WEATHER

WEST TEXAS - Partly cloudy and mild through Sunday. Widely scattered showers or thunderstorms, mostly in the Panhandle and South Plains.

In the realm of the spirit, as of the flesh, certain salutary ways, certain lines of wholesome and rewarding procedure, seem to be worked out for us, and we cannot profitably transgress them.

'More Fat, Less Muscle' Senator Assails Slash In Budget

STND. Okla., May 16—UP—Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) assailed the Eisenhower administration Saturday for defense budget cuts he described as "soothing syrup" which is skidding America toward "more fat, less muscle."
In an Armed Forces Day talk at Vance Air Force Base, the former Air Force secretary charged "our effort to be prepared by the time the Kremlin is ready has been further postponed in favor of 'business as usual.'"
He pointed out that President Eisenhower criticized an "up and down" defense planning, dating back to 1948, during his campaign. "But what did this administration offer us last week? More stretch-out, more soothing syrup, more cars, more fat, less muscle," Symington said the deep cuts ordered last week "astounded" him, particularly with regard to the Air Force.
"No one has any knowledge of any 'stretch-out' in the rapid development of Soviet capability to attack this country with submarines and bombers in an all-out atomic effort," he said. "It would appear that once again, through decisions totally unjustified by our top military leaders are correct in their recent reports to the Senate about the great and growing menace of Soviet military strength, our effort to be prepared by the time the Soviet is ready has been further postponed in favor of 'business as usual.'"

Army Manpower Cut 10 Per Cent

WASHINGTON, May 16—UP—The Army plans to cut its European and Far Eastern troop strength by 10 per cent in the coming fiscal year to meet Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's reduced manpower goals, it was learned Saturday.
The combined cut for the two theaters will be about 50,000 men. Another 50,000-man reduction will be made in Army strength within the United States, and small cuts may be ordered at other overseas posts.
Notice of the reductions already may have been dispatched to Gen. Mark W. Clark, Far East commander, and Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander in Europe.

Will Equip 6 New ROK Divisions
It also was learned the Army has orders to equip six new Republic of Korea divisions, bringing total ROK strength to 20 divisions.
Wilson has told Congress proposed Army expenditures for the fiscal year beginning July 1 will cover "arming an increased number of ROK divisions."
Administration defense plans call for reducing total U.S. Army strength to 1,421,000 officers and men by June 30, 1954. The reduction will amount to more than 100,000 from the Army's expected strength at the beginning of the fiscal year on July 1, 1953, informed sources said.

Combat Units Not Cut
Cuts will be spread over the 12-month period and can be absorbed.

Not A Scratch
From Air Crash
DALLAS, May 16—UP—A Marine Corps Reserve pilot walked away unscathed Saturday from his Corsair plane after making a crash landing in the mud on the banks of the Trinity River, 3-1/2 miles northwest of the Dallas Naval Air Station.

He was Capt. Robert J. Irwin of Dallas.
The air station said Irwin's plane had a power failure, on take-off. The plane crashed in soft mud, which apparently cushioned its fall.
Irwin was in a flight with other Marine pilots in connection with Armed Forces Day observances. He is attached to Marine Reserve Flight Squadron 112.
The accident happened at 11:33 a.m.

Swiss Ask Recall Of Czech Official
BERNE, Switzerland, May 16—UP—Switzerland has asked Czechoslovakia to recall her chargé d'affaires here, it was announced Saturday night.
A foreign ministry communiqué said the charge d'affaires named Svare could no longer be considered persons grata because he had insulted Swiss authorities.
It said on a Czech national holiday Svare had an official reception attended by the federal chancellor. Also present was National

Wife's Plea Credited . . . Oatis Freed By Czechs After Serving 22 Months In Prison

NUREMBERG, Germany, May 16—UP—American newsman William N. Oatis was released Saturday from a Communist Czech jail and crossed the border into Germany a free man with a smile on his face.
"I feel great," were his first words when he entered the American zone of Germany after spending one year and 10 months in a Prague prison on trumped-up spy charges.
The tall, lanky 39-year-old Associated Press correspondent was freed from Pancrac prison after 22 months of angry diplomatic representations by the United States had brought relations with Czechoslovakia to a new low.
In the end it was a woman's plea that freed him—a letter from his wife, Laurabell, 29, to the late Czech President Klement Gottwald, whom she asked to stop the anguish of their separation.
Diplomatic observers say the release as another Communist gesture of "good will," another move in the Soviet "peace offensive" observed soon after the death of Soviet Premier Josef Stalin.
The Indiana-born former chief of the AP bureau in Prague was taken from his cell and handed over to U.S. embassy officials at 10 a.m. after he had served 22 months of the 10 year sentence given him for "espionage" at a trial July 4, 1951.
He left Prague half an hour later in an embassy car with Counselor Nat B. King of St. Louis, Mo., and vice consul Christopher A. Squire for the trip to West Germany. They headed for Pilsen and then crossed the German border at Weidhaus.
There was a brief halt at the Czech border point some 500 yards from the actual frontier and then the embassy car was signalled to proceed. So sudden had been his release that the U.S. high commission could not get a senior official to the border to meet him.
Oatis was wearing an old threadbare suit, a bow tie and a soft brown hat. He was pale from the months spent in the Communist jail but otherwise appeared in good health and was smiling. It was then he told newsmen, "I feel great."
He left soon for Nuremberg, where he arrived at the Army-operated Grand Hotel.
A crowd of about 500 Germans lined the street outside.

Tries Suicide . . . Police Gain Confession In Bomb Effort

LA PAZ, Mexico, May 16—UP—Jose Alfredo Del Valle, 44-year-old La Paz businessman arrested as he tried to hang himself, Saturday confessed building a time bomb which killed three airport employees.
De Valle said he had intended for the bomb to explode aboard a crowded airliner on which he was a passenger so his family could get $98,600 insurance money.
The concealed bomb, taken from the overloaded plane at the last moment, exploded instead in the baggage porters and the airport manager last Saturday.
Del Valle told police he had taken out several insurance policies recently with the idea of killing himself "so my impoverished family would not have to suffer for my past business mistakes."
He tried to hang himself with his belt in a public park Wednesday. The tree limb broke as police closed in.

Dulles Encounters Anti-West Protest

BEIRUT, Lebanon, May 16—UP—Angry anti-western demonstrators surged through the streets Saturday forcing American Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to delay his arrival here.
When Dulles arrived an hour and one half later, armed guards were stationed before all foreign embassies and legations after a day of turbulent protests against the visit by Dulles.
The parliamentary foreign affairs committee was reported to have readied a note for Dulles, deploring the United States attitude toward the Arab peoples.
The demonstrations were climaxed by a clash between police and Communists. Eight persons injured and 11 arrested.
Dulles, on a fact-finding tour of the Middle East, with Mutual Security Administrator Harold Stassen, already has visited Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria.
They left Damascus, Syria, Saturday morning for Beirut. Their arrival here, scheduled for 5:30 p.m., was set back to 7 p.m. because of the demonstrations.
Before the clash between the Reds and police, students paraded through the streets, bearing placards denouncing western plans for middle-eastern defense. The demonstrators shouted threats of "death" to supporters of the plan and to those favoring a peace with Israel.
The streets of the city were flooded with anti-western pamphlets distributed by the demonstrators, members of the Partisans of Peace, Socialists, Nationalists and Communists.
Leaders of 22 Lebanese parties, trade unions and cultural organizations ordered protest strikes, but all shops remained open.
The note prepared by the foreign affairs committee was reported to reflect the adverse feelings of the Arab State toward the United States because of American policy in the Middle East.

Cases Will Be Set Monday By Judge

Criminal and civil cases on the county court books will be set down for trial Monday when Judge J. B. Maguire Jr. calls his docket.
None of the cases—civil or criminal—is expected to be tried Monday, the judge said. Dates for hearings, both respecting juries and those waiving juries, only will be set.
There were no cases up for processing Saturday, the judge reported. However, if there would have been any, they would have been postponed due to the illness of County Atty. Bill Waters.
The county prosecutor is expected to be back at his desk Monday in time for the sounding of the docket.

Twister Hits Two Towns, Killing One

CROCKETT, Tex., May 16—UP—A tornado struck two small communities in Houston county Saturday, killing one person, Sheriff Lloyd Lovell said.
Lovell said the tornado hit first at Porter Springs and then at Wesley Chapel.
Porter Springs is about 10 miles southwest of Crockett, the Houston county seat, and Wesley Chapel is five miles northwest of Porter Springs.
The tornado struck in the portion of central East Texas where the U.S. Weather Bureau had warned twisters might hit during the afternoon or early night.
Earlier Saturday, before the severe weather warning was issued, a tornado struck at Lewisburg. It was accompanied by heavy rains and a brilliant lightning display.

Texas SDX Plans A Statewide Set-Up

AUSTIN, May 16—UP—Texas Members of Sigma Delta Chi, a professional journalism fraternity, Saturday set up a state-wide organization.
Planning of the state-level operation highlighted a two-day convention here, ending Saturday.

Dutch Army Repels Indonesian Troops

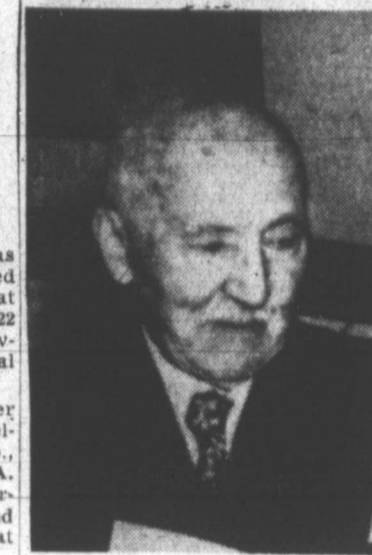

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, May 16—UP—The Dutch Army, in a two-day battle, has driven off Indonesian troops who invaded Dutch New Guinea, it was announced Saturday.
An official statement said that a well armed force of Indonesians invaded Dutch territory near Vogelkop Monday.
"Dutch army units immediately undertook an energetic action against the group, which was liquidated on May 15," the official statement said.

RC Tornado Fund Drive Hits $384

A Red Cross-organized Waco, San Angelo fund drive to aid victims of the tornadoes in those Texas cities, now shows a total of $384, according to Mrs. E. W. Showell, RC executive secretary.
The response to the appeal has been far-reaching, she said, with one contribution for $100 coming from a St. Louis, Mo., resident.
Although the fund drive is yet in too early a stage to predict any final total, "we are well pleased with the first response," Mr. Showell said.
All money collected will be sent through a local representative for immediate aid to the needy.
"It is not a part of the annual Red Cross fund drive," Mrs. Showell stressed, "but is a separate fund specifically to aid the tornado victims."

Claim Reserves Play Poker

WASHINGTON, May 16—UP—A House Armed Services subcommittee is looking into complaints some reservists draw duty pay for weekly sessions of poker and beer drinking rather than military training.
This was disclosed Saturday as the subcommittee, headed by Rep. Leroy Johnson (R-Calif.) announced plans for hearings on the whole question of reserve training by Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force. The hearings will start sometime in June.
The subcommittee has been receiving a steady flow of complaints about the reserve program. It was learned in some cases the informants have said training sessions—usually held one night a week—are a farce.
Subcommittee sources said a few letter writers have told of reservists reporting at the drill site, signing in, then breaking out the cold beer. Others were reported to have complained they learned nothing at drill but card-playing.

Small Part Spent Of Appropriation

WASHINGTON, May 16—UP—Senate Republican Leader Robert A. Taft said Saturday the United States has not received its money's worth for the billions thus far appropriated for air power.
He said in an interview that the nation needs "the strongest and most powerful air force in the world" and survival in a new world war would hinge upon "ability to deliver atomic bombs by air on Russia."
But, Taft continued, despite heavy appropriations of past years "we still haven't got it—the most powerful air force; actually we spent a small proportion of the total appropriated by Congress."
He said he hopes one of the first assignments of the new Joint Chiefs of Staff will be "to tell us exactly what the size of the Air Force should be."
Stage Set for Dispute
President Eisenhower this week completed plans for a complete shakeup in the military high command by autumn, picking a Navy man—Adm. Arthur W. Radford—to be chairman of the joint chiefs. The stage thus was set for one of the hottest congressional battles of the year—over the issue of dollars for Air Force spending.
Chairman Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) of the military spending subcommittee, summoned top military leaders to begin testimony Tuesday.
Mr. Eisenhower opened the controversy in Congress by recommending $11,688,000,000 in new funds for the Air Force in 1953-54. This was a cut of $5,100,000,000 from the $16,800,000,000 the Truman administration had proposed. Most of the reduction would be in accounts for buying new planes and spare parts.
Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has said the "cutback means a substantially well-equipped Air Force wings by June 30, 1954, instead of the 145,000 goal set. Led 'Admirals Revolt'
Partisans of air power were further disturbed by the Radford appointment. He led the so-called "admirals revolt" of 1949, claiming more money should have been pumped into the defense budget, carriers and less into the B-36 super bomber, which the Air Force was accused of "over-selling."
Despite what he termed loss of air superiority to the Russians, Taft struck back at those "claiming that no more super air power Force appropriations are cutting down on our air striking power."
Even as he spoke, however, Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), a former Air Force secretary and a leading advocate of greater strength through greater air power, was attacking the Administration position in an Armed Forces Day speech at Vance Air Force Base, kind, Okla.
Symington said Mr. Eisenhower turned his back on some campaign promises to make "totally unjustified" decisions and is now telling the nation a "deceitful story" about the defense program.
"We have put fiscal policies ahead of military strategy; and it doing so, we have changed our minds so many times that our whole aircraft procurement program is a mess."

Dr. Godfrey Cabot Due Here Monday

Petroleum's "Grand Old Man" is scheduled to arrive in Pampa by plane sometime Monday morning, following the official issuance of his title as Tulsa's Oil Show.
Dr. Godfrey L. Cabot, 92, president of Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc., Boston, will be in town only a short while, though, till he leaves by company plane—for a tour of the West Texas area.

