WEST TEXAS — Generally fair through Sunday except for widely scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers. Not much change in temperatures.

BEATING THE HEAT — during Saturday's 103-degree record for the year in the manner of Miss Verle Lee Armstrong, 1304 S. Barnes, above, may be a bit far-fetched and impractical, but it's an idea, probably entertained by many Pampans. As the heat and drought continued this past week, Pampans sought the comfort of their air-conditioners, ice water and damp towels to the tune of 7,000,000 gallons of water Thursday and 7,555,000 Friday, all-time high water consumption in the city. ROK Government Plans To Punish Demonstrators

Chinese Division Destroyed By America's 15th Regiment

COMMANDER REPORTS
CENTRAL FRONT, Korea, Sunday, June 14—UP—An American regimental commander said Saturday night his fighting men had destroyed a Chinese division in three nights of brutal assaults against "Outpost Harry."
"The 74th Chinese Division has been destroyed as a fighting unit," said Col Russell F. (Red) Akers, of Washington, D.C.
Early Sunday his troops of the 15th Regiment, Third Division, hurried back the third consecutive Red attack against the strategic outpost guarding the approach to the vital Chorwon valley.
No Sleep in 72 Hours
Akers, who has gone sleepless for 72 hours, said at least 3,000 Reds have been slaughtered by Americans determined to hold on to "Harry" at all costs.
"That does not count the casualties from bombing planes and the big corps artillery," the red-haired colonel said.
Allied casualties in the bloody fighting also have been heavy, but Akers said "we have to hold 'Harry'."
Red and U N artillery have pounded the outpost until the bunkers have caved in and the dead of both sides are left buried under eight feet of rubble, a battalion staff officer said.
"Since the first attack we have been shelled with 57,000 rounds and a total of 9,000 Chinese troops have been thrown at us," the officer said.

Warning Follows Riot Against Truce

TOKYO, Sunday, June 14
—UP—South Korea alarmed by increasing mob violence in the anti-armistice demonstrations, today threatened "severe punishment" for acts which might lead to "hostile sentiments" between South Korea and its allies.
A new regulation passed at a cabinet meeting Saturday was disclosed Sunday, and broadcast to the nation. The warnings apparently had some effect since no new demonstrations developed in Seoul or Pusan Sunday morning.
Both Seoul and Pusan, the wartime capital, were scenes of riotous demonstrations Saturday by South Koreans protesting against the armistice terms.
Gen. Paik Sun Yup, ROK army chief of staff, recalled hurriedly from the United States, conferred in Seoul Sunday with Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, commander of the Eighth Army, and ROK Defense Minister Shin Tae Yung. The subject of the meeting was not immediately disclosed.
The new cabinet regulation was announced by Dr. Hong Kee Karl, official government spokesman. He said:
"Those who force their way into government, public and private facilities or American or United Nations establishments, commit acts of violence and obstruct traffic, shall be regarded as subversive elements and subjected to severe punishment."
Karl said the regulation was issued because "inconsiderate acts" might lead to "hostile sentiments" between Korea and her Allies.
Meantime at Panmunjom, staff officers met at 11 a. m. (8 p. m. Cst Saturday) to iron out the cease fire line and other final details of an armistice. Agreement on the cease fire line apparently depended on the Communists who are engaged in bloody attacks all along the 155-mile front in an attempt to seize favorable ground before the shooting ends.

Military Faction Seizes Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia, June 13—UP—Gen. Gustavo Rojas Pinilla, commander of Colombia's armed forces, seized control of the government Saturday in a bloodless coup, a high army source reported.
Army troops backed by 10 tanks surrounded and took over the residence of President Laureano Gomez.
Gomez only a few hours earlier had reassumed his presidential duties after an absence of 19 months because of poor health.
The Colombian national radio announced that Rojas Pinilla would address the nation in a special broadcast.
At the same time a meeting was scheduled in the home of ex-president Mariano Ospina Perez among members of Gomez's conservative party who have recently been in opposition to Gomez.
Among those attending the meeting were ex-foreign minister Eduardo Zuleta Angel who was president of the Bogota Pan American conference in 1948.
A servant at the home of President Gomez said by telephone that the president was home but could not come to the telephone.

Reds Launch New Assault

TOKYO, Sunday, June 14—UP—Two thousand Chinese Communists slammed into an Allied outpost on the central Korean front Sunday in a vain "human sea" attempt to seize commanding positions before a cease-fire line is drawn.
The Reds also hurled 235 troops against battered "Outpost Harry" where American soldiers of the 15th regiment have killed or wounded nearly 3,000 of the enemy in four nights of fighting. The Reds were again beaten back after 90 minutes.
The "human sea" assault in which the attackers came in waves despite their losses in an attempt to overwhelm their opponents by sheer weight of numbers—was made on an outpost north of Kumhwa, in the center of the 155-mile battleline around midnight.
It carried to within 15 yards of Allied trenches before it died in a horror of mangled bodies.
United Press War Correspondent Al Kaff reported from the Outpost Harry sector that an American tank ambush apparently wrecked a Communist plan to throw a stronger attack against the Third Division defenders.
"Tanks rolled into no man's land shortly after midnight. Infantrymen dug in around the tanks and waited until 100 Communists moving toward Harry stepped into the trap."
Tank guns, machineguns, rifles and carbines opened up. Fire poured into the Red group for four hours until the last of the enemy managed to break out in frantic retreat.
Air Force and Navy planes swarmed over North Korea Saturday and through the night, raking enemy road networks and plastering enemy airstrips. The battleship New Jersey and two destroyers also pounded enemy positions on the east coast.

Author Dies Of Attack

ROHMOND, Va., June 13—UP—Dr. Douglas Southall Freeman, Pulitzer prize winning historian, died Saturday night at his home here from a heart attack. He was 67.
Freeman, whose biographical works on Gen. Robert E. Lee placed him as top authority on the life of the Confederate hero, had given his regularly scheduled radio broadcast this morning.
"Freeman died at his home at 4:30 p. m."
As the nation's top military historian, Freeman was a past master at converting the "legendary" dead into durable heroes. He spent 19 years of a four-volume biography of Robert E. Lee, the head of the Confederate forces in the civil war, "Lee's Lieutenants," a three-volume study of command, took another six years to produce.
"I know where Lee was and what he did every minute of the civil war," Freeman once said. "But I wouldn't dare to presume what he was thinking."

Farmer To Begin Planting Monday

By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer
T. D. Hodges, area wheat and row crop farmer, will start planting feed Monday unless it rains—and he doesn't need rain now.
He has just completed installation of a new irrigation well and pump and one-fourth of his 640-acre farm has been watered and is to be ready for planting grain sorghums Monday.
Hodges' well is among the very few throughout the area. Top of Texas farmers have been somewhat skeptical about irrigation here in the past.
But this farmer is proud of the 1,000-gallons per minute his pump is producing from a depth of 280 feet and feels that it will pay off.
Other area farmers are not so sure, though. Many of them think that the cost is prohibitive and the available water supply too deep in the ground.
Ralph Thomas, Gray County farm agent, takes a half-way position on the problem—"A well isn't worthwhile for just what it maintains, but it can really pay off for grain sorghums and alfalfa." Potatoes, onions and lettuce—like in the Hereford area—would work, too.
Present cost of wheat would have something to do with a well's feasibility, the agent added.
Very few farmers in the Top of Texas area have done much with irrigation wells, Thomas points out. There's a Loyal Bird, some three miles southeast of the old Hopkins

Tornadoes Over Nation Have Killed Total Of 478 Persons

CHICAGO, June 13—UP—Tornadoes this year already have killed 478 persons, injured 3,086 and inflicted property damage estimated at more than $180 million.
This year promises to set a record for the number of tornadoes, but not for death and destruction.
So far the weather bureau has an unofficial count of 255 twisters across the country. The record for a full year was set in 1951 when 300 tornadoes were reported.
But the number of dead and injured this year is far from a record. In 1893, 3,000 persons were killed in a single month.
124 Texans Killed
In this year's worst disaster, 142 persons were killed in Michigan and adjacent Ohio the night of June 8. Of the total, 110 were killed at Flint, 13 elsewhere in Michigan and 19 in Ohio, most of them in the Cleveland area.
In the year's next worst disaster, 124 were killed May 11 when tornadoes hit Texas, Waco, where 36 city blocks were leveled, had 114 dead. St. Angelo suffered 10 dead. In the third worst tornado disaster of the year, 93 were killed in the Worcester, Mass., area June 9. About 800 were injured and damage was estimated at $75 million.
Tornadoes are the phantoms of meteorology. There is much still unknown about them, according to weather experts.

'Pauper' Dies Wealthy Man

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 13—UP—Elmer DeCastro, a shabby little man who saved string and worn-out light bulbs, turned out to have been a wealthy man.
Everyone thought him penniless, but an inventory filed in probate court showed Saturday that he left an estate valued at $225,000.
For many years DeCastro wandered the streets, asking of passers-by: "Any old light bulbs, any old string?"
Sympathetic housewives often gave him a free meal, and so did restaurants.
The obscure little man had worked here for many years as a laborer, store clerk, and at other odd jobs.
About 20 years ago, he quit work and began saving string and light bulbs. He told friends the metal at the base of the light bulbs someday might be valuable. And you can always use string, he used to say.
When he died last Jan. 13 in his 70's, friends found huge balls of twine and thousands of discarded light bulbs stored in DeCastro's modest frame house, where he lived alone.
His acquaintances were dumbfounded at the size of his wealth. The inventory showed $156,182 in cash, of which $195,100 was found in a safety deposit box and $1,082 in a bank account.

Summer Program To Open Monday

Pampa's summer recreation program gets underway at 8 a. m. Monday and is scheduled daily until 11 a. m. through July 14.
The first hour each day will be devoted to boys' sports on school playgrounds and girls' sports in gymnasiums. Boys and girls will meet in the gymnasiums for games the second hour and every other day boys will return to playgrounds.
On alternate days at 10 a. m. both groups will swim at the municipal pool. First fifteen minutes of the swimming hour will be devoted to lessons for beginners.
Another swimming program will be conducted at Sam Houston School playground, according to Homer Craig, director.
The director recommended that children leave all valuables at home on swimming days as the basket system at the pool will not be used.

Water Consumption Abnormally High

No cause for alarm can be seen in the record-breaking water consumption of the city of Pampa, Mayor Tom Rose said Saturday following two straight days of more than seven million gallons of water used locally.
City pumps, operating on a 24-hour basis, are supplying adequate water, according to E. S. Lowry, city superintendent of water. And although consumption rates have more than doubled normal use, reserve water used during the day is picked back up at night.
The Thursday high of 7,555,000 gallons and Friday's use of 7,555,000 gallons was expected to be lowered over Saturday and Sunday during week-end out-of-town trips.
This abnormal use of water is accredited to the sustained drought in the area. "It's been this hot before, but never this dry," Mayor Rose commented.

New Water Line For South Pampa Starts Monday

Work is scheduled to begin Monday morning on the digging of ditches for an estimated 3,900 feet of 10-inch water line.
Line will stretch from the Hobart St. pump station, through three blocks of an alley south of Ripley, then through the alley between Sumner and Faulkner to McCullough, according to City Manager B. H. Cruce.
The job should take about three weeks, Cruce figured.
"It will bring better water pressure" to the Lavender, Finley, Banks and Lamar sub-divisions, the city manager continued, pointing out that the pipe has already been string.

Skellytown Schoolteacher Awaits Port Call On Japanese Assignment

BY RO ELLISON
Pampa News Staff Writer

SKELLYTOWN — A young lady who says, "I was born and raised in the Panhandle and have never been anywhere except to California last summer," is beginning to realize a life-long ambition to go abroad "just anywhere."

Miss Peggy Pemberton, grade school teacher in Skellytown for the past three years, is "sweating out" final orders to sail for Japan where she will teach in a school for U. S. Military personnel's children.

While she awaits the post office for those orders — to be here any day for an August sailing date — Miss Pemberton is putting final touches in her new wardrobe, brushing up on a few Japanese phrases and reading every magazine article and book she can find on Japan.

"She has a list about 'yea-long,' she says, of people to look up when she gets there — sailors, soldiers, marines and air force men, plus a few civilian friends and relatives of people here.

And she has another, even longer, list of friends who want her to send them Japanese tea sets, china and all sorts of souvenirs.

"This is her third attempt for 'adventure,' Miss Pemberton said. Twice before she was on the verge of going to Alaska to teach, but plans didn't mature the first time and she got 'cold feet' the second and didn't go.

"But plans for this trip highlight all her present activities. She had applied for position in Germany, but Japan, South America, anywhere is just as good," she commented. "Maybe some day I'll get to go to Germany too."

No rumor of earthquakes, typhoons, climates or any hardships in Japan daunts Miss Pemberton. "I was in the California earthquakes last summer and I'd just as soon face them as the Panhandle tornadoes."

