POSTMAN'S MARCH FOR CANCER — Mrs. J. E. Strohle, 131 N. West, gets an early contribution in to the cancer drive slated to begin here Wednesday by participating in the "Postman's March For Cancer," a Pampa-conceived idea to collect funds for the Cancer Crusade. Here T. V. Parks, carrier, accepts Mrs. Strohle's contribution in a stamped envelope which he will turn over to the local drive chairman. (News Photo)

Postmen Aid Cancer Drive

A unique twist to collect funds for the cancer crusade, The Postman's March For Cancer, will be launched Wednesday (first day of the 1953 drive) by Pampa housewives and mailmen in an effort to reach a $2,561 Gray County goal. The idea originated in Pampa in 1952 and received high commendation from the national cancer crusade headquarters. Local drive leaders hope to make the postman's march a national project. The unusual collection process was conceived, according to a local cancer fund head, to ensure "everyone in Gray County to participate." To contribute through the postman's march, money — "from a penny on up in cash or check" — is to be placed in a stamped envelope addressed "Postman's March For Cancer," and placed in resident mailboxes. Postmen will pick up the envelopes while making daily routes and turn them over to local cancer drive chairmen. Dr. Emily T. Hicks, a Gray County cancer crusade leader, said mailmen have shown a keen sense of pride in their routes and people and have requested that residents along their mail delivery schedules enter 100 per cent in the project. She stressed that all envelopes be stamped as it is a government requirement for all mail handled by authorized carriers. And any contribution, however small, is appreciated, she said. The Altrusa Club is sponsoring the Postman's March For Cancer as its participation in the '53 drive.

C-C To Host State Official

Preparations for entertaining Marshall Fromby, Hereford, newly appointed state highway commissioner, were being made this afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce office. Tentative plans now call for inviting chamber and highway association officials from neighboring counties to the "getting acquainted affair." E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth, manager of the chamber, said this morning. The date will be April 16 or 17, the two days Fromby has open on his calendar next month while on an official tour of the North Texas area. Details to be worked out this afternoon will be whether the meeting will be a luncheon, an evening dinner, the exact date, where it will be held and to whom special invitations will be sent. Working out the plans this afternoon were Lynn Boyd, chamber president; W. B. Weatherhead, highway and transportation committee chairman and Fred Thompson, chairman of State Highway 70 and Wedgeworth.

Scouters Plan Activities For Area Program

Area Scouts and their leaders faced a busy week today with a district conference, two charter reviews and a district committee meeting on tap during the seven-day period. At 3 p.m. Sunday there was an Explorer planning conference, called to prepare for an Adobe Walls Council planning conference, scheduled April 18 in Palo Duro Canyon. At 7 p.m. today Troop 83, Pampa, will hold a charter review in Community Hall, according to Phil Pegues, Santa Fe District Scout executive. At 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, there will be a district committee meeting in the city commission room, with George Newberry presiding. And at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Pack 71, Canadian, will hold a charter review in the WCTU Building, over which E. L. (Smiley) Henderson will preside. Plans were made at Sunday's get-together for three special events, plus a possible fourth, to be held between September, 1953, and February, 1954, Pegues said. They include a Frank Phillips College (Borger) vocational conference ("probably in December"), a Spelunk (cave exploring) jaunt to Palo Duro for both geological (See SCOUTERS, Page 2)

Nursing Home Fire Claims Lives Of 33

LARGO, Fla., March 30 —UP— Investigators combed through a mass of ashes, blackened bed frames and other debris Monday in an effort to determine the cause of a wind-whipped fire which killed 33 persons at a nursing home near here. Ages of the dead ranged from 65 to 91. Twenty-nine of them were women. William L. Littlefield, operator of the home, said the fire roared through the structure early Sunday and killed the 33-dazed and feeble inmates within 15 minutes. Twenty-five others escaped the flaming structure. Don Jerilla, deputy Florida fire marshal, planned to interview witnesses, some of the personnel of the home and others who dashed into the flaming structure to save those who lived. The fire, whipped by a gusty wind, broke out shortly after 3 a.m. as flames reached bed after bed, witness said.

Experts Paint Dim Picture Of Southwest's Wheat Crop

AMARILLO, Tex., March 30 —UP— Generally poor weather conditions which have plagued the Southwest wheat crop since it was planted last fall have raised a big question mark in its future, according to a railroad's crop expert. R. I. Cross, agricultural agent for the Santa Fe Railway, says moisture generally has been barely sufficient to carry wheat plants from one week to the next. In a crop report Sunday, he feared for the future of 1953 production. While reported infestations of brown wheat mite, cut worms, greenbugs and other insects are causing concern, he said, drought and high winds are the real problem to Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas wheat growers. Oklahoma wheat prospects range from fair in the southwest to poor in the Panhandle, reflecting the (See EXPERTS, Page 2)

Wearry Marines Hit Commies With Heavy Artillery Barrage

SEOUL, March 30 —UP— Wary American marines hit Chinese Communists Monday with a heavy artillery, mortar and rifle barrage to smash the third Red attack in eight hours against battle-torn Vegas Hill on the western front. The Reds took a beating in the air also. American Sabrejets probably destroyed one Soviet-built MIG-15 jet fighter, damaged two others and may have damaged still three more. The last three claims awaited confirmation by gun camera film. The probable destruction claim was credited to Maj. Eugene Sommerich, St. Louis. Damage claims were awarded to 1st Lt. Lawrence O. Doyle Jr., Minneapolis, and 1st Lt. William S. Loyd Jr., San Mateo, Calif. On the eastern front American-trained South Koreans broke a drive by 400 Reds against Christmas Hill in a two and a half hour battle which cost the Communists 100 casualties. The Red attack on Vegas was the sixth in a little over 75 hours by more than 1,500 Communists against the position guarding the 30-mile invasion corridor to Seoul. Devastating Marine fire smashed back about 750 Chinese Sunday night. Another barrage repulsed 800 Reds before midnight while artillery and mortars hacked a third force of unknown strength to pieces early Monday. The accurate Marine barrages littered the northern slopes of Vegas with scores of mangled Chinese bodies and halted the last two Red assault forces before they could close with the weary Leathernecks. The commander of the Fifth Marine Regiment defending Vegas predicted the Chinese will continue to attack the shell-pocked hill. Headquarters for crossposted posts White House Properties, Ph. 50 Adv

FBI Wants Southwest Bandit

WASHINGTON, March 30 —UP— The FBI Monday placed a ruthless "Southwestern bad man" who has terrorized even the underworld on its list of "10 most wanted fugitives." He is Floyd Allen Hill, 41, who escaped last month from the Tarrant county jail at Fort Worth, Tex., where he was awaiting trial on charges that he participated in a spectacular $248,000 armed robbery of a Cuban political refugee. The FBI warned that Hill, whose criminal record goes back to 1938, is armed and should be considered "extremely dangerous." It said police officers should realize $5,000 Nurses Needed. FSA Promotion Foreseen . . . Senate Okay Seen For Cabinet Post

WASHINGTON, March 30 —UP— Easy Senate approval was expected Monday for President Eisenhower's plan to create a tenth cabinet-level department. The plan changes the Federal Security Agency into a full-fledged Department of Health, Education and Welfare. It would elevate Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, present FSA administrator, to cabinet rank with the title of "Secretary." The House approved the bill March 18 by a vote of 291 to 85. There was little opposition in either party to a pending bill to let President Eisenhower's first government reorganization plan take effect in 10 days. Under normal procedure such plans go into effect 60 days after they are submitted, unless vetoed by a majority vote of the House or Senate. Other developments: TIDELANDS House leaders called up for three days of debate a tidelands bill giving coastal states clear title to offshore lands out to their historic boundaries. Passage was almost certain with voting slated to begin Wednesday. The Senate plans to begin debate on a slightly different tidelands bill in three days. GREEK SHIPS Mutual Security Administrator Harold E. Stassen was called before the Senate Permanent Investigating subcommittee. Sources close to Stassen hinted he might have something to say on Chairman Joseph R. McCarthy's announcement Saturday he had obtained promises from Greek ship owners to cut off their trade with Red China. Administration officials said the agreement was negotiated with Greece through normal diplomatic channels. TART-HARTLEY CIO President Walter P. Reuther, in a testimony prepared for the Senate Labor committee, said the Tart-Hartley labor law can be converted into a just and fair law only by "drastic" amendment. Reuther said the CIO would still prefer repeal of the law "to wipe the slate clean." House tax investigators summoned Henry W. Grunwald for a second round of questioning (See SENATE, Page 2)

