Brakes Put On Mounting Demands For Red Blockade

Leaders Say Let-'Em-Guess Valuable Aid

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—UP—The Eisenhower administration gently applied the brakes Wednesday to mounting congressional demands for a blockade and bombing of Manchuria.

At the same time, it made clear it was not finally ruling out either move. It even hinted the demands served the excellent purpose of keeping the Communists guessing on U. S. strategy.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, warned that the Naval blockade many Republicans and Democrats have called for might touch off World War III.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told a secret session of the Senate Foreign Relations committee there is no administration plan pending to blockade Red China, to bomb Manchuria, or to use the atomic bomb in Korea.

No Legal Barrier

In testimony before the same group, Bradley said this country would run into trouble trying to police the sea lanes to British Hong Kong but said otherwise there was no legal barrier to blockading the China mainland, including the Soviet-leased ports of Dairen and Port Arthur.

Nevertheless, the nation's top military leader indicated the action might force a showdown if Russia chose to ignore the blockade or China invoked the Sino-Soviet mutual defense pact.

Senators said Bradley's testimony echoed the opinions he gave in the 1951 MacArthur dismissal hearings when he said a blockade could be taken as "an act of war" and would be ineffective "unless it was a United Nations blockade, not just a U. S. blockade."

Up to Eisenhower

With the sobering words of Bradley and Dulles committee chairman Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) warned his colleagues that the blockade and other possible measures for cracking the Korean deadlock were up to President Eisenhower to decide, not Congress.

And two Democratic committee members protested against too much "loose talk" from Republican congressional leaders on such delicate issues.

Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.), a leading committee Democrat, said he hoped reluctant U. S. Allies "might go along with the blockade idea" if this country pressed the issue "very strongly" before the United Nations.

The mounting fears of jittery European Allies was believed one of the reasons that Bradley and Dulles were careful not to give the congressional debate any further encouragement.

Clear Skies Smile On Pampa Area In Wake Of Ice Storm

Today dawned clear and bright over the Pampa area's ice-sheathed roads and plains, the aftermath of an all-inclusive storm that brought with it .86 of an inch of rain.

Pampa schools were open again and all forms of transportation were reported operating.

Predictions for the Panhandle today called for clear skies and the usual nightly cold weather, though no colder than Tuesday night. Partly cloudy skies and warmer weather were forecast for Thursday afternoon.

Pampa thermometers indicated only a seven-degree drop from Tuesday's high reading of 30 to this morning's low. By 11 a.m. the mercury had managed to crawl up to the 30-degree mark.

This was in marked contrast to the temperature switch of 24 hours ago, when the mercury dove from a Monday high of 65 degrees to a Tuesday low of 25.

In other parts of the state, too, wintry blasts plunged the mercury down as low as 6 degrees and set off snow, rain and drizzle. Slick highways were partly blamed for highway accidents that (See CLEAR SKIES, Page 3)

Ike Seeks Way For Trade And Less Aid

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—UP—President Eisenhower called 12 top officials of Congress and the administration together Wednesday to discuss a program of "more trade and less aid" for free nations.

Presidential Press Secretary James G. Hagerly said he was instructed not to give out any information about the 2 p. m. est White House meeting. But it was learned from several participants that the conference dealt with various ways of stimulating world trade through extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act, due to expire June 12, and a streamlining of U. S. Customs regulations have been listed on Mr. Eisenhower's "must" legislative program for this session. He strongly indicated in his state of the union message that he considers expanded trade preferable

Organize Thursday... United Fund Plan Is Near

The organization of a United Fund in Pampa is expected to be realized at a meeting led by Clinton Evans and Dr. J. B. Veale Jr., at 7:30 p. m., Thursday in the County Court Room.

Veale said Evans and he have been interested in the community fund project since last August because they "thought there should be one." He added that at this meeting the organization should be set up as all eligible organizations in the city have voiced approval and a willingness to participate in the group.

Designed to eliminate the many separate fund drives conducted in the city every year, the combined fund would take in all social and welfare organizations which have formerly held drives.

Participating organizations would make applications for money to the UP by filing with a commission chosen by the board of directors. Allocations would, on approval, be drawn from a cash gathered in one yearly campaign.

Veale said a nominating committee is to be chosen Thursday to select prospective board members. The board is to be approved at a future meeting when the constitution and by-laws would be presented for approval and a commission would be appointed.

Veale stressed he would like representatives of civic clubs and women's study clubs to be present and any other interested persons.

The group would be known as the Pampa United Fund, he said, and would have no affiliation with a national group.

County Vote Power Drops

Gray County this year turned up with the same set of figures in its known eligible voter total, but the polling strength was far below that of 1952.

The complete count arrived at by the County Tax Department showed 4,883 poll taxes paid and 710 exemptions granted for a total of 5,593. Last year the total for the county was 9,530.

The known list total however does not include those who are eligible to vote but who do not have to hold a poll tax receipt or exemption certificate. This is a year that would mean that a possible voting strength of 6,000 existed in Gray County.

A city election, school board elections for the various independent and common school districts in the county, and other special elections are due to come up before the voters.

Buckingham Gets Hwy. 60 Meet Started

Howard Buckingham, president of the Texas Branch U. S. Highway 60 Association, opened proceedings at 1:30 p. m. today on the first general session of a two-day convention meeting in Hereford today and Thursday.

Approximately 100 registered for the convention including a six-man delegation from Pampa. They are E. O. Wedgeworth, W. S. Fannon, Jack Vaughn, Irving Cole, Frank Lard and Buckingham.

The Pampa delegation left the city at 8 a. m. today, arriving in Hereford in time for registration at 11 a. m., and in attendance at a noon luncheon as guests of the Hereford Lions Club. During the luncheon toast arrests were carried to the dining hall to be guests of the Lions Club and highway organization.

