

Scientist Holds Out Hope For Successful Polio Vaccine

NEW YORK, March 27.—An American scientist gave the public a glimmer of hope today that the day is in sight when paralytic polio will be fought with a vaccine to make it as rare a disease as small pox.

But the scientist, who has reached the "experimental" stage with such a vaccine, urged anxious parents to sit tight. Careful study and tests still must be made before the vaccine can be pronounced a success or a failure.

News of the important development came from Dr. Jonas E. Salk, director of the Virus Research Laboratory of the University of Pittsburgh. He is bringing to its final stages a 15-year-old effort by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to find a vaccine that will give every man, woman and child an immunity against polio.

Used Safely in Trials
Salk has given a detailed and thorough scientific account of his work to the medical profession in the Journal of the American Medical Association. He told the public about it Thursday night in a nationwide CBS radio broadcast.

Wants 'Hands-Off' Policy
Salk appealed to both doctors and the general public to take a "hands-off" policy toward the vaccine.

He said he is still testing the vaccine in human beings and plans to test it in many more in ensuing months. But, he emphasized, he is going to select the humans to be tested on a strictly scientific basis and only he and his associates will do the testing.

In his exhaustive scientific report to the medical profession, Dr. Salk revealed that as of the time the paper was written, the "experimental" vaccine had been tested in 787 humans for its ability to stimulate the production of antibodies.

Emulsified mineral oil vaccine raised it to approximately "natural immunity" level.

Taft Predicts Bohlen's Okay As Russ. Envoy

WASHINGTON, March 27.—UP—Separate Republican Leader Robert A. Taft predicted Charles E. Bohlen would be approved as Ambassador to Russia by "only about a dozen votes against him."

A final vote was expected by nightfall. There were signs that the stormy debate had about run its course. Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), leader of the anti-Bohlen group, said: "I have no remote hopes of succeeding."

President Eisenhower, who Thursday strongly supported the appointment of the career diplomat to the key Moscow post, was described by a reliable congressional informant as "real mad" about the fight which has occurred.

Gibson's Endorsement in Doubt
The chief remaining controversy was over a side issue—whether former ambassador Hugh Gibson endorsed Bohlen's appointment. Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), who had lunch with Gibson Thursday, said he thought he could clear up the question to the Senate's satisfaction Friday.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had reported that a board of three senior diplomats, including Gibson, "unanimously" recommended Bohlen. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) challenged this statement in the Senate Wednesday, saying Gibson had told him he made "no recommendation whatsoever" on Bohlen.

Passengers Escape Crashed Airliner

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—UP—A four-engine California Eastern Airlines DC-4 crash-landed in the Pacific Ocean 210 miles west of here Friday and the four persons aboard escaped in life rafts.

The Coast Guard air sea rescue co-ordination center here said one of its rescue planes reported sighting the survivors and that the DC-4 was still afloat at the time.

The Coast Guard sent three aircraft and three surface craft to pick up those in the rafts.

The Coast Guard said two of its planes were amphibious but a spokesman said he believed the survivors would be picked up one of the surface vessels speeding to the scene.

At the Oakland airport headquarters of California Eastern, a spokesman identified those aboard as pilot Captain George Dizeau, 37, of San Lorenzo, Calif.; co-pilot Nicholas Perivlern, 39, of San Francisco, and navigator R. H. Hamilton, 37, of Palo Alto, Calif.

Army Readies Giant Atomic Artillery Gun

FORT SILL, Okla., March 27.—UP—The Army readied its giant atomic artillery gun for its first test Thursday by firing conventional shells from gigantic 280 mm cannon in a demonstration for 75 civilians.

Maj. Gen. A. M. Harper, commander of the Fort Sill artillery center, said the first atomic shell will be detonated as an airburst seven miles from the gun's muzzle.

Two of the 85-ton guns will be moved to the Atomic Energy Commission testing grounds in Nevada for the first actual atomic test in the near future, Col. Devere Armstrong, commander of the 82nd Field Artillery group, said.

Chinese Uprooted In Bitter 8-Hour Fight

SEOUL, March 27.—UP—Valiant American Marines recaptured Vegas Hill on the western front Friday after eight bitter hours of uphill fighting on the rocky slopes.

Recapture of the hill came little more than 24 hours after 3,500 Chinese Communists touched off an assault on 10 Marine positions 25 miles southwest of Old Baldy, their second major drive this week.

