Worst Air Crash Kills 134 Persons

GIs Bound For Korea

TOKYO, June 18 -UP- A giant, double-decked C-124 Globemaster carrying American troops to Korea exploded and crashed in a field Thursday, killing 134 persons in history's worst airplane disaster.

James Bowen, fire chief for the Far East command, placed the death toll at 134. Earlier Air Force estimates had set the figure at about 120 passengers and seven crewmen.

Most of the victims were American servicemen returning to Korea after five days leave in Japan.

Bowen told United Press Correspondent Frank Jordan that the plane's engine had failed. He said the pilot had radioed that he was returning to Tachikawa Air Base, from which he had left a few minutes earlier.

The giant plane was approaching the base when it apparently panicked into a field from a considerable height.

The plane dropped into a paddy field six miles north of the air base.

There was a heavy overcast, fog and light rain at the time. Bowen, one of the first on the scene, said the heat from the burning plane was "terrific." The plane was demolished, except for a part of one wing and a 10-foot section of the tail assembly.

Rescue workers had to wade through mud to reach the plane. One of the men who helped remove the bodies said most of the victims had been burned.

Operates Within Limits Air Force officials said despite the adverse weather, the plane was operating well within its safety limits. There was one mile visibility. The ceiling was 1,000 feet.

Greek Troops Stop Chinese Red Advance

SEOUL, June 18 -UP- Greek troops killed or wounded 780 Chinese Communists Thursday in stopping a Red drive down a main invasion route leading to the 38th Parallel.

The Greeks estimated half of the two battalions of attacking Reds lay dead or wounded on the slopes of Outpost Harry following the furious four-hour battle.

In the air war, American Sabrejet shot down two Communist MIG-15s and damaged four others in three high-level dogfights near Sinanju.

Becomes New Ace Capt. Ralph S. Parr of Apple Valley, Calif., with three MIGs to his credit already, became an ace by knocking down two more Thursday and Maj. James Jabara of Wichita, Kan., history's first jet ace, bagged his 12th Russian-made jet.

Bloody conflict between the Chinese and the Greeks defending Outpost Harry dimmed previous reports that the severe fighting had ended in anticipation of a truce.

Large Communist forces remained in the 15-mile-long and two-mile-deep "bulge" area, and American advisory officers said the Reds "apparently intend to keep driving toward the 38th parallel."

Orders for Drive Newly captured Chinese prisoners on the east central front said they had received orders to drive to the parallel.

Output Harry controls access to the vital Chorwon Valley, a major invasion route into South Korea on the west central front.

At the eastern edge of the "bulge," Communists and South Koreans started fighting on the top of Christmas Hill during the night and were slugging it out at daybreak.

Ex-prisoners of war from throughout the Panhandle will meet to complete organization of the group in the local American Legion Hall at 8 p.m. Friday.

The group, headed by a Dr. Reed from Amarillo, will include ex-prisoners of war from Borger, Miami, Amarillo, Dumas, Pampa and any other Panhandle city interested in affiliation.

To be directed by Sgt. Lonnie Mills, local recruiting officer, and Arthur Baker, 413 Graham, an ex-Japanese prisoner of war, the meeting is to be for the ex-prisoners and their families.

Any wife or parent whose husband or son died while in prison during war is also eligible for membership in the group, Sgt. Mills announced.

The purpose of the group is to bring families together for social and business gatherings in various cities included in the organization.

The group is to be affiliated with the American Ex-Prisoners of War, Inc., with headquarters in Bellevue, Wash.

Officer staff of the Panhandle chapter is to be completed at Friday's meeting.

Writes Goodbye, Takes Own Life BOYCE, La., June 18 -UP- Deputy Sheriff M. T. Cappel reported Wednesday that a 38-year-old Dallas, Tex., man wrote "good-bye" on photographs of his grandchildren and then cut his own throat with a pocket knife.

Cappel said W. L. Bradley was found Tuesday, lying on a bed in a railroad commissary car. He was still alive, but fought efforts of an Alexandria, La., physician to treat him.

The doctor finally tied Bradley's hands behind his back, Cappel said, but couldn't save him. The deputy sheriff said the Texan left several notes indicating he was dependent.

Witness Claims Red Leader Assigned To Kill McCarthy

WASHINGTON, June 18 -UP- A former FBI undercover man testified Thursday that a Communist leader announced last December he had been assigned the job of "liquidating" Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

The undercover agent, Joseph Mazzei, now a Pittsburgh theater owner, told McCarthy's Senate Permanent Investigating subcommittee the Red leader was Louis Bortz. By "liquidate" Bortz meant to "kill him," Mazzei said.

Bortz refused to say whether the charge was true.

Acting Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) asked Bortz after the Mazzei accusation:

"Were you ever assigned by anyone the duty or job of killing Sen. McCarthy?"

"That's the same kind of question," replied Bortz in a soft, cautious voice, "I have to decline to answer."

When Mundt asked Bortz if he was ever a Communist, Bortz corrected himself in mid-reply.

"It will be -- it may be self-incriminating," he said.

McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, sat with a half-smile on his face as Mazzei unfolded his story before a jam-packed hearing room.

Mazzei, who was an undercover man for the FBI in the Pittsburgh area from 1941 until early this year, said Bortz made the statement at a Communist meeting Dec. 1, 1952, at the offices of the Civil Rights Congress in Pittsburgh.

South Koreans Free Anti-Red Prisoners

WASHINGTON, June 18 -UP- President Eisenhower is communicating with President Syngman Rhee about the South Korean chief's action in releasing anti-Communist war prisoners, it was announced Thursday.

PUSAN, June 18 -UP- Twenty-five thousand militant anti-Communist North Koreans fled to freedom Thursday from four Allied prison compounds on an order from President Syngman Rhee defying United Nations authority.

The prisoners hopped over low barbed-wire barricades shortly after midnight and vanished into the hills.

Disciplined South Korean guards and American troops who rushed to the compounds killed 10 of the escaping prisoners and injured 15 with shotgun and rifle fire.

Guards Watch Escape But most of the South Korean guards, handpicked troops from the ROK Army, stood by and watched the mass escape. Some of the ROKs opened the gates for the prisoners.

The UN prisoner of war command rushed additional American troops to guard the 9,000 anti-Communist North Koreans who remained in the four camps - No. 6 at Pusan and No. 5 at Sang-Mudai.

"If they want to do more of this tonight, they can do it," Brig.-Gen. Lionel C. Garr, commander of the POW command said.

"We will use riot tactics against them if they try."

Americans, along with ROK guards not in the government-sponsored plot, fired tear gas.

Nebraskan, 102, Had Long Wait LINCOLN, Neb., June 18 -UP- Mrs. E. W. Lyman, who celebrates her 102nd birthday July 12, Thursday explained her secret of longevity.

"The only reason I've lived this long is I wanted to see a Republican in the White House," she said.

Toddler Receives Fatal Shock TEXAS CITY, June 18 -UP- John Alston Pruitt, 11-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Pruitt, was shocked fatally Wednesday when he accidentally touched a live wire after he had pulled an electric fan from a table. The child was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

A schoolman since 1926 when he was the one instructor in Wheeler County's Wagner community school, Meek took over as Baker principal in 1927. That same year he married a Pampa girl, the former Miss Ruth Barrett, who taught fifth-grade for the next two years. She died three years ago. Meek and his adopted son, John David, live at 601 E. Administration Heads Fear Delay On Truce In Korea

WASHINGTON, June 18 -UP- Diamayed and angry administration leaders feared Thursday that South Korea's defiant release of Communist prisoners would delay a Korean truce on the very eve of its signing.

The White House and State Department declined to comment immediately. But officials made it plain President Syngman Rhee's "clearly unjustified" action could bring grave consequences.

The news came with chilling suddenness Wednesday night, only a few hours after President Eisenhower and his Cabinet had been alerted to expect a formal end of the Korean war by Saturday night.

So serious was the new development that it was expected to get top priority at Thursday's regular meeting of the National Security Council, the President's top strategy planning board.

Authorities here were particularly incensed because Rhee acted secretly and without warning. Informal sources revealed there was no indication of such a move in the statesman's still-unpublished reply to Mr. Eisenhower's June 6 appeal for co-operation on the truce.

Although it was considered too early to assess the full implications, the revolt against the United Nations command immediately suggested a welter of gloomy possibilities to authorities here:

1. Communist reaction: The Reds might accuse the Allies of breaking promises, balk at signing an armistice, and reopen the whole tangled issue on repatriation of POWs.

2. Armed defiance: The fact that Korean guards co-operated in the release of the prisoners could mean the South Korean army would pull out of the UN command to back three in an armed violation of a truce.

3. Truce commission: The nations making up the neutral commission to supervise an armistice might hesitate to serve if the POW issue is clouded and South Korea is bent on armed resistance.

4. Rhee's rebellion: Rhee's rebellion not only made an immediate armistice unlikely but raised the possibility of a complete collapse of the whole truce effort.

In turning loose the North Korean captives, Rhee struck at the very heart of the armistice agreement which he said he would not obey.

He made it impossible for the UN command to honor its guarantee, under the prisoner exchange agreement signed on June 8, to turn over all unrepatriated prisoners to a five-nation neutral commission for custody and "explanations" by Communist agents.

The Communists already had been informed there were 48,000 prisoners in this category, including some 14,000 anti-Red Chinese.

Rosenbergs Together On Anniversary

OSKINSING, N. Y., June 18 -UP- Atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg met for 90 minutes Thursday in the death row of Sing Sing prison on their 14th wedding anniversary for what could be one of their last moments together before they die in the electric chair.

A wire mesh screen separated the husband and wife spy team and a prison attendant accompanied each for their visit in the woman's wing of the prison's death house. Mrs. Rosenberg is the only occupant of the wing.

Prison attendants refused to disclose what was discussed during the meeting which was requested by the husband. Presumably they talked about the stay of execution granted Wednesday by Associate Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and what action the court might take when it meets to consider Douglas' action. Warden Wilfred H. Denno said meetings were permitted only for discussions of developments in their case.

Denno said that in view of Douglas' ruling "as far as I am concerned there is no execution." However, he called in an extra shift of 70 prison guards.

The condemned couple had no visitors Thursday morning.

Border Closure Hurts Cattlemen JUAREZ, Mex., June 18 -UP- Gov. Oscar Soto Maynez of Chihuahua state said Thursday the United States has wrecked the northern Mexico cattle industry by closing the border again following new outbreaks of hoof and mouth disease.

Maynez said the cattle importation ban also had played havoc with the Chihuahua state budget and "paralyzed our public works program."

Northern Mexican ranchers were just beginning to recover from effects of a disastrous drought, he said, but the recovery was based on expected sale of cattle in the U.S. market.

First reports said there were many casualties and heavy property damage.

Soviet Tanks Guard Streets Against East Berlin Riots

BERLIN, June 18 -UP- An anti-Communist "general strike" virtually paralyzed industry in much of Soviet Germany Thursday for the second day in a row despite the menace of Russian military might.

The ominous clanking of some 270 Soviet T-34 tanks, patrolling the streets of East Berlin, at least temporarily prevented any repetition of the large-scale rioting in which at least seven persons were killed Wednesday. But at least two more Germans were slain in overnight clashes.

A workman in West Berlin was wounded early Thursday by what western authorities described as the fire of Communist police "shipers" from the Soviet sector.

Red police opened fire on small groups of demonstrators in the border area in at least two instances early Thursday, but no casualties were reported. One demonstrator was arrested.

Unconfirmed reports placed the toll in Wednesday's "revolt" against communist rule at least 21 and hundreds injured. At least 21 alleged anti-Red leaders and strike pickets had been arrested, and the official Communist radio said Thursday that arrests are continuing.

The Reds warned that their captives will receive "severe punishment," declaring that "provocateurs (anti-Communist) cannot expect mild sentences."

Transportation in Soviet Berlin was almost at a standstill, with only a few subway trains running. None of the Soviet sector's newspapers appeared.

Some factories were operating, but picket lines outside the plants sharply reduced the labor turnout.

Reports indicated that the work stoppage in Soviet Berlin had been duplicated elsewhere in the zone.

GRANTS STAY - Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, in his judicial robes, left, and on the telephone, right, granted a stay of execution for atom spies Ethel and Julius Rosenberg just 36 hours before they were scheduled to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, Jr., calling Douglas' stay an "unprecedented action," said he will ask Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson to convene the full court and will ask them to reverse the Douglas decision. (NEA Telephoto)

Lawyers Argue Execution Stay

WASHINGTON, June 18 -UP- Government lawyers before an extraordinary session of the Supreme Court Thursday urged it to set aside the stay of execution granted to atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg by Justice William O. Douglas.

The high tribunal convened at 10:12 a. m. east to hear arguments on which it will decide whether to let the Rosenbergs die in Sing Sing's electric chair Thursday night for betraying atomic secrets to Russia or uphold Douglas' reprieve for the condemned couple.

The government asked the court to overturn the stay of execution, arguing that a further postponement "would not serve the interests of justice."

Defense Lawyers Stand By Defense lawyers stood by to argue in support of Douglas' action Wednesday.

Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson and the eight other black-robed justices filed into the courtroom and took their places at the bench 12 minutes after the session was scheduled to begin.

