Auto Makers Work Carefully In Planned Car Obsolescence

DETROIT, March 12—UP—The auto companies carefully plan to make every new car you buy obsolete within a year.

In the trade it is called "planned obsolescence." To the man on the street it means shelling out extra dollars every year to keep abreast of the new models.

But the man on the street really isn't kept up. Because even if he has to wait until 1954 for "the next thing," the blue prints and on some of the preliminary tooling is ready to make it obsolete in 1955.

Auto Makers' Technique

This planning to make your new car "old" every calendar year is something developed and then perfected by the auto industry. It has been so successful that other goods makers—refrigerators, television, radios and the like—have adopted it almost en masse.

Primarily, it is a device to whet the appetite and loosen the purse strings of car buyers. Secondly, it provides an orderly avenue for engineering improvements and design changes.

How quickly your car becomes obsolete depends on the buying habits of the market. If the market begins to perk it up, if buying holds strong, manufacturers are inclined to hold off major changes.

Expensive Changes

This annual model change is expensive both to the buyer and the maker. A major auto firm spends $10, $20, or $50 million into model change, depending upon how extensive the remodeling is going to be.

All of that has to come back from the car buying public. It does so in the form of higher price tags. There would be if drivers could be content with non-changing automobiles.

Although all makers present a new model every year, two men out of three it is what the trade calls a "face-lifting." In other words, the basic car is the same as last year except for addition or rearrangement of the dials, engineering improvements in the light of experience, and changes in the treatment of the grille, chrome and perhaps the bumpers.

Fresh, New Look Needed

The main thing is that it have a fresh, new look to the man who owns the preceding model. Yet it can't be too advanced. Because if it is, the old model will be a drag on the used car market and the price won't hold.

If the price doesn't hold on used cars, the man hankering to buy a new one isn't as likely to trade, and when he does he'll more than likely choose a manufacturer who doesn't jump "all over the lot" in design. It's a simple matter of protecting his investment.

Another, and related reason for progressive rather than drastic change, is public acceptance. Before World War II one of the really big makers got stung badly with overly-advanced streamlining. It isn't likely to repeat that mistake.

Can't Be Too Rapid

The public takes to change slowly. Remember the tear-drop type fenders? It took several model changes to build them up to the box type now prevalent in the industry. The same with glass space. But by and large it was an evolutionary process rather than a sudden snit.

U. S., Soviet Relations Put To Early Test

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst

United States and Russian relations have been put to an earlier test than might have been expected after the death of Stalin.

The United States and the world will assume that the words were Czechoslovakia's but the voice was Moscow's in the rejection of the U. S. protest against the shooting down of a U. S. Thunderjet inside the U. S. zone of Germany.

However, in the midst of our justifiable indignation, it might not be amiss to inject a word of caution tinged on two IDEAS:

1. In the modern era wars do not start as a result of isolated incidents.
2. Harassment of Western All' by Russia was planned long before Stalin's death, and by Stalin. The new Russian government has not yet had time to shape its policies.

If Russia is to start any war, it will not be by one, two or three planes over inoffensive countryside. It will be by bomber fleets striking at global nerve and supply centers.

Russian planes have attacked over Western Europe at least six times since 1948 in incidents involving the United States, Britain, France and Sweden.

Stiff diplomatic notes so far have been the only result.

So far as the United States is concerned—based on the Eisenhower administration's early performance—the attitude now may be expected to harden, with definite ways and means still to be determined.

One immediate result might be to put F-86 Sabre Jets—nemesis of the MIG in Korea—on patrol along the Czech border instead of the weaker F-84 Thunderjet. In any event, to bring about a clear re-statement of policy that we will meet force with force.

The sun's rays falling on Jupiter are calculated to have one 27th the intensity of those falling on the earth.

Handsome Spanish Bullfighter Sends Poems To Movie Queens

HOLLYWOOD, March 12—UP—Ann Miller bounced home from Spain with the usual souvenirs of a movie queen—dolls, fans, a Flamenco dancer's outfit, and love poems from Bullfighter Mario Cabre. Mario, if followers of such international affairs have forgotten, is the handsome Lothario who hopped into the headlines when he penned poems to Ava Gardner while Frankie Sinatra glowered in the background. Cabre then transferred his writing ability to Yvonne De Carlo. When Ann stopped off in Madrid during her first vacation trip to Europe, Cabre welcomed her, too.

"He was at the airport to meet me," began the long-legged dancer. "Oh, I'd never met him before," she shrugged. "I don't have the faintest idea of how he knew I was coming."

"He is so good-looking!" she went on. "His looks like Rudolph Valentino. So charming and sweet!" he said. "Anytime I can do for you to show you the see-ty, let me know."

"The next day he sent roses, with

Bel Canto Chorus To Shamrock

SHAMROCK (Special) — Two concerts by the nationally famous Bel Canto Chorus of Boles Orphan Home, Quinlan, will be one of the entertainment features of the St. Patrick's Day celebration. Jack Stroup, chairman of the entertainment committee, has announced that the group will appear at the Clark Auditorium on Monday night, March 16 and again on Tuesday afternoon, March 17. The Bel Canto Chorus was officially organized in 1949 and since that time has traveled extensively, singing its way into the hearts of thousands of people all over the nation.

Last summer the chorus, accompanied by their counselors, engaged in its third national tour embracing many states and Canada. These young people are highly trained and skilled in discipline, vocal accomplishment, travel and public relations. They travel in their own commercial bus.

Their program includes songs of praise and devotion, familiar and well-loved hymns and spiritual selections. The chorus is directed by Paul Robert Oler, 15-year-old son of Gayle Oler, superintendent of Boles Home. Tex Williams, manager of the chorus, will give highlights of the program and purposes of Boles Home.

The St. Patrick's Association extends a cordial invitation to attend the Bel Canto Chorus Concert.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get PASTEETH at any drug store.

a poem. The poems are always on cards he sends. I had to have it translated."

Miss Miller can't remember what the card said. She didn't know whether Mario wrote the same poems to Ava and Yvonne, not having the opportunity to compare them.

"Then he telephoned and wanted to fight a bull for me," she said. "He's really not the top bull fighter, but he does it now and then to impress his movie fans. He's like the Robert Taylor of Spain."

The handsome Spaniard fought a dangerous bull for her. She was impressed.

"Mario is so romantic," she sighed. "But, of course, I didn't stay there long enough to have a romance or anything. I think he's never gotten over Ava, anyway. He kept talking about her."

"I think he really loved her," she said seriously.

After Ann saw the city, she showed Mario a Flamenco dance she does in her current MGM movie, Small Town Girl. Then the bullfighter and the lady exchanged autographed photos, which I guess is the correct thing to do under the circumstances.

Mario has written Ann since she returned to Hollywood.

"I think he's just a guy who likes Hollywood actresses," she decided. "And, you know," she said thoughtfully, "I think he'd like to get into Hollywood movies, too!"

Tokyo Hospital Visit Sobers Stevenson On Worldwide Tour

TOKYO, March 12—UP—Adlai Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, made a sobering visit Wednesday to war wounded Tokyo's Army hospital.

He said very little as he passed through the silent wards.

"I haven't been through enough hospitals to become used to this," he said.

