Rundstedt Dies... Death Claims Hitler's Aide

HANNOVER, Germany, Feb. 24—UP—Former Field Marshal Karl Rudolf Gerd von Rundstedt, the man who directed Hitler's last-gasp "Battle of the Bulge" in an attempt to break the back of the Allied invasion of Europe, died Monday night.

His death was announced Tuesday by members of his family.

The ailing, 78-year-old Prussian militarist had been living in seclusion here since 1948 when the British government ruled he was too ill to face trial as a war criminal.

Von Rundstedt was Hitler's western front commander when the Western Allies opened their second front, invasion of Europe and served in that capacity from 1944 until early in 1945.

Major "Nazi Offender"

He was classified as a "major Nazi offender" by the British and was scheduled to have faced a war crimes trial.

Allied when captured in 1945; his steadily declining health led to his release from a military hospital in Hamburg in May, 1948, and the subsequent British decision that he should not stand trial.

One of his last public appearances was made Oct. 9, 1952, when he attended the funeral of his wife, Louise.

His military career ended on May 1, 1945 when he was captured by American troops at Bad Tölz, Germany.

He said then that the Ardennes offensive — better known as the Battle of the Bulge — which handed the Allies their worst setback of the European invasion, was ordered personally by Hitler. He said he disagreed with its value and strategy and never follows orders without direct instructions from Hitler.

Suffered Heart Attack

At the time of his capture Von Rundstedt was suffering from the effects of a heart attack.

He never regained his health.

Members of the American 36th (Texas) Division which captured the ailing field marshal said he was granted a request for time to array himself in full dress uniform, with all his decorations, in order to appear in the "full glory" of a Prussian officer when he surrendered to U. S. Maj. Gen. John L. Dahlquist, commander of the 36th.

Dahlquist was in his pajamas when he received the resplendent Von Rundstedt.

Question Couple On Slaying Charge

PUEBLO, Colo., Feb. 24—UP—Police said they would question a young couple again Tuesday about the double slaying of a man and wife who were believed to have helped rob a Kansas bank last month.

FBI agents said Louis Albert Sturges, 23, and his blonde girl friend, Virginia Mae Iser, 20, confessed Monday they helped James Fahnstock and his wife, Billie, rob the Rosedale State Bank at Kansas City, of $48,907.

Fahnstock and his wife, were found shot to death in a blood-stained suite at Kansas City two days after the robbery. Police said they were apparently robbed of their share of the bank loot.

Gen. Clark Labels Red Claims Baseless

TOKYO, Feb. 24—UP—Gen. Mark Clark denounced Communist germ warfare charges Tuesday as "totally baseless."

The United Nations Far East commander implied the Reds may have used drugs and torture to force an American Marine officer to confess to "germ" bombings.

Clark indirectly challenged the Reds to let scientists from non-Communist countries determine whether their bacteriological warfare charges are true.

But he said he doubted the Reds would be willing to subject their "totally discredited allegation" to an impartial investigation.

"They will see to it, we can be sure, that no reputable and qualified authorities from outside the Iron Curtain will be allowed to reveal the truth," he said.

Clark issued a statement denouncing the Reds' propaganda blast "lest anyone regarding it be misinterpreted in any way."

The Chinese Communist Radio Peiping revived the germ warfare charges last week, quoting what it said were statements by an American Marine officer to back up the allegations.

The alleged statements were made by Col. Frank H. Schwabe, 44, Arlington, Va. He was quoted as saying he sat in on high level meetings at First Marine Air Wing headquarters in Korea at which the Marines supposedly received orders to drop "germ bombs" in Western Korea.

Schwabe was listed as missing July 12, 1952, along with his copilot, Maj. Roy H. Bley of Cabool, Mo.

In Arlington, Schwabe's wife said the charges were "the same old Communist malarky. I know my husband wouldn't do anything like that."

Clark said the "only possible" explanation of the broadcasts was that the Communists expected "new outbreaks" of disease in North Korea.

Broadcast Rights Asked... School Board Election Still A Question; Whatley Undecided

One of two Pampa school board members whose term of office ends this spring was contemplating today whether to run again for "you get to wondering if the people really want you."

Herman Whatley, associated with the Duenkel - Carmichael Funeral Home, felt that he had "just about served my time" and emphasized that "I don't believe in a fellow trying to monopolize such a job. But he added:

"I might run one more time, I might not."

The other board member whose term is up this year, Rex Rose, partner in Tom Rose Ford Co., was out of town and unavailable for comment.

McKay Backs States In Tidelands Dispute

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—UP—Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay Tuesday asked Congress to give coastal states title to submerged lands out to the historical boundaries.

But McKay, giving details for the first time of the Eisenhower administration's viewpoint in the long controversy over the offshore lands, said the federal government should keep exclusive control over the areas seaward from the historical boundaries to the continental shelf.

He advised the Senate Interior Committee that he favors dealing with the entire problem in one piece of legislation.

Historical boundaries of most states extend seaward three miles from the low tide mark.

In the case of Texas and Western Florida, however, the boundaries encompass a area 10 1/8 miles seaward into the Gulf of Mexico.

Shelf Varies

The Continental Shelf rises at varying distances seaward. In some cases the outer belt between state boundary and the shelf is more than 100 miles. This is the area McKay says should be kept by the government.

He said it should be administered by the Interior Department, with revenue from development of its resources held for "the nation as a whole."

President Eisenhower, in last fall's political campaign, declared himself in favor of state ownership of the so-called tidelands.

McKay's testimony was the first elaboration by an administration spokesman to spell out details on how Congress should proceed to keep the promise.

Favors States

"I do believe that the national interests would be best served by restoring to the various states the coastal off-shore lands to the limits of the line marked by the historical boundaries of each of the respective states," McKay said.

This would give each state full rights to determine how to develop and administer whatever resources might be found underwater between the states.

Intervention Feared Canadian Bill Is Sidelacked

AUSTIN, Feb. 24—UP—Senate action on a bill creating a "Canadian River water authority" was temporarily sidetracked Tuesday after Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro raised strong objections.

The proposal would allow 12 Panhandle and Plains cities to tap the Canadian River as a source of municipal water supply.

The measure received unanimous approval of the Senate's Committee on Water Rights, Irrigation and Drainage last Wednesday.

STATE PRESIDENT of Texas Service Stations, Associated, Lawrence Miller, Galveston, gave a talk at a TSSA district 18 banquet at 7:30 Monday in the Palm Room. Irish Can Depend On One Visitor

SHAMROCK (Special)—Shamrock is assured of at least one visitor at the St. Patrick's day Celebration. Mrs. Hill Duncan of Perkins, Okla., heard of the celebration from her husband who works in the local oil fields and on the sixteenth she told her neighbors she was going to attend the Irish Festival. Early the next day she headed for Shamrock.