The Reds took two Marine outposts, Vegas and Reno Hills, but the Leathernecks staged a counterattack against Vegas.

The commander of the Fifth Marine Regiment, Col. L. W. Walt, told United Press Correspondent Robert Udick that the hill has been secured.

42 Workers Spilled From Farm Truck

HARLINGEN, Tex., March 27.—UP—Two sideboards on a truck loaded with 70 farmworkers collapsed as the vehicle sped along a rough dirt road and 42 persons were spilled onto the roadside.

One of the 42 persons, Estelito Saldivar, 32, a 47-year-old Mexican alien, was most critically hurt. Doctors at Valley Baptist Hospital at Harlingen didn't expect him to live.

Seven other persons, including a 10-year-old girl, were hurt seriously.

The driver of the truck, identified by Texas Highway Patrolman Powell Charlton as Camillo Rodriguez, 25, a Mexican alien, left the scene of the accident but was taken to the police station later by the owner of the truck. The driver was jailed overnight.

Charlton said the truck was speeding along a dirt road about five miles north of Harlingen Thursday, swinging from side to side because of the weight of its human cargo, when the driver apparently lost control of the vehicle.

The highway patrolman said two sideboards broke as the truck swerved far to the side of the road and the workers were spilled out.

Santa Fe Railroad track crews Monday will begin work replacing rails and reworking the crossing, city officials said.

The rough crossing, long a headache to the city, should be paved, City Manager B. H. Cruce said. Cruce wants the crossing to be paved this year. He was backed up by Director of Public Works Ray Evans who said:

"It's a question of two property owners and the Santa Fe as to whether the crossing is paved this year or not."

Santa Fe officials here were not available this morning for further comment on what the extent of repairs to the crossing will be.

Jelke already had begun an eight-month workhouse sentence imposed a week ago in special sessions court for his possession of a pistol and a revolver at the time of his arrest last Aug. 15.

Pampans Sympathetic To Boycott Of Irate Texans Seek To Curtail Coffee

Heads of Pampa women's organizations and managers of two local grocery chains were sympathetic with irate Houston housewives in a plea to coffee drinkers to curtail their purchases by one-third to one-half in an effort to stave off a threatened price rise of the commodity.

Mrs. Virginia McDonald, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, and Mrs. Raymond Harrah, president of the Council of Clubs, told The Pampa Daily News they were both highly in favor of the move.

And L. L. Moore, Furr Food manager, said he was all for the idea which appeared to him to be the only solution to rapidly rising prices. However, he said, he doubted if enough housewives would participate to make it effective.

Scientists Fear Heavy Casualties From Burns, Radiation ... Atomic Experts Charge Army Reckless With Its Soldiers In Current A-Tests

Nevada Proving Ground, Nev. — (NEA) — Atomic scientists accuse the Army of idiotic recklessness in pushing troops closer and closer to test shots of atomic weapons on the Nevada desert.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
They say the Army's hard-boiled policy of acclimating troops to atomic blasts may, one of these days, cause heavy casualties from burns, blast or radiation.

The scientists assert the bomb's precise effects are unpredictable within 10 or 35 per cent of forecasts. Tests so far show tricky results, with amazing escape from damage close in to "ground zero" and heavy damage at greater distance.

Some will be placed in trenches 280 yards from the blast—closer by 700 yards than the men in the first test. There are unconfirmed reports the Army will call for volunteers to crouch in trenches only 1500 yards from "ground zero" or lie in shallow foxholes in the advanced area.

"This is sheer idiocy," one scientist asserted. "An awful lot of just plain luck was involved when the men who were 2500 yards away escaped without burns or radiation."

Another scientist pointed out, "You never catch the Atomic Energy Commission people up that close."

Men who best understand these developments know better than the Army just how many important details exist in any one test as far as location and extent of damage.

"That's why we think it foolhardy to get so close. We don't think it's worth taking a chance for what little experience you get or what you learn. We'd like to know all the answers before we needlessly risk men's lives."

Evidence found by the first group of observers to venture close to the center of the recent tower-shot supports the claim of the scientists that the bomb's damage is erratic.

An empty package of cigarettes, apparently dropped by one of the engineers setting up the experiment, was found about 300 yards from the center of the detonation. It was merely signed and had negligible radiation.

