

LAWMAKERS AIM FOR LABOR LAW BY APRIL

Truman Hunting for Strike-Averting Plan

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman turned today to Clark M. Clifford, his youthful special counsel in a search for labor law revisions aimed at forestalling future economy-strangling strikes.

Specifically, the chief executive is said to want written into law "a clear concept of labor's responsibility to the people and the government."

Mr. Truman assigned Clifford to the task of coordinating information and recommendations coming into the White House from virtually every federal agency as well as from wide segments of industry and labor.

Clifford, a tall, handsome former St. Louis lawyer, played a key role in the administration's coal strike strategy which brought John L. Lewis to his knees last Saturday.

Clifford would not discuss his work, but other officials familiar with his assignment said he is carrying the major load of the preliminary work on Mr. Truman's "state of the union" message to be submitted to the new republican-controlled Congress.

These officials, asking not to be quoted by name, said the President's labor proposals are yet to be formulated and that speculation as to their nature would be "premature."

"One highly-placed friend told a reporter: 'The President is making a complete survey' and study now. When it is completed, he will, as usual, call in all government officials who would be concerned with the administration of any phase of the labor program and discuss it with them as well as with congressional people."

"He doesn't want unwise legislation. What he would like to have written in the law is a clear concept of labor's responsibility to the people and the government."

Clifford's work on labor legislation is only a part of the over all study dealing with all phases of the legislative recommendations which will go to Congress about Jan. 6.

In view of the epidemic of strikes during the past year, however, widespread interest has been aroused in what new approach to the problem the White House may propose.

Clifford was hardly known in politics last June 27, when at 39, he was picked by Mr. Truman to succeed Samuel M. Rosenman in the $12,000-a-year speech writing and advisory job.

The onetime attorney had been serving as the President's naval aide with the rank of Captain. Since that time he has played a steadily-increasing part in inner circle conferences.

Bureau Chief Says American Way of Life Is on Trial

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—The American way of life—a relatively free economy in which private enterprise has wide scope for development—is on trial before the other nations of the world, Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said here today.

In his annual address, prepared for delivery at the 28th annual convention of the Farm Bureau Federation, he noted that with the trend of Great Britain toward state-controlled economy, the United States is "pretty much alone" as proponents of the free economy principle.

"If our economic philosophy and institutions of democracy are to command the respects of other nations," he told the 12,000 delegates who have gathered from 45 states and Puerto Rico, "it must be demonstrated beyond doubt that their application does produce for the great masses of people a high level of economic and social well-being."

"That can be done only by following domestic policies that will maintain economic balance among groups and lead to abundant production and consumption of goods and services and constantly rising standards of living."

O'Neal agreed with previous speakers at a war-time farm price bonanza is near an end, and after tracing the inflationary rise and crash of agricultural prices in the first World War period, added:

"There is every likelihood that farm prices will slump this time, too."

However, he pointed out that the 90 percent parity bill passed by Congress furnished a stop-less cushion which would give farmers a certain amount of time and he believed the reorganization of committee places without too much regard for party politics. Anything that transgresses that purpose of the law violates its spirit, he said.

The committee on committees decided to demand a 12 to 9 edge on the 21-member appropriations committee, and 8 to 5 ratio on labor, rules and public lands and 7 to 6 on the other 11 committees.

In the last Congress—not bound by the reorganization bill it passed the Democrats held a 15 to 10 majority in the appropriations group, and could outvote their Republican colleagues by these ratios on the other three committees at issue: Labor 11 to 7, public lands, 9 to 6 and rules 7 to 5.

Commission Sets City Election For February 25

A city election to name four commissioners and a mayor under the city charter amendments voted here last week will be held Tuesday, Feb. 25.

The date was set at this morning's City Commission meeting after City Attorney Bob Gordon read the provisions of the law that states that the election must be held not less than 30 days, nor more than 90 days following the charter election.

The charter amendment calls for election of four commissioners from four city wards and a mayor at large. The amendment was approved by voters of the city by a count of 737 for and 704 against.

When the matter was first taken up this morning, Mayor Parris C. Owen said he was in favor of setting it over with as soon as possible, but Commissioner Harold Wright said the various processes that must be gone through to place names of candidates on the ballot required a certain amount of time and he believed the voters should be given more time to choose their candidates from the various wards.

The Feb 25 date was finally approved by a unanimous vote. In other business, the commission approved the appointment of W. J. Hatcher to the plumbing inspection board, replacing Rod MacDonald, who resigned.

A request by I. E. Rogers of the Seventh Day Adventist Church that his church young people be allowed to solicit funds for charity was also approved.

The commission also approved payment of damages totaling $525 and $150 to the J. R. Henry estate. The damage to crops was caused by backfiring of the outer sewer line constructed recently.

Conflicting Views on Inspection Block Move

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—Conflicting United States and Soviet Russian views on setting up inspection and control organizations regulating arms control were reported authoritatively today to be the lone obstacle to completion of a proposed resolution of worldwide disarmament.

A drafting committee charged with framing the resolution went back into session this morning after working until last midnight. The subcommittee named by the political committee to consider disarmament proposals was called to meet at 11 a. m. (CST).

An informant who would not be identified said that the United States desired that the general assembly in its disarmament resolution leave a free hand to the Security Council in setting up the inspection and control organizations. The United States, it was said, does not desire that the resolution lay down specific decisions on the number of organizations or their names.

This source said that Russia has insisted that the resolution specifically provide for a commission for controlling the execution of decisions taken on the reduction of armaments and a second commission for controlling the decision on prohibiting atomic energy for military purposes.