Scheduled to talk at a tourist school session at 2 p. m. was S. E. Womack, division of extension of the University of Texas. He was to lecture on serving and selling tourists.

Winding up the day's program was to be a banquet at 7:30 p. m. today with Fred Phelps, Texas Branch Highway 60 Association vice president. Clovis, in charge. Speaker was to be Delbert Downing, general manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce. His subject was "Care and Feeding of Tourists."

The second general session slated to convene at 9:30 a. m. Thursday was to deal primarily with the election of new officers and selections of committees.

Also included on the Thursday agenda are reports of the condition of Hwy. 60, a check of tourist accommodations, and special interest items to tourists in various cities.

Commission Flies To Plainview For Study Of Airport

Boarding a Cabot Co. plane early this morning, County Judge J. B. Maguire Jr., and the full commission took off from Perry LeFors field for the Plainview Airport to study business practices of that field.

The new court is making the trip to acquaint themselves with the business end of operating a modern airport since they are, in effect, the board of directors of the county's airport.

The group was accompanied by County Auditor Ray Wilson. Commissioners making the trip were Arlie Carpenter, Pct. 1; W. E. (Bill) Jarvis, Pct. 2; Paul Bowlers, Pct. 3; and O. L. Tibbetts, Pct. 4.

Officially, Scout Week continues through Friday.

At 7:15 p. m. today on KPND the Pampa High School radio speech class will present a play titled "Mr. First."

Paul Clark Eisenherz, second-class Scout, Troop 80 (First Methodist Church), will give two radio talks today between 4 p. m. and 5 p. m. over KPND. Thursday John Teed, Explorer, Post 4, (First Christian Church), will also appear on the radio twice — between 4 p. m. and 5 p. m. over KPND and at 4:35 p. m. over KPAT.

And at 7:45 p. m. Thursday Bunny Shultz, submaster, Pack 22 (Horace Mann School), will present a 15-minute talk

MARSHALL RESIGNS — Dr. J. W. Marshall, Wayland College professor for the last six years, presented his resignation to a special college board session Tuesday night. He said he intended to resign because he was engaged in the acceptance of the University of Texas. He asked trustees to make the resignation effective at a date later than Sept. 1.

Divided Deliberation Parsons 'Headlocked'

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 11—UP—A jury in the trial of Tulsa socialist Mary Jean Parsons charged with murdering her soldier-husband, was divided in its deliberations Wednesday although it reported Tuesday that it was "hopelessly headlocked."

Jury foreman M. E. Bay, 51, of Wichita Falls, handed Judge Arthur Tipps a note about 11 p. m. that the jurors were still divided on the verdict and they had been weighing the facts since 2:55 p. m.

Tipps told Bay and the other jurors: "I know you're tired and anxious to get back to your jobs. This has been a long trial. But I would like to ask you gentlemen to sleep on it tonight and begin deliberations in the morning. What do you think?"

The jurors nodded agreement and retired at 11:15 p. m.

Court Still Crowded

About 150 persons were still waiting in the district court to hear the jury's action, among them the wealthy Tulsa defendant who is charged with murdering Lt. Richard (See PARSONS, Page 3)

Scouts Slate Radio Talks

With the end of Boy Scout Week fast approaching, local Scouts and adult leaders have scheduled a radio program and five short radio talks for late today and Thursday.

Officially, Scout Week continues through Friday.

At 7:15 p. m. today on KPND the Pampa High School radio speech class will present a play titled "Mr. First."

Paul Clark Eisenherz, second-class Scout, Troop 80 (First Methodist Church), will give two radio talks today between 4 p. m. and 5 p. m. over KPND. Farm Bloc Leader Not Disturbed By Uproar... Hope Predicts Benson Policies To Improve Farmers' Position

EDITORS: The steady decline in farm prices has touched off bipartisan, congressional demands for swift action by the Eisenhower administration. One voice which has been notably missing from the chorus of alarm is that of Rep. Clifford R. Hope (R-Kan.), veteran leader of the House farm bloc. In the following exclusive interview, he tells why.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—UP—Chairman Clifford R. Hope of the House Agriculture committee assured farmers Wednesday that government programs for bolstering farm income will be continued—or improved—under the Eisenhower administration.

The Kansas Republican—a leader for years in formulating congressional farm policy—said in an interview that he does not share fears expressed by many Republican and Democratic that Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson may not cope successfully with the problem of falling farm prices.

"I have the utmost confidence in Secretary Benson and feel he will take steps as authorized by law to deal with this price situation as it develops," Hope said.

He added that he was "not disturbed over the weakness in the grain market" because grain farmers are protected by price support loans.

As for sagging cattle prices, he said "it looks now as if the panic situation is pretty well ended... the markets have become pretty well stabilized this week."

Some farm state congressmen have criticized Benson for failing to say how whether he will recommend continuation of the present law requiring price supports at 90 per cent of parity for basic crops. It expires after 1954.

Hope said the "fundamental responsibility for determining agricultural policy rests with Congress" and Congress will answer that question with legislation next year.

"If we can work out a better program than the present one, we will do it," he said. "But as far as Congress is concerned we won't give up the program we have now until we have a better one."

In considering future legislation, he said, "I think Congress' policy will be to follow programs that will keep farm income stabilized at least at something like present levels."

Hope said his committee will go into farm areas later this year to get farmers' suggestions.

To illustrate what he means by "better programs," Hope cited wheat. It is one of the six basic crops now guaranteed high price supports under a program requiring rigid production controls when surpluses develop.

Wheat exports have declined sharply raising the threat production controls may have to be imposed in future years.

