Sabrejets Rip MIG Formation And Down 7

SEOUL, Korea, Jan. 21—UP—American Sabrejets ripped apart formations of Communist MIG-15s Wednesday, blasting seven Red jets out of the North Korean skies and damaging three others.

The Air Force confirmed the claims and said that the day's bag gave two of America's hottest jet pilots new high MIG totals.

Col. Royal N. Baker, McKinney, Tex., America's second ranking jet ace, knocked out two of the Russian-built jets in the Mig Alley battles along the Yalu River.

He now has a total of nine Red jets downed in his Korean war tour of duty.

Maj. Robinson Risner, Oklahoma City also was credited with a "kill" Wednesday to bring his total to eight jets downed.

Another kill was credited to Col. John W. Mitchell, Enid, Miss., commander of the 51st Air Wing, Maj. Vermont Garrison, Tulsa, Okla., and 2nd Lt. Frank H. Ar-buckle of Houston each was credited with one MIG destroyed in Wednesday's battle along the Manchurian border.

The bag of jets brings the total of enemy MIGs destroyed this month to 22. Four others are listed as probably destroyed and 21 as damaged.

On the ground, United Nations tanks spread along the base of the "Iron Triangle" to blast Communist positions on the central front in their six-day-long "bunker busting" campaign.

Allied artillery and infantry shattered three Red attacks to the east, while the Air Force threw tons of bombs, rockets and napalm on Red targets in North Korea, wrecking one train and sealing off a key supply route.

MOD Drive Hits $8,000

The 1953 March of Dimes edged closer to the five-figure bracket today as a grand total of $8,279.22 was reported by Mack H. Hiatt, drive treasurer.

Included in the grand total were two amounts turned over to Hiatt this morning — $431.50 from the Saturday and Sunday trap shoot sponsored by the Pampa Skeet Club and $7,847.72 from the semi-finals inter-club basketball tournament in the High School Field House last night when Kiwanis defeated the Jaycees and the Masked Harlem Globe Walkers defeated the Lefors Lions Club.

Tonight Kiwanis plays the mysterious outfit, garbed in full black hoods for the city championship.

Pampa Mercury Still Summerish

Pampa's summertime temperatures — in January — are keeping up their illogical pace.

Local mercury reached a high reading of 60 degrees Tuesday afternoon, but dipped down to 37 early this morning. But by 11 a.m. it had jumped back up to 53 degrees.

DRAMATIC SCENE — Dramatic scene on the inaugural stand immediately after Dwight D. Eisenhower took his oath as President of the United States. Eisenhower kisses his wife, right, as Mrs. Harry S. ### Tiny Brodie Twin Loses His Battle For Life After 800 Hours In Coma

By TIMOTHY CANTY

CHICAGO, Jan. 21—Roger Lee Brodie, whose fate was sealed on an operating table 35 days ago when he was separated from his stronger Siamese twin, died Tuesday night after more than 800 hours in a deep coma.

Twin Rodney Dee rested easily in a nearby crib while doctors and nurses made an eleventh-hour attempt to save his brother.

Roger Lee's tiny body was sponged repeatedly in an attempt to bring down his rising body temperature. His throat was swabbed free of choking mucus as his respiration faltered.

At about 9 p.m. CST the 16-month-old child's heart stopped beating.

Physicians Amazed
"Attending physicians were amazed that Roger Lee had remained alive for this relatively long period of time," a terse hospital announcement said.

Doctors had warned repeatedly that Roger's chances for life were "remote" and "unlikely." In the separation Dec. 17 a vital cranial blood vessel that the boys shared was given to Rodney Dee in a "survival of the fittest" operating table decision.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brodie were coming to Chicago from their home in Ferris, Ill., Wednesday. Their country line telephone was out of order when their son died, and they had to be brought to the telephone office in the little Illinois town to hear the tragic news.

After the father, a farmer and part-time meat cutter, heard the news he told telephone operator Emma Tilton:

"I guess the good Lord knew best. We'll have to take it."

Operation a Gamble
The Brodies knew the separation of their Siamese twins was a gamble but they consented to the operation with the hope it would bring "a normal life" to their children. Happily, the chances are excellent that Rodney Dee will live such a life.

A spokesman at the University of Illinois Educational and Research Hospital said the parents "showed normal parents' grief—they'd hoped up to the last despite everything."

The twins had been joined at the top of their heads and were almost normal both physically and mentally.

more than the budget board's proposed $182 million budget.

These included a requested $100 million a year increase in State Highway Department appropriations, $55 million a year for two years to provide a $600 annual boost in school teachers' salary, and $6,725,000 for construction of proposed tuberculosis hospitals at Harlingen, San Antonio and Tyler.

The total of those "critical" items, unmentioned by the Legislative Budget Board, totaled $306,325,000.

The Shivers' budget included only the tuberculosis hospitals among the neglected items.

Bills continued to pour into the hopper in the House Tuesday, despite the recess to participate in the inauguration festivities for Gov. Allan Shivers and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey.