During his hour long tour, he stopped occasionally to chat with the soldiers, mostly those from Illinois and Kentucky. He also met and congratulated soldiers from Turkey, Holland, Thailand and France.

At first, members of Stevenson's party thought the Kentucky men, such as Cpl. Charles Sames of Midway, Ky., were being presented because of the presence of Barry Bingham, president of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times.

Woman's Automobile Has Sinking Feeling

NEW YORK, March 11—UP—Mrs. Gloria Teich stepped out of her apartment Tuesday and was about to enter her automobile when she noticed it seemed lower than usual.

While she stood staring at the car it kept getting lower—until it sank eight feet into the ground.

Police said the street cave-in was caused by a break in a water main under the roadway.

Close Friends There... Hank Gets First-Hand Report On Stalin's Entrance In Hell

By HENRY McLENORE

Some of my closest and dearest friends having lived there for years, it was little or no trouble for me to get reports from hell on the arrival of Josef Stalin.

Comrade Stalin reached hell at 8:30 a.m., coming in on a four-motored jet pitchfork which, of course, was invented by the Russians.

longed to him. They did. Everything fit.

Stalin entered the door with the assurance of a man who, having done a hell on earth, had no doubt of his ability to do the same underground.

Before knocking at the door of the very unpeppery place, where the streets run with vodka and caviar, not milk and honey, he reached into the vest pocket of his hammer and sickle shroud and pulled out a hand grenade.

He yanked out the pin of the grenade and threw it through the picture window of hell's living room.

The devil came out as mad as the devil and yelled, "What's going on here?" Vision wasn't very good that early in the morning, the mist still hanging on, so the devil didn't recognize his notorious fellow-in-arm.

Leadership Clinic Slated For Pampa Adults April 13

A leadership clinic for the adult education program, to be sponsored here by the Altrusa Club, is slated to convene for two sessions April 13.

WIFE DIES

Spiley said the prisoner did not seem "disturbed" by news of his wife's death.

Marshall first testified before the narcotics committee last Friday, just three days after the date given by McClure.

At Albuquerque, officials at the Bataan hospital said that "anything about the woman's death will have to be answered by her doctor."

Referred to Doctor
The hospital referred newsmen to Dr. Clinton Morgan Jr., of Albuquerque, but Morgan's wife said he is in Chicago.

Marshall testified Tuesday he prescribed chloral hydrate, a powerful sedative, for Williams at Austin, Tex., a few days before the hillbilly singer died Dec. 31 at Oak Hill, W. Va.

McClure, after talking with Representative Cunningham by telephone, sent the lawmaker a follow-up telegram in which he said: "Fay Marshall passed out Sunday morning, March 1, and was unconscious until Tuesday night. I was not there but a friend said she seemed to be drugged. Doctors in Albuquerque waited all day Wednesday to perform an autopsy but could not locate H. R. Marshall to get his permission to perform an autopsy, as it is a state law in New Mexico that the husband has to give his permission. She was buried without having an autopsy performed."

To Leave for Albuquerque
I have a letter from H. R. Marshall to Fay Marshall in regard to some deal with Hank Williams. I will leave for Albuquerque by plane tomorrow and have the evidence to you by Saturday."

Cunningham said the prescription for Mrs. Marshall was filled at Connie's Prescription shop in Oklahoma City and sent to her in Albuquerque. An Oklahoma City physician was listed along with Marshall in prescribing the pills.

McClure told newsmen that his sister was a secretary for an Albuquerque lumber firm and had lived in Albuquerque since 1948. He said she separated from Marshall around Jan. 20. She was 48.

McClure said he operates an asphaltic concrete plant at Midland, Tex.

Kefauver Criticizes Eisenhower's Stand On The Tidelands

WASHINGTON, March 12—U.S. Sen. Estes Kefauver Thursday criticized the Eisenhower administration's "contusion" on proposed tidelands legislation.

The Tennessee Democrat accused administration spokesmen of taking three different positions on the off-shore oil dispute in hearings before the interior committee. Kefauver said the President's own position "has not crystallized."

In view of the wrangle over tidelands, the committee has temporarily shifted its attention to the Hawaiian statehood proposal which Chairman Hugh Butler (R-Neb.) said would be acted on first. Previously, the submerged lands bill had been given top priority.

A majority of the committee favors legislation giving coastal states control of the off-shore lands to their historic boundaries. But there are some wide differences among state ownership backers as to how far-reaching the legislation should be.

These differences, plus recommendations of Attorney General Herbert Brownell and the State Department, have helped delay committee action on the bill. The committee measure is being drafted by a subcommittee headed by Sen. Guy Cordon (R-Ore.).

Kefauver said although President Eisenhower is committed to state ownership of the tidelands, government witnesses gave conflicting recommendations to the committee.

He said Brownell recommended against granting states outright title to the lands, Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay favored "restoring" the lands to the states within their historic boundaries and the State Department said the U.S. does not recognize state claims past the three-mile offshore limit. Texas and Florida claim their historic boundaries extend 10-12 miles into the Gulf of Mexico.

Arguments before the board is 10 hours, 50 minutes. During this time senators and congressmen have two hours, 30 minutes; the eight airlines interested in arguing for or against have two hours, 15 minutes. Bureau counsel has 30 minutes. Bureau counsel has 30 minutes.

Rogers said it may be two weeks, possibly longer before the board makes a final decision.

The arguments are being made in an effort to appeal the temporary decision of CAB Examiner Herbert Bryan who turned down the original request on Dec. 31, 1952.

It is believed the gold was the first metal that attracted the attention of man.

Rotarians Hear Humorous Poetry

Two humorous illustrations of American poetry were made yesterday by Rev. Dick Crews, pastor of the First Christian Church, before the Pampa Rotary Club at its weekly meeting in the Palm Room, City Hall.

"Casey at the Bat," and "The Shooting of Dangerous Dan McGrew" were the two American heritage poems recited and dramatized by the pastor.

Later Rev. Crews told Rotarians that democracy rests mainly upon religion and that this religion must be strengthened in the home before it can take hold on a nation.

Prior to the talk, Ray Evans and Paul Benjamen, club president, inducted E. J. Slayman and Haskell Maguire into Rotary Club membership.

Ike Seeking Cabinet Status For FSA Head, Oveta Hobby

WASHINGTON, March 12—President Eisenhower began his proposed overhaul of the federal government Thursday by seeking cabinet status for Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby and her sprawling Federal Security Agency.

Details of the plan were cloaked in official secrecy, pending its submission to Congress, probably around noon. Officials would say only that the plan called for making the FSA the government's 10th full-fledged department, on par with Defense, State, Treasury, Labor, Commerce, Justice, Post Office, Interior and Agriculture departments.

An authoritative source said no final decision had been reached by late Wednesday on a name for the proposed new department, which would handle government activities in the fields of health, welfare, education and social security.

As head of the FSA now technically known as an "independent agency," Mrs. Hobby is already sitting in on cabinet sessions by special dispensation of the President. As head of a department, she would go up in rank from "administrator" to "secretary" and become the second woman in U.S. history to hold a cabinet post. The first, Mrs. Frances Perkins, was Secretary of Labor in Franklin D. Roosevelt's Cabinet.

