

President Asks Russia For 'Deeds' To Show Sincerity

WASHINGTON, April 16 — President Eisenhower challenged Russia's new leaders Thursday to prove their will for peace by ending the Korean war, lifting the Iron Curtain from satellite countries and joining a world disarmament pact that would outlaw atomic weapons.

He seized the diplomatic initiative from the Communists in a major foreign policy speech listing specific "deeds" the Russians can perform to demonstrate the sincerity of their recent peace talk.

He said the death of Soviet Premier Josef Stalin has given his Kremlin successors "a precious chance to turn the black tide of events" sweeping the world toward atomic war, but warned that "we do not yet know" whether they mean to do it.

Mr. Eisenhower interrupted his going vacation at Augusta, Ga., and flew here to deliver the 3,500-word address before the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He planned to return to Augusta late Thursday afternoon.

Diplomatic circles hailed the speech as a "momentous" declaration of the new administration's readiness to negotiate a just, cold war settlement with Russia.

The main points of the broad U.S. policy he sketched were:

1. This country is ready to enter into a five-point world disarmament treaty providing for an outright ban on atomic weapons, definite limitations on the size of each nation's armed forces, and "a practical system of inspection under the United Nations" to enforce the rules.
2. If disarmament can be achieved, the United States will join other countries in setting up a "fund for world aid and reconstruction" out of billions saved on military preparations.

3. "The first great step" toward a general world settlement "must be the conclusion of an honorable armistice in Korea." This should be followed immediately by "political discussions leading to the holding of free elections in a united Korea."
4. A Korean truce "would be a fraud" unless the Communists simultaneously call off their aggressions against Indo-China and Malaya. The Soviet attitude on this question will show whether the Communists seek "merely an expedient truce in Korea" or "genuine peace in Asia."

5. Russia can demonstrate good faith in Europe by (a) freeing Communist satellite countries to choose "their own forms of government;" (b) releasing "thousands of prisoners still held from World War II;" and (c) agreeing to an Austrian peace treaty without further delay.
6. The United States is willing to work for a "united Germany, with a government based on free and secret elections." But the German problem cannot be separated from the broader question of lifting the Iron Curtain throughout Europe to open the way for "free movement of persons, of trade and of ideas."

Mr. Eisenhower said the whole world will be waiting to hear Russia's answer to these challenges, and asked that "whatever the answer be, let it be plainly spoken."

"The hunger for peace is too great, the hour in history too late, for any government to mock men's hopes with mere words and promises and gestures," he said.

"The test of truth is simple. There can be no persuasion but by deeds."

"A new leadership has assumed power in the Soviet Union. Its links to the past, however strong, cannot bind it completely. Its future is, in great part, its own to make."

Freedom is not caprice, but room to enlarge.

Wheat Control Violators Face Stiff Penalty

WASHINGTON, April 16 —UP— Agriculture Department officials are planning to ask Congress to provide stiffer penalties for farmers who violate federal controls on wheat production, it was learned Thursday.

This stems from the fact that such controls are almost certain to be needed in 1954 and they want them to be effective.

One spokesman said officials feel that the 15 cents a bushel fine allowed under current law for each bushel of wheat a farmer markets in excess of his share when marketing quotas are in effect "is no deterrent" to overproduction.

He said with that kind of penalty, farmers could make more money by violating their quota.

The move shaped up after Secretary Ezra T. Benson noted Wednesday that controls on both wheat and cotton "probable" next year. He said just to be safe, he has started preliminary work on the complicated business which would involve 2,100,000 wheat farms and 1,350,000 cotton farms.

If the controls go into effect, Benson estimated it would cost the Agriculture Department about $35,750,000 to operate them.

The cost is one reason budget-conscious Benson is reluctant to impose controls. However, he points out high price support losses would be in prospect if production on the price supported crops wasn't turned off and the flow of the two crops into federal warehouses wasn't stopped.

The fines allowed on farmers who violate cotton marketing quotas are considered adequate. When they market more than their share they pay a cash fine equal to 90 percent of the parity price on cotton on each pound of excess cotton.

Tax Boards Study Jobs

Organization and review of their duties were underway by 9:30 a. m. today by the city and school boards of equalization.

City Secretary Ed Vicars administered the oath of office to the city's three-man board a few minutes after 9 a. m., and was followed by Roy McMillen, school business manager, who administered the oaths to the five-man equalization board for Pampa Independent School District.

The boards will do little more than get acquainted with duties and each other, and have their jobs outlined for them by Aubrey Jones, city tax assessor-collector, and McMillen, chairman and vice-chairmen for each board will also be selected.

Serving on the school equalization board are: Clarence Kennedy, Aubrey Steele, George Cree, Jr., A. D. Whitten, and Skeet Roberts. Serving on the city board are: C. P. (Doc) Purley, Bob Sidwell and E. J. Lewis.

Although the two boards sit together for the purposes of attaining uniform values they act separately.

Milk Price Decline Said Temporary

Housewives enjoying the second one cent per quart drop in retail milk prices better not count on its being permanent.

That was the advice given by a local dairyman this morning when he commented on the second one-cent price drop within 60 days. The drop, he declared, was seasonal and predicted it would go up again this winter when milk-producers have to buy feed instead of selling it on a natural feed as they can during the spring and summer months.

He added the drop had nothing to do with the current general price decline over the nation.

Hazlewood Pushing Bill On Gas Price

AUSTIN — Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo was readying today for a major effort to push his minimum gas price bill through the Senate after the measure won committee approval Wednesday.

The Senate Oil, Gas and Conservation Committee approved the bill authorizing the Texas Railroad Commission to set minimum well-head prices on natural gas produced in the three-state Hugoton and Panhandle fields.

The committee okayed the measure which opponents say will set a dangerous precedence in the state by a narrow 7-6 margin after four days of hearings.

In addition, Hazlewood says his measure would prevent waste, will eliminate inequities in gas prices paid to Texas Panhandle Producers and royalty owners and those in Oklahoma and Kansas where minimum price laws are in effect.

Opponents testifying Wednesday declared the bill could not lessen waste because there was none and challenged statements that gas is being drawn from the Texas field at a faster rate than from portions of the vast pool in Oklahoma and Kansas where minimum rates have been set at 9.8 cents and 11.8 cents per thousand cubic feet.

'Persecution Complex' Family Slayer Shoots Self

AKULONIS were his 72-year-old mother, two brothers and two nephews. The case was one of the worst mass killings since Howard Unruh, a 28-year-old war veteran, went berserk in Camden, N. J., on Sept. 6, 1949, and killed 15 of his neighbors with a German Luger pistol. Unruh was committed to a mental hospital.

Police feared that Akulonis had killed Peter Jr., after leaving the school and hidden his body, although one in a bundle of blood-stained notes found in the dead killer's pockets read: "I love Peter the best of all."

However, police said, the slayer might have referred to himself. Some of the other cryptic notes read: "Thanks to the tin gods," "I hope you choke," "damn all the rats."

Police said Akulonis had a police record of burglary and drunkenness but had not been arrested in the past 20 years.

Former co-workers at a Lawrence boiler factory said Akulonis had developed a "persecution complex."

Local law enforcement officers were scheduled to attend this afternoon's funeral for Capt. Polk Ivy, commanding officer of the Panhandle Highway Patrol district, who died early Tuesday morning in Houston.

Definitely going were Highway Patrolmen P. C. Wynne and E. J. Robertson and Sheriff Rufe Jordan. Mrs. Wynne and Mrs. Jordan were also expected to attend.

Police Chief Jim Conner was not certain late this morning whether he and Mrs. Conner would be able to be present.

Funeral services were scheduled for 4 p. m. today in the Blackburn-Shaw Memorial Chapel, Amarillo. Burial was to be in Llano Cemetery.

Bus Crash Injures 16

MARLIN, Tex., April 16 —UP— A school bus carrying 36 children careened out of control off an old wooden bridge near Marlin Wednesday and plunged 12 feet into a dry creek bed. Sixteen students were injured, three of them seriously.

Driver H. T. Torgerson said he lost control of the bus when its wheels slipped off raised runners on the old bridge over Big Sandy creek, three miles east of Marlin.

Gwendolyn Krumnow, 14, told officers the accident "happened all at once. We were all talking and didn't even know anything was the matter until the bus started falling into the creek bed."

Torgerson said the 36 children started screaming as they were thrown from their seats. "The impact dazed me when the bus hit, but I remember that the students were orderly and helped each other get out of the bus."

Culprit Steals Housewife's Cake

A Pampa housewife had an experience with a thief today that really takes the cake.

And that's just what the culprit did.

Mrs. L. P. Fort, 139 S. Faulkner, baked a large chocolate cake this morning. She left the house for "about 10 or 15 minutes" and when she returned, someone had helped themselves to almost half the cake, scattering part of it from the kitchen all the way out the front door.

"And," wailed Fort, "it was my half of the cake."

Thorn To Attend Milk Code Meet

A. N. Thorn, city milk inspector, was on his way to Abilene this afternoon to attend a conference on the new milk code adopted by the U. S. Department of Health and concurred in by the Texas Health Department.

The conference will be held tomorrow and will be attended by municipal and county milk inspectors over the state, Texas Health Department officials will discuss the new code.

Communists Invited To Meet Friday

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Friday, April 17 — UP — Red trucks and ambulances Friday delivered the first of 605 Allied sick and wounded war prisoners to Kaesong — last stop before freedom — and the United Nations command indicated it now may be willing to resume full-scale truce negotiations.

The UN notified the Reds it wants a meeting of liaison officers Friday to deliver a letter from Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, head of the United Nations truce delegation.

