Efficiency of Relief Organization Questioned

By HAL BOYLE
TEKAS CITY—(P)—There is one ultimate question raised for America by the Texas City disaster. The question is this: Although the American spirit has been shown capable of rising usefully above mass tribulation, is the overall American organization for coping with community-wide dislocation and chaos of this type sufficient? That question is strong in the minds of many survivors of the titanic blast which turned Texas City from a productive peacetime boom town of 15,000 people to a desecrated and shattered ruin, a waterfront industrial rubble from which its scattered citizenry is emerging now chiefly by the impetus of their own faith and courage.

Residents—from Mayor J. C. Trahan, himself a war veteran wearing the Purple Heart for wounds in Belgium, to housewives who have never hitherto had experience with such a disaster—there is grave doubt whether the present setup to meet such emergencies are adequate. This feeling has led to a widespread bitterness among people suffering from the first numb desolation of loss over the death of loved relatives, friends and neighbors. Obviously there is no way to deal satisfactorily with a disaster that in one horrendous moment of calamity brings the specter of death or injury into every home in a productive and happy community. Albert Combs Dies Result Heart Attacks

Albert Combs, who three weeks ago enjoyed a day-long celebration in observance of his ninetieth birthday, died yesterday morning at 9:30 at the home of Frank M. Carter, 906 Mary Ellen St., where he had resided. Mr. Combs, the man who came to Pampa when it was little more than a cattle trail, had suffered a series of heart attacks which began last Friday. (See Picture Page 6.) Besides being the chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank here, he owned ranches in Gray and Roberts counties. For the past several years the Combs family ranch, founded by him and the Worley estate, had spent much money in raising the quality of beef cattle in the Panhandle. He told a reporter for The News three weeks ago at the First National Bank: "I don't worry. That's what makes a man grow old," and he did not seem to be one who worried. Somewhat retiring by nature, he was, nonetheless, active in his own business—that of banking, ranching and oiling. Oil was found on his property in the 1920's. His long-time friend and legal adviser was S. D. Stonnis, who has his offices in the Combs family building. He is survived by six brothers, George B. Combs of Canyon and Robert Combs of Kentucky; and one sister, Mrs. J. M. Sanders of San Angelo. Mr. Combs had never married. Funeral services will be held at the First Methodist Church here tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, and burial will be at the Llano Cemetery, Amarillo, under the direction of Dueneck-Carmichael Funeral Home. The Rev. Clyde Smith, pastor of the local church, will officiate. The First National Bank will close at noon tomorrow for services. Floyd Inel, of the Citizens Bank & Trust Company, said that bank would have closed at the time. Pallbearers will be E. J. Dunigan, Jr., A. A. Schuerman, C. M. Carlock, D. B. Robinson, Bob Montgomery, J. J. Osborne, and R. H. Neisler, all of Pampa, and H. C. Pipkin of Amarillo. He was born in Breathitt County, Ky. See COMBS DEATH, Page 6

Higgins Citizens Select Items for Rummage Sale

Mayor Warren Jenkins, of Higgins, announced Sunday that a committee of Higgins business men had been selected to pick articles that are salvageable, to be used in the rummage sale to be held in conjunction with the Command Performance and Moving Picture, that is to take place Wednesday night at the LaNora Theatre, for the benefit of the tornado-battered people of Higgins and Glazier. Wayne Wallace, manager of the local theatre, stated that the film "The Farmer's Daughter," co-starring Loretta Young and Joseph Cotten, has been sent to Pampa, before the National release date. Wallace, also, stated that RKO Pictures, Inc., and the Griffith Amusement Corp., have relinquished all rights on the film, as to rental fees. Word was received from Berger this morning that Josh O'Neal and his gentlemen of Swing, will feature vocalists who are currently playing each Saturday night at the Blue Bonnet Inn, will appear on the program. The best talent obtainable from the high school, has also been scheduled to appear on the program. They are the A Cappella Choir, the German Band, and the Girls' Quartet. The Command Performance will be broadcast over Radio Station KPDM, starting at 8:15. Those wishing to make a donation during the show, that are unable to attend, may call their donation to the show, and in doing so may command one of the acts, any number they wish. Tickets now on sale at the LaNora Theatre box office and at Oretney's.

Texas City Buries Dead; Danger Past

TEKAS CITY—(P)—Six days after a series of explosions killed an estimated 575 persons and leveled much of this industrial Gulf Coast city, one fire continued to burn stubbornly. But weary Texas City officials said thankfully that all danger was over, and turned to plans for rehabilitation. More bodies of victims still are being found. Seven were recovered yesterday from the Galveston-Freeport ship channel, miles from the blast scene. Final plans for mass funerals of the unidentified dead will be made at a conference later today. Persons injured in the explosions were warned to consult doctors for a private checkup to guard against the possibility of lockjaw. The warning was issued by Dr. Harold Wood, St. Louis, deputy medical director of the Midwest area for the Red Cross. (Editor's Note: First news reports of the destruction and death at Texas City have arrived at the LaNora Theatre, and are now being shown, it was announced today.) Five of Texas City's schools probably will reopen "within ten days," but another, the big Danforth elementary school, was damaged so badly it will be closed indefinitely. Superintendent Levi Fry said. A complete new supply of textbooks will have to be secured, Fry said. Roy Wade, official of the Department of Public Safety, announced today that the explosion-dead in this sorrowful coastal city now totals 421 and said the death list will total not less than 575. Wade, administrative assistant to Chief Homer Garrison, chief of the Texas agency, said 295 persons still are missing and 132 victims remain unidentified. Mayor J. C. Trahan reassured Texas City that there was no danger of new explosions from leaking naphtha gas. He said that gas in a naphtha tank near the town had been pumped below a leak in the container and that there is no danger to Texas City residents. If anything happens, it will only be a burning of that tank and nothing else. Earlier Trahan had criticized the Red Cross for its handling of relief efforts in the blast-torn town. An official of the Red Cross, however, assured him that the organization was doing everything possible to aid victims. Thirty-five bodies were recovered yesterday, the majority from the torn steel and debris in the 70-acre blast area. Red Cross list posted Saturday listed 575 persons presumed dead, but at Red Cross headquarters in Galveston yesterday an official said 16 of the names listed had been found alive. Trahan told Gerald Wessellus of St. Louis, local director of Red Cross activities that "the real relief has been given to the people of Texas City has not come from the Red Cross." The Mayor called on Wessellus to tell him that "too many people are coming to the City Hall to tell us that they have appealed to the Red Cross for aid and that help has been denied them." Wessellus answered: "I don't know of any such cases. The Red Cross is here to do everything possible to help victims of this explosion. We are here to attend to emergency cases." Chinese Project Calls for Moral Rehabilitation

