April 1-7 ... Industry Due Recognition

Pampa, along with other cities in the state, will observe Texas Industrial Week, beginning Wednesday and running through April 7, according to Gene Green, chairman of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce industrial committee. A series of features pointing to local industry will be carried out during the week, Green said.

And a proclamation proclaiming Texas Industrial Week has been made by Governor Allan Shivers and is being supported with local proclamations by mayors of all industrial cities in the state. Pampa Mayor C. A. Huff issued such a proclamation Friday.

Programs in keeping with the idea of recognizing the importance of industry in providing jobs and its general contribution to the country's economy will be presented at the various civic club luncheons during the week, Green said.

L. N. Marquam, regional representative of the Texas Manufacturers Association, will speak at the noon-luncheon of Pampa Rotary and Pampa Lions Clubs, Wednesday and Thursday, respectively.

Clifton Evans is to present a talk at the Friday P. A. Kiwanis luncheon.

Special radio broadcasts and newspaper features will also be provided during the week's observance, Green said.

200 Attend Farm Meet

Approximately 200 persons from four counties attended two all-day demonstrations on the Milton McKinney and L. P. Aiken farms, Saturday, according to Ralph Thomas, chairman of the meetings.

First, the group looked over the operation in use at the McKinney place, 21 miles southwest of town. Thomas said, and then observed the methods used on the L. P. Aiken ranch, 17 miles southwest of the city.

Paul Marion, animal husbandman of the Spur Experiment station, gave the principal talk, giving data and experiences relative to feeding of silage carried out at the Spur station.

Clyde Carruth and Aiken both gave talks on the advantages of silage feeding.

Soft drinks were furnished to the persons attending the meeting by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee.

Lions Rehearse Minstrel Today

A semi-dress rehearsal of the Pampa Lions Club Minstrel Show has been scheduled for 2 p. m. today in the junior high school auditorium.

The minstrel is "in the final stages of being dressed up for its two performances this week," according to Bunny Shultz, director-general of the show.

Performances will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday and Friday in the junior high school auditorium. But — 20 minutes before each performance — there will be a concert by a nine-piece Dixieland Jazz Band, Shultz pointed out.

Reserved-seat tickets will go on sale Monday morning in Clyde's Pharmacy, 100 S. Cuyler. General admission will be $1, plus 25 cents more for a reserved seat. Children's tickets are 50 cents.

Entire cast of the show, Shultz said, worked together Thursday and "things are taking shape for one of the best shows ever presented under the auspices of the Lions Club."

Scotland Yard Finds Fifth Body

Britons Fear New 'Ripper' On The Loose

LONDON, March 28 —UP — Scotland Yard detectives Saturday found the bones of a fifth woman victim of a sex-mad sadist of Notting Hill buried beneath a forsythia bush in the back garden of "the house of death."

The new discovery confronted officials with the possibility that still more bodies may be hidden around the apartment where five victims have been found since Tuesday.

Authorities began digging up the garden and ordered the entire search anew and ceilings pulled down.

Another woman is missing from the area and neighbors feared the Notting Hill strangler is a new Jack the Ripper.

Every available detective in greater London was assigned to hunt for John Reginald Christie, 55, amateur photographer specializing in nudes, in whose two and one half room apartment the bodies were found.

Those of his 45-year-old wife and three women in their 20s were discovered boarded up in the wall and floor.

Digging Saturday in shirt sleeves in a back garden, police tore up a budding forsythia bush and their picks hit an ashen in which they found charred human bones. The remains included part of a torso, a leg and arm joint. The head was missing.

One-In-A-Million Smash-Up ... Death Toll Hits 20 In Freak Rail Crash

CONNEAUT, Ohio, March 28 —UP — The New York Central announced Saturday that a rail knocked out of line by a section of fallen pipe caused a "freak" accident in which two of its high-speed passenger trains and a freight were derailed in a monumental pile-up which killed at least 20 persons.

The "one-in-a-million" accident happened just across the Ohio border in Pennsylvania about two miles east of here at about 9 p. m. Friday. As a result the dead were taken to morgue in Erie, Pa., where Coroner Warren Wood identified 15 of 17 brought in.

W. C. Mulligan, deputy coroner of Erie County, Pa., at the scene of the wreck, said over 100 of the estimated 400 persons on the trains were injured. They were rushed to hospitals here and in nearby Ash-tabula and Erie.

Fear More Dead NYC General Manager Charles F. Wiggley said "I don't know and I can't say how many fatalities there are. There's always a chance we'll find more every time we lift a piece of wreckage."

W. K. Dice, assistant superintendent of the Erie office of the NYC, said that "it would be two days before the final death toll can be set." He said rescue operations from here on would be slow and that several "mashed in" cars would have to be dismantled "piece by piece."

In an official statement the railroad said the accident occurred when side stakes on a gondola car on an east-bound freight broke, allowing a few lengths of 18-inch western invasion route to Seoul only 30 miles away, changed hands five times in two days.

Udick, listening to battle reports over a field telephone at regimental headquarters, said the Marine assault force commander reported: "We are exchanging heavy fire (See LEATHERNECKS, Page 3).

Count Byron de Prorok ... Renowned Archaeologist Due To Appear In Pampa April 7

Count Byron de Prorok, who will appear at Pampa High School auditorium on April 7 at 7:30 p. m. for the Top of Texas Knife & Fork Club, inherited his name from an ancient Polish title. He owns a Ninth Century castle in Normandy with the largest private mummy collection in the world.

Count de Prorok is one of the world's outstanding archaeologists, and has dug up more mummies and explored more ancient cities and civilizations than any other living man. Among his acquaintances are General DeGaulle, General Wavell, Haile Selassie and many other world figures; also knew the late Count d'Aosta and General Balbo.

His honors are numerous including such titles as the F.R.G.S.; Grand Officer of the Order of the Holy Sepulchre, Officer d'Academie, Knight of the Crown of Italy, Commander of the Order of the Star of Ethiopia and many others. He has decorations from most of the European nations.

An American citizen, Count de Prorok speaks perfect English. He is the author of "Dead Men Do Tell Tales" and many other books.

Count de Prorok is a man of "firsts" — first to use airplanes for archaeological explorations (See ARCHAEOLOGIST, Page 3)

Interest Picks Up In School Election

Interest in the Pampa school board election contests perked up Saturday with a total of 31 absentee ballots voted by noon.

Pampans have only two days left in which they can vote absentee, for the deadline is 5 p. m. Tuesday.

Election for the two open posts on the board will be held from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. Saturday in the corridor of the junior high school.

Candidates for board membership are John H. Harnly, wheat farmer who lives 16 miles east of town; and incumbents Herman Whitley, 312 W. Browning, a funeral director, and Rex Rose, 505 N. Gray, a car agency associate.

Saturday's vote will be canvassed at the regular board meeting April 4 and the winners officially announced at that time.

FIRST CANCER DONATION — First donation to the 1953 Gray County cancer crusade, a check for $225, was given by the local chapter of the National Secretaries Association. Here making the presentation is Mrs. Noel Thompson, local NSA treasurer (right), to Mrs. Lois Patton, cancer crusade chairman. (News Photo)

School Bond Issue Fails In Shamrock

SHAMROCK (Special) — Shamrock voters Saturday rejected a half-million dollar bond issue to build a new high school.

A total of 713 ballots were cast with 427 being recorded against the proposed bond and 286 for the issue.

It was the opinion of the election official that "over-age" persons cast the anti-ballots which defeated the move. There were 200 poll-tax exempt voters.

The election official said "we will have to try it again." The school board will decide the next move when it meets to canvass the votes.

Election judge said some thought it is in Pampa — Saturday.

Deadline Tuesday In McLean Voting

McLEAN (Special) — Absentee balloting for the three open posts on the McLean Independent School District board is scheduled to close at 5 p. m. Tuesday.

According to Charles Cousins, school business manager, there are five candidates for the posts — June Woods, Bill Cash, E. J. Windom Jr., Miro Pakan and incumbent Clyde Andrews.

Terms of Andrews and Guy Beasley are expiring. Third open slot on the board comes from the unexpired term of W. G. Carter, who resigned about two months ago.

Election day is the same that it is in Pampa — Saturday.

Starts Wednesday ... Pampans Plan Cancer Drive

The Gray County cancer crusade is slated to begin Wednesday with the Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club sponsoring the drive. Heading the local drive is Mrs. Howard Patton, general cancer chairman.

The local goal, $2,561, is part of an $18 million national goal which has been raised over the 1952 quota.

"We hope to be able to contribute our full share toward this goal," Mrs. Patton said. "Naturally we must raise our sights considerably over last year's contributions to do so."

"This can be done either by more givers or larger donations," the chairman said, "and it is my sincere hope that both will ensue."

Mrs. Patton announced the following leaders in the 1953 drive: Mrs. W. A. York, project chairman; Mrs. Rufe Thompson, contact chairman; Mrs. George Tinnin, collection containers; and Mrs. E. M. Nutt, publicity chairman.

Other chairmen will be announced later, she continued. In McLean, co-chairmen Mrs. S. A. Cousins and Mrs. William Boyd will handle all phases of the crusade. Miss Norma Lantz is the letters chairman.

The first contribution to the cancer drive was made by the Top of Texas Chapter of the National Secretaries Association when it presented the BAPW Club with a check for $225 in memory of the late Minnie Barnes, former NSA cancer chairman.

Commie Offer Spurs Hope Of Sincere Move

TOKYO, March 29 —UP — The United Nations command said Sunday it would be ready to exchange sick and wounded Korean war prisoners with the Communists "within a matter of days."

It took a cautious attitude toward the Communist suggestion that such an exchange could lead to armistice in Korea. But the Red offer spurred hopes in many quarters that it was a sincere peace move.

Communist leaders unexpectedly agreed Saturday to the Feb. 22 offer of Gen. Mark W. Clark, UN Supreme Commander, for exchange of sick and wounded.

They coupled their acceptance with a call for resumption of the Panmunjom truce talks, recessed indefinitely by the UN last Oct. 8 because of a deadlock on prisoners.

The Communists said exchange of sick and wounded could lead to the smooth settlement of the entire question of prisoners of war, thereby achieving an armistice in Korea.

The only issue blocking an armistice was exchange of prisoners. The UN insisted that prisoners be given a free choice about going back to Communist territory.

Some UN officials believe that if there is a "booby trap" in the Reds' latest proposal it may lie in the suggestion that truce talks be resumed.

There was a hint in the Red message that exchange of sick and wounded may depend on resumption of the talks.

However, the UN said the proposal for resumption also would be "taken under study immediately."

Clark called an urgent meeting of his staff shortly after the Red message was received.

"We are studying this very closely," Clark said, "to be sure there (See UN READY, Page 3)

Patty Lou Hughes Services Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Patty Lou Hughes, 60, 730 N. West, were at 4 p. m. Saturday in the Dueneck-Carmichael Chapel with Rev. O. C. Curtis, District Baptist Missionary head officiating.

Mrs. Hughes died at 2:45 p. m. Friday in Highland General Hospital. She had been a resident of Pampa the last 18 years having moved here from Clarendon in 1936.

She was born April 16, 1892, near Palestine.

Burial was in Fairview Cemetery. Survivors include her husband, W. A. Hughes; three sons, W. R. Hughes, E. W. Hughes, and L. H. Hughes, all of Pampa; one daughter, Mrs. Louise McNally, Englewood, Colo.; three brothers, Charlie Garrett, and John Garrett both of Denver, Otis Garrett, Corpus Christi; three sisters, Mrs. Lydia Burns, a 60-year-old widow, both of San Bernardino, Calif.; and a 60-year-old grandchild.

Palbearers were Chester Thompson, Bill Kretz, A. M. Nash, F. J. Frair, Charles Cook and Francis Hukill.

Let's Have No Jokes, Please ... Einstein Bares Cosmic Theory

By DELOS SMITH NEW YORK, March 29 —UP — Prof. Albert Einstein published a new theory on the interactions of cosmic forces Saturday, and if another wave of Einstein jokes starts, you shouldn't laugh because Einstein sprinkled with Einsteinian symbols plunked and mused and square-rooted, will strike the average person as so utterly incomprehensible, his first impulse will be to steady his whirling mind by giving off with a joke.

But the intellectual author of the atomic bomb, now slight, wispy and 74 years old, is on the trail of the basic law which, when it is understood, will explain those facts of the universe which we now know in relation one to another and lead us to the other facts which now elude us.

Friday is the deadline for casting absentee ballots for mayor or city commissioner. Ballots coming in by mail must be in Vicars' office by 1 p. m. election day. So far only one ballot was sent out by mail, but has not been returned.

No Explanation Here His new mathematical theory is a refinement of his "generalization of gravitation theory" which he published in 1950. This writer isn't going to explain it to you — in a few words or in many. Anyone who says he will is kidding you, because Einstein is explainable only in his own terms and those terms are the coldest of cold abstractions.

However, his purpose is another matter. It is to explain facts which all of us know to be facts. One is gravitation. Another is electro-magnetism. They're so much the stuff of nature that we assume nature couldn't be without them. And they function in harmony — at least, there is no apparent disharmony. Which suggests a law or a master fact upon which lesser facts, such as gravitation and electro-magnetism, depend.

He is after that master fact and his means of tracking it down is to set down the lesser facts in a manner so economical that their inter-relationships are plain. That manner — the abstract language of mathematics — to which he has given innumerable refinements. Facts stated in this manner are built into a theory from which vantage point other facts take on new meanings that either prove the relations of the facts built into theory — in which case a theory becomes a law or master fact — or disproves the relations and destroys the theory.