The President's plan will go into effect automatically in 60 days unless vetoed by either the House or the Senate. A majority vote of the chamber's full membership is required to veto a reorganization plan.

Mrs. Hobby, who helped set up the Democrats for Eisenhower organization last year, now classes herself as a "liberal Republican." She headed the Women's Army Corps in World War II and was co-editor and publisher, with her husband, of the Houston Post when Mr. Eisenhower named her to head the many-sided FSA.

Station Operator Freed Of Charge In Liquor Case

CANADIAN—A local service station operator, charged with selling intoxicating liquor in a dry area, is free today.

Marion Hill, 24, of Canadian proprietor of the Shamrock Service Station, was declared not guilty Wednesday morning by a Hempden County court jury panel.

The jury was out for only five minutes.

Picked up Feb. 21 in a raid by an estimated 12 agents for the Texas Liquor Control Board, Hill allegedly sold a pint of whiskey the previous Sunday to a liquor agent.

In the raid no liquor was found in Hill's service station.

Beforehand, members of Canadian's Ministerial Alliance had issued a formal "declaration of war" against bootleggers and had joined hands with liquor board agents.

Upon his arrest, however, Hill had elected to fight the charges.

"I am not a bootlegger," was his comment at the time.

American Ambassador George Wadsworth, acting on State Department orders, objected in the strongest terms to the Czech violation of the U. S. zone of Germany and the attack on the two U. S. jet fighters.

The fast action by the U.S. government apparently caught the Reds off guard. Their propaganda effort to shift responsibility to the United States followed many hours later.

An Air Force spokesman said the downed plane, flown by Lt. Warren G. Brown, who parachuted to safety with only minor injuries, and the other plane, piloted by Lt. Donald C. Smith, were under "constant" radar observation. The official said "radar plots definitely confirmed the facts that our aircraft did not violate the Czech border."

Rogers also said the effort will be for direct airline service more than which airline finally gets the route. In this case it would be Pioneer or Trans - Texas. Should Pioneer get the segment, Childress, not on Pioneer's schedule of proposed stops, would eventually be included. Should it be Trans-Texas, then Berger, Amarillo and Pampa would be included on its route.

Mrs. Arthur Teed Is Forum Hostess

Mrs. Arthur Teed was hostess to members of the Twentieth Century Forum recently in her home. Mrs. E. J. Dunigan Jr. presented the program, "Current Plays on Broadway." During this discussion she reviewed "The Crucible." The play deals with Salem witchcraft in 1692 when 19 innocents were hanged. It describes the country during its grimiest mood. The author, Arthur Miller, dramatizes one of the darkest and most intolerant periods of American history. He forces the audience to remember the things that most would like to forget.

"There can be no doubt that Miller's choice of events, 260 years old, evokes considerable comparison between then and now. Not in the play but in the audience. They know it is intolerance that is under attack. They know that today's fear keeps many from speaking out when they have a dissenting opinion."

The members who attended the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs workshop in Dallas gave a report during the meeting.

Members attending were Mmes. Dick Hughes, M. McDaniel, J.R. Holloway, Dunigan, Bruce Pratt, Aubrey Steele, Henry Rose, Roy Bourland, Crawford Atkinson, Raymond W. Laycock, Frank Kelley, John B. McGreey, Eben D. Warner Jr., C. W. Wilkinson and the hostess.

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

For a long minute Mrs. Jones stands at the bathroom door. She notes the puddle under the dripping washcloth, the damp towel flung on the hamper, the talcum all over the mat. Then, making her voice amiable, she calls down the hall, "You don't intend to go out tonight leaving the bathroom like this, do you?"

There's no answer. Mr. Jones walks to the open door of the bedroom where her daughter is absorbed in removing hair curlers. "I asked you a question," her mother tells her. "I asked if you planned to go to a movie to night and leave me to tidy up that disgraceful bathroom?"

Jan does not look at her mother. "I'm in a hurry now," she says. "If I get home in time, I'll fix it."

Mrs. Jones looks at the averted face, the jaw line, the nose of which Jan's grandmother, Auntie and Uncle have so often said, "It's the child's nose feature. What a mercy she has the 'Jones nose' instead of yours, Alice!"

And Mrs. Jones, her eyes on the child who so resembles her father's family thinks, "You're not a Jones just in looks, my dear. You're one by nature. Take, take, take — but never give anything to return. Just get out of my house and solve your problems for you..."

With such thoughts in her mind, she finds it impossible to maintain her careful pretense of good feeling toward her child. When she says, her voice harsh, "Date or no date, you'll not put a foot out of this house tonight until you clean up that bathroom," Jan flings down her hairbrush.

"I'm not a child!" Jan begins, to go where I please and..."

It is wrong for people to leave bathrooms in disorder. It is wrong for us to react to such her eyes blinding. "I'm old enough to be responsible with violence. Though it is reasonable for Mrs. Jones to feel disappointment and annoyance at the bathroom's condition, it is not reasonable for her to feel fury. Why does she feel it? Does she have any especially violent emotions toward the trait of irresponsibility?"

She does, indeed. For years Mrs. Jones has been furious with her in-laws' irresponsible habit of borrowing money from her husband, Jan's physical resemblance to her father's people made her mother unduly sensitive to any trace of the hated trait in her. As a result, Jan was never permitted normal carelessness as a little girl. To Mrs. Jones, a lost hair-ribbon could never be just that; like the untidy bathroom it became a symbol of injustices put on her by other people's shortcomings.

It is not at all unusual for us to criticize children for traits they seem to share with people whom we dislike. If I have had a bad time with someone who lies, I can develop a crusading zeal against evasiveness that makes life very tough for the little son who refuses to admit that he sneaked the last lollipop in the candy bottle. If a youngster's mistake fills us with unusual fear or anger, it's not a bad idea to ask ourselves if we're reacting from the undigested emotions we still feel for someone he reminds us of.

Were Mrs. Jones not propelled by special feelings for irresponsibility, she would have stood at the door of the bathroom and called down the hall, "This bathroom's awful, darling. Do something about it before you leave..."

Water at 150 degrees F. will also destroy bacteria, but the dishes must be exposed to this heat for from 15 to 60 seconds. This can be done in an automatic dishwasher which utilizes a water heater that can maintain the water at no less than 150 degree.

El Progresso Club Meet In Ewing Home

El Progresso Club held a Texas Day program Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. R. Ewing.

Mrs. Knox Kinard presided during the business.

Mrs. Carlton Nance, leader for the afternoon, introduced the program of "Lavender and Old Lace or Texas Women of Yesterday" and "Buttons and Bows or Texas Women of Today." Mrs. Nance introduced Mrs. Dave Pope, who came to the Panhandle in 1888. Mrs. Pope selected a fitting personality for a woman of yesterday, when she gave the early life and experiences as told by the late Mrs. T. D. Hobart several years ago. Mrs. Hobart, a charter member of El Progresso Club, came to the Texas Panhandle in 1881 as a bride and spent the first years of her life in Texas and in around Mobeetie.

