SITUATION SERIOUS—Lake Texoma water official stands at the normal level of the lake, now at its lowest level in its history. U.S. engineers estimate that it will take 3,078-million acre feet to bring the lake back to normal. Turbines at the dam, now generating 75,000 kilowatt amperes of electricity, will have to be shut down if the lake sinks 12 more feet. (NEA Telephoto)

Congressional Leaders Doubt Ike Can Balance Budget In '54

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 —UP— Responsible congressional sources reported Tuesday that the Eisenhower administration has grave doubts about the possibility of balancing the federal budget for the coming 1954 fiscal year. Informants said high administration officials now fear that — instead of rushing through tax-cut bills — it may be necessary to ask Congress to postpone the tax relief already scheduled to take place during the next 12 months.

Around The Clock

U. N. Planes Plaster Reds

SEOUL, Korea, Feb. 10 —UP— United Nations Air Force and Navy bombers and fighter-bombers in round-the-clock raids Tuesday blasted Communist supply centers, bridges, rail lines and front line positions.

Sixteen American B-29 Superfortresses delivered the "big punch" dumping 320,000 pounds of bombs on twin supply centers near the Yalu River.

The superfortresses from Okinawa hit Charyon-Gwan, a key railway hub 25 miles southeast of Sinju on the Manchurian border Monday night. The B-29's used radar to dump 16 tons of 500 pound bombs through a cloud cover.

No Air Interference Although the big Red Air base at Antung, Manchuria, was close by, no Communist fighters were sighted.

Returning pilots said anti-aircraft fire was "light to moderate." Red search lights made futile attempts to stab through clouds to spot the big raiders.

"We could see their searchlights sweeping through the sky," one pilot said. "They weren't having much luck, though, because their beams hit the clouds under us."

Pilots said fires were visible through openings in the overcast over the target.

Bomb Supply Buildings A fleet of medium bombers joined the Allied raiders and bombed one 70-acre area containing 240 supply buildings and another 75-acre area containing 85 buildings and a freight yard.

Five rail lines and a loading platform at one target join the rail supply route from Sinju southeast to Sinanju and other Red supply centers.

Thunderjets, shooting stars, rockets, and Mustangs plastered Red bunkers, caves and gun positions along the front.

The fighter-bombers concentrated along the eastern sector and near Kaesong, home of the Communist armistice delegation.

Galveston Set For Mardi Gras

GALVESTON, Feb. 10 —UP— About 60 Texas debutantes are expected to take part in the 1953 Galveston Mardi Gras here Feb. 14-17. Mrs. Bryan Williams, chairman of the Texas Mardi Gras Association, said Tuesday.

Festivities for the colorful event held each year will begin with a St. Valentine's Day reception and ball at the Buccaneer hotel for the debutantes, their escorts and parents and members of the Mardi Gras Association.

The celebration culminates in the coronation Tuesday night at which time the identity of the king and queen will be disclosed.

Wiley Seeks Speed-Up Of Nationalists' Arms

Charges Shipments Deplorably Behind

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 —UP— Chairman Alexander Wiley of the Senate Foreign Relations committee called Tuesday for a speed-up of arms shipments to Nationalist China which he charged are "deplorably behind schedule."

He made the statement as Senate Republicans and Democrats stepped up their free-swinging debate over President Eisenhower's moves to crack the Korean stalemate.

Senate Republican leader Robert A. Taft warned Monday night of the danger of clamping a naval blockade on Communist China without Allied support.

However, Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) not only called for a blockade but said he favored allowing United Nations planes to bomb Red-held Manchuria and the use of atomic weapons to hurry an end to the Korean war.

Wiley called Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, before his committee to testify on the new military strategy unfolding in the Far East.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, invited to an earlier session to report on his European inspection tour, also faced sharp questioning on the President's Asian policy.

Wiley said he would urge Bradley to press for increased arms deliveries to Chiang Kai-Shek. This would make more of an impression on the Chinese Reds, he said, than the President's order lowering the Seventh Fleet bar to a Nationalist attack on the China mainland.

It was Democratic charges that this order might lead to World War III that touched off the first major foreign policy debate in the Republican-controlled 82nd Congress. But the main interest now centers on the advisability of a blockade.

Egyptian Plane Crash Reported CAIRO, Feb. 10 —UP— An Egyptian military plane crashed between Suez and El-Arish Tuesday killing 32 of 35 military personnel aboard, reliable sources said.

The 1953 Fat Stock show (Feb. 15-18) is about ready to roll following a joint Chamber of Commerce board of directors and agriculture committee meeting here today where show leaders reported their schedules, entries and outlined the program.

From the number of entries the show will be a record breaker, Clyde Carruth, Junior Livestock Show superintendent, told the group which met at 12 noon Monday in the Palm Room.

The show is to begin Sunday with display of all stock.

Paul Crouch, agriculture committee chairman and head of the committee to line up bidders for the sale, said because of the large entry list attempts would be made to have plenty of bidders on hand.

Entered in the Junior Livestock Show are 92 head of pigs and 72 head of fat steers.

The three shows, Top O' Texas Hereford Breeders Show and Sale, FFA Livestock Judging Contest and Junior Livestock Show and Sale, are independent of each other although they are running concurrently. E. O. Wedgeworth, chamber manager, explained.

Other matters taken up by the joint meeting group was the publicity and advertising committee project of a new brochure on Pampa.

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Feb. 10 —UP— Twelve jurors, who have listened patiently for nearly two weeks to the intimate details of Mary Jean Parsons' life, will be asked to decide Tuesday whether the wealthy Tulsa girl was sane when she shot her husband to death.

District Judge Arthur Tipps indicated that he would limit defense and state attorneys to two hours in which to present their final arguments.

Attorneys met with Judge Tipps Monday night to go over his charges to the jury, the judge planned to read his charges when court reconvened at 8:30 and final arguments were to start at 9 a. m.

Rebuttal Witnesses State's attorneys summoned seven rebuttal witnesses Monday. Under questioning by Dist. Atty. William Clayton, Mrs. Parsons' father, Burnett Fleeger, revealed that the defendant spent a three-week vacation in Honolulu just before she was brought to trial on a charge of killing L. Richard O. Parsons, her bridegroom of six weeks.

Fleeger said he took Mrs. Parsons out of the Timberlawn (mental) Sanitarium in Dallas so that she could accompany him and Mrs. Fleeger on a Christmas-holiday trip. They stayed at the Royal Hawaiian hotel from Dec. 19, 1952, to Jan. 12, 1953, he said.

When Clayton pressed Fleeger for details of the trip, defense counsel Leslie Humphrey objected that the state was "trying to prejudice the defendant before the jury." Judge Tipps overruled the objection.

Residents Questioned Clayton questioned four residents of El Paso about the mental condition of Mrs. Parsons on Feb. 16, 1952, the day she shot Parsons in the head as he lay sleeping in bed.

WIND DAMAGE— Two sides of a concrete block fence (foreground and background) to the rear of the residence of Ed Cleveland, 1812 Christine, were knocked down early Monday night by a small twister, one from the north, the other from the south. As seen by Mrs. T. J. Worrell, 1707 Christine, there was "a lot of noise" as the clouds came together over Cleveland's fence (seen in the rear) and then snapped down the fence (in the foreground). Almost An Inch Of Moisture . . . Freezing Rain Coats Panhandle With Ice

Pampans today were making their weary way over ice-coated streets and sidewalks, following a typical Panhandle rain-sleet-and-lightning storm, lashed by winds up to 45 miles an hour.

And weather predictions indicated more clouds and more cold later in the day and tonight.

Featuring a 40-degree temperature drop and average wind velocities of 35 miles an hour, the storm — which included hail and thunder, too — brought good news to area farmers and ranchmen in the form of .86 of an inch of rain.

All highways and roads servicing Pampa were reported open, though ice-covered, late this morning. And all other surface and air transportation was reported operating though, in some cases, behind schedule.

Pampa schools were closed today but the remainder of the day throughout the county were open. Zig-zagging mercury readings were reported in the last 24 hours. From a low of 38 degrees Monday morning, temperatures climbed to 45 in the afternoon only to plummet to 25 early this morning. By 11 a. m. it had struggled up as far as 26 degrees. "Only one city automobile accident — a small fender-bender — was reported by city police by noon today."

Though Pampa streets were both icy and muddy this morning, one of the main causes of strife for motorists was the icy conditions.

City Limits The site of Lamar Elementary School — Pampa's newest grade school — and 13 other blocks officially became a part of Pampa at 11:50 a. m. today when the City Commission unanimously passed the annexation ordinance on its third and final reading.

The 70 acres brought into the city are bounded on the east by S. Hobart; S. Farley on the west; McCullough on the south and W. Crawford on the north.

At the same time a concerned city commission authorized City Manager R. H. Cruce to extend negotiations for additional water rights south of the city as "insurance against any future limitations on a city water supply."

The instructions to Cruce came immediately after the commission approved a water rights agreement with Emmett Osborne for $2,666.66 plus an additional $1,000 if and when any water is piped from the area to the site. The lease is located on the east two-thirds of Section 108 Block 3, L&GN Railroad surveys in Gray County.

Reading of the 1953 paving ordinance will not be held until next week because of an overlooked technicality — passage of two resolutions recognizing the need for a city water supply.

Teachers Pass First Hurdle For Pay Hike

AUSTIN, Feb. 10 —UP— A $34 million money bill, carrying with it the threat of new or increased taxes, went to the Senate floor Tuesday as Texas teachers cheered their first victory in a legislative drive for bigger salaries.

All other teachers would receive a similar pay boost — a flat $500 a year across the board.

Monday night, as an estimated 1,400 teachers and educators eagerly listened, the 11 members of the Senate Education committee gave unanimous approval to the measure.

Spectators, virtually all of them teachers, filled the Senate chamber to overflowing. Scores stood in the Capitol corridors, while hundreds of others sat on window ledges and some sat on the floor.

Sen. A. M. Alkin Jr. of Paris, author of the bill, stepped down as chairman of the education committee to face a procession of misspeakers, all of whom endorsed the pay raise. There were no opponents.

Neither of two proposed budgets before the Legislature provides money for the teacher pay raise. If passed by both houses, the Legislature presumably would have to provide additional funds by the levying of new or increased taxes.

Budgets Submitted The two proposed budgets were submitted by Gov. Allan Shivers and the Legislative Board.

Shivers, in his budget message, said he favored a pay raise for the teachers but added it should be a "cost of living raise."

In another night-time session Monday night, the House State Affairs Committee approved two anti-Communist bills authored by Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio.

Bell's first measure would require the State to pay for the cost of the trial.

Reds Wring Guilty Pleas From 23 In Bucharest Spy Trial

LONDON, Feb. 10 —UP— At 30 persons accused in Bucharest of being American and British spies have pleaded guilty, Communist radio broadcasts said Tuesday in reporting the latest in a series of purge-show trials in Soviet satellite countries.

The indictment read at the opening session of the trial Monday accused the group of passing military information to American and British authorities and of attempting sabotage in the oil fields, the Romanian radio said.