The United States was said to feel that the Security Council should handle a free hand in order to set up more than two commissions if it was found to be necessary.

Both the United States and Russia are agreed that there should be no veto within the commissions, that they should work by majority decisions on their day-to-day tasks. The veto will remain in the Security Council, however, as that body has the final say on any sanctions that might be voted as a result of any violations discovered by the control commissions.

An unofficial survey of delegates indicated today that the United Nations Assembly would override Russian opposition to an international inventory of armed troops at home.

At the same time, Great Britain appeared certain to lose its fight to set up a U. N. inspection board to verify figures submitted by member nations in the troop inventories.

The assembly was scheduled to meet in plenary session at 3 p. m. (CST) today to resume debate on the troop census proposal. Russia announced early yesterday that it would oppose the inclusion of home forces in the inventory.

Meanwhile, the 51-member political and security committee sent to the assembly a Russian resolution recommending that all members of the United Nations immediately receive See ARMS SLASHING, Page 8

Engineer Backs Proration System For Oil and Gas

DALLAS—(AP)—Statewide gas proration is an ideal system to strive for and as our reserves in the oil and gas fields are being depleted, it is the only method that can be used to prevent the depletion of the reserves.

It was the first accident to occur since gas began flowing through the Big and Little Inch lines, officials here said.

H. M. McDonald, division superintendent of Williams Bros., Inc., holders of the maintenance contract, had a large crew at work immediately after the accident. The cause of the break occurred at a low point underground where surface water had formed. Line walkers were in the neighborhood, but no injuries were reported. The scene was about a mile and a half from Longview.

The cause of the break has not been determined.

2 Youths Expose Anti-Negro Group

ATLANTA—(AP)—Two Atlanta young men, describing themselves as "former suckers" who were active in the anti-Negro Columbians, Inc., told state prosecutors today a story of how the organization sought to establish a Nazi-like government in the United States.

Waller said that both he and James Ralph Childers, also of Atlanta, told state officials they were involved in the purchase of dynamite to blast Negro houses.

Waller said he went with a Columbian leader "when he bought some dynamite" and that they previously had discussed whether to turn the Negroes' houses or bomb them out of houses in a white settlement.

Waller said that he joined the organization because "I just naturally don't like Negroes." He said he withdrew from the organization when Secretary Homer L. Loomis "told me of plans to take over the country and be a dictator."

Waller said that he and Childers then "took it on ourselves to find out what we could about the organization, which has expanded into an anti-Jewish group."

Pressure on Congress Due to Miners' Return

WASHINGTON—(P)—Lawmakers of both parties today set March 31 as the deadline for labor control measures aimed at staying off a possible new coal strike at that time.

Republicans and democrats alike said John L. Lewis' order sending his miners back to the pits until April 1 puts pressure on congress to act swiftly if it is to find a solution for disputes in such essential industries as coal, steel, oil and transportation.

President Truman, himself eager for a legislative barrier to future labor crises despite his victory over Lewis, assigned Clark M. Clifford, his special counsel, to the task of drafting administration recommendations to congress.

Democratic legislators generally indicated they will wait for the White House proposals before taking any action on their own, although they differed about course they prefer the chief executive to take.

Republican leaders on the other hand asserted strong sentiment already taking shape within their party for a compulsory arbitration law that would forbid strikes in any dispute affecting the public welfare.

A bill providing for this has been introduced in the new Congress. One top GOP lawmaker declared. He added that it may form the framework for an overall labor law covering many other phases of union-management relations.

The arbitration bill would set up machinery for rapid Federal intervention to prevent a shutdown affecting utilities, transportation or commodities essential to public health or safety.

With coal output gradually returning to its normal figure of 2-200,000 tons a day, there were three handovers from the 17-day bituminous shutdown.

The Supreme Court not only agreed to step into the Lewis case itself but decided to rule as well on another background issue in the coal dispute—the unionization of foremen.

While the current case involves only a group of Packard Motor Company supervisors, the fundamental question is one in which foremen are made in the Wagner Act's guarantee to workers of the right to join unions and bargain collectively.

Lewis already has won Federal approval in his reinstated contract with the government to unionize mine foremen under rules and procedures of the National Labor Relations Board.

Miners' Loss in Strikes Estimated At $240,352,000

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The coal miners are back at work. They lost by the strike. So did the mine owners. So did the country.

While they work now, John L. Lewis will bargain for a better contract for them.

But how much did they lose? What did the mine owners lose? And what did the nation lose? Who lost the mines anyway?

Here are some answers. The following figures come from the government's Solid Fuels Administration, which handles coal matters.

In 1945 the average miner lost in wages by his two strikes $600.88. The two strikes were 39 working days in the spring, 15 this fall. (The spring strike ended 59 days after it began the fall strike 17.)

Since there are about 400,000 miners—and each lost an average of $600.88 on the two strikes—their total loss for 54 lost working days in 1946 was $240,352,000.

The following figures come from the National Coal Association, the mine owners' organization.

The 54 idle working days cost the mine owners about $54,000,000—or $1,000,000 a day—for keeping the idle mines in stand-by condition. This means a profit they take of $1,000,000 for an outlay of about 2,300 mines while they were not working. That was a clear loss.

The spring strike cost the nation 70,000,000 tons of coal not mined, and the fall strike cost 25,000,000 tons of coal not mined. (The 54 strike days, 95,000,000 tons of coal not mined.)

Soviet Influence Test Carried Out

TEHRAN—(AP)—Four columns of Iranian government forces thrust into Truculent Azerbaijan province today in what some diplomatic sources said they considered an armed test of Soviet influence in Iran's northernmost semi-autonomous province.