In contrast to the women of yesterday, Mrs. H. L. Ledrick Jr. was introduced as a native Texan, and talked of Texas Women of Today, mentioning that Texas has her share of notable women in every field. Mrs. Ledrick enlightened her talk with the life of Mrs. Ovesta Culp Hobby, Federal Security administrator.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to Mmes. Don C. Boyd, D. V. Burton, Sam B. Cook, J. F. Curtis, Knox Kinard, P. C. Ledrick, H. L. Ledrick, J. C. Bob McCoy, Grundy Morrison, Carlton Nance, Harold Wright, Dave Pope, R. W. Rasmussen, Geo. Walstead, and A. G. Winslett.

RUTH MILLETT

A small town school board recently took action in an attempt to stop an epidemic of teen-age marriage.

The superintendent of schools announced that the school board had decided to ban future marriages of high school and junior high students on penalty of expulsion.

He said, "There have been so many weddings in the last few months that it appears to be on the way to becoming a fad."

Schools these days have to assume a great deal of responsibility that should be assumed by parents.

Marrying in high school and junior high wouldn't reach "fad" proportions in any town if parents would take a firm stand.

It isn't likely that Sue and Jim would decide it would be romantic to get married if their parents made it quite clear that, from the moment they married, they would be financially on their own.

If they knew they wouldn't be going back to high school as heroes but would have to get jobs and support themselves, a girl is worrying about stretching a budget instead of the next school dance, etc., they would reconsider.

Parents can expect their children to do foolish and irresponsible things if the children have never been made to accept the consequences of their own acts and know that as long as their parents can get them out of scrapes they will never have to take the consequences.

Cook's Nook

A lot of newcomers have entered the cream pie family, but none have taken honors away from this all time favorite—Chocolate!

Every so often the family just must have Chocolate Pie. When you want to dress it up a bit, drizzle melted chocolate atop the meringue just before serving.

When time is short you will select a pie from the baker. He is skilled at turning out pies—but occasionally treat yourself to the fun of creating this glamorous dessert. Remember that this pie is not only wonderful eating but mighty nourishing as well. The eggs and milk in the filling coupled with the enriched flour in the crust, give important food value to the family.

Know the secret of a flaky crust? Handle the pastry just as little as possible. Treat it gently and use only enough water to make the flour stick together.

Sprinkle bits of leftover pastry with shredded cheese and bake. These little strips make excellent snacks for children home from school.

Navy To Bring Ripley Show For Display Here March 21

A mobile museum of Robert Ripley's collection of "Believe It or Not" oddities and art objects will be presented in Pampa, Saturday and Sunday March 21 and 22nd. The exhibit is mounted on a special-built trailer, which is one of six on the third year of a national tour. Each unit carries a different collection of items, and only one unit is shown in a city each year. This will be the third to be exhibited in Pampa, and the collection will include oddities from the Far East, such as a genuine Lamm Prayer Mill, a Chinese Bridal Bed, a Tibetan Rosary of human bones, poison rings, holy amulets, and the amazing Brahman Pyramid puzzle, which requires billions of years to solve, completely. Each item is selected from the unusual assortment of strange things which Mr. Ripley spared no effort or expense to unearth during his endless explorations of all parts of the world. Many are rare relics and collector's items, such as Japanese dollars made of sand, flowers of fish scales, King Zeg's cigarette holder, and a gold scale model of a Tibet Monastery. Location of the showing will be on Cuyler and the exhibit will be open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Teachers are invited to bring classes at any time during these hours. No admission is charged although voluntary donations will be accepted. Funds so raised will help the Navy Club of the U.S.A. continue its programs of aid and rehabilitation to Naval veterans of all wars.

Shamrock Hospital Is Donated New Furniture For 7 Rooms

SHAMROCK (Special)—One man's enthusiasm resulted in an order for seven rooms of furniture for Shamrock General Hospital last week. W. B. Gilliam, retired Methodist minister, was himself a patient in the hospital when a Chamber of Commerce committee of which he is chairman, placed the order with a representative of an Amarillo hospital supply firm. Rev. Gilliam became aware of the need for furniture in patients' rooms in the hospital while he was a patient there. He has spent much of the last year in and out of the hospital. Another order for furniture will be placed as soon as other individuals and clubs have decided on the exact amount of donations. Smaller donations will be pooled to buy furniture for complete rooms. Acting as chairman in the absence of Rev. Gilliam, Mrs. Hubert Tindall called the meeting of the hospital committee to study bids received from various supply houses. The Amarillo firm was given the order after agreeing to a discount from the list price and to pay freight costs. The saving, amounting to as much as $60 in some rooms, will be used to buy curtains and install floor covering. The furniture shipment, expected within 60 days, will equip rooms sponsored by: Methodist Men's Bible Class, United Carbon Co., Lone Star Gas Co., Federated Clubs, Shamrock Boosters' Club, Shamrock Gas Co., and individual donations.

Collingsworth's Grand Old Opry In Irish Program

SHAMROCK (Special)—The Collingsworth County Grand Old Opry will be staged in Shamrock as part of the St. Patrick's Day festivities. Between 40 and 50 performers will take part, according to Mr. and Mrs. Bill King of Dozier, producers of the program which attracts from 1,000 to 1,500 people every other Friday night in Wellington.

Appearing on the program will be semi-professional stars in hillbilly, pop and religious numbers. Some of the performers will include: Sunset Ramblers, Alan Reed; Pat Wall's Western Oklahoma Round-Up Garg, Willow, Okla.; Wheeler County Playboys; Wheeler; J. T. Wiley string band; Pampa; Samnorwood string band, Samnorwood.

Small admission charges of 15 and 25 cents have been set for the show. It is scheduled for 7:30 Tuesday evening at the Clark Auditorium. The Opry was originated in Samnorwood last summer with home talent from there and surrounding communities. The crowds grew so large that the gym couldn't hold them and loud speakers were set up so people could hear outside. This fall the show was moved to Wellington where it is produced by the Kings.

FICTION — OR THE FUTURE?—Allied MPs, clad in atom-proof garments, stand guard as the World Defense Commission comes in for a landing in its cosmic gondola. It's just a movie being made in Austria, of course, but the way science is catching up with fiction, who can tell?

Will Have To Be Extra Fantastic . . . Fiction Writers Better Get Busy; Science Is Catching Up

By LEONARD RUPPERT
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—Science fiction writers have a problem. The scientists are threatening to catch up with them.

A few years back, all the successful writer had to do was dream up a fantastic gimmick or send his characters to the moon, and he had himself a first-class space opera.

Now it's not so easy. Many of the time-tried gimmicks—television, atom bombs, radar—are no longer fantastic. And with rapid developments in the rocket field, neither is a trip to the moon.

"Science is moving so fast," says one leading editor, "that the fictional guessing can hardly be distinguished from the factual forecasts of scientists. Today's fiction may well be tomorrow's headlines. It probably is already anticipated by secret classified material."

As a result, the authors are forced to put an extra strain on their imaginations. And the outcome is slightly fantastic.

Most writers no longer discuss such trivial things as how to get to another planet; they deal instead with what happens after you get there. And they don't fool around with gimmicks, they invent whole new civilizations.

The world of the future, as a survey of several magazines reveals it, is a vast inter-planetary galaxy. The earth is only one state. Scientists are top dogs everywhere.