"It might be," Hope said, "that farmers would prefer to have a two-price system with high price supports for wheat sold on the domestic market, but with the rest sold on the world market at whatever the world price is."

Passage Of Tideland Bill Is Predicted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—UP—House sources predicted Wednesday that a bill giving the states title to the disputed tidelands will be the next major legislation passed by Congress.

Senate and House hearings begin next week on a host of differing bills. Favorable action is a foregone conclusion with only the exact language still in doubt.

Former President Truman twice vetoed tideland bills, but President Eisenhower promised during the election campaign that he would sign such a measure.

Congress was virtually certain to specify that the states alone should have title to submerged oil and gas lines to their "historical boundaries." This is three miles out in most cases, but 10 to 12 miles for Texas, Louisiana and the west coast of Florida.

It appeared equally sure that whatever bill is finally enacted will include a provision to override specifically Mr. Truman's executive order, issued just before he left (See PASSAGE, Page 3)

Hazlewood Gets The Ball Rolling... Canadian Water District Bill Tossed Into Legislative Hopper

The bill that would bypass any decision of the State Board of Water Engineers and set up the strongly independent Canadian River Municipal Water Authority today is in the legislative mill in Austin.

It was tossed in the 53rd State Legislative hopper yesterday by State Senator Grady Hazlewood, Amarillo, after it had been drawn up by attorneys acting for the organization now known as the Canadian Water Users Association.

If passed it would set up the district — provided it is also approved by the voters of the 12 members cities, including Pampa — with broad financing powers to build and operate the proposed $85,000,000 Canadian River Dam near Sanford.

What the district is not empowered to do, however, is to develop underground water supplies.

The bill was a direct result of the hearing Jan. 12 before the water engineers on a petition calling for an election by the people of the affected cities when sharp criticism of the proposition came up.

At that time the water engineers allowed testimony offered before it to veer from the pertinent subject — creation of the district by a popular election — and dwell (See CANADIAN, Page 3)

Men Get A Chance For Sweet Revenge For One Week -- It's TWIRP Season

For 51 weeks of the year the female of the species is pampered. This is particularly true among the teen-aged set. Boys sue for dates, hold coats in a first awakening to "being a gentleman," and conscientiously open doors—and foot the bills.

However, one week out of the year the tables are turned and an upheaval occurs that leaves oldsters a bit agog and teen-aged girls' pocketbooks a trifle flat. For this is the week the girls take over the kingdom of man during a fabulous time called, appropriately, TWIRP season—The Woman Is Requested To Pay. It runs Feb. 8 through 14 this year.

TWIRP season is somewhat ignored by staid adults apparently satisfied with the present social order. But teen-agers have adopted the turnabout with a torrid gusto that leaves all in the wake somewhat bewildered.

Pampa High School students are right in line with the procedure. Girls have to make all phone calls, plan all entertainments, supply transportation, pay all bills and act in a generally "gentlemanly" fashion.

This meets with the complete approval of the fathers of an all-male family, according to the girls, but fathers of female offspring come in for one of the most strained (on the wallet) times in their lives. For the damsels admit to getting most of their funds from "father" and the family vehicle no longer bears that title but becomes instead, the TWIRP car.

Allowance budgets are blown to the four winds, not by their own spendthrift nature, the girls are quick to add, but by the boys who take advantage of a situation just made to order for shows instead of walks, thick malts, instead of cokes, and steaks instead of hamburgers.

And one of the rules imposed on the girls is that they must date. Preparatory to TWIRP week, Pampa High School girls published in the Little Harvester, school paper, a set of eight command-

GIRLS PAY THE BILLS — During TWIRP week, Feb. 8-14, the girls foot all the bills in a turnabout where the girls take the initiative and ask boys for dates. And as TWIRP stands for The Woman Is Requested To Pay, the gentlemen only carry "mad money" when going out for the evening — picked up by the girls who also have to supply the transportation. Here Nancy Eversell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Eversell, 214 N. Gillespie, hands over the cash after a round of sodas while her date, Blaine Skewes, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Skewes, 717 E. Kingsmill, looks delighted over her shoulder. He would be willing for this procedure to continue. (News Photo)

ments labelled The TWIRP Rules For Boys. They are:

- Thou shall not spend a cent on any female
- Thou shall eat lightly and watch thy figure.
- Thou shall be very angry if she doesn't call at least once a day.
- Thou shall keep thyself neat and "feminine" at all times.
- Thou shall not call any girl at any time.
- Thou shall throw a fit if you see a girl talking to another boy. (benefit of steadies)
- Thou shall not leave on a date without at least 35 cents for mad money.
- Thou shall carry one small baseball bat for protection on dates.

According to reports by the PHS girls, their dates have been quite considerate the first three days of the week. But, alas, they add with resigned expressions, the boys have promised a blowout over the week end. The girls admit they expect to be operating entirely in the red by the time it's all over for the best of the boys during this time diversion of a maid's finances, seems to be toward a complete devastation of the maid's finances.

However, the girls have a trump card and have issued full storm warnings to the boys to remember their place and treat the budget with economic deference—because they have "51 weeks out of the year in which to get even."

JCs See Film On Jet Propulsion

A film on "jet propulsion" and a mention of the upcoming United Fund Drive meeting took place at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Fifty-one Jaycees—including 22 female guests—were on hand for the monthly Ladies Day session. Showing how Newton's third law (any action makes for an equal and opposite reaction) applies to jet engines, the film portrayed the work incidental to constructing an engine like those used in planes today. Dr. J. B. Veale Jr. spoke briefly on the Thursday night meeting of those interested in a Pampa United Fund Drive and emphasized that this was definitely the "kick-off." Get together is slated for 7:30 p.m. in the county courtroom. A new member, Ken Caukins, was introduced to the club. Presiding—in the presence of

Accused OSS Officer, Seeks Permission To Practice Law

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 11—UP—Al-dolice Icardi, former Army OSS lieutenant accused by the Defense Department of participating in the slaying of his World War II commanding officer behind Nazi lines in Italy, Wednesday renewed his battle for permission to practice law in Pennsylvania.