The justices, some of whom returned to town less than an hour before the extraordinary session began, looked serious.

The courtroom, which seats about 400, was packed. Some spectators stood around the back and at the sides. Several hundred persons waited outside, hoping for a chance to get in.

After hearing oral arguments from government and defense attorneys in open court, the justices were expected to retire to a private conference chamber to reach a decision. Justice Department attorneys hoped for a final ruling by late afternoon or early evening.

Could Carry Out Executions Should the court overrule Douglas Thursday, or at any time before the end of this week, the executions may be carried out without further judicial action. The trial court fixed this week as the time for the executions, but the scheduled hour - 9 p.m. est Thursday - (See ROSENBERGS, Page 4)

Drouth Relief Information Sought Here

Amarillo efforts to secure relief for drouth stricken cattlemen and farmers throughout the Texas Plains were being discussed in Pampa today, but no official action has been taken and no commitments made at this time.

Checks made early today by the Pampa Daily News with farm agencies, local bankers and the chamber of commerce office indicate information is being sought as to whether the need for disaster relief in Gray County exists and what action should be taken.

Attempts are underway in Amarillo to tap the President's disaster relief fund as an emergency measure to ease the grip of four years of drouth in the area.

Southwestern congressmen have met with Budget Bureau and US Department of Agriculture officials in Washington to get drouth named as a disaster of equal importance with flood and tornado relief, for which the fund has been used in the past.

Rep. Walter Rogers has sent wires to groups throughout the Panhandle, according to an Amarillo Daily News report, urging counties to ask Gov. Allan Shivers to certify to President Eisenhower "need for immediate relief."

And the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce has wired the governor to clarify the situation of area farmers and to ask what action should be taken.

Agar's Friend Risks Fortune That He Can Make Comeback

By ALINE MORBY
HOLLYWOOD, June 17-UP—John Agar is back at work in the movies and by his side is a man who risked $250,000 to give the actor another chance.
 Agar beamed and said it was "wonderful" that producer Hal Makelim put him under contract although the one-time husband of Shirley Temple at the time was serving his second jail sentence on a drunk charge. The friendship of the two men is a story not often found in this village of hard hearts and forgotten faces.
 Makelim had no immediate picture for Agar, so he loaned him to Producer-Director Hugo Haas for a film, "Bait."
 Haas wrote a contract that if Agar didn't show up for work or held up the picture, Producer Makelim would have to fork over any losses on the $250,000 movie.
 "My attorney said he had never seen such a contract," said Makelim. "He said, 'Are you sure you want to sign this?'"
 "I didn't hesitate to sign it. I am willing to bet $250,000 that John will never take a drink again."
 "At first the contract said if he even got sick I'd be liable, but I had that part taken out. John never has held up a picture and he won't now. I don't blame Mr. Haas. It's a low-budget picture and he has his own money in it."

"I was the only person in town who wanted to give John another chance. You know how people here are—everybody was ready to give him a kick."
 "He starred in a movie, 'My Father, J. P.', for me before that trouble happened. When it came, I put up his bond and paid his lawyer's fees and put him under contract so he'd have a job when he came out. No one else came to his aid."
 "John is a drinking boy. I could have done the same thing he did, and paid a $10 fine, but I'm not tall and handsome and I was not married to America's sweetest heart, so he got four months in jail."
 Of course, he made a mistake. But he's attending meetings of Alcoholics Anonymous now.
 Though Makelim has no connection with the Haas production, he was on the set, anyway, to watch his $250,000 actor rehearse his scenes with bosomy Cleo Moore. When Agar saw Makelim, they thumped each other on the back.
 "John has received more than 7,000 sympathetic letters," the producer added. "I have two pictures planned for John, and he'll sing in a Las Vegas nightclub. I have a lot of faith in him. He'll be a big star in two years."

Lumberjack Is No Sissy, But Enjoys Modern Conveniences

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
SAN FRANCISCO, June 18-UP—Today's lumberjack is no sissy, but his lot is far better than that of his grandpappy.
 In driving several hundred miles through redwoods and sugar pines I didn't see a single man heaving at a tree with a hand axe. Mostly they were manning power-driven saws, although I understand the axe is not entirely out of date in this lumber country.
 The tree-man of today can cuss just as effectively as his forebearers and he can spit a curve into the wind, too. But the "jacks" of these times don't sleep on a bed of bows in a lean-to. They bed down on a foam mattress, covered with fresh sheets, and pillow their heads on a bunch of fluffed-up goose feathers, instead of a tree stump.

Comforts of Home
 Our 1953 lumberman lives in a home that is either heated by steam, coal, or oil and doesn't have to warm his hands over a camp fire or fix his saw belly and beans over a stove. He has electricity or gas. His plumbing is confined to indoors, and his wife and kids around the place might have called for a rope around the neck.
 The villages in which the lumbermen live are up to date. There are daily milk deliveries. Stores are handy. The "jacks" don't have to read a six-month-old paper. A small boy flings a paper at his stoop each morning.

Federal Employee Promotion Proposed For Money-Savers

STILLWATER, Okla., June 17-UP—Government employees who save the taxpayers' dollars would receive faster promotions under a proposal submitted to President Eisenhower Wednesday by local citizens.
 The idea, endorsed as the "Stillwater plan" by the local Chamber of Commerce, would cover both civilian and military branches of the federal government.
 Cleo Fitzgerald, an attorney who first suggested the system, said any large scale savings plan is doomed unless each person in government service "is personally and vividly aware that his future as to promotion and pay lies upon the route of frugality with the taxpayer's dollar."

Under the Stillwater Plan, a section in each military officer's efficiency report would be entitled, "Saves Government Money." No officer would be considered for recommendation to the rank of general or admiral unless he had a high score in this column.
Remove Civil Service Rules
 Civilian agencies would be removed from present Civil Service restrictions on hiring and firing so inefficient employees could be let out without long legal proceedings.
 The Stillwater plan suggests pay be made on the basis of ability rather than the number of personnel under an administrator," Fitzgerald said. "This would discourage pay raise conscious department heads from seeking expansion of their departments."

 Fitzgerald, formerly on the staff of Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) in Washington, said most agency officials are now victims of a system where "a man's position, pay and supposedly his qualifications are higher or lower depending on the number of people under you."
Would List Authority
 "On the forms which is the job application blank for Civil Service the applicant is required to state how many persons he supervised in any of his five previous positions held," Fitzgerald explained.

Plenty Of Room
SAN GABRIEL, Calif., June 18-UP—Police discovered why Alberta Faloux, who weighs 230 pounds, took on extra weight whenever she visited a market.
 They nabbed her in a store on charges of shoplifting and found 13 cartons of cigars stowed in her tent-size bloomers.

Police Car Stolen
LONG BEACH, Calif., June 18-UP—Police officers Bud Lewis and Jim Kelley jumped from their squad car and hurried inside police headquarters to check on a case. When they came back out a short time later, they found their squad car had been stolen.

American Battle Casualties Rise
WASHINGTON, June 18-UP—American battle casualties in Korea total 136,029, an increase of 443 over last week's report, the Defense Department said Wednesday.
 Totals include 24,281 deaths, 98,851 wounded, 8,682 missing, 2,675 captured, and 1,540 previously reported missing but since returned to military control.
 The 443 increase was the largest for any week since April.
 The weekly report included all casualties whose next of kin were notified through last Friday. Because of the notification time lag, the totals given Wednesday do not include any casualties of the recent heavy Communist offensive.
 Wednesday's report showed an increase of 67 deaths, 354 wounded, 179 captured, and one previously missing but returned to military control. There was a decrease of 158 in the number missing.

Pays $900 Fine
EL PASO, June 18-UP—Jerome Pantalari, a soldier stationed at nearby Fort Bliss, paid $900 in traffic fines Wednesday.
 They included four charges of running stop signs, three of running red lights, one of speeding 70 miles per hour, and one of disobeying a police order to stop.

Sages Lose Seats
OELWEIN, Ia., June 18-UP—The local sages who spent many pleasant summer afternoons reflecting in Memorial Park were looking for a new meeting place Thursday.
 Police took out all the park benches. They said they couldn't handle the "drunks" who would sleep on the benches at night and flirt with women.

KITCHEN EQUIPMENT UNLIMITED — Squatting amid the amazing collection of pots and pans that nearly filled a room in an old house, David Whitman, Kansas City, Kan., antique dealer, inspects an antique lamp. Among the kitchenware were stacks of pie and cake tins, many never used. Hidden under a sewing machine, he found a small wooden box. It contained $19,000 in cash. Whitman and his partner had bid $1000 for the house's contents. They turned the $19,000 over to the bank.

Warning About Big Bruins Went Wastin' On Nichols

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
HETCH HETCHY, Calif., June 18 — UP—When you pay the small head-fee into Yosemite National Park you are handed a little pamphlet. It tells about big black bears running around the acres and advises that it is worse than bad manners to tease the brutes.
 Some of the critics have been known to take a bite out of people, although usually they don't bother people if people don't bother them. The bears have the run of the park. Offer them half of your chocolate bar and they are likely to grab it all, and your arm up to the elbow as well.
 The warning was wasted on us. I never made light with a bear in my life and certainly was not about to play footie with the first bruin I saw—a 480 pounder named Jerry who looked as if he could handle his weight in 190 pound men, like Jerry gave us a good look at his fangs as we drove by, windows up and doors bolted.
More His Size
 A little farther down the winding road we came upon a herd of small deer, about twice the size of Florida's Key deer. These little fellows don't mind having their ears scratched and without coaxing will take any tid-bit offered.
 Yosemite valley is a glacier cut gorge averaging 3,000 feet deep. It's about a mile across and seven miles long. It's granite walls are sheer and wear the scars of the grinding glacial ice which pushed its way down the gradually descending course of the Merced River, an estimated 30,000 years ago. Dominating the 1,180 square miles in the park is El Capitan, the biggest hunk of solid granite in the world. It is said to be so large it makes Gibraltar look like a pebble, almost.

 From our window in the Ahwahnee Hotel we could see the Yosemite falls shooting silver spray on their way down the mountain.
Old West Reproduced
 The hotel, by the way, has attempted to recapture some of the lore of the valley. In the lobby is a duplicate of an old hand-printed sign with the "S" and the "N" made backwards. It is in memory of one Captain Smith, an early Yosemite hiker. The sign reads: "Notice: Any lady or gent wantin a shot of likker can get same at the Cosmopolitan saloon located in the El Dorado diggings on the second floor of this hotel."
 On our way out of the park through the scary hair-pin curves we came upon the Warona tunnel tree in the Mariposa grove. You just drive your car through a hole in the tree.
 It was a nice trip through the park, but I was happy to get back on level ground. I shake when I get any higher than bungalow miles level.

CONCRETE INSURANCE—A. M. Blanche, of Philadelphia, Pa., believes in insurance business. He's posted the bulk of an experimental World War I concrete-hulled ship, beached during tests at Cape May, N. J., with a sign advertising his boat insurance, as a grim reminder of possible disaster to uninsured seafarers.

Arrest Two With Dope
ALICE, Tex., June 18 — UP—Border Patrolmen J. F. Turner and D. J. Holliday report they arrested Donald Hutchinson and William Hable Wednesday and charged them with possession of heroin. Officers said they found 25 capsules of heroin in Hutchinson's hollow artificial leg, worn for several years since his leg was shot off in a Houston burglary.

Last Rites Slated For Mrs. Barrow

Last rites for Mrs. Althea Barrow, 71, of 622 E. Foster, have been scheduled for 4 p.m. Friday in the Petrolia Baptist Church.

Mrs. Barrow died at 4 p.m. Wednesday in an ambulance on the way to Highland General Hospital. She had suffered a heart attack in her home.

Her body was to be taken to Petrolia this afternoon, according to Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home officials.

Burial will be in Petrolia Cemetery.

Born in Missouri July 22, 1881, Mrs. Barrow had been a Pampan for the past two years. Prior to that, she had lived near Petrolia for 50 years.

Widow of S. D. Barrow, she was a member of the Petrolia Baptist Church.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. G. W. DeMoss, Pampa, Mrs. E. L. Cadden, Phillips, and Mrs. L. C. King, Wichita Falls; a son, F. L. Barrow, Stinnett; a brother, Roy Fultz, Wichita Falls; two sisters, Mrs. B. H. Van Winkle and Mrs. J. L. Van Winkle, both of Petrolia; 13 grandchildren; and 10 great-grandchildren.

Ex-POW Murdered At Daughter's Party

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., June 15 —UP— Police reported Thursday Col. J. W. Worthington, a member of Gen. Jonathan Wainwright's staff on Corregidor, was murdered Wednesday night during a buffet supper for his engaged daughter.

A spokesman for Police Chief Gus Krauss said a murder charge would be filed "before noon." Krauss and most of his force investigated the case all night and were reported to have questioned a Brownsville lawyer.

Worthington, who was retired, was shot on the back steps of his home during a buffet supper for his daughter, who was scheduled to be married Saturday. His home was full of guests, some of whom were singing at the time.

Krauss' spokesman said events leading up to the shooting "had not been fully investigated." Worthington was rushed to a hospital, where he died about an hour after he was shot.