When boy meets girl, for instance, they cannot just run off and get married. Their wedding—even their courtship—must first be approved by a council as eugenically okay.

The structure of society is based solely on intelligence. Each person gets an emotional and intelligence rating. Those with the least emotion and the most intelligence rank highest.

Personal liberties are curtailed. Records are kept of all conver-

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Collegians Show Real Bridge Savvy

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA—Service

Today's hand is taken from the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament, recently conducted simultaneously in more than 100 colleges throughout the country. The returns are all in, but they haven't yet been counted. I'm inclined to doubt that many of our young men and women in the colleges found the correct line of play in this hand.

The bidding is reasonable enough. South cannot quite venture a free bid over East's heart overcall, but when North reopens the bidding with a takeout double, South must jump to two spades to show that his hand is far from worthless.

North needs no further encouragement. From his point of view there should be a good play for game if South has as little as a five-card spade suit to something like the queen, with a king on the side.

West makes the perfectly normal opening of the fourth best heart, and East wins the first trick with the queen of hearts. It is now up to East to be a hero.

If East pussyfools by returning his singleton trump or another heart, declarer will easily make the contract. If East returns the ace of hearts, for example, dummy ruffs, and declarer draws with the king and the ace. South now finesse the ten of clubs around to East's king.

At this point there is nothing that East can do to defeat the contract. South will surely be able to discard on dummy's long club and the defenders will get only one heart, one trump, and one club trick.

Nevada Fisherman Makes A Good Catch

There is a different story to tell if East is a hero at the second trick. He must lead a diamond up to dummy's ace-queen.

Now South cannot make the contract. Declarer draws two rounds of trumps with the king and ace, after which he takes the club finesse to East's king. East promptly returns another diamond, thus forcing out dummy's remaining top diamond.

Before declarer can obtain a six-

Harvester 9 Slates Childress, Dalhart

Five non-conference games have been added to the Harvester baseball schedule, coach Dwayne Lyon has announced.

The Harvester diamonds will meet the Childress Bobcats in a three-game series at Childress, March 27-28, with one game slated the first day and a double-header the second day.

The other two non-district games will be against Dalhart. The Harvesters will play at Dalhart March 31 with Dalhart coming to Pampa for the second game April 14.

The five games give the Harvesters a 23-game schedule for the year. The District 1-A schedule of 18 games had previously been arranged.

About 20 boys are aspiring for a place on the Harvester lineup. Ed Dudley is the only returning letterman. The Harvesters didn't field a baseball team last spring but did have a team a year before that. Dudley, as a sophomore, was named on the all-district team in 1951 as an outfielder.

The following boys are out for the Harvester diamonds:

Many species of wildlife have become extinct, not because they were killed off deliberately by man, but because man changed the face of nature with lumbering, building and farms so that unadaptable types of life could not survive.

Harvester 5 Fared Well On Free Tosses

The state champion Harvester cagers turned in a respectable 69.5 per cent performance from the free throw line during the 1952-53 season.

In the 26 games, the Green and Golders made good on 540 free shots out of 780 attempts.

Jimmy Bond compiled the best average among the regulars, canning 133 out of 172 for 77.3 per cent.

Fred Woods had the second best free throw record with 71.4. Woods dropped 73 out of 109.

The Harvester averaged 30 free shots per game during the season and averaged making 20.8 per game.

Buddy Cockrell ranked next to Bond in receiving most gratis tosses. Cockrell was awarded 145 free pitches, making good on 91 for 62.7 per cent.

It must be pointed out that the 240 misses by the Harvester from the gratis line doesn't mean it deprived them of that many points. Many of the misses came on a 1-2 situation where the player would miss the first shot and make good on the second.

Following is the individual free throw record for the Harvester during the season:

Kuntz	11	12	91.6

Russell Signs As Schreiner Coach

DALLAS, March 12 (UP) — H. N. Russell, who resigned as "pressure-free" Schreiner Institute football coach because he "was fed up with pressure," has accepted a job as head football coach at the Pioneer Junior College Conference.

Schreiner, a power in Texas junior college circles, is a member of the Pioneer Junior College Conference.

Russell, who was paid an estimated $30,000 by SMU for the rest of his seven-year contract term, declined to discuss his salary at Schreiner. He was believed getting about $12,000 annually at SMU. He was succeeded at SMU by Chalmers Woodard, recently of McPherson College, McPherson, Kan.

Russell, 57, said he would report to Kerrville Sunday. There is no spring football practice at Schreiner.

The tall, gray-haired coach said he would teach several classes at the institute in addition to coaching football.

Andrew Edington, president of Schreiner Institute, said there would be "absolutely no pressure" on Russell there.

The school has no football scholarship. It had a 7-3 record last year under Claude Gilstrap, who left to take the head coaching job at Arlington State College, a member of the same conference.

Other members of the Pioneer League are San Angelo, Ranger, and Tarleton State College.

Golfers Ridicule St. Pete Course

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 12 — UP — Sammy Sneed and Cary Middlecoff refused to play because of the condition of the course Thursday as the field teed off in the first round of the $10,000 St. Petersburg Open golf tournament.

The tourney is being held on the Pasadena municipal course. Winter rules will be followed for the first time on this winter tour. The course has had little rain during the past few months and the committee admitted the fairways were in poor condition. However, the committee insisted, the greens were fast and "excellent."

Ed (Porky) Oliver, who fired a 70 in Wednesday's pro-amateur event, commented dryly, "Well, maybe this proves you don't need a golf course to play golf."

However, Al Besenink of Groesinger, N. Y., who won the pro-amateur event with a five-under-par 67, said, "I saw nothing wrong with the course at all."

Moore Outpunches Cuban Nino Valdez

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 12 — UP — Archie Moore, light heavyweight champion of the world, was still looking for the jewel in his crown Thursday.

Wednesday night he slugged his way to a unanimous decision over Cuban heavyweight champion Nino Valdez in an uproarious 10-rounder that had the spectators standing in the final round.

But Thursday he took a plane for Spokane, Wash., and a Tuesday engagement—no nearer to a big money bout than ever before.

Archie's next opponent is Al Spaulding and the chances are that the hard-hitting champ will add him to his hit parade.

"We are going to try to smoke out Jack Hurley," Moore's manager, Charlie Johnston, said after the fight. "We hope to get a title match against his boy Harry Matthews."

Howard County JC Champions

AMARILLO, March 12 — UP — Howard County Junior College of Big Spring, Tex., Thursday held the region 5 national junior college basketball championship and will represent the region in the national tournament beginning Monday at Hutchinson, Kan.

Howard County defeated Eastern Oklahoma A&M College of Wilburton Wednesday night 67 to 66 in the finals, after Oklahoma A&M Tech of Okmulgee overcame Claremont College 84 to 79 to win the consolation championship.

Arlington (Tex.) State placed third in the tourney, defeating Connors State of Warner, Okla., 71 to 49.

E-Tex 5 Wins Again In NAIA

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 12 — UP — Defending champion Southwest (Mo.) State of Springfield and two former NAIA winners Thursday led the parade of small college teams into the quarterfinals of the 19th annual tournament.

Southwest State, along with Hamline University and Indiana State, both former tournament champions, all won in second-round play Wednesday night, although Hamline had a close call, sacking out an 86 to 84 victory over East Illinois in final seconds of the game.