One Theory Sought The purpose of the "generalization of gravitation theory" and of the refined theory published Saturday is to work out one theory which will describe both gravitation and electro-magnetism. Then there will be a point from which to seek the absolute truths of their inter-relationships. Einstein said only that mathematically his refined theory is correct. Whether it is "true" is another matter.

Robert D. Hinkley's Home On Leave

Robert D. Hinkley, B.T. 3c in the U.S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hinkley, 501 N. Nelson, is now home on a 24-day leave following a second tour of duty in Korea.

Hinkley is scheduled to report back Tuesday to the naval base in Oakland, Calif.

He has been aboard the "Bonhomme Richard" during both tours of duty in Far Eastern waters.

A graduate of Pampa High School in 1949, Hinkley worked for a filling station and pipeline unit before entering the service.

In the Navy for the past two years, he still has 1 1/2 years to go before he is discharged.

At the age of one year, the average vocabulary contains seven words.

Almost $200 Above Average . . . Gray County Savings Higher Than In Other Parts Of U. S.

(Special to the News)

NEW YORK — Residents of Gray County have more money in the bank than do people in most sections of the country. Their total deposits in local banks come to $20,029,000, a high figure for their population.

The data comes from the Federal Reserve System, which has just issued a comprehensive report showing bank deposits on hand, as of the close of the fiscal year, in every county in the United States. Included are accounts in savings banks, called time deposits, and those in commercial banks, demand deposits, for individuals, partnerships and corporations. Not included are governmental and interbank deposits.

The total on deposit in Gray County banks, if apportioned equally among the county population, would amount to $820 per capita. This is more than is found in the United States as a whole, excluding the five largest cities with their securities markets, the average being $657 per capita. For the West South Central States, deposits averaged $620 per capita.

Bank deposits are generally regarded by economists as one of the important indicators of the state of a community's business health. In Gray County's case, the figures point to good health. Its current cash position, $20,029,000, is a 64.5 per cent rise over the $12,332,000 on deposit in 1944.

Merchants Reset Store Hours For Pre-Holiday Days

Saturday hours will be observed Friday July 3 and May 29, preceding the Independence Day and Memorial Day holidays with stores remaining open until 7 p.m. both days.

Decision to stay open the Friday before the Saturday holidays was made at a meeting of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce merchants activities committee.

Report was made to the committee by Jimmy Hamilton, officers manager, of plans for the opening ball game of the new Oilers season. The game, slated April 24, is tentatively scheduled to be in the afternoon.

And the activities committee voted to recommend that all stores, close at 3:30 p.m. that day, so employees may attend the 4 p.m. game.

A parade will precede the opening game.

Attending the meeting were chairman, Harold Miller, Joe Tooley, Homer Deak, Irving Schwartz, E. B. Bowman, Leon Gilbert, Frank Leder, Burton Behrman, O. B. Bone, R. M. Samples, Ben Brockner, Bryant Caraway, W. J. McNeill, Cecil Myatt, Russell Kennedy, Bill Elkins, Dick Vaccaro, L. D. Mosely, Clyde Orgran, Ken Keaders, Jerry Boston, Doug Mills and Hamilton.

Foreign Students Sing And Discuss For Kiwanis

"Hong Kong is the only place where the free peoples of the world can understand something of what is going on in China."

"Today there is sentiment — and hope — that MacArthur will come back to Japan as ambassador from the United States."

"We Greeks have forgot all about the German and Italian occupations, but we'll really remember that of the Russian Communists."

These are some of the opinions expressed by the 17 foreign students from Wayland College, Plainview, who were guests-of-honor Friday night of the Pampa Kiwanis Club at its Ladies' Night in the senior high school cafeteria.

Many of them costumed in the garb of their native countries, they participated in both a musical program and a panel discussion. They were accompanied by Miss Onelia Carr, in charge of foreign students at Wayland; and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hardin (the is college business manager).

Among the seven musical numbers performed by the visiting group were an Hawaiian song solo; a Japanese song solo; two solos by a Mexican tenor; the reading of a poem, "Just Because I'm a Dishwasher," by a Formosan (he wrote it); "Aloha," sung by two Hawaiian and a Japanese girl; a piano solo, "I Was So Happy," by a Greek coed; and an Italian piano solo.

An estimated 250 persons were on hand for the affair, at least 40 of them guests of the club. Master-of-ceremonies Hardin announced that Rev. E. Douglas Carver, Pampa's First Baptist Church pastor, would be granted a doctor's degree at Wayland's commencement exercises May 25. Main speaker then will be Evangelist Billy Graham.

Wayland students present were Mildred Kong, Hawaii; Misako Hirabe, Japan; Margaret Vaughan, Brazil; Adriana Flamand, Mexico; Matsue Nagata, Hawaii; Helene

Despite Quarter Century Of Use, Lizzie Still Goes Strong

After 25 years it still goes and in every kind of weather, every day.

That's one reason why Mrs. Jamie Bowers, wife of County Commissioner Paul Bowers, put on the 25th set of license plates on her 1927 Model "A" Ford coach Saturday.

The car isn't for sale either. "Why, it would be just like selling the family Bible, or even worse, to sell part of my father," Mrs. Bowers asserted.

She explained to The Pampa Daily News the car came into the family when she was a sophomore in high school. Her father, T. B. Saxon, who died in 1916, was very proud of the car when he bought it. The longer he had it, the more attached he became to the little car. "It just became a part of him, and a part of the family," she said.

But with its square, box-like build — the style in those days — it has some modern features, namely sealed beam headlights, seat covers, and 1953 license tags, AS 8188.

In recent times, during bad weather, some of the Bowers' neighbors have had to rely on the "veteran of the roads" to get them places when their modern cars just wouldn't make it. Mrs. Bowers drove it to school every day when she taught; her sister drives it every day to work in Miami, and the two Bowers' children, John Paul and Richard, are carried to school in it every day, too.

About three years ago Bowers replaced the motor and had the inside of the door and car wall lined with tin. Mrs. Bowers forgets how many sets of tires have been worn out on the car.

"But, it still starts when you want it to, it averages 35 to 40 miles an hour, and stops when the brakes take hold — so it was licensed again this year, and will be again in 1954.

It is in the Bowers family for keeps, the county commissioner and his wife said. When the two boys get old enough to own a car, it will become theirs, and so on, ad infinitum.

UN Ready

On the surface, the Communist offer appeared to be a straightforward one. It said the Red high command "fully agrees" to Clark's proposal for exchange.

Although suggesting resumption of truce talks, it did not flatly make this a condition of the exchange.

The Communist move, undoubtedly approved by the Kremlin, was the first major step in the worldwide Communist "peace" offensive since Georgi Malenkov became premier of Russia.

The UN command in Tokyo said it already is "making preparations" to exchange sick and wounded prisoners.

The Communist message was sent to Clark by North Korean premier and military commander-in-chief Marshal Kim Il Sung and Gen. Peng Teh-Hua, commander of Chinese "volunteers."

Held 20,000 Chinese. When truce talks were recessed in October the UN held about 16,000 prisoners, including some 20,000 Chinese.

Of these 8,300, including 6,400 Chinese, had expressed willingness to return to Communist territory. At that time the Communists held about 12,000 Allied prisoners. There has been no estimate as to how many prisoners on each side might be classed as sick and wounded.

Prisoners to be exchanged might include Maj. Gen. William "Old Blood" Garrison, former commander of the U.S. 24th Infantry.

NEW TAG for "Lizzie" was in place today for the 25th consecutive year since she first hit the road fresh and new from the Ford factory. The old Model "A" Ford is one of the proud possessions of the Bowers family and is used every day in every kind of weather. Pictured above with their "belroom" are left to right, Richard Bowers, Mrs. Jamie Bowers (in whose name the car is titled) and Pct. 3 County Commissioner Paul Bowers. ## Sgt. Davis A. Brown Assigned To Europe

Pampa's former Army and Air Force recruiting sergeant is scheduled to leave Pampa this afternoon, en route to the European Command.

Sgt. Davis A. Brown, 1809 N. Duncan, recruiter in Pampa for five years, said he was being ordered first to Camp Kilmer N.J., then to the European theater.

Since he left Pampa Jan. 4, Brown has been stationed at Ft. Hood, 22 miles southwest of Temple. Current plans, Brown said, call for the sergeant's family to follow him overseas in July or August.

Pampa Salute Slated

A "Salute to Pampa" will be heard at 8 p.m. today over Radio Station KPDW.

Originally broadcast over Radio Station KRLL, Dallas, the show was not received very well in the Pampa area — and that is the reason for the rebroadcast, according to Warren Hassel, KPDW co-owner.

During the half-hour show, Mayor C. A. Huff will give a talk.

Bond Issue

The bond issue was proposed to build the new school and allow for repairs, lighting and furniture for other buildings.

It was called primarily to replace Shamrock's present high school, built in 1928.

At the time civic leaders and school officials thought the building would last for at least 25 years, but within two years it was too small to house all the pupils using it, a former superintendent of Shamrock schools said in a letter to Shamrock voters.

He stated the school had narrow, dingy halls, and steep stairwells which created a fire hazard for the pupils.

The bond issue had the support of the Shamrock Boosters Club which has backed the movement for a new school for the past 14 months. A group of high school students in 1952 first brought the club's attention to the dilapidated condition of the building in a panel discussion and skit. They pleaded with the Shamrock businessmen to visit the school and see for themselves. They did. They endorsed the movement and took a leading part in the campaign.

Almost a year ago the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce sponsored a panel discussion with 150 Shamrock citizens who were asked to list what they thought would be marked improvements to the city. "An adequate school plant for Shamrock," topped the list.

All work required in building a Soap Box Derby car must be performed by the entrant. Cars will be closely examined by an inspection committee, which may require the boy to prove that he built the car himself.

(Entrants may accept limited help from other boys under 16 years of age in designing and assembling the car but helpers are not permitted to build an entrant's car, or parts of the car.)

The cost of building is limited to $10 exclusive of wheels and axles.

Shultz Doesn't Conform To General Rule . . . A Bass Horn He Couldn't Play Started Bunny In Show Biz

By DOLORES DAVIS

As a general rule, a bookkeeper brings to fore a vision of a staid individual, usually quite a nice person but a little on the dull side when it comes to printed copy. That's the general rule.

The exception is B. R. (Bunny) Shultz, director of the 1953 Lions Club Minstrel, whose vocational life has been as varied as the colors in a rainbow. He is now bookkeeper with the Hughes Company.

A bass horn, which he didn't know how to play, and a piano-friend started him off on a five-year stint of treading the boards in "rep" shows ("rep" being the show biz term for repertoire companies that used to tour the country staging melodramatic productions under canvas) shortly after he got out of high school.

Bunny first joined the rep shows when he was 19 and toured with them for five years (1930-35). "It all started this way," he mused . . .

A friend of his was a piano player with a little show touring then and when the advance man for the company came through his home town, Arnett, Okla., (population 500 "if you stretch it") Bunny boasted to a group of cronies that he believed he would ask him for a job.

No one was more surprised than the job-seeker when the advance man asked him to go to work for him before he had a chance to make good his boast or fade out of the picture. He joined the company as a bass horn player. The paradox was that at the time he agreed to go with the company he didn't have a bass horn and couldn't play a note.

"I told the man he'd have to wait a couple of weeks," Bunny said. He then went to a friend of his who ordered instruments for the high school band and had him put in a rush call for a bass horn thinking he would get it in time to have a lesson or two.

The horn came in the day before the two weeks were up and he had to go on the road without a lesson.

Bunny would go out front of the tent with the band to ballyhoo the show, puff out his cheeks as if playing but never make a note.

Primary criticism the band director had for the new member of the group was when he said one day, "Bunny, you know you ought to play a little louder, sometimes I can't hear you."

The horn player said he admitted after about six weeks that he couldn't play but by that time he had worked into parts in the show and so his band career was ended and his stage career started.

He played leads and comedy, three years as general business (any part that was needed) and the last two years was a director.

He played with such companies as the Art Names Players, Hazel Hurd Players, Gabe Garrett Comedians and others.

Show business lost Bunny the way it loses a lot of good men — and a wife gained a husband instead of a temperamental (which Bunny admits he was) actor.

Bunny's wife, Geraldine, a girl from his home town, toured with him for a while.

In fact, Shirley, the Shultz's eldest daughter, is a trooper too. They took her with them for a year after she was born.

Then Bunny quit "because of my wife." She didn't like and still doesn't like show business.

He said he believes she would have had a nervous breakdown if she had stayed with it as every line was a terror to her.

The Shultz's other children are Bernardine, Larry and Gordon, all in school here.

All equipment for the rep shows, according to Bunny, was carried in a trooper truck. Personnel traveled in cars.

They played West Texas, western Kansas, western Oklahoma and part of Colorado. Also a circle stock route in Arkansas. The rep companies gave six shows a week and moved on Sunday generally. At other times they had three-day stands and even one-day stands during the depression when people just didn't have money to go to shows. The stage was set up by the ingenious method of running the truck under one end of the tent, dropping the specially hinged sides were used for seating and the

PLYMOUTH ANNOUNCES NEW LOWER PRICES!

Now! Greater Value Than Ever!
Substantial Reductions On All '53 Models!

Effective immediately, the retail prices of all 1953 Plymouth cars are substantially reduced, bringing you the greatest Plymouth value in history! When the 1953 Plymouth cars were introduced last fall, even though completely new and advanced in design, they were priced on a "hold-the-line" basis.

