Strategists Weigh Manchuria Bombing Campaign Expected To Be Intensified

Immediate Decision Not Imminent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—UP—Administration strategists are weighing carefully all possible military and diplomatic consequences in the event Allied planes bomb Communist supply and air bases in Manchuria, informed sources reported Saturday.

A decision is not imminent on the controversial issue, the sources said. They said no quick decision would be made because of possible "grave consequences."

But President Eisenhower's administration is said to be taking a "new look" at the Manchurian bombing question in its overall consideration of proper ways to put military and other pressures on the enemy Communists.

Weighing in a decision are the views of U.S. allies who have opposed bombing of Red China, its possible effect toward ending or enlarging the war, strength of Red defenses, and the chances of Communist air retaliation against U.N. ground troops in Korea.

Made Studies
Defense and diplomatic staff studies were made a long time ago and kept up to date on the Manchurian bombing issue. Former President Truman and his advisers always decided against such action. "There are no indications Mr. Eisenhower will alter the previous decisions."

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, former Far Eastern commander who talked with President Eisenhower following his post-election Korean trip, has been one of the leading advocates of hitting the Communist supply and air sanctuaries beyond the Yalu River.

Informants said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles hinted at the Manchurian question this week. He said "a whole series of measures," including a NAVAL blockade and tighter allied trade controls, are under study for ending the war. He said the decision is being considered from the standpoint of their "feasibility, their military consequences," and relations with U.S. allies.

Going Slow
The administration is reported to be against taking any dramatic "end the war" actions at this time. Strategy is based on increasing the effectiveness of South Korea, Chinese Nationalist, and Indo-China native forces to relieve American and Allied forces now pinned down in the Far East. The administration appears willing to continue the stalemate in Korea until training and increased aid programs materialize.

Head Of 'Smack' Now In Kentucky
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—UP—The Army said Smith's reassessment, as commander of the Eleventh Airborne Division at Fort Campbell, Ky., has "no connection" with the abortive "Operation Smack" — an unsuccessful attack Jan. 25 on entrenched Communist troops near T-Bone Hill in Korea.

Smith is coming home on "normal rotation," an Army spokesman said.

Area Youngster's Mishap Kicks Off Safety Drive
McLEAN (Special) — As the result of a car accident which injured a six-year-old boy Saturday, McLean city officials have stepped up plans to make it less dangerous for children to go to and from school.

Jimmy McCarthy, first grade student, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel McCarthy, was struck by a car at 8:45 a.m. Saturday while crossing a street in front of the school. The thoroughfare has been labeled "dangerous" by many community officials and citizens.

He was treated for a broken collar bone, cuts and bruises, by a local doctor and is now at home.

The car which struck the child knocked him approximately 12 feet. It was driven by Shirley Allison, high school junior. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Allison, McLean.

Speakers said the girl was going slow in a no-parking, 15-mile-an-hour school zone. No charges are expected to be filed, according to law enforcement officials.

WINNING WASHINGTON could be on hand today — the 21st anniversary of the first President's birthday — to help him enjoy some cherry pie is Ronnie Huey, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Huey, 516 N. Warren. George Washington may not have cut down That Famous Tree, but young Ronnie sure does go for the pie that comes from the tree's product. And that means ALL THE WAY IN for it — just witness his cheeks, shirt-front and hands. (News Photo)

Truman To Publish His Memoirs In Life

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 21—UP—Former President Truman held his first news conference Saturday since he left the White House and revealed that Life magazine would publish his memoirs and that he would take his family to Honolulu next month.

Commenting that "it's just like old times," the nattily dressed former chief executive faced a battery of newsmen and television cameras to say he had selected Life to handle all rights in the memoirs because "I have observed that Life editors have presented other memoirs with great dignity and care."

He added that Life also "made the best offer" in the list of "a dozen, maybe more" bidders. Details of the financial arrangement with Life were not divulged but he said the amount paid for all rights was "more than half a million dollars."

Mr. Truman said the work would be published in one or two volumes. "It will not be published for two years," he said in a prepared statement, "in the belief that by 1954 he will be able to speak more fully on the subjects pertaining to the role his administration played in world affairs."

Spokesmen for Life in New York said they expected to start publication of the memoirs some time in 1954.

Mr. Truman told the newsmen that "Mrs. Truman, Margaret and myself" will sail for Honolulu on the liner President Cleveland on March 22 for a month's vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Truman will board the ship at San Francisco and daughter Margaret will join them at Los Angeles the next day, he said.

"There will be no newsmen, photographers, interviews or telephone calls on the trip," Mr. Truman said. "All we want to do is spend a few weeks in Honolulu just resting."

Lawana Lewis Rites Slated For Today
Funeral services for Lawana Lois Lewis, 24, who died at 2:25 p.m. Friday after a five-day illness, are to be at 2 p.m. today in the Henderson Funeral Home Chapel, Vernon. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Lewis, 729 S. Barnes.

Roy Jones, Church of Christ pastor, Vernon, is to officiate and burial is to be in Vernon Cemetery.

Form New Cabinet Post . . . Action Demanded In War Of Ideas

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—UP—The U. S. Advisory Commission on Information Saturday recommended creation of a new cabinet agency to seize the offensive "on the world battlefields of propaganda" and win America's "war of ideas."

It grimly warned that "fast-moving . . . dynamic" action is necessary to overcome communism's techniques of propaganda. The United States, it said, is now cast in the role of David to Russia's Goliath in the propaganda battle.

The commission recommended to Congress that the proposed new department take over functions of the State Department's Voice of America, coordinate and manage information policies of all government agencies and overseas information programs, and handle psychological warfare strategy.

Study Began In 1948
The group began its study of U. S. international information programs in 1948. Its recommendations, therefore, were not influenced by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's current investigation of the Voice of America.

Witnesses have testified before the Wisconsin Republican's permanent investigating subcommittee that some voice employees were soft toward communism.

The commission's recommendations appeared likely to be endorsed by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles who has said his department should be stripped of operating functions. But the first congressional reaction was negative.

No Immediate Support
There was no immediate support for a department with cabinet rank. Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S. D.), one of the "fathers" of the Voice program and a long-time advocate of effective overseas propaganda, said "I still believe the information fruit and vegetable market on S. Cuyler. In 1946, Neel purchased the property he now occupies at 319 S. Cuyler and branched out."

W. B. Neel Enters Commission Race

City politics moved ahead another notch Saturday as Ward 3 Commissioner W. B. (A) Neel, 319 S. Cuyler, filed as a candidate for reelection.

He is the fourth man to enter the commission race, the other three all being in Ward 4.

Neel, siding in filing, "the interest of personal friends has been the prime factor behind my decision to announce my candidacy for reelection."

FBI Nabs Two In Counterfeiting

SILVER SPRING, Md., Feb. 21—UP—The Secret Service disclosed Saturday it has arrested two veteran Agriculture Department employees on charges of operating a counterfeiting plant in an isolated Maryland cabin.

The two—Martin T. Storie, 47, and Miss Mary Watson, 32—pleaded not guilty at arraignment here before U. S. Commissioner F. Archie Mealy.

A Secret Service spokesman claimed that Storie admitted making plates to turn out bogus $10 bills and had printed some currency but burned it because it was imperfect.

Race

Before coming to Pampa, Neel worked for Stern and Rogers Construction Company of Denver, managed a lumber yard at Irene, Mo., was employed by Lone Star Gas at Athens when he decided to move to Pampa in 1952.

Married, he has one daughter, Mrs. Joann Holleman, a dental assistant in the Ashby, Gates and Rybert Surgical and Dental Clinic.

So far Neel has the Ward 3 city commission race to himself. But the story is different in Ward 4 where Commissioner W. D. Varney, seeking his second term, has drawn two opponents, L. P. Fort and E. C. Schaffer.

To date no one has announced as a candidate, or led for mayor or commissioner of Wards 1 or 2.

Ward 2 Commissioner Bob Thompson is automatically out of the running since he will be an Amarillo resident by the time election day, April 7, rolls around.

March 7, just three weeks away, is the deadline for filing as a candidate for commissioner or mayor.

Pioneer

(Continued from page one) Enid, Woodward and Berger, Keith Kahle, president D. Varney's line said he was well pleased with the CAB's decision removing Central's authority to operate in Oklahoma and Texas and said he expects the present route to remain in force until about Apr. 20.

Currently, Pampa businessmen, city and county officials are working an oral argument to presented on CAB on Mar. 12 when it hears the city's appeal from Bryan's decision denying Pioneer's application to extend service to Pampa.

The Pioneer application would give Pampa a direct southbound flight to Dallas and Fort Worth without having to go to Amarillo to catch a plane out of Amarillo Municipal Airport. The only other route is over Central's circuitous flight from Pampa, through Oklahoma, and then back into Texas.

However, Pampa will be without direct east-west air service

Moscow Agrees To Accept Bohlen As U.S. Ambassador

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—UP—Moscow has agreed to accept Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen as U.S. Ambassador to Russia, informed sources said Saturday.

Russia's consent, obtained in keeping with diplomatic custom, cleared the way for Bohlen to succeed George F. Kennan whose recall was forced last Oct. 3 by the Kremlin on grounds he had slandered the Soviet Union.

President Eisenhower is expected to send Bohlen's nomination to the Senate for approval soon—probably in the next week.

Kennan is slated for assignment as ambassador to Communist Yugoslavia, it was reported. Technically he still holds the title of Ambassador to Russia, although Moscow banished him nearly six months ago for telling newsmen he found conditions in Russia similar to those in Nazi Germany early in World War II.

Bohlen, 49, is now the State Department's counselor, a high-ranking policy position. He and Kennan are unanimously recognized as the nation's foremost authorities on Russia, and Bohlen probably is the American who knows Josef Stalin best.

Certainly he is the only living American who knows at first-hand precisely what the late President Roosevelt and Stalin said to each other in their informal talks at the

Korea Vet Held As Suspect In Death Of Hero Sergeant

WUERZBURG, Germany, Feb. 21—UP—A young Korea veteran was held Saturday on suspicion of murdering his platoon sergeant, a much decorated Korea hero who was shot with an M-1 rifle in an Army barracks.

An official army spokesman said "preliminary facts indicate" Cpl. Herbert Washington, 22, of New Orleans, La., will be charged with premeditated murder" of M-Sgt. Willie M. Robinson, 27, of Topeka, Kan.

Both men are Negroes.

Washington has been under constant interrogation at 1st Infantry Division headquarters since Robinson was shot in broad daylight inside a company barracks at Bamberg, on Thursday, the Army said.

Robinson, who is survived by his wife and their eight-month old daughter, was awarded the Silver Star for bravery in Korea.

Bread, Groceries On Next Decontrol

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—UP—Government officials indicated Saturday the next big price decontrol order will cover bread and dry groceries such as coffee and cereals, candy and confections, and major household appliances such as washing machines.

Prices of bread, and perhaps other bakery products are expected to go up after decontrol and there may be some scattered increases on groceries which include tea, rice, jellies, preserves, some soups and crackers.

Major home appliances still under control are under "considerable" pressure for price increases, officials said. These include washing machines, ironers, driers, hot water heaters, refrigerators, freezers, ranges, dishwashers and garbage disposal units.

Price officials said cigarettes are certain to go up a penny a pack and that beer prices probably will rise some.

The impending order will take another big slice out of the 13 per cent of cost-of-living items still to be decontrolled between now and April 30.

Congress Awaiting Ike's Tideland Views

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—UP—Congressional leaders Saturday looked to the White House for guidance on how far to go in legislation to give the states control of the so-called oil-rich tidelands.

Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay probably will give President Eisenhower's views on the question in testimony Thursday before a House judiciary subcommittee.

After a week of hearing in both House and Senate committees, backers of state ownership of the controversial offshore lands were more confident than ever of victory.

UN Warplanes Blast Commie Supply Routes

TOKYO, SUNDAY, Feb. 22—UP—Allied warplanes blasted Communist supply routes from the battle-front to the Yalu River Saturday in a campaign of "complete destruction" against enemy lifelines in North Korea.

American Sabrejets, guarding bomber strikes at one of the principal entry points from Manchuria, tangled with MIG-15s in a jet-plane brawl that left two of the Russian built fighters down or damaged.

In the most daring assault, 23 F-84 Thunderjets smashed a supply and transport center at Manpojin, Yalu river entry port 120 miles upstream from the Communist MIG base at Anjuing.

"The Fifth Air Force," a spokesman announced, maintained its operational plan of complete destruction of enemy war making facilities in North Korea. I don't think they were expecting us."

Pilots said they wrecked a locomotive and 23 rail cars, destroyed 18 buildings and damaged eight and set fire to a lumber yard.

"It was just like a shooting gallery," said 2nd Lt. Lawrence F. Gardner, Willow Grove, Pa. "Trucks and trains were everywhere. One burning truck had 20 people just standing around watching."

It was one of the deepest penetrations yet by the 49th Thunderjet wing.