The letter, addressed to North Korean Gen. Nam Il, presumably is the UN reply to repeated Communist demands for a special conference to arrange resumption of the long-stalemated armistice talks.

Grumble at Delays

The Reds have been grumbling at delays in delivery of the UN answer.

The United Nations command said Harrison's letter will be presented to the Reds at 8:30 a. m. (5:30 p. m. Thursday est).

Twenty-four dust-covered trucks bearing the Allied sick and wounded for next Monday's prisoner exchange jolted into the Red truce camp at Kaesong Thursday night.

It was not known immediately how many prisoners were on the trucks that arrived Thursday night. The prisoners will remain at Kaesong until next Monday when the

All boys entering racers in the local derby will be given prizes which will be donated by Pampa business firms. First prize in the All-American Soap Box Derby is a $5,000 college scholarship. Four other scholarships totaling $10,000 will also be awarded winners of the Akron race.

Tickets On Sale For Annual Teacher-Appreciation Dinner

Officials of Pampa business firms will be urged today to return to the chamber of commerce cards indicating their intention to buy tickets for the annual teacher appreciation dinner.

Get together is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. April 23 in the cafeteria of Pampa High School, according to Paul Brown, program chairman.

Handled strictly "with a Western motif" the affair will feature the meeting of guests at the door "with gaily-becked cowboys and cowgirls," Brown said. "And all six-shooters will be checked at the door."

Major performer on the program will be Larry Kelly, Amarillo, a "outstanding pianist" who has made national headlines — reputed to be "one of the finest young artists in the country."

Others on the 20-30 minute program, Brown continued, will be "Al Johnson," "Jimmy Durstine," "Bob Hope," Rufe Jordan, "the singing high sheriff," and a Western band.

Somewhat ominously he added, "The program will not be without the unusual and unexpected that go with early pioneer parties — where we understand an occasional gang-fight took place."

Tickets for the affair can be purchased by calling 353.

Stops In Pampa... Californian United With 'Lost' Family

A harried Los Angeles man who spent the night nervously pacing the Pampa police station floor was reunited late this morning with his wife and two children who had been enroute from Oklahoma City to California.

Last time J. E. Morris had seen his family — including a son, 2, and a daughter, 12 — was in Oklahoma City at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday when they left town headed West, he driving a car and trailer and she operating a second car.

A phone call to Pampa's sheriff office from Mrs. Morris in Lufkin at 11 a. m. today, which was relayed to the police station, brought the family together again and later in the day they were slated to resume their journey to California.

"I think she thought she was behind me as we left Oklahoma City," he said earlier today. "Whereas, actually she was in front of me and drew away out of sight."

Reason for Morris' presence in Pampa was twofold: (1) his brother (See CALIFORNIAN, Page 4)

Formby Dinner Reservations Going Rapidly

Chamber of Commerce officials at 9 a. m. today were only 15 reservations away from the 150 limit for the reception dinner to be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Palm Room, city hall, honoring Marshall Formby, newly appointed member of the State Highway Commission.

Formby, a Hereford resident, is the first member of the commission to be appointed from the immediate Panhandle territory in many years.

Making the official introduction of the highway commissioner will be County Judge J. B. Maguire Jr. Former County Judge Sherman White will also take part in the program as well as Mayor Tom Ross.

The general public has been invited, Chamber of Commerce Manager E. O. Wedgworth said, but only 150 will be able to purchase tickets for the dinner.

Sponsoring the affair is the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Highway and Transportation Committee.

Master of ceremonies tonight will be Clinton Evans, Pampa Chamber vice-president, who announced that special entertainment will be provided by the Pampa High School senior sextet.

Beria May Be Brain Behind Red Attacks On U.S. And British Planes In Germany

By LEON DENNIS
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (NEA)—Lavrenti P. Beria, who master-minded the Berlin blockade in 1948, may be the man behind the Red attacks on U.S. and British planes in Germany.

Russian experts see a "deadly parallel" between the two events—despite the new "peace" bid by Georgi Malenkov Stalin's successor in the Kremlin.

"There is more than coincidence that Moscow's first move since Stalin's death would be in Germany," said Ernst Reuter, West Berlin's anti-Communist Mayor.

Reuter, an outstanding authority on the cold war, is now visiting in the U.S. He believes West Germany is probably the most important European target of Soviet strategy.

Germany is the key to defense of Western Europe—and the special dish of Beria, boss of Russia's secret police. The latest Red attacks, in which seven British aircraft lost their lives, bore Beria's unmistakable stamp.

Beria, No. 2 man in the Kremlin's new setup, has long been known as an exponent of a terrorist, get-tough policy with the West.

"Our enemies as well as our friends will respect us only as long as we are strong," Beria is reported to have told top Berlin leaders in 1947. "The weak are not expected."

During Beria's visit to Berlin in June, 1947, I was able to watch him in action. Whenever he went in his long black Packard with bullet-proof windows, flanked by a host of MVD agents, he was in fear, arrests, kidnaping and so on in his wake.

It was on this visit that Beria apparently decided that the West was preparing a "preventive war" against him. He suggested to Stalin the "Allied attack," he suggested to Stalin the blockade of Berlin, and took personal charge.

The blockade was the first Russian major defeat in the hot-cold war. Faced with the U.S. airlift and the heroic stand of the Berliners under Mayor Reuter's leadership, Stalin had to beat a retreat.

Blame for the Berlin failure fell on Beria's shoulders.

Persistent reports seeping through the Iron Curtain say Stalin was apparently ready, shortly before his death, to discard his trigger-happy chief of police—just as he discarded Beria's trigger-happy predecessors, Henryk Yagoda and Nikolai Yezhov.

Stalin apparently died in the nick of time—to save Beria's skin. Now Beria holds the key to the struggle for power in the Kremlin, the support of the powerful chief of the MVD.

Does Beria's ascendancy increase the Soviet menace to Germany—and to Europe?

Bolsheviks never forgive nor forget a defeat.

The brutal Red attack on U.S. and British planes may be the beginning of Beria's long-range hopes to terrorize and subdue West Germany—to avenge his failure in the Berlin blockade.

Sherry Hasn't A Burp In A Barrel, Wine Expert Brags

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, April 16—UP—The nice thing about sherry wine is there isn't a burp in a barrel.

At least that's what the sherry people would have you believe.

The publicity man who ushered the press around in a wine tasting bee is an old sherry man himself, he said. But he admitted privately that it's part of his job. He likes to eat as well as drink.

The tasting business was held in the South American room of the Statter. The tab for the wine and cheese was picked up by Gonzales, Byass and Co., of La Frontera, Spain, and London.

Anyhow, we started with some stuff called Tio Pepe. This very dry and, according to the press agent, the sort of wine the soon-to-be crowned Queen Elizabeth dearly loves.

Start With Tio Pepe
The Tio Pepe wine tasted all right if not up to this glowing tribute in a wine leaflet: "an exquisitely pale and dry that is an honor to welcome upon the tongue."

Next came something called "a sherry of history and romance; medium dry; full flavor and bouquet."

This, the man says, you can drink any old time: for breakfast, for lunch, for dinner, at bridge or checkers or even while playing kelly pool.

We topped all that off with something called Diamond Jubilee. Queen Victoria was celebrating her diamond jubilee the year the wine was introduced in 1890.

Served by Thimbleful
The press agent, by the way, is no little disturbed by the fact that most Americans are not wine drinkers.

"Isn't it about time you learned to live decently?" he asked.

Some of the best wine tasters aboard were not from the press corps. One lady walked up to the press agent and said: "wasn't it true that if you chill wines, you destroy its flavor?"

The publicity man a-hemmed a couple of times and said, "Well, no."

The wine being served by the thimbleful was pretty well chilled.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

You Must Ask To Go Out

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
"As a game of Canasta I ask week," writes a Portland correspondent, "we ran into quite a peculiar situation. My partner took the discard pile, which was a good one, and cleared out her hand so I could go out if possible before our opponent could get their initial meld down."
"However, the player to my right melded and made a canasta out of his small meld. He put down four eights and four deuces. Now, tell me, was this a legal meld? All the rules say that only three wild cards may be used in a canasta. (The opponents needed a count of 120 points for their first meld.)
When we objected to their melding in that way, the opponents wanted to put two eights and two deuces in one meld and then put the other two eights and the other pair of deuces in a separate meld. We objected to that, too. Were we wrong?"
No, you were right. You are never allowed to use four wild cards in a canasta. Moreover, you are never allowed to make two separate melds of the same rank in the game of Canasta. (You are allowed to do so in Samba, the three-pack game, but not in Canasta, the two-pack game.)
In short, the opponents could not make any legal meld that included four eights and four deuces.
From Chicago comes a request for a ruling on two points connected with black threes: "When three or four black threes are used to end a hand, do these black threes count as an extra 100 points in addition to the 100 received for going out?"
If the player has only three black threes in his hand, can he go out without having an additional discard?"
There is no extra bonus for melding black threes. Each black three is worth precisely 5 points, never more and never less.
The question about the discard with black threes is usually asked the opposite way. Many people think that you aren't allowed to discard when you meld out with black threes. The truth is that melding out with black threes is no different from any other way of melding out.

Depending on your hand, you may make a discard or not—exactly as though you had not melded the black threes. The black threes are just a red herring and should not be allowed to confuse the issue.

Pampa Boy Confined In Dallas Hospital

Ernest Daniels, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Daniels of Pampa, was admitted April 8 to the Scottish Rite Hospital for crippled children in Dallas.
The hospital was founded 27 years ago by the Texas Masons to provide the best treatment for Texas' crippled children at no extra cost to the patient.
Since that time, the Scottish Rite Hospital has treated more than 15,000 children in the wards and 68,000 clinical patients. An expert staff of doctors, nurses and therapeutic technicians provides the treatment, both corrective and surgical, by means of contributions from the general public.

