Storm-Pounded Europe Faces Bitter Battle With New Floods

LONDON, Feb. 14 —UP— Blizzard's pounded England Saturday as rising rivers threatened new flooding in Belgium, and Holland ordered 3,000 persons evacuated from a flood-battered island.

The English blizzard slowed dike-workers fighting desperately to strengthen the East Coast sea defenses before the peak spring tides Monday.

The entire U. S. Air Force base at Mildenhall was ordered on a standby basis in event of a flood emergency in the surrounding East Anglia district. All week-end passes were cancelled.

U. S. Col. John W. Field, deputy base commander, of Shamrock, Tex. organized an emergency unit of 20 airmen comprising medical corps men, field kitchen personnel and engineer troops.

Are All Needed? Solons Query Troop Needs

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 —UP— A Senate Armed Services subcommittee Saturday questioned whether "more than half" of the U. S. troops stationed in Europe actually are needed there.

Reporting on a six-week survey of some 60 defense bases in the North Atlantic and Mediterranean area, it also said neither the present base network nor future plans provide assurance an enemy could not "break the backbone of our Armed Services by surprise attack."

The committee criticized "high-level planning" in the base program, said better Armed Services unification could have saved "millions of dollars," and expressed grave concern over arrangements with other nations to secure base sites.

The Senate Armed Services committee already has acted to carry out the report's principal recommendation — a "thorough investigation of our military base program." Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, and other Air Force brass testified on the matter last week.

Vandenberg is reported to have testified that, as far as air bases are concerned, they must be fully staffed at all times since retaliation.

Liner Feared Lost In Gulf With 46 Aboard

DC-6 Pilot Reports Squally Weather

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 14 —UP— A National Airlines DC-6 bound for New Orleans with 41 passengers and five crew members aboard was hours overdue out of Tampa Saturday night and a NAL official said it was "presumed to be down in the Gulf."

William Ehart, National official in Miami, said since the airliner presumably exhausted its fuel at 9:30 p. m. (CST). It was believed to have gone down in the rough waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

Coast Guard rescue planes and boats began an immediate search for the DC-6 but had found no trace of the airliner several hours later.

The huge, four-engine airliner, NAL Flight 470 left Tampa International Airport at 3:40 p. m. est and was due in New Orleans at 5:45 p. m. est.

The Coast Guard said the DC-6 was last heard from at 4:45 pm. when the pilot radioed his position as being 250 miles west of St. Petersburg over the Gulf of Mexico. He said he was encountering squally weather.

A National spokesman said the plane had enough fuel to last until 9:30 p. m.

The Coast Guard in New Orleans said the plane was last reported 130 miles due east of the mouth of the Mississippi River, which empties into the Gulf at the tip of Louisiana.

Officers said three PBYS, one from St. Petersburg and two from Biloxi, Miss and three Coast Guard vessels left to search for the overdue airliner. Boats and planes were ordered to search along the DC-6's scheduled flight between Tampa and New Orleans.

The Miami Coast Guard station said it had dispatched one plane to join in a search for the airliner and the Coast Guard disclosed that air-sea rescue operations had begun.

The National spokesman said it plane may be, detouring rough weather and was out of radio contact.

Extraordinary Conference . . . Map Envoy Plans Top GOP Leaders

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 —UP— President Eisenhower's top aides met with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Saturday to speed appointment of diplomats who will help advise strategy to seize the cold war initiative from the Soviet Union.

The extraordinary conference was held in Dulles' office and was attended by presidential assistant Sherman Adams, Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, and Republican National Chairman C. Wesley Roberts.

The group went over a long list of prospective diplomatic appointments that is expected to change American representation overseas from a Democratic to a Republican flavor for the first time in 20 years.

However, a majority of the recommendations were understood to call for appointment of career diplomats, long schooled in diplomacy and astute in international dealings.

City Still Has 50-50 Chance For Pioneer

Pampa has a 50-50 chance today of being certified by the Civil Aeronautics Board for north-south air service.

Those are the words of Harding Lawrence, vice president and general attorney for Pioneer Airlines, which has been trying to establish service from Pampa and Borger to Wichita Falls, Ft. Worth and Dallas.

Lawrence spoke to a meeting of chambers of commerce managers Friday in Wichita Falls when a Dallas Ft. Worth, Wichita Falls, Veinor, Childress, Borger, Pampa and Amarillo were represented.

Following a hearing conducted last fall in Dallas and attended by a group from the Aviation Committee of Pampa's chamber of commerce, Herbert K. Bryan, board examiner, failed to recommend recently the servicing of the cities involved.

However, Lawrence told the

Political Activity Centers In Ward 4

Political activity continued to center around Ward 4 yesterday as two more candidates tossed their hats into the city commissioner ring.

Commissioner W. D. Varnon jumped into the race Friday afternoon and was followed by E. C. Schaffer Saturday morning.

This put three candidates in the Ward 4 commissionership race — and none for the other wards, or for the mayoralty race.

Varnon is seeking his second term on the commission, and in a prepared statement said he would continue to work for equal taxation throughout the city and also work to see that the tax dollars are spent for the betterment of the city of Pampa as a whole.

Born near Millersville, Clay County, Alabama, Varnon moved to San Antonio with his parents when he was nine years old.

The family moved to Colorado in 1922. He moved back to Texas where he opened a grocery store. In August, 1941, Varnon moved to his present location on S. Barnes where he operates Varnon's Grocery.

One Valentine, Two Friday 13s Born In Pampa

One Valentine baby and two Friday, the 13th, babies were born in Highland General Hospital, all of them boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Dershall Pannel, 101 S. Dwight, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Marak, 921 W. Bowler, became the parents of the Friday, the 13th, babies. Weights and time of birth were not available from the hospital when the reports came in.

The Valentine Day present came to Mr. and Mrs. Sid Talley, Miami. The weight of the Talley baby was also unreported.

Knigh Bond Is $3,500

The Pampa oil field worker who shot and seriously injured his wife in the home of another man is in county jail today, in lieu of bond payment.

Bond of $3,500 has been set for William Edward Knight, 33, of 506 N. Frost, who was arraigned Friday afternoon in the court of Justice of the Peace D.R. Henry.

Knigh has been charged with assault with malice aforethought with intent to murder, according to Police Chief Jim Conners.

According to Knight's written statement, he shot his wife Loraine, 28, at 8 a.m. Friday, 13th in the home of James Orr, 316 Texas, where he had been waiting.

The bullet — only one shot was fired — pierced both Mrs. Knight's lungs, entering the left chest, going across her right chest and out the back, not missing her heart "by more than a centimeter."

Services Are Pending For Rufus Lee Clark

Funeral services were pending today in Stephenville for Rufus Lee Clark, 11-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Clark of Levelland.

The infant died at 8 a.m. Saturday in the home of his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Alexander, 510 N. Roberts.

Surviving besides the parents and maternal grandparents are a brother, Horton, of Levelland, and the paternal grandparents of Lubbock.

Stolen Gun Catches Up With Ex-Con Held In Murder Case

A five-time convict previously arraigned as a material witness in a Jan. 15 gun fracas in The Flats is in county jail today, following his confession to a charge of theft.

Eddie Williams, 34, of Wheeler, signed a statement Friday night admitting the theft Dec. 29 of a .32 Mauser automatic gun ($55) and a pistol holder ($5) from a truck parked in the 300-block of South Cuyler.

Williams was jailed in lieu of payment of $1,500 bond.

Driver of the truck was Jeff Hazelton, Pampa, who did not report the theft till this past week, according to Deputy Sheriff Buck Haggard.

The gun was the one used by Bennett Brown, 34, of 537 W. Elm, in killing his wife, Leona, 29, of Midland, and in injuring Mrs. Lena Lee Hood, and upon persistent questioning admitted he was Victor Mature, the movie actor.

Pampa Youngster 'Auctioned' Off To Begin Boy Scout Drive

A Pampa boy will be auctioned off and a couple of ducks picked during the kick-off breakfast Monday for the Santa Fe District's Boy Scout Drive.

Get-together has been scheduled for 7:30 a.m. in the Palm Room of city hall.

It is hoped that the majority of the drive's work will be consummated that one day, according to Paul Beisenher, Scout executive for the Adobe Walls Council.

During the drive breakfast, a boy will be auctioned for $1,000 (one cent equal $1,000). Beisenher said, on the theory that "every boy is worth a million."

And the two "colonels" (each in charge of a division), Charlie Thut and E. E. Shelhamer, will compete in duck-picking contest, complete with fingers dipped in spirit gum. Winner will get a ride at 5 p.m. in a wheelbarrow up the middle of the street from city hall to the LaVora Theater.

Running the auction will be Jimmy McCune and County Judge J. B. Maguire will judge the duck-picking. Beisenher continued.

An estimated 175 persons are expected to be on hand for the breakfast at which E. O. (Red) Wedgworth, local chamber of commerce manager, will preside.

Chairman of the entire drive is Gene Fathauer.

Following breakfast, cards will be issued to those who will do the actual soliciting, each of whom will contact personally the three

Hearings Open Monday . . . Quick Tideland's Okay Seen

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 —UP— Congressional hearings open Monday on bills to give the coastal states title to their offshore lands, and the odds Saturday favored quick passage to make good a Republican campaign promise.

The controversial issue comes up first in the Senate Interior committee. A House Judiciary subcommittee takes it up Tuesday with Attorney General Herbert C. Brownell Jr., as the first witness. Leaders of the fight side the so-called tideland's bill should be the next major piece of legislation cleared by Congress. President Eisenhower will sign it. It was one of his campaign pledges last fall and is among the 11 bills he and his congressional lieutenants agreed on for this session.

A handful of senators are geared to fight for federal title to the offshore lands worth up to $100 billion and a plan to distribute underwater petroleum revenue to the states for education.

Many of them privately admitted theirs was the losing side of the battle which has been fought for years in all three branches of the government. The Supreme Court has held that the federal government has "paramount interest" in the offshore domain. Twice, Congress passed bills to knock down the high court's decision. Each time, Mr. Truman vetoed them.

Purpose of the Wichita Falls get-together was "to coordinate testimony used in our oral arguments before CAB and to assemble the material to be used in various individual town meetings to be presented to CAB in support of exceptions to the examiner's report," according to E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth, local chamber of commerce manager who attended the meeting.

Main part of Lawrence's discourse dealt upon the briefing of those present on the outline to be followed in order to coordinate testimony supporting Pioneer's application.

Bryan's report had based part of its reasoning on the fact that Pampa and Berger were already being served by Central Airlines, servicing the Dallas-Ft. Worth area.

But it was brought out in the Friday meeting that present service to Dallas and Ft. Worth by Central is inadequate because of the round-about route that must be taken plus the added expense of going the long way. The group recognized that Central is doing a "fine and excellent" job in serving Pampa and Berger east and west. Wedgeworth said, but it was felt that a north-south route would be used extensively by local business and industrial persons in their transactions, because of the "strong

At 4 p.m. Monday there will be a "report coffee" in the Palm Room where some "fast figuring" will tabulate the results. Totals will be in terms of number of contributions rather than amount contributed, Beisenherz emphasized.

In addition, he explained, the advance gifts committee—under the chairmanship of Ivey Duncan—has been sending letters to sustaining members, those who have contributed the past $12 per year or more. Approximately 100 persons have already contributed to the drive, he said.

Too, he went on, there is another division of the campaign with area industrial employees. H.H. Hahn is in charge of that aspect of it.

Drives in McLean, White Deer and Canadian will also get underway Monday. Letors gets going Tuesday. And Higgins and Panhandle are already going.

There was no immediate information on personnel being considered. Ambassadors already have been picked for London, Paris, and Rome but that leaves more than 40 diplomatic posts to be considered and appointments to organizations.

The President and Dulles are reported planning appointment of career diplomat Robert D. Murphy, now ambassador to Japan, to be the next assistant secretary of state for United Nations affairs. Dulles also is confronted by these international problems:

Korea Biggest Problem

1. What possible measures to take to step up pressure on the Communists in Korea. The strategy is to get an armistice on honorable terms, but failing that to train South Korean and other native anti-Communist forces in the Far East.

2. Spain—The long negotiations with Spain for American and air sea bases have slowed down after being almost completed by the Truman administration.

3. Iran—Some diplomats are pessimistic over chances of a settlement between Britain and Iran of their oil dispute. Negotiations may have to be started all over.

4. Visits—Foreign statesmen are preparing to come to Washington for policy, military and financial talks.

JUBILEE SINGERS — The nationally known Eureka Jubilee Singers are slated to appear in Pampa Tuesday as an attraction in behalf of the Gray County Heart Fund Drive.

Jubilee Singers To Appear For Gray Heart Fund Drive

Gray County Heart Fund Association coffers will be swelled through the presentation of a group of nationally famous jubilee singers at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Junior High School auditorium. The Negro group, The Eureka Jubilee Singers, has performed for radio, concert and record audiences across the nation.

The mixed group is composed of three men and two women. The company was organized and managed by Mrs. Ester Gaskin-Williams.

Critics say the company furnishes an extraordinary combination of voices, excellent showmanship, unusual blending, rare harmonies, well selected songs and a highly developed perfection in ensemble singing.

The group plans to feature the music of the Negro race. They have traveled extensively through community of interests between Pampa and downstate areas. And, it was further established, a new service would have a "tendency to increase travel over Central through increased interest built up by making people more conscious of general air travel."

Gilbert Forrest Top In Hemphill Show

CANADIAN (Special) — Gilbert Forrest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forrest climaxed his eighth and last year in 4-H Club work by showing three winners in heavy class of calves in the 4-H and FFA Junior Livestock Show held Saturday.

His first-place heavy calf was also judged grand champion of the show. Stanley Reed's first place light-class calf was reserve champion. Placings were as follows: Heavy class: Gilbert Forrest, first; Carl Childress, second; Forrest, third; Mike Chandler, fourth.

Max Detrixhe, fifth; Forrest, sixth. Light class: Stanley Reed, first; Richard Kiker, second; Hoppy Mathis, third; Mathis, fourth; Detrixhe, fifth.

Special awards were given to Reed and Mathis, VFW donated a $5 consolation prize in each division of the show.

A most touching event of this year's show was the awarding of the Walter Grist Memorial Trophy, awarded the first time. It will go to the outstanding 4-H boy of the county each year.

It was presented by Mrs. Grist, widow of the late Hemphill County agent and went to Gilbert Forrest in recognition of his eight years of untiring 4-H club work during which time he has had 21 entries in seven different shows with five grand championships and one reserve champion. He has won the showmanship award three times in the Canadian shows and has won second, third and fourth places for the Pronger Brothers Hardamen awards in Amarillo.

Young Forrest is entering the Top of Texas Junior Livestock Show. In the swine division, Clayton Posey exhibited the grand champion and George Ray Hand had the reserve champion. Other exhibitors of pigs were Alonzo Hand, Billy Swires, Franklin Henwood, Jerry Schaefer, Francis Brown, Floyd Otis.

Three non-competitive exhibits of chickens were shown by Lynn Wilson, Roger Freeman and James McCroan.

A truckload of commercial steers was exhibited by Don Anderson. The steers were weighed Aug. 1 at 650 pounds and have shown a gain of 1 1/2 pounds per day since. The interesting feature of this exhibit was the fact that young Anderson had exact figures to show the amount of feed used to produce this gain.

Hershey Says Father Draft May Be Necessary This Year

As to when fathers might be drafted, he said first that the manpower pool is getting low and "that perhaps eight months, 12 months, or 14 months from now, we're going to have to invade areas we are not now invading." For Eight Months At another point he said that with 1.2 million persons in 1-A, and with half possibly going into service, draft calls would be met for the next six months—"probably for the next eight months." There are now about 1.4 million draft-age men deferred because they are fathers. Hershey said recently that the manpower problem never will be solved, "until we make up our minds whether fathering is a substitute for servicing." The draft call for the February-March-April period is 83,000 men a month. Present draft law covers men 18 1/2 through 26. Fathers are now deferred by presidential order.

Bell Sets Oct. 24 For Dial Deadline

Call somebody you know at midnight, Oct. 21, and you will probably hear telephone history being made in Pampa.

At that hour technicians will start cutting out manual operating equipment and switch your phone over to the long-awaited dial system.

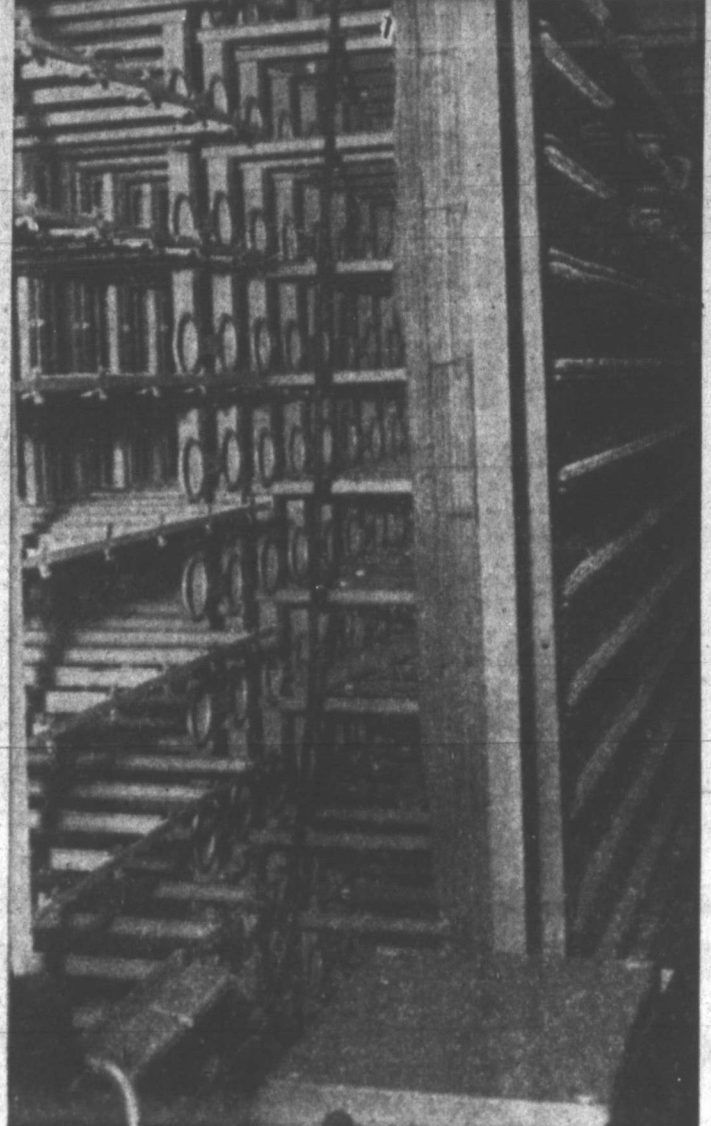

The out-over operation will take about 20 minutes, George Newberry, manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s Pampa exchange, said.