She found she was plenty early for the kick-off parade. In fact, she was one month early.

"My face is red, because I really am Irish," Mrs. Duncan said. "Anyway I'll be back March 17," she added.

Station Operators To March On Austin

About 2,000 uniformed state service station owners will converge on Austin Wednesday to lend support to a gasoline temperature correction bill now before the legislature.

Ben Ogden, Texas Service Stations, Associated, district 18 director for the state organization, left Monday bound for Austin where he is to back the bill.

The bill is intended to give retailers a "fair" buying price per gallon of gasoline delivered them in hot weather. Gasoline expands under heat causing operators to pay up to $10 and $12 per trans-por-tation above gasoline actually loaded at the wholesaler's starting point, according to retailers.

Approximately 150 Pampa area station owners, labeled the action a "fair bill" at a Texas Service Stations, Associated, banquet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Palm Room. The operators are supporting the bill on a "pay for what you get" platform.

The proposed legislative action is the result of wholesalers buying gasoline from refineries at a base temperature of 60 degrees then selling it to retailers at a temperature which is sometimes as much as 40 degrees higher in the summer months.

The temperature correction bill, Lawrence Miller, TSSA president from Galveston and speaker at the banquet, said, would permit operators to pay for the gasoline at a corrected temperature back to the set 60 degrees.

The banquet turnout heard an advance address by E. G. Wedgeworth, Chamber of Commerce manager. Wedgeworth commended the local organization saying it was one of the most active

Prisoner Deadlock Confronts Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Feb. 24—UP—The United Nations General Assembly opens the second half of its seventh annual session Tuesday and begins another attempt to end the long deadlock in the Korean truce negotiations.

There was an air of pessimism among delegates to the 60-nation assembly who had spent weeks in bitter debate on the Korean question last fall with no concrete progress toward a solution.

A new team of United States delegates took its place in the Assembly but no great changes in U. S. policy toward the Korean issue were expected.

President Lester B. Pearson of Canada was scheduled to call the assembly to order shortly after 2 p.m. (est). He was expected to report officially Communist China and North Korea have turned down the compromise peace resolution adopted before the Assembly began its nine-week vacation Dec. 22.

The opening session was expected to be a brief one, unless Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky chooses to bring up immediately the question of Formosa. Some observers believed he might ask the Assembly Tuesday to place on its agenda the recent action by President Eisenhower which opens the way for Nationalist forces to attack the Communist-held Chinese mainland.

Vishinsky and delegates from Soviet satellite nations were non-communicative when they arrived in New York Monday aboard the Queen Mary.

"I have no news for you," Vishinsky told reporters, and then added cryptically: "No news — best news."

Members of the United States delegation headed by Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., were under instructions not to talk about UN affairs — on or off the record.

Dates Set For Hearings

Public hearing dates on proposed rezoning of portions of the southwestern part of Pampa and the 1953 paving ordinance were set this morning by the city commission as it waded through a loaded agenda.

The rezoning proposals, before being ordinance, will be given a public hearing on March 17.

The paving ordinance, which passed its first reading this morning, will be held at 9:30 a.m., March 24.

Awarding a contract for 12,000 barrels of cement was postponed until next week for further investigation. The bids of the seven lumber yards — through which the cement would have to be handled — were confining to the commission after several of them named the price per barrel and others entered only the handling cost. The handling cost is the only item on which the bids are actually made, the cement price is the same.

As far as could be determined, Panhandle Lumber Co. with a bid of five cents per barrel handling and $3.95 1-2 per barrel of cement appeared to be low.

The ordinance annexing 10 acres of land in the southwestern part of Pampa, immediately west of Lamar School, was passed on its first reading. The area has only one owner, Mrs. T. C. Neel, who petitioned that the 10 acres be made a part of the city.

The commission turned over to City Atty. Bob Gordon and City Manager B. H. Cruce the problem of making a "fair settlement" with Jewett Nelson, father of eight children, who was injured while working for the Sanitation Dept. Nelson was kept on full salary for three months after he was forced to lay off work to have his foot operated on. The man had one month of sick leave and paid vacation built up, but not the other two. Nelson appeared before the commission on Feb. 23.

Allied Raiding Party Inflicts Heavy Damage Breaking Trap

SEOUL, Korea, Feb. 24—UP—An Allied tank-supported raiding party in a four-hour battle Tuesday smashed out of a Communist trap in No Man's Land taking a heavy toll of Reds.

Heavy clouds blanketed most of North Korea hampering air attacks throughout Monday night and Tuesday.

However, UN fighter-bombers attacked a supply area at Murur, southeast of Wonsan, and flew in close support of infantrymen along the line.

Women Seek Posts In Dallas City Election

DALLAS, Feb. 24—UP—Dallas faced Tuesday the possibility of full "petitcoat slates" of candidates for the nine city council posts in the April 7 municipal elections.

Manuel De Busk, Dallas attorney who got nine petitions from the city attorney, said he was asked to get them because "some of the businessmen are unhappy about the charter association leaving off a woman in their slate."

Candidates picked by the charter association usually win Dallas city elections.

Decision Expected Within A Week On Quinduno Rules

AUSTIN, Feb. 24—UP—Decision by the Texas Railroad Commission on an application for establishment of special rules for the Quinduno Field in Roberts County may be made next week, a commission spokesman said Tuesday.

Special rules for the field were urged at a commission hearing last Saturday to allow development of the area's natural gas potential.

Testimony has been under consideration by the commission since that time, and no date was announced when a ruling might be made.

When the battle was over, they counted 36 dead Chinese and estimated another 60 Reds killed.

The badly outnumbered band of American fighting men had hidden behind the mounds of a Korean graveyard southeast of Panmunjom Monday night. They were a mile and a half from friendly lines, dug-in to protect a tank-infantry raid. The raid never came off, because the Chinese reached the graveyard too soon.

"They blew a horn, a goony yelled and then burp guns started," said the lieutenant, George W. Yates, 23, of Mount Olive, Mass. That battle lasted 20 minutes and Agenda for National 4-H Club week March 7-15 is to be slated at a Gray County 4-H and Home Demonstration Council meeting at 7:30 p. m. today in the home demonstration office.

Directing the meeting, at which time plans are also to be made for a party in March, will be Bill Goldston, assistant county agent and Miss Faye Burna, assistant home demonstration agent.

Wiley Would Consult Allies On Russ Pact

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—UP—Chairman Alexander Wiley of the Senate Foreign Relations committee said Tuesday the United States should consult its Allies before attempting to repudiate any agreement with Russia.