The daughter of the late A. H. Pemberton and Mrs. Pemberton of Panhandle, the Skellytown teacher is a graduate of North Texas State Teachers College. She received her Bachelor of Science Degree in elementary education with speech as a minor and was active in dramatic productions of the college. She did graduate work in methods of reading and arithmetic at the University of California in Los Angeles last summer.

HOW TO SAY 'HELLO' IN JAPANESE is among the many things about the people and the country Miss Peggy Pemberton, Skellytown school teacher, above, is trying to learn as she packs her suitcases for a trip to Japan in August. Miss Pemberton will teach in U. S. Government Schools during the coming year. (News Photo)

Pampan's Father Buried Saturday

Funeral services for the father of a Pampan were slated at 2 p.m. Saturday in Berger's Minten Funeral Home.

W. A. Roberts, 75, of Dilley, father of Morice Roberts, 834 Murphy, died early Thursday morning in St. Anthony's Hospital where he had been for the past three weeks.

Following the last rites, Mr. Roberts' body was to have been taken to Graham, Okla., for burial today, according to Mrs. Morice Roberts.

Mr. Roberts had gone to the hospital from Berger where he had been visiting another son, Dick Roberts, Mrs. Roberts said.

Among Mr. Roberts' other survivors are 10 children, 33 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE Some Math Helps Win Many Games

It isn't necessary to be a great mathematician if you want to play good bridge. Nevertheless, it does help a bit to have a reasonable working acquaintance with the common situations.

Pampa Youths Earn Honors At Wentworth

LEXINGTON, Mo., June 13 — Three Pampa youths have qualified for the dean's honor roll or special distinction list for the second semester at Wentworth Military academy here.

The youths are: Cadet Joe C. McWilliams, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McWilliams, 1318 Mary Ellen St., who qualified for the dean's special distinction list; Cadet Donald H. Hicks, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Hicks, Old Miami Rd., who qualified for the dean's honor roll and Cadet Roy L. McCoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob McCoy, 210 Harvester, who qualified for the dean's honor roll.

Miss Pemberton taught one year in Anton School before coming to Skellytown. She likes teaching and shows a sparkling interest in finding out "everything there is to know" about any venture she tackles.

Appointment to the Japanese position came through the overseas division of government civil service. Her assignment will be made when she docks in Yokohama.

Miss Pemberton has received a number of gifts at recent farewell parties in her honor. She is most proud of a 16 mm. movie camera presented to her by a group of friends. She doesn't know anything about it, she claims, "but I'm learning."

She plans to like Japan so well she'll be willing to stay the required extra time to bring her mother over. "Like me," she says, "Mother is all ready to go."

HOT MEAL COOL COOK

Look at that turkey, and the pie and the cake layers, too, cooked to perfection—and piping hot.

Then look at the cook, she's as cool as can be, for she prepared these delicious foods in an electric range oven—an oven with insulation on all sides so only the food gets cooked. Gets cooked economically, too, for the heat stays in the oven which means the current goes "off" frequently.

You can have hot meals every summer day and still be the coolest cook in town. The way to do it? Of course, it's electric.

Pampa Elks Attend Flag Day Services At Air Force Base

Pampa Elks will participate this afternoon in the traditional Elks Flag Day ceremonies to be held at 2:15 p.m. on the Amarillo Air Base.
 One of the features of the program is the Parade of Flags by Amarillo Boy Scouts. As the history of the Flag is read by the chronologer, a Boy Scout carries the flag of that era to the platform.
 Those attending from Pampa are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Camp, Hugh Morrow, Bert Howell, Bill Ladd, Earl McConnell, Quentin Williams, Earl Icenogle, George Ingram, and A. B. McAfee.
 The program is being jointly sponsored by the Pampa, Amarillo, and Borger Elks lodges. Flag Day ceremonies are held on June 14, birthday of the American Flag—are held by Elks lodges over the country as part of the lodge's yearly calendar.

 Other Pampians among the 600 persons who attended the convence were Art Teed, Chet Lander, Sheriff Rufe Jordan, Waldon Moore, Paul Brown, D. L. Parker, Bunny Shultz, Red Wedgeworth, Duke Bailthor and Bob Quick.
 Amarillo was chosen as the site for next year's convention.

Child Named After Attending Doctors

A Pampa doctor and a doctor-to-be were given a "delivery present" by an admiring mother in Highland General Hospital Saturday when she named her new daughter in their honor.
 True, she had to make the first aid middle names feminine, but she did it just the same.
 The baby, Ramona Pauline, was born at 5:32 a.m., Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. K. N. Westbrook, 1123 S. Sumner and tipped the scales at eight pounds, six and a half ounces.
 She was named after Dr. Raymond Laycock and Dr. Paul Matthews, an extern at the hospital. The two delivered Ramona Pauline.

About Burma

Editors, you know, love to point to something written previously in which a prediction is made and then, at a later and convenient date, quote from the prediction to establish how clever they are. In a sense that is the purpose of this piece.

We feel it quite likely that the news reports of governments in Southeast Asia will become of increasing interest to Americans. The Communists, directed by the Moscow regime, are becoming more and more active, particularly in the Burma area. Since Burma is to most of us a land of mystery, a better understanding of the character of the government of new Burma is essential to understanding the news.

Now that Burma, as a member of the United Nations, has come forward with an official complaint against the Republic of China, with the possibility, at least, of a new outbreak of another Korea, the thinking and beliefs of the present minister of the Union of Burma are of special interest.

We are indebted to Alfred Kohlberg and the American China Policy Association, Inc., for the following excerpts from a speech entitled "Toward Peace and Democracy" by Thankin Nu, the prime minister.

He said in 1948: "When I moved that the draft Constitution of the Burma Union should be approved by the Constituent Assembly, I stated clearly that Burma was to be a Leftist country and I explained the meaning of this term as follows:—

"A Leftist State possesses the following characteristics. The wealth of the country both above and under the earth should be exploited by the united efforts of the people and there should be a system under which what is won by these efforts should go to the people themselves, according to their needs. That, in brief, is Leftism and a State in which such a policy exists is a Leftist State. In a Leftist country the natural resources are not at the disposal of a handful of people for them to enjoy abundantly, while the poor and the unfortunate live in abject misery and want. In such a Leftist country, the production of commodities is not for the purpose of profit but for the use of the people and in order that they may have a decent standard of living. In such a Leftist country there is no distinction between employer and employee, or between master and servant, or between the governing class and the governed. Such a country is a Leftist country."

Having established what is meant by a Leftist country, Thankin Nu then proceeded to outline a "programme" of action which included the following points:

- (1) To secure political and economic relations with Soviet Russia and the democratic countries of Eastern Europe in the same way we are having these relations with Britain and the United States.
- (2) To nationalize monopolizing capitalist undertakings, and to administer the resulting national undertakings by partnership between the State and the workers, to secure a living wage, to limit the working day to 8 hours, to ensure the right of association and the right to strike, and to institute old age pensions and other social benefits, the question of compensation to be considered only after these undertakings have been nationalized.
- (3) The State to take into its own hands the exports and the import trade, in fact all foreign trade.
- (4) The transfer to Burma of the Currency Boards now continued in London.
- (5) The refusal of any foreign aid of a kind which will compromise the political, economic and the strategic independence of Burma.
- (6) To transform the Army of the Union into a People's Democratic Army, and to carry out the Defense programme in Resolution 7 of the Second Congress of the AFPFL.
- (7) To abolish private ownership of land and to distribute the land among the tillers of the soil.
- (8) To draw up a plan for the industrialization of the country with a time-table and to begin work on it at once.
- (9) To establish peoples' governments in the Frontier Areas.
- (10) To transform the present bureaucratic machinery of administration into a democratic machinery.
- (11) To abolish all repressive laws.
- (12) To unite in a counter-attack against the attacks which are being launched by capitalists against the standard of living and the privileges of workers, to make wage commensurate with the high cost of living and to protect the privileges of employees of Government together with the privileges of other workers.
- (13) To unite with and to assist poor town dwellers and oppressed members of the middle classes in securing a reduction of house rents and house taxes, in the securing of house sites, in the formation of co-operative societies and in the destruction of block markets.
- (14) The Leftist organizations to secure the assistance of the State, to take the lead and to work with other organizations in the cause of compulsory education, of physical health and of culture.
- (15) To form a league for the propagation of Marxist Doctrine, composed of Socialists, Communists, Pyithu Yebaw and others who lean towards Marxism and to read, discuss and propagate the writings of Marx, Engels, Lenin, Stalin, Mao Tse-tung, Tito Dimitrov and other apostles of Marxism.

Looking Ahead

SPARE OUR PROJECT!

WASHINGTON — If you want to draw a picture of the person in America most effectively blocking the approach to a balanced federal budget in the near future, you should take your pen and ink and sketch a man's head with two faces, one face looking east and the other face looking west. Out of one mouth your sketch should show the man shouting: "Save!" Out of the other mouth, he would be shouting with equal vigor, "Spend!"

During the last three months I have spent considerable time in Washington interviewing cabinet members and key people in Congress. It is my conviction that there is a strong determination among the present leadership of our national government, in both the executive and legislative branches, to drastically cut down on its size, its power, and its cost in tax dollars. But there is no certainty at all that it will be done.

"NO CUT!"
Groups of people who constitute only a small portion of our citizenry but who are politically vocal and active are sending delegations to the White House and to the Senate and House office buildings insistently urging that there be "No cut!" in the appropriations for their pet project. Invariably these persons, like the man speaking out of two mouths, are vocal for reduction of federal spending and taxes — so long as the reduction is made in somebody else's project.

The representatives and senators in the capital shook their heads when I inquired about their genuine feeling regarding a balanced budget and tax cuts. They showed me piles of letters from the "folks back home" gently or firmly pressuring for such things as restoration of the cut in Agriculture Department funds for soil conservation payments; restoration of the proposed $50-million air base near such-and-such-a-place which had been trimmed out of the defense budget; restoration of the appropriation for "So-and-So" Dam on "So-and-So" River; restoration of numerous government jobs recently eliminated as an economy move by Eisenhower-appointed Cabinet members — and so forth.

"MY DEAR SENATOR"

By train, airplane and automobile, special pleading groups are streaming into Washington. They do not constitute a powerful mass of deliverable votes, but they are vocal, and active, and they are insistently, constantly, in contact with their Congressmen and Congressional committees, putting on the pressure. They have a way of presenting their appeal as if they were representing a whole state, or region, or even the majority of the people in the nation. And pressure is effective in politics.

The vast majority of the people are strongly in favor of cutting the expenses of government all down the line, and are ready, I believe, to sacrifice normal personal interest in particular projects for the sake of reduced taxes, sounder government and greater long-range benefits. But they are inactive. They are not going to Washington. They are not even writing their Congressmen, or the President, or the Cabinet members. They do not recognize that a mandate for budget reductions and tax cuts is ineffective unless it continues to speak and speak to Washington!

THE OUTLOOK

"Well, what are you going to do?" said a Congressman friend as we sat in his office. He put his hand on a stack of mail. "These are from influential people in my state. They've got a good argument for the air base the dam and the other federal spending projects they're writing about. But so had everyone else who writes or comes here. And yet, we in Washington who have studied these projects, and weighed them in the light of the overwhelming demands on the nation's financial resources in these days of crises, are convinced that we must start making drastic reductions somewhere."

"Will you be able to do it?" I asked. "I'm afraid not," he replied thoughtfully. "At least not to the necessary extent — unless public opinion can make itself heard in Washington above the demands of the groups who are coming here asking special consideration for all the things we're trying to economize on. There simply cannot be any genuine economies without a lot of groups and a lot of individuals having to make a small sacrifice in the national interest — in the interest of their own long-range personal welfare."

Are you a part of public opinion? Are you being heard in Washington? Or don't you pay taxes?

National Whirligig... Central Africa Will Be Made 'Invulnerable' Anti-Red Area

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — A novel and bold development in England's new Elizabethan era will be the transformation of the British sphere in Eastern and Central Africa into a supposedly invulnerable, anti-Russian, anti-Communist Western Nations Joint operation. It will mark a gradual shift of the Anglo-American defense line from the more exposed line through the Mediterranean, Egyptian and Middle East sectors to Sir Francis Drake enriched Elizabeth I.

Prime Minister Churchill discussed the withdrawal with Commonwealth Ministers and American, including General George C. Marshall, during their coronation visits. The United States will continue to rebuild forces in Turkey, Greece, Italy, possibly Spain. Resources, food supplies, air and naval bases and new cross-continent superhighways, will become a secondary and strategic item.

Changing world conditions and alignments underlie this extraordinary design for defense, in which France, Belgium, the U.S. and Portugal will join. The African and Suez sea lanes to atomic-powered and equipped aircraft.

Definite steps toward this new program have been taken. The British East Africa Command has been reactivated under the same civilian and military leadership it had in World War II. London has approved the union of several protectorates into the more cohesive and effective Central African Confederation. Churchill is making special efforts to end disturbing racial difficulties.