Persons talking over the phone at that hour will, in all probability, be disconnected for a second or two and then be reconnected, or they may hear clicking sounds over the receiver. It will be the cutting in process and not somebody jiggling with the phone at the other end or a breaking circuit.

The new building erected to house the dial equipment and cable terminals is rapidly nearing completion. The ground floor, Newberry said, should be turned over to the company within 10 to 15 days. The basement may take a little longer. However, the shell is finished and the finishing touches — painting, varnishing, trimming etc. — are being applied now.

Western Electric men will invade the new building May 4 and start unpacking equipment preparatory to installation in the 41-by-76-foot switch room. In the adjoining 71-by-20-foot terminal room will spill the cables carrying 2,800 pairs of wires coming in from all sections of the city.

These cables run from telephone subscribers' homes like a cobweb and congregate at the southwest corner of Ballard and Francis. Then, going underground, they cross Francis and come into the building through 18 inlets, grouped in sections of six, in the basement well.

MORE LONG DISTANCE will soon be available for Pampa when the above frame (shown in the foreground) is completed. The additional eight circuits are being made possible by the change-over to the dial system. In the background are rows upon rows of frames and distribution wires for local service. These frames will disappear when dial takes over. They will be sent back to Western Electric as soon as the dial tone is heard instead of "Number Please." (News Photo)

FINISHING TOUCHES are being applied to the switch room of the almost completed annex to the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. building here. Pictured above is the large room where soon will be filling up the emptiness with intricate dial system equipment. The trimming, painting, and dressing up of the building should be finished in about 10 to 15 days so it will be ready when installation starts on May 4. (New Photo)

20 smaller groups and run up supporting frames to the ground floor terminal room. They then branch out again as they travel to the switching equipment in the dial system.

The changeover from manual to dial will bring an additional eight positions to the long distance section of the local exchange. There are now 58 positions, not counting radio and teletype lines.

An ambitious timetable for completion of the dial system has been worked out. Installation is to start May 4 and be completed by Sept. 26. Between Sept. 26 and Oct. 24 the tedious process of testing the system will be undertaken. All testing should be completed by Oct. 24, and at midnight actual turning over will start. That process should be over by 12:20 a.m., Oct. 25.

A bigger information desk will result from the changeover and remodeling, as well as an increase in employment of male personnel. The local exchange now has 15 maintenance men and technicians. When the dial equipment is working all of the distribution frames with their load of distribution wiring will be removed and sent back to Western Electric, along with the relay mechanisms, power units and others which will be of no use in the dial setup. Toll equipment now used will remain in place, except for some possible moving a few feet one way or the other — but it will remain in the present building.

Although Pampa will be dialing numbers this year, the wooden walk-way along the Ballard side of the telephone building won't disappear until sometime in 1955. The now overcrowded office will be enlarged. All local boards will be taken out and the long-distance (toll) boards moved to the west end of the building where the ladies' lounge is now. A new room is being added to the north-west corner of the present building for the new lounge.

Roberts Youths Describe Details Of Showing Stock

Four Roberts County youngsters said, adding that it also "adds a zest" to life. Each of the four boy-speakers dealt with one aspect of calf preparation.

Discussing the selection, Bill Clark pointed out that how a calf is built is the main thing. Bill Breeding insisted that a general nurse cow was necessary for successful feeding. "Some calves got a mind of their own and wind up with equal strength following the remodeling program. Huge steel grids are already here and stored in back of the building. They will be used for reinforcing the old building.

About the only thing due to remain the same will be the customers' entrance to the business office. It stays put. If additional stories are added to the building the Ballard entrance will be used by operators going upstairs to work.

The new overhead cable, connecting Pampa to Amarillo through the Jericho junction point has long since been installed and in use. This cable is tied into the underground coaxial cable at Jericho, and runs on into Amarillo.

In the meantime, additional wiring to all parts of the city is going ahead on schedule. However, it has nothing to do with the dial system. The extension is merely to enlarge telephone facilities and would have been installed irrespective of the dial system because of the continuing growth of the city and increased demand for telephone service.

Brilliant Color, Gay Dances Make Up Children's Play

"Brilliant color, merry music, dances, exciting magic intensity and a story filled with idealism make up the production and render this lively and fast-moving dance-play one which should be enjoyed by every youngster in town."

That statement describes the Edwin Strawbridge production of "Prince Swineherd," according to representatives of the Pampa branch of the American Association of University Women, sponsor of the show.

Lone performance is scheduled for 4 p.m. Monday in Pampa's junior high school auditorium according to Mrs. Loyal Davies and Miss Evelyn Milan, local branch publicity manager and president.

Each of the four boy-speakers dealt with one aspect of calf preparation. Discussing the selection, Bill Clark pointed out that how a calf is built is the main thing.

Bill Breeding insisted that a general nurse cow was necessary for successful feeding. "Some calves got a mind of their own and they said, "the children will truly believe the players and dancers have stepped out of a fairy tale book, so quaint and picturesque will be the setting of both scenery and costumes."

Adapted from a play by Hans Christian Andersen, whose fairy tales have delighted children the world over, the dance-play has no historical time or period, the branch officials said.

For the costumes, they continued, many authentic old places of fairy tale Princesses, Kings and Royal Retainers were studied and drawn.

Highlight of the production is considered to be the Swineherd Prince tending Wimple-wu, the King's favorite pig. And children will shiver with joy as they hear the Royal pig squeaking his wants and dancing and hopping about.

Most of the music in the play is by the Norwegian composer, Grieg, branch representatives explained, adding that "as 'Prince Swineherd' is a tale from the Scandinavian countries it was felt that Grieg's music, colored and spirited by his Norwegian land, would best lend itself to the play."

Emphasizing that it is a primary idea to have parents accompany their children to the production, the local officers said "parents and teachers who attend will have the privilege of once again entering inside the golden walls of magical fairy land."

Average per capita national income in the United States was $1,584 in 1951.

EVEN THE MUFFLER DOES THINGS TO THE POWER

World's newest
V8

BACK in the old days, any man who wanted real performance used a "cutout" on his car.

It was a device that by-passed the muffler—because mufflers have always cut down on usable power. But it made a lot of noise.

Muffling that noise—and still getting rid of exhaust gases as fast as they come from the cylinders—has stumped the automobile people for years.

Now, Buick engineers have racked up another "first."

They have come up with a muffler of supreme quiet and zero power loss—first time in history.

It is called a dynamic flow muffler. And it is one of many advances that make the great 1953 Buick ROADMASTER even greater.

For this automobile—the greatest Buick in fifty great years—has a brilliant new V8 Engine that can turn up 188 hp. And every one of its horsepower can be delivered as usable power—since none is restricted in muffler passage.

As you would expect, there is more to this magnificent motorcar than power, great though it is.

There's a finer ride, better maneuverability, easier handling—now with Power Steering as standard equipment, and Power Brakes optional at extra cost.

And there's the amazing new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo bringing quieter, jet-fast getaway to complete and utter smoothness.

Why not come in and see for yourself just how great the greatest Buick in half a century really is?

WHY STARVE TO TAKE OFF FAT?

Barcenate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off 'fat'. It's simple. Just go to your drugist and get four ounces of the new improved Barcenate. Pour into a pint bottle or jar and add grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves — if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. No starvation diet the Barcenate way.

THIS LADY LOST 42 POUNDS

"Before taking Barcenate I weighed 168 pounds. I now weigh 126, a loss of 42 pounds. Instead of wearing size 28 dresses, I now wear 14 and 16. I am so glad and feel so good. Words cannot express my sincere thanks." Signed, Mrs. F. H. Winderlich, 1310 Thirteenth St., Galveston, Texas.

AND THIS LADY LOST 21 POUNDS

"Thanks to Barcenate. What a wonderful 'take-the-fat-away' recipe!" writes Mrs. A. E. Huelsner, 211 W. 24th St., San Angelo, Texas. "No dieting and not a single hungry moment. I have lost 21 pounds and am now down to my required weight. Feel good and full of pep."

Nichols Is Four-County Farm Head

WHITE DEER (Special)—Carson County Agriculture Agent, H. M. Nichols, is the newly elected president of the Four-County Agriculture Council. Other counties are Hutchinson, Armstrong, and Hansford.

John Neilsen, of Hutchinson County served as president last year which was the first year the council operated.

The nominating committee recommended the following: J. P. Smith, manager of PanTech farms, vice-president; Lester G. Fleener, secretary, and Pleas Harrison, treasurer.

Fleener, manager of the Berger Chamber of Commerce, has resigned his position, but was requested to serve as secretary until he takes-up his work with the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The new president was head of the committee which arranged the Southwest Soil Management and Flowing contest field day held at PanTech farms last fall.

Slumbering?

Of all the parties attended at various times by teen-age girls, the one with the most complete misnomer is a "slumber party." Because it is generally accepted that no one sleeps — including the parents — try as they may.

One such affair, given Friday night in the home of Pat Darby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Darby, 2901 Mary Ellen, saw 17 girls romping through the house during all hours of the night, fully clad for bed but with no intentions of visiting the same.

The girls preceded the party with a basketball game and a midnight preview, neither particularly conducive to putting anyone to sleep.

And during the period of their "retirement," they consumed an amount of food that could only be equaled by an army and which by its variety would have made the ordinary individual green for days.

Which all goes to prove that whatever the intent, the slumber (less) party means Morpheus takes a holiday and no intrepid soul dares sneak off to bed.

WTSC Concert Band Slates Program In Pampa Feb. 25

When the West Texas State College Concert Band plays a Wednesday, February 25, at 9:45 a.m. in the Pampa High School Auditorium, the audience will hear familiar marches, some favorite variety pieces, and several numbers unique in a band's repertoire.

Conductor M. J. Newman, who has built one of West Texas State's finest musical groups this year, has selected a varied program which offers selections of wide enough range to appeal to every listener. The 65-piece concert group comes to Pampa at request of the Pampa Band, and will appear at 15 other high schools in the Panhandle during the last week of February.

Opening the program will be two outstanding ballads, composed especially for band, "Huntingtower" by Respighi and "Ballad for Trumpet" by modern composer Morton Gould, and the famed "1812 Overture, Solemnelle" by Tchaikovsky. "Asia" from "El Cid" by Sacchini, and the modern "Futuristic" tone poem, "Theme for Tomorrow" by Sid Feller make up the second part of the program.

Harry James' "Concerto for Trumpet" will feature Purris Williams, Hereford musician, as soloist, along with John Daymont, Childress; Miss Doris Jones of Davenport, Iowa, will be soloist for the Stratus "Concerto for Horn, Op. 11," and the band's clarinet quartet will be presented in Grundman's "Bagatelle."

Last portion of the concert includes three Latin compositions.

Youths Entering Stock Show Share Love Of Cattle Raising

The boys entering stock in the 1953 Junior Livestock show at Recreation Park today and Monday come in all sizes and shapes. They show a variety of personalities from the natural comic to the shy youngster to the girl hater. But they all have one thing in common. They are all good junior stockmen and they are doing the job because they like it.

Five of the sizes and shapes are Robert Craig, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Craig; David Miller, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lee Miller; Dayne Carruth, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Carruth; Rill (Hunky) Green, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Green; and Gus Green, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Green.

Robert has two Hereford calves entered in the fat steer division of the Junior Livestock show. He purchased Mutt and Jeff, so named because the "tall and short of it" (calves' sizes) seemed to make it apropos, with funds he had left over from last year's show when he sold two steers. They are a lot like pets, he says, but he has no qualms about selling them knowing they are off in the packing house because "it's got to be." He calls them his bank, because all the money he makes driving a truck over the week ends goes into feed for his stock which he gets back at the sale. It's the only way he would save money, he maintains. Robert has quite a temper; he is now carrying his hand in a cast, after he got mad at a car recently and slammed his fist into the window, but he's always gentle with Mutt and Jeff — even though they too can be contrary at times.

One of the prize comedians of the lot is Butch, no connection with the freckled face Hollywood star of the same name. But this Butch, too, has a spattering of freckles. He pulls a cap low on his head and peers out under its fur brim as he talks quite knowingly about cattle, economics and girls. He says that with feed prices so high and cattle prices so low he doesn't expect to do much more than break even this year. He worked on his father's ranch all summer to purchase the two calves he has entered in the show. He says he has to sell his animals, attached as he may be to them, to pay his feed bills. He is a busy man all right, he admits, but when it comes to girls, he takes time out to keep his little black book up-to-date. Alvin is an old hand in dealing with stock and entering them in shows. He has one calf and two pigs entered in this year's show. He says raising the stock takes a lot of time, doesn't pay too much and he hates to sell his calf, but it is part of the vocation. The main thing he is gaining from participation in the show, he thinks, is experience as he expects to remain in the cattle business the remainder of his life. Dayne, tall, lanky, red-headed son of the show superintendent, Clyde Carruth, has two pigs year, so he won't be entered in the Junior Livestock show. He expects to stay in the ranching business but plans a sojourn in a military school beginning next year, so he won't be entered the 1954 stock show. It's all strictly business with Dayne. He says he is "glad to get rid of them" when referring to the proposed sale of the animals he has been caring for the last several months. A general liking for animals in-

(Continued from page one) inclusive and who are regularly enrolled members of Extension 4-H clubs. Boys who have previously won the Grand Champion honor in any division of the show are not eligible to compete in the division in which he won. All exhibits are under the control and direction of the superintendent, Clyde Carruth, but the Top o' Texas Junior Fat Stock show is in no case responsible for any loss, injury or damage done to or occasioned by any animal or article exhibited, it was emphasized.

The animals which are to be exhibited at 12 noon today have all been weighed and designated by the superintendent and are allotted to classes according to weight. Carruth explained that this weight, less 3 per cent, is to be the sales weight. The boys will show their own animals in the ring in individual classes and no adults will be permitted in the ring during the judging except those chosen by Carruth to assist him. Winners of the first and second places in each division will compete for Grand and Reserve Championships in the respective divisions.

All the animals to be shown have been fed by the exhibitors throughout the feeding periods. Grand and Reserve Champions in each division must be consigned to the Top o' Texas Junior Fat Stock show for auction and all other animals passed by sifting committee may be consigned. Judging and placing of the sale order for the swine classes, both junior and senior division, are to be at 3 p.m. today with Homer Brumley, Hereford, as judge. H. A. Fitzhugh, San Antonio, is to be judge in the fat steer division, both junior and senior divisions, at 9 a.m. Monday.

The sale is then to get underway at 2 p.m. Monday in the Auction Barn at Recreation Park with Col. Walter Britten, College Station, auctioneer. Another division of the combined shows is the Top o' Texas FFA Livestock Judging Contest. Quentin Williams is show superintendent and vocational teachers from the various schools with teams entered have briefed the boys and made all applications. Scheduled to participate in the judging contest at 11 a.m. Monday are 47 teams from FFA District I, according to Paul Payne, Pampa High School vocational and agriculture teacher. Entered from Pampa is one team, he said, consisting of three boys. The team is composed of Rex McKay, Lee Frazier and SWEETHEART — Gene Havens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Havens of McLean, has been selected sweetheart of the McLean FFA Chapter. Gene is a sophomore in high school, member of the girls' basketball team and an honor student.

Richard Hankins. Payne said he had been working with the boys in class and on field trips in preparation for the show. Setup for the judging contest consists of six classes with four numerically-labeled animals in each class. The classes are fat steers, Hereford heifers, fat barrows, breeding gilts, fat lambs and ewes. The teams will be asked 10 questions on three classes. A trophy to be presented to the winning team in the livestock judging contest and banners are to be awarded second and third high teams. Ribbons are to be given the five high men in beef cattle, boys and sheep and ribbons to the five high men in judging all classes of stock. And this year for the first time the Frank M. Carter Agricultural Scholarship award is to go to an outstanding high school senior boy in Area I. Winner of the scholarship is to be chosen on the basis of active membership in a local chapter of FFA, enrollment in vocational agricultural courses in high school and completion of all agriculture courses offered in his high school, participation in the FFA livestock judging contest, eligibility for enrollment in the spring following date of the contest, and interest in further education in the field of agriculture. Applications for the boys have been filed by the vocational teachers from the schools in Area I and the winner is to be announced at the FFA banquet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the High School cafeteria.

Canadian Finishes Boy Scout Week With Honor Court

CANADIAN (Special) — Canadian Boy Scouts concluded observance of Boy Scout Week with a Court of Honor Friday night in the WCTU Building, and a bake sale held in two of the local grocery stores. Last Saturday's traffic enforcement by Boy Scouts brought home to many Canadian adults just how lax most folks are about traffic rules in smaller towns. Approximately 125 "arrests" were made by the boy officers. Most of the offenses involved pedestrians for Jay-walking, and the failure to give proper hand signals when driving their cars.