We emphasized then our constant aim of quality, performance, safety and comfort, at decreased rather than increased prices. And we pinned our faith on volume to achieve this objective.

The removal of production controls has made it possible to produce Plymouth cars at the highest rate in many months. Now that higher volume is being achieved and we may reasonably expect it to continue, we are lowering prices accordingly.

Price reductions apply to the entire Plymouth line — all nine body types. Your nearby Plymouth dealer will be glad to give you complete details about the new prices.

Plymouth, long famous for greater value, continues to bring you the quality features of high-priced cars — NOW AT EVEN LOWER COST TO YOU!

Fampa's Florists Getting Set For Their Biggest Rush Of Year - - Easter Sunday

By ED NASH

Though this is Palm Sunday, Pampans — and those over the nation — are already thinking of Easter.

Local florists, however, are doing more than just thinking about it — for the Easter season is by and large, the busiest of the year.

And the most popular flower for the next week? The Easter lily, of course, closely followed by the hydrangea.

For those Pampans, though, who wish to buy their best girls a corsage for Easter Sunday, the most popular — and practical — are the rose and the carnation.

Few persons realize the work that must be done in order to have the right kind and amount of flowers on hand — and blooming at the ideal time.

But there are at least two Pampans who do have a working knowledge of the problems. They are Florists Roy L. Kay, Clayton Floral Company manager, and David L. Parker, proprietor of Parker's Blossom Shop.

Asked if this was the busiest period of the year, they both looked up a bit unbelievably, wiped their brows and murmured: "I guess it is."

And they were quick to point out some of the problems involved in having fresh flowers — both potted plants and those with cut stems (for corsages) — fully blooming for Easter Day.

For one thing, cut flowers must be flown in from California and Florida and brought by train from Denver, Kay said, though potted plants are shipped by truck from Denver and Guthrie, Okla.

Parker, though, gets many of his flowers from Oregon and the Northwestern states, including a few from California.

Hawaiian orchids? Yep, both florists have them in stock, a matter of only several days out of Honolulu. And they're among the more inexpensive, with some as low as $3.50 apiece.

Easter lilies themselves are either brought in from the outside or raised on the local premises. Parker raises many of them himself — ever since Dec. 6 when he planted the first bulbs. They are expected to be in full bloom by Easter Day.

Prior to World War II, Parker said, many a bulb was prepared in Japan. Then during the war Americans, mostly on the West Coast, began to handle them, and that has been the case ever since.

"The American variety is superior to that of the Japanese now," he maintained.

Hydrangeas sold in Pampa are raised by specialists in the Northwestern part of the country, he continued, "for the California stock does not do so well in this country." A matter of soil and climate, mostly.

SURROUNDED by all manner of Easter flowers is Helen Madala, 214 N. First, who is trying to decide what her choice will be for Easter Sunday. Local florists were preparing today for the week-before-Easter rush, invariably the greatest of the year. Biggest volume of business, naturally, is expected to be Friday and Saturday.

Majority of them, the second-most popular potted flower at Easter, come in different shades of pink. But they can be made blue, he said, by adding either alum or aluminum sulfate (two ounces to two gallons of water, for six weeks before blooming).

But there are many other varieties of flower that sell well during the Easter season. Of potted plants, there are azaleas and cactolarias (better known as he "poorman's pocketbook," because it is shaped like an empty purse). Or so, at least, Kay insists.

In the corsage line, there are also American-grown orchids, camellias and gardenias that are popular in Pampa at Easter time.

And "several hundreds" of both potted and cut flowers are expected to be sold in Pampa during the coming week, Kay and Parker figure.

"From 600 to 750 blooming plants" during the week was Parker's guess.

"And 300 Easter corsages will go out of here that Sunday morning," he estimated, adding that "most people will get their flowers by Saturday night."

Though there has not been much Easter activity in the flower line to date, the rush is expected to begin Monday and Tuesday and by Thursday and Friday, Kay and Parker insisted, "we'll be jammed up for time."

Thursday and Friday nights will not be any time of relaxation for them, for a good part of each night will be spent in preparing plants and corsages, keeping them cool in refrigerators — and then preparing some more.

Even though many of the Easter flowers will not be in bloom today, Parker's Blossom Shop, 220 N. Ward, has scheduled a pre-Easter showing from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. during which time Pampans "may come in and browse around."

"We'll turn 'em loose in the greenhouse," Parker said.

A big part of the flower business this time of year, of course, is done through the offices of the Florists Telegraph Delivery Service, in which both Kay and Parker belong. In the United States, about 8,500-9,000 florists also are members.

It works this way:

Person walks into florist shop and wants to wire flowers to say Newton, Mass. The Pampa florist looks up a florist in Newton who belongs to the service and sends him a wire telling the kind of flower, the amount to be spent, etc. Customer pays the Pampa florist and the Newton florist delivers the flowers.

At each week's end, every member florist in the nation sends in to a clearing house in Detroit, an itemized list of his telegraph business. And, at the end of each month, accounts are balanced.

One thing that amazes the unflowered observer, however, is the care that is taken of flowers once they get to Pampa.

Taken out of a block of ice, they are put in tap water after their stems are cut and then set out in room temperature. A powder (floralife), for prolonging their life, is put in the water. Then, later, they are placed into a refrigerator (temperature, 42-45 degrees, for best results).

Though Easter is the biggest flower season, there are four others that follow close behind — Mother's Day, Christmas, St. Valentine's and Memorial Day, pretty much in that order.

"That might make one think that the flower business is a seasonal thing.

Well, it is. But — not nearly so much as it used to be. In Pampa, increased population and increased interest in flowers nurtured, perhaps, by the smiling light in local girls' eyes — have tended to spread out flower sales over the entire year.

But, for this week, the Easter lily will be king, both florists maintain. According to one of them:

"We'll sell as many Easter lilies as all other plants combined."

TEXAS LADY LOST 27 POUNDS

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose bulky, unsightly fat — or money back. Here is a home recipe to help take off surplus weight and help restore graceful slenderness. Now get the improved Barconcentrate. Mix with grapefruit juice as directed on label and take according to directions. Then watch the fat almost seem to melt off from neck, chin, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles. The improved Barconcentrate contains in addition to liquid, appetite curb tablets, which help to lessen the taste buds which lie on the surface of the tongue. If the very first bottle and tablets doesn't show you the way to reduce, safely and easily, return the empty bottle for money back.

strongest part. It told of a young drunk, inadvertently winning a governor's race against tried politicians. The drunk decided to sober up as a result of the election and be a good leader.

Other shows famous in the overacted melodrama and comedy days of the rep shows were "Spitters," "The Push," and "St. Elmo."

Bunny played area towns of Panhandle (bigger than Pampa at the time), Perryton, Spearman and Dumas.

He said softball was the scourge of the rep shows and did more to cause their demise than any other single thing.

Every town that could scrape up funds for flood lights had a field and sponsored a team, he said, and if they had no team businessmen would choose up sides and "play ball."

MAYOR	OCCUPATION	EDUCATION	What Are Your Qualifications For This Office?	What Do You Consider the Most Important Issues Facing Our City Today?	State Specifically Your Platform
B. E. FERRELL Salary—$10 per meeting Maximum $520 per year	Real Estate And Insurance-Business	High School and Business College	Thirty years in the business world. Manager of wholesale oil supply yards, and a building contractor.	The need to reduce excessive spending, and secure a balanced budget in keeping with present conditions. Unite Pampa into one solid front that will forget sectionalism. Secure additional industry with added payroll.	To work for a consolidated city without sectionalism. Cooperate with the chamber of commerce in acquiring added industry. Institute a fair tax system. Reduce expenditures wherever possible, and watch with an eagle eye every dollar spent to the end that every dollar may buy a dollar's worth of material, or service, so that the budget may be balanced, and taxes reduced in the foreseeable future. Cooperate with the State Highway Dept. to secure an underpass on Hobart Street, widen Alcock Avenue, and get a bridge built across the Canadian River. Cooperate with the schools to the fullest extent consistent with sound business methods. Strive for better sanitation to make a healthier condition for the city. Render quarterly statements of the receipts and expenditures so people may know how their business is being handled.
TOM ROSE	Auto Dealer	Grade School and High School Education in Pampa, Texas; graduated from Oklahoma University with BS Degree, School of Business.	1. Resident of Pampa for thirty-two (32) years. 2. Thirteen (13) years of business experience. 3. Chairman of Gray County Hospital board. 4. Advisory Board of The Board of City Development.	1. Adequate water supply. 2. Recreation facilities, such as parks, playgrounds, etc., and personnel to maintain these facilities. 3. To me, the most important issue is that of sectionalism. Any action taken in our city government should be for the city as a whole and not for the benefit of any one group or any specific section. Every effort should be made between our Commissioners and the Mayor to eliminate any such actions or feelings that may exist.	To give the people of Pampa an honest, economical, efficient and cooperative City government.
COMMISSIONER Salary — Same As Mayor WARD 1
GENE FATHEREE	Partner with my brother in Pampa Wholesale Co.	Graduate of Pampa High School. Attended University of Oklahoma 2 years.	I have lived in Pampa since 1920. Have served as a director of the Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce. In 1950 I served as treasurer of the BCD and Chamber of Commerce and in 1951 served as President. I am treasurer of the Adobe Walls Council, Boy Scouts of America. Last year I served as Vice-President of the Pampa Girl Scout Assn.	In order to attract more industry, and to take care of future needs, we must have an adequate water supply whether it comes from a surface supply or from more wells. As Pampa grows the need for more and better fire and police protection increases. A unified effort on the part of the people of Pampa, as well as the city officials, should be made to work for the successful development of our city as a whole.	To try and serve, to the best of my ability, the city as a whole. To work for the growth and development of Pampa. To administer the operation of the city on an economical and business-like basis.

A. J. HINDMAN	Questionnaire Was Not Returned By This Candidate.
FRANK DIAL	Owner-Operator of FRANK DIAL TIRE COMPANY	High School. Three years college.	I have lived in Pampa for the past 23 years, and have operated my own business for the past 10 years at 300 N. Cuyler.	1. The continued growth and development of Pampa and handling of problems through fair, impartial methods in a business-like procedure. 2. The continued paving program through the present policy whereas the property owners and city sharing the expense of paving, each sharing one-third of the expense, and doing this without bonds, but on a current basis to eliminate any extra long-term indebtedness on the tax-payers of Pampa. 3. The expense of operating any type of government or business at the present time is extremely high, but I believe that every possible effort should be exerted by very official in administrative capacity in order to curtail any extra expense or eliminate unnecessary expenses in the operation of the city government.	My policy, if elected, will be to do everything within my power to give all the people of Pampa a fair and impartial government for our city, and strive for full cooperation with all departments of our city government with the citizens of Pampa in every way possible.
DALE H. PINSON	Service Station Operator	High School and Business College	17 years in the business world, which 16 have been in my own business.	Need to reduce spending and balance income against outlay so the budget may be balanced. Work for a united Pampa and abolish sectionalism. Secure additional industry with added payroll.	Work for united Pampa where all the people have equality of the tax burden, and just distribution. Cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce in securing additional industry. Cooperate with the State Highway Dept. in widening some of the streets where there are highways over such streets. Watch the expenditure of the people's money to the end that every dollar spent will buy a dollar's worth of value. Reduce taxes. Work for more and better sanitation wherever there is need for it. Render statements of receipts and expenditures in such manner that the people can read and understand where their dollars are going. Cooperate with the schools to the end that every school child may have the advantage of an education.
WARD 3
W. J. CORNELISON	Service Station Operator	Graduate of High School, also of Teachers Institute	Taught school 1916-1912, Railway Mail Clerk 1918-1920-1921. Home owner and tax payer in Pampa since 1943. Service Station business since 1945. Age 63 years.	To complete the paving program as far as money is available, and to start work on Storm Sewer in Business Section of town as soon as money is available. To continue to beautify our parks and playgrounds.	As stated, I am for all needed improvements but at the smallest cost possible. I would be against any Bond issues, (barring disaster) until all outstanding bonds are paid. I believe in a pay-as-you-go program. It will be my purpose to cooperate fully with the rest of the Commission. I don't mean I would always agree to every issue that comes before the Commission but shall, when disagreeing, state my reasons in the most friendly manner.
Wm. B. "A" NEEL	Owner-Operator of Neel Grocery		In announcing my candidacy for election, I assure you I am not running on future promises, but rather on past performance. I sincerely believe that every voter should have a voice in city government, and the voice should be for the betterment of the City of Pampa as a whole. I believe that my record of the past two years is proof positive that I have adhered to the Democratic Principles upon which our great Nation was founded.	I think the most important issue is a thorough understanding of the City Government by the citizens.	It would be an understatement to say that I believe in the Democratic principles upon which our great nation was founded, whether it be on a National, State, County, City or Precinct level. I believe that the Government should be a Government of the people, by the people, and for the people.
WARD 4
E. C. SCHAFFER	Questionnaire Was Not Returned By This Candidate.
L. P. FORT	Owner and Operator of Fort Granite & Marble Company; and general sand blasting.	North Texas College and Somerville School of Law	I realize the principle needs of the city and have the desire and courage to try to help solve our problems. I intend to honestly try to represent the people.	That we all come to realize that the railroad track was installed to run trains upon, and not a line of demarcation, to establish social, economic, religious, or governmental divisions to the detriment of Pampa as a whole.	My platform is — "Equal rights to all, special privileges to none." This should extend to our colored citizens, also. To serve faithfully, my ward, and do the will of the people who elect me. To never forget that Ward 4 is a part of Pampa, and to work for an upbuilding of the whole city. To pray each day, that God will make me as wise and as good as I sometimes think I am.
W. D. VARNON	Owner and Operator of Varnon Grocery	Grammar School	After serving one term as Commissioner of Ward 4, I can assure you that there is no substitute for experience. During the past I have to the best of my ability served fairly and honestly, giving full consideration to those to whom I am responsible, so long as it did not take undue advantage of those in the balance of the City, to whom I also feel a great responsibility.	Continuing of the paving program is the most important issue at the present time. Continuation of water and sewer improvements where they are needed, as they are needed. Improvements of the past administration have no parallel. City growth has been unequalled. Water and sewer money has been set aside for the Lamar Addition, not at the expense of the rest of the City, but on a first-come, first-served basis.	The continued operation of the City Government on an efficient, business basis.