However, a tank which was many yards further back from ground zero had been lifted off its treads and hurled 60 feet. It was blackened from the searing heat and "hot" from radiation.

Log bunkers built within 1600 yards suffered only slight damage from the force. Others a further back were tossed around like match sticks, burned and caved in.

Troops were closer to the blast than the most distant test house. They were able to maneuver for several hours between their position and ground zero, examining the automobiles, tanks and other equipment placed within two miles of the explosion.

Yet it was two days before radiation died down enough in the most distant house to permit entry.

There are numerous variable factors involved in any one shot. The "yield," or effect of any one shot, can vary 10 or 15 per cent from advance estimates, the AEC admits.

Temperature conditions above a test can focus the effects of a blast on particular spots — which might be 10 miles away — with enough force to do serious injury to the ears.

It has not been possible to predict when radioactive dust will (See A-BOMB, Page 2)

$750,000 Fire Fed By Ammo Sweeps Through Topeka Area

TOPEKA, Kan., March 27—UP—A $750,000 downtown fire, fed by 450,000 rounds of exploding ammunition, swept through a garage and three adjacent business houses Thursday night.

Four persons were injured: a workman, a fire chief, a fire captain and another fireman. The fire gutted the four buildings and destroyed 20 automobiles, 5,000 tires, most of the contents of a home and auto appliance store and a Brink's armored truck stored at the garage.

Topeka Fire Chief William J. Cawker tripped and fell while helping fight the fire and sprained an ankle. He was sent home by a doctor. Fire Capt. Don Mellinger was burned on the face by tar spewing from roofs of the burning buildings.

Another fireman was slightly burned on the hand by tar. Harley Willey, a 45-year-old mechanic at the garage, collapsed from shock and excitement at the scene of the fire and was hospitalized.

The fire started in the repair and scapping shop of the Capitol Super Service. It raged across the street from the Topeka YMCA, near the eight-story Kansas hotel and two blocks from the state capitol. An annex of Capper Publications, publisher of the Topeka Daily Capital and several magazines, is across the alley from the gutted service station.

Baby Is Heir To Fortune

SANTA MONICA, Calif., March 27—UP—A wealthy Texas and Wyoming oilman, who makes his home at Pacific Palisades near Santa Monica, has adopted a 15-month-old boy who some day will inherit his $20 million fortune.

Mr. and Mrs. Tevis Forbes Morrow, whose annual income is estimated at $1.5 million, completed adoption proceedings for the boy in superior Judge Orlando H. Rhodes' court Thursday.

"Isn't he a buster? I'm going to put him to work as an oilfield roughneck tomorrow," Morrow said at the adoption proceedings.

Morrow, who is 55, owns extensive oil properties in Texas and Wyoming. He and his wife were married in 1936 when she was a motion picture extra.

THE MAGIC EGG - The Little People's Easter Story

Prominent Methodist Head To Be Guest Pastor Here

Dr. Caradine Hooton from Washington, D. C., one of the leaders of the Methodist Church, will be in Pampa on March 29 through April 5 to hold Holy Week Revival Services at the First Methodist Church.

In June, 1949, Dr. Hooton came as executive secretary to the Methodist Board of Temperance, Washington, D. C. Prior to that he served for six years as pastor of the First Methodist Church, Oklahoma City.

The story behind his entry into the ministry is an interesting one. Born in Hughes Springs, Texas, he was four years old, and the

Fifth Avenue Promises To Behave Itself

NEW YORK, March 27—UP—New York's finest will have no trouble with New York's fairest on Easter Sunday.

Everybody has promised to be dignified. Model agencies have had no requests for girls to wear black tights or bird cages this year. Woman Sues Because Pet Poodle Pregnant 27—UP—Mrs. Edna Heiland, owner of an East Bay Kennel, has filed suit against United Air Lines for $4,400 because her pedigreed black poodle was ravished by "various and sundry low-bred mongrel dogs" and became pregnant.

Mrs. Heiland charged in the suit that the airline's baggage handlers allowed her dog, Astron Black Star, to escape from San Francisco airport last January.

Before the canine was found five days later, the suit charged, "Astron Black Star was forced to and did submit to various and sundry low-bred mongrel dogs" and became pregnant.

Mrs. Heiland said the dog thereby "suffered extreme humiliation, shock, trauma and other psychological difficulties not presently diagnosed."