"It looked as though you could throw a pebble out of the cockpit across the Yalu into Manchuria," said Col. Richard N. Ellis, Montgomery, Ala., leader of the strike. Forty two Sabres baited 80

Air Force's First Quadruple Amputee In Good Spirits

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Feb. 21—UP—Alman 2-6 Clarence Mosely of Paterson, N.J., the Air Force's first quadruple amputee of the Korean fighting, chatted happily with doctors at the base hospital here Saturday and said he couldn't understand "what all the fuss is about."

"I feel fine and I'll be home soon," he cheerily told his sister in Paterson in a telephone call.

Mosely leaves here by plane Sunday night for Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D.C., where he will be fitted with artificial limbs. Doctors said his morale was "remarkable."

The 21-year-old airman lost both his legs below the knees and all of his fingers after suffering severe frostbite.

He parachuted from a B-26 over enemy territory last Dec. 4 after the plane was hit by anti-aircraft fire. Aided by friendly Koreans, he made his way back to Allied lines, despite flak wounds in his left foot, thigh and forearm. But the freezing

Cold Grips North Plains

CHICAGO, Feb. 21—UP—Sub-zero cold gripped the northern plains Saturday in the wake of the worst blizzard since the prolonged storms of 1949.

The violent storm center which touched off the blizzard in the north and tornadoes in Dixie headed toward Ontario and sent high winds whistling through the Great Lakes region.

Ice winds hitting 80 miles per hour in gusts caused floods and widespread property damage in western New York.

High waves from Lake Erie forced residents to leave a hotel at Crystal Beach, Ont., and rising water in the Niagara river forced residents of cottages to flee.

At Buffalo, N. Y., buildings were damaged and a church steeple threatened to fall.

Elsewhere, unseasonably mild weather set temperature records along portions of the eastern seaboard and frost threatened the Southern California citrus belt, where forecasters warned that the temperatures would drop to 20 degrees tonight.

In the northern plains, hundreds of persons were stranded at the height of the blizzard, but snowplows cleared many roads.

The blizzard, sweeping through Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, the Dakota, Minnesota and portions of Wisconsin left snowdrifts eight to 10 feet deep.

At least 20 persons had died since the storm center developed in mid-week. Most of the deaths occurred on slippery highways.

The body of Barbara Burt, 21, trapped in a snow-buried car, was recovered Sunday near Molaan, Neb. Her escort, Dale Blunch, 22,

College Men Sought For Flight Training

College students, 18-27, who have completed at least two years can now apply for the U. S. Navy's flight training program.

For those who expect to have Selective Service obligations to fulfill in the near future, the Navy's program offers an alternate to regular enlisted service, according to an announcement from the Navy recruiting office, Amarillo.

Those who successfully complete the 18-month period of training will be commissioned ensigns in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Further details can be obtained from the recruiting office, postoffice building, Amarillo.

Keep Mind On Game Is Sound Advice

By OSWALD JACOBY
 Written for NEA Service
 What does an expert think about when he goes into a long huddle? Does he just sit at the table and wonder what he would like to eat for breakfast the next morning, or does he really apply himself to the problem at hand? I cannot deny that some experts go wool-gathering at the bridge table. In general, however, the expert does keep his mind on his business and does a good deal of his reasoning along the lines of "if he had it, he would." Let's see how this works out in the hand shown today.

declarer played low from dummy, not knowing that East had a singleton king. East won with the king of hearts and shifted to the king of diamonds, whereupon South took the ace of diamonds and returned the suit to force out East's queen.

East plugged away at diamonds, returning the nine. South led the nine of diamonds hold, but took the next trick with dummy's jack of diamonds. Declarer's next top trick to West.

This gave the enemy the fourth defensive trick, after which South needed the rest of the tricks to make his contract.

West returned another heart, and declarer cashed in order the ace and queen of hearts, the ace of clubs, the jack of hearts, and the king of spades.

The queen of spades dropped on declarer's king, and declarer next led a spade towards the dummy and wondered whether to finesse the ten or to go up with dummy's ace of spades. East had very cleverly played the jack and the king of clubs, saving the ten of clubs.

East was known to have one diamond, and the idea was to make it seem that he had no more clubs in order that South should believe that East still had the rest of spades.

South recognized the possibility that East's unknown card was the jack of spades, and he thought about it. If East's unknown card happened to be a club, all of East's plays were deceptive, but quite logical.

If East's unknown card happens to be the jack of spades, however, this meant that East

HOBBYIST — Mrs. Burl Lewter, 805 E. Francis, pauses while working at her hobby of sawdust modeling to have a chat with Chipper, one of her pet parakeets. ## Pampan Doesn't Limit Her Hobbies To One, Two-Counts At Least Ten

By DOLORES DAVIS
 A great many persons have one hobby — for relaxation from the pressure of Twentieth-Century living. And a considerable number have two or even three. Mrs. Burl Lewter, 805 E. Francis, puts the "one," "two" and "three" dabbles in the shade.

She began listing hers, got up to 10, and gave up the process.

Anyway, historically, she began her hobbies when her work became the heaviest. That was some years ago when on the death of her mother she began helping her father rear four younger brothers and sisters. But the busier she became, she said, the more hobbies she took on.

She is currently engaged in sawdust modeling and gadget painting. Both are quite a departure from the ordinary conception of modeling and painting. No brushes, no fancy clay, no hot kilns, or expensive materials are required—though she has used all in past ventures.

Equipment for these two activities include such common but improbable things as ordinary sawdust, wall paper paste, plain enamel (odds and ends do nicely, she said), and around-the-house-gadgets (i.e. broken knives, old nails, screwdrivers, electric iron cords, sockets, plastic forks, glasses, bottles, screws, potato mashers). There are numerous other implements but these are the ones Mrs. Lewter has already put to use to turn out dainty artistic designs comparable to fine textile painting.

And the methods are as simple as the artist's tools.

For sawdust modeling, Mrs. Lewter explains, you take sawdust which is easily obtainable from local concerns, mix it with wheat paste (wall paper) and mold the desired object. She prefers finely ground wood shavings like that left in floor sanding and gets different textures to the molded articles with the use of different woods. The final results are unlimited. Earrings can be made with the use of copper wire and inexpensive lobe screws, obtainable at five-and-ten-cent stores. Figurines, coasters, and vases (she varnishes the insides to make them water retainable) are easy, even for the beginner. A myriad of colors can be had by using paints, dyes and crayons applied at the whim of the artist.

One of the most fascinating hobbies in her long list, she said, is "gadget painting." Its simplicity is astounding and the results almost equally fantastic.

By taking any gadget, dipped in paints brushed liberally on glazed cardboard, and pressing it on cloth or any other paintable surface she has produced fancy floral, modernistic and symmetrical designs. The motifs can be applied to scarfs, tablecloths, pictures, or blouses, or can be used in house decorations.

Mrs. Lewter's daughter, Vickie, has caught the bug, too, and with the coaching of her talented mother has engaged in many of the hobbies.

COMPLETING TRAINING — W. L. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayman A. Smith, 729 N. Zimmers, is completing his Air Force basic training indoctrination course at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio. Lackland is the world's largest air force base; site of Air Force basic training for men and women; headquarters of the Human Resource Research Center; and home of AF's Officer Candidate School. His basic training is preparing him for entrance into Air Force technical training and for assignment in specialized work. The course includes a scientific evaluation of his aptitude and inclination for following a particular vocation and career.

erations at advance Naval bases.

Home on an 18-day leave is Electrician's Mate (Fireman) Derl Spoonemore, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Spoonemore, 617 N. Gray.

Since entering the U.S. Navy Jan. 11, 1951, Spoonemore has seen action aboard the attack-cargo ship AKA Washburn (108) in the waters by China, Formosa, Japan, Alaska and Korea.

And come March 5 he has orders to go overseas once again. Having been in Far Eastern waters from June to December, 1951, Spoonemore has been operating out of Pt. Barrow, Alaska, during 1952 and the first of this year. Duties have included working up and down the entire Pacific coast.

Main purpose of his ship in the Far East was to carry tanks, guns and big trucks from one port to another.

On a four-year hitch, he has already acquired four decorations — Japanese Occupation, China Service, United Nations and Korea Service.

Prior to entering the service, he attended Pampa High School.

Lee D. Jennings, chief gunner's mate, United States Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin L. Jennings, Pampa, is among the 55 Naval

Little Texas Girl Beginning To Grow

HOUSTON, Feb. 21—UP—A 17-year-old girl, who stopped growing when she was 10 years old and remained that size ever since, has responded to treatment with pure growth hormone and has added 3.16 of an inch to her height in three months, it was disclosed Saturday.

Little Audrey Holder, daughter of a Dobbins, Tex., farmer is the "happiest girl in the world," her sister, Mrs. Billy Hendrix of Houston, said Saturday.

"Now she has a terrific appetite. She eats lots of steak and chicken, and for the first time in her life she has a lot of energy," Mrs. Hendrix said.

Gains Four Pounds

Since she began undergoing the hormone treatments at the suggestion of a Baylor University doctor, Audrey has gained four pounds, bringing her weight to 56 pounds. She stands 50-3-16 inches high.

Before the treatments started, her sister said, the girl was often sick, lacked energy and had no appetite.

Since the story of the experimental treatments was published about three months ago, Audrey has received scores of letters from "boy friends."

"Most of them are small like me, and one even smaller," she said. "But I'm growing up now and I want a boy my size. I got a letter from a soldier in Japan who weighs 210 pounds."

"Give me two years and I'll have a husband and a set of rings, too," Mrs. Hendrix quoted Audrey as saying, Audrey blushed.

Like many other "small" people, Audrey is a pituitary dwarf. She grew normally until 10 and then growth stopped because of the glandular defect.

When the Baylor medical professor disclosed he was administering the hormone treatments, Audrey said her big ambition was to be "as big and pretty as my girl friend," a normal sized girl.

Saturday, she believed her ambition would someday be realized.

Chairmen Are Named For City Observance Of School Week

Chairmen to head Texas Public School Week (March 2-6) committees have been chosen, according to Homer Craig, Baker Grade School principal, and have begun planning commemoration activity.

They are Ray Evans, radio; C. P. Buckler, publicity; DeLena Vicars, newspapers; Aaron Meek, school visitation tags; Bob Knott, placards; and Craig, school activities.

Travis Lively, is slated to give five-minute talks about public schools at Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, and Jaycees weekly luncheon-meetings.

Major purpose of the committees, Craig said, is to get persons of the community to visit the class rooms to learn first-hand what is being done.

Schools are to carry out normal schedules and no special programs by the children are being planned, he said.

Radio talks over stations KPON (7:15 p. m.) and KPAT (7:45 p. m.) March 2 are also scheduled with the speaker to be announced later.

Pampan On Tour In McMurry Choir

ABILENE (Special) — Tom Reddell, McMurry College sophomore from Pampa, is included in the group of 40 Chanters who will tour New Mexico Feb. 27-March 6.

Round Reddell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reddell of 621 Magnolia, is a business major and a speech minor.

It is the first time in its 30-year history that the Chanters, a mixed choir, will have an all-New Mexico tour scheduled. The group has given numerous concerts in that area, but never before has based its entire itinerary around the state.

Dr. Richard C. von Ende, chairman of the division of Fine Arts, is director of the chorus. Francis Hinkel, assistant professor of organ, is accompanist.

Ninth District VFW Encampment Under Way In Amarillo

Today is the second day of the quarterly encampment for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of Texas, Ninth District.

Get together, slated today and Saturday in the VFW Post Home, Amarillo, included members from the district's 18 posts of communities throughout the Panhandle.

Registration is to continue until noon today, according to Les Marler, commander Post 1657.

Saturday's activities included various committee meetings, social functions for the Ladies Auxiliary and a dance in the Post Home.

Justin M. Morrow, Rotan, department senior vice commander, was scheduled to be the guest speaker, according to Holt Barber, Dumas, district commander.

To be included among items to be discussed during the two-day meeting, Barber, said, were community service, youth programs, outlawing of the Communist Party and the need for more hospital beds in the Veterans Administration.

KILL THE TASTE BUD APPETITE TO TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Over four and a half million bottles of Barentrate have been sold in Texas in nine years. During the past year, the makers of this product have done extensive research work and experimentation toward making an excellent product still better. We now announce the new improved Barentrate. The original formula remains the same, except that an additional ingredient has been added.

In addition to the liquid Barentrate, we have added tablets which are dissolved on the tongue before eating. These tablets help to lessen the taste bud appetite — to help kill the taste buds which lie on the surface of the tongue. Thus, with the new improved Barentrate, your stomach appetite is satisfied so that you need not know a hungry moment. And the "taste" appetite created by the taste buds is lessened.

With the new Barentrate, you will eat all the body requires, but you will not lose and still not know a hungry moment. The liquid Barentrate eliminates, dehydrates and also helps to satisfy stomach hunger with less food. The new ingredient added to the liquid supplies nourishment and energy. Just as to your demand and get the new improved Barentrate. Pour the contents of the foot-cube bottle into a pint bottle or jar. Add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonful twice a day as directed on label. Take the tablets as directed on container and presto — watch the fat melt off. If the very first bottle and tablets don't show you the way to reduce simply, easily and help regain slender, body, personal curves, return the empty bottle for your money back.