Icardi Wednesday will be interviewed at a closed session of a subcommittee on the Allegheny county board of law examiners. Its findings were not expected to be published immediately.

Attorney Robert Rundle, chairman of the law examiners board, said the subcommittee's findings will be submitted first to the board, "but that usually takes some time." He said Icardi's application will be handled "the same as any other."

Icardi and former Army Sgt. Carl Lodolce of Rochester, N. Y., first were linked to the slaying of Maj. William V. Holohan in an article written last year for True magazine by free-lance writer Michael Stern. It inferred that Icardi masterminded the plot and Lodolce carried out by first poisoning and then shooting Holohan. The Defense Department later released a report which substantially backed up Stern's article.

Fewell Case Begins In District Court

The compensation suit of Robert F. Fewell vs Texas Employers Insurance Association got underway in 31st District Court this morning after a similar suit brought by Ben F. Dumas against the same insurance company was announced settled out of court.

The Fewell case was hanging fire for definite setting yesterday because Judge Lewis M. Googrich was not sure when the court would have time to hear it due to previous settings.

Attorneys in the Dumas case announced settlement of the $10,025 compensation suit for $2,250 this morning.

The jury drawn for the trial was disbanded but ordered to remain in the court room for possible selection in the Fewell case. Absence of one juror delayed final selection of the new jury until late this morning and a recess was ordered until he could be located.

Fewell's suit is also for $10,025 in workman's compensation for injuries he received on his job. The amount represents the maximum compensation allowed—401 weeks at $25 per week.

PARSONS

ard O. Parsons, Pleasantville, N.Y. on Feb. 1, 1952. Parsons was shot twice in the head as he lay sleeping in their El Paso apartment.

As Mrs. Parsons walked out of the courtroom with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burner Flegler of Tulsa, photographers and newsmen crowded around them.

William Swafford, a Wichita Falls photographer, stood on a chair to get a shot of Mrs. Parsons and defense attorney Lester Humphrey attempted to stop him. Swafford was knocked off the chair in the scuffle and received a cut over his right eye.

The jurors recessed only once Tuesday after they received the case, at 6:30 p.m. for supper. Earlier they asked for a playback of some trial testimony. They were allowed to hear by tape recording portions of the testimony given by defense witness Mrs. Tom Flegler, sister-in-law of the 22 year old defendant.

Advised Against Marriage

Mrs. Flegler testified that she once found Mrs. Parsons lying on her bed, staring up at the ceiling. She said she told her mother-in-law, Mrs. Burner Flegler, about the incident and advised the elder Mrs. Flegler that she shouldn't allow "Mary Jean to get married."

Nearly 70 spectators jammed in to the court to hear state and defense attorneys present their final arguments. They took up every seat in the court room and balcony and some sat in the aisles.

Nine attorneys argued the fate of the young defendant. District Attorney William Clayton of El Paso, who headed the prosecution, was the last man to address the jury. "If Mary Jean Parsons is insane," he said, "she became insane after Feb. 1, since the sanity hearing at El Paso (last May) definitely established her soundness of mind."

He said the disputed confession Mrs. Parsons gave to an El Paso police sergeant the night after she killed Parsons "would have been impossible for an insane person to dictate."

The jury was charged with considering both the issues of murder and sanity. Tips set for definite times for them to resume deliberations Wednesday.

Pampa Moose Name Hall New Officer

E. Allan Hall, 800 S. Gray, last night was named secretary of the Pampa Moose Lodge, succeeding Charlie M. Webb who resigned.

At the same time Radine Noiland was named chairman of the Sports Committee and instructed to proceed with plans to organize a softball team to be entered in the Pampa Industrial League.

The new secretary will officially take over his duties upon confirmation by the Supreme Lodge of his appointment. In the meantime the outgoing secretary will continue to act as secretary.

Governor Earl Miller announced that members of the nominating committee will be notified of their organizational meeting date sometime this week when a chairman and secretary for the committee will be selected. The nomination of officers for the 1953-54 term will be held at a date to be announced later.

Members were reminded of the Heart Fund benefit game night being held tonight in the lodge auditorium by the Women of The Moose and the lodge's Valentine Dance tomorrow.

County Move To Settle Legal Point Hits A Snag In Austin

The Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin has reversed — on another basis — a Gray County court decision which local officials had hoped would settle a point of law.

The court ruled that a Gray County jury panel had "insufficient evidence" to support a verdict of guilty against a Perryton rancher who was arrested Feb. 7, 1951, on a driving - while intoxicated charge and whose case had three continuations before it was finally heard last Sept. 23.

The issue not settled — whether it is legal for a prosecutor to ask a law enforcement officer if he offered the defendant a blood test for intoxication — was not included when the state court reversed and remanded the Gray County case against John William Moore, about 50.

Moore was fined $400 and costs — and his license suspended the mandatory six - month period — by the jury before then County Judge Bruce Parker. And Moore and his attorneys had appealed the case to Austin.

The action Feb. 4 by CCA sent Moore's case back to Gray County court where it again will be heard before an upcoming jury panel. Defense and state's attorneys had argued the case before CCA Jan. 14.

Newt Secret, Pampa, the state's first witness in county court, had testified that he had observed Moore "flagging" him down; near the site where a car had run into a culvert.

Attorneys for Moore in the county trial were Jim Crow, Canadian, and Curtis Douglass and Don Cain, both of Pampa.