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
At Foreign Affairs Analyst
During a long series of journalistic globe-trotting a reporter naturally encounters many extraordinary stories, but I've just run into one of the most remarkable of my experience. There is in New York on special duty the distinguished Chinese soldier, General Ho Ying-Chin. He is widely regarded as the most capable Chiang Kai-Shek's right hand, and at this capital juncture in world affairs is representing China on the United Nations Military Staff Committee. Several weeks ago I heard the General had developed a project which might develop into a project which might ultimately end the bloody civil strife torturing his unhappy country. Since the United States had exhausted its best efforts to halt this tragedy, any new ideas regarding the people were worth hearing. So I signified that I wanted to meet General Ho. It was over the luncheon table that the General unfolded a project which, so far as I can recall, is without precedent in such a situation. In relating the interview in this column it should be emphasized not only that we are dealing with one of China's top men, but that he is a professional soldier, accustomed to settling arguments with bullets. He was Chinese Minister of War from 1930 to 1945. He also was Chief of Staff of the Army and Commander of the World War, and in that capacity received the surrender of 2,000,000 Japanese troops at the close of hostilities. His project calls for moral rehabilitation—eventually among the Chinese Communists and first among the Nationalist Government Regime and its supporters—this being calculated to remove the causes of the fratricidal strife. General Ho discovered a new approach to the problem as the result. See CHINESE, Page 2

Woman Critically Injured When Hit By Freight Train

Miss Johnnie Fuller, 21, of Canadian, last night was struck and critically injured by a Santa Fe freight train while she was waiting for passenger train at the Pampa depot. Miss Fuller had been visiting her brother, Fred Captain and Mrs. Albert Fuller, 424 Stark Street, over the weekend and was preparing to go home when the accident occurred. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Fuller, said that she had taken her 12-year-old daughter to the station here at 7:30 p. m. and left her there to catch a passenger train scheduled to leave for Canadian at 7:30 p. m. However, Mrs. Fuller said the train she was to take was apparently late since the time she was hit was estimated by both railroad and hospital officials at approximately 9:30 p. m. According to information, the girl was standing between the first and second tracks waiting for her train, due in on the latter track. As she stood there a west bound freight train came along and is the one, railroad officials believe, which struck her. She was taken to Worley Hospital by the Glegg ambulance where she is in a critical condition. Up until this morning the young girl remained in an unconscious condition. An unidentified woman told the News yesterday she saw the girl hit and added she would come to the hospital this morning to tell what she saw. Mrs. Fuller said that in the excitement they forgot to ask the woman's name. Miss Fuller is an employee of the Kilarney Cafe in Canadian.

'Ham' Operators Prove Big Factor in Aiding Tornado Stricken Higgins

Short wave radio operators of Pampa and surrounding communities proved a big factor in bringing relief to storm stricken Higgins as some of their contributions were brought to light over the weekend. Tom Ellis, who lives about 7 miles west of Pampa, was first notified of the disaster at 8:30 a. m. Thursday morning and immediately turned on his transmitter and moved it to Higgins, Ellis, operating from W5JZW was joined by R. E. Smith, Phillips, operator of W5JZB on his trip to Higgins. The two men arrived there around 3 p. m. and started to look for a suitable place to operate. Finally they set up in the Higgins School. Smith climbed to the top of the partly demolished building and set up his antenna and also grounded it. Townspeople gathered around thinking he would not be able to get out any messages. The two operators fooled everyone around them when they started sending messages at 5 p. m. that same day. While their transmitter powered by three auxiliary power plants they first called "CQ, CQ, CQ," meaning any short wave station to pick them up should answer. First station to come back was Ray Burdette, operating from WBFA in Bogert. From then on the two stations kept in constant touch with each other for 120 hours. The only short wave station in Higgins was of no use as its operator, the only amateur in Higgins, was killed in the storm. He was W. R. Hess. The station at Higgins was set up under difficult conditions in the school building with water covering the floor and all of the immediate windows blown out. Five hundred and seventeen messages were sent by W5JZW, with several operators relieving Smith and Ellis, for the American Red Cross, Salvation Army and personal messages for victims to relatives in other communities. Samerson himself handled 755 messages. Marshall Rawlings of W5WHC also served in Higgins as a relief operator. Most of the calls were for medicines, doctors, nurses, food and clothing. In the meantime a monitoring station went into operation at Perryton during the emergency. It was station W5EJG operated by Herbert Key. This station served all other amateurs off the emergency bands while the emergency was on and also relayed other messages of relief. See HAM OPERATORS, Page 6

HST Hammers Away Against Tax Cutting

NEW YORK—(P)—President Truman hammered away again today at his contention that this is not the time to cut taxes. He mentioned the subject Saturday in a statement on the government's financial position and he dwelt on it again today in his talk before the annual luncheon of the Associated Press. After picturing the economic danger which he said the country faces from inflation, Mr. Truman declared: "It is an axiom of good economics and good business that, in times of great inflationary pressures, taxes should not be reduced. Any surplus which the treasury can secure should be applied to reduction of the Federal debt. Reduction of the debt reduces the annual interest obligation of the government and also tends to check inflationary forces. "When we are over the hump of inflation, tax reduction will be feasible and proper. It should then be extended first to those who need relief most." But a campaign in the Republican dominated Congress to cut income taxes continues. The Senate Finance Committee will start discussion on a tax reduction bill Tuesday. The House already has passed one to cut taxes on small incomes 30 percent and on most others 20 percent. NEW YORK—(P)—President Truman, addressing the annual luncheon of members of the Associated Press today, gave this "one sure formula" for bringing on a recession or a depression: "That is to maintain excessively high prices. "Buying stops. "Production drops. "Unemployment sets in. "Prices collapse. "Profits vanish. "Businessmen fail." "That formula was tried after the First World War. And we paid for it," Mr. Truman said. "We must not choose that formula again." "If we are to avoid a recession we must act before it starts. "Prices must be brought down.

Frederik IX Is Proclaimed Denmark's King

COPENHAGEN—(P)—Frederik IX was proclaimed King of Denmark today from the balcony of historic Christiansborg castle. The 43-year-old lover of music, seafaring and speed mounted the throne as successor to his father, Christian X, whose death at 76 last night ended a reign of 35 years, extending through two world wars. The proclamation was read by Premier Knud Kristensen, who shouted three times, "King Christian X has died. Long live his Majesty, King Frederik IX." The proclamation formalized the automatic succession of Frederik, the 38th of his line, to the throne on the death of his father. The proclamation was preceded by a meeting of the Cabinet Council, of which Frederik is a member. Death came to Christian at 11:04 p. m. (4:04 p. m. CST) in his courtly, three-windowed bedroom of Amalienborg Castle in the center of Copenhagen. He had been ill 15 days—since suffering a heart attack—Easter Sunday, and unconscious almost eight hours. A doctor—one of the King's four—reported death due to heart failure. While bedfast, Christian had developed lung trouble and gangrene. With the King when he died were Queen Alexandra, Crown Prince Frederik, recent since April 8; Frederik's wife, Ingrid, and Christian's other son, Prince Knud, 46. A Court source reported the King's last words to them were: "My love for this earth is over. I have peace with my God, and with myself. I am so tired."