Jim Thorpe, America's Greatest Athlete Of All Time, Succumbs

LOMITA, Calif., March 28 (UP)—Famed Indian Athlete Jim Thorpe died at his home here Saturday following a heart attack, firemen who tried to revive him reported.

The 66-year-old star of football and most other leading sports suffered the attack in his trailer-court here shortly after 3 p.m. and died about an hour later.

An emergency rescue squad was called to his home but firemen's attempts to revive him failed.

His wife, Mildred, was with him at the time of his death.

Thorpe had been operating a bar in nearby Wilmington for the past several months.

Greatest Athlete.

Jim Thorpe, whom his Indian mother named Bright Path, was generally recognized as the greatest all-around athlete in American sports history. He could play every game well, but was most famous in football and track. He was also a major league baseball player.

Born in Prague, Okla., on May 28, 1888, he was the son of a ranchman with Sax-Fox Indian blood predominating in a mixture that included Dutch, Welsh and Irish.

He was one of twin boys, each of whom weighed 10 pounds at birth. His brother died at the age of eight.

Thorpe received his education at Haskell Institute and Carlisle where Glenn S. (Pop) Warner urged him to try out for football.

Camp's All American.

In 1911 and 1912 he was chosen All-American halfback and named on Walter Camp's official All-American team, Most gridiron authorities who have seen old and modern players still class him as the greatest football player of all time.

In his 23 years of amateur and professional sport, Thorpe actually set few records and most of them were in the 1912 Olympic games at Stockholm. He won the pentathlon with four firsts and a third in the five events and the decathlon with 8,412 of a possible 10,000 points.

Neither record ever has been equaled. He was decorated personally by the King of Sweden who said to him: "You, sir, are the greatest athlete in the world," and brought back with him trophies valued at $50,000.

After the Olympics he turned to baseball and played with the New York Giants under the famous John McGraw. Although an accomplished fielder, big league pitchers found him unable to hit curve balls. After playing in the minors for a time he turned to professional football.

Thorpe also was proficient at archery, swimming, hockey, rifle shooting, skating, canoeing, basketball, lacrosse, squash, handball and horsemanship.

His friends always said the only game he didn't play well was the game of life. In October, 1951, he was divorced by Mrs. Freado Thorpe, who charged he drank to excess. Mrs. Thorpe was awarded custody of the four children.

Thorpe later remarried and became involved in work designed to halt the spread of juvenile delinquency. He embarked on a nationwide tour at $200 a week telling audiences about his career, naming his greatest day, the toughest opponent he ever faced, and the greatest football player he ever saw.

Charley Trippi of Georgia received Thorpe's nod as the best football player he ever saw.

Thorpe, who stood six feet, and weighed 190 pounds in his prime, was paired with Stanford star Ernie Nevers by Pop Warner as the greatest football player of all time.

Whitsett, Pippen Place At Panhandle

Bill Whitsett and James Pippen garnered all of the points for the Harvester "B" team tracksters in the Plains Relays at Panhandle Saturday.

The two boys placed in the pole vault event, Whitsett winning second and Pippen tying for third and fourth.

Lewis Wins 2nd In 100, 220 Dashes

BROWNWOOD, March 28 (Special)—The Pampa Harvester track team racked up eight points and finished sixth in a field of 50 teams in the annual Bluebonnet Relays here Saturday.

The Abilene Eagles edged Amarillo for top honors 24-2-3 points to 23-5-8. The deciding factor was determined in the final event of the night when Abilene finished third in the mile relay and Amarillo came in fourth.

Harold Lewis was the big point getter for the Harvesters. The dashing sophomore won two second places for six points, Lewis placed second behind Troy Moody of Odessa in the 100-yard dash and second behind Bob Crump of Amarillo in the 220-yard dash.

Moody's winning time in the 100 was 16 flat while Crump established a new mark in winning the 220 in 22.8.

The other two points garnered by the Harvesters were John Darby's fourth in the 100-yard dash and Buddy Cockrell's fourth in the shot put.

Brownwood was third in the meet with 18 3/4 Odessa fourth with 12 5/8; Midland fifth with 12 and Pampa sixth with 4.

Records fell by the wayside in the meet. Don Maynard of Colorado City set a new mark in the 180-low hurdle event with a 20.4; Ike Tennyson of San Saba ran the high hurdles in 14.7 for a new mark in the 220 and Midland a new record in the mile relay in 4:30.2.

Crump of Amarillo was the meet's high point man with 10 3/4 points.

Paschal of Fort Worth won the pole title, edging Amarillo and Abilene in a fourth, 4:25-28. In a playoff for second place Amarillo came out ahead.

Pampa Oiler Batboy Contest For '53 Season Begins Today

Attention all Pampa schoolboys between the ages of 13 and 18 years:

For the second straight year the Pampa Daily News and Radio Station KPND, in cooperation with the Pampa Oilers, will stage a batboy contest with the winner to be the Oilers' official batboy for the 1953 season and the runner-up to batboy for the visiting team.

The contest begins today and all schoolboys in Pampa area ages 13-16, are eligible to enter the contest.

The contest, which was introduced last year, will have the same rules that prevailed then with one exception. Last year's winners will not be eligible to compete this year. The winners last year were Billy Brown, first place winner and the Oiler batboy, and Teddy Vickers, the runner-up and the visiting team batboy.

The two winners this season, as was the case last season, will receive a complete baseball uniform which will become his property at the end of the season.

Here are the rules of the contest:

1. Boys between the ages of 13 and 16 are eligible.
2. Entrants must be attending school in the Pampa area.
3. Entry must be made on a contest blank which appears on the News sports pages or on a sheet of paper that carries the information requested on the official entry blank.
4. Each boy must write an entry of 50 words or more telling why he wants to be the 1953 batboy.

5. The entry must be in the words of the boy and sincerity, honesty, clarity, and originality of statement will be the basis for selection of the six boy field for the finals.

6. The entry of each boy must be signed by his parents or guardian.

7. Last year's winner and runner-up will not be eligible to enter this year.

Batboy Duties

The principal duty of the batboy is to preside over the bats of the two teams, the winner over the Oiler bats and the runner-up over the visiting team bats. Other minor duties include shagging of foul balls inside the park, have pitcher's jacket ready when the hurler becomes a baserunner, and in the case of the home team batboy, keep the umpire supplied with game baseballs.

All letters of entry, along with the entry blank, must be mailed to The Pampa News, Batboy Contest, Box 901, Pampa, Texas, before midnight of April 10.

The following morning, a three-man committee, composed of Oiler bat manager, Jimmy Hamilton, KPND sportscaster Warren Hesse, and Pampa News sports editor Buck Francis. This committee will select the six best letters as well as investigate the background of the boy as far as desirability is concerned.

The pictures of the six finalists will appear in The Pampa News Sunday, April 12, along with an official batboy ballot. The ballot then becomes the only

TWIN KILLING—First baseman Travis Taylor of the Pampa Harvesters is pictured stretching for a throw from second baseman Richard Graham to complete a double play in the game with Childress Friday. LaNoell Castleberry, who hit into the twin killing, is shown crossing the bag a split-second too late. The double play was started by third baseman James Waner. Caught in the middle of the two-out play was Childress' Perry Morren. The Bobcats edged the Green and Golders, 3-0. (News Photo by Fred Dittian)

Harvester Nine Is Nipped In Season Lid Lifter, 3-0

By BUCK FRANCIS

Pampa News Sports Editor CHILDRESS, Mar. 28.—Leland Cagle of the Childress Bobcats got the best of a pitching duel with Joe Tynes of the Pampa Harvesters here Friday afternoon when he hurled the Bobcats to their fourth win in five starts, 3-0. It was the season opener for the visiting Harvester nine.

Cagle went all the way in limiting the Harvesters to six hits, three of them by Harvester catcher Hubert Duncan. Tynes dished out eight hits and one of the three runs the Bobcats garnered was of the unearned variety.

Coaches Dwaine Lyon and Orville Lewis of the Harvesters were well pleased over the performance of their charges despite the loss. "We'll be all right, I think, after we get a few games under our belts," Lyon said.

The Bobcats got single runs in the first, third and sixth innings. Their first inning tally was earned. Olin Graham, Bobcat catcher, the second Childress batsman in the initial frame, raced to second when Derrell Seitz dropped his fly ball in left field and later scored on a single by Lindley Davis.

The second Bobcat run came in the third when big Perry Morren cut under a low pitch and lofted it over the left field fence for a home run. The blow came with two out and the bases unoccupied.

Successive doubles by Joe McCraw and Cagle produced the third Childress run in the sixth.

Although it didn't change the seventh by drawing a base on balls, Derrell Mobley and Winslett Nichols, both pinch-hitters, followed with strikeouts but Duncan kept the Harvesters' hopes alive by scratching a single off pitcher Cagle's glove, moving Flynn to second. The game ended when Waner skied out to shortstop Leo Stephens.

The Harvesters played a good game defensively, committing only two errors. The Green and Golders turned in two double plays with third baseman Waner figuring in both.

Tynes, in going the route for the Harvesters, struck out six Childress batsmen and walked only three. Cagle whiffed 12 and walked four.

Larsen led off with a base on balls in the fourth for the Pampa team but was forced at second on J. T. Lamberson's grounder. Graham whiffed and Tynes grounded out to end the inning.

3 Hits In 5th

The Harvesters got two hits in the fifth but were retired in three. Duncan led with a single and was thrown out at second trying to steal. Waner followed Duncan with another single, a Texas Leagueer to left. The stocky Harvester third sacker swiped second but was thrown out at third attempting to advance on pitcher Cagle's overthrow at second in an attempt to pick Waner off second. Qualls then ended the inning with the strikeout method.

After going down in order in the sixth, the Harvesters made one last bid to get back in the ball game in the seventh when they put two runners on but once again the rally died before a run could score. Alton Flynn, pinch-hitter for Lamberson, started the

Harvester 9 Bows Twice To Bobcats

CHILDRESS, March 28 (Special)—The Childress Bobcats took advantage of the wildness of Pampa Harvester pitchers to sweep both ends of a doubleheader here Saturday, 15-1 and 15-4.

The Bobcats thus swept the three-game series from the Pampans, giving them six wins in seven games this season.

Pampa pitchers gave up 23 base on balls in the two games. Cloyce Lyon and Buddy Moore combined to give up 15 free hits in the opener while John Perkins, in going the route in the nightcap, issued eight bases on balls.

The Bobcats had the upperhand from the second inning on in the first game when Leo Stephens got a 2-run single to open the scoring for the day. Joe McCraw followed with a three-run homer in the third inning to give the Bobcats a 5-0 lead.

The lone run by the Harvesters in the opener came in the sixth inning when James Waner got life on an error, stole second and then went around on wild pitches.

In the second game, the Bobcats batted around in both the first and second innings to take a 9-0 lead—mostly due to wildness of the pitchers. Perkins loaded the bases in the first inning when he walked the first three batsmen to face them and then Perry Morren followed with a grand slam homer. LaNoell Castleberry followed Morren with another round tripper and the Bobcats surged to a 6-0 lead in the hello frame.

The Harvesters did all their scoring in the second game in the fifth frame. Gerald Beatty started the rally with a home run over the left field fence. Larry Larsen doubled and Don Smith singled him to third. Perkins singled to score Larsen with the second run of the inning. After Neal Franklin forced Perkins at second and Gerald Mobley struck out, Joe Tynes delivered a double to score Franklin and Perkins.

The Harvesters' next action will be at Hereford Tuesday.

'My Story' - By Stan Musial

Cardinal Slugger, Musial, Developed So Fast Can't Remember Getting Swing

Third of seven dispatches written for NEA Service by STAN MUSIAL. Six-Time Batting Champion As told to Harry Grayson I often have been asked where I got that unanimously called a highly unorthodox swing. It has been said that my stance most closely resembles a thief looking over his shoulder while running from a cop. The truth is that I developed so rapidly as a hitter that I can't tell you how I fell into the swing. It just came naturally. I was a most thoroughly discouraged 20-year-old when I reported to Burt Shotton's Columbus club of the American Association at Hollywood, Fla., in the Spring of 1941. The shoulder injury made pitching impossible and an outfielder who can't throw isn't going to crash the majors even if he hits a ton. I knew my arm had to come around more than somewhat and I would have to make up for my throwing deficiency at bat. On the bases, in the field and by hitting. The first ray of hope came when Manager Shotton told me he liked the way I was hitting. "I like the way you swing," said kindly Old Barney, "you play the outfield in intrasquad games."

"...my stance closely resembles a thief looking over his shoulder while running from a cop."