Producer Likes To Think Show Has Made Star Of Helen Hayes

NEW YORK, March 27—UP—William Spier has a minor conceit that seems to be harmless and gives him a little pleasure.

"I like to think that our television show has made stars of people like Helen Hayes, Bobby Clark and Bert Lahr," said the tall, lightly bearded producer of that Sunday afternoon colossus on the CBS network, Omnibus.

"That sounds a little silly, doesn't it—making stars out of already great stars such as those three? But I'll try to explain."

"For all that Miss Hayes has toured widely in her plays over a long period, there are hundreds of thousands who have never been exposed to her magic."

New Customers

It's true she made a picture recently and that she made several films years ago, but I would imagine the audience for her latest one has been considerably less than all-embracing and there have been a lot of new customers grown up since her original movie career.

Spier also had comment on some criticism that there hasn't been enough comedy on the 90-minute Omnibus program, which covers a wide range of subjects.

Best Friend Your Car Ever Had

There aren't many frivolous hats for sale this year, as a matter of fact. From fashion's viewpoint Easter bonnets are small and demure.

The fad for Mamie Pink, started by one well known hat designer who makes most of the first lady's hats, has caught on at all price levels. But most of the frosting pink hats are head-bugging straws with little trimming. Even little girls have a chance to copy the first lady's color in hats very similar to the ones their mothers will be wearing.

There he attended high school, and then went on to Southwestern University in Georgetown where he majored in psychology and philosophy. After graduation he taught in the Mineral Wells High School until World War I, which he entered as a private in the QMC and came out a first lieutenant.

Upon his return to civilian life, he enrolled in the University of Texas Law School, where he graduated in 1922 with the LL.B. degree. It was while he was a successful young lawyer, and engaged in numerous activities, such as lay speaker in his church, a Sunday School teacher, and soloist in the choir, that his pastor spoke to him about his becoming a minister. Conscious of the fact that he had been running away from the ministry for quite some time even though his family had thought about it quite often as he grew up, he prayed and talked long and earnestly with Mrs. Hooton about this topic which had been in their minds.

BUFFALO, N.Y., March 27—UP—Two Massachusetts travelling salesmen, who live only two miles apart, met for the first time Thursday night in an ambulance.

Elzie W. Lewis, of Newton Center, and George Souther, of Watertown, suburbs of Boston, were staying in the same hotel here. They were struck by automobiles a few minutes apart. The same ambulance picked them up.

Both men are 45 years old and were treated for the same injuries — lacerations and bruises.

BGK Members Have Program In Home

Beta Gamma Kappa Club was entertained recently in the home of Mrs. Byron Hilburn, 510 Cook, with Mrs. Jerry Thomas as co-hostess.

Mrs. Hilburn introduced Mrs. Jim Nations who told about the Kiwanis Club's Student Exchange program. She told of the experience she goes through before taking an Exchange Student and then Mrs. Nations introduced her "German daughter," Miss Gretchen Johansen.

Gretchen then told of her life before coming to the United States and how she was selected as one of the Exchange Students. "Out of 1,000 students only 40 were accepted so," Gretchen said, "I was very fortunate to be one of them." She told of her trip over and the things she enjoyed most was the American food, on board ship. She says she already feels like a Texan and upon her return to Germany she will make it known that she is a Texan. She will be graduated this spring from the Pampa High School. Her mother from Germany will be here for the occasion.

After the program punch and small sandwiches were served from a table covered with a white cloth. The punch bowl was centered in cellophane grass and candy Easter eggs. Pastel napkins were used and miniature pastel Easter baskets were given as favors.

Members attending were Meses. Tom Lindsey, Guy LeMond, Jack Foster, Jack Benton, L.C. McMurry, Erwin Thompson, Frank Terhune, L. N. Nicholl, Bill Stockstill, Melvin Watkins, Gwen Gray, Misses Jean Chisholm and Vivian

Home Demonstration Clubs Hold Classes In Advanced Sewing; Others Planned

Courses in advanced dressmaking have been held over the county this spring by Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration agent. The first schools were conducted in home demonstration club communities for the club clothing leaders. These leaders will train other women in the information they gained in these schools.

Since completing the courses in the clubs Miss Dunlap has given the work to leaders in communities not represented in home demonstration clubs. She has two such classes now and will have others beginning after Easter.