Light Turn-Out Anticipated In Commission Run-Off Race

Ward 2 tomorrow will make the final decision on who will represent them on the City Commission during the next two years—Frank Dial or Dale Pinson.
Dial and Pinson were thrown into the run-off after Dial, big man on the ballot, failed to poll a complete majority of the voters. Dial polled 238, Pinson 224 and A. J. Hindman, third man in the race, polled 42. A fourth candidate in the April 7 city election, Don Conley, pulled out of the race just before the deadline for withdrawing.
Getting the ballots counted Monday should be short work since there are only two candidates in the running. Election judges won't even bother to count write-in votes for anyone else. Write-in votes in a run-off are illegal. Ballots bearing write-ins are laid aside, and considered "mutilated ballots."
The poll opens at 8 a.m. and closes at 7 p.m. Only residents of Ward 2 are eligible to vote in the election tomorrow. The boundaries of the ward are: E. Foster north to the city limits and N. Cuyler and Mary Ellen east to the city limits.
Outside of soliciting their friends and neighbors, neither of the two candidates has put up a stiff fight for the $10-per-meeting job.

Half-Inch Rain Is Registered Here

It looked Saturday night as if Pampa's blue-plate weather special had about run its course.
Sunny skies and temperatures up to 66 degrees Saturday greeted Pampans, following a week's weather mixture that included rain, snow, hail, dirt, dust and high-flying winds.
At week's end Pampa had had 52 of an inch of rain. Other recorded rainfalls were Shamrock's .33 of an inch and McLean's .50 of an inch. By 8:30 p.m. Saturday, the mercury had fallen to 55 but was not expected to go much lower.
Scattered showers that have come since the first of the month were too late to be of material benefit to area wheat crops, according to the latest Texas Employment Commission farm labor bulletin. Only an estimated 10-15 per cent of the seeded acreage is expected to be harvested.

Aviation Writers to Meet PORT WORTH, May 16—UP—About 250 aviation writers from across the country are expected to arrive here Monday for the Aviation Writers Association's national convention.

It's Your Deal

"Please answer some questions on poker," requests a Pittsburgh correspondent.

"In the game of Jacks Openers (poker), which player makes the first bet after the draw? Some players here say that the man to the left of the dealer always speaks first; others say that the opener speaks first after the draw.

"My second question applies only to those games in which there are wild cards. Does five of a kind bear a royal flush in such a game?"

The opener speaks first in the game of Jacks Openers.

In any variety of poker in which there are wild cards, five of a kind is the best possible hand. The next best kind of hand is a straight flush, and the royal flush is merely the highest possible straight flush.

Some people like to follow a table rule according to which a royal flush is the best possible hand, followed by five of a kind, and then followed by all other straight flushes.

This is a very illogical way to play, and would never be permitted in a strict club or in any other serious poker game. This is a free country, however, and if everybody at the table is willing to agree to an illogical rule, that rule will apply.

Q — In a game of seven-card stud, two players tie when only five cards were counted. Should they count the other two cards in their hands?

A — No. Only five cards are counted in any poker hand. If two players tie in five cards, they must split the pot. The sixth or seventh cards are not considered.

Q — If you are dealt four of a kind in a draw poker game are you supposed to stand pat, or are you allowed to draw one card?

A — It is quite legal to draw one card in any poker game. In some circles, it is considered unsporting to draw a card. This is a matter of local custom rather than of law.

We prefer the kind of poker game in which nobody expects this kind of "protection" but

McLean Girl New MYF President

McLEAN (Special) — June Stubblefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stubblefield, was elected president of the Pampa District, Methodist Youth Fellowship, at a recent meeting of that organization in Borger.

Other young people from the local church making the trip included Floella Cubine, Jerry Russell, Charles Bailey, Virginia Beck, Dorina Chase, Donna Ruth Magee and Donna Gail Stubblefield.

They were accompanied by Rev. C. W. Parmenter, pastor of the McLean Methodist Church, and by Mrs. Earl Stubblefield and Mrs. Parmenter.

Couple Didn't Know They'd Been Married

EDINBURG, Tex., May 16-UP — Juanita Cantu and Victor DeLeon, who said they did not know they had been married, had their marriage annulled Friday by Judge S. N. McWhorter of the 92nd District Court.

The couple, who got the license on Sept. 21, 1951, and visited an old family friend who is a judge, were married by the judge who thought they wanted to be wed.

The couple found out several days afterwards what had happened, but waited until Friday to ask for the annulment.

Santa Fe Donates To Tornado Fund

GALVESTON, May 16-UP — Fred G. Gurley, president, said Saturday the Santa Fe Railroad was making a $5,000 contribution to aid in the reconstruction of tornado-battered Waco and San Angelo.

A check for that amount will be presented to the American Red Cross Texas disaster relief fund for those two cities, he said.

City Clean-Up Opens Monday

Everything is all set for the big spring city-wide clean-up drive starting Monday, if it doesn't rain, City Manager B.H. Cruce said Saturday.

If it rains too much over the week end, the alleys will be too muddy for the loaded trucks to get through, the city manager explained.

First to be relieved of its trash will be Ward 4 starting Monday morning. Four trucks, two of them hired and two belonging to the city, plus 12 extra men will spend two days in the ward's alleys picking up old trash and lumber piled there by residents. The next two days will be spent cleaning up Ward 3 and the following six days will divided three each to cleaning up Wards 1 and 2.

Members of civic clubs riding in sound trucks are giving each of the wards a two-day reminder before the trucks roll through to pick up the trash.

The trucks will make only one trip over each of the laid out routes. Residents in each of the wards are being asked to pile their trash, old lumber and other junk they want to get rid of in the alley where they can be picked up.

Beih Spencer will bring three-minute talks at both services, he said, and Intermediate boys will usher the evening worship.

Misses Zelma and Delma Franklin will sing a quart.

Rev. E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the church, reported year-round air-conditioning has recently been installed which will provide heating and cooling for the auditorium.

The church organizations have established a record attendance of 2,342 in Sunday School and 483 in Training Union.

Hormones Vital In Cancer Fight

HOUSTON, May 16-UP — Hormones will have a "key position" in the defeat of cancer, a leading research specialist, Dr. Charles B. Huggins of the University of Chicago, said here.

"Treatments have indicated that the successful treatment of cancer by pills is possible," he said. Dr. Huggins was in Houston to receive the annual Bertner Award made by the M. D. Anderson Hospital for Cancer Research here.

His technique in treating prostate cancer is injecting female hormones in men and male hormones in females, when the cancer is in a part of the body controlled or affected by these hormones.

The counter injection, plus removal of the original hormone-producing gland, causes the cancer to shrivel and sometimes disappear, he said.

He said he believed the current

Mother Accused Of Aiding Son's Escape

LOS ANGELES, May 14-UP — Mrs. Naomi Riffel's court fight against extradition to Missouri on charges she helped her son escape from a reform school has been continued until Tuesday.

The 38-year-old mother of Johnny Brackenridge, 16, Friday was given until Tuesday to test the validity of the charge on which she is sought in Chillicothe, Mo.

Her attorney, William J. F. Brown, indicated he would seek a superior court writ for her release from county jail.

Authorities said the youth escaped from the Missouri School for Boys last February and joined his mother in Kansas. Mrs. Riffel then moved to Burbank, Calif., with her present husband and son.

Commission To Estimate Road Mileage In Precincts

County Judge J. B. Maguire said the commissioners are now giving some consideration to attempting a complete and accurate mileage count in each of the precincts.

Commissioner Paul Bowers, Pct. 3, has started on his, but still has a long way to go. Bowers told a Pampa Daily News reporter he wants to get a complete check on all of county-maintained roads in his precinct and break them down into classifications: paved, caliche, to-market roads.

A check with the State Highway Department disclosed Saturday the state has 192,087 miles of paved road to maintain. Two are U.S. highways, 63 and 69; three are farm-to-market roads.

Broken down the mileage figures on the 14 state supported roads are: 44,245 on U.S. Highway 66; 23,289 on U.S. Highway 70; 25,053 on State Highway 70; 25,053 on State Highway 152; and 34,025 on State Highway 273.

In addition there are 35,503 miles of paved farm-to-market roads in Gray County. Of these FM 291 between Levans and McLean is the longest, 18.081 miles. The shortest, FM 750, runs along the south edge of Pampa for 2.371 miles. The second shortest, FM 292, runs from State Highway 70 toward Grandview School for 2.468 miles. The other two paved farm-to-market roads are FM 749, which is 9.4 miles and FM 748, covering 5.213 miles.

The only paved road of a length now maintained by the county is the 11-mile stretch known as the Calmes Road, leading south from U. S. Highway 60, part in Pct. 2 and part in Pct. 3. The airport road, now under construction, and a few scattered bits over the county are the only other county maintained paved roads at present.

gram has been corrupted by indecision," Symington said. He did not lay exclusively all the blame on the new administration, saying a series of policy mistakes began five years ago during the Democratic regime.

The political heat on the bill did not end with congressional passage. Only Saturday, 22 opponents made public a letter to Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., demanding to know if he will bring a court test against the measure. They contend the bill upsets a series of Supreme Court decisions.

The same 22 — Morse and 21 Democrats — also asked Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to outline international difficulties that may arise from the legislation.

About the same time, CIO President Walter P. Reuther made public a letter to Mr. Eisenhower demanding a veto of the bill "in the interests of the country's welfare in time of peace and in time of war."

Another Side

On the other side of the fence Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) blasted the House for "rubber stamping" a companion bill, already sent to the Senate, providing for federal authority to develop mineral resources on the "outer continental shelf" that portion of the offshore lands seaward of the states' domain.

Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.) has promised to fight for at least a state "cut" out of revenues from the outer shelf.

Foes of the bill, calling it a "give away," estimated the offshore oil inside the states' boundaries may be worth up to $50 billion. Actually, however, known reserves in the area up to this time nowhere approach that figure in value.

By signing, Mr. Eisenhower thus will make good on one of his major campaign promises. It was credited with helping him carry Texas and, to a lesser extent, Florida, and it pushed him within close range of toppling another Democratic southern stronghold, Louisiana.

Injured Driver Faces Charges

Charges of passing on the wrong side and contesting for speed have been filed against Dillard D. Kennedy, 20, of Skellytown, who was critically injured Thursday night when his car overturned on State Highway 152 east of Pampa. State Highway Patrolmen reported.

The patrolmen said charges of contesting for speed were also filed against Bobbie Rae Barnes, 1149 Neel, who was reported racing with the car driven by Kennedy.

Kennedy remained in a critical condition Saturday night in a local hospital.

UN Calls Truce Talk Recess To Prevent Split In Allies

TOKYO, Sunday, May 17 — UP — The United Nations command called a three-day recess in the Korean truce talks to prevent any further split among the Allies, it was reported Saturday.

The United States was said to be in close touch with other members of the UN on such matters as the prisoners exchange which has deadlocked the negotiations 19 days after they were resumed.

From these consultations among the capitals of the free world may come fresh instructions to the UN truce delegation before it again sits down with the Communists at Panmunjon Wednesday morning.

Administrative Reasons

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison asked and received the three-day recess at Saturday's session for "administrative reasons."

Informed sources said these reasons boiled down to desire on the part of the Allies to gain a breathing spell while seeking means to avoid an irreparable split on how to compromise the prisoner exchange issue.

The Communists already were working overtime to drive a wedge between the United States and Britain that would win for them ultimate approval of their eight-point proposal for settling the fate of POWs who resist repatriation.

The difficulties among the Allies were pointed up last week when British Prime Minister Winston Churchill suggested that the Communists' eight-point plan might form the basis for a settlement of the long drawn out war.

The Communist propagandists leaped on that statement with result that North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, the senior Red negotiator, stopped negotiating.

India Agrees

The Communist position became firmer when Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru also suggested the Red eight-point plan form the basis for negotiation. The Communist plan was very close to an Indian plan approved by the United Nations General Assembly over opposition of the Soviet bloc.

The UN now must decide whether to modify its current 28-point plan submitted to counter the Red proposal.

During Saturday's 67-minute session Harrison tried to answer Reds but the Communists came back with charges the Allies were plotting to retain rather than free the prisoners.

"Whereas our side insists on no coercion either to prevent or effect repatriation," Harrison countered, "your side still clings to its extreme position of attempting to coerce unwilling prisoners to return to their masters."

Ike Plans To Sign Tidelands Monday

WASHINGTON, May 16 — UP — President Eisenhower will sign the controversial tidelands bill Monday, giving coastal states title to offshore lands that may hide a multi-billion dollar treasure of oil and gas.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerly announced the President will sign the bill Monday aboard the Presidential Yacht Williamsburg, on which Mr. Eisenhower was crisscrossing Chesapeake Bay.

Former President Truman twice — in 1946 and 1948 — vetoed similar legislation. The first time, Congress sustained the veto. The second time, advocates of state ownership did not even try to override Mr. Truman.

Bitter Fight Precedes Passage

The bill passed Congress this time only after a bitter, five-week fight in the Senate. The GOP leadership accused opponents of self-styled "little band of liberals" of filibustering. Among them was Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind.-Ore.), who kept the floor continuously for record 22-hour, 73-minute speech.

The political heat on the bill did not end with congressional passage. Only Saturday, 22 opponents made public a letter to Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., demanding to know if he will bring a court test against the measure. They contend the bill upsets a series of Supreme Court decisions.

Teacher Pay Raise Hopes Dwindling

AUSTIN, May 16 — UP — Chance this session of any teacher pay raise neared zero Saturday as Texas lawmakers prepared to move Monday into the twilight days of their 53rd session.

Legislators have agreed to call it quits at high noon Wednesday, May 27. The coming week is the last in which any major work might be expected to be transacted.

The House will return to work Monday deadlocked over the controversial issue of teacher wage boosts.

Shower Given Pair After Home Burns

PANHANDLE (Special) — Mr. and Mrs. N. F. (Rusty) Yates, whose home was recently destroyed by fire, were honored with a miscellaneous shower Tuesday in the basement of the Baptist Church.

The Yates residence was destroyed by fire of an undetermined origin. The home valued at $8,000 plus about $3,500 of furnishings was a total loss, with only a few items saved. No one was at home and it is believed an explosion caused the fire as the building burned so rapidly.

The Texas Highway Department of Panhandle, by which Yates was employed, presented the family a gift of approximately $100 or more as a good will token.

Carver School Sets Operetta Tuesday

Students from the first five grades of Carver School are scheduled to produce an operetta at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the school's auditorium.

Sponsored by two school teachers, Mrs. T. Curry Nelson and Miss H. J. Friday, the operetta is titled "The Princess Chooses a Kitty," according to J. C. Randall, school principal.

Written by Ruth E. Day, the play is a union operetta in two acts with a rhythm orchestra participating. Randall said.

The public is invited. Prices are 25 cents for youngsters and 35 cents for adults.