Elks Remind Public Of Circus Monday

The circus is coming to town. It's the Bailey Brothers Circus, sponsored by the local Elks Club to benefit the Elks Crippled Children's Home, Ottawa, division of the Elks State Hospital.
And accompanying it is full three-ring color, according to Joe Tooley, Elks exalted ruler, with trapeze artists, elephants and clowns.
The show is scheduled for two performances — a matinee at 2 p.m. and at 8 p.m. — Monday in Recreation Park.
Bailey Brothers feature 46 acts and 26 displays — "fun for adults and children."
The Elks annually sponsor the circus performances in Pampa and all proceeds go to the support of the children's home, Tooley said.

Plumbers Eye Pseudo-Strike In Amarillo

Pampa's plumbers were watching today for results in a pseudo-strike by about 60 Amarillo plumbers, steamfitters, pipe welders and pipe fitters who refused to work Wednesday in a wage dispute with the plumbing contractors association.

The members of Local 196 of the Plumbers and Steamfitters Union (AFL) want a 25-cent-an-hour wage increase over the present scale of $2.62 1/2 an hour. They are making their demands to the Panhandle Plumbing, Heating, Piping and Air Conditioning Contractors Association.

Local plumbing firms expect wage increases here and in other Panhandle towns should union demands be met by the contractors association.

Although there are only two union shops in Pampa, other shops will probably be forced to keep pace with union practices, local plumbing firm representatives said here this morning. And any increase will have to be met here in one form or another pretty quickly after those granted in Amarillo. It is estimated there are from 30 to 40 plumbers working now in Pampa.

There was some doubt here as to whether or not the increase would be granted. One Pampa plumber declared there wasn't enough work at present to uphold an increase.

Street Department Workers Go All Out In Credit Union

At least one city department has signed up 100 per cent in the embryonic Pampa Municipal Credit Union now in the process of organization.

Russell Cartwright, street department superintendent, was named acting treasurer late yesterday afternoon when representatives from all city departments decided to form a credit union for city employees.

By this morning Cartwright had his own street department signed up 100 per cent except two men who are on sick leave, but even when they return to work.

Cartwright said he had deposited $80 this morning in the organization's new account and forwarded an initiation fee of $10 to the Texas Credit Union League.

Shares in the credit union can be purchased by those belonging at $5 a share, Cartwright said. Some employees asked if they could buy shares through a payroll deduction plan, but City Manager B. H. Cruise said he would want the City Commission to okay the move before starting to allow payroll deductions.

During the meeting which came as a surprise to most of the city officials and employees who took part in a three-man nominating committee was selected including C. C. Dodd, warehouse and shop foreman, as chairman; Carl Wright of the street department and Jon Scott of the water department. The by-laws committee was made up of Fire Chief Ernest Winborne, Tax Assessor-Collector Aubrey Jones and As-

Monday Is Last Day For Airline Service

Pampa, by Monday morning, will be relegated to the class of "a town without scheduled airline service."

For at 10:36 p.m. the last scheduled Central Airline flight will leave Perry LePore field, headed for Amarillo. The last east-bound flight out of Pampa will take off from the field at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Central has operated in Pampa for more than three years, first using three-passenger Beech Bonanzas and in a few months graduating to the 24-passenger DC-3s.

But the east-west bound route did not build up the business in Pampa Central hoped it would. Most of the east-bound traffic came from the oil fields and was picked up at Borger — which will continue to have Central flights — but very little out of Pampa. The reason was many of the big companies had their own planes, and most of the air travel over airlines out of Pampa was to Houston, south to Dallas or Houston. Central's pattern from Pampa to Dallas was circuitous and took too long swinging through Oklahoma and then into Dallas-Fort Worth.

Finally Central applied to Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to abandon its Pampa stop and the okay was made early this

Brochure On City Nears Completion

A new brochure on Pampa and its industrial potentialities is expected to go to press within the next 30 days.

Successor to a similar publication distributed two years ago, this one will have up-to-date editorial comment and pictures.

Final plans for the Pampa trade publication were laid Wednesday at a meeting of the publicity committee of the local chamber of commerce.

Last-minute gathering of photographs and information is now underway, officials said, for the brochure which is being prepared by the chamber's office staff and publicity committee members.

Exact number of copies to be printed is still undecided, officials continued. Two years ago, there were 5,000-10,000 copies printed and not a one is available today.

Upon completion, the new brochure is to be mailed to possible industrial prospects and to all leading publicity agents in the area.

City's Fog Machine In Operation Again

Pampa's germ population was "fed" in three days with the city's new jet activated fogging machine, Russell Cartwright, street department superintendent reported this morning.

The new fogging machine went to work Monday and covered all city alleys in three days. The machine was removed from the flatbed truck carrying it and stored away for next few weeks before it is again brought into play to decimate fly, mosquito, germ and other bug populations.

Amarillo Resident Awaits Court Action

Awaiting county court action late this morning was an Amarillo man, charged with driving while intoxicated.

Berlin Otto Barbour, 50, was picked up by city police at 7:50 p.m. Wednesday on Alcock, was lodged in city jail overnight and was handed over to county authorities in mid-morning today.

COMMUNISTS

Another convoy of 16 vehicles was believed to be 17 miles northwest of Kaesong at Sinmak, an Air Force spokesman said. The third convoy was believed to be at Yongsong, 90 miles north-northwest of Kaesong.

The first convoy to enter Kaesong was reported to have traveled the last 20 miles into the city at a "tortuously slow" pace. Two vehicles were mired in the mud.

The two mired vehicles split the convoy into two segments, causing some 12 trucks to be delayed at Sinmak. Two trucks were believed to be enroute north to help the stranded vehicles.

Only reason that Morris knew of her whereabouts then was that "I just happened to call the same people from Shamrock" and found she had called previously. But when he got to Pampa (thinking she was here) she was gone—where he didn't know.

In and about Pampa's police station since late Wednesday night, Morris at mid-morning was waiting for results from an all-points-alert sent out over the area. Red Cross and Salvation Army had also been notified.

Chief worry for Morris was that his wife had no money or identification with her. "When we bought gas in Oklahoma City," he said, "she gave me her billfold."

But he had added: "I'll wait here till I hear something—if it takes a week."

Group In United Nations Studies The Status Of Women All Over The World

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY NEW YORK, April 16—Few people realize how thoroughly an all-woman group in the United Nations is studying the status of women all over the world.

The members meet only once a year. They now have completed a study of women's political rights in 60 nations which took three years to gather. And they've begun a new, even more formidable job.

"Our new study project is private law," said Mrs. Lorena Hahn, wife of a federal land bank appraiser in Omaha, Neb., who is the United States representative of the UN Status of Women Commission.

Mrs. Hahn and 17 women from as many different countries, including three from the United States, just completed three weeks of meetings.

By "private law" Mrs. Hahn means a thorough inquiry into a woman's place in the family in the 60 UN countries.

"We'll ask 60 countries what their laws provide in three categories," Mrs. Hahn explained. "First, how a woman enters into marriage, meaning whether she has freedom of choice; second, the relationship of husband and wife in such things as control of the children, and third, a woman's property rights."

The women on the commission have nothing to do with actually gathering the information. They merely outline the program and study the results.

It was fascinating, Mrs. Hahn said enthusiastically, to sit at the recent meetings and hear women from such countries as Pakistan and Burma tell of family life in their countries.

"In Burma there is no marriage ceremony, for instance," said the Nebraska woman who is a former national president of the American Legion auxiliary.

"When a couple establishes a home together that signifies marriage."

"The women were careful not to criticize one another's family customs or praise their own," Mrs. Hahn said.

"We had differences of opinion, but no real disagreements," she said. "We all became very friendly."

"I think the United States has to be especially careful at these meetings, since we are inclined to feel that we have all the rights for women that other countries are seeking. We should present our proposals with humility and not arrogance. We can always learn from other countries."

Berlin Notebook: City Of Strippers And Suicides

By FRED SPARKS
NEA Staff Correspondent

BERLIN — (NEA) — Noted in Berlin, where you can take a subway through the Iron Curtain: A husky farm boy, who fled East Germany, says: "Why did I come over? I heard I could join the American Army." A U. S. Military Policeman leans out of his jeep, tells a GI who has been kissing a frau in under a street lamp: "Knock that off! It doesn't look dignified on the main drag. Go in the park."

A ram-rod stiff, Prussian-style citizen has a black patch over one eye, a monocle over the other. Tacked on a post office bulletin board: a snapshot of a blonde youngster in a Wehrmacht uniform with this note: "To those who were in Russian captivity—have you seen this boy. My son's missing since 1942. Please write his mother."

Cop walks lonesome beat with a vicious-looking police dog, trained to knock down and pin anybody on a "Sic sem!" order. Satellite State Ticker: If you have a relative in a Communist-chained country DON'T send him a new suit. Sure he needs clothes, but ship one well soiled and sturdy. He won't wear a fresh, flashy U. S. cut. Party punks would finger him as "reactionary."

Berlin is a town that has (for its size) the world's greatest number of:

Suicides, thanks to the Russian strangle hold, continued crises, unemployment and the predicted bleak tomorrow.

Naughty night clubs, where strippers peel like bananas in daring dances that would make a Boston censor beg for a strait-jacket.

U. S. cavalrymen; the last mounted platoon in our Army horse-patrols East-West borders and struts at formal functions. Matrimonial agencies; with

HEIFER-BACK RIDERS—Marilyn and Carolyn Yordy, 12-year-old twins of Brookville, Kans., take a ride astride their unusual steeds, their pet heifers. The girls used to ride pigs, but now they've graduated to taller animals.