Reds 'Ready' To Act On POW Repatriation

Commiss Agree To UN Prisoner Plan

LONDON, March 30 —UP— Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-Lai said Monday in a statement broadcast by Peiping that the Reds are now prepared to "take steps to eliminate the differences" with the United Nations over repatriation of all war prisoners in Korea. Chou, in a statement broadcast by the New China News agency, said the Chinese and North Korean Communists are now willing to agree that only prisoners who wish to be repatriated shall be sent home. The remainder, he said, would be turned over to a "neutral state." The issue of voluntary or forced repatriation of war prisoners is the only one that has stood in the way of an armistice in Korea. If the Reds are acting in good faith in their expressed willingness to exchange first sick and wounded prisoners and then to concede a limited terms that all repatriation must be voluntary, it could mean the end of the war. Chou, just back home from Moscow, said the "time has come when it is necessary to settle the entire question of prisoners of war and end the war interrupted by real solutions to the prisoner question. He pointed out himself that the repatriation issue was the one thing in dispute and claimed that had armistice negotiations not been interrupted for more than five months a solution might have been found long ago. "Now, inasmuch as the UN has proposed to settle in accordance with Article 109 of the Geneva Convention the question of exchanging sick and injured prisoners of war during the period of hostilities, we consider that subsequent to the reasonable settlement of that question it is a timely matter of course that a smooth solution to the whole question of prisoners of war should be achieved, provided that both sides are prepared by real sincerity to bring about an armistice in Korea in the spirit of mutual compromise," Chou continued. Chou said the North Korea has always held — and continues to hold — the view that the only solution to the prisoner question is to repatriate all of them. "But in view of the fact that prisoners now constitute the only barrier to agreement, he said, the Reds "are prepared to take steps to eliminate the differences on this question so as to bring about an armistice in Korea." "To this end, the government of the Peoples Republic of China and the government of the Democratic Peoples Republic of Korea propose to undertake to negotiate immediately after the cessation of hostilities, all those prisoners of war in their custody who insist on repatriation and hand over the remaining prisoners of war to a neutral state so as to ensure a just solution to the question of repatriation," Chou said. "It must be pointed out that advancing this proposal will by means relinquish the principle (See COMMISS, Page 2)

Three Killed, Six Injured In Two Auto Accidents In Area

Three persons are dead today — one of them a Pampa boy — and six others injured, following two automobile wrecks in the Panhandle which occurred just two hours apart. Dead are Kelvin Dwayne Kelley, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kelley, Cabot Kingsmill Plant; Donald Eugene Chilton, 23, of Stinnett; and Ernest Melvin Hooper, 26, of Borger. Injured are Mr. and Mrs. Kelley; Alfred Kelley, 14, a nephew; Chris and Kurt Kelley, sons; and Ralph Eugene Breland, 19, of Borger. Kelvin Kelley died about an hour after the car in which he was riding collided with two other vehicles — at 9:05 a.m. Sunday — three miles west of Pampa on the Amarillo highway. Chilton and Hooper died of injuries received at 9:55 a.m. Sunday when the vehicle in which they were riding ran off the road and jumped a culvert, some 15 miles west of Pampa on the Borger highway. All of the injured were still in area hospitals late this morning, except for Chris Kelley who was discharged early today. All were reported in fair condition. In the Panhandle accident, the Kelley car and a vehicle driven by an unidentified person were headed east on the road and a truck — tractor driven by Eddie Teerman, 40, of California, was headed west when the collision occurred. According to Highway Patrolman P. C. Wynne and Sheriff Clarence Williams, Teerman pulled to the right and the third vehicle pulled off to the left, with the collision occurring when Teerman pulled back into the road — into the Kelley car. Teerman was fined $100 and costs by County Judge O. R. Beddingfield on a charge of negligent homicide, Williams said. In the accident midway between Pampa and Amarillo, Kelley was reported 180 donors now signed up for the bloodmobile. He stressed it was extremely important that after persons sign the cards they appear at the bloodmobile station for the donation. Otherwise the success of the drive is endangered, he cautioned. And Walls encouraged persons to sign the advance cards so they may be scheduled for the bloodmobile's one-per-fifteen minutes routine and not have to wait. Results from Saturday's solicitations showed 42 applicants, according to Mrs. Harry Hoyer, blood drive club women chairman. Walls reported 180 donors now signed up for the bloodmobile. Hopes High Blood Goal Can Be Hit

High hopes of attaining the 300-pint blood goal when the bloodmobile is in operation here April 7-8 was expressed today by Irvin Walls, recruiting chairman. City Club women were taking applications for donors in the Hughes and Combes-Worley building lobbies, Citizens and First National Banks and the post office today. Scattered Rain Falls Over State

BY UNITED PRESS Scattered showers were reported over most of Texas Monday, but rainfall wasn't enough to give a great boost to crops reported living on a "week to week" basis. Although rains were continuing Monday, none reported early Monday morning amounted to as much as a tenth of an inch. It was cloudy over the Panhandle Monday, and over most of Texas with the exception of the western Pecos Valley and the El Paso area. But no rain of drought-breaking variety was reported. Abilene had .45 and Lubbock .09. There were traces of rain at Dallas, Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Midland, College Station, Tyler, and Junction up to 6:30 a.m. More rain fell later.

Boost Seen In Tag Sales

Although there was no accurate figure available on the number of 1953 license tags sold to date, Chief Deputy Tax Assessor Collector Jack Back predicted the passenger car registrations would exceed those of last year. Back said according to the money we seem to be running ahead of last year; but the turnover of money from car owners to the county tax office this morning was too rapid to make an accurate check possible. Gray County's allotment of tags for passenger cars is less this year than it was for 1952. Last year the county was issued 11,999 sets of passenger plates; 600 sets of which were never used. This year the allotment was cut back to 11,580. Wednesday is the last day for buying 1953 plates without paying a penalty.

House Leaders Call Up Tidelands Bill For Debate, Probable Okay

WASHINGTON, March 30 —UP— House leaders Monday called up for three days of debate and almost certain passage a tidelands bill to give coastal states clear title to offshore lands out to their historic boundaries. It would give Louisiana, Texas and California control over possibly 17 per cent of an estimated $28 billion worth of "potential" oil reserves lying in submerged lands on the continental shelf off their coast. The Supreme Court has ruled under present law the federal government has "paramount interest" in this area. Third Time Up in Congress Congress twice before — in 1946 and 1952 — passed legislation to abandon the federal claim, but both attempts were vetoed by President Truman. President Eisenhower has promised to sign a tidelands bill. The Main House fight this time centered on a provision — opposed by the Eisenhower administration — that would permit the states to produce oil from the shelf beyond their historic boundaries. The shelf in some Gulf of Mexico areas extends out as far as 200 miles. Proponents defended the bill as a "fair" solution to the long-rival state dispute. Opponents, however, announced it as a move to "plug federal resources belonging to the people." Wednesday Vote Slated Voting was slated to be Wednesday — the same day Senate plans to begin lengthy debate on its own, somewhat different tidelands bill. Like the House bill, the Senate measure would give the coastal states clear title to lands out their historic boundaries and would confirm federal jurisdiction of the continental shelf farther out.

Panhandle May Provide Ike A Horse
A plan is now underway in the Panhandle to present President Eisenhower with a quarterhorse to use on his farm in Pennsylvania, according to Rep. Walter Rogers.