Told To Try Outfield Shotton advised Branch Rickey to come down, told him he might have something in the way of a hitter in "this left-handed kid pitcher with the bum arm." Rickey and Shotton sent me to Columbus, Ga., where the Cardinal farm clubs were assembling. They told me to try to make a place for myself in the outfield. This was a "must" for my first child, Dickie, had come along the previous summer, and now it was necessary to earn groceries for three. Clay Hopper was one of the managers at Columbus. The party Cardinal came in for an exhibition. Hopper told me he wanted one more look at me as a pitcher. I told him I didn't want to pitch, but he insisted. I managed to retire the Cardinals in order in one inning, but Johnny Mize and Terry Moore belted successive home runs off me in the next. That ended my pitching career, but in the meantime I came to bat and got a base hit. It finally was good old Ollie Vanek who took a desperate chance on me and perhaps only because his Springfield, Mo., club of the Western Association required outfielders as badly as I did a job. This was the same Vanek who first saw me pitch batting practice for his Monessen club of the Class D Pennsylvania League club as a 17-year-old four years before.

It was then that I so eagerly signed with the St. Louis National League organization for $85 a month. Shines At Bat I could no longer pitch, but Rickey, Vanek and Cardinal scouts had to admit I caught on quickly at bat. Rickey came to see me three times and on each occasion I hit a couple of home runs. I was destined to quickly hop from Class C to the Cardinals with merely a hurried tip of the cap to Triple A. I had 27 doubles, 10 triples and 26 home runs, driving in 109 runs and batting .379 in 87 games with Springfield. That graduated me to Rochester of the International League, where I batted .326 in 54 games. The Cardinals needed power, decided to look at me at the tail end of this same season. I batted .426 in 12 games for the Red Birds, went to St. Petersburg the next Spring positive that I was on the right track. It was just as well for me that I had that first big batting year, for I had no early start in 1942. They no doubt would have sent me out had they not known I could hit. I wound up batting .315. I was paid $4200 my first year with the Cardinals, but picked up a $6000 World Series check, the first of four in successive playing years, three of them winning ones like the first against the proud Yankees.

Surprisingly for so late a date, a large number of the stars have a long way to go. The list of top-grade pitchers who have been hammered unmercifully throughout the Grapefruit League games includes such key aces as Allie Reynolds and Vic Raschi of the Yankees, 20-game winners Bob Lemon and Early Wynn of the Indians, Jim Hearn and Larry Jansen of the Giants, Bobby Shantz and Harry Byrd of the Athletics; Saul Rogovin of the White Sox, Warren Spahn of the Braves, Warren Hacker of the Cubs and Ken Raffensberger of the Reds. The world champion Yankees, shooting for their fifth consecutive American League pennant, remained solid favorites while the Dodgers still were rated "the team to beat" in the National League. But there were rumblings in the Yankees' camp which indicated that Manager Casey Stengel is becoming worried. Shortstop Phil Rizuto has been unimpressive in his few appearances, center-field Mickey Mantle has been sidelined with minor ailments and Stengel plainly is worried about his veteran pitchers. Reynolds has been hit for 12 runs in as many innings, Raschi has been belted for nine in nine and Lopal, third member of the "big three," has pitched only once in competition. Some of the main offenders were having their troubles, too. The Giants were coming east with their infield and outfield still unsettled and the knowledge that the key piece which would make all the others fit—Willie Mays—will not be discharged until May, 1954. Both the Cardinals and Phillies were showing vast improvement after disappointing starts but both were under the 500-mark in Grapefruit League games. A Question of Hitting Gilliam probably will open the season at second base with Jackie Robinson shifting to third. The only question is his hitting and Dressen said flatly: "If he only hits .260 he'll be my second baseman this year." Most experts agree that Gilliam right now is as good a fielder as there is in the majors. As for his hitting, he batted .301 in 151 games with Montreal last season, driving in 112 runs. He is a switch-hitter who also can play the outfield and is only 24 years old. "I'm sure no club in the majors has come up with such fine young prospects," Dressen exclaimed. "They should make it a lot easier for us this year."

And Pitching Rotations... Major League Pilots Search For '53 Opening Day Lineup

By FRED DOWN-UP Sports Writer. Managers were absorbed in the third and most important phase of spring training Saturday—arranging pitching rotations and opening day lineups—as the big league teams prepare to break camp. Some of the main offenders were having their troubles, too. THE UMPIRE

By BEANS REARDON. 24 Years in National League Written for NEA Service. QUESTION: Home team at bat with one out and runner on first. The count is three-two on the batter. On the next pitch the batter swings and misses but the catcher drops the ball and the batter races for first. The catcher throws wildly into right field and the batter continues to second. The first runner is thrown out at third. The visiting team claims he was the last out. Right or wrong? — Jim Hardy. Answer: The visitors are right. The batter was out before he left the plate. Rule 44, Section 6 says, in part: "When, with less than two out and with first base occupied, a batter misses a third strike, he is automatically out." Therefore, the first base-runner became the final out when he was nailed at third base. Q. Isn't it true that Lefty Gomez hit a ball out of Yankee Stadium? — Richard Holmes. A. Yes, but only as a joke when he was next to the outfield wall when he did it. Q. What was Ty Cobb's best year in baseball? — Rollie Jones. A. He had many, but it would be hard to top his 1911 production. That year the Georgia Peach batted .420, had 218 hits, scored 147 runs, drove in 144 runs, stole 83 bases hit 47 doubles and 24 triples, all league-leading marks? — A duck-billed platypus eats 25,000 earthworms a month.

Brooklyn Bums Loaded With Rookie Talent

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 28—UP—Manager Chuck Dressen of the Brooklyn Dodgers appeared Saturday to have hit the rookie jackpot for 1953. It seems certain that five players who were not even on the Dodgers spring training roster will make the grade, and even more important, four of them are pitchers—the department which has been a Dodger headache over the years. Making the picture even brighter, is the fact that Dressen can carry three of the pitchers all season without having them count in his roster limitation, for they are returning servicemen. Three - Riders Those pitchers are Ronald Lee, a crafty left-hander who compiled a brilliant 14-4 record and a 2.20 earned run mark with Montreal in 1950; Robert Milliken, a big fast-balling right-hander who won 12 with Fort Worth in 1949, and Glenn Mickens—a right-hander, who has had just one season of experience in organized ball. The fourth hurler who looks like he will stick is John Podres, a young left-hander who was so impressive last spring. Podres had a 21-3 record with Whazard (Ky.) in 1951, his first season in organized ball, but hurt his back just before the season opened last year and was sent to Montreal. His record there was not impressive—five victories against the same number of defeats—but he never fully recovered from the back injury until this winter when he took a series of treatments in Brooklyn. The prize rookie of the lot is likely to be James (Junior) Gilliam, the fleet-footed Negro infielder who was named the most valuable player in the International League last season. A Question of Hitting Gilliam probably will open the season at second base with Jackie Robinson shifting to third. The only question is his hitting and Dressen said flatly: "If he only hits .260 he'll be my second baseman this year." Most experts agree that Gilliam right now is as good a fielder as there is in the majors. As for his hitting, he batted .301 in 151 games with Montreal last season, driving in 112 runs. Fisher to Inspect Plants WASHINGTON, March 28—UP—Rep. O. C. Fisher (D-Tex.) will accompany members of a House Armed Services subcommittee to Texas and Louisiana next month to inspect government-owned synthetic rubber plants. Plants will be inspected at Baton Rouge April 13 and at Port Neches, Tex., and possibly Houston, on April 14. Ceramic tiles were used in 16th century Spain not only for floors and walls, but for ceilings of homes, to aid in keeping rooms cool.

If Taken Away From Melbourne... Four American Cities Ready To Apply For '56 Olympics

NEW YORK, March 28—UP—Four American cities are ready to snatch up the 1956 Olympic games if they are taken away from Melbourne, a United Press survey revealed Saturday. Another is on a standby basis, willing to take the games but not pressing for them. The International Olympic committee meets April 17 at Mexico City, Melbourne, previously awarded the 1956 games, will present its report—and claim that government financing will permit the Olympiad to go on as scheduled. Others Want Games But it is known that several nations plan an attempt to take the games away for fear of more "ups and downs" such as Australia has endured the past three months. On the basis, American cities are ready to move in. San Francisco, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and Chicago are anxious to get them, and Philadelphia may even send a man to Mexico City to make an all-out pitch. New York claims it can take over if Melbourne is abandoned. International Olympic President Avery Brundage said Minneapolis and Detroit also want the games, but spokesman for those cities denied they were still interested in the 1956 games—although they once were. Rome will make a bid for the games, too, and stands a chance because its Olympic committee automatically collects money from the national soccer football betting pools. U.S. Has Issue Track But the U. S. would have an inside track, and here is the status of each city's bid as related by the local Olympic committee chairman: Philadelphia — Arthur Kaufman said, "Philadelphia is a natural place for the Olympics. We have everything here for the games except a swimming stadium, which is going to be built in Fairmount Park within a year. We have everything else." Chicago — Otto K. Eitel said "Chicago will make a vigorous bid." Chicago also needs an olympic swimming pool and must find a place for swimming. San Francisco — Harold Berliner said he will confer with Mayor Elmer Robinson next week to form a committee to push the city's bid. Minneapolis — Brundage said University of Minnesota President John Morrill would bid for the games. But Morrill said he knows nothing about it. Detroit — Doug Roby said "I don't feel Detroit could build a suitable stadium to house the games in three years."

Sammy Snead's 4-Under Par Hikes Greensboro Open Lead

GREENSBORO, N.C., March 28—UP—Slammin' Sammy Snead came through with four birdies for a four-under-par 66 Saturday to widen his lead to two strokes at the halfway point of the $10,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

The long-driving Snead, from White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., was under pressure all the way from portly Ed (Porky) Oliver of Palm Springs, Calif. Oliver fired a 31-36-47 for a 135 total. Snead's 66 combined with his 67 Friday gave him a 133.

Playing steady golf Snead was only in trouble once. On the par-four 11th, his booming tee shot landed in the woods. Instead of playing it safe, Snead chose to gamble. He sliced one out between the trees and it rolled up to the edge of the green, where he sank it for a par-four.

Oliver started out in winning form as he shot an eagle-three on the par-five fifth hole, but coming in he ran into trouble. He bogied the par-four 15th when he got too much dirt on an approach shot and had to take two putts. He was in the woods again in the 17th, but a neat recovery brought him in easily in second place at the midway point of the tournament.

Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., who almost dropped out of the running Friday, put together five birdies for a 33-33-66 and third place with a 136.

Tied for fourth with 137's were Skee Riegel, Tulsa, Okla., with a 35-33-69 Saturday, Art Wall, Pocomo Manor, Pa., with a 32-35-67, and Fred Wampler, Indianapolis, with 35-33-68.

The best round of the day, however, came from tempestuous Tommy Bolt of Maplewood, N.J., who broke Snead's old tournament record for the par-70 Sedgwick Course here with a 33-32-65, which gave him a two-day total of 140.

POLO CORDOVA

Whittler, Cordova Slated In Feature

A highly explosive combination takes the main event spot Tuesday night at the Southern Club Sports Arena when Whittler and Polo Cordova tangle for one hour. In last week's six-man tag match, these two developed quite a distaste for each other, and young Cordova asked to meet the veteran Whittler again.

Cordova and Whittler were in the ring together more than any other two contestants last Tuesday, and when they clashed, the fighting was rugged. Whittler, 210 pounds from Roxana, Illinois, is already known as one of the roughest men to enter this territory in a long while. He and Dory Funk had some brilliant duels in the tag match last week, which is one way of proving that he is rugged. Cordova prefers the clean side of wrestling, but then there will be little opportunity to display that when he meets the rowdy Whittler Tuesday.

Promoter Howard Vineyard has lined up a top-flight semi-final bout that may well steal the thunder from the main event. Bob Cummings from Hereford, Texas, comes back to Pampa after one previous appearance in which he soundly defeated Ivan Kalquhoff much to the fans' delight. He meets the Abilene ruffian, Ace Abbott.

The semi-final is for 45 minutes duration or the best of three falls.

The preliminary brings a new comer to Pampa, John Henning, tall, powerfully built youngster from St. Petersburg takes on durable Ben Davidson. Henning developed his muscles during his wartime duty as a frogman in overseas operations. The preliminary goes for 20 minutes or one fall.

Promoter Vineyard has announced that a week from Tuesday he will bring Gypsy Joe, the light heavyweight champion of the world, to Pampa. Gypsy Joe, in the 185 pound to 195 pound class, holds the same top position as Danny McShain and Lew Thess do in their weight brackets. Perhaps one of the boys on Tuesday night's card will be the opponent for Gypsy Joe.

Tickets for Tuesday's matches will be on sale all day Tuesday at the Sportsman's Store until 5, and then will be on sale at the Southern Club Sports Arena at 7:00. Matches start at 8:15.

Doctor Advises Neyland To Extend Leave Of Absence

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 28—UP—Gen. Robert Neyland, University of Tennessee athletic director, said Saturday his doctors have advised him to give up coaching football "for an indefinite period."

Neyland, who returned Friday from a month-long stay at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, was given a year's leave of absence as the Vol's head football coach because of the condition of his health.

Kansas Sets New Record In 4-Mile Relay

AUSTIN, Tex., March 28—UP—Willoway Wes Santee and his University of Kansas teammates wrote a blazing chapter into the annals of the Texas relays Saturday as they set a new four-mile relay record and equalled the two-mile mark.

Santee, a 150-pound six-footer with a deceiving choppy stride, streaked to the best mile performance of his career and the best in the nation this year—a 4:06.7—to anchor a record-breaking four-mile relay mark of 17:14, six seconds under Kansas' 1950 mark.