Shamrock Man New Service Assn. Head

SHAMROCK (Special) — Robert Laycock who has operated Laycock's Texaco Service Station, East Highway 66 in Shamrock for the last year, has been appointed Field Representative for the Texas Service Station Association. Laycock's territory will include all of West Texas and the Texas Panhandle. He will continue to make his home in Shamrock. Knox Watrivan, who has been associated with the station since its opening and a member of the Texaco organization in Shamrock for the past 10 years, will take over the management of the station. The station will be known as Texaco State Service Station under the new management.

fluences David in his stock-raising activity. He has entered two calves and two hogs in the current show. He said he had had luck with his first calf, a Hereford given him by Frank Carter. It caught cold the first day he got it and kept it throughout its life. Stockmen in the area said he had a Grand Champion otherwise, he said. He is looking forward to this year's show. Two cousins, Billy and Lem, gave a running account of what it takes to show an animal. They have both entered two calves each in this year's show. You have to tend 'em, wash 'em, feed 'em, clean up after them — and, of course, show them, they said. And both boys are particularly pleased with the show activity because it means they get out of school all day Monday.

They agreed very flippantly, when faced with the question of parting with the animals they have cared for the last eight months, that they are "just going to get some more, so what's the use of grieving about it." They disagreed somewhat on the matter of girls, though. Billy said "I don't like girls." At this statement Lem lifted an amazed eyebrow at his cousin, then said, "Now I'm not going to say... continuing "after all there are some things you don't print in a newspaper." All of the boys seemed to be chiefly concerned with the price situation. They were all cognizant that with low cattle prices and high feed prices their ventures aren't to be considered minor gold mines. But with the optimism predominant in youth they are looking forward to a leveling of prices and are anticipating next year's show.

Harvesters Nip Sandies For District Cage Crown

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa Daily News Sports Editor
ARMORY GYM, AMARILLO, Feb. 14 — Not even Amarillo's "cracker-box" gym could keep the hustling Pampa Harvesters from nailing down the District 1-AAAA cage flag here tonight as Coach Clifton McNeely's charges again downed the Amarillo Golden Sandies, 46-43, giving the Green and Golders their 13th straight district win against no losses.

The victory clinched the 1-4A pennant for the Pampans who have only one more remaining game on their district slate, that with rival Borger. The Harvesters have a two-game edge over the second-place Sandies, with only one game remaining for both teams. Even should the Sandies win their finale and the Harvesters lose, the Pampans would still be the champions.

The Harvesters will meet the winner of the El Paso district in a district playoff. Date and site of the playoff won't be set until the El Paso champion has been determined. Bowls is the current leader of the Border City district which is District 2-AAAA.

The Harvesters were a jubilant bunch of boys following their thrilling victory over the Sandies. Jimmy Bond, top scorer of the game with 20 points, was hoisted to the shoulders of several Harvester fans present seconds after the final buzzer.

Coach Clifton McNeely was the last to reach the Harvester dressing room and the overjoyed Harvester mentor threw his arms around each player. It was McNeely's first district champion although he had been in the runner-up spot practically ever year since taking over the Harvester cage reigns.

T. G. Hull, Amarillo coach, when approached by a scribe for a comment on the game, said, "all there is to say about it is that we got beat by a better team."

Tonight's game resembled a football game at times as officials Curtis Barrett and Doc Wilkins turned the boys loose on the court. Only 23 fouls were called during the entire game but followers of both teams will tell you that actually there were twice that many.

The Sandies got off to a rousing start and it appeared their decision to play the game in the tiny Armory gym was going to pay off. The Sandstorm built up a 6-1 lead after two minutes of play but it was at this point the Harvesters got rolling.

Fred Woods, who hit 11 points for runner-up honors for the Harvesters, got the first Harvester field goal at the 2:15 mark and then followed up with another a minute later to cut the Sandie margin down to 6-5. Then Melvin Wright, bottled up most of the night by the close guarding of Bill Webb who turned in a waste of a defensive game, made two free tosses to shove the Sandies ahead, 8-5, midway through the first period.

Bond and Webb hit free tosses and then Bond drove under for two points that sent the Harvesters ahead for the first time, 9-8, at the 5:45 minute mark. The Harvesters were never headed after that but the Sandies did manage to tie the score at 25-25 in the third quarter.

The Harvesters, after taking their initial lead, went on to a 13-8 first quarter lead. Buddy Cockrell led a second quarter surge by the Harvesters as the Green and Golders retained their lead at the halfway stage. Cockrell tossed in three field goals in the second canto as the Harvesters went to rest at halftime, leading 25-21.

Cockrell also turned in an outstanding game in the rebound department. He combined with Jimmy Bond to dominate both backboards.

Bond broke loose with an 8-point spree in the third quarter as the Harvesters maintained their four point margin they held at halftime. The third quarter score read 37-33 for the Green and Golders.

If it was midway in the third that the Sandies made their final bid for victory. They tied the score at 28-25 3:30 minutes deep in the 3rd.

The Harvesters, however, thwarted the Sandie efforts of surging ahead as Woods hit a jump shot and then Bond followed up with two quickies to send the Harvesters reeling in front, 34-28.

The goal gave the Harvesters a 9-8 lead in the first quarter and the Pampans were never headed. Fred Woods is the other Harvester in the picture. ## Trotters Know How To Win Games And Influence People

Tickets Going Fast For Tilt

The Harlem Globetrotters, basketball's most popular and colorful team, know how to win games and influence people. The records substantiate the fact that the sensational whirlwinds of court-dom, who play the Philadelphia Spas here in the feature game of a doubleheader on Feb. 25 at the Harvester Fieldhouse, have won 4,257 games and lost only 260 during the past 25 years. No team has ever compiled such an amazing record.

Nor can anyone dispute the fact that they influence people, especially those in foreign lands. During the past summer, for example, the Globetrotters went on an unprecedented around-the-world tour, appearing in 33 countries and 87 cities. In many of those remote places they found that the Communist propaganda machines had been churning at full-blast night and day, filling the citizens with anti-American slanders.

As the Globetrotters went about their business of winning games they also took it upon themselves to refute the vicious lies the Reds were feeding the people. "Ambassadors of Goodwill," they were friendly and cordial. They talked to people on the streets, signed autographs and gave away souvenirs. They proved that Americans are real people, not monsters as the Reds contended.

Festive all, the Trotters made thousands laugh when they put on their famous, side-splitting "floor show" during a game. As Owner Abe Saperstein says: "If you can make people laugh, you can win friends." That's what the Globetrotters did throughout the 51,546 mile tour.

During the junket, most of which was by plane, they played 141 games and thrilled basketball fans in such far-away places as: Japan, Egypt, Siam, Turkey, Lebanon, Malaya, China, Algeria, Morocco, Spain, Germany, Belgium, Holland, Italy, Switzerland, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Ecuador, Luxembourg, France, England and Portugal.

During the five and a half month tour they averaged 10,000 miles per month and advanced basketball a thousandfold all across the face of the globe. Every place they appeared, they were showered with gifts and given rousing receptions.

When they played in Guam, for example, Captain J. L. Collis of the U.S. Naval command said in a speech before the game: "The appearance of the Harlem Globetrotters is the greatest thing since the liberation more than eight years ago."

He said Colts President Don Kellert finally matched the pay offered by Edmondton, but pointed out, "up in Canada, they also get me a job."

"Besides, if I signed with Baltimore they were going to trade me to the Los Angeles Rams right off, anyway," Vessels said.

Vessels To Play Pro Ball In Canada

NORMAN, Okla., Feb. 14 — UP — The fast-stepping feet of Oklahoma halfback Billy Vessels were headed Saturday for a pro football career, but in Canada and not the United States.

Vessels said offers by the Edmondton, Canada, Eskimos, and the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League were equal so far as pay went, but the Eskimos' bid was "better and has a better future."

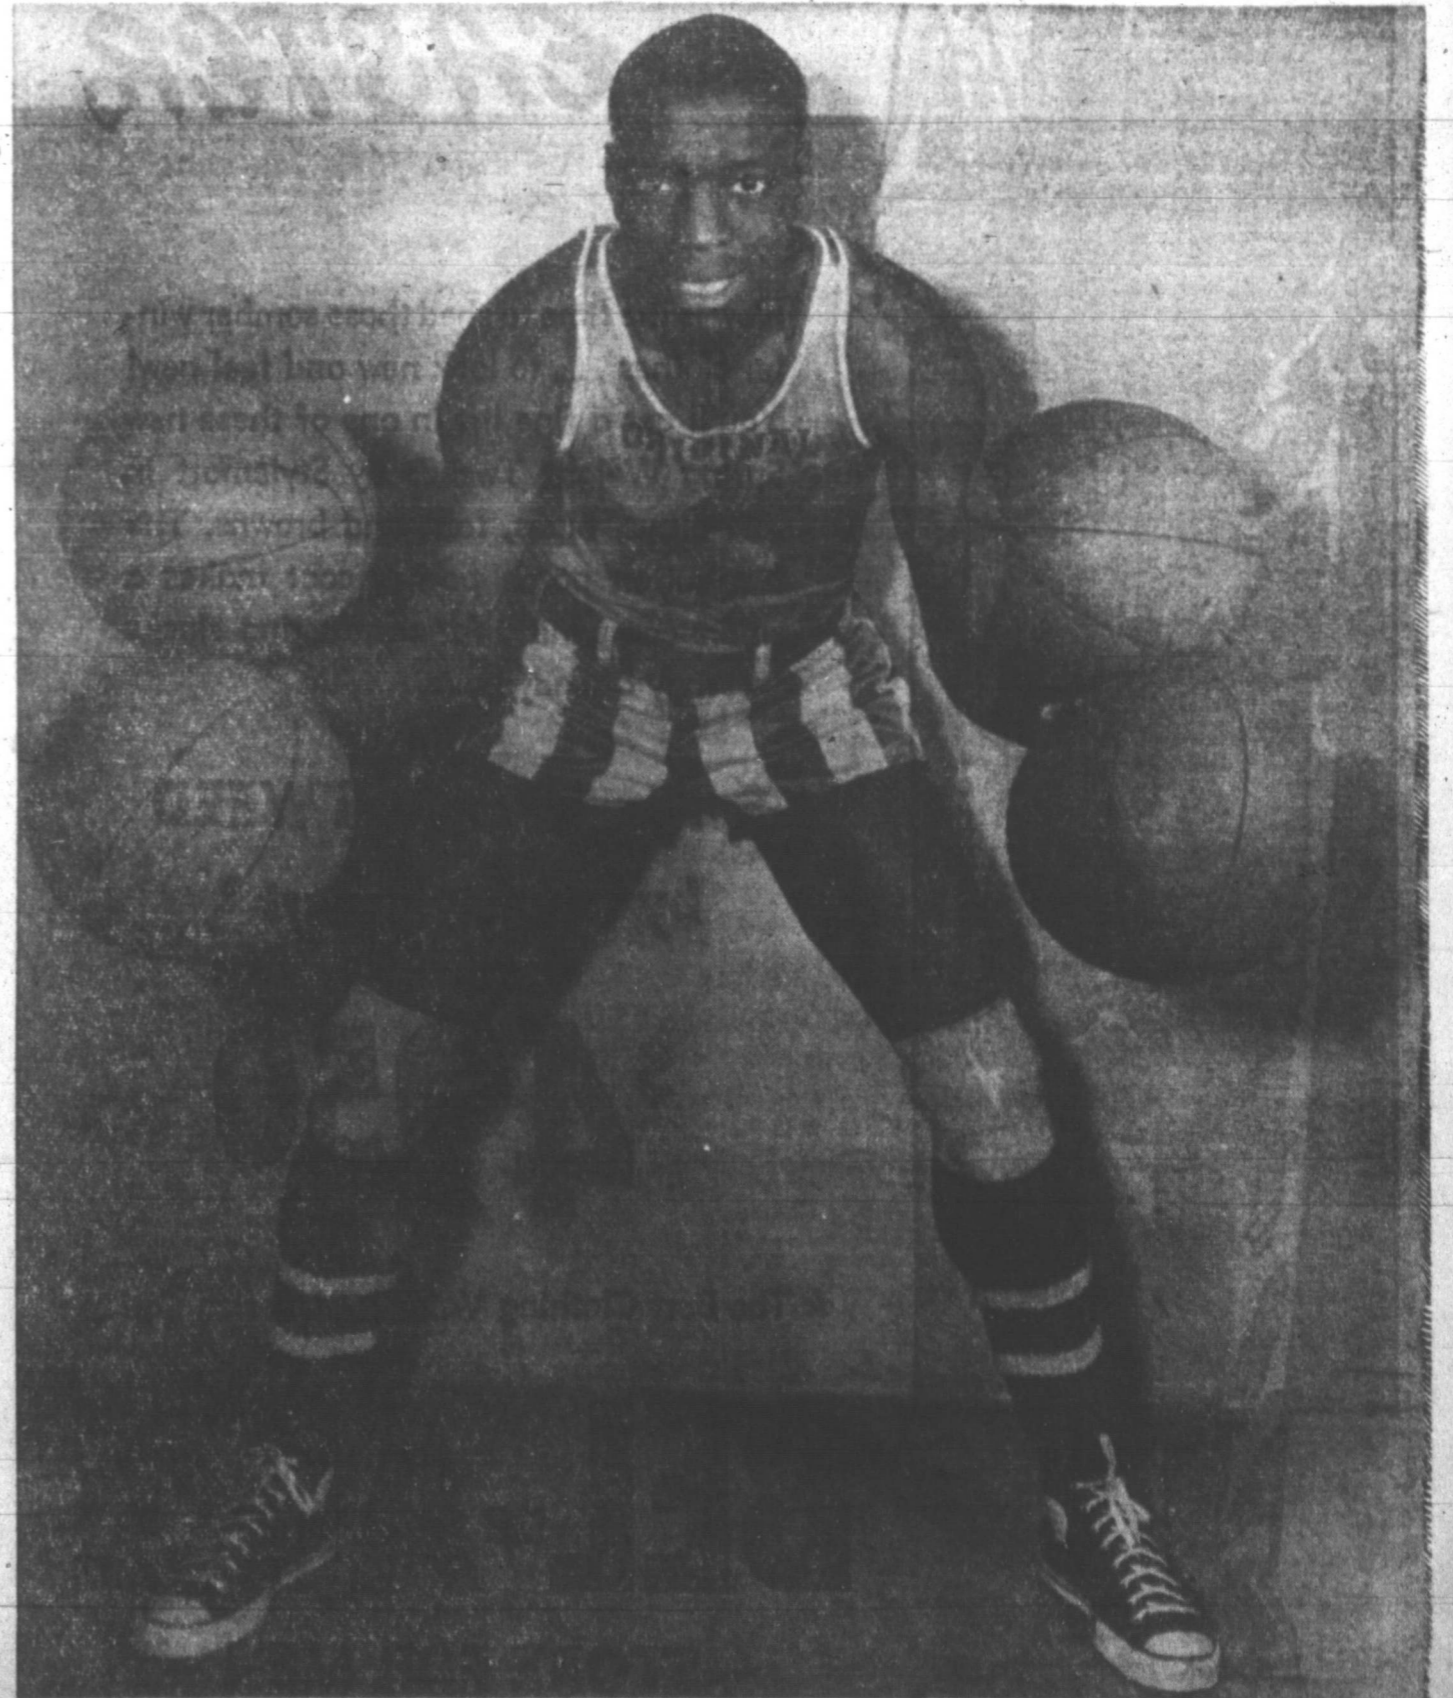

Vessels, an all-American in 1952 and winner of the Heisman Trophy as the outstanding college football player last fall, was the Colts' No. 1 draft choice.

He said Colts President Don Kellert finally matched the pay offered by Edmondton, but pointed out, "up in Canada, they also get me a job."

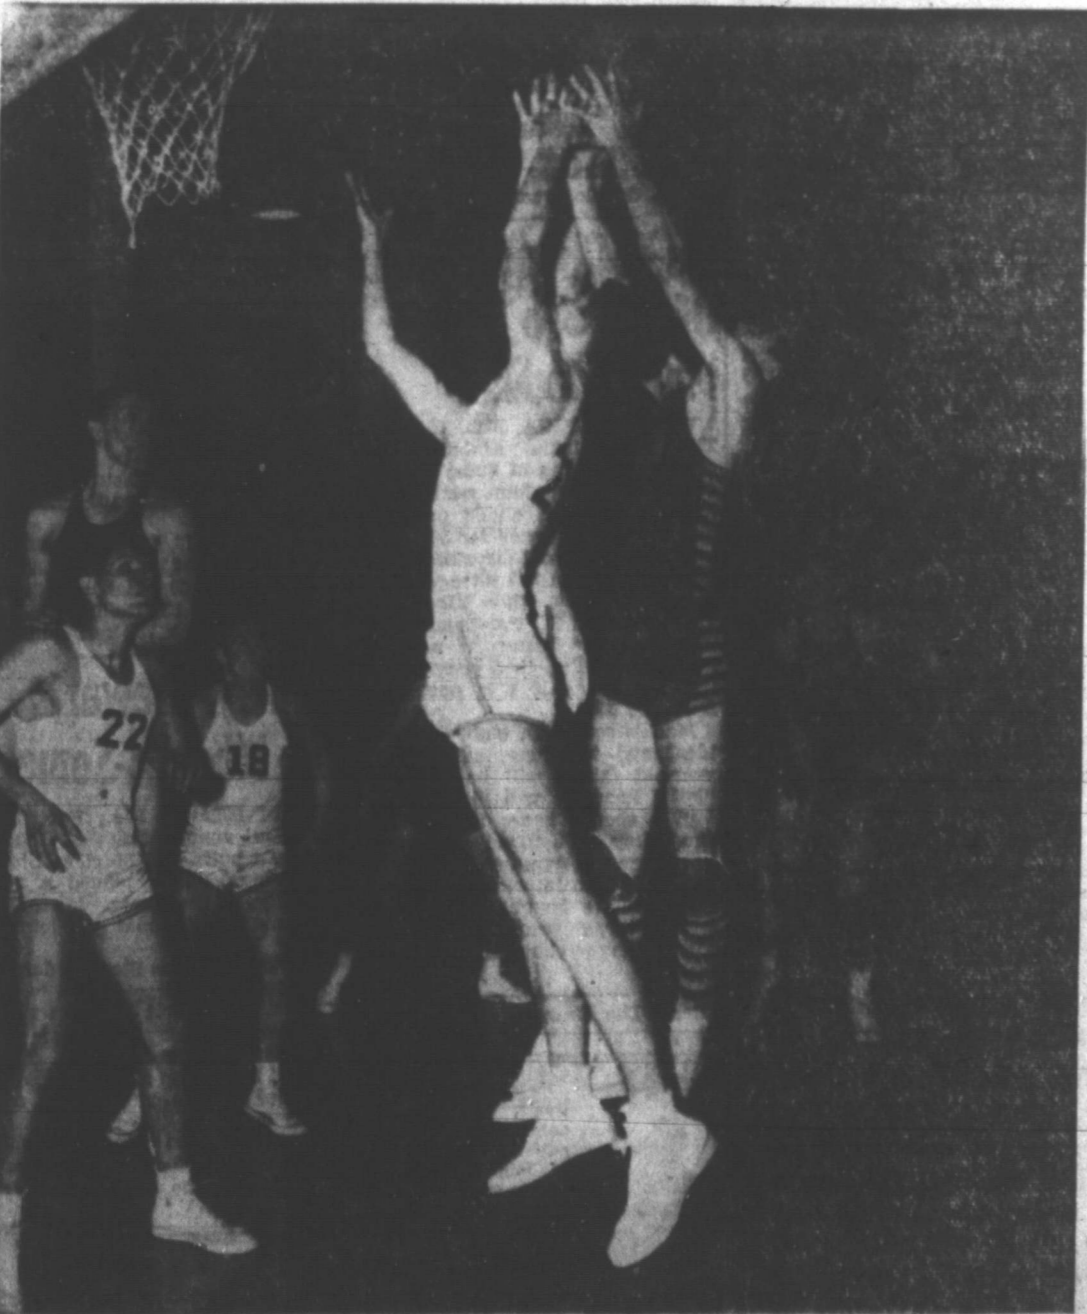

"Besides, if I signed with Baltimore they were going to trade me to the Los Angeles Rams right off, anyway," Vessels said.