The Wisconsin Republican said he was anxious to avoid "another free-for-all" on foreign policy like the one that followed the order freeing Formosa to attack Communist China.

President Eisenhower has asked Congress to subscribe to a resolution condemning Russia's violation of such wartime agreements as the Yalta pact.

Mr. Wiley said earlier he considered the resolution "disappointing" and Congress should strengthen it.

One Not Guilty... Court Tries Four Cases

Four driving while intoxicated cases — one involving a jury decision of not guilty, another, a hit-and-run driver — with a previous conviction — have been tried in county court during one 24-hour period.

Robert Edwin Daniels, 23, of Brownwood, arrested Nov. 8 on the Perryton highway, two miles north of Pampa, was found not guilty last Monday afternoon by a six-man petit jury after an all-day trial.

William R. Cullison, 39, of 223 N. Sumner, involved in a three-car, hit-and-run collision Monday night, was fined $200 and costs in county court, this morning by Judge J. B. Maguire.

G. O. Davis, 46, of Borger, was fined $100 and costs Monday afternoon. He had been picked up Saturday afternoon by county authorities.

Walter S. Moffitt, 44, of Pampa, was fined $100 and costs, picked up Jan. 5 by highway patrol, he had pleaded not guilty at the time but changed his plea Monday morning.

Daniels' truck-tractor and semitrailer had been found Nov. 3 in a ditch on the east side of the road, loaded-in city jail early the morning of Nov. 9, he was turned over to county authorities for 10:30 a. m. Thursday in Bonwell Brothers Funeral Home, Amarillo.

Defense attorney at Monday's trial of Daniels was Don Cain, Pampa.

According to County Attorney Bill Waters, after the jury had deliberated for two hours, the foreman came back to the courtroom and asked Maguire if the jury could give Daniels a suspended sentence.

Told that it could not, (it would mean new instructions to the jury) the foreman returned to the courtroom. Fifteen minutes later, Waters said, the jury returned to the courtroom with the not-guilty decision.

According to city police records, Cullison's vehicle collided on a street about 8:50 a. m. Monday in the 100-block of West Foster with parked cars owned by respective Mrs. William Liberty, 221 E. Francis, and the Texas Pipe Line Company, Wichita Falls.

Having left the scene of the accident, Cullison was picked up shortly after by city patrolmen. Total damages to the two struck vehicles were estimated at $175.

Previously, Cullison had been convicted on a 6-w-1 charge in Gray County, Waters said. He was fined $100 and costs Sept. 13, 1951.

Though no additional cases have yet been set on the county court's petit jury docket for this session, Waters concluded, the panel has been recessed — though not dismissed.

"I recently played Canasta in a group that follows a strange rule. They claim that a player is never allowed to meld out unless he has requested and received his partner's permission to do so.

"As you can imagine, this sometimes frustrates a player who wants to meld out no matter what his partner may wish to do. They get around this by asking the question with great emphasis when they really want to meld out. A partner who refuses permission to such an emphatic request is either stubborn or stupid.

Cafe Owner Critically Hurt After Child Shoots 'Cap Gun'

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 24—UP—Joe Payne welcomed a woman traveler into his cafe, smiling when her two children began playing behind the counter, and moments later gasped: "I've been shot!"

There had been a report, Mrs. Albert J. Little of San Antonio, Tex., told officers she looked up and saw her soon Gary, 4, holding a .38 caliber pistol he had found behind the counter. She said Gary exclaimed: "Look, mama. See that cap pistol. I shot him with it."

Payne, 38, had wheeled around when the slug struck him in the back. He took the pistol from the child and asked another patron to drive him to Rex hospital. He was reported critically wounded.

Mrs. Little, wife of an Air Force major in France, was near collapse when sheriff's officers arrived. She said she stopped to eat Monday while traveling to New York with Gary and her daughter, Catherine, 8.

"Mr. Payne was so friendly and nice and let the children play in back of the counter. But why did he have a loaded gun that was so easily reached?"

The officers ruled the shooting an accident and permitted Mrs. Little and the children to continue their trip. Mrs. Little said she is sailing next month to join her husband, Maj. Albert J. Little.

McKAY

McKay said he did not appear as an "advocate or opponent" of any specific bill.

Sen. Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla.) is sponsor of a bill to give the states ownership to their historic boundaries. Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.) would extend the legislation to cover territory to the continental shelf. Daniel has proposed joint federal-state management of all over the state by its activity and enthusiasm.

He advocated fraternity in business as well as personal life as a better philosophy for living.

Further, McKay said, legislation on the outer belt would empower the Interior Department "to take appropriate action to prevent waste, to provide for exploration and development, to supervise production, and to recover 50 per cent and just revenues for the benefit of the nation as a whole."

He said the federal government should be empowered to issue new leases in exchange for those negotiated by the states for areas outside their historical boundaries.

McKay told the committee it has a duty to define clearly as possible historical boundaries of each coastal state, and said it also should set up machinery to handle disputes over leased properties.

He said he was not trying to interpret Supreme Court decisions holding the federal government has "paramount rights" in offshore lands. But he noted the high court has recognized a congressional

'Scientist X' Goes On Trial For Perjury

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—UP—Dr. Joseph W. Weisberg, the "Scientist X" accused of feeding wartime atomic secrets to Russia, goes on trial Tuesday on charges of lying to House investigators about his Communist ties.

Weisberg, a former Minnesota University professor, faces a maximum penalty of 30 years in prison if convicted on all three counts of the perjury indictment. The slim, bespectacled scientist, who has been free on $5,000 bond since his indictment last May 23, has pleaded innocent.

The case was scheduled to come before Judge Alexander Holtzoff in federal district court. Prosecuting Attorney William A. Hitz said he expects the trial to last about 10 days.

Weisberg was called before the House on May 23, 1948, for questioning about an alleged Russian spy ring that operated around the wartime atomic radiation laboratory at the University of California at Berkeley. He was an atomic scientist at the laboratory.

The committee dubbed him "Scientist X" and said he slipped important atomic secrets to Communist spy organizer Steve Nelson for transmission to Russia. He denied the charges.

New Round Of Wage Demands In Prospect For Coming Year

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Eisenhower's first press conference expression of faith that American business and American labor would not try to gouge after the removal of price and wage controls will apparently be put to an early test.

This test may come from labor before it comes from business. Both the CIO and the United Mine Workers leaders urged the President to remove wage controls before he took them off.

This presages new wage demands from these unions even though John L. Lewis won a $1.90 wage increase for his miners last fall. The agreement runs out Oct. 1, 1953.

CIO President Walter Reuther wants to reopen his United Auto Workers contract with General Motors even though it has several years to run.

