streetcar conductor in Dallas. She was one of 12 women still clinging streetcar bells in Dallas.

U. S. employment service officials said the number of employed women in Texas declined only about nine percent between July, 1945 and July, 1946. However, the USES said, the total number of women working was rising again at the end of 1946 because wives were finding it necessary to supplement their husbands' incomes.

In politics, three women were elected as representatives to the State Legislature, only one less than during the wartime years. They were Mrs. Novelle H. Colson, Navasota, from District 27; Miss Elizabeth Suter, Wintersboro, District 34, and Mrs. Rae Piles Still, Waxahachie, District 100, Place 1.

Mrs. Metcalf Moore, Austin, was appointed last April as Commissioner of Labor—a job that meant also supervision of the state's boxers. Judge Sarah T. Hughes, District Judge of Dallas, held her own in the race for National Representative from the fifth Congressional district but was defeated in the runoff.

In Wichita Falls, Mrs. Irene Gorman became the first woman Justice of the Peace in the county's history. In Hays County Mrs. Eula Wren, a school teacher, was appointed sheriff after the death of her husband, the former sheriff.

Mrs. Beauford H. Jester and Mrs. Homer P. Rainey, along with their daughters, Barbara and Joan Jester and Lenore and Helen Rainey, became familiar sights along the campaign trails of the governor's race.

However, they weren't the only feminine faces in politics. Mrs. Effie Taylor, director of education and organization for the state Democratic party, resigned in July to stump for Rainey. Mrs. Marion Storm, Austin, became secretary of the young Democratic club of Texas. Mrs. Mirnie Fisher Cunningham, Walker County, who ran for governor two years ago, headed the people's legislative committee, a group that met in Austin after the elections were over and announced themselves as "liberal Democrats." Texas' two national committee-women, Democratic Mrs. H. H. Weinert, Seguin, and Republican Lena Gay More, Brownsville, attended the state conventions and meetings.

Mrs. Frank Morris, Dallas, chairman of the State Property Owners Association, plunged into the whirlpool of the housing shortage with the announcement that many landlords were keeping rental properties vacant in protest against OPA ceilings.

In sports, Betty Mims White, Dallas, shone both in Texas and the national women's golf tournaments. Mrs. White won the Dallas women's championships for the second consecutive year, made a fine showing in the western women's open, the Trans-Mississippi tournament, led the women's division in the Texas PGA and was in the semi-finals of the national women's golf meet.

Folly Riley of Fort Worth also was among the top women golfers, and Mary Cunningham of El Paso starred at tennis. Among weddings of statewide interest were those of Molly O'Daniel, Wrather to Ollman Henry F. White of Dallas in November; Barbara Jester, daughter of Governor-elect Beauford Jester, to Major Howard L. Burris of San Antonio in September; Mrs. Shannon Jensen, bank executive of Pharr, to Adm. J. J. Clark, then chief of naval air base training at Corpus Christi, and Ruth Carter, daughter of publisher Among G. Carter of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, to J. Lee Johnson III, Fort Worth.

In the miscellaneous division, Mrs. Ella Stevens Watson, 70, Hillsboro, was selected by the Golden Rule Foundation as the Texas mother of 1946. Miss Ann Wisener, 21, of University Park, Dallas, was crowned Miss Texas in the August roundup of beauties at Fort Arthur.

Mrs. G. B. Desley of Dallas was named chairman of the A. H. Belo Corporation, publishers of the Dallas Morning News, effective Feb. 26, 1946. Miss Loy Freeman became president of the First National Bank at Athens.

Jean Kiger, 16, of Little York, showed the open champion short-horn steer at the Houston Fat Stock Show. Mrs. Florence J. Scott, Rio Grande City, was re-elected state president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. Joe Cude, Monahan, made the agricultural department back down on a statement that homemade soap was no good with bars of her own pure white soap. Mrs. Ben Lopez, 43, of Lamesa, made the news with the birth of her 25th child Nov. 13.

And not to be forgotten is Mrs. E. H. Morton, Marshall, who "heard a strange sound along the railroad track" reported it and saved a Texas and Pacific train from an accident because of a broken rail.

Friendly Thoughts
By J. M. CLEGG

Assumption roars. Authority silently commands. Gentleness finds little to overcome. As the storm approaches people shut things tightly; before the gracious sun they open up their houses. A frown loses while the smile wins.

A tactful, conscientious service... A ceremony of reverence. We are grateful for the kind commendation of those we have served.