Manufacturer Wins Texas' 'Handicapped Person Award'

DALLAS, June 18 —UP— Mrs. Daisy May Conroe, who didn't learn to use her polio-crippled legs until she was 10 but now operates a small garment manufacturing company, is the "Handicapped Person of the Year" in Texas.

She was honored Wednesday night not only for her own personal achievements, but for furnishing employment for 15 other handicapped persons, most of them with more than 50 per cent disability.

Laurence R. Melton, chairman of the Dallas Committee for Employment of the Handicapped, presented Mrs. Conroe to Gov. Allan Shivers as the best example in Texas of how the most severely handicapped person can be properly employed.

Shivers made the award. She will be nominated for the national award to the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

Mrs. Conroe was stricken with polio when she was a child and learned to walk after her 10th birthday. She is permanently impaired in both legs and still walks only with the greatest difficulty.

Melton said Mrs. Conroe's firm does not function as a rehabilitation training agency, but operates in the same manner as any other business does.

He said Mrs. Conroe had a hard time keeping her small factory going at first. About two years ago, however, manufacturer's agent Fred Levy was impressed with her work and, with Dallas garment manufacturer Lester P. Lorch and accountant Felix Einshorn formed a corporation called "Aid the Handicapped, Inc."

Mercury Cools Off In Pampa Today

Heat-ridden Pampans today were a bit more on the optimistic side, thanks to temperatures which had only risen to 90 by 11 a.m. and an intermittent breeze — though it was a warm, hot one.

Wednesday local residents got a break, too. For the high mercury reading was a mere 97 degrees, following highs for the three previous days of 101, 106 and 107.

Though this morning's low was 71, it still managed to get residents out of bed early — as has been true for the past too many days.

First case of heat exhaustion came Wednesday afternoon, however, when S. L. McClelland, Pampa, climbed under his truck some 12 miles northeast of Pampa on the old Miami highway and was overcome. An ambulance took him to the hospital. Condition was not serious.

The forecast? It hasn't changed in several weeks. Hot, fair, hot, little temperature change, hot, maybe some thundershowers and — hot.

White Deer Church Director Resigns

WHITE DEER (Special) — Ray Luper, educational director of the First Baptist Church of White Deer, presented his resignation effective June 14.

He left Sunday en route to Miami, Fla., where he will board a South American plane with a group of students from Wayland College who will make a religious tour through Brazil. The climax of the trip will be the attendance at the World Youth Conference in Rio de Janeiro the latter part of July.

Luper, who will return August 9, plans to continue his education to receive his masters degree in on her way back to visit friends, music education.

White Deer Faculty Members Scatter For Summer Months

WHITE DEER (Special) — The faculty members of the White Deer Independent School District are very well scattered this summer.

Some are in school; some are still on duty here; while others are relaxing either in White Deer or other places.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Peacock are spending their summer with relatives in Paris and Sulphur. Gertrude Golladay and D. V. Biggers are listed with the faculty of West Texas State in Canyon.

Helen Walker and Mary Green will attend the University of Denver. Mrs. Eleanor Webster is attending North Texas State, at Denton. James Love will receive his Master's Degree in Physical Education at West Texas State this summer. Hobart McDonald, after visiting in McCurtin, Okla., planned to attend the University of Chicago.

Byron Autry is attending West Texas State the first six-week period; from there he will attend a band clinic at the University of Michigan. Barbara Ledbetter plans to attend the University of Alaska.

Mary Green, home economist; Gene Gaston, vocational agriculture instructor and Lawson Shaw, high school principal will be relieved of duty July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. John Driskill, Mrs. Bernard Weeks, Kenneth Livingston and C. L. Strickland will remain in White Deer for the summer.

The five vacancies on the list of the White Deer faculty are still not filled at the last report. Vacancies occurred with the resignations of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Y. Corder, Peggy Pemberton, of the Skellytown School, and Mrs. Byron Autry. The fifth member to be filled will be to add an extra first grade teacher to the White Deer system due to the rise in number of six-year-olds to be enrolled in September.

Bruster Resigns White Deer Church

WHITE DEER (Special) — Melton Bruster, who has been minister of White Deer Church of Christ, for two and one-half years, has resigned to accept a position at a Church of Christ in Midland.

Bruster has two more Sundays in White Deer. A spokesman of the church stated the position has not yet been filled.

Damage Heavy In 2-Car Collision

Total damages today were estimated at $1,100 in a two-car collision that shook up six occupants but sent none to the hospital.

Mishap occurred at 11:25 a.m. Wednesday on the Berger highway, 4-10 of a mile west of Pampa, according to highway patrolmen.

Ira M. Virden, 40, of 718 N. Wells, was cited for failing to grant the right of way and scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace D. R. Henry Friday morning.

Both Virden and Frances H. Millren, 35, of Pampa, were headed west, patrolmen said, when Virden — having missed his left turn — pulled off to the right, started to pull back across the road and got over to the south lane when Mrs. Millren, trying to pass, collided with his vehicle.

Each of the drivers was accompanied by two children, a boy and a girl. Mrs. Millren's youngsters suffered slight head injuries, officers continued, but those of Virden "were not even scared."

Virden's car had calculated damages of $600; Mrs. Millren's $500.

BRIGHT AND EARLY, 5 a.m. every day Jan Dickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Dickey, 1123 Mary Ellen, above is getting in shape for her bicycle tour of the New England states. She plans to leave Pampa June 25. (News Photo)

Pampans To Tour Northeast States With Bike Hostellers

Jan Dickey, 1123 Mary Ellen, will soon take a seven-week tour through New England, on up to Montreal and Quebec, Canada, on a bicycle!

She plans to leave Pampa on June 25 for Boston where she will join a bicycle hosting group. The hostellers are a national organization of youngsters who seek adventure by inexpensive travel by riding, biking, skiing, horseback riding or canoeing. They get their name from the overnight accommodations — hostels — which are located in New England, the Middle Atlantic, Great Lakes, and West Coast states.

The groups usually are made up of ten young people and the leader.

White Deer Area Wheat Trickles In

WHITE DEER (Special) — According to the manager of Barnett Elevator and Farmer's Elevator in White Deer, harvesting of wheat is due to be completed around June 25. Dalton Ford, of the Barnett Elevator, stated wheat received there is only fair with a testing of 54-61. The yield is disappointing with an average of from 2-3 bushels to the acre. Some of the wheat has averaged 12-15 bushels, but for the area, the lower figure tells the yield.

Many of the farmers are cutting a spot here and there and are plowing up the rest. In addition to the drought, many crops were knocked down by hail. No insects have been reported in this area with the exception of millers.

This year, farmers are, at best, managing to get seed wheat for next year's crop.

E. C. Shuman, of the Farmer's Elevator says wheat received there is testing 57-58, with an average crop yield of 3-4 bushels per acre.

Farming is at a stand-still until moisture is received.

Fire Destroys Alaska Dock

WHITTIER, Alaska, June 17 —UP— Wing-whipped flames Thursday set off an ammunition dump after destroying the military dock at the Alaska seaport of Whittier causing damage tentatively estimated at more than $1 million.

An Alaska railroad spokesman reported that one man was hurt in the blaze which broke out shortly after 5 p.m. (ast) and within an hour destroyed main military warehouses crammed with supplies destined for bases in Alaska's interior.

Army personnel and civilian construction workers joined in battling the conflagration which could not be checked until after the entire dock area was swallowed by flames.

Wheat Farmers To Get Support Loans

WASHINGTON, June 18 —UP— Southwestern farmers who must keep their wheat above ground for lack of storage space will be granted emergency price support loans by the Agriculture Department.

Wheat already is being stored on the ground in Oklahoma because of lack of space, the department said. Under current law, farmers can't get price support loans on their crop unless it is guaranteed properly stored.

John H. Davis, president of the Commodity Credit Corp., told newsmen Wednesday that details of the new emergency program will be announced later this week, but will be similar to one conducted in 1949.

Manufacturer Wins Texas' 'Handicapped Person Award'

DALLAS, June 18 —UP— Mrs. Daisy May Conroe, who didn't learn to use her polio-crippled legs until she was 10 but now operates a small garment manufacturing company, is the "Handicapped Person of the Year" in Texas.

She was honored Wednesday night not only for her own personal achievements, but for furnishing employment for 15 other handicapped persons, most of them with more than 50 per cent disability.

Laurence R. Melton, chairman of the Dallas Committee for Employment of the Handicapped, presented Mrs. Conroe to Gov. Allan Shivers as the best example in Texas of how the most severely handicapped person can be properly employed.

Shivers made the award. She will be nominated for the national award to the President's

Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

Mrs. Conroe was stricken with polio when she was a child and learned to walk after her 10th birthday. She is permanently impaired in both legs and still walks only with the greatest difficulty.

Melton said Mrs. Conroe's firm does not function as a rehabilitation training agency, but operates in the same manner as any other business does.

He said Mrs. Conroe had a hard time keeping her small factory going at first. About two years ago, however, manufacturer's agent Fred Levy was impressed with her work and, with Dallas garment manufacturer Lester P. Lorch and accountant Felix Einshorn formed a corporation called "Aid the Handicapped, Inc."

Mercury Cools Off In Pampa Today

Heat-ridden Pampans today were a bit more on the optimistic side, thanks to temperatures which had only risen to 90 by 11 a.m. and an intermittent breeze — though it was a warm, hot one.

Wednesday local residents got a break, too. For the high mercury reading was a mere 97 degrees, following highs for the three previous days of 101, 106 and 107.

Though this morning's low was 71, it still managed to get residents out of bed early — as has been true for the past too many days.

First case of heat exhaustion came Wednesday afternoon, however, when S. L. McClelland, Pampa, climbed under his truck some 12 miles northeast of Pampa on the old Miami highway and was overcome. An ambulance took him to the hospital. Condition was not serious.

The forecast? It hasn't changed in several weeks. Hot, fair, hot, little temperature change, hot, maybe some thundershowers and — hot.

White Deer Church Director Resigns

WHITE DEER (Special) — Ray Luper, educational director of the First Baptist Church of White Deer, presented his resignation effective June 14.

He left Sunday en route to Miami, Fla., where he will board a South American plane with a group of students from Wayland College who will make a religious tour through Brazil. The climax of the trip will be the attendance at the World Youth Conference in Rio de Janeiro the latter part of July.

Luper, who will return August 9, plans to continue his education to receive his masters degree in music education.

White Deer Faculty Members Scatter For Summer Months

WHITE DEER (Special) — The faculty members of the White Deer Independent School District are very well scattered this summer.

Some are in school; some are still on duty here; while others are relaxing either in White Deer or other places.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Peacock are spending their summer with relatives in Paris and Sulphur. Gertrude Golladay and D. V. Biggers are listed with the faculty of West Texas State in Canyon.

Helen Walker and Mary Green will attend the University of Denver. Mrs. Eleanor Webster is attending North Texas State, at Denton. James Love will receive his Master's Degree in Physical Education at West Texas State this summer. Hobart McDonald, after visiting in McCurtin, Okla., planned to attend the University of Chicago.

Byron Autry is attending West Texas State the first six-week period; from there he will attend a band clinic at the University of Michigan. Barbara Ledbetter plans to attend the University of Alaska.

Mary Green, home economist; Gene Gaston, vocational agriculture instructor and Lawson Shaw, high school principal will be relieved of duty July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. John Driskill, Mrs. Bernard Weeks, Kenneth Livingston and C. L. Strickland will remain in White Deer for the summer.

The five vacancies on the list of the White Deer faculty are still not filled at the last report. Vacancies occurred with the resignations of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Y. Corder, Peggy Pemberton, of the Skellytown School, and Mrs. Byron Autry. The fifth member to be filled will be to add an extra first grade teacher to the White Deer system due to the rise in number of six-year-olds to be enrolled in September.

Bruster Resigns White Deer Church

WHITE DEER (Special) — Melton Bruster, who has been minister of White Deer Church of Christ, for two and one-half years, has resigned to accept a position at a Church of Christ in Midland.

Bruster has two more Sundays in White Deer. A spokesman of the church stated the position has not yet been filled.

Damage Heavy In 2-Car Collision

Total damages today were estimated at $1,100 in a two-car collision that shook up six occupants but sent none to the hospital.

Mishap occurred at 11:25 a.m. Wednesday on the Berger highway, 4-10 of a mile west of Pampa, according to highway patrolmen.

Ira M. Virden, 40, of 718 N. Wells, was cited for failing to grant the right of way and scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace D. R. Henry Friday morning.

Both Virden and Frances H. Millren, 35, of Pampa, were headed west, patrolmen said, when Virden — having missed his left turn — pulled off to the right, started to pull back across the road and got over to the south lane when Mrs. Millren, trying to pass, collided with his vehicle.

Each of the drivers was accompanied by two children, a boy and a girl. Mrs. Millren's youngsters suffered slight head injuries, officers continued, but those of Virden "were not even scared."

Virden's car had calculated damages of $600; Mrs. Millren's $500.

Police Cases Increase

WASHINGTON, June 18 —UP— The Public Health Service Thursday reported 305 police cases last week compared to 250 in the previous week.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend
I have enjoyed your column very much since coming here. We came recently from another state. My son was married two years ago and he and his wife came here to live.