Rogers told the President's last week while attending a luncheon in the White House that what he needed was a quarterhorse on his Keystone State farm. Eisenhower surprised the Pampa congressman by replying he could use a fast animal to "help run the place."

Rogers added the American Quarterhorse Association in Amarillo is now working on a plan to obtain a good quarterhorse for the President.

Canadian Judge Wins Battle On Funds From License Tags
CANADIAN — County Judge Clancy Fisher won a pitched battle against three Hemphill County commissioners when he succeeded in having auto license tag money deposited in the general road and bridge fund rather than arbitrarily distributed to each of the four precincts.

The action came at a call meeting Thursday when the court finally voted unanimously to place the county's cut on vehicle registrations into the general fund "where it belongs," according to Fisher.

Fisher countermanded a previous order by the commissioners to the tax office for a four-way equal split of the funds to the different precincts. When Fisher countermanded the order he instructed the tax collector to make a four-way split in accordance with where the vehicles were registered. This would have given Prec. 1 about 70 percent of the license tag income.

In the face of a legal opinion Commission Tom Tipton (2), Paul Ramsey (3) and Ross Adcock (4) revised their plans for the arbitrary distribution when they learned it was illegal and cases on record supported the judge. Fisher also succeeded in blocking a move by the three commissioners in issuing warrants on the general road and bridge fund for projects in their respective precincts.

Pampa and Borger, Chilton, Hooper and Breland were returning from a fishing trip at Lake Dismal, near Wichita Falls, when their car topped a hill approach, Skellytown, ran off the left side of the road and jumped a culvert.

Funeral services for the Kelley youngster were pending today with the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home. Born in Pampa Sept. 24, 1943, he is survived by his parents, his brothers and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kelley and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McAdams, all of Pampa.

Bloody War
"It is only to put an end to the bloody war in Korea and in order to reach a peaceful settlement of the Korean question, because both of these questions are bound up with the question of the peace and security of the Far East and of the world, that we take this new step and propose that after the cessation of hostilities, those captured personnel of our side who, under the intimidation and oppression of the opposite side are filled with apprehension and are afraid to return home, be handed over to a neutral state and that explanations be given to them by the parties concerned, thus insuring that the question of their repatriation will be justly settled and will not obstruct the realization of an armistice in Korea.

"We are convinced that this new step, taken by the (Chinese and North Korean Red governments) for terminating the hostilities in Korea, is in complete accord with the interests of the people whose sons are fighting on both sides in Korea and is also in complete accord with the fundamental interests of the people of the whole world.

"If the UN command has the good faith to seek peace, this proposal of our side ought to be accepted by it."

Oklahoma moisture pattern of the past several months. Cross said the future of the state's crop depends on better-than-average moisture during the rest of the growing season, he said.

Drouth and wind have left wheat prospects in Texas' South Plains and Panhandle below normal, he said, although considerable improvement was reported in the rolling plains area from Vernon to Abilene, Tex.

Cross said many wheat fields in western Kansas failed to show green until March 15 and said sub-soil moisture was very short. The agricultural agent also said winds such as on March 20 and 21 were causing considerable worry about the possibility small wheat plants may be blown out entirely.

Odds With The House... 99 Per Cent Of The Gambling In Las Vegas Done By Tourists

LAS VEGAS — Nevada's winner, or a blackjack dealer dealt written on the back of a ten-cent roulette chip Durante heading the Desert Inn show, is the biggest draw in town, and the man with the Black Hills of Dakota profile has plenty of opposition. There is Pinza for one, Jeanette MacDonaid for another, Kay Thompson and the Williams Brothers. Buddy Lester, Jim Barton, and Jack Carson.

The Desert Inn is my hotel, due to a long friendship with Wilbur Clark and Gene Murphy...but a man couldn't go too far wrong with The Sands, The Sahara, The Thunderbird, The El Rancho, The Flamingo, or The Last Frontier.

These hotels are all on the strip — a few miles of road that runs right through the desert. When I was last here, in either 1937 or 1938, none of these places existed. Just cactus land. I could have bought the strip real estate for five dollars an acre. Today it is worth one thousand dollars a front foot.

If you'll believe me, I'd like to correct what I am sure is the national feeling about Las Vegas. I'd be willing to bet that most of the citizens of the 48 states consider Las Vegas a deep, dark den of iniquity. It isn't such a thing. Thousands of the citizens haven't bet so much as a quarter in five years. Las Vegas has ten-cent stores, super markets, hospitals, no fewer than 24 churches, and, aside from the hotels I mentioned above, it is like any other middle-sized town you know.

A good 99 per cent of the gambling is done by tourists. The tourists come here to shoot the works for a week or so and then go back to their home towns and resume a normal American life. No one has to gamble in Las Vegas. Indeed, the men who run the casinos will tell you that you are crazy if you do. They tell you quite frankly that no casino was ever built for the benefit of the public.

But they will tell you that if you want to gamble there is only one place to do it, and that is in an establishment where the play is so big that all it wants is the percentage. In other words, don't play in a fly-by-night joint where time is of the essence and the owners have to cut corners — and cut them good — to be sure of coming out ahead.

Let us examine the Desert Inn. The casino is run exactly like a grocery store. The Desert Inn knows that it will make a certain percentage, because they have the pull in odds. Play long enough and the house will win a fair profit. Play quick and you might make a score (or winning) that'll make you happy as a lark. The dealers, and I have seen this a thousand times since I have been here, will almost play the hand for beginners at roulette, or craps, or blackjack. In short, Las Vegas is honest. One wrong move, such as cold dice run in against a

College Choir To Sing Here

The choir is in its twentieth year as an organization and has traveled widely through a 15-state area. The choir has gained an enviable reputation for its fine music and method of presentation. McPherson College is the denominational college of the Church of the Brethren and is located in McPherson, Kansas. Nightingales Won't Sing In Berkeley Squa

LONDON, March 29-UP — It's official now. Nightingales won't sing in Berkeley Square for American tourists, during coronation ceremonies.

Property owners near the famous square wanted to hang the birds in cages to assure their presence but British law says nightingales may not be caged.

Chinese Paint Grim Picture Of Life Under The Communists

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst

A man who lived under the Communist terror in Red China paints a grim picture of the Mao Tse Tung regime and its frighteningly efficient methods.

He also comes up with an interesting glossary of familiar words and what they mean under the Communists.

The man is Daniel Hong Lew of San Francisco, a member of the committee for a free Asia. He formerly was a faculty member of the University of Peiping.

Communist Glossary

Here is his glossary of Communist definitions:

Freedom — the duty to conform to Communist thought and action. People — Those who support or are capable of supporting communism.

Democracy — Mass acquiescence whether in speech or in action.

Truth — News and information which enhance the Communist cause.

Peace — Surrender of non-Communist forces.

Hong Lew believes there is no chance Mao Tse Tung ever will become a Chinese Tito, and Chinese and Russian brands of communism are indivisible.

Discusses 'Brain Washing'

A small publication called "Vital Speeches of the Day," reprinted an address Hong Lew delivered in Los Angeles.

In it he discusses Communist use of the "big lie" technique and the "brain washing" whereby the Chinese Communists enforce thought control.

Especially interesting is his description of the "new type" of person being developed by the Communists.

"The new, Soviet type of people are soulless bipeds," he says, "human robots whose value as persons is no greater than the productive value of horses and cattle. To them, there is no such thing as personal freedom or national independence."

The Communists, he says "are attempting to produce the mass man, the individual given the privilege to exist only if he has some kind of productive capacity usable to the Kremlin rules or, if like a piece of brick, he can fit into the wall of a Communist cell. The entire process of brain washing is this novel type of soulless masses of people."

A later passage may explain some of the actions of our own home grown Communists.

Hong Lew says the mass-man has "neither personality nor nationality. He becomes a Communist, transcending over his position as a citizen of the country in which he was born and therefore loyal not to the Communist party which seeks both to coerce and entice the world into one vast Communist country."

He adds a final grim note.

He quotes a Chinese Communist writer as saying wrong ideas (opposition to communism) must be eradicated by "criticism, self-criticism and patient persuasion."