A Pretty Good Answer, At That

An Arizona man had stopped at a Panhandle cafe with his wife and small son about 4 p.m. Saturday for a bite to eat.

Telling several persons nearby that he was on his way to Springfield, Mo., he asked what was ahead on the road.

"Well," one of the localites drawled, "Pampa is about 27 miles down the road and it has pretty good accommodations."

"What's beyond that?" the Arizona man wanted to know.

"Oklahoma" was the brief—but pointed—reply.

New Air Force Chief To Speak

DALLAS, May 16 — UP — Lt. Gen. Nathan Twining, newly named chief of staff of the Air Force, will make one of his first major speeches since his appointment on May 22 at the annual convention of the Aviation Writers Association in Dallas.

The convention opens Monday and continues through Friday and will include tours of area aircraft facilities and plants. The first two days' activities will be in Fort Worth, then the delegates will move to Dallas.

Among talks scheduled Thursday in Dallas will be one by Dr. August Raset of the University of Mississippi on theories of flight he has learned from watching birds, and one by Dr. Fred Weick of Texas A&M. Weick designed the AG-1 crop duster airplane.

Wreck Victim's Condition 'Good'

PANHANDLE (Special) — Still in Highland General Hospital Saturday night in "good" condition was Mrs. Earl Burum, Panhandle, who received a fractured pelvis and numerous bruises when her car overturned after hitting loose dirt on a farm-to-market road, several miles west of town.

Her small sons, Jimmy and Jerry, received cuts and minor bruises when they were flung from the car.

Mrs. Burum was brought to Pampa by ambulance after receiving emergency treatment in a Panhandle doctor's office. The mishap occurred May 8.

Sandra Williams Named Class Queen

Miss Sandra Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Williams, 408 N. Purviance, was crowned Class Queen Saturday night at the eighth grade graduation-dance of Holy Souls School.

Festivities occurred at the Parish Hall dance which got underway at 8 p.m. Coronation took place about 9 p.m.

Escorting the Queen and crowning her was Michael Price. Miss Williams was also the class favorite.

Dr. E. N. Jones Named President Of Texas Tech

LUBBOCK, Tex., May 16 — UP — Dr. E. N. Jones will be formally inaugurated Monday as sixth president of Texas Technological college.

Jones, a native of Downs, Kans., has been president of Texas Tech for the past eight months, but his inauguration was postponed because of his heavy working schedule.

More than 100 representatives of other educational institutions are expected for the ceremonies, scheduled at 9 a.m. Dr. Henry Nash Smith, professor of American Studies at the University of Minnesota, will be the principal speaker and Charles C. Thompson of Colorado City, chairman of Tech's board of directors, will preside at the installation.

Prior to becoming president, Jones served the 27-year-old Texas Tech as vice president in charge of academic administration. He first came to Tech in 1948 from Texas A&I, where he was president. He is a graduate of Ottawa (Kansas) University and the University of Iowa.

Pleads Not Guilty To Assault Charge

A Pampa woman pleaded not guilty in county court this morning to a charge of aggravated assault.

Judge J. B. Maguire Jr. set bond at $750 for Lenora Godrey, about 25; and her case will await the next session of the county court's petty jury.

U. S. Airmen Race To Be Triple Aces

TOKYO, Sunday, May 17 — UP — Two United States Air Force captains racing to become the world's first triple jet ace and an "old pro" of the Korean air war paced American Sabrejet pilots Saturday in knocking 11 Communist MIGs out of the North Korean skies.

Roaming "MIG Alley" along the Manchurian border the Sabrejets also damaged six Russian-built jet fighters for their highest score since last Sept. 4 when they downed 3, probably destroyed another and damaged seven.

In the ground war American and South Korean infantrymen teamed up to kill or wound almost 1,400 Communists in the heaviest ground fighting in almost two months on the central front.

Jabara Gets One

America's top jet ace and his hottest rivals both added to their score of MIGs destroyed as an old warrior, Maj. James Jabara, Wichita, Kans., the first American ace of the Korean war, downed his first Red jet fighter on his second tour of duty in Korea. He now has seven MIGs destroyed.

Capt. Manuel Fernandez, Miami, Fla., held his title as the world's leading jet ace by downing his 14th MIG — only one short of the triple-jet-ace title.

Fernandez took back the title only a few hours after Capt. Joseph McCConnell Jr. of Apple Valley, Calif., had tied things up by downing his 13th jet. Fernandez has 30 more missions to fly in Korea and he stands a good chance of becoming the first man to destroy 15 enemy jets.

Tyler Pilot Scores

Saturday was the fifth day of heavy fighting on the ground. The Eighth Army said a full Communist regiment of about 3,000 men smashed at South Korean positions northeast of Chorwon, but they also were hurled back with heavy losses.

Other MIG destruction claims Sunday in addition to Jabara, McCConnell and Fernandez included: Marine Maj. John F. Bolt, Sanford, Fla.; Lt. Walter W. Fellman Jr., Camas, Wash.; Lt. Forrest G. Dupree, Atlanta, Ga.; Lt. Phillip A. Respath, Minneapolis, Minn.; and Maj. James P. Hagerstrom, Tyler, Tex.

The Faces Of The Aces

Above The Yalu, They Count Dead MIGs -- Not Odds

By EDWARD E. KENNEDY
NEA Special Correspondent

AT A FORWARD FIGHTER STRIP, Korea — (NEA) — These are the faces of aces. They are U. S. Sabrejet pilots who count MIGs destroyed or damaged instead of rotation points, who beg for extra missions to clip communism's wings.

They commute to their workshop 40,000 feet in the sky over North Korea, sometimes twice a day.

Last stop on the line is the Yalu River, beyond which they can see the enemy planes practicing take-offs and landings. There, in MIG alley, they seek battle with the Reds who choose to fight instead of beating it for sanctuary.

All these men are not "aces" in the accepted five-MIG headline sense of the word. But each is looking for that next Red jet to bring him closer to the glory rate — and the satisfaction of one less Red in the sky.

Over North Korea some Sabrejet pilots bail out, some spin in, some are captured — and some die. Some of them ditch in the sea, and are rescued by helicopters.

But most of them fly home daily to hot chow, showers and clean sheets.

Back from the tension of battle in MIG Alley, they sing a riddle and describe with an airman's swooping gestures the excitement of the day.

They go to their club, called Swig Alley, and take a "swig for a MIG" — or down a glass for a fallen wingman.

They also unashamedly wipe away men's tears of rage and anger when they tell of a fallen buddy's last message:

"I've had it, man. Bug out of here."

And they sing cynical songs like this:

"Throw a nickle in the trees, Save a fighter pilot, please." "We've got navigators, gunners and a flock of bombardiers. But there are no fighter pilots in Korea-er . . ."

"I have six MIGs upon me, My tailpipe's in the trees, Mayday, Mayday, Mayday. Spin instructions please."

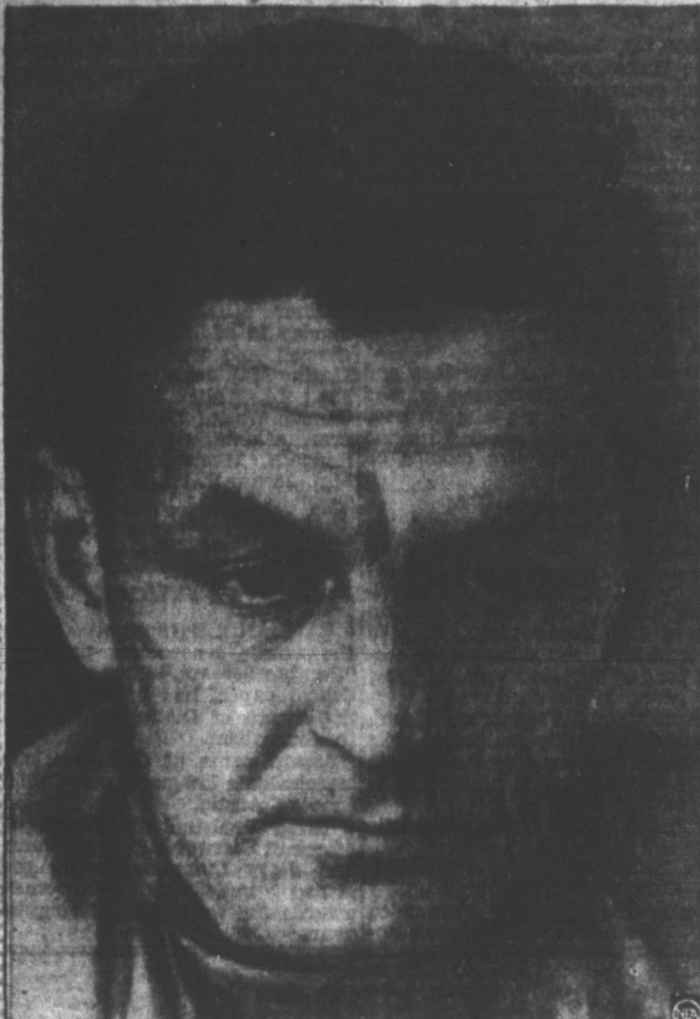

Up above the Yalu, they are always outnumbered, yet have destroyed more than 600 MIGs against a debit of 60-odd losses.

In a few minutes of air action they are targets for more bullets and shells than will be aimed at a ground soldier in an average nine-month Korea tour of duty. Yet they pity the earth-bound troops.

These are the Sabrejet pilots, elite of the Air Force, competent in the sky, sometimes carefree on the ground.

They are determined businessmen, intent on their job of preserving democracy from the skies against any odds.

And they don't count the odds. They count dead MIGs.

DESPAIR OVER LOSS darkens face of Maj. William L. Cosby, 32, Painter, Va., when one of his pilots fails to return.

EXHILARATION OF VICTORY lights face of Capt. Robert A. Windoffer, 36, Fort Wayne, Ind., after shooting down MIG.

FRUSTRATED Lt. Donald Hooten, Dallas, tells how MIG he chased scooted back across Yalu.

IMPASSIVE Maj. Stephen Bettinger, 28, Denver, listens to briefing for the fight he leads.

DETERMINED Lt. Col. Frank S. Keller, Trenton, N.J., pauses during briefing for a fight.

NON-PLUSED Capt. Lennie R. Moore, Ft. Walton, Fla., describes a rough encounter.

BUSINESS of briefing occupies Lt. Charles W. McGinnis, Pittsburgh, before flight.

RELAXED Lt. Joseph C. Bryant, Lauris, S.C., is also eager to get his first Red jet.

OLD-HAND is Lt. Col. Carroll B. McElroy, 36, Mamaroneck, N.Y., with two sure kills.

BACK AGAIN for second tour, Lt. Col. George L. Jones, Vero Beach, Fla., has 7 1/2 MIGs.

STUDIOUS-looking Lt. James F. Lew, 27, Sausalito, Calif., has blasted down eight MIGs.

HIGH NOON position of MIG he got is described by Capt. Stuart Childs, 29, Charlotte, N.C.

SERIOUSLY INTENT, Lt. Gilbert Hasler, 22, Pasadena, Calif., describes last mission.

CALM, CLEAR EYES of Lt. Col. Richard Ayersman, 35, Sacramento, are jetman's trademark.

CONCENTRATION — stills — Lt. George W. Roope, 27, Phoenix, Ariz., who's after his first MIG.

Canadian Students Gain Merit Awards

CANADIAN (Special) — The annual Awards Assembly was held this week in the high school auditorium and 80 Canadian high school and junior high students received merit awards.

Supt. A. J. Brazzale and High School Principal Harvey Truitt presented the awards.

Senior Class Valedictorian John Peterson received a scholarship good at any state-supported college in Texas; and scholarships to Texas church schools, offered by the Texas Council of Church-Related colleges, were awarded to Salutatorian Betty Jean Pigg; to LaJuana Ballard, second ranking girl in the graduating class; and to Stan Douglass, second ranking boy in the class, as well as to Valedictorian John Peterson.

The Valedictorian and Salutatorian each received $25 cash awards, offered annually by the First National Bank.

Another $25 cash award, made annually by Bryant Pontiac for the outstanding commercial student, went to George Vinson.

The Arion Award for outstanding work in music was presented to Senior class member Gilbert Forrest, a member of the High School Band.

The annual Pampa Daily News trophy for the outstanding Senior athlete was awarded to Stanley Hodges. The first annual award last year went to Ben Mathers.

Other athletic awards presented at assembly included an all-tournament individual trophy for Anne Rathjen, won at the Pampa Volley Ball Tournament; and gold basketballs to members of the all-district basketball teams, Sandy Wilkinson and Kathleen Riley of the Canadian girls team; and Raymond Ramirez of the Wildcat basketball team.

Interscholastic League awards were presented to Nancy Williams who won second place in the Regional contests in extemporaneous speaking; and to Aladelle Williams, who paced third at Regional in Senior Girls declamation.

The annual Dandroph Foundation awards for leadership, copies of the book "I Dare You" were presented to two senior students, Wayne Blackwell and Barbara Kendall.

The homemaking medal awarded annually for outstanding work in the high school homemaking department went to a freshman girl, Mary Ellen Price.

The Bausch and Lomb Science Award was presented to a senior Jimmy Bayless.

Scholastic awards for the boy and girl in each high school and junior high class having the highest grade average for the past year went to Vona Brooks and John Peterson, seniors; Donna Abraham and Lynard Schafer, juniors; Barbara Norvil and Larry Pinson, sophomores; Nona Dale Snyder and Tommy Hobdy, freshmen; Texa Peterson and Malouf Abraham Jr. of the eighth grade; and Jacques the Sharp and Johnny Grist of the seventh grade. Certificates of award were also presented to Phyllis Yarnold, second place winner in the recent Laura V. Hammer Essay Contest; and to Glenna Morris, a junior and Gilbert Forrest and Beth Bryant, seniors, for having poems published this year in the National Anthology of High School Poetry.

Pampa Scouters Combine Hard Work, Ingenuity To Construct Log Cabin

By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer

A startling example of the enthusiasm and endeavor of Pampa youths can be seen in the planning, construction and furnishing of one of the few log cabins in this plains country.

Built entirely by members of Boy Scout Explorer Post 4 (First Christian Church) the building is located atop a small knoll nestled among hilly tree-and-scrub land, some 20 miles northwest of Pampa on the H. L. Ledrick ranch.