Before he was married he ran around with a very wild bunch of boys of whom I disapproved very much. In high school he met this very nice girl. He went with her all through high school.

After they were married they moved here and I thought that he was through with that old crowd and that everything would turn out OK. I believed that he was really settled down to married life. They have a sweet baby who is six months old.

Now some of those boys from our former home have moved here and are doing all they can to break up this marriage. My son won't believe anything I say about these boys.

His wife is a very good housekeeper and cook and she keeps the baby sweet and clean. We think as much of her as if she were our own daughter.

I'm at my wits end with worry. I don't want anything to happen.
M. E.

Dear M. E.
It is natural for a mother to worry about her child, to want the best for him and to be afraid that something will interfere with his achieving happiness.

I wonder if you aren't worrying more than the situation deserves. It seems natural to me that your son would be interested in seeing his former friends and that he would want to spend some time with them.

If you have brought him up so that he knows the right way from the wrong, so that he has a mature outlook and can accept the responsibilities of a home and family, then he will soon see through these former friends. It might be that your advice antagonizes him as he undoubtedly feels that at his age and in his position he should be allowed to evaluate the situation himself and make up his own mind concerning his high school friends.

If he is happily married and proud of his wife and baby, these friends cannot influence him to the extent that he will give them up for this old gang. The only way that he could be persuaded to end the marriage would be if it were not happy in the first place.

I think that you should trust your son, whom you have reared to have sound judgment, to reach the right decision concerning his former friends himself.

Rebekahs Honor Deceased Members

SKELLYTOWN (Special) — Rebekah Lodge held a public Memorial Service in honor of the deceased members of the Rebekah lodge and the Oddfellow Lodge.

Rev. Eugene Brand of the First Baptist Church gave the devotional. Les Kreis announced the program.

Members of the lodge attired in floor length robes, draped the charter of the lodge. Mrs. Dave Dickson lighted the candles. Mr. Fred Genett and Mrs. Al Shubring placed baskets of gladoli at each side of the altar. Mrs. Lawrence Young and Mrs. Clifton Hanna placed sprays of lilies of the valley on the altar where pictures of the deceased were shown. Mrs. Max Allen read Scripture of the services from the Bible and had roll call for those in memoriam.

Miss Addie Fern Lick sang "Mansion Over the Hill." The entire group sang "In the Valley" at the close of the program.

At a later meeting final plans were discussed for a banquet in honor of the past grands of the lodge.

Mr. Fred Anderson held a school of instruction. She is the district deputy of the Lodge.

Miss Addie Fern Lick read a letter urging everyone to attend the pilgrimage day at the two homes in Corvallis. Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Carney Estes, Clifton Hanna, R. E. McAllister, Curly Weaver, Les Kreis, Clyde Weaver, Clois Vandergriff, Everett Crawford, Jake Weaver, Robert Heaton, Fred Anderson, Lawrence Young, Delmer Sims, Al Shubring, Mildred Williams, Miss Addie Fern Lick and Les Kreis.

Miss Carolyn Taylor, Pampa Visitor, Honored With Tea In W. D. Waters Home

Miss Carolyn Taylor of Franklin, Ky., was honored by her aunt, Mrs. W. D. Waters, 1224 Christine, Wednesday afternoon with a tea in the Waters home.

The tea table was laid with a blue linen cloth with blue larkspur in a silver bowl. Miss Carol Paxson assisted in serving.

Attending were Misses Phyllis Nenatal, Paty Ward, Phebe Carter, Betty Jackson, Jacqueline Merchant, Sue McFall, Paty Darcy, Peggy Ward, Janice McWright, Glenda Dudley, Marjorie Roundtree, Anita Wedgworth, Dixie Rhoades, Paxson, the honoree and the hostess.

Approximately 80 guests called. Miss Powers is the bride-elect of Max Osborn. The wedding date has been set for June 27.

Who was the famous hostess of history who confessed that she had won her reputation by two phrases? "At last!" And when he left she murmured regretfully, "So soon?" Never mind WHO she was. First Lady Receives Trinkets From All Over The United States Including Hats

"GRANDMOTHER'S DISEASE" which Mamie Eisenhower jokingly admits she has, shows its symptoms in this happy closeup of the First Lady and granddaughter Susan Elaine Eisenhower.

BY PATTI SIMMONS
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Washington isn't the only place beating the First Lady's bandwagon these days.

Mementoes pour in daily to the President's wife from housewives and grandmothers across the United States. Mostly handmade, they include aprons, pot-holders, crocheted doilies, costume jewelry, handkerchiefs, with daintily tatted borders, hats especially designed for Mamie, heaps of home baked cookies, fruits and preserves.

Mamie admirers likewise dispatch oil or ink sketches of the Elmhursts; photographs of the sender's family, even recordings of their kids' voices. In the trinket department elephants and pigs rate high, the White House reports.

Often packages addressed to Mamie contain books, many of them on religious or historical subjects.

But women aren't the only ones bowled over by Mamie. Twenty-two of the town's most eligible bachelors think she's pretty terrific, too. The White House aides ought to know. They have a better chance to see Mamie in operation than

In addition to full time Pentagon jobs, these servicemen take on the added gold braided duty of introducing visitors to Mrs. Eisenhower on the First Lady's bandwagon these days at official functions.

The First Lady's receiving line patter follows no standard form such as "nice to see you" or "how do you do" with maybe, something more personal thrown in once in a while, one aide reports.

It's always different and it's always natural, he confides with admiration. "A few times I've heard her say — 'don't you look pretty in your hat?'" And she means it, he insists, "because when she says, 'I look at them. And they're sharp!'"

Mamie's prolonged, friendly handshake is accompanied by things like "How nice of you to come and see me," or, "Of course, I know that town, I've been there."

As one aide put it, she seems to give everyone the feeling to see, the one she's been waiting to see. If the crowd isn't too large she's liable to hold up the line and stand chatting to one visitor five or ten minutes.

At a recent top official luncheon

a couple of the aides were somewhat concerned about protocol and in what order several of the guests should be presented to the President and his wife.

Suddenly the Eisenhowers came into the room and promptly started to shake hands with everybody. The next thing you know, says one of the aides, there was no protocol to worry about. "Everybody just walked into the dining room together like a big happy family."

This same gracious informality accounts for stars in the eyes of a photographer's wife in Washington. When the newsmen was traveling on Eisenhower's campaign train he happened to tell Mamie about his wife and two children. The First Lady remembered the conversation, and invited them all to the White House. She spent an hour with them, and even though she had just finished shaking 250 hands, she took them on a personal tour.

One room she didn't bother to show them was an old storage spot which she mentioned having converted into an ironing room so the maid wouldn't have to climb stairs.

Another barometer of Mamie's coast to coast popularity comes from a big fashion designer. The nation's buyers, he reports, are demanding dresses, suits and hats just like Mamie wears to sell to their customers.

One gentleman observer of the Washington scene explains the Mamie trend this way. "It's the first time in 20 years," he declares, "that the average American housewife feels she's just like the woman in the White House."

Maybe he's right — right down to Mamie's having what she jokingly calls "grandmother's disease."

This spring, when the grandchildren invaded the Executive-Man-

Driver Responsibility Law's Legality Is Upheld By Court

AUSTIN, June 18—UP—Texas Safety's order suspending D. C. Gillaspie's automobile registration, held as constitutional Wednesday by the State Supreme Court.

The act, passed by the Legislature in 1951, was challenged in a car with his father's permission, suit brought by D. C. Gillaspie of San Antonio on behalf of himself and his 15-year-old son, James D. Gillaspie.

The law, requiring persons involved in automobile accidents to show proof of financial responsibility, was attacked on grounds it denied due process of law.

However, the Supreme Court, in an opinion written by Associate Justice Graham B. Smedley, said "suspension of driver's license or registration is not the taking of property."

The high court said it was a "settled principle" that a license to drive an automobile on the public highways and streets is a privilege and not property or a property right.

The Department of Public Safety ordered suspension of the younger Gillaspie's driver's license and the elder Gillaspie's automobile registration. Neither father nor son had liability insurance.

The trial court at San Antonio upheld suspension of the younger Gillaspie's driver's license, but reversed the Department of Public

Report On Polio Shows Decrease

AUSTIN, June 18—UP—A total of 46 cases of polio were reported in Texas last week, a drop of 10 from the count for the preceding seven days, State Health Officer George W. Cox said Wednesday.

The latest tally brought the total for this year to 252, less than half the total reported during the same period last year.

Twenty-six counties reported cases last week, eight of them for the first time this year.

Cox reported, meantime, that the State Health Department has distributed 21,040 cubic centimeters of gamma globulin as a crippling preventive in cases of polio from May 21 through June 16.

The blood fraction, which contains antibodies against all three known types of polio, is distributed free by the Health Department to city and county health officials to combat polio paralysis.

Last week's polio report included:

- Cameron county, 6 cases; Dallas and Harris, 5 each; Nueces, 4; McLennan, 3; Jefferson and Lipscomb, 3 each; Bexar, Bowie, Cass, Chambers, Comanche, Cooke, Delta, Denton, Fort Bend, Grayson, Harrison, Howard, Johnson, Navarro, Orange, Panola, Travis, Van Zandt and Wichita, 1 case each.

160 Scouts Due At Ki-O-Wah Camp

Some 160 Boy Scouts from the Adobe Walls Council are on hand at Camp Ki-O-Wah this week, the third of the five-week session.

Major item on this week's program will be an "Order of the Arrow" ceremony, scheduled for 8:30 p.m. today, according to Paul Reisenherz, council Scout executive. "A beautiful Indian ceremony for Scouts so honored," he calls it.

Other parts of the week's agenda are the same they have been the past two weeks and will be for the next two. Attendance last week was 202; the week before, 160.

Ki-O-Wah is located 15 miles northeast of Canadian, about a mile past Lake Marvin.

Dog To Be Muzzled
DENVER, June 18 (UP)—A large Collie, has lost his year-long battle with the U. S. Post Office.

Municipal Judge Gerald McAuliffe ordered Ruff muzzled Wednesday so mailmen could make deliveries to the home of his owners, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hayden. The Haydens had charged that Ruff attacked only after a mailman squirted a water pistol in his face.

WTSC President Due To Speak At Kiwanis Club

Two meetings scheduled Friday for the local Kiwanis Club will include the regular luncheon in Fellowship Hall at noon and a family night barbecue picnic at city park Friday night.

Dr. James Cornette, president, West Texas State College, Canyon, will speak at the regular club meeting with the committee on the support of churches in charge of the program.

The group will bid farewell to its German exchange students, Gretchen Johannsen and Burkhard Brehm, at the picnic, which begins at 7 p.m.

Gene Smith is chairman of the arrangements committee planning the family night program.

The Russian Corner
TALOR, Tex. (UP) The Taylor Times has a special system for handling all news out of Russia, the truthfulness of which it feels is "highly suspect" because of censorship at other causes. It has set off six inches in columns eight and nine lower right hand corner of the page, and boxes Russian news in that area.

Maine Idea
BANGOR, Me. (UP)—Potato-rich Maine is now seeking new riches from its soil. Test digging of Washington County land have been announced jointly by Bangor and Canadian mining companies, which are searching for uranium, zinc, copper, lead and silver.

Why Worry?
NEW BERN, N. C. (UP)—Alvert Williams, charged with illegal possession of liquor apparently had a clear conscience. He fell asleep as the judge was charging the jury. He awoke in time to hear the jury's verdict of innocent.

Korean Armistice Would Not Alter Draft Needs In Texas

HOUSTON, June 18—UP—Signing of an armistice in Korea will "make no difference in the number of men to be drafted from Texas, insofar as I know," Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state director of Selective Service, said Wednesday.

"The draft law is not a result of the war in Korea, so it is idle to expect it to stop functioning if the fighting ends there. The draft law was designed to raise the strength of our armed forces to a point commensurate with our national safety," Wakefield said.

"As long as the Russian bear is on the horizon, it appears we will have to keep the bear trap loaded," he said.

"As I understand it," he pointed out, "the present draft act's primary purpose is to keep this country ready to defend itself against all comers. The present draft law was in existence two years before the fight in Korea began."

"For the months ahead, it looks as if Texas will be needing between 3,000 and 2,000 men a month. Our quota this month," the state's draft chief said, "is 1,268. From September, 1952, through May, 1953, our calls were 2,000 to 3,500 men a month. We expected a reduction in June and got it."

"But the reduction in quotas," he continued, "had nothing to do with the Korean fighting. We are just entering a phase where fewer people are getting out of the service, and thus we have to supply less to replace them."

Rotary Dedicates Meet To Memory Of Member's Wife

Local Rotarians cancelled their weekly program and held a few minutes of prayer for Mrs. Esther M. Wanner, wife of Walter R. Wanner, long-time member of the Pampa Rotary Club.

Mrs. Wanner died Monday morning in a local hospital. She was 55. Travis livedly offered a prayer to Mrs. Wanner's memory. That comprised the formal part of the program Wednesday noon.

Prior to the meal and the introduction of an even-dozen guests, all Rotarians on hand sang three verses of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Excavate Ditches For Water Line

Some 500 feet of an estimated 4,000 feet of 10-inch water line ditches had already been dug by late this morning.