Among them were proposals to outlaw a state income tax by constitutional amendment and bills which would abolish capital punishment in Texas and require a 30 to 60-day "cooling off" period, depending on whether or not children were involved, before a divorce could be granted in the state.

They were introduced, respectively, by Reps. Marshall Bell of San Antonio, Doug Crouch of Denton and William A. Miller Jr. of Houston.

At his first, on March 8, 1953, Franklin D. Roosevelt changed the rules back to make the free-swinging.

Finances Biggest Worry For Returning Texas Legislators

AUSTIN, Jan. 21—UP—State lawmakers returned to work today after a Texas inauguration day recess only to face a vivid reminder of their legislative responsibilities.

On their desks lay a sharply-trimmed spending program proposed by the Legislative Budget Board, a research and financial panel created by the 1949 Legislature.

The board's proposed budget, like that submitted last week by Gov. Allan Shivers, not only kept within the state's anticipated revenues of $176 million over the 1954-55 biennium, but went even further to hold out the hope of a $19 million surplus when this legislature goes home.

The puzzle, however, was omission of a number of items already tagged "critical," which totaled

Mayor Huff Sets Aside Week For Open House In City Hall

Mayor C. A. Huff today officially proclaimed the week of Feb. 8 as Open House at City Hall Week as requested by the Committee on American Citizenship of the State Bar of Texas.

The commission yesterday unanimously approved holding the open house and promoting citizenship interest in getting acquainted with the work and ways and means of running a city government.

The movement is statewide, according to a letter to the mayor from the State Bar and the open house days or weeks could fall anytime in February. He chose Feb. 8 to 14.

Until this morning the county commissioners had not been officially informed since the letter was sent out after its last meeting.

District Court Of Honor To Open Boy Scout Week

Santa Fe District of Boy Scouts will hold court of honor in the Woodrow Wilson School auditorium Feb. 9 at the beginning of Boy Scout Week.

This announcement was made at the district's monthly round table Tuesday evening in the Pampa City Hall with E. Roy Smith, district commissioner, presiding.

Approximately 35 Scout leaders from Pampa, Pan Tex, Miami, Lefors and White Deer attended the round table and discussed plans for the observance of Boy Scout Week Feb. 9-17.

Don Cain, district vice-chairman, announced the second presentation of the district chairman award would be made at the court of honor.

Irish Revive St. Pat Day

SHAMROCK — The local citizenry met en masse Tuesday and decided to "call-on" the annual St. Patrick's Day celebration. The celebration had been called off by the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce because business and professional men who have had to hold important celebration committee assignments said they could not afford to take off from work and business to handle the duties.

Harry Fry has been appointed chairman of the celebration committee. He appointed his committee yesterday afternoon. High top green hats went on sale yesterday. The committee decided that men must start their Donagel beards by February 1.

"This is the place for a flag," said Connors, "from miles off the GIs can see it and know who holds the Castle."

His first one was a painted towel. He stuffed it in his shirt, crawled out of a tunnel in daylight and inched to the top of the Castle.

"I must have caught the commies by surprise," he said. "Nothing happened when I tied the flag to the pole."

His buddies, peering through trench slits, fired back.

"The commies shot it down twice and I went back up to fix it," he said. "Then one of the boys went to Japan and bought a real flag. I crawled up again to put it up."

For some reason the Communists let it alone.

Inside the Castle, Charlie Company lives in a world of half-darkness and head-bumping ceilings.

Some tunnels are only three feet high and the Americans crawl through them like gophers to reach firing slits.

They are so close they can hear enemy bullet sessions which interpreters translate for them.

"Last night they were talking about Korean whisky," said M. Sgt. Bill Crowder, 21, South Boston, Va. "One of them was asking when they were going to get more liquor. They were griping about the chow, just like we do, and moaning over a shortage of ammunition."

Pvt. Dale Matheson, 22, Idaho Falls, Ida., mans a machine gun at the end of one of the tunnels.

Ike Announces Plans To Keep News Sessions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—UP—President Eisenhower will continue the system of holding weekly news conferences, and possibly televising one a month if mechanical problems can be worked out, it was announced today.

Last Thursday at his 324th and final news conference as President, Mr. Truman put in a plug for the open and free news conference.

"I think it is important for our democratic system of government that every medium of communication between the citizens and their government, particularly the President, be kept open as far as possible," Mr. Truman said in a statement.

Hugh Ballie, president of the United Press, talked with Mr. Eisenhower in New York Jan. 6 about press coverage in the new administration. After their conference, Ballie said, "I think I can say that when he gets to Washington there will be press conferences."

Asked whether they will be "regular" and open to all questions, Ballie said, "I can't answer that. I'm not the general's spokesman."

President Harding instituted the open question and answer news conference, but early in his administration he gave a wrong answer to a hot foreign policy question.

Thereafter, Harding news conferences consisted of answers prepared in advance to questions submitted in writing.

Hoover Almost Eliminated Them
Calvin Coolidge pursued the same policy throughout his tenure in the White House. Herbert Hoover or plain Joe was asked questions weekly, with questions submitted in advance. Before his administration, however, Mr. Hoover virtually abandoned the news conference.