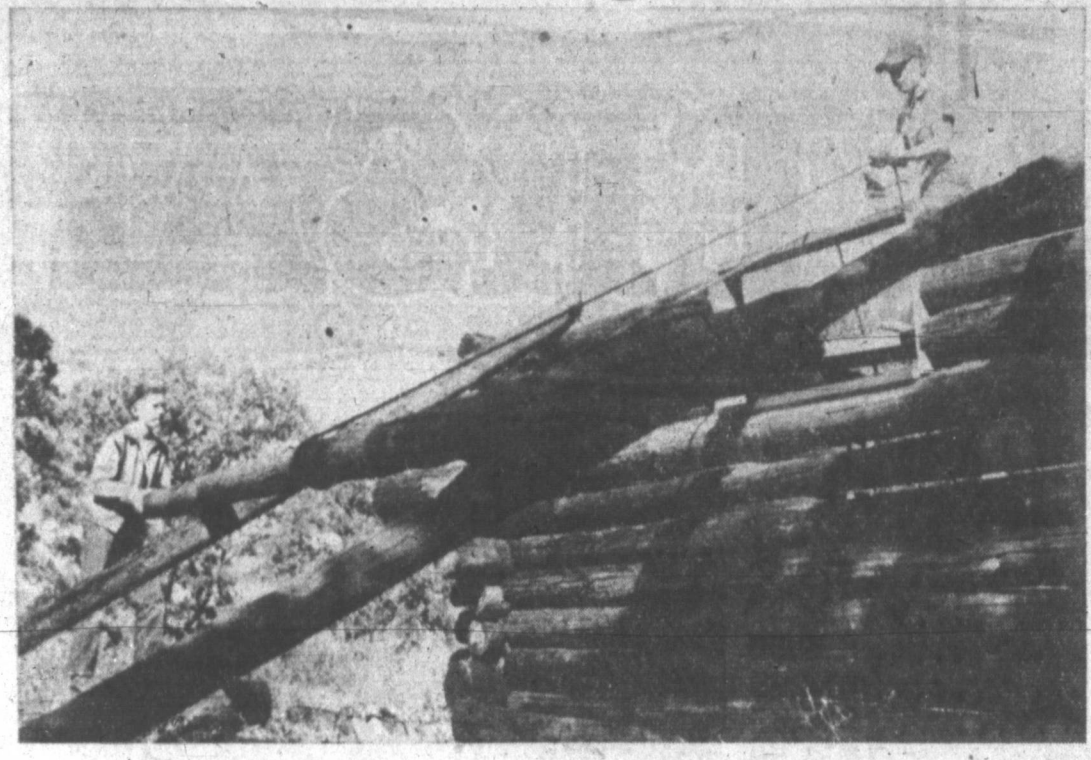

MORE THAN a year in the making (and the furnishings are still incomplete, the cabin will be the scene June 7 of an open-house at which post members in uniform will explain it all to the public. Hours are 2 to 4 p.m.

Idea for the log cabin came in the summer of 1951 on an Explorer (boys aged 14-21) trip to Creed, Colo., through Santa Fe, N.M., according to R. M. (Bob) Barrett, post advisor, who emphasized that the boys "do the whole show with advice only from advisors."

Visiting the council's camp (Garvin) at the head of the Pecos River, the Explorers on the jaunt decided they liked it and what's more wanted to know why they couldn't build a cabin. An Eagle Scout, Ivan Peacock, hatched the idea, he recalled.

"You'll have to do it all yourselves," Barrett told them, telling them. And that included designing it, laying it out, constructing it and using many an ingenious method of putting it together. It only cost them about $200 in expenses which they earned.

WORK BEGAN in the Pampa school's mechanical drawing classes as Eagle Scout Dibrell Stowell, now in the service, and Terry Forrester, now out of the group,

UP IT GOES! — Two Explorers from Post 4 (First Christian Church) are shown using a unique method of getting another log on top of the others already in place. Every log in their cabin was set in this manner — by use of two slanting logs and a rope and a bit o' muscle. (Barrett Photo) draw up the plans. Taking charge of the actual construction were Peacock and Stowell.

Then came the problems of picking the site and gathering poles. The site is quite a spot. "Just out on the new Perryton highway," Barrett will tell you, "and over off for a couple of miles and there it is." He neglects to mention that, while the 21.1 miles on the main road is easy, the 1.7 miles over a dirt road beset with gullies, mud traps and ditches is another thing again.

Phone and power poles were the thing to use, Barrett says he kept telling the boys, "if we can find enough of them." The 16 x 20-foot building is proof positive that they did find enough of them.

Constructed with a "notch-and-saddle" type, the building had its log intersections spiked. Room was left for 2 x 6 windows. And of course, a door. A mixture of sawdust and asphalt, followed by a strip of lathing to hold the chinking in place sealed the logs together.

Some 10 Explorers were in on the beginning of the project, Barrett said, and a total of 15 were working on the structure toward the end. Some of the methods used to put it together will open many an adult eye. Two particularly stand out.

A YEAR TO BUILD — That's what it took Explorer Scouts of Post 4 (First Christian Church) to raise this log cabin from drawing board to completed structure. Situated some 20 miles northwest of Pampa, the building will be the "base camp" for Exploring activities, according to R. M. (Bob) Barrett, post advisor. (News Photo)

Day — when the group planned an open-house it poured, though. PROVIDED DURING the Christmas holidays was a stove which now rests at one end of the cabin on the sandy floor. Several built, designed to fold up against the wall, have been built and installed. Twelve are planned.

Too, there are a center pole (for hanging up gear), a picnic table ("like those in the Navy"), cabinet, grub box, even a lantern which hangs from the center pole.

Plans for the immediate future, Barrett continued, call for a brick floor ("we have 40 bricks and need 4,000") a single-rail log fence around the area, landscaping ("a little conservation as the wind really erodes"), a water-wind, pitcher-pump, even a dammed-up "chickens' creek" swimming hole and a white-washing of the whole interior.

And that's not all. For Barrett and the post adult committee have other plans, too. Including the learning of compass work ("taking care of oneself in the wild") and a rifle and archery range.

This will be a "base camp" for all future outdoor activities of the post, Barrett said. "Drawing on the men of the town, for help" will be both Explorers and members of the adult committee that includes J. B. Ayres, R. C. Grider, A. D. Conway, B. M. Wood, Robert R. L. Hendricks, Post chaplain, Rev. Dick Crews, pastor of the First Christian Church.

OTHER MEMBERS of the post—past and present—who helped on the construction of the log cabin were: Darrell Eppert, Robert Grider, Charles Wood, Don Fuller, Jim Ayres, Bob Peacock, Mike McClosky, Gary Pinson, Jerry Spinks, Lee Ledrick, Bobby Brown, Gary Fryaser and Ted Swindle, all now in the post.

Also Fred Williams, now in service; Carroll Bozarth, an Eagle Scout now in college; and John Teed and Walter Colwell, now out of the post.

Last year's German exchange student, Deider Umbach, a registered Explorer, helped on it, too.

Probe Finds Costly Mistakes At Hydrogen Plant Housing

WASHINGTON, May 16—UP—Two new investigations into alleged political corruption and waste in the housing program for the hydrogen bomb plant at Aiken, S.C., have disclosed no wrong-doing but several costly "mistakes."

The Justice Department now is conducting a third investigation of the same charges.

The Atomic Energy Commission and the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency undertook housing investigations at the gigantic plant at the request of the Senate Banking committee. The federal government contributed $22,488,535 for the defense workers' homes.

The official reports on the AEC and HFEA investigations were made available to the United Press.

Recovery Suit Brought
A Justice Department spokesman said there would be no report on its investigation until it is completed. Assistant Attorney General Warren E. Burger reported, however, that the Justice Department has brought a civil suit to recover all payments to one construction firm.

The investigations were prompted by published charges that politicians, their relatives and friends received contracts to build almost half of the defense housing units. More than 3,850 of these permanent homes have been built.

Three other investigations were conducted previously, all at the request of Sen. Burnet R. Maybank (D-S.C.), former chairman of the Senate Banking committee. Maybank had the FBI investi-

Association Studies TB Cases In County

A study of tuberculosis statistics in Gray County and further methods of checking its spread has been made by the Gray County Tuberculosis Association, according to Mrs. Finis Jordan, local organization president.

Twenty cases are indicated in the county, she said, and one county patient was admitted to a state operated TB hospital last year.

The study was made at a five-county regional meeting in Amarillo recently which was attended by Gray County members, Mrs. A. Ethel Anderson, B. R. Nuckols and H. A. Yoder.

In addition to Mrs. Jordan, other officers of the local association are Dr. J. F. Elder, 1st vice president; Sam Begert, 2nd vice president; B. R. Nuckols, treasurer; and Mrs. Anderson, executive secretary.

Executive committee members are Mrs. Mildred Lafferty, C. Henry Lane, and Mrs. G. F. Branson. Health and Education chairman is Homer Craig and medical advisor is Dr. Phillip Gates.

In charge of case finding is Mrs. W. F. Walsh. Seal Sale chairman is Mrs. McKinney and Mrs. Frank Carter is publicity chairman. Mrs. Carlton Nance handles special projects.

McLean Gets Stand Deal

McLEAN (Special) — Spencer Sitter, McLean School Board president, has announced that a contract has been let for the construction of a new grandstand at the McLean football stadium.

The stands were destroyed by fire last season about 2 a.m. on the night of the McLean-Memphis game.

The new structure will be of masonry foundation and risers with wood seats, 120 feet in length with eight tiers of seats. The structure will house a ticket office and on top will have an enclosed press box. The contract, awarded to Kenneth Marrow of Clarendon, is for $3,650 and work on the stands is to begin at once.

Varnon To Return Home On June 10

Ward 4 City Commissioner W.D. Varnon does not expect to return to Pampa until June 10, it was learned Saturday in a letter he wrote to City Manager B.H. Cruce.

Varnon is in Annapolis, Md., visiting son who is stationed there in the U.S. Navy. The commissioner was expected to return in time for the swearing in of the Ward 2 commissioner Tuesday.

Mrs. Varnon is also being treated for a leg ailment by doctors in Maryland, the commissioner said.

McLean Rites Held For Mrs. Sullivan

McLEAN (Special) — Funeral services for Mrs. Winifred Ann Sullivan, 88, were held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church, officiating were the Rev. S. R. Jones, and the Rev. J. Ed. Kerr.

Mrs. Sullivan died Friday afternoon in the home of a daughter in Amarillo.

She was born May 2, 1865, in Quincy, Ill. She came to Texas 76 years ago, and moved to McLean in 1915 from Shamrock. In 1890 she moved to Amarillo to live with her daughter, Mrs. Alton Wilson.

Burial was in the Hillcrest Cemetery with the Claborne Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include two sons, Jim Sullivan, Amarillo, and George Oscar Sullivan, Clearfield, Utah; two daughters, Mrs. Wilson, and Mrs. Beuna Gregory, Long Beach, Calif.; and 13 grandchildren and numerous great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Buel Watts, Boyd Reeves, John Moore, Dick Dickinson, all of McLean; Lee Wilson, Amarillo; and H. W. Brooks, White Deer.

PAMPA

AT A COST OF ABOUT $50 Pampa Youth Builds Own Telescope

By HENRY S. GORDON
Pampa News Staff Writer

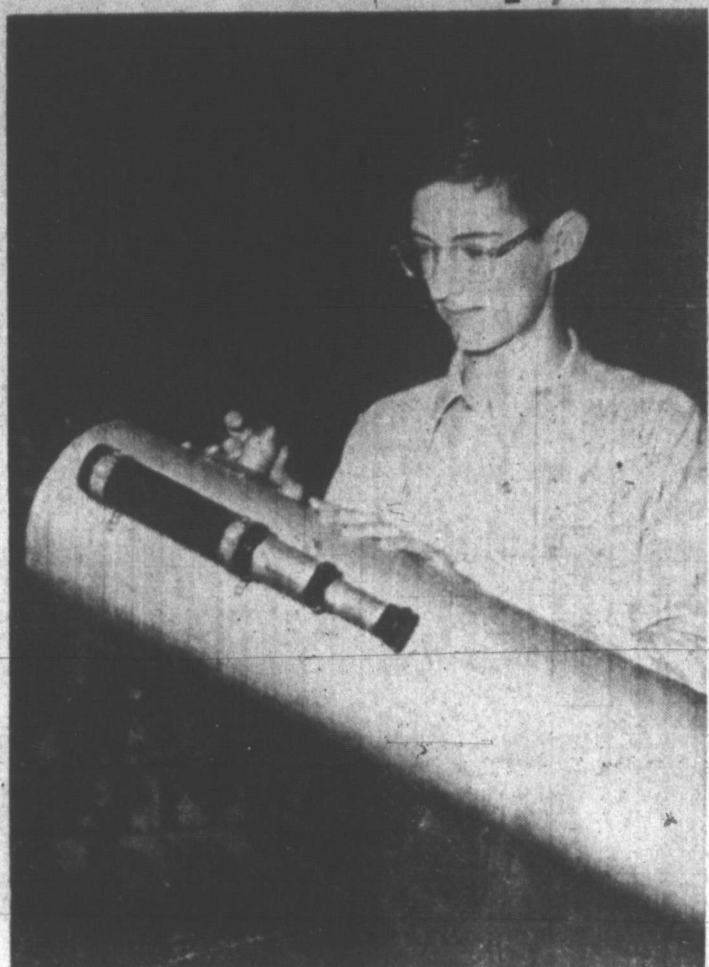

It takes a generous pile of spare cash or plenty of patience to get a fairly good closeup of the Moon, Venus, Mars, or Saturn with its mysterious rings. Conceive in shape, its curve inward is virtually invisible to the naked eye; it must be ground to the millionth of an inch.

With his lens on an orange crate, James worked his carborundum pads back and forth across the glass while at the same time walking around it. Test after test with a pinpoint of light through a can and a razor blade had to be made to check the accuracy of the grinding. The grades of the carborundum ranged from very coarse to very fine before the indenture of the reflector was ready for polishing with optical rouge.

WORKING ON the average of an hour to two hours at a time, it took almost six months before the reflector was ground, polished and ready for silvering. Actual grinding hours ran up to about six hours while the polishing took close to 24 hours.

The reflector's surface had to be constantly watched for fine flecks of dust. One particle would have scratched the surface enough to make it useless. This danger was more acute during the fine grinding portion of the operation.