"It's a slow process," E. S. Lowry, water and sewer department superintendent, said today, pointing out that workmen have to contend with the service lines already laid.

Line will stretch from the Hobart St. pump station, through three blocks of an alley south of Ripley, then through alley between Sumner and Faulkner to McCullough.

Figuring that it is going at a rate of approximately 200 feet a day, Lowry estimated the whole job should not take longer than three weeks. Pipe itself has already been strung.

Purpose of the new water line is to "bring better water pressure" to the Lavender, Finley Banks and Larmer subdivisions, according to City Manager B. H. Cruce.

The Butter Situation

Most of us who believe in a limited government were pleasantly snocked recently at the plain speaking of Don Paarlberg, an assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, at a dairymen's convention. Shocked because for once a government representative spoke out with courage.

According to a report of the convention, Paarlberg made the "suggestion" to the dairy industry that the industry "stop fighting substitutes and get on with the job of serving customers."

The suggestion carried the observation that the public appears to be getting weary of the industry efforts to keep dairy substitutes off the market by legislative and other means.

Paarlberg said it was a "safe guess" that margarine would take over more of the butter market unless the dairy industry stepped up modern procedures to please the consumers and wooed the public on the merit and price of its product.

The speech was made at a time when "surplus" butter was moving into government hands at the rate of more than two million pounds a day under a producer-price support program. During the past six months, the Department has bought a record quantity of 220,000,000 pounds of butter classed as surplus because it does not have buyers, other than the government, at the price support rate.

To determine whether this program is sound you need only to consult with the average American housewife as she makes out her shopping list. She'll probably be very quick to point out that she "can't afford" to buy butter at the price it is today and must use margarine even though she would prefer to use butter. What she may not realize is that one of the reasons she can't afford the butter is that the cost of government has increased to the point where she must make a choice between margarine or butter in order to pay her share of the cost of government buying of "surplus" butter.

An indication of what the housewife would do if the price of butter started seeking its proper level without the support of the government was seen in an experiment recently in New York City. Here a market slashed the price of butter from 79 cents to 55 cents a pound as a form of criticism of price supports.

The one-day sale was arranged by Albert Lowenfels, resident of the Hotel Bar Butter Company, and Patsy D'Agostino, co-owner of a supermarket.

D'Agostino reported that normally many customers did not buy butter, but that the day of the sale everyone entering the store was buying it, although there were no lines forming.

The two men said they wanted to prove that high price supports have forced a big drop in butter consumption and that a free market would virtually double present sales.

This, of course, is just the practical every-day side of the question. From the standpoint of morality, there is absolutely no justification for any such program in a nation that is supposed to be standing for freedom and the sooner we discover that good morality and morality in government go hand-in-hand with increased prosperity and happiness, the sooner we will be able to abandon the road downward into a creeping Socialism and the inevitable result of Communism. We hope that the government agent Paarlberg was speaking for the entire administration when he made his remarks to the members of the dairy industry.

Friends And Enemies

Sometimes it's harder to have allies than enemies. You can fight your enemies; you're not supposed to fight with your allies.

Take the Rhee government in Korea. Relations between Washington and Seoul are fast approaching a crisis. The more we build up South Korean military strength to relieve our own troops from the battle line the more independent and arrogant the Rhee regime becomes.

The aged Korean president insists that he will never accept anything short of complete unification of his country. We'd like that, too, but unless we are ready to engage in a major campaign to achieve it, it isn't going to be realized in the foreseeable future. This means that even with an armistice reached at Panmunjom it may be difficult to maintain, what with Rhee's finger itching on the trigger.

What's more, our efforts to aid the South Korean economy have earned us little thanks and much criticism. For quite some time we supplied raw materials free to South Korean mills. The mills, incidentally, are mostly owned by powerful figures in the Rhee administration. When we eventually began to make a charge of about half what the materials were costing us in the open market, the Seoul crowd rebelled.

The charge based on a gradually increasing scale, was aimed at getting the mills on a stable basis so they could maintain themselves whenever the war ended. But South Korean officials insist that the raw materials continue to be supplied virtually free, even though the goods made from these materials are sold to the people at fat prices.

Thus we find that we are villains not only to our enemies but to our "friends" as well.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

The Turner Case

Readers of this column will remember that William and Mary Turner of Culver City, California, were arrested and fined for not sending their children to public schools. Their case was appealed and was heard recently before the Appellate Department of the Superior Court at the City Hall in Los Angeles.

The attorney for the School Board argued that the state must have the final say as to what education is and that to permit an individual to educate his children in a different way would produce a state of anarchy. One of the judges hearing the case remarked that people used to believe the world was flat and if no one had a right to have a different opinion than what the government or the majority believed the world would still believe the world was flat. The attorney for the Turners remarked that we did not have anarchy in the United States in education before we had compulsory education.

The School Board attorney didn't know exactly how to answer the record that in an accomplishment test, the Turner's oldest daughter, who is 14, who did not attend tax supported school showed that in some subjects she was equal to a junior in college and in others she was equal to a sophomore. He contended that she might have received this education when she went to school. The attorney for the Turners pointed out that it would be rather strange if a child in the first five grades could be instructed so as to have an understanding equivalent to a sophomore or junior in college.

The only argument that the attorney for the Board of Education had was that the state must have the final say as to what education is. That is the whole point of the Turner case. And if the state is successful in establishing the law that the state is the final authority of what education is, then the American people have become slaves of the State. Remember they killed Socrates and Jesus because they were educating differently from what the state contended was proper education. It seems strange that we should be going back a couple of thousand years to advocate the same experiment as put such men to death.

One of the judges hearing the case remarked that it would be some time before they would get a decision. It was generally believed by the attorneys that the judges were pretty convinced that if they did not reverse the verdict given in the lower court that the case was in such shape that it could be taken to the Supreme Court.

Odds 71-2

I did not realize until I read a report of a speech made by President Funston of the N. Y. Stock Exchange, that since the end of the second World War that new equity capital (that is, common stock or preferred stocks) raised by all industry from the sale of stock has amounted to less than $2 billion, whereas corporate debt has increased $71 billion. That's a ratio of 71 for new debt, including the sale of bonds, insurance loans, bank loans, etc. against only 2 for the sale of common stocks.

One of the reasons for his condition is that the government taxes the earnings received by common stockholders twice by taxing the corporation's earnings and then taxing the stock holder who receives the dividend. On the other hand a corporation can deduct the interest it pays from its earnings and taxes are not paid on interest by the note holder.

It is a strange thing that the American people will penalize the men who are willing to run risks for the purpose of rendering a service to the buying public, and by so doing make a profit besides also incidentally furnish better jobs. It just shows how woefully miseducated the American people are when they are willing to penalize the goose that lays the Golden Egg.

For these reasons, and in view of the need for a prompt settlement for domestic and foreign considerations, a final decision had been expected, again, and it is about to be made.

JUDICIAL STATEMENT WANTED — The high tribunal also introduced what may be regarded as a political footnote into this historic and explosive controversy. It said that it would like to hear the views of Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr. Thus, it asked for a judicial, rather than a campaign, statement on this issue from the Eisenhower administration.

Now, Ike has been rather "eager" on this sensitive problem, in view of the need for a prompt settlement for domestic and foreign considerations, a final decision had been expected, again, and it is about to be made.

BID FOR A SMILE

An actress congratulated a woman author on her book: Actress — I enjoyed it, who wrote it for you? Author — Darling, I'm so glad you liked it. Who read it to you?

A successful businessman, and the proud father of seven daughters, was endeavoring to find out a certain young man's intentions in visiting his house. Old man — Yes, I am proud of my girls and would like to see them comfortably married. I have made a little money and they will not go to their graves unmarried. There's Mary, twenty-five years old, and a real good girl, I shall give her five thousand dollars when she marries; then comes Beth, who isn't over thirty-five again, and I shall give her ten thousand dollars; add the man who takes Ethel, who is forty, who will receive fifteen thousand dollars with her, Ahem!

Young man — You haven't got one about fifty, have you?

National Whirligig... Elementary Grade Segregation Looms As Bitter Political Issue

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court's failure to pass upon the board question of segregation in the nation's elementary school system at this session will make 1954 a needlessly turbulent and difficult year. It creates racial and political bitterness on the eve of congressional elections at a moment when the world crisis demands American solidarity.

It will embarrass President Eisenhower, not only in his relationship with Capitol Hill, but also if he runs again in 1956. It will place every congressman seeking re-election, on the spot.

Their difficulties, however, are unimportant by comparison with the final ruling means to this country's world prestige. The dilatory handling of this problem diminishes our authority in improving the international situation.

In every area where the United States combats Russia in the cold war, Moscow's great ideological weapon is that this country discriminates against racial minorities, especially the colored people. In Asia, it is their principal sales talk. By their cautious approach to the question, the Supreme Court members tend to confirm the Kremlin's thesis.

COURT DELAYED SCHOOL ARGUMENT — The jurists ruled a deal only with college and graduate institutions. This is first case involving grammar grades.

The Vinson body said that it needed further information on the question, although it has been argued back and forth before them and lower courts for more than a year. Every possible argument, pro and con, has been uttered.

For these reasons, and in view of the need for a prompt settlement for domestic and foreign considerations, a final decision had been expected, again, and it is about to be made.

JUDICIAL STATEMENT WANTED — The high tribunal also introduced what may be regarded as a political footnote into this historic and explosive controversy. It said that it would like to hear the views of Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr. Thus, it asked for a judicial, rather than a campaign, statement on this issue from the Eisenhower administration.

Now, Ike has been rather "eager" on this sensitive problem, in view of the need for a prompt settlement for domestic and foreign considerations, a final decision had been expected, again, and it is about to be made.

An actress congratulated a woman author on her book: Actress — I enjoyed it, who wrote it for you? Author — Darling, I'm so glad you liked it. Who read it to you?

A successful businessman, and the proud father of seven daughters, was endeavoring to find out a certain young man's intentions in visiting his house. Old man — Yes, I am proud of my girls and would like to see them comfortably married. I have made a little money and they will not go to their graves unmarried. There's Mary, twenty-five years old, and a real good girl, I shall give her five thousand dollars when she marries; then comes Beth, who isn't over thirty-five again, and I shall give her ten thousand dollars; add the man who takes Ethel, who is forty, who will receive fifteen thousand dollars with her, Ahem!

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

In this day and age great numbers of people have, or think they have, chronic constipation. Perhaps this is the result of our diet or lack of exercise. But true constipation is not as common as most believe it to be. It is often confused with spastic colitis, or irritable bowel.

In real constipation the waste matter is kept in the intestinal tract longer than it should be and there is delay in emptying of the bowel. In such cases the waste is hard and dry. This difficulty can usually be traced to neglect and improper training during childhood. Much of the trouble comes from failure to set aside a regular time of day for the bowel movement. An additional cause is that many people suppress nature's call and this tends to set up bad habits and interfere with the normal rhythm of bowel emptying.

Poor diet, of course, can, and often does, cause constipation. Too many people gulp their food down without allowing enough time for their meals. Many of the foods which we eat are so highly refined, too, that they do not contain the bulk necessary.

In some parts of the country and at some times of year, fresh fruits and vegetables make up an insufficient part of the diet. These foods not only supply a large part of the bulk in the diet but also aid in peristalsis or the wave-like movement of the intestine which carry the contents down through the intestinal tract.

Another great cause of constipation is the abuse of laxatives or cathartics. A great many people have the idea that if they clean themselves out once a week with a good strong purge it will be good for them. When they do this, the normal rhythm of bowel evacuation is disturbed and usually is not re-established for several days.

GOOD BOWEL HABITS — The results of treatment of the friendly biography of Harry S. Truman by Jonathan Daniels, one of Truman's selfless secretaries, Daniels depicted Lowenthal as one who threw his hat on Truman and schooled him in Lowenthal's principles of government for the United States. Daniels went much further. He wrote that Lowenthal, as counsel for a Senate committee which Truman was a constituent member, decided long before any such bug ever bit Truman himself, to school Truman for vice president. He also introduced him to Louis D. Brandeis, then retired from the supreme bench, for visits in which Brandeis' thoughts made a profound impression on the rapacious ruler from the political slums of Kansas City.

Later, Lowenthal was called before the House Committee on Un-American Activities to give information about his own doings, particularly as an emissary of certain groups in Germany when the terrible precedents of revenge were being established in the "war guilt" trials. Lowenthal brought along Burt Wheeler, of Montana, formerly a senator, although Wheeler had been liquidated on charges of anti-Semitism. Wheeler tied up the committee so cleverly that Lowenthal didn't have to answer a single question of importance. He never hid name the groups which sent him to Germany nor explain his relations with a character named Wahl whose activities still baffle not only that committee but other such bodies.

In his testimony that day in 1950, Frankfurter himself made the remarkable admission that "except in one instance involving a charge against a nominee the entire history of the committee has been a simple constipation, unless the trouble has begun in childhood or has lasted for a very long time, are usually satisfactory. The underlying cause, whether diet, neglect or abuse of laxatives, first has to be corrected.