"Dad — Is that so? What did he say?"
"Child — Oh, we're not encouraged to use such words. I would like to say all the bad words you know, I'll tell you when you come to it."
"Daddy, please, I don't want to hear Western Union tell down miserably on a job."
"Oh, how in Chicago, the actor was handed a telegram which read: 'Your wife just gave birth to her third baby girl.'"
"Daddy, please, I don't want to hear Western Union."

A FEW WRONGS MAKE US WRITE (The Individualist)

Like most folks enacted to correct defects of earlier laws which shouldn't have been passed in the first place, the Taft-Hartley Act, successor labor law to the notoriously lopsided Wagner Act, has a few loopholes of its own. Leave us now through one and see what we shall see.

The antifatherhood section of the Taft-Hartley Act makes it an unfair labor practice for a union to force payment for services "which are not performed or not to be performed." Which is right enough.

But how about a service which is performed but is neither needed or wanted by an employer? Has a union a legal right to go ahead with such a job willy-nilly, and then collect? The question, mind you, is not whether it is fair, decent, honorable for a labor union to force an employer to accept and pay for work he didn't order and doesn't want. Obviously it is nothing of the sort. Nor is it a question of whether such tactics constitute the scaliest kind of blackmailing shakedown. Which, for a certainty is the case since it is coercion on threat of strike. The question is merely this: Is it legal?

Well, how you can know — it sure is. On the authority of the Supreme Court itself, no less. The Court holds that in such cases the Taft-Hartley Act does not apply. If the work is done, it must be paid for. That's where the Taft-Hartley framers were nodding at the crossroads.

The case was that of union printers refusing to use a matrix made from type set in another shop, unless type is set all over again in their own shop. After this expensive and wholly unnecessary duplication of work, then the matrix may be used or not as desired.

Union Men Attempt To Force Employee Insurance On Boss

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
(Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

In Tucson, Arizona, a short time ago, officials of a union called on a dairy and laid it down that the company must buy an "insurance" policy on its employees. The union agents were agents of record man services, who were like to consult his regular insurance broker and see whether he could beat the rate and terms offered by the union agents. He wanted to shop around.

The unioners said nope, he would have to buy their article at their price or take the consequences. The question whether his company had any responsibility in law or in the contract with the union to buy insurance for a group of workers who were, by the union's own admission, well paid for their services, was not even opened for discussion. The unioners said the company must buy the insurance, and laid down all the business condition of a deal with a private insurance company run for many years.

The consequences for refusal to deal with them were not spelled out by the agents. But the employer was no dreamer in an ivory tower. In comparable cases the consequences ranged from a murder down to pollution of milk, the smearing of fresh paint jobs with lamp-black, the destruction of expensive plate glass windows with bearing-balls thrown from slingshots, and the introduction of chemicals into masses of clothing in dry-cleaning shops, resulting in arson.

The Teamsters' Union is not the guiltiest of criminal conduct in all the four corners of America. Federation of Labor but it is up there in a photo-finish with the operating engineers, the glaziers, the retail clerks, the electrical workers, the common laborers and the studio and the craft of the movies. Dave Beck, the new president of the teamsters, a swollen poseur of the ostentatious but counterfeit "new unionism," has muscled his way into a partnership with quavering captains of industry, politics and even higher education. Beck has tried with some regional success to disown the rascalities which have been standard practice in the teamster unions for many years. To his embarrassment, Beck's pretense of reform within this racket, however, there have been sluggings in the old exuberant way in Kansas City, shootings in Georgia and routine atrocities on the New York waterfront.

The insurance racket is a major extension, though not a new one, of the powers and ramifications of the union octopus. Actually, no union has any right to force any insurance on its members or to force any employer to buy insurance for them. If the members, or subjects, are forced to buy it, some official of the union stands to gain through a commission on the premiums. This means that the subjects may be thrown out of the union and fired from their jobs for failing to pay tribute to a prince of privilege.

There was a notorious case of this kind in the Boilermakers and Shipbuilders' Union, of Kansas City, Kans., during the war. In that great crisis of democracy, Henry Kaiser hoarded employees in his West Coast yards, at our expense, of course. The union nabobs got a closed shop embracing all the employees then on hire or yet to be hired by means of a contract freely given by this pain-singing old gas-bag, when he had not more than 2,000 or 3,000 on his payroll.

To Kaiser, it made no moral difference that the ensuing thousands of unseen, faceless men and women, not yet hired from the desert, the mountains and the sweeping prairies of the West, were to have no voice in the selection of their bargaining agent. For an honest fact, most of them were ignorant persons with no experience in such matters. It made no difference to them that they had to join this union on Kaiser's decision. They had no mental capacity to see that they were denied the right to bargain collectively through agents of their own choice.

It was beyond their grasp that in submitting to Kaiser's decision they were obliging themselves to pay an enormous collective tribute to a parasite whose father was president of the union. The history of this union's insurance dealings whereby the members were forced to keep their premiums paid for the benefit of the president's son was a spectacle of corruption. Yet, although it was thoroughly exposed in minute particulars at the height of the war, Kaiser airily surmounted the whole business, and the Roosevelt apparatus, busily contriving a brave new world for Poland, and the Baltic and the Balkan states, ignored it successfully.

After the war, Jimmy, the sagelike of the Roosevelt dynasty, whose illustrious mother had taken over his insurance rackets for a spell, appeared in a number of California union insurance contracts. He was the agent of record. The unions that he was cut in for commissions on premiums but for amounts which we may never know. The musicians have a similar make-work rule, and like success in getting away with it. In this case the union refused to allow an out-of-town orchestra to appear at a Chicago theatre unless a local band was employed for an equal period of time. The Supreme Court said that's OK, too.

And on their way to stardom... Products of the area, Jimmy Cagney and Josephine Dunn... Indeed, dozens in show business came from these busy tenor streets. LOOKING SIDWAYS

By WHITNEY BOLTON

NEW YORK SIGHTS: The pet store on Eighth Avenue that carries everything from hamsters to Great Danes, and sells them direct, but specializes in renting puppies and kittens to lonely people who can't keep a pet regularly but need the tonic a small animal provides. The most market that cater to show folk and has the three sleekest cats in Manhattan.

Because show-folk usually like to treat, whether it be in a saloon or a butcher shop, and when buying expensive cuts add: "And cut off five cents worth for the cats." The West Side barber who won't do anything but crew cuts. He disdains shaving, massaging, trimming. If you want a crew cut, he's your man. If you don't, then go somewhere else. The theatrical barber who has a larger chorus girl clientele than most beauty shops can boast.

The woman who runs a "hair wardrobe" shop. Many actresses keep their hair very short and if they get roles requiring long hair, chignons, puffs, topknots or other arrangements they run to her. She can match any hair, make up any type of coil and teach you how to pin it on so it won't come loose while on stage. She is the third generation in the show business which began with her grandmother who had Lillian Russell as an early customer. The house on West 86th Street that Diamond Jim Brady built for Miss Russell.

It was later owned by a German-born physician and is for sale now, a four-story private house brimming with memories and traditions. The house that Brady had across the street has long since vanished and a huge apartment building fills the site. The man who wanted to open a restaurant and call it "Ciro's," a famed name in cafes. Advised that others had a lock on the name, he compromised. His place is called Sir's.

The mid-town garage housing no cars of less than Cadillac cost. Jaguars, Rolls-Royce, Bentleys and special-built jobs abound in a place which probably would frown on a Ford. The tiny, cluttered delicatessen in the Broadway area that caters to show folk in search of a good sandwich. The once-broke man who has made a second-hand sewing machine and a stock of caps into a big business. He stitches your name on a hat while you wait. The giant store specializing in peanuts and peanut products. You can smell it a block away. Mr. Smith, the stage doorman at the Music Box Theatre, once a star in vaudeville, a man who doesn't wave away today but who can't keep work from the theater. He is a disciplinary backstager, a man of starchy dignity and is never called anything but Mr. Smith. The first name is Tom. The biggest stars have played the Music Box, but they all address him formally and with deference.

The dozen little empress shops which huddle around Broadway, stay open late and are a haven when a man has forgotten an anniversary. The Broadway drugstore that keeps their premiums paid for the benefit of the president's son was a spectacle of corruption. Yet, although it was thoroughly exposed in minute particulars at the height of the war, Kaiser airily surmounted the whole business, and the Roosevelt apparatus, busily contriving a brave new world for Poland, and the Baltic and the Balkan states, ignored it successfully.

Canadian Dam Future Up To People

By HENRY S. GORDON
Pampa News Staff Writer

The Canadian River dam near Sanford has come a long way since it was first conceived in the minds of men more than 10 years ago.

Its future now rests in the hands of the people of the 12 cities comprising the district. The politicians, congressmen included, have little to do with it.

Here's why:

The dam was first thought up in 1939 by Borger city officials who asked Army engineers to impound the river waters for flood control. The engineers surveyed, said it wasn't feasible so the idea was dropped.

Then, former Amarillo Mayor Lawrence Hagy revived the idea of a dam on the Canadian in June, 1949, when he went before the Lubbock City Commission to talk water. Hagy said a tremendous amount of water flows wastefully away every year down the Canadian. He suggested its waters could be impounded and distributed to several cities through an aqueduct system.

GROWING LUBBOCK was feeling the pinch for water too. The commission agreed to cooperate.

The following month a large group of Panhandle and South Plains cities met in Plainview. Eleven of them, including Pampa, decided to throw in with the idea. A loosely knit organization called the Canadian River Water Users Association was formed. Mayor C. A. Huff, Pampa, was named chairman of the organization along with Mayor Clarence Whiteside of Lubbock. Joe Cooley, Borger Chamber of Commerce manager, was named secretary.

After that an unknown number of meetings were held by the group in Borger, Pampa, Plainview, Amarillo and Lubbock.

Executive committee appealed to the Bureau of Reclamation for an examination of the site to determine feasibility of the project and arrive at a cost estimate.

The bureau got its funds for the first survey and reported favorably on construction of such a dam and aqueduct.

STILL LATER 27 delegates from the Panhandle and South Plains put their idea of building the dam on a loan of approximately $85,000,000 from the government. The dam would pay itself out through sales of water to participating cities. Irrigation and power were not a part of the dam—it was strictly for municipal and industrial use.

Rep. Gene Worley, now a federal court of claims justice, introduced the bill authorizing construction of the dam. It passed the House of Representatives unanimously in 1949.

Between the time it passed the house and before it came to the Senate, a water compact, dividing the waters of the Canadian, had to be formed among Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Work on the compact started in October, 1949. Early in 1950 the authorization bill went before the Senate Internal and Insular Affairs Committee. It was reported out favorably by a unanimous vote of the subcommittee and got a further boost when the full committee passed it out unanimously. It went on the Senate's Consent Calendar.

GETTING THROUGH the Senate was no easy task. Stumbling block after stumbling block was thrown in its way. It was the center of a floor fight between Sen. Tom Connally and Sen. Aiken of Maine, and it took Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas to act as peacemaker to win over the New England delegation's support. To top things off Sen. Dennis Chavez, New Mexico, refused to give his consent to bring it out on the Senate floor unless his state's water rights were protected through the compact.

It was a few minutes after noon of Dec. 6, 1950, when the compact was signed in Santa Fe, N.M., and Chavez withdrew his objections to the dam. When it finally came to a vote of approval in the Senate Chavez even voted for the bill. In fact, the bill went through the Senate then with only one vote against it cast by Sen. Williams of Delaware who voted against it merely on "principle."

The bill went through the Senate on a promise by Sen. Johnson funds would not be asked until after the Korean emergency. However, 10 other reclamation projects were okayed for funds and leaders of the dam felt it should no longer "stand by."

The subject of building with private funds through bonds—either tax or revenue bonds—came up repeatedly and not a few found it possible to agree with the private financing idea.

The district would need a special state law user the set-up desired by the water users group.

AFTER UNSUCCESSFUL meetings with an unfriendly and unsympathetic State Board of Water Engineers, the association hired Atty. Bryce Huguennin of Dallas—a specialist in water field—to draw up the bill creating the district and including the provisions not covered under the state's general laws for water districts, most of which are rural. The bill had a rocky road to pass before getting Governor Shivers' signature the day before the last session of the Legislature adjourned.

As set up now the district is comprised of 12 cities—Amarillo, Borger, Brownfield, Lamesa, Lubbock, Littlefield, Levelland, O'Donnell, Plainview, Pampa, Slaton and Tahoka. It is to be governed by a board of 18 selected by the city commissions of each city involved. Pampa has named its two directors—C. A. Huff and Fred Thompson, both closely associated with the developments of the dam since July, 1949.

Now, the people of each city will vote in the near future on whether they want to be a part of the district. This first vote will not obligate the cities in any way. Then, a second election will be held at a future date to permit property taxpayers voters to say whether they favor a bond issue—revenue or tax—to build the dam. If a city votes against the bond issue it is automatically out of the district.