One of the purposes of these

schools is to teach the later methods of clothing construction which help to give more style and a professional look to the finished garment. These methods of construction have been applied in the making of better dresses and spring suits. The women have been working with rayon, cotton, nylon and blended fabrics.

Fifteen leaders have been trained by Miss Dunlap in the various communities and others will be trained before the spring and summer sewing is completed. The work of these leaders and those they are teaching will be on display in the form of a dress revue this spring. The women will be showing garments they have made for themselves and their children.

All who have taken the course, either directly or indirectly, are eligible to take part.

RUTH MILLETT

"A frustrated wife wrote me, this unhappy letter:

"I'm so discouraged I could sit down and cry if it would do any good. Asking your advice, however, might help—so here goes.

"I'll tell you the incident that got today off to such a bad start. It's typical of the kind of thing that is always happening.

"Last night was my mother-in-law's birthday. I spent the day baking and frosting a birthday cake, cooking a really delicious meal, wrapping the gifts I had bought—a lot of trouble to select," etc.

"I went to sleep last night pleased with the birthday dinner and the nice evening that followed. My husband seemed pleased, too.

"But as often happens to me when I am concentrating on one thing, I forgot to buy cream yesterday. So there was no cream for breakfast. My husband was furious and slammed out of the house without his breakfast.

"LITTLE THINGS

"It is this kind of thing that constantly gets me down. No matter how hard I've worked to do something to please him it is all forgotten the minute he discovers I have forgotten to do some little thing.

"This may sound trivial to you but it is terribly discouraging to me.

It sounds as though you are married to a man who is more impressed with perfect efficiency than with generous gestures that come from the heart.

If you want to keep peace in the family you can't overlook that or expect him to feel and think as you do. What you can do is keep a list for the next few months of all the things that annoy him.

Little Acorns

Great Oaks from little acorns grow. Huge doors on small hinges turn, and unspeakable destruction from tiny bombs may come. The importance of little things depends on what's inside them. Moses' rod destroyed the power of Egypt; the jaw bone of an ass slew a thousand; a pebble killed Goliath, and an unknown mother's prayer turned a Prodigal Son into Saint Augustine.

Is your little acorn in a cradle? Feed and shelter that little body with utmost care. Teach it reverence for God and devotion to His church. Wesley, Luther, Peter the Hermit and Dr. Harvey Wiley, were once little acorns. Don't neglect your little acorn ... God expects you to see it through. Your pastor and your church wait to help you.

Red Head Coach Explains Reason For Listless Performance By His Team

IT'S UNFORTUNATE THE way things turned out in last night's first appearance in Pampa of the All-American Red Heads which is considered the best basketball team in the country.

The crowd was small and the Red Heads looked like anything but a top flight basketball team.

But, like any sport, there are bound to be some off nights for a team who plays as often as the Red Heads do. And last night was just one of those nights for the all-star girl outfit.

"We talked at length with the Red-Head coach, Orrell 'Red' Moore, after last night's game and I don't believe anyone was as disappointed over the performance of the Red Heads last night as Coach Moore himself.

And Moore apologized several times because of the listless performance of his charges.

However, Coach Moore wasn't condemning the girls for their showing last night. It's not his fault that the Red Heads tire during their yearly tours but a heavy schedule the past week was almost too much for the girls to take.

The girls were mostly worn out last night from long jaunts between stops through the Southwest, Moore said. They had played at Olney last Friday night, traveled 260 miles to Ocala Saturday night; 300 miles to El Paso for two games Sunday, then to Alamogordo, N. M., Monday, Morton, Texas, Tuesday; to Stinnett Wednesday and then to Pampa last night.

The back breaker of the above schedule was the jaunt from Ocala to El Paso. The girls had to leave immediately following the game at Ocala Saturday night and drive all night to El Paso, arriving at the Border city at 5 a. m. Sunday. They slept from 5 to 12 noon and then got up to play a game at 2 p. m. at an Army camp.

And then they topped off a busy day by playing that night for the benefit of patients at an El Paso hospital. That, brother, is a rugged schedule for anyone, be it men or women.

Coach Moore couldn't remember the last night of the girls had had. They started their season the first week in November and have been playing seven days a week.

BASEBALL TRAINING BRIEFS Cardinals Capture Series From Yankees Behind Presko

ORLANDO, Fla., March 27—UP—Manager Eddie Stanky was just about convinced Friday that Joe Presko, 185-pound right-handed leonard with a score arm last season, will play a major role in the St. Louis Cardinals' bid to win the National League pennant this year.

