UN Set To Free 500 PW's Daily Upon Agreement

Toss In A Joker . . . Reds Introduce New Field Of Discussion

PANMUNJOM, April 6—UP—The Communists opened a new field of discussion Monday in the talks on exchanging sick and wounded prisoners of war. The first thought of observers was that the negotiations may spread out over a far longer period of time than was originally intended. The Reds tossed what might be a joker into the first day's conference, bringing up Article 110 of the Geneva Convention.

Allies Offer 9-Point Plan In First Meet

PANMUNJOM, April 6—UP—The United Nations told negotiators Monday they were ready to return 500 ailing Red soldiers daily within a week after agreement was reached on a swap of sick and wounded prisoners. The UN offer was in a nine-point program put before the Reds at Monday's 48-minute opening talk on the exchange of ailing prisoners. The UN negotiators said the first Allied-Communist talks in six months made "distinct progress." Both sides agreed to meet again at 11 a. m. Tuesday (8 p. m. est Monday). For their part, the Reds came up with a proposal to repatriate not only severely sick and wounded prisoners but those less severely disabled. The latter would be sent to some neutral country from which they might return to their homelands. May Be New Device It was possible that this was a device by which the Reds hoped to get back most, if not all, of their prisoners. Communist correspondent Wilfrid Burdett pointedly told Allied newsmen that the Reds "want a speedy peace and are making concessions which should be mutual." But he added that agreement is far off if the UN insists on voluntary repatriation—allowing prisoners to decide for themselves if they wish to return to communism. If the Allies and the Communists agree on the exchange machinery, (See ALLIES, Page 3)

Take Posts For A Day DeMolay Picks City Officers

Jumping off one day before their elders, Pampa's DeMolay boys tonight will elect a full slate of city officials—mayor and four city commissioners—and then follow through by electing a county judge and four county commissioners, the latter more than a year ahead of time. No other city or county offices will be voted on by the boys at their monthly meeting tonight. The "elected" officials will appoint such officers as county attorney, sheriff, justices of the peace, district clerk, county clerk, etc. The "elected" city officials will also name the chief of police, city manager, tax assessor-collector, etc. All this is in preparation for the day—April 28—when the boys take over city and county government for a day, the same as they did last year. Each of the boys named to a certain city or county spot will spend a day with his adult counterpart where he will get a first hand inside view of local governmental functions. Following are the candidates and the offices they are seeking for a day: MAYOR: Ben Sturgeon and Wayne Origg. COMMISSIONER, WARD 1: Marvin Baer and Steve Burdette; COMMISSIONER, WARD 2: Carl Blonkivist and Ronnie Cullinan; COMMISSIONER, WARD 3: Jerry Richardson and Marion Stone; COMMISSIONER, WARD 4: Baery Oates, Kenneth VanSickle, and David Mullins. COUNTY JUDGE: Michael Price, DeWayne Maddox, Henry K. Combs, John Schofield Jr. COMMISSIONER, DIST. 1: Dean Foose and Jimmy Enloe; COMMISSIONER, DIST. 2: Don Fisher and Jimmy Ayres. COMMISSIONER, DIST. 3: Tommy Lockhart, Phillip McGuire, James E. Vicars, Byron Byers. COMMISSIONER, DIST. 4: Jerry Boston, Jim Coffee, Frank Duthier.

'Battle Of The Budget' . . . Armed Forces Balk At Manpower Cut

WASHINGTON, April 6—UP—The Army and the Air Force are balking at manpower cuts proposed by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson as an economy move, it was learned Monday. Informed sources said the Army has appealed to Wilson to cancel a planned slash in its troop strength, contending it would seriously impair the services' combat readiness. The Air Force has entered a similar protest against a Wilson order to reduce its civilian payroll. The appeals were the first shots in the "battle of the budget" which doubtless will be waged with increasing fury in the Pentagon during the next few weeks as the services resist economy edicts from the new Republican defense secretary. Try To Hold Down Total It is Wilson's job under the military unification law to pass on the competing demands of the vari-

Election Could Give Pampa New Slate Of City Officials

City voters tomorrow will go to the polls to change at least three faces on the city commission. It is possible, but improbable, that the entire commission could be wiped out, giving Pampa an entirely new governing body. The campaigns have been noisy and next to issueless, leaving many voters "up in the air" as to which way they want to go. Newspaper and radio advertising has been at a minimum and there open debate or arguments between candidates. Only E. E. Ferrell has made any arrangements for approaching the voters by radio in his race (See ELECTION, Page 3)

Area Farmers, Ranchers Hail Soaking Rains In Panhandle

Jubilant Panhandle farmers and cattlemen surveyed soaked terrain today following general rains over the week end that poured up to two inches of moisture over some parts of the territory. And-weather forecasters predicted more of the welcome drought-breaking precipitation might fall today. The storms broke from a squall line that crossed the northern part of Texas Saturday. Reports from county agriculture agents showed a bright outlook over the entire area. In Gray County one inch of moisture was measured. The fall began at 8 p. m. Saturday and by midnight had drenched fledgling wheat crops and budding grass with 1.1 inch. A morning check reported .59 inch more and another one-tenth Sunday night. Throughout, temperatures remained steady with only a seven degree fluctuation between the Sunday high of 49 and the night's low of 42. The temperature at 11:30 a. m. was 49 degrees. Grassland and crop conditions for the county, as reviewed by Ralph Thomas, county agriculture agent, were particularly good as "it is soaking in just right and apparently not running off." Also, the rain came at the right time for late wheat and rangeland. All wheat in the county had been growing well up to now with good showing in the last three weeks, he said, and will be greatly improved with this rain—as will oats and barley. Moisture tests carried out by the county agent has revealed surface moisture all along—precipitation has remained above normal since the first of the year—because there has been no sub-soil moisture due to a dry 1952. More of these slow, soaking rains will build up the sub-soil, he said, but as yet the two-year drought is not yet broken. The optimistic Thomas had another side, though. Thomas said he had been receiving reports of considerable cut worms in local territory. These can be controlled, he continued, through application of 5 per cent DDT or 5 per cent

Planned By County Attorney . . . Enforcement Officers Favor Proposed Crime Commission

A citizens' crime and juvenile advisory committee would have the blessing of local and state law enforcement agencies, state police, and highway patrolmen indicated this morning. Formation and operation of the commission first came to light Saturday when County Atty. Bill Waters told a Pampa Daily News reporter he was giving serious consideration to the plan, tailored to meet the needs of Gray County. Chief of Police Jim Conner, asked what he thought of the plan said: "At the moment, I could think of so many good things coming out of the commission that it would take all day to list them; fact is, I really wouldn't know where to start. One thing, we would get a lot of information on various happenings that we don't get now. "We hear a lot of criticism from different angles from people who sometimes don't realize that the police must first have some sort of evidence before they can even move into an investigation of some goings on. Planes Carry Monkeys, Mice . . . New Atomic Explosion Seen

By ROBERT BENNYHOFF LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 6—UP—The 15th atomic explosion inside the U. S. rocked the southern Nevada desert Monday and two pilotless jet planes prepared to fly through the deadly radio-active cloud with "crews" of monkeys and mice. The telltale flash of the explosion was seen here at 9:31 a. m. and appeared extremely bright. It was the fourth shot of the present spring test series at the A-bomb proving ground 65 miles northwest of here. Although the Atomic Energy Commission did not give the details immediately, it was believed Monday's test involved an atomic device dropped from the air. Previous tests in the current series had been from atop 300-foot towers. Highlight of the blast was to be the flight of two F-80 Shooting Star jet fighter drone planes through the atomic cloud. Each plane will carry 60 mice and two monkeys to be used for bio-medical research purposes. The first drone will be guided into the deadly radioactive cloud seconds after the detonation by nearby ground control radar station. The second robot craft will follow two minutes later. Sabrejet Escort Both drone jets, being used in a continental test for the first time, were scheduled to be picked up by two T-33 "mother" jet planes if and when they emerge from the atomic cloud. They will be guided back to nearby Indian Springs Air Force base. Accompanying each drone will be two F-86 Sabrejets with guns and rockets fully loaded, ready to shoot down either drone should they go out of control and endanger a populated area. An undisclosed number of Air Force planes were on hand to participate in Monday's blast, performing cloud tracking and other experimental duties. The continuing study of civil defense problems called for the placement of 75 automobiles and a few buses and mail trucks near "ground center," the explosion center. It was the third test on autos in a month.