It was such "patient persuasion" that resulted in the execution of 1 million Chinese anti-Communists in the space of one year.

"The critics wouldn't give me a tumble till I started painting with my feet!"

JOHNSON ★ IN HOLLYWOOD ★

By FRISKINE
JOHNSON
NEA Staff
Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Behind the Screen: It may be "poor Burt" to the rest of Hollywood, but not to Shirley Booth in "Come Back, Little Sheba" and that the avalanche of a wave that Shirley received for her performance hasn't given him anything but happy moments.

"I did the picture without expecting anything for myself," he told me on the set of "South Sea Paradise." "I felt from the beginning that she'd walk off with the acting honors. The play was about her, not me. The fact that I could bring some sort of plus value was gratifying enough. Anyhow, I've received more compliments on my performance than anything I've done. I'm terribly flattered by the praise, even though Shirley overshadowed me."

Gene Tierney and Aly Khan are heating up England with their international woe. Aly flies to London every weekend, picks up Gene at the studio where she's starring in "The Day's Mischief," and both disappear until it's time for Gene to work again.

Trouble in paradise note: Native girls in Samoa failed to measure up to specifications when they were hired to play roles in "Return to Paradise," and Director Mark Robson had to SOS Hollywood for 100 wigs, 50 hair falls and 24 sets of false teeth.

The wigs and hair falls were returned to Hollywood but the native dolls talked Robson into letting them keep the false teeth.

Golf Fiend Find

Ben Blue is Hollywood's latest golf fiend but he isn't planning a comedy golf routine for TV. "Golf bits aren't funny any more," he claims. "They're been overdone."

Ida Lupino and Howard Duff say they haven't been alerted by the stork bureau... Bud Abbott and Lou Costello are plotting a 3-D comedy about structural steel workers with steel beams coming right out at the audience and red-hot ingots landing in your lap... Mary Martin has agreed to make her operatic debut at Convent Garden in London in "La Boheme."

Aldo Ray's grinning about the way he and Rita Hayworth are getting along in rehearsals for "Miss Sadie Thompson." He said: "Rita's a wonderful doll. I was afraid it was going to be the Miss Hayworth kind of thing. Miss Hayworth that and Miss Hayworth that. But everybody calls her Rita. And she's very happy. So far, it's been nothing but fun."

Bob Cummings and his "My Hero" TV sponsor are discussing a feature movie to be filmed in Spain this summer. The idea is for the sponsor to help bankroll the picture.

George Sanders' inability to finish "May Wine" will cost Ingrid Bergman and Roberto Rossellini a small fortune. Zsa Zsa's George is inches away from a crack-up and his condition has alarmed their friends.

At Loose Ends

Paul Gregory finally said NO to MGM's proposition that he road-show their $3,000,000 production of "Julius Caesar" along the lines of "Don Juan in Hell" and "John Brown's Body." The fact that Gregory was called in at all is an indication of Hollywood's confusion about ways and means of selling pictures these days.

It's more serious than anybody thinks between Dan Dalley and Gwen O'Connor, who are a steady duo these nights.

Mitzi Green is blushing about a printed report in a West Los Angeles newspaper that "she was so certain that she would marry Howard Hughes that she bought the wedding gown and trousseau."

Here's how things have changed in Hollywood. Peter Lawford turned down the lead opposite Paulette Goddard in a new 3-D swashbuckler, "Charge of the Lancers." But he jumped at the chance to make his TV debut in "The Son-in-Law" for Screen Gems.

This is Hollywood. Mrs. Jones: Universal - International had carpenters make artificial papier-mache sand dunes and shipped them to Apple Valley for scenes in the science-fiction thriller, "It Came From Outer Space."

The regular nature-built sand dunes didn't photograph like sand dunes in 3-D!

When the Federal Housing Ad-

Administration Shows Signs Of Boosting Interest Rates

WASHINGTON, March 29-UP — The Eisenhower administration showed increased signs this week of giving a slight boost to interest rates on government guaranteed home mortgages.

The controversial problem, certain to make no one happy no matter how it is settled, is now undergoing intense study by the administration's fiscal policy makers. They are under heavy pressure to make a decision soon because of the "uncertainty" now helping to depress the mortgage market.

One informed source said it would be a "good guess" the administration would decide to raise VA insured mortgage interest rates 1/4 of 1 per cent to 4 1/4 and leave FHA insured mortgage rates at the same level.

Congressional, Federal Reserve Board and Federal Housing experts all agreed there is no pressing need to raise FHA rates at the present time. Although mortgage money is often difficult to get, it can be found at the FHA rate of 4 1/4 per cent, they said.

Opposition by Veterans Groups Any increase in the VA interest rates is sure to meet strong opposition from veterans organizations. The American Legion, a consistent opponent of raising rates, is now conducting an exhaustive investigation of VA home mortgages.

Heavy pressure has been brought on the veterans' groups to support an increase in the VA rates. Proponents have argued that it would be better for the veteran to pay slightly more for his mortgage than to go without his home.

When the Federal Housing Administration boosted the interest rate on its long-term debentures from 2 1/4 to 2 3/4 percent last Monday, informed government officials immediately speculated that it might be a "straw in the wind," indicating that FHA and VA mortgage rates also may be increased.

Treasury and FH officials flatly denied, however, that the increase in debenture rates had any bearing on mortgage rates. They said the action was taken to bring debenture rates "into line" with other long-term government securities.

Called "Realistic" Attitude But others said the action also showed the administration's fiscal policy-makers were taking a "realistic" attitude towards the money market. If the policy makers follow the same line of reasoning, it was argued, they also would raise VA interest rates.

Think hard, Sonny!

Kids have a lot of problems these days, too! Like thinking about playing marbles—when their mothers have sent them to the store to buy a particular brand of a particular product! If they go home with "something else"—look out! It's no wonder the American housewife, whether she sends Sonny to the store, or shops herself, buys products with manufacturers' names she believes in. For where else in the world do thousands of companies try to outdo each other in making things better at the lowest possible prices? Where else, but under our competitive system, can she take her free choice of so many good things, all made by manufacturers who have pride in their names and the products behind them?

You, the consumer, are the boss in this land of brands! Remember them as you read the advertisements in this newspaper—and trade at the stores where you see them featured.

Dear Grace Friend:
I am wondering if there aren't some people who would be willing to help a young woman I know.
She is 27 years old and has been ill much of her life. Will never be able to do physical labor to support herself so is trying to get a degree by attending classes part time. Her father provides room and board but there is no money at all for clothes and her classmates are all well-dressed. Consequently, she is often embarrassed and can never attend a social function for lack of suitable clothing.
She is 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighs about 125 lbs. Sizes 14 to 16 should do. She especially needs a coat and dresses.
Should any of your readers desire to contribute clothing and would call you. I would be glad to call for the things and see that the young lady receives them.
Please do not publish my name. I am a registered nurse and took care of this girl three years ago when she was so ill. She is a brilliant girl—a straight A student—and really deserves help.
I. W.

QUILTS TOP.
Dear Mrs. Friend:
You help so many people I wonder if you might know of someone that might like to buy some pretty quilt tops.
I have quite a few made up and would sell them for two dollars each. Some are cotton and some silk, some light and some dark. They would be beautiful quilts.
I wondered if any churches might be interested.
Also I have a few baby quilts to sell cheap. Thank you.