As government troops opened a battle against the Fozdar, the militia of the Azerbaijan Democrat party, Premier Ahmed Qavam messaged Dr. Salimollah Javid, governor general of Azerbaijan, that security forces had been ordered into the province to supervise parliamentary elections and would enter no matter what resistance was encountered.

General Razmara, Iran's chief of staff, said casualties in the early fighting were reported to be light, with some Democrats killed and wounded.

He added that some captives had been taken and that a few Democrats had surrendered.

Razmara said the attacking forces were made up of regulars and irregulars. He reported that contact was made with the Democrat force a short distance north of Sarhan, at the entrance of Gnaflankooch Pass.

Secretary Would End Speculation

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson pressed today for action on a proposal to curtail speculation in cotton futures.

He outlined for a public hearing by the Commodity Exchange Commission suggested restrictions on trading in the nation's three cotton exchanges in New York, Chicago and New Orleans. The commission is the government's commodity market policing agency.

Anderson's proposal drew out of the cotton prices in October, when quotations dropped nearly 10 cents a pound from a post war peak of nearly 39 cents.

Specifically, Anderson wants the commission to limit daily trading and holdings of speculators to 30,000 bales in any one of the "three markets."

Specifically, Anderson wants the commission to limit daily trading and holdings of speculators to 30,000 bales in any one of the "three markets."

Under existing regulations, traders may buy and hold 30,000 bales in any one future.

At present trading is being carried on in six futures. This a trader could buy and hold 180,000 bales in each of the three markets.

Rodent Eradication Program Progressing

Pampa's rodent eradication program for the control of typhus and bubonic plague is progressing rapidly and thoroughly, according to the statements of a group of United States Public Health Service inspectors who recently made a complete examination of the work being done here.

Headed the group was Dr. John Snyder, Atlanta Georgia director of bubonic plague suppressive measures. The other two members of the group were John W. Wiley, also Atlanta, officer in charge of communicable diseases control and C. E. Coppeder, Austin, state director of the typhus control program.

After the inspection Dr. Essex described the local control program as "one of the best programs he had ever seen." He remarked that work throughout the program was outstanding and that if it continued at the same high level there is no danger of bubonic plague in the city, as there is in some localities in the Carolinas.

Under existing regulations, traders may buy and hold 30,000 bales in any one future.

At present trading is being carried on in six futures. This a trader could buy and hold 180,000 bales in each of the three markets.

Some representatives of the cotton exchanges, brokers and traders invited to the hearing today have indicated they will oppose the Anderson plan.

Harvester Cagers Open 1946-47 Cage Season at Morse Tonight

Bears Open Cage Season With Win; Ags Edge Sienna

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Staff Writer

If comparative scores mean anything the Baylor Bears, defending Southwest Conference Basketball champions, and the University of Texas Longhorns hold little advantage over each other this season.

The Bears opened their 1946-47 campaign last night with a 73-54 victory over the North Texas State Eagles, a team the Longhorns whipped twice last week, 63-41 and 66-40.

Outside the fact that Texas A. and M. lost to this same Eagle outfit by ten points, there is, to date, no other comparative basis for the conference.

The situation will change tonight, however, when Texas tangles at Austin with the Continental Air Lines five of Denver, who defeated Southern Methodist last night, in Dallas, 43-41.

In other games, Texas A. and M. won its first tilt in two starts by edging Sienna College, 52-47, before 5,000 fans at Troy, N. Y. Rice had its second straight close call by taking an overtime contest from Loyola of New Orleans, 55-53, at Houston, and Texas Christian lost another close one to Loyola of Chicago, 45-39.

High scorer last night was J. D. Lane of North Texas who sank 23 points to keep the Eagles within distance of the Bears. Big Bill Tom of Rice followed with 19 points. Jackie Robinson, Bill Johnson and James Owens had 15 each for Baylor. Reagan Colinsworth 14 for Texas A. and M. and Tommy Tomlin 13 for S. M. U.

Besides tonight's Austin tilt, other games will find the Texas Aggies moving into Kentucky to meet Morehead Teachers College at Louisville, and Baylor entertaining North Texas again.

Of the seven conference teams, Texas, Arkansas, Rice and Baylor are undefeated. Texas A. and M. has broken even in two starts and Southern Methodist and Texas Christian have lost three games each.

In a single season, the codfish may spawn more than 9,000,000 eggs.

Longhorns Name '47 Co-Captains

AUSTIN—(AP)—Raymond Jones and Max Baumgardner were elected co-captains of the 1947 University of Texas football team yesterday, while Coach Dana X. Bible awarded letters to 29 members of the varsity squad.

Jones, hard-running back, is a former Austin all-state back, a Navy veteran and now resides in Houston. He was awarded his second letter.

Baumgardner, end, of Wichita Falls also won his second letter. A fast wingman, he was outstanding as a pass receiver. He is a veteran, married and has a son.

Teckle Harlan Wetz, kick-off artist, led his fourth varsity letter to lead the award winners. Seven players received their "T" awards, including Jack Halpheny, Bobby Payne, Ralph Ellsworth, Audrey Gill, Sam Collins, Demp Harris and Ed Bechtel.

Other lettermen were Jones, Baumgardner, Joe Bill Baumgardner, Jim Canady, Roger Evans, Byron Gilmore, Frank Guess, Bobby Hanes, Dick Harris, Ed Heap, Walter Heapt, Lewis Holder, Ed Kelley, George McCall, Jerry McCauley, Joe Mitchell, J. W. Neal, Travis Raven, Dale S. Sweeney, Victor Vascek, and Don Weedon.