LOST 90 POUNDS

Mrs. Ed Lopez, 113 E. Cornsiter St., San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I take Barentrate to keep down my fat. I lost about 90 pounds using this excellent product. I wore size 38 dress when I started. I now wear size 24!"

14 POUNDS LOST

"I have lost 14 pounds taking Barentrate," writes Mrs. Belle Alexander, 1109 Elmwood, Fort Worth, Texas. "I have found Barentrate very beneficial in many other ways, other than reducing. Barentrate left me feeling so much better."

RE-ELECTED — All three McLean school supervisors have been unanimously re-elected by the McLean school board. Re-elected were Freeman Melton Jr., left, high school principal; Paul L. Kennedy, center, superintendent of schools and James A. Prock, right, elementary school principal.

Board Unanimously Re-Elects McLean School Supervisors

McLEAN (Special) — Paul L. Kennedy was re-elected superintendent of the McLean Schools by unanimous vote at a recent meeting of the school board.

Also re-elected to their present positions were Freeman Melton Jr., high school principal and James A. Prock, elementary school principal. This was also by unanimous consent and all board members were present.

Kennedy and Melton both hold Master Degrees from West Texas State College, Canyon, and Prock is a B. S. graduate of the same school. Kennedy has been in the system for a number of years, first as a classroom teacher, then as high school principal. Prock and Melton have been in the system two years. Prock was a classroom teacher his first year and Melton was assistant coach before being made principal of the high school.

Classroom teachers will not be chosen until after the school board election early in April. At that time the board will also make plans for replacing west stands on the football stadium. The stands were destroyed soon after the opening of the season last fall.

Air Farmers Learn Results Of Studies

Texas agriculturists are to learn the results of a series of experiments dealing with a number of crop harvest controls at the second annual Agricultural Aviation Conference slated today through Tuesday in Memorial Student Center, College Station.

Also on the agenda for the conference, jointly sponsored by the Texas Aeronautics Commission, Texas A & M College System and Texas Flying Farmers, will be displays by chemical companies and demonstrations by manufacturers of aircraft and aerial appliances.

Included in the demonstrations of aviation equipment, used by farmers for spraying crops and observation, are to be the Stearman with high lift wing, Delta Puffer, Piper 18 with high density spray, Cessna 170 sprayer, De Havilland Beaver, Bell Helicopter sprayer and Ag.L. (A&M experimental plane).

Experiment results deal with control of mesquite, mixed brush, weed in field crops, defoliation, fertilizing, seeding and various insect control, including work in cotton and small grains.

The conference committee at College Station has invited all area farmers, ranchers, aerial applicators, county agents and agricultural editors to attend the gathering.

Not A Hard-Hearted Villain . . . City Dogcatcher Says His Job 'Is One That Has To Be Done'

By ED NASH
Pete Simonton is Pampa dogcatcher.

And he doesn't "like to kill 'em any more than anyone else — but it's a job that's got to be done."

Unlike the traditional picture of the hard-hearted man who hates dogs and gleefully snatches them off the streets at the slightest provocation, Simonton is a mild-mannered, slow-talking Texan who has lived in Pampa since 1934.

He goes about his business of catching, kennelling, killing and disposing of stray dogs in a calm, matter-of-fact way that belies the common idea of a town's dogcatcher.

Only one-third of Simonton's time is taken up with the care of stray dogs. For he also puts out in the morning and takes back at night the street school signs and fixes the flat tires on all city vehicles.

His dog-catching duties come under the jurisdiction of the Pampa police department which is bound by city ordinance to make sure all Pampa dogs are vaccinated and licensed each year. Deadline this year was Jan. 15.

While the thirty-seven-year-old Simonton is on a call, he enjoys talking about his wife, Lillian, and his son, Tommy, who has played center and tackle on the Harvesters for the past two years. The Simontons live at 112 S. Nelson.

Asked how come he happened to become a dogcatcher three years ago Feb. 1, Simonton replied disinterestedly that "they had an opening — asked me to take it — and I did."

For three months previous he had been driving a city truck. Catching a dog is no problem at all, Simonton maintains. "All you have to do is make friends with 'em, walk up close and pick 'em up."

"But a dog can tell in a minute," he continued, "whether you're afraid of him and if you are — he'll give you a rough time, maybe even bite you." He figures that in three years he's been bitten "maybe six or eight times."

Getting an average of three to six calls per day means that the city dog pound is usually quite well-populated, he explained, and as many different kinds of dogs are represented from time to time "as you can name."

And there are very few "I can't catch the first time I go out," he admitted, adding that once in a while it takes a second or third trip.

"Is the pound ever vacant?" "Maybe three days in three years," Pampa's dogcatcher estimated he has caught "between 1,400 and 1,500 dogs" each year during his three years on the job and that he has had to asphyxiate "probably 85 per cent of them."

The other 15 per cent have either been picked up during the three-day period that they must be kept at the city pound — "fed and watered every day" — or have been bought by persons paying the pound fee ($1.25 after the first day, $1.75 after the third).

Sometimes, Simonton said, "I'll keep a good-looking bird dog a day longer." But he doesn't make a practice of keeping dogs "past their time." For "you get too many of 'em."

A little-known item is that anyone can go out to the pound and buy a stray dog. All it costs is the pound fee, an anti-rabies vaccination fee ($2) and a dog license ($1 for males and spayed females, $2 for females) as little as $4.25 in total.

And, by a new system, the license can be bought from one of the two local veterinarians immediately after vaccination. That saves a trip to the police station.

TO THE POUND — Two stray pups are on their way to the city dog pound after being picked up by city dog catcher Pete Simonton who says he doesn't particularly care for disposing of dogs, but it's a job that has to be done. These two dogs will be kept at the city pound, located near the city dump east of town, for three days before they are disposed of. Any dog may be claimed and bought for a slight fee. (News Photo)

Abilene Youth Gets Three 5-Year Term In Auto Theft

Delvin Willingham, 18, of Abilene today was on his way back to the state penitentiary to serve three five-year sentences for car theft and attempted burglary here.

He was given the sentences Friday afternoon by Judge Lewis M. Goodrich after he pleaded guilty to two car theft indictments and the attempted burglary indictment in 31st District Court.

Willingham was one of four youths in a burglary ring smashed here on Aug. 28, 1952 when they attempted to break into the Mitchell Grocery and Market. The same group had also stolen two Pampa cars, one from the Clyde Jonas car lot and the other from B. A. Ricketts as it stood parked on N. Somerville.

The three sentences will run concurrently. Ray Fortune, Abilene, tried here late last year, pleaded guilty and was also given a five-year sentence by Judge Goodrich. A third youth, Buddy Wise, also of Abilene, under 17 years of age, was

The way Simonton does it, the disposal of dogs who have overstayed their leave at the pound — located several miles northeast of town — is easy and painless.

The dogcatcher puts them in an airtight rectangular metal box, locks the door, extends a wide rubber hose from the gas chamber to the exhaust pipe of his vehicle and turns on the motor. Ten minutes later the job is done.

Bodies of the dogs are disposed of at the Parhandle Packing Company. Fourteen were gassed one day this past week. The average per day runs "anywhere from two or three to 20 head."

Usually, Simonton went on, gasings come twice a week. And some of the dogs, it seems, realize their recent buddies' fates. Sometimes there is some yelping and whining, he said; but more often not.

Perhaps the best indication of the Pampa dogcatcher's attitude toward his task, admittedly an unpleasant one, is the use he makes of a .22-calibre gun he keeps in the back of his truck's cab.

"I never shoot a dog," he said, "unless it looks as if it might be dangerous to people."

handled by the Juvenile Court. He is now in the reformatory.

The fourth, James Monroe Stephens, recently was sentenced to 10 years for armed robbery in Randall County District Court. He will be brought to Pampa for trial on Mar. 16. Willingham, under five-year sentence from Tom Green County was brought to Canyon on a bench warrant to testify in the Stephens case and from there to Pampa on another bench warrant to plead his own case here.

Deputy Sheriff Buck Haggartook Willingham to the penitentiary where he will catch the penitentiary bus later.

Here's why it pays to buy an automatic Gas clothes dryer

A Gas dryer saves time, work, clothes. Lets you wash any time, even at night. Dries clothes in minutes, gently, evenly, automatically.

"Much, much fluffier towels!"
They're tumble-tossed in a current of warm air, come out fluffy and wonderfully sweet-smelling.

"I buy far fewer children's clothes now!"
You buy less because a Gas dryer makes it easy to wash more often. It's so speedy it dries clothes in minutes!

"I don't even have to iron pajamas!"
It's hard to believe how amazingly free from wrinkles your clothes come out of a Gas dryer. You hardly need an iron for most cottons.

Pampa To Have Top Sports Week Of '53
If Bi-District Playoff Series Is Played Here

THERE'S NO DOUBT ABOUT it, this could be the top entertainment week in the field of sports in our finlettle city this year.
Pampa is fortunate enough in getting the bi-district series with Bowie of El Paso, here, Top of Texas sports fans couldn't ask for a more action packed program for a single week.

Monday, the Harvester Booster's Club will convene at Sam Houston Auditorium. This club backs the Harvester cagers. In addition to talks by Harvester coach Clifton McNeely and the Guestlist and Reaper coaches, at least one Harvester game movie will be shown at this time.

Surf Riders Have Speed

From Hawaii, the land of romance and good basketball, has come a speedy and representative quintet in the Hawaiian Surf Riders to appear on the star-studded basketball program at Harvester Fieldhouse Wednesday that features the Harlem Globetrotters.

Accompanied by a troupe of beautiful hula dancers and other entertainers, who will be presented as a special added attraction on the huge program, the Surf Riders are one of the best teams to come over from the islands in years.

Art Kim, the veteran coach who has been bringing over Hawaiian basketball clubs for nearly a decade, selected the Surf Riders personnel with care for the extended tour of the mainland.

Three of the players made the tour with Kim last year. They are George Makini, a Chinese-Hawaiian who starred at St. Louis College in Honolulu and is rated one of the greatest set shots in the Territory; Ronald Kim, Portuguese-Spanish-Korean, an All-Hawaiian interscholastic selection, and Robert Akeo, English-Hawaiian.

Newcomers are Harry Berto, Hawaiian-Portuguese, English from the University of Hawaii; Hubert Grupp, Portuguese-Belgian from St. Louis College; John McGuire, Hawaiian-Portuguese-English chosen as the most valuable player in his conference; Chico Myashiro, American of Japanese ancestry and Art Ziehn, who makes his home in the islands after coming over from California.

It's a tall group for Hawaii with most of the players six feet or taller. Little Miyashiro is the diminutive one of the group, being only five feet four inches tall and as clever as a frisky frog.
The Hawaiians are bound to make a hit here as they have done everywhere else on their current jaunt. They are a likeable and refreshing group, having the time of their lives visiting their fellow center is six-foot, eight and one-Americans on the mainland.

Boosters Club Meets Monday

Movie of the Harvester-Lubbock game of Feb. 13 is due to be shown at the weekly Harvester Booster's Club meeting Monday night.
The meeting will be held at the Sam Houston grade school auditorium beginning at 7:30.

Coach Clifton McNeely will be on hand to give a report on the Bowie Bears of El Paso, the Harvesters' bi-district foe. McNeely saw the Bears in action Friday night.
All sports fans are invited to attend the meeting.

Globetrotter Foe Here Boasts Height

Boasting their tallest team in more than a decade, the Philadelphia Sphas are on the road again in setting the nation's toughest teams, including the Harlem Globetrotters whom they face in main attraction of the huge cage show at Harvester Fieldhouse Wednesday night.

The regular forwards are Jack Stein, six-foot five inch giant, from Long Island University and Marvin Jaffe, 6-4, from Muhlenberg College, Pennsylvania. The center is six-foot, eight and one-half inch Bob Lojewski from Temple, a young fellow who gives every promise of developing into a wonder with a bit more professional seasoning.

Starting guards are Pete Monkska, 6-3, from Westchester (Pa.) Teachers and Jerry Coyle, "mid-get" of the starters at 6-2, from St. John's, New York.

Western Kentucky's Bill Scott at 6-3, the veteran Stan Brown at 6-4 and Jim Burns, 6-1, are the reserves. Brown and Burns are two of the greatest products ever turned out by Philadelphia high school. Brown has led the Sphas in scoring for several seasons.

The Sphas got off to a great start this season and appear to be on their way to their best record in years. The team will tour the country from coast to coast and may follow with a foreign jaunt.

Harvesters To Meet Bowie EP In Bi-District; Site To Be Set Today

School Officials To Confer At Midland

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa Daily News Sports Editor
The long awaited decision on where the Harvesters are to play their bi-district series has been postponed until today.

Officials of Pampa High School and Bowie High School of El Paso will meet early this afternoon at Midland to set the site and date of the series.

Bowie became the 2-AAAA champion Friday night with a 49-45 victory over El Paso High. The Harvesters had previously nailed down the 1-AAAA flag a week ago.

The two teams will meet in a best-two-out-of-three series for the right to enter the state tournament at Austin. But the dates and site are yet undetermined.