NEEDS HOME
Dear Grace:
Could you please find a nice big, home in the country for me before the fire sirens drive me crazy. Guess I'm not the city boy I thought I was.
I am a male Great Dane, two years old, very gentle, and the son of many champions as my papers and ribbons will show.
Please hurry as I am most anxious to leave the city.
Thank you very much,
"Hobo"

Keep Grooming Articles Clean

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor
Teen-agers, do you know that neatness in the bathroom can contribute enormously to beauty? The wash cloth that's rinsed thoroughly and hung up to dry, preferably where the sun can reach it, will be fresh and clean for the next use, helping to prevent your skin from breaking out. Towels hung neatly to dry after use, rather than thrown in a wad or flung on the bar, are less likely to develop bacteria that multiply in dampness.
Your toothbrush can't give you good service unless you let it drain dry in the air after every use. Be sure to rinse out accumulated tooth paste or powder.
If you own two toothbrushes, used alternately, one should always be dry for you. Brushes stood in a glass or hung up will last longer than those put into slots which press on and bend the bristles.
Have you ever been repelled by a cake of soap that was smeared with grimy gray suds? Then be sure you aren't guilty of the unsanitary habit of failing to rinse off the soap when you're finished with it.
Hairs on the basin look messy, clog the drain and add to the skin-ruining hazard of bacteria. It's easy to pick them up with a bit of damp paper.
A bathroom glass beclouded with someone's toothpaste isn't only a horrid sight — it encourages the germs that help destroy mouth beauty. Don't ever be the one who soils the mirror and forgets to rinse it thoroughly afterward.
Jars of cream and boxes of powder left uncovered, as well as toothpaste left uncapped, become dusty and unfit for use. You'll enjoy your beauty preparations far more if you keep them neatly arranged and tightly covered at all times.

Tips For Tasks

You can determine the colorfastness of your slipcovers by dipping a portion of the material in a sudsy solution, squeezing and then pressing it on a white cloth or blotter. If color runs, the white cloth will be stained.

Fire Take Wheels

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, March 30—UP—Firemen were surprised when they answered a call to put out a blaze in an overturned automobile and found no sign of an accident or a fire. A bystander gave this explanation:
The car was a hot rod containing eight teen-agers. When the car overturned and caught fire the kids rolled it back on its wheels, put out the fire and drove off.

MATURE PARENT Rebekah Lodge Meets In Skellytown Hall

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
This morning, Connie again "forgot" to make her bed before going to school. And when she got home, she announced that she was going shopping with her friend for Ella's new spring jacket.
Connie's mother said, "I'd be ashamed to want to go shopping with my bedroom in the condition yours is in. When I was your age, I had to make my bed and Aunt Lou's too before going to school. I may have my faults, but nobody can ever say that I shirk responsibility. I was brought up to face it, not run away from it like young girls nowadays. I don't know where you or your father would be if I ran off and left you to get your dinner yourselves. Someday you'll learn that the world won't take excuses for work left undone."
This is what children call "preaching." They do not like it because they sense that it is criticism described in unassailable language. It makes them uneasy and nervous, the way we are, too, when we sense the presence of an enemy who talks like a friend.
Connie's mother should have said, "No, you cannot go shopping with Ella this afternoon. Your room needs attention. Please go upstairs now and take care of it."
When moral lessons are given to criticize, they are offensive. When they are badly timed, they lose their power.
Connie's mother would have been wiser to postpone her lecture on responsibility until Connie had some first-hand experience in the value of making her bed before going to school.
When her child had proved for herself that she earns the freedom to dispose of her afternoon time by making her bed in the morning, she will be in the market for a statement relating responsibility to freedom. Until she made a test of this truth for herself, the most eloquent lecture is just words.
Moral lessons are lessons in truth. We do not want to ever stimulate resentment at truth in children but recognition of it.
We are lured into ill-timed "preaching" to youngsters through fear of forthright requests and orders.
Many of us suffer from this fear unknowingly. So we shouldn't be alarmed to discover we are one of its million victims. But we should be most concerned with

Suggested Reading

The fighters for freedom usually oppose labor unions. The harm done to the economy by government supported labor unions can't be calculated. But it is possible to say that organized labor has done more harm than good.

To offset this harm, one group of fighters for freedom has made the mistake of advocating legislation in the form of a Constitutional amendment which would outlaw all labor unions.

These people believe that outlawing labor unions would benefit the free enterprise system. Another group, which we believe serves the cause of liberty better, may damn unions, but defends their right to exist.

This group offers some hope to believers in absolute liberty.

This group opposes ALL labor legislation whether it consists of subsidizing or regulating. And most of these people arrived at their views independently.

They are: John Chamberlain, author; Leonard Read, a director of the Freeman Magazine and president of the Foundation for Economic Education; the editors of Human Events magazine; the editors of Faith and Freedom magazine; Ayn Rand, author of The Fountainhead; Isabel Paterson of The God of the Machine; the editors and publishers of Freedom Newspapers, Inc., publishers of Frederic Bastiat's Harmonies of Political Economy, which gave us most of our economics.

While we cannot presume to speak for these editors and authors except to pass on what we know of their willingness to put their philosophy into practical action, we can say that they will help to defeat the kind of legislation that is now being proposed to regulate and abolish organized labor.

It should be kept in mind that the above persons don't like labor unions any better than we do; they oppose regulating or abolishing unions because they believe individuals have a right to organize provided they don't initiate force or fraud or accept privileges from the government.

We hope the authors of the amendment to regulate or abolish unions will read the aforementioned books before risking their amendment on the firing line; the ammunition we will use against this proposal will be drawn mostly from those books.

Crime Doesn't Pay

Shoplifting is the oldest of problems to merchants. It became more acute with the spread of the self-service system of selling goods on what amounts to an honor basis. The vast majority of customers are honest, but the crooked few must always be combated. In late years merchants have intensified their efforts in this regard with marked success.

The American Stores of Philadelphia recently listed some two-score tricks of the light-fingered artists, but said it had no intention of disclosing to the looters measures employed by the police and stores to curb this lawless activity.

Teen-agers, women and men use all sorts of devices and stratagems to hide their loot — hats, handbags, double socks, inside pockets, large sleeves, heavy socks with elastic tops, hollowed-out books, musical instrument cases, umbrellas, bandaged arms, rolls of toilet paper, baby carriages, waist bands of trousers, rubberized panel inserts for sweaters, flowing coats, maternity gowns, and many others. Teen-agers often work in groups.

In spite of all this ingenuity, the shoplifter is almost invariably caught, sooner or later. Thievery is relative — some thieves steal merchandise, others steal nations. But crooks finally wind up in deep trouble — as witness history.

For Or Against?

The controversy aroused by President Eisenhower's appointment of former Representative Albert M. Cole as Housing and Home Finance Administrator provides a good illustration of a basic difference between this administration and the last.

Mr. Cole was opposed by some witnesses at the Senate hearing held to consider his fitness for the top housing post because, as a congressman, he had been opposed to public housing. CIO President Walter Reuther charged his appointment would be tantamount to hiring a fox to guard a chicken coop.

Mr. Cole declared that it was his belief that the government should support the housing industry, not supplant it. The Senate, convinced that he would administer the various federal housing programs fairly, confirmed his appointment.

If the gargantuan size of our national government ever is to be reduced, it will be accomplished through the efforts of a new breed of government officials who do not seek constantly to expand their operations and extend their power, and who recognize that government should support private enterprise rather than supplant it. Too often in the past, the reverse has been true. Too often was the counsel heeded of those who preached that business is predatory and that people should be cared for in chicken coop security by a benevolent government.

Why Wages Are So Low In Mexico

I recently drove a couple of thousand miles in Old Mexico. I of course knew that there is a great deal of poverty in Mexico and that wages are very, very low. The conditions in Mexico are about the same as they are in Spain, Turkey and Egypt and all the countries where there is too much authority over human initiative. The wages are low in Mexico for the same reason that they are low in every other country. The workers in most countries have to work with inefficient, non-productive tools. They do not have the capital per worker that we do in the United States.

Now the question arises as to why such a great difference in the amount of tools per worker in Mexico and in the United States. The United States undoubtedly has more natural resources than Mexico has, but nature's resources are not the primary cause of high wages. The primary cause of high wages is more and better tools per worker.

Now why has not Mexico accumulated tools? It seems to me the primary reason is that the government has not respected and defended private property and they spend entirely too much money on politics and too much money on organized religion. Instead of putting money into a factory and tools they put it into great government buildings and magnificent churches. Instead of emphasizing the principle of the Golden Rule, they emphasize creeds and dogmas of Church and State. The result is that capital is not saved and thus cannot be invested in tools.