One other way is open to finance the dam other than revenue or tax bonds—contract for the loan from the federal government.

UNDER A BILL now in Congress, introduced by Rep. A. L. Miller, chairman of the Internal and Insular Affairs Committee (of which Rep. Walter Rogers is a member), the secretary of the interior would be authorized to pay up to 100 per cent of the cost of national benefits from the dam including flood control and wildlife conservation, but would leave all responsibility for its construction, maintenance, and operation wholly up to local authorities.

But, if the 12 cities decide to band together and float a bond issue through private enterprise, they have the right now to do so—the politicians have nothing to say on that matter.

Head-On-Crash Fatal To Three

GONZALES, Tex., June 13 —UP—The State Highway Patrol reported Saturday three persons were killed in a head-on collision a half mile west of Waelder in Gonzales county Friday night.

Two of the dead persons were identified as William R. Kelley, and Douglas Foy Parks, 27, both of San Antonio. The third was an unidentified woman, believed to be Parks' wife.

Patrolman C. L. Hoppe said the vehicles were smashed so badly investigators were unable to determine which direction they were going.

JIMMY ORR, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Orr, south of Pampa, is on a two-months cruise to South America with a group of Naval ROTC men from colleges throughout the United States and the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. To be a sophomore in Rice Institute, Houston, this fall, the student left recently for Norfolk, Va., where he was to board the Destroyer Escort USS Parle. Orr is a 1952 graduate of Pampa High School and is majoring in electrical engineering at Rice.

"When he asked to marry her, I hope you told him how she likes to charge things."

Correction Announced
LONDON, June 13—UP—The war office announced "with deep regret" Saturday that a list of 11 men reported killed in Korea had been in error and that 10 of the men were really wounded. It blamed a "clerical error" for the mistake and said apologies were being sent to the relatives who were informed earlier of the "deaths" of the 10.

Kiwanis Support Requested On Canadian Dam Association

The need for additional water to be supplied by the proposed $45,000,000 dam near Sanford was emphasized for Kiwanians Friday by A. A. Meredith, Borger, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian River Water Users Association. Meredith told the club he heard Gov. Allan Shivers remark recently in Austin that water for Texas has now become more valuable than all the remaining mineral resources in the state combined.

He urged Kiwanians to support the district to assure a future augmented water supply for Pampa as well as the rest of the Panhandle. The speaker also outlined several of the provisions of the special bill passed this year by the State Legislature which makes it possible for the people in each of the 12

Murder Defendant Gets Suspension

HOUSTON, June 13 —UP—W. O. Simpson, 43, a welder, was given a five-year suspended sentence on conviction of murdering Willie Harms, a 24-year-old tugboat skipper, during a 1948 argument over wages due the defendant.

Harms was shot to death June 15, 1948, a jury in Judge Langston King's criminal district court deliberated two hours and 55 minutes before returning a guilty verdict against Simpson Friday.

The defense said Harms attacked Simpson. The state contended Harms was shot in the back. The dead man's widow and his small daughter, born after his death, were almost constant spectators at Simpson's trial.

Communists Fire Ukraine Leader

MOSCOW, June 13 —UP—The first secretary of the Ukrainian Communist party's central committee has been fired and the Ukrainian vice premier has been relieved of his post, it was announced Saturday.

The official news agency Tass said L. G. Melnikov was dismissed from his post of party secretary and from the committee's executive bureau because of his "unsatisfactory leadership."

Admiral's Daughter May Enter Convent

BERKELEY, Calif., June 13—UP—The youngest daughter of retired Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz Saturday was reported planning to enter a Roman Catholic convent.

But Mary Manson Nimitz's parents said at their home here they did not want to confirm or deny the report.

"I'm sorry someone broke the story," Nimitz said. The famed admiral added that he wanted to do "all I can to protect my daughter's privacy."

Nonagenarian To Hospital 1st Time

SUBLETTE, Kan., June 13—UP—They took Mrs. Emma Sloan of the Golden Plains community to a hospital Friday for the first time in her 94 years.

Mrs. Sloan, who raised a family of four sons and is accustomed to the gusty winds of southwest Kansas, was caught at an unguarded moment by a whirlwind. It lifted her from her feet and hurled her against some rocks near her home. She suffered the indignity of the first broken bone to be recorded in her family—a fractured hip.

'Ma' Ferguson Has Birthday

AUSTIN, June 13 —UP—Texas' Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson, the first woman to be elected governor of a state by popular vote, was 78 years old Saturday and "feeling just fine."

Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross was named governor of Wyoming shortly before Mrs. Ferguson was elected to her first term as governor of Texas in 1924, but Mrs. Ross was elected by the Wyoming legislature following the death of her husband, the state's governor.

Mrs. Ferguson ascended to the state chief executive's office after first moving into the governor's mansion as wife of the late James E. (Pa) Ferguson, elected governor in 1915, re-elected in 1918 but impeached in 1917.

His wife was elected governor by vote of the people in 1924. She was elected to a second, separate term in 1932.

Mrs. Ferguson, a lifelong Democrat, now has retired from active politics but "is the straight Democratic ticket."

Area Newspapers Place In Contest

MINERAL WELLS, Tex., June 13 —UP—The Longview News-Journal Saturday was awarded the sweepstakes trophy of the 1953 Texas newspaper contest at the spring meeting of the Texas Press Association.

Awards were announced in five divisions with winners determined on a point-score basis. Division 1 was for daily newspapers having rotary or tubular presses.

In Division 2, for daily newspapers having other than rotary or tubular presses, the Kilgore News-Herald was first; Amarillo Globe-Times-News and Galveston News-Tribune tied for fourth; Texarkana Gazette-News was fifth and the Cuero Daily Record sixth.

In Division 3, for daily newspapers having other than rotary or tubular presses, the Kilgore News-Herald was first; Nacogdoches Daily Sentinel second; Alice Daily Echo third; Taylor Daily Press fourth; Cleburne Times-Review fifth; Terrell Tribune sixth; Childress Index seventh; Gainesville Register eighth and Brenham Banner-Press ninth.

The San Benito News won first place for semi-weekly and weekly newspapers. The Colorado City Record was second; Seguin Enterprise third and Brady Standard fourth.

The Weslaco News was first in Division 4 for weekly newspapers published in towns of 2,500 population and over. The Mission Times was second, and the Robstown Record was third.

First place for weekly newspapers published in towns of less than 2,500 population went to the Woodboro News; second to the Italy News-Herald and third to the Matador Tribune.

Bill Rawland, publisher of the Cleburne Times-Review and president of the TPA, presented the awards at a breakfast attended by about 400 publishers and their wives.

Before the convention ends Sunday, election of officers is scheduled Saturday night and selection of a 1954 spring convention site. Dave Leavell, publisher of the Galveston News-Tribune, was to extend an invitation for next year's convention.

Officers Arrest Flying Fugitive

FREEMONT, Ill., June 13—UP—A flying fugitive, described as "extremely dangerous and armed," was arrested at Savanna, Ill., early Saturday after darkness forced him to set his light plane down.

Robert Chick, alias John Davis, a fugitive from a Texas prison farm, was arrested in a hotel at Savanna by Carroll County Sheriff Harry H. Miller, Kline Weatherford, FBI agent-in-charge at Chicago and three other FBI agents.

He offered no resistance when he was picked up in his room at about 2:30 a.m. Miller said. Chick was armed with a .32 caliber automatic pistol.

Earlier in the night the FBI had alerted Civil Aeronautics Authority stations and FBI offices that Chick was believed to be flying from Milwaukee to San Francisco, via Des Moines, Ia.

Miller said that the FBI ordered him and his deputies to "stake out" the man after Chick informed the C.A.A. he was forced to land his plane because of darkness.

It was not immediately known whether Chick knew he was being pursued, but the fact that he was flying light plans would indicate he did not.

The plane, a silver Republic amphibian, was found parked at the Savanna airport.

Chick reported left Milwaukee at 7:45 p.m. cdt.

He was reported to have escaped from the Ramsey prison farm at Otey, Tex., on May 15, 1952. He was serving a 20-year sentence for robbery.

Former Pampan Buried Friday

Three area relatives of a former Pampan were on hand in Lamar, Colo., for her funeral.

Mrs. Grace Ludom, Lamar, Colo., the former Grace Mays Pampan, died Wednesday. Last rites were held Friday, according to Mrs. Blanche Lyon, a Pampan daughter.

Other survivors are a son, W. W. Mays, Pampa; and two other daughters, Mildred McCarty, Skellytown, and Helen Cherry, Corpus Christi.

Mrs. Ludom lived in Pampa about nine years ago.

Balance Sheet Of Week's News

By PHIL NEWSON
United Press Foreign Analyst

The week's balance sheet between the good and bad news in the hot and cold wars:

1. United Nations and Communist negotiators signed an agreement guaranteeing that no war prisoner would be returned home against his will. The agreement knocked out the last major stumbling block in the way of a truce and an end to the shooting war in Korea.
2. Even before the death of Josef Stalin, the Russians were letting it be known that they would favor a four-power conference aimed at easing world tensions. The new Russian government under Premier Georgi Malenkov has been even more eager for such a meeting, an eagerness shared by British Prime Minister Winston Churchill but regarded coolly by the United States. This week the Russians made a series of conciliatory moves including an easing of restrictions in Austria, an agreement with the Protestant Evangelical Church in East Germany and a reported withdrawal of territorial and other demands on Turkey, including special rights in the Dardanelles.
3. One reason for the sudden easing of Russian world pressures might be internal difficulties of their own. This week the Communist Czech government, in an almost unprecedented broadcast, admitted there had been a violent reaction among Czech workers against devaluation of the Czech crown.

Bad News

1. Whether or not Allied and Red negotiators reached a Korean war truce, South Korean President Syngman Rhee wanted none of it. The 78-year-old Rhee continued to demand unification of Korea as his price for ending the war and continued to whip his people up in government-sponsored demonstrations demanding "unification on death."
2. Italy headed into a period of internal tension after Premier Alcide De Gasperi, unwavering friend of the West, lost his greatest political fight. De Gasperi's coalition failed to win the 50.1 per cent of the vote in the Italian general election which would have given him unquestioned control of the chamber of deputies.
3. In France, another premier-designate bit the dust. The French assembly refused by one vote to accept Georges Bidault, foreign minister of the outgoing government, and fifth man either to fail to refuse the job of trying to form a new government. While France fiddles, the United States and Britain burn — with impatience. The three-power Bermuda meeting waits on France.

Supreme Court To Adjourn Monday

The Supreme Court winds up the current term Monday with a batch of opinions expected to include the perjury case against Coast labor leader Harry Bridges. The court was originally scheduled to recess last Monday but extended its term a week to finish its chores. Inasmuch as it put over until next fall its momentous decision on racial segregation in public schools, there appears little likelihood of further extension. The court has about eight more cases under advisement.

The bench will also act on some petitions for review which will be heard next term if they are accepted. Condemned atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg have asked the court to reconsider its action of May 23 rejecting their case for the third time.

The Bridges case deals with conviction of the Longshoreman's union president for lying to obtain citizenship. He denied he had ever been a Communist.

If he loses, the Australian-born labor boss must serve a five-year prison sentence and then presumably face deportation. He claims the government was barred by the three-year statute of limitations from charging him with perjury in May of 1949, some four years after his alleged offense occurred.

The court also is expected to hand down an opinion on the question whether a person who breaks a restrictive real estate covenant may be sued for damages by other signers. These agreements are set up in many cities to preserve "all-white neighborhoods."

The test case, which comes from Los Angeles, was intended as an important test to the far-reaching racial covenant decision of 1948. The court found then that the power of state tribunals may not be invoked to enforce the agreement. But the covenants were not outlawed provided signers adhere to them voluntarily.

Southern Committee For Ike Organized
MEMPHIS, June 13—UP—A south-wide "committee for Eisenhower" was organized here by Republican leaders from four states in an effort to bring under the GOP banner all groups who supported President Eisenhower last fall.

Delegates from Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana, attended the one day "grass roots" rally here Friday which was called to unify southern supporters of the President.

Two members of the delegations from Mississippi, Tennessee and Arkansas were named to the committee. The Louisiana delegates were classified as visitors and therefore did not name committee members.

Dallas Man Heads Red Cross Drive
William W. Overton Jr., financier and industrialist of Dallas, Texas, was named national chairman of the 1954 membership and fund campaign of the American National Red Cross by E. Roland Harriman, president. Overton is the first Texas to be chosen for this volunteer position with the organization.

Russians Visit British
LONDON, June 13—UP—Soviet sailors from the cruiser Sverdlov, which is anchored off Portsmouth for Monday's coronation naval review, made a quick visit to the House of Commons Friday. A group of 30 sailors and one officer were seated in the front of the public gallery while labor member Daniel West spoke on a bill to provide penalties for people who allow their dogs to worry livestock.