According to the official decision, the "state's proof was sufficient to show Moore was intoxicated and that his automobile struck a culvert ... of the highway leading from Pampa to Miami."

But "the proof that Moore drove his automobile while so intoxicated rests upon circumstances alone and the jury was so charged on the law of circumstantial evidence."

"No statement appears to have been made by Moore" — the decision continues, "to the effect that he was driving the car prior to the collision or that he was driving alone or that in fact he was in the car when it collided with the culvert."

Moore, however, did not testify at the county trial.

Wife Says Kitten Gets Too Much Attention

DETROIT, Feb. 11—UP—Mrs. Retha L. Drenning won a divorce after testifying that her husband, Wilbur, took tidbits off her dinner plate and fed them to his pet cat, cuddled the cat instead of her and took the cat to bed with them at night.

She said the last straw was when the cat bit her foot and sent her to the hospital for two weeks. When she returned home her husband insisted she apologize to the cat and "kiss and make up."

"I thought that was unreasonable, so I left him and his cat," she said.

Action Pending In Two Burglary Cases

A 23-year-old Colorado man and an Oklahoma juvenile are awaiting separate action today, following two break-ins in Pampa.

Pete C. Mihelich, 23, of Pueblo, and the 15-year-old Oklahoman were arrested Friday night in Amarillo by city police.

According to Sheriff Rufe Jordan, Mihelich made a statement, was arraigned, and his bond set at $1,000 and is awaiting grand jury action. In lieu of bond payment, however, he is now in Gray County jail.

The juvenile is to face juvenile authorities in Amarillo, Jordan said.

Broken into Feb. 3 were Henderson's Service Station, South Cuyler, and Roy's Beer Tavern, two miles west of Pampa on the Amarillo highway.

Taken from Henderson's was $5.66 from the cigaret machine and from Roy's, $20 in bills and change and a .38-caliber revolver.

Arrest of the pair came when Amarillo officers caught them stealing a tractor battery, Jordan concluded.

Actress Leaves Hollywood To Help Distressed Mate

JOPLIN, Mo., Feb. 11 —UP—Whitfield earlier by phone that Appleton was injured and "in a terrible mental state," but that he refused treatment.

Appleton was put off a plane Monday night. A spokesman for en route from Tulsa, to Chicago the airline said he had told passengers that someone was trying to kill him. Appleton was asked to deplane at Joplin because he was disturbing passengers, the spokesman said.

Joplin officers picked him up at the airport and took him to a local hospital. He ran out of the hospital and police found him hiding in a vacant house nearby.

Appleton had a badly swollen hand and a plaster cast on his left knee when he deplaned, police said.

He was strapped to a bed in the hospital after his first escape but escaped again Tuesday after asking an attendant to loosen the strap because it hurt his hand.

He was recaptured in Columbus, Kan., driving a car which he had taken from in front of the hospital. The owner of the car said he would not prefer charges.

Pampa Scout An Eagle Now In District's Largest Honor Court

Pampa and the Boy Scouts' Santa Fe District have a new Eagle Scout today.

John Schofield Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schofield, east of Pampa, was presented the Eagle Scout Award during the district's February court-of-honor ceremonies.

A member of Post 14 (First Presbyterian Church), John received his award pin from Stanley Brandt, who as assistant post Scoutmaster was with John when he began his Scouting.

An estimated 400 persons were on hand Monday night in the Woodrow Wilson School auditorium for the observances which included Advancement ladders award, according to Phil Pegues, district Scout executive.

It was the largest court-of-honor ever held in the Santa Fe District, Pegues said.

Advancement ladders awards went to Troop 27 (Central Baptist Church), first; Troop 26 (Highways), second; and Troop 14 (First Presbyterian Church), third.

Liberty Bell Awards were won this year by Pack 81 (White Deer), first; Troop 20 (Veterans of Foreign Wars Pampa), second; and Ship 22 (First Baptist Church), third. Last year Troop 26 and Post 14 took second and third places.

Liberty Bells are awarded for general quality of Scouting.

In addition, 112 ranks including Schofield's and 206 merit badges were presented during the affair, Pegues continued.

Presiding over the ceremonies was C. C. Kelly, district advancement committee chairman.

Rebel Is 102 Years Old... Confederate Vet Besieged By Letters Proposing Marriage

AUSTIN, Feb. 11—UP—A 106-year-old Confederate veteran who claims part of a $4 million estate has received hundreds of love letters, which he can't read, from women who want to marry him, a spokesman said Wednesday.

Thomas Evans Riddle, the elderly veteran, is one of three persons contesting the will of the late Samuel D. Riddle of Philadelphia, owner of the famous race horse Man O' War.

An attendant at the Confederate home, where Thomas Riddle lives, said that the letters have been pouring in "in a lonely woman and old" since Thomas filed his claim.

Love Letter File

"They're put in a love letter file," the spokesman said, "since he can't read them anyway."

Women from Texas to New Jersey to Minnesota have written to Thomas asking him to marry them. One woman wrote in Spanish from Mexico. Four letter writers enclosed their pictures.

One 51-year-old woman who described herself as a "lonesome lady" wrote that she would like to share marriage again with "a good man and I don't care how old he is."

A 54-year-old widow appealed to Riddle's interest in travel. She wrote: "If you take me along I could take good care of you and we will have fun for a long time."

Riddle, who is almost blind and almost deaf, seldom receives calls at the home and generally speaks through an attendant. He told a spokesman when the suit was filed in his behalf that if he got part of the $4 million estate he would like to "get a girl friend" and spend the money traveling.

Like Description

The woman who wrote in Spanish said: "You are looking for a girl friend and I'm looking for a boy friend. I like your description and I think you'll like mine."