It was a blustery cold day when Washington and California hooked up in a Pacific Coast Conference contest. Gerry Austin, Washington's third string quarterback didn't figure in any action in an important game like that so he put on an extra set of long underwear to make himself more comfortable on the bench.

But Washington's first two quarterbacks got hurt and Austin was sent into the game. He got hit in more ways than one and reeled off two touchdowns. The extra set of longies was discarded at the end of the half.

In the Rice-Texas A. & M. game, Reifere, Albin Curtis blew his whistle but the din none of the players heard him. Rice was in punt formation and as the center snapped the ball towards the waiting kicker, Curtis moved into the play and took the pass from center himself. No gain!

Paul Crowe St. Mary's halfback, was an awfully mad gent for a while in the California tilt. With a clear field ahead and en route to a touchdown an official ran into his path and Crowe went sprawling.

Quick action on unexpected plays brought up a number of other oddities. Bowling Green of Ohio capitalized on a freak play to whip Canisius, 13-7. With Canisius ahead 7-6, Jack Freitas flung an unbraced hopper, Ohio pass into the Canisius end zone. Canisius' Bud Agnew knocked it earthward but it struck Darrell Braatz, lying on his back, bounced off him and into the hands of Mark Welker, also on the ground, for the winning touchdown.

In Germany during the last summer I found American administrative officers pitifully eager to get good men for the good jobs at their disposal. I talked with many Army officers who wanted older, more stable soldiers "better able to settle down and take of themselves than the green kids we are getting."

The American military government has lost thousands of the business executives, public employees, city officials, educators, and attorneys who prepared in wartime Army schools for the task of governing occupied territory.

"When the war ended most went back home to their families on the first boat they could get on," said one who stayed behind.

So American military government had to take a skeleton staff of the veterans who remained and around this nucleus build up all over again at the most critical period of the occupation.

In small German cities far from the main policy-making centers young American combat veterans, drafted from regular Army duties, have had to take over functions of government which which they are unfamiliar.

Yet you can't watch these men at work without feeling that a majority are doing the best they can. They work long hours. They get bitter over all-embracing criticisms in the American press of the caliber of men in their branch of service.

A source of high as well as low level argument in Germany is the question whether Russian military government men are of better caliber than their American counterparts.

"I don't believe they are," one American official said me, "but they do have some very able men. I think one reason is that the talented Russian regards it as a fine promotion and a splendid opportunity to work in Germany instead of his own country. He feels better off here.

"With the American it is exactly the reverse. He thinks he can do better and get ahead faster at home. That's true, too, and that's our real trouble in getting more top men."

Entire Squad Of 28 To Make Trip Tonight

With one week's practice behind them, Pampa's Harvester Cagers open their 1946-47 season tonight, playing the Morse High School team there. (Morse is between Berger and Spearman).

Coach Otis Coffey said he would take the entire squad of 28 boys to Morse this afternoon and that he had not decided on a starting lineup and did not plan to until he saw them work out on the Morse court.

Sure to draw a starting assignment, however, will be Bill Speer, sole returning regular from last season. Speer started at center last year but will probably be moved to forward.

Zeke Griffin, tallest player on the squad, was due to have started at center tonight but suffered a foot injury yesterday afternoon and may not be ready to start.

Besides Speer, other starters will probably be chosen from the wealth of squadmen back from last year, including Charlie Laffoon, Kelly Anderson, Bob Boyles, Clayton Pike, Frank Green and others.

Among the newcomers who looked particularly good in practice yesterday were Bill Bond, Raymond Fernandez, Derrel Davis and Calvin McAdams. McAdams will not be eligible for first string play until early in January.

A tentative 10-game non-conference schedule has been drawn up by Coffey, but it is due for additions, including participation in the Dallas Invitation tournament, which opens Dec. 26.

Wichita Falls Coyotes will be here for a two-game series Dec. 20 and 21. Other non-conference games tentatively matched include tilts with Claude, Phillips, Perryton and Stratford.

Coffey also planned to bring Ada, Okla. here for a game but conflicting dates have canceled the plans. Ada is one of the Sooner State's top cage teams.

Lamar (Houston) won over Reagan (Houston) by four touchdowns and over San Jacinto (Houston) by one. Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) walloped Reagan 40-0 and beat San Jacinto by 30 points. Jefferson by a top-heavy count.

Four of the eight quarter-finalists staged line comebacks to drive into the state play-off and get by the first round. Lufkin's is the most remarkable. The Panthers lost to Tyler and Orange in early season but gathered steam after the opening month to reach the championship first round hailed as the dark horse of the race. Wichita Falls was beaten by Highland Park and tied by Dabson and Sweetwater. Highland Park lost both to Sherman and Marshall. Waco dropped its opening game to Austin.

In fact there are only four undefeated teams left in the race and one of those will fall this week because two of them meet each other in the Lamar-Jefferson game. Odessa and North Side are both undefeated and untied.

Some great backs have come forward to pace into the quarter-finals. With Odessa it's Byron (Santon) Townsend, with Wichita Falls it's Buddy Woods, aided by Bobby Rogers, Highland Park flashes Russel and North Side depends on Bill Baumgardner behind a powerful line that features tackle Bob Van.

Waco's ace is Buzz Dozier and Lufkin hangs its hopes on the running and passing of Jim Mott.

Thomas Jefferson boasts two of the finest backs in all Texas in Kyle Rote and Pat Knight. Lamar's big gun is John Champion.