Firemen Elect President
Austin, June 13—UP—C. P. Churchwell of Richardson was elected president of the Texas Firemen's and Fire Marshal's Association Thursday as 1,500 delegates ended their 77th annual convention. San Antonio was selected as the site for next year's meeting.

Ben Hogan Captures Fourth National Open Slammin' Sammy Fades Down Stretch

OAKMONT, Pa., June 13—UP—Fading Ben Hogan staged another of his chilled steel finishes Saturday to win the U. S. Open Championship for the fourth time in six years and once again send Slammin' Sammy Snead down golf's heartbreak highway.

It was a two-man race down the treacherous stretch at old Oakmont and it was the same old story as the Little Killer of the Fairways closed with two smashing birdies for a one-under-par 38-37 and a winning five under par total of 283—a staggering 11 shots under the course record.

Sam Trulls, who had trailed him home disconsolately, made a last-minute effort to make a now or never effort—and discovered it apparently was never. For the hard luck hill-billy from the Virginia hills, only one stroke back when he began those final 18 holes, couldn't quite make it.

He was one stroke back with nine holes left to play but finished with a staggering 38 and a 76 and a second-place total of 289—six in back of the implacable Hogan.

This was an old familiar tale to the clammer. Three times before he had finished second and once, back in 1938, he had blown it when he had it in his pocket by taking that famous "big eight" on the final hole when a par five would have won.

"I guess it's just not to be," he said sadly, after making a gallant bid.

But He Tries
Sam tried. At the start of that

BEN DOES IT AGAIN — Bantam Ben Hogan outlived Sammy Snead down the stretch in the National Open Tourney at Pittsburgh, Pa., yesterday with a blazing 283. Hogan only held a one-hole lead over Snead but stretched it to five strokes as Snead faded in the stretch run. It was Hogan's fourth National Open title.

Pawelek Ranks 6th In WT-NM Batting

Manager Ted (Porky) Pawelek of the Oilers is one of seven players in the hit-happy West Texas-New Mexico League who owned a .400 plus batting mark through games of June 7, according to a release from the league statistics.

Pawelek ranked sixth in the league when the averages were compiled with a .418 mark. Windy Eldridge of the Berger Gassers continues to hold a commanding lead in the batting department with a .497 average. He led his nearest pursuer, Bob Fernandez of Lubbock, by 62 percentage points, through the June 7th games. Fernandez held a .435 mark.

Other players in the .400 bracket are I. B. Palmer of Abilene, .429; Don Stokes of Plainview, .421; Jim Matthews of Amarillo, .420; and Herb Simpson of Albuquerque, .412.

Seven Oilers players are listed in the .300 or above bracket. Behind Pawelek among the Oilers players, Doug Lewis had a .383 average, followed by Quincy Barbee with .342; John Sanderson, .333; Deck Woldt, .330; Ben Felder, .315; and Manny Tames, .310.

Manager Matthews of Amarillo held the homerun leadership with 19. Fernandez of Lubbock led in triples with seven, and most RBIs with 53. Palmer of Abilene had the most doubles, 23, and most hits, 75. Roy Parker of Clovis has 4 and Eldridge had drawn the most base on balls, 39.

Bob Gale continued to lead the pitchers with a 7-0 record. Sad Sam Williams of the Oilers and Red Dial of Clovis were tied for the lead in two departments among the hurlers. Both have appeared in 27 innings and each has won nine games, the top mark in each division. Bob Garmon of Lubbock had the most strikeouts, 72.

Following are the official averages through games of June 7th. (Averages include all batters with a .200 average or better and all pitchers who have appeared in at least 40 innings):

B-Sox Sweep Series From Oilers, 17-11

Abilene's Blue Sox made it two in a row over the Oilers Friday with a slam-bang 17-11 decision.

Two Oiler regulars, catcher-manager Porky Pawelek and second baseman Ben Felder sat out the game except for pinch-hit duties because of injuries. Their absence was keenly felt, both at the plate and outfield.

In the Oiler ninth, Sanderson led with a single, moved to third on Doug Lewis' double and scored on Manny Tames' infield single. Ben Felder, pinch-hitting for Roger Aldridge, hit into a forecourt to score Lewis with the second run of the inning. Manager (Porky) Pawelek, who suffered a broken toe in Thursday night's game, entered the game at this point and slammed a pinch-hit double to score Tames and Felder for the final two Oiler runs. Ten came on at this point to relieve Joe Ruiz and get the next two Oilers to end the game.

The Blue Sox in sweeping the two game series, took advantage of a loose Oiler defense for Friday night's win. Only seven of the Sox runs were batted in with six scoring directly on errors, one on a wild pitch, one on a double play ball, one on a double steal, and another on a mental lapse by Catcher Joe Begani.

The Sox were never behind in the game although the Oilers tied the score on two occasions, 1-1 in the first and 6-6 in the third. The 6-6 deadlock remained unchanged until the Sox broke loose for four runs in the sixth on only one hit. The Sox iced the game with seven runs in the ninth as 11 Sox paraded to the plate.

Don Carline led the 15-hit Blue Sox attack with three for three which included a double, Ike Linders, a newcomer to the Sox lineup, also got three hits coming in five trips.

Carline got the Sox going early when he led off with a double in the initial frame and later scored on a wild pitch. The Oilers tied it up in the bottom of the first when Deck Woldt led with a single and after moving around to third on two wild pitches by John Singleton, he scored on Quincy Barbee's groundout.

The visitors pushed across five runs in the top of the third only to have the Oilers do likewise in the bottom of the inning to again tie the score. A two-run single by Chuck Steele featured the Sox rally in the third while Begani pounded a two-run single for the Oilers to highlight the local's rally in the latter half of the third.

With the second pitcher in the game for both teams, Ruiz for the Sox and Hughes for the Oilers, the two teams stayed on even terms until the Sox' KO'd Hughes with a four-run uprising in the sixth. The Sox got only one hit in the sixth—a single by Paul Zubak that drove in a run—but three base on balls, a wild pitch, two stolen bases, a passed ball and two Oiler errors did most of the damage.

John Sanderson narrowed it to 10-7 for the Oilers in the seventh with a bases-empty homer—the only four master of the game.

Pirates Bow To Braves By 5-4

PITTSBURGH, June 13—UP—The Milwaukee Braves scored one run in the ninth inning Saturday to break a tie and defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4.

Lew Burdette, who relieved starter Warren Spahn in the seventh inning, credited with defeat a Knucklebatter Paul LaPalme went eight innings at Pittsburgh and was charged with the loss.

LaPalme held the Braves in check on five hits going into the final innings, but he walked lead-off man Steve Gordon to ignite the Braves rally.

With Jim Pendleton running for Gordon, Andy Patko sacrificed but both runners were safe when LaPalme threw to second base too late.

Joe Adcock broke up the game with a single to short center that scored Pendleton from third.

Danny O'Connell hit his fourth and fifth home runs of the season off Spahn in the third and fifth innings to drive in three Pirate runs. Catcher Del Crandell hit home run number six in the third inning with no one on the Braves.

The Pirates teed off on Spahn with three straight singles in the first inning good for two runs, but Crandell's homer evened things in the third. O'Connell's first homer gave the Pirates the lead again with one run on a walk and a pair of doubles by Jack Dittmer and Adcock.

After O'Connell belted his second homer of the day with Frank Thomas on base, the Braves tied it again at 4-4 in the seventh inning on singles by Patko and Dittmer and a fly to center by Crandell. Then came the Braves' grand slam in the ninth.

Stars and Stripes

DEADLINE — for Stars and Stripes copy that is to appear in Sunday's paper is noon Saturday (the day before). Copy submitted after that time will be run in the following Sunday's paper.

Three Pampans and a McLean man have been advanced in rating by the U. S. Navy.

Richard H. Crossman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Crossman, 1501 N. Russell, to storekeeper 3c; Carroll A. Hefflin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hefflin, 324 N. Hobart, to engineman 3c;

Norman H. Walberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Walberg, Pampa, to gunner's mate 3c; and Jerry E. Bybee, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Bybee, McLean, to N. Russell, to storekeeper 3c;

Crossman is now aboard the landing ship medium rocket USS 411; Hefflin is aboard the destroyer USS Piedmont; Walberg is aboard the heavy cruiser USS Baltimore; and Bybee is stationed at the U. S. Naval Submarine Base, New London, Conn.

Advancements came as the result of a world-wide competitive written test which consisted of questions testing military and professional skills.

Staff Sergeant Billy L. Tarpley, U. S. Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Tarpley, 601 N. Frost, has been transferred from Itaska (Japan) Air Force Base to Castle Air Force Base, Merced, Calif., after 18 months overseas.

A former student in Pampa High School and Texas Tech, Lubbock, Sgt. Tarpley reported for duty in Merced Tuesday.

Born in Shamrock, Tarpley entered the service in August, 1950, and is now senior personnel specialist in the Air Force.

His wife, Mary Edna, will join him in Merced.

Castle Air Force Base, located in California's San Joaquin Valley, is the home of the 93rd Bombardment Wing, a B-50 Superfortress unit.

Pvt. Bobby Brazil, U. S. Army, son of Mrs. C. H. Brazil, 501 Lowry, is scheduled to report to Camp Kilmer, N. J., Monday, prior to reassignment overseas.

Home on a 10-day leave, Pvt. Brazil left Pampa Thursday night. Married Oct. 3, 1952, to Miss Ginger Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Moore, 502 Carr, Brazil entered the Army Jan. 27 and underwent basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

A graduate of Little Rock (Ark.) Technical School, Brazil was an offfield employe before going into the Army.

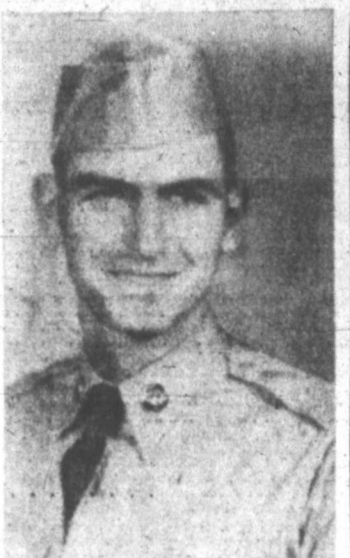

His wife remains in Pampa.

William W. Lewis, 526 N. Dwight, will be among the training officers of Texas and New Mexico Volunteer Air Reserve units who are scheduled to meet today in Austin for a two-week study of reserve training methods.

Lewis, a captain in the reserve, will represent Amarillo's 883rd

IN KENTUCKY — Pvt. Jimmy H. Mosteller, U. S. Army, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mosteller, Skellytown, is presently stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky., with the 11th Airborne Division of the Paratroops. A 1952 graduate of White Deer High School, Pvt. Mosteller was a student at North Texas State College, Denton, till he enlisted in the Army May 6.

IN ALABAMA — Pfc. Lloyd W. Greenhouse, Miami, has been assigned to the 47th Infantry Division Leadership School, Camp Rucker, Ala. Formed in February, the school is designed to train the enlisted men of the division in the principles of leadership — it covers such items as weapons, teaching principles, military justice and dismounted drill. Upon completion of the course, Pfc. Greenhouse will return to his unit.

Volunteer Air Reserve Training Squadron at the get-together. Location of the conference is to be the Third Air Reserve District's Headquarters.

On the agenda will be training techniques, methods and advance information on the fiscal year 1954 training program.

Session is to continue through June 28.

Pvt. Carl W. Sutterfield, U. S. Army, son of Mrs. Martha E. Vann, Shamrock, is now serving in Korea with the Second Infantry Division.

The Second Division captured "Heartbreak Ridge" in October, 1951, and took "Old Baldy" in July, 1952.

Entering the Army in August, 1952, Pvt. Sutterfield received his basic training at Camp San Luis Obispo, Calif.

Sutterfield is also the son of Utah L. Sutterfield, South Gate, Calif., and the husband of Eloda, who lives in Bell, Calif.

Expectant Mother, Children Perish When Home Burns

SPARTA, Wis., June 13 — UP — An expectant mother and her three children burned to death early Saturday in their farm home despite her husband's vain efforts to save them.

"Everything was so black, I couldn't find them," Arnold Leis, 32, sobbed in a hospital. He was in critical condition.

The victims were Mrs. Beverly Jean Leis, 23, Diane, 5, Barbara, 4, and Stephen, 2.

Lightning apparently hit the home about 1 a.m. The husband said his wife woke him up.

"By that time the house was so full of smoke, I broke a window and tried to drag my wife with me," he said. "I fell out of the window (of their first-floor bedroom) and reached inside for her. But I couldn't find her. I went in through the window, but everything was so black I couldn't find her."

Leis ran to the home of a neighbor, Spenser Crocker, who called the Sparta fire department and ran back with Leis.