Four of the group were accused of treason and plotting against the state. The others were charged with treason and being accomplices of traitors. The group included former Finance Minister Alexander Alexandri, Bucharest radio said.

Moscow radio broadcast a Tass dispatch from Bucharest which said all the accused had pleaded guilty.

School Vision Check Begins In McLean

Vision checks of children in McLean schools are being conducted by Mrs. W. F. Walsh, county school nurse, according to B. R. Nichols, county schools superintendent.

She is making the tests with the telebinocular machine donated by area schools by the Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority Feb. 5.

Also slated for immediate survey are diabetes tests of students in Hopkins. The school district recently voted to pay the expenses which are expected to run approximately $1 for each child.

A recent diabetes survey of the Pampa school children, sponsored by the Lions Club, showed no positive results in the city.

County Selects Depository; Hires Engineer For Survey

Pampa's Citizens Bank and Trust Company has been selected by the county commissioners court as the depository for Gray County funds and school funds for the next two years.

Terms of the contract are a rate of 2 1/2 per cent on a six-month time deposit and a borrowing rate of 1 1/2 per cent.

Only other bank to submit a bid was Pampa's First National Bank with a time deposit (six months) rate of 3 1/2 per cent and a borrowing rate of 2 per cent. First National also offered a substitute proposal of a three-month time deposit at a rate of 2 per cent.

Following some discussion as to whether it were more important to have a better borrowing rate or a better time-deposit rate, commissioners unanimously approved the Citizens bid at their Monday afternoon meeting.

Citizens has had the contract for the past 10 years. County Judge J. B. Maguire said.

Other activity included a surveying job assignment, plans for a trip to Plainview and discussion of some road-patching.

Shortly after George Thompson, a Pampa civil engineer, with offices at 512 W. Kingsmill, had come before the court to state his qualifications and then left. Commissioners decided to hire him for the job of surveying a 30-acre tract adjacent to the Kellerville Bridge on the fork of McClellan Creek, 35 miles south of Pampa.

The county's problem there centers around some rip-wraps erected by the Ft. Worth and Denver Railroad over part of a road crossing the creek. Only cars and pickups now can get across the road, while trucks must make a long-winded around trip through McLean. Adjacent property is owned by L. H. Webb and Elmer Immel. (See COUNTY, Page 2)

Court Rules Phillips Pet. Co. Not Liable In Death Of Cattle

A 1st District Court jury this morning was given an instruction by Judge Lewis Petroleum Co. of any liability in the loss of cattle by C. E. Broadhurst that died after they drank from a slush pit.

The trial got underway yesterday morning — a few minutes before noon — and was completed before 5 p.m.

Testimony in the case centered around several head of cattle owned by Broadhurst which drank from a slush pit; so many dying from the oil and others becoming seriously ill. Broadhurst claimed the company was liable because the pit was not fenced. The company contended it was not liable and that it was not its duty to fence in the slush pit.

Judge Goodrich said several cases are on record covering similar facts, and in all instances the Supreme Court has held it is not the duty of oil companies to fence in slush pits. Any cattleman who allows his cattle in a field where a slush pit is located does so at his own risk, the judge explained.

The jury was dismissed last night and told to report back by 9:30 a.m. today when the court reads its charge. Included in the charge were the instructions to hand in a verdict favoring the defendants, Phillips Petroleum Co. Expecting the Broadhurst vs.

Phillips case to last two days, days to file a brief of exception with Civil Aeronautics Board in its denial of Pioneer Airline's application to serve the area.

Judge Goodrich set 9:30 a.m. Wednesday for the compensation suit of Ben P. Dumas against the Texas Employers Insurance Association.

Meanwhile two other compensation cases were hanging fire for immediate settings this week — James R. Cook vs. American General Insurance Co. and Robert Fewell vs. Employers Insurance Association. The Cook case has been tentatively set for Thursday providing the Dumas case is finished in time.

Both the Broadhurst and Dumas cases were selected Monday morning.

SIGN OF THE TIMES—Some unknown friend of the new administration has changed a street sign in Redwood City, Calif., from "Truman Street" to "The Street" giving the city a popular "poplar" intersection.

Rogers Favors Formosa Move But Deplores The Publicity

At least one Democrat in Congress appears fully in accord with President Eisenhower's order ending the blockade of Formosa.

He is Rep. Walter Rogers, Pampa, who has always been a strong advocate of utilizing the troops of Chiang Kai-shek against the Chinese Reds.

But, the Pampa congressman voiced a strong protest over the publicizing of the order, declaring it was putting the Communies on notice.

In his weekly newsletter to the 18th Congressional District, Rogers indicated strongly that the move should have been more or less secret.

The chances for a successful invasion by the Chinese Nationalist forces would have been much better had such invasion attack been a surprise attack. Many people here are wondering why advance notice should be given the Reds forces as to possible or probable military movements of the UN forces. Certainly the Red Chinese forces would lose no time in setting up a formidable defense against a possible invasion force if they are given advance notice as to the general locality in which such invasion might be attempted. The setting up of such a defense would require less manpower and less troop withdrawal from Korea than would be necessary if the Reds were forced to defend against a surprise attack.

Rogers said he "sincerely hopes" that Chiang Kai-shek's forces can mount a major onslaught "in the nature of an invasion" of the Red Chinese mainland. However, he expressed doubt that this could be accomplished without the aid of U.S. Naval and ground forces.

Rogers' query to the State Department, and its answer, on whether it was true that UN troop movements had to be cleared through a UN department in which Constantine Zinchenko, a Russian spy, has an important desk, received quite a bit of attention from Eastern newspapers, including one French newspaper.

The State Department, Rogers said, denied that such clearances are made, adding that the United States is in actual control of all operations in Korea, and that the United States does not clear any proposed troop movements through any section of the United Nations.

Rogers split his vote on two bills passed on Feb. 3 — voting for the bill extending government reorganizational powers to President Eisenhower, but voting against the bill creating another under-secretary of state post at $17,800 a year.

The Pampa congressman also doubted "the basic constitutionality" of permitting executive branch to legislate, but believed the President is entitled to the full support of both houses in carrying out the wishes of the American people.

On the bill requested by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Rogers said he did not see "how it was possible to cut government expenses by creating a $17,500 job plus hiring the additional employees needed to serve the additional branch."

Meanwhile the weekly newsletter spread to the U.S. Senate where Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson has started sending out bi-weekly letters.

The first of his letters was not received by The Pampa Daily News, but his second one was.

In it Sen. Johnson commented on the recent hullabaloo surrounding the appointment of Charles E. Wilson as defense secretary and his General Motors holdings of $2,500,000.

Johnson said the Senate generally agreed to allowing a president to choose his own cabinet, but added that it would be embarrassing to have a stockholder in General Motors holding such a post since the corporation has a more than $5,000,000,000 in defense contracts with the government.

The senior Texas senator said no one in the Senate doubted Mr. Wilson's integrity, but felt he could do a better job once he had disclaimed his holdings. There would be less criticism, also, Johnson contended.

paving in the stipulated areas and authorizing the city engineering department to draw up estimates and rolls for the affected city blocks.

The ordinance, Director of Public Works Ray Evans said, calls for 214 units, entailing 87 separate blocks. A unit is a section of one or more blocks costing less than $2,000 to pave.

At the noon hour the commission began studying a proposed re-writing of city policy governing extension of water and sewer lines for new subdivisions.

Monthly bills of $18,317.67 and library bills amounting to $84.75 were also approved.

Joe Parish, a photographer for the El Paso Times, was the last state rebuttal witness. The state introduced two pictures taken by Parish, one taken before a hearing last May in El Paso in which Mrs. Parsons was declared sane and the other taken after the hearing.

Court recessed when defense attorneys said they would offer no rebuttal testimony. The defense called 29 witnesses, including a number of prominent psychiatrists who testified they believed Mrs. Parsons was of unsound mind when she shot Parsons.

Mrs. Parsons has been free on $50,000 bond since the El Paso jury ruled she was sane. Except for the Honolulu vacation, she has spent most of her time in the Dallas sanitarium.

hearts that no more lives would be lost in our Eighth Army."

On many occasions, Van Fleet has made clear his resentment against being denied support for pushing the battered Communist Army northward and destroying it.

Resentment increased when it became obvious to the world that Communist negotiators were stalling at the Kaesong and Panmunjom conference tables.

"No good will come out of it (the armistice talks)," a correspondent over Amritsar was saying at the time. "The only thing those people understand is force."

Other high commanders in Tokyo and Washington, including former UN commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, believed that an Eighth Army drive might carry as far as the narrow waist of Korea, possibly 100 miles north of the present battleline.

There, they believed, any offensive would end in a stalemate without hope of complete victory unless an all-out war against Red China was ordered.

COUNTY

At 9 a.m. Wednesday Maguire, commissioners and Ray Wilson, county auditor, are scheduled to take off from Perry LeFors Field on a fact-finding jaunt to Plainview where they will inspect the Hale County Airport with the county judge and airport manager.

No final action was taken from a discussion among commissioners about the advisability of patching or sealcoating the Calanese Road, a farm-to-market road that stretches for 11 to 12 miles in Gray County.

It was the last meeting of the court for February. Regular meetings start the first day of the month (except Sunday) and the second Monday of the month — meaning the next meetings are scheduled for March 2 and 9.

Disapprove Bills

The affairs committee decided to send a pair of bills sponsored by Rep. G. P. Pearson Jr. of Navasota to the House floor with the recommendation that they do not pass. Pearson's bill would have abolished the state legislative budget board and the legislative council.

Alkin, speaking for the teacher pay boost Monday night, pointed out that educators have not been given a salary increase since 1949. He said his bill would increase the teacher pay from $2,000 to $5,000 a year with the state footing the entire cost.

"I want money enough to attract somebody that's capable to teach," Alkin told the committee.

R. L. Proffer of Denton, former state senator and president of the Texas State Teachers Association, said that if better pay is not provided a teacher shortage will continue because "teachers will find more lucrative sources of employment."

Accident Victims In 'Fair' Condition

Two injured area men — one in a high-line fall and the other in an auto wreck — are faring moderately well in area hospitals today.

Frank Jameson, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jameson, 837 E. Denver, is reported "resting better" this morning in Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo, according to his wife who is at his side.

Robert D. Holdeman, 25, of Wheeler, is reported in "fair" condition today in Highland General Hospital.

Jameson suffered a fractured skull, multiple burns and shock Thursday morning when he fell from a high-line wire and hit a hard-surface road, striking his head and back.

Authorities expect him to be in the hospital for at least 10 days.

Mrs. Jameson said.

Holdeman suffered a broken leg when a car in which he was riding skidded 225 yards and overturned four times early Sunday morning on the Miami highway.

The other occupant, John W. Wolford, 29, of Wheeler, was killed,

Why They Flee From 'Paradise' They Can't Endure Terror Imposed By Moscow Say Thousands Escaping To West Every Month

By LON DENNEN NEA Staff Correspondent
Thousands of men, women and children behind the Iron Curtain — estimated as high as 250,000 each month — are trying to shake the dust of Communist-ruled countries from their feet.