Three of this week's quarter-final games are on Saturday. The schedule:

Friday: Waco at Lufkin, 2 p. m.; Saturday: Wichita Falls at Odessa, 2:30 p. m.; North Side at Highland Park, 2:30 p. m.; Lamar at Jefferson, 2:30 p. m.

Schoolboy Elevens Have Mutual Foes

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AP Sports Writer

If comparative scores serve as a criterion—which they seldom do—Odessa, North Side (Fort Worth), Waco and Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) will be in the semi-final of the Texas schoolboy football race next week.

In no case has two of this week's second round opponents met each other but they have gone against mutual foes.

Odessa, for instance, downed Sweetwater 33-13 and Wichita Falls was played to a 14-14 tie by the Mustangs. Both have defeated Amarillo, but Odessa by a more decisive score. A heavy margin for Odessa.

Highland Park (Dallas) won over Adamson (Dallas) 13-0 and North Side twice trimmed Adamson—20-0 and 21-9. That would indicate a slight edge for North Side.

Lufkin and Waco each defeated Bryan—Lufkin by 13-0, Waco by 19-0. A brief margin for Waco.

Lamar (Houston) won over Reagan (Houston) by four touchdowns and over San Jacinto (Houston) by one. Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) walloped Reagan 40-0 and beat San Jacinto by 30 points. Jefferson by a top-heavy count.

Sooner Ags Lead College Elevens In Pass Attempts

NEW YORK—(AP)—For the first time in history, the aerial-minded Southwest Conference has failed to produce the nation's "passingest" college football team.

That distinction belonged today to Oklahoma A. and M. College which hurled 252 forward passes during the 1946 season, more than any other collegiate eleven.

Statistics released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau also disclosed that Nevada compiled the best yardage average on passes, that Pennsylvania's passers were the most accurate and that the fans who saw the most passing were those who followed the all-victorious Georgia Bulldogs.

The bureau's figures included these passing "firsts" for 1946: Highest average yardage per game—Nevada, 196.1.

Best percentage of completions—Pennsylvania, 55.2.

Most passes attempted—Oklahoma A. and M., 252.

Most passes completed—Georgia, 112.

Greatest total yardage—Georgia, 1,737.

Most touchdown passes—Georgia, 23.

Most passes intercepted—Georgia, 9.

Oklahoma A. and M. replaced

Southern Methodist, the "passingest" team of 1945 with 263 attempts, which failed to finish among the leaders this year.

In fact, the 15 leaders included only one team this year from the Southwest Conference. That was Texas, which finished third behind Nevada and Georgia in the bureau rankings, based on the average yardage gained by passes rather than the number or percentage of completions.

Texas Mines took the punting title, averaging 41.2 yards on 64 kicks in nine games.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—What type of men is America sending to Germany to handle occupation policies?

"That worries more people than the Senate War-Investigating Committee which raised the question on the conduct and character of American military government representatives in making public the Meador report.

In Germany during the last summer I found American administrative officers pitifully eager to get good men for the good jobs at their disposal. I talked with many Army officers who wanted older, more stable soldiers "better able to settle down and take of themselves than the green kids we are getting."

The American military government has lost thousands of the business executives, public employees, city officials, educators, and attorneys who prepared in wartime Army schools for the task of governing occupied territory.

"When the war ended most went back home to their families on the first boat they could get on," said one who stayed behind.

So American military government had to take a skeleton staff of the veterans who remained and around this nucleus build up all over again at the most critical period of the occupation.

In small German cities far from the main policy-making centers young American combat veterans, drafted from regular Army duties, have had to take over functions of government which which they are unfamiliar.

Yet you can't watch these men at work without feeling that a majority are doing the best they can. They work long hours. They get bitter over all-embracing criticisms in the American press of the caliber of men in their branch of service.

A source of high as well as low level argument in Germany is the question whether Russian military government men are of better caliber than their American counterparts.

"I don't believe they are," one American official said me, "but they do have some very able men. I think one reason is that the talented Russian regards it as a fine promotion and a splendid opportunity to work in Germany instead of his own country. He feels better off here.

"With the American it is exactly the reverse. He thinks he can do better and get ahead faster at home. That's true, too, and that's our real trouble in getting more top men."

Water Routes Prove Cheaper Than Rails

FALLAS—(AP)—Through use of water routes along the Gulf Coast water carriers can make shipments about three fourths lower than rail freight, James K. Knudsen, commerce counsel for the Department of Agriculture, told an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing here.

Knudsen testified that the Agriculture Department favors movement of Oklahoma cotton to Texas Gulf ports rather than channeling it through Memphis to mills in the southeast.

Railroads servicing the Memphis route have petitioned the commission to cancel the Texas route. Knudsen was the first witness to testify in the hearing on the petitions.

Knudsen said that although the Texas rail rate itself is seven cents higher, the cotton moved from Texas ports by cheaper water rates along the Gulf and the resultant net cost to the farmer was considerably lower. He pointed out that the Memphis route is entirely by rail over a much greater distance.

FAMOUS DIVISIONS NEED PICKED MEN Will you measure up?

Out in the Far East—in Korea and Japan—the great Army divisions which fought down the hard road to victory in the Orient are now part of a brilliant peacetime team. Their spectacular success adds new luster to battle flags already bright with war-won honors.

Many of these units are now taking in new men. They accept only the best—rugged, keen young soldiers capable of fitting the roles established by men who preceded them.

If you can measure up to the standards required, it is possible for you to join such outstanding units. A three-year enlistment for duty in the Far East enables you to choose the division with which you'll serve after completing your initial training in the U. S.