The American Legion-VFW Hall will be the scene Tuesday of the start of the two-day 1953 blood drive in Pampa with 10 beds set up to take blood. The Red Cross bloodmobile, aiming at a 300 pint local goal, collects the blood through contract with the Defense Department, according to Mrs. F. W. Shotwell, Pampa Chapter RC executive secretary, and is immediately turned over to the military for distribution and use. A local doctor, she said, will be on duty at all times during the Pampa drive. Appointment cards have been sent to all pre-drive signers and have been scheduled eight every 15 minutes from 2 p. m. to 8 p. m. daily. Pampans To Testify Before Hearings On Canadian Authority

At least two Pampans will be testifying Thursday before U. S. House committee hearing the Senate-passed bill authorizing creation of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority. Representing Pampa will be Mayor C. A. Huff, a director of the Canadian River Water Users Association; and E. O. Wedgeworth, manager of the Chamber of Commerce. The bill, if passed by the house, will authorize creation of a water district taking in 12 cities, now planning to impound the rivers of the Canadian River for municipal consumption and industrial water supply. The 12 cities would have to hold elections to determine whether their individual citizens want to go into the district. Once the creation of the district is complete, its director will be legally empowered to deal with the federal government, or with private enterprise, to secure funds for the construction of the estimated $85,000,000 dam and aqueduct. Mayor Huff and Wedgeworth expect to leave early Tuesday and return sometime Friday. The hearings will start Wednesday morning in Austin. (See ATOMIC, Page 3)

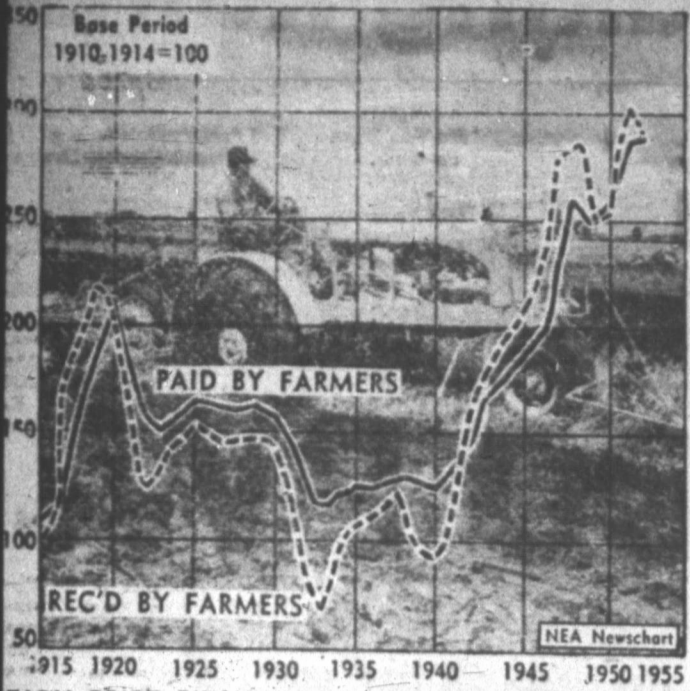

WITHIN HUNDRED-MILE RADIUS of Albuquerque (white circle on the newsmap above) is a heavy concentration of atomic projects. Sandia and Kirtland bases are on outskirts of Albuquerque; scientific laboratory is at Los Alamos, near Santa Fe, which is a hang-out for atomic workers. Significance of Taos within 100-mile circle is explained in a later dispatch.

Atomic Secrets Spill Over Albuquerque's Bars

By DOUGLAS LARSEN and DOYLE KLINE EDITOR'S NOTE: NEA Reporter Douglas Larsen, who has covered atomic energy activities for several years, first got wind of startling facts about atomic security, reported below, when he was covering recent nuclear tests at Yucca Flats. To dig deeper, he teamed up with Doyle Kline, managing editor of the Albuquerque Tribune, and his staff. Both checked their information with the most responsible sources. This is the first of their four dispatches. Albuquerque, N.M.—(NEA)—You can spend an hour or so in almost any downtown bar here and learn about the next series of hydrogen bomb tests at Eniwetok. The list of persons to go is being made up, you discover. Further, unless you're deaf, you'll hear the series touted as the most crucial ever planned. You'll get the dates, approximate number of people involved and how they plan to travel to the atoll. You're skeptical? Then drop into another bar a few blocks away, or drive to Santa Fe, 62 miles north. You'll be convinced when you hear the original story repeated and amplified. If the talk about the next H-bomb test in the La Fonda bar you but it would to an enemy agent. Wagging tongues, giving away our vital secrets? Within a radius of 100 miles of Albuquerque there is a heavy concentration of atomic weapons projects. The most important: the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory, where the atomic and hydrogen bombs were born; Sandia Base which includes a nuclear weapons school and nuclear weapon "hardware" center; the Air Force Special Weapons Center at Kirtland Air Force Base, and the Atomic Energy Commission office, which conducts the nuclear weapons tests. The U.S. could be losing World War III right here. This is the same fertile orchard of information in which Klaus Fuchs, David Greenglass, the Rosenbergs and Harry Gold gathered their harvest of espionage. Thousands of persons who sincerely believe themselves to be patriotic citizens are contributing daily to other harvests by never agents through sheer carelessness. These reporters took their findings to the security officers of these bases and asked them: "How can this be? What can be done?" Each expert has his own ideas; one fault lies in the very concentration of secret projects in one area. There's no single top official responsible for security here. Current security is top-sided, diluting the effort by trying to keep everything a secret. There's the opinion that America's basic security is still tailored to World War II needs and now is hopelessly inadequate. Another view holds that Americans just won't believe what a dirty game the enemy plays, won't button their lips. Officials are most concerned over the mass of secret information leaking out through loosened tongues at cocktail parties, bragadocio of minor officials and the gripes of workers. In addition, there is the geography of the area. You can't (See ATOMIC, Page 3)

DOES THIS STORY TIP OFF SPIES?

NUMEROUS hitherto unpublished facts about the big U.S. atomic bases in New Mexico are reported here. Do they violate security? Do they aid spies? The answer is "No." NEA reporters Larsen and Kline discussed their discoveries with responsible officials. There is no official machinery for clearance of censorship of such matters. Reporters and editors must be guided by their good judgment and patriotism. However, it is possible to assure readers that none of these incidents, as handled, is regarded as further endangering security. The sad fact is that security has already been imperiled by loose tongues of Albuquerque. These facts are presumed to be in enemy hands. No further damage can be done by revealing them. In fact, privately officials believe some good may be done by frank reporting of these revelations.

FARM PRICE PINCH—When farmers have to pay more for things they buy while their own income is dropping—there's trouble. That's what's happening now. Trace the dotted farm "price received" line above. During World War I it soared above the black "prices paid" line. In 1920 it nosedived. Result: trouble leading into the Great Depression of the 1930's. With World War II farm prices soared again. Result: "prosperity" now, farm prices have been generally dropping since 1951, while manufactured goods farmers must buy remain high. Result: that's what farmers, manufacturers and Washington are worried about. Chart data from National Industrial Conference Board.

East Texas Ready For C-C Conclave

LONGVIEW, Tex., April 6.—The East Texas Chamber of Commerce will meet at College Station and Bryan April 13-14. More than 500 business leaders from 72 counties are expected to attend.

County judges, mayors, city officials and county commissioners throughout East Texas have been invited to participate in the discussions. Huber M. Harrison, general manager of the ETCC, said Monday.

Dallas attorney John D. McCall will speak on financing of water conservation projects and State Highway Engineer DeWitt Greer of Austin will outline highway needs.

Other speakers will be Mary D. Cain of Summit, Miss., to speak on "One-Woman Rebellion," humorist Art Briesse of Little Rock, Ark.; Caesar Hohn of Independence, Houston oilman Hines H. Baker and Bryan Blalock of Marshall.

Resolutions to be submitted at the convention assembly include those favoring making welfare rolls public, against national price controls, favoring stricter laws on stream pollution, for a statewide turnpike authority, against the St. Lawrence seaway project, against secret treaties by the U. S. government and for greater industrial development of East Texas.

Hot Stove

BETHLEHEM, Conn. — UP — George Chaffield was arrested on theft charges after an ancient polished stove—coal hood and oil—was stolen from the old Bethlehem School. Police said a fire in the stove had to be put out before the thief could haul it away.

Court Hearings On Water Uses Set In Santa Fe

AUSTIN, April 6.—UP—Attorney General John Ben Sheppard was scheduled Monday to attend a hearing in New Mexico on use of the waters of the Rio Grande.

Hearings on the Texas-New Mexico controversy were to open in Santa Fe before John Raeburn Green, a U. S. Supreme Court master.

Texas has charged that New Mexico was using more than her share of water from the Rio Grande than was allowed in a pact between the two states and Colorado.

New Mexico brought the U. S. into the suit because Indian reservations use part of the water.

Sheppard indicated the hearings would be lengthy and said the dispute over water used on Indian lands alone may last a week.

Men's Fashion Pretty Weak

NEW YORK, April 6.—Men have fashion shows too, but without the models.

Right now the men are looking over the latest things in shirts, ties, handkerchiefs and hats for next fall. To a woman, these fashion shows would be regarded as complete flops. No music, no models, no drama, no plunging necklines. The fellows found out it was impossible to copy women's fashion shows.

Men don't like to watch other men walking up and down a runway," explained a shirt company executive. "And if you include girls to dress it up a little, nobody looks at the men."

So they just hang hats around the wall and prop shirts on display tables. The commenters are pretty fascinating by a woman's standards.

Takes a Beating
At a recent men's hat show, two spectators were tossing a moss green sports hat back and forth, encouraged by the manufacturer. "Knock it around," he urged. "See how much of a beating it'll take."