Entering Mexico from Matamoros, or the city opposite Brownsville, Texas, one is impressed with the Rio Grande Valley. The neighborhood of Matamoros seemed to me to be the most productive land of our 2,000 mile drive in Mexico. Shortly after we left the productive Rio Grande Valley on the Mexican side, we came to a river where a man-propelled ferry boat transported our car across the river. Three men pulled the rope that carried the boat across the narrow river. A small investment of a motor and one man could have performed the work much better. They undoubtedly didn't have the capital to build a bridge or to have a power ferry boat.

Another thing that impressed me was the way so many donkeys and mules carry all kinds of material. We even saw them carrying bricks and stone. We asked how heavy the load was and one man said about 250 pounds.

The thing that they seem to use the donkeys most for is hauling wood. One person told me that he packed the wood as far as 40 miles. The value of a donkey and his blanket and straps to hold on what he is packing is about $40 and the scrub brush that they use as wood is practically worth nothing, so the haulers of wood use tools worth about $40 per worker where in the United States most workers have tools worth from $3,000 to $20,000 to work with. The result is that Americans produce more and thus can earn more.

An acquaintance who had us to visit an art gallery. He was being taught how to paint. The art gallery was a beautiful building that he owned the building, and he said the state owned it. Here was a man who was supposed to be intelligent who was having peasants, who pack fire wood 40 miles, pay taxes to help pay for his painting instructions. He thought that Mexico was a very poor place in which to live. He didn't seem to be a man who had any moral principles to determine how a government should be limited.

Too Much Authority Undoubtedly the reason for the poverty is too much authority by the state and by organized religion — and it makes little difference what organized religion group gets almost complete authority; they usually become very arbitrary and try to exploit their followers when they have almost complete control.

Probably one reason why the United States out-distanced all other countries is that no religious group or no government for many, many years had a dominant control over the individual. We have more respect for individual initiative in the United States than they have had in Mexico and most of the other countries, where man seems to be an appendix to the state or to some religious organization. It makes little difference whether men are intimidated by the threat of the use of force or they are scared into obedience for fear of eternal punishment. The only punishment anyone really knows anything about is the punishment in this world. The rest is mysticism or heresy.

Wages in Mexico are low because there is too much authority and not enough respect for the human initiative of every individual and his private property.

Federal Authorities Have No Business In Municipal Affairs

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Uproar over charges of brutality against New York policemen has completely hidden the fact that here is an attempt by the federal government to take jurisdiction in police court cases which are a part of its business. There is no more excuse for the Department of Justice to interfere in an ordinary arm-twisting or poke-in-the-plexus, with a rolled newspaper by a city cop than for similar aggression by the same in a dead-end alley by a derelict against a dead-end kid all as part of the business of their line-up, methods and concealed motives.

It is an unfortunate fact that the New York policemen as a corps have to cope with a dangerous situation made the more so by a queasy reluctance of the public to face facts. The papers resolutely suppress important factors in the growth of violent crime in the streets, parks and subways. The poor cops take desperate chances and many beatings, but actually unemployable because they are brutal, drunken, irresponsible idlers with dominant criminal instincts. The cops dismiss these matters contemptuously and many reporters know them. But the suppression of basic facts puts the cop at a disadvantage when he should get the benefit of every dodge.

New York policemen are superior to the same number of citizens taken at random. The requirements for admission to the force and the proportion of rejections prove that their prestige is much more important to law-abiding citizens than it is to the cops themselves. Therefore, the press should examine warily this latest attempt to arouse pity for bad actors who get an extra clip on the ear for back and another to grow on. Once let the mugger and slick-up-the-marooning judge of a few young buns understand that, for fear of "discipline," the cop will sink into a doozy or down a side-street when he hears a cry of innocent people will be on the hands of those who, joined the "hulahoos" against "written brutality."

The intrusion of the federal government into petty incidents in the policing of a great city is a studied attempt to degrade local authority and exalt the federal. This comes of the thoroughly dishonest "survey" and "report" of Truman's spurious Committee on Civil Rights. Many of the principals in this shady exploit had flagrant records of association and worse with Communist fronts. They were a strange company severely selected by the late David K. Niles, the White House agent of the Frankfurter system, which gave us Alger Hiss, Nathan Witt and Leon Pressman.

Charles E. Wilson, the retired president of General Electric, who was chairman of this committee, has put that fact into writing. The purpose of the organization was to permit the federal government to cry "lynching" at local authorities and supersede local authority. Very pointedly, the report excluded from the legal definition of a lynching the mob-murder of a worker by organized gangs of a union. It was picked apart and its proposals were thwarted. The present intrusion of the federalists in police court cases is based on an old federal law forbidding denial to an individual of rights guaranteed by the Constitution. By the same torture of a naive law which lay dormant for half a century, practically every complaint of mistreatment by one individual against another belongs in the federal courts.

Patronage Pressure Is Behind Ike's Plan To Oust Employees

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON—Patronage pressure from Capitol Hill has been behind President Eisenhower's plan to remove many federal employees from the Civil Service protection given them during 20 years of Democratic rule at Washington.

Although it is not generally realized, there is a bitter backstage struggle on now between the congressional and gubernatorial factors for political supremacy. It is a form of rivalry which has always existed, but it is especially acute at the moment. It is a sort of Taft versus Dewey contest.

Wilson, Coolidge, Hoover and Roosevelt were elevated to the White House by gubernatorial outsiders. Only McKinley, Taft and Harding, in modern politics, were congressional creations.

SPOTLIGHT FOR THE NATION

TWO LIVES, TWO FORCES—BUT WHAT A DIFFERENCE

By THE REV. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Christ's message—Love the lord thy God with all thy heart and thy neighbor as thyself...the individual is sacred...truth is all powerful...man is immortal.

Marx's message—Conquest through hate and violence...the individual is of no account...religion is for fools...man comes from nowhere and death is the end.

Do you have a problem in thinking straight? If you do, you are no different from the rest of us. I find the start of a new year, particularly good time to take an inventory of my thoughts.

Let's face the fact there is a world-wide struggle to capture men's minds—a death struggle between Christianity and Communism—between all religion and that evil force. Sometimes the issues aren't clear, and we can easily get confused.

The late Henry C. Link was greatly concerned about the war for men's minds and did considerable research into the life and background of Karl Marx, whose writings founded modern Communism.

"The story of Marx's life," Dr. Link writes in "The Way to Security," is one of complete and awful failure. Marx did not get along with the members of his family. He failed in the good schools in which his father supported him. He made no friends among his classmates. He failed with his employers and associates in business. He failed miserably in supporting his wife and family. Two of his three daughters and a son-in-law committed suicide.

Dr. Link goes on to point out that Marx's writings on Communism are a perfect reflection on his failure with people. "They are the expression of his deep-seated inferiority complex, and of his hate, his deep neurotic ill will, his two classes, the capitalists and the proletariat, the successful and the unsuccessful. He formulated the doctrine of class warfare with his own eyes, on the emotions of hate, covetousness, and violence. This doctrine has brought the whole world to the verge of barbarism."

The great influence of Communism is owing largely to its appeal to the sense of inferiority. A person's inferiority in dealing with people of his failure to succeed in material things makes the Communist short cuts to success appear, as some neurotic types, actively. The way in which Russian communists hope to rid themselves of their inferiority is by the conquest of what they regard as superior America.

In contrast to Marx's doctrine, are the spiritual teachings of Jesus, Dr. Link adds: "Though the multitudes followed and He fed them; He dealt with people above all—as individuals. He cultivated personal friendships and loyalties. He associated with persons high and low, educated and ignorant, rich and poor, Pharisee and Sadducee, landlord and laborer, pious and sinner. For Jesus there were no classes, no proletariat or capitalists; there were only individuals with immortal souls. For Him the temporal or political state was unimportant, as compared with the individual in an everlasting World Order under God and His universal moral law."