While serving your country in these fascinating places, you will be provided excellent living facilities. Far Eastern forces are comfortably garrisoned with fine recreational services conveniently near.

Oversas duty also boosts new Army base pay by 20%—a Private makes $90 a month, clear of food, clothing, medical and dental expenses. Your nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Officer can furnish all details.

NAVAL HERO CHARTS A PATH TO PEACE By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—An American fleet commander who has organized more amphibious landings than any man in history sees no immediate possibility of war because "the offensive power of each big nation is far ahead of its defensive power."

"And that is no more paradoxical," said Vice Admiral Daniel E. Barbey, "than to say that two men with revolvers aren't likely to start shooting if each knows in advance that he is going to be badly hurt or killed."

This 56-year-old veteran of 63 landings in the Pacific has no illusions about the price of another large-scale war. He thinks that "until there is established some central world authority that can safeguard our security" military muscle is our best guarantee against any sudden overwhelming knockout blow.

"A World War of the future will be far more calamitous than those in the past," said Barbey, commander of the Fourth Fleet, in an interview about the national North Carolina. "The victor will suffer but slightly less than the defeated. War must be eliminated."

He thinks the keystone to more war or permanent peace lies in "the desire of all nations for two things: To maintain their own way of life—that includes their political systems—and to safeguard their security from foreign menace."

A peace program which extends all countries these fundamental

Gather Ye Rosebuds

By JEANNETTE COVERT NOLAN

THE STORY: Beautiful Rose Cameron has had an adventure. Having some doubts as to whether she should go to Mamma, she called her head-on with a strange young man in Lahr's department store. The young man was both handsome and nervous. He told her she was the prettiest girl he had ever seen. "From now on, it's you and me—together," he said. Rose is convinced that Fate arranged the whole thing and can't wait to tell her sister, Sidney, about it. But when she gets home, Sidney seems so hard and derisive that Rose finds she can't share her secret. The year is 1910.

FROM the kitchen door, Miss Amy called, "Oh, Beaungard!" Hearing the sound of running feet in the twilight yard, she added: "Don't forget to scrub your hands. Fingernails, too!" Then she carried the coffee-pot into the dining room where the table was laid with a clean cloth and the oil lamp in the middle. Sitting down, she tinkled the little bell at her plate.

Supper was ready. Rose entered from the kitchen with a tray of hot biscuits. "Is that everything, Mamma?" "Miss Amy gave a last glance all around. "Yes, dear," Rose, she was thinking, was the best, the most satisfactory daughter in the world.

The Major came in from the parlor. Without his hat, with his tunic undone and paunch protruding, he looked rather like a squat Buddha, bald and sallow. He shook out his napkin, his eyes making an appraisal of the food. Lamb stew with carrots and noodles?

"Hm," said the Major and nodded. Hannah, the long-legged 12-year-old, appeared and slipped into her chair; then Sidney raced down the stairs, a bunch of artificial camellias pinned to her shirtwaist, bracelets clanking on her arm. Lastly came Beau, like a guarantee, he believes, will be successful. "All nations, as well as our own," he said "are fearful of their security and fearful of coming to any agreement which would permit foreign ideologies and creeds being imposed upon them."

"But if we expect other nations not to impose their ideologies on neighboring countries, we must be careful not to attempt to do that ourselves."

Barbey said that America, "militarily and economically" is the strongest country in the world. "We cannot be competed with at present in these fields by any other country. It is therefore to the advantage of other nations who wish to be on a par with us to come to an agreement with us in order to obtain advantage of our great financial resources and to bring our armament down to the level of less powerful countries."

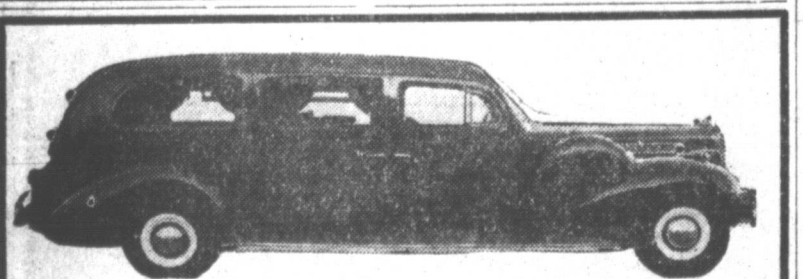

An agreement of this nature, Barbey continued, would benefit the world by the elimination of weapons of mass destruction—atom bombs, rockets, pilotless bombs, bacteriological warfare—and the reduction of land, air and naval forces to a fraction of their war strength."

Returning to this thesis that all the big powers could hit hard but couldn't keep their own people from pulling up a chair between them. "Feed me," he commanded. "I'm famished."

Miss Amy fixed a plate and dispatched Rose to the kitchen for more biscuits. "Now, let Jeff have his meal in peace. Don't talk to him," she said, and immediately: "Did you have a good trip?" "Just swell, Mamma."

"Ah!" Miss Amy felt within her the disintegration of an apprehension which had haunted her all week. Jeff was still a boy; in the secret depths of her soul, she had wondered whether the Major hadn't imposed upon him a very little bit in sending him on this trip. She would, of course, never say so, and she might well be wrong, she often was—but she had wondered. It was a relief to know that Jeff himself had no such feeling.

He was continuing: "I got orders everywhere, Papa. Decent orders and some new customers for you."

"New customers?" The Major looked startled. "At Helmsburg and Elberfeld, the general stores there."

"Helmsburg and Elberfeld are not on my—umm—itinerary."

The Major, now alarmed, interrupted sternly: "Eat your supper, Jeff. You said you were famishing."