Though some are undoubtedly Red agents aiming to infiltrate the West, the overwhelming majority, according to U. S. and Western intelligence, are genuine anti-Communists. They run grave risks and dangers in their desperate bid for freedom from Red "paradise."

The number of anti-Communist refugees has been swollen in past weeks by East European and German Jews fleeing the anti-Semitic terror raging in Russia and the Kremlin-dominated countries.

For the second time in a generation Jewish survivors of Hitler's gas chambers face wholesale extermination — this time at the hands of the Reds working closely with the dregs of Nazism.

"Since 1945, nothing has been seen like this panic flight from Soviet domination," says Ernest Reuter, courageous and Communist-hating mayor of West Berlin. The number of East Germans seeking refuge in West Berlin has reached "catastrophic proportions."

Not all who attempt escape from behind the Iron Curtain reach safety in the free world. Many are caught on the satellite borders or shot while escaping. Such casualties are reported by refugees to run into the thousands.

Red-ruled Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania, Poland, the Soviet-occupied Baltic states and now Eastern Germany have adopted drastic measures to check the flow.

Forty-year-old Jan Chmurek, Poland's former export-import chief, just escaped from his country by swimming the treacherous river Neisse. He told me that every "farmer" within 15 miles of the Polish-German border is a secret Soviet M.V.D. agent. Not a single Polish or German civilian remains in the entire area.

Escapes from behind the Iron Curtain nevertheless continue and are mounting daily despite the grave risks and unimaginable dangers involved. Why? ... "I could no longer endure the terror regime imposed by Moscow on Poland," said Chmurek.

Sub-standard living conditions and, above all, dread of the midnight knock by the secret police were the reasons why three Lithuanian fishermen risked their lives in their break for freedom.

They sealed the Russian officers of their fishing boat below deck and steered the ship to Sweden where they asked for political asylum.

Last year, 12 Polish seamen stormed the bridge of their tiny minesweeper, locked up their officers and brought their ship into the Swedish port of Ystad where they applied for political asylum.

They told port officials that their mutiny was inspired by United States broadcasts to seek freedom in Sweden from communism.

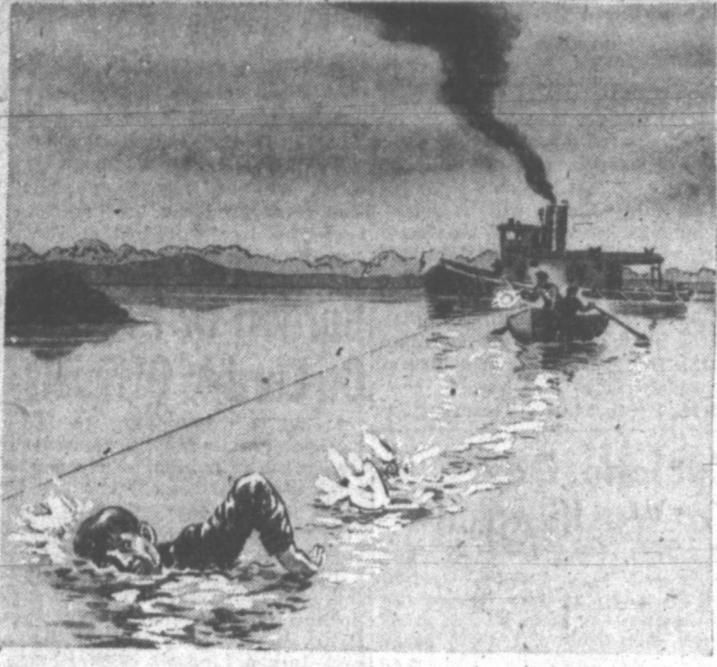

"We were tired of the terror regime in Poland, sick of political officers on board and disgusted with the living conditions in our country," the Polish seamen said.

Next day, four Poles set down a bullet-marked home-built plane at a Swedish airfield. They, too, asked asylum because they could "no longer bear living conditions in Poland."

lava was steaming up the Danube. Suddenly a man dived from the tug and started swimming towards the Austrian bank.

Three armed Czechs set out after the fugitive in a dinghy, and followed him ashore, firing as they ran, and eventually overtook him bleeding badly from a bullet wound. At that moment an Austrian customs officer, attracted by the firing, appeared.

The Czech Communists, aware that they had brazenly violated

UNDER HAIL OF BULLETS, Czech fugitive swims ashore to the sanctuary of Austria while shipmates he left pursue him.

Austria's frontier, released the victim and made off. The incident was hushed up by the Austrian authorities — obviously to avoid new international complications in their already troubled country.

Only few of the daring escapes are reported in the Western press. This is mostly due to the fear of the refugees themselves. Having been subjected to the Red terror they remain in the grip of fear even after they reach a Western haven.

No refugees from behind the Iron Curtain like to reveal his real name. He must protect relatives he left behind in "paradise."

The Communists, like the Nazis, subscribe to the theory of "collective guilt." Even children who failed to spy and report on their parents are guilty of the "crimes" committed by their elders.

Each Person In U.S. Should Get Three Cards Valentine's Day

LOS ANGELES — If you don't get at least three Valentines on the 14th of this month you will have a right to beef, squawk, fret, fume and complain, because that is your rightful share of the some 475,000,000 which will be exchanged in the United States.

Before you ask me how I know this I will tell you that I know it because I placed my little hand in the hand of a friend of mine who was a newspaperman before he fell from grace and became a public relations man, and allowed him to lead me to the plant of Buzza - Cardozo, one of the world's largest greeting card companies.

My friend's name is Bernie Milligan, and he must be good at his racket to put me out of bed to visit a greeting card abattoir. On the way out he stuffed me with statistics about Valentine's Day.

The first Valentine was sent in 270 A.D. by St. Valentine himself just before his execution. It was sent to the blind daughter of a jailer and read, "From Your Valentine." The romantic aspect of the occasion traced to five birds which are supposed to begin their mating on February 14th.

Milligan, as the car wheeled on to Sunset Boulevard, let his imagination run hog wild and told me that three quarters of the people now living on the earth probably would not be here were it not for Valentines. Pama, in old days, used Valentines to propose. Result: us.

Valentines, Milligan told me, are divided into three groups, Comic, sentimental, and juvenile, with sentimental leading all the rest with fifty per cent. Ohio buys more Valentines per capita than any other state, California second.

Valentines in Texas invariably carry the word "friend." On the other hand, New England states demand calm, cold, dignified cards. The Buzza - Cardozo plant is a delightful place. It is an establishment where every day is Christmas, New Year's, St. Patrick's Day and Easter. It is a sunshine plant, for sure, because all hands, from top to bottom, are concerned with cards that carry messages of love and cheer.

Even the comic card — such as husband to wife and wife to husband on birthdays, anniversaries, and the like — are based on affection.

Mr. Buzza pointed out to me how much Valentines contribute toward balancing the budget. The 475,000,000 Valentines, at 3 cents mailing cost per envelope, net something like $1,000,000 for the Post Office Department. Add this to Christmas, Easter, Mother's Day, Father's Day, and the rest, and that's a lot of money.

Speaking of "and the rest," Helen Farries, the editorial head of the firm, and the gal responsible for the greetings that the cards carry, estimates that there are more than 6000 messages that can be sent by cards.

I wish I had space to print a few hundred of the rhymes and jingles that pour into her office each day. They cover everything from greetings to "my first husband's brother-in-law" to "a tribute to baldheaded cousins." Really, everything under the sun.

The three top sellers of all time, Mr. Buzza told me, were his cards bearing the poems, "The House by the Side of the Road," "Trees," and "If."

In order to insure you readers of getting at least one Valentine I am going to send you one. Here goes:

"If I lived in a House by the Side of the Road,

Trade Barriers Fall As Schuman Plan Goes Into Action - -

This month famed Schuman Plan, more formally known as the European Coal-Steel Community, goes into effect among its six member nations. Customs duties, import and export quotas, transport rate discrimination and double pricing gradually will be eliminated to form a common market for France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg. The ideal of the common market, unimpeded by the trade barriers mentioned above, may take five years for complete realization. But is an important step toward the unification of Europe and the beginning of truly free competition. Says Jean Monnet, head of the Community: "Our experiment can be considered a test for the future stages of the construction of Europe."

Jean Monnet, right, author of the plan to batter down Europe's trade barriers, meets with members of the council of ministers, and which is intent upon lifting...

... Horse-and-buggy era trade restrictions. This first step towards a United States of Europe means that this French coal miner will be working hand in hand with...

German steel workers to improve the material lot of the entire continent, not just for their separate nations. The common market for iron, ore, scrap iron and steel will include...

... The six nations shaded on the map above. Such great industrial areas as the Saar and Ruhr will now work to build instead of to destroy a war-weary Europe.

Oil Industry Says U. S. Public Need Not Fear Death Of Curbs

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10—Oil and other petroleum products industry spokesmen and government officials gave assurances today when price controls die April 30, the public need not be alarmed. The consensus was that some fractional increases, notably in the oil-short California, Arizona, Nevada and Oregon region. But after small adjustments, prices for the rest of the nation should stabilize at about present levels.

This contrasts with predictions by a price stabilization official in the old Truman administration that oil decontrol would cost the nation $1 billion a year.

Tax Intake Sets Record For U. S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10—The government rang up a history-breaking $9,502,546,288 in taxes in 1952. Internal Revenue Bureau figures showed Saturday. Individual taxpayers chipped in with a little more than half the total while corporations accounted for a quarter. The rest came from levies, on such items as liquor, narcotics, telephone calls and fishing rods.

Bogart Is Injured NAPLES, Italy, Feb. 10—UP—Film actor Humphrey Bogart suffered mouth injuries but director John Huston escaped unhurt Friday night when their automobile hit a stone milestone on the Appian Way between Naples and Rome.

There are latent factors which may change this. For example, domestic producers, caught between a five-year-old crude oil price freeze and much higher production costs, say they need $2 billion to expand their output. In addition, Oliver Knight's international Oil Workers Union (CIO) is readying spring wage demands.

But current factors are expected to influence the post-controls picture. These include a slightly depressed market, ample stocks of crude and most refined products on hand, and keen competition in a highly competitive industry.

General counsel Russell B. Brown of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, hailed the Eisenhower plan. The IPAA has waged a long and stubborn campaign for decontrol.

Brown said the President had taken "commendable recognition of the maladministration that grows up under a law that is not needed." He said there is not now and never was any valid reason for freezing oil prices.

Brown cited a statement made by former Interior Secretary Oscar L. Chapman, who also was Petroleum Administrator, just before he left office. Chapman said—and a PAD official affirmed it—"decontrol of prices and products would result in local competitive adjustments but would not have a generally inflationary effect on the economy."

Brown himself said "whatever fluctuations may follow, will be the normal fluctuations of a competitive industry in its efforts to provide the necessary incentives to insure the security of our country."

A PAD spokesman said, "not very much" when asked what would happen to prices. "There will be no appreciable changes except in the Far West," he added.

A spokesman for the National Oil Marketers Association said "there will be increases on the West Coast but minor adjustments elsewhere at about the present level."