19,000 Homeless In Japanese City

TOKYO—(P)—Heavy rainfall early today extinguished national "Public Health Nursing Week" April 20 to 26, as proclaimed by President Harry S. Truman. The purpose of the week, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, will be (1) to recruit more public health nursing services; (2) to increase understanding of the fact that much needless sickness and suffering can be prevented or reduced by using public health nursing services; (3) to encourage greater understanding of public health nursing as a service for everybody regardless of size of income; (4) to encourage development of public health nursing services wherever needed; (5) to increase citizen participation in public health nursing services. From the beginning of this work more than thirty years ago, public health nursing has been concerned with the total health situation of the family including sickness, disease, prevention, and health protection.

Herb Havins, 29, Killed in Crash

Herb Havins, 29, of 609 N. Frost, was killed Saturday afternoon when his Cessna plane crashed south of Pampa. The crash occurred when he had gone on an errand. His body was found yesterday. Havins was a weather observer at the U. S. Weather Bureau station here. He had served in that capacity since August, 1944. He had been transferred to Fort Worth for a short time, but returned here in August of 1946. The cause of the crash has not been determined, but the Civil Aeronautics Authorities are holding an investigation this afternoon into cause of crash. Havins is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ingrid Havins, step-son, Edwin Goddard, of Pampa, and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Havins of Fort Worth; sister, Mrs. W. H. Helms and brother, Bruce Havins, both of Fort Worth. Harry Havins, is a resident of Wilmington, Ohio. Funeral services were to be held in the chapel of Dueneck-Carmichael Funeral Home this afternoon at 3, and five services are to be held in Fort Worth where he is later to be interred.

Jester Forces Showdown on Tax Issue By Failing to Sign Teacher Pay Bills

By BO BYERS
AUSTIN—(P)—When Gov. Beauford H. Jester allowed the teachers pay bills to become law without his signature at midnight Saturday, he brought the taxation issue very sharply before the Legislature. The Governor did not discuss the question of new taxes or no new taxes. Merely by allowing the $55 per cent and $2,000 minimum salary bills to become law, Jester forced a definite showdown on whether the state is going to need more money to pay its bills during the next two years. In his message to the Legislature early in the session, the Governor offered recommendations that called for expenditure of $176,000,000 during the next two years. The State Comptroller estimated spending of $188,000,000. This meant, according to Jester's proposed budget, that the state's general revenue fund would show a $12,000,000 at the end of two years. Jester's recommended spending program included the outlay of $20,000,000 more for public education in the rural aid schools during the next biennium. A rural aid bill passed by the House last week calls for $39,000,000

Session Ends With No Announcement

MOSCOW—(P)—After nearly two hours in semi-secret session, the Council of Foreign Ministers adjourned tonight with only the curt announcement that they had discussed the Austrian treaty. The Council went into semi-secret session in a desperate final effort to break deadlocks on the Austrian treaty. It was the second semi-secret meeting of the conference. The action was taken on suggestion by Secretary of State Marshall. It followed a declaration by Russia's V. M. Molotov renewing his opposition to including in the Austrian treaty a clause guaranteeing Austria's integrity. When it became apparent the Soviets still were unyielding on even semi-important issues, Marshall said he saw no use in repeating discussions already made and suggested proceeding as a semi-secret committee. All advisers were ordered out of the meeting room except three to each minister. Remaining with Marshall were Undersecretaries Bohlen, Ambassador W. B. Smith and Adviser Ben Cohen. Previous to this a few agreements had been reached on minor points in the Austrian treaty and Britain's Ernest Bevin had said with a laugh, "It looks as though we could get a treaty if we could agree on articles four and five." These articles deal with Yugoslav claims for Carinthia and a definition of German assets in Austria which had been blocked since the first day negotiations started. Earlier, in a session on Trieste, Molotov said he feared that external assistance to the free territory might mean outside interference in its affairs. Marshall had just told the Big Four Foreign Ministers' Council that the United States would be able to supply food to Trieste's people if Congress passed pending international relief legislation. In his speech, Molotov did not mention food, but this appeared to be one factor he had in mind. The Foreign Ministers' Council had met to consider a report of the Trieste Financial Commission. The British, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault wanted to refer the report to the United Nations. But Molotov hammered at them till they all agreed that a group of council deputies should study the report.

AFL Invites CIO to Parley On Merger

WASHINGTON—(P)—The AFL Executive Council today invited the CIO Peace Committee to confer with the AFL on merger of the two big labor organizations. AFL President William Green announced the invitation after a meeting of the council to discuss general problems, including the prospect that Congress will enact sharp restrictions on labor union activities. Green said a telegram was dispatched to CIO President Philip Murray suggesting the meeting. At Pittsburgh, Murray said he would not have any comment until he received the telegram. The groups have made frequent gestures toward union but no real progress in that direction. The council's decision to bring up the matter again at this time appeared traceable to the crisis building up for labor unions in the form of legislation on Capitol Hill and in state legislatures. The CIO has insisted that before "organizational unity" can be discussed, both organizations—with a total of more than 13,500,000 members—must cooperate in fighting restrictive legislation on Capitol Hill and in state legislatures. Up to now, in the exchange of communications between the two groups, the AFL has contended that effective cooperation in that field can only be achieved by actual merger of the two groups. Each organization has a committee of five empowered to discuss a merger. The AFL Committee is composed of Green, John L. Lewis, of the miners, William F. Hutchinson, of the teamsters, Daniel J. Tobin of the teamsters, and George Meany, secretary-treasurer of the AFL. The CIO Committee includes Murray, Walter P. Reuther of the auto workers, Emil Rieve of the textile workers, Jacob Potofsky of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, and Albert J. Fitzgerald of the United Electrical Workers.

Contributions to Operators Soaring

The "appreciation collection" for telephone operators remaining on duty, started last Saturday by a group of business men and labor leaders today when the list of donors reached 35 with additional calls coming in asking where to leave the money. E. M. Boyd, one of the innumerable of the campaign, collected well over $40 by noon today and reported more wanting to give. So far collections are being received at The News office as well as in the local Chamber of Commerce in City Hall. The move was made to show the businessmen's appreciation for the work and service given them by the telephone operators who stuck to their posts last Saturday and in the aftermath of the storm. Besides the money the girls will get at the close of the campaign sometime next week, many other girls have been flowing into the telephone building at Ballard and Francis Sts.

This is the first post-war conference; the last conference was held at Bretton Woods, New Hampshire in 1929.

Paul Bohot Suffers Heart Attack Here

Paul Bohot, 231 E. Francis St., shoe salesman for a local department store, was taken to Worley Hospital late last night by the Glegg ambulance after he had suffered a heart attack in the Glegg Funeral Home. According to city police, Bohot had been walking up town when he started to feel ill and went into the Glegg office. Here he told them he was not feeling well, and then collapsed. He was rushed by ambulance to the hospital where his condition was described by attendants as a heart attack.

Three Knockouts Feature Fights In Inter-City Boxing Tournament

A capacity crowd, estimated at 1,000 persons, yelled itself hoarse as 14 champions boxed and slugged their way to top honors in the Inter-City Boxing Tournament, here Saturday night.

The championship card brought three knockouts and 11 well-contested decisions. There wasn't a slow match any place in the finals, and very few in the entire tournament.