He is fast becoming one of the best pivot men in the business, and a great favorite of the fans everywhere with his perfect showmanship talents.

Harvesters Ramble Past Westerners, 83-43

WOODS TAKES AIM — Fred Woods, high scoring Harvester forward, is shown going through his specialty — a jump shot — during Friday night's tilt against the Lubbock Westerners at Harvester Fieldhouse. Despite the efforts of Dennis Atkins to block the shot, the ball sailed through for two Harvester points in the second quarter of play. The Harvesters romped to an 83-43 victory. Woods wound up with 23 points for his night's work. (News Photo)

Jimmy Bond and Fred Woods combined their efforts Friday night to lead the Hustlin' Harvesters to their 22nd straight victory and 20th of the season when the Green and Golders romped past the Lubbock Westerners at Harvester fieldhouse, 83-43.

The Westerners entered the game with the top offensive record of District I-AAAA and many experts figured the Hub City quint might stage an upset. But whatever intentions Lubbock had of handing the Harvesters their first loss was thwarted in the early minutes of the game when the McNeelymen surged to a commanding lead and were never headed.

Bond led the night's scorers with 23 points but Woods was right on his heels with a 23-point performance. Bond got 18 of his points in the first half to lead the Harvester victory over the Westerners, after getting nine in the first half, scorched the nets for 14 points to pace the second half offensive of the Harvesters.

Buddy Cokrell, showing vast improvement by the game, tossed in 16 points to aid in the Harvester victory over the Westerners. Cokrell, along with Bond and Woods, virtually monopolized the rebounds off both backboards.

The Harvesters connected on 30 of 61 shots from the floor for a very respectable 49.2 percentage. Lubbock found the range on only 15 of 53 tries for 28.3.

Jon Oden gave the Harvesters a lead they never lost in the first 45 seconds of play when he swished the nets with a long set shot to give the locals a 3-0 lead. After Bill Webb of the Harvesters and Dale Ball of the Westerners traded free shots on a double foul to make it 3-1, the Harvesters moved ahead 6-1 on a field goal by Bond and a free toss by Oden. The Westerners never got closer than four points of overtaking the Harvesters after that point.

The Harvesters went on to a 21-14 first quarter lead, 41-28 at half-time and 65-32 at the end of seven in the third for his 23 tallies. Bond and the other three regulars saw only a brief action in the fourth period before McNeely swept the bench with all 15 players on the squad getting into the game. The regulars left the game leading 71-36 early in the fourth.

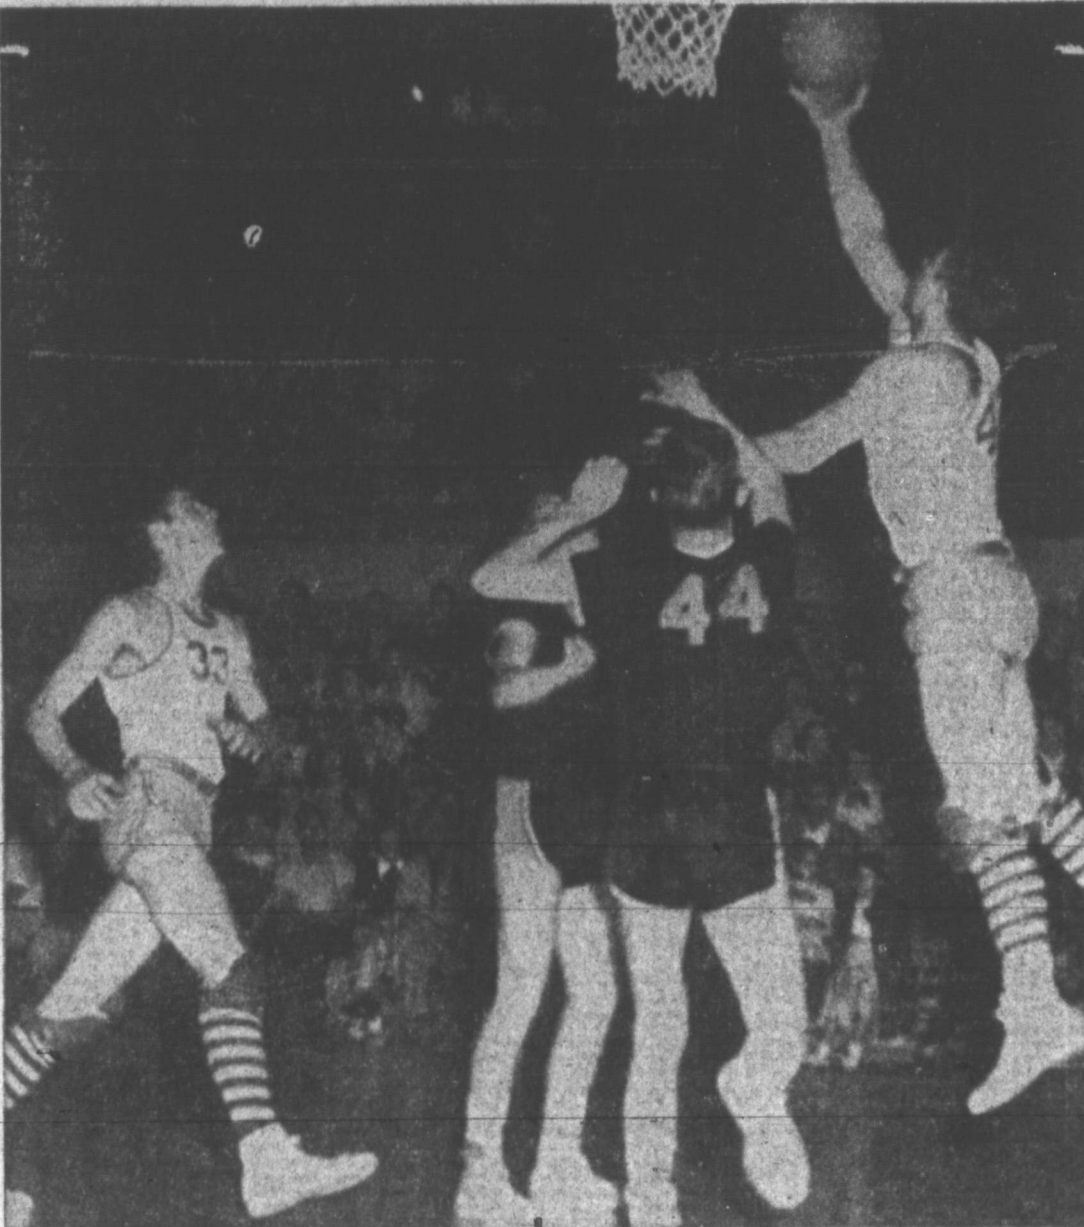

The subs managed to push the score past the 80 mark, the first time the Harvesters have turned the trick in conference play. Doug Randolph drove under for a two pointer that sent the Harvester tally past the 80 mark, the goal giving the Harvester an 81-42 lead.

Gerry Thomas, second only to Bond in the 1-AAAA individual scoring, was high for the Westerners with 16 points. Thomas fouled out of the game with five minutes left in the fourth. Twelve of Thomas' points came in the first half when the Westerners stayed within striking distance of the Pampans.

The Harvesters, however, with Woods leading the way with a 10-point spree, led the game in the third when they outscored the Westerners, 24-4, giving the locals a 33 point lead, 65-32.

The ultimate outcome, of course, wasn't in doubt rest of the way.

Lastarza Whips Layne; Seeks Rocky's Title

NEW YORK, Feb. 14—UP—Stocky Roland Lastarza, who became summer challenger on a split decision over chunky Rex Layne, said Saturday, "I hope Rocky Marciano is still heavyweight champion when I get my June shot at the title."

Promoter Jim Norris had indicated that the winner of Friday night's televised 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden would be June challenger against the April 10th Rocky Marciano-Jersey Joe Walcott victor at Chicago.

Although ex-collegian Lastarza of New York fought Friday night's bruising battle with Layne of Lewiston, Utah, on Friday the 13th, the date was luckier for Roland than was March 24, 1950, when he lost a split decision to Marciano in the same Garden ring. He has never had a chance to avenge that Marciano defeat—yet.

Dark-haired, swarthy Lastarza spotted Layne 10 pounds but wound up with the votes of the referee and one judge.

At 190 pounds, the former student at City College of New York finished stronger in the last round to get the verdict over 200-pound Layne.

It was a close, see-saw fight that kept the 7,180 fans interested most of the time and caused such a diversity of opinion that the Layne admirers booed loudly when the decision was announced. Referee Berle favored Lastarza in rounds, 6-3-1; and Judge Arthur Susskind had the same man ahead, 6-4. But Judge Harold Barnes favored Layne, 5-4-1. The United Press also favored the former Utah farm boy, 5-4-1.

McLean Captures 1-A Cage Crown

McLEAN, Feb. 14 (Special) — The Region 1 tourney takes in its 44-38 victory over Canadian Thursday night, is the District 1-A basketball champion for 1953. The Bengals thus qualified to participate in the Region 1 cage tourney at Lubbock, Feb. 27-29.

The Region 1 troupe takes in all champions of Districts 1-A through 8-A.

The Tigers finished the District 1-A race with a won nine lost one record. For the season, the McLean five won 15 and lost eight. The Tigers have scored 1,092 to 1,091 for the opponents. Their per game average for the season is 47 points.

James Jolly paced the Tiger attack in their pennant clinching tilt against Canadian with 16 points. The high scorer for the season, however, is Jimmy Farren who has 290 points for the year in 23 games for a 12.2 per game average.

While the Tigers were clinching their first district title in five years, the McLean Tigerites were falling to win the district crown for the first time in five years.

The McLean girls won their season finale Thursday with a 48-40 win over Canadian. The Tigerettes finished the district schedule with an 8-2 record, second only to Panhandle, the new champion. Both of the Tigerette losses were to Panhandle.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14—UP—The Philadelphia Athletics will change the name of Shibe Park to Connie Mack Stadium next spring in tribute to the club's president and former manager for 50 years.

Stockholders and directors of the club decided on the change at an annual meeting while Mack was vacationing in St. Petersburg, Fla. The park has borne the name of Benjamin Shibe, first president of the A's, since it was opened in April 12, 1909.

Mack's son, Roy, club vice president and treasurer, said his 90-year-old father will be surprised "but I know he will like it."

"We should have done it long ago," Roy said. "Dad didn't want to change the name as long as the Shibe had an interest in the club. However, we bought out their interests three years ago and we should have changed the name then."

Moser New Abilene Coach

ABILENE, Tex., Feb. 14—UP—Charles H. (Chuck) Moser, who coached McAllen high school to the Class AAA football semi-finals in 1952 and then switched to Corpus Christi Miller High, moved again Saturday, to Abilene.

Moser, 34, replaced P. E. (Pete) Shotwell, who became co-ordinator of health and physical education for the Abilene school system.

At Corpus Christi, he was a replacement for Bob Harrell, who went to San Angelo as head coach.

Moser signed a three-year contract at $1,000 a year, and said he would come March 1.

Kramer Gains On Sedgman

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Feb. 14—UP—Frank Sedgman's lead over Jack Kramer in their cross-country professional tennis tour stood at only one match Saturday.

Kramer narrowed the gap to 14-13 with a 9-7, 6-3 victory before a crowd of 4,000 at the Westchester country club Friday night and will attempt to draw even with the Australian star when their tour is resumed in Teaneck, N. J., next Monday.

Pancho Segura of Ecuador defeated Ken McGregor for the 22nd time in 28 matches, 7-5, 14-12 Friday night but McGregor gained partial revenge when he and Sedgman beat Kramer ad Segura, 6-2, in the doubles match.

Martin To Wrestle Davis In Feature

One of the most popular wrestlers ever to appear in Pampa will come back to the local ring after an absence of some three years, Wayne Martin, the Tulsa, Oklahoma, policeman, has once again become active in professional wrestling circles, and is intent on the belt of Dann McShain.

WAYNE MARTIN . . . returns after 3-year absence

Fans who remember the clear-cut type wrestling exhibited by Martin in his previous appearances here don't doubt that Wayne Martin is a top contender. Martin meets the rough and rowdy Houston dandy, Sterling "Dizzy" Davis in a two-out-of-three fall, one-hour main event that holds promise of being one of the top matches ever unrecorded here.

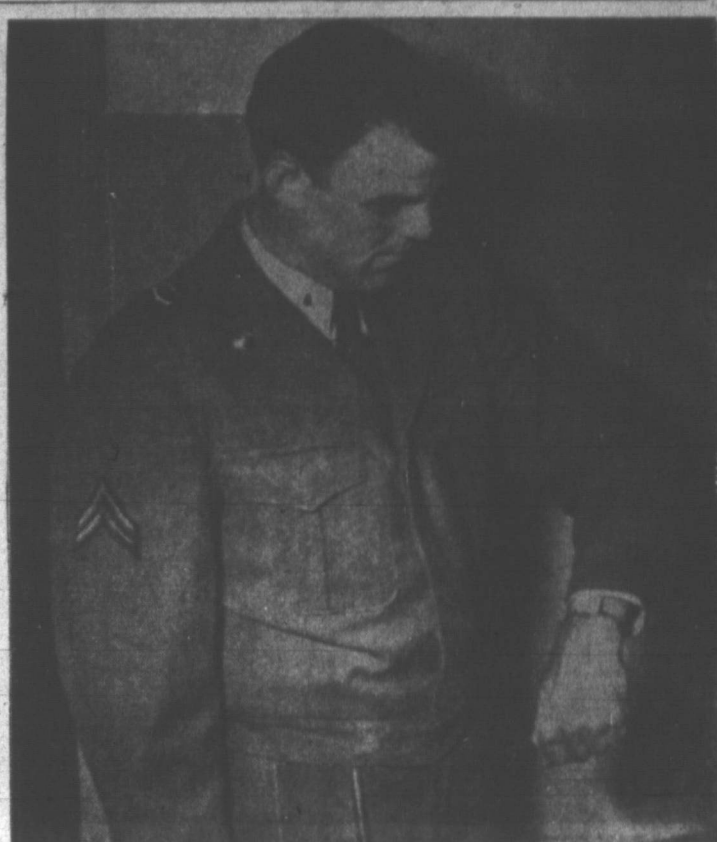

Davis is renowned for his unruly ring manner. He wears a leather wrist band that he uses to drag across his opponent's eye and temporarily blinds him so that Davis can apply his "Piledriver" hold. Martin will stand very little of this before losing his highly regarded temper, and then the fireworks should fly. Ben Davidson, the lumberjack from Klamath Falls, Oregon, comes back after a good match last week, and this week meets the swift Canadian, Frankie Hart.

SHARP GOES HIGH — Buddy Sharp No. 60, is pictured getting one of the few rebounds the Pampa Junior High Reapers were able to get against the tall Stephen F. Austin of Amarillo tonight in Friday's tilt at the Reaper Gym. Attempting the rebound for the Austin five is Red Pace, 6-4 center, Glenn Gilmore, of the Reapers, is shown in the foreground. The two Austin lads who are turning to race back on defense are Smith (No. 7) and Boney (No. 6). Austin won the Panhandle Junior High Conference tilt, 50-30. (News Photo)

FORT SAM HOUSTON, TEX. AS Feb. 14 — Cpl. Randall Clay, captain and assistant coach of the Brooke Army Medical Center, was presented a watch by the service newspaper, the Army Times, on his selection for the second team of the All-Army football squad.

NEWSPAPER HONORS CLAY — Randy Clay admires his new Elgin wrist watch which he received from the Army Times for making the second team of the 1952 All-Army football team. Clay, the ex-New York Giants football star, has been the leading scorer for the Comets for the last two years. Receiving watches is old stuff to Clay, because this is the eighth he has received in his football playing days. He played at Pampa High School, Texas University and New York Giants. The watch was presented to Clay by Maj. Gen. E. A. Noyes, Commanding General of Brooke Army Medical Center in behalf of the Army Times.

Austin Jars Reapers 50-30 In Tilt Here

The towering Stephen F. Austin basketball team of Amarillo caught the Pampa Junior High Reapers on one of their "cold" days Friday and as a result breezed to a 50-30 win over the young Pampanians in a Panhandle Junior High Conference contest played at the Reaper Gym.