The manufacturer took the hat and crumpled it in his fist. It was one of a colorful new line of 85 sports hats with contrasting suede bands.

"We knocked our brains out getting the suede bands dyed to coordinate with sports jackets," a company man said. He patted the hat back into shape and went on to the next display.

Two homburgs, both midnight blue, hung on two pegs. The company man snatched one.

Conservative Trend
"That's the wrong one," gasped the sales manager. The demonstrator had been about to crush the homburg between his hands. He'd grabbed the old style homburg by mistake. The newest homburg is flexible.

At a men's shirt, tie and underwear show, they predicted that colored shirts will be more conservative.

A commentator said shirt collars will be shorter, with more rounded tips. Neckties will be narrower. And the newest necktie trend is a solid color with a single figure in the center. "A small, under-the-knot figure," the commentator explained.

The male audience's reaction to all this ranged from respectful silence to an occasional "not bad." In a women's fashion show such talk would mean: "Isn't that divine?"

Progress in finding and producing oil is an old story to the oil country. Nearly everybody has heard about the oil industry's day-to-day miracles in exploration and production.

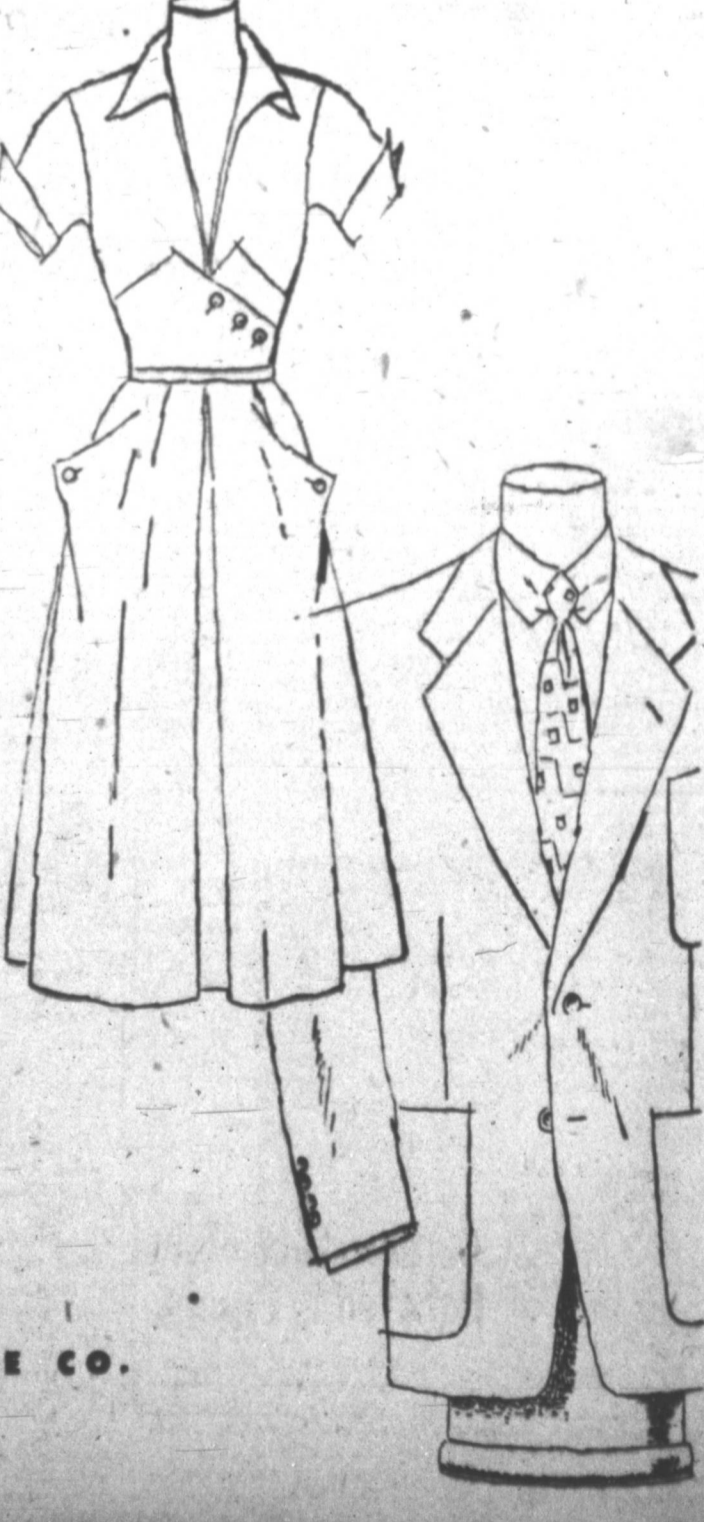

Now we all have a new series of miracles to wonder at—the transformation of petroleum hydrocarbons into chemical products of astonishing variety. These chemicals from petroleum have even added a new word to the American vocabulary—petrochemical.

Progress in the field has been amazing. The capital investment in new industries based on the petrochemicals has mounted to hundreds of millions. The new plants have created thousands of new jobs. And petrochemicals, as an industry, have provided a wider, a more complete, use of the country's oil resources.

Butadiene and butyl for synthetic rubber, toluene for TNT, solvents, aldehydes, and many other petrochemicals—even alcohols—are now produced in oil refineries. For example, the Humble Company, at its Baytown, Texas, refinery, is building facilities to manufacture paraxylene, the raw material for the new fabric called dacron.

The day may come, and very quickly, when you can be clothed from tip to toe in synthetic fabrics derived from petroleum; when petrochemicals provide the rubber for your tires, the plastics for your car's interior fittings, the fabric for the seat covers, the vehicle for, body paint and polish.

The petrochemicals spell progress... progress to which the oil industry contributes research, capital, manufacturing facilities and, most importantly, an enterprising spirit.

Indian Admits Killing Child

TULSA, April 6—UP—A 21-year-old Indian Monday confessed that he had strangled her to death when she threatened to tell his wife.

The suspect, Buster Youngwolfe, signed the confession in the presence of his wife and mother, after six Tulsa county officers had taken turns questioning him all night long.

Youngwolfe was arrested last Thursday night shortly after the girl's half-naked body was found hidden under a log in an abandoned coat pit.

The young Indian is the stepson of the dead girl's brother, Jimmy Warren, 27.

Youngwolfe is now on parole on a burglary conviction. Tulsa County Sheriff Bill Field said Youngwolfe finally agreed to sign a confession to the rape-murder providing his wife and mother could be present.

Youngwolfe said he killed the girl the night of March 12, the date she was reported missing from her home. He said his wife was out and the girl came by his home.

He said he took her into a nearby grassy field and had intercourse with her. He said she threatened to tell his wife on him, and he choked her with his hands.

He said she kicked and screamed and kept saying she would tell his wife. He said he then took her blue plastic belt, about one and one-half inches wide, from her waist and drew it tight about her neck.

The girl was found by her dog last Thursday. Her body was hidden by dirt and brush.

Officers found a tiny toy frog near the girl's body. Several persons identified it as similar to one they had seen in Youngwolfe's possession.

classify mountains. Nor can you bottle up the 88,000 persons dependent on the atomic program in New Mexico for their livelihood.

It isn't that security officials are asleep to the danger. Speaking before a recent American Legion meeting in the state, a high national intelligence officer said: "There probably are more enemy agents in New Mexico, per capita, than in any other state in the union."

Most every security officer with whom we talked, agreed privately that he works on that assumption.

In succeeding dispatches, we will report concrete and shocking examples of security leakage in the Albuquerque-Santa Fe area.

City To Open Bids On Moving Of Tank

Bids for moving the 220,000-gallon water tank from the S. Hobart pump station to the North Hobart pump station will be opened tomorrow during the weekly meeting of the City Commission, City Manager B. H. Cruce said this morning.

It was the only major item on the commission's agenda by this morning, Cruce added.

Other items to come before the commission are the second reading of the parking meter ordinance amendment and approval of March bids.

The meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce conference room because of the election being held in the City Commission meeting room.

The commission will be meeting tomorrow with a bare quorum, with Commissioner Crawford Atkinson acting as mayor. Mayor C. A. Huff will be on his way to Austin to attend the House committee hearing on formation of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority bill recently passed by the Senate.

ALLIES

The talks may lead to resumption of armistice negotiations.

Daniel Statement
Chief UN negotiator Rear Adm. John Daniel said he told the Reds Monday:

"We are prepared to repatriate directly through Panmunjon sick and wounded captured personnel specified in Article 109 of the Geneva Convention. We have not divided them into categories. We have total figures by nationalities which we are prepared to exchange."