Then the pride of Ashland, Kan. came back to click off a 1:51.9 half mile to anchor the Jayhawks to a 7:41.8 two-mile relay performance that equalled the mark Oklahoma posted here a year ago.

Easton's Gains Sweep

Saturday's feats gave Coach Bill Easton's great distance crews a sweep of the 26th Annual Texas Relays long-distance events and were fitting companions to the Santee-anchored performances of Friday when Kansas won the distance medley and set a new world's record of 3:21.8 in the sprint medley.

The same fearsome foursome—Santee, Art Dalzell, Lloyd Koby and Dick Wilson—did the damage for Kansas Saturday with Dalzell opening the four-mile relay, followed by Koby and Wilson, then Wilson kicking off the two-miler, followed by Koby and Dalzell.

For his great anchor lapping Santee won the judges' overwhelming vote as the outstanding performer of the two-day event run under a warm Texas sun.

No Other Records Broken

No other records were broken Saturday, but Oklahoma's Bruce Drummond turned in a major upset in nipping Sturs Landquist, Oklahoma A&M's promising young Swedish freshman, in the special Jerry Thompson mile in the record-equaling time of 4:12.3.

The two Sooner State milers came down the home stretch for stride, but about 10 yards from the tape Landquist seemed to break stride and Drummond was going away at the wire.

Darrow Hooper, the Olympic shot put runner-up from Texas A&M, failed to improve on his record heave of 56 feet, 2 1/2 inches of Friday's preliminaries, but with toss standing good for one first place, he tacked on another with a throw of 58 feet 4 1/2 inches in the discus to win high point honors for the meet.

Totals—5 Points

His 20 points were a shade ahead of Kansas State's Thane Baker, who ran on four placing relay teams and won the 100-yard dash for 19 1/2 points. Santee collected 16 points, the same as Texas sprinter Charley Thomas.

In addition to the four relay firsts, Kansas picked up still another first place when Bill Biberstein won the 120-yard high hurdles in the college division honors with 41 points, while North Texas was far behind with 36 points. Howard Payne was third with 22 points, trailed by McMurtry with 19, Southwest Texas with 15 and East Texas with 10.

The Order of Finish

Strung out behind Texas A&M, Texas and Kansas in the university division were Oklahoma A&M with 73, Kansas State with 50 1/2 and Oklahoma with 48.

In the high school division, San Antonio Jefferson nosed out favored Corpus Christi Ray, 29 to 28 3/4 points, followed by Baytown with 27, San Antonio Brackenridge with 24 1/2 and Galena Park with 20 1/2.

Texas' strength in the relays gave it the Junior College-Freshman Division crown with 48 points, while Southern Methodist was second.

LAST FLING—O' Satchel Paige, an admitted 45, warms up his arm at the St. Louis Browns' San Bernardino, Calif., training camp before taking his turn on the mound. The veteran pitcher, who had a 12-10 record in 1952, says this positively will be his last season. (NEA)

Cub Chances Lean Toward Hank Sauer

This is another in a series of prospects of major league baseball teams.

By MILTON RICHMAN

MESA, Ariz., March 28—UP—All of the Chicago Cubs' hopes for 1953 are wrapped up in a man who is riding the bench—big Hank Sauer.

The husky, home-run hitting outfielder, voted the "most valuable player in the National League" last year, currently is nursing a fractured little finger on his right hand, suffered in an exhibition game at Fullerton, Calif., March 16.

"We were told that Hank won't be ready until the opening of the season," says Manager Phil Cavarretta. "But I'm hoping the doctors were wrong. I'd like to see Sauer back in action as soon as possible. He's the big man on our ball club."

Was Leading Hitter

Until he fractured his finger and went back into first base, Sauer was leading the Cubs in hitting with four homers and nine runs batted in.

Left field is waiting for the powerful Sauer as soon as he gets back. Cavarretta, however, isn't so positive about center, where he is trying out ex-serviceman Preston Ward, originally a first baseman. Steady Frank Baumholtz, who wound-up second to Stan Musial in batting last year, is a fixture in right field.

"If we have any problem," Cavarretta admits, "it will probably be in our infield although it hasn't looked bad at all so far."

The trouble spot might be around the midway where Cavarretta now has Roy Smalley at shortstop and Eddie Miksis at second. Dee Fondy has cemented his job at first base while Bill Serna, enjoying the best spring of his career both offensively and defensively, is battling Ramsom Jackson at third.

"Our pitching has been all that I could ask for this spring," Cavarretta declares. "Johnny Klippstein has looked great along with Ward and with 32, Victoria Junior College third with 26, a favored Rice freshman team fourth with 25, Oklahoma A&M fifth with 24 and Oklahoma Baptist and Texas Christian tied for fifth with 16 each.

All In One Department ... Streamlined State Law Enforcement Arm Envisioned

By HENRY S. GORDON

Why couldn't Texas become famous for its state police work in the same manner Canada has won world fame for its colorful Northwest Mounted Police?

Pampa's City Manager B. H. Cruce and E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth, Chamber of Commerce manager, think it could be done, and at the same time build a force second to none in efficiency.

"Texas has missed a bet in neglecting to capitalize on its legend-packed Texas Rangers, allowing its fame to fade into the limbo of past," Cruce said.

Cruce pointed to two factors which contributed largely to the drop in prestige of Texas rangers — passing off "honorary" memberships in the rangers to "good ol' boys" and as a "neighborly" act did more than its share, and the fact several "influential" politicians got mat at the force several years ago.

But, under the Cruce and Wedgeworth plan all this would be different.

First the state police force would no longer be known as the Texas Department of Public Safety. It would be totally reorganized and known only as The Texas Rangers. The reorganized force would be further broken down into several components — i.e., Texas Rangers, Traffic Division; Texas Rangers, Narcotics Division; Texas Rangers, Criminal Division and so on.

Admittance to the force would be by competitive examination to enter the Texas Rangers Academy on stated intervals, be recalled from active duty to undergo a retraining course of about a month or six weeks.

The chamber secretary thought also that the pay would be good in order to attract only those young men of the highest caliber in manhood and intelligence; good enough to induce them to make a career of Ranger service.

Neither Wedgeworth nor Cruce could find any particular fault with Texas' law enforcement officers, but thought of the idea last week when the controversial state department of investigation came up in Austin.

Concluded Cruce:

"Canada has done it, other states have a single uniformed body, under various names, and if they can do it Texas should be able to do it even better."

It probably won't be done this year, or even within the next five years, the city manager added saying:

"But, someday such a plan may be worked out, in the long run saving money for the taxpayers."

Wedgeworth's conclusion was:

"We think the boys are doing a good job now, but we believe the reorganized setup, employing training, modern criminology, and streamlining the all-around activ-

Pampan In Training For Atomic Tests

Pfc. George D. Taylor, 700 Magnolia, a gunner with Battery D, 56th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Gun Battalion, Norfolk, Va., is now at Camp Desert Rock, Nev., for the second in the current series of atomic tests.

A pipefitter in civilian life, Pfc. Taylor entered the Army last July.

The maneuver, "Desert Rock V," is designed to demonstrate the effectiveness of atomic weapons in support of ground action.

Taking part are men from Army posts throughout the country. They have been formed into composite battalion-sized combat teams for the maneuver in the desert wasteland of central Nevada.

Five Candidates For White Deer

WHITE DEER (Special) — Five candidates have entered the race for three school board seats for White Deer school districts.

Seeking the three spots are incumbents L. C. O'Neal, A. D. Parsons and J. T. Crawford. New entrants are Dallas Wyatt of White Deer and Haywood McBees of Skellytown.

Voting will take place in two boxes. One is to be located in the White Deer school business office while the other will be in Skellytown school. Absentee votes would be a boon to the force and to the state. Time was when a policeman's activities were limited. With the advent of the automobile, increased travel both intra-state and inter-state, a more complicated living, the policeman's duties have broadened along with it. The new force would provide all of this as a unit, with every man coming from the same school and trained along the same lines to make Texas just as world renowned as Canada is for its Northwest Mounted Police."

Sewer Extension Work Underway

The Crawford 12-inch sewer main extension started going into the ground this week end near the Love intersection.

The new line will service the southwestern section of the city, recently annexed by ordinance.

Running from Love to Parley, the line ties onto the 12-inch main crossing the lake bed west of Prairie Village, continues through that addition and runs east to the Panhandle Packing Co. where it joins the main outfall line via the lift station.

It is the first major water and sewer work to be started in the latest addition to the city limits. Shooting off from this extension will be the six-inch line to Lamar School. It will run alongside a similar sized water line leading to the new elementary school.

Work opened Saturday and will continue through next Tuesday. Election day is April 4 with the polls open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Our Coaches Call Time Out For Sunday

THE TOM TIPPS FAMILY — Melanie Jean, age 22 months, is the center of attraction in this circle when daddy has some free time. Her papa is head football coach for the Pampa High School Harvesters and Melanie Jean doesn't see him too often. But when she does, she keeps him busy telling her "just one more story."

THE CLIFTON McNEELYS "relax" with their 4-month-old twin boys, Michael and Phillip. These two bundles of energy are still unaware of what that big silver basketball trophy won by the Pampa Harvesters means to their daddy, but they know that when he comes home they've got someone else to play with.

THE WELDON TRICES live at 613 Deane Drive with their four children, Ronnie, 7; Teddy, 10 months; Terry, 4; and Ricky, 3. Here, Ronnie and her mother make her daddy comfortable while Teddy relaxes in his arms. Trice is Guerilla football coach and Harvester golf coach.

THE TERRY CULLEYS have trouble getting little Terry Ann, 8 months, to cooperate. All hands are called upon to get her to model her Easter bonnet. Culley is assistant Harvester basketball team coach. Mrs. Culley is a physical education teacher at Pampa Junior High School.

THE DWAIN LYONS AND THE AUBRA NOONCASTERS exchange gab about new records they have collected. Lyon is line coach for the Pampa Harvesters football team and head baseball coach. Nooncaster is backfield coach for the Harvesters and assistant track coach. Mrs. Nooncaster is also a teacher.

THE ORVILLE LEWISES — A good indication that it's the father's day off is the family huddle at 1313 Garland. One-year-old Sibyl is a little bit confused at the skull-practice given Forrest, 4, by Assistant Guerilla Football Coach Lewis. He is also assistant Harvester baseball coach. ### Mrs. Nick Nicholson Is Hostess To Club

WHITE DEER (Special) — Mrs. Nick Nicholson was hostess to the Sew 'n' Chatter Club in her home recently.

During the business meeting the change of name was discussed with pending results. Plans were made for a 'pot luck supper' to be held this week.

The next meeting will begin in the home of Mrs. John B. O'Keefe, April 15, at 9 a.m. Members will spend the day in Amarillo.

Present were Mmes. Franklin Hussey, Alvin Lewis, O'Keefe, Lester Robertson, Dora Locke, James Stalls, Brian Evans, Bob McBrayer and Nicholson.

MATURE PARENT

It was 3 p.m. when Mr. Bryson called his wife to tell her that he was bringing home an important client for dinner.

Mrs. Bryson hung up, checked her refrigerator and rushed downtown, where she bought steak, lamb, olive celery and a seven-layer chocolate cake.

Now Mrs. Bryson and her husband had discussed Mr. Healey's ambition to be all things to all men by catering to children's thirsts in the same place where he catered to more sophisticated ones.

Not until the next afternoon did she broach the subject of Steve's disobedience to him.

She said: "I saw you coming out of Healey's tavern yesterday afternoon. For this disobedience, I have to dock your allowance 15 cents this week and next week. Until you have paid up you will have to account to me for the way you spend the 10 cents left from your allowance. However, I'll make a point of having cold soda ready for you here in the icebox when you get home from school."

Then Mrs. Bryson told Steve more reasons why she and his father preferred that he did not frequent the dark little side-street saloon that was trying to serve the thirsts of children along with those of people who had no work to do in the afternoon.

We will note that she broke the child guidance rule that insists that we punish promptly after misbehavior.

It's a good rule if we can obey it. Most of us can't always obey it. We are often too busy, too puzzled, too disturbed or too angered by lying, disobedience and defiance to come up promptly with the right penalty.

Whenever we need time to think through the right treatment for youngsters' wrongdoing, we should take it without hesitation.

With small children, we try not to delay discipline too long after the action that calls for it. This is because their memories are short.

When three-year-old Al insists on running back and forth across the traffic-filled street, we may have to punish him at once so he will associate an unpleasant effect with the cause.

But when Anna's memory has developed so that it registers the past more consciously, we do not have to react instantaneously to the discovery that she has, for example, told us a lie. We are foolish parents, not wise ones, to deny ourselves the time we need to get ourselves in hand and devise a penalty that will show Ann how profitless is lying.

If we can accept this idea, we will find our punishment becoming more instructive, more thoughtful and less burdensome to us.

Then there is a "vitamin hat" which could be a "peach" of an idea. At any rate by their fruits you will know them.

YOU'VE HEARD THE OLD adage, "Light is the task when many share the toll." Well, Dorothy Statton, local Girl Scout executive, is one who believes it. It seems she put on an apron and went to work behind the lunch counter of the City Drug the other noon when she walked in and learned there was a help shortage. . . Several April teas by various clubs in town are coming up and it will be a pleasure to hear of and see the arrangement of flowers used for the centerpieces.