Berlin is skin worn fashionably tight to the ribs.

Warning! Americans must carefully "overlook" Red China's agents, even though the Peking Pals gas with our British chums. At neutral stores both Chinese governments are sometimes present, recalling the unhappy bigamist who met his two wives at the same dinner party.

Speedy Motorist Ready For A Race
DETROIT, April 16—UP—James A. Rothermel, 22, charged with trying to outdistance a police car at 90 miles an hour, explained: "I thought it was just somebody who wanted to race, so I floored it."

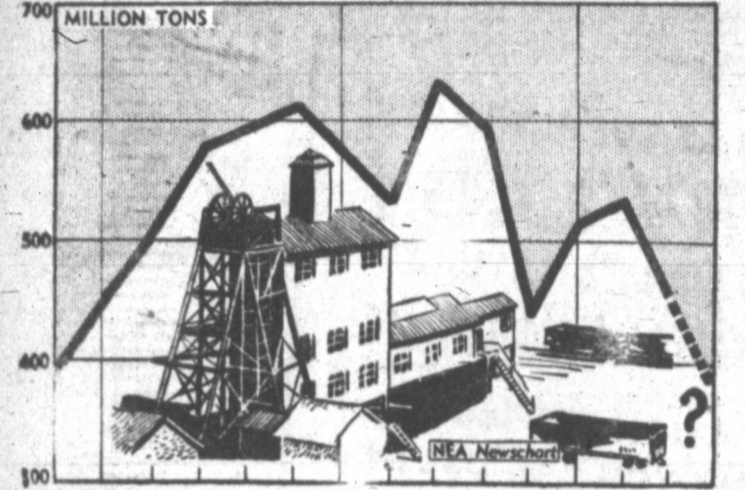

Traffic Judge John D. Watts floored Rothermel with a $25 fine and six months' probation without driving privileges.

One Mistake Enough, Civic Leader Believes
NEW YORK, April 16—UP—Unwed mothers with more than one child should be dropped from relief rolls, a woman civic leader suggested Thursday.

"A girl is entitled to an honest mistake," Mrs. Elizabeth Spisa told a hearing of the Board of Estimate. "But please—two or more children can not be called an honest mistake."

"PILES Stole My Pop—But Now I'm 'NEP'"
Doctor-Developed, Clinic-Proved Remedy Brings Fast Relief

There's guaranteed relief from misery of piles. Thornton Huser's diet-and-developed-through-experience of treating 71,000 patients for a century at world's leading hospital has helped millions. Relieves pain of piles—promotes healing—helps reduce swelling. Discover wonderful relief or money back in tubes or ointment at all drug stores.

BITUMINOUS COAL PILE SHRINKS—The Korean war "peace feelers" have caused many to rejoice, but a great number of bituminous coal miners may lose their jobs should a truce be declared. Some coal-using industries have stopped buying and are digging into their reserves in anticipation of a production cutback. This would cause layoffs in the mines if and when the war ends. Above Newschart shows production in the bituminous coal industry from 1939 to the present. High point was 1947, when over 630 million tons were mined. Experts feel that production may drop below 400 million tons during 1953, the lowest point since 1939.

women in the vast majority, due to World War II, any normal Hertz is a candidate for a well-wadded widow, minus agency fees. (Lonesome ladies offer shelter to attractive guys fleeing the Red Reich.)

Cold lobster and cold war of Memoirs of a Diplomatic Cock-tail Party:

When Marshal Chuikov, Soviet supervisor of East Germany, enters all the Kremlin kids clap-clap-clap. He claps back, Russian style, which means: "I like you, too."

Allied diplomats nod frigidly to the Soviet Sphere Set, and they charm each other with conversational classics as: "Berlin has been frightfully foggy, hasn't it?" (I ask a Russian general: "What do you think about the Korean War?" He replies: "Have you tried the cheese?")

After some such polite prattle the fashionable, perturbed representatives of two worlds join paunches at a bloated buffet offering mountains of caviar, pate, turkey, anchovies... while outside the style for half of hungry

Chevrolet owners have long been convinced that they have the safest as well as the largest brakes to be found on any low-priced car.

And now, for 1953, our engineers have made these brakes even more efficient by installing a new hydraulic master cylinder, increasing brake responsiveness while decreasing pedal effort, and adopting a new foot-form brake pedal which provides easier, more natural contact with the foot.

The results are much smoother, more responsive brake action... with up to 23% less pedal pressure... and a soft, velvety feel of operation hitherto found only in higher-priced cars.

Realize, too, that here is the only low-priced car with sturdy Fisher Unisteel Construction, Safety Plate Glass in windshield and all windows of sedans and coupes, extra-easy Power Steering* and many other important safety factors, and you'll understand why owners rate the new Chevrolet tops in safety-protection as well as in beauty and performance.

Khrushchey: The Man Who Manhandled Stalin's Wife

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—There's a new dark horse possible challenger of fat Georgi Malenkov's rule in Russia, Nikita S. Khrushchey, new boss of the Russian Communist Party, is the man.

Soviet experts now take a harder look at the toady ex-coal miner with steel-blue eyes. In the Kremlin struggle for power, the 55-year-old Khrushchey is a good long shot bet to outpace Lavrenti Beria, Marshal Nikolai Bulganin and Vyacheslav Molotov as contenders for Malenkov's power.

Beria, No. 2 man, is boss of the secret police. Bulganin is said to control the Red Army. Molotov is the "old Bolshevik" — the old living link with Lenin and Stalin.

But the key power position has eluded the grasp of these men — the secretariat, or machine, of the Communist Party's Central Committee.

NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV: The scourge of the Ukraine moves up.

In the Soviet dictatorship, the Communist Party is the supreme and final authority. Stalin's power rested not so much on his Premiership as on his ability to retain also complete control of the party machine.

Malenkov no doubt is struggling to fill the dead dictator's shoes and fight off a host of rivals, but control of the party now passes into the hands of Khrushchey.

Dynamic, efficient and ruthless, Ukrainian-born Khrushchey looks more like a Wall Street broker than a Red bureaucrat.

Though relatively unknown in the West, he is no newcomer in the underworld of Communist intrigues.

Khrushchey is the only man in Russia who ever manhandled Stalin's second wife, Nadezhda Allilueva — and got away with it.

In 1931, he was still an obscure secretary of the party organization in Moscow's Trade Institute, where Stalin's wife was a part-time student. It was at the height of the Kremlin's collectivization campaign in which six million peasants are believed to have perished.

At a party meeting in the Trade Institute, Nadezhda Allilueva publicly criticized the brutal policies of her husband, Khrushchey, to avoid a public scandal, acted boldly and ruthlessly. He physically ejected the dictator's wife and sent her under escort back to the Kremlin.

Stalin rewarded him with a job in the party secretariat.

This correspondent was in Moscow several months later, when Nadezhda Allilueva died mysteriously after a violent quarrel with Stalin.

Khrushchey had been built up by Stalin over the years to become one of those ruthless "super-architects" of the Red slave world. His climb to the top, though not spectacular, has been steady.

He was the scourge of the Ukraine when the Ukraine worked itself into a state of rebellion after the war. Stalin gave him the job of regimenting the peasants, the most independent and restless segment of the Russian population.

During the blood puges in 1937, Khrushchey was the boss of the Ukrainian Communist Party. He is responsible for the death of scores of prominent Ukrainian Bolsheviks. His latest victim is believed to be Dimitri Z. Manuilsky, former chief of the Communist International.

Immediately after the war Manuilsky was the most prominent Ukrainian spokesman in the United Nations. But a few years ago he disappeared without a trace.

In 1946, when president of the Ukrainian Council of Ministers, Khrushchey mobilized peasants for hand harvesting of crops because of the lack of machinery. He displaced Politburo member A. A. Andreyev as dictator of Russian agriculture.

Two years ago, as a member of the Politburo, Khrushchey proposed that collective farming be carried a step fute by consolidating peasant villages (collectives) into agrogoroda, or large farm cities. It meant tighter party control of the peasant.

Khrushchey was a member of the military council during the Stalingrad siege in World War II. He also has been secretary of the Moscow Communist Party — prize plum in the party machine — and secretary of the Soviet Party's Central Committee.

Immediately after Stalin's

New Income Tax Rule Would Be Big Cost To Movie Stars

HOLLYWOOD, April 16—UP—The most televised program in the world turned out Thursday to be, not Lucille Ball or Red Skelton, but a half-hour movie with no stars and a church for a sponsor.

The program, "This is the Life" backed by the Lutheran Church, is seen over 80 television stations, a world's record—because the film is free to any station that wants it.

"It's not the world's most popular program," but we estimate a million and a half persons see it," said the Rev. Herman Gockel, religious director of the TV film. "It sounds like a Hollywood exaggeration."

The program, added the minister, is not meant to recruit new Lutherans, "but to spread the Christian message." He observed sadly "very few" listeners contribute to the $750,000 budget for each series of 26 films, now met by the church itself.

The slender, sandy-haired minister once though he was washed up as a religious worker. He lost his church in Evansville, Ind., after his voice weakened and he couldn't preach any more. Then he became interested in radio church programs, and now commutes to Hollywood from his St. Louis home to direct the religious portions of the show.

The set of "This is the Life" has much in common with those in supercolossal movie studios, including a producer in a loud sport jacket who bustles about the set.

The minister also has to caution the five writers who labor over the films not to convert every heathen character in the script "or it would not be believable."

Minister Gockel, however, is a most unusual director.

One of the actors murdered a line of dialogue Thursday, but the pastor sat quietly on the sidelines and said softly:

"He completely misinterpreted that speech, but the actors already are nervous and upset, anyway, so I won't say anything."