At his first, on March 8, 1953, Franklin D. Roosevelt changed the rules back to make the free-swinging.

City Tax Collector Is Rotary Speaker

The Pampa Rotary Club today was the first of the four civic clubs to hear the processes used in arriving at city tax bills for property owners.

The illustrated talk was jointly made by City Tax Assessor-Collector Aubrey Jones and City Manager B. H. Cruce.

Jones has prepared several large charts and illustrations for the series, it was reported by city officials.

Democrats Filling Government Posts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—UP—President Eisenhower's new Republican administration was stalled for lack of a Cabinet Wednesday, and called time out in the Senate fight over confirmation of its defense chief.

As a result Mr. Eisenhower began his first day in the White House with holdover Democrats running all of the government's departments.

Senate Republican leaders assured him that eight of his Cabinet appointees would be confirmed and ready to take over their jobs by nightfall. Mr. Eisenhower's hope of having them confirmed Tuesday was blocked by an objection from Oregon's independent Sen. Wayne Morse.

But GOP leaders backed away from an early showdown on the ninth Eisenhower Cabinet choice, Charles E. Wilson, to be secretary of defense.

Sumors circulated that Mr. Eisenhower may withdraw the Wilson appointment, or that the former General Motors president may agree to sell the $2.5 million in GM stock which many senators of both parties regard as a fatal defect in his qualifications to head the Defense Department. GM is the department's biggest contractor.

Wilson and Mr. Eisenhower held an animated discussion lasting seven or eight minutes Tuesday night in the President's box at the inaugural ball. As Wilson left, reporters asked: "Is there any change in your nomination status? Are you still planning to be secretary of defense?"

"You boys know that I am not in any position to talk about that," Wilson replied.

Senate Hearing Postponed
The Senate Armed Services committee which had planned to question Wilson in secret session Wednesday, suddenly postponed the hearing until Friday. A high Republican source said the delay was arranged to give the new administration time to find a way out of its first political dilemma.

Confirmation of the other eight Cabinet nominees had to go over until Wednesday because Morse, a maverick by nature and an ex-Republican by choice, invoked a technicality in the Senate rules which allowed a single senator to force a 24-hour delay.

The Cabinet officers involved were: John Foster Dulles, state department; George H. Humphrey, treasury; Herbert Brownell Jr., justice; Arthur E. Summerfield, postoffice; Douglas McKay, interior; Ezra Benson, agriculture; Martin F. Durkin, labor, and Sinclair Weeks, commerce.

Construction Work On School, Stands Moving Slowly

Construction work on both Lamar School and Harvester Park's new football stands is coming along slowly but surely — with the vast majority of the work still to be done.

Most of the work on Lamar has been concrete-pouring and a foundation form setting, with the foundation of one of the school's four units — the gymnasium-auditorium — now complete, according to Glenn Nichols, supervisor.

Fabrication of steel for the new stands is in the process of completion, while the last of the old stands is being cleared away. Nichols continued, quoting E.W. Hogan, job superintendent.

Brick-laying on the gymnasium-auditorium unit is scheduled to get underway about Jan. 28, Nichols went on, and concrete-laying for the second of Lamar's units will get going Thursday.

Deadlines for completion of school and stands are Aug. 1 and June 1.

Post Office Dept. Seeking Rate Increase

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—UP—The Post Office Department has applied for increases in parcel post rates estimated to bring in an additional $150 million a year, it announced Wednesday.

The Interstate Commerce Commission announced the application for increases averaging almost 25 per cent.

Mutinous Convicts Spurn Ultimatum

BELLEFONT, Pa., Jan. 21—UP—A pistol-shooting band of mutinous convicts at Rockview penitentiary risked serving additional "time" Wednesday by spurning Gov. John S. Fine's ultimatum to end their riot.

The prisoners, who have been holding six guards as hostages since the riot began Monday night, were expected to reply to the governor's blunt statement during the day.

Fine Tuesday told the rioters, ultimatum with two random pistol shots.

A ringleader in the riot told Deputy Attorney General Edward Friedman "nothing doing" when he went to the main cell block at 7 p.m.

"The governor's message was just what we are protesting," a spokesman said. "We want the situation cleared up, but the governor" (See CONVICTS, Page 3)

Rites Pending For Pioneer Jurist, Judge J. A. Mead

JUDGE J. A. MEAD, pioneer dies

Funeral services for Judge J.A. Mead, early-day settler of the Panhandle and long-time judge of Roberts County, are pending with Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home in Pampa.

Judge Mead died at his home, 417 S. Gillespie, at 11:20 p.m. Tuesday after a long illness. He had made his home in Pampa for the past 18 months.

Born Nov. 5, 1868, in La Pierre County, Mich., Judge Mead moved to McPherson, Kan., as a young man. He came at the age of 18 to Ochiltree County in 1884 and worked for the Bar CC Ranch. He settled as the first sheriff of Ochiltree County.

Later he filed on land in Roberts County to which he moved. He became the first county clerk in Roberts County and served several terms as commissioner before his election as county judge. He served in this capacity for eight terms.