Even in youth, reflected the Major, excessive zeal is a manifestation of vulgarly; Jeff's week of recreation might prove to be a disastrous error of policy. In phantasm the Major saw himself jolting to Helmsburg, to Elberfeld in a hired rig, a cigar box in his hand, anguished in his heart, pride in his pocket. . . .

As a measure of prosperity, here's a note from Elberfeld. A bank there paid 1,400 members of a Christmas club $80,345, or about 45 percent more than last year.

And in Hillsboro they're offering a cash prize for the best lighted home there this Christmas. There's no limit on Texas.

Just one glance at Santa Claus was not enough for Jimmy Jo Young, aged 6, of Pattonville. The young son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Young broke loose from his mother in Paris and disappeared into a Christmas shopping crowd.

His frantic mother appealed to police, who already had found Jimmy. Calmer observing rans given him by the cops, he explained that he had followed Santa down the street for a better look.

LAW PROTECTING SNAKES GETS WINKED AT GATLINBURG, Tenn. — (AP) — Poisonous snakes in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park are protected by law, but you aren't likely to be prosecuted should you kill one.

That, says Park Naturalist Arthur P. Stupka, is the attitude the government takes toward a statute protecting all wild life native to the park. Timber rattlers and copperheads roam the area.

Texas Today

Jingle Bells: Christmas, as they used to say during the Hoover Administration, is just around the corner but we have a hunch that when Mrs. W. Wilson of Amarillo prepares for Christmas dinner she'll approach the situation warily.

Her experience with a Thanksgiving hen is not forgotten. She killed and picked the hen and prepared it for the dressing. But when she picked it up, it made weird noises.

She promptly telephone the Amarillo Globe and held the hen to the phone. The reporter at the other end clearly heard the noises. Apparently, he wrote, Mrs. Wilson hadn't removed the hen's voice box. Whatever that is.

And speaking of turkeys, the Amarillo paper under a heading "Here Today, Hash Tomorrow" said turkeys were game to the last gobble, and died gloriously at 69 cents a

Survey Shows Years Have Been Added to American Life Span

NEW YORK, N. Y. — More than eighteen years have been added to the average of life among American wage-earners and their families in the past 25 years.

The expectation of life at birth has risen from 46 2-3 years to 65 years between 1911 and 1945 among the millions of industrial policyholders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, according to a study by the company's statisticians. At the same time, the age-adjusted death rate (excluding war deaths) was cut by more than half.

All age groups have benefited materially from the lowering of the death rate, according to the report, but the improvement has been most striking at the young ages.

"For every child that dies at ages 1 to 4 now, more than five would die if the mortality conditions of 35 years ago still prevailed," the report continues. "Up to age 45 the decline in mortality is well above 50 percent in each age group, and even at ages 65 to 74 the decline is large—almost 30 percent among white males and 37 percent among white females."

At virtually every age period the insured females have recorded greater improvement in mortality than the males, with the effect of further increasing the advantage in longevity which females have enjoyed over males.

Credit for the outstanding improvement over the 25 year period is due in large measure, the statisticians state, to the success that has been achieved in controlling the infectious diseases, especially tuberculosis, pneumonia, diphtheria, diarrhea and enteritis, and typhoid fever.

Locusts Are Fought At Their Hatching

JOHANNESBURG—(P)—To help stamp out a new cycle of locust invasions, the Union government has sent two expert officers to the remote region of Lake Rukwa, in Tanganyika, and granted $40,000 to the International Red Locust Control Council.

If the attempt to destroy the young locust swarms now hatching out, succeeds, it may save millions of square miles of Africa from years of disastrous locust invasions. The red locust in the past has laid waste agriculture from Kenya to the Transvaal.

Letters, Gifts and Checks Are Sent to Heroic Texas Couple

ROSEBUD—(AP)—Letters, some accompanied by small gifts and checks continue to come to Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Burch of Rosebud, in appreciation of their heroic defense of their home against the intrusion of two desperate escaped convicts, Ralph Dunlap and Fred Wren, Nov. 23.

Governor Coke R. Stevenson's personal contribution of $5 came Thursday to Publisher-Postmaster Ralph Killgore, who is receiving numbers of such gifts on behalf of the Burches, who have gone to visit their daughter, and husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ford of Port Arthur, Texas.

Governor Stevenson's letter stated: "This is not large. This is a large state. There should be many others who are willing to show their appreciation of the heroic conduct of Mr. and Mrs. Burch and if a considerable number will make a small contribution, the aggregate will be sufficient to evidence the gratitude of the citizenship generally and at the same time be of considerable assistance to Mr. and Mrs. Burch."

Burch, age 72, and his wife, 70, receive their income from the Old Age Assistance Commission of Texas.

They fought off the escaped convicts, who had clubbed a prison guard to death when they escaped at Huntsville the day before, when keys to their car had been demanded at gun point. The fight started after Mrs. Burch had been struck down by one of the convicts. In the fight, Fred Wren was fatally wounded, and Dunlap shot through the neck by the gun in his own hand.

lators Board. This has been a major stumbling block in the path of a contract with mine owners themselves, and a test case involving the mine supervisors directly is being carried to the high tribunal.

That court yesterday set January 14 for arguments on Lewis' appeal from his and the United Mine Workers' contempt convictions for refusing to obey a lower court's restraining order. The justices could announce on any Monday after that date their settlement of the issues involved. The fines total $3,510,000.

Lewis attorneys began preparing their defense against a Virginia state corporation commission charge that the UMW violated the state's "Blue Sky" law through the "sale" of union memberships.