President Frank M. Porter of the powerful American Petroleum Institute, refused to comment but in a recent speech at College Station, Tex., he said among the deterrents to building up Southwest oil reserves were "prices arbitrarily depressed by government action, excessive tax drains, an interference with managerial freedom of private enterprise."

Hollywood Likes 'High Noon' ... Booth, Cooper 'Oscar' Leaders

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 10—UP—Hollywood sentiments Tuesday favored Broadway star Shirley Booth, veteran actor Gary Cooper and a simple Western movie, "High Noon," to win movieand's coveted Oscars after the 25th annual Academy Award nominations were announced.

Twenty excited players, nominated by 11,665 members of the movie industry, put on their best election smiles and began the yearly nail-chewing for the coveted honors.

The final winners will be selected by 3,600 members of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences in balloting beginning Feb. 25. The four lucky actors and actresses will be handed gold statuettes at the award presentations at the Hollywood Pantages theater March 10.

Miss Booth has been a strong favorite since she reprised on the screen her famous Broadway role of a dowdy housewife in "Come Back Little Sheba." Cooper, who won an Oscar in 1941 for "Sergeant York," was another popular favorite for his 1952 portrayal in "High Noon."

Miss Booth faces heavy competition from veteran movie queens Joan Crawford, nominated for "Sudden Fear," and Bette Davis, named for "The Star." Susan Hayward, another strong contender, was considered the leading dark horse for her portrayal of Jane Froman in the musical "With a Song in My Heart."

Best Supporting Nominations for best supporting roles for actresses went to Gloria Gribble, "The Bad and the Beautiful"; Jean Hagen, "Singin' in the Rain"; Colette Marchand, "Moulin Rouge"; Terry Moore "Come Back Little Sheba," and Thelma Ritter, "With a Song in My Heart."

In addition to "High Noon," films nominated to win the best picture Oscar were "The Greatest Show on Earth," "Ivanhoe," "Moulin Rouge," and "The Quiet Man." "High Noon," "Moulin Rouge," the story of French artist Toulouse-Lautrec, and "The Quiet Man," an Irish love story, shared honors

Burden Of Proof On Laredo Officials

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 10—UP—Laredo officials must produce positive proof of homicide before customs broker George Ochoa can be tried here on charges of murdering two men, a federal district court judge said Tuesday.

Judge Clotaria Margalli said that there was a lack of evidence supporting charges that Ochoa shot Henry Whittenburg Jr. of McAllen and James Lindsay of McKenzie, Tenn., in a Laredo hotel in 1949.

Mexican authorities so far have declined to extradite Ochoa to Texas. He has been held in federal jail since early 1950. Margalli's ruling temporarily freed the Texan but he was immediately bound over to the court to face perjury charges involving statements that he was born in Reynosa, Mex., instead of the United States.

Savings Top $200 Billion

CHICAGO, Feb. 10—UP—Savings of the American people topped the $200 billion mark last year for the first time in history, the United States Savings and Loan League said Saturday.

The league, composed of savings and loan associations, said savings rose nearly $3 billion from 1945 to the close of 1952, and stood at an estimated $201,000,000,000 at the beginning of this year.

Statistics compiled by the league's financial research department showed that all major savings media except postal savings registered substantial gains in the seven years.

League President Charles L. Clements said the biggest gains, however, were made by savings associations and life insurance companies.

With seven nominations apiece in various eras of the movie industry.

U. S. Home Builders Place Emphasis On Salesmanship

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10—UP—Home builders, confronted for the first time since World War II with a "buyer's market," are placing new emphasis on sales programs and catering to the public.

Despite the tougher job of selling homes, however, industry leaders confidently expect their booming business to continue in 1953. Their estimates on housing starts for this year range from 1 million to 1.2 million.

In 1945 millions of Americans were "desperate" for "shelter" housing. Many had to double up with other families until the housing industry could build them homes.

Situation Changes

Today this situation has been changed radically. The industry has built 7 million houses since the war and now a "surprisingly low" number of families are doubled up. Home buyers are more excited and are shopping more carefully.

Added to the industry's problems in selling homes is a widespread shortage of mortgage funds at the interest rates required for government insurance. Home builders hope to convince Congress to lower down-payment requirements, extend mortgage terms and perhaps increase mortgage rates high enough to attract more mortgage money.

The rest of the selling job they feel they can handle themselves.

THE LINCOLN COUNTRY

Sketched on the Spot by Ralph Lane

NO. 5—THE HUMBLE OFFICE

In April, 1837, Abraham Lincoln left New Salem for Springfield to be a partner in the law firm of John T. Stuart, whom he met while serving in the Black Hawk War. Their law practice flourished and by July, 1837, they had a dozen more legal cases than their nearest competitor. The law office on the second floor of Hoffman's Row was sparsely furnished, and had a bed on the right side. As the first floor of the building was the home of the Sangamon County Circuit Court, the Lincoln-Stuart law office was frequently used as a jury room.

'Robin Hood' Goes Western

CHICAGO, Feb. 7—UP—Juvenile authorities were puzzled Saturday about what to do with a youthful "Robin Hood" who stole $1,400 and then bought cowboy outfits and toys for his school chums.

Larry Sauseda got a reputation as the freest spender who ever attended Dante school on the near West Side. Police said he bought at least a dozen pairs of $8.50 cowboy boots for his 10-year-old classmates.

Then he furnished cowboy pants, shirts and hats. And threw in guns, gun belts and holsters.

Then he topped it off with gaudy cowboy rings, costing $2 each.

But Larry's band became disgruntled. He learned no matter how much you do for some fellows, they are never satisfied.

Wanted Some Bills

His pals said they sure would like to have some $10 and $20 bills and Larry obligingly came across.

When the boys started flashing the bills in front of teachers, they notified police, and the incident was turned over to detective James O'Donnell and Bernard Brown who had been working on a mysterious "phantom burglary" case.

Mrs. Anna Reithal, 54, a widow, had been robbed of $1,400 last week, but her doors were locked and none of them had appeared to be disturbed. Fingerprint experts were stymied.

Larry and his family live in the apartment behind Mrs. Anna Reithal. A door between the apartment swas fastened by a latch and wooden pegs on Mrs. Reithal's side.

Lifted the Latch

The policemen questioned Larry and he showed the mhow he lifted the latch with a wire and removed the wooden pegs from his side of the door.

He told them he found the money in a box under the sink and stole back to his "hideout," first replacing the latch and pegs.

Larry told the officers he never bothered to buy a cowboy suit or guns for himself and that the whole roll was stolen before he had a chance to spend any of it for personal belongings.

Paul Separza, 12, asked him for $10 Larry said. He took Paul under the front porch, dug up the roll peeled off a bill for him. The big-

Just as you can recognize an old friend by the twinkle in his eye, you can tell Folger's Coffee by its flavor.

The flavor is so unique in its goodness folks have come to know it intimately as the Folger Flavor. This flavor almost speaks to you, saying, "This is the Mountain Grown coffee!"

And it does really speak for itself in vigor and full-bodied goodness that can come only from rare Mountain Grown coffees.

If you have been searching for the perfect flavor, serve Folger's—and experience the joy of finding a new family friend.

So extra rich in flavor you are urged to TRY USING 1/4 LESS than with lesser flavored brands.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Mrs. Friend
I read your answers to the letters in the paper and I think that you help many people, why not me.

I have a problem I don't quite know how to say.
First I must tell you about me. I am 20 and have been married for four years and I have a small son. My husband I have always taken care of as well as he could but what he can do depends on the fact that he has no schooling. We both quit school after the ninth grade. He is one year older than I.

About a year ago I met this man so far above me. He has learning and has been to college. He is wealthy. He is married and has children. He is older than I and his wife is also much older. He says she nags him.

HEART TURNS OVER
Mrs. Friend, I cannot tell you what he means to me. To think that a poor uneducated girl like me should interest him is wonderful. My heart turns over. He is so handsome and has such wonderful manners. He treats me like a queen. He sees me whenever it is possible to get away. He says I make his life bearable.

Sometimes I think what if my husband finds out and then I tell him I cannot see him any more but he always persuades me that he needs me. He says I am so pretty and so gay.

What shall I do? I cannot give him up. It is so wonderful that he even looks at me. His wife is in heaven and still he says he loves me.

HUSBAND DOESN'T KNOW
I don't want my husband to know. I don't want to lose him but after all he is poor and has no learning.

When I think that this wonderful man who is so well known and important in the town loves me I feel that I cannot stop seeing him.

Help me, Mrs. Friend. Tell me what I must do.

Juanita
Dear Juanita
When you think of this wonderful man whom you admire so much, think that he is dishonest because he is cheating his wife and family when he carries on an affair with you who are equally dishonest in cheating your husband and little boy.

Has he ever offered to give his family up in order to marry you? Obviously you don't want to part from your husband and little boy either.

Nothing good will ever come from such a situation. NOT FIRST AFFAIR
Probably you are not the first girl who has intrigued him nor are you apt to be the last. When he tires of you he will turn elsewhere. He has no intention of giving up his wife and children for you. All he wants is the excitement of an illicit love affair which will soon bore him and you will have to give him up anyway.

You know that it is wrong to see him or you wouldn't have asked my advice. Surely you didn't think that I would condone such a situation.

Have you thought of what would happen should your husband discover your affair? Suppose he

Worthwhile HD Club Meets In Adams Home

Mrs. George Adams was hostess to the Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club Friday. Mrs. O.G. Smith gave the council report. Mrs. Adams gave the lesson on knotting. Mrs. William Estes showed the club belts made of beads and knots. Mrs. Adams demonstrated knotting in four different patterns. The knotting may be used for belts, lamp shades or purses.

Mrs. Smith announced that those interested in a home nursing class could report to Mrs. Walter Noel. Food demonstrators will meet with Miss Helen Dunlap on Feb. 12 at 2 p.m.

Others attending were Meses: R. J. Hilton, B. H. Cruce, Gusie Archibald, Jim King, J. L. Carlton, Noah Cude, R. E. Engle, J. A. Hoover, Dewey Johnson, A. A. McElrath, M. L. Robinson, Roy Robertson, Roy Tinsley and Ora Wagner.

leaves you and takes your child from you? Then as your friend tires of you as is inevitable what will you have left?

OBSERVED VOYS
Your husband has provided for you to the best of his ability. He has observed his marriage vows and can expect no less of you. Is your work, then, of no value? Are you aware that you are living a lie when you pretend to your husband that you are faithful while you are having an affair with another man?

Are you the kind of woman who should be rearing your lovely little boy? Will you want him to learn of your actions when he is older? The right way is the easy way for you. Be the kind of wife and mother you know you should be and in the end you will find contentment and happiness and you will have a secure place in your family's affections.

Continue your present course and you will end up with nothing but sorrow and misery.

Eggs - the yolks introduced early into the diet of babies... maintain from then on a lifetime appetite appeal. The United States not only likes eggs but is first in production with a total last year adequate to supply every one in this country with 406 of the sunny-side-up foot.