Several members of Hollywood's famed Christian group, organized by Jane Russell, have acted in the religious TV movies.

"We haven't had Miss Russell in the pictures, though," added the minister. "I couldn't risk that."

Gets 30-Day Cure For His Headache

DETROIT, April 16—UP—Charles Paslick, 44, told Judge John A. Ricca he was panhandling on the street because he needed 20 cents to buy aspirin for a headache.

Ricca replied: "We'll give you a 30-day cure at the Detroit House of Correction."

Discouraged Thief

HOUSTON, April 16—UP—Paul Offenhauser believes the thief who stole the diving board from his swimming pool apparently got discouraged when he couldn't steal a swimming pool to go with it.

The diving board was deposited in Offenhauser's driveway the night after it was stolen.

Hi-Jackers Use Jacks

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16—UP—Anthony Cummings parked his car and $200-worth of new tires and tubes outside his home.

Next morning when he got up to go to work he found the car jacked up with all four tires and the wheels missing.

Cummings had to walk to his job on the police force.

The Pace That Kills

The saying, "There's always room at the top," has grown trite from endless repetition. But, like all such homely adages, there is more truth than poetry in it. In business after business, especially the larger ones, finding really competent executive talent of both an administrative and a technical character is an ever-present headache. Business, like the world it exists in, has become tremendously complex. It must have managers who are capable of dealing effectively with vital problems concerning labor, markets, taxation, competition, laws and regulations, and all manner of other matters — just as it must have engineers who understand technical problems, which are as obscure to the laymen as an African dialect. Corporations today compete as vigorously for grade-A personnel as they do for business.

To make the situation more difficult, industry has found that it must face a very critical related problem — that of keeping its executives alive and in good condition for a normal working span. The pace of modern business life in the upper executive levels has been exacting a heavy toll of able men at a relatively youthful age.

Time magazine dealt with this situation in a recent article which carried the grim heading, "The Pace That Kills." The first paragraph said: "Does the high pressure of their jobs cause top corporation executives to burn out faster and die earlier than other men? Though industry still lacks the statistics to make a watertight case, the answer seems to be yes."

Time went on to list some of the unhappy facts that have been produced so far. New York's Life Extension Examiners checked over more than 25,000 executives with an average age of 45.6 years, and found that only 20 per cent were in normal health. At a Chicago hospital 55 executives under 50 were examined, and only 3 were free from organic disorders. When 340 executives of one of our greatest corporations reported for a medical checkup, it was found that 235 had something wrong with them, and in 192 cases the disorders were serious. In another very large corporation 189 members of the top management group died during the five war years alone. The American Fidelity and Casualty Company states that the average businessman dies 6 years before his time. This represents both a heavy human waste and a heavy economic waste. It is estimated, Time said, "that a $20,000-a-year executive represents a $250,000 investment by his company."

The result is that more and more concerns are going in heavily for executive health programs — one observer terms these programs "the hottest thing in medicine today." Generally speaking, they are on a voluntary basis, but every encouragement is given to the executives to participate. Often the men are sent to special clinics for a period of days and in some cases they can take their wives with them and enjoy recreational pursuits in idle time. The cost ranges from $35 to $125 a year per executive, and, to quote Time again, "Corporations with health programs are convinced that they are hardheaded business investments." All kinds of pills up to the potentially fatal are unearthed in the early stages when successful treatment is possible. Another benefit, in the words of one big company's medical director, is that "When an executive doesn't have to worry about his health, he feels and works better."

Calling The Shots

A fractional decline in the cost of living coincident with removal of price controls is gratifying. It is also contrary to the forebodings of many experts who believe in control for control's sake.

The old law of supply and demand in a free market is now calling the shots on prices. And, while at the moment the trend appears slightly downward, no one can tell with certainty what may happen next week or next month. The important thing to avoid, judging the virtue of the free market on the basis of the price level at any given moment. Above all, we should get over the idea that removal of controls amounts to no more than a trial period during which prices must behave as we think they should or controls will again be clamped on — the natural inference being that controls are some sort of an ace in the hole. Actually controls are nothing of the sort. They have been removed because they were unworkable. Their long-pull effect on prices is illusory.

The only workable and fair arbiter of price is the free competitive market in which thousands of producers and distributors vie for the favor of consumers. Our present high standard of living is the result of competitive forces that brought about the magnificent concept of low-cost high-volume operation which may be seen today in any large industrial concern and in tens of thousands of retail stores of every kind and description. When you walk into a chain store super-market or modern independent retail concern you are confronted with the miracle of mass-production and mass-distribution — both of which are uniquely American because only in America has the ideal of the free market flourished to the maximum extent.

BETTER JOBS

The Best Plan For Distribution

I have had considerable correspondence with a Socialist who took exception to our statement that there was no common principle that exists between a Socialist and a man who believes in freedom — a definite limited government — or a man who believes that the only purpose of a government is to stop individuals and groups from initiating force and from getting things on an involuntary way.

Now this correspondent contends that there is, no use asking and answering questions because I look at it from one angle and he looks at it from another. He is just admitting that there is nothing in common between a Socialist and a free entrepreneur.

Abundance — This Socialist makes the usual statement made by do-gooders and Socialists. He says: "Now here in the United States by adopting scientific methods and machine power we are able to produce an abundance of most everything."

Then he says: "Under our price system we cannot distribute abundance, for when there is an abundance there is no price. So what does the system do? They destroy the market, sell war supplies to our enemies, or have government buy and store." It is not the price system that interferes with distribution of large production. It is government interference with the price system. This interference is mentioned below.

He gives the example of butter. Then he says: "The price system came into existence a long time ago and was designed to distribute scarcity. At that time we had no idea that there ever would be abundance."

Abundance is a relative word. It is a comparative word. Of course we have abundance compared with what people had 100 years ago or compared with what other nations have, but we do not have abundance. If the word means that there is plenty for everybody, even in the United States, we do not have an abundance of good houses. We do not have an abundance of good educational systems. We do not have an abundance of understanding. We do not have an abundance of good health or cleanliness or beauty. We do not have an abundance of good newspapers, or an abundance of good magazines or good radio programs or television programs. We do not have a great number, but not quality. Above all, we do not have an abundance of good machinery and tools to produce more with less sacrifice or human energy. Of course we have a great deal better and more tools than we had 100 years ago, but we do not even know what abundance is.

Of course, if a Socialist can make people think there is abundance, then it is easy to sell the idea that everybody should have abundance by having the government tax some to give to others. This Socialist complains that production should be in perfect balance with consumption. If that were true, then there would never be any additional tools to improve our standard of living or furnish jobs for increased population. There would be a much near perfect balance between supply and demand if we limited the government to only stopping people from getting things on an involuntary way. Of course, individuals will make errors in judgment, but that will be inconsequential in throwing things out of balance compared with the power of the government to throw things out of balance and making surplus and scarcities. The cause of over supply of this and an under supply of that is such laws as labor laws that give preferences to labor union employees, such laws as tariff walls, or attempting to regulate the value of money and credit, which the government has no ability to do and because of such laws as attempting to teach people when it can only propagate them to enlarge the government and reduce the freedom of the individual. There would be very little difference between production and consumption including that used for capital if we were governed by an unhampered market. If we were our standard of living would be much higher than it is now. In fact we cannot even conjecture how high it would be if we really had an unhampered market, free competition.

The reason America has so much higher a standard of living than any other country is simply because in the past the government more nearly had an unhampered market. That is the government more nearly respected human initiative than any other country in the world. Our long periods of unemployment and our being in one war after another is primarily due to the government abandoning the policies set forth in the Declaration of Independence, and approaching a socialist form of government, which can only lead to tyranny and a lower standard of living.

To sell a product, there is no need to dress sales points in flowery, literary language. Most people who try to do this end up tangled in their own words. It's best to eliminate the excesses. The thing to do is always present your material in the simplest, most forthright manner. Don't beat around the bush. Keep your sentences clear. Be direct, honest, and sincere. Learn to make your sentences convey your meaning with as few words as possible. You'll find that the people you talk to then are more interested in what you have to say. ## Success Secrets

By ELMER WHEELER

How are you with words? Are you a person who uses fancy language stuffed with 112 words that confuse rather than clarify what you are trying to say? Or do you speak directly, using short, concise sentences.

Some people can use complicated grammatical constructions and nicely turned figures of speech with ease and accuracy. But these persons are not usually found in the everyday business world. The modern businessman really has no need of tricky phrases. He

National Whirligig... Ike Faces Test Of Courage In Position On Tax-Cutting Issues

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower will lose a great deal of his support on a bill out of Capitol Hill, if he does not take a firmer and more dramatic stand against the morning cutting taxes before balancing the budget.

The 5 per cent boost in the corporate rate, which ends March 31, 1954, is good for $2 billion a year. The higher excise duties on liquor, cigarettes, gasoline etc., raise $1 billion each twelve months. That also expires on March 31, 1954.

LOSS OF REVENUE CONSEQUENCES — The loss of this revenue, according to Treasury statisticians, would make it impossible to balance the budget for the fiscal years, not only of 1954, but also for 1955 and 1956. They also point out the fiscal dangers of a possible recession in that period, for every drop of $3 billion in national income means a loss of $1 billion in taxes.

HOUSE MEMBERS FAVOR REED'S DEMAND — But House members, who must make friends for next year's possibly difficult re-election contests, are rallying around Representative Daniel A. Reed's demand for abolishing the higher rates levied after the Korean invasion.

ATTENTION ON REDUCED INCOME TAXES — Although it is not appreciated generally, a total of $8 billion in additional post-Korean taxes will expire within the next 12 months, unless Congress continues them. So much attention does require a respectable command of the language that he employs every day. This means a knowledge of the meaning of words, terms of common usage, and the ability to use the language with some facility.