And the American Federation of Labor's executive committee, at its recent midwinter meeting in Miami, announced a drive for general wage increases "to prevent a major depression in 1954 and 1955."

So the outlook for the coming year is one of demands for another round of wage increases. The AFL, incidentally, will base its demands on the assertion that productivity of labor has gone up faster than wage increases. This will at least have the merit of novelty, and differ from the old line that the cost of living has gone up faster than wages.

As for the price level, Economic Stabilization Director Joe Pheehill predicts that the removal of all controls will increase prices by as much as $3 billion a year. A four per cent rise in prices will increase defense costs by $1 billion, so he says.

President Eisenhower says he could have no greater disappointment than to be forced to go back to Congress and say that the removal of controls had not worked. He anticipates that with controls removed, some prices may go up, and some down. But the natural working of the economic laws will keep prices in line, he believes. And in addition, government interference will have been removed.

If the President's plan succeeds — and nearly everyone hopes it will — it will provide a perfect example of how emergency controls are supposed to work. In 1951, Eric Johnston, a practicing Republican who was the second economic stabilization director in this Korean war period, outlined a two-year plan to stabilize the economy.

It was a program for allocating scarce materials to get defense production rolling and for economic controls to prevent prices and wages from skyrocketing. "When we have safely reached the point where we can eliminate controls," said Mr. Johnston, "I will be the first to recommend their removal."

Mr. Johnston didn't last long enough on the job to carry out this plan. Those who came after him weren't permitted to carry it out very well, either. But to a degree, it carried itself out.

Supply in many lines caught up with demand. Prices dropped below ceilings on the items in oversupply — like meat and cotton. And so it became safe to take off the controls.

The successful working out of this theory — whether it was intentional or accidental — raises immediately the question of whether stand-by controls should be maintained for future emergency use.

Disagrees On Controls
President Eisenhower says he does not intend to ask for stand-by authority. But he admits he can't foresee conditions three to six months away. And if what he is now trying to do cannot accommodate the present situation, he will go right back to Congress.

At this point, the President runs into a difference of opinion with Indiana's GOP senator, Homer Wages from skyrocketing. "When we

we have safely reached the point where we can eliminate controls," said Mr. Johnston, "I will be the first to recommend their removal."

Communists Did Favor For Wife Of Captured American

United Press Foreign Analyst
The Communists did Mrs. Frank H. Schwable of Arlington, Va., a favor this week, but it was unintentional.

A Peiping broadcast let her know her husband, missing since last July, is alive.

Senate Banking Committee, Senator Capehart has introduced a new Economic Stabilization bill which would continue stand-by price and wage controls.

Coming from the author of the which was widely acclaimed for Capehart amendment of 1952, guaranteeing built-in inflation by law, this is really something. Admitting that his behavior may seem somewhat paradoxical, Senator Capehart explains it this way:

"Just as surely as Congress voted for the Emergency Price Control act of 1942 after the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor and again in 1950 after the North Koreans crossed the 38th parallel, just as surely shall we — much as we detest controls over our economic life — do the very same thing again."

It is impossible for Congress to pass a good control law in less than three months and for the government to get it working in less than seven or eight months, says the Hoosier senator. Inflation would run away again in that time if some new emergency arose, he says.

This time all the experience, evidence and arguments seem to be on his side. When it was suggested this made Senator Capehart something of a liberal, he said, "Yeah I'm a liberal."

It was incidental that his name came up in connection with an old and cracked record which the Reds drag out every year at about this time. That is, their charges the United Nations is using germ warfare against the Reds in Korea.

Same Old, Malarky
Mrs. Schwable had the natural reaction when she said the news about her husband was "wonderful" and the rest of it "The same old Communist malarky."

This is the time of year when disease normally begins reaching its peak in North Korea — or anywhere else, for that matter, where lice and rats considerably outnumber the people.

The Communists' newest charge says the U. S. Air Force began dropping cholera, yellow fever and typhus germs over North Korea last November.

Far East Commander Gen. Mark Clark and his officers scarcely bother denying the charges any more.

The Reds have been given the lie many times. One of the most forceful denials came in April last year when Red propaganda voices were at the peak of their frenzy over 1952 germ warfare charges.

Dr. Brock Chisholm, chief of the United Nations World Health Organization, returned from a Far Eastern inspection tour and said if the UN used germ warfare, "millions of people would die suddenly."

Dr. Chisholm, a Canadian, said any such campaign would be far more "effective" than anything described by the Reds and there would be no secret whether bacteriological weapons had or had not been used.

"Travelers' Echo 'Big Lie'"
In other words, the UN had not used germ warfare.

Meanwhile, the Reds made full use of the "big lie" technique while refusing or ignoring offers of outside investigation and help from such organizations as the International Red Cross and the UN world health group.

Unfortunately, it was not entirely ineffective.

It got an assist from fellow-travelers and others, perhaps well-meaning but gullible.

Britain's "Red" Dean of Canterbury helped it along and so did France's Frederic Joliot-Curie.

They preferred to accept the Red charges against our own denials and the weight of disinterested scientific proof.

A Popular Name

AKRON, Ohio, Feb. 24 —UP— When Leroy Hookman was arrested and police found 74 other charges listed against him when he appeared in traffic court, he offered this explanation:

"That wasn't me all the time. Others have been giving my name when they get in trouble."

Plenty Of Walkers

LONDON, Feb. 24 —UP— Sixty young men applied for an advertised job for two to walk 400 miles at 14 miles a day this spring.

Those selected will be paid about $28 a week to walk the English Midlands testing a new sock for a weaving firm.

A Family Affair

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 24 —UP— A father and son will have a double wedding Saturday.

Edwin F. Frederick, 53, a widower, and his son Gary Frederick, 19, both applied for marriage licenses at the same time. They will wed Mrs. Viola S. Cummings, 44, and Arlene J. Vaught, 18.

Tickets Take Wings

BAKER, Ore., Feb. 24 —UP— Crows in this area are a great favorite of motorists but hated by police.

The birds, police said, have been flying off with tickets placed under the windshields of law-violating drivers.

Day or night, your telephone stands ready to put you in touch with the world outside your home.

A Servant That Never Sleeps

...Your Telephone

WHILE YOU'RE SLEEPING, telephone people are working through the night. Operators handle comparatively few calls — but they are often important ones. Repairmen are on call for emergencies. Carpenters are busy checking and equipping trucks for the next day's work. Building service workers are readying offices for the coming day. All have an important part in keeping your service reliable.

WE'RE ALWAYS HUNTING TROUBLE — before it starts. And the hunt goes on through the night hours. In fact, many maintenance jobs are done at night. Wires are checked with electronic testers (above). Sensitive switching equipment is vacuum-cleaned. Every possible precaution is taken to make sure that you will have instant service whenever you want it — day or night.