Harvester coach Clifton McNeely arrived back in Pampa yesterday after a two-day visit in El Paso. McNeely witnessed Bowie's title clinching victory Friday night over El Paso. Bowie and El Paso went into the game tied for the 2-AAAA lead with 6-1 records.

McNeely will be in the Pampa party today who will go to Midland to confer with El Paso school officials. Superintendent Knox Kinard will head Pampa's three-man delegation. Archie Roberts, assistant principal, and McNeely rounds out the party.

Just what method will be taken today on setting the date and site for the series was not known Saturday. "We'll just do the best thing possible for Pampa," Kinard said yesterday.

In all probability, it will take a coin-toss to determine the site. If one school gets all games of the series, then the dates will likely be Saturday, Friday and if necessary, Saturday.

Doak, Lions Talk Football Contract

DALLAS, Feb. 21 — UP—Nick Kerbow, general manager of the Detroit Lions, scheduled a contract talk with the world champions' backfield star, Doak Walker, Saturday.

All 1-AAAA Cage Release Delayed

The All-district 1-AAAA basketball team, originally scheduled to be released today, will be released next Sunday instead.

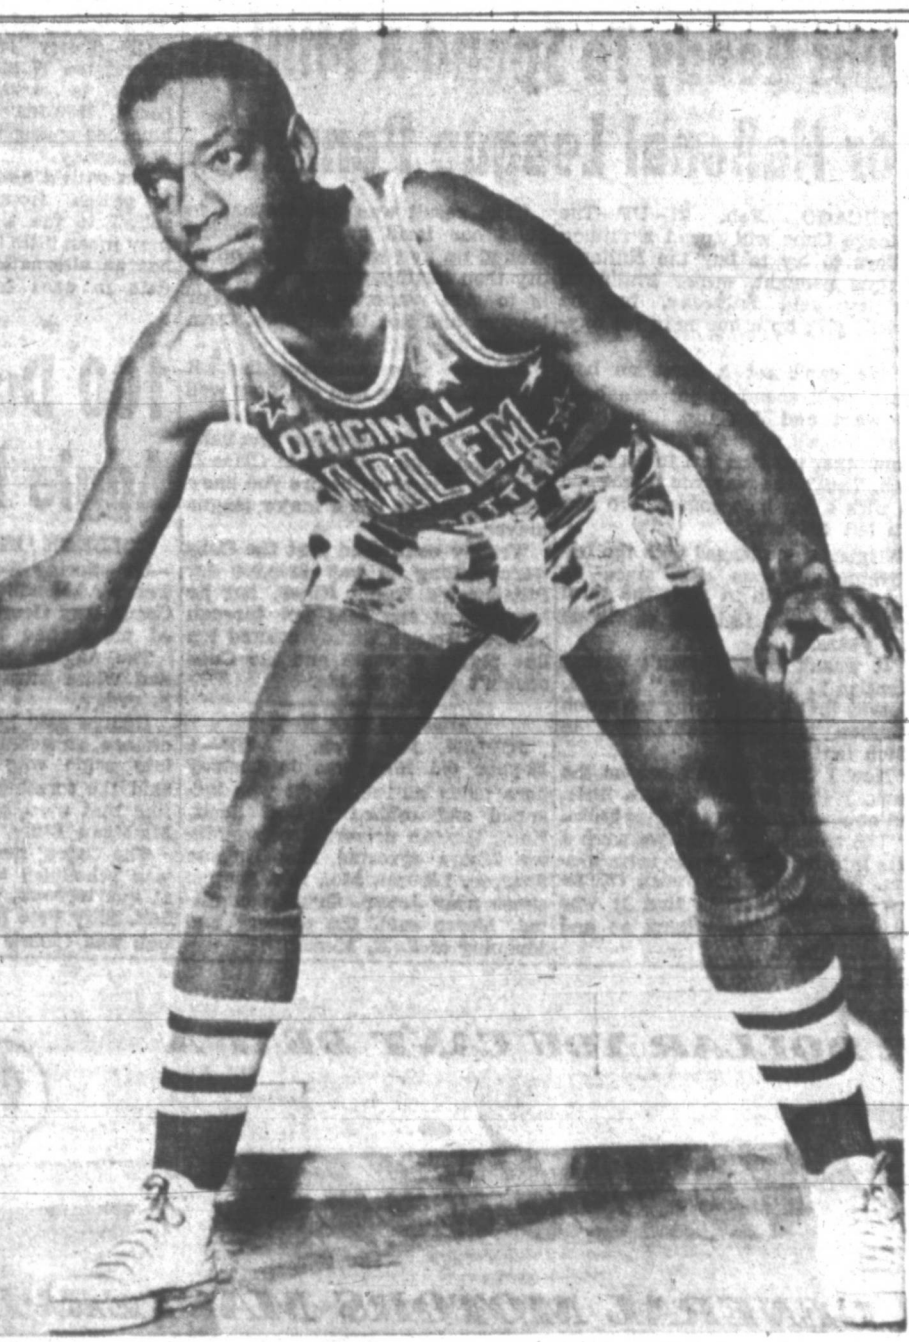

13 Oiler Pacts Placed In Mail

Thirteen Pampa Oiler contracts for the 1953 season were put in the mail yesterday, Doug Mills, club owner, announced.

Eleven of 13 players finished the season with the Oilers last season. The other two are Edmond Hughes, pitcher, and Gregory Holack, catcher.

Hughes is rejoining the Oilers after a hitch in the Army. He was with the Oilers at the end of the 1950 season but has been in the Army since that time. Hughes is a lefthander and he showed lots of promise during his brief time with the Oilers.

Solace started the season with the Oilers last season but was optioned to San Angelo of the Longhorn League early in the campaign. Solace caught 39 games for San Angelo and batted an even .300.

AGGRESSIVE CAGER — Carl Helem, 6-foot Globetrotter forward, is one of the more aggressive players on the team. Helem is a crack shot, dribbler and a fine team man. He's a graduate of Tennessee State College where he set the school's scoring record as a freshman. Helem made the Kentucky all-state team twice during his high school days. This is Helem's fourth year with the Trotters. He will be seen in action Wednesday night at Harvester Fieldhouse when the Trotters take on the Philadelphia Sphas.

Sellout Due For Trotter Show At Harvester Gym Wednesday

Only 178 out of an original 1,000 reserve seat tickets remain for the first appearance of the famous Harlem Globetrotters cage program which is ticketed for Wednesday night at Harvester Fieldhouse.

Johnny Campbell, spokesman for the Kiwanis Club — sponsors of the game — said the general admission tickets are also going fast. It is possible that all tickets will be gone by game time Wednesday.

If there are any tickets left Wednesday, they will be put on sale at the ticket office at the Fieldhouse that night, Campbell said yesterday.

Two basketball games plus three vaudeville acts will make up a star-studded program Wednesday. The Hawaiian Surf Riders and Boston Whirlwinds, two professional teams, will open the program at 7 p.m. A vaudeville act will be held at half-time of the game.

The Globe Trotters and the Philadelphia Sphas will climax the program when they will take the court at about 9 p.m. Vaudeville acts will be held between games and at half-time of the Trotters-Sphas tilt.

The vaudeville acts include a Hawaiian Hula dance by beautiful naive Hawaiian girls; a table tennis match between two "ping-pong" experts; and a unicycle performance.

In addition, the Globetrotters will put on a ball handling exhibition before their game with the Sphas. The Trotters have been well received everywhere they go which include several foreign countries. They will tell you without the slightest hint of boasting that the fans in other countries love them just as much as they do here.

Four '52 State Cage Champs Win District Titles

7 Olympic Athletes Enter Texas Relays

AUSTIN, Feb. 21—UP—Seven Olympic games athletes will compete in the 28th running of the Texas Relays to be held March 27-28, it was announced Saturday.

The relays, which play host to track and field stars from across the country, will be held in the University of Texas Memorial Stadium.

Outstanding sprint star will be Dean Smith, University of Texas, who captured fourth place in the 100-meter dash in an Olympic photo-finish. He also ran on the champion U. S. 400-meter relay team. Smith's relay titles include the 100-yard dash and membership on the winning 440 and 880-yard relay teams.

Texas A&M's rangy Darrow Hooper missed the Olympics shot put title by half an inch last summer but has won the Relays event for the past two years. He holds the shot put and discus records.

Distance star Javier Montes, formerly of Texas Western, competed in the 1,500-meters event at Helsinki and holds the Relays championship in both the 1,500 and 5,000-meter runs. He is expected to run in the famed Jerry Thompson mile, an open event.

West Santee, Kansas, and Denis Johanson, Purdue, both distance stars will crowd Montes for honors. Santee set an NCAA record in the 5,000-meter run as a sophomore last spring and represented the U. S. in the Olympics in that event. Johanson ran for Finland in the Olympic 1,500-meter run.

Broad-jumper Neville Price of Oklahoma represented South Africa in Helsinki. Price registered one of the nation's best leaps of 25 feet, 1.8 inches in taking his Relays crown.

Lee Yoder, Olympic 400-meter hurdler, transferred from Arkansas and will run for Louisiana State.

Four of the five 1952 state divisional basketball champions were among the 170 survivors left in the Texas Interscholastic League's cage program Saturday night—the deadline for certifying district champions.

One of them, Fort Worth Poly already had taken a big step toward a repeat visit to the state tournament in Austin by beating Dallas Sunset 42 to 35 in the opening game of their Class AAAA bi-district playoff.

The other defending champions were Bowie in Class AA, Dimmitt in Class A and Big Sandy (Livingston) in Class B—won't see action until next week end in regional tournaments throughout the state.

Alamo Heights, which won the Class AAA crown and then defeated Poly for the AAA-AAA title, was eliminated in its district in the final game of the season by San Antonio Edison.

All of the bi-district berths in Classes AAAA and AAA, with the exception of the 1-AAA champion, were decided by Friday night. In that district, five of the six teams finished in a deadlock for first place—Plainview, Sweetwater, Snyder, Vernon and Lamesa. Big Spring didn't win a game. They held a sudden-death elimination tournament Saturday at Stamford to determine which would move into the playoffs.

Vernon beat Snyder, 62-40, and Plainview took Lamesa, 50 to 44, after Lamesa eliminated Sweetwater Friday night.

The Vernon-Plainview game was scheduled Saturday night.

Besides Poly and Sunset, the other Class AAAA district champions were Pampa (1), El Paso Bowie (2), Tyler (5), Austin (6), Houston S.F. Austin (7), and Port Arthur (8). Austin and Tyler also have opened their playoff series, Austin winning the opener 69 to 48.

The Class AAA champions are Brownwood (2), Paris (3), Texas-Kana (4), Temple (5), Beaumont South Park (6), Edison (7), and Alice (8).

Those already certified include: American Independence Day, July 4th, is celebrated as national legal holiday in Denmark, and until 1948 was also observed in Czechoslovakia.

Snead Team Leads In Mixed Meet

ORLANDO, Fla., Feb. 21—UP—Sam Snead had his hot putter working Saturday, as he teamed with Betty MacKinnon to enter the finals of the $7,500 International Mixed Two-Ball Golf tournament with a 3 and 2 victory over Betty Dodd and Bill Kaiser.

The Rawling, West Virginian and his Dallas, Tex., partner will meet the Tampa, Fla., team of George Bolesta and Babe Zaharias in the 36-hole final Sunday over the par-71 Dubard Country Club course.

Bolesta and the Babe, the only one of three medalist teams left in the tourney, scored an easy 5 and 4 victory over Edean Anderson of Helena, Mont., and Ky Laffoon of Orlando.

Snead and Miss MacKinnon were three under par for the 16 holes played. They took a 3-up lead over Miss Dodd, of San Antonio, Tex., and Kaiser, of White Plains, N.Y., at the turn. Miss MacKinnon missed easy putts of two and three feet on 11 and 12 to lose those holes but Snead rammed home a 25-footer for a birdie three on the 16th to close out the match.

Miss Anderson, the lone amateur left in the field, and Laffoon, a retired pro who now lives in Orlando, were no match for the long-ball hitting Zaharias-Bolesta duo.

ON ENCORE TOUR—Jacques Cordon, champion unicyclist, will appear in a special act of Wednesday night's Globetrotter show at Harvester Fieldhouse. Cordon made a hit in touring with the Trotters several years ago. But the French cyclist, due to commitments in Europe and South America, had to delay his encore until this year. His main act is juggling and unicycling at the same time atop a table. He has appeared on many top television programs and won acclaim for his hazardous performance.

Greenbelt Gets 2 H-SU Coaches

ABILENE, Tex., Feb. 21—UP—Two Hardin-Simmons associate coaches, Sammy Baugh and Larry Cunningham, will serve as coaches for one of Greenbelt Bowl teams for the August 14 game at Chilress, it was announced Saturday.

Dick Todd will serve as an advisor for the fourth annual game.

Cubs Ready To Spend A Million For National League Pennant

CHICAGO, Feb. 21—UP—The Chicago Cubs will spend a million dollars to try to buy the National League pennant, owner Philip K. Wrigley said Saturday, but he "won't give up a key man for anybody."