Fair Enough... Frankfurter Accused Of Having Definite Communistic Leaning

By WESTBROOK FEGLER

(Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.) Felix Frankfurter was examined by a subcommittee of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary on Jan. 12, 1950. He was a slippery witness. Sen. Pat McCarran, a Democrat but an anti-Communist, even then, asked him whether he agreed with the "doctrine" of his friend, Harold Laski, the English Communist, as expressed in a book of his entitled "Communism."

"Sen. McCarthy," said Frankfurter, "How can I answer without making a speech about my views on government and the relations of the various branches of the government to one another? He could have made the speech. Nobody was interrupting him. But he didn't."

They sparred along and no clear answer came from Frankfurter. Sen. William H. King, another Democrat, took over the task of trying to get a straightforward declaration. King asked, "Do you believe in what might be called the ideology of Marx and Trotsky?"

Again Frankfurter gave an imitation of a bushel of eels on a barrel of grease. "It would be terribly easy," he said, "for me to answer that question. I withhold any further discussion, not because there is any secret about my views or feelings but because I am in a position in which I cannot help it. You will have to decide, in the light of my whole life, what devotion I have given to the American system of government."

That is precisely what the senators had learned, that Theodore Roosevelt had accused Frankfurter of "taking an attitude fundamentally that of Trotsky and other Bolsheviki leaders in Russia." T. R. was referring to Frankfurter's "investigation and report" on the trial of Tom Mooney for the murder of many citizens by a planted bomb in San Francisco and on the Bisbee deportation of a gang of IWW terrorists. The agitation to discredit the Mooney trial and get him excused from the death penalty was directed from Petrograd, the revolutionary capital of Russia.

T. R. said Frankfurter's report on the Bisbee action was "as thoroughly misleading a document as could be written. No official writing on behalf of the President is to be excused for failure to know and set forth that the IWW is a criminal organization. No human being in this sense of the word is a member of the Bisbee case. He is a man who has been deported from the country because he had thrown a bomb at the protection of their Magna Carta, their rights and their written constitution, rather than the destruction of the nation. He carried on similarly here and Felix Frankfurter was one of his personal friends. But, as to Frankfurter's attitude toward Laski's doctrine of communism, we are still left guessing."

The Frankfurter report to Woodrow Wilson on the Mooney case was signed also by Max Lowenthal, the man who wrote the book, attacking the FBI two years ago and who they bobbed up mysteriously in the friendly biography of Harry S. Truman by Jonathan Daniels, one of Truman's selfless secretaries, Daniels depicted Lowenthal as one who threw his hat on Truman and schooled him in Lowenthal's principles of government for the United States. Daniels went much further. He wrote that Lowenthal, as counsel for a Senate committee which Truman was a constituent member, decided long before any such bug ever bit Truman himself, to school Truman for vice president. He also introduced him to Louis D. Brandeis, then retired from the supreme bench, for visits in which Brandeis' thoughts made a profound impression on the rapacious ruler from the political slums of Kansas City.

of this committee and of the Supreme Court does not disclose the nominee to the Supreme Court has appeared and testified, and his moustache all through the hearings was Dean Acheson, who remained his close confidant throughout Acheson's career in the State Department. The published record contains the written statement of the late Gen. Hugh Johnson that Frankfurter was "the most influential individual in the United States" heading "the nucleus of a vast collectivism in which business or any private enterprise are just elements to be absorbed."

Another observation which went into this record was that of George N. Peek, former administrator of the unconstitutional AAA, who wrote: "In the legal division plans were formed which turned the AAA from a device to aid the farmers into a device to introduce the collectivist system of agriculture." "This," Peek wrote, "was due to Jerome Frank, who had come to Washington, so he told me, at the request of Felix Frankfurter." There is so much information proving that Frankfurter is a crafty political manipulator of a personal machine, including even Henry L. Stimson, whom he selected for the appropriate investigating committee, that the appropriate investigating committees are wasting time on petty suspects and apostates. Frankfurter's office is not a five minutes' walk away.

LOOKING SIDWAYS

It is a humiliating confession to have to make, a whole week after the Coronation, but the simple truth is that in common with about 150,000,000 other Americans I did not receive the slightest encouragement to go to London and witness this event. I work in an area of New York teeming with branos and dames who for weeks talked as though they had nightly telephone calls from Queen Elizabeth II, which I greatly doubt, and who gave the deliberate impression that Buckingham Palace would be reduced to tears and confusion if they did not go over to lend a hand.

It is also the truth that I am not at all bewildered at not having received an official invitation, although my blood is 100 per cent British, without any Scotch, Welsh or Irish nonsense involved. There is a street behind the palace which bears the name of my forebears and there is an Abbey in the country bearing the same name, which is more than Earl Wilson, Fleur Coles, Dorothy Kilgallen or a regiment of others who flew off to London in a hurry can claim. Bolton Alley is not the meanest street in London, but it will do until you dig up a meaner one. It is not wide, nor deep, but it will do. There are certain whimsies in the family concerning some early Boltons who secreted handsome babes on their premises while a certain king prepared to get rid of the queen, a lady who disliked going to sleep before 7 a.m., so that he could offer a little wine and a gem or two in homage to the beauties hiding in Bolton Alley. This is a family story. It doesn't ring true to me, but I suppose it could have happened. In any case, the obnoxious, hypocritical by naming the the name after the family. It always seemed to me that he betrayed his lack of real appreciation by calling the street an alley instead of an avenue or boulevard.

As to the Abbey, it is too celebrated in song, story, and tourist postcard to describe. It is in ruins today, an ancient, holy and venerated place in which early Christians said their offices and in which devoted monks sang their prayers. There is no point in going into the antiquity of the place or the hold it has on British hearts. All I know is that my grandfather left England, went to Minnesota and there became the father of the first Bolton of the branch to be born in America. I am second generation, therefore, and not exactly unhappy not to be in England now that Elizabeth is there.

I don't know how all these folks, including Peale's Meats, vangled invitations to the Coronation and I'm not going to quibble about it, but the nearest claim that Wilson has on London is Columbus, Ohio, and Kilgallen, an Irish girl, has even less. I can't testify about Fleur, but she sounds to me like something that floated over with William the Conqueror, and her presence in London at a delicate moment in history may be regarded with some suspicion.

The real fact is that for days I examined all the mail that came, including folders from Venetian blind cleaners and fake oil stock outfits, in the faint hope that somebody around the palace had gotten to the Queen and spoken a piece for me. I thought maybe the syndicate that hires me would stuff me into an airplane and send me over to do a few cable reports. I thought maybe my home paper in New York would break down and see that I got to London, but it didn't. They have W. MacQueen Pope right there on the premises and can depend on him.

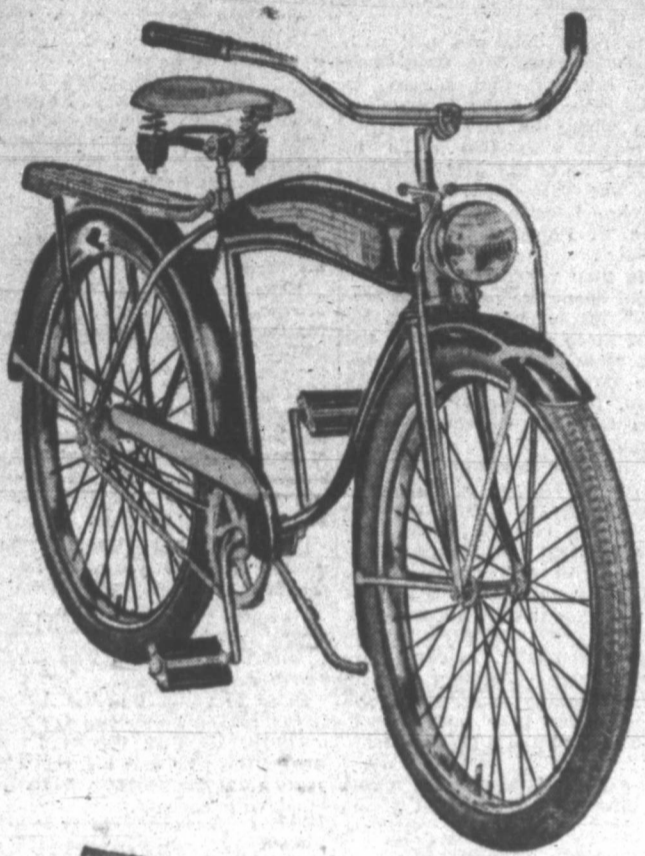

So there it is. Some of us stayed home and did our jobs and hid our hurt spirits behind a brave if slightly tremulous smile and pretended that it didn't matter at all. Which, come to think about it, it didn't.

Amarillo G-Sox Bats Jolt Oilers, 13-5

Woldt Connects In 21st Straight Tilt

AMARILLO, June 18 — (Special) — The Amarillo Gold Sox snapped a 3-game winning streak of the Oilers and a 22-game hitting streak by Oiler pilot Porky Pawelek here Wednesday night, winning with two big 5-run innings, 13-5.

While Pawelek's streak was broken after hitting in 22 straight tilts, Oiler centerfielder Deck Woldt kept his batting streak alive with a homerun in the third. It marked the 21st straight game in which Woldt hit safely.

Sad Sam Williams, who entered the game with an 11-2 record, was blasted for 16 hits by the Gold Sox, including one tremendous homer by John Gorkis. The hit was Gorkis' 16th circuit smash of the year.

Don Tierney was the winning pitcher, running his record to 8-5. Deck Woldt's home run in the third when two baserunners scamp-hitter although it came with the bases empty.

Pampa scored runs in the first, third, sixth and seventh innings, the tallies coming alone except in the third when to baserunners scamp-ered home.

The Gold Sox scored five times in the third, five more times in the sixth, once in the seventh and twice in the eighth.

The Oilers picked up their first-inning run on Ben Felder's single, followed by his steal of second base and Doug Lewis' single to centerfield.

They grabbed two scores in the third on Woldt's home run — a line drive over the straight-away centerfield wall, Felder's single and Lewis double.

Their sixth-inning run was the product of a single by Eddie Krewell, followed by an outfield error and Quincy Barbe's long double to right.

And the seventh inning counter was produced by John Sanderson's single and a passed ball followed by Manny Tennes' single to right center.

In the eighth the Oilers put together three hits but failed to score. Amarillo, following two hitless innings, was started on their third-inning outburst by Tierney's single.

An error saved Dub Graves, then Charlie Neal singled, John Brunga doubled, Jim Matthews was walked intentionally and Sonny Tims and Bobby Farmer banged back-to-back singles.

In the sixth a couple of walks, a sacrifice, and a wild error combined with Neal's single, Farmer's fluke single and Gorkis' homer to give Amarillo five more runs.

The error was charged to Williams for a low throw to first base on Graves attempted sacrifice bunt.

The Oiler pitcher had in front of him the throw and the ball hit in front of first baseman Lewis and bounded into foul territory adjoining right field.

Tierney, who was on first, and Graves raced all the way home on the misplay and both runs were allowed though Pampa Manager Ted Pawelek and Lewis registered no runs.

In the seventh, consecutive doubles by Neal and Brunga brought one Amarillo run across. And in the eighth a single followed by an error, another single and Travis Wiginton's double counted two runs.

Wednesday evening the same two teams will play with Roger Aldridge scheduled to pitch for Pampa, opposed by Eddie Locke.

In a preliminary to last night's game, Miss Ann Watkins was named Miss Gold Sox.

Temple Fans Stage Drive

TEMPLE, Tex., June 18 —UP— Temple baseball fans have launched a drive to sell $10,000 worth of stock to keep the Temple club in the Big State League the rest of this season.

A decision to seek additional funds came in a called meeting of the club directors and interested fans. Within 10 minutes after it was made, one-fifth of the proposed stock was sold.

The Temple franchise is owned by about 200 stockholders who hold from one to five shares each.

A club official said a financial crisis arose after a number of important home games were rained out.

LILA AUSTIN advances to W-Tex semi-finals.

Lila Austin Gains Semi-Finals Berth In W-Tex Tourney

Lila Austin, Pampa's most promising lady golfer in years, fought her way into the semi-finals of the annual West Texas Women's golf tournament at Amarillo yesterday, defeating Mrs. J. R. Brown of Amarillo in the quarterfinals, 3-2.

Miss Austin thus joined the two tourney favorites, medalist Mrs. Gene Harding of El Paso, Gloria Ezell of Midland, and Mrs. J. W. Ross of Amarillo.

Lila will meet Mrs. Ezell in one of today's semi-final matches with Mrs. Harding and Mrs. Brown meeting in the other.

Mrs. Ezell was extended all the way yesterday to eliminate Pampa's other entry in the championship flight, Jean Duenkel. Mrs. Duenkel, after holding the lead on several occasions, came to the 18th hole of her match with Mrs. Ezell all square only to lose the final hole to Mrs. Ezell's par five. For the round, Mrs. Ezell had an 82 and Mrs. Duenkel 83.

In defeating Mrs. Brown, Lila put on a strong finish for the win. The match was all even after 11 holes but Lila went two-up by winning No. 13 and 15 and then closed out the match by taking 16.

Lila is the current Pampa City champion, having won the title the past two years.