Scrambled, boiled, poached or omelet style, eggs with taste approval, in combination with other foods, they are a veritable cooking "tool". Consider how they lighten or lighten a soufflé or cake; thicken custards and sauces; bind together oil and vinegar in a smooth mayonnaise. And from a nutritional rating, they are a prized food package. Both the yolks and whites offer high quality protein of a class with meat and milk. The yolk also yields iron, phosphorus, vitamins A, such B vitamins as thiamine and riboflavin, and D.

Four or more eggs a week are generally recommended by nutritionists for the senior citizen... those adults over sixty years of age. Protein foods are important to build and repair body tissues and are needed by the stout and thin alike. The overweight senior citizen need not skimp on eggs... nor lean meats, milk, fruits or vegetables. The underweight person can add extra pounds by taking as between-meal snacks an egg nog, dish of custard, milk or ice cream.

Here are two ways to vary egg servings. In a between-meal egg nog, unsulphured molasses replaces sugar to lend its own sweetening and distinctive flavor. For a salad a good one is the molded kind that combines sliced hard cooked eggs with crisp, chopped vegetables. Use unflavored gelatine and season the salad yourself, with salt and lemon juice.

MOLASSES EGG NOG
1 egg separated
1 tablespoon unsulphured molasses
1 cup hot or cold milk
Beat egg yolk and unsulphured molasses, stir in milk. Beat egg white stiff but not dry; stir in molasses - milk mixture. Sprinkle with nutmeg. YIELD: 1 serving.

EGG SALAD LOAF
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1/2 cup-cold water
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
1 1/2 teaspoons grated onion
1/2 cup finely diced celery
1/2 cup finely diced green pepper
1/2 cup chopped pimiento
4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
Soften gelatine in cold water. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Add salt, lemon juice and Tabasco. Cool. Add mayonnaise or salad dressing - mix in remaining ingredients. Turn into large or individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold on crisp greens. YIELD: 8 servings.

Mrs. George R. Pierce Says Ability Comes With Desire For Creative Work

RUTH MILLETT

A Texas husband developed a new system to keep his wife from "going home to Mama."
When she threatened to leave him, he locked her outside in her nightgown and was busy pulling all her clothes in the bathroom when police arrived. Said the husband to the officer: "I knew she couldn't leave if she had only a nightgown and her clothing was all wet."
It's downright refreshing to hear of a modern husband with enough gumption to take a positive stand when his wife threatens to "go home to Mama."

There are too many divorces these days which result from a "go ahead and see if I care" attitude on the part of husbands and wives.

PRIDE STANDS IN WAY
A wife threatens to go home to Mama and the average husband doesn't bother to put any obstacles in her way. He is too proud to do anything but tell her, "go ahead." And she in turn is too proud to back down on the threat.

Or a husband slams out of the house in a fit of temper and his wife tells him not to bother to come back.

It isn't often that a husband or wife has enough spirit to stand up and say, "You're my husband," or "You're my wife and you're not running out on this marriage right now or ever," and back the words up with whatever action seems necessary and expedient.

The wife, whose husband refused to let her leave home, may have been angry enough to call police but it's a safe bet she'll never know the heartache of the wife whose husband announces her threat to go home to Mama with "Go ahead."

Eighteen years ago, Mrs. George R. Pierce of Lubbock wanted some pewter plates and began asking questions on how to work with pewter until she found some one accomplished in metal craft. She took lessons about a month, then began working with metal. This was the beginning of an art career for Mrs. Pierce, speaker at the Pampa Art Club yesterday afternoon in the City Club Room.

Hostesses for the vent were Mrs. George Hofess, Miss Babs Eaton, Miss Roy Riley and Mrs. A. D. Hills.

Miss Charlotte Call - presented piano music during the tea hour. Mrs. C. P. Pursley and Mrs. Hofess attended the refreshment table which was decorated in white and black paper sculpture.

Mrs. Pierce said that the ability for creative work goes with the desire to create. Mrs. Pierce, who has made many plates, trays and other items in pewter, copper, aluminum, tin, brass and silver, has not limited her interests in metal work. She has branched into linoleum prints, gouache, metal enameling, silk screening, monotyping, water colors and pottery.

In making a plate, she first cuts a circle of metal in the desired size. Then she places it over a mold in the shape of the plate she wishes to fashion and pounds with a rubber mallet until the plate is shaped. Some of the trays and plates are designed but require much accurate planning. She makes all of her designs, copying nothing. The designs are placed on the metal in the manner similar to that in which pictures are etched.

Her newest interest is metal enameling and she has made jewelry and bowls using the enamel.

Mrs. Pierce emphasized the desire to create as the basis of creative work. Everyone has the ability to do something creative.

Mrs. Pierce is a trustee for Texas Fine Arts Association. Members of the Pampa Art Club were told of the Texas Fine Arts Exhibit which is available to the local club for display.

Attending were Meses: A. C. Houchin, Joe R. Foster, John Hodge, A. C. Cox, M. M. Moyer, E. W. Voss, O. N. Frasier, L. H. Robinson, George Norris, Grundy Morrison, Harold Wright, W. C. Mitchell, E. J. Haslam, Fred Sloan, O. W. Appieby, H. M. Stokes, W. R. Bell, Lyle C. Albright, Otis Nace, Loyal Davies, W. L. Hesker, T. J. Worrell, Letov Thornburg, J. B. Townsend, W. C. Scott, Willis White, Clifford Whitney, Robert Goodwyn, Robert Clark, K. W. Bunch, C. P. Pursley, Ervin Pursley, A. D. Hills, Lillian Snow, Misses Babs Eaton, Carolyn Wilson, Johnnie Lee Smith, Mary Kennedy, Roy Riley and Anna Merle Cox.

Meeting Scheduled
Miss Charlie Neal Young will present the program, "International Relations," this evening 7 to 9 at the Business and Professional Women's Club when the club meets in the City Club Room at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. George Friauf will show pictures of Europe.

Hot breads make an otherwise simple meal "social" follow the example of the famous southern waffles and bake hot biscuits often. They're quick and easy to do. If you like you can make them up a bit ahead of time. Crush with melted shortening and put into the refrigerator until about fifteen or twenty minutes before serving time.

In the spring when you are serving lots of fruit plates and crisp green salad bowls, remember that "something hot," a delightful addition to such meals are flaky hot biscuits, tender pecan-studded muffins or thick slices of buttery French bread. Work a few drops of onion juice or garlic into the butter before spreading between slices of the bread. Then wrap well in waxed paper or aluminum foil and heat in the oven.

Light Chocolate Cake
1 package semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 egg yolks
1 whole egg
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk

Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels over hot, not boiling water. Cream butter; add sugar gradually, creaming thoroughly. Add egg yolks and whole egg, one at a time, beating well. Sift together flour, baking soda, baking powder and salt. Add alternately to creamed mixture with milk. Stir in melted morsels. Turn into 2 1/2-inch greased pans, 2 inches deep. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 25 minutes. Cool. Frost with Seven Minute or Boiled Frosting; garnish with additional semi-sweet chocolate morsels. YIELD: 1 1/2-inch cake.

A Cake That Is New As 1953 - Chocolate, Of Course!

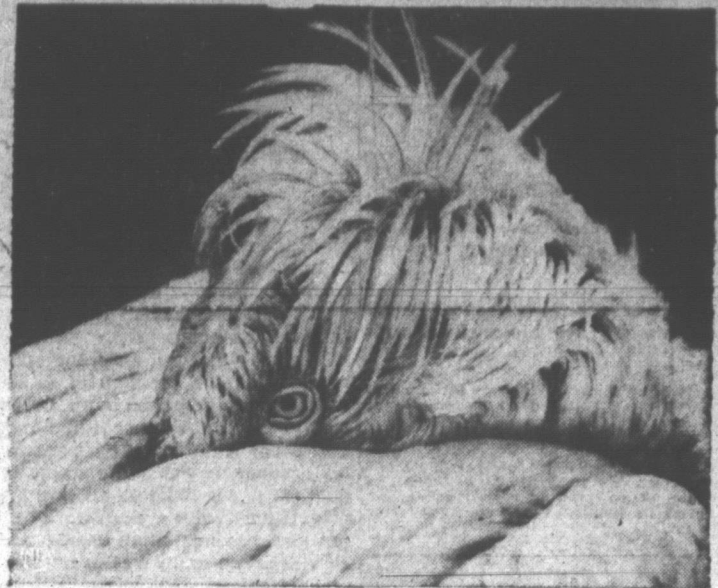

A GRAND thing for baking in a brand new year is a brand new cake. And this is it! It's Light Chocolate Cake with the lighter, more delicate flavor achieved with semi-sweet chocolate. The fluffy, fine-grained texture that good cooks dream of is more than fulfilled in this cake. It's feathery light. And it has a clever provision for the Seven Minute Frosting right in the cake ingredients. The cake is made with one whole egg and two egg yolks. That leaves you two egg whites for the Seven Minute Frosting. There'll be no leftover egg whites or egg yolks when you make Seven Minute Frosting for Light Chocolate Cake. There are dark chocolate cakes galore, but a light chocolate cake is something different, something delicious to bake for the family or for company. The elusive delicate chocolate flavor is simply achieved by using a package of semi-sweet chocolate morsels. These morsels melt quickly for convenient chocolate cookery since they are already in pieces. And to make the smart

Oldster Trudges Toward Pt. Barrow . . . Boyhood Pal Of Will Rogers To Erect Shrine In Wasteland

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Feb. 10 (AP)—A 72-year-old boyhood pal of Will Rogers Tuesday was trudging across the frozen tundra of Alaska, en route to the desolate marsh near Pt. Barrow where the revered entertainer and philosopher died in a plane crash with Wiley Post 18 years ago.

Alaska sourdough Jesse Stubbs said he would head for Fairbanks and then cut north to Pt. Barrow, where he will erect a shrine to Rogers' memory.

He turned down offers of rides to Fairbanks staunchly announcing "I'll walk every inch of the way."

The total distance was estimated at 850 miles. Current temperatures at Anchorage were from five to ten degrees below zero and at Pt. Barrow, the northernmost point of the territory, the mercury frequently dips to 30 and 40 degrees below zero.

Airmen Sentenced For Beating Girl

WEST DRAYTON, England, Feb. 10 (AP)—Two American airmen were sentenced to six months at hard labor Monday and fined $360 each for beating a pretty English brunette who protested when they took the wrong road home from a dance.

The two men were airman Jack N. Wolverton, 23, of Winters, Tex., and Airman 2-c David Henry Jr., 21, of Wisner, La., both stationed at this Air Force depot in the London suburb. Wolverton, with previous convictions of drunkenness in London and of striking a sergeant, also was ordered dishonorably discharged.

Hank Sits Back In Plush Seat For Private Showing Of Movie

Take yesterday afternoon, Mary and I went out to 20th Century Fox to have lunch with Granny and Kate Rice, Harry Brand, Gene and Agnes Fowler, and Frank Neil. When lunch was over Harry asked me if I'd like to see a preview of a picture that will be released soon, "Tonight We Sing," with Pinza, Roberta Peters, Tamara Toumanova, Isaac Stern, and David Wayne.

I said, "We sho' would."