"We can't set a limit on how much we'll spend to get somebody we want and can use," he said.

"But there's no point in wrecking some other position just to get some man. That's the way you might end up with a big hole somewhere and two left fielders."

Wrigley was pleased with the improvement in his club since its last place finish in 1951, the third time the team finished eighth in four years.

"I wasn't that I wasn't paying attention to that business," he said. "It was that I was giving too much attention to other businesses to watch that one."

"Now I think we're more on the track. We've shaken it up a little, and now we're down to brass tacks."

"The trouble was that we were a little late building up our farm system. We agreed with Judge (Kenesaw Mountain) Landis that it was not good. We didn't think so and we still don't."

Missouri Man Hold JOPLIN, Mo., Feb. 21—UP—A 26-year old man was in custody here today as the bandit who kidnaped and robbed a Fort Scott, Kan., taxicab driver. Trooper Milton Moore arrested Don Eugene Sharron, Liberal, Mo., in a routine check near Joplin. Sharron admitted, Moore said, the robbery and kidnaping of J. E. Meads.

Al Brosch's 17-Under-Par Tops Field In Mexican Open

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 21—UP—Easy-going Al Brosch piled up a four-stroke lead at the three-quarter mark of the $10,000 Mexican open golf championship Saturday as gusty winds ruined the hopes of most of America's leading shot-makers.

Sports Dinner At Dallas Tomorrow

DALLAS, Feb. 21—UP—A galaxy of athletic talent gathers here Monday night for the annual Sports Achievement Dinner sponsored by the Saturday Morning Quarterback Club and the Texas Sports Writers association.

The dinner, scheduled at 6:30 p.m. at the Downtown YMCA, will be highlighted by the presentation of awards to coaches and athletes of the year and the principal speech by University of Oklahoma Bud Wilkinson.

The occasion also will mark the first public appearance in Dallas of Southern Methodist's new football coach, Chalmers Woodard.

Jack Proctor, president of the sports writers, will present plaques to Walter Davis, the Olympic high jump champion, as Southwestern's winner of the year and athlete of the year; to John Frankie of Wharton Junior College as Junior College Coach of the Year; and J. W. Blaine of Sundown as High School Coach of the Year.

In addition, the quarterbacks will honor the coaches and athletes of the Dallas metropolitan area.

UT 5 Once Won 44 Straight

AUSTIN, Feb. 21—UP—Jimmy Viramontes, former basketball star at the University of Texas, said Saturday the Longhorns of a previous era compiled the longest winning streak by a major college cage team—44 games.

Viramontes said no other school could match the Texas skein compiled from Feb. 15, 1913, when the Longhorns beat Southwestern (Tex.) 70 to 7, to Jan. 30, 1917, when Rice trounced them 24 to 0.

Lang Island, from 1935 to 1937, and Seton Hall, from 1939 to 1941, put together 43-game winning streaks, Viramontes said.

Porkers, Ags Start Spring Grid Drills

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Feb. 21—UP—Thirty lettermen will be among the 77 players expected to report to Arkansas' new head coach, Bowden Wyatt, when he launches spring football drills next Wednesday.

But with a new coach who plans to switch from the traditional split-T to the single wing, letters may mean little in the camp, which has an alternate March 4 starting date in case bad weather interferes next week.

Wyatt has indicated that there'll be a "good deal of changing of positions" and that he'd concentrate on fundamentals and the system change and limit game-type competition to only one spring game, on the 18th day of training, March 21, in Razorback Stadium.

"As much as I'd like to," Wyatt said, "I just don't see how two games will help us out this early in the program. We've got a long way to go and I'd like to spend all our time in steady practice."

He said, "We're going to keep our eyes open for the players with speed and driving power—two things I've always required of my teams."

Lamesa Franchise Returned To League

ABILENE, Tex., Feb. 21—UP—The Longhorn League got the much traveled Sweetwater franchise back in its laps Saturday when owner Arturo C. Gonzalez gave up trying to place it at Lamesa.

The franchise, which Gonzalez operated at Sweetwater in 1952 was moved to Pecos during the winter but plans to build a park there fell through and Gonzalez started negotiations with Lamesa representatives.

The negotiations fell through, Gonzalez said, in turning the franchise back to Longhorn League President Hal Sayles.

Sayles said, however, that the club still might operate at Lamesa, which was in the West Texas-New Mexico League last year, and that he planned to confer in Lamesa with interested citizens in formation of a new organization to take over the franchise.

Bear 9 To Play 25-Game Slate

WACO, Tex., Feb. 21—UP—Baseball coach Pete Jones announced a 25-game baseball schedule Saturday for the Baylor Bears.

The card includes only two games, April 6-7, when Nebraska comes here, with non-Texas foes. The Bears will play 15 Southwest Conference games, in addition to non-title two-game series with Sam Houston State, Houston, Texas Christian and Texas.

Sam Houston is the first opponent at Huntsville, March 6-7.

Dallas Players Start Training

DALLAS, Feb. 21—UP—An advance guard of Manager L. D. Meyer and 27 players from the Dallas and Longview rosters is due to report at Fort Arthur spring training camp Monday.

Meyer, who already is on the scene, said there would be 11 pitchers, a catcher, three infielders and an outfielder from the Texas League club's roster and five pitchers, two catchers and an infielder from the Longview Big State League roster in the preliminary camp.

He said he planned strenuous schooling periods for the rookies prior to the opening of the regular lullas camp March 9.

100 Due For Aggie Drills

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 21—UP—Spring football practice for Texas A&M will open Monday, and Coach Ray George said he expected more than 100 candidates.

The Aggies will play a maroon and white intrasquad game each Saturday.

George said he would try a new offense, an unbalanced T that shifts into single wing occasionally. He said the formation was something like that used by Biggie Munn at Michigan State.

Red Hunt Despite Fear Of Boomerang

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—UP—Chairman Harold H. Velde of the House Un-American Activities committee, went ahead Saturday with an investigation of education despite protests by some Democratic members that it may boomerang.

One Democrat, who declined to be quoted by name, said the Illinois Republican is making a "serious mistake" and may get the committee into "more trouble than he bargained for."

But he said Velde is determined to see it through "because he does not want anyone to think he's scared off."

The Democrat, who has opposed the inquiry from the start, said his objections were intensified by the outcome of closed hearings last week. He said two of the four college professors cross-examined in private admitted that they joined the Communist Party briefly when they were Rhodes scholars at Oxford, England.

"They told us they quit the party as soon as they found out what it was all about," he said. He added that he can see no reason for requiring them to testify at public hearings next week at Velde's plans.

Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Cal.), another committee member, sharply disagreed. He said the committee still wouldn't know the first thing about Communist operations except for the "patriotic Americans" who have broken with the party and then appeared before congressional committees to describe in detail its efforts to subvert the free world.

"That's as true of colleges as it is of Hollywood," he said.

Jackson, like Velde, emphasized that the committee is not undertaking a "blunderbuss investigation" of colleges and universities as such, but is merely trying to expose the extent of communist infiltration in the field of education.

Funk, Martin Vie In Main Mat Event

Flyer Dory Funk, the hot-headed boss of the Flying Mars Ranch, storms into Pampa Tuesday night to settle once and for all a feud of long standing.

DORY FUNK

Funke's coming this time is as a champion since beating Ivan Kalmikoff in San Angelo last week, and the Tulsa flash, Wayne Martin, in the night's main event, a one hour time limit.

About two years ago Funk and Martin collided in what turned out to be the roughest wrestling match of all times. Both men were a mass of blood and Funk left Martin crippled in the ring, and it was a year before Martin could wrestle again.

League President Hal Sayles said Saturday that he had been contacted by O. O. Hollingsworth, a former director of the Sweetwater club, about working out a plan to take over the franchise.

Sweetwater had the club last year under the ownership of A. C. Gonzalez, but he moved it to Pecos during the winter, then to Lamesa when plans fell through to build a park at Pecos.

Sweetwater Wants Club Returned

ABILENE, Tex., Feb. 21—UP—Sweetwater wants its errant Longhorn League franchise to come back home.

League President Hal Sayles said Saturday that he had been contacted by O. O. Hollingsworth, a former director of the Sweetwater club, about working out a plan to take over the franchise.

Sweetwater had the club last year under the ownership of A. C. Gonzalez, but he moved it to Pecos during the winter, then to Lamesa when plans fell through to build a park at Pecos.

8 Meets Set For Porker Thinsies

FAYETTEVILLE, Feb. 21—UP—The University of Arkansas track team will compete in eight meets this season, coach Johnny Barnhill announced Saturday.

The Razorbacks, who finished fourth in the Southeastern Conference competition last year, were hurt only slightly by graduation and still has exceptional strength in the distance events.

Newcomer To Baseball Buys St. Louis Cardinal Franchise

By STAN MOOKLER ST. LOUIS, Feb. 21—UP—The St. Louis Cardinals had a new and untried owner Saturday, but the steady hand of a baseball veteran was at the helm.

August A. Busch Jr., head of the Anheuser-Busch, Inc., brewery which bought the club from Fred M. Saigh, said he would be president of the National League team but made it clear that William Walsingham Jr. would be in charge of its activities.

Walsingham, a career baseball man who started as a ticket seller at Sportsman's Park when his uncle, the late Sam Breadon, owned the Red Birds, took over the job with a solid backlog of front office experience.

HSU Cowboys Card 11 Tilts In 1953

ABILENE, Tex., Feb. 21—UP—Hardin-Simmons University will play an 11-game football schedule this fall, including first-time meetings with Rice Institute and Oklahoma A&M, Athletic Director Bill Ledbetter announced Saturday.

In addition to five games against Border Conference foes, the Cowboys will face Rice, Oklahoma A&M, Midwestern, Trinity, Tulsa and North Texas State outside the circuit.

New Card Owner Meets His Landlord - Veeck

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 21—UP—August A. Busch Jr., new president of the St. Louis Cardinals, looked over his property for the first time Saturday and ran into his landlord.

Busch said a contract for broadcasting of the Cardinals games by a competing brewery would not be changed, this year at least.

Oil Capitol Is Weidner Winner

HALEAH, Fla., Feb. 21—UP—Oil Capitol, guided by stubby, come-from-behind jockey Conn McCreary, rode a red down Haleah's long stretch Saturday to capture the $130,000 Widener handicap before a roaring crowd of 3,250.

The long-tailed, gray horse, trained by Texas Harry Trotsch of Corpus Christi, left two pre-race favorites in the just-1953 new-crop cap king Craft Admiral and William G. Heiss, Jr.'s favorite speed king, Spartan Valor.

Oil Capitol went off as fourth choice of the big crowd and paid $12.20, $5.90 and $3.50 across the board. Altered returned $12.50 and $6.10 and Battlefield $3.90.

Lions To Open '53 Season In Dallas

DALLAS, Feb. 21—UP—The World Champion Detroit Lions will open their exhibition season in Dallas against the New York Giants the night of Aug. 28 in the Cotton Bowl, Lions General Manager Nick Kerbawy announced Saturday.

The game will come two weeks after the National Football League titleholders play the College All-Stars in Chicago's Soldier Field and will mark the fourth year in a row that the Detroit club has been a participant here in the game sponsored by the Dallas Salesman-ship Club for its Camp Woodland Springs charity.

The last time the Lions and Giants met here in 1951, the game drew around 50,000 with its "home town flavor" involving the Lions' Donk Walker and Bobby Layne and the Giant's Kyle Rote and Tex Coulter.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 20—UP—Manager Eddie Stanky of the Cardinals predicted a four-team race between St. Louis, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and New York Friday for the 1953 National League pennant with the Giants "very much in the picture, with or without Willie Mays."

As for the Phillies, he feels they'll have to pick up or develop another starting pitcher to take Meyer's place.

Right now I don't rate them as high as I did before the Meyer deal," he explained. "but they'll still be in the picture."

BOY MEETS GIRL—Perhaps it's the dream of every guy to be surrounded by pretty girls, but Dick Young seems to be having plenty of trouble with the opposite sex.

There will be no increase in prices for Tuesday's fine program. Regular prices of $1.50, $1.20, $1.00 and 50 cents will prevail. Tickets may be reserved by calling 2035 and will be on sale all day Tuesday at the Sportsman's Store until 5, then Tuesday night at the Southern Club Sports Arena at 7:00.