The two top fights of the night were in the 126 pound and the heavyweight divisions. In the lighter weight encounter Carroll Martin, a ringwise Indian boy, knocked out Pete Cooper, a rugged little battler who had banged his way to the finals by a technical knockout over his first opponent.

The heavyweight championship fight brought together two Harvest-er football players. Carl Mayes, red-headed, 185 pound fullback who thinks nothing of running the century in 103, knocked out Charlie Thornburrow, big 200-pound Harvest-er right guard.

Other particularly rugged battles were by Charlie Laffoon, Roy Bailey and Darrell Conklin. Laffoon's speed proved too much for the straight-punching Ray to contend with. Bailey, fighting in the Junior Division, stormed out for the whole three rounds, and finally, just before the closing bell, tagged Holland with a knockout blow.

Conklin, who evidently hadn't heard what the experts around the ringside were saying, went in and hammered out a safe decision over Kelley Anderson to upset the dope bucket. Anderson, who is a snooty fighter, just wasn't prepared to stand toe to toe and slug it out with Conklin, who apparently couldn't be hurt.

In addition to winning the championship trophy in his 126 pound division, Carroll Martin was awarded the trophy for being the best all-around boxer in the meet. Pete Cooper, whom Martin beat in the finals, and Billy Rex Campbell, who won the championship in the 85 pound division, were on the honorable mention list for the best all-around boxer trophy.

Oilers Meet Weatherford At 8 Tonight

Pampa's Oilers will (weather permitting) play their final exhibition game of the season tonight when they meet a capable club from Weatherford Teachers College in Oiler Park at 8.

The Oilers are in bad need of a game tonight provided weather conditions are at all permitting. They have been hit even harder than other West Texas-New Mexico League clubs by the inclement weather due to the fact that they began workouts later than the other clubs.

Seitz said this morning that he would pitch his rookies tonight, since he was determined to give them all the free experience he can before the costly league games begin. He indicated that Marrell Nelson, Wick Hewitt and George Kenzel would all see time in the game.

Al Johnston will very likely be working the first sack in the absence of Bob Bailey, who caught cold on the road trip last week. R. C. Cuy will be at his usual second base slot and Tony Range will cover the left hand corner.

Tom O'Connell, the new shortstop of whom Seitz is duly proud, will complete the infield. Seitz, Francis Rice and Joe Fortin will handle the outfield. Jack Elliott will catch.

The Oilers will open their league season here Wednesday afternoon when they meet the Borger Gassers.

Longhorn Nine Set For Baylor Bears

(By The Associated Press)

A meeting between the University of Texas and Baylor Tuesday may very well decide the Southwest Conference baseball race.

Still undecided for the lead as the result of splitting a two-game series last week, both Texas and Baylor are expected to send their ace pitchers to the mound Tuesday.

For Texas this would be Bobby Lane and for Baylor Leroy Jarr.

The conference race goes past the halfway mark this week with five other games on the schedule.

Rice and Southern Methodist open the week's play today, while Friday Texas Christian tackles Texas and Texas A and M meets Baylor Saturday. TCU and Texas play again with Baylor and A and M, doing the same.

Conference standing:

Abilene's Blue Sox Must Develop Hitters to Replace Lost Sluggers

ABILENE—What success lies ahead for Abilene's highly-regarded Blue Sox in the 1947 West Texas-New Mexico League race appears—in the early stages—to depend largely on how rapidly Manager Hayden Greer's new-talent laden aggregation can develop power at the plate to make up for the loss of four outstanding hitters gone from the 1946 outfit that led the loop in percentage standings down through the last play-off season.

Ironically, that is the No. 1 problem facing the popular Sox skipper today.

You don't lose such men as third baseman Leo Thomas, a .363 hitter last year, and a trio of home run sluggers like first baseman Danny Clark, centerfielder Ed Krage and catcher-outfielder Jim Matthews as the Blue Sox have done without somebody losing a little sleep when the next season rolls around.

These four men accounted for 99 home runs last year and have moved up in the Brooklyn farm system organization, with which Abilene has a working agreement.

Defensively, the Sox appear sourer than a Brooklyn dollar.

The pitching staff, once belated with the addition of two south-paws, is headed by young Dick Tross, the 21-year-old Phoenix, Ariz., right-hander who won 16 and lost 11 in '46. Back also are Jack Immell, who joined the Sox late last year and won three while losing two; and Calien McPike who started with James and was signed by Abilene after becoming a free agent.

The newest sensation to join the Sox hurling staff is Labe Dean, a citizen of Van Buren, Ark., who says he has no relation to Dizzy and Paul of the same name and state.

This 22-year-old lad came to Abilene from Olean of the Pony League in New York, where misfortune overtook him in the form of a broken hand after six games last summer.

The Sox also have Bernis Soapland, a Breckenridge, Texas, product who won 13 and lost 13 with Dayton of the Florida State League last year; and the two left-handers, Bob Hughes, an 17-year-old San Gabriel, Calif., rookie, and Jim Beane, of Evansville, Ind., who performed in the Florida State League last year.

Tross is by far the most improved of the returnees while both McPike and Immell appear sturdier under fire. Who of the newcomers remains when squad cutting time comes is something else.

Another of Greer's problems is choosing a trio of outfielders from a group of four that includes stocky Earl Benson, an Artesian who hit .282 for Abilene last year.

The new faces include Ed Bauer, a 20-year-old southpaw hitter from southern N. Y., with experience in the Florida League (Ocala), Ohio State League (Zanesville) and the Georgia-Florida loop (Valdosta). Benson and Bauer, in exhibition games, have split duties in right field.

Centerfield, where the gangling Krage's sensational fielding broke many a batter's heart last summer, appears nailed down to Dave Stegler, from the City College of Temple, Kentucky, and who played with Greer while the two were in the Coast Guard service at Galveston during the late conflict. A six-foot, two-inch, Stegler can cover a lot of territory and many are already comparing him favorably to Krage.

Another 20-year-old lad appears certain of the left field slot. He is Willie Hugh Oles of Temple City, Calif., who throws and bats left-handed and might trip the 100-yard dash in 10 flat or better. Oles, who came to Abilene from the semi-pro ranks, was a 275 hitter in high school at Alhambra, Calif.

Greer rates his outfielders definitely stronger as a whole than the 1946 garden combine. Throughout the whole season, however, the accuracy of the outfielders will be at shortstop and second base where two dependables will be posted—Banagar Greer at short and Sabas Disteriano at second—though two young rookies have shown remarkable ability at these positions in spring training. They were Howard Reynolds at second, Norm Amacker at short—both Fort Worth residents in their first year with the professionals.

The Abilene skipper set a league record at shortstop, fielding for a 1973 mark in 1946 while covering a .358 batting average. It is the return of Greer, the player not so much as Greer, the manager, that is the key.

of attending the International Assembly for Moral Re-education at Niagara Falls a few weeks ago. Of this chance he says:

"During the past 20 years of my fight against the Materialists in China, the method I used was force against force, and organization against organization. But it did not occur to me that I should hit back with an idea against an idea. I have come to the very firm conclusion that I must fight an idea with an idea."