The lens finally finished, it was sent away for silvering. Actually it was coated with aluminum, found to give a clearer image. The reflector tube is seven inches in diameter. A disk of plate glass six inches in diameter and close to one inch thick, had to be obtained from Vermont. This was one of the most important pieces since it was to be the reflector lens. The glass had to be ground and

ADJUST, THEN LOOK, is one of the main secrets of getting a good look at the solar system. Another secret is knowing what you are looking at, especially where to find it in the firmament. James Edwin Vicars, shown above, knows both of the secrets and has "traveled" through most of the solar system via his homemade telescope of 109-power. James is making an adjustment to the three-lens eyepiece just before taking a squint at Saturn. Rotation of the Earth is so swift the image of the planets moves off the field rapidly and the operator must be ready to move the scope accordingly. Winter months, James says, are the best months to look at the stars and planets. (News Photo)

Boot Offered On Deal... Hank Wants To Swap His Top For One A Straw Hat Will Fit

By HENRY McEMORE

Any of you want to swap heads with me?

I'm serious — so serious that I'd be willing to throw in something to boot, such as a Wauwatee print, riparian rights to a lot I own in Texarkana, or an autographed picture of myself in a diving belt.

Honesty forces me to admit that anyone who accepted my offer would be getting a sub-standard piece of merchandise. Oh, yes, the normal number of ears, noses, noses, foreheads, and cowlicks, and people don't gape when I go strutting by, but it isn't precisely right.

I know this to be true because each year as faithfully as Old Faithful spouts I beat my way to a haberdashery and try to buy a straw hat that will fit me.

I have tried on straw hats for going on four decades now and in many parts of the world, but the result is always the same.

There simply isn't a straw hat in the world that fits me and there never was one. This can be the fault of but one thing — my head. Millions and millions of men don't have this trouble and hat manufacturers go all out in providing straws of all shapes and flexibility.

I have tried all sorts of ways to change the shape of my head, some of them extremely painful. Three years ago, a few weeks before Straw Hat Day, I started sleeping with a large and heavy rock on my forehead. This is an attempt to make my forehead re-stretch so that when I put on a straw it wouldn't fit as if it had been slipped on the prow of a very narrow canoe.

Either my head is harder than a rock or I used the wrong type of stone for forehead bending because there was no change.

Another time I stopped up one ear and had an opera tenor blow into the other for three hours. This was done in the hope that my temples would puff out and fill in the spaces that are always between my head and my hat.

Only last year I paid a goodly sum to have a renowned phenologist beat me on the head with a hammer to see if he could smooth out a few bumps and chasms. He finally gave up and told me to stick to berets.

Yesterday I made my annual pilgrimage to a haberdashery. It was as fruitless as a rubber tree in Iceland. Not only that, but I came and brings objects aimed at 109 was supposed to land on, especially during the first quarter of the Moon when the sun is hitting it at an angle," he said.

"The first summer I had it working, I got little chance to see very much; everybody else was looking through it," James said.

Building the telescope is not the only hobby James has. He also builds his own miniature electric trains, the size known as HO gauge. Now, he has started taking piano lessons and after 12 months of study under a local teacher has come a pretty long way.

JAMES IS NOT sure what profession he will follow, but has a liking for the science of nuclear physics.

He plans also to improve his telescope in the near future by eliminating the small mirror and replacing it with a prism to increase the brightness of the images through the eyepiece.

City Water Uses Top 1952 Period

Despite winter's unexpected return Pampanos consumed more water during the first four days of the week they did for the same period last year.

Records in the city engineering office show that 10,466,925 gallons of water flowed through city mains during Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. For the same period last year only 9,731,875 gallons were consumed.

In 1952 the lowest reading for that four day period was 48 on May 12; the highest, 92 on May 14. This year the temperature went as far as 79 on May 11 and never again hit the 70s. The low came Thursday morning when the mercury registered 29.

On Monday, May 11, 4,356,425 gallons of water were consumed for the high production of the four-day period. One year ago on that date water consumption was only 1,375,375, that week's lowest consumption. There was only a six degree difference between the high of those two days, too. The high last year on May 11 was 73; this year it was 79. The lows

The RECORD SHOP

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — What's a recording session like? Come on along to the big RCA-Victor studio, and by the clattering Third Avenue El, and watch.

Sunny Gale is recording "Send My Baby Back to Me," Henri Rene and a pickup band back her up. RCA recording director — Hy Grill is at the controls, with two recording engineers in the next booth. A sprinkling of unexplained hangers-on stand around, snapping fingers and looking importat.

It is 2 p.m. The musicians are rehearsing their parts. Rene dances around, batonless, gesturing to demonstrate the feeling he wants his men to get. Yellow-haired Miss Gale is off to one side, singing to herself. The engineers are checking the things engineers check.

It is 2:30. The four miles are set, and the delicate process of "balancing" — getting the process of the band at the right distance from the mike — begins. Grill works hard, especially with the rhythm section. "Back off, Billy," he tells the guitarist. "A little less on the cymbals, Jack," he tells the drummer. "You're booming," he tells the bass man.

It is 2:45. "Sunny, on mike," Grill calls. Miss Gale goes to her spot, behind a big sound-deadening plywood-and-insulation baffle. The red light signaling the tape is rolling, flashes on. "B 3 BB 1093, Take A," the engineer reads into his mike. They play it through. Then they listen to it.

"It sounds dead," says Grill. "It sounds like an old dead fish," says Miss Gale. "Something wrong," says Rene.

It is 3:15. They are working on "B 3 BB 1093, Take D, meaning the fourth run-through of the number. "It's still dragging," says Grill. "It's too fast," says Miss Gale. "Let's split the difference," says Grill. They decided, besides a tempo change, the band needs to be rearranged. They move them around and that means a complete rebalancing. "B 3 BB 1093, Take E."

They play this one back, with all the musicians tapping their suede shoes as they listen. "Try it with a shuffle rhythm," somebody suggests. "Sunny, switch your 'Ps,'" the engineers say, "they're popping."

It is 3:45. They run through with the shuffle rhythm. "That's what it needed," Grill exclaims. "B 3 BB 1093, Take F." They're a little tired. "That does it," says Grill, "but, Sunny, the ending was weak. Let's do the last eight bars again, and Sunny, get your part." "It's over," they say. "That ending on later, Grill is happy, Miss Gale seems pleased.

It is 4:04. Two hours and four minutes to a side that will run a bit under three minutes. That's a record session.

CREATE LIVING MEMORIAL — The 5th Regimental Cavalry Team has raised $18,000 to fund a Boys' Town for Korean orphans on a Han River island, 12 miles from Seoul. The project will be a living memorial to men of the 5th who died in the Korean war. The $18,000, raised by two successive paydays, was increased to $21,700 by a collection taken by the Third Army at its Fort McPherson, Ga., headquarters. The Seoul Y. M. C. A. will manage the Boys' Town, which will be a combined farm and industrial school for 300 youngsters, 12 under 18 years old. Above, Col. W. P. Chisox Pilot Paul Richards High On Chico

NEW YORK, May 16-UP—Casey Stengel has his Mickey Mantle and Eddie Stanky in the Mustang but Paul Richards picks his Chico Carrasquel as "the greatest player in the world today."

"He makes plays that are unbelievable," said Richards, the dynamic manager of the hustling Chicago White Sox. "He makes plays that nobody ever dreamed of making."

The 25-year-old shortstop from Caracas, Venezuela, thus became the third entry in the controversy over the identity of the greatest player in the game now.

Manager Marjory Marion of the Browns started it by naming Mantle the greatest player in the game with Stengel, of course, agreeing. Stanky countered with the claim that it was "prema-ture" to name any player over Musial.

"Musial has won six batting titles and let's wait until somebody else wins six before rating him over Musial," Stanky said.

But Richards' rating of Carrasquel has nothing to do with batting titles.

"He's no 'out man,'" Richards argues. "And there's nobody who plays shortstop like he does."

"He's got a greater range than any other shortstop and he's got the arm to throw 'em out from deep short. In my opinion, he does things that no other player in the game today can do for his team."

The lean, outspoken manager of the White Sox also credits Carrasquel with being one of the leading forces in the Sox' aggressive play which has led the Yankees to believe they will be the No. 1 threat for the American League pennant.

McLean Tigers End Spring Grid Drills

McLEAN, May 16 (Special)—The McLean Tigers, members of District 1-A, wound up their spring training drills this week.

Hap Rogers, the newly appointed Tiger coach, conducted the spring drills, Rogers, who comes here from Amarillo where he has been head football coach at Price College High School, succeeds Don Leach as the Tiger grid coach.

Twenty-seven boys participated in the spring drills which in-

Tigers Extend Streak To Two

PHILADELPHIA, May 16-UP—The Detroit Tigers reached the estate of manhood Saturday when they defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 4-3 in their longest winning streak of the season—two games—ending their first series victory of the year.

The young Billy Hoef, who pitched three-hit ball for the first five innings before he left the game after pulling a tendon in his pitching arm, became the Tigers' winningest pitcher by getting his third victory against two losses.

The tendon pull will cost him at least one full month, it was announced. Hal Erickson, who relieved him, was fagged for Gus Zernial's fifth home run of the year in the sixth with one on.

Righthander Charley Bishop, dropping his second decision which has led the Yankees to believe they will be the No. 1 threat for the American League pennant, pitched the first three innings.

KIWANIS SOFTBALL LEAGUE

There will be a meeting of all church sponsors, ministers, Kiwanis Club members and anyone else who is interested in the upcoming Kiwanis Club Softball Program.

The meeting will be held Tuesday night at the County Court Room, starting at 7:30.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss this year's softball program for the kids.

All teams who are planning on entering this year's program are bearing down in workouts and one got the most promising seasons forecast. League play is only three weeks away.

The Central Baptist in the Senior League, will be gunning for their third straight playoff title when the firing begins the first week in June for the kid softballers.

The Baptists have lost only four games the past two years. Don Smith, a lad who has had much to do with the Central Baptist success, will again be with the team this season.

Smith, a pitcher, is believed to be the fastest pitcher in the Kiwanis Softball program.

Along with Don will be Gerald Beatty, Bobby Becker, Bobby Malone, Jimmy Malone, James White, Don Crump, Glen Adams and up from the junior team will be Cecil Reynolds, Gene Brown, Robert Noren, Allen Dean Holtman plus a few others.

The Central Baptist Junior team will also field a strong team despite loss of some of its "stars" to the Senior team.

Back from last year will be a Franklin Snow, Wade Brown, Tommy Murry, and David Marier.

The CB juniors won second in both season and playoff last summer.

H. A. Holtman will manage the Central Baptist Junior team.

Johnny Campbell of the Kiwanis Club will again ram-rod the softball league.

Dallas Leads Hitting In TL

By UNITED PRESS

Rain stymied play in the Texas League most of last week but it didn't keep the second-place Dallas Eagles from moving to the front in team batting from their low fourth spot last week. However, not one of the Eagles leads any department in hitting.

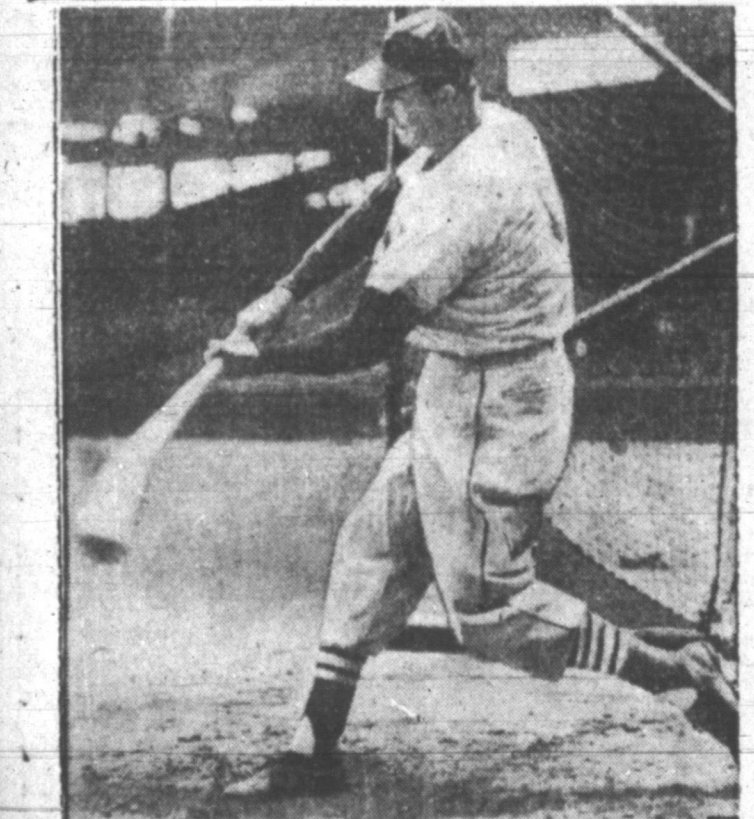

The San Antonio Missions have crowded in on Shreveport's monopoly in the various departments with Al Chocki leading the parade. Chocki—whose .331 average is more than any other player, has collected 38 hits and is tied with Fort Worth's Jim Baxes and teammate Rocco Ippolito in the important RBI column. All three have knocked in 24 runs.

Tulsa's George Lerchen, although he dropped 32 points from last week's .418 average still leads the sluggers with a .336 percentage, six points above second-place Earle Brucker of Beaumont. Other top hitters in the circuit and their averages are: Richard Rand of Houston, .339; Eddie Phillips of Houston, .358; Jodie Beeler of Dallas, .344 and Fred McGaha of Shreveport, .341.

Bob Balcells, another Mission, tops the loop in runs-scored with 22. Oklahoma City's Joe Frazier has doubled 13 times. John Paul Jones of Shreveport has collected five triples and Baxes has hit nine home runs to lead in their respective hitting departments. Edgar Bailey of Tulsa is second to Baxes in four-baggers with eight.

Cellar-dwelling Beaumont's main contribution to the pitchers' parade is Don Fracchia whose five victories without a loss is better than any other hurler. Dallas' Wayne McLeland is undefeated and has four wins to his credit while Fort Worth's Dan Stupur is next with a 3-0 record. Harry Wilson of San Antonio and Bill Glana of Fort Worth each have four wins against one loss.

Houston's Floyd Woodriddle who doesn't possess a winning record is the league's strikeout king with 31 but he is being pushed by the Oklahoma City's Indians' Bill Greason with 30 and Buff Twirler Octavio Rubert who has 29.