Washington's Inaugural Pandemonium

President Eisenhower's inauguration was reported mostly in superlatives. It was the "best," the "biggest," the "most exciting" and so forth. That all may be true — as far as modern inaugurations are concerned. But for all the round whoop-de-do and public excitement — amounting in some cases to mass hysteria — our latter-day Presidents will have to go a long way before they can match the jubilant pandemonium that erupted for George Washington's inauguration. It broke loose all along his route from Mount Vernon to the inauguration in New York City — then the provisional capital of the 13-year-old United States. But let a historian describe the first President's journey. Here's how Stefan Lorant tells it in "The Presidency," from which these illustrations are reproduced: "... The journey turned into an ovation from beginning to end. In Alexandria, in Georgetown, in Baltimore, in Havre de Grace, in Wilmington, in Chester, in Philadelphia — in all these places wildly cheering people lined the route. Speechmaking, military parades, banquets and choruses caused Washington to halt his coach every few miles. Trenton built triumphant arches to greet the President-elect... many people wept... through Brunswick and Woodbridge there were many more ovations, more people, more cheering. At Elizabethtown... the committee from Congress... accompanied him to Elizabethtown Point, where Washington boarded a boat manned by 13 pilots of the harbor. The last part of building. At night the city was brilliantly illuminated. New York was overcrowded with inauguration visitors who scrounged for any rooms that "could be opened for love, money or the most persuasive speeches. Inauguration Day was April 30, 1789. The colorful procession to the Federal building was in dramatic contrast to the day's climax — the starkly simple oath-taking. After the ceremony "that evening everyone in New York was on the streets. Fireworks rocketed; cascades, serpents, fire trees, and fountains lit the skies. It was a memorable, unforgettable night."

Fire Eater, Buttonholer Stump Army Temporarily

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 — UP — The Army prides itself in putting the right man in the right job. Recently, however, a couple of tough problems came up. What to do about a professional fire eater? Where to place a young man who spent the greater part of his life making buttonholes? The fire-eater arrived on the scene at Fort Benning, Ga., at a time when the Army didn't have any fires that needed eating. Pvt. Emil W. Koch of Company G, airborne battalion was a professional fire-eater before entering service. Actually, the soldier does not confine his diet to flames; he also consumes such items as glass, nails and pins with considerable relish. Longtime Magician — Emil has been a magician since he was 14. In his native Czechoslovakia he was known as Ben All, the Hindu magician. During the war, the Germans tagged him "Houdini" because he escaped from under guard four times by using German uniforms and "hell-ing" at the proper time in the proper manner. Emil is 29 now. He enlisted in the U.S. Army in Germany in 1952 and came here 10 months ago. The army is making good use of his talents — as an entertainer in his spare time. — It was feared for awhile that the buttonhole boy would turn out to be a square peg trying to fit into a round hole. The classification experts asked Pvt. Freddie Powell of Union City, N.J., what he did for a living. "Make buttonholes," he replied. "Nothing else." "What else can you do?" the private, now in Korea was asked. "Nothing." The Army needs folks around who are "handy with a needle," but most of the uniform alterations are done by civilians. But before his basic training was completed, Powell proved to the Army that a buttonhole expert can learn to do other things if he puts his mind to it. The soldier's score on mechanical aptitude and driver's reaction tests showed ability in those fields. So he was sent to heavy vehicle operators' school at Fort Eustis, Va. As of now, Powell is doing an important job with the 57th ordnance recovery company in Korea. You might say he buttonholed his way into a new Army job.

This print, published in Philadelphia in 1789, shows the triumphal arch and the reception committee greeting President-elect Washington at Trenton, N. J. Here 13 young girls, representing the 13 states, hailed him with a special song of welcome.

"SO HELP ME GOD!" George Washington takes the presidential oath administered by Chancellor Robert Livingston on the balcony of Federal Hall in New York City.

Hollywood Not Missing A Bet; Produce Movie On Sex Change

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 22 — UP — Hollywood never misses a bet on the headlines, so a movie company has rushed out with the inevitable — a picture about a man who's changed into a woman. Films have been based on such news events as a little girl falling into a well, the Korean war and a guy who went into the Army with his lion. Thus before the newsprint dried on the copy about Christine Jorgensen, the ex-GI turned glamour girl, producer George Weles of Screen Classic, Inc., and director Edward Wood were shooting scene 5. Behind locked doors, so MGM wouldn't find out, they filmed, "I Changed My Sex."

Crowning Glory...

ROYALTY HAS NO OPTION on crowns this year. If you yield to the whim for a new Spring bonnet, you will probably select one that looks very much like a queen's tiara. There will surely be some top interest because Spring says it with flowers, ribbons, feathers and veils.

NEW PLACING OF FLOWERS AND FEATHERS is most important as both come under the heading of new hat news. Even a small hat looks like more hat although it remains small in size, yet by taking on new shape, ceases to be just a shadow. The plain little, same little hat is out. Reason for the decorative hat is because suits are simpler, skirts are straighter and details have absented themselves. That leaves space in the entire fashion field for a decorated hat.

NEW MATERIALS ARE BLENDED this season to give a new approach. Combinations of linen and straw are coordinated with a jewel or with a bow. Glossy-black is seen in the all-day hat and the evening hat.

Peg O' Pampa

WELL, PEG DECIDED she was going out of town the first of the week so she turned her notes and typewriter over to me so I could make a stab at this week's column. Am always suggesting this and that and I think Peg left on purpose just to see what I could do. . . You know, she should've done that, being as I haven't had much practice writin'.

SAW JOE DONALDSON the other day. He was passing out those cigars that says "It's a girl." Named her Jill. Yep, that makes three girls and a boy for 'em now. A nice family.

NOTICED PEG always throws in a recipe that she likes now and then, so I don't see what it will hurt if I put one of mine in. . . been doin' quite a bit of cookin' lately. Fixed this spaghetti recipe the other night and the kids said it was real good, course they were about starved by the time I finished cookin' it.

Break one box of spaghetti in small pieces. Cook and drain in the usual way. Cut half a pound of bacon in one-inch pieces. Fry slowly in deep skillet. When crisp, remove from pan, leaving fat to fry one large onion and a green pepper. When they are slightly browned and cooked through add a large can of tomatoes, season to taste with salt and pepper and let simmer until it is well blended. . . about 20 minutes. Add the crisped bacon. Alternate spaghetti, tomato mixture and 1-3 pound of cheese. Top with 1-3 pound cheese. Bake for one hour in slow oven. (But be sure, you start before I did, 'cause 'hat hour can be awfully long.)

TODAY IS GEORGE WASHINGTON'S birthday. Am always reminded when the youngest young'un was told that "today was Washington's birthday". . . He pondered a minute and asked, "well, what 'an we get him?"

PEG SAID TO MENTION that the tablecloth which was used at the rehearsal dinner of Betty Fern Wilson and James Thomas Brown Friday night was made by Mrs. C. E. High. She used white Tarleton cloth. Blue angels and blue streamers were added to the cloth for the reception yesterday. Among the many parties given Betty was a luncheon held a week ago Saturday at the Country Club with Mmes. George Cree Sr. and Raymond Reid as co-hostesses. Two of Betty's sorority sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha were here this week. . . Dolores Rice and Anne Lacey of Houston. Both were attendants at her wedding.

PAMPA PANORAMA: Mrs. Carl Pieratt (Maxine) down from Dumas wearing a white skirt and blue jacket. . . Gene Green driving through town. . . Note from AAUW that they appreciated mothers taking such an interest in taking their children to see "Prince Swineherd". . . Congratulations to Ed Williams upon his election as president of Pampa Rotary Club. . . Lynn Boyd purchasing the grand champion Hereford calf from Bob Clark of Miami at Top o' Texas junior livestock sale Monday. . . Mrs. Bob (Sophia) Rasmussen wearing a beautiful pink stole. . . Jack Morgan taking in Alex Templeton's piano concert in Shamrock this past week. . . Ditto Howard and Helen Vineyard. . . Cliff Whitney showing films on acetate yarn to members of Parent Education Club. . . The beautiful home of the Al Mills nearly completed. . . Cameron Marsh, guest speaking on "Our Stand in Korea" at the AAUW club meeting. . . Mrs. J. B. Massa wearing a dark blue gabardine suit. . . with matching earrings. . . Charlie Thut getting a ride in a wheelbarrow (with E. E. Shelhamer on the pushing end) as the "prize" for his division making the most contacts during the Boy Scout Fund drive Monday. . . Effervescent Alberteen Triplehorn in a green wool jersey dress and printed jacket.

UNDERSTAND THAT Martin and Farnelia Stubbs made that huge Valentine heart that Frankie Ward stepped through at the Beta Sigma Phi Valentine dance last week end. Martin made a big wooden frame and used chicken wire around all but the heart part. . . Then Per and Martin took paper napkins and stuffed through the wire making it look like white flowers all around the big red heart which was made by using red streamers running from the top down. . . Very effective and pretty too. Martin is really handy with those carpenter tools.

WITH ALL THIS DUST it takes one back to the "dust bowl" days when it wasn't at all unusual to have dust blowing day after day. Heard the visibility was really limited out on the highway Thursday. Had to use your lights, not so much as to see where you were going, but to make sure the other fellow saw you first. Guess I'm like John Burroughs, born with a chronic anxiety about the weather:

"Oh, what a blamed uncertain thing
This pesky weather is;
It blew and snowed and then it thawed,
And now, by jing, it's friz."
— Philander Johnson

EL CUADERNO: Peg knows why Fern Dawson thinks those Girl Scout badges just hatch out. . . what with only 500 applications in 1951 and then the big jump a year later to 2,500. . . Friends taking in coffee and doughnuts to surprise Ann Heskew the morning of Ann and Bill's twenty-eighth wedding anniversary. While there they sang "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Loyal Davies who was celebrating that day also. . . Belated Birthday wishes to Mrs. Ralph (Faye) Sidwell who was celebrating Monday, Maria Hodges, Tuesday and Mary Jay Campbell, Wednesday.

WELL, IT SURE HAS been fun writin' this column for Peg this week. Kinda like the teacher who asked "If your mother has a package delivered COD, what did the initials mean?" The bright boy answered: "Call On Daddy." Which Peg did.

MARRIED — Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Miller, 1109 N. Frost, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Dolores Ann, to Roy B. Hodges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Turner David Hodges of southwest of White Deer. The double-ring ceremony was held February 12 by Dr. B. P. Moddox, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Clovis, N. M. The bride chose for her wedding a three-piece suit of old rose. The skirt was of flannel with matching blouse of wool jersey. The jacket was sprinkled with white boucle. She wore a spring hat of navy and white straw. Her other accessories were of navy and white. Her corsage was a white orchid. Mrs. Hodges graduated from Pampa High School in 1951. She was a member of the Pampa Harvester Band, Tri-Hi-Y, the Thespian Society and the Kit Kat Klub. She also attended Texas Tech. Mr. Hodges graduated from the White Deer High School and served in the Air Force. He is now engaged in farming. The wedding trip was to Albuquerque, N. M. They are making their home in White Deer.

Tips For Tasks

There's a way around the chore of washing heavy bathmats. A non-slip rubber mat can be had with a chenille slip cover — easily removed for rinsing, and fast drying as a towel. The mat itself can simply be sponged off with soap and water.

March Foods Have Economical Price

There's a wealth of good eating in store for you if you keep the March plentiful foods list in mind when you go shopping. Generally, you'll find them wearing a more economical price tag.

Heading the list just issued by U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration are two of your favorite standbys — fryers and broilers. Also, you'll find excellent supplies of turkeys, eggs, dry lima and pea beans, cheddar cheese and frozen fish fillets such as cod, ocean perch and haddock. All make ideal main course dishes.

Refreshing drinks may be made from fresh and processed oranges and grapefruit. Buttermilk makes an ideal drink, too.

Cabbage and carrots will be among your best selections in the vegetable line. And old-crop Irish potatoes come back to the list for the first time in several months.

There should be no skimping on seasonings. You'll find ample supplies of nearly all your favorites — vegetable shortening, salad oils, margarine, butter and lard.

Too, you'll want to shop for peanuts, peanut butter, honey and raisins.

Fryers continue among our most plentiful foods. And judging by the large number of chickens being hatched, they should continue plentiful in the weeks ahead.

During January, for instance, 27 million 218 thousand future fryers came out of the nation's hatcheries. This is four per cent more chicks than a year earlier and the largest January hatch on record, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Thanks to better breeding and better feeding, which means more rapid growth, you can expect these chickens to be ready for market in about 13 weeks. At that time they will weigh about 2-1/2 pounds, live weight, just the right size to fry, broil, barbecue or roast.

USDA suggests them as the fea-

Grand Chief Visits Pythian Temple

Mrs. Ira L. Ashley of Lamesa, grand chief of Pythian Sisters of Texas, made her official visit to Pampa Temple No. 41 at their recent meeting.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. J. C. Hopkins, most excellent chief. Mrs. Ashley instructed the Temple and outlined her plans for this year. Her slogan for the year is "Serve where you are." The honors in life come to those who give service to others. The project for the year is relighting the dormitory at the Pythian home in Weatherford. A silver drill was taken and the money donated for use in this project.

Other out of town visitors present included Mesdames Edith Noe, Mrs. Ashley instructed the Temple and outlined her plans for this year. Her slogan for the year is "Serve where you are." The honors in life come to those who give service to others. The project for the year is relighting the dormitory at the Pythian home in Weatherford. A silver drill was taken and the money donated for use in this project.

Other out of town visitors present included Mesdames Edith Noe, district deputy, Julia Weachter, Ruth Cunningham, Reba Killian, all of Amarillo; Velma Middleton, tured plentiful food for the week March 1-7.