Judge Mead had been a member of the Pampa Rotary Club.

ENTRANCE TO WHAT? — Work on the new football stands on the west side of Harvester Park is coming along — but, so far, in a negative direction. Pictured here is the only portion of stands still standing, the rest of them (foreground) having been pretty much cleared away. The sign serves only to indicate that the new stands will be on this site, come September. (News Photo)

Tips For Tasks At Home And At Ease

If you want to serve fresh, hot apple pie, the same day you are entertaining guests, make the complete pie the night before, then wrap it in wax paper and keep it in the refrigerator until it's ready to bake. This improves the texture of the crust as well as keeping the pie fresh. Another suggestion concerning apple pie is an added taste treat is to mix 1/2 teaspoon of vanilla, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon and one tablespoon of milk and sprinkle it over the apples before putting on the top crust.

Pampa Federated Women's Clubs Elect Officers For 1953-54 Term

Two of Pampa's federated women's clubs elected new officers yesterday for the 1953-54 term. These executive committees will be installed early in May. Mrs. James Leverich was elected president of Twentieth Century Allegro and Mrs. J. W. Graham was selected vice-president. Mrs. Rex Rose is to be the 1953-54 president of Parent Education Club and Mrs. Tom Braly will assist her as vice-president.

Members of the Twentieth Century Allegro met in the home of Mrs. Raymond Reid, 1616 Williston, for the election of officers Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Bill Waters was co-hostess.

Cameron Marsh spoke on communism. He gave the life of Karl Marx, born in 1818. Marx was originally Jewish then Christian. He did newspaper work in France. His work was considered very radical. Then he worked on newspapers in Belgium and London. Engels, a friend of Marx, helped Marx write the communist manifesto. The manifesto had five points, with the main point that there should be a temporary dictatorship of the enlightened few. Stalin's life was compared to Hitler. Mr. Marsh pointed out that there had been nearly half a century of "temporary" dictatorship.

After the lecture, the following officers were elected for the 1953-54 term: Mrs. M. A. C. M. Wyatt, elected secretary; Mrs. Bill Waters, treasurer; Mrs. Jimmy Thompson, reporter; Mrs. John Frisby, parliamentarian; Mrs. Clifford Braly, critic; Mrs. Price Dozier Jr., corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Ray Duncan, Council of Clubs representative.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Charles Hickman, Ray Duncan, Price Dozier Jr., John Frisby, Bill Davis, Jerry Thomas, Malcolm Wyatt, Clifford Braly, James Leverich, Jimmy Thompson, Harold Rinehart, Robert K. R. J. W. Graham, Creel Grady, George Cree Jr., Don Cain and R. L. Edmondson.

Members of Parent Education Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Clifton Kelly. Mrs. Gene Fatheree had charge of the program.

During the business meeting the following officers were elected: Mrs. Myron Marx Jr., secretary; Mrs. Tom Rose, reporter; Mrs. George Snel, treasurer; and Mrs. Robert Curry, parliamentarian.

"I learned to make Chili from our old Mexican cook, who really cooked by rote on an eleven-burner charcoal stove," says Mrs. Vernon Knapp of Roswell, New Mexico, who is also expert in gardening and fine bead work. One of the unusual ingredients in her real Chili is chocolate, which seems to bring out the spice flavors, according to Eleanor H. Nodden, who passed on Mrs. Knapp's recipe to you in McCall's for February.

MRS. KNAPP'S MEXICAN HAMBURGERS WITH CHILI CHILI:
4 to 5 medium onions
2 garlic cloves
2 tablespoons shortening
3 to 6 tablespoons chili powder
1 tablespoon flour
2 teaspoons cumin
2 teaspoons coriander
2 teaspoons marjoram or oregano
2 No. 2 cans tomatoes
2 cups water
4 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon salt
2 sq. (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate

MEXICAN HAMBURGERS:
1 lb. hamburger ground round
1 egg
2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup crushed corn flakes or corn soya
2 tablespoons shortening or salad oil

TO MAKE THE CHILI: Chop onions and garlic very fine and fry in melted shortening (use a large, deep skillet) until golden-brown and limp. Mix chili powder (better start out with 3 tablespoons, then add more later on if you're a real chili lover), flour and all the spices together and stir into onion mixture. Cook about 2 to 3 minutes, then pour

Mrs. Clifton Kelly Hostess To Club
WHITE DEER (Special) — Members of the Busy Bee Home Demonstration Club attended the first meeting of the year in the home of Mrs. Clifton Kelly, recently.

Mrs. Bert Haiduk presided at the short business meeting. After an interesting roll call, the new business was discussed. These items included the types of books to be placed in the White Deer Branch Library and their distribution. A book review, to be sponsored jointly with the Library, was planned for the spring, with the date to be announced later.

The Club yearbooks were filled out and committees appointed for the coming year. At the next meeting, which will be held in the home of Mrs. Dale Burch, members are asked to pay their yearly club dues.