Indiana State handed Arkansas Tech its first defeat this season, 100 to 81, and Southwest State won handily over Stetson of Florida, 98 to 71.

Tennessee A&E, the first all-Negro team to play in the tourney, easily defeated St. Benedict's College of Atchison, Kan. 79 to 56 in the final game of the second round.

The quarterfinals bracket of eight also included Mississippi Southern, East Texas State, Findlay (Ohio) College and Nebraska Wesleyan.

Pairings for the quarterfinals round:

8 p. m.—Nebagala Wesleyan vs Southwest State.
10:30 p. m.—East Texas State vs Tennessee A&E.

BASEBALL TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

TUCSON, Ariz., March 12-UP—The New York Giants' key experiment of the spring was underway Thursday when shortstop and Captain Alvin Dark was shifted to second base and rookie Daryl Spencer remained at short.

Dark, who signed a two-year contract for $32,500 a year recently, will remain at second if Spencer lives up to expectations. Manager Leo Durocher believes the switch could make the Giants' infield the best in the National League.

Dark made his debut Wednesday as the Giants defeated the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 3, for their fourth victory in five Grapefruit League games.

Cubs-Indians
MESA, Ariz., March 12-UP—Hank Sauer, the National League's most valuable player in 1952, is serving notice that he hasn't lost his home-run touch.

Sauer, who hit 37 home runs to tie Ralph Kiner for the National League lead last year, has hit three homers in five games for the Cubs this spring. He belted No. 3 Wednesday as the Cubs defeated the Cleveland Indians, 6 to 4.

Tigers-Braves
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 12-UP—The New York Yankees encountered the Detroit Tigers Thursday for the first time this spring with mingled feelings of curiosity and disbelief.

The Tigers, last in the American League last season, entered the game perched atop the Grapefruit League standings with a 4-0 record.

Manager Fred Hutchinson's Tigers achieved their fourth victory Wednesday when they outslug the Boston Braves, 14 to 10, while the Yankees were bowing to the Washington Senators, 7 to 4.

Reds-Phillies
TAMPA, Fla., March 12-UP—From the Army, was the sensation of the rmw ysa thesenator onA of the Cincinnati Reds' camp Thursday.

The young backstop, who is not even listed on the Reds' roster, hammered out two homers, two doubles and a single and drove in six runs Wednesday as Cincinnati downed the Philadelphia Phillies, 11 to 7. Both Bailey's homers came off Howie Fox, a big side-wheeling righthander.

Red Sox-Cardinals
SARASOTA, Fla., March 12-UP—Manager Lou Boudreau was more convinced than ever Thursday that his "infant infield" may be the Boston Red Sox' regular infield of tomorrow.

The quartet of youngsters was directly responsible for the Red Sox' 5 to 3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday. Mill Bolling tied the score with a home run in the ninth inning and singles by Harry Agass and Ted Lepcio, sandwiched around Johnny Person's triple, won it with two out in the 12th.

Dodgers-Athletics
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 12-UP—Second baseman Jackie Robinson was sidelined with a muscle strain in his right leg Thursday as the Brooklyn Dodgers put their five game winning streak on the line against the Philadelphia Athletics.

Robinson suffered the injury, described as minor, in the fifth inning of the Dodgers' 4 to 2 triumph over the Athletics Wednesday. He is expected to be out of action two days.

Braves-Los Angeles
SAN BERNARDINO, March 12-UP—The St. Louis Browns, who believe they will have one of the more potent batting lineups in the American League this year, pointed Thursday to their average of 10.2 runs-per game in Grapefruit League competition.

The Browns staged their biggest outburst of the spring Wednesday, collecting six homers and 18 other hits in a 29 to 4 walloping of Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League. It was the Browns fourth victory in five games—all against PCC competition.

Pirates-All Stars
HAVANA, Cuba, March 12-UP—The Pittsburgh Pirates had concrete evidence Thursday that their $100,000 investment in pitcher Paul Pettit may begin to pay dividends this year.

Pettit, who had a 15-8 record for Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League last season, pitched six shutout innings and allowed only four hits as the Pirates defeated the Cuban all-star, 3 to 2, Wednesday night.

75 Cinder Teams To Bid For Honors In Annual Border Olympics This Week

LAREDO, Tex., March 12-UP—Three powerful track and field teams—Oklahoma A&M, Texas and Texas A&M—were favored Thursday on the eve of the 21st annual Border Olympics.

At least a half dozen records were expected to fall during the two-day meet beginning Friday at Laredo.

M. R. Davis, director of the event, said the track was fast and the U. S. weather bureau promised generally clear skies for the meet.

Oklahoma A&M smashed through to a runaway victory in the Southwestern Recreation Track and Field meet at Fort Worth last weekend. But Texas A&M, the defending Border Olympics champion, and Texas were not entered in the Fort Worth meet.

The Oklahoma Aggies were expected to shine in long distance events. The Texas Aggies, while rated weaker than last year, repected to top his own Border Olympics shot put mark of 53 feet, 8 1/2 inches. Hooper surpassed that record in the world Olympic at Helsinki last year and has shown consistent improvement as this year's season progressed.

The half-mile record of 11:55.6, set in 1938 by Wayne Rideout of North Texas, also was considered likely to fall, and mile record of 4:17.3 was due to be assaulted by Fredrick Eckhoff of Oklahoma A&M who ran a 4:17.2 mile in Fort Worth last Saturday.

Texas' relay team was expected to better its own record of 41.9 seconds for 440 yards.

Bobby Ragdale of Texas A&M has done better than Border Olympics mark of 23 feet, seven inches in broad jump, and that record appeared doomed.

Davis said there have been only three days all winter in Laredo in which conditions were not perfect for track and field events. Last year, however, rain washed out part of Friday's schedule.

Entries in the college division are defending champion North Texas State, Hardin-Simmons, University of Corpus Christi, Texas A&I, Sul Ross, McMurray, Howard Payne, East Texas State, Southwest Texas State, Stephen F. Austin and Abilene Christian.

Junior college entrants are defending champion Victoria, Del Mar, Texas Christian freshmen, Rice freshmen, Baylor freshmen, Texas Southmost, Southwest Texas, Pan American, Kilgore, Paris and Schreiner.

Four teams which battled their way into the Texas state AAU basketball semi-finals, were poised Thursday to go all-out for the state championship and a trip to the National AAU tourney in Denver March 15-21.

Among the semi-finalists were Brooke Army Medical Center, 74 to 63 winners over the San Marcos Cats Wednesday night, Midland 66 Oilers, who defeated Monsanto of Texas City 77 to 56, and the Fort Sam Houston Rangers who ousted the Medical Field Service School 54 to 75.

Although an organ with a keyboard was described in the Second Century B.C. in Alexandria, it was not until the 12th Century that they were used effectively.

Bulgaria Beauty Refuses To Spy On Lover, Flees 'Stakhanovist Love'

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

"Life is hard in my country very hard," Milka Najaroff said when I interviewed her recently in Austria for NEA Service. "But people live somehow. Sometimes we even forget our troubles and are very, very gay. Bulgarians are a happy people, you know. They love to sing and dance."