PEG THOUGHT IT WAS a wonderful idea of the Twentieth Century Forum when they held an annual guest day recently and took their guests over to Amarillo and toured the Art Center Galleries there. George Ligon gave a lecture on various materials used in framing pictures and showed several paintings by Canadian artist, Maurice Bernson. Prior to the visit to the studio, the members and guests had lunch at the Amarillo Club. Hostesses for the event were Mmes. Dick Hughes, Homer Johnson, and J. R. Holloway.

IT IS GETTING CLOSER to the time when the Woman of the Year will be revealed. Peg's thought and thought and she has a lot of ideas, but still nothing definite. Have two women in mind it could be one of them. . . both have pretty complexions (remember that clue Peg passed on to you recently?) Well, at any rate we all will know soon.

HERE IS A RECIPE that Peg found in the Ladies Home Journal that is really quite good. It is called "Best Ever Pie." Beat two egg yolks well until light and thick. Add gradually 1 cup sugar which has been sifted with one teaspoon of cinnamon and one teaspoon of cloves. Then add one-half cup pecan halves, one-half cup seedless raisins and one tablespoon melted butter. Beat the two egg whites until stiff but not dry, and fold them gently into the sugar mixture. Do not beat in. As you fold them in, add one tablespoon vinegar. Four into an 8" unbaked pastry shell. Bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees for 10 minutes. Then reduce the heat to 350 degrees and bake 25 minutes more. The crust and top should be crisp and nicely browned. Cool and serve with unsweetened whipped cream. Serves 6.

SWIPED FROM A QUILLER-COUCH. O, that I were where I would be, Then would I be where I am not; For where I am I would not be, And where I would be I can't not. See ya! PEG O' PAMPA.

Mrs. Farrell Tibbitts Honored With Party

LEFORS (Special) — Mrs. Farrell Tibbitts, the former Miss Anita McCool, was complimented with a wedding shower recently at the Colteco Community Hall. The decorating scene was a big apple tree with a boy and girl in a swing. On the serving table was a bride and bridegroom under an arch-way of apple blossoms.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. Jake Leggit, E. W. Ammons, E. D. Ross, Walter Pflug, C. H. Keeton, Sr., Alvin Martin, Mack Hardin, Benard Johnson, Hayward Romines, C. H. Keeton Jr., Hank Briening and Jerry Lockard. Refreshments of frosted cakes and cheese snacks were served to approximately twenty-eight guests. There were also a number of gifts sent.

Endee, N. M., was a "blow-off" town for the cowpunchers in the early days. The town had regular Sunday morning burials for those who had been too slow on the draw.

RUTH MILLETT

Now that she is the First Lady of the land, it is disrespectful to refer to the lady with the fetching bangs and the friendly smile as "Mammie". A reader gently chides me for doing so in the following letter: "I enjoyed your writing about 'why people like Mammie' with one exception. Now is your opportunity to help correct the common way people have of speaking about her. She should always be called Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower and the newspapers should honor her by always printing it in that way. She is the First Lady of the land and is entitled to dignity." Maybe so. But isn't there a lot more recognition of the fact that our First Lady is a charming individual in her own right when we sometimes refer to her affectionately as "Mammie"? FAME NOT NEW EXPERIENCE After all, our new First Lady has been the wife of an important man for a long time. And even though she has stayed out of the limelight herself, she has managed to maintain her warm personality, her individuality (in-

Herman Wallace Will Head Hopkins PTA

Herman Wallace was elected president of the Hopkins Parent-Teachers Association meeting held recently in the Community Hall. Mrs. Raymond Conner was elected vice president. Other officers include Raymond Palmittier, secretary and Mrs. Bob Mitchell, treasurer. During the business meeting members decided to give $100.00 for stage equipment to the school. This will be a yearly project. Twelve Brownies participated in a fly-up ceremony to become Girl Scouts. The program for the meeting was concluded with a play, "Roundup of Minnie." This was given by the sixth and seventh grade speech classes under the direction of Claud Zevly.

MR. AND MRS. M. S. BECK

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Beck Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary In Home

LEFORS (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Beck observed their 50th wedding anniversary recently by holding open house in their home in Mobeette.

With a granddaughter presiding, 171 relatives and friends registered for the occasion.

Three guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie J. Ovenhaus of Muleshoe, and Mrs. Z. W. Wilhite attended the original wedding 50 years ago.

Their family of two daughters, Mrs. Mammie Orr, of Encino, N. M., and Mrs. Mittie Trusty of Lefors, and four sons, Tom A. of Amarillo; R. W. of Miami; Boyd and O. G. of Mobeette, were all present. They also have twelve grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Beck were married in Collinsworth County.

Woman Should Look Neat And Efficient To Have That Well Dressed Appearance

(Here is the fourth and last of the interviews on how to be a well-dressed woman.)

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
NEW YORK, March 27—UP—A well-dressed woman should be "efficient looking," Mrs. Harold Talbott says.

Mrs. Talbott is a handsome brunette who long has been considered one of the best-dressed women in New York society. Now she divides her time and wardrobe between her home and four children here, and her new home in Washington, D. C., where her husband is the Secretary of the Air Force.

Her first reaction, when she was asked for her ideas on choosing becoming clothes, was a sharp comment.

"Women have so many more important things to think about I hate to talk about clothes," she said. Then she admitted she did have her personal definition of a well-dressed woman.

"She should look tremendously well kept—neat and efficient," Mrs. Talbott said. "Women lead well-rounded lives now. Their clothes should fit their active roles."

Her formula for shopping fits well into any busy woman's schedule. Mrs. Talbott spends more time planning and looking in the newspaper advertisements than she spends in stores.

"I usually know what I want before I go into the store," she explained. "When I find what I like, I wear it a long time."

She is slim enough to wear the straight skirts becomingly, but she hates to see women wear a skirt so narrow it restricts easy walking. When she was interviewed in the living room of their apartment overlooking the East River, she had just come from a meeting of the finance committee for the New York City.

She wore a two-piece dark grey wool dress, with a straight skirt and a blouse-jacket belted with a narrow leather belt. She had bought it at a department store noted for its bargain merchandise. The only touch of color was a small red chiffon scarf at the neck, which matched the red of her lipstick and nail polish.

Once a dress is right for you, she emphasized, you can wear it with confidence in any social group or any city.

"The dark red velvet dress and hat I wore for the inauguration was the one I bought for my daughter's wedding two and one-half years ago," she confessed with a smile.

When her husband asked her to accompany him on a recent Air Force business trip to Hawaii, Mrs. Talbott had no time to buy new clothes.

"I wore a beige jersey suit and took several different blouses," she explained. "I also took along heavy silk suit in about the shade, so I could wear it as accessories with both."

Right now Mrs. Talbott is apprehensive about the disappearance of the waiflike in new-busy suits and middy-overblouses.

"Not for me," she said firmly. "I don't think they're becoming."

DANISH COFFEE CAKE
1 pkg. active dry yeast
1/2 cup water
1 1/2 cups milk
1 cup butter or margarine
6 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground cardamom

FILLING
1/2 to 3/4 cup butter or margarine
1 tablespoon sugar
1 cup raisins
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1/2 cup chopped citron
1 egg

1 1/2 cups almonds, sliced
Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water. Heat milk and fat until film shows; cool to lukewarm. Mix yeast and milk with sifted dry ingredients until smooth. Brush top with more fat; let rise in warm place until double in size.

Knead dough several minutes. Divide in two parts and roll each part into a long sausage-like piece 6 inches wide. Spread with softened butter or margarine, sugar, cinnamon, raisins, citron. Fold edges of dough over filling.

Arrange both lengths of dough on a cookie sheet in the shape of a giant pretzel with joining seam of dough down. Now let dough rise a second time in a warm spot until it doubles in size.

Brush top of coffee cake with a topping of beaten egg, sprinkle with sugar and almond slivers. Bake about 30 minutes or until roll is an enticing brown. Cut in sections and serve warm.

Baked ham is of course, the traditional Easter Sunday dish. It is also one of the most aggravating things any housewife can attempt to prepare. Yet the trick of achieving a rich, brown glaze over a diamond-scored, clove-studded ham, nesting in a bed of parsley and garnished with pineapple rings, is essentially a simple one.

So, if previous attempts to produce the kind of culinary masterpiece an Easter ham should be, have ended dimly, there's no real need for despair. The trick is in covering the ham with honey—smeared on liberally—and then patting on enough dry brown sugar to cover it completely. Care should be taken in handling oven temperatures, too. The bulk of the baking, 15 minutes per pound or canned, tenderized or "smoked ready-to-eat" hams and 25 minutes per pound for the old-fashioned type, should be done at 300 degrees, F.

Then, for the last 25 or 30 minutes, run the temperature up to about 400 degrees for the final glazing effect.

After the first few minutes in the oven some of the honey and brown sugar will melt and combine with the drippings in the bottom of the baking pan. To this should be added just enough water to keep it from burning.

The mixture of honey, sugar, hamfat, water and Angostura should be used to baste the ham, every few minutes during the baking. The tropical spices of the Angostura combine with the cloves and the trace of hickory smoke from the ham itself for a real taste thrill.

New Travel Wardrobes Need No Pressing

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor
NEW YORK—(NEA)—Picking a travel wardrobe is easy now. Like answering the 394 question, it's mostly a matter of deciding what you want—suit, ensemble, separates or all three?

Since airlines have their weight limits on luggage and trains have their limits on space, it's wise to do your planning on paper before you buy. Know just what you will need each day while you're away and try to pick fashions that will perform on many occasions.

Picking a fashion that can be worn only once on your trip is a waste of money. Don't forget to count in your nylon lingerie and hose and the soap flakes with which to launder them.

Top on the list is a travel-waive suit by Nathalie Nicol in a dacron- and -worsted fabric that may be packed, and then worn without pressing. Suit has jacket with slanting pockets, fibbon tab and jeweled detail at collar. Skirt is easy for walking and sitting comfort.

Vera Maxwell designs a lightweight travel ensemble in printed nylon tricot. The two-piece dress takes laundering and no pressing to keep it looking fresh.

Surplice front bodice ties front or back and has dolman sleeves. Skirt is full for flattery and comfort. The printed tricot is used to line a straight-cut wool coat.

Youngsters Learn Muscular Control At Pre-School Center For Handicapped

By ANNETTE JEWETT
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The unique service of one national philanthropy devoted to the crippled is that it befriends a crippled child or adult for life or for as long as that friendship is needed. This organization helps such persons adjust to life with a handicap — regardless of whether their conditions are congenital or caused by disease or accident — providing all needed services, both physical and psychological, in any part of the country.

There are children born without arms and legs who are living as nearly normal lives as possible because of this philanthropy. One such case is that of Dick R, now 18 years old, who was born with no hands and only one leg.

Through the efforts of his parents, teachers and the trained workers of the philanthropy, this boy was helped to develop the outgoing personality he has today. He drives a car, bowls, swims, plays baseball, is basketball coach at the YMCA, and has a type-setting business which he runs in the basement of his home. He does all these things with the exception of only one artificial limb. Take the case of Alma S, another child saved from a life of isolation and helplessness by this same philanthropy. Her parents didn't know how to help Alma, born without legs and with only one arm, and so she was kept at home until she was eight.

Then this society devoted to the crippled stepped in and fitted her with artificial legs, training her in their use. She graduated from an elementary school for crippled children and now, at 14, she goes to high school among the non-handicapped, doing the regular assignments without special privileges.

Children whose brains suffered injury to those areas which control arm and leg movements are taught, in centers maintained by this philanthropy, how to make other areas of their brain take over—the necessary direction of their limbs.

This nationwide organization will continue to help the child as long as necessary. Similarly, in the case of a loss of limb, it will befriend the child through the years, fitting him with new artificial legs to replace outgrown ones.

This philanthropy, known as the Easter Seal Society, maintains diagnostic clinics; treatment and training centers; speech centers; camps in 33 states for crippled children; services in the public school systems; hospitalization, surgical and convalescent care; mobile clinics and itinerant therapy; physical, occupational and speech therapy; sheltered workshops and home employment.

There is not one state without a unit of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, and its services are available in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. During the past year the society gave direct help to 228,000 crippled persons.

Bishop And The UN

When ministers, preachers, priests and others in this field of endeavor limit themselves and their pronouncements to a strictly spiritual field, they are on relatively safe ground, for in such matters the application of reason and logic are not applicable.

But when this group wanders off the reservation into the finite world of demonstrable fact they are then armed with nothing more than the same logic and reason that any one may apply.

That's why it is important that we have "thought moulers" who will subject their teachings to abstract reason and logic if they are to instruct their congregations in matters other than the spiritual world.

Not that we're suggesting that a wedding of the two lies beyond the realm of possibility, for it is entirely possible to present a spiritual belief for thought and at the same time have it logical and reasonable.

All of which is a background for a look at a recent pronouncement by the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church and president of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.

Because of the position he holds, the words of Bishop Sherrill are influential when he speaks of secular things. No one suggests that any discussion of a problem by Bishop Sherrill is designed to convince a Presbyterian that he should leave the Presbyterian church and become an Episcopalian. Any such attempt on the part of Bishop Sherrill as the result of his position as head of the National Council would be met with shrill outcries of protest on the part of both the clergy and the layman.

What then, is the purpose of statements and messages from Bishop Sherrill on secular matters? Is it to guide the religious and spiritual thinking of those spoken to? Or is it to guide the POLITICAL thinking of those receiving the message? We believe such pronouncements are made to color and influence the political and social thinking of those coming under its pervue. And in the field of politics and the allied areas of human endeavor, Bishop Sherrill and everyone else meets on a common plane wherein statements may be examined without rancor or prejudice but with logic and reason.