"When I got there I could hear a child screaming inside. But we couldn't save them," Crocker said.

LOST 47 POUNDS

Here is a sensible home recipe for taking off ugly fat without starvation diet. Just add your drugstore ingredients. Mix with grapefruit juice as directed on label. Take two table-spoonfuls twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to reduce, return the empty bottle for your money back. Mary E. Meyer, 118 E. Burton, Temple, Texas, states as follows: "I wrote you in January that I had lost 47 pounds taking Barcostrin. Since then I have taken two more bottles and lost an additional 17 pounds, making a total of 64 pounds. I now wear a size 22 dress, instead of 44. When I started in the Barcostrin, I weighed 115 pounds. I now weigh 51."

Belated Corrections Made By Hank In 'One Of Us Is Wrong'

BY HENRY McLEMORE

What with calling up the bookstore every five minutes to see if they have sold a fresh copy of "One Of Us Is Wrong" (Henry Holt three bucks), I have just gotten around to reading this book which, as far as I can find out, was written by myself.

There are many things about the book which please me. I like the binding, the type, the orderly manner in which the pages are numbered, and the delightful illustrations by The Strimbans. If The Strimbans ever write a book, I hope I'll be able to do as well by them as they did by me. The same goes for Henry Holt and Co.

In all truth, the only faults I found with the book can be laid directly on the doorstep of the author. No one else is to blame for the paragraph on page 5 where, describing my experiences as a worker for the B and G Sandwich Co., I say: "The sure, deft making of a good peanut butter sandwich offered the challenge I sought. It is the most difficult of all sandwiches to make. It slips and slides and does everything but bite the hand that is trying to make it..."

What I meant to say was peanut butter and jelly. To describe peanut butter as slippery is about as nonsensical as labeling a sandwich as mercurial and ee-like.

SHE LOOKS WORRIED—Holding a little skunk might be embarrassing if not downright odiferous, but not so with "Poof," as this skunk is named. He's been decorated. The little skunk was a sort of booby prize at the Fun for Funds Fair in Cleveland, Ohio. Marilyn Cole, of the fair staff, registers well, at least dismayed at having to hold the skunk.

can't blame my publishers for this mistake, because heaven knows they sent me enough proofs to read and correct to drive me almost batty. Of course, I could put at Henry Holt for not having an old sandwich maker on the editorial staff, but I think you'll agree with me that that would be pretty petty.

I am sure that when I next see George Krebbel of the Detroit News he is going to whack me over the head with pages 152, 153, 154, and half of 155. I have Krebbel going on-board for Bull Lea in a Kentucky Derby when I didn't mean Bull Lea at all, but an ant-mal named Grand Slam. My memory must have been down at the corner shooting pool with the boys when I mixed up those two animals.

As much as I love her, from here on out I am going to steer clear of Dorothy Sims, widow of P. Hal Sims. Listen to what I wrote and what appears on page 172:

"The fabulous life of Sims is very well known. That he was the best money bridge player this country ever produced few will deny. That he acted like Nero, while looking like him, too, is the honest truth."

"That one of the smartest women any man has ever known is Dorothy, few will contend."

Get an eyeful of that word "contend."

What I meant to write — and my mind must have gone along to about pool with my memory — was not the word "contend" but the word "contest." For Dorothy is one of the smartest women any man ever knew. She has written successful books and plays, held her own against the best bridge players in the world (the psychic bid is her invention), raced airplanes and motorcycles, and, well, you name it.

Dorothy, dear, I'm sorry as can be and ask your forgiveness. Having labored over books—yourself, perhaps you'll understand.

On page — but let's not go into that.

Time to call the bookstore for the latest report. Last time I called the clerk said things were looking up; that they had had three nibbles for "One Of Us Is Wrong."

188 Feared Drowned — Dacca, East Pakistan, June 13 — UP — Pakistani authorities feared Saturday that 188 persons were drowned Friday night when an east Pakistan motor launch with 200 passengers aboard sank in the Sitalkaha river a few miles from near Fort Worth and covered it with brush.

Those details recalled to Buie the discovery of the body of a man, about 20 years old, in a ditch less than a half-mile north of Decatur, Tex., last July 30. The man was never identified.

Buie relayed the information to Wise county authority and the Texas Rangers. A Wise county deputy said officers probably would go to Idaho to question the girl.

Texas Doubly Insured — NEW YORK, June 10 — UP — Texas families have almost doubled their amount of life insurance during the past five years. The Institute of Life Insurance said $339,000 policies totaling $11,899,000 face value were in force Jan. 1, compared to the 1948 total of $4,895,000,000.

Idaho Girl Admits Year-Old Killing — FORT WORTH, Tex., June 13 — UP — A 18-year-old Idaho girl has confessed murdering a man near Decatur, Tex., nearly a year ago, Deputy Sheriff E. N. Buie said Saturday.

Buie said he learned of the confession in a telephone call from Dr. W. E. Payne, a psychiatrist at the Idaho Industrial Training School, St. Anthony, Ida.

Payne told Buie he had been questioning the girl about her past when she volunteered that she shot a man last summer. She said she fired eight or 10 shots into the man, put his body in a ditch somewhere here. Twelve persons were reportedly saved.

WE make that statement for a mighty good reason. A lot of people have no idea that this big, roomy, sweet-riding 1953 Buick SPECIAL costs just a little more than the so-called "low-priced" three. Maybe you're one of them—and we'd like to clear the picture for you. We'd like you to know that you can buy the most beautiful, the most comfortable, the highest-powered SPECIAL in Buick history for a lot less than you may think.

But there's more to this great automobile than just more room and power and thrill per dollar—more than just the solidness of Buick structure, the pride of Buick styling, the steadiness of Buick riding. There's wallowing big value above all this. For here you get as standard equipment a host of other things that most other cars of similar price charge as extras—things like twin sunshades, lighter, automatic glove-box light, direction signals, dual map lights, trip-mileage indicator, oil-bath air cleaner, full flow oil filter, bumper guards front and rear.

Weddings And Engagements Highlight Week End

Weddings and engagement announcements highlighted the social picture this weekend in Pampa. Miss Mary Colleen Chisholm became the bride of William George Bush. Miss Marie Rita Piascik of Dallas was married to Raymond Wesley Harrah Jr.

The engagement of Miss Mary Patricia Crow of Dallas to Brent G. Blankvist Jr. was told at a tea in the Crow home. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moseley announced the engagement of their daughter, Jewell, to Glenn Dale Tarpley. Miss Marilyn Wyvonne Hamilton and James Howard Lewis exchanged vows Friday afternoon.

CHISHOLM-BUSH

Pyramid arrangements of majestic daisies interspersed with candelabra, decorated the altar for the marriage of Miss Mary Colleen Chisholm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Arthur Chisholm, 800 N. Gray, to William George Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bush, Kansas City, Mo., Saturday morning in Holy Souls Catholic Church.

The Very Rev. Myles P. Moynihan, C.M., read the marriage service at the nuptial mass.

William J. Haley Jr., organist, played Rossini's prelude and recessional. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker, Amarillo, accompanied by Miss Celia Saunders, Amarillo, sang Bach-Gounod's "Ave Maria," Father-Lord's "Mother Beloved" and Caesar Frank's "Pater Angelicus." "On This Day, Oh, Beautiful Mother" was sung as the bride placed her bouquet on the altar dedicated to the Blessed Virgin.

Her attendants, Mrs. William A. Jourdan of Hobbs, N. M., matron of honor, and Misses Jean and Sheila Chisholm, bridesmaids, all sisters of the bride, wore identical ballerina-length gowns of pale yellow nylon-organza with matching accessories. They carried white satin prayer books topped with carnations knotted in satin.

PIASCIK-HARRAH

Miss Marie Rita Piascik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Joseph Piascik, Cleveland Heights, Ohio, became the bride of Raymond Wesley Harrah Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wesley Harrah, 621 N. Frost, Saturday afternoon in the Holy Trinity Church in Dallas. Bouquets of white gladioli and Marconi daisies backed with green jade trees and white wedding tapers decorated the altar.

Rev. William J. Stack read the double-ring service. Vernon Elder, soloist, sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" and "Panus Angelicus" accompanied by the organist who also played "Wedding March" from "Lohengrin."

Attending the bride as maid-of-honor was Miss Patricia Moore of Dallas. She was attended in a waltz length gown of soft sage green taffeta. This was princess line with a wide draped collar that formed a deep V neckline and short ledge sleeves. The princess line skirt was scalloped around the bottom to reveal a matching flared skirt beneath. She wore a green taffeta half hat accented by a narrow tailored bow at either side and matching shoes. She carried a period bouquet of white asters.

Dr. Raymond M. Hampton of Pampa was best man and ushers were Oscar L. Wilkerson of Grandview and Ben D. Fallon of Pampa.

HAMILTON-LEWIS

Miss Marilyn Wyvonne Hamilton, daughter of Mrs. Gladys Hamilton of 200 S. Sumner, and B. B. Hamilton of Skellytown, and James Howard Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lewis of northwest of Pampa, were married Friday at 4:00 in the Church of Christ, Mary Ellen and Harvester. The double-ring ceremony was officiated by J. P. Crenshaw.

Miss Cathaline Pinkerton of Amarillo, cousin of the bride, sang "Through the Years" and "I Love You Truly." She wore a pink organdy dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

An arrangement of two baskets of pink gladioli, palms and candelabra was flanked by two baskets of white gladioli.

Candle lighters were Miss Meredith Waters and Mrs. Dennis Taylor. Their dresses were white embroidered organdy with white accessories and blue carnation corsages. Flower girls were Sandra Lane and Sandra Wood-fill whose dresses were blue dotted swiss over white with white accessories and white carnation corsages. Matron of honor, Mrs. Lonnie Tillson, wore a blue nylon ballerina length dress, trimmed in white and wore a pink carnation corsage.

MOSELEY-TARPLEY

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moseley, northwest of Pampa, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jewell, to Glenn Dale Tarpley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Tarpley, 601 N. Frost. The wedding is planned for July 26 in the First Methodist Church.

CROW-BLONKVIST

The engagement of Mary Patricia Crow of Dallas to Brent G. Blankvist Jr. of Pampa was told Saturday afternoon at a tea held in the Crow home with Mrs. Judson A. Crow, the bride-elect's mother, as hostess. Mrs. Brent G. Blankvist, mother of the prospective bridegroom, was a member of the receiving line along with Miss Crow's bridal attendants. The wedding date has been set for August 22.

The tea table was laid with a lace cloth and was centered with lighted pale pink tapers in Dresden candelabra and a floral arrangement in a Dresden compote. All floral arrangements throughout the house were in shades of pink, the bride's chosen color scheme.

Approximately 200 guests called during the afternoon.

Piascik-Harrah Vows Are Exchanged At Holy Trinity Church In Dallas

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of candlelight ivory satin. The moulded bodice was fashioned with a soft elongated roll of the satin forming a decollete bodice, filled in with Venice type lace that extended to the back. The long fitted sleeves tapered to petal points over her hands. The wide bias cut flared skirt extended from a V shaped waistline and swept in soft folds to a chapel length train.

Her veil of imported silk illusion extended beyond her fingers from a tiny brimmed calot fashioned of princess lace with a wide band of the lace extending over the illusion to her waistline. She carried a period bouquet of white gladiolus. Mrs. Piascik chose for her daughter's wedding a silk parchment gown of dawn blue with a square portrait neckline, fashioned with softly tucked elbow length sleeves. The skirt beginning as a sheath, then flowing out was cocktail length. She wore a profile cap of Swiss lace medallions studded with silver bugle beads. Her costume was accented by matching shoes, long white kid gloves and a small bag of seed pearls. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Mrs. Harrah, mother of the bridegroom, wore a cocktail length gown of silk sheer over taffeta in a pure amethyst shade fashioned with bias-cut full skirt, a fitted stropless bodice trimmed with folds of sheer and a brief jacket with push-up three-quarter length sleeves. Her jeweled hat of matching shade was accented with baguettes of pearls and crystal bugle beads. Her costume was complemented by navy blue shantung shoes, long white kid gloves and a crystal beaded bag to match her hat. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony the bridal party was feted at a reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen G. Opredek. Mrs. Opredek is a cousin of the bridegroom. Mrs. Frederick Freeman of Dallas presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Raymond M. Hampton served the wedding cake. Miss Linda Opredek attended the guest register. The square tiered wedding cake was featured on a to put up with his dating other girls. That if you, his child, and his home mean anything at all to him he'll have to accept that fact and choose as a hunting and fishing companion someone besides a playboy.

The other thing, of course, is that you can develop a sudden enthusiasm for hunting and when he starts planning his next trip tell him you want to go along. That may dampen his enthusiasm for hunting but he brought the predicament on himself. If he and his friend had hunted up a couple of girls on his last trip, going again wouldn't have been any problem.