A 65-year-old woman from Austin wrote that she had no men friends because they "seldom appeal to me." She added, "I would like to have you, however, a boy friend from my home town."

"I blush to write this," another letterwriter said, "but I'm a lonely widow lady. I do hope you don't think I'm a goldgetter. I'm not."

A waitress who said she had four sons said, "all I have is children and I do get lonesome sometimes."

The last milk stripped from a cow at milking time is the richest.

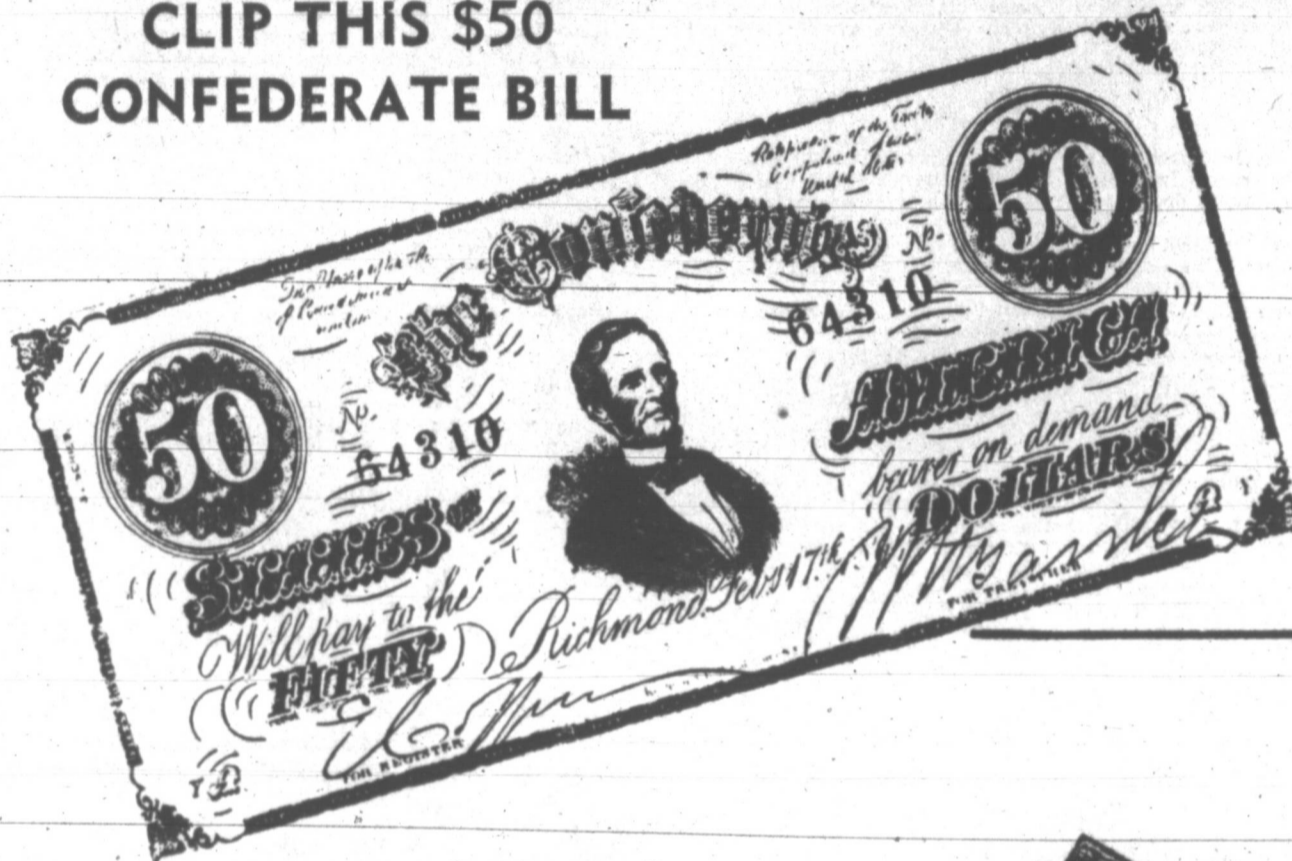

"I can't find anything in this psychology book about children throwing all our clothes out the window—so I guess I'll just have to spank him!"

Van Fleet Says UN Can Break Deadlock Despite Red Power

TOKYO, Feb. 11 UP — Gen. James A. Van Fleet said Wednesday the United Nations could launch an offensive and break the military deadlock in Korea despite the fact the Communists have been steadily building up their forces.

Van Fleet commented on the war for reporters while aboard a special plane flying him from Korea to Japan. Earlier Wednesday, he relinquished command of the Eighth Army, which he has headed for the past 22 months.

After a 24-hour stop-over in Tokyo, the 60-year-old general will head for the United States and retirement. His wife will meet him in Honolulu and from there they will sail Feb. 19 to San Francisco. They are due in San Francisco Feb. 25.

making potential of Communist China?" reporters asked.

"It would depend upon the Chinese Communists—what investment in enemy manpower and materiel they would be willing to make to seriously injure such an offensive."

"Does this mean the more they throw at the UN, the more the Allies could snop up?"

"Yes."

Save Friendly Lives

Van Fleet said the use of atomic weapons for tactical use in the field "unquestionably would save friendly lives in the immediate situation of any battlefield."

Never Open Trump In This Position

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Hand No. 3 of the recent World Championship Match between America and Sweden was one of the most interesting of the entire 266-board match. In both rooms a pair of world famous experts got to a small slam contract when the hand was off two aces.

Just in case you are puzzled by the beginning of the bidding shown with today's hand, I should explain that the players on the American team use a weak opening two bid. When they want to make an opening forcing bid, they must bid two clubs regardless of whether or not they have a real club suit.