Present were Mrs. Rudolph Willis, Nick Nicholson, Tommy Townsend, Burch, Haiduk, L. A. Puckett, Richard Barnes and the hostess, Mrs. Kelly.

in tomatoes and water. Cook to the simmering-hot stage and season with sugar, salt and chocolate. (Chocolate gives this chili recipe its authentic flavor.) Stir, until these ingredients are dissolved and turn the heat down low.

Cook very slowly for at least 1 hour; longer if possible. Sauce should be the thickness of medium gravy, so add more water if yours looks too thick. Mrs. Knapp tells us the sauce can be prepared ahead and kept in refrigerator or freezer until you wish to reheat it and use. As a matter of fact, she thinks the flavor is improved with standing.

You'll notice this recipe makes quite a bit of sauce, but since it does keep so well it's a good idea to make up the full amount and have it on hand. Try it over meat loaf, cooked spaghetti, rice, cooked red beans or boiled potatoes. It's delicious.

TO MAKE MEXICAN HAM-BURGERS: Mix the hamburger, slightly beaten egg, flour, salt and crushed cereal flakes thoroughly and roll portions of the mixture in the palms of your hands into little balls. Brown all sides of the meat balls in melted shortening or oil and transfer to a rather deep casserole. Pour a generous amount of sauce over meat (by generous we mean cover them completely) and bake 1 hour in a 350 F. or moderate oven. You will find the recipe makes enough meat balls to serve over to use later on.

Mature Parent
By MURIEL LAWRENCE
On the first of the month, the family bills come in to Mr. R.'s office.

When he adds them up, he is terribly sorry for himself. He wonders why he ever had children. When he gets home, he finds that his daughter Milly is having a friend to supper. Then he discovers Mrs. R. basting a roast in the kitchen. He is indignant. "What are you killing yourself over the hot stove for?" he demands. "You don't think your daughter appreciates all this fuss you're making do you? When are you going to wake up?"

Later, he loses his patience when Mrs. R. insists on mending Bob's torn track shirt. "Slave, slave," says Bob's father, recalling his son's dental bill. "Aren't you ever done working for the children? You look tired enough to drop."

If Mrs. R. is grateful for this sympathy, she shouldn't be. It doesn't belong to her. It is Mr. R.'s sympathy for himself. He is the slave who is killing himself. He is the parent who is never done.

The trouble is, he doesn't dare say so. All the strong, kindly, noble papas that ever figured in Mr. R.'s childhood literature have told him it isn't manly to say so. In inexorable rank, they shake their heads at him and say, "No, my boy; be a brave, silent papa like us."

This is pretty childish obedience of Mr. R.'s. The brave silent papas never existed except in the minds of 19th century ladies who wrote

Pals Are Revealed At Club Meeting

Secret pals were revealed after the business meeting of the Southwesterners held in the home of Mrs. Leonard Busted, 737 North Dwight, Monday. Mrs. Floyd Lassister presided during the business discussion.

Door prizes were given to Mrs. Herman Topper and Mrs. Burnis Barrow.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Lassister, Ed. Culbertson, Ewart Revard, Joe Gidden, Kenneth Hamon, Herman Topper, Omar Bybee, Gene Dougherty, Bob Herndon, Buck Moore, Odie Calcutt, Norman Flaherty and a guest, Mrs. Burnis Barrow, of Clovis, New Mexico.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Lassister on February 2.

about them. So Mr. R. better stop trying to emulate them and begin talking about his normal need for sympathy and cooperation from his family.

If he doesn't, and continues to belabor poor Mrs. R. with his transferred self-pity, it will be hard going for her. Unless she's unusually strong-minded, she's bound to get the idea that mending for her son and cooking for a daughter's guest are extraordinary services. You can't live day-in, day-out with somebody who keeps insisting that you're abused without beginning to wonder if they haven't got something. As it is, Mrs. R., who's been feeling fine, has put down Bob's track shirt, suddenly too tired to finish it.

Children skins are not elephant hide. We don't want to make them so defensive they can't feel self-respecting gratitude for what is done for them—so defensive they feel only fear of the debt they owe.

THE PRESIDENT IS A "GOOD SCOUT"—When President Dwight D. Eisenhower took his oath of office, he also became Honorary President of the Boy Scouts of America. Like all presidents beginning with William Howard Taft, he automatically became the Scout's titular head upon taking the oath. He is the second President to have had an active relationship with the Scouts before entering the White House, sharing the distinction with the late President Roosevelt. President Eisenhower has been a member of the Boy Scout's National Executive Board since 1948. In 1948 he received Scouting's highest award, the Silver Buffalo, "for distinguished service to boyhood." Above, the then General Eisenhower joined hands with fellow scouts during the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge in July of 1950, when Eisenhower was guest of honor and principal speaker at the celebration.

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)— Exclusively Yours: The new shape of women for spring and summer—the accent is on skin-tight, nearly hipless skirts— isn't getting any hip-hip, hurrahs from the Hollywood fashion wizards.

They say it's a dirty trick on the ladies—AND on the men! One of them, MGM's Helen Rose, who whips up fancy duds for Lana Turner and Ava Gardner, is actually wild-eyed about it.