The nine points submitted by the Allies are:

- 1. Panmunjon would be the site of the exchange.
- 2. Exchange would begin seven days after agreement is signed.
- 3. The UN would repatriate 500 prisoners per day. The Communist figures were left blank.
- 4. Twelve to fifteen prisoners would be brought to the exchange point at one time with each group accompanied by a roster with names, rank and nationality.
- 5. Each side would provide immunity from attack to 10-vehicle convoys bringing the POWs to Kaesong and Munsan with proper identification.
- 6. Description, time and other details of the convoys would be exchanged 24 hours before movement.
- 7. There would be free access to the neutral site with each delegation not to exceed 300 persons at one time including the "captured personnel" under control of each side.
- 8. Liaison officers will meet to arrange administrative details.
- 9. Provision for terminating date of the agreement.

The Communists raised the possibility of sending some categories of sick and wounded prisoners to neutral countries for the duration of hostilities.

May Broaden Terms
The Reds move indicated they may intend in this way to broaden the terms of the exchange to include thousands of prisoners who do not meet the rigid requirements of "seriously sick and wounded" under the Geneva Convention.

Chief Communist negotiator, Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho announced in the meeting that the Reds are ready to repatriate all sick and wounded prisoners of war "listed to be directly repatriated or accommodated in a neutral country."

Authorities Seek To Identify Youth Shot By Colorado Sheriff

HOT SULPHUR SPRINGS, Colo., April 6—UP—Authorities sought Monday to identify "positively" one of two youths shot to death near here Saturday night by a sheriff they held as hostage during a wild 30-minute automobile chase through the Colorado Mountains.

The two were killed when Grand County Sheriff Chauncey V. Van Pelt pulled a hidden revolver from his pocket and fired four rapid shots as the car approached a road block.

He bullets instantly killed Harold D. Glass, 21, of Perry, Okla., and another youth believed to be Roy Willard Kane, 23, of Pecos, Tex. Both were sought for the March 21 robbery and murder of Harold Cruse of Lamont, Okla.

Grand County Coroner Dallas I. Cox said Sunday that Kane had not been definitely identified and that a coroner's inquest set for Monday had been postponed until positive identification could be made.

Will Check Fingerprints
He said the youth believed to be Kane had the name "Roy" tattooed on his arm and that he answered the general description of Roy Willard Kane, one of the fugitives.

The coroner said fingerprints would probably be used Monday to identify the dead man positively.

In Pecos, Tex., a deputy sheriff said Roy Kane was there and alive. He said that probably Roy Kane's nephew, whose first name was not given, had stolen identification papers from Kane's uncle.

However, the deputy said the dead man was believed to be the one wanted in connection with the Oklahoma killing. He said the Roy Kane living in Pecos was not being held.

Chase Through Snowstorm
The two abducted Van Pelt at gunpoint and made him sit in the back seat of his patrol car while they sped over the zig-zag mountain road.

Van Pelt was investigating an accident earlier when Glass and Kane arrived at the scene in a wrecker. They forced the sheriff into his patrol car and Kane drove away as Glass held a gun on the officer.

The car was spotted later by the town marshal at Marshall, Colo., and other officers, who had been alerted by that time, began closing in on the fugitives.

The chase went on for 30 minutes through a blinding snowstorm as the fugitives exchanges shots with their pursuers.

Posse Combs Hills, Canyons For Kerrville Area Burglar

KERRVILLE, Tex., April 6—UP—A posse using bloodhounds searched the hills and canyons Monday for a home-raiding burglar who was believed using pepper in his shoes to throw the hounds off the scent.

The sheriff said he believed the man used pepper in his shoes to throw bloodhounds off the trail. He said hounds twice had refused to trail him after raids on homes, and he believed pepper was the cause.

The man stole a jeep in Kerrville last week and left it wrecked at the bottom of a 50-foot cliff. But usually he takes only clothing and food. Moore said his loot from homes in the Kerrville area wasn't of top value, indicating that the man usually took only what he needed to exist in the hills.

The sheriff said fingerprints from looted homes led to the identity of the "wild man." He said he is originally from Oklahoma and had served a sentence at Gatesville.

'High Noon' Bandit Suspect Being Held

HOUSTON, April 6—UP—Police planned a showup Monday for a 31-year-old truck driver who was jailed here Sunday, suspected of being the headline-burning "high noon" bandit of Houston.

Charles Porter Watts, the driver, who said he was from Palestine and who had been in a hotel since Saturday, was charged with misdemeanor theft of some small electrical appliances from a supermarket.

He was not told of being a suspect as the "high noon" bandit until after the police showup but Homicide Capt. Frank Murray said the description was "perfect."

Victims of holdups at Scott's Bakery and the Aulroy Estates office, both victims of the "high noon" bandit, were to view Watts Monday.

against Tom Rose for mayor. Ferrell talks tonight over KPDR for 15 minutes.

In Ward 1, the race for city commissioner has been a one-man affair with Gene Fatheree leading through the pre-filing days and drawing no opposition.

Ward 2, which went the longest without a candidate, blossomed out with four by the deadline for filing. However, the ward 2 dropped back to only three contenders — Frank Dial, Dale Pindson and A. J. Hindman — after Don M. Conley dropped from the race.

City Commissioner W. B. (A) Neil has only one opponent in his bid for reelection — W. J. Cornelson.

Also seeking re-election, Commissioner W. D. Varnon, Ward 4, drew two opponents — L. P. Fort and E. C. Schaffer.

Polis will be located at: City Hall, Commission Room, for Ward 1; Tom Rose Ford, for Ward 2; Boy Scout House, Campbell and Reid, Ward 3; and the IOOF Hall for Ward 4.

Construction Jobs Available In TEC

For the past few days, construction and other temporary jobs have been available in quantity through the local office of the Texas Employment Commission.

"Things are up somewhat," according to Bill Ragsdale, local manager, pointing out that white collar jobs remain pretty much on an even keel.

Beginning April 1 though, there were an extra number of temporary laboring jobs, Ragsdale said today.

And this morning there were an estimated 25 jobs on hand in the local TEC office, including stenographers (particularly, "there is one excellent job that would pay"), male and female bookkeepers, outside salesman, maid and housekeeper.

Pampa's employment picture is about normal for this time of year, Ragsdale continued, for "it's a slow period in the February-through-April period."

White collar jobs, especially, do not necessarily follow the temporary job scale, he concluded. "There are no high peaks — up or down."

Formosa Explosion Kills 25 Persons

TAIPEH, Formosa, April 6—UP—An explosion demolished an ammunition factory Monday, leveled a dynamite plant, killed 25 persons and wrecked a small village 10 miles south of here.

At least 270 persons were injured in the jarring blast, and Taipei police said 150 of them were in serious condition.

The explosion began in the ammunition factory Monday morning when old Japanese torpedoes in a military dismantling plant exploded during handling. It smashed the dynamite factory and caused widespread damage in the village of Nantsechu.

It was the worst such accident in the history of Formosa.

A huge fire followed the explosion, which rattled windows in Taipei.

Twelve hundred tons of ammunition in the plant shot into the air. Shrapnel was hurled in all directions.

A dynamite factory of the China Mining Corp. was hit by the full force of the blast. All 20 buildings in the factory were razed. Four women and two men workers were killed.

RUTH MILLETT

Of course she isn't being foolish. If she has found a man she wants to marry and who wants to marry her, if she has a chance to make a home for a man and to have his companionship through the years that are left, she is a lucky woman, not a foolish one. Her children may not be able to see things from her point of view. Children often don't. But at least they can keep quiet and let their mother make up her own mind. She is old enough to go ahead and make her own decision.

Manners Make Friends

Let him tell it, lady. Let him tell it. Forget he's your husband when he starts to tell a story. If you played a part in the incident he is telling about, it doesn't give you the right to "correct" his facts. Maybe it was the middle of June and not the middle of May. So what? If it is an old story, forget you've heard it. It won't enhance your husband's reputation as a storyteller to have you protest: "Oh, Jim you're not going to tell that story again." Let the man have his fun!

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
At two years of age, Dubby occasionally sucks his thumb. He sucks it in the park, sometimes, for example. When, not too strangely, he becomes depressed by the violent competitiveness of bigger children around the sand pile, Dubby will return to his mother's bench, lean his head against her warm flank—and put his thumb in to his mouth reflectively.

Does his mother reprove him? Does she remove the thumb from the mouth? Oh, no, Dubby's mother is far too well read and progressive for anything like that. She doesn't do the wrong thing but she says it. In Dubby's presence, to her bench companion, she says, "I'm not worried about his thumb-sucking yet. The habit is not really neurotic in a 2-year-old, I understand."

Dubby grows older. He learns to run, jump, to like the taste of ice cream and to refuse to nap in the afternoon. As he discovers new experiences of pleasure and power in the world around him, he not too strangely begins to make bigger demands upon it. When they are denied him, he is irritated. When the irritations pile up, not too strangely, he yells and kicks.

To Dubby's father, his mother, trying so patiently to "ignore" her outraged offspring, says anxiously in his presence, "This couldn't be a traumatic reaction to something we don't know about, could it, Bill?"

It would be kind of us to refrain from making amateur psychiatric diagnoses of children's conduct when they can hear us. It would be loving of us to allow them to suck their thumbs, have tantrums, tell us a lie or do anything else that seems necessary to them to do without labeling their conduct with scientific terms that we do not always understand and which may frighten them.