The Reapers couldn't match the extreme height advantage of the Amarilloans. The Austin five had three boys above the six-foot mark and their trio controlled both backboards throughout the tilt.

Pernal Scroggin's little Reapers had trouble shooting over the outstretched arm of the tall Austin five.

Austin opened the scoring for the day in the first minute of play and they were never headed. The Amarillo quint held a quarter lead of 14-7, 29-13 and 39-17. About the only consolation the Reapers achieved in the game was outscoring the visitors in the final quarter, 13-11.

Glenn Gilmore and Dickie Mauldin shared scoring honors for the Reapers with seven points apiece. Buddy Sharp, the Reapers' high scorer for the season, was held to six points.

Smith with 14 and McKay with 12 were high scorers for the winning Austin five.

Austin, by winning, retained their slim chances of finishing on top in the final standings. It was Austin's 7th win against four setbacks in conference play. It was the seventh defeat compared to four wins for the Reapers in conference play.

In other games Friday, Borger defeated Nixon, 32-32; Horace Mann surprised Phillips, 48-41.

Borger leads the conference race with a 9-2 slate.

The Reapers take to the road for two games next week. They meet Borger at Borger Tuesday and Nixon at Amarillo Friday.

Following is the Reaper-Austin Box and the conference standings:

To Pursue Movie Career . . . Connors To Retire Soon From Baseball

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—UP—Babe Herman's biographers to the contrary, the zaniest Dodger of 'em all was Kevin (Chuck) Connors. Unlike Herman, Connors, who has announced his retirement from baseball to pursue a Hollywood career, was not a baseball player who happened to do humorous things. He was a humorist who happened for a time to play baseball.

As such Connors both delighted and antagonized the baseball men with whom he came into contact. One of his favorite pastimes was to laugh openly at Branch Rickey's business-like approach to the game.

Another was to infuriate Leo Durocher by the simple method of ignoring Durocher's desperado-like desire to win.

Losing Flyball Best Act Herman's biographers have painted him as Brooklyn's supreme humorist but his best act was to lose a fly ball in the sun and let it hit him on the head.

Comparing such an act to Connors' humor is like comparing a part fall by Red Skelton to a barb by Adlai Stevenson.

Connors' career in Brooklyn was brief — usually limited to the first month of the season when the team could carry more than 25 players — but he worked 'em in Montreal with a pantomime which surpassed any Hermanism.

Connors would go into his act whenever he committed an error. First, he would throw down his glove; then he'd trot to the Montreal dugout, bow to the crowd and point to the manager.

Bang Head on Post Then Chuck, slowly and deliberately, would bang his head against a post of the dugout in public penance.

In Brooklyn, Connors found a worthy foil in the pompous and complicated personality of Rickey. He always carried calling cards with the words, "Imitations, Impersonations and Witty Sayings by Chuck Connors," with him and he rarely failed to introduce himself to his new manager by giving him one.

Once, when Rickey and he were $2,000 apart at contract time, he deftly rubbed out his own name, substituted Rickey's and told the Dodgers' president that he needed the card more than Chuck did.

"You've got a great act," Connors told the stupefied Rickey, "but you ain't getting the right publicity."

In the end, of course, the game caught up with him. Professional baseballmen play the game for money, not fun. They laughed at Connors but at the same time made mental notes he was too dangerous to have around the clubhouse.

So, he drifted about the minors and finally decided he'd had enough. It was natural he should turn to Hollywood because, in fact, he should have gone there in the first place.

Build Up Your Bowling By Knockin' 'Em Down With STEVE NAGY, Bowler of the Year

Twelfth of a series written and illustrated for NEA service. By STEVE NAGY. Bowler of the Year. I think bowlers are a great deal like golfers.

A bowler averaging 160 is a great deal like a golfer who shoots in the 90's. A golfer in the 90's would be very happy to chop 10 strokes off his game, and a bowler averaging 160 would be quite happy to add 10 pins to his game.

If the golfer has a weakness he will go out and practice that one shot for an hour at a time, either on the course or at a driving range.

Yet bowlers seldom practice one specific phase of their game which is robbing them of at least 10 pins a game.

In short, in your practice sessions, practice turning in the spares which are most difficult for you.

If you can pick up that one extra spare a game, you have accomplished your purpose of adding 10 points to your score.

NEXT: Why some bowlers drop ball.

Love At First Sight ... Hank Admits To Buddy Rogers His Love For Mary Pickford

By HENRY McEMORE
HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Not more than twenty-four hours ago I sat in the living room of an old and good friend of mine and told him, point blank, that I loved his wife and had loved her since the first time I saw her. I went on to say that I would always love her.

The husband I told this to is a much bigger and much more muscular man than I, but he didn't get up and hit me with a roomhouse right, or did he exclaim, "You cad, you!" or I stalk into the gun room and pull from the rack a blunderbuss with which to pepper my chest.

He understood.

You see, I was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Rogers, and Mrs. Rogers is Mary Pickford. If Buddy tried to shoot every American man who is in love with his wife he'd bankrupt himself buying ammunition.

Movie stars have come and gone, and are coming and going, but Mary Pickford stands alone. Who in the world has passed the graceful age of forty who doesn't cherish those curls and that smile? They are as familiar as the raised hand of Miss Liberty.

Stars who worked when she did are now making comebacks. More power to them. But Mary doesn't have to. Why ask a spring morning to repeat itself? A spring morning is a spring morning, and Mary in Mary.

Mary's curls are gone now, but the smile is still there. And, if Buddy will allow me this masculine appreciative observation, the figure is still there. She couldn't have changed much more than an ounce or an inch.

We talked about a hundred things, and she was gracious enough to let me do my share of talking, which was plenty.

We talked about Buddy's golf game which is the dead opposite, gin rummy, Chinese food, Mary's garden, Korea, the New York Giants, and early Hollywood days.

"There was a time," Mary said, "when there wasn't but one house between Pickfair and the Pacific Ocean." That's quite a stretch, and I couldn't help but wish that I had been a far-seeing real estate operator in those times.

Speaking of Pickfair, I believe it came as the biggest surprise of all to me, I had pictured the home of Buddy and Mary as a sort of Buckingham Palace, with formal gardens, ice-cold statues in every corner, chairs and sofas with a price but no comfort, and—well, everything but a home.

You know, the sort of house where you have to sit upright and keep longing for your own house where you can lean back and breathe deep.

The living room at Pickfair is every bit as comfortable as Mama's home in Jacksonville. A trifle bigger, let us say, but just as

Korean Writes His Thanks To Benefactors In Pampa

A letter from a Korean to a Pampian, who sent him a box of clothing at Christmas time, expresses the feeling that underprivileged persons the world over have for those who help them out. Three Pampians sent a Christmas package for a Korean family by way of Capt. J. B. Black, 40th Division, a chaplain and relative of a member of Pampa's First Christian Church, who turned it over to one Cheakyong Mo.

In the pocket of an enclosed coat Mrs. J. H. Nichols, 1400 W. Wilks, inserted a note asking the recipient to write a personal letter to her. With Mrs. Nichols on the package-sending were Miss Verina Shaw, 221 N. Somerville, and Miss Edna Chapman, employed in Pampa. The letter she received, obviously written by an interpreter, follows:

"I can hardly express my thanks for your kindness with this rude letter.

"However, you are respected with a great gratitude by all Korean people who are longing for peace as you are relieving a poor Korean with economical relief and religious care.

"I believe you are as kind and graceful as your mind. I suppose it will be impolite to say that.

"I should like to have a picture of your family, if you please.

"Please give my best regards to your family.

"Yours respectfully, Cheakyong Mo."

Mary Anne Guthrie Wins Heart Drive Talent Show

A 16-year-old Pampa girl won the Gray County Heart Fund Drive's amateur talent show Saturday morning with a rendition of the "St. Louis Blues."

Mary Anne Guthrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Guthrie, 633 Doucette, was awarded a $25 U.S. Savings Bond.

Tied for second and third places after three attempts to decide between them — were Susie Fillman, 6, and Jan Dyer, 13, both dancers.

Each of them was presented a gift certificate for a fountain pen by B and B Pharmacy and Cretey Drug.

An estimated 75 persons — a "fair turnout" — were on hand in the LaNora Theater at 10 a.m. Saturday to view some local talent and contribute to the Heart Fund Drive, according to Coy Palmer, program chairman.

Other contestants were Betty Attaway, La Juan Peden, Donna Thornburg, Zelma and Delma Franklin, Rita Gosnell, Janis Foster, Donna Crossman, Alma Alvery, Sue Coob, Rhona Finkelstein and Marie Guthrie, sister of the winner.

Audience reaction determined the winners via an applause meter, Palmer said.

Accompanist for all numbers was Ann Jordan.

And presiding during the show was Ray Evans, city director of public works.

Out of His Class
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 —UP— John A. Mills, a fifth grade teacher at Kimball elementary school, wants to go back to a junior high school. Mills told a school board committee he has to teach clay modeling, painting, singing and "girls' sewing" at the elementary school. "I know none of these things," he said.

Churches Start Training Plan

Nine area churches are slated to attend a group training school beginning Monday in the First Baptist Church auditorium. The school is to be conducted daily through Friday starting at 7 p.m.

Directors of the sessions will be J. R. Stroble, C. T. Aly and Paul Biggs.

On the training school agenda is to be a leadership training as well as teaching courses in Bible, doctrine and evangelism.

One of the leaders is to be Miss Mary Tyler, Southwestern Baptist Seminary, Fort Worth. She is to teach the book, "The Nursery Department of the Sunday School."

Miss Tyler has had practical experience in working with children and is now serving in the Broadway Baptist Church, Fort Worth.

Stroble, First Baptist Church education director, has urged all nursery workers and those interested in working with children to attend the sessions.

In addition to the adult groups, classes are to be conducted for boys and girls of the Beginner, Primary, Junior and Intermediate departments.

Teaching these departments are to be Mrs. C. P. Coates, Mrs. R. L. Edmondson and Mrs. W. B. Franklin, all of Pampa, and Mrs. C. C. Kelly, White Deer.

Churches participating in the program are to be the Panhandle First Baptist, White Deer Baptist, Lefors First Baptist and Pampa First Baptist. Also participating are the Trinity Baptist, Hobart Street Mission, Central Baptist and Calvary Baptist, all of Pampa.

Geological survey staffs, seeking new mineral deposits in the British Commonwealth, have been tripled since 1948.

Peg O' Pampa

WE HAVEN'T SEEN ANYTHING like the publicity they (the manufacturers) are giving their products in linking them with television. There are TV lamps, TV chairs, TV snacks, TV slippers and even TV pajamas, to name only a few. Of course in places where they have had television quite a while, people are getting use to all the commotion it has caused, but in Pampa and the rest of the Panhandle, we haven't yet witnessed the changes it's gonna make. Why Peg even heard that people plan their meals so they won't interfere with their favorite programs. And children talk as unconcerned about steamers, aerials and channels as they would hop-scotch or tag. Yup, as Phil Harris would say, "You ain't seen nothin' yet." As TV taint visit.

WISH PEG COULD HAVE HEARD all the interesting talks that were given this past week by members of the various clubs in town. Understand that Mrs. F. C. Ledrick gave a most interesting one on "Women in the Theater." Zenobia Holloway drove over to Lefors where she was guest speaker for the Art and Civic Club and told the members about Matchless, Miss. and the beautiful old homes there. Then if you wanted to hear more on the aspects of personality you could have dropped in on the Delphian Society and heard Mmes. Philip Powell, H. H. Roynton, J. F. Curtis, Alfred Cowan, Sam Cook and Dick Bonner discuss this program. Mrs. M. M. Moyer informed the Civic Culture Club about South America and Mrs. M. P. Downs spoke on the origin of Valentines which was so appropriate for 20th Century Culture's Valentine luncheon.

PAMPA PANORAMA: Mrs. Venus (Dena) Collum looking pretty in a cricket flannel gray two-piece sport dress. Audrey and Paul Tabor back from a short trip to Oklahoma City. Mrs. M. E. Cooper wearing a wine boxed-type suit. The Bob Vallis' house going up in Fraser. Ditto the John Friabys'. The Harold Millers, adding on to their home. Mrs. Jack (Adrian) Foster in a gray suit with a cute red hat with a black band. Gertie and Bob Clark taking in the Country Club's bi-weekly dance last Saturday night. Ditto Charlie and Jean Cook. Mrs. Ralph (Teresa) McKinney looking chic in a navy blue gabardine suit and a beautiful lilac hat with a darker band and a cute feather of the same color on top. Mrs. Dudley (Kathryn) Steele walking down main street in a blue suit and Navy blue hat. The A. J. Beagles' back in town from Farmington, N. M., to spend a short time. Mrs. Bailey (Roberta) Phelps in a black poodle cloth suit with a chartreuse scarf around her neck. Heard the Courtney Cowdens of Midland (she's the former Margaret Price of this city) are parents of a daughter born in December. Congratulations to the John A. Thompsons who are parents of a son born Monday. The Yo-Yo craze of Pampa youngsters. See them everywhere. Saw two boys having a wonderful time during intermission at the 2nd Community Concert. A few Boy Scouts having fun with their Indian ceremonial dances in the lobby of the Hughes Building. Two in connection with Boy Scout Week. Fye Palmer celebrating her birthday on Friday 13th. Don't forget "Prince Swineherd," the fairy tale play set to dance and music, being brought to Pampa by the AAUW tomorrow afternoon at 4 in Junior High auditorium. Heard a bus load of Grandview students were coming in to see the play. Janet Tate, bride-elect of Erian Eller, is in an advertisement in the January Mademoiselle. Understand that it is a colored bathing suit picture. Erian is the son of our Mrs. Mary F. Eller. Miss Tate lives in Los Angeles, Calif. with her parents. After the wedding, the couple will live in Hawaii. Harry Garrett's watercolor art exhibit in the Public Library. Pampa teen-agers enjoying TWIRP week.

PEG THINKS IT'S A WONDERFUL JOB that Lorene O. Locke has cooked up for herself in greeting newcomers who have moved to Pampa. It isn't every day that someone takes on a job as big as this. What with Lorene planning to visit with at least fifty new residents each month. There are many of us who have experienced moving to a new town and would have been more than happy had someone come to our house and greeted us with news concerning what's what and where it is. So here's a bouquet to Lorene who has established this hostess service in Pampa, which will help ten-fold in keeping Pampa a friendly city.

SEVERAL OF THE GIRL SCOUT leaders went over to Amarillo this past week to attend the Arts and Crafts school for recreation and group work. Mmes. Ed Barnes, Burn Lewter, Dorothy Statton, Tommie Jeter and Miss Nola Abbot learned how to make jewelry, candles, sawdust modeling (that should have been interesting), tie-dyeing, mask-making and tin can craft. Perhaps one of the leaders will write in and tell Peg something of what they learned concerning these crafts. Especially sawdust modeling. huh Dorothy?

UNDERSTAND THAT George and Frances Hofessa and Ray Riley made that adorable decoration used at the first landing in the City Hall to point the way to the Art Club meeting last week where Mons Pierce spoke. It was a huge palette covered with paint and by it was a huge tube of paint (made out of tomato cans) rolled up on one end with paint "pouring" out of it on the palette. Very clever. Also heard that Babe Eaton designed the decorations for the mantel and table which was so effectively done in black and white paper sculpture. Mrs. Grundy (Ruth) Morrison had on a cute black hat covered with pink beads. Mrs. Claudine Vail, who introduced the speaker, was attractively dressed in a white two-piece dress.

YOU HAVE HEARD OF THESE "come as you are parties" well the DOW Class of the First Baptist Church had a "come as you are breakfast" Friday morning at the E. M. Keller residence. They say Mrs. Clifford (Peggy) McNeely had just washed her hair and had it wrapped up in a towel. There were five women in housecoats. Hairnets and no make-up were general. Of course, the idea is to catch as many as they can not ready. They probably had an idea it was to be sometime within the week, but the exact time. Only the hostesses knew. You know, the easier the better.

EL CUADERNO: The Valentine Dance of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority was a huge success last night and their Valentine Girl, Frankie Ward, looked beautiful in a white net formal. She was presented by her brother, H. E. Crocker. There was no one happier Thursday night than Jo Crinklaw when she received the highest Girl Scout award was given, the curved Bar. The ceremony was most impressive. Jo was presented the bar by Mrs. Miron Osborne. Heard that there is a possibility that the Texas Fine Arts Association will send its exhibit here sometime in the near future. Understand that there were over a thousand guests who saw the New Mexico Fantasy Art Exhibit. So there are a large number of Pampans interested in arts. And would enjoy seeing the Texas exhibit.

HAVE HEARD SO MUCH about Mrs. Buck Miller's Applesauce Cake recipe and finally ran across it in the Junior High Parent Teacher Association Cook Book. It is delicious and so nice to serve with coffee at parties:

Nichols-Sawyer Vows Exchanged In Beeville

BEEVILLE, Texas (Special) — The marriage of Miss Martha Ann Nichols and Albert Robert Sawyer was solemnized in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Saturday morning at 9 o'clock with the Rev. Harold F. Palmer reading the double ring ceremony. Father Palmer also officiated in the solemn high mass assisted by Rev. Herman Berg, deacon, and Rev. Herman Deffer, sub-deacon. Anthony Wingerter was master of ceremonies and Jimmie Lundschen, thurifer. Johnnie Nichols, brother of the bride, and Tip O'Neil were acolytes.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Albert Nichols of Beeville, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. A. R. Sawyer, Sr. of Pampa and the late Dr. Sawyer. They both attend the University of Texas at Austin and will continue their studies after they return from a wedding trip to Monterey, Mexico.

Miss Lily Mae Sweet, organist, accompanied Miss Frances McGull of Refugio, soloist. The children's choir sang the mass.

Mr. Nichols gave his daughter in marriage. The bride wore a wedding dress of tulle and lace.