For the businessman, familiarity with the terms of his work is, of course, a must. This is as true for the small business owner or manager as it is for the men working for the largest corporations. To sell a product, there is no need to dress sales points in flowery, literary language. Most people who try to do this end up tangled in their own words. It's best to eliminate the excesses. ## They'll Go Seven Games... Hank Says New York Yankees Will Take 1953 World Series

By HENRY McLEMORE
LOS ANGELES — My membership card in the Baseball Writers' Association of America (Honorary No. 86) reached me today and it was a sweet and sad reminder of how many years have passed since I first looked down from a major league press box. It is hard for me to believe that it was 23 years ago when I gained membership in this best of all sports writers' organizations and walked the ramps of Yankee Stadium to watch the mighty Ruth at work.

Heavens! Nine - tenths of the men in the majors today were barely out of rompers then, and many of them were in baby carriages, gurgling at rattles suspended over their heads. "Excuse me, folks, while I pinch myself to see if I am still alive." But even though the typewriter seems to weigh pounds; more these days, and the ramps seem miles longer, I am glad I was around in those days. Those who weren't missed some powerful good ball players and some powerful good times.

But enough of nostalgia now that the pinch I took at myself proved there are a few corpuses left in the old bones, yet. The very sight of the Baseball Writers' card brings on an urge once again to make a guess at how the clubs will stand when September turns into October and the boxes are bunting-draped for the 1953 World Series.

Don't tell me that I have no business doing this, being as I didn't visit the training camps and study the teams with my own eyes. I did that for years and it didn't do any good. There was a time when I knew the glove and hat size, the exact hour of favorite comic book of every man.

Boy — What do you call a man that drives a car? Dad — It depends on just how close he comes to it.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JOE, M.D.

There is nothing so persistent as a superstition. A recent letter says, "Until recently I thought the old wives' tale of marking an unborn child by some action of the mother had gone out with the Dark Ages. However, when our child was born with a red birthmark, I found how wrong I was and how many people honestly believe in this nonsense. Would you please throw some light on this subject?"

There are almost as many superstitions surrounding the appearance of birthmarks as there are about wars. Even today, in this so-called enlightened age, many people believe that birthmarks result from some incident to which the mother is exposed while carrying the child.

Typical is the idea that, when a baby is born with a strawberry mark, the child will be a controllable desire for these berries during pregnancy. Often, too, the appearance of a birthmark is blamed on some fright of the mother during her pregnancy. It may be stated categorically that there is no scientific evidence whatever to support any such beliefs.

There are several kinds of birthmarks. Many of these are moles, which may be flat or elevated and dark or almost skin color. Brown ones are called pigmented moles. Some are hairy.

Some birthmarks are made up of numerous tiny blood vessels in the skin. Some are level with the surface of the skin but have a dark purplish color which gives them the common name of port wine marks.

Birthmarks may be made up of blood vessels which are raised above the skin level and are soft and spongy. These are called strawberry marks. This type may occur anywhere but is particularly common around the lips or tongue.

Another common variety of birthmark made up of blood vessels is irregularly shaped and slightly raised. It is called a spider nevus because the blood vessels at the center resemble a spider's body, while the smaller ones passing outward resemble the legs of this insect.

What treatment should be used for a birthmark depends on the location, the size and the kind. Some can be removed by local treatment, in certain cases surgery, various types of electric cautery, freezing with carbon dioxide snow, X-rays or radium or certain chemical agents.

But it is not always advisable to remove or fade birthmarks even when they are on conspicuous parts of the body, like the face. Expert advice must be obtained. Many, for example, will fade of themselves as the child gets older.

and the highest in all the state is $3.67 paid to the Times-Mirror company for space in its downtown Los Angeles Mirror Building.

This is in contrast with a low in the state of 72 cents per square foot for space with building services.

In the light of these prices and the profits accruing from state leases, it is obviously time to overhaul the whole wasteful system.

Maybe the best thing is to get a few "smart operators" in the state to prevent similar occurrences in the future, save the public from digging up for rents that are too high, and in some cases by proxy, also picking up the dinner tabs.

Plainview Ponies All Set For Professional Baseball Debut

Plainview Herald-News

PLAINVIEW, April 16—With another Grade A outfielder, a shortstop who can make the hard plays and a couple of pitchers capable of going the route, plainview manager Jackie Sullivan is confident he can field a first division team in Plainview this season.

Observers who have watched the Ponies cavort in and around their Ballinger training camp have a hunch he won't do so bad if he has to start the season with the ball players already inked to a Plainview contract.

Sullivan has a hustling ball club from rookies to veterans. Fielding is sharp and there are enough promising hitters in camp to give Plainview fans hopes for a better than average representation in their first year of organized baseball. Of course the Ponies could do with a little fancy pitching, but who couldn't in the West Texas-New Mexico or any other circuit.

Right now the cream of the mound crop is George Payte, veteran right hander, who has 11 wins and 16 losses last season with the Lamesa Lobos whose franchise Plainview picked up this year. Payte reported in good condition and has displayed a willingness that indicates a better record may be coming up this trip.

Another Lamesa transfer is Lee Gatewood, who also throws from the starboard side. Gatewood had an 11-12 record with the Lamesa Lobos in '52. He has the added advantage of being better than average on the offense, chalking up a commendable .297 batting average last season.

Cliff Korando, like Gatewood a limited service man, is one of two left handers in the Ponies camp. He is a Lamesa transfer who was acquired late last year and was used mostly in relief roles. Korando has had a sore arm this spring and his effectiveness is an unknown quantity.

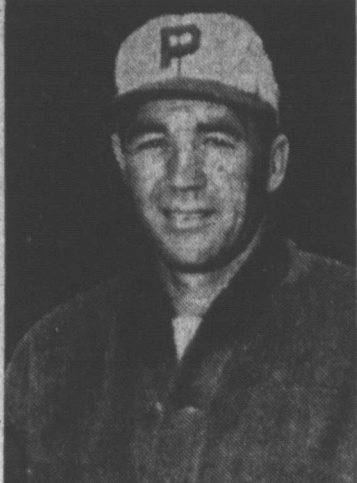

A likely prospect for the regular pitching staff is Herminio Reyes, the Brooklyn Cuban, who comes from Baton Rouge of the Evangeline League. He had an 8-6 mark in the bayou country and a commendable 3.85 earned run average. He tosses from the normal side.

It's always a red letter day for a manager when a rookie chunker comes through and Sullivan has two who appear likely to make the grade. Oran Stokes, a young right hander from Plainview and Douglas Alford, who fires from the left side, are offering an assortment of stuff that brings smiles to the rugged Sullivan pan the while he keeps his fingers crossed.

Robert Gosselin and Frank Grande are other rookies pitching prospects who have shown flashes of real ability in spring drill. Jim Calahan, limited service man who finished the season with Lamesa last year is getting a tough challenge from rookie Bob Connolly for the catching duties.

Connolly, a Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, product, looks like a real prospect. The 19-year-old lad is a hustler and has shown such marked development that he may get the nod for a regular spot. Like Clint Courtney, wearing glasses doesn't seem to impair his behind-the-plate activities. Calahan's superior stick work may give him a slight edge, but the Pittsburg kid is right on his heels.

The infield is strong with the possible exception of shortstop. On third is Wallace Hanna, obtained in a spring trade with Artesia of the Longhorn loop. He played the first half of last season with Harlingen in the Gulf Coast League. Tall and rangy, Hanna handles the defensive chores well and has been hitting at a merry clip this spring.

Rookie Dick Thomas is at shortstop. The Chicago youngster is a fine glove man, but has yet to prove he can hit Class C pitching. He is a likely looking prospect but may be a year or so away from this class baseball.

Manager Jack Sullivan is taking care of the second base duties. It is the favorite position of the veteran performer who has skill on the field and power at bat. He has shown no indication of being average established with Lamesa last year.

Another established .300-clouter is at first base the veteran Forrest (Frosty) Kennedy. The versatile Kennedy played 73 games at second, 50 at third and 13 in the outfield at Lamesa last year and hit a solid .339. He is rapidly becoming accustomed to his new position and should develop into one of the better first sackers of the league. Frosty hit 25 home runs and knocked in 128 runs in 1952.

Don Stokes and a couple of rookie fly chasers roam the outfield for the Ponies. Stokes was probably the second best hitter in the league last year. His 211 hits topped the loop and sprayed them in all directions for his .363 average. Fifteen homers indicated he can hit the long ball and 50 doubles was near the top of the record list.

Travis Shaw, a youth just out of high school at Peniel, near Greenville, and Red Maley, former EMU star athlete, are the class of spring training aspirants for the other outfield spots. Shaw is left handed all the way. He is fast and has been covering a lot of ground in center field.

Maley is the better hitter and has been hitting the ball in a pleasing manner. After graduating from SMU in 1951 he had a brilliant year at pro football with Boston and has coached at Petersburg during the past season. Both men show promise of developing into better than average Class C ball players this year.

A third candidate, Howard Shafer, cracked a bone in his leg sliding into third in a practice session and will probably be lost for the season.

Shaw's speed has been utilized as a leadoff quality in early batting orders. Hanna has been hitting second with Sullivan third and Stokes in the cleanup spot. Kennedy is the fifth hitter with Maley batting sixth. Connolly or Calahan have been up seventh with Thomas eighth and the pitcher last. The sequence has been effective so far and should continue to prove satisfactory when the season opens.