To my delight, I find that Dr. Benjamin Spock, that loyal friend of children, has expressed public disapproval of our efforts to psychoanalyze them without their permission and without the qualifications to do it.

At a recent convention of professional mental hygienists, he warned that too much concern with psychiatric and psychoanalytic principles only complicate child rearing for us and rob it of its spontaneity.

Now that this protective warning has been issued, I hope that another expert of Dr. Spock's stature will take the next step and tell us to stop trying to pry into all the "whys" back of everything Johnny says and does.

I hope he will say, "Parents, while it's interesting to know why Johnny is impudent to you, it is ultimately more important to him for you to know why you react to his impudence the way you do. Unless you are professionally trained in techniques on how to invade Johnny's emotional privacy, invading it can be a futile and dangerous adventure for both of you."

I hope he will say, "Know why you do what you do—and then you may discover that others do the same things for much the same basic reasons."

Unless we are all going to enter the psychiatric profession, we are not going to be able to plumb the mysteries of other people's motives until we have done some exploring of our own.

Give The Bride A Practical Gift That Is Personalized With Signatures

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Sure sign of summer days ahead is the rustle of wedding invitations in the mailbox. Nothing gladdens the heart like a strain of Lohengrin. Whether it's an announcement of a "family only" service, or an invitation to a grand ceremony, I like to give a little something to the bride.

Finding a "little something" for a little price is the trick these days. That's why I grasp at any ideas that put up the importance of modest gifts. More economical, and for sentiment's sake more endearing, is the gift that bears your personal touch.

A bit of hand sewing, for example, transforms plain towels, sheets, pillowcases and table linen into cherished one-of-a-kind gifts. If the handsew touch points up the bride's new status, she'll be thrilled. Monograms or a single initial are popular.

Clever new variation of the monogram is a scrip-embroidered copy of the bride's and bridegroom's own handwriting to trick up household linens. Good quality, unadorned Turkish towels and washcloths, for example, are not very expensive and you can add the fancy flourish yourself to make a "standout" gift.

The bride's first name is written on one towel and washcloth, the groom's on the other. You'll need to get a sample of their signatures, which can be copied in pencil or cursive. Cursive is best to towel or other linen and the embroidery stitched on the penciled outline. After the name is finished cut away the crinoline.

Embroidering the names can be done by hand. It's also a cinch to do it on a sewing machine. The girl who showed me how just set the dial to the numeral four on her zigzag stitch machine and "wrote" her name in thread.

Even with these up-to-the-minute machines, however, you still have to drop the feed bed and remove the presser foot to guide the towel without bunching or tearing when monogramming.

If you know the bride's color scheme in advance, your color choices can be keyed to it. If

The bride and groom's first names, copied from their own signatures and embroidered on this towel, make a wedding gift that will thrill the happy couple. Plain color towels were inexpensive but of good quality.

Sophistication Fashioned Into Sleek And Urban Approach With Fabric, Lines

ST. LOUIS—(NEA)—Though St. Louis turns out many fashions in junior sizes for the young, it also cuts the so-called "misses" sizes. These are sophisticated in line and fabric or in combinations of fabric, have a sleek and urban approach to fashion.

We show here the spring costume in two versions, both by Tremayne and both with an interesting fabric story. For sheath dress and jacket (left), the fabric is rayon, rayon and acetate in clever combination. Both dress and loose jacket are tabbed with touches of Irish linen; jacket lining is white.

Bomay cloth (a shaggy rayon) is the fabric used (right) in company with pure silk for suit with straight jacket and narrow skirt. The print of the bow-tied blouse is picked up and repeated in the jacket lining.

The box silhouette in textured fabric appears often in these St. Louis collections. Some of these jackets may be cinched in at the waist by a wide belt; others are meant to hang straight. Often, the

PAMPA SALUTES

The Carbon Black Industry

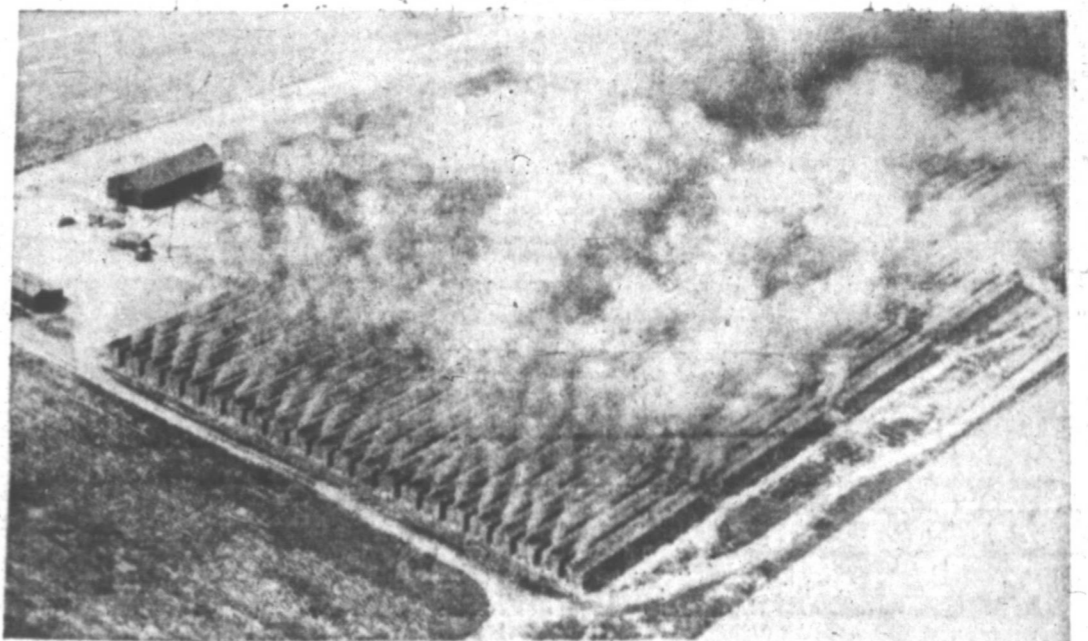

Carbon Black, hidden magic in a multitude of items used daily by Pampans, too often doesn't receive due credit for the part it plays in our everyday lives. But its absence would be quickly noticed. Tires, combs, ink, rubber coats and boots — an endless array of articles — depend upon the varying grades of black for quality, strength, body or color. Producing this vital product is the full time job of the many carbon black plants in this area — both furnace and channel. It is during this week, Texas Industrial Week, that honor is paid to these industries which utilize a great percentage of the natural gas produced in the Panhandle and provide additional income for Pampa and the area. The carbon black plants deserve credit for a job being well done.

Harvesters To Host Sandies Tomorrow

The Harvester baseballers, with their first victory under their belts, will continue their District 1-AA warfare tomorrow afternoon against the district favorite and defending champions — the Amarillo Sandies.

If weather permits, the Harvesters and Sandies will hook up in a double header at Oiler Park, starting at 1:30. The games will usher in the home season for the Harvesters.

The inexperienced Harvesters, showing improvement all along, defeated the Borger Bulldogs Saturday for their initial win of the season. The Green and Golds won the first game of a double-header, 6-1, Saturday, behind the three-hit pitching of Ed Dudley. The victory gave the Harvesters a 1-2 record in district play.

Amarillo moved into the driver's seat after the first week of district play by sweeping a three-game series from the Lubbock Westerners. The Sandies lead the 1-AA race with a 3-0 mark, followed by Borger with 2-1, Pampa with 1-2 and Lubbock with 0-3.

After tomorrow's twinnbill, the Harvesters and Sandies will conclude their initial three-game series Friday with a single game at Oiler Park.

Borger and Lubbock clash in a 3-game series this week at Lubbock. The first game is set for

Sportrait Jollin' Joe To Stay Out Of Baseball

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6 — Joe DiMaggio used to be called "Jollin' Joe" by the baseball writers. But now he's "Jollin' Joe."

He is out of baseball for the first time in nearly 20 seasons. But he doesn't feel a bit badly about it.

"If I had wanted to stay in baseball, I could have played another three years," said Joe. "I quit because I knew my reflexes weren't what they used to be. The pitchers were throwing them in there and I wasn't getting away from them. I wasn't hitting the way I should."

Won't Go Back to Baseball
The most famous of the DiMaggio baseball brothers doubts he'll ever go back into baseball in any capacity.

"I've never had any managerial ambitions," he says. "With a sly twinkle in his eyes, he adds: 'After all, if you are a manager you have to be able to get along with the newspapermen — know how to handle them as far as giving out good stories, keeping them posted, etc. Casey Stengel is an expert at that — maybe that may be part of the reason he is such a good manager. I doubt that I could handle it.'"

DiMaggio was on TV for the Yankees last year but, by mutual consent, he won't be back this season. He has a TV show of his own for children and that's the main reason he is flying to New York this week. He tapes his shows there.

Joe Has 'Lots Cooking'
"That show for the Yankees was 'alive' while I liked it, it was really hard to handle," says Joe.