Milka would have been the happiest girl in Bulgaria had she been able to marry 27-year-old Georgi and live in peace and obscurity forever after. Georgi was working in an automobile assembly plant by day and studying engineering at night.

But the Red regime decreed that Milka was to be a stakhanovist bride, and her troubles started soon after she and Georgi announced their marriage plans.

Milka was called to the office of the "personnel manager" where Georgi was working. It was the manager himself who informed her that her husband-to-be was a suspected enemy of the state. These were serious charges against Georgi, he said. Unfortunately, the nature of the charges could not be revealed.

"The personnel managers in all Bulgarian enterprises are known to be secret agents of the Soviet M.V.D.," Miss Najaroff added, almost in a whisper.

As the Red cop continued his harangue, Milka's heart began to beat faster. She threw herself at his feet and began to plead with him to save her boy friend.

"This was apparently what the Communist official was waiting for. He told the frightened girl that the 'Bulgarian Popular Democracy' was magnanimous—was always, in fact, prepared to give offenders a second chance. Georgi could still prove his good faith to the Communist Party and the state by increasing his production in the automobile plant—thus setting an example to the other workers.

But Milka was at the same time to keep the Red manager informed—without letting Georgi in on the secret, of course—of all her future husband's activities, friends, and so on.

It was only then that the awful truth dawned on the unhappy girl. She was asked to become an informer for the secret police—inform even on the man she loved.

Georgi, who knew the facts of life under Communist dictatorship, immediately realized that the game was up. There was only one way out—the frightened girl.

"Stakhanovist brides" are not an exception behind the Iron Curtain. They are the rule. So is the "Stakhanovist family" which is currently being glorified in Communist "poetry" and "literature."

Romania's "literary" journal La Vista Romanesca recently painted an ideal image of such a "stakhanovist family."

The hero of this journal's story is called Imreh and he is "an ideal worker in the Communist Fatherland." Imreh participates in socialist competition and is happy only when he has his tools in his strong hands.

When Imreh remains in the factory after working hours (as it frequently happens), his wife, Irina, brings their little daughter to the factory to show her how her father works. Family happiness is complete in front of the machines.

With such an example before her, the Communist journal concludes proudly, little Aurica, Imreh's daughter—will surely become a "stakhanovist" when she gets to be 15 or even 12 years old. One day, she may even compete with her father for higher production norms."

No, these are not the ravings of a Communist dreamer. Four Hungarian children who recently reached Graz, Austria, will testify to that.

These boys and girls, aged from 12 to 15, recently found a way through the Hungarian frontier "curtain" of mines and wires into Austria.

Asked why they set out on such a perilous trip alone, without even saying good-by to their parents, the eldest girl told the Austrian police in matter-of-fact tones, "Why, because we are tired and rather frightened to go on with our work."

Their work consisted in salvaging (in their free time) scrap metal on the battlefields of the last war to feed the Communist factories producing equipment for a new war.

WHEN MILKA NAJAROFF threw herself at the Red official's feet, it was the opening they were waiting for to make her a spy.

Malenkov May Find Trouble When He Tries To Boss Mao

By PHIL NEWSON
United Press Foreign Analyst

It will take more than mere lip-service to prove the "indestructible friendship" between China's Mao Tse Tung and the new rulers of Communist Russia.

In fact there is reason to hope that with China, as elsewhere, the Red China cannot be overlooked. Georgi Malenkov and his lieutenants in the Kremlin will run into trouble.

For Malenkov has inherited the name of Russian premier but not Stalin's fame.

The necessity of presenting close ranks before the rest of the world may lead Mao Tse Tung to acknowledge on paper Soviet Russia's continued leadership of world communism.

"Bossing" May Change Picture

When the upstart Malenkov, who didn't even join the revolution until it practically was won, starts giving Mao orders, the picture may be different.

Not immediately, but in the long run it might help us reach a settlement of the Korean war.

Russia has been more interested in continuing the Korean war than China.

Before India submitted her recent Korean peace plan to the United Nations, she had discussed it

Lefors Groups Win Honors

LEFORS (Special) — The Lefors High School representatives to the Area meetings in Lubbock, Canyon, and Tulla Saturday, brought back their share of honors for the school.

Desmond Brewer, the Lefors band director, took his band to Tulsa to participate in the band contest there, and brought back several awards. Taking first place honors in the first division were: Gwen Thurmond and Melba McCarty, each in twirling; Gertrude Chisum drumming; Jany Roberts trombone, and Phillip Kimberly coronet.

Gertrude Chisum and Phillip Kimberly took first place of all percussion and cornets. The brass ensemble also rated first place. Marilyn Mullins and Carolyn Mapples each won a second place in twirling.

The band, consisting of forty-five members with Vern Hogan as major, took second place in marching and sight reading, and took third place in concert.

In Lubbock for the F. H. A., Marie McPherson of Lefors was elected the Area 1 song leader, and Georgetta Still won third place in the talent show. Norma Lee Lantz is the F.H.A. sponsor in Lefors.

McLean Square Dance Club Planning Jamboree Saturday

McLEAN (Special) — Next Saturday night, March 14, will see the climax of a square dance school in McLean. As a "graduation" the McLean Square Dance Club and the Do-Si-Do Square Dance Club will hold an old-time square dance jamboree in the American Legion Building at 8 p.m.

Since last November, these two clubs have been meeting each week for instruction and practice under the direction of Jimmy Enloe of Pampa. Enloe will be in charge of the Jamboree. Of the class, twenty-six couples from the Do-Si-Do Club and five couples from the McLean Club have been participating in these weekly meetings.

The clubs have alternated each week in playing host to the sessions.

Mrs. W. S. Stubbs is president of the Do-Si-Do Club and Marvin Hindman is president of the McLean Club.

Entitled To A Friend
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 11—UP—Gov. Gordon Craig, who has been plagued by disputes with 400 Indiana legislators, said he discovered a fat mouse in his office that lived on crumbs from lunches and bedded down under a filing cabinet. When a visitor asked if he was going to set a trap for it Craig replied: "Hell no. You're entitled to one friend in this office."

Southwestern Life was chartered to serve the people of Texas...

Today... more than
ONE BILLION DOLLARS
of Life Insurance in Force

ON MARCH 10, 1903, Southwestern Life Insurance Company was chartered to serve the people of Texas.

It began as a small business dedicated to the provision of sound life insurance and investment services to its three million Texas neighbors. True to these purposes, since July 4, 1903, when the first policy was issued, it has been growing in Texas and with Texas and for many years has been the largest insurance company in the nation which confines its business to its home state.

Today, as the Company observes the golden anniversary of its founding, it takes great pleasure in announcing that total insurance on the lives of Southwestern Life policyowners has reached and passed $1,000,000,000.

During a half-century Southwestern Life has helped hundreds of thousands of Texans provide a measure of financial security for themselves and their families through life insurance. More than a hundred and sixty-five million dollars has been paid to policyowners and their families in policy benefits. More than two hundred and fifty million dollars has been loaned to Texas real estate owners and many millions of dollars more have been invested in state and municipal bonds and corporation securities for the development of Texas.