ISN'T THIS A BARGAIN?

HOUSEHOLD SERVANT—Ready and willing to run errands, keep you in touch with friends, summer help in emergencies . . . On duty 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, with no vacations or time off . . . Always looking for ways to do an even better job tomorrow . . . Works for daily wages of about the cost of a package of cigarettes.

Tips For Tasks

Try using simple rick rack a new way for clever braid effects. A dress or jacket may be made smart by trimming with braid made by interlocking two strands of rick rack, size 20. To make braid, use matching or contrasting colors. Pin ends of two strands together firmly; interlock the points of the rick rack.

INTRODUCING ... America's New Choice In Fine Cars

The PACKARD Patrician—one of eight brilliant new Packards... with advanced contour styling that is now setting the new trend in automobile design.

PACKARD

Now Setting the New Trend in Automotive Design

NOW YOU HAVE a new choice in fine cars—today's truly distinctive new Packard—from the company that introduced quality to motordom 54 years ago!

PACKARD, the great name which has in years past distinguished three out of every five luxury cars, again represents the finest built, easiest handling and most distinctively styled cars you can drive.

In the new Packard Patrician, Cavalier, Mayfair, Convertible and custom-built models, yesterday's traditions of craftsmanship meet tomorrow's advanced engineering.

This combination brings you everything you have desired in motoring comfort, convenience and pleasure—and probably much you didn't dream possible. The incredible smoothness of the famous Packard ride, for example... or the hush of Packard's high compression eight when "loading" at sixty.

With more power than you will ever use... and with the amazing ease of Packard Power Steering, Packard Power Brakes—proved in more than a year of actual use—and the industry's finest no-shift drive... today's new Packards are engineered and precision-built to outperform all others!

If you want a really distinctive car, and want it now, see the luxurious new Packards... America's new choice in fine cars.

NEW! The Packard CLIPPER—another great Packard line. If you plan to buy a car in the $2500 price class be sure to see and drive the new Packard CLIPPER and compare it with other medium-priced cars. Surprisingly enough the CLIPPER costs only a few hundred dollars more than cars in the lowest-price field. Here's your opportunity to own a really fine automobile.

Visiting Dutchmen Doomed... Customer Needs A Map To Get Out Of California Supermarkets

By HENRY McELWORE
LOS ANGELES — Fourteen men came from across the sea, and none will return.
That's the way I figure it. The fourteen I speak of are those sixteen Netherlands grocers who accepted the invitation of the Mutual Security Agency to visit the United States to study our supermarkets.
The invitation, I am sure, was offered in good faith and with the aim of drawing the U. S. A. and Holland closer together.
Canned peas across the sea, so to speak, is a long haul.
The fourteen Netherlands grocers are now in California.
I say again that I don't think they'll get out alive.
California supermarkets are vast, uncharted areas, with groceries on the side. They cover blocks, even acres; the smallest one is roughly the size of Delaware, and in the top one a man can stand on a top shelf and see both oceans at the same time.
I wouldn't be surprised if Balboa discovered the Pacific Ocean from the vantage point offered by a sack of flour in a Los Angeles supermarket.
I was in a supermarket only yesterday, and when I bought five pounds of sugar an employee gave me a map.
I studied the map and discovered that to get milk I would have to walk two miles, and to reach the jelly and preserve section I would have to pick up a guide near the detergent and peanut butter shelves.
"Don't try it without a guide," the clerk said. "If he you not to. Last week we lost a newly-married couple. They tried to get to butter without help.
"And only a week before," he said, "two fine people were separated forever. They wanted liver and onions for dinner. Who went for the liver and he wandered off in the onion crowd. I'm sure they'll never meet again."

This is because liver is so far away from onions that a man buying onions has to have a passport to cross into the liver country. He has to declare his baggage, give his citizenship, and swear he won't become a burden to the supermarket.
The men from the Netherlands will never be able to get out of the way of the pushcarts. They'll all be run over. Rotterdam ribs will be cracked. Hague hipbones will be smashed. Amsterdam arms will be twisted.
The bicycle is the chief means of transportation in the Netherlands. Very slow, the bicycle, when compared to a supermarket pushbasket, pushed at 4:40 in the afternoon by a woman who has to have dinner on the table at six.
The world's speed record for half a mile is not held by a horse, or an automobile, or an airplane, or a college boy wearing pants that reek with liniment. It is held by a 36-year-old marionette, Mrs. Gustav Hohokus, of 6650 Franklin Avenue, Hollywood, California. She was timed in the Thriftymart Supermarket at Highland and Franklin Avenues between the frozen food display and the sliced peaches section. It measures exactly half a mile. And she carried extra poundage too. Junior Hohokus, aged 4, was riding in the pushcart. Men of the Netherlands, fare thee well!

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

"HOLLYWOOD" — (NEA) — Exclusively Yours: There will be no permanent acting harness for Howard Duff and Ida Lupino now that they've been cast as a co-starring team in "Jennifer."
"I don't think it's wise for husbands and wives to co-star often," Howard says. "It might look as if you're both trying to capitalize on your marriage. Our careers will be kept fairly separate."
There's nothing wrong with their marriage, he insists, despite the fuss kicked up when he scooted to Palm Springs after a hit. "There are bound to be arguments," he told me. "When you have two such volatile people as we are."
Note to Cinema-minded exhibitors playing "Niagara": How about billing Marilyn Monroe this way:
"This is Skinnerama."
Plans for that Johnnie Ray movie at Fox, it's whispered, have been shelved. Cobb and Producer Leonard Goldstein are huddling on a possible Cobb film biography. Mitsi Gaynor is working up a night-club act which she'll try out in Tucson in March. Feature number is a tassel dance the censors wouldn't let her do on the screen.
TV comic Pinky Lee has his photograph printed on his checks!
Joan Davis' 18-year-old daughter, Beverly Willis, is up for an NBC-TV series. There's a howl in the title tune of the new Warner musical, "Three Sailors and a Girl." "Show Me a Happy Woman and I'll Show You a Miserable Man."
The "Y's" Have It
Movie director to Zsa Zsa Gabor: "Can't you learn to pronounce it WHY not WHY?"
Gabor: "I'm working on it."
Miss Double Z, by the way, makes her night-club debut March 3 at a hotel in Las Vegas at $6000 a week.
Cyd Charisse will play a bit role in Esther Williams' "Easy to Love" — a walk on, as a gag, in a bathing suit. "A Queen is Crowned," a one-hour color coronation, will be released in the U. S. by Universal-International.
Joan Crawford nixed $15,000 to star in a Screen Gems TV dramatic half hour. Her own video plans prohibited the three-day job.
Fred Astaire's new deal at MGM gives him a break with the income tax department. He'll do one film a year for three years at $100,000 each. But he'll be paid $50,000 a year for six years. Pats of Kéenan Wynn and his wife are hoping for a reconciliation. Paulette Goddard and Richard Ney may look lovey-dovey in "Babe in Bagdad," but their battles during filming of the picture had the director identifying himself as a referee.