What about the future?
"Oh, I've got a lot of things cooking. I plan to keep up my television show. I can't tell you about the other things. Then I do a lot of golfing and fishing and recently I've done some shooting with my son."

New Yorkers will find Joe pretty well bronzed from his days on the links and the ocean — and looking ready right now to step into the Yankee outfield — a thought that is farthest from his mind.

"This Mickey Mantle they have in center field now is a great young ball player," says Joe. "In two or three years the fans will be looking upon him as they have all Yankee greats in the past."

Which is quite a tribute — coming from one of the all-time Yankees greats, himself.

Training Briefs Castoff May Open Season For Redlegs

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., April 6 — Bud Podbielan is making a strong "pitch" for the Cincinnati Reds' opening day starting assignment.

The 29-year-old right hander, a Brooklyn Dodger castoff who had a 4-3 record with the Reds last season, became the first Cincinnati pitcher to go full nine innings when he scattered seven hits Sunday and beat the Washington Senators, 6 to 2. Both Washington runs were unearned.

Bill Coan, the Senators' leading batter with a .378 average, was lost to the team for about two months when he crashed into the fence while chasing a long hit Sunday and broke a bone in his right ankle. The Reds and Senators resume their series here Monday.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 6 — Big Chief Allie Reynolds, whose last pitching performance for the New York Yankees was impressive, will try to go the full nine innings Monday against the Birmingham Barons.

Reynolds, hampered by a back trouble "early" in spring training, pitched eight innings and yielded only one run against the Phillies last Wednesday. He will go as long as his arm feels strong Monday.

The Yankees lost to the Atlanta Crackers, 4 to 3 Sunday.

ARDMORE, Okla., April 6 — Catcher Clint Courtney of the St. Louis Browns was sidelined Monday for the third time during the spring training season because of a finger injury.

Courtney, who has a fracture of the middle finger on his right hand, will be out for at least 10 days. He aggravated the injury Sunday as the Browns lost to the Chicago Cubs, 9 to 8.

NEW ORLEANS, April 6 — If nothing else, the Pittsburgh Pirates can count on little Murry Dickson as their opening day pitcher next week.

Dickson, who is manager Fred Haney's most reliable pitching hope, allowed only two hits in the last four innings Sunday as the Pirates beat the New Orleans Pelicans 5 to 1.

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 6 — Bob Lemon gets the Cleveland Indians' pitching assignment Monday to try and snap the New York Giants' three-game streak in their exhibition series.

Lemon will pitch for the Giants for the first time since March 15, neigher team hit a homer Sunday as the Giants trimmed the Indians, 7 to 2, with the help of some fly pitches by Sal Maglie. The Giants walloped Bob Feller, Bob Chalkales and Lou Briskie for 16 hits.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 6 — Outfielder Jim Rivera of the Chicago White Sox sported one of the best records in spring training Monday, with a batting mark of .361 and 13 stolen bases in 14 tries.

Speedy Rivera went "four-for-four" and ran his streak to seven straight hits Sunday as the Sox defeated the Dallas Eagles, 4 to 1. Monday the White Sox meet the Philadelphia Athletics, who walloped Montgomery of the Sally League 15 to 6 Sunday.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 6 — Dressen advised him to grip the ball across the seams instead of the smooth leather. Meyer credits his increased effectiveness to that tip.

The former Phils pitcher looked sharp Sunday as the Dodgers beat the Milwaukee Braves and Warren Spahn, 3 to 1.

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 6 — Rookie third baseman Ray Jablonksi of the St. Louis Cardinals is living up to his minor league reputation as a long-ball hitter.

Jablonksi hit his fourth homer of the spring training season with a man on base Sunday to give the Houston Buffs a 3 to 2 victory over the Houston Astros in a game called in the eighth inning because of rain. Vinegar Bend Mizell pitched three-hit ball and struck out eight batters in a five-inning stint.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 6 — UP — Del Baker returned to the coaching lines for the Boston Red Sox Monday in an exhibition game against the Philadelphia Phillies.

Baker was assigned the first base coaching job by Manager Lou Boudreau. He rejoined the Sox last week.

The Red Sox' game against the Memphis Chickies Sunday was cancelled because of rain. The Phils walloped the Birmingham Barons, 14 to 2.

LAKELAND, Fla., April 6 — The Detroit Tigers break camp Monday and start a two-day reprieve in their spring exhibition schedule before opening a five-game northward tour Wednesday with the Cincinnati Reds.

In their final game in Florida Sunday, the Tigers beat the Reds' "B" team, 13 to 8.

was given 30 days to get its house in order.

State Rep. James Arrington of Stillwater, where Oklahoma A&M is located, said last week a preliminary survey indicated the school needed an appropriation of $1 million more than is called for in the state budget this year, in order to comply with NCA standards.

Murray said he didn't see how the school could ask for more money, and not let the taxpayers know what was wrong. He said A&M's secrecy has help make the public "curiously suspicious."

Meanwhile, Sen. Herbert Hope, chairman of the state Senate's Appropriations committee, predicted the Senate would refuse to appropriate the extra $1 million Arrington said was needed.

DOUG STRETCHES — Doug Lewis, veteran first baseman for the Oilers, is shown during a practice session at the Oiler training camp in Sweetwater. Lewis reported last Thursday but already he has displayed the form he had last season when he was among the leaders in both fielding and at bat. Lewis batted .339 in 67 games after joining the Oilers in midseason. He fielded .992 in 46 games at first base, the second best mark in the WT-NM League last season. Lewis played in the outfield in his other 21 games for the Oilers last season and did not commit an error in 48 chances. (News Photo)

Ball Player Dies During PCL Game

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 6 — A 26 year old outfielder died of a reported heart attack minutes after he was struck on the field.

Herb Gorman, outfielder for the San Diego Padres of the Pacific Coast League, died Sunday in the sixth inning of a game between the Padres and the Hollywood Stars.

Gorman signaled teammates from his outfield position that he wasn't feeling well. In the dressing room he told Padre Manager Lefty O'Doul:

"Those sausages I had for breakfast didn't agree with me."

Moments later he lapsed into a consciousness and was rushed to a hospital. Ambulance attendants said he died on the way.

Gorman's wife, who married the PCL star less than a year ago, was in the stands watching the game.

LYNWOOD, Calif., April 6 — UP — The body of Jim Thorpe, whose sports exploits won him acclaim as the world's greatest all-around athlete, will be shipped to Shawnee, Okla., Tuesday for burial near his birth place.

Friends here will pay their final homage to Thorpe at services beginning at 8 a. m. Monday at Malloy Bros. mortuary. His body will lie in state until 7 p. m., when a rosary will be recited.

Tuesday, his remains will be shipped to Shawnee by Southern Pacific railroad. His body is scheduled to arrive there Wednesday night.

The big Indian whom King Gustav of Sweden once called "the greatest athlete in the world" died of a heart attack at the age of 64 at his trailer home in nearby Lomita March 28.

Members of Thorpe's Sac and Fox tribe in Shawnee announced earlier that a mausoleum shrine would be erected in his honor.

Friends here said interment would be on April 13.

Thorpe was born on a farm near Prague, Okla., in 1888 and won his first fame playing football at Carlisle Indian school.

He reached the high point of his career at the Olympics games in Stockholm in 1912, when he won both the decathlon and the pentathlon.

Effort Made to Keep Browns in St. Louis
ST. LOUIS, April 6 — UP — A move was underway Monday to keep the St. Louis Browns in St. Louis and buy out the club's present owner, Bill Veck.

A group of businessmen met Saturday to elect J. Herndon Kirkland, head of a travel agency, chairman of an organization pledged to keep the Browns from moving to Baltimore or anywhere else.

Willis E. Johnson, former traveling secretary of the Browns, was named secretary of the group.

Kirkland said the group already has pledged $100,000 toward purchase of the Browns. He said Sportman's Park will be sold to the Cardinals and the Browns will rent from the Redbirds if the deal goes through.

Jack Kramer Hikes Lead Over Sedgman
PHILADELPHIA, April 6 — UP — Jack Kramer led Frank Sedgman, 37 matches to 25, Monday as their professional tennis tour moved here for a one-night stand.

Kramer, defending pro champion from Los Angeles, downed Sedgman, former amateur champion from Australia, 5-8, 4-6, 6-4, Sunday night in New York.

Meanwhile, Pancho Segura of Ecuador scored a 6-3, 6-4 win over Australia's Ken McGregor to lead that series, 48-18.

Team Plagued With Youth . . . Bosox Two Years From Flag Winner

This is another in a series on the 1953 prospects of the major league clubs.

By LEO H. PETERSEN
CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 6 — Continuing his accent on youth program, Manager Lou Boudreau of the Boston Red Sox is going to gamble again this season, figuring it will pay off with a pennant in 1955.

Noted for their power in recent years, the 1953 team will feature speed, defense and Boudreau hopes, gill-edged pitching.

"With our lack of power, we'll need mighty fine pitching if we hope to finish in the first division," Boudreau explained. "But our aim this year is to develop more youngsters who will win championships for us in the future."