Beef appears on the U.S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful foods list next month for the first time in the history of the program.

The plentiful foods program is designed by USDA to help move abundant food items through normal trade channels, thereby helping both the producers, processors and consumers. The producers, or farmers, must market seasonal crops without too much delay, as they have few storage facilities. And many items are perishable.

Processors, too, must resell these commodities rapidly among the largest since 1918, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture.

If you had your choice, you could make your selection from 861 million pounds of pork or 266 million pounds of beef. Pork now is about one-third less than a year ago but meat production is higher by 16 per cent.

You'd find ample supplies of cheddar cheese and butter, for cheese at 186 million pounds is at an all-time record high for this time of year and butter stocks at 58 million pounds are larger than they've been in 36 years.

MRS. JAMES THOMAS BROWN

Miss Betty Fern Wilson Becomes Bride Of James Thomas Brown

Miss Betty Fern Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wilson of 1206 Charles, became the bride of James Thomas Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Brown of Houston, Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Douglas E. Nelson officiated at the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli and emerald palms. The church was lighted with white cathedral tapers.

Mrs. H. A. Yoder, organist, played traditional wedding music before the ceremony. She accompanied Mrs. Keith Payne who sang "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, carried a white Bible centered with a white orchid in a nest of lily-of-the-valley with white ribbon streamers. She chose a gown of light ivory chantilly lace and nylon tulle over duchess satin. The moulded bodice of lace was fashioned with a wide decollete neckline outlined by appliques of the lace in a scalloped flower design sprinkled with shell-like paillettes centered with a tiny seed pearl, and filled with a nude illusion yoke. Long tightly fitted sleeves tapered to petal points over her hands and tiny covered buttons extended down the back of the bodice to the deep "v" waistline. The extremely full gathered tulle skirt was enhanced by hand applique chantilly lace cut in large drifting diamond shape, sprinkled with iridescent paillettes and swept to a wide fan-shaped chapel-length train. Her veil of imported French silk illusion extended beyond her finger tips from a bonnet trimmed with a white tulle. The underside of the tiny brim was faced with rows of accordion-pleated illusion. Miss Dolores Rice of Houston was maid of honor. Miss Anne Lacey of Houston and Miss Eulaine Ellis of Pampa were bridesmaids. Her attendants were identically attired in dresses of turquoise taffeta. The strapless moulded-bodice was enhanced by a deep curved shepherdess bustline covered with petals of matching taffeta. Their shoulders were covered by short shoulder jackets with shirred sleeves. They wore matching brims of meline outlined with a velvet ribbon and accented on either side by a small beaded leaf and short nose veils. They carried white carnations forming a crescent. Miss Rice's bouquet was edged in white gardenias. James Thomas Harper of Houston served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were Vernon Stewart and Henry Grady of Houston and Hobart Fatheree of Pampa. The mother of the bride chose a blue-gray taffeta dress with match-

Pampan Selected For Alpha Chi Member

ABILENE (Special) — Geraldine Perkins, Abilene Christian College junior from Pampa, has been selected for membership in Alpha Chi, honorary scholastic fraternity.

Miss Perkins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Perkins, 706 N. Frost, and is a Pampa High School graduate of 1950. She is also a member of ACC's CSO, "W" Club, Pi Epsilon Beta, Zellner Dormitory Council, Panhandle Club.

schmidt of Dallas and Miss Bette Forrest of Waxahachie presided at the punch bowl.

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. High, 921 N. Somerville, entertained members of the wedding party and their friends at a rehearsal dinner Friday evening in their home.

The bride's colors of blue and white were carried out in the table decorations. White stock and lily-of-the-valley floral arrangements were used.

About 40 guests attended the dinner.

For the wedding trip, the bride chose a blue wool suit with navy shoes and bag. Her hat was pink with crystal bugle beads. She wore pink gloves. After the wedding trip they will make their home in Bissonet Plaza Apartments in Houston.

Primary Colors Are Still Most Popular

Children are less fickle about colors than adults, according to a toy color survey.

The study proved that children are as loyal to primary colors as they are to noise and action in toys. More dynamic shades of the primaries, however, were forecast as the coming favorites for the young by the color consultant who predicted flame red, lighter emerald green, sunlight yellow and toy blue will supply the impulsive beauty that will make the new toys more appealing to children and more attractive to adults who buy the toys.

The color expert recently told an audience of toy buyers that the new trend toward more luminous colors in toys is part of "the American frame of mind that has accepted brighter, clearer colors in interior paints, wallpapers, towels and blankets." Parents were warned that the brighter, lighter colors have no relation to the more subtle shades of high fashion appearing in clothing, textiles and furniture.

Never try to be subtle when picking colors for toys. They would only bewilder the unsophisticated vision of children.

A recent survey showed that 21,000,000 families in America, nearly half the total population, enjoy wines at mealtime and when entertaining.

Fidelis Class Has Luncheon Meeting

The Fidelis Class of the First Baptist Church met for a covered dish luncheon recently in the home of Mrs. Ray Robertson, 424 N. Doyle. Mrs. Lester Jones was in charge of arrangements.

A devotional was given by Mrs. G. L. Craddock. Her theme was being a good Samaritan.

After lunch several games were played by the group.

Attending were Meses. Laymon Stovall, teacher, Craddock, Milo Carlson, Floyd Crow, H. S. Gasaway, J. A. Hoover, Lester Jones, Maynard Johnson, W. R. Foley, D. W. Swain, Charles Tooker, Cecil Weir, Byron Hilburn, Ralph McKinney, Harold Cockburn, Floyd Hayes, H. L. Wells and the hostess.

Worthwhile Club Meets In Home

Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. R. F. McCullip Friday. Mrs. Roy Tinsley presided at the business meeting.

Roll call was favorite menu. Mrs. O. G. Smith gave a report on the food demonstration meeting held recently.

Mrs. Smith invited members of the club to meet in her home for an all day meeting March 20.

The club will hold a game night Feb. 27 at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Ray Robertson, 424 N. Doyle. Proceeds will go to the Gray County Heart Association.

Four members will attend the home nursing course taught by Mrs. Walter Noel.

Mrs. J. A. Hoover gave a talk on sewing. She said first alter the pattern, then check the material and shrink the material, before cutting. To shrink wool material, fold in a wet sheet, roll and let set for six hours. Then press the material. Press all seams as they are sewn.

Members worked on knotting and tying belts. Mrs. B. H. Cruce and Mrs. R. J. Hilton became new members of the club.

Attending were Meses. J. L. Carlton, Roy Tinsley, F. G. Turner, J. A. Hoover, Noah Cude, O. A. Wagner, Dewey Johnson, A. A. McElrath, N. L. Welton, George T. Adams, R. E. Ingle, Ray Robertson, Dewey Lunsford, O. G. Smith and the hostess.

Thousands of girls are kept from being well-dressed by a tendency to over-dress. You see them in taffeta, satin or faille dresses — beautiful and elaborate enough to stand alone — bedecked with jewelry. Dresses made of rich, sumptuous fabrics, or those sewn with pearls, rhinestones or sequins, need at the most only one under-stated jewel.

Simply cut dresses of dull crepe or jersey — especially if black or another dark color — can look well with a great deal more jewelry worn at wrists, throat and ears. A pin is best worn when a necklace is not.

If you are using jewelry in this way, you'll be well-dressed with a simple, unobtrusive and untrimmed hat. The conversation piece hat only contributes to the well-dressed look when all other parts of the costume are low-keyed.

Overdressed girls often wear an ankle-strap or elaborately cut out shoes. This is one way to dress up a costume, since these shoes are elaborate and attention-getting.

Decorations on stockings are another ornamentation which, if worn, should automatically cut down on your other adornment.

Unusual Devices Help In House Work

"I planned my house so it would be easy to clean," says Mrs. Carl Franklin of Statesboro, Georgia. The planning consists of labor-saving devices like a kitchen living room, eighteen closets and plastic-finished surfaces.

Whether your teen-ager is an all-arounder, obviously talented in many fields and in a lizzy because he doesn't know which path to follow, or whether a particular bent has not yet emerged, there are concrete ways you can help him, according to William J. Reilly, Ph. D., a psychologist with more than 20 years of career-counseling experience.

"Your life can be one of great joy," Dr. Reilly tells the teenager, "if you choose a career that enlists all your enthusiasm. If you get sidetracked or become a misfit through poor planning, it may be one of frustration and boredom.

"Don't worry," advises Dr. Reilly, "and don't let anyone bamboozle you, if you change your career ideas 17 times in one year. That's natural at your age. And don't worry, either, if you have no career ideas to begin with. There are no tests for developing them."

"Once you get a career idea that seems to be the right one," continues Dr. Reilly, "it's important that you keep it to yourself until it's fully developed. People will raise questions once you start talking, and unless you're prepared to answer them to your own and their satisfaction, all the energy that should be behind that idea will leak away. You'll be wet-blanketed instead of encouraged."

"Once it's fully mature in your mind to devote to gardening and flower arranging, to Girl Scouts, Home Demonstration Club and church affairs. She credits four things for this cheering state of affairs: First, her step-saving room arrangement and her many closets."

Second, her surfaces were all chosen with an eye to painless cleaning. Walls are plastic-finished plywood; kitchen work counters are of linoleum; cabinets, window sills and baseboards have easy-to-wash plastic finish.

Venetian blinds without draperies are her answer to Southern summers. "Third, her cleaning equipment. She has combined cleaning needs and appliances — vacuum cleaner, floor polisher and special cleaning aids."

"And fourth, her housekeeping tidy-tricks, such as her swivel-hinged ironing board, the shoe basement, the toy hamper, and her drop-down tables. When her dining table is folded away and fitted into the wall, it serves as the door to her china and glass shelves. Her sewing cabinet (patented pending) is a 4 by 6-foot drop-down work table with shelves for materials, headless nails for spools, hanger space for partly finished garments and labeled drawers for patterns."

WHAT'S COOKING IN GRAY COUNTY HD CLUB WORK

County Home Demonstration

Now is the time to plant windbreaks, while the trees are dormant. Windbreaks should be located about 100 feet from the house. Otherwise, when the trees are full grown, they will cut out the summer breezes. They should be located on the way of the prevailing winds and, at least a 500-foot one is to be desired for good results.

An effective windbreak should not have less than three rows of trees, with two rows of tall ones and one row of short ones. The conifers, such as pines and red cedars, should be located on the inside rows, while the deciduous ones would be placed on the outside rows.

The trees should be placed far enough apart to permit cultivation. Twenty feet is considered a good width.

In placing these trees, special care should be taken to prevent their roots drying. Many trees, especially conifers, die from this cause. The nurseryman packs them carefully because he knows that when the roots are exposed to the air for only a few minutes, the trees will die. Those receiving trees for planting can help to insure their growing by placing their roots in a bucket of this mud or a bucket of water just before planting. Only one tree should be taken out at a time and planted immediately. This prevents root exposure.

Another precaution is to make the hole large enough to allow the roots to spread out naturally. The soil should be spread and packed firmly about the roots to push out any air pockets. A thorough watering at the time of planting is another insurance of the plants living. Trees should be set the same depth they grew in the nursery, and the last part of soil should be drawn loosely over the wet soil. It is well to either mound or slightly depress it.

Besides cultivating regularly during the growing season, deep watering will also help to insure living plants in the windbreak. The ground should be soaked to a depth of at least 12 inches for at least two times after planting.

Protecting these plants against the sun and wind is another insurance against casualties. A single pushed in the ground about small trees will break the wind and will prevent too much sun striking the tender plant. Lattice work placed on the Southwest will do the same.

Now is your opportunity to get your plantings started and get one year's growth in 1953. Getting them set properly in the ground now, before the growing season starts, is your insurance for an effective windbreak in years to come.

Dr. Reilly gives this advice on the parent-child career choices: "Don't try to force your own career ideas on your child. It's not fair to him to try to re-live your own life through him. Realize that he's an individual different from anyone else in the world and, therefore, should be left free to choose for himself."

Dr. Reilly tells the high schoolers: "Develop career ideas of your own so that you'll have something positive to come back with if your elders are pushing for something you don't want."

The tendency today is for young men to wake up with a bang when they get married, to be financially unprepared for it," he says. "Let these kids know, in as many ways as possible, as soon as they enter their teens, that work, when it's well-chosen, is one of life's few genuine satisfactions."

"Tell them you aren't pushing them to choose in a hurry. They should take all the time they really need to choose their careers intelligently, but get them started thinking about it constructively."

Dr. Reilly's new book, "Career Planning for High School Students," written directly to the teen-agers, has "assignments" to help them find out where their real career desires and abilities lie; to help them discover their problems; to help them find solutions and to choose the most advantage of the solutions available.

Skin Beauty Continues Through Years Of Faithful Adherence To Skin Care

By ALICIA HART NEA Beauty Editor

Skin-care ideas have gone through several phases — the soap-and-water and no-creams, the creams and no-soap-and-water, and at last the compromise — both.

Today most skin-care specialists believe that middle-of-the-road skins get cleanest with soap and water and softest with creams. Extreme skins may be too dry for any soap at all or too oily for any cream.