The fitted basque was fashioned with a high lace collar and long lace sleeves that buttoned in petal tured at the side with velvet tub-points at the wrists. From a satin cummerbund a bouffant skirt of tulle had an overskirt of scalloped lace which cascaded down the front of the skirt and around and down the aisle-wide train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was caught to a tiny pearl coronet. She carried a white orchid and valley lilies on a prayer book.

Miss Louise Welder was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Vincent Menier of San Antonio, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Patricia Barber of Panadena, cousin of the bride, and Miss Patricia Cox. They wore identical dresses of ice blue tulle over taffeta with accordion pleated panels in the skirt and plicated leron. They wore half hats featuring sleeves that buttoned in petal tured at the side with velvet tub-points at the wrists. From a satin cummerbund a bouffant skirt of

Coronation Styles Avoid Historical Reminiscences In Spring Showing

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent
LONDON — (NEA) — The eyes of the fashion world are focused on the 12 top British designers, who are meeting in the clothing challenge of this Coronation year with their current Spring showings.

Right from the start, it is evident they have purposely avoided historical reminiscences. There are no 13th Century wimples or 16th Century ruffles. They have, however, borrowed ideas from the Nineteenth Century — Gibson Girl bows, arc-shaped hats, floating dust-coats, 36-button-length gloves — which they've included in their "gala dresses" for all the grand occasions which women will attend next June.

Michael, of Lachasse (the tailored suit specialist) opened the Spring style offensive by staging a minor revolution. He launched the "Tango Line" and "Forward Look," which is a definite break with the traditional aspect of the English classic suit as women the world over know it.

Severity has given place to casual, rounded lines. Jackets have padded basques that dip at back, are moulded through a high nipped-in waistline, with Beau Brummel collars and lapels or no collars at all and diagonal or triangular fastenings. Skirts, 13 inches from the ground, are slender, with a long-legged "American" look.

The softness is carried through to the rounded, padded, sloping shoulder line, emphasized by kimono or raglan sleeves, usually cut off at midarm. Silk suits are often sleeveless, and have the necklines starkly cut-out in deep squares, V's or half-moons.

ated asymmetrical fastenings to topcoats and are often repeated on the skirt.

Michael's redingotes have swinging, stiffened skirts attached to brief fitted tops and are made of stiff silks. Informal wool coats were mostly of the straight, manish-cut style. His "Gibson Girl" bows were in navy and olive green organdie exactly matching the sleeveless silk suits and worn with coat gloves.

For Digby Morton, the Coronation influence is only traceable in his "young" line which in reality has an air of the fashions of the 1920s. Slender dresses are matched by hip-bone "matchbox" coats. Suits have easy-fitted jackets, with three-quarter sleeves and pocket, interest often stressed by buttoned-on bands.

For sheer whimsy there is a trailing evening coat of mannish cut in red, black and white tartan taffetas over a "Bal Tabarin" gown of black chiffon — tightly shirred to the knees where it billows out in an enormously full blouse. Morton also showed a "Gibson Girl" bon in white organdie, double this time, to accompany an evening gown.

Peter Russell's suits stressed the same "softening" influence. His jackets have nipped-in waists, soft dropped shoulders combined with kimono or raglan sleeves. Several models were inspired by the Tyrolean jerkin with fullness restrained by wide contrasting leather belts.

Coronation dresses ranged from a trim two-piece ensemble in white Nottingham lace — a slender chemise dress and a straight taffeta-lined coat — to a swinging pieced chiffon dress topped by a sleeveless grosgrain redingote with deep shawl collar, both in Russell's striking "New German" colors, as well as the more subtle shades favored by Paris.

um" red, definitely intended for the Royal Garden Party.

Evening gowns were sweeping and regal, some in lace with long tight sleeves and a sweater bodice entirely re-embroidered, others with the briefest bodices teamed up with yards of net in the best "keepake" style.

Victor Stiebel's collection leans to the trim, tailored look in suits. His jackets fit like a second skin and have amusing collar and pocket details. The majority of skirts are stick slim. These are made of worsted, flannel, silk-and-alpaca mixture, linen and surah.

Topcoats were divided between redingotes with full stiffened skirts and loose dust coats, the latter almost straight, with dropped shoulders and wide armholes. Dresses stressed flattened diaphragms and drooped shoulders. Ensembles in vivid printed tie silks had pleated skirts, over stiff petticoats.

Evening gowns were mainly of the picturesque portrait type, fashioned of the most fabulous fabrics ranging from rich French brocades to slipper satins and paper-thin taffetas as well as lace and tulle. Two hundred and fifty yards of fabric went into a friar-rose tulle number.

All these gowns were obviously created with a view to formal Palace and diplomatic functions. It is not the easiest thing in the world to curtsy gracefully in a streamlined skirt.

Conversation pieces included a short black organza dance frock the full skirt trimmed with a deep band of tiny guinea fowl feathers; printed tie-silk shoes to match the day-time ensemble; small diamond-embroidered white ermine tiaras; a dress made of graded cornflower petals with skin-tight bodice in darker blue jersey; and, finally, slipper satin evening coats trimmed with fur.

The most striking element of the London collections so far is the gentleman's agreement between textile manufacturers and couturiers to set aside all inhibitions and use bold and dashing

World Prayer Day Planned By Women

World Day of Prayer will be observed in Pampa on Friday morning, at 9:30 in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church, under the sponsorship of the Pampa Council of Church Women.

The public is invited to attend this religious program, whose purpose is to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer. Since 1890 Christian nations have observed the annual Day of Prayer. This year the program will be observed around the world in a twenty-four-hour service, beginning in the Fiji Islands and ending in the Lawrence Islands, so that Christian people will be praying somewhere, every hour of the day.

—Mrs. Lee Harrah will preside at Pampa's World Day of Prayer service. There will be special music, with Mrs. Don Bissell as soloist and Mrs. Roy Johnson as accompanist. Mrs. E. A. Mack will give the history of the World Day of Prayer, and Mrs. A. D. Hills will give the call to worship. The morning's speaker will be Rev. Lyle Albright of the Church of the Brethren. A nursery will be provided during the service.

At 7:45 a.m. Friday, the Guild of the First Methodist Church will hold a prayer service in the chapel. All working people who are unable to attend the later meeting are invited to come to this service.

The engraver's personal copy of the original Audubon "Birds of America" (1828-1838) is preserved at the Trinity College Library in Hartford, Conn.

Sound Off By A Leaguer

Tabulations on the Citizenship Questionnaire project are nearing completion, and results should be made known before the end of this month. Latest count reveals that nearly six hundred citizens will have filled out the questionnaire. Surely many of us now have a broader conception what is meant by "full-time" citizenship.

CALLING ALL 21-YEAR OLDS! Something new has been added! Formerly young people attaining their majority were required to obtain their exemption certificates before the last day of January, in order to qualify for voting. The law has been changed. Now "any citizen who is exempt from the payment of a poll tax by reason of the fact that he or she has not reached the age of twenty-one January preceding its levy, but who shall have since become eligible to vote by reason of age, shall not later than 30 days before any election at which he or she wishes to vote obtain from the Assessor and Collector of taxes for the county of his or her residence a certificate of exemption from the payment of a poll tax." The quotation is from the Texas Election Laws, 1952 edition.

The same procedure is applicable to citizens who were not residents one year on the first day of January preceding the levy of the poll tax, but who have since become eligible to vote by reason of length of residence; one year next preceding an election in the State and 6 months within the county.

WHAT'S COOKING IN GRAY COUNTY HD CLUB WORK

By HELEN DUNLAP GRAY HD AGENT

The advanced dressmaking courses are progressing with the making of street dresses and unlined suits, under the direction of Miss Helen Dunlap, County Home Demonstration Agent. The clothing leaders and demonstrators of each home demonstration club are taking these courses to learn methods, which contribute to the professional look of the garment made in the home.

These garments are being made of the new fabrics available now. Many of them are blended fabrics such as rayon and cotton, or nylon or orlon with wool. The "man made" synthetic blended fabrics such as orlon, nylons and dacrons, are of much interest to these women. These new materials necessitate the giving of the latest information in their handling. Information has been given by the agent on the size of the machine needle and the number of stitches per inch for each of various types of materials.

A good fit is one of the things which is shown through the altering of the pattern to fit the individual before any cutting is done. This method eliminates time in fitting and results in a much better fitted garment. One woman, who is not a club member, came to one group meeting for help with a sleeve fitting problem. The pattern was changed to help overcome the difficulty. Before cutting into the material, a test garment was made to try the altered pattern. The result was that the sleeve was more comfortable.

The need for an interfacing in collars, cuffs and at buttonholes, is another sewing help given to give style to the garment. It gives crispness, strength and body to the finished garment. Commercial interfacings are especially suited to suits, and heavier weight materials made into dresses. The type of material used depends upon the weight and character of the material of the garment. Light weight muslins; permanent finished organza, lawn, batiste, net or marquisette; and taffeta are some of the other materials used in different types of dresses and lighter weight suits. Muslins do shrink, and should be shrunk three times before they are used, to avoid disappointment. It does continue to shrink after the first treatment.

The need for pressing as one sews, is another thing the women are learning to get better results. The ham, an oval shaped piece of equipment, is used in pressing over curved or irregular surfaces such as shoulders or at the armeye. Pressing, with this oval shaped piece of equipment, aids in keeping the shape of the garment.

A new method of making draped buttonhole was presented to give a better finished professional look to the garment. With a little practice, the women are able to make buttonholes which add interest to their clothing.

These are a few of the ideas given at the training school, which started the latter part of January. They will be completed during February, and after the leaders have had the opportunity of teaching other members the things they learned, the women will hold a county dress review. The public will be invited to see the results of the teaching.

Turn Off Heat For Best Sleep

By ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor

Good sleeping posture can help promote good daytime posture. If you curl yourself up like a question mark all night, and especially if you keep your head down on your chest, you help breed bad daytime posture.

You may ask how you can control sleeping posture. In the moments before sleep actually comes, make sure your body is straight and your neck straight with your nose out of the pillow. This may help habituate you to sleeping that way. Do this deliberately every night and check on your position in the morning.

Here are some tests to make that will insure your getting a proper pillow: it should feel light when you lift it, should have no odor, should spring back in to shape immediately when pressed, and should make no dust when pounded. You should be able to feel no stiff quilts which might prick through. The higher the percentage of down in proportion to feathers, the better the pillow and, of course, the more expensive it is.

Healthful sleep requires a good mattress which supports your body without sag and yet has enough give to allow you to turn over easily and comfortably.

When buying, consider the following points: firmness should be uniform without soft spots; it should give readily when pressed but spring right back into shape; if tufted, the tufts should be quite close together to prevent lumping; edging should be well reinforced and the ticking or damask should be of well-tailored, good quality.

You are better off sleeping with windows partially open at night, even in very cold weather, with the heat turned off, unless for some special reason your physician has advised otherwise.

When you are well, your own body warmth — which increases naturally in sleep — insulated by heat from cold. If you've been waking up fatigued, one reason may be that you've not been getting enough air.

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Before he was married, Hal's father worked for a man named Mr. Bryce. Part of his job was the monthly preparation of a list of stores which had used certain pieces of display advertising. Mr. Bryce called this list the "Customer-Response Report."

It was a dull report to have to prepare — but Mr. Bryce's temperament made it intolerable. For days before it was due, he would worry at Hal's father and the Customer Response Report like a bright dog at two bones he didn't staminate to naging, anxious Mr. Bryce with resistance to the dull office water-cooler, five times a day, every day, Mr. Bryce would say, "How's the report coming, Miller?...Getting some good ticks in on the report tomorrow?...You're not forgetting the chain-store breakdowns, are you?"

but innocent Customer Response Report. After that he got it done in two days — and soon left the job he had conquered for a better one.

One Saturday recently Hal's mother had to tell him three times to get on with his chore of cleaning the garage. When he continued to stall, his father did not say, "You heard your mother. Get out there and get to work." Instead, he called Hal into the living-room and told him the story of Mr. Bryce.

He said, "Are you sore at mother and me about something? Because if you are, it would be better for you to get your gripe off your chest instead of taking it out on a chore that has to be done. It only makes a job twice as hard when you don't face up to your dislike of the person who tells you to do it. So what's the gripe?"

It turned out to be his 13-year-old's still-rankling resentment at the parents who had denied him permission to skate on a half-frozen lake the week before. When their point of view had been explained, Hal went off whistling to clean the garage. He's gone on cleaning it every Saturday since with a minimum of grumble.

A smart father? Not particularly. He's just used what he knows. He's not the only one among us who's had a Mr. Bryce in his life. Most of us have. Have we forgotten what it was like to obey him — or like Hal's father, do we use what he taught us when the children stall on the chores?

DISEASE IS HIS TARGET—Al Millis, general manager of a fattening firm in Kansas City, Mo., shoots hogs during a current attempt to check the spread of the disease vesicular exanthema. More than 2000 swine, valued at some $80,000, have been slain.

NO HOLDUP—Looks like someone ordered "Reach, podner!" but it's just two Chilean ranch owners enthusiastically greeting each other with the Spanish equivalent of "Long time no see." It's rodeo time in San Fernando, Chile, with cattle ranchers flocking in for the competitions.

REDS BUILD UP FOR CHIANG RAIDS—Newsmap above shows the China coastline directly opposite Formosa, which the Nationalist forces of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek may now attack. The extremely irregular contour of the coastline contains innumerable coves and bays which would be difficult to defend against surprise attack. White area on the map indicates the 15- to 20-mile-deep security zone set up by the Communists. Residents considered likely to help landing forces have been removed from the area. Reports say that defense preparations have been stepped up since President Eisenhower lifted the blockade which prevented Nationalist attacks. Inset shows the relationship of the area to China and Burma, where a Nationalist army of 10,000 is camped just over the border, and also shows Red rail lines which would be likely targets for Nationalist planes.

ROMAN ROAMIN'—These youngsters enjoy sight-seeing "a la cart" on this novel cycle-pusher as they tour Vatican City, Rome. In background is St. Peter's church, flanked by the world-famous, 500-year-old Bernini colonnade.

HEADED FOR "INTERIOR"—Ralph A. Tudor, above, has been appointed Undersecretary of the Interior by President Eisenhower. The 50-year-old San Francisco engineer is a graduate of West Point.

MAROONED—Cattle huddle in the shelter of a storm-wrecked farmhouse on one of the few spots of dry land on Foulness Island, England. England counts at least 423 dead in the wake of the great storm and floods which have swept northern Europe.

"MAN'S BEST FRIEND"—Passers-by in Rome, Italy, can hardly ignore the silent plea of Tiny Bob, a pup who helps his peg-legged master by holding a basket for their coins. The dog's owner lost a leg in World War II.

JET-PROPELLED NATIONALISTS—Nationalist Chinese Air Force officers undergoing jet training at Williams Air Force Base, Ariz., examine a map of China and Formosa. From left: Capt. Y. K. Pang, Lt. W. V. Huang and Maj. W. T. Liu.

LADY-BEARD—Blanche Theobald, Metropolitan Opera mezzo-soprano, has a quired beard for her role of Baba the Turk, in Igor Stravinsky's "The Rake's Progress," which is being produced by the Met for the first time.

"KNOCKOUT" LITTER FOR BOXER—"Gai-Lilli of Bethom," pedigreed Boxer which belongs to Frank L. Thomas, of Geneva, N. Y., is proud of her record-breaking litter. Boxers usually have litters of from four to six pups, but Gai-Lilli gave birth to 12, 11 of which survive.

Harassment specialists, these Chinese Nationalist-piloted F-51 Mustang fighters are ready to begin raids on the Communist-held Chinese mainland. They are part of Chiang's 300-plane air force.

GAY DOGS—Joan Marshman, above, acts as manicurist to the gay dogs who show off their poodle cuts at Crut's Dog Show, in London. Asked what condition his nails were in, the sad-eyed dog at the head of the line said,—"Rrruff."

HOT FOOT FOR COLD COUNTRY—The Army's new "Thermo-Dry" boot, above, will be tested in Korea this winter. Inset shows how unicellular synthetic rubber is placed in boot as a lining, instead of the wool fleece and felt used in the present boot. Air, held in spaces between particles of the rubber, prevents body heat from radiating away. The new footwear was developed by the Quartermaster Corps.

Something to Cackle About
"Esmerelda," who helps students at Cranbrook School in Bloomfield Hills, Mich., learn about living creatures by observation, has two good reasons to be proud of her 12th birthday. The White Leghorn hen has reached an age comparable to 100 years of human life, and still produces eggs like a two-year-old, with a 50 per cent laying record for the month preceding her birthday. Student Eihann Golden lights the candles for his feathered teacher.

PECK OF TROUBLE—Papa Swan is hissing "Scram!" as he pecks sharply at Tom Hurley, Cleveland, Ohio, zoo worker. The black swan's ferocious attack was intended to chase Hurley from the vicinity of Mrs. Swan, who was egg-sitting in their nearby nest.

THREE-DIMENSIONAL VALENTINES—The sculpturing class at the Moose Child City, Mooseheart, Ill., came up with a new idea in valentines this year. Above, two seniors give the finishing touches to plaster plaques depicting early American sweethearts. The valentines will be sent to "Sunshine Mothers," Moose auxiliary members who have "adopted" children at Mooseheart.

Wildcats Continue To Set Pace In Panhandle Fields

Gulf Oil Corporation's No. 6 John Haggard gauged 93 barrels of oil on 21-hour commission test during the past week as area operators filed completion reports on 14 wells in the Panhandle. Seven new locations were staked including two wildcats, both in Roberts County.

Red River Gas Company staked a 10,000-foot test in the Lipps Pool, 23 miles northwest of Miami, while Shamrock staked its No. 4 Maddox in the Quinduno Field, 6 1/2 miles southwest of the Roberts County seat.

Total increased potential during the week included 215 barrels of oil and 81,715 MCF gas.

IPAA Lauds Lifting Of Controls On Oil

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 — UP — Russell B. Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, said Saturday that by removing oil price controls, the Eisenhower administration "has taken a courageous step toward restoring our normal economy."