Three other Pampans also emerged victorious in the lower flights yesterday. Mrs. Orville Heiskell reached the first flight semi-final round with a 5-4 victory over Mrs. Larry Gerre of Amarillo; Mrs. Mask Heath won over Mrs. Clayton Webster, Amarillo, 8-4, in the 3rd flight quarterfinal; Mrs. O. A. Alle Whittle defeated Mrs. J. R. Carroll of Amarillo, 2-1, in a quarterfinal match in the fifth flight; Mrs. Fern Parker, the other Pampa player who was still in the running yesterday, fell by the wayside. Mrs. Parker lost a 2-up decision to Mrs. Joe Show of Abilene in a fifth flight quarterfinal affair.

In a consolation match, Shirley Austin of Pampa lost to Mrs. Dougton Webster, San Angelo, 5-4, in the Jones of Abilene, 4-3 in first flight.

Carlsbad Moves Into First Place

The Carlsbad Potashers claimed first place in the Longhorn League again Thursday — they lost first to San Angelo a week ago — and to Odessa threatened to bounce out of the cellar with a five game winning streak going.

In Wednesday night games, Odessa beat Roswell 4 to 0; Carlsbad nipped Big Spring 5 to 4; and Artesia trounced San Angelo for the second night 13 to 0.

Len Ruyle, Artesia righthander, handed San Angelo its first shut-out this season. Ruyle gave up only five hits while Artesia collected nine blows off Mario Saldana and Bill Ewen, including a grand-slam home run by Les Muleshy in the sixth inning and a solo homer by Joe Calderin in the second.

Starring in Relief Roles Burdette Big Wheel In Braves' Machine

NEW YORK, June 18 —UP—Law (Best Bet) Burdette, baseball's newest relief ace, was shooting Thursday for the World Series money with Milwaukee's madcaps that he missed when the Yankees traded him to the Braves two years ago.

The explosive right hander from Nitro, W. Va., who fires "blanks" at the opposition, did it again Wednesday night when he blanked the Phils without a hit or run for 2-13 innings in a 9 to 8 victory. The triumph, which he saved for starter Warren Spahn, put Milwaukee 2½ games ahead of the Dodgers, who lost a 9 to 3 decision to the Cardinals.

Burdette, who could mean to the Braves what Joe Black meant to Brooklyn a year ago, once was a Yankee and it is now all but forgotten that he went to the Braves in 1951 along with $50,000 cash for pitcher Johnny Sain. Right now Milwaukee wouldn't trade back even if it got the $50,000 with Sain.

Before another sell-out crowd of 52,711 at Milwaukee, the Braves pounded out 14 hits including homer by Joe Adcock and Del Crandall, triples by Bill Bruton and Ed Mathews and doubles by Adcock and Spahn in a typical extra-base hit assault.

The Cardinals broke a 1-1 tie with three runs in the fifth, two on a Steve Biko homer, and they added five more runs in the seventh to give Gerry Staley an easy ninth victory. Stan Musial hit two doubles and Red Schoendienst got two timely singles in the 10-hit attack.

The Giants defeated Cincinnati 4 to 1 and Chicago trimmed Pittsburgh 5 to 4 in 16 innings in other National League games. The Yankees defeated the Browns 5 to 3, Cleveland topped Philadelphia 9 to 6, Washington edged Chicago 1 to 0 on Walt Masterson's two-hitter and the Red Sox mauled the Tigers 17 to 1 on 20 hits including two homers by Dick Gernert in American League games.

Easy Victory Ruben Gomez, given a 4-0 lead in three innings coasted to victory at Cincinnati as Tookie Gilbert homered and Whitey Lockman singled and Hank Thompson tripled to drive in key runs.

Randy Jackson's bases-loaded single in the 16th broke up the marathon at Chicago and gave Turk Lown a third victory in a seven-inning scoreless relief role.

Billy Martin hit a two-run single in the seventh to put the Yankees in front for good as Sain came to the relief of Allie Reynolds and preserved the chief's sixth victory. Sain pitched hitless ball for 1-1-3 innings.

Cleveland gained stand-out relief work from their new pitcher, lefty Bill Wight, as Bobby Avila drove in four runs with a double and a homer to end a six-game losing streak. Philadelphia snapped a seven-game winning streak. Cass Michaels homered for the losers.

Mickey Vernon's single with the bases loaded broke up a scoreless battle between Masterson and loser Saul Rogovin at Washington. Masterson permitted only two men to reach base. Al Carrasquel with a sixth inning single and Jim Rivera with a double in the eighth.

Wednesday's Star: Walt Masterson, who pitched two-hit 1-0 masterpiece for Washington over Chicago.

Hubs, Clovis Record Wins

Lubbock and Clovis got near-perfect pitching Wednesday night to win games and continue their two-way battle for first place in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Lubbock's Charlie Garmon blanked Berger on two-hits as the Hubbers won 5 to 0, and Bill Mitchell of Clovis pitched a three-hitter in beating Abilene 8 to 2.

Amarillo slugged Pampa 13 to 8 in the only other game played. The Plainview at Albuquerque game was postponed because of rain.

Lubbock stayed one and one-half games ahead of Clovis but Pampa, in third place, dropped 1½ games behind Lubbock.

Scores by innings: Abilene 101 000 000-2 3 4 Clovis 000 310 000-1 11 2 Garmon and Schindler; Rodriguez and Dickey. Plainview at Albuquerque postponed.

To Sponsor Beauty Contest GREENVILLE, Tex. June 18 —UP—The Greenville Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a beauty contest on July 10 to select "Miss Junior Chamber of Commerce." The contest is open to Hunt county girls 15 years or older without professional modeling experience. Ted Sullins, chairman of the Jaycee steering committee, says he hopes the contest will become an annual affair.

MEET THE OILERS

Doug Lewis, winner of the most valuable Oiler award for the month of May, launched his professional baseball career in 1946.

Doug is considered one of the best first basemen in the West Texas-New Mexico League. His batting average has been hovering around .400 all season and his defensive play at first base stands second to none.

Lewis broke into pro ball with Amarillo in 1946. The Gold Sox farmed him out that season to Natchez, Miss., of the Evangeline League where he hit .285 in 1947. He played with two clubs in 1947, El Paso of the Arizona-Texas League and Thibodaux, La., of the Evangeline League. He batted .364 for the El Pasoans and .261 for Thibodaux.

Lewis then rejoined Amarillo in 1948 and spent the next three seasons playing for the Gold Sox. He enjoyed three good years with the Golden Hose, hitting .358 in 1948; .364 in 1949, and .361 in 1950. In addition, he was voted the most popular Gold Sox for the 1949 and '50 seasons.

The Gold Sox then sold Lewis up the river to Denver of the Class A Western League. Lewis recorded a .268 batting average for the Denver team in 1951 despite being slowed down with a fractured wrist. The Dugger missed 10 weeks of the '51 season due to the fracture.

Lewis played the first half of the '52 season with Denver before the Oilers purchased him outright at the mid-season mark. After joining the Oilers here last season, Doug compiled a .336 batting mark. Amarillo .22 31 .43 4 1/2.

This season, Lewis owned a .404 mark through Tuesday night's game at Berger. He had banged out 27 hits in 215 trips, and had scored 63 runs. Thirty-nine of his hits have been for extra bases, 25 doubles, five triples and nine homers. He has batted in 86 runs.

Lewis was born Dec. 7, 1923, making him 29 years of age at present.

He spent three years in the Army during World War II. 20 months of which were spent in New Guinea, Japan and Okinawa.

Prior to going into the Army, Lewis played American Legion baseball. He then turned pro following the war and his seven-plus years in organized ball have been filled with success.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE Allie To Hang Up Glove In October

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK, June 18—UP—Indian Allie Reynolds was back victoriously in a starting role for the New York Yankees Thursday but ready to throw his arm off from the bull pen, too, in what he insists will be his windup year.

"It's easier taking your regular turn and a pitcher will last a lot longer that way than he will pitching relief," said the super chief from Oklahoma. "But there's no use of me saving my arm because this is it for me."

And while he is on the scene, the Yankees team shooting for a record fifth straight pennant knows that Reynolds is the man who can hurt them home again.

For he was the big stopper during the Yankees' recent 15-game winning streak. When Allie first came from the Indians in 1947, there were malicious whispers that he didn't have it in the clutch. Quickly heavenly proved those words, and he's still at it.

the Oklahoma oil fields, one in which he figures to make more money even than he would with a world championship team.

"I can't go on forever," he said, "and after all, I'm 37, not 35 like they have me listed in the record books."

But he'd like to go out a big gun, starting and relieving, too. Which is why Allie was beaming down Wednesday. He needed help himself, from Johnny Sain in the eighth, after yielding only three hits that far, but it didn't bother him.

"I've been warming up two or three minutes in the bull pen," Allie grinned.

Castellani Bests Langlois

CLEVELAND, June 18—UP—Middleweight Rocky Castellani of Luzerne, Pa., was back on the title trail Thursday with an avenging split-decision victory over Pierre Langlois of France.

Manager Al Natman scoffed at suggestions of a third "rubber" match with the Frenchman. "I want Rocky ready for a title fight in the fall or winter, like promoter Jim Norris of New York promised us," he said.

Castellani, scaling 158 pounds to Langlois' 160, gashed both of Pierre's brows Wednesday night in their dull 10-round bout before 3,223 at the Cleveland arena.

Those wounds apparently provided the margin by which Rocky turned the tables on Langlois, who had gained a split verdict in their first bout last February at Madison Square Garden.

Patty Berg Ousts Betsy Rawls In Women's Western Open

ATLANTA, June 18—UP—Steady Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., advanced into the quarter-final round of the Women's Western Open golf tournament Thursday after eliminating defending champion Betsy Rawls.

Miss Berg, seeking her fifth victory in the Western Open, defeated Miss Rawls, 2-up, Wednesday despite the first hole-in-one registered during the tournament's 24-year history. Miss Rawls made the perfect shot on the par-three 11th hole to take a one-up lead over her chunky opponent.

Miss Berg, however, suared the match with a birdie four on the 16th hole, on the 17th with a par four and closed the match with a birdie three on the 18th. Her opponent in Thursday's quarter-final was Claire Doran of Cleveland, who beat Marilyn Smith of Wichita, Kan., 6 and 4 Wednesday.

Favored Louise Suggs of Atlanta, Ga., opposed Maj. Pat Grant of Fort McClellan, Ala., Pa. Lesser of Seattle faced Jean Hopkins of Cleveland and Betty Hix of Los Angeles met Dot Kirby of Atlanta in the other quarter-finals matches.

Miss Suggs, seeking her fourth tournament title over her home course, easily advanced into the quarter-finals with a 4 and 3 victory over amateur Marnie Folk of Chattanooga, Tenn. Miss Lesser reversed a defeat in the 1952 National Amateur and she upset Mrs. Jackie Pung, the former Honolulu star now playing out of Glasgow, Ky., Thursday's quarter-final was Claire

HEAVY TRAFFIC—Charley Grimm is kept busy directing heavy traffic from the third base coach's box. The Milwaukee manager reminds bases on first and second bases that there are two out. He congratulates Sid Gordon on a three-run homer, keeps bench alive with instructions. (NEA)

Coe Advances In Trans-Miss Golf

KANSAS CITY, June 18—UP—Defending champion Charles Coe of Oklahoma City met Leonard Young of Tulsa Thursday in the feature match of second round play in the Golden Anniversary Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament.

The 54-player original championship bracket was trimmed in half in first-round matches Wednesday with Southern Amateur champion Joe Conrad of San Antonio, providing the hottest golf—five under par—in defeating Ray Mann, Kansas City, 7 and 6.

The red-haired collegian, a student at North Texas State College at Denton, Tex., dropped a four-foot putt to beat Mann on the 12th hole for a birdie to end the match.

Hot Practice Round

The stringbean Coe, who was exempt from qualifying Monday and Tuesday but fired the hottest practice rounds, had a strainless match defeating Jim Hoak of Des Moines 5 and 4. He was one under par when the match ended on the 14th hole.

Young, a 32-year-old carpenter who won the 1953 Oklahoma State Amateur championship and beat Coe in the first round of the Oklahoma amateur in 1952, shot two under par to eliminate Oatman, Kansas City veteran who had won the titles of both Missouri and Kansas, 5 and 4. He had five birdies.

Medallist Des Replogle of Oklahoma City, whose combined one under par qualifying rounds of 71-68-139 topped the field, was eliminated by Harlan Hise, member of the Kansas University golf team, 1-up on the 18th hole.

Hise was 1-up at the turn, but Replogle stayed close until a four-foot putt on the extra hole finished it.

Hise was paired against William Webb of Kansas City Thursday, while Conrad, who had five birdies and seven pars against Mann, went against Bob Busler of Kansas City.

An Easy Time

Don January of Dallas, who met Ray Watson of Kansas City Thursday, had an easy time with Claude Wright, Denver, winning 4 and 3. Watson defeated C. Judd Ringer, Minneapolis, 3 and 1.

In another upset, William Hornbuckle of Kansas City, one of the low qualifiers, was eliminated by John Nash, Kansas City, 1-up.

Thursday's 18-hole matches over the tightly wooded Kansas City Country Club course will again trim the field in half. Play continues through Sunday when the field will be cut to the two finalists for the championship round.