Presko, who won only seven games in 1952, yielded only two runs in seven innings Thursday as the Cardinals beat the New York Yankees 10 to 2, and won the annual spring series, three games to two. Presko permitted only two hits until the seventh when the Yankees scored both their runs and now has allowed a total of six runs in 16 innings this spring.

The Cardinals Friday play the Washington Senators, who suffered a 4 to 3 defeat to the Boston Red Sox Thursday.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 27—UP—Manager Casey Stengel announced Friday that Ed Lopat will make his spring debut on the mound Saturday when the New York Yankees meet the Boston Red Sox. Lopat, a 10-game winner last season, has been working himself into shape this spring.

"Although Allie Reynolds was cuffed for 12 hits and 10 runs in Thursday's 10 to 2 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals, Stengel said he was not worried by the poor form his veteran pitchers have shown. Vic Raschi, third member of Casey's 'big three' was belted for nine runs and 12 hits in six innings in his most recent outing.

"This still is the training season," Stengel said. "The season does not open until April 13. I see no reason to quit on my veteran pitchers. They have some physical troubles which I am not worried about."

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 27—UP—Reserve catcher Sal Yvars will be lost to the New York Giants for three weeks because of a sprained left ankle.

Yvars suffered the injury sliding into second base in the second inning of Thursday's 6 to 5 loss to the St. Louis Browns. The injury ended speculation that the Giants might trade another of their reserve catchers to the Chicago White Sox.

HAVANA, Cuba., March 27—UP—The Pittsburgh Pirates, who came here expecting to draw crowds of 4,000 a day were faced with the sad fact that they can give away their brand of baseball to Cuban fans.

The players on the field outnumbered the fans in the stands Thursday—although admission was free as the Pirates' "A" team beat the "B" team 13 to 6, in a tiasco marred by 39 walks and nine errors.

By actual count manager Fred Haney suited up 43 players, while there were just 30 spectators in the stands.

TAMPA, Fla., March 27—UP—Veteran infielder Ed Pellagrini was undecided whether to report to the Baltimore Orioles Friday when he was sold by the Cincinnati Reds.

Harvester 9, Tracksters On Foreign Fields

The Pampa baseballers and tracksters are on foreign fields for weekend activities, the diamonds going to Childress and the thistles to Brownwood.

The baseball team will open a three-game series at Childress today. The teams will meet in a single game today and a double-header tomorrow.

Five tracksters left this morning for Brownwood where tomorrow they'll take part in the Bluebonnet Relays at Brownwood.

The cindermen making the trip were sprinters Harold Lewis, Ed Dudley, John Darby and Walker Bird, and weightman Buddy Cockrell.

Aubra Nooncaster will carry the remainder of the track squad to the Panhandle Saturday for the Plains Relays.

Joe Tynes was due to take the mound for the Harvesters today at Childress. The starting lineup and batting order for the Harvesters was expected to be:

Gerald Mobley, 3b; Larry Larsen, ss; Travis Taylor, 1b; Derrill Seitz, cf; Richard Qualls, rf; J.T. Lamberson, c; Ray Cooper, 2b; Hubert Duncan, p; and Tynes, p.

Oilers Leave For S'water

The Pampa Oilers departed from Pampa today for Sweetwater where tomorrow they'll set up a three-week spring training camp.

Only three players, pitcher Eddie Hughes, infielder Roger Aldridge and catcher-manager Ted "Porky" Pawelek reported here before going on to the Sweetwater training base.

Rest of the squad will join the team in Sweetwater.

The Oilers will play a 7-game exhibition schedule. The exhibition opener is April 5 against Plainville at Ballinger.

The regular West Texas - New Mexico League opener will be April 24 against the Borger Gaasers here.

Chiefs Down Red Head Five

The Noblitt-Coffey Chiefs defeated the touring All-American Red Heads last night at Harvester Fieldhouse, 39 - 30.

Don Leach paced the Chiefs with 21 points.

The teams were deadlocked at halftime, 17-17, and 27-27 at the third quarter stage before the Chiefs pulled away in the fourth period.

The game ended the basketball season in Pampa.

Longhorn Nine Blanks Aggies

AUSTIN, March 27—UP—The University of Texas opened defense of its Southwest Conference baseball crown Thursday with a convincing 9 to 0 victory over the Texas Aggies.