Thus, when Bishop Sherrill says, as he does in the March, 1953, issue of Social Progress, the official publication of the Department of Social Education and Action of the Presbyterian Church, that:

"As Christians we support the UN as a mighty instrument of God's judgment and grace in the world of nations" he is moving from the field of religion and matters of the spirit to the finite world. If we hold that "all things are God's" then the UN is God's instrument in the same fashion that a murderer's gun is God's instrument. The goal of the murderer may have been to achieve "peace" for his victim and, in a sense, the slain may have been given peace. Yet, despite the lofty motive of the murderer and despite the accomplishment of his purpose we object to the manner in which it was achieved.

We take the position that the United Nations is a "mighty instrument" designed by believers in collectivism and opponents of individual initiative and freedom... for the purpose of expanding and enlarging control over the lives and thinking of people everywhere by those operating statist governments.

Bishop Sherrill also says that "The UN is on an open door to cooperation and peaceful change." Cooperation is a voluntary procedure and peaceful change implies the lack of force. Yet the sole basis for the existence of the United Nations is to provide instruments of force and machinery of war. And what is it that Bishop Sherrill would have us change through the instrument of the United Nations? The only thing that CAN change is that we can more completely depart from the origins of our nation and return to the ancient days when human dignity and individual liberty were either unknown or scoffed at. Does Bishop Sherrill intend to imply that the ideology of the statist, most vividly expressed in Russian Communism, will undergo "peaceful change"? Or does he mean that liberty-loving Americans will no longer fight for their liberties and that we will peacefully accept the iron hand of statist government?

As head of the Episcopal Church in this country, Bishop Sherrill can speak only for himself under the canon of his own church and then only on those affairs which are the direct concern of the church. He does, however, as the result of his position, have a wide influence even when he speaks for himself. If he is to speak on secular and materialistic matters he should be willing and able to defend his position with logic and reason and meet the challenge of those who question his judgment on the United Nations on these grounds.

'Sanforized' Talks

What undoubtedly will prove to be one of the greatest boons of this or any age has just been announced: the invention of a "time compressor" which pre-shrinks radio or after-dinner speeches to fit an allotted time.

According to reports, the time compressor, an invention of University of Illinois scientists, is an electronic device which brings spoken syllables closer together without speeding the tempo of speech. We're not quite sure how this can be done, but gather that a Southern drawl might come out with a clipped British accent.

One thing we do know: with this new miracle invention is put to work "sanforizing" the video commercials, our last excuse for not buying a TV set will have gone with the wind!

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

Art. Examples Of Confusion In Bigger Newspapers

The Milwaukee Journal on March 9, 1953 carried a feature article of about three columns attempting to smear me for opposing tax supported schools. The article quoted a lot of statements by anonymous persons attempting the smear.

They call me an anarchist. Here is the evidence they use to show that I am anarchist. They quote from the policy pamphlet of Freedom Newspapers, which says:

"Two men out of a hundred have no moral right to force the 98 to support a school or church. Neither do the 98 have the moral right to force the remaining two men to support that church or school."

Then the editorial writer says: "This is anarchism, pure and simple, though he (Hoiles) might recall, at the word."

Of course there are many different definitions of anarchy. Undoubtedly, the author of this article intends to use the word anarchy as meaning without law and not as expressed by Elbert Hubbard as follows: "No man who believes in force and violence is an anarchist. The true anarchist declares all influences save those of love and reason, ideas are his only aims."

The editor of the Milwaukee Journal evidently wants people to believe that not forcing anyone to support a church or a school is a form of despotism and tyranny.

Because a man does not believe in inflicting force to make others attend his church or his school of education does not mean that he objects to the use of force to stop bullies or tyrants or plunderers from getting things on an involuntary basis. It is difficult to conceive how anyone but a despot at heart could believe that it was a violation of moral law to contend that the majority or minority selected. It is a form of anarchy or despotism to object to compelling any individual to attend any church that he does not want to attend or any school that he does not want to attend, then the Declaration of Independence is certainly a form of anarchy and a form of despotism because that great document contends that "governments derive their just power from the consent of the governed." It does not contend that governments derive their just power from the consent of any percentage of the governed—no matter how little or how large.

It is no wonder that people are confused when the editor of a paper like the Milwaukee Journal contends that it is anarchy to object to compulsory church attendance or school attendance. The Milwaukee Journal was one of the newspapers that did everything it could to smear Sen. McCarty.

One would of course be interested in what principle the editor of the Milwaukee Journal would contend was American and in agreement with the Golden Rule if he believes that initiating force to make a minority or a majority attend a certain church or school is an American principle and the opposite of anarchy and dictatorship by tyranny.

When a newspaper editor contends that the state has a right to compel people to attend a church or a school, there is little use in having much confidence in any other statements that the newspaper makes on its editorial page.

It would indeed be interesting to have the editor of the Milwaukee Journal try to tell what is the difference other than degree between his ideas of government than that of any dictator. He simply could not do it.

How can men be more confused than to believe that the state has a right to do things that are immoral for an individual or any group to do? It is too bad that men with no more ability to reason than the editor of the Milwaukee Journal hold positions where they can do so much harm spreading collectivism and statism.

The 9th and 10th amendments to the Constitution limit the federal government to the exercise of only those particular powers which the people themselves authorize, ruthless politicians in their contest for power have violated these concepts.

The result of this carefully designed statist conquest of the property, wealth and enterprise of the American people is astounding. Tidelands, farms, forests, rivers, and countless enterprises, have been filched from the private domain by the arbitrary use of political force. The plunder accumulated from this fantastic political thievery is now glorified as the "public domain."

About 40 percent of the land area, and 20 percent of the industrial capacity of the nation has been pilfered in this way. Nearly half the taxes the federal government takes from us today is used directly and indirectly to maintain and add to this "public domain", none of which has the slightest pretense of constitutional authority.

This growing "public domain" will destroy us as free people unless we control it. It has impoverished every nation of Europe, every nation in history. It has been the reason for every revolution.

To abolish the tyranny of "public domain", we should demand immediate action on the "Proposed 22nd Amendment", now pending in Congress as H. J. Res. 123. It provides that:

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES SHALL NOT ENGAGE IN ANY BUSINESS, PROFESSIONAL, COMMERCIAL, FINANCIAL OR INDUSTRIAL ENTERPRISE EXCEPT AS SPECIFIED IN THE CONSTITUTION.

Down South . . . Wall Street Journal Editorial Says New York City Is Broke

By THURMAN SENSING
Southern States Industrial Council
Nashville, Tenn.

An editorial in a recent issue of the Wall Street Journal makes this flat statement, "It is not an exaggeration to say that today the City of New York is edging bankruptcy."

That is a rather startling statement to most of us. New York, the richest city in the world, we've always understood. New York, the home of the "money barons" of Wall Street, that the Communists and others rave and rant about. New York, the location of the biggest banks and the tallest buildings and the most people. Almost broke!

The officials of the City of New York, points out the Wall Street Journal, handle more money than any other of our government entities—except the United States government itself. "More than the same thing, as did every tyrant in history."

King George declared he had the "Divine Right of Kings" and all American soil and wealth was his because it was in the "public domain". That's what our Revolutionary War was all about. We won that war. We abolished the concept of limitless "public domain". The principle was established that the private citizen had a right to his own "domain". That was the cardinal point in the "unalienable rights" defined by the Declaration of Independence.

The Constitution was established with careful stipulations to prevent the conquest, by government, of the land and wealth of its citizens. The founding fathers believed they had forever prevented the development of any measurable "public domain" when they specified in Article I, Section 8, of the Constitution that the federal government would only come into possession of land by purchase and by the consent of the legislature of the state in which the land was located.

The 9th and 10th amendments to the Constitution limit the federal government to the exercise of only those particular powers which the people themselves authorize, ruthless politicians in their contest for power have violated these concepts.

The result of this carefully designed statist conquest of the property, wealth and enterprise of the American people is astounding. Tidelands, farms, forests, rivers, and countless enterprises, have been filched from the private domain by the arbitrary use of political force. The plunder accumulated from this fantastic political thievery is now glorified as the "public domain."

Nearly half the taxes the federal government takes from us today is used directly and indirectly to maintain and add to this "public domain", none of which has the slightest pretense of constitutional authority.

This growing "public domain" will destroy us as free people unless we control it. It has impoverished every nation of Europe, every nation in history. It has been the reason for every revolution.

BID FOR A SMILE

While I was ill recently, a kind neighbor came into help. When the children became too trying, she tried to quiet them by saying, "Your mother won't love you if you're naughty."

This was the reply she got: "Mama doesn't always like us, but she always loves us, no matter how bad we are."

There is the difference between love and its limitations.
—Mrs. Betty Toles, Family Circle

A controlled economy is always an economy of scarcity and there can be abundance only in a climate of freedom.

Jane — My fiance lost all his money in Wall Street.
John — I suppose you feel sorry for him?
Jane — Yes, he'll miss me.

A woman was ill in bed and her husband was making her a cup of tea.
He — I can't find the tea.
She — I don't know what could be easier to find. It's right in front on the pantry shelf — in a cocoa tin marked matches.

Man — My father always punished a lot before his discipline was found.
Friend — That's funny. What was it?
Man — Bottoms up.

National Whirligig—Guatemala Is Red Beachhead On The American Continent

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON — Flaming and flagrant anti-Uncle Sam Communism has broken out on the doorstep of the United States, with the Republic of Guatemala as the active spearhead of this dangerous movement.

Only an hour's airplane flight from the Panama Canal and three hours from our vast petroleum reserves in Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma, the Red-led Guatemalan government constitutes a threat to continental security.

Although President Jacobo Arbenz, like his predecessor, former President Juan Jose Arvalo, does not acknowledge himself to be a Communist, he clings to the tactics of Moscow. Professed "Communism" serve as presidential advisers.

Arvalo, who still heads the movement, lived in Argentina as a crony of Dictator Peron for 16 years before he was brought back in 1941 to become head of the state under a new and extreme socialist Constitution. Arbenz is his puppet.

Strange Bedfellows
Communists, Nazis and Fascists, refugees from Germany, Italy and Russia, run or dominate every political and propaganda agency in Guatemala. They control organized labor, the newspapers, the schools, the farmers and the executive branch of the Government.

All of these influential sources spew out hatred for Uncle Sam day and night. Their anti-American campaign has led to virtual confiscation of the properties of the United Fruit Company, Pan-American Airways and the International Railways.

Guatemala does not figure too impressively in the news or on a map of the American continent. But this northernmost country of the Central American, with its 3,000,000 population, its geographical location and its industry and agriculture, seeks domination of this vital area.

And the Central Americas, as they are known in the State Department's category of sensitive spots around the globe, can be awfully important to us in a showdown with Malenkov.

It is extremely difficult, as State Department experts concede, to identify the Guatemalan type of anti-American conspiracy. They have tried almost every trick in the diplomatic bag in our long wooing of South and Central America, and we have failed in every respect.

Under Wilson, Harding and Coolidge, the explosion of a Teesta firecracker provoked an invasion by American Marines and gunboats for protection of American property. Following his election, Herbert Hoover toured South America in a friendly demonstration. F. D. R. was still inaugurated the "good neighbor" policy. Truman gave them loans and indirect aid. And still they hate us.

Reds' Beachhead
But the Guatemala-sponsored campaign against us is different. It is not born of Peronism, as though the Argentine dictator has a big hand in it, or of an excessive and aggressive spirit of nationalism, or of the Latin's historic hatred of the "Yanquis."

It is derived from an outright sympathy and support for Communism. Guatemala is the Reds' big beachhead on the American continent.

After Pearl Harbor, we moved into Central and South America to smash Hitler's military, economic and political connections in industry, aviation, shipping and politics. We made no bones about our intervention. But now, with only an undeclared war on our hands, we cannot use the same strong-arm tactics in Guatemala. It would put us in a bad imperial light.

May Day Our Chance
Our opportunity will come on May Day. On that date, at a meeting

QUEST

Fortunately, like the farmer's horses, this nation had accumulated a lot of fat on its bones due to a century and a half of multitudes who over-relied on the citizens to enable government to carry on its functions for the welfare and protection of its citizens.

Therefore, it would seem the good horse - sense to make sure that there always will be plenty of well-fed taxpayers, healthy and strong and able to pay into the government that very essential feed money. Nothing should ever be done to cut down on the number of individuals or groups upon whom government can rely for taxes.

Unfortunately, our American entrepreneurs succeeded in winning off a considerable number of former taxpayers, converting them to tax-eters. Under both the New Deal and the Fair Deal, the government took over privately-owned businesses and launched others that should have been left to private enterprise, thereby wiping out many a taxpayer, which leads me to suspect that when the historians of the future write about the era just ended, they will not refer to it as the New Deal and the Fair Deal, but as the "Misdreads" of Franklin and Harry.

Although it would take longer to reduce America from its position as the fattest and most important nation of the world to a skinny, underfed, insignificant country, that sad fate of emaciation would have been inevitable had the starry-eyed dreamer been allowed to continue in power in Washington.

But last November 4th, an alarmed electorate called for a change. The era of the "Misdreads" came to an end. The economic planners, who, either through sheer stupidity or with malicious intent, were steering America along a course leading to starvation and death, are no longer at the helm.

President Eisenhower and the Congress are reasserting the American concept that initiative and thrift are what make a nation "tick." Once again the citizen is being exhorted and government is being urged to be the servant of the people, instead of its master.