Brown and the IPAA have fought the controls since their inception more than two years ago on grounds they kept the domestic petroleum industry from expanding to meet defense needs and to challenge foreign competition.

"For 25 months and 24 days," he said, "our petroleum economy has been saddled with these arbitrary controls. They were unnecessary and illegal as to oil. They weakened the industry at time when strength was needed."

"Again one of our greatest basic industries is free to seek the economic ceiling and make adjustments in its economy so as to enable it to perform its greatest and most useful service. What we do with this new found freedom is a challenge to our own statesmanship."

Brown said it has been more than five years since a change in the price of crude oil.

Mild Winter Brings Drop In Fuel Demand; Workers Idle

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 14 — UP — The mild winter has reduced the demand for heating oil and at least one Oklahoma refinery, the Champion plant at Enid, has curtailed operations as a result.

The state employment service reports 380 Champion plant workers laid off. The layoffs are expected to last from two to six weeks. No serious unemployment problem is anticipated, the service said, because Enid had a short labor supply and temporary work is available for most of the refinery.

Operations of the Phillips Petroleum Co., Artesville, Okla., went to two geographical extremes this week, with announcement of Alaskan exploration and expansion in Florida.

Alaska Contract

The firm said at least $1 million will be spent for exploration in Alaska, following the signing of a contract with the U. S. government covering nearly one million acres in the Katalla and Yakataga areas.

The contract calls for 12 exploratory tests over a 10-year period in a territory where there has been no oil exploration since December 1941, except for Navy operations.

Paul Endacott, president of Phillips, said the company has established a new sales division with headquarters in Tampa, Fla.

He said construction will begin immediately at a marine terminal at Tampa which will have a storage capacity of approximately 250,000 barrels. Completion date for the terminal is Aug. 1.

Three May Deal

The Interstate Oil Compact Commission in Oklahoma City said Saturday that measures have been introduced in three state legislatures proposing affiliation with the commission.

Commission officials said legislative action is pending in Wyoming, North Dakota and Nebraska. In addition, oil and gas conservation bills have been introduced in Oregon and Montana.

Richard W. French, vice president of Sohio Petroleum Co., has been appointed general manager of crude production activities for both Sohio and the parent organization, Standard Oil Co. (Ohio). His headquarters will be in the southwest.

Three geographical divisions will be set up under French's supervision, including an Oklahoma City office to be headed by F. H. Willbrand.

Oil Museum in Tulsa
Earl Sneed, Tulsa operator, said a group of Tulsa oilmen and bankers will apply for a state charter for the establishment of an oil museum here.

Sneed, who is temporary chairman of an oil museum committee, said an organizational meeting and election of permanent officers will be held as soon as a charter is obtained.

He said a Tulsa oil museum would be the second in the United States. The only one now is the Drake Oil Museum at Titusville.

Pa. site of the nation's first building is still under construction.

The Oil and Gas Journal here reported 107 oil and gas wells completed in Oklahoma last week, pushing the state's 1953 total to 487, just 20 short of the number for the same period in 1952.

Last week's completions in the United States totaled 861, for a national total so far this year of 4,656 completions, compared with 5,032 for the same period last year.

U. S. Coal Industry Wants Petroleum Imports Sliced

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 — UP — The powerful National Coal Association had a lot of oil-state congressmen on the spot Saturday with demands, backed-up by legislation, that residual fuel oil imports from Venezuela and other areas be cut to the bone.

This is a low-grade fuel that fires industrial furnaces, ships, trains, etc. Because it is much cheaper than coal and less subject to the vagaries of strikes, it has taken a big bite out of the coal industry's market. It also is causing concern to domestic oil producers who see their own markets threatened.

Bills introduced by coal-state lawmakers on NCA's behalf would put imports on a quarterly quota basis — 5 per cent of the domestic demand for the corresponding quarter of the previous year. This would reduce imports to a trickle.

How do the oil-state legislators feel about this?

Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson, Tex., was all for it. He has many independent oil producers in his district who long have been fighting what they call "excessive" imports of all petroleum products.

But a number of other oil-state lawmakers who can't be named here, were skittish about committing. So was one of the biggest oil associations in the nation. They took the position the issue involves both domestic producers and the big importing companies and each is entitled to "equal consideration."

With their allegiance thus divided, they didn't know whether they would support or oppose the NCA bills or simply climb on the fence.

One oil industry spokesman said the NCA, "as usual, is using petroleum as a whipping boy as it has in the past because it is losing out in a competitive market." But he didn't know whether the big importers would rush in to challenge the NCA.

If they do, it could be a battle of titans in which most of the oil and coal state legislators might have to go on record.

NCA found a champion in President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers whose periodic strikes and wage demands are credited with causing many consumers to switch from coal to oil or natural gas.

A spokesman for Lewis said the mine chief would "back NCA to the hilt." He revealed Lewis

Van Fleet Would Unlimber New Gun To Blast Commies

HONOLULU, T. H., Feb. 14 — UP — Gen. James A. Van Fleet believes the United States could profitably use its new 280-millimeter howitzer to blast the communists in Korea with atomic shells during the present stalemate, his aide disclosed Saturday.

Van Fleet's idea is to use the atomic artillery—introducing a new and dire phase in world military history—to break up known concentrations of enemy troops, aide Capt. James L. Holton said.

The retiring commander of the U. S. 8th army is in Honolulu, resting before testifying before a Congressional committee in Washington on his ideas of the possibility of a win-the-war offensive in Korea. Offensive Urged Now

Holton, explaining the general's views, said he recommends a UN offensive now with forces that are available.

That means hitting hard at the Reds. Van Fleet does not believe any big Allied drive would carry to the Yalu River, frontier of Red China, Holton said.

In an airplane interview Wednesday, on his way to Tokyo after giving up his Korean command, Van Fleet was asked regarding the present situation on the front:

Suggests Atom Shells
"Would it be militarily feasible to use atomic weapons? Would it save lives in breaking the vast network of enemy tunnel defenses which so far have withstood massed UN-artillery-and-air attacks?"

"The department of the Army has announced the development of atomic weapons for tactical use in the field," Van Fleet answered. "their use unquestionably would save friendly lives in the immediate situation on any battlefield."

Holton said Van Fleet had specifically in mind the use of the new 280-millimeter (11-inch) howitzer which can fire atomic artillery shells, as long as the present frontline deadlock lasts.

The Angean Stable

Many of us Americans, as children, thrilled to the fable of the Angean Stables and the mighty feat of Hercules. The stables, containing 3,000 oxen, hadn't been cleaned in 30 years. Hercules cleaned them in a single day by turning a great river through them.

A majority of us Americans, as adult voters, have elected and called upon Dwight D. Eisenhower to clean out the mess in Washington. So doing, we have given him a task far more formidable than that of Hercules. The "Angean Stable" of Washington hasn't been cleaned in 20 years, and Ike has no magic river with which to do the job. He can only apply determination, sound judgment and able leadership to a job that will require years to come.

Ugly news of these days reveals the scope of his problem. There is, for instance, the charge of Lamar Caudle, ousted assistant attorney general, that the Justice Department interfered in the "mess" of the Kansas City vote fraud case. At that time, Tom Clark was attorney general; today he is a Supreme Court justice.

Whether Caudle's statement on this matter is accurate or otherwise, the incident highlights the hard fact that the new Administration is saddled with a New Deal - Fair Deal legacy of entrenchment in power that is in some respects unshakable.

Supreme Court justices are appointed for life. So are other Federal judges. Virtually all now on the bench were named by either Roosevelt or Truman. Many other officials are in positions untouchable by either the new Chief Executive or the legislative branches of government. Here we have a situation that should teach the American electorate, for all time to come, that it is unwise and unsound to permit any political party to remain in power for too long.

It is the people, in the last analysis, who are responsible for this condition. And it must be the people who have responsibility for giving to President Eisenhower the support and understanding he must have in order to effect the long-term cleanup so sorely needed.

A Piece About Taxes

You can't eat taxes.

You can't wear taxes.

But you must pay more for taxes than you do for food and clothing combined!

In 1951, total federal, state and local taxes, direct and hidden, came to $84,600,000,000. In the same year total food and clothing purchases added up to $81,000,000,000.

We have reached the point where the tax burden is the largest single item of expense to millions of American families. Many of us haven't yet realized this for the reason that a substantial part of all taxes is paid indirectly — that is, they are part of the price we pay for an automobile or a loaf of bread or a pair of shoes or a ticket to a show. But we pay the full bill just the same — whether the money is handed over directly to some tax-collecting agency, or whether it is concealed in the cost of goods and services.

It is generally believed that the danger point to a nation's strength and vigor is reached when taxes account for 25 per cent of the national income. Our taxes have left that figure far behind — about 33 per cent of the national income goes for taxes. And no one should be foolish enough to still believe that we can pay the bill by soaking the rich. If we took 100 per cent of the incomes of the rich it would pay the cost of government for only a few weeks of the year.

You — the average man and woman — pay the tax bill. You will be the gainers if and when the cost of government is cut.

Symbol Of Change

Every phase of human life has been revolutionized in the last century. And nowhere have there been more spectacular changes than in the oldest industry of all — agriculture.

One hundred years ago four out of five people worked at the job of producing raw materials for food, clothing and shelter. Today these basic needs are supplied by just one out of five. And even that doesn't tell the whole story — for we have far better and more varied foods and other products of agricultural origin than in past times.

This is very largely the result of the application of the machine to farm jobs that were once accomplished slowly and laboriously by hand. It is not an exaggeration to say that, on the modern farm, the machine has displaced hand labor. It does the work much more economically and efficiently than is possible with human muscle. And its usefulness is not limited to the production of crops. The machine makes it possible for the farmer to conserve and improve his soil and to fight successfully against such old natural ravages as floods and erosion. The machine gives more food from fewer acres today, and at the same time assures that the soil will be fertile and productive tomorrow.

The plow, the seeder, the baler, the cultivator, the tractor, the combine and all the other machines symbolize the amazing advances agriculture has made in the span of a long lifetime. And they symbolize, as well, farming's present-day status as a business — and a profession.

President's Message On

The State Of The Union

There are some encouraging statements in President Eisenhower's message on the state of the union. He seems to have a clearer understanding of our foreign policy than his predecessor.

I believe he is making a wise move when he says that he will "ask Congress at a later date to join in an appropriate resolution making clear that this government recognizes no kind of commitment contained in secret understandings of the past with foreign governments which permit this kind of enslavement." The phrase "this kind of enslavement" refers to the enslavement of any people in order to purchase fancied gains for ourselves. Certainly, no secret agreement with any government should be binding on the American people.

The President is sound when he says:

"The heart of every free nation must be honestly dedicated to the preserving of its own independence and security."

That should be the first aim of the government of the United States.

He seems to recognize that we cannot indefinitely subsidize the rest of the world. We must increase our present economic strength in order to preserve our own independence and security. He seems to realize the importance of European nations exchanging goods and services. He also realizes that we should exchange with the rest of the world rather than by making them gifts.

He, however, hedged on free trade by talking against importing items that are serious competitors with our own normal peacetime production. It would be rather hard to define what would be a serious competitor. It is a loose phrase that is used by most people who want a protective tariff.

In appraising the position of the President, it is only fair to recognize the truth of his statement when he says:

"It is important that all of us understand that this administration does not and cannot begin its task with a clean slate. Much already has been written on the record beyond our power quickly to erase or to amend."

That is certainly true. We are certainly in a terrible mess, and it is probably true that we will have to get out of this mess like we got in it — by trial and error. We cannot get out of the mess by continuing to disobey moral laws. We must recognize principles if we are to eventually get back to the spiritual resources that the President talks about.

After reading this message, any man who believes in the competitive system would have to conclude that the President doesn't really understand the free enterprise system. If he really understood it, he would not be advocating farm parity and more "social security," nor would he be saying:

"Especially must we remember that the institutions of trade unionism and collective bargaining are monuments to the freedom that must prevail in our industrial life. They have a century of honorable achievement behind them. Our faith in them is proven, firm and final."

President Eisenhower does not seem to realize that labor unions have been a cause of the paucity of causes of unemployment and inflation and keeping real wage levels down. They are the exact opposite from free enterprise. He does not seem to realize that labor unions and government interference with an unhampered market is the only possible excuse for farm parity. Organized labor has so thrown out of balance man's right to freely exchange goods and services that the farmer has been robbed. And yet the President is proposing to correct one error by another error — farm subsidies.

The President seems to think there is some magical way of studying farm price controls without enslaving the farmer — without taking away from him the right to use his initiative. Every farm parity price has to limit certain production, besides taxing A and B and C to keep up farm prices. It would be much better to work for a free market both in the products of organized labor and the products of the farmer. That is the only way we can promote justice and increase production and make ourselves strong.

The President says:

"Government can do a great deal to aid the settlement of labor disputes without allowing itself to be employed as an ally of either side."

But he doesn't tell how. He is sort of a dreamer. He seems to think that if you don't hire the man who will do the most for the money on a competitive market that there is some other way of selecting labor. He wants another study group. He is looking up a blind alley. The only way to settle the labor question is to return to the Golden Rule and not to do the very thing that the President says is honorable — have a group of workers and employers enter into a conspiracy to keep those helpless people under them from having the right to compete so that those above can get a fictitious wage. And yet our President thinks that they have had a century of honorable achievement. Would that some man who believes in collective bargaining would tell how what Eisenhower proposes can be worked out. The President says:

"These processes (labor and management relations) can successfully be directed only by a government, free from taint of any suspicion that it is partial or punitive."

What the word "directed" may

International Whirligig... India's Nehru Portrayed As World's Most Neutral Leader

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's most important and difficult task in revamping his diplomatic service will be the appointment of an ambassador to India, which is the only great power not directly involved in the cold war between Russia and the United States.

In the hope that he can eventually use his influence to produce peace or a stalemate between Moscow and the western world, Prime Minister Nehru pursues a policy of what he calls "non-alignment" — a sort of "plague on both your houses" attitude.

New Delhi has indicated that it would welcome retention of Ambassador Chester A. Bowles, former governor of Connecticut and a Truman appointee. Despite some eyebrows, Bowles has made an excellent impression.

Unlike so many foreign emissaries, he has not bartered himself with the small, A-bomb-capable colony, or holed up with the can it be impartial if it is deciding that organized labor is to get more than the men who want to compete.

At a whole, his foreign policy is much more rational than his domestic policy. It is evident from his speech that he is not a statesman, but a man tainted with the idea that he can serve two masters — a free economy and a government-planned economy. It will not work.

chasing a and cocktail-partying coheres.

He has toured the vast country to familiarize himself with economic conditions. He and his family have made themselves a part of Indian life, even sending their children to local schools. He has tried to interpret our foreign policy, which frequently riles Nehru, sympathetically. With a 400-million population and great potential natural resources, we need India on our side now. An able ambassador is a major requirement at New Delhi.

Dislikes U. S. Policy

Nehru makes no bones about his dislike of our policy in the Orient and Asia. He was the first world statesman to recognize Red China, figuring our support of Chiang Kai-shek as futile. He did not like the way in which Secretary Dulles forced Japan to give us military bases in that country.

He resents our plan to build air fields encircling Russia in Pakistan, with which he is on the verge of war over the disputed Kashmir Province. Eisenhower's new Foreign Policy strategy has been criticized severely in India because, in their opinion, it represents further American interference in Asian affairs. Nehru also thinks we support Franco-British "colonialism" too zealously in Iran, Egypt, North Africa and Indo-China.

Nevertheless, Washington does not expect Eisenhower's new Foreign Policy strategy to drive Nehru into Stalin's camp. The Prime Minister has only recently condemned Communism a violent, compulsory and materialistic manifestation in China, the Balkans and Eastern Europe. Nor did he appreciate the Reds' sudden and brutal conquest of Tibet.

Aren't You Nehru

Save for this aggression, the men in the Kremlin have not pushed Nehru around. They want him to help them, as do we. But they did not help their cause at New Delhi when they ejected and ridiculed India a United Nations resolution for ending the Korean "police action." Every U. N. member, except the Soviet bloc, voted for it.

Last year's elections, the first since independence from Britain and universal suffrage, gave Nehru a scare. Although there are only 39,000,000 — totalling 5 million, winning 27 seats in the Central Parliament. He was shocked at this showing.

Nehru's "non-alignment" policy drives from his belief that global war, even though India might not become a theater of conflict, would mean disaster to his country. He has framed a 5-year plan for agriculture, industry, transportation, natural resources, land redistribution. Even under the most favorable conditions, realization of his program will take 100 years. He cannot afford a war.

India's army is no negligible force. Although equipped only with World War II weapons, his 400,000 men are recognized as sturdy fighters. India contributed 2,000,000 men to the British in the last conflict, and they made ideal reinforcements under blazing African suns. Given money and supplies, India has an almost unlimited military potential, especially ground forces.

U. S. Indifference

Despite India's importance in the cold war, Washington has shown some indifference toward this teeming sub-continent. We advanced 2,000,000 bushels of wheat after a sharp congressional haggling. The World Bank has loaned about $40,000,000. Point Four experts are cooperating in the 5-year development plan. World War weapons are available to India, but only on a cash-and-carry basis. Nehru himself is largely responsible for our hands-off attitude. He will accept no kind of aid, he says, if any ideological strings are attached. He is, perhaps, the most neutral man on earth today.

Fair Enough... Collective Dealings With God Advocated By Dead Union Man

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

I attended, not very long ago, the funeral of a man who had been loud, intolerant advocate of unionism. His spiritual counselor and advocate delivered a eulogy in which he told that our departed brother had expressed a belief in collective bargaining in dealings with God. He had been unable to believe that the tiny supplications of individuals would command the full attention of a busy deity.

LOOKING SIDWAYS

By WHITNEY BOLTON

An old man with a beard longer than it should be dropped in the other afternoon and sprayed the air with an hour's earnest chase of philosophy, a matter in which I have only a slight interest but for which I have abiding respect. After he went away, I thought back about his words and came upon a fascinating idea which issued from his beard: the three longest of mankind's quests for perfection have been the flavoring of food, the finishing of wood, the design of comfortable chairs. If it sounds idiotic to you, I'll toss you a friendly smile. It will do me, too. But he's right.