In this case, South opened with two clubs to show the strength of his hand, and later showed that his real length was in hearts and diamonds. I cannot argue with success, since Howard Schenken, the declarer in the "closed" room, actually made his unsound slam contract.

West was misguided enough to open a trump against declarer's small slam contract in hearts. Schenken thereupon drew three rounds of trumps, discarded all of dummy's clubs on his top diamonds, and then gave up one spade trick. Dummy made the rest of the tricks with good spades and a trump.

In the "open" room, in front of an audience of bridge enthusiasts, the Swedish declarer went down ignominiously at his slam contract. Johnny Crawford, defending for America, opened the ace of clubs and then switched to spades to let his partner take the ace of spades.

I would not bother to report this sort of hand, even though it is spectacular, except for the fact that a very valuable lesson can be derived from it. It is almost never good policy to open a trump against a slam contract. Such an opening lead gives control of the hand immediately to declarer and allows him to develop the hand in the way that pleases him best.

It may be sound policy to open a trump against a small slam contract when you know that every suit will break badly for declarer. In such a case you may realize that declarer must aim for a cross ruff, and every defensive trump lead will then save a trick. In all other situations, however, it is poor policy to open a trump and thus surrender your defense to the declarer.

He also said a concerted attack by the 2,000 planes the Reds are reported to have in Manchuria would hurt the Eighth Army only temporarily, but it would recover quickly and strongly.

Van Fleet also was asked if the Reds had shown any signs of increasing preparation for offense or defense since December, especially in the Kaesong area.

"Yes, a continuous buildup," he said.

Van Fleet said the North Korean Army has been rebuilt, "but is not able to recover from its destruction in 1950 and 1951."

"Nor is it a match for the Republic of Korea Army of today," he added.

Relaxed At Tokyo

Van Fleet was smiling and relaxed as he landed in Tokyo even though he undoubtedly was bitter about the fact the Eighth Army had the Communists defeated in the spring of 1951 and later in the fall of that year. The armistice talks halted any further offensive action by the UN.

Van Fleet apparently intends to elaborate on this theme after he gets home. He carried with him papers and material for use in making a series of speeches in the United States.

When he stepped off the plane in Tokyo, Van Fleet was greeted by Gen. Mark W. Clark, Far East commander; Lt. Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air Force chief; and Vice Adm. Robert P. Briscoe.

"I'm happy to be here on my way home," he said.

Sooner Denies Charge In Court Hearing

Three varied cases have been processed in county court in one afternoon, one of them resulting in a plea of not guilty.

Oscar O. Thrasher, 46, of Durham-Oklahoma, pleaded not guilty Tuesday afternoon to a charge of indecent exposure.

County Judge J.B. Maguire set his bond at $1,500. Case will be heard at an upcoming jury panel session.

Fined $20 and costs ($83.55) on a charge of swindling with a worthless check was C. T. Fuller, 45, of Leila.

Eddie Williams, 34, of The Flats, was sentenced to 10 days in jail on a charge of theft.

Having stolen a $24 coat from an automobile Saturday morning, he was recognized by Patrolman G. W. (Wash) Callahan and arrested mid-Monday by J.O. Dumas, assistant police chief.

Twentieth Century Culture Club Has St. Valentine Luncheon

Mrs. M. P. Downs spoke on the origin of St. Valentine's Day at the meeting of Twentieth Century Culture Club when members met at the home of Mrs. Rufe Jordan for a Valentine luncheon.

Music was supplied by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson. Their program was a group of popular selections which have been derived from classical music. Mrs. Johnson presented part of these on the piano and Mr. Johnson sang two selections, "Tonight We Love" and "Going Home." Mrs. Johnson played excerpts from Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" and "Liebestraum." During Mrs. Johnson's portion of the program, guests heard a classical number then from the classic a derivative or popular arrangement was heard.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . .

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause putting up with frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's gives happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 million kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Mrs. Lloyd Kuntz Entertains Club

The Civic Culture Club met with Mrs. Lloyd Kuntz for a program on "South America and Her Relationship to the United States" given by Mrs. M. M. Moyer Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. A. D. Hills presided at the business meeting. Plans were made to assist in the Red Cross Drive.

Mrs. Kuntz spoke on the geography, population, climate and topography. She gave a resume of the history of South America. She said the development of South America had not been touched. It has room for millions of people from over crowded parts of the earth. Millions of acres of potential crop and pasture are available.

The program will be as follows: "Mary of Allendale" (Hook), "Die Lament" from "Odo and Agnes" (Purcell), "A Pastoral" (Carey), "Vissi d'arte" from "Tosca" (Puccini), "Mein Herz ist stumm" and "Ständchen" Strauss, "Em Traum" (Greig) "Apres un reve" (Faure), "Mandoline" (Debussy), "Chere nuit" (Bachellet), "Deplus le jour" from "Louise" Chapen.

Gamma Chapter Hears Program On Personality

Gamma Chapter of the Delphin Society held a regular meeting in the City Club Room Monday morning with the program on personality. Mrs. Philip D. Powell was leader of the program and was assisted by Mmes. H. H. Boynton, J. F. Curtis, Alfred Cowan, Sam Cook and D. P. Bonner.

The points brought out in the discussion were: what personality means, important primary traits which determine personality, three avenues of measuring personality, kinds of objective personality tests and limitations of personality measurements. General discussion followed the presentation of the topics.

Attending the program were Mmes. John Brandon, Hills, A.C. Houchins, M.M. Moyer, W.C. Scott, J. B. Townsend and Willis White.

El Progresso

Hears Program On 'Greasepaint'

El Progresso Study Club met in the home of Mrs. P. C. Ledrick Tuesday afternoon.