Lewis has been directed to appear before the commission at Richmond on Friday to show cause why a temporary injunction should not be issued. Associates said, however, they expect the mine boss to remain in Washington and let district UMW attorneys represent him at the hearing.

Government economists speculated that it might take as long as two months or longer for production to bounce back to pre-strike levels. Even so they said the effect will appear to be only a "dent" in comparison with what they might have been had Lewis not surrendered when he did.

Texas Stations File Requests With FCC

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Federal Communications Commission has announced receipt of a request for operation of two new Texas radio stations and revealed the authorization of assignment changes for two other stations.

Charles L. South, H. H. Jackson, Alton Stewart and Ross Bohannon of Coleman, Texas, have applied for a station of 250 watts on 1,000 kilocycles, daytime hours.

The Denison Broadcast Corporation of Sherman, Texas, requests a 250 watt station at 1,500 kilocycles, daytime hours.

Station KTSA of San Antonio was granted authority to change its operating assignment from 550 kilocycles, 1 kilowatt night power and 5 kilowatts day power, to 550 kilocycles and 5 kilowatts power.

Station KCRS at Midland, Texas, was authorized to change its operating assignment from 1,230 kilocycles, 250 watts power and unlimited time to 550 kilocycles, 5 kilowatts day power and 1 kilowatt night power.

Station KNET at Palestine, Texas, has requested authority to increase power from 100 to 250 watts.

Muscles Are Key To Legislative Jam

TRENTON, N. J.—(AP)—Closed door conferences are the order of the day in Trenton when the legislature convenes, but they can become too confining when the key won't work and the conferees are trapped for four hours, said Republican State Chairman Lloyd B. Marsh.

It took four stalwarts summoned by cries of help to smash the door and free Marsh and Senate Majority Leader Charles K. Barton after a recent conference when the door key jammed and nothing would jar it loose.

upon its current average ability to produce.

"The allowable of a well or tract should depend, in part, upon the proportion of its productive acreage bears to the total productive acreage of the field as a whole. The amount of acreage to be assigned to the well for allocation purposes to depend upon the spacing pattern and proration unit assigned for the particular field."

"The factors involved in any proration program include potentials, acreage, deliverability, rock-pressure, reservoir pressure and volumetric withdrawal."

"It is believed therefore that proper action should be taken which, in proper combination, will furnish a sound allocation formula. It is my opinion that no single factor can be used in allocating allowables within pools because no single factor can prevent waste and give equity; each pool must be considered upon the facts found therein. The most important factor in any gas proration formula is acreage. More weight should be given to it than any other factor in order to minimize drainage across property lines and to discourage unnecessary drilling."

Baumeil said "the technique for statewide gas proration, when feasible, should follow substantially the same plan adopted for oil proration."

"The reasons for limiting the production of oil to a statewide production control cannot, in all cases, be applied to gas proration," he added. "Its fugacious characteristics are such that wasteful storage, losses from evaporation and leakage due to above ground storage, do not apply to gas. The market for gas is the assembly of the facilities of the lines, seasonal peak loads, and consumers' demand at the end of the line."

call their ambassadors and plenipotentiaries from Franco Spain. The vote was 77 with abstentions, including the United States.

As the assembly prepared to debate one of the most controversial issues of the current session, delegates found themselves faced with a heavy schedule of work that threatened to run past the adjournment deadline of Dec. 13.

Added to general committee and plenary session work today was a session of the Security Council. The eleven-nation body was faced with a Greek complaint of interference in its internal affairs by Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria. Greece has charged these three countries are supporting guerrilla warfare inside the Greek borders.

Before the assembly was a committee-approved resolution calling upon all members of the United Nations to submit reports on their troops at home and abroad by Jan. 1.

Russia, which had opposed unsuccessfully in committee the inventory of troops at home, carried her fight into the assembly to confine the census to armed forces abroad. Since the Soviet Union needs a two-thirds majority to win her point, most delegates agreed Russia would lose this fight.

Cargo Plane Crashes On Street in Dallas

DALLAS—(AP)—A Slick Airways Inc. cargo plane en route from Newark, N. J., to Burbank, Calif., loaded with 12,000 pounds of general cargo skidded from rain-wet Love Field runways into Lemmon Avenue here at 5:10 a. m. today.

Traffic is being routed around Lemmon Avenue, blocked by the slightly damaged plane, which will not be moved until an investigation is made by the Civil Aeronautics Association.

The plane had stopped at Chicago and Springfield, Ohio on its way to Dallas. The cargo included a large shipment of clothing, Slick Airways said.

Pilot of the ship was Charles F. Selter of Chicago, Co-pilot was James P. Wiley, also of Chicago. Both are veteran fliers.

'Good Suspect' Is Probed in Deaths

DALLAS—(AP)—With what Capt. M. T. Gonzales of the Texas Rangers termed as a "good suspect" on hand, possible developments in the Texarkana Phantom slayings investigation are expected.

Gonzales, who is in charge of the investigation, revealed that he and Sheriff Bill Presley of Texarkana, Bowie County sheriff, are working on the suspect.

He termed the situation as being some "good stuff that has not definitely been eliminated."

Without elaborating, the famed Lone Wolf of the Rangers refused to be too optimistic, saying "too many times good leads have turned into duds."

A nine-month manhunt has been under way in an effort to solve the slayings. The murders include Polly Ann Moore, 17, and Richard Griffin, 20, on March 29; Betty Jo Booker, 15, and Paul Martin, 17, on April 14, and Virgil Starks, on May 3.

Several rumors of the past two weeks including reports from Austin and Midland have indicated a break of the case.