The General said he believes that whatever military operations may be necessary, the only way to cut the ground from under the feet of communism in China is for the National Government to inaugurate reforms which will win over the population now dominated by the Reds. And along with economic reforms must come the Moral reform that will give new standards to the country.

In short, there's no use trying to reform the Communists unless the change starts first in the Government and among its key supporters.

Obviously the spreading of these ideas for training in Moral re-education, and the energetic Ho has laid before the Generalissimo a program which calls for selected groups of Chinese to be sent to America at once for training in Moral re-education. Ho specifies that these men "must be absolutely unselfish; they should be men of faith, not necessarily Christian but with a spiritual philosophy."

The General likes to sum up his plans with a quotation from Confucius:

"To put the world in order, we must first put the nation in order; to put the nation in order, we must put the family in order; to put the family in order, we must cultivate our personal life; and to cultivate our personal life, we must first set our hearts right."

Junior Oilers Workout Today

All boys who are interested in playing baseball with the Junior Oilers are asked to meet at Magnolia Field at 5 this evening for a practice workout.

The teen-agers had previously begun forming this year's club but the bad weather came along for a week or so and workouts had to be postponed.

Gold Sox Beat Oilers, 11-4

AMARILLO — Managers Harry Lamprich and Grover Seitz matched their top pitchers here yesterday in an exhibition baseball game, but the Pampa hurlers were unable to cope with Gold Sox batting power, Amarillo winning 11-4.

Bob Crues was the big gun in the 16-hit Amarillo barrage that included four homers. Crues smashed two for the circuit one with two ahead, and added a single for four trips to the plate. Both of his homers were off Bill Hewitt, who opened out worked the first three innings for the Oilers.

Foster White and George Pate finished and both were hit freely, though Pate fanned five in his two innings to save the sting of Amarillo's four-run seventh, his first inning of toil.

Two errors paved the way for Pampa's run in the first inning after R. C. Cuy and Tom O'Connell had singled and the Oilers got another unearned run in the fifth on two errors and a pair of walks by Lefty Longeman, Amarillo's second stringer, who gave only one hit in his three innings.

Pampa scored twice in the ninth with a belated burst of three hits off Frank Mekules Okey, who had three hits during the afternoon started it with one out with a single. O'Connell bumped a double to right, and score on Range's single. Fortin hit into a doubleplay to end it.

Amarillo hit safely in every inning. Oil Kerckhove, rookie outfielder, nicked White for the third Gold Sox homer, golfing a high one over the centerfield fence in the fifth, and Vince Liberto, rookie third sacker, hit one over the leftfield wall off Pate in the seventh.

Pampa played errorless ball afield. Bob Bailey, lanky first baseman, contributed the day's gem, stabbing Joe Bauman's first-inning scorcher. Bauman failed to hit safely in four trips but walked once and scored twice. 1.084 attended.

Reds Take 'For Sale' Sign Off Shortstop Eddie Miller

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Eddie Miller, who only a few weeks ago was put on display in a showcase window for disposal to the highest bidder without attracting any takers, definitely established himself today as the key to Cincinnati's chances for a first division berth.

The glue-fingered shortstop, currently pacing the major league hitters with four home runs in seven games, is still a member of the Reds only because no other club in the majors was willing to take a chance on his throwing arm.

Miller's two home runs yesterday helped the Reds gain an even break in their doubleheader with the Pirates at Pittsburgh. Augie Galan and Bobby Adams joined Miller in the home run parade to lead the Reds to a 13-5 victory over the Pirates in the opener. Three of Pittsburgh's runs resulted from Hank Greenberg's second home run of the campaign.

The Pirates bounced back to win the nightcap 7-3 in the second game, limited to five and a half innings because of darkness. The split left the Pirates in first place with five victories in six starts.

Another previously unbeaten nine, The American League Champion Boston Red Sox, bit the dust for the first time when the Washington Senators, behind Walter Masterson's superb three-hit slinging, downed them in the Capital. The fate went to Mel Parnell, making his big league debut, for three of their seven hits in the first inning to score all their runs.

With Joe Dimaggio playing his first full game of the season, the New York Yankees turned on the Athletics twice to sweep a double header in Philadelphia 6-2 and 3-2. Dimag celebrated his return with a three-run homer in the first game to enable Spud Chandler to win his first victory.

The Chicago Cubs, paced by Bill Nicholson's two home runs, good for six RBI, handed the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals their fourth defeat in six games 7-4 and dumped them ingloriously into the National League cellar.

Ben Chapman's Philadelphia Phillies made it three in a row over the Giants by trouncing the New York Yankees 10-1 at the Polo Grounds. Ron Northey, with three hits, and Jim Tabor and Andy Semmelick, with four batters, led the Philly attack on four pitchers. Schoolboy Rowe spaced six hits to gain his second win, both against the Giants. Rain and wet ground caused the postponement of the scheduled games between Brooklyn and Boston in the National League and Detroit-Cleveland and St. Louis-Chicago in the American.

Lanier Wants Job In Semi-Pro Loop

ST. PETERSBURG — (AP) — Max Lanier, just a year ago the St. Louis Cardinals' leading pitcher, is looking for a job in semi-pro baseball.

Lanier, whose sudden jump to the Mexican League early last season made headlines, said he was through clobbering with baseball officials south of the border. He admitted he wanted to stay in baseball and was open to offers from semi-pro clubs in this country.

WE, THE WOMEN

Feminine Rivalry Sells Cosmetics

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

American women use cosmetics because they want to be as attractive as men, says Dr. Ivor Griffith, president and research director of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy. That, according to the scientist, is why women this year spent $3,000,000,000 on cosmetics.

If that is why women spend money on lipsticks, rouge, creams, wrinkle-removers, etc., they don't know it.

Here is why they think they buy and use cosmetics:

Cosmetics

In the teens and 20's—to compete successfully with other girls for the attention of men.

In the 30's and 40's—to keep their husbands' interest.

In the 50's and 60's—to help maintain their own pride in being well-groomed women, and to keep their husbands and children proud of them.

The women who resign themselves to single blessedness would say they employ cosmetics to keep young, and attractive-looking, so they can meet competition from younger women in the business and professional worlds.

So it is going to be mighty hard for any man, however scientific his training, to convince women that their interest in cosmetics is an attempt to be attractive to men.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT

Whom does a woman compare her beauty with, when she goes to a party, Dr. Griffith? With the handsomest man present?

No, indeed. She carefully looks over all the other women there, and if she is satisfied that she is just as good-looking as any woman in the room, she is completely happy and at ease.

So long as that is true—and every woman knows it is—nobody is going to convince women that their daily struggle to be beautiful results from their wanting to be as attractive as men.

They know good and well they are trying to be attractive—and more so, if possible—as the other women who offer them competition.

Weak, Watery Blood Blamed for Making Men and Women Look and Feel Older THAN THEIR YEARS

How do you feel at the end of a day? Is that old time pep and drive lacking? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Thousands now regaining glowing good looks and vitality through the release of vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a general run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief, you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As your blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—arm flesh fill out hollow places. New Members of ESA Sorority Are Honored at 'Apron-Overall' Dance

Miss June Vearner, James Blakemore Are United in Pretty Home Wedding

SHAMROCK (Special)—In a pretty home wedding, Miss June Vearner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Vearner, became the bride of James A. Blakemore son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blakemore, Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents.