The subject was "Greasepaint" or Women in the Theater.

Leader, Mrs. J.F. Curtis, introduced Mrs. H. L. Ledrick Jr. who brought the program on above subject.

Meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. T. M. Johnston and business conducted by the president, Mrs. Knox Kinard.

Mrs. Carlton Nance was voted to be representative of the club at the meeting in the County Court Room Thursday evening on United Charities for Pampa.

Mrs. Ledrick said: "The Drama as we know it today is a far cry from the first known drama in about 450 B.C. There was no grease paint then but it was a form of entertainment as it is today. One man (for many centuries always connected with the church) would give a religious recitation. Later there were two or more men and the play itself was born.

"There may have been women active in plays in France about the 11th century, after the almost complete eclipse of the drama during the Dark Ages.

"At the time of the Shakespearean production we find the mention of Madame Paris and as women do, she started moving the furniture. She truly set the London physical stage on its modern way, and helped to give health to a lagging English stage. Show business moved to America during the latter part of the 19th century.

"The theater that most of us know is the motion picture. About the time of the early cinema there was a rising young stage star of whom Wm. De Mille, a Broadway producer, said, "She is throwing her whole career in the ash can and buying herself in a cheap form of amusement. I have pleaded with her not to waste her professional life and opportunities the stage gives her, but she is a rather stubborn little thing and says she knows what she is doing, so I guess we'll say goodbye to little Mary Pickford."

"Gertrude Lawrence was a star of both musical comedy and legitimate theater. Because of her determination, Gertrude Lawrence sang and danced her way to stardom and became the toast of two continents."

Sketches of the lives of Katherine Cornell, Katharine Hepburn, and Billie Burke were also mentioned.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Don C. Boyd, D. V. Burton, J. F. Curtis, Sam E. Cook, Knox Kinard, H. L. Ledrick, Jr., Bob McCoy, Grubly Morrison, Carlton Nance, Dave Pope, Geo. Walstad, Harold Wright, R. W. Crews, T. M. Johnston and one guest: Mrs. A. L. Winsett.

Tips For Tasks

If you never can find a dust-cloth when you want it, why not put a neat plastic bag on the back of the broom closet door? wire hook for hanging and a wire frame which holds the bag slightly open so dusters can be put in and pulled out easily. Of course, it can be kept spotless with soap and should hold only freshly laundered dusters.

House Will Study Complete Revision Of Civil Defense

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — High on the list of jobs scheduled to be done first by the new Administration is a drastic revision of the civil defense program.

Specific plans, which could produce a more realistic civil defense for the nation yet cut $100,000,000 from the Truman budget, are now under study in the White House.

Among them are proposals which would:
Rip alleged waste, frills and extravagance from present plans.
Confine Uncle Sam's role to top direction, planning and coordination.

Make far more extensive use of help offered by industry and state and local governments.
Incorporate the principles of civil defense training into elementary school safety and first aid courses.

Revamp the stockpiling program, after taking a nationwide inventory of supplies and equipment already on hand in the reserves of corporations and communities.
Make an inventory of available supplies and equipment which exist on military bases all over the country.

Possibly abandon the whole expensive shelter program.
Permit persons to flee from cities when an impending attack is announced, instead of trying to force them to remain in special shelters or in basements.

"Public apathy" has been cited by Federal Civil Defense Administration officials as their top problem in trying to whip together a going civil defense plan for the country.

However, the experts advising the White House claim that it has been the fault of FCDA, and not the public. Thousands of persons have signed up for volunteer work after big recruiting drives by FCDA, only to become disgusted with the whole thing when they discovered the confusion and lack of real plans which existed.

The new approach would be to let industry and local government units do the big share of recruiting and training, under an integrated, broad plan set forth by Uncle Sam. Truck drivers and transportation workers, for instance, would have civil defense jobs in their field. Firemen and policemen would have specific assignments in line with their regular work.

In addition, the existing private plans would be integrated into the national plan. Federal officials have largely ignored these efforts so far, attempting to do the whole job themselves, critics maintain.

Plans and attempts of FCDA to stockpile such items as first aid supplies have gone sour, it is charged. Some materiel has already deteriorated through age.

"What really detained me, sir, was my wife telling me right in the middle of my shave that our clock was a half hour slow!"

Other items are about to become obsolete. The new plan would first determine the quantity of such supplies and equipment needed for civil defense which currently exist in normal reserves and in the commercial pipeline. It would also find out how much exists on military posts around the country which would be available for an emergency. This has never before been done.

If necessary, firms would be asked to increase normal stocks slightly for the emergency, and perhaps be given small tax deductions for any added cost.

The idea could save billions, which could be spent under present plans to store up everything needed for an emergency.

So far, many millions of dollars have been spent by FCDA on its shelter program. Reports to the White House, however, indicate that there is still no accepted standard shelter designs. Further, many of the experts who have been working on the problem are said to have concluded that the whole idea of building shelters is a waste of time and money. This thought is based on the knowledge of new types of nuclear weapons. Any kind of shelter against these tremendous explosive forces, it is said, is no answer, they now think, might be to let persons evacuate cities as soon as the first raid warnings are received.

In reorganizing present federal civil defense machinery, the first goal of the new Administration is to produce an integrated plan which would apply to all parts of the country and to all phases of the program. Such a program does not exist today, in spite of all the money and effort which has been spent by Uncle Sam.

The basic plan would establish a uniform organization for all civilian defense groups throughout the country. Each state, county and city would have almost identical organizations, with specific duties and lines of authority spelled out in detail. Within the federal civil defense agency, each division would operate under the unified basic plan as to recruitment and the use of volunteer organizations. Up until now, each division has gone its own way in trying to set up civil defense units around the country.