The victory was an impressive two-hit shutout performance by sophomore Boyd Linker of Tupelo, Okla.

Linker struck out 11 men and never allowed an A&M runner past second base. His pitching was backed up by teammates who collected 12 hits off three sophomore Aggie pitchers, including two doubles and a triple.

The score by innings: A&M 000 000 000-0 2 2 Texas 040 020 30x-9 12 0

CLOVIS BASKETBALL fans are in the midst of honoring their state champions—the Clovis Wildcats—with a banquet April 6.

Clovis, by winning the New Mexico state title, sorta means that the Harvesters are champions of two states.

You'll recall the Harvesters racked up a 20-point 88-68 victory over the Clovis quintet here in December.

MAC BEAMS — Harvester cage coach Clifton McNeely proudly displays the new 1953 Pontiac that was presented to him by the fans at the basketball banquet. Mac took time out from his coaching duties yesterday to pose for the above picture. McNeely, who guided the Harvester cagers to the state championship, is now tutoring the Harvester tennis team. Pampa Golfer Wins For Texas Aggies

By UNITED PRESS

Texas, Texas A&M and Southern Methodist opened the Southwest Conference golf championship tournament today with victories Thursday.

Texas defeated Rice and the Aggies whipped Baylor by identical 4 to 2 margins, while SMU took a 3 1/2 to 2 1/2 edge over Texas Christian.

Rice's Harold Stanshief defeated Texas' No. 1 man, Lee Pinkston, in singles 4 and 3, then teamed with Don Jackson to trim Pinkston and Bill Penn one up for Rice's only victory.

The other matches went to Texas as Penn defeated Jackson 4 and 3; Julian Oates dropped Larry Bryson 2 and 1; Joe Bob Goldin blasted Dean Small 8 and 7, and the Oates-Goldin duo beat Bryson-Small 7 and 6.

John Barrett led Texas A&M to victory with a 5-and-4 triumph over Jerry Kolb in singles and teamed with Homer Calloway to drop Kolb and Morgan McReynolds 4 and 3.

Malcolm Douglas of Pampa with a 3 and 2 margin over Dean Bishop and Calloway's 4-and-3 victory over McReynolds gave A&M its other points. Baylor's Jack Westergield beat Bobby Riggs 7 and 6 and the Aggies' Westergield-Bishop team beat Briggs-Douglas 1 up.

Three matches were halved by SMU and TCU. Don Addington of SMU vs. Graham Mackay of TCU; Floyd Addington of SMU vs. Jack Gibson of TCU, and the A. Addington-Addington duo vs. Mackey, Gibson.

Kirby Edwards' 7-and-6 margin over TC's Archer Marx and the Edwards-Stewart Carrell team's 6-and-5 margin over Marx-Gene Shields gave SMU the one point margin. Shields beat Carrell one up in singles.

May Be Surprise Team . . . Redlegs Short On Power, Pitching

This is another in a series on the 1953 prospects of the Major League clubs.

By LEO H. PETERSEN
TAMPA, Fla., March 27—UP—Rogers Hornsby, whose baseball creed is to shoot for first place, is enthusiastic about the Cincinnati Reds this year and predicts they "will surprise a lot of clubs."

But unless there are a lot of changes made, the Reds do not stack up as a championship club. It is a stronger team than last year, but it still lacks power and may be short on pitching.

Hornsby, however, doesn't think so. "All we have to do is to come up with a sleeper or two and we could go all the way," he contended.

He believes he has one of those sleepers in big Jim Greengrass, who hit .309 after joining the Reds late last season and batted in 24 runs in 18 games.

Defense Will Be Better
"I know he can't keep up that pace, but he has looked great all spring and he's going to give us a lot of power."

With big Ted Kluszewski, Willard Marshall, Gus Bell and Andy Seminick to help Greengrass out in the power department, Hornsby feels that his pitchers should have easier sailing "for we'll get them a lot of runs."

"And more important, our defense will be a lot better. Last year when I took over the club we had the worst outfield in the league. But with Greengrass, Marshall and Bell out there, things will be different."

Hornsby calls his infield "one of the best in the league. No matter who plays second base."

The fixtures are Kluszewski at first, Roy McMillan at short and Bobby Adams at third. There is a three-way battle for the second base spot between Grady Hatton, who held the job last season; rookie John Temple, who hit .306 at Tulsa, and Rocky Bridges, the fighting ex-Dodger.