FERNANDO LAMAS' comment on Lana Turner's crack that MGM should have taught him how to speak better English:
"Life is too short to worry about it. I think I could do all right speaking Greek."
A big career switch from print to a sippy New York model in "The Moon Is Blue" has gorgeous Dawn Addams beaming.
She was under contract to MGM for two years, but she wails, "All I played were girls so soft, so sweet and so unnecessary."
Dawn's emoting in both the English and German versions of the film and says: "I'm amazed at the difference in acting. The German version lends itself to so many more gestures."
There could be a front-page explosion, insiders vow, now that Marcus Goodrich is back in Hollywood. Olivia de Havilland, his almost-ex, hired bodyguards for their son, Benjamin, some months back when there was a tug-of-war with Goodrich over the lad.
John Barrymore, Jr.'s marriage to Cara Williams made him a stepfather. Cara has a six-year-old daughter by a previous marriage to a disc jockey. The child lives with her mother. Composer Bernie Wayne saw a picture of Marilyn Monroe in which she was fully clothed and says that it must have been a TOPOGRAPHICAL error.

Jimmy Bond Captures 1-4A Individual Scoring Honors

Thomas Is Runnerup; Woods 7th

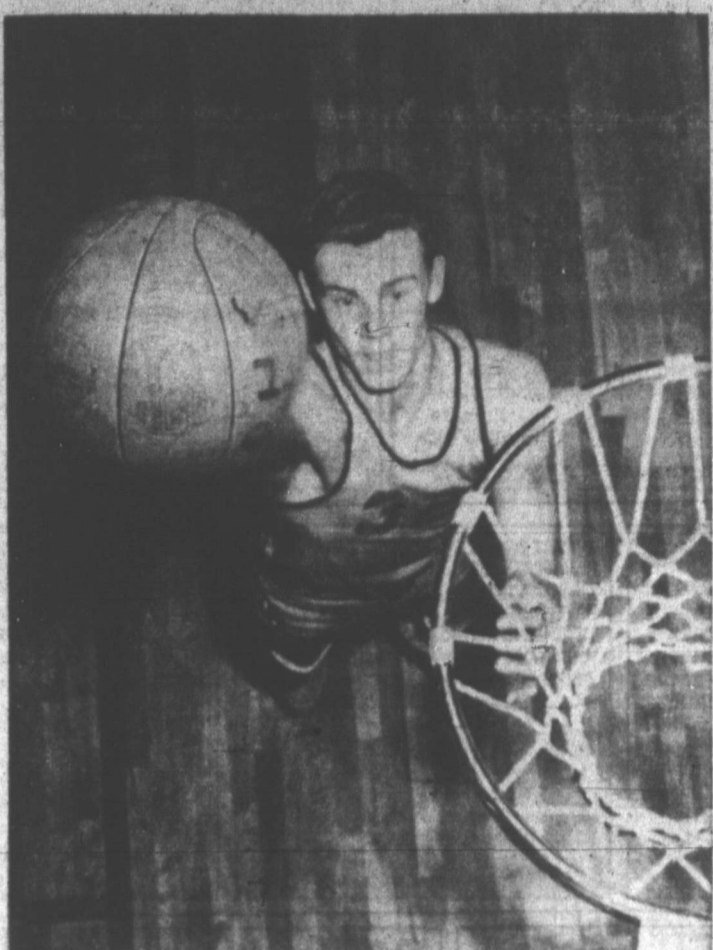

Jimmy Bond's rousing finish against the Borger Bulldogs protected his individual scoring lead in District 1-A-AAA and as result the Harvesters' star junior center won the scoring honors for 1953. Bond's 32 points against Borger gave him 307 for the year in district play, 14 more than the 293 collected by Gerry Thomas, of Lubbock. Melvin Wright of Amarillo, capped third place with Abilene's Jerry Turner coming in fourth. Wright had 256 and Turner 252. Bond, going into the final game with Borger, led Thomas by only five points. Thomas tossed in 23 points in the Westerners' final against Amarillo. Bond needed 17 points to keep his lead in the tilt with Borger but he almost doubled that figure.

Rounding out the top five is Allen Simpson of Borger who netted 181 points. Fred Woods was the only other Harvester finishing in the top 10. Woods garnered 170 points for seventh place.

Two other Harvesters scored over 100 points in conference play and a fifth just lacked 20 points of scoring in the three figures. Buddy Cockrell had 125 points, Bill Webb 109 and Oden 98.

JIMMY BOND Top 1-4A scorer for 1953

Bowie Bears Boast Well Balanced Five

By RAY SANCHEZ Sports Writer

EL PASO, Feb. 24 — Bowie: High school basketball fans are in for a treat as the Bowie Bears, coached by Raul Garcia, will take to the court in the bi-district series this weekend. The team is well balanced, boasting five players who have scored in double figures. Rafael Fierro, the team's leading scorer, has averaged 15.5 points per game. Juan Jose Gomez, the team's rebounder, has averaged 9.2 points per game. The Bears' defense is also strong, allowing only 48 points per game. The team is expected to be a contender in the bi-district series.

TCU 5 Shades Hogs, 65-63

By UNITED PRESS Texas Christian University was in a two-way tie for second place Tuesday with Rice Institute in the Southwest Conference basketball tournament after taking a 65 to 63 overtime victory from Arkansas at Fort Worth Monday to open the week's conference play. Both TCU and Rice had 7-3 records, just half a game back of first-place Texas, which has a 7-2 conference record. TCU's victory over Arkansas helped the Frog's 4 foot, 7 inch Henry Hank Ohlen celebrate his 21st birthday when he broke the all-time TCU individual scoring record with a 35-point performance. Arkansas was leading as the game entered its final 30 seconds. Ohlen sank a free throw, but missed a second which Captain Dick Allen tipped in to tie it up 58-58. Rice could move into a tie with Texas for first place by defeating the Longhorns at Houston Tuesday night. In other conference play, Texas A&M takes on Southern Methodist at Dallas.

Faculty members of the Pampa elementary and high schools will clash in a basketball game tonight at the Harvester Fieldhouse. Game time has been set for 8 p.m. Playing personnel of the two teams is unknown but a terrific battle is promised.