The double ring service was read by Rev. Edw. C. Derr, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Vows were exchanged before a double window which was banked with fern as a background. Tall white floor baskets of calla lilies, white sandpapers and fern, with lighted tapers in floor candelabra flanking the nuptial space, completed the setting.

Miss Joyce Wall was maid of honor. She was attired in a floor-length dress of yellow taffeta, designed with three-quarter length sleeves, a fitted basque and full gathered skirt. She carried a Colonial bouquet of sweetpeas.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a white dress fashioned of white Japanese silk, with a high neckline and long full sleeves which were gathered into a band edged with a ruffle of lace. The deep ruff yoke was edged with a ruffle of silk and lace. The fitted basque was finished with a peplum which extended to a point in the back, and the full skirt swept into a train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion, was held in place with a band of tiny ruffles of net and lace and bows of white satin ribbon.

She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid, and showered with ribbon and white sweetpeas. The bride wore an old ring which belonged to her maternal grandmother, and had been made by her grandfather during the Civil War. For something borrowed, she wore her mother's strand of pearls, and carried a blue handkerchief belonging to the bridegroom's mother.

Mrs. Vearner chose for her daughter's wedding, a dress of grey crepe with black trim, and Mrs. Blakemore, mother of the bridegroom, wore black crepe, and they wore corsages of white gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception was held, with Miss Joyce Wall registering the guests. Miss Frances Jo Henderson presided at the punch bowl, and the three-tiered wedding cake was served by Misses Andrew Morgan, P. A. Anderson and Luther Troxell.

Mrs. Blakemore is a graduate of the Shamrock High School, and a graduate of Wayland College at Plainview. She has been employed for the past few months at Shamrock Auto Supply.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Shamrock High School and served three years with the Army, part of the time in the European Theatre.

Reception Honors New Members of Christian Church Friday Evening

Social reception honoring the new members of the First Christian Church was held Friday evening at 7:30 in the church dining room. A "Gay 90's" theme was carried out in entertainment, refreshments and decorations, with the Fellowship Committee, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Madeira, in charge of the program.

A barber chop quartet, the "Melody Menders," from the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singers in America, Inc., sang several appropriate selections which were well received by the audience. C. T. Hightower showed a comedy film and a "Community Sing" which was followed by a "Gay 90's" fashion show. Models were Mesdames D. V. Burden, Erwin Thompson, H. L. Ledrick and Gene Horton, Miss Alveria Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. DeLea Vicars.

Mr. and Mrs. Madeira, also in "Gay 90's" costume, sang a duet, "When You Wore a Tulip," accompanied at the piano by Miss Charlotte Allston. A quiz was conducted by James Washington with all the new members present as participants.

Membership certificates were given out by the pastor, Rev. B. A. Norris, to the new members.

Refreshments of hot chocolate, coffee and doughnuts were served to the 160 who were in attendance.

The Fellowship Committee is composed of Messrs. and Mesdames Washington, Erwin Thompson, Orlie Allston, and John Sexton, Mrs. Josephine Blalock, and Mr. and Mrs. Madeira.

WHAT A FREE PRESS MEANS

Often when this paper prints a particular piece of news, news that people want to read (and that is one definition of 'news') it is accused of having some ulterior motive. For instance, it is accused, as are all other newspapers, of either trying to grind somebody's axe for him, or of trying to persecute somebody.

At other times we are accused of overplaying the news; i. e., giving it too much prominence with big headlines and big body type.

In this respect it might be worth while to recall the words of the late Joseph Pulitzer, the man who made the St. Louis Post-Dispatch one of the great newspapers. In an interview more than 35 years ago he said:

"As a matter of fact the criticisms you hear about the American press are founded on a dislike for our headlines and for the prominence we give to crime, to corruption in office, and to sensational topics generally; the charge of inaccuracy is just thrown in to make it look worse. I do not believe that one person in a thousand who attacks the American press for being inaccurate has ever taken the trouble to investigate the facts.

"Now about this matter of sensationalism, a newspaper should be scrupulously accurate, it should be clean, it should avoid everything salacious or suggestive, everything that could offend good taste or lower the moral tone of its readers; but within these limits it is the duty of a newspaper to print the news. When I speak of good taste and of good moral tone I do not mean the kind of good taste which is offended by every reference to the unpleasant things of life, I do not mean the kind of morality which refuses to recognize the existence of immorality—that type of moral hypocrisy has done more to check the moral progress of humanity than all the immoral people put together—what I mean is the kind of good taste which demands that frankness should be linked with decency, the kind of moral tone which is braced and not relaxed when it is brought face to face with vice.

"Some people try and make you believe that a newspaper should not devote its space to long and dramatic accounts of murders, railroad wrecks, fires, lynchings, political corruption, embezzlement, frauds, graft, divorces, or what have you. I tell you they are wrong, and I believe that if they thought the thing out they would see that they are wrong.

"We are a democracy and there is only one way to get a democracy on its feet in the matter of its individual, its social, its municipal, its state, its national conduct and that is by keeping the public informed about what is going on. There is not a crime, there is not a dodge, there is not a trick, there is not a swindle, there is not a vice which does not live by its secrecy. Get these things out in the open, describe them, ridicule them in the press and sooner or later public opinion will sweep them away.

"Publicity may not be the only thing that is needed, but it is the one thing without which all other agencies will fail. . . ."

A San Antonio woman has solved the Open-the-Door-Richard problem. You don't just stand there and yell your head off. You use your head, and get an iron bar. It was like this: The woman was seeking an errand husband. She shouted "Open That Door!" once. Then she got an iron bar, beat open a window, and entered the room.

QUICKIES

By Ken Reynolds
Down in Clay County they're about to declare war. Civil war, that is. A war between the states. The Clay County Leader of Henrietta in a column written by Jerry W. Sitton, says "we get worked up and almost declare civil war every time somebody reminds up that Texans must have an Oklahoma fishing license to stand in Texas and catch fish in the Red River, which separates Clay County from Oklahoma. There's absolutely no justice to it."
"Doesn't it sound unreasonable for a man who owns land in Texas, with the Red River as his boundary, not to be able to stand on the ground he owns and cast his rod and reel into the Red River without

She proceeded to use the bar on another woman, sending her to the hospital. She and her husband both were arrested and charged.

Two traveling salesmen from Ohio picked the wrong way—and placed—to pare their expenses. They ate a large $4.50 meal at a Port Worth restaurant, then walked out without paying the check. Police were called, and gave chase. Then men made a good race of it for three blocks, then gave out. They had eaten too much.
They had $270 in their pockets when caught, but the law made them pay for their meal, plus $20 in fines for disturbing the peace.

paying Oklahoma for the privilege." Sitton is so confused about the inconsistency of the law that he's even worried about a friend's cow that killed a duck that flew in for a bath in the stock tank at his ranch. He's wondering if the owner has to have a duck stamp for his cow to make the thing legal.