"Women better watch themselves," Helen told me, "or else they're going to look very, very strange."

Helen's verdict on the skin-tight skirts decreed by the New York Dress Institute:

"They'll look fine on five-foot-eight-inch fashion models who weigh 85 pounds. But the elimination of hips by starvation diets is going to make a lot of men unhappy. Women will look scrawny and it doesn't help their disposition."

The open neck that stands away from your own at the back is another Manhattan fashion command for '53.

"It's fine—if a woman has a beautiful back," Helen winced. If she doesn't, she'll look like a hunchback.

The MGM designers own fashion blueprints for 1953?

"I'm going to stick to a theory I've had for a long time. Women should look like women. I skip the fads in favor of the soft look in basically simple, yet good, designs."

Barrier Is Down

It took General Eisenhower to break Hollywood's TV barrier. The lid's off Hollywood's ban on TV appearances of studio contract stars for the inaugural festivities in Washington. Stars getting in camera range have been told they won't have to duck.

Red-haired Cara Williams, who just became Mrs. John Barrymore, Jr., is insisting the Barrymore clan greet her with open arms. "My mother," she says, "is the one who is unhappy."

Train Takes Harry And Bess Back Home Private Citizens

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 21—UP—Harry S. Truman and his wife, Bess, steamed toward the peaceful town of Independence, Mo., Wednesday where, for the first time in almost a quarter of a century, they will take their place as "just plain private citizens."

Since 1934, when he first was elected U. S. senator, Mr. Truman and his wife have been in the public eye. Bess Truman is first to admit that she is glad it's over.

The Trumans left Washington Tuesday night aboard the smart presidential car lent to them for the occasion by President Eisenhower, and were to arrive in Independence at 1:15 p.m. CST Wednesday.

A Plain Citizen

Earlier at a luncheon with his outgoing Cabinet, Mr. Truman quipped that he was now "just Mr. Truman, plain citizen."

He lost the last symbol of the presidency as the trail rolled out—his secret service guard. Jackson N. Krill, head of the Secret Service office in Kansas City which for nearly eight years has guarded Mr. Truman during his trips home.

pulling down his details after the inauguration Tuesday and said that "Mr. Truman is on his own now."

The floodlights which have always gazed into the window of the Truman's rambling Independence home, Gates Victorian mansion, were turned out Tuesday night.

Police Chief Still Concerned

Chief of Police Henry Williams of Independence was still concerned, however, about the former President's safety. Williams said he would assign a 24-hour detail to guard the Truman's for an indefinite period.

Williams said he expected more than half of Independence's population of 11,000 to turn out Wednesday night to meet the presidential train and that he would have at least 15 police officers on the scene.

Residents of Independence for months have been planning a welcoming and brief but colorful ceremony. A special platform has been built at the station and placards saying "Welcome Home" have been hung throughout the city. A special car will be waiting for the Trumans to drive them to their home at 219 N. Delaware. They will ride at the head of a parade of cars carrying city officials.

The home of the famous couple is a three story, 17 room frame house built in 1865 by Mrs. Truman's grandfather, George Porterfield Gates.

When Truman began as President the Secret Service had an iron fence constructed around the one-time "summer White House." The fence will remain as a protective measure against souvenir hunters.

Thursday morning Mr. Truman can take his customary early morning walk in solitude, or at least without the usual detail of secret service men. And Mrs. Truman can relax in the serenity of her Independence home which she always has preferred to the pomp and ceremony of Washington.

Vandalism Traced To Two Youngsters

Part of the week-end's vandalism has been traced to two Pampa youngsters, between 10 and 12, who have admitted breaking into Horace Mann School, taking $2 in nickels and damaging a classroom film.

H. A. Doggett, constable, and Sam Begert, Horace Mann principal, solved the case at 11:15 a.m. Monday through descriptions of the youngsters furnished by the proprietress of a nearby store in which they purchased some soda pop.

Damages to the film have been estimated at $12-15.

According to Doggett, one of the boys went through a window pane of a rear door, opened the front door of the school and let the other in. Having broken in, Begert's desk to get the nickels and having damaged the film, they made their way, he said, to a store across the street.

Given descriptions of the youngsters, Doggett and Begert questioned four or five students, and the last two were the ones wanted.

Clear Skies Brighten Flooded Northwest After Four Wet Days

EUREKA, Calif., Jan. 21—UP—Clear skies brightened flood-ravaged parts of northern California and Oregon for the first time in four days Wednesday.

Weather-weary residents of the two states started cleaning up from a series of violent Pacific storms that has left 514 families homeless, completely isolated at least a dozen towns and left eight persons dead.

The outlook was brighter but the weatherman added a cautious note in his forecast.

Generally fair weather was predicted for most of the area Wednesday but another storm-bearing low pressure system was centered in the Gulf of Alaska and was expected to bring more rain by early Thursday.

The Red Cross said 10 counties in Oregon and three in California were affected by the flooding that started with near-torrential rains over the weekend.