BAT-BENDING WORK—After going 1 for 24, Stanley Musial bent to the task of sharpening his eye in extra practice in the batting cage at St. Louis' Busch Stadium. The Cardinals' six-time National League batting champion returned from the first eastern trip with a .233 average. (NEA)

Would Be First Catcher To Win It... Campanella Seeks Triple Bat Crown

NEW YORK, May 16-UP—Baseball, as well as racing, has its "triple crown" and Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers is making a determined effort to be the first catcher ever to win it.

The stocky right-handed slugger, who won the National League's most valuable player award in 1951, took the lead Saturday in the three major offensive departments—batting average, home runs and runs batted in. No catcher has won a batting title since Ernie Lombardi in 1942 and no receiver ever has won the homer or RBI title.

Campanella, however, topped the league with a .378 average and had 10 home runs and driven in 40 runs. His average tops Johnny Wyrostek of the Phillies by only one point but he has an edge of three homers over Ed Mathews of the Milwaukee Braves and a mar-

Winner Takes All... Big Train, Mackay Are Rematched

The heat will really be on at the Southern Club Sports Arena Tuesday night when Big Train and Clements again meets Roger Mackay.

Promoter Howard Vineyard didn't have much trouble getting the angry opponents to sign up for a match. "Big Train" lost the final and deciding fall last week in their fierce meeting, but lost it by a disqualification. He contested the decision violently, even knocking the referee down several times.

Mackay was the crowd's favorite from the outset, but had his hands full all night with the ruggish "Big Train." Mackay, the tall handsome youth from Salt Lake City says that he will make a clear cut decision this week.

The fans would no doubt like to see Mackay win two straight falls from Big Train, as the Train is perhaps the most "unloved" of all grapplers ever to appear here. Most fans admit that he is among the roughest, and his appearance always draws big houses.

Taking the time limit off, and paying the winner all the purse adds considerably to the ruggedness of the match, as the loser not only suffers a physical beating, but goes home empty handed.

Buck Lipscomb, the tough guy from Eugene, Oregon, comes back to this week's matches and meets Billy Weidner in the two out of three fall, 45 minute semi-final. Lipscomb had a very rugged match indeed here last week, as he always does, so Weidner is in for a tough night. Weidner, veteran of the ring, can handle most trouble that comes his way, and will doubtless have to handle lots of it with Lipscomb.

In the twenty minute opener, young Alex "Toro" Perez tangles with salty Benny Trudell. Trudell was unable to appear here last week as scheduled because of his involvement in the tornado downstate, but will be here this week and give Toro all the misery he can stand. Perez, a former Golden Gloves boxing champion, will dish out plenty of licks himself when Trudell starts the violence.

Fans sensed the rematch of last week's main event and started making reservations early. Prices will not be advanced for this unusual event, but fans are urged to get their tickets at the Sportsman's Store during the day Tuesday until 8:00.

Tickets go on sale at the Southern Club Sports Arena Tuesday evening at 7:00 p. m. Matches begin at 8:15.

To Run Saturday Dark Star, Native Dancer Are Preakness Favorites

BALTIMORE, May 16-UP—A field of 10 colts appeared as likely starters Saturday for the 77th running next Saturday of the $100,000 Preakness, the richest event since the run for the Black-eyed Susans was started in 1873.

Headed by Native Dancer and Dark Star, the field of probabilities for the race also includes Invigorator, Magic Lamp, Real Brother, Jamie K., Royal Bay Gem, Correspondent, Tahitian King and Isasmoothie. Three other mounts considered possible but not probable starters are Money Broker, Ace Destroyer and Decorated.

If 10 horses go to the post Saturday it will make the Preakness the same size as it was last year when the event was won by Blute Man. If 13 starters are named it will be the largest field in the race since 1928.

But advance predictions on the Preakness aren't concerned so much with the size of the field as they are with the merits of Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Native Dancer and Cain Hoy Stable's Dark Star. The Dancer, by his unexpected defeat in the Kentucky Derby by Dark Star, will be out for revenge. And despite that loss in the Derby Native Dancer is expected to be the Preakness favorite at about 6-5.

It probably will be the Dancer and Dark Star that will draw most of the track fans for the race at "old hilltop." The chance to see the two horses matched again in a title crown event is expected to attract a crowd of around 40,000. The race also will be televised to millions more sport fans throughout the country.

The purse arrangement in the Preakness also is expected to insure a good field. First place money in the race if 10 entries go to the post is expected to gross about $69,000. Second place will be worth $25,000. Show money will be $15,000 and the fourth place finisher will earn a purse of $7,500.

NOT SWIMMING—Cleveland shortstop Ray Boone looks like he's swimming through the air as he fires ball to first after making a force out at second on Yankee Billy Martin in the opening inning of game in New York Wednesday. Boone's throw doubled up Irv Noren who had bounced to second sacker Bobby Avila. The Yankees took the up-hill game from the Indians 4-1. (NEA Telephone)

WILL BE UNLUCKY FOR PHS 117—Harvester football fans, as well as the coaches, certainly hope that 13 won't be unlucky for the Green and Gold gridders next fall as that is the number of returning lettermen from the 1952 squad. The 13 boys are pictured here and will be seen in action Friday night at Harvester Stadium when they tackle the Exes in the annual spring tilt. The letterman who won't see action Friday is Bobby Wilhelm, a scrapping defensive back. Wilhelm suffered a fractured arm at the tip of his shoulder in workouts two weeks ago. The starting lineup for Friday will likely come from these 13 lettermen. Game time Friday has been set for 8 p.m. The tilt will wind up the spring training activities for the Harvesters.

PHS Gridders End Spring Drills Friday; To Meet Exes

The 1953 edition of the Harvester gridders will wind up their spring training activities Friday night when they take on the big brothers — the graduating seniors off last year's squad — in a regulation game at Harvester Park.

The Harvesters have been in spring training three weeks and will begin their fourth and final week tomorrow, climaxing the 30-day session with a game against the Exes Friday.

Thirteen Harvester lettermen will lead the future Harvesters in Friday's tilt. The starting lineup will likely come from this group but Coach Tom Tipps said Saturday it is very possible that a newcomer might break into the lineup by Friday.

As it stands now, all probable starters for the Harvesters Friday night are lettermen.

There have been two changes made during the spring training. Harold Lewis, who lettered last season as a halfback, will take over the starting fullback post which was left vacant by the graduation of David Enloe.

The other change is in the line where Ronnie Elliott, a returning letterman tackle, has been shifted to guard where Alton Elynn is the only returning letterman at this post.

All others will remain "set" at their 1952 positions. Coach Tipps gave the following starters for Friday night's tilt but said there could be some changes made between now and game time:

Ends — James Phippen and Bobby Holder.
Tackles — Don Prigmore and Charles Jordan.
Center — James Hawkins.
QB — J. N. Wright.
HB — Ed Dudley and John Darry.

FB — Harold Lewis.

One of the 13 lettermen will not see action Friday night. He is Bobby Wilhelm, a fullback, who suffered a broken arm early in the spring training session. Wilhelm has just about recovered from the injury but isn't ready for contact work. He will suit out tomorrow for the first time since his injury to brush up on the plays.

Another Harvester is on the sidelines due to injury. Buddy Sharpe, up from the Reapers. He received a broken hand two weeks ago. He has been suiting out in recent workouts but has been held out of contact work.

Forty-six boys have been participating in the spring drills. In addition to the 13 lettermen, the others are as follows:

Ends — Bill Culppepper, Jimmy Greene, Marion Stone, Jon Cantrell and Walker Bird.

Unearned Runs Aid Porterfield To Win

WASHINGTON, May 16-UP—Given a big lift with five unearned runs in the first inning, Bob Porterfield pitched the Washington Senators to a 6-0 victory over the St. Louis Browns Saturday for his second straight shutout and his fourth triumph in a row.

Second Baseman Bobby Young of the Browns ruined lefty Harry Brecheen's hopes for a victory with one out in the first inning by fumbling a routine double-play ground-er. After that, the Senators sent 10 men to bat as they scored five runs.

Brecheen, who lost his fifth straight without a victory since joining the Browns, was knocked out in two thirds of an inning.

Horse Races Break Juvenile 'Bookie'

IRVINGTON, N. J., May 16-UP—A 15-year-old "bookie" told police Saturday he nearly went broke taking horse race bets from his school-mates.

The youth, whose name was not disclosed, said he learned the secrets of bookmaking from magazine articles and set up shop recently with earnings from his part-time job in department store.

He juggled his odds desperately but couldn't come out ahead, he said. Last week he lost his whole $16 salary.

'Hate The Yanks Campaign' Disturbs World Champions

NEW YORK, May 16-UP The "hate the Yankees" campaign was against us," he said. "It's just what growing stronger all around the American League Friday and the fans in the stands give us a worse Yankee players feel they knew the reason why.

"Some people are just getting fed up with us winning so much," said second baseman Billy Martin, "so they show their feelings by disliking us."

Outfielder Gene Woodling claimed the "hate the Yankees" campaign stems from the fact that the seven rival clubs try extra hard to beat New York.

Only Natural

"There's nothing wrong with the other clubs trying to knock us off," Woodling pointed out. "That's the way it should be, shouldn't it? We are the champions and it would be too bad if they didn't try everything they knew to beat us."

Woodling felt that the players on the opposing clubs have no grudge against the Yankee players personally.

"I'm pretty sure none of the other players have anything personal against us," he said. "It's just what we stand for. In a lot of towns, the fans in the stands give us a worse working-over than the opposing players do."

"Chicago is about the roughest town in the league for us. The fans really give it to us there and when the White Sox beat us, they're in seventh heaven."

Pitcher Ray Scarborough, who was with the Senators, White Sox and Red Sox before coming to the Yankees, said every club he was with previously bore down a little extra against New York.

"There was always a little added incentive to beating the Yankees," he said. "It made you feel that you had accomplished something. After all, everyone likes to be better than the best and that's the way you'd feel whenever you licked the Yankees."

Nothing Personal

"But there never was any personal animosity involved. There was no reason for it. The Yankee players, personally, are as fine a bunch of guys as I've ever played with — and I played with some good fellows since I've been in the league."

Want to make a quick getaway?

THE nearest we can come to word-picturing for you how it feels to drive a 1953 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflo[®] is this:

When you toe the gas treadle, you can get away like silken lightning in a silent hurry.

More specifically, you can sweep your speedometer needle from zero to a legal 30 mph in the time you normally take two breaths.

Equally important, you get this dazzling getaway with whisper quiet — and with one smooth, progressive build-up of velvety power.

The literal truth is — no other car in all the world can get away with the combined quickness, quiet and utter smoothness of a 1953 Buick with TT Dynaflo.

It takes more than the advanced new engineering of this fully automatic transmission to produce such thrilling performance, of course.

It takes power, too.

And that's here in full measure — the highest horsepowers and compression ratios, Series for Series, in Buick's fifty great years — with the world's most advanced V8 engine powering the SUPER and ROADMASTER.

There's a lot more you get in any 1953 Buick in generous and hard-to-match measure — room, comfort, ride steadiness, visibility — and, above all, value.

But these are things you must discover for yourself — as you must the greatest Buick performance in history.

Harvester Cagers Down Exes In Windup, 76-49

The Harvester basketballers, who will represent Pampa High School Green and Golders were never next winter, were too much for their former teammates — the graduating seniors of this year's state championship team — in a Friday night game, the Exes winning by a 76-49 count. The game ended the Harvesters' spring training session.

The two Harvesters who made the all-state team this past season, Jimmy Bond and Fred Woods, were the scoring leaders in Friday night's tilt, Woods canning 26 points for the Exes and Bond dunking in 25 for the Futures.

Woods took up where he left off in the 1952-53 season in Friday's game. The 6-2 forward had 26 points in the Harvesters' final game which was the state championship tilt. The Harvesters winning the title, 61-47, from the Austin Maroons.

Friday's game was a nip and tuck affair through most of the first quarter but the future Harvesters pulled away late in the period and the Exes never threatened the lead.

The last lead the Exes held was Woods' two-pointer that sent his team ahead, 9-8. But Bond came right back to connect from the

 - BOLIVIA: National Revolutionary Government is confused about its politics and the extent of its allegiance to communism. Not important strategically, but vital for tin.
 - CHILE: Carlos Ibáñez government is unknown quantity. Seems closely aligned with Juan Peron of Argentina.
 - ARGENTINA: Peron leading proponent of South American nationalism. Demands as demagogic appeal to the masses and their hostility toward the U.S.
 - URUGUAY: Led by Getulio Vargas, Brazil is friendly to the U.S., and is ready to cooperate fully in Latin American defense. Communist threat here than any other nation in South America.
 - PARAGUAY: Leads money into under pressure from Peron, whose government has made economic difficulties because the accepted Peron aid from the U.S.
 - BRAZIL: Banks as one of the most cooperative Latin American countries. There have been long wranglings over ratification of U.S. military assistance.

WHAT'S DOING WITH SOUTHERN NEIGHBORS?—Anti-U. S. sentiment has been growing among the "good neighbors" of South America. It has been spread by nationalists, President Peron of Argentina, and Communist elements who have used "Yankee imperialism" as their key phrase in smearing the U. S. President Eisenhower recognized the critical situation by sending his brother, Milton, as an envoy to study Latin American relations. Newsmag shows status of the 10 most important South American nations and the important resources of each. The Mutual Assistance Agreement provides that the U. S. and the other signatories agree to exchange materials for defense and cooperate in their use when necessary.

Camp Pendleton, Calif.—A Skellytown, Tex., Marine, trained to fight with Marines, recently fought against them. He was PFC Roy Tom Phillips, 18, who helped invade and capture Camp Pendleton from the hands of an "enemy" force composed of fellow Marines.

Called "Operation Sea Jump," the training exercise was the largest Navy-Marine maneuver on the West Coast since 1948. It involved 24,000 Marines, 30,000 Navy men, more than 150 ships, and 230 aircraft.

PACIFIC FLEET (FMFPAC)—Taking part in "Operation Sea Jump," a large scale amphibious training exercise off the coast of Southern California, is Tommie A. Thornburg, engineer third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy D. Thornburg of Box 144, White Deer, Tex., serving aboard the fleet oiler, US Passumpsic.

THE climax of the exercise will be a full scale land assault by FORCE TROOPS, FMFPAC amphibious forces supported by air units and helicopter landing attack forces, against an "enemy" entrenched at Camp Pendleton, Oceaside, Calif.