"Jesus taught the civilized way of life, the evolutionary way, the spiritual way. Christianity has always been a battle of the spiritual against man's materialistic and animalistic tendencies. Hence its uphill and often interrupted progress."

"Today the world is in desperate need of straight thinking. What side are you on? Whom do you serve? Even more important, do your business and personal activities contribute more to the advancement of Marx's philosophy of hate and violence — or to Christ's doctrine of love and understanding?"

Numerous Deals Transacted By All Eight West Texas-New Mexico Clubs Last Week

THERE WERE SEVERAL transactions that took place among the West Texas - New Mexico League clubs the past week. C.; Morris Shipman to the Yankees who in turn turned him to their farm club at Birmingham; and the signing of Max Melberg.

Rites Pending For Thorpe

LOMITA, Calif., March 30—UP—Funeral arrangements were still pending Monday for Jim Thorpe, the big Indian who won sports fame that never dimmed during his lifetime, but who lasted bitter disappointment almost from the moment he reached greatness. Thorpe, 49, died Saturday of a heart attack in his trailer home here, where he had come just a week earlier to rest and fish. He and his wife, Patricia, were eating dinner at the time.

It had been more than 40 years since Thorpe started an athletic career, which included exploits in nearly every major sport. To many, he was the world's top sports figure.

King Gustav of Sweden told him in 1912: "Sir, you are the greatest athlete in the world."

Highest Point in Career—That was perhaps the highest point in his career, coming after he had won both the decathlon and the pentathlon at the Olympic games in Stockholm.

active, his feats in football, baseball and track and field continued athlete of the half-century. And he named him the greatest male to speak for his greatness. Thorpe, three years ago, a sports writer back in Cleveland Monday for funeral services.

Bradley, 69, died at his vacation home here Sunday after suffering a heart attack. Though he had been suffering from a heart condition for the last year, he appeared to be in good health during a four-week vacation here with his wife and his death was unexpected.

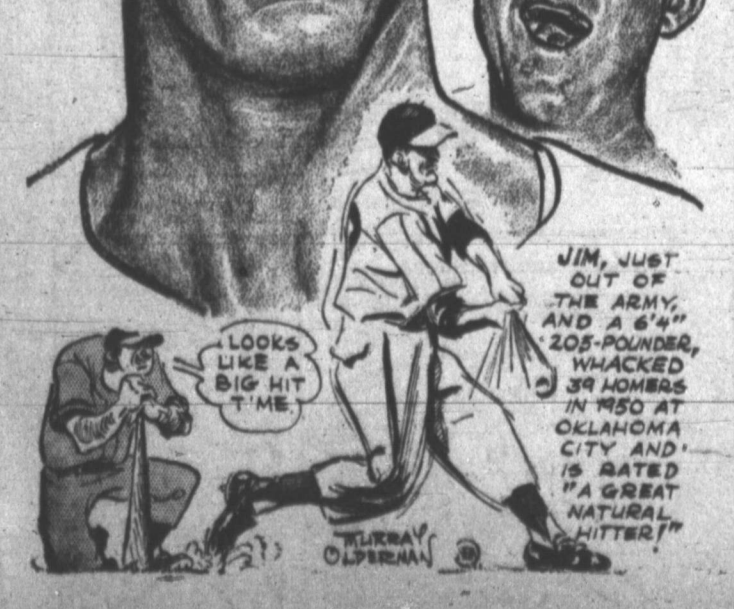

The former Indians' owner, who sold his interests in the club to a syndicate headed by Bill Veeck in 1946, resided in Cleveland Heights, Ohio, and was the head of a Cleveland real-estate firm.

Bradley owned the Indians for 19 years, during which period the Indians never won the American League pennant although they finished in the first division 11 times. The closest the Indians came to a pennant under his ownership was a second place in 1940 behind the Detroit Tigers.

Milwaukee Braves For Toledo Meeting

BRADENTON, Fla., March 30—UP—The Milwaukee Braves, beaten by the Washington Senators Sunday, play their transplanted Toledo farm team Monday.

Ernie Johnson, Dick Donovan and Virgil Jester gave up 14 hits Sunday— including homers by Jackie Jensen and Eddie Yost—as the Braves bowed.

Harvester 9 To Dalhart Tomorrow

The Harvester baseballers will be gunning to break into the win column tomorrow afternoon when they take on the Dalhart Wolves at Dalhart.

It will be the first of four games this week for the diamonds. The Green and Golders open their District 1-A-A schedule Friday at Borger. After one game with the Bulldogs Friday, the two teams will clash in a doubleheader Saturday, also at Borger.

The Harvesters picked up a lot of experience at Childress last week end in their opening games of the season. The Pampans dropped all three games of the series against the more experienced Bobcats. The Bobcats had four games already under their belts before the series with the Harvesters.

Then several members of the Harvesters were absent from the Childress series including Ed Dudley, the only returning letterman. The Harvesters didn't field a baseball team last season but Dudley was a member of the 1951 team when he was named on the all-district team at an outfield post.

Others missing from the Childress series were Ray Cooper, who was ill; and Neal Franklin, Harold Lewis and Bobby Holder, who were with the Philadelphia Harvester track team.

Joe Tynes, who pitched a creditable game Friday in losing to the Bobcats, 3-0, will likely be the starting pitcher for the Harvesters tomorrow at Dalhart.

4-Way Playoff At Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 30—UP—Pro golf's second mass playoff within a month was in tap Monday, this time with the first four prizes in the $10,000 Greensboro Open tournament at stake.

Sammy Snead, Doug Ford, Art Wall, and Earl Steward were the links quartet that tied at the end of regulation 72 holes Sunday, each with a 72-under-par 273. That threw the decision into an 18-hole playoff round starting at 12:30 p. m., Sat. Monday.

On March 1, the putt-for-pay stars finished in a similar tangle in the Houston, Tex., Open tournament with dentist Gary Middlecott, starting four other stars, including Stewart, in a playoff.

But Monday's extra round would not have been necessary if Snead had been able to hold his early pace. The favored "slammer" from White Sulphur Springs, Va., went into Sunday's final 36 holes with a two-stroke lead and a clear shot at his fifth victory in this annual meet.

Combs Relires From Baseball

SARASOTA, Fla., March 30—UP—Coach Earl Combs of the Boston Red Sox, former Yankees' outfield star, Monday announced his retirement from the game which brought him fame and a tidy fortune during 29 years as a player and a coach.

Combs informed manager Lou Boudreau he wanted to go back to his insurance, banking and farming business in Richmond, Ky. "We're sorry to have him go," said Lou, "he's been a grand guy and a real gentleman. We hope to get someone to take his place. If we can't get a competent replacement, I'll take over the first base coaching duties myself."

Combs has been the first base coach with the Red Sox since his first baseball boss—Joe McCarthy—brought him to Boston in 1948.

Speculation in the Sox camp is that Del Baker, a former Detroit Tiger manager and also an ex-Red Sox coach, will be hired to replace Combs. If he does, Baker will take over the third base coaching assignment with Oscar Melillo shifting over to first base.

In 1922, Combs broke in with the Louisville Colonels, then managed by McCarthy. He first joined the Yankees in 1924 and spent 20 years with the Bronx Bombers. Twelve of those campaigns he played center field and he coached for the following eight. He was succeeded in center by Joe DiMaggio, who retired a year ago.

During his Yankee years, Combs appeared in 11 World Series.

BASEBALL TRAINING BRIEFS Slaughter, Musial Homer As Cards Sweep Redleg Series

By UNITED PRESS
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 30—UP—Enos (Country) Slaughter, starting his 13th major league season as he approaches 37, shows little sign of slowing down.

Slaughter matched home runs with his team-mate, Stan Musial, as the Cards completed a three-game sweep of their series with the Cincinnati Reds, 9 to 5 Sunday.

The Cards play the Philadelphia Phils here Monday. The Phils beat the Athletics, 10 to 6, Sunday.

Sen's Sima Sports 4-0 Pitching Record
ORLANDO, Fla., March 30—UP—Al Sima, a 31 year old left-hander, who won 24 games for Chattanooga of the Southern Association last year, sported an impressive 4-0 spring training record Monday for the Washington Senators.