The Company's place in the community and in the life insurance industry today is the cumulative result of these fifty years of business association with our Texas neighbors, the purchasers of Southwestern Life policies. It was and is their respect and confidence in the Company and its field representatives which enabled Southwestern Life to survive and to find its place in our free enterprise system. It is this friendship and good will which we cherish and gratefully acknowledge as we come to the end of these first fifty years and look forward to another half-century of responsible and fruitful service to the insurance-buying public.

Our 50th annual report, with many interesting sidelights on a half-century's growth, is yours on request.

Guards Can't Protect Ike From Par

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Upstairs at the White House in the locker room, too. President Eisenhower's golf game may be bullet proof, but the Secret Service agents who trail him down the fairway can't protect him from par.

Every time the President goes on a golf course at Augusta, Ga., or here at Burning Tree, he is under discreet but constant surveillance of a small group of Secret Service men.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

If you have decided to reduce, here is a way to do it sensibly, easily, and safely. Just go to your drug store and get a four-ounce bottle of Barcinate. Four into a pill bottle or jar and fill with grapefruit juice. Then take two tablets two or three times a day. The improved Barcinate carton also contains appetite-sour tablets which help to lessen the taste buds which lie on the surface of the tongue. Over four and a half million bottles of Barcinate have been sold in Texas in nine years. There is no starvation diet or back-breaking exercise with this Barcinate plan. It's the very first bottle doesn't show you the sensible, easy way to take off ungrainly weight and help you regain youthful slenderness. Just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 75 Pounds

"I have lost about 75 pounds and reduced my waist ten eleven inches, taking Barcinate," writes Mrs. A. E. Henderson, 1607 Tudor Street, Paris, Texas. "I feel much better since I got rid of the excess weight."

11 Pounds Lost

Mrs. W. T. Burns, 748. Jackboro, Texas, writes as follows: "I think Barcinate is a grand medicine. I have lost eleven pounds taking it."

Says Roberts Had Certain Type Of Talent

TOPEKA, Kan., March 12—UP—Republican National Chairman C. Wesley Roberts had "a certain type of talent" which a Kansas insurance company needed to represent it in the sale of a building to the state, the insurance company president said Wednesday.

Edgar C. Bennett, president of the Grand Master Workmen of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, a Kansas insurance firm, said the company paid Roberts $11,000 on the deal—a $10,000 commission and a $1,000 retaining fee.

"We had a problem which we felt demanded a certain type of talent, and we felt that Roberts had that talent," Bennett told a state legislative committee investigating the transaction.

Roberts represented the insurance firm in the sale of a building to the state which is located at state tuberculosis sanatorium grounds at Norton, Kan.

L. Gov. Fred Hall, a Republican, former Gov. Alf M. Landon and other Kansas Republicans called the transaction "influence selling" for which Republicans had attacked Democrats in the national administration.

Roberts, who is expected to appear before the committee soon, said he did not register as a lobbyist as required by Kansas law because he was not lobbying when he talked with the 1951 House Ways and Means committee chairman about the sale of the building.

Frustrated Taxpayer Tries Extreme Method
DALY CITY, Calif., March 11—UP—Everett Morgan Jr., 32, who spent two long evenings fruitfully trying to balance his federal income tax, tried to make up his tax payment by breaking into the safe of a local market, police reported.

IN THE CHIPS—Spotted as a big money man, Leroy Dayton, 14, of Wheeling, W. Va., finally returned $300 to authorities after a man saw the boy with a fist-full of cash and informed the police. The money was lost by a Bridgeport, Ohio, storekeeper. It was O.K. with Leroy, but he was angry because no one thanked him for returning the full amount of money.

Nightingale' With Nightstick Policeman Is A 'Florence

By IRVING FANG
NEA Special Correspondent
FLORENCE, S.C.—(NEA)—Ever meet Florence Nightingale carrying a night stick? You will if you campaign the hospital corridors of this South Carolina town.

Patrolman Hubert Scott has made an off hours avocation of visiting the sick and infirm for more than 11 years. It makes no difference whether it is a bottle of soda pop for a kid, a phone call home for an accident victim or a few comforting words for a bereaved mother. Scott is always ready and willing to help them shoulder their burden of grief or share their joy at a new arrival.

This unusual hobby got its start in the little town of Mullins, S. C., where Scott went, one day in 1941, to visit an old man. Scott had known him as a child in the crossroads community of Nichols, seven miles distant. Now, paralyzed and blind, he was taken to a hospital. In the hospital the tall policeman found others he knew and continued to visit them long after his old friend had died.

During his weekly or twice-weekly visits, he would find a moment to stop at the rooms of strangers to inquire after their health and chat about this and that. "They enjoyed talking to me," he said, "because they needed to talk and wanted to feel others were interested in them."

While talking to patients, he learned of many who were destitute. Scott was responsible for adding dozens of names to the county welfare list. Later, at the request of the Red Cross, he shared in the grim task of informing wives and parents of the deaths of soldiers overseas. In 1944, personal tragedy struck Scott three times within two weeks. He received a telegram that his youngest brother had been hit by a mortar shell while serving with the paratroops in Europe. With both arms, both legs and back broken, the boy was sent, near death, to an Army hospital on Staten Island, N. Y.

Scott immediately flew north to see him. At his brother's bedside he received another telegram. His wife's brother had been killed. Scott returned home. A few days later he learned his brother had died in New York.

Then another telegram arrived. His oldest brother had been wounded in New Guinea. Now Scott's hospital visits took on added meaning. Gaunt from lack of sleep and heavy heartache, he would move quietly from bed to bed, speaking softly doing little favors.

Ike Decides To Forego Press Meet

WASHINGTON, March 12—UP—President Eisenhower, busy with other matters, decided to forego his scheduled news conference Thursday. It was the first time he had cancelled a news conference since he announced his intention last month of holding regular weekly meetings with reporters.

White House aides said there was no special significance to the President's failure to meet with newsmen. They said he merely decided to skip it. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President definitely would hold a news conference next Thursday, probably at 2:30 p. m. That apparently is the hour he preferred for afternoon conferences instead of 4 p. m. which was customary for years at the White House.

Has No Value
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 11—UP—Attorney General Lathrop Castle said the inventory of a strong box filed with him contains the following items: "One marriage license—value."

WHY NOT SWITCH... to the whiskey that really tastes best to you?

IT'S EASY to find out for yourself why so many folks like you are switching to Calvert. Just pick the smoother, mellower whiskey in this simple test:

1. SNIFF ¼-oz. samples of Calvert and any other whiskey. Compare their aroma—without knowing which is which.

2. TASTE Calvert and the other brand to judge them for smoothness, mellowness—freedom from harshness.

3. CHOOSE the whiskey that tastes better to you. We feel sure that you'll pick finer, smoother-tasting Calvert. But you be the judge. Fair enough?

Husband's Fall Is Hard On His Wife

PORTLAND, Ore., March 11—UP—John J. Fee fell from the top of a tree he was pruning Wednesday and didn't receive a scratch. His wife, however, suffered a lump on her head, a lacerated hand and lost consciousness for 10 minutes. He landed on her.

In the days before the white man came, Kentucky was known by the Indians as "The Dark and Bloody Ground" because of the wars between the Iroquois and Cherokees for its possession.