Pvt. Carroll D. Bozarth, 19, U. S. Marine, son of Mrs. E. N. Bozarth, Pampa, has completed his recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.

Having qualified as a rifle sharpshooter, Pvt. Bozarth is now undergoing four weeks of individual combat training at Camp Pendleton, Calif. Upon completion, he will be assigned to a technical training school or to a Marine unit in the United States or abroad.

A former student of Pampa High School, Bozarth was employed by the Cabot Companies prior to his entry into the service.

The skeleton of the oldest known horse is estimated to be 45,000 years old. Found in Wyoming, the fossil stands 11 inches high.

Sewer Billing Mix-Up Found By Water-Sewer Department

A recent survey conducted by the Pampa water and sewer department disclosed 150 residences have been on the sewer system without paying a dime, anywhere from 3 to 13 years. At least another 35 were on the system under one to five fixtures, being billed the minimum.

City Manager B. H. Cruce said he intends to recommend to the commission to make a study on the present billing system with the possibility of changing it from a fixture rate to a water consumption rate.

Currently the city charges a 50-cent monthly minimum for the first five fixtures and 10 cents per fixture, over five. The minimum five fixtures in the ordinary house, Cruce counted off, are: a bathtub, commode, lavatory, kitchen sink and hot water heater.

As a result of the survey, Cruce added, those who were not on the sewer bill at all were charged back to Jan. 1, 1953, and those who were on the minimum had their additional fixtures charged since Jan. 1.

"Even then," he said, "some of the problem under advisement and study.

The new system — if the commission ever adopts it — would be governed by the amount of water used by the customer, Cruce said. Then, when the customer goes on the lawn rate during the summer adjustments would be made accordingly.

The city manager said he was not recommending that the revision be made, but would recommend that the commission take problem under advisement and study.

Mexico Paper Raps Argentina

MEXICO CITY, May 15—UP—The newspaper Excelsior commented Friday that Argentine restrictions on U.S. news agencies are "an outrage to democracy, an insult to the civilized world, a snafu for (Latin) America, and a disgrace to Argentina."

A columnist said President Juan D. Peron's policies "have ruined the Argentine economy," and that Peron cracked down on the news agencies "to prevent news of the disaster from reaching the world."

The Argentine government has issued orders preventing the United Press, the Associated Press and the International News service from receiving foreign news and restricting their distribution of news within the country.

The Halifax disaster occurred in Nova Scotia, Dec. 6, 1917. An ammunition ship collided with another vessel and 1500 people were killed.

Summer Styles

MAMIE EISENHOWER'S BANGS have kinda gone with the clippers and hair stylists have started looking for new inspiration for the summer look. They can't always count on someone prominent coming along like Mrs. Eisenhower and her bangs. There was the poodle cut; then they looked in the history books for help. They came up with Christopher Columbus' page boy cut. Later they used the George Washington dignified version of a pony tail. Of course, Washington's hair was tied sedately and hung over his collar instead of being pulled up on the back of his head. Julius Caesar is the most recent copy. He wore a close-fitting coiffure that has been used in the new "cap cut." And Napoleon inspired the fringe cut.

THESE LATEST STYLES have more outline than detail. In some versions the new casual haircuts resemble flapper days. With a shake of the head the hair should fall back into place without re-combing. It is supposed to return to its original state, which is definitely casual, but not, the stylists insist, disheveled. The only thing missing in this hairline from the giddy flapper days is the lack of lacquered spicurls.

Mrs. Euna Lee Moores, also of Moores, designed the smooth coiffure for MRS. L. J. ZACHRY, 1310 Williston. MRS. JOE A. MITCHELL, 1115 Charles, MRS. MRS. JOSEPH V. VERSTRAETE

Russell-Verstraete Vows Are Exchanged In Holy Souls Catholic Church Here

Holy Souls Catholic Church was the scene of the recent marriage of Miss Pauline Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Russell of Miami, to Joseph V. Verstraete, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Verstraete of Kansas City, Mo.

The Rev. Francis J. Kunz read the double-ring ceremony before an altar adorned with white flowers.

Organ selections including "Traumerel" and "Ave Maria" by Schubert were played by Miss Adeline Craig who was attired in a pastel blue ballerina-length gown with matching half-hat and elbow mitts. She carried a nosegay of yellow-cymbidium-orchids.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length dress of lace over satin. The fitted bodice featured a Peter Pan collar and long fitted sleeves. Her elbow-length veil of silk Blusion fell from a face-framing headpiece of lace trimmed with pearls. She carried a bouquet of cymbidium orchids centered with a white orchid and showered with silver streamers.

Eldersmaid was Miss Adeline Craig who was attired in a pastel blue ballerina-length gown with matching half-hat and elbow mitts. She carried a nosegay of yellow-cymbidium-orchids.

Nolty-Kennedy Vows Repeated

MIAMI (Special) — Sunburst bouquets of gold and orchid iris featured the setting for the marriage of Miss Kathryn Nolty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Nolty of Miami, to Earl Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kennedy of Dover, Okla., recently in the First Baptist Church here.

Rev. Ray Manning, pastor, read the single-ring service.

Miss Juanita Haynes, organist, played a prelude of nuptial selections including "Traumerel" and "Bridal Song," and accompanied Miss Barbara Keohn in singing "Because" and "I Love You Truly." "Clair de Lune" was played as background music during the ceremony and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was used as processional and recessional.

Misses Kathryn McFarlin and Pat Branson of Borger registered the guests and acted as ushers.

Miss Margaret Barton, bridesmaid, was attired in a pink sheer dress with a white lace half-hat and white accessories. Her corsage was white gardenias.

Jack Tadlock of Borger was best man.

Entering with her father who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a costume of navy sheer featuring a shirred bodice and ballerina-length skirt with a white lace half-hat. She carried a white orchid and showered with streamers tied in love-knots.

Mrs. Nolty, mother of the bride, wore a two-piece dusty-rose dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Kennedy, mother of the bride, wore a coffee sheer suit with pink hat and blouse. Her corsage was pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony the bridal party was feted at a reception in a wing of the church. Mrs. Grady Bailey presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. J. C. Williamson served the wed-

Sam Houston PTA Has Program And Business Meeting

Sam Houston Parent-Teachers Association met recently for a special program which included the investment of officers. Mrs. Ed Williams had charge of the program. She introduced Bob Stroble, educational director of the First Baptist Church, who gave the thought for the day. Mrs. D. A. Finkelstein introduced Judge J. B. Maguire Jr., who was the guest speaker. His subject was "Appreciate Your Neighbor."

The entertainment included a concert by the Sam Houston Band directed by Charles Maech. Mrs. Guy Andis, incoming president, announced the committee chairman, Mrs. Doyle Osborne and Mrs. Aubrey Steele, representatives to the City Council; Mrs. Ben Brookner, publicity; Mrs. Frank Terhune, publications; Mrs. Joe Hawkins, hospitality; Mrs. Homer Johnson, procedures and by-laws; Mrs. Truman Cooper, summer round-up; Mrs. Faye Stowall, student aid; Mrs. Frank Carter, room representative; Mrs. Charles Thomas, study course; Mrs. Doyle Osborne, legislature; Mrs. Johnny Hines, telephone; Mrs. Bud Cumberland, safety chairman; Mrs. Carlton Nance, program chairman; Mrs. E. A. Johnson, radio chairman. Mrs. Ed Williams and Mrs. Sam Beget will assist Mrs. Nance on her committee.

Other members attending included Meses J. B. Maguire Jr., B. H. Cruce, M. McDaniel, Zela Pulliam, Joe Hawkins, Paul Brown, E. E. Shelhamer, James Hopkins, Clyde Bowman, Jack Foster and John Nutting.

Peg O' Pampa

WHOOPI! IT WAS BACK to the attic last week to drag out some of those winter clothes that Peg had so carefully put away the week before. . . and now it's like picking the petals off daisies. . . shall I or shall I not put them away? The only thing that wasn't a surprise was that Mr. Peg hadn't gotten around to turning off the pilot light on the furnace. . . so we had heat at least, fortunately.

IT'S NOT TOO LONG UNTIL school is out for the summer. . . and you can tell the young-uns are getting eager with anticipation. Peg wants to congratulate the seniors who are being graduated from Pampa High and wish them success in whatever field they choose. . . whether it is in college, in business or in homemaking. There are shoes to be filled and shoes to be fitted, but whatever the case is Peg knows these young people will display initiative and ability in getting the job done.

WELL, IT IS THAT TIME of the year when clubwomen are having their last meeting of their club year. . . when the new officers are installed and last-minute business attended to. Officers for Mmes. L. H. HART and M. E. COOPER who were installed as president and vice president of 20th Century Culture; Mmes. LLOYD HICKS and GEORGE VINEYARD, president and vice president of 20th Century; Mmes. SAM COOK and CARLTON NANCE, president and vice president of El Progresso; Mmes. JAMES LEVERICH and J. W. GRAHAM JR., president and vice president of 20th Century Allegro; Mmes. J. G. CARROLL and H. B. BUTLER, president and vice president of Varietas Study Club; Mmes. AUBREY STEELE and BRUCE PRATT, president and vice president of 20th Century Forum; and Mmes. REX ROSE and TOM BRALY, officers of Parent Education Club.

SAW ENSIGN BILL HUTCHINSON home on leave from Rhode Island where he was in training. Seeing Bill reminded Peg of the wonderful job he did in directing those plays at West Texas State. You know it would be nice to organize a Little Theater here. Pampa used to have one several years ago, but the organization disbanded. With all the new families coming in, Peg bets there is some hidden talent somewhere just waiting and perhaps wishing for just such a little theater group to be formed. It would give people a chance to get acquainted and to have a lot of fun besides. And people like to see their next door neighbor or maybe even the town mayor up on the stage playing the part of a butler or gangster. Let's have some mail on this if you're interested. . . who knows, maybe Mr. Peg has just been itching all these years to play Hamlet and as in Hamlet. . . "The play's the thing" "To be or not to be, that, is the question."

WITH A HOT SUMMER coming on we'll all be drinking more ices, lemonade and punch, but for "a drink you eat" here is a wonderful recipe called Pineapple Temptation so when you serve it, don't be surprised to hear your guests holler for more:
1 pt. vanilla ice cream 1 1/2 tablespoons grated lemon rind
2 pt. lemon sherbet 2 cups ginger ale
2 cups canned pineapple juice 6 sprigs fresh mint (optional)
2 tablespoons lemon juice
In a large bowl, let ice cream and sherbet soften slightly at room temperature. Add juices and 1 tablespoon rind, with egg beater, or electric mixer at low speed, beat until frothy. Add ginger ale; beat slightly until foamy. Serve in chilled glasses, garnished with rest of rind and mint. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

ONE OF THE WISEST men in the history of our country as most of you know was Benjamin Franklin. . . and something he said concerning "How to Win an Argument" would well be worth remembering every once in a while. "The way to convince another is to state your case moderately and accurately. Then scratch your head, or shake it a little and say that is the way it seems to you, but that of course you may be mistaken about it; which causes your listener to receive what you have to say, and as like as not, turn about and try to convince you of it, since you are in doubt. But if you go him in a tone of positiveness and arrogance you only make an opponent of him."

JUST HEARD THAT Mr. and Mrs. W. C. de CORDOVA of Houston are the grandparents of a boy named GARY WENDELL. Momma and papa of GARY are Mr. and Mrs. W. KIMBRO who also reside in Houston. I remember when Mrs. Kimbro, the former CLAUDE de CORDOVA, was pun-up girl for Pampa High School.

Manners Make Friends
Here are a few don'ts when you are visiting a patient in a hospital. Don't ask if you may smoke if the patient isn't smoking. Don't stay over 20 minutes. Don't bring the patient bad news. Don't laugh and talk loudly. And remember what Emerson said: "You may talk on all subjects save one, namely, your malady." And that's the most important "Don't."

MISS VIOLET C. REIGEL and Gaynor L. Abbot, USN, were married recently at the First Baptist Church of Los Lunas, N. M., with Rev. J. Malcolm Prince officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Riegel, 1232 S. Wilcox, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. W. L. Cooke of Stoddard, Wis. The bride is a graduate of Pampa High School and is now serving with the Women's Air Force. They will make their home in Albuquerque where they are stationed.

Tips For Tasks
After cleaning door knobs, hinges and other hardware, apply a thin coat of fresh white shellac to keep them bright longer.
When buying washable garments, consider whether fabric is suited to light or heavy duty. Choose sturdy fabrics for garments that must be tubbed frequently and take long washing cycles.

Ladies Are Guests At Kiwanis Meet

A Ladies Day gathering of Pampa Kiwanians was on hand at the weekly meeting to view movies on the championship basketball game between Pampa High School and Austin High School.

Shown by Earl McConnel, local movie enthusiast, the films showed many of Pampa's fast-breaking plays that brought the state championship to this Top o' Texas city. Six wives of Kiwanians whose wedding anniversaries fall in the month of May were present at the Friday noon get-together.

Other guests included four males, one of them a Pampa Lion. Other business comprised the choosing of Kiwanians to man a sound truck Tuesday in Ward 3 for Pampa's clean-up campaign and the announcement of a Grandview School picnic Thursday noon to which the public is invited.

Presiding in the absence of President Clinton Evans was J. B. Maguire Jr., chairman of the interclub relations committee. Head The News Classified Ads!

EDSON IN WASHINGTON

USCC Goes Liberal, Holding National Interest Foremost

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA)—The U.S. Chamber of Commerce, which has never been considered exactly a left-wing outfit, has, nevertheless, gone liberal on many of its new policy declarations. The Chamber this year went on record in favor of repeal of the Buy American act, which has been on the statute books since 1933. It called for encouragement of increased imports into the United States, with the national interest, rather than local interest, determining what goods should be admitted under lower tariffs. Finally, the Chamber approved a partial resumption of trade with countries behind the Iron Curtain, though insisting that shipments of strategic materials should be embargoed.