Giving a 7-2 lead in the first two innings Sunday, Sima had an easy five-inning workout as the Senators walloped the Milwaukee Braves, 10 to 7. The Senators are idle Monday.

Phillies Pound Out 10-6 Win Over A's
TAMPA, Fla., March 30—UP—Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Philadelphia Athletics Monday pondered the mysterious poor spring performance of right hander Harry Byrd; one of his two best pitchers in 1952.

Dykes permitted him to pitch a full nine innings against the Philadelphia Phillies Sunday, but Byrd will hit hard once again, giving up 10 hits as the A's lost, 10 to 6.

The A's meet the Cincinnati Reds here Monday.

Billy Cox Sidelined With Pulled Muscle
SARASOTA, Fla., March 30—UP—Third baseman (or utility infielder) Billy Cox was sidelined for five days because of a pulled back muscle as the Brooklyn Dodgers faced the Boston Red Sox Monday.

Manager Charley Dressen said Cox injured his back during a pre-game drill Saturday. He did not play Sunday when the Dodgers beat the New York Yankees, 1 to 0.

The Red Sox were beaten by the Detroit Tigers, 1 to 7 Sunday. Willard Nixon was belted for six hits in the first two innings, and rookie Russ Kemmerer and Sid Hudson were hardly more effective.

Giants Whittle Squad To 32; Bow To Tribe
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 30—UP—The New York Giants cut their roster to 32 players Monday by farming out eight rookie prospects.

The Cleveland Indians walloped the Giants, 15 to 3, Sunday. The teams meet again here Monday.

Pitching Also Strong... Leo's Giants Are Loaded With Power

This is another in a series of prospects of major league baseball teams.

By MILTON RICHMAN
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 30—The New York Giants are serving fair warning to Flatbush Monday they are "stronger than ever before" and, instead of it being the other way around, they firmly feel Brooklyn will have to catch them this year.

Each big league club that has faced the Giants this spring has come away with pronounced respect for the New York power.

"Take a look at this Giant line-up," said Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, taking the New York batting order from the day before out of his hip pocket.

"Any One Can Kill You" "Any one of those guys can kill you with a base hit. . . Monte Irvin. . . Alvin Dark. . . Whitey Lockman. . . Bobby Thomson. . . Don Mueller. . . Daryl Spencer and Wes Westrum."

Giants Manager Leo Durocher realizes the Giants are loaded this year. The Dark, however, seems to refuse to make any predictions. "We won't be any pushovers," Durocher insists, "and I'm sure we'll be in the thick of the pennant fight all the way."

It's difficult to see how the Giants can miss, particularly with pitching strength like Sal Maglie, Larry Jansen, Jim Hearn, Dave Koslo and relief ace Hoyt Wilhelm.

Among the newcomers Cuban Ruben Gomez has impressed the most. The rookie has flashed a screwball that was the rave of the West Coast.

Shortstop Not A Certainty The lone uncertainty about the club is at shortstop where it was thought newcomer Spencer would take over. Dark, however, seems to prefer to stay there, so Johnson probably will hold down second base.

Davey Williams, who played second base acceptably last season, Bobby Hofman, Bobby Thomson, veteran Bill Rigney also are available for duty in the infield.

Durocher admits he has no problem in the catching department. Westrum has the inside track for it, too.

Rival Coaches Protest Kansas' World Record Set At Austin May Not Be Counted

AUSTIN, March 30—UP—The University of Kansas' great sprint medley relay world's record time posted in the Texas Relays may go for naught as far as the record books are concerned.

While the spectacular Kansas quartet, anchored by sensational Wes Santee, ran the full mile distance required for recognition in the fastest time ever posted for the event—3:21.8—some rival coaches have thrown a puzzling question about technical legality of the time.

In stepping off the quarter-mile Memorial Stadium track after the race, one of the coaches, W. H. Haylett of Kansas State, said he found the lane-stagger marks on the backstretch side of the cinder path were irregularly placed.

Cindrich Ran 30 Extra Yards This, he said, resulted in Frank Cindrich, who ran the first 220 yard segment of the medley affair, actually running 250 yards, while Dick McGinn, who ran the second furlong leg, ran only 190 yards.

The Kansas State coach said this gave Kansas an unusual break in that Cindrich's extra yardage longer dashes while McGinn has been concentrating on the shorter sprints.

Cindrich has been used as both a 220 yard and 440 yard sprinter. Therefore, the extra yardage he had to go before passing the baton to Sophomore McGinn meant that Kansas benefited in the Cindrich relay because of the longer distance. That may have saved

Banner Year Seen In Track

NEW YORK, March 30—UP—The weekend performances of Wes Santee, Ken Wiesner and Mal Whitfield indicated America's track and field stars are ready for a banner outdoor season.

The 20 year old Santee anchored the University of Kansas to two relay titles and two meet records—one of which may be recognized as a world mark—in the Texas Relays at Austin, the first big outdoor meet of the year.

In the Chicago Relays, last major indoor games of the season, Wiesner boosted his own world indoor high jump record to 6 feet, 10 1/2 inches and Whitfield equalled his own world indoor mark of 1:02.9 for 500 meters enroute to a 1:09.7 triumph in the 600 yard run. He won the 1,000 yard race in .12.

But for sustained brilliance, Santee easily was the weekend star. Friday, the slim Kansas junior raced a half mile anchor leg in 1:49.4 to bring the baton home in 3:21.8, the fastest sprint medley ever run. The recognized fastest time for the event is the 3:22.7 clocking achieved by New York University at the 1950 Penn Relays.

Santee started behind and won by 28 yards. Less than an hour later, he anchored Kansas to the distance medley crown.

Saturday, Santee did the final mile of the four-mile medley in 4:08.7 to produce a meet record 17:14 victory for Kansas.

Santee's anchor mile Saturday was the fastest of his career. He has produced indoors or outdoors in this country this year, and equalled the national collegiate record his fellow-Kansas, Glenn Cunningham, has held since 1934. Art Daisell, Lloyd Kohy and Dick Wilson were Santee's teammates in all four triumphs.

DODGE DEALER ANNOUNCES NEW LOWER CAR PRICES

Ervin Pursley, owner of Pursley Motor Company, today revealed the details of price reductions ranging up to $202 on all 1953 Dodge passenger cars and trucks.

Ervin Pursley said the Dodge price reductions were made possible by increased availability of scarce materials.

"Currently, Dodge retail sales are 50 per cent greater than during the corresponding period last year under government controls," Ervin Pursley said. "We are very pleased that the factory has seen fit to take advantage of increased production and sales, and to pass on the savings to our customers. Ervin Pursley cited some of the typical savings. On the popular-selling Coronet V-Eight four-door sedan the prices have been reduced $135.80, while on both the luxury Coronet V-Eight Diplomat hardtop and convertible the prices have been lowered $201.80. Additional savings will be affected by lower Federal excise and local taxes on the factory retail price. On some models the new prices also include as standard equipment items previously sold as extras.

| MODEL | NEW PRICE | FORMER PRICE | SAVING TO CUSTOMER |
|---------------------------------|-----------|--------------|--------------------|
| Meadowbrook Special Club Coupe | $1,816 | $1,896.50 | $80.50 |
| Meadowbrook Special 4 dr. Sedan | $1,855 | $1,935.50 | $80.50 |
| Meadowbrook Club Coupe | $1,927 | $1,994.50 | $67.50 |
| Meadowbrook 4 door Sedan | $1,954 | $2,021.50 | $67.50 |
| Meadowbrook Suburban | $2,019 | $2,079.60 | $60.60 |
| Coronet V-8 Diplomat | $2,190 | $2,391.80 | $201.80 |
| Coronet V-8 Convertible | $2,314 | $2,515.80 | $201.80 |
| Coronet V-8 Sierra | $2,322 | $2,450.90 | $128.90 |
| Coronet V-8 Club Coupe | $2,039 | $2,167.80 | $128.80 |