At home a crew of workmen have been busy getting the park in shape for the opener with Albuquerque April 24. A softball field has been converted into a baseball park for Plainview's first venture in organized baseball. The 187 box seats which have been installed are mostly sold out and interest has been high. An excellent lighting system has been set up and grass planted in the infield and outfield. The caretaker, Bud Dean, promises to have everything in readiness for the inaugural.

Bucs Boast Best Mark In Spring Tilts

NEW YORK, April 16—It may look like a trick done with mirrors, but the final records show the Pittsburgh Pirates had the best spring training record of any major league baseball club, leading the National League's cellar club, picked to finish down in the basement again this season, won its final exhibition game of the year Sunday 8 to 5 over the Washington Senators and thereby posted a gaudy 12 to 7 record for a winning percentage of .632 against all types of opposition.

There are, of course, two "gimmicks" in the Pirate record: They played only 19 games, which is from six to 17 less than any other club; and they played 11 of those games against a Havana team called the "Cuban All-Stars" and only five against other major league teams.

The Chicago White Sox, who played 36 games for the largest total, were second in total record with 22 wins and 14 losses for .611, followed by the Senators with 17 to 11 for .607.

All of those Senator games were against major league teams, so the men of Bucky Harris boasted the best win percentage against major league opposition. The Pirates sneaked in second here with 3 to 2 for .600, while Detroit was third with 12-9 for .591 and 10 Brooklyn fourth with 17-13 for .567.

Shantz Loses . . .

Casey Means Despite Win

NEW YORK, April 16—UP—Casey Stengel was groaning Thursday that "everybody is laying for the Yankees and we're gonna have to hustle all the way if we expect to make it five straight pennants."

"We're going in to Washington and who are they gonna throw at us right away?—Bob Porterfield—that's who," he cried. And if they had any better we'd get him instead.

The Yankees beat the prior first class guy in the league Wednesday when they topped Bitzy Bobby Shantz, the most valuable player, but Stengel and the rest of the World Champs weren't happy over their five-hit, 4 to 1 triumph over the Athletics.

"The little man deserved to win," he said. "We sure didn't. They just handed us the ball game with bad fielding. When we gonna start hitting? That's what I want to know."

Things were brighter for the National League champion Dodgers who made it two in a row over the Pirates in Brooklyn, scoring a 4 to 3 victory behind their new ace, rickrolling Russ Meyer. Peeewe Reese hit a bases-loaded two run single in the eighth off knuckleball "rookie" John Lindell, trying to make a big league comeback as a pitcher at 38. Lindell

Trans-Miss Field Cut To 16 Players

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 16—UP—The field narrowed to 16 Thursday in the championship flight of the women's amateur Trans-Mississippi Golf tournament as all but one of the "name" players survived opening round play.

In all, some 85 of the nation's finest amateur lady golfers advanced to the second round of play in 15 flights. The championship flight was limited to 32, half of whom were ousted in match play Wednesday.

The only ranking star to fall victim to an amateur was high vicinied Curtis Cup star Grace De Moss of Corvallis, Ore., who lost to little known Mrs. Frank Donaldson, Anaheim, Calif., 1 up, in 19 holes. Miss De Moss exploded an early lead on the back nine.

Medalist Barbara Romack, of Sacramento, Calif., advanced to second round play with a 4 and 9 victory over former southwest champ Thelma Carr, Phoenix. She meets Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga., who bested Sheila Moss, San Bernardino, Calif., 5 and 4.

The defending champion, Mrs. Carol Bowman, of Richmond, Calif., encountered Gloria Armstrong, Oakland, Calif. Mrs. Bowman bested Lois Schrader, Los Angeles, 4 and 3. Mrs. Bowman's opponent registered a mild upset in defeating erratic Barbara Dawson, Piedmont, Calif., 1 up, in 20 holes.

Mrs. Donaldson was matched Thursday with Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore, Md., who Wednesday defeated Mrs. George Henney, Corona Del Mar, Calif., 3 and 1.

Mrs. Dan Thornton, wife of Colorado's governor, drew a bye Wednesday and will enter play Thursday morning.

In other matches Thursday, the following are paring off: Arlene Brooks, Pasadena, 2 and 1, victor over Barbara Jon Snyder, Wichita, Kan., vs Mrs. David Stamps, Richmond, Calif., who tumbled Mrs. Cliff Prather, Phoenix, 2 and 1.

Legbia Lobo, San Antonio, 3 and 2 victor over Frances Rich, Bainbridge, Ga., vs Mrs. Gloria Fecht, Los Angeles, who downed Mrs. George J. Eckert, Long Beach, Calif., 6 and 5.

Edean Anderson, Helena, Mont., 8 and 7 winner over Mrs. N. J. Vance, Sacramento, Calif., vs Mrs. Harlan Riedel, Dallas, a 4 and 3 winner over Mrs. Ella Mae Roessler, Denver.

Nancy Lupton, San Bernardino, Calif., 1-up winner over Rose Montgomery, Hollywood, vs Mrs. Margaret McMillan, Milwaukee, Wis., who downed 16 year old Susan Casey, Tulsa, 5 and 4.

And Pat Garner, Midland, Tex., winner over Joan Nelson, Tucson, 1-up, in 19 holes, vs Shirley Ann White, Phoenix, a 4 and 2 winner over Marie Jacks, another Phoenixian.

didn't do too badly, giving up eight hits, although walking 10. He fared better at bat blasting Meyer for a two-run homer. Cecil Furillo, who got three hits, drilled a Dodger homer.

The ex-soldier southpaw of the Phillies, Curt Simmons, subdued the Giants on five hits, striking out five for an easy 8 to 1 victory in Philadelphia. Bobby Thomson's second homer in as many days cost him a shutout. Del Ennis hit a two run homer and a single. Stan Lopata hit two doubles and Simmons himself connected for a double and two singles in the 14-hit mauling of three pitchers.

St. Louis at Milwaukee and Cincinnati at Chicago were postponed in the National while Detroit at St. Louis and Washington at Boston were called off in the American where Cleveland and Chicago had an open date.

Winning Pitchers Go Route In All Gulf Coast League Games

By UNITED PRESS The winning pitchers went all the way Wednesday night as Port Arthur, Harlingen, Corpus Christi and Galveston made it two-out-of-three over their Gulf Coast League season-opener opponents.

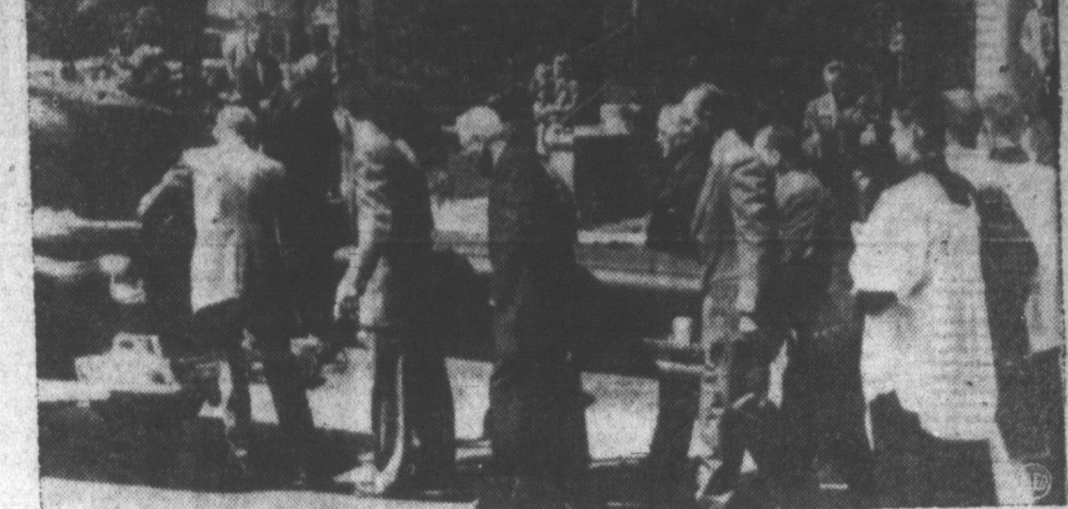

Defending champion Port Arthur romped Lake Charles 10 to 1 behind little Armin Somonte's six-hit hurling; Ramon Roger tossed a six-hit shutout at Brownsville as harlingen won 6 to 0; Jake Christie weathered a nine-walk wild streak as Corpus Christi beat Laredo 10 to 5, and Joe Aguilera kept nine hits well scattered as Galveston beat Texas City 7 to 2.

Sorfonte had his southpaw slants working so effectively that he had a no-hitter working until one man was out in the seventh. His mates made the most of three Lake Charles errors and five of their runs were unearned. Shorty Schröder drove in three runs with two singles.

Roger struck out eight Charros and was never in trouble as Harlingen picked a 6-0 away at three Brownsville pitchers for eight hits, including a two-run homer by Jim Eymon in the seventh.

Christie walked nine men, but after his mates spotted him a 10 to 3 lead by virtue of a six-run third inning, he was never in serious trouble. Luke Luckenbach aided his cause with four hits, including a double and a home run, and Vince Liberto kicked in with a single, double and triple to drive in three runs.

Aguilar weakened a bit in the ninth and Texas City touched him for two runs, but his White Cap teammates nicked Gene Bernal for four runs before knocking him out of the box in the fifth and added three more off his successor Will Larabee.

Fists Fly In Padre-Sports Tilt; Oklahoma City In TL Lead

By UNITED PRESS The surprising Beaumont Exporters Oklahoma City moved on top with a 3-1 record by walloping Fort Worth 9 to 5. Shreveport bounced back into the victory column with a 7 to 4 verdict over San Antonio and Dallas lost its fourth straight, 5 to 4 to Tulsa.