Let's say yours is an average skin. You'll see that it has a fresh, clear look after washing that it never has otherwise. It's highly important, however, to do the washing correctly. Tie back your hair and fill the basin with warm — not hot — water. Work up a thick lather in your hands with a mild toilet soap.

Massage the lather into your face and neck with your fingers, using finger tips to work carefully at nose crevices, hair line and crevice between chin and lower lip. Refill the basin with warm water and remove every last trace of soap. Then splash on lots of cool water. Have your soap-and-water care morning or night, but have it once every 24 hours.

If you wear make-up — and very few women don't — it's best to remove it before washing with a modern cleansing cream. There are many available which are utterly different from the old-fashioned greasy or sticky creams that were hard to get off the face once on.

These modern cleansing creams are very pleasant to use. They have a consistency for easy spreading with the finger tips and melt without running after a few minutes of massage or steam from your tub. They wipe off easily with cleansing tissues used with gentle blotting motions.

You can be doubly sure of an immaculate skin if you use a second application of cream. Assuming still that yours is a normal skin, you follow your cream cleansing with soap and water to remove last traces of soiled cream and to get the fresh look.

Some women follow the cream with a skin cream applied with pieces of cotton to remove traces of cream instead of soap and water. You may find this worth trying. If your skin can stand neither soap and water nor astringent, you'll have to make sure that your second application of cream is as thorough as your first.

Here is a trick that will make rolling out pie crusts easier. Place the ball of dough between two squares of waxed paper. The rolling pin won't stick to the dough. The waxed paper can be used to transfer the pastry to the pie plate. Many homemakers find the pastry easier to handle when they place it in the refrigerator for about 30 minutes before rolling it out.

JOHNSON ★ IN HOLLYWOOD ★

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NFA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Behind the Screen: Jane Russell is in Marilyn Monroe's corner, seconding the Calendar Girl's dream of getting a juicy dramatic role to escape the "dumb blonde" tag.

As Jane sees it:

"She's going through the same thing I went through. She doesn't like what the studio is doing to her and she doesn't know how to say no. One of these days she will learn as I did. She'll start swinging axes."

Chill Wills, the voice of Francis the mule, is due for a starring film of his own this year at Universal-International. There's talk of a romantic comedy and Chill's saying:

"I think it would be a great part for one of those fading glimmers who would like to try character comedy with an old bumpkin like me."

Chill made his first big hit in Hollywood as Clark Gable's pal in "Boonville" and MGM promised him a starring ticket.

"But something happened," he laments. "All they ever let me play were idiots with two heads."

Hollywood's "mental smog" is one of the main reasons for uninspired film making.

Credit independent producer Lester Cowan for the phrase and then listen to why he's vowing to uproot himself from movie town:

"There are too many rules for film-making in Hollywood — and all of them are cliches. 'Experience' means redoing things you've done before — and that means repeating cliches."

"Creative talent shouldn't live in Hollywood, or listen to what Hollywood has to say. From now on I want to make the world my home and escape this town's mental smog."

The Truth Hurts

Dramatic license taken by writers in fictionalizing film biographies reminds me of the time Mrs. Lou Gehrig was invited to a projection room to see "The Pride of the Yankees."

When Lou's death scene was over, Mrs. Gehrig commented:

"But, gentlemen, it didn't happen that way."

Immediately three of Sam Goldwyn's writers leaped to their feet and chorused:

"But, Mrs. Gehrig, it's BETTER that way."

Even over Mrs. Gehrig's protests, the fictionalized death scene was used in the film.

The word's out that Warners' first three-dimensional movie, "The House of Wax," is miles ahead of "Bwana Devil" in clarity, color and camera work, and that viewers need suffer no eyestrain.

Every studio is feverishly experimenting with three-dimensional processes behind locked doors these days, and one film executive told me:

"If Cinerama and three-dimensional movies do for the film industry what we expect, there won't be any more 'flat' pictures in 1954. That will give us the chance to sell our libraries of old pictures to television without fear that we're hurting the film industry. Flat pictures won't have any value for theater exhibition."

K-F's Rakish New Sports Model

Low, sweeping lines mark Kaiser-Frazer's new sports car, the DKF-161, which will be the first automobile with a fiberglass reinforced plastic body to be placed in volume production. Designed by Howard A. Darrin, internationally famed custom car stylist, the sleek sports model is engineered with distinctive safety features as well as high power-to-weight performance. Ground to wheel height is only 36 inches.

K-F Unveils Revolutionary New, Light Sport-Type Auto

DETROIT, Feb. 21 — UP—Kaiser-Frazer announced Saturday it will begin production in July of a plastic-glass sports car, the first to be mass-produced in the automobile industry.

Called the DKF-161, it will weigh 1,500 pounds less than the lightest American convertible now built and is capable of zooming from 10 to 70 miles an hour in 13 seconds.

Sleek and low—only 36 inches to the seat—K-F's bid in the budding American sports car field will be the first car that a major manufacturer has attempted to mass produce with a plastic body.

There are some plastic-bodied cars now on the road, but their number is few. Chevrolet plans to build about 200 of its "corvettes," a plastic job that topped the General Motors "motorama" in New York and Miami. Other companies are tinkering.

No Price Given

K-F announced no prices, nor did it reveal how many it planned to make. But Howard A. Darrin, who assigned the DKF-161 to Kaiser, said the sports car trend "is just starting."

"Within three years," he said, "we'll have thousands of American-built sports cars on the highways. After that the sky's the limit."

Kaiser's plastic body is a combination of glass fiber and plastic. It is stronger than sheet steel and much lighter. It is easily repaired much like you patch a tire tube — with resin and fiber glass.

Non-rusting and impervious to winter driving salt, the K-F body weighs only 300 pounds, just a fraction of the weight of an equivalent steel body.

The DKF-161 will be powered by Kaiser's own 6-cylinder engine which is being "sonar" to over 100 horsepower with a high compression head and compression ratio of 8 to 1.

Three Carburetors

The engine will mount three carburetors, one for every two cylinders. Dual exhaust will eliminate power loss from muffling.

Lines of the car are smooth and simple with no chrome trim except for a "gravel guard" strip along the base of the body. From the front it looks like a three-headed rocket.

The doors are novel. Instead of opening on hinges they slide forward into the front fender wells. Their cut also is flashy. The rear edge joins the rear fender in a

We've Done A Real Job, Says Dick Hughes... Builders Feel Joint Action On Defense Housing Successful

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 — UP—Home builders and government housing officials Saturday are sure they have succeeded in their joint effort to bolster the mobilization program with badly needed low cost houses for defense workers.

"This program is really rolling," a spokesman for the Federal Housing Agency said. "We had a tough time getting started—what with the mortgage shortage, but now we are getting results."

Richard G. Hughes, chairman of the industry's 80-man defense housing committee, agreed.

"We have done a real job," Hughes said. "We got it done as the houses were needed—and we could do it again in case of another emergency."

Latest Statistics

The latest FHA statistics show 24,697 defense houses have been completed and 44,283 started since the program began a little more than two years ago. They are scattered across the nation where they have created new towns of their own.

In all 98,029 units have been programmed and a total of 76,075 have been submitted to the FHA for approval. Five out of every six applications have been for single or duplex houses rather than apartments.

Most of the defense houses are for rent, some as low as $35 a month. The average rental, however, is about $60 a month for a two-bedroom home.

Both the builders and the FHA are surprised that the industry government program worked out so well and each gives full credit to the other's share in the success.

Each Gets Credit

"These builders deserve a lot of credit," the FHA spokesman said. "Many had to strain quite a bit to build these houses for defense workers who could not afford high rents. At a time when the industry could make pretty fat profits, these builders went into low-cost housing in the interests of national defense."

Hughes, who is first vice president of the National Association of Home Builders and a prominent builder in Texas, was high in his praise for FHA officials who worked on developing the program.

"The government and the indus-

Gets Underway Tuesday . . . Panhandle Baptists To Meet In Amarillo District Gathering

District 10 of the Baptist General Convention of Texas is to meet Feb. 24 in the Fairview Baptist Church, Amarillo, for the 15th annual session, according to Rev. O. C. Curtis, new district head.

Twelve Baptist leaders in the 98-church district are slated to conduct services and present music programs and Sunday school and committee reports during the morning and afternoon sessions.

Feature talk, according to Curtis, is to be given at the close of the convention by Dr. C. Wade Freeman, Texas Baptist evangelistic head.

The morning session is to start at 10 a. m. with a song and praise service led by Gene Phelps, Amarillo First Baptist Church music director, and a devotional offered by Rev. Don Anderson, Cactus First Baptist church pastor.

Following the opening services Rev. Gus Bogan, Fairview Baptist Church pastor, and Rev. James Todd, Shamrock First Baptist Church pastor, are to give the welcome address and response.

Appointment of committees and recognitions are to be carried out at 10:45 a. m. after which Mrs. Cecil Goff, District 10 WMU president, Dumas, is to report on the Women's Missionary Union activities.

Special music at 11:45 a. m. is to precede the annual sermon sched-

Afternoon session plans call for a repeat of the song and praise service at 1:30 p. m. and a district Sunday school report by Bob Struble, Pampa First Baptist Church education director.

Brotherhood work is to be explained by C. C. Kelly, District brotherhood president, White Deer. At 2:40 p. m. the reports of committees will be heard and election of new district officers held.

Rev. Clyde Hankins, South American missionary serving an interim as pastor in the Dalhart First Baptist Church, is to present a missionary message at 3:05 p. m. An evening evangelistic rally is to hear a district missionary message by Curtis, 1954 evangelistic plans, and a special music program led by Phelps.

The evangelistic message by Dr. Freeman, closing the convention is slated at 7:30 p. m.

CANYON (WTNS) — Betty Boswell and Betty Norman were among the student senators of West Texas State College who were in Abilene over the week end to represent WT at a meeting of the district Texas Intercollegiate Association.

The group met at Hardin-Simmons University to discuss district projects before the state convention in Houston, March 19-22.

Miss Boswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Boswell, 1125 N. Starkweather St., is a senator from the Sophomore class. Miss Norman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Norman, 1040 Dwight St., represents the Freshman class.

'Mardi Gras' Planned By Baker PTA

Kick-off plans for a "Mardi Gras" in late March for Pack 21 (Baker School PTA) are underway today.

Organized two or three years, the pack "looks now as if it really has good prospects for the future," according to Phil Pegues, Scout executive for the Boy Scouts' Santa Fe District.

On hand Friday night for the Pack's training session were Kenneth Huey, district training team member, and Ben Maharay, cubmaster, who discussed and laid the plans for the New Orleans-like celebration, complete with costumes, games, side-shows and freaks.

Members elected to the pack committee were Ray Fielding, Ernest Christie and A. L. Selman. And there are "four more prospective members," Pegues said.

Other activity that same night included charter reviews for Pack 81 and Troop 81, both sponsored by the White Deer Lions Club.

The pack was presented with four national two-year program awards while the troop got two.

Presiding were E. L. (Smiley) Henderson, organization and extension chairman, assisted by Dub Morgan.

German Exchange Students Have Done Much Traveling

Pampa's two German exchange students have done some extensive traveling.

Gretchen Johansen just plain likes to move around and Burkhard Brems was forced to do a good deal of it.

Both of them, of course, have enjoyed their sojourn over various borders into the Texas Panhandle.

Both Pampa High School students told the weekly meeting of the Pampa Kiwanis Club Friday noon of their experiences — and their lives — in Germany as they have travelled around.

A member of both the International Relief Organization and the Evangelist Youth Organization, Gretchen has had to go various places throughout Europe as a participant. "And I plan to go to Italy next year," she averred.

Admitting that she has seen "the most important part of the United States (Texas Panhandle)," she insisted that her main interests were "travelling and making trips" and that she wanted to "become something like a Globetrotter."

The Harlem Globetrotters, master basketballers, travel thousands of miles each year on tour. They are booked into Pampa Wednesday night.

Looking back on her year in Pampa, Gretchen was proud to submit that "she learned English as a good Texan. Dealing with a more serious subject, Burkhard told Kiwanians that it was "difficult for you to see the plight of people forced to move from the Russian zone of Germany into the Western zone."

Citing his own case, he said in a matter-of-fact manner that "we had to leave home in order to escape the oncoming Russian Army."

And he remembers vividly the "shells bursting and the planes dropping bombs and shooting at civilians on the open road."

Particularly, he recalls the actions of the Russian soldiers who "took great pleasure" in breaking into homes and shops through windows and in general acted "like a bunch of crooks." That was after Burkhard and his family had fled from their home and had been overtaken by the Red Army.

Those first two or three months with the Russian soldiers, Burkhard said, were "months of terror and fear." So fearful were the inhabitants in the village that "my mother and sisters usually spent the night in the church steeple."

Thanks to the Yalta decision to let Russian and Poland have an eastern part of Germany, the German student emphasized, "one-sixth of the German population were cast onto the other five-sixths."

Burkhard concluded with a plea for Kiwanians to include in their prayers — during Brotherhood Week — those persons still oppressed throughout the world.