CHICAGO—Patrolman Mike Brosnan has received a $5 payment he never expected.

TAFT'S CHANGES

by Peter Edson
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Senator Bob Taft of Ohio has lifted the curtain to reveal what he proposes to do about amending the Wagner Act. It's plenty.

It isn't quite as much as Minnesota's Joe Ball proposed. But it's enough to cause loud walls from organized labor and great cheers from the employers.
Taft's latest version of what he considers a good labor bill should be called "the Reilly Bill," after Gerald D. Reilly, former National Labor Relations Board member. Reilly is not a senator, but as legal adviser to both Taft and Ball, he did most of the drafting on this measure.

The Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee will begin to mark up the bill right away, with the hope they can introduce it in the Senate shortly after April 15, for immediate consideration.

When Senator Taft took the veil off his new 62-page omnibus bill at a press conference, he repeatedly had to refer technical questions to Reilly.

"And don't ask me what other members of the committee think about this bill," said Taft. "I have a hard enough time speaking for myself." He grinned broadly when he said it, but has wasn't being funny. It is a highly technical bill with at least 20 controversial labor law reforms.

FIVE-IN-ONE
It is really five bills in one. It may be broken up into that many separate acts to prevent a White House veto on the whole works.
Taft has hopes of seeing Truman about the labor issue some time soon, to see what the President will approve and perhaps to try to get him to go along with the Taft program.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news
WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

Common Ground

Have I A Moral Right To Vote For Candidates, Board of Education?
I am wondering whether I have a moral right to vote for any member of the board of education at any election. I have a moral right to ask a man to go behind the stacker in a thrashing job, which is the dirtiest job in thrashing, unless I was willing to go there my share of the time. He taught me never to ask a man to do something that I was not willing to do myself.

Now I believe being a member of a board of education is a dirty, mean, immoral job. It is that because it gives a man the power to put his hands, figuratively speaking, in the pockets of people and take wealth from them without their consent to be used in the manner the board members think is beneficial. To give men this power is to give them too much power. It has a tendency to make the members exalt their importance. It goes to their heads. It soon gets these members to believe that there is no law superior to their wills or the will of the majority. They lose their still small voice. They become believers in the form of collectivism. They cannot tell the difference between their ideas of government and those of Stalin other than degrees. So asking them to do these things is asking too much of any man.

It might be argued that since they are willing themselves to do it, there is nothing wrong in helping select the one they think is best. If that reasoning be sound, then it would be logical to select a youth to steal for an individual when the youth didn't know he was committing an immoral act by stealing.

Of course the candidates for the board of education do not realize that they are being a part of the wrong of the ages. They are products of contemporary thinking. So whether they are willing to do it or not doesn't relieve a man of the moral responsibility of selecting them and thus endorsing their acts.

Of course it might be argued that of two evils, choose the lesser. Vote for the best man of the group. But it is hard to conceive how any man can steal more honestly than another. Stealing a penny is just as wicked as stealing a million.

Yes, I am unwilling to ask another man to do something that I believe is so immoral and so disagreeable that I wouldn't want to do it myself. It is hard to comprehend how I can consciously vote for any member of a compulsory education board.

Of course none of the candidates could harmonize their proposed acts with quotations from Jesus Christ, but they are all the products of contemporary beliefs. They have either discarded the teachings of Jesus or never understood them. But they undoubtedly have never understood them because anyone who is really once a Christian that is understands the moral laws taught by Jesus is always a Christian. Men do not discard whatever truth they have acquired. They only switch from one error to another or to the truth.

OUTSIT—The Stalinites raised a fund of $20,000 to buy and manipulate recent elections according to the sensational Curran report. He also charges that they "stole the election," citing a report by the Honorable Bailor Election to the effect that many votes were forged.

A HELPING HAND
CHICAGO—Patrolman Mike Brosnan has received a $5 payment he never expected.

TRAINING EFFECT

Effect of these new definitions would be to remove such workers from the classification as "employees" guarantee protection under the Wagner Act.

Supervisors would be permitted to join labor organization, but employers wouldn't have to negotiate with them.

The closed shop would be banned. The union shop would not be forbidden, but would be illegal unless at least half the employees voted for it.

Industry-wide bargaining would be restricted. Only unions made up of employees of one employer, or of several employers in the same metropolitan district, could be certified as bargaining agents. Local unions could co-operate with international unions headquarters, but the locals could not be coerced into signing or refusing to sign contracts with individual employers, as in the 1945 steel strike.

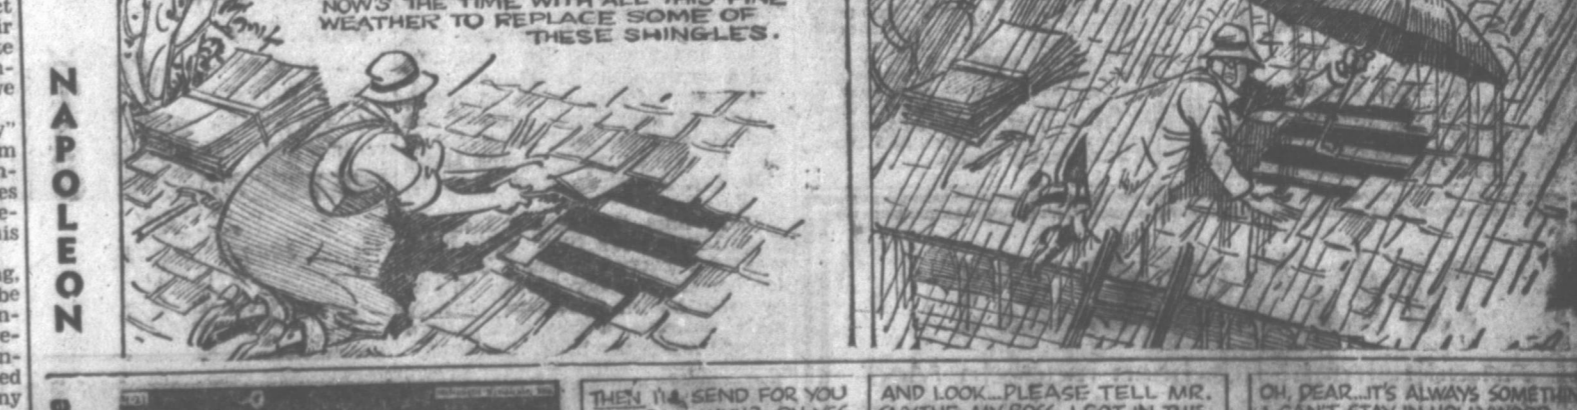

Union coercion of employees would be prohibited. Individual employees could present grievances to management and have them settled without intervention by union representatives.

Craft unions would be protected and independent unions would be given the same rights as AFL or CIO affiliates.

Employers would be permitted to ask for elections.

Employers would be free from restrictions against making any statement to their employees, provided no threats or reprisals were implied.

The National Labor Relations Board would be increased from three to five members and their pay would be raised from $10,000 to $12,000 a year. But that's about the only break they'd get under the Taft Bill, for even their decisions, now considered final, would be made subject to court review.