Spartans Upset Over Probation

EAST LANSING, Mich., Feb. 24 — Michigan State College suspended Tuesday it was being "unjustly punished" for the activities of an off-campus group which gave unearned financial aid to 10 members of the undefeated 1953 Spartan football team. The college, under a year's probation by Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, said it was "being punished for refusal of the Spartan Foundation to reveal its activities." Dean L. C. Emmons said if anyone were to be punished it should be the foundation, not the school. "I fail to recognize any violation of Big Ten rules in what was done," he said.

Lions Favored To Win Title

SAN MARCOS, Tex., Feb. 24 —Upset Texas as favored Tuesday to sew up the Lone Star Conference basketball crown in its second clash with Southwest Texas this season. If the Lions defeat Southwest Texas, as they did in their earlier contest, it will be Southwest's first defeat on its own court since 1949. A loss would make it necessary for the Lions to defeat Stephen F. Austin later this week in order to tie up the championship.

Harvesters To Face Rugged Defense In Bi-District Series With Bowie

PERHAPS YOU NOTICED IN the story that we asked for and got from Ray Sanchez of the El Paso Herald-Post sports staff, on the Bowie Bears that they believe they can beat the Harvesters if they can stop Jimmy Bond and Fred Woods.

Grant you their chances would be better if they can do this but Sanchez is unaware of what damage the other three boys of the starting Harvesters can do. Anyone of the other three can beat you if a team isn't careful with their deadly shooting. The remaining three of the starting five, of course, are Buddy Cockrell, Jon Oden and Bill Webb.

Their point total, to be sure, isn't as much as either Bond's or Woods' but it doesn't mean they aren't capable of hitting the bucket.

At times this season teams have ganged up on Bond, putting two or sometimes three men on seeing to it that Bond didn't run wild. But the teams that tried this didn't meet with much success as the other Harvesters did the running wild.

In all due respect to Bond and Woods' value to the Harvester team, the Bowie Bears are going to have to put a harness on all five of the Harvesters if they want to win.

Over the season, all Harvesters averaged 8.1 points per game or better.

It looks like the Harvesters are going to be up against one of the strongest defensive teams they've met this season when they meet the Bears in the bi-district series here this weekend.

Taking for granted that District 2-A-AAA, as a whole isn't, as strong as 1-A-AAA, Bowie nevertheless held their district foot to a 35-points per game average. That is almost unheard of in this day of high scoring basketball.

In comparison, the Harvesters had the best defensive mark in District 1-A-AAA but their mark was somewhat higher than Bowie's 48 points per.

Offensively, however, the Harvesters hold a distinct edge. The Green and Golds averaged 64 points per game in district play to Bowie's 48.

So, it appears that the bi-district series will pit Bowie's crack defensive outfit against the high scoring machine of the Harvesters.

Coach Clayton McNeeley, who coached the Bears in their title clinching tilt over El Paso High last Friday night, told the members of the Boosters Club last night that he didn't learn too much about the Bears as El Paso played a full-court press on them which is an entirely different defense than the Harvesters use.

"They didn't look too good against the full-court press," McNeeley said. "But we don't use the full-court press so I don't know what they can do against a defense that resembles ours."

McNeeley left here Thursday in hopes of seeing Bowie's game with Jefferson Thursday night but his plane was grounded at two different places enroute and he reached El Paso too late to witness the game.

Tickets to the series here are going fast so if you intend to sit at one of the playoff tilts you'd better hurry down to the school business office and secure a duplicate.

And speaking of tickets, the Goosecreek quotas are almost gone for our game here tomorrow night. A little over 100 reserve seats are left of the original 1,000 that were placed on sale.

A NOTE ON TWO ON baseball base signing inquiry. Johnny's season, former Oiler and who last year played a line shortstop for the prominent Clovis Pioneers, has been traded to the San Angelo Colts of the Longhorn League. The Colts gave up two players, Dick Palmer and Lawrence Henke, both pitchers, and a sizeable amount of cash for Jeandron's services.

Warren Hase informed us yesterday (too late for publication Monday) that KPND has been awarded a contract to broadcast all Oiler games this season, both home and on the road.

This should prove to a lot of minor league clubs whether home broadcasts help or hinder home attendances.

Only a very few minor league clubs allow their home games to be aired. Some have never tried to see whether the home game broadcasts would hurt or help their attendance.

Our congratulations go to Doug Mills for allowing broadcasts of the Oiler home games and we don't believe the attendance will suffer any more than it has the past three years.

It's up to the Oiler fans, anyway, this season on whether baseball is to stay in Pampa. Another year at the gate like last year would just about write finish to professional baseball in Pampa.

KPND, in announcing their broadcast rights to all Oiler games, also revealed that D. J. Ryan and Al Helfer will resume their Major League broadcasts March 29.

LSU Lands NCAA Tournament Berth

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 —UP—Notre Dame, Navy, and Fordham —three of the nation's top independent teams—were expected to follow Louisiana State and DePaul Tuesday into the NCAA post-season basketball tournament.

Louisiana State landed its tournament berth Monday when it clinched the Southeastern Conference championship with an easy 65 to 48 conquest of Mississippi State. DePaul, with a record of 28 wins and six defeats, accepted a "member at large" bid. With Idaho State and Seattle already entered, four berths are filled in the 23-team field. The tournament includes 14 conference champions and nine "members at large."

Irish 'Perturbed' Notre Dame, with a 16 to 4 record, was said to be "perturbed" because, as an "at large" entry, it would have to play in a preliminary elimination round. However, the Irish were expected to agree despite this objection.

Fordham (18 to 4) previously indicated interest in a bid and was expected to accept quickly. Navy (15 to 4) gave no hint what it would do, but appeared in the NCAA once before, in 1947.

The Nations Invitation tournament, which Monday half-completed its 12-team field by landing Duquesne (18 to 6), also was expected to announce another team Tuesday—possibly Villanova (17 to 8).

Louisiana State, gaining its first undisputed league crown, ran its conference record to 11 to 0 with its victory over Mississippi. The Bayou Tigers, with an overall 23 to 1 record, led all the way and held a 34 to 20 halftime margin as six-foot-8 Bob Pettit, the Tigers' All-America candidate, sank 29 points to run his varsity career total to 1,003.

Indiana smashed four scoring records as it blasted Purdue Monday 113 to 78. The Hoosiers, with a 14 to 0 league record, need only to beat Illinois Saturday to clinch their first undisputed league crown. Failing that, they can clinch by winning two of their other three remaining games.