Bridges is Hornsby's type of a ball player.
"He's a winner, a hustler who can take charge of a club," Horns-

MAGIC SHOW—Gordon "The Old Red Robin" Suits is to present his "musical magic" show at 8 p.m. Friday in Skellytown Grade School Auditorium. Sponsoring the show is the Skellytown Lions Club. Proceeds are to be used in launching a community park program.

Hypnotized Maybe
SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 27 (UP)—Mrs. A. G. Seylors said Friday they became so entranced in watching a television program they never noticed it when someone fired seven shots into their living room, shattering a mirror on the wall.

Mayer Has Good Report On French Effort Against Reds

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Agency
The week's balance sheet between the good and bad news in the hot and cold wars:

THE GOOD
1. Rene Mayer, premier of France, and his foreign minister, Georges Bidault, arrived in Washington for conferences with President Eisenhower and other leaders on further U.S. aid. Mayer had a good report to make on the progress of the war on communism in Indo-China and the success of the crackdown against the Reds at home.

His success in beating down a last-minute revolt in the French assembly, winning approval of an emergency loan, also strengthened his government. He still must convince this country that France will make a sincere effort toward European unity and a European army.

2. United States delegate to the UN Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., wobbled amid this week only so many persons flee from Red-held territory while no one seems anxious to run in the other direction. It is a weak spot in Red propaganda and one which salesmen of the Red-utopia have difficulty overcoming. It was dramatized further this week when a Czech pilot and five companions hijacked a Czech passenger plane, flew it to the West and promptly asked asylum.

3. The United States exploded its second atomic "device" of the current series at the Yucca Flats proving ground. Such explosions are old hat now, but this one differs in that it may have been the test of the war head of an atomic artillery shell. Some 1,300 troops sheltered in foxholes 4,000 yards away came through unscathed in the furthering of a program to condition them to atomic warfare conditions.

4. The Chinese Reds threw 3,000 men against United Nations positions on Old Baldy, a Korean land mass atwar the invasion route to Seoul. Colombian and U. S. Seventh-Division troops were forced off the height and failed to regain it in two bloody counter-attacks. At week's end they were still trying, however, and field commanders were confident Old Baldy would return to our hands.

5. The administration was having more trouble getting its foreign policy program rolling at home than it was abroad. Throughout the week, a hard core of senators, mostly Republican, fought the nomination of Charles E. Bohlen as Ambassador to Russia. At no time was final approval in doubt but supporters criticized both the Bohlen fight and the Voice of America controversy as weakening administration prestige where we need it most—in the iron curtain countries.

6. While the Communist "peace doves" fluttered over Moscow, there appeared no slowing down of the Kremlin's drive to wipe out all possible sources of opposition in the satellites. This week two east German protestant ministers were sentenced to prison for "hostile utterances" against the state. It seemed part of a long-run Communist drive to separate East and West German churches and set up a state-influenced church in the Soviet Zone.

Army Proud Of Brothers Edge

WASHINGTON, March 27—UP—Uncle Sam has a trio of sergeants which should scare the wits out of any enemy—at least on paper.

Their weights add up to 760 pounds, and among the men they have served 51 years in this man's Army.

I am speaking about the brothers Edge, a triumvirate of fighting men (all three are boxers, too) who learned to look out for themselves barefoot as kids in the Southland.

Let's look at them one at a time. First there is Melvin E. Edge, the bespectacled 41-year-old senior of the fighting family. He is stationed at nearby Fort Belvoir, Va. He stretches the scale springs to 230 pounds and come next Wednesday when he retires, he will have finished 22 years of service. He is a master sergeant by rank and a first sergeant by assignment.

Melvin has spent nine and a half years of his tenure overseas. He wears enough medals to stoop him, but what he is proudest of is the fact that he once won the light heavyweight boxing crown in Panama.

The second man, who will step into Melvin's shoes at Fort Belvoir, is Andrew F. Edge, age 31. He has 12 years of service. Andy holds the family title when it comes to bear: He weighs 350 pounds.

He also is handy with his mitts and engaged in over 300 pro and amateur fights. He was knocked by a bullet in Sicily and returned to the states in 1943.

Off Says
Your family might lose as much as $25,000 in Social Security income. If you had that much money on the dining room table you would protect it, wouldn't you? It's getting late.