Card of Thanks Those things have I written unto you, that ye may know that ye have eternal life. 1 John 5: 13. "In heaven there'll be no parting, no pain to bear; No care-worn brow, no sigh, no silver hair; No death to snatch our loved ones from our side. No angry waves, no sea, no teacher's frown. In heaven there'll be no thirst, no cry for bread; No soul who know's not where to go to lay his head; No one to feel the Winter's chilling blast, No one to feel the Summer's heat. For there the piercing storm will all be past. In heaven there'll be no toil without pay; No building for a brief ephemeral day; For all the joys that prophets old have told 'Twill take the endless ages to unfold. In heaven there'll be no weary pilgrim band; No seeker for a better, fairer land; For all who reach that blissful, happy shore Will never cry no sigh, nor wish for more."

COOPER We wish to tender our most sincere appreciation to all those who in any way assisted us in our dark hours of sorrow in the loss of our loved one, For their many kind words, prayers, the minister and others who were so deeply interested in our bereavement. The husband, father, grandchildren and sister of Mrs. W. F. Cooper.

2—Personal "IN MEMORIAM" In loving memory of my darling son, Doyle De Vaughn Parker who was killed 23 years ago today, April 21, 1924, in the Pacific in a plane crash on the Carter Yorktown.

They say time heals a broken heart. But to me, it seems so untrue; For a long years my heart has ached, And I have not yet found a cure. When I think of you Darling, And the happy days come by; How my heart aches with sadness, And tears steal into my every eye. And a heart as pure as gold, And those who knew and loved you, Do live. Your memory will never grow old. Your smiling face your pleasant way. Are a pleasure to my eyes today. You had a kind word for everyone. And died, beloved by all. It is so lonesome, Doyle, without you here. And life is not the same to me as when you were called away. I think of you Doyle in Silence, Yes, no one sees me. But many silent tears are shed. While others are asleep. I wish a hand to reach out to you, My heart will always ache with pain; This world would seem like Heaven if I could only hear your sweet voice again. Forget you? No, Dear I never will. I miss you more and more each day. My memory of you is just as fresh, As the day you went away. I wish a hand to reach out to you, Some day, I don't when; To cheer you in my grief; Never to see you again; God alone knows how much I miss you. Never shall that memory fade; My thoughts will always be true. Dear to my heart are those where you were laid. You loving mother, Mrs. Gene Tucker

'Rasbucknics' Are Off the Press, Watch the Sky for Distribution

Quite a surprise was in store for Pampans last week when green and black "Rasbucknics" rolled off the press to make their appearance to proclaim the approach of the Top of Texas Carnival on May 9 and 10, to be held at the Santa Fe right-of-way on West Atchison. These rasbucknics will be used as the official medium of exchange at the carnival.

Pampans began to take notice as the greenbacks "hit the street" and the members of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the carnival, began circulating the bills with which they hope to cover Pampa and neighboring Panhandle towns, thereby giving all a chance to "hang their hat on the Top of Texas."

The carnival, which will be given to benefit the Community Center Fund, is a major project of the Jaycees this year. President Jack Nimmo reported that all committees for the carnival are working steadily, and plans for the event are progressing. He added that, in keeping with the policy of the Jaycees, to keep the "ball rolling," the carnival will be offered to the people of Pampa and the surrounding territory as a follow-up to the All-City Boxing Tournament, ending last night, which they co-sponsored with the Seven-Eleven Club.

Children, as well as the adults will "get a break" in the near future when a large quantity of the rasbucknics will be taken up in planes and dropped over the city. It was announced. The exact time and date will be announced later in The News and necks will be stretched upward to see the display of flying paper. The paper bills will be secured to balloons and allowed to drop.

Highlights at the carnival will be the dunking pond and human target or "throw at the man's head sticking through the hole in the canvas" attractions. Bingo and other games will be offered for the entertainment of the carnival lovers. Other attractions will be the lady wrestler and the big top. The grounds will be amply lighted and large floodlights will be employed to attract people from near and far for the carnival.

To insure making it an all-Panhandle affair, plans are being made to make good-will tours to neighboring towns inviting residents to the carnival.

INTOXICATIONS
Nine men were fined for being intoxicated over the weekend period by Judge Clifford Braly of the Corporation Court Sunday morning. It was learned from Chief Louie Allen.

Jester

other possible increases over the Governor's recommendations in other appropriation bills.

This does not take into account possible increases in the amount of money made available for spending from present sources of revenue.

However, the comptroller's latest estimate of available spending money was $186,500,000, only slightly more than his estimate at the start of the legislative session.

With the cost of public education creating the greatest single demand for more funds—and possibly more taxes—Jester placed a question in the minds of taxpayers when he announced that he was submitting to the will of the Legislature by letting the teachers pay bills become law.

First Jester called attention to the statement constantly heard that "Texas is thirty-second among the 48 states in public school efficiency."

Then he asked the question: Why is Texas thirty-second in educational standing when it ranks fifth in the amount of state tax money contributed to public schools?

He believed that it was not a question that could be solved merely by adding millions of dollars more to the amount already being spent.

At the same time, he agreed that public school teachers must be paid better salaries.

He did not believe the $55 per capita plan would accomplish its aim of raising teachers pay to a minimum $2,000 a year. He called the per capita system a "patch-work plan."

The Governor said he would have preferred an equalization plan whereby schools that needed the money most might have received far more than $55 per capita, while the richer school districts would have received less.

He endorsed Rep. Claud Gilmer's resolution calling for an exhaustive study of the state's entire public school system and recommendation of ways and means to correct its abuses and inadequacies.

The resolution has been passed by the House and is scheduled for introduction in the Senate this week.

its own Cecil Hudson, Pampa, served as monitor for radio station KPDM.

Two Pampa operators, Bill Hawkins of WBBCK handled many local messages as well as messages for Western Union and L. E. Jordan also of Pampa spent 40 hours at the transmitter in Higgins.

The Federal Communications Commission in Dallas restricted the 3900 to 3940 KC band during the emergency for the sole use of amateurs working with that station.

At present the amateur operators, who have their own network and have pledged to aid in any disaster, are requesting FCC for the return of the 160 meter band taken from them during the war. According to Herman Whitley, local amateur operator who aided in sending out messages, this band is the most efficient for emergency service.

Combs Death

Ky. March 30, 1867, came by himself at the age of 19 to Cook County, Texas. Horse wrangler for a time on his uncle's ranch, he later rode herd along the Chisholm Trail.

He has been a resident of the Panhandle since 1891, and it was in 1915 that the Combs-Worley ranch land was purchased from the White Deed Land Company.

On his birthday Mr. Combs said: "Ninety years is a long time for any man to live, but these later years are calm and peaceful. I am thankful that I have the spirit and capacity to take the days as they come."

Mr. Combs could often be seen about the Combs-Worley Building. Recently, an acquaintance of his related, a group of school children were running and yelling in the hall at the building. Mr. Combs, sitting on the stairs, called them down mildly. One of the children chided "You talk like you own the place." He just laughed.