Police Probe Hospital Case

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 7 (AP)—Police opened investigations Saturday to learn why two hospitals refused to admit a man who later died of burns.

The victim, Cristobal D. Ramirez, 53, finally was admitted to Santa Rosa Hospital where he was given emergency treatment. He died Thursday morning.

Police officer Riedus Downing said he spent 75 minutes Wednesday night trying to get treatment for Ramirez after he pulled him out of a burning bed at his home.

Downing said one hospital told him it was "too crowded." The second, he said, gave Ramirez a shot of morphine and sent him to Santa Rosa.

Two members of the Robert B. Green hospital board, one of the places where Ramirez was refused admittance, promised to help police in the investigation.

Board member Roy Phillips said "the whole thing sounds terrible, but sometimes these things just can't be helped."

Angus Cockrell, the other member, said that it was "another case that shows we need more money. We have no room and no beds."

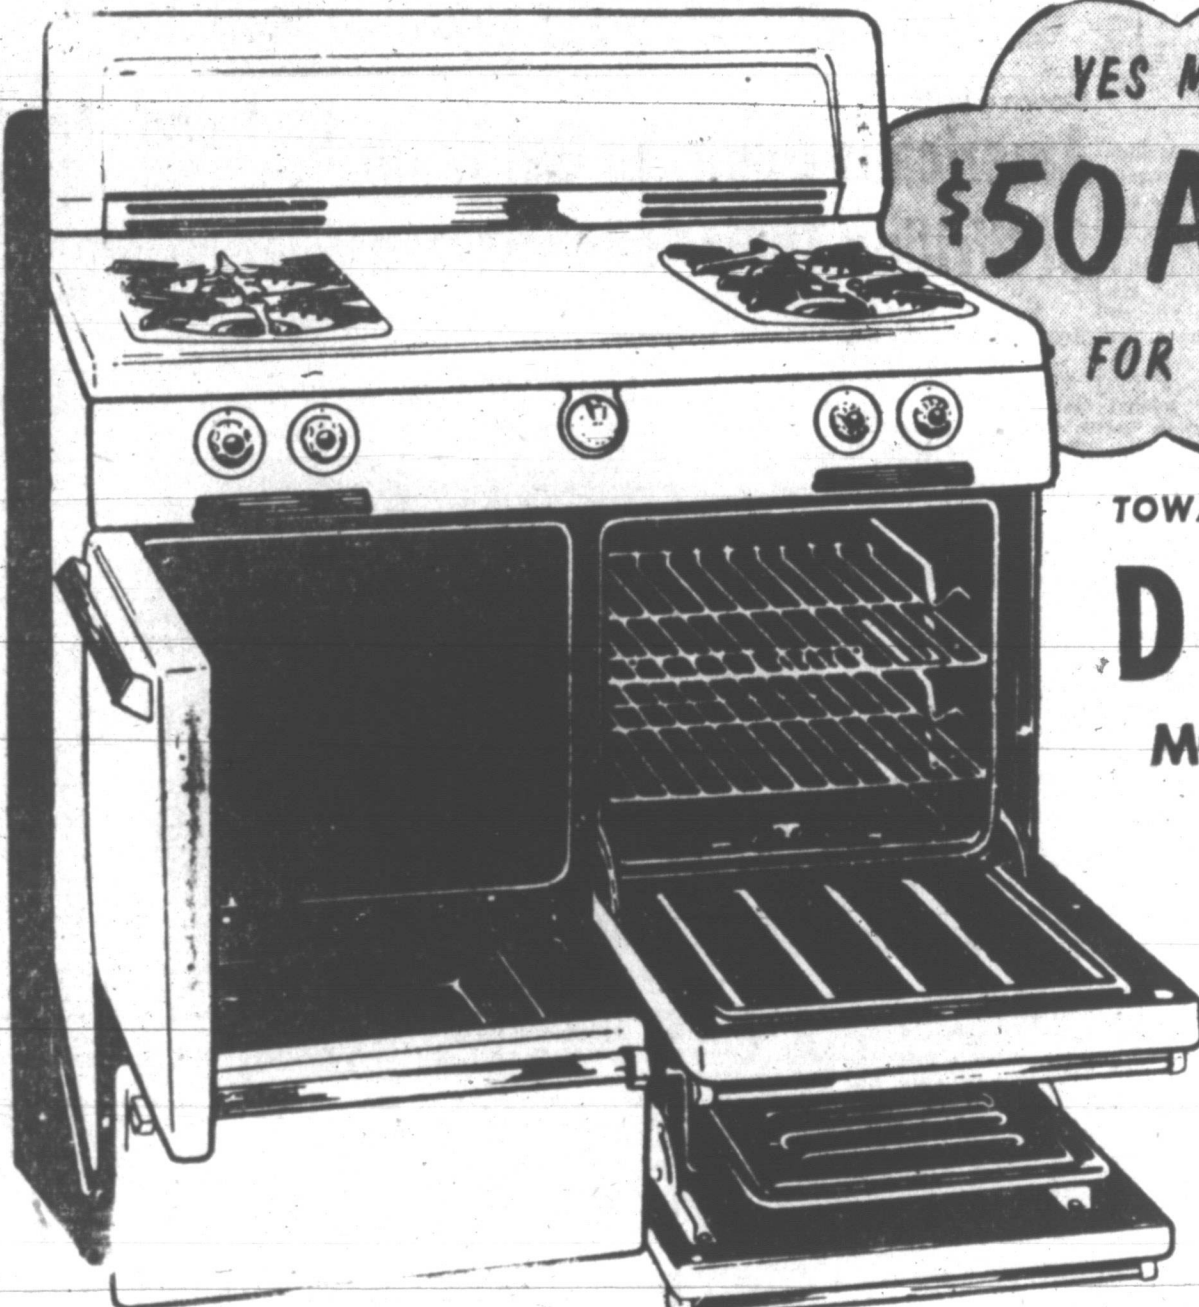

Downing quoted the doctor at Santa Rosa as saying, "We have no beds, but by golly we'll make room for this man."

Police Chief Robert Allen said he would ask at least one of the hospitals for a definite commitment, "agreeing to admit for full emergency treatment all critical cases in the future."

Dare To Change

"I am not afraid of new inventions or improvements, nor bogged to the practices of our forefathers." —Thomas Jefferson in a letter to Robert Fulton in 1810.

The slogan — time for a change — which was so effective in the election last fall, might well be a guide and challenge to all of us in our life and work.

The great advances of all time have been made by men and women who were not afraid of change or of danger, and not by people who wanted to do everything just the way they had always done it.

Some philosopher once said that many a man is so "set in his ways" that "if a new idea should cross his brain it would leave a scar."

Look around you in your office, shop, farm, home or garden. Just pretend that you are new on the job and that you have succeeded another fellow (yourself). What changes and improvements could you make, if you were taking a new look at your routine and your habits of work as if you were studying somebody else?

Keep an open mind. Be willing to learn. Never say: "It can't be done" because some other fellow will be doing it while you are fighting the idea of change.

UN For The Birds

This outfit known as the United Nations is strictly for the birds and if you are suffering any delusions otherwise, we recommend you take a thought on what our brother and sister members of the UN came up with recently.

The subject of issue was the nationalization (government seizure of resource industries which is a form of piracy that has been practiced off and on by countries where integrity of government is at low ebb, and the politicians are playing footsie with the fools and the sheeplike that put them in office. It is also a major maneuver in development of socialism within a nation and the No. 1 tenet of any ism that proclaims the State has superior rights to its people.

The UN's committee on economic and financial affairs has taken the stand that any nation has the right to nationalize resource industries, and at the same time it has rejected a resolution that properties seized under a policy of nationalization must be paid for.

This is nothing more or less than international brigandage, since nationalization of industry as it has been practiced generally involved the seizure of properties which have been developed by efforts and cash of foreign investors.

Thirty-one nations voted to approve this form of piracy; 19 nations abstained from voting and only the United States representative voted "no." The resolution now goes to the plenary session where, according to reports, there is little chance to amend or defeat it.

Incidentally, this deal was promoted in the beginning by Iran which doesn't want to pay for oil properties it has seized and by Bolivia which has no desire to reimburse former owners for tin mines it has appropriated.

This is the gang that some of our sick-minded "do-gooders" want to pal around with, and that a goodly number of soft-brained instructors are teaching your children to respect.

SHARING THE WEALTH

The 13th Harding College Freedom Forum, held on our campus last week, dug deeply into the problem of how to improve labor-management relations in America.

The give-and-take Forum discussions on the problem of labor-management relations were based on the unanimously accepted fact that every American, regardless of his occupation, economic status or politics, has a stake in making the private enterprise system work better and produce more goods and services.

ONE-CENT PROFIT

As this column is being written I have on my desk the January issue of Swift and Company's employee magazine containing a report on Swift's business for 1952 and a personal letter from Swift's president, John Holmes.

Swift's sales last year totaled $2,592,530,543. Raw materials, including livestock, dairy and poultry products, cottonseed, vegetable oils, etc., cost $1,971,527,513 — or 76 per cent. Other operating expenses were $219,093,273.

Mr. Holmes wrote his employees: "To a large degree, our success in 1952 came as a result of good work — and good teamwork by Swift men and women. You have shown your ability to overcome tough problems. I have always believed that the greatest source of Swift and Company's strength is its people. I am now more convinced than ever."

Americans Ought To Get Habit Of Writing Their Congressman

By THURMAN SENSING, Southern States Industrial Council, Nashville, Tennessee

We, The People of the United States, employ certain individuals to run our government for us. We have now hired a new staff. Whether we keep them or fire them depends upon the kind of job they do between now and the next election.

The majority of us didn't think the old staff was doing a good job — so we decided on a change. If the majority of us don't think the new staff is doing a good job, we'll make another change when the next election rolls around.

But that doesn't mean we have to wait four years, or even two years, to let this staff know how we want things run. The party platform is by no means a complete guide. In fact, it is our duty and our responsibility, as employers of the government staff, to not only see that they carry out the terms of the platform upon which they were elected, but to give them additional instructions from time to time to meet varying situations as they arise.

Therefore WRITE YOUR CONGRESSMAN! Perhaps not many of us realize that the privilege to do so is a great inalienable right that is ours by virtue of the fact that we are citizens of this country.

Ike Catapulted Into Midst Of AFL-CIO Rivalries; Jealousies

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON—Although President Eisenhower has proclaimed his intention of playing no political or economic favorites, he has been catapulted into the midst of AFL-CIO rivalries and jealousies already.

Eisenhower first riled Reuther by naming Martin P. Durkin, an AFL official, as secretary of labor, and appointing another AFL man as Durkin's assistant.

Even if a CIO member should be selected as assistant secretary, it would be only a consolation prize, in the eyes of Reuther.

REUTHER'S MOTIVE — Reuther thinks he discerns an ulterior motive in the Eisenhower maneuver.

CONSUMERS' PRICE INDEX — Reuther's prestige as a labor statesman, economist and politician has been challenged head-on by the White House.

REUTHER ANGERED — Reuther was so angered that he has virtually warned union officials not to recognize the Eisenhower action in negotiating new contracts.