The Oklahoma Aggies scored a thumping, 79 to 58, revenge victory over Kansas as six-foot-10 Bob Matlock led the way with 24 points. Kansas, a 12-point winner over the Aggies early this year, was crippled when center B. H. Born drew four fouls in the first six minutes. The Aggies have clinched at least a title tie in the Missouri Valley Conference, while Kansas leads the Big Seven.

In other leading games Monday: Texas Christian tied for second in the southwest conference by beating Arkansas, 45 to 33. Manning, in the Southeastern, Alabama beat Vanderbilt, 88 to 80. Tulane trounced Georgia Tech, 70 to 54. Tennessee beat Florida, 83 to 72; in the Ivy-Harvard upset Princeton, 71 to 49; in the Big Seven—Oklahoma nicked Colorado, 83 to 81, and Missouri beat Drake, 59 to 51.

Texas risks its Southwest Conference lead in a top game Tuesday as the Longhorns visit Rice, which could seize the lead by winning.

Indiana Again Tops UP Basketball Poll

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 —UP—The United Press Board of Coaches, more impressed by Indiana's Big Ten domination than by Seton Hall's 26-game winning streak, chose the Hoosiers as the Nation's No. 1 college basketball team Tuesday for the third week in a row.

Of the 35 leading coaches on the United Press rating board, all but one picked Indiana either first, second or third in his ballot this week. The Hoosiers, with 28 first place votes, 11 seconds, five thirds and one fourth, thus compiled a total of 326 out of a possible 350 points.

Seton Hall was the first place choice of 11 coaches and had a total of 23 points. That put the undefeated Pirates from South Orange, N. J., three points closer to Indiana than last week.

Kansas Makes Big Jump The coaches based their ratings on all games played through Saturday night, Feb. 21. This week's significant changes in this month's top 10 were made by Kansas, which jumped four places to fifth, and North Carolina State, which moved back in the select group after dropping out for one week.

Indiana, after dropping two of its first three games this season, came back to run off a string of 15 consecutive victories including Monday's 113 to 78 win over Purdue.

Behind Indiana and Seton Hall came the Washington Huskies with four first place votes and 77 points. The Huskies, who clinched the Northern Division title in the Pacific Coast League and have won 24 out of 25 games, ranked third for the sixth straight week.

LaSalle (22-2) moved up a notch to fourth place, followed by Kansas (13-4); Illinois (14-3) dropped two places to sixth after being upset by Iowa; while Louisiana State (19-1) advanced one place to seventh. Oklahoma A&M (18-5), North Carolina State (22-5) and Kansas State (13-4) rounded out the top 10 in that order.

DePaul, dropping out of the top 10, headed the second 10 team, followed in order by Western Kentucky, Brigham Young, California, Notre Dame with one first place vote, St. Louis, Manhattan and Duquesne. Seattle and Southern California tied for 19th place. Other teams among the 25 that received votes in this week's ratings were: Louisville, Michigan State, Fordham, Oklahoma City, Pennsylvania, Niagara, Holy Cross and Villanova.

Zsa Zsa Has No Plans For A Divorce — Yet

NEW YORK, Feb. 24—UP—Actress Zsa Zsa Gabor has denied any plan to divorce her actor husband, George Sanders, with this comment: "Right now, we love each other very much, but in 10 years, who knows? You men are impossible, you know that?"

Pilot Forgot Checks

LONDON, Feb. 24—UP—The Ministry of Civil Aviation cited the following example in its report on "incorrect technique when starting up." A pilot was ready to take off when the plane's engine stalled. The pilot got out and swung the propeller, forgetting the checks had been removed from the plane's wheels.

Discriminating Thief

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Feb. 24—UP—Police said a discriminating thief broke into an inn here, ignored money and jewelry in the cash register, and stole six bottles of the basin inn's finest whiskey.

Hank Writes A Page In Diary Of A Mythical Insurance Man

By HENRY McLEMORE LOS ANGELES—I read a great deal. Few are the afternoons that I don't slip on my slippers, curl up before a radiator, and lose myself in a book. I love biography. Marilyn Monroe's struggle for fame. Thomas Jefferson's early struggles to get a foothold in Hollywood.

Farmers Take To The Air

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Feb. 24—UP—Farm aviation experts said Monday night the nation's farmers are rapidly becoming airborne, and produced figures to back up their statements. Fred E. Welck, director of the personal aircraft research center of the Texas

Senators Declare Taft Too Soft Toward Commie Menace

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—UP—Two members of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee agreed with Chairman William E. Jenner Tuesday that Sen. Robert A. Taft is too soft toward the menace of Communism in the nation's schools. Taft ignored their barbs. The Senate GOP leader said he had nothing to add or subtract from his statement, in a Chicago speech Saturday, he would not favor firing a Communist professor unless he was shown to be "teaching Communism" and "having some effect" on the thought of his students.

He added the subcommittee's activities. He mentioned no names but his remarks apparently were directed against editorial criticism and criticism from church leaders. "We are told that the Internal Security subcommittee of the Senate is attacking academic freedom," he said. "Our purpose is to protect and safeguard academic freedom." He added the subcommittee is not concerned with telling educators "what to teach, or how to teach" but simply with "showing them where this alien (Communist) conspiracy is hidden."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE Get Out Of Hole With Smart Play

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
The struggle in most bridge hands is short and sharp, ending after one or two important tricks. In today's hand, however, the struggle continued throughout almost the entire hand.

When West opened the jack of diamonds, Alvin Landy, playing the south hand, put up dummy's ace, dropping his own king. Landy's next brilliant maneuver would not surprise anybody who knows his reputation as one of the finest players in the country. He continued with the queen of diamonds, discarding the ace of spades from his hand.

The purpose of this move was clearly shown at the next trick, Landy led the queen of spades from dummy and discarded a club from his own hand. West could have made it easy for declarer by taking his king of spades. It would then be easy for Landy to draw three rounds of trumps ending in dummy, after which dummy's spades would be good for all the tricks needed.

'Voice' Ship Investigated

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—UP—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy said Tuesday his permanent investigating subcommittee will gladly look into the merits of the Voice of America's sea-going radio station, The Vagabond.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N. H.) asked for the inquiry to help his Appropriations committee decide whether the government should shell out $3,714,000 for a third floating transmitter.

McCarthy's subcommittee's investigating charges of waste and mismanagement in the State Department's sprawling International Information Administration which runs U. S. counter-propaganda programs including the voice.

School Girl Dies HOUSTON, Jan. 31—UP—Ten-year-old Judith Ann Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Z. Ward of suburban Humble, was struck down and killed Friday by an automobile seconds after she and her 11-year-old sister alighted from a school bus.

Warren Thomas Anderson, 19, driver of the vehicle and a freshman at Texas A&M, was charged with negligent homicide and released on $1,000 bond.