A "June-teenth" party was the motif for the Cabot Girls' regular monthly party held in the Cabot Auditorium Friday evening. The hostesses for the party were Dorothy Sullivan, Leona Taylor, Virginia Deck and Audrey Robinson. Appropriate bold colors were carried out in table decorations with salt shakers used for additional color. The centerpiece was a scooped-out watermelon filled with brilliant garden flowers. The guests were dressed in colorful garb ranging from the fashionable to the old fashioned. A program was given with Addie Mae Bryan as the emcee. Featured on the program were an after-watermelon speech by Doris Pegues and a specialty dance by the "Tinkletoe Kids" who were Betty Nelson and Joyce Young. Games were played. Watermelon was served as refreshment. Those attending were the hostesses and Lois Savage, Babe Mastin, Margaret Davis, Ava Swafford, Charlie Young, Margaret Conway, Betty Nelson, Roberta Appleton, Joyce Wanner, Vi Willis, Joyce Young, Mary Porter, Margery Fry, Doris Pegues, Ann McNamara, Doris Johnston, Addie Bryan, Eva Kitchens, Frances Brunsell, Wilma Ward, Lorene Buster, Reba Killian, Leona Martin, Reva Tomlin, Isabel Priest, Fay Coleman, Joan Mankins, Pattye Hopkins, Joyce Dittberner, Fern Black, Ruth Allen, Mary Wright and Mrs. E. D. Anderson, a visitor.

RUTH-MILLET

This letter came recently from a young wife:
"During the last hunting season my husband and a friend of his went out of the state to hunt. I found out after they returned that the two of them had made dates with girls while they were gone. I had it out with my husband but he promised me it would never happen again.
"What I want to know before he starts planning another hunting or fishing trip is whether or not I should let him go?"
Well, let's be practical about this. If you tell him flatly that he can't go he may go anyway. Then you've got yourself out on a limb.
But even if you make your ultimatum stick you'll probably have a sulky husband who feels henpecked and isn't going to be easy to live with.
POSITIVE ACTION IS BETTER.
There are, however, two other things you can do. Have a serious talk with your husband and tell him that you want him to be able to get away on hunting and fishing trips but you don't want him going with the man he went with before. Tell him that you aren't going

Lanolin Plus Does Wonders For Skin

Be Satin Smooth ALL Over

That's Right! Now, With The New Lanolin Plus Body Lotion, You Can Be Lanolin-Lovely From Head To Toe

This wonderful body lotion, like Lanolin Plus Liquid, is enriched with lanolin to smooth every inch of you. Calluses, and rough, grainy areas are softened and smoothed under its magic touch.

And how refreshed you feel after using Lanolin Plus Body Lotion — sweet and silky-smooth all over! And because it takes so little, spreads so easily, and is so extremely economical... you can use it as much as you want without feeling extravagant. Start now to make and keep your body as beautiful and bewitchingly lovely to the touch as your face.

Today, get the big 12-ounce size of Lanolin Plus Body Lotion wherever you buy Lanolin plus Wrinkles Worry You?

Don't let them. With Lanolin Plus Liquid, many premature wrinkles due to dryness can be prevented. Those you already have can be reduced and made to seem much less noticeable. This marvelous new liquid with a U. S. Government patent contains a fabulous amount of lanolin and esters and cholesterol. These elements actually penetrate your skin while cleansing the nearest thing to nature's own skin lubricants. Only $1, plus tax, at all cosmetic counters.

Dramatize And Highlight The Unsuspected Beauty Of Your Hair

To give yourself the correct shampoo, make certain that the hair is gently massaged with the fingertips throughout the shampooing process. It's not only pleasant and relaxing, but it stimulates the sebaceous glands of the scalp and makes them more active. Rinsing must be done with great care, slowly and effectively. Most emphatically, thoroughly! The desirable method is the use of a professional spray.

Now! What kind of shampoo lotion? It mustn't contain harsh ingredients that tend to dry out the hair. It must not leave the hair with a sticky, dull film. It must leave it soft, shiny, manageable!

For some time, we have known that lanolin contains the substitute for nature's own oils to help nourish and lubricate the skin and scalp. The best shampoo to choose is one that contains a generous supply of rich lanolin suds. Such a product is LANOLIN PLUS HARD WATER SHAMPOO. Here is a shampoo that lathers in the hardest water. It's gentle on the hair, and its rich, lanolinized suds whisk away completely all dirt and grime so that the hair is left soft and silken with beautiful glistening highlights. Just as the shampoo cleanses, it's oil pampers the hair.

New Lanolin Plus Cleansing Cream Endows Dry Skin With Vital Oils

Ever hear this comment... "It is most similar to the natural oils of our human skin. As we grow older the normal lubrication and elimination of the skin tends to diminish. Due to the lack of natural moisture and lubrication the skin becomes dry, coarse, dull and old."

Lanolin Plus Cleansing Cream For Dry Skin gives you the needed supplementary oils to combat those conditions in your skin. LANOLIN PLUS CLEANSING CREAM FOR DRY SKIN... $1 plus federal tax. At all cosmetic counters.

Lanolin Plus Liquid replenishes natural skin oils with softening, lubricating substances. Try it today; treat your face to a facial pick-up!

Works Quickly, Effectively, Inexpensively To Restore That Youthful Look!

Chemists discovered that the supply of body substances which give softness and pliability to the skin diminishes with age. Therefore, they based the formula for Lanolin Plus on these important facts, combining highly refined lanolin plus with other beauty-benefiting ingredients.

Lanolin Plus Liquid contains a concentrated supply of esters and cholesterol, the two elements found normally in young skin but which diminish with advancing age. It's the lack of these essential oils which cause "crow's feet," wrinkles and harsh, dry skin. Lanolin Plus Liquid immediately sends a rich supply of softening, lubricating substances into the thirsty under-surface of your skin to help combat this aging, drying process. Lanolin Plus Liquid keeps your complexion soft and supple...

Since this lanolin-rich liquid lubricates and softens the skin, it has other beneficial uses: If the heels or insteps or toes are calloused or rough, a relaxing footbath followed by a Lanolin Plus Liquid massage does wonders for softening and soothing the dried out areas. It's excellent also for sun-tanning and after swimming.

How long has it been since you have analyzed objectively what your complexion is really like? It's up to you whether your skin becomes prematurely wrinkled, or is soft and supple... with glowing, youthful radiance.

1. Hold a hot washcloth to your face and neck for about a minute to open pores and allow tired muscles to relax.
2. Briskly massage warmed Lanolin Plus (warm bottle under hot water tap) into face and neck until skin begins to tingle.
3. After a few minutes, wipe away impurities brought to pore openings by soothing Lanolin Plus Liquid.

Lanolin Plus Liquid is simple as ABC to use! Gently massage a few drops into your skin before retiring. It works while you sleep, leaves no greasy film on your pillow!

Continued use makes dryness disappear, premature wrinkles due to excessive dryness or climatic conditions diminish or fade away completely! You'll love its economy too! Only a few drops are necessary due to its deep-down action.

If you retire feeling tense and unrelaxed, your appearance when you arise is the same. Relaxation of facial muscles begins before you go to bed.

Only Lanolin Plus Liquid replenishes these natural oils so vitally needed to nourish and protect and lubricate the skin. Remember... it's up to you! How you care for your skin today means the difference between a beautiful, youthful complexion, or a hard, dry, unattractive one tomorrow!

You can purchase this splendid product at all leading drug and department store cosmetic counters. Its minimum cost is only $1 plus federal tax. Ask for LANOLIN PLUS LIQUID!

Free* Dispenser with Hand Lotion

A few drops of Lanolin Plus Hand Lotion applied several times during the day will do much to keep your hands lovely to watch — lovely to touch.

The handy pump dispenser, which comes with each bottle of Lanolin Plus Hand Lotion, makes regular application a simple task. LANOLIN PLUS HAND LOTION with PUMP... $1.00 plus tax. At all cosmetic counters.

Is Your Hair In Perfect Condition!

You may spend hours in a beauty salon or at home concerning yourself with stylings, rinses, bleaches and "touch-ups." Oh, your hair may look pretty after all this care, but what's it really like deep down at the scalp? What is the condition of its health? Have harsh chemicals, sunlight and hair dryers sapped its inner strength and beauty? These things can happen, you know. And they happen at a great cost of time and money to you.

External hair care is important and wise for the final appearance of the well-groomed woman. There is no question about it. Yet, in accomplishing this external beauty, is the same amount of time and care given to its internal condition. You can tell this way: look for split ends, hair strands that have a dull, dry look, a coiffure that remains unmanageable... If these things are apparent in your hair, your hair lacks the proper lubricants. Nature's own oil, esters and cholesterol are in need of a helpmeet. Lanolin, so closely duplicating these natural oils, provides the solution.

The newest hair conditioner available today, Lanolin Plus for the Hair, just as its name implies, is steeped with this rich supplement. It can be used in several ways: It should be rubbed gently into the scalp and massaged into hair strands the night before a shampoo. In this way, it is an excellent aid for reviving dull, damaged hair. If dryness is not severe, brush a few drops through the hair after each shampoo working a small amount into the ends of the hair. In making the hair soft and flexible once more, it helps prevent split, broken ends and brings back a healthy, lustrous sheen. It helps keep unruly locks attractively in place. A few drops brushed on daily keeps shimmering highlights in the hair always.

You'll find, too, that the men at your house will like this new, lanolin-rich lotion for the hair. It does not leave smudge on hat bands, pillows or upholstery, but imparts a smooth, well-cared-for look. You can purchase Lanolin Plus for the Hair for only $1, plus federal tax, at any cosmetic counter! It's the sure way to keep your hair in perfect condition!

Jacoby On Canasta

BY OSWALD JACOBY
 Written for NEA Service

As most players know, this game of Samba is just a way of playing Canasta with three packs instead of the customary two packs of cards. The name Samba was given to the game by my friend John R. Crawford, and he gave the same name (with a small first letter) to a sequence of seven cards. In other words, Samba is the game and samba is a seven-card sequence.

The reason I bring up this little bit of history is to point out that a sequence of seven cards is a canasta. It's a special kind of canasta, to be sure, and has a special name—but it's a canasta just the same.

In order to meld out in the game of Samba you need two canastas. This is where many players are puzzled. They forget that a samba is a kind of canasta.

In other words, you can meld out in a game of Samba with two ordinary canastas, or with two sambas (sequence canastas), or with one of each. If you have occasional discussions on this point, please clip out this column and save it to settle arguments.

Q—In a game of Samba a player drew the discard pile and then wanted to take one card from the stock pile in addition. He claimed that he had the right to two draws, and that the discard pile was only half of his draw no matter how many cards happened to be in the discard pile. Is he right?

A—No. A player has the right, at his turn in a game of Samba, to draw either from the stock pile or from the discard pile—but never from both. It's true that you get two cards if you happen to draw from the stock pile, but that isn't the same as two draws.

Q—When we get to the end of the stock pile in a game of Samba, there is usually only one card left in the pile. Does that count as a regular draw? Is the player who picks up only one card entitled to make a discard?

A—It counts as a regular draw in every way. Unless that one card happens to be a red three (which unless there has been a mistake the player is entitled to a discard just as he usually is). A stock pile usually ends with only one card because the dealing out of four hands and of a trump card leaves the stock pile with an odd number of cards to begin with.

Each successive draw of two cards from the stock pile leaves an odd number of cards. This can

'Emotionally Secure' Farl Will Head For New York's Lights

By ALINE MOSBY
 HOLLYWOOD, June 13 (UP)—Farley Granger said he gained enough "emotional security" after psychoanalysis to break his contract with producer Samuel Goldwyn and temporarily desert Hollywood for New York, Europe and the theater.

Granger is following the path of those two other eligible bobby-soxers, and even silk-stockinger idealists Marlon Brando and Montgomery Clift, in being an international actor.

Farl, as he was known around Schwab's drugstore in his Hollywood days, filed away his magazine covers, gave up his apartment and took off today for a movie in Italy and then summer stock, or come what may.

"My difficulties with Goldwyn have been going on for a number of years," said Granger. "For four years I've argued for permission to do a play but he wouldn't hear of loaning me out to other studios.

"I became quite rebellious. I was ridiculous and childish and would not even speak to him on the phone.

"I think a person should be relieved in a way, to stick up for his own rights, but not in a childish way. Analysis helped me because I was able to channel my rebelliousness into a constructive way. I used to get angry at things I couldn't help, and it was pointless.

"You have to wait for the right timing. Now Goldwyn isn't making any films, as he wants to see what happens to the industry, and I told him it was foolish for him to pay me a salary for not doing anything.

Granger was discovered by Goldwyn in 1947 and was in New York in 1948. He thinks Hollywood isn't good for him. He wants to see what happens to the industry, and I told him it was foolish for him to pay me a salary for not doing anything.

"I love the life here. It's comfortable. But in New York there are drama schools. Between plays of the kids hustle, take classic in dance or scenic design and learn as much as they can.