WHY EXCLUDE SOME MOVEMENTS? (The Individualist) Our London correspondent, so to speak, reports that British doctors are asking their government to fine patients who do not take the pills the doctors prescribe.

WOPSY by GLADYS PARKER AND IN CASE OF AN ACCIDENT THEY BECOME A FINE STRETCHER SKIS

Ladies To Feature
Tonight's Mat Card

Possibly the largest crowd of the year at the Southern Club Sports Arena is due to be on hand tonight when Nell Stewart and Ida May, two beautiful ladies, will highlight the weekly wrestling card.

It will be the first appearance for both ladies. Miss Stewart is bidding for Mildred Burke's National Women's Wrestling crown. Miss May is just starting out in the ring and has been tabbed as one of the most promising newcomers in the women wrestling ranks.

Miss Stewart is due to have plenty of opposition in Miss May. They will battle it out in a best two-out-of-three fall or one-hour time limit. The all-gal bout will be the semi-final event on tonight's three-bout card.

Ray Urbano and Herb Parks will meet in the final event. They will be out to settle their differences that came about in last week's raffle royal. Urbano refereed the six-man royal and Parks gave the Filipino a little trouble.

Urbano, after taking all he could from Parks, traded several blows with Parks in the ring and later in the dressing room.

Promoter Howard Vineyard saw no better way for them to settle their differences than to pit them up on this week's program. They will battle in a two-out-of-three fall or one-hour time limit.

Ray Davidson and Ace Abbott are ticketed to meet in the 20-minute preliminary.

The box office will open tonight at 7 o'clock. Admission prices are $2 for ringside, $1.50 reserve, and $1.20 bleachers. All reserved seats will be numbered. Vineyard reported yesterday.

The show gets underway at 8:15.

McLean Nears 1-A Basketball Crown

McLEAN, Feb. 10.—The McLean Tigers neared their first cage title in five years here last night when they defeated the Panhandle Panthers, 53-36, in a District 1-A tilt.

The win put McLean two games in the district lead and they need only one win to cop the title. They meet the White Deer Bucks at the White Deer gym Tuesday night to round out their district chase. It is the first time in five years that McLean girls failed to win the district crown.

Kay Williams paced the Panthers' attack with 20 points. Sue Lively was high for McLean with 11 points.

The Tigersettes played again without the services of their star player, Bonita Bailey. Miss Bailey has been out of action with a knee injury since the Canadian tournament several weeks ago.

Indiana Tops UP Cage Poll

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—UP—Indiana's Big Ten Conference leaders wrestled the top spot in the United Press college basketball ratings Tuesday from undefeated Seton Hall.

Although Seton Hall, which has won 22 straight games, received 19 first place votes to only 10 for Indiana, the Hoosiers attracted far greater support for succeeding places and took over the No. 1 ranking with 303 points by a margin of 15 points.

The 25 leading coaches who make up the national press board based their ratings on games played through Saturday night, Feb. 7.

Apparently the coaches were more impressed by Indiana's two victories last week (over Butler, 105 to 70, and over Northwestern, 108 to 84) than by Seton Hall's lone victory over St. Bonaventure, 74 to 67.

Indiana, chosen eighth in the coaches' pre-season forecast of the national race, thus climaxed a steady climb to the top after losing two of its first three games (to Notre Dame by one point and to Kansas State by two). The Hoosiers were ranked 14th in the first weekly ratings, then 12th, 10th, eighth for two weeks, sixth, and second for three weeks in a row.

This week's top 10 was made up of the same teams as last week with a few changes in positions, due largely to Kansas State's defeat by Nebraska.

Washington (20-1) was third for the fourth straight week and Illinois (11-2) retained fourth place. LaSalle (17-2) and Oklahoma A&M (16-3) each climbed one notch in that order, while Kansas State (10-3) dropped from fifth to seventh place.

DePaul (16-4), North Carolina State (19-4) and Louisiana State (15-1) completed the top 10 teams, all holding their rankings of last week.

Kramer Gains On Sedgman

BOSTON, Feb. 10.—UP—Jack Kramer, ruling monarch of the tennis professionals, will attempt to even the score Tuesday at 13 matches with insurgent Frank Sedgman of Australia.

The second night of a two-night stand by Kramer's tennis troupe also will tell whether Sedgman's sidekick, Ken McGregor, has mastered the baffling two-handed style of Pancho Segura.

Kramer breezed to a straight set victory, 6-2, 6-1, Monday night at the Garden for his second straight win over Sedgman, narrowing the match score to 15-12 for the Australian on their current tour of 90 American cities.

McGregor rallied Monday night to beat the Ecuadorian veteran, 4-6, 7-5, 8-6, by working his own back court game to advantage and not allowing Sedgman to get into the court and Tulsa tied for 20th place.

Others among the 28 teams that receive consideration in this week's ratings were Fordham, Villanova, Louisville, Holy Cross, Seattle, Nagara, Duke and Pennsylvania.

- Team Points
1. Indiana (10) (11-2) 303
 2. Seton Hall (19) (22-0) 288
 3. Washington (8) (19-1) 214
 4. Illinois (11) (11-2) 214
 5. LaSalle (17-2) 172
 6. Okla. A&M (16-3) 143
 7. Kan. State (10-3) 100
 8. DePaul (16-4) 88
 9. N. C. State (1) (19-4) 71
 10. LSU (15-1) 68
- Second 10—Kansas, 62; Western Kentucky, 30; Kansas, 28; Notre Dame (1), 19; Brigham Young, 15; UCLA, 14; Minnesota, 10; St. Louis, 8; (tie), Wyoming and Tulsa, 7 each.
- Others—Fordham and Villanova, 5 each; Louisville and Holy Cross, 4 each; Seattle, Niagara, Duke and Pennsylvania, 1 each.

Baylor Meets
SMU Tonight

By UNITED PRESS
The Baylor Bears were expected to emerge from their meeting with the unlucky SMU Mustangs Tuesday night with a firmer grip on their lead in the Southwest Conference basketball race.

The Bears have a 5-2 conference record while the Mustangs haven't won a game in five starts. SMU will have the slight advantage of playing on its home court.

Texas, which shares the loop's second spot with TCU, meets Texas A&M at Austin. A win would give Texas sole possession of second place — or in the unlikely event the Bears falter — a share of first place.

The Argies are in fifth place with a 3-4 record, behind the 4-2 marks of Texas and TCU and the 4-3 record of the Rice Owls.

Jansen Takes Salary Cut

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—UP—Larry Jansen's pain in the back was replaced Monday by a slight pain in the pocketbook.

The 32-year-old Giant right-hander, whose victory total dipped from 23 in 1951 to only 11 last year, took "a slight cut" in pay Monday but reported that his back ailment was "completely recovered."

Jansen, who made only two pitching appearances during the September stretch, told the Giants over the telephone from his Forest Grove, Ore., home that his back had responded to hospital treatment and that he is "in good shape."

The news was particularly heartening to manager Leo Durocher. "If Jansen's back is okay again," Durocher said recently, "everything will be sunshine."

The only apparent rain drops, however, may have resulted from the estimated $5,000 slash Jansen accepted in salary. He drew approximately $35,000 last season after his brilliant 1951 season during which his work was instrumental in the Giants' climb to the pennant.

In Philadelphia Tuesday, Phillies owner Bob Carpenter was scheduled for a contract confab with slugging outfielder Del Ennis. Warming up to the job, Carpenter signed outfielder Mel Clark, who batted .335 in 47 games.

Elsewhere in the majors Monday, the Boston Braves announced the signing of four of their players—catcher Ebba St. Claire and rookies Ray Crone, Jim Solt and Jack Parks.

Big League Easter signed with Cleveland for an estimated $20,000 and while they were in a pen-and-ink mood, the Indians also signed rookie outfielder Mike Lutz.

Bob Rush, who won 17 games and lost 13 last season, dropped up to the Cubs' office and before he left, the club had his signed contract in its safe.

The Dodgers announced the signing of Ray Barry Gilbert, an 18-year-old southpaw pitcher, who will be sent to Brooklyn's Hornell farm club in the Class D Pony League.

Southpaw Tourney
SEGUIN, Tex., Feb. 10.—UP—

The annual state-wide tournament for lefthanded golfers will be held at Max Starcke Park here this week, June 9-13, it was announced Tuesday. John Lopez of Galveston, president of the organization, said he would dealactistomoginoot he would call a meeting soon to complete plans for the southpaws' 15th tournament.

Amarillo's 'Crackerbox' Gym To Keep Many Harvester Fans Away Saturday

WITH THE ANNOUNCEMENT that the all-important Harvester-Sandies cage tilt Saturday night at Amarillo will be played in the "cracker-box" Armory Gymnasium it brings back to mind the many nasty things that our friend Puff Powell used to say about Pampa's small gym.

Since we are still in our first year as a Pampa resident, we do not recall all the things Puff used to say about Pampa's gym before the spacious Harvester Fieldhouse came into existence, but at last night's Booster's Club meeting we learned that Puff screamed bloody murder every year for the Sandies having to play in the Harvester's small gym which is now used by the Reapers.

But we Pampans have much more gripe coming than did Amarillo. Pampa didn't have a bigger gym in which to play their important games in the pre-Harvester Fieldhouse days. Amarillo does. They've got a gym over there that will accommodate upwards of 2,500 fans — the Sports Arena. The Armory, we are told, won't be able to hold more than a thousand.

In fact, the Armory won't take care of as many fans as the gym in which Puff formerly referred to as the "crackerbox" gym here.

It seems to us that Amarillo High School owes it not only to Pampa fans but their own fans to play the game where more people can be accommodated. The game very definitely will be one of the most important games of the year in District 1-A, regardless of how Friday night's games will come out.

And there'll be thousands of fans who will want to see the game but won't get to because of the limited seating capacity.

The big reason behind the Sandies electing to play the game at the Armory is that they figure their chances are better of winning the game. The Sandertorn works out in the Armory daily and of course they want the advantage of playing in a familiar gym.

But the Armory is dangerous for visiting teams to play in. The walls immediately behind a check goal are right on the boundary lines and are unpadding. J. A. McClamb, former Harvester star, was injured over there when he was shoved into the unpadding wall.

Wizards To Invade Again

Action like the above will take place tomorrow night when the Whiskered Wizards converge on Harvester Fieldhouse to meet the Noblitt-Coffey Chiefs in a basket ball game sponsored by the Harvester Boosters' Club. Tickets for tomorrow's tilt are now on sale at Malone Pharmacy and Noblitt-Coffey Pontiac. (News Photo)

Stage Set For Wizard,
Chief Tilt Tomorrow

The stage is all set for tomorrow night's invasion of the famous Whiskered Wizards who will meet the Noblitt-Coffey Chiefs at the Harvester Fieldhouse. The Boosters Club, sponsors of the game, made final preparations for the game at last night's weekly meeting at the Sam Houston Auditorium. Ticket sellers and ticket takers were named and the officials of the game were revealed. Herb Scriast and Otto Mangold will referee the game.

The Noblitt-Coffey team will be making its season debut against the Wizards. Most of the Chiefs players are coaches so they'll be in physical shape for the tilt.