Three Way Tie San Antonio, Shreveport and Beaumont are all tied for second place with 4-2 records. Jack Creel of Beaumont went into the Houston half of the sixth working on a two-hit mound job and boasting a 4-0 lead when the black cat suddenly appeared on the field and ran toward him. The incident so unnerved him he lost control, gave up a double, then three walks before Harry Grubb came in to quell the Buff uprising with only two runs scored. Houston managed another run late off Grub, but that wasn't enough.

Shreveport catcher J. W. Jones and San Antonio catcher Charley White, who was at bat, exchanged blows in the sixth inning of the game at San Antonio, but neither was ejected from the game. Shreveport, blanked in its previous two outings, pushed across four runs in the first inning and went going away behind lefty Joe Piercy's three-hit relief pitching. Oklahoma City's big bats boomed again in the home park, accounting for 14 hits with relief pitcher Al Zillman and Joe Frazier each driving in three runs as five Fort Worth pitchers paraded to the mound. Russ Rose, Fort Worth shortstop batted out three hits and came up with two sparkling fielding errors.

Five errors proved Dallas' undoing, but the big one was a two-base miff by centerfielder Ed Knoblauch of Ed Barr's fly in the last of the ninth. Two singles and an outfield fly provided the winning run off Eagle relief hurler Hoot Gibson.

Thursday, Dallas stays at Tulsa, Fort Worth at Oklahoma City, Beaumont at Houston and Shreveport at San Antonio.

Empire Sold ABILENE Tex., April 16—UP—The outright sale of umpire Orville Eckstine, who worked all last season in the Longhorn League, to the Class A Western League was announced by Longhorn League President Hal Sayles.

The clubs remained at the same sites Thursday night except that Texas City moves to Galveston. Port Arthur is at Lake Charles, Laredo at Corpus Christi and Brownsville at Harlingen. Scores by innings:

They'll Do It Every Time

NO, NO!! WAIT A MINUTE! YOU'RE NOT DOING THAT RIGHT! USE SULFA OINTMENT! NEVER MIND THE JOINTS! NOW AGES YOU GOING TO DRESS IT? I'VE WET BANDAGE? I SAY USE SPLINTS!

BUT I'M FOLLOWING DR. DOORNAIL'S INSTRUCTIONS—

THE WORST PATIENTS IN THE WORLD ARE DOCTORS—THAT ONE THERE IS A NOSE DOG, AND HE'S TRYING TO RUN THE HOSPITAL—

HE MAY KNOW ALL ABOUT SCHNOZZLES, BUT HE'LL HAVE TO SHOW ME HIS DIPLOMA—

DOORNAIL WILL HAVE TO GET BUSTED BEAK TO HAVE THIS DEAL COME OUT EVEN—

HE WANTS THE WHOLE STAFF TO DO HANDSPRINGS BECAUSE HE'S GOT A BUSTED TOE—

PUTTING UP WITH THE SAWBONES WHO IS FINDING OUT HOW THE OTHER HALF LIVES—

A Story Behind Disaster . . . Incredible Spy 'King Kong'

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (NEA)—On Sept. 17, 1944, nearly 10,000 British paratroopers dropped behind Nazi lines at Arnhem, in Holland. This was part of "Operation Market-Garden," a concentrated Allied attack designed to smash German resistance and end the war. But nine days later, 2400 men—the only ones left alive—fought their way back to safety.

IT SEEMED STRANGE that the huge man, an inviting target, could escape time after time in raids in which 80 per cent of his followers were ambushed. But King Kong cheated justice all the way.

At the time, it seemed like a sheer coincidence that a strong Nazi force of armor and infantry was at Arnhem, surrounding the drop area. It seemed that way to everyone but Col. Oreste Pinto, the chief of the Dutch counter-intelligence organization, attached to SHAEF.

Now, in a book called "Spy-Catcher," Pinto tells for the first time the whole story of the incredible Nazi agent behind the disaster. He was called "King Kong."

The spy was Christian Lindemann, but King Kong suited him better because he was a giant. When he was finally captured, there were no handcuffs big enough to fit his wrists. To make the fact of his treason more astounding, he was the revered leader of the Dutch resistance movement.

Yet, Pinto figures, King Kong's one act of treachery that led to the Arnhem disaster cost some 7000 lives. It also, Pinto believes, prolonged the war six months and cost thousands of additional lives and millions in money and equipment. Nevertheless, King Kong cheated justice in the end.

Pinto had suspected Lindemann even before Arnhem. As a veteran counter-spy, he found flaws in Lindemann's character, flaws the Dutch themselves couldn't see because they were blinded by his glamor and "heroism."

It seemed strange to Pinto that Lindemann's younger brother and girl friend, who had been captured by the Gestapo, had been released unharmed. It seemed strange that Lindemann had unlimited funds. It seemed strange that the huge man, an inviting target, could escape time after time in raids in which over 80 per cent of his followers were ambushed.

All these suspicions led to investigation—and facts. King Kong, a great one for the ladies, had given some jewelry to two girls. Pinto knew both of them to be agents of the Nazis. One vanished, the other was poisoned. There were other corroborating details.

But, when Pinto prepared to question Lindemann himself, it was too late. The Canadian forces had borrowed him as an outstanding Dutch resistance fighter.

Work Stoppage Halts Braniff

DALLAS, April 16—UP—Braniff International Airways temporarily suspended service Thursday to seven cities in Texas, Oklahoma, Illinois, Iowa and Kansas pending settlement of a mechanics' work stoppage at its Dallas maintenance center.

The airline company said its international and major domestic services would continue uninterrupted. Charles E. Beard, executive vice president, said qualified and experienced aircraft and engine mechanics licensed by the CAA were maintaining Braniff's aircraft.

Four hundred AFL mechanics members of the Air Carriers Mechanics Association, walked off the job at Braniff's Love (Municipal) Field maintenance center in a dispute over company discharge of an apprentice and a union demand for removal of a crew chief.

Braniff temporarily suspended service to Brownsville, Laredo and Galveston, Tex.; Ponca City, Okla.; Moline, Ill.; Burlington, Iowa; and Topeka, Kan. Beard said some schedules serving other U. S. cities have been consolidated and Super Convair 340's substituted for regular equipment on other flights.

Thanks for Generosity
FORT HOOD, Tex., April 16—UP—Brig. Gen. L. L. Doan, acting commander of Fort Hood and the First Armored Division, has congratulated personnel for their response of $16,096.16 to the 1953 Red Cross campaign. He singled out the campaign leadership of drive chairman Col. James L. Beynon.

SCREEN GODDESS—Because she portrays many mythological characters, Nirmala Roy is called the "goddess" of the Indian screen. The Indian beauty, seen here in Bombay, is the star of both Hindu and Muslim films.

Oldest Amateurs BOSTON, April 15—UP—America's oldest amateur theatrical group is said to be the Footlight Club of Boston. It recently observed its 76th anniversary with a record of not having missed a production since it was founded in 1877.

New Sound Device May Warn Of Approaching Sea Storms

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, April 16—UP—Little shrimp make more noise than whales.
An unusual U. S. Navy recording of fish sounds at the National Fisheries Institute Convention here proved that the Navy thinks that one day, through such recordings it may be able more accurately to predict storms at sea.

This particular recording was explained by John Webster of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Webster identified the first noise as a gang of 300 or 400 shrimp having themselves a time.

Sounds Like Snore
It sounded like a cross between a man snoring and a man brave enough to bark back at his wife. This recording was made two and a half miles under the surface.

The next on the record was a fish the Navy was not able to identify. This one sounded like either a woodpecker having at somebody's apple tree, or a sawed-off machine gun.

The Echo fish, so-called, made a sort of burping sound and then an echo came along a little fainter. Finally, we ran the record down to the black whale. This big mammal made a racket that sounded like a crowd cheering, but not cheering very loud. The big hunk of blubber can't hold a dorsal fin to the tiny shrimp when it comes to racket.

Other odd bits of information. There is a critter named Oclachan in the waters of the North Pacific which can be put to use as a candle. It is fat and oily and when dried you can make a candle of it simply by drawing a wick through it and touching it aglow with a match.

One crazy catfish (Synodontis Bateasoda) swims upside down in its natural habitat in African waters. Other fish of various kinds swim backward and seem to get along fine even though they can't see where they are going.

for a special mission. He had gone to alert resistance leaders in Eindhoven that a gigantic airborne attack was coming north of that town. Arnhem is north of Eindhoven.

"Sending Lindemann on such an errand," Pinto writes, "was equivalent to broadcasting the news of the forthcoming Allied parachute landings on the BBC news bulletins."

Pinto, of course, knew nothing about the mission the Canadians wanted Lindemann to perform. He did know that the huge man was not the sort to entrust with vital information. But Lindemann was gone. It was too late. And 7000 men died as a result.

Pinto wrote a report on his Lindemann investigation and filed it with SHAEF. For six weeks, nothing happened. Then Pinto got the last piece of evidence he needed. An admitted traitor, Cornelis Verloop, in a desperate effort to save his own life, informed on King Kong. Verloop told Pinto exactly how Lindemann betrayed Arnhem.

Lindemann was arrested and flown to England, where he confessed everything. He had turned traitor when his brother and girl friend were captured by the Gestapo. From then on, he led his resistance fighters into ambush after ambush.

But he was never suspected. For one reason, he was once shot himself, by the German Security Police, who were unaware that Lindemann failed. King Kong was dead.

KOREAN WAR'S "CENSUS" IS GRIM—U. S. casualties in Korea reported by the Defense Department as of April 8, total more than the population of each of the cities on above map. Total casualties since the start of the war, now 132,987, include 26,877 dead, 96,519 wounded, 11,478 missing and 1293 who were missing but have now returned to duty. Population for cities based on 1950 census.