Found Gernert, White in 1952
"Last year, for the long pull, we came up with two mighty fine youngsters in first baseman Dick Gernert and catcher Sam White. Now I'm concentrating in developing youngsters for the other spots."

In line with that program, his present plans are to start 1953 with an outfield of Gene Stephens and Jim Pierall in center. Boudreau believes, despite their lack of experience, they could develop into one of the finest defensive trios in the league.

Both Stephens and Pierall were with the club part of last season. Stephens hit only 226 in 21 games before he was sent back to Louisville. Pierall hit .287 in 36 games and then was plagued by illness. Umphlett hit .378 at Louisville last season, batting in 80 runs.

Dom DiMaggio will not be ready to play until after the season opens because of his eye operation. The veteran Hoot Evers is expected to fill the spot.

It looks like rookie Milt Bolling has beaten out the veteran Johnny Freeman, an eight game winner with Louisville, may win starting berths along with the veteran, Marv Grison 12-10 with the White Sox last year.

Other hurling possibilities include Ivan Delock 4-9 Ken Holcombe, Bill Werle, Bill Kennedy and Hector Brown. Werle, who was with the Pirates and Cardinals last year, could win a starting role.

Plentiful Supply of Pitchers
Mel Farnell 12-12, Sid Hudson 10-13, Mickey McDermott 10-9 and Willard Nixon 5-4 will be the starting pitchers when the season opens with the veteran Ellis Kinder 5-6 working into the rotation around June 1 when the weather gets warm. Boudreau will use Kinder sparingly until that time because of the back trouble which plagued him last season.

Two rookies, Bennett Flowers, who won 11 and lost 15 at San Diego last season, and Marshall Freeman, an eight game winner with Louisville, may win starting berths along with the veteran, Marv Grison 12-10 with the White Sox last year.

"TRUCE-OMETER" TRACES PULSE OF KOREAN PEACE TALKS—The recent Chinese Communist move to reinstitute the Korean peace talks has caused hopes of the free world to rise, but before you become too optimistic, you had better have a look and see how previous hopes were dashed. Newschart above shows how world aspirations have soared to optimism and plummeted to pessimism and crisis with each turn of the Korean truce negotiations.

Sweetwater Wife Confesses Slaying

SWEETWATER, Tex., April 6 — UP—Mrs. Elbertine Lamb, 35-year-old doctor's assistant, was held in $15,000 bond Monday on a charge of killing her husband.

The blood-soaked body of Rodney Lamb, 37, a carpenter, was found Saturday night in the basement bedroom of the couple's home. Justice of the Peace Leonard Teston said Lamb was shot through the head and there were two gashes on the back of his skull.

Mrs. Lamb, mother of two children, admitted shooting her husband Saturday morning because of domestic troubles, police said. She said she went to work, then returned home that afternoon to report the shooting to police.

Little Eisenhower May Be Comedian

WASHINGTON, April 6 — UP—Five-year old David Eisenhower may grow up to be a comedian.

Young Master Eisenhower kept an audience of 2,500 to 3,000 persons entertained for several minutes Sunday while his mother and grandparents were in church.

He and his sister, Barbara Anne, 4, had gotten out of Sunday school early and were waiting for their elders in a White House limousine.

Soon waves of laughter were rising from the crowd of churchgoers and Easter paraders gathered on fashionable Connecticut Avenue.

Investigation disclosed that David was amusing them by peering over the edge of the car door and "making faces" at passers-by.

Britons Find Catalog Is A Long-Term Issue

LONDON, April 6 — UP—The British Museum is cataloguing its library and hopes to have the job done by the year 2,036.

By that time the early volumes of the catalog will be 100 years out of date.

Principal keeper William Oldman said Monday eight scholars are cataloguing the books. They have been at it 22 years now and have reached the letter D.

Former President Gets 'Short-Sheeted'

COCONUT ISLAND, T.H., April 6 — UP—Former President Harry S. Truman, on a vacation here, said Monday that he was "short-sheeted" by his "Coconut Island cabinet."

Mr. Truman's "cabinet," which consists of his host, Edwin Pauley's three children and four other youngsters, doubled up the sheets on the former chief executive's bed before leaving for the mainland Friday night.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 6 — UP—Thieves broke into Anderson's grill here and stole $25 in cold cash. The money had been concealed inside a refrigerator.

Merchants Take Care Of Those Who Will Miss The Coronation

By GAY PAULEY
NEW YORK, April 6 — UP—Americans too poor to go to the British coronation in June will get a touch of it anyway. The merchandise people are seeing to that.

Already you can buy everything from coronation cawls to coronation carpets, from coronation dolls to coronation joke books. And retailers still have two months to go.

There are coronation salads, free trips to the event June 2nd, tied in with the promotion of some product such as coffee, and coronation tiaras for as little as 98 cents or as much as $50,000.

The nation's poultry industry has gone all out. The Poultry and Egg National Board, with headquarters here, has sent food writers a formal invitation — with the design of a crown on the cover — which reads:

"You are hereby commanded to attend the coronation of her majesty, Queen Chicken, on Coronation Chicken Day, April 10."

Perhaps the biggest promotion is being done in fashion, particularly in the jewelry field where the tiara is selling like popcorn at the circus.

Every Girl A Queen
"Women love 'em, absolutely love 'em," said one salesgirl in a Fifth Avenue store, "It's like a queen."

One five and dime chain has tiaras for 98 cents, and the jewelry association has made a special one, valued at $50,000, for building home laundry equipment for 44 years, the ABC-O-Matic works on an entirely different principle of washing, according to Mr. Meaders.

"The secret of ABC-O-Matic's amazing efficiency," he explained, "is the 'shampoo' action of its agitator — an exclusive ABC feature. This unique agitator does not spin or oscillate, but pulsates to-and-fro, gently flexing and unflexing the clothes, just like a housewife sponges out things by hand. "Washing begins with a small amount of soap or detergent, producing a rich, creamy lather that quickly loosens the dirt, before the main washing action, with full water supply, gets under way. After the washing cycle is completed, the washer automatically triple rinses the clothes in fresh water, flushing dirt and suds up over the top of the tub and down the drain. "Spin - air" drying then takes over and damp-dries the clothes, ready for the line or dryer."

Additional features of the new ABC-O-Matic, Mr. Meaders pointed out, include simple dial control, gearless automatic drive, automatic signal light, double-coated porcelain tub inside and out, convenient top-loading, and simple hook-up to water supply.

MARINE BIRDMEN'S CHAPEL—While thousands of UN troops attended Easter services at makeshift frontline chapels, Marine airmen jammed this chapel near their Korean air field to worship the risen Christ.

Study Of Puppet Co-Stars Essential To TV Performers

NEW YORK, April 6—Some may think that a puppet is just a puppet, but that isn't the attitude of Bill Sears.

Bill, who comes from a long line of people and has plenty of background of his own, believes you can't just create a puppet out of a few pieces of material and put it to work on television without a lot of second thoughts.

"You have to have a file on those fellows that would satisfy the FBI," he said. "If you don't know all about them — what makes them tick — they will trip up a mere human who's working with them right in the country's living rooms. And that's an embarrassing place to be tripped."

Bill is something of an authority because he is the Philadelphia radio and TV personality who is the mellow philosopher and interlocutor each Sunday on the "In the Park" program on the CBS-TV network. His co-stars are four puppets.

Everybody's Number

"The reason I get along so well with these characters is that I have their numbers," Sears continued. "Of course, they have my number, too, but we won't go into that."

"For example, there's Albert, the chipmunk, who lives in a hollow tree on the zoo grounds where the action occurs. Now, Albert knows that a chipmunk ought to live in the ground. He tried doing that, but it resulted in him getting head colds. So, he lives in this tree."

"Albert is a teen-age type but he has a lot of uncommon sense. He's friendly and he will go along with anything his pals dream up, although he knows from experience that he's apt to be the fall guy. His patience is not limitless, however. Like most people, he can be pushed only so far and so often."

A Decent Chap

"We have a giraffe named Sir Geoffrey. Distinguished (a m l l y background, naturally. But don't get him started on that because he will discuss it for hours. Sir Geoffrey isn't happy unless he has a lot of lofty schemes in work. He would spend much of his time in solitary instead of having the run of the zoo, if Bill didn't get him out of scrapes. But in spite of everything, he's an awfully decent chap, you know."

"The background of Calvin, the Crow isn't the sort you talk about very much. Fact is, he has an uncle even Calvin won't discuss. Calvin has a lot of worldly wisdom and at first encounter he seems to be a pretty rough sort, but there's a big heart under those black feathers. Mostly he has put aside his old ways and is a reformed character, possibly the most reformed character you ever met. He should be. I have to reform him almost every week. surprised if someone suggested it was odd he was able to talk to animals. He's just never thought about it. That's part of his wealth and wisdom."

House Detective Quiets 'Em ... Hank And Wife Come Out Even In Spat Over 'Showboat' Songs

By HENRY McLEMORE

LAS VEGAS — If honesty were not only the best policy, but the policy of this column, I would tell you that just as dawn broke over the mountains this morning Mary and I yanked into our levis, threw saddles over two spirited palominos, and galloped into the desert.