More than a dozen rivers ran out of their banks and inundated wide areas from Humboldt county here to Oregon's Willamette Valley.

Most California streams were back under control, but a new trouble spot was reported along the upper Klamath River in Siskiyou and Humboldt counties.

Some 2,000 residents of six small river communities, including Happy Camp, Forks of Salmon and Sawyer's Bar, were threatened by spreading floods.

The two latest fatalities reported were two men who drowned in Oregon's Big Fall Creek.

Also in Oregon seven main highways remained blocked by slides or high water; hundreds were driven from their homes; and an undetermined number of livestock perished in flood waters.

Piled on top of the two states' flood troubles a tornado-like wind struck downtown Corvallis, Ore., and caused damage estimated at from $100,000 to $500,000.

The big blow lasted only a few seconds, but it blew roofs off, smashed plate glass windows, ripped out power lines, demolished signs and knocked down trees.

The wind, accompanied by heavy rain and hail, hit gusts estimated at up to 100 miles an hour.

Hubbys Protest

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21—UP—Police arrested five women and eight men in a raid on an apartment here Tuesday night and confiscated seven packs of cards and $27.

The women described themselves as housewives.

The raid resulted from protests of a number of husbands that their wives were gambling away their weekly pay checks.

SHAMROCK (Special) — The 1953 March of Dimes Drive in Shamrock was launched at a meeting of officers and directors of the Wheeler County Chapter of the National Foundation. A number of volunteer workers also attended the session in the Shamrock Community Building to make plans for the fund raising campaign.

Harry Wofford of Wheeler, chairman of the Wheeler County Chapter, presided at the meeting and County Campaign Director Glynn Bell of Shamrock named community campaign directors. Other methods of raising funds to be used in the county are collection boxes, coin boards given the school children, various entertainments and contributions by mail to the local postoffice or to the Cap Rock Bus Line office in Shamrock.

Officers and directors of the Wheeler County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis are Harry Wofford, chairman; Fats George treasurer; Audrey Pearce, secretary; Martha McCombs, vice chairman; Mrs. E. # Murray To Bid For Open Class Honors In GG

CHECKING WEIGHT — J.N. Wright, (on scale), star quarterback for the Pampa Harvesters, is having his weight checked by Dick Murray during yesterday's Boys Club boxing workouts at the old Pampa Daily News building. Both boys will be serious contenders for titles in this week's District Golden Gloves tourney which starts tomorrow night at the Sports Arena. Murray will fight in the open class in the light-heavyweight division. Wright, in the 157 pound bracket, will fight in the high school division. (News Photo)

Dick Murray, the high school light-heavyweight champion in the Pampa District Golden Gloves tournament the past two years, will bid for "Open" Division honors this year. It was revealed yesterday.

And Murray already has at least one foe to contend with in the tournament here. Billy Dickerman of Borger is entered in the 175-pound open class.

These boys are the only ones entered in the open class to date in the District Golden Gloves tourney which opens tomorrow at the Southern Club Sports Arena.

The tourney, co-sponsored by the Pampa Boys Club and the Pampa Daily News, will be held Thursday through Saturday nights.

Competition in every weight division is expected to be the keenest it has been in the history of the tournament. Golden Gloves officials have predicted.

Several of the defending champions in the high school division are going to be hard pressed to repeat.

Wellington, Shamrock, Dumas, Borger, Lefors and the Pampa Boys Club have already submitted several of their entries with many more expected to be added before weigh-in time Thursday.

Jimmy Thompson and Floyd Hood are the leading Wellington fighters. Both won in last year's district meet here and then followed up by winning the regional crown at Amarillo. Thompson is a 126 pounder while Hood is in the 155 pound division.

Colorado Nips K-State 72-68

NEW YORK, Jan. 21—UP—The determined attempt by Kansas, the defending NCAA champion, to regain the basketball heights struck a land-mine Wednesday—a surprise 72 to 68 defeat by Colorado's Buffaloes.

When the current season started, little was expected from Kansas because the Jayhawks lost four out of five starters from last year's championship team—including All-American center Clyde Lovellette.

But, with 6-foot-9 sophomore B. H. Born taking over Lovellette's high-scoring role, the Jayhawks kept improving and driving back. Only last Saturday night, the Jayhawks' comeback reached a peak when they upset Kansas State, 80 to 66, to hold second place in the Big Seven race and earn the No. 9 ranking nationally.

Indifferent Officiating Isn't Answer To PHS Foes Being Assessed More Fouls

WE HAVE JUST RECOVERED something unusual for McNeely from a tussle with "Ole Man Flu" and while we were out of the game, the referees were assessing more fouls than we had in the year in Pampa.

That would be the Harvester-Amarillo game last Saturday night. We knew all along that this game was going to be a hum-dinger and we had looked forward to the game almost since the beginning of the season. But thirty minutes before game time Saturday the flu bug got a firm grip on us and sent us reeling home toward bed.

Warren Hasse, after a terrific day attending to his March of Dimes duties, was called on at the 11th hour to cover the game for us and Warren in turn did a noble job, giving a good account of the game.