"When I come back from Europe there might be a play, or even a good movie. If not, I'll stay in New York and study. I want to set out and explore my potential. I don't want to some day wonder what I could have done if I'd tried.

"I'm frightened," he grinned, and took a deep breath. "But I want to be a good actor."

"Boy, plenty has happened since the last time I saw you—I got a new turtle and a new baby sister!"

"At your age, Imogene, I was not only already married—I was wondering what on earth I ever saw in your father!"

U. S. Oilmen's Hopes To Curb Foreign Imports Seem Doomed

WASHINGTON, June 13—UP—Independent U. S. oil producers' hopes for a law putting foreign oil imports on a sharply restricted quota basis appeared doomed Saturday.

At present there is no place on the "must" congressional agenda for such a measure, and only extreme pressure might change the picture. General Counsel Russell B. Brown of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, in turning on such heat but the outlook is that it will be counter-balanced by perhaps stronger pressure from Standard Oil (of New Jersey) and other major foreign producers.

In his latest report to IPAA President Chariton H. Lyons in New York, Brown would not admit defeat, and in a statement to the United Press he stressed that continued optimism was his watchword. But in the absence of GOP leadership endorsement of the quota bill and the fact that such an amendment was cut from the reciprocal trade extension act, it seemed the independent producers were whittling in the dark.

The big foreign producers successfully turned back attempts to attach the quota provision to reciprocal trade which came up for House passage Monday.

And they turned deaf ears to suggestions from President Eisenhower and the Independents that they put themselves on a voluntary import schedule which would cut the flow of overseas oil. They denied that such curbs were necessary and disputed claims of the independents and coal producers that cheap foreign oil has captured their markets.

The IPAA and coal interests are relying on a new bill by Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.), sponsor of the original quota provision, to bring their victory. But here again they face a congressional stalemate which allows for only minor amendments to be made between now and summer adjournment.

Rep. Simpson is reported as feeling his bill will pass the House but he was not in town Saturday to speak for himself. The measure will be discussed Monday at an executive session of the House Ways and Means committee of which he is an influential member.

Meantime, the IPAA's Brown, a stubborn fighter for the independents, urged all IPA members to bombard their congressmen with demands for favorable action. In his report to Lyons he said: "If our members aid their friends believe action by the Congress necessary and desirable, they should at once advise the members of Congress of their views."

Brown went on to emphasize that this method of pressure was not new. He said such a course was recommended by the American Petroleum Institute in the 1935 depression era when the domestic industry was at its back.

"At that time," Brown said, "in apparent reliance to the current position of the importing companies, 'substantially all the industry was working together to insure such action as would stabilize a sound domestic industry.'"

He added that the import problem now "is recognized as being far more serious than it was in 1935."

Roberts County Has Seen New Wildcats During Week

Oilfield activity over the Panhandle took an upswing during the past week with the reporting of seven new wildcats — again, all of them in Roberts County.

Four of them were drilled by the Cresswell Oil Company, according to the area office of the Texas Railroad Commission. All four were located some five miles west of Miami and all had proposed depths of 4,300 feet.

Two others were staked out by the Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation. Their proposed depths, too, were 4,300 feet.

Final one was located by the Superior Oil Company with a potential depth of 5,000 feet.

Fifteen other intentions to drill were filed with the local TRRC office during the week.

Five oilers and three gasers were completed and there were four plugged wells.

New US Rigs Total 54

DALLAS — A total of 2811 rigs were active in all fields of the United States and Canada for the week of June 8, 1953, according to a report to American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors by Hughes Tool Company.

This compares with 2737 reported a week ago, 2708 a month ago, and with 2994 in the comparable week of 1952.

A comparison by principal areas for the past two weeks shows:

Pacific Coast, 170, up 2; Oklahoma, 340, down 3; Kansas, 170, down 3; Rocky Mountain, 254, up 13; Canada, 190 up 18; Ark-La-Tex, 130, up 9; West Texas & New Mexico, 474, up 25; Gulf Coast, 596, down 11; Illinois, 141, up 2; North Texas 346, up 4.

TRRC Determines Wellhead Price

Determination of the market price being paid at the wellhead for gas produced in the Panhandle and subsequently used and sold for light and fuel purposes was the subject of a recent meeting of the Texas Railroad Commission. Session was held May 6 in Amarillo, according to commission officials.

That price, it was announced, is "all other things being equal, the price equivalent of 6.800 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas measured at a base pressure of 14.5 pounds per square inch absolute and a standard base and flowing temperature of 60 degrees (Fahrenheit)."

Next get-together — for the same purpose — has been slated for 10 a. m. Nov. 4 in Amarillo's Herling Hotel, officials said.

Hamaker Gets 25-Year Award

Rex G. Hamaker's quarter-century with Reed Roller Bit Company, Houston, has been marked with the presentation of a 25-year service award by S. P. Farish, company president.

Vice president of the company, Hamaker is a graduate of the oil fields and a pioneer in the oil tool business.

Formerly employed by Humble Oil and Refining Company, Hamaker was brought to Reed Roller Bit in 1928; by Farish who — with a group of other men — bought and reorganized the company in 1925.

Hamaker and Farish had known each since 1919 when both men were working for Humble in Ranger.

Phillips Sets Safety Record

The 1,028 employees of Phillips Petroleum Company's Phillips refinery completed Thursday 3,000,000 consecutive man-hours of work without a lost-time accident.

The record, which was established over a period of 498 days, began Jan. 31, according to a release from the company's headquarters in Bartlesville, Okla.

It is the sixth million man-hour safety record established by the Phillips (Tex.) refinery since 1949, the release said. Previous record was established by the company's Kansas City (Kan.) refinery in 1949.

This refinery is the world's largest inland refinery.

Damaged Liner Limp To Port

DOVER, Eng., June 13—UP—The 24,215-ton liner Chusan, with 1,000 cruise passengers aboard, limped back to port Saturday after suffering heavy damage in a collision with the freighter Prospero.

The collision in the English channel Friday night caused no known casualties, but each of the two British ships was badly damaged.

The 8,165-ton Prospero, with its No. 1 hold flooded, anchored off Dover, while the Chusan, damaged above the waterline, made its way back to the Tilbury docks in the Thames estuary near London.

Slide Mountain Skier To Get 'Big Lift' For Sudden Drop

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
SLIDE MOUNTAIN, Nev., June 13—UP—The usually wide-awake minds in this area have been asleep in the 9,700-foot gold mine for decades. Now, the awakening has come.

The idea finally dawned on Carl Fuetisch, general manager of the Reno Bowl development and came October, Slide Mountain will be used for mass nature intended—fishing, on skis.

Work is nearly complete on a project that will cost around $350,000 to start with and will be improved upon as time runs along.

Carl operates on the theory that all skiers are lazy. So like other skiing places there will be lifts to carry people to the top. There will be four others added later.

All the Comforts
The cables will tote the folks to two lifts for the opening and aloft in twin chairs, with foot rests, no less. The skiers will be locked in with bars like they have on ferris wheels.

As usually happens when folks in a Nevada community make up their mind, this undertaking is on the colossal scale. It will cost when more and dad decide to pay their lift fee and ride up to the blue yonder, they can leave their young behind in the care of kiddy-sitters.

Decline Reported In New Housing

WASHINGTON, June 13—UP—The Bureau of Labor Statistics Saturday reported a 3,000-unit drop in new housing in May — the first decline for that time of year since World War II.

The bureau said housing starts skidded to nearly 107,000 during the month. Privately-owned dwellings put under construction totaled 104,000, a drop of 3,000 units for April. However, this was the highest May total for private dwellings since 1950.

The public housing starts—2,900—fell off 20 per cent from April. The bureau said the decline was general, although in the country and may have been caused by heavy rainfall, prompting builders to delay obtaining construction permits.

The bureau estimated, as a result of the May total, that housing starts would total about 1,087,000 this year.

New Mexico Dude Ranch Investigated

TAOS, N. M., June 13—UP—A New Mexico dude ranch mentioned during a congressional investigation of communism usually is full of guests during the summer, chamber of commerce officials here said Saturday.

The ranch is advertised as a place for the "meeting of races" and says "we welcome guests of all creeds, from all countries."

Meanwhile, Denver, Colo., former Colorado U. S. Democratic Rep. John A. Carroll, minimized the part the dude ranch operator played in his 1948 successful campaign for Congress.

Carroll is now head of the Colorado Americans for Democratic Action.

It was disclosed in Washington Friday that ranch operator Craig S. Vincent, a former Colorado state legislator, refused to tell the Senate Internal Security subcommittee if his ranch, about 80 miles from the atomic plant at Los Alamos, N. M., is a training camp for Communists.

Vincent also refused to say whether he was a Communist or whether the proceeds from the San Cristobal Valley dude ranch were turned over to the Communist party.

Chamber of commerce officials said the ranch is usually full during the summer and that sometimes it rents out to entire groups like the Future Farmers of America, Quakers and others.

BUILDING PERMITS

Only one new residence was included in six building permits issued last week in the city engineering office, but it was for $30,000. The other permits totaled less than $10,000.

Permits were issued to: E. C. Sidwell, 1901 Charles, new residence, $30,000; Floyd McDowell, 608 Reid, new garage, $900; S. B. Bates, 428 Eighth, remodel residence, $1,000; Elmer Radcliff, 1285 E. Wilcox, remodel residence, and new garage, $2,760; L. A. Barber, 1113 Osage, move building inside city, $230; W. H. Fuller, 513 E. Francis, remodel residence, $3,900.

USDA announced during the week that the 1952 wheat crop is now estimated at 1,132,000 bushels. This is a 4 per cent above the 10-year average but 12 per cent smaller than the bumper 1952 crop. The winter crop of 750 million bushels is more than a fourth smaller than last year's winter crop.

Wheat receipts at major terminals totaled 11.3 million bushels, up 2.4 million bushels from a week ago. Corn receipts at 8.7 million bushels were only a little above a week earlier. Oat receipts totaled 1.4 million bushels compared with 1.8 million for the comparable period in 1952.

Four Pampans To Youth Assembly

Four young people from the First Methodist Church are in Abilene this week attending the annual Assembly at McMurry College.

Nancy Coley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coley; Jim Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Smith; Keith Bonny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bonny and Don Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cook are at the meeting.

Hopi Indians Ask Draft Exemption

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., June 13—UP—Hopi Indian leaders Saturday urged President Eisenhower to stop the drafting of Hopi men into military service, contending the Hopi Indians are a "separate and distinct nation."

In a letter Friday to the President, the leaders declared in part: "We have never relinquished our rights and authority to any other nation and we have made no agreement with the government of the United States to ever participate in its war effort."

"We, the recognized hereditary Hopi leaders and parents of our Hopi young men have been protesting against your government conscriptions of our Hopi young men into military service without our consent and in violation of our traditional religious way of life."

They'll Do It Every Time

AND SO, OVERHILL, OLD FRIEND—ON THIS THE EVE OF YOUR RETIREMENT, WE YOUR WORKERS WANT YOU TO HAVE THIS ALLIGATOR BRIEF CASE—AND WE WANT YOU TO KNOW THAT THOUGH YOU ARE LOSING A VALUED EMPLOYEE, YOU'LL ALWAYS BE IN OUR HEARTS...

WHAT'S HE GOING TO DO WITH A BRIEF CASE NOW—CARRY HIS DIARY TO THE OLD SALESMEN'S HOME?

THEY ALSO SEND YOU FLOWERS WHEN HE CAN'T SMELL 'EM—

THE MORAL IS—DON'T BE AN ALLIGATOR OR A SALESMAN WHO BOTH WANT UP GETTING IT IN THE NECK...

THAT'S A POLITE JOB TO GET A JOB WITH ANOTHER OUTRIP AND NOT SQUAWK ABOUT A PENSION...

Religious Bill Introduced
WASHINGTON, June 12—UP—Sen. Ralph E. Flinders (R-Vt.) introduced a proposal calling for constitutional amendment to recognize "the authority and law of Jesus Christ." Asked what legal effects it would have, Flinders said he thought "its principal effect would be of a non-material nature."

Pole Imprisoned
LINZ, Austria, June 13—UP—A 23-year-old Pole was sentenced Friday to five years imprisonment for spying against the U. S. Army in Austria on behalf of the Czechoslovak intelligence service. Henryk Jan Cichurek admitted in a U. S. Civil Affairs court that he gathered reports on refugees at the U. S. Refugee center at Wels.

Railroad Fireman Killed
SAN ANTONIO, June 13—UP—Colvin Nickelson, 67, a retired railroad fireman, was killed Friday afternoon when the car he was driving went out of control and struck a bridge near the north city limits. The car, which was pulling a boat on a trailer, overturned in the mishap.

Queen Sees Ridgway
LONDON, June 13—UP—Supreme Allied Commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway was received Friday by Queen Elizabeth II shortly before he left for Paris on a round of farewell visits to European capitals.