Clifton McNeely and Terry Culley will take time out from their coaching duties with the Harvester Boosters to guide the Chiefs' attack. McNeely has been playing with the Chiefs since they were organized and is one of the top scorers of the team. Culley is playing his first year with the Chiefs.

Don Lloyd and J. W. Malone are two other outstanding cagers returning from last year that will see action tomorrow night against the Whiskered five.

Tickets for the game are now on sale at Malone Pharmacy and Noblitt-Coffey Pontiac. Admission prices will be $2.00 for adults and 60 cents for students. Game time will be 8 p.m.

Harper Wins
EP Playoff

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 10.—UP—Veteran Chandler Harper, who said he would leave the competitive golf trail after this week, was squarely on the spot as the man to beat Tuesday in the $10,000 Texas Open at Brackenridge Park course beginning Thursday.

The 39-year-old Virginian battled high winds and blinding dust Monday to beat young Ted Kroll by three strokes in an 18-hole playoff match for the El Paso Open championship.

Harper picked up $2,000 first money, to go with $1,400 second money in the Tucson Open, and ran his total earnings to $3,400 in his only two appearances on the winter circuit.

Harper, from Portsmouth, Va., flouted the handicap of a splintered right hand to post a 37-70 on the par 36-35-71 El Paso country club layout while Kroll's game fell apart on the back side for a 33-40-73 and second money of $1,400.

Harper played from the third hole on without his driver, when the shaft shattered on his drive from the second tee. His accurate irons helped compensate for the loss in yardage as he turned to his No. 2 wood the rest of the day.

Two double bogeys, on the 18th and 17th holes, proved Kroll's undoing as Harper plodded along with a birdie on No. 11 to help offset bogeys on the 14th, 15th and 16th.

As the Big Texas Open field took practice licks Monday, Harper and

SMU To Interview
Three Coaches

DALLAS, Feb. 10.—UP—Three top football figures were scheduled to make a bid Tuesday for Southern Methodist University's head coaching job, vacated when H. N. (Rusty) Russell quit in disgust over criticism nine days ago.

Members of SMU's faculty athletic committee planned to talk Tuesday afternoon and night with J. O. (Buddy) Brothers, who quit recently at Tulsa; Andy Finney, backfield coach at Tulane; and Milburn (Catfish) Smith, head coach of East Texas State's Tangerine bowl champions.

Mike Brumelbow, coach at Texas Western College, was the last prospect interviewed by the committee and some reports say he is the No. 1 candidate.

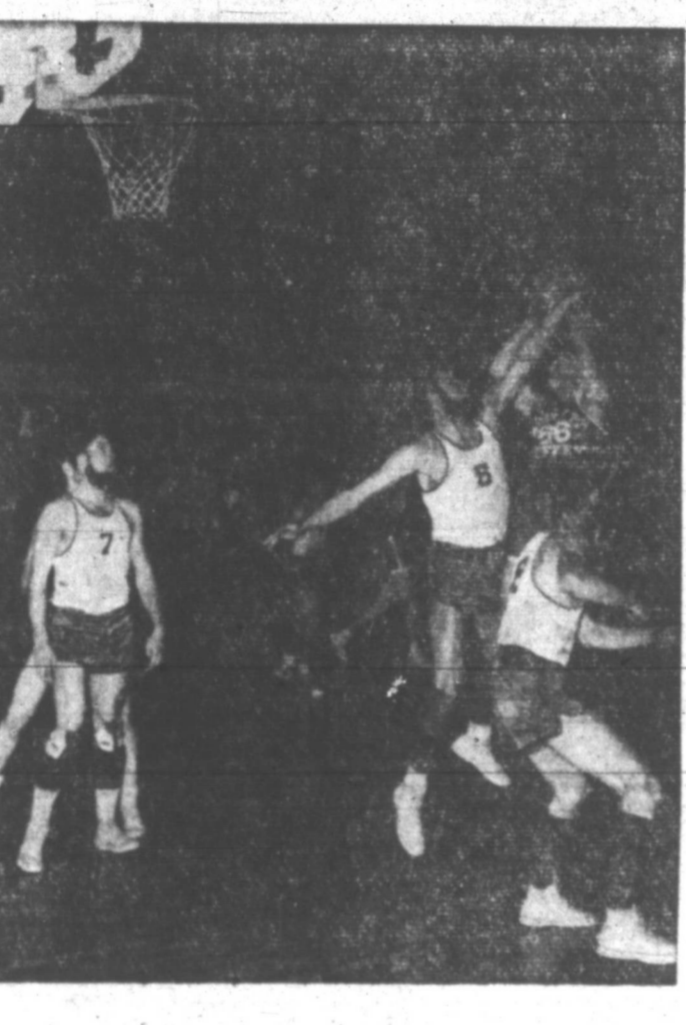

Committee chairman Edwin B. Moutson insisted, however, that "the committee's mind is still wide open."

After Tuesday's meetings, the committee is expected to announce whether it will "screen any more of the 'more than 80 applicants' for Russell's job."

Others who have applied include Howie Odell, formerly of Washington; Carl Snavely, who quit at North Carolina; Frank Broyles and Ray Graves, backfield and line

He will join Jimmy Thompson (far right) of Wellington today and Wellington and the two will proceed on to Fort Worth with Boys Club boxing coach, T. J. Watt, arriving there tonight. The tourney starts tomorrow night. Weighing-in and pairings will be held tomorrow morning at 11. (News Photos)

Expert Will Look Before Leaping

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
Money is bridge lesson day, and as usual, I will discuss bidding according to the point-count method so that beginners and average players can see how the experts bid. Just in case you're not familiar with the point-count, here it is: count 4 points for each ace in your hand; 3 for each king; 2 for each queen; 1 for each jack.

There are 10 points in each hand.

Follow Rules To Play Better

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
"Please settle this dispute," asks a Detroit correspondent. "South discards a queen, and it is West's turn to play. She draws from the stock pile and melds every card from her hand. She does not meld out, however, since her side has not yet made a canasta. "Since West has not yet made a discard, the previous discard—a queen—is still at the top of the discard pile. North therefore tries to take the pile, since she has a pair of queens in her hand. "This caused quite an argument. Some said West's play ended the hand to take her partner's discard. Some said West's play ended the hand even though she had not yet melded out. And some said several contradictory things, as is the custom in arguments at the card table. "I said not a word. I assure you, because the players were my wife and her girl friends, and I am too smart to get my neck into the middle of that. But I did promise that I would write away for a ruling. Will you take it from there?"

With pleasure. My neck has survived worse arguments than this one.
North has no right to take the discard pile or anything else. North should just sit tight until West makes a legal play.
West is not allowed to put all of her cards down on the table unless she can meld out. She can not meld out without a canasta. Hence West has made an impossible play.
West and her partner are penalized 100 points for this play—to begin with. And then West must make some sort of correction. She corrects the error by picking up some cards, for she must make a discard and must then still have at least one card left in her hand.
How many cards must West pick up? As few as possible, and those cards must be among the group melded in the impossible play.
The absolute minimum in this case would be two cards—one to discard and one to hold in the hand. However, West is allowed to pick up a three-card or even a four-card meld if she has just put down such a group of cards.
When West has made this correction, it will be North's proper turn to play. Her partner's discard (the queen) will be covered, and North will have her regular chance at a discard made by the player at her right.

Storm-Conscious Carswell Officers Order Out All B-36s

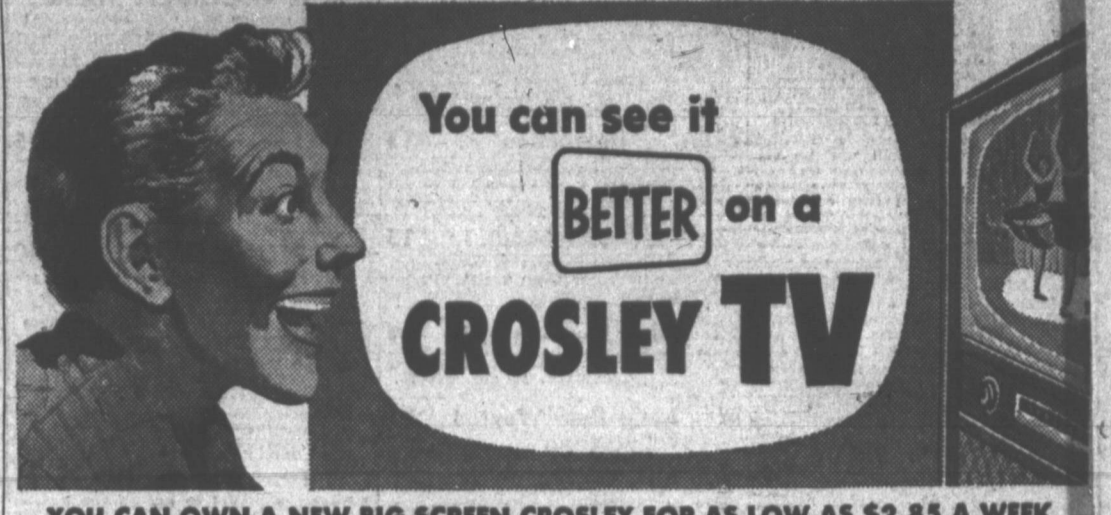

FORT WORTH, Feb. 10—UP—Storm-conscious officers of Carswell Air Force Base ordered all B-36 superbombers evacuated from the field Monday night in anticipation of a big wind. The strongest gusts registered by early Tuesday were 15-miles-an-hour.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said some thunderstorm activity was likely in the Fort Worth area Tuesday night. No high winds were seen in the official outlook.

Maj. Gen. Samuel E. Anderson, commanding general of the Eighth Air Force, ordered the giant, 33.5 million bombers flown to other parts of the country when unofficial Air Force weather service observers predicted that winds would reach 40 knots with gusts to 50 knots (46-58 miles per hour).

Presumably an essential part of this country's B-36 fleet is based at Carswell which is headquarters of the Strategic Air Command as well as the Eighth Air Force.

The high winds were reported moving in front of a cold front pushing slowly into Texas from Colorado. The front had just passed the Panhandle by early Tuesday. West-northwest winds of 30 miles per hour with gusts to 35

MASS NOTE
HARRISBURG, Pa. — UP—A deputy game protector became suspicious recently when he noted two bear cubs staggering through the woods in a south central county. He found a small quantity of "moon shine" mosh on a stream bank nearby.

Singular
DOVER, N. H. — UP—A Dover man has been short-changed. He has no given name, middle name or initials. He's known as just plain Tift. He lives on Tift Road.

Ari Patron
FORT WORTH, Tex. — UP—The sheriff's office here was confronted with another mystery before it got the first one solved. Deputies got a picture of a blonde bank bandit suspect in a chorus girl costume consisting of "practically nothing." Then someone stole the picture.

To Honor Perry
NEWPORT, R. I. — UP—This seaport plans special programs this year in observance of the 100th anniversary of the opening of Japanese ports to world trade. That significant event was accomplished by a Newport native, Commodore Matthew C. Perry.