Through Hasse's account of the game, it brought out that Amarillo coach T. J. Hull got rather upset over the officiating.

It seemed that Hull thought the Harvesters weren't being assessed with enough personal fouls. Several other coaches may have had the same gripe who have played the Harvesters this year. In the six district games to date the Harvesters opponents have out-fouled the Harvesters. But it's not "one-sided" officiating that is the cause of this.

We may be wrong but possibly the best answer to this situation is that the Harvesters' brand of play causes their opponents to foul easily.

The Harvesters specialize ball-control and rack up a majority of their points by working the ball in for setup shots. With all five boys moving around all the time and with one or two breaking toward the basket the defender generally has to foul the player breaking in order to break up the play.

Coch McNeely was an expert in getting fouled during his heyday at Texas Wesleyan and it's no doubt he has passed on this secret to his charges. It was

Bond Soars Past 300 Scoring Mark

Five Harvester cagers are now over the 100-point mark for the season and one of 'em, center Jimmy Bond, went over the 300 mark through last week's games with Lubbock and Amarillo.

Bond, by bucketing 45 points in the two games last week, upped his season total to 322 points in 14 games, an exact average of 23 points per game.

Bond has hit 123 from the field and 76 gratis losses.

Two Harvesters passed the 100 mark for the first time, bringing the total to five who have scored in the three figures.

Buddy Cockrell and Bill Webb are the newcomers to the 100 or above scoring. Cockrell, with 23 points against Lubbock and Amarillo, has 119 for the season. Webb hit the nets for 21 in last week's game to bring his season total to 115.

In addition to Bond, the other two Harvesters that have topped 100 points are Fred Woods with 168 and Jon Oden with 138.

Woods and Oden rank second and third among the Harvester scorers.

The Harvesters, as a team, have scored 1,012 points for a 72.3 per game average.

Clements Wins Mat Feature

Ray "Big Train" Clements made his return to the Pampa wrestling ring a success last night by winning a hard fought two-out-of-three fall decision over Ivan Kalmikoff.

Clements won the first and third falls with Kalmikoff winning the middle fall.

Herb Parks also won the first and third falls to defeat Whitley Wahlberg in the semi-final event, Wahlberg winning the second fall.

Ray Urbano and Buck Lipscomb fought to a draw in the 20-minute preliminary.

Hutchinson Plans Numerous Changes

(Editor's note: This is another of a series of interviews with major league managers.)

By LLOYD NORTHAARD

DETROIT, Jan. 21—UP—Manager Fred Hutchinson knew one thing and only one Wednesday about his 1953 Detroit Tigers—Walt Dropp will be at first base when the season opens.

"All the other positions are wide open," said Hutchinson whose job it will be to lift the Tigers out of the basement where they finished last season.

"We've got a lot of young players and we're going to look them over carefully," said the 33-year-old Detroit boss. "When you finish last you have to make changes. We'll make them during spring training."

Frogs Clip Owls, 69-60

The Southwest Conference's basketball teams were still confounding the experts today as Texas Christian posted an important 69 to 60 victory over Rice's Owls to keep up the pace.

Texas had a half game lead over Baylor, but there were four teams tied for third, another half game back, as a result of TCU's upset at Houston Tuesday night.

Henry Ohlen, the TCU Frogs' center, pushed the team to the front in the first half — as the Horned Frogs surprised the Owls and handed them their second straight conference loss.

In addition to Texas Christian and Rice, Texas A&M and Arkansas were the third-place team with all four schools having 2-2 records.

Two will leave that not-so-select company Saturday night, when the third and final game of a slim examination week schedule will be played at Houston with Texas A&M invading the Rice floor.

TCU broke on top and maintained a slim lead most of the way, except in the third quarter. Then the host Owls had the audacity to creep ahead a time or two, and the TCU Frogs came back with a terrific fourth quarter that settled the issue beyond all doubt.

Gene Schwinger, Rice center, continued to pace the conference's scorers with a night's production of 23 that gave him a season total of 242 points. Ohlen moved from fourth to third place with a total of 202 points, five behind John Starkey of Baylor.

Jeffcoat Signs

White Deer Youth Seeks Scholarship

WHITE DEER (Special)—Douglas Coffee, White Deer High School senior, has made application for an agriculture scholarship which, if he wins, will entitle him to $500 toward college training at either Texas A & M or Texas Technological College.

Competition in this field is keen this year with approximately 50 boys from as many chapters filing applications.

To be eligible for the scholarship, applicants must have completed the work or still be in agriculture classes. Written recommendations from his local Future Farmer's instructor and his high school principal must be submitted. The applicant must write a letter explaining "Why I Desire to Make Agriculture My Vocation," and a scholastic record will be important factors toward judges' decisions. The final requisite is a personal interview by the judging committee.

The name of the winner will be announced at an Area Future Farmer's of American banquet which will be held in Pampa's Chamber of Commerce Building, February 16.

If all the recoverable coal reserves in Kentucky were taken from the ground and converted into gasoline through hydrogenation, there would be enough motor fuel to last the whole nation for more than a century at present consumption rates.