Cards Paid Only $1 For Ace Reliever

By STAN MOCKLER
ST. LOUIS, June 18—UP—The St. Louis Cardinals have come up with one of the biggest bargains in sports in relief pitcher Hal White.

The Cards made their baseball "Louisiana purchase" from the St. Louis Browns, paying their American League neighbors exactly $1.00 for the 34-year old right-hander's contract.

This situation came about because the Browns had asked waivers on White for the purpose of granting him his unconditional release.

As a 10-year man, he was entitled to try to make his own deal as a free agent if he went unclaimed. He had so little hope of catching on with another major league club that he was considering a minor league offer at the time the Cards decided to take him.

He had pitched batting practice for Manager Eddie Stanky and the eager little Cardinal boss liked what he saw, an experienced pitcher with all the tools of a good relief man—a cross-fire curve, a knuckleball, screwball and a sinking fast ball.

That demonstration outweighed a major league record of 40 victories and 49 defeats and his most recent mark, a 1952 showing of one win and eight losses at Detroit.

White climaxed several fine performances with his defeat of the Brooklyn Dodgers Tuesday night. He went in to rescue Stu Miller, with none out in the fourth inning and held the hard-hitting Brooks scoreless to rack up his first victory since June 13, 1952.

He struck out four and allowed only three hits in his seventh appearance since the Cards obtained him two weeks ago.

"Since that time, he saved two games in Pittsburgh in compiling an overall record of two wins and nine hits allowed in 19 2/3 innings. "A life-saver," was Stanky's on-the-spot description of him after the Brooklyn victory.

and handed Fort Worth pitcher Dan Stupur his first loss after six wins. Mel McGaha, Joe Szekely and Les Layton all hit homers in helping pitcher Doyle Dale to the win.

Beaumont's six-run outburst shelved Dallas pitcher Jose Santigo in the sixth inning with Bud Smith of the Exporters the winner.

Tulsa drew to within one-half game of the first division with its 10 to 8 victory over fourth-place Houston. Oiler pitcher Al McNeill, making his third relief appearance in six nights since joining the team, protected a lead although starter Cliff Ross was the winner. Mike Lutz smashed a two-run homer as Tulsa scored seven runs in the fourth inning.

Sports Capture 22nd Win On Road Against Eight Losses

By DICK HARDWICK
United Press Sports Writer
The Shreveport Sports are using power hitting and hustle as a lethal weapon in clubbing their Texas League opponents this season, but the one cold fact that accounts for the Sports' permanency in first place is their ability to win on the road.

Manager Mickey Livingston's forces beat Fort Worth 11 to 2 Wednesday night for the fifth straight time in the Cats' bailiwick at LaGrave Field. It ran their road string to 22 wins against only eight losses, by far the best in the league.

The Sports' league lead was increased to 1 1/2 games and one-half game ahead of Beaumont beat Dallas 9 to 3 with a six-run explosion in the sixth inning. Tulsa pounded Houston for the second night 10 to 8, and Oklahoma City evened its three-game series with San Antonio with a 3 to 1 win.

A home-run barrage gave Shreveport its win over the Cats

Texans Give $2.5 Million to MOD

DALLAS, June 18—Texans contributed a record $2,577,000 toward the $51.5 million raised in the 1953 March of Dimes. Basin O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, has announced.

Robert J. Smith was volunteer state chairman for the annual polo fund-raising drive in Texas. Conner also pointed to a decrease in polio incidence in Texas so far in 1953, compared to 1952, when the state suffered an epidemic. As of June 6, 313 cases had been reported, compared with 582 for the corresponding period of 1952.

Washington June 18-UP

The United States hopes to open the proposed Big Three conference in Bermuda, June 29 if French education Minister Andre Marie wins approval to form a cabinet Thursday diplomatic sources reported.

Full Revolution Seen

VIENNA, June 18-UP—West Berlin Mayor Ernst Reuter said Thursday that the East Berlin riots are "a full revolution and the beginning of the end of the East Berlin regime." Reuter, in Vienna for an international conference, said, "Even if this revolt is suppressed, there never will be quiet in Eastern Germany."

Victims of War Hysteria

MOSCOW, June 17-UP—Soviet newspapers, mentioning the Rosenberg case for the first time, said Thursday the convicted atom-spies were "victims of war hysteria." The Soviet press printed a New York dispatch headlined "Case of the Rosenberg spouses."

Investigation Nears End

WASHINGTON, June 18-UP—Chairman William E. Jenner said Thursday the Internal Security committee is tapering off its investigation of communism in education and hopes to issue a report by July 15.

Guard Increase Expected

WASHINGTON, June 18-UP—The Air National Guard will triple its present number of tactical and support units over the next three years in a move to step up enlistments, it was announced Thursday. The move appeared to be in line with Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's view that increased reliance should be placed on reserve forces in peacetime.

Bad Timing

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—Tipped that someone was going to rob a bank, police kept a sharp eye on the city's banks. In this nervous situation, a burglar alarm went off at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association. An employee had accidentally tripped the alarm.

He Liked It

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—Eight-year-old William Lively visited his brother and sister at John Tarleton Institute—a home for dependent children. He had a fine time. The next morning, relatives with whom William was living reported him missing. He was located at the Institute where he arrived, his clothes packed, in time for breakfast.

"MODERN CRISIS—WHAT TO DO WITH YOURSELF TILL THE TV SET IS FIXED"

500,000th soldier in Japan TOKYO, June 18-UP—The city of Tokyo welcomed a Chicago, Ill., soldier Thursday as the 500,000th United Nations soldier to arrive in Japan. Cpl. Donald Kohlman was presented with a yard-long wooden key to the city inscribed "Welcome to Tokyo" and was made mayor of the city for one minute.

Crash Kills 17

SAO PAULO, Brazil, June 18-UP—A Brazilian airliner exploded in the air Wednesday and crashed in flames near here, killing at least 21 of 23 persons aboard. The plane was identified as a Panair De Brasil Constellation. Company officials said it was carrying 17 passengers and a crew of six.

Wasn't Quite Cricket

OXFORD, England, June 18-UP—The greensward of the Oxford cricket field Wednesday bore the word "Malenkov" written with a grass-killing substance. College authorities were looking for the culprit, ostensibly a fan of Premier Georgi Malenkov of Russia.

East Berlin Demonstration Was Kremlin Brain's Error

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst
Ever so often the double-dome thinkers in the Kremlin make a mistake. They made a king-size mistake this week.

They turned their hired men loose in East Berlin on Tuesday in planned demonstrations designed to supply phony proof that there is freedom of thought and action under Communist rule.

The difficulty was that East Berliners, after eight years of iron-handed Soviet rule, took the whole thing seriously. Before the Reds knew what was happening they had a full-blown revolt on their hands. Some East German heads were cracked, and it is probable we never will know how many among the demonstrators died under the guns and steel treads of Russian tanks and armored cars.

But for the West it was good news. It should strengthen West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in the September elections in West Germany, and correspondingly weaken the position of German Socialists who increasingly have been campaigning for German unification on a peace-at-any-price basis.

In France, it should give needed impetus to the European Army plan whose chances of ratification have dwindled in direct ratio to the rising notes of Russia's siren call to world "peace."

Hi-Octane Plant Closed Down For New Equipment

NEW YORK, June 18—UP—Guy George Gabrielson, president of Carthage Hydrocol, Inc., said Wednesday the firm's Brownsville, Tex., plant was being shut down for an indefinite period to permit installation of new equipment to bring the operation to capacity production.

He said the decision was not sudden but had been reached after weeks of discussion.

"We are unable with the present equipment to get the plant to capacity," Gabrielson said. "We have major repairs and considerable installation to do."

The plant, in operation about two years, is engaged in producing hi-octane gasoline from dry gas.

Gabrielson said he was unable to say how long the plant would be idle, since some equipment must be engineered and fabricated.

"If we had it all on hand now it would take about three months," he said. "But we don't."

A spokesman for the company said at Brownsville the order from New York was received at 2 p.m. Tuesday. He said dismissal notices have been given to 450 employees.

It was possible closing of the installation at Brownsville would eventually idle a number of workers at plants of Stanolind-Oil and Gas Co. and U.S. Industrial Chemicals, both dependant on Carthage Hydrocol.

A Stanolind spokesman said, however, the oil firm would not release any employees for 30 days.

WASHINGTON, June 18—UP—Rep. Clark W. Thompson (D-Tex.) told President Eisenhower Wednesday of his plans to introduce legislation to compensate victims of the explosion of a chemical laden government ship at Texas City, Tex., in April, 1947.

The Supreme Court recently ruled that the government was not liable for claims.

Thompson said one of the first moves probably would be to determine "reasonable" amounts of damage in individual cases. He termed overall estimates of $200 million as "fantastically" high.

ROKs to Visit Dallas
FORT SILL, Okla., June 18—UP—A group of 100 Republic of Korea officers in training at Fort Sill will tour Dallas, Tex., this week-end under sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce.

CASH BOX—David Whitman, left, and William House, Kansas City, Kan., antique dealers, bid $1000 for the contents of an old house in Lawrence. It was accepted by the bank administering the estate. Checking through the place, they found, under an old sewing machine, the small wooden chest they hold. It contained neat bundles of cash, totaling $19,000. They turned the find over to the bank.

Street Department Busy With Paving

A combination of hot weather and streets-to-be-paved is keeping members of the Pampa street department on the go.

Underway today was the paving of Lowry and some streets in the Fraser annex plus dirt excavation on one block of Magnolia, according to Russell Cartwright, superintendent of the street department.

"The biggest job," Cartwright said, "is keeping up with the streets done last year: we have to keep gravel on them—six to eight cars of it so far this summer."

Curb and gutter work began early Wednesday morning on Lowry, the excavation having been finished. Job will probably continue into next week, the superintendent thought. On Magnolia, "we're starting from scratch."

Paving was scheduled to be finished sometime today on Nickle Ave., Christine and Mary Ellen are already done, Cartwright pointed out.

Whole street program—hot weather included—keeps a "good-sized" crew working, he concluded. "Even Sundays and holidays."

The revolt of the East German people tore aside a portion of the Iron Curtain effectively revealing the myth of peace and contentment and disclosing the bitter unrest that needs only the slightest spark to be touched into flaming action.

Scarcely anything could provide better evidence that, whatever the appearance of the glove, the iron hand still rules beneath.

Gamma Globulin Not Polio Answer, Doctor Asserts

CHADRON, Neb., June 18—UP—A physician charged Wednesday that gamma globulin "never has been and never will be" the answer to polio and said premature release of laboratory experiments have added only "more anguish, more disappointment" to the infantile paralysis problem.

Dr. Eric G. DeFlon, Chadron doctor and chairman of the Davos county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said "no more sordid chapter will ever be written about the scourge of polio than the 'Messia' that is building up around gamma globulin."

DeFlon, in a letter to Basil O'Connor, national foundation chairman, commented on reports recently in Nebraska that there had been a "black market" in gamma globulin. State health officials said, however, that the gamma globulin was not the type used normally in polio treatment.

WASHINGTON, June 18—UP—Rep. Clark W. Thompson (D-Tex.) told President Eisenhower Wednesday of his plans to introduce legislation to compensate victims of the explosion of a chemical laden government ship at Texas City, Tex., in April, 1947.

Wants Compensation For Blast Victims

PUT IT BACK ON THE STOVE, BUDDY—While his comrades cheer, an exultant G.I. toasts his "stovepipe" bazooka to another soldier in a bunker near Panmunjom, upon hearing by radio that an armistice may soon be realized in Korea, with the signing by UN and Communist negotiators of an agreement on the POW issue.

Drouth Affecting Most Of Texas

AUSTIN, June 18—UP—The drouth moved eastward this week to cover practically all of Texas, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said Wednesday.

Feed crops, cotton and pastures began to deteriorate over the eastern half of the state as moisture reserves ran out. The drouth and 100-degree temperatures fired maturing feed crops and wilted late feed.

Scattered showers in the southeast and some central counties late last week brought only temporary relief as the return of very high temperatures over the weekend quickly dissipated that surface moisture.

Cotton Holding Out
In the West and Northwest, dryland feed crops and cotton were just holding on in the heat, with prospects for a crop fading further each day, the USDA said. Combining wheat was nearly complete in the Low Plains, past the peak in North Texas, and getting started in the northern High Plains.

Early corn, in full silk and tassal, deteriorated rapidly over Central, North and East Texas. Late corn needed rain.

Sorghums in the High and Low Plains were suffering from hot dry winds and some acreages were lost from blowing sand.

Cotton in southern counties continued to bloom. In upper coastal, central and eastern counties, early cotton was fruiting heavily but late cotton made only fair growth.

Move Tomatoes
Peanut planting continued in North and East Texas. Continued lack of moisture was hurting commercial vegetable crops in all areas. Tomatoes continued to move from Lower Valley irrigated tracts in fair volume, but supplies from East Texas continued light.

Watermelon yields in early areas were further reduced. Harvest at Falfurrias was practically over and supplies at Pearsall were diminishing.

Throughout the state farmers and ranchers rushed cattle and calves to market as the lush spring grazing season ended abruptly in the eastern half of the state and hope for summer grass faded over the northwestern, western and southern counties.