But that wouldn't be honest. It would have been a nice thing to have done, I know. There we would have breathed air fresher than that of a movie house at two a.m. Beyond the mountains colors no artist could duplicate would please our eyeballs (how's that for word imagery. John Keats?), and overhead stars would give us their final blinks (how about that, Comrade Shelley).

Truth is, we were in Room 148 of our hotel, fighting like thieves. Fighting over nothing, after one of the happiest evenings we have had in Las Vegas. We had just helped give Jimmy Durante a final send-off, had a nightcap of healing medicinal herbs with Morris Kleinman, and were healthy, happy, and in love.

While I was looking for a fresh nightshirt, Mary, for no reason on the Lord's green earth, started singing songs. While the cold cream was going on she sang "My Bill." Then she sang, "Can't Help Lovin' That Man."

"Don't you just love the songs from 'Showboat'?" she asked. "Try to name another musical that ever had four such great hits as 'My Bill,' 'Can't Help Lovin' That Man,' 'Make Believe,' and 'Of Man River.'"

I wish I'd kept my mouth shut, but I didn't.

"Only three of them are from 'Showboat,'" I said. "Can't Help Lovin' That Man" wasn't in the show."

"It was, too," Mary said, baring one fang. "I saw Ava Gardner in it less than a year ago."

"Ha," I said. "You saw Ava Gardner. I saw Jules Bledsoe and Helen Morgan in the original Broadway show."

"Just because you're old and creaky doesn't mean you know everything," Mary shouted.

The man upstairs tapped, and the house phone asked if we'd quiet down.

"Did Ava sit on a piano when she sang 'My Bill'?" I asked.

"She stood by one," Mary said, clenching her fists.

"That shows you are a school-girl, little one, so go to bed and admit I'm right."

"I wouldn't go to bed for ten years when you are acting so stupid," Mary said, advancing toward me with her knuckles rolled.

I was foolish enough to say that I still didn't believe the song was sung in "Showboat."

What happened after that resulted in the man upstairs calling the house detective.

"Are you man and wife?" he demanded.

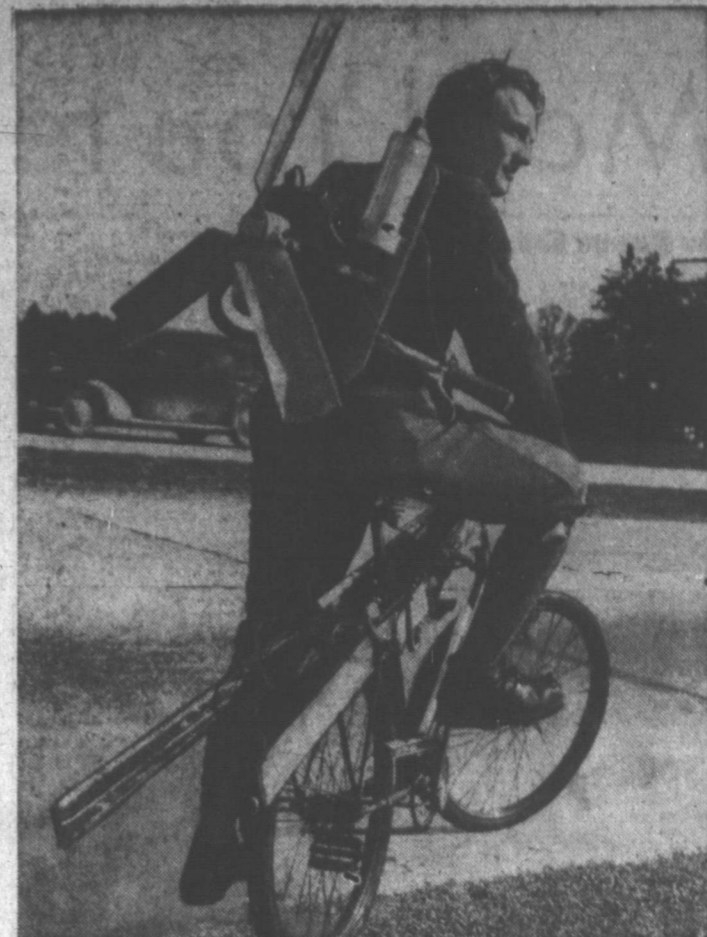

"We are right at this second," I said, "but don't lay more than 8 to 5 that we will be in five minutes."

"Why don't you two go to sleep," the house dick said. "It's late."

"How do you know when it is late in Las Vegas?" I asked, drawing my dressing gown around my nightshirt.

"Do you know anything about 'Showboat'?" I asked.

"Nothing," he answered, "except that both of you are making show-boats of yourselves."

BREEZY BIKE—When Josef Redenboeck blows in from Munich, Germany, he does it in a big way. The enterprising mechanic motorized himself instead of the bike by strapping an engine and propeller to his back. The prop creates enough wind to push Joe and his bike along at a nice clip.

Worth more... and why

There's an old saying that a thing is worth what someone is willing to pay for it. Well, if you could tour the wholesale and retail used car sections around the country, if you could survey hundreds of used car lots you would discover that used Fords bring higher prices than any competitive make—and by substantial amounts.

THAT'S WHY we feel our '53 cars should not be compared with cars in the same price range. Not because our competitors don't do a good job—obviously they do—but because we feel Ford Cars have more in common with the highest priced automobiles. The similarities are far greater than the differences.

For example, today, the most expensive cars in this country have V-type, 8-cylinder engines. Ford Cars have had this exact same type of engine for over 20 years.

What's more astounding, the current Strato-Star V-8 sells for hundreds of dollars less than several other makers charge for a six-cylinder car. Now there's nothing wrong with a Six but they do cost less to make. Ford makes a Six—the most modern overhead valve Six in the industry. And if it's a six-cylinder car you want, Ford has it and for less money than the V-8, which is as it should be.

What about ride? Here's another Ford similarity with high-priced cars... Riding Comfort. One of the misconceptions for many years has been that weight—sheer weight—is what it takes to make a car ride well. Ford has found that you can make a 3000-pound car ride softer and hold the road better by far than many cars that weigh a full 1000 pounds more. In the '53 Ford, for example, front end road shock has been reduced up to 80%. We say it compares most favorably with the heaviest cars sold today.

What about automatic transmissions? It would take the fingers of both hands to count the various kinds of automatic and semi-automatic transmissions on the market today. The one we offer is called Fordomatic. It is the most versatile on the market, it represents the most profound consideration of engine-to-wheel power transfer—and that it does the best job for our engines isn't even open to question. It shifts better than you could shift by hand.

What you can see is also important. Here again Ford Cars lead not only in their price field but in the medium and upper brackets as well. Ford visibility is Full-Circle Visibility. This means huge, curved unobstructed glass area, front and rear, plus side windows that allow all passengers what the hotels call "room with a view."

Appearance? A higher price, of course, does not make a car more beautiful. Conversely, beauty in a Ford comes "for free." Ford has found that it costs no more to develop a beautiful car than one that is less pleasing in appearance. You can drive up to the most exclusive doorways in the world and feel perfectly at home in your Ford. Fords "belong" . . . in exactly the same social category as the finest, one-of-kind creations. After all, a Ford is a custom creation multiplied.

What about running costs? Here's one place that Ford's advantages are obvious. For oil and gas economy Ford has the big cars whipped. Ford parts cost less. Ford service charges are less. Ford tire mileage is thousands of miles greater. And, Ford depreciation is the lowest of any car on the market—bar none.

What are Fords made of? Some people have the idea that the costliest cars are made of "better stuff." It's true that some high-priced cars have costlier upholstery and fittings. What Ford has is so good, both in durability and appearance, that you probably could not tell the difference. You might even prefer it, because of its better design and more pleasing appearance.

Then there's the question of sheet metal. If you were to measure and analyze the sheet metal structure in the most expensive car, you most likely would find it identical in thickness to the corresponding panels in Ford.

After all, then, what is the difference between a Ford and the costliest car?

In our opinion, the difference is largely a matter of dimensions, weight (and the power required to move it) plus the distinction of owning a car that not so many other people own. The desire for these things is understandable . . . and probably justified for people who are willing to pay the price to satisfy it.

As to comparing Ford with other cars in its price range, by all means do so if you wish. But, as we said before, you'll get a better picture of Ford's value by comparing with cars that are most like Fords—those that are priced up to twice as much. In fact, we think you'll quickly begin comparing the other cars with Ford—because the 1953 Ford has really established the New Standard of the American Road.

Thief Is Well-Armed

DALLAS, April 6 —UP— At least one Dallas thief is well armed, by ancient as well as modern standards. L. A. Dyer told police someone broke into his office over the weekend and stole a .45 caliber Derringer, of the type used to assassinate President John F. Kennedy.

NATTY CHIMP—Looking as though he were practicing for the Easter parade, Pandora, the Philadelphia Zoo's fun-loving chimp takes a walk in the balmy spring air. No one knows where he got the egg or the sailor straw.