Food, simple or elaborate, needs artificial flavoring. Few woods are attractive in the raw state. Man-kind was not designed to sit down. Since the dawn of time man has sought a comfortable way to sit down and up to now he hasn't found it. Since he first learned to rub natural oils on raw wood and create a finish he has sought the perfect application for wood. And from the caves of France's prehistoric Dordogne to the kitchen of the finest restaurant to be found today man has made a valiant effort to make food taste better than it does.

This antique and brainy friend has given these three matters considerable pondering. He ups with the fact, for example, that in recent years only has the American public become aware of a flavor assist called monosodium glutamate. It is available under a trade name, which I have no intention of disclosing, but it was also available to Marco Polo, to the nomadic Arabs who would not think of setting forth across their ancient deserts without it and to dawn-age man who scraped it off dripping wet cave walls, dried it and applied it to, for all I know, dinosaur meat to make it more palatable. For literally tens of centuries man has sprinkled this chemical on his food, a substance which is not salt as such but which does more than any salt can do.

Any medical student can tell you that man was not designed to sit down. He was not even designed to get about on all fours like most mammals and when he decided to stand erect he complicated his life beyond description. When, having stood, he decided to sit, he further laid the groundwork for all kinds of ills and malformations not to mention discomfort. For a long string of centuries man has tried to design a comfortable chair in which he could sit for a long time and not get restless. Millions of dollars have been spent achieving this and it hasn't been achieved, and won't be because of man's construction. The nearest approach to long-time comfort is a compromise in which the sitter more reclines than sits and the recliner more sits than reclines. There are two major designs in this category, both eminently comfortable but not exactly creations of beauty. If you'd rather have Queen Anne than solid comfort, neither of these is for you. If you prefer Louis Quinze to settled repose, neither is for you, either.

In the realm of wood-finishing man has used everything but blood in an attempt to make raw wood a thing of lustre and charm. He has used oils, waxes, tints, pigments, varnishes, shellacs, stain and even plastics to give a wood a patina of grace and beauty. The perfect finish has never been found, but all of the factories combined, working night and day, cannot improve upon the ball of the thumb and the ball of wax method used by such eminents as Chippendale and his cohorts. They worked night and day to press into wood a beeswax finish that was lasting, satiny and enhanced the color and grain of wood. I have seen old-time cabinet makers use conestarch and varnish to get an effect and I have seen them heat wood with chains and then rub it with hot irons to make it look old when it wasn't. I knew a man who faked antiques by making the cabinets first, then taking them apart and burying them in a barnyard for one year. The result was a cabinet that looked 200 years old and dated at least two museums of which I am aware and in which I am amused when I note the counterfeit-looking prominent display as authentic.

million — the preacher did not mention figure — but did refer to great masses of petition, contrition and thanks — to God. I could deal with our prayers efficiently and without undue confusion and strain. It was selfish and unreasonable of the individual to insist on individual negotiations.

It seemed to me that this version of a matter that must concern many troubled souls implied that we all ought to join some religious CIO and conduct our traffic with the throne through a duly authorized bargaining agent.

On reflection I was more deeply disturbed than I had been at first hearing. It is bad enough that we must go to lawyers for guidance and engage them to appear in their professional capacity before the seats of secular justice. Many of us are compelled to go to attorneys for advice in problems of civil conduct, even when our moral intentions are absolutely pure. We consult and pay professional Medicine — men in the field of internal revenue to study the mass of precedents and the current whims of the field agents and clerks. We consult and pay attorneys for advice in problems of civil conduct, even when our moral intentions are absolutely pure.

This is bad enough. It certainly is bad enough that an honest man may be disgraced, humiliated, deprived of his lawful property, the fruit of his toil, by the judgment of a secular and perhaps hateful bureaucracy for an honest man who has done no wrong. I have been through that phase of Hellfireism, but how much worse it is that in the court of last resort we must entrust our fate to agents claiming to possess official credentials who are clearly competitors and at odds with one another on-point which permit of no disagreement.

I am not as old as the United States, although, to my surprise, I note that I am almost one-third as old as my country itself. But I feel confidence in saying that there is more display of religion and more talk about religious freedom today than there has ever been before and less tolerance of the simple earnest faith of the uneducated and the simple scholar in religious held me up to contempt in a plain matter of right or wrong on the ground that I was an ignoramus in a subject which he called moral theology. Ignoramus I was and remain, although the esoterics which put us ignorant under pain of hell's fire and then warn us that confessions are unreliable and may lead us into fatal error.

I am reminded of professional organizers of the CIO who angrily abuse the doubters for clinging to their independence, but, having secured or discovered their independence, make them into a conditions far from any relation to their understanding of unionism. An ill-paid New York seamstress who joins Dubinsky's union serves patient consideration if the poor girl says the last can't understand what he's saying. Her union has to promise Rudolph Halley for mayor or to furnish blow-by-blow reports on the docks of Marseilles, France.

Many persons who may seem to put themselves beyond the pale of the pleasant consideration and comfort which members of organized religious enjoy, are not irreligious or unreligious at all. I have known a few who certainly have been as noble in their conduct as the average concept of the religious churchgoer and his pastor. They pray in their own sincere terms, they are charitable in their judgments of others and patient under the obloquy which by intimidation our press and our politicians constantly heap upon them, simply because they have not found a bargaining agent whose constitution and by-laws seem to them to be derived straight from God Almighty.

These individual prayers are profoundly religious and their lives are as Christian as those of a number of self-righteous religionists who are forgotten and underprivileged men and women of nation which has become obsessed with "freedom of religion" as a mere political phrase as often perverted and abused as it is persuasive and benign.

PAMPA'S NEWEST TV STORE — Local citizens were looking over Pampa's newest television store Saturday, its opening day. Proprietors of C & M Television, 304 W. Foster, Evert Carmon and Lozen McKenzie came to Pampa from Minco, Okla., where they had been in the same business. They are "friendly and cooperative people" in Pampa.

New Local Television Dealers Think Pampa 'Most Promising'

Pampa "looked like the most promising town." That's what the co-owners of Pampa's newest television store said Saturday — their opening day. Proprietors of C & M Television, 304 W. Foster, are Evert Carmon and Lozen McKenzie, both of them from Minco, Okla. Explaining that they checked Lubbock, Plainview and Amarillo in addition to Pampa, they were enthusiastic when they found Pampa "so friendly and cooperative." And they plan to stay, too. For they have taken out a five-year lease on the building where their store is situated. Mr. and Mrs. Carmon expect to

Magic Show Visits Pampa Friday Night

Five nights from tonight and Pampa becomes the stop for a magic show that is now on a transcontinental tour. Lee Grabel's Magic Show has been booked into Pampa's junior high school auditorium, beginning at 7:30 p. m. Friday. It will be the lone local performance. Sponsored by the Pampa Kiwanis Club, "this first-class professional show is packed with a little bit of everything," according to Clinton Evans, local Kiwanis president. The show has played the Pacific Coast and one of its acts—involving a revolving pinwheel—has appeared on the nation's television screens, Evans said. Its current tour follows a Broadway run that brought Grabel "the plaudits of critics." Several years ago, Evans continued, the show's agent booked another magic show—"The Great Virgil"—into Pampa and it was much the same as this one. Labeled a "fabulous illusionist" by Art Baker of "You Asked For It" radio fame, Grabel will be assisted by Helene, an actress who has accompanied him on most of the tour. Though considered basically a variety show, Grabel's publicity releases insist casually that he "is seldom referred to as a magician—unless it is as the world's greatest living magician." "In his heyday," the publicity continues, "The Great Houdini could not match the Grabel show today."

1953 Will See 8-Cylinder Engines Far Outselling Sixes

DETROIT, Feb. 15 (UP)—This year will usher in a new era for automobile engines. For the first time in history the eight-cylinder engine will outsell the six, while four-cylinder engines, which once led the field, will account for a paltry one percent of the market. The switch of Dodge and Buick to the V-8 spelled the end of six-cylinder dominance. Now 16 makes offering V-8's: Ford, DeSoto, Dodge, Chrysler, Studebaker, Lincoln, Mercury, Oldsmobile, Cadillac and Buick. Some of these also offer six-cylinders but public demand is for the eight. Ford V-8 Four To One For example, the Ford V-8 out-sells its sister six by four to one. Chrysler, Dodge, DeSoto and Pontiac reportedly are concentrating on eights. And Buick, which still has a straight eight in its 1953 spe-

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Use Deception As Bridge Aid Written for NEA Service I'm often surprised to see excellent players taken in by rather elementary deceptive measures. One of the reasons such players are taken in is that few bridge players are willing to give their opponents credit for being thoughtful. In today's hand, played in last year's European Championship, West opened the deuce of diamonds, and South was obliged to win the first trick with the ace. Declarer led the jack of clubs to dummy's king and returned the queen of hearts from dummy. East covered with the king of hearts and South took the ace and jack of hearts. South next led the eight of hearts from his hand, hoping to sneak the trick by. This was the elementary deceptive device that I mentioned at the beginning of this article. West should have covered with ten of hearts, not caring who had the nine of hearts. The reasoning goes like this: If East has the nine of hearts, it costs nothing to cover with the ten, since the seven of hearts will then be good. If South has the nine of hearts, he must be trying to sneak a trick through with his eight of hearts.

More Than 1,000 Are Known Dead In Iran Earthquake

TERRAN, Iran, Feb. 14 (UP)—Foreign Minister Hossein Fatemi announced Saturday that more than 1,000 persons are known dead in an earthquake which leveled villages and ripped gigantic fissures in the earth in northeastern Iran. Dispatches said that many persons remained buried in the ruins of their homes. The American and Swiss Red Cross organizations cabled offers of aid and U.S. Ambassador Loy Henderson sent a note to the foreign office expressing his country's deepest sympathy. The government declared next Tuesday a day of national mourning for the disaster victims. All government offices will be closed. The quake lasted only three minutes but did frightful damage. It tore deep fissures more than one mile long and 30 feet wide in the earth. About 950 of the dead were counted in a single village, Toroud, where another 209 persons were injured, 29 of them seriously.

"I always say you get out of life exactly what you put into it—less taxes, of course!"

U. S. Propaganda Machine World's Most Impossible Job

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The most impossible job in the world is to make a Russian Communist change his mind. This simple fact of life is what underlies much of the criticism of the U.S. international information program—otherwise known as the Voice of America and its related propaganda services. President Eisenhower, in his State-of-the-Union message to Congress, expressed the need for more effective action in this field. Ever before the message was delivered, the President had named a new commission under William H. Jackson, to recommend something different in psychological warfare. During the political campaign, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles got himself pretty well misunderstood by advocating a more aggressive overseas information program. On top of this a Senate committee headed by J. William Fulbright of Arkansas files a report saying that International Information Administration should be drastically reorganized. It is amateurish and overbearing, say the senators. Secretary Dulles implies that it isn't belligerent enough. Everybody thus jumps on the program without anyone saying specifically how it should be different or better. What all the criticism seems to prove is that the job—which is to make the Russians change their minds and their policies—is impossible to begin with. Russia Fears "Voice" The people who work at it, though, keep on trying and seem to enjoy their work. Dr. Wilson Compton, former Washington State College president who heads IIA, recently came back from a trip around the world to inspect his far-flung, multi-million-dollar enterprise. Dr. Compton has also filed a report with Congress showing what IIA has done. Since 1948, U.S. Information Service has spent $242 million on operations and $66 million for construction. Today USIS has 194 missions in 85 foreign countries. It employs 3000 in the U.S. and 6000 overseas, of whom 5000 are foreigners, mostly natives of the lands the U.S. tries to reach with its propaganda. The Russians are supposed to be spending the equivalent of $1.15 billion a year on foreign propaganda, as compared to less than $100 million for the U.S. They run 1000 jamming operations to prevent the Voice of America from penetrating the Iron Curtain. This last fact may give some indication that the Russians have some respect for U.S. propaganda, even if Americans don't. But there are other evidences of this. Charles P. Arnot, former United Press war correspondent in the Pacific and Europe, who now heads the press and publications branch of the IIA program, also recently returned from an inspection trip around the world. He brought back several stories of what the Communists think of American overseas information work. Wrecked USIS Offices In Damascus, Communies put 40 pounds of TNT in the stairwell of the USIS building, wrecking it and killing a radio operator. In Bagdad the USIS plant was sacked and burned. Offices in Tripoli and Lebanon have been stoned several times. In Montevideo, Uruguay, there was a Communist-led riot when 10 boys were hired to distribute 4000 copies of two anti-Soviet leaflets. ### CROSSING THE BAR

Sunset and evening star, And one less light for me! And may there be no mourning of the bereaved. When I out out to sea, But such a tide as moving seems asleep, Too full of sound and foam, When that which drew from out the boundless deep Time takes me out of time, And after that the dark, And may there be no sadness of farewell When I embark; For though from out our bourne of Time and Place We flood back into life, I hope to see my Pilot face to face When I have crossed the bar.

Mrs. Velma Burnett

We want to especially acknowledge the kindness of the Eastern Star Chapter No. 65 and to Rev. S. McMillan of Assembly of God Church for his comforting message and to those who furnished music. Also to the pallbearers and Dr. W. C. Carmichael for their beautiful last rites. May God bless you all. M. ### Army Looking For Travelling Teachers

Austin, Feb. 14 (UP)—Texans over 25 can be a teacher and see the world, they were told Saturday. Dr. Hob Gray, director of the University of Texas Teacher Placement Service, said the Army is looking for teachers to join its dependent's schools program in Europe and the Pacific. Successful applicants can name the hemisphere in which they would like to work, but actual selection of the location rests with the Army, Gray said. Applicants for 500 job-openings in Germany, France, Austria, Trieste, Japan and Okinawa will be interviewed March 2-4 at the University. Persons selected will receive $4,205 a year, free living quarters and transportation to and from the assignment, Gray said.

 4 miles east
 Just down the Miami highway. I have a 147 acre well improved farm that I would sell or trade. Has a good 3 bedroom modern home, 1 - 50 acre of good wheat land, annual production of about 30 acres, windmill, barns, etc. This would make someone a dandy country home on the pavement, and it would pay its own way.
 In Lefors
 I have a very good grocery store, without the groceries. Mr. Griffith owns this set-up, but isn't operating it. I consider all the grocery fixtures, the building with 3 1/2 years to go on the lease at 48.00 per month, and this includes a good 2 bedroom living quarters. Mr. Griffith tells me that when he operates it you need a good business of this type where you can make money, with a place to live, see me in Lefors in 1953.

Judge Rules Papers Have Access To All Commission Reports

AUSTIN, Feb. 14 —UP— news papers and individuals have access to all proceedings of a county commissioners' court, but county officials can't pay to have the minutes of their meetings published, Attorney General John Ben Shepperd ruled Friday.

The ruling was in reply to a query from County Attorney Harold Vittorio of Fallsburg in which he asked if the commissioners court of Brooks county was authorized to have published in the Fallsburg Facts, "a newspaper of general circulation . . . the complete minutes of all special and

Poor Man's Dream . . . Husband's Promise Fulfilled

CHICAGO, Feb. 14 —UP— Mrs. Irma Klepitch was to celebrate her 25th wedding anniversary and Valentine's Day in a plush Chicago night club Saturday, just as her poor but loving husband promised 25 years ago.

But she was alone in her memory of the St. Valentine's Day a quarter of a century ago when Frederick Klepitch married her with 50 cents in his pocket and promised her "the best dinner they've got" in the Palmer House on their silver anniversary.

Klepitch died in 1942, leaving Mrs. Klepitch with three daughters to rear.

This year Mrs. Klepitch told her daughters of her father's wedding day promise 25 years ago.

"Don't worry," Klepitch told her. "On our 25th anniversary I'll take you to the Palmer House and buy you the best dinner they've got. And you'll have yellow roses," Wants Taken

One of the daughters, Katherine, wanted her mother to have a small token to fulfill the lifelong dream. She wrote Vernon Herndon, general manager of the Palmer House hotel.

"I don't know just what to say in this letter, or how to say it. When my parents were first married they lived in Chicago. It was in the early days of the depression, and like everyone else, they were very poor.

"Poor people have a way of making up dreams. My parents' dreams settled on your famous restaurant and hotel. They always said that on their 25th wedding anniversary they would have dinner in the Palmer House.

Made Me Promise

"When my father died, he made me promise that I would see that my mother got to the Palmer House on their anniversary. This is quite impossible for me to keep, but I thought that perhaps you would be kind enough to send me a menu from the restaurant.

"The anniversary is on St. Valentine's day. Please don't laugh at my request."

The letter reached the Palmer House from Eveleth, Minn., where the Klepitches now live, and Herndon sent back an invitation to Mrs. Klepitch and Katherine to spend Valentine's Day at the hotel and eat the anniversary dinner in the Hotel's Empire Room.

A special table, with yellow roses, was waiting for her in the Empire Room.

Two Men Killed In Small-Plane Crash

MISSION, Tex., Feb. 14 —UP— Two men were killed in the crash of a small private plane a half mile east of Moore Field near Mission Saturday.

They were identified as Thomas G. Hurst, 43, of Mission, and Joe Cano, 27, of Pharr, Tex. The plane crashed shortly after taking off from Moore Field near midnight Friday night.

Hidalgo County Chief Deputy Sheriff Tom Wingert said the two-plane plane exploded and burst into flames when it hit the ground. Cano's body was badly burned. It was identified from shoes he wore.

Wingert said the plane belonged to Harvey W. Anderson, of Mission. He said Hurst was reported to have been giving instructions in

Sen. Bridges Calls Off Visit

The chairman of the U. S. Senate Appropriations Committee will be too busy to fill a tentative engagement for a speaking visit with the Top o' Texas Knife and Fork Club this month.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.), scheduled to appear some time this month in Pampa, will not be able to make it, according to J. Kirk Duncan, "cal club secretary-treasurer."

It is possible, however, that he may be able to keep his speaking