Commerce, as a peaceful means of maintaining relationships with such countries (behind the Iron Curtain) could be singularly effective in penetrating their isolation," says the new USCC policy statement on East-West trade. "Severance of all trade relations with those countries... would in some cases be more harmful to the free world than to countries behind the Iron Curtain... Absolute embargo of the Soviet bloc would be cited by the Kremlin and Communist elements in other areas and thus, serve as a powerful propaganda weapon. The result of the new foreign trade policy for America's largest business organization is expected to mean official opposition to Republican advocates of a higher tariff in Congress. More specifically, it will mean opposition to amendments on extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements act, as proposed by Rep. Richard M. Simpson, Pennsylvania Republican. Chamber spokesmen to testify

The Simpson amendments would raise the tariff on lead and zinc, put import quotas on foreign-produced petroleum, pack the U. S. Tariff Commission with advocates of higher tariff and take a way from the President his present powers to lower tariff rates. These proposals are riders on a bill to extend the trade agreements act for one year beyond its expiration date of June 12. President Eisenhower has requested a simple extension, pending restudy of the entire foreign trade question. Criticisms on the Simpson amendments are now being held by the House Ways and Means Committee, A. B. Sparboe, vice president of Pillsbury Mills and chairman of the U. S. Chamber's trade policy committee, is now scheduled to testify before this committee May 18. Richard L. Bowditch of Boston, a coal and oil exporter and newly-elected president of the U. S. Chamber, was formerly chairman of this trade policy group. Bowditch and Sparboe have taken a leading part in shaping the Chamber's declarations along more liberal lines. In view of these new policy statements it is not considered possible that U. S. Chamber spokesmen can support the Simpson amendments. How far they will go in opposing them, however, has not been determined. Foreign trade is only one area in which the 300 or more Chamber of Commerce policy declarations followed new lines. In general, this trend was towards putting the national interest above special interest. Envoiced Aid On the matter of federal aid for highway construction, there was a one proposal—principally from the big trucking interests—that this aid be confined to interstate commerce roads. That proposal was beaten down. Continued aid for secondary roads was endorsed. Toll roads were also approved. In policy declarations on forestry matters, the curtailment of activities by cut-and-run sawmills was recommended. Instead, it was proposed that all timber cutting be done on a sustained-yield basis, in the interests of conservation. It was also recommended that private capital pay back to the federal government the cost of forest-access roads. Construction of subsidized housing was opposed as usual, but the issue was put right up to local communities that they should solve their own slum clearance problems. For the first time, businessmen were asked to support a higher education was one of their responsibilities. It would probably be too much to expect that the business community would favor no tax reductions until the budget is balanced, as the U. S. Chamber has true to form on this one. Instead, it recommended that individual income taxes be cut at the same time excess profit taxes expire, on June 30. All federal economic controls were opposed in principle, but endorsement was given to the idea that the President be authorized to freeze prices and wages for 90 days in an emergency.

Mrs. Stover To End 30-Year Career

By DOLORES DAVIS
Pampa News Staff Writer

"Thirty years is long enough." That numerical "30" which is long enough refers to a small, dark-haired Pampa teacher with a penchant for travel who is going to retire this year after 30 years of teaching.

She is Mrs. Espar Stover, 417 N. Yeager, who has spent 23 of her 30 years at the helm of a classroom in Pampa schools.

Pampa has doubled in size since she conducted her first class here. And the trees that were so small have grown, she says, much like the numerous children that have through the years become adults, taken their place in business life, married, and in turn sent their children to Mrs. Stover to be taught the three R's.

She was graduated from Baker University, one of the oldest colleges in Kansas with an A. B. degree, where she studied to be a high school Latin teacher.

SHE TAUGHT Latin, Greek and modern languages for 6 years then became an elementary teacher in Horace Mann School.

"If anyone had told me I would teach school 30 years when I started I would have told them they were crazy," she said. "But I've enjoyed it."

She began teaching during the depression to keep her daughter in college.

The year her daughter, now Mrs. John M. Hooper, was graduated from Baker University, her husband died.

After that it followed that she continue in the profession for which she was prepared.

At the time she went to college there were few fields open to women other than teaching and consequently she has never considered anything else, according to Mrs. Stover.

AFTER TEACHING four years in Horace Mann School under Miss Josephine Baker, principal, she went to Woodrow Wilson where she has been a third grade teacher in intimate connection with the person with such a long term the last 19 years.

There have been few changes, went to Woodrow Wilson where she has been a third grade teacher the last 19 years.

A person with such a long term in intimate connection with the teaching methods has ample opportunity to observe any changes or differences in subject presentation.

But according to Mrs. Stover, there have been few changes. Teaching, she said, has gone in a cycle and is now returning to the old methods more and more.

As to the supposed "progressive" schooling, it has always been in effect, she suggests. Now it is taught in teacher's colleges prior to the novice classroom leader's first time before a group of students. But it has always been a part of the teachers' classroom form in that it was learned by a trial and error method.

The majority of her students have fallen in the "average" category, she said. Out of a class of 40, average five below and the remaining 35 about the same.

And Mrs. Stover, says, you can't tell how a child will turn out in comparison to their third grade abilities. Many who seemed retarded or in a below average group have become more successful than the apparently more gifted students.

THIS INDICATES, she believes, that subjects taught in school simply don't always cover a latent aptitude in the student which is later developed.

And while numerous remarks are made about uncooperative parents, Mrs. Stover says she has never found an uncooperative parent in Pampa.

Subjects she teaches in the third grade include arithmetic, social studies, reading, spelling, music and art, planned recreation, plus a general development of individual personalities.

Planned recreation is no chore, though, she muses, as at the age of eight the children enjoy anything.

One thing she has always noted but never been able to figure out is the "seasonal recreations" that all children seem to intrinsically know without any guide from an adult.

These play interests have been prevalent through the years and include such things as jumping rope in the fall and jacks and marbles in the spring.

What urge brings these recreations to children's minds at those

A STOP TO START—Mrs. Espar Stover, 417 N. Yeager, "stops" teaching this year after 30 years to "start" a number of interests for which she has never had time. One of these interests is traveling and in a typical pose she looks through one of the numerous magazines she has of "other places." The last 19 of 23 years in Pampa schools has been at Woodrow Wilson. (News Photo) seasons, she doesn't know, but 30 years of dealing with children have found them always there.

NOW THAT SHE is retiring, Mrs. Stover is going to realize a long standing ambition. Travel in April and October. During those two months her wanderlust arises in her but daily classes always interfere.

This will no longer be in part, the answer to one of the queries she has heard most lately. "What will you do to occupy your time now that you're leaving teaching?"

She particularly wants to see Kansas, the place of her birth, again in the fall when the red maples are showing their most mature beauty.

As to spare time, she doesn't expect to have any. Now she will simply have more time to do the things she has always wanted but didn't start because she knew she couldn't finish them.

However, travel is her favorite avocation. She has spent at least one out of every three summers traveling. Two summers, we were spent in Mexico where she studied art, another activity she will now have time to take up.

Another interest is creative writing. She is a member of the Pampa Writers Club.

THIS SUMMER she will be a member of the Canyon Geography Trip which is to take a month-long tour through California and the northwest.

She wants to spend a summer in the northern lakes area and a winter in Florida.

Then too, she has three grandchildren which, she says with a smile, has an interest in her time.

Mrs. Stover's background for teaching was dependent a great deal on her father, who influenced her toward the profession as much as anything else, she said.

Shamrock Citizens Meeting Monday

SHAMROCK (Special)—The first meeting of the Shamrock School District Citizen's Committee will be held Monday night. It has been scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. May 18, in the Clark Auditorium.

The Shamrock Chamber of Commerce has been requested by the citizenry and the school board to form the committee, and the general public is invited to attend and take part in the program. Need for the citizens committee was emphasized by residents at the Community Clinic conducted by the Chamber of Commerce last fall. Following the defeat of a bond issue for a new high school plant earlier this year the request for a citizens committee to investigate community matters was again made.

"As has been explained before, no one will at any time be representing any group or organization, but all will be free agents," Gene Merrifield, Chamber of Commerce manager, said. "The meetings will always be open to the public and any citizens of the district will be welcome to attend and take an active part."

Manager Merrifield stated that he hoped that officers for the group could be elected at this first meeting. A plan of study has been prepared and there will be a definite program to start with.

The educational facilities and the educational program of the district will be among the problems studied by the group.

Name Honor Students At Samnorwood High

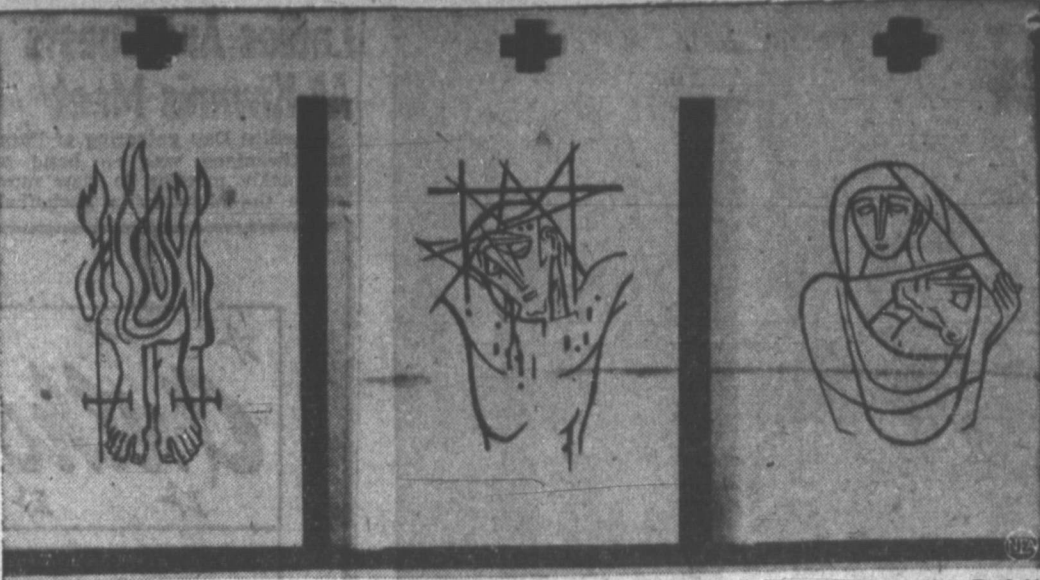

SHAMROCK (Special)—Troy Wayne Clark has been named valedictorian and Goldie Lee Tiptoe salutatorian of the 1953 graduating class of Samnorwood High School, Orville Cunningham, superintendent, announced this week.

Troy Wayne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Clark of Dozier. Goldie Lee is the daughter of Mrs. Purl Tiptoe of Samnorwood.

The 22 members of the class will be graduated at commencement exercises to be held at 8 o'clock Friday night, May 22. The baccalaureate program is scheduled for 11 o'clock Sunday morning May 17. O. L. Christie and Lawrence Skystad are co-sponsors of the Samnorwood seniors.

Graduates At Tulsa—Eugene Reid Sidwell of Pampa is among the 528 students who will receive degrees at the University of Tulsa's commencement exercises to be held June 1 at 8 p.m. in Skelly field.

Appear With Choir—Mary Ellen Barker of Pampa and Erma Jean Thornburg of White Deer will appear with the Wayland College BSU Choir at the First Baptist Church in White Deer this morning and at the First Baptist Church at Lefors tonight.

VATICAN DISAPPROVES—These drawings of the Stations of the Cross, by artist Rudolf Szyszkowitz, have been condemned by the Vatican as "too modern" to conform with "the point of view of the church." Szyszkowitz, a devout Catholic and leader of Austria's abstract school of art, had done the drawings for the Chapel of the Sisters of the Holy Cross in Graz, Austria.

Experts Advise . . . Keep Calm During Tornado

AUSTIN, May 15—UP—Keep calm.

That's the advice of safety experts to citizens in areas alerted for tornadoes—as well as the universal advice in all such disasters.

Safety rules distributed by the office of William L. McGill, co-ordinator of Texas State civil defense and disaster relief headquarters, pointed out, "It will not help to get excited."

2. If there is not time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

For city-dwellers, three points were suggested:

1. Seek inside shelter, preferably in a steel reinforced building. Stay away from windows, it was emphasized.
2. In homes, the southwest corner of the lowest floor or in the basement offers greatest safety. People living in brick or stone houses should seek other shelter preferably in a storm cellar or the basement of a frame house. If there is time, cut off electricity and fuel lines. Damage may be reduced by opening windows on the north and east sides.

3. Some protection may be offered by standing against the inside wall on the lower floor of an office building.

In schools in urban areas, it was suggested you should stay inside, away from windows, near an inside wall on a lower floor, especially if the building is of good steel reinforced construction.

But avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums, safety experts warn.

In rural areas, it was recommended that children and teachers be removed to a ditch or ravine if a storm shelter is not available.

Court Settles Lovell Estate

Payment of taxes and fixing up other odds and ends of the Fannie Lovell estate is all that remains to be done by attorneys for estate following disposition of legacies to the more than 150 heirs Friday.

Judge Lewis M. Goodrich in 31st District Court late Friday afternoon signed into judgement the compromise agreement distributing the $125,000 among more than 150 nieces, nephews, grand nieces and grand nephews. Attorneys representing the various legatees worked until five p.m. Friday working out the dollars and cents values according to the percentage of the settlement due each heir and groups of heirs.

Before the final judgment could be signed, a group of heirs were paraded to the witness stand to establish their relationship to Mrs. Lovell.

This brought to a close the almost four-year long legal maneuvering to settle the estate, the bulk of which was left in the care of three trustees, M. K. Brown, Dr. W. Burvance and C. E. Buckler to be used for community purposes. Several institutions were granted specific bequests also.

Saturday, Buckler, one of the trustees, said the three men have not given any one project serious consideration yet but would soon meet to consider various things the money could be used for.

Returns From Mother's Funeral

G. E. Williams, 525 N. Wells, has returned to Pampa after attending the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Alice B. Williams, 81, of Wichita, Kan.

Mrs. Williams died May 9 in Wichita. Funeral services were held Tuesday in Wichita's Blessed Sacrament Church with Rev. T. J. O'Sullivan, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Wichita, with the Flanagan Mortuary in charge of the arrangements. Survivors include two daughters, Sister Mary Edwina, Wichita, and Mrs. Lee A. Ramussen, Wichita; two other sons, Delbert, Chicago, and Richard, Wichita; a sister, Mrs. Genevieve Kehoe, White Plains, N. Y.; and a brother, John Phillips, Waterloo, Ia.

Godfrey Undergoes Critical Operation

BOSTON, May 15 UP—Television and radio star Arthur Godfrey underwent the first of two critical operations Friday which it was hoped would correct a painful hip condition resulting from an automobile accident 22 years ago.

Dr. Marius N. Smith-Petersen, famed Boston orthopedic surgeon, was in charge of a team of physicians who planned to replace shattered bones with plastic ball and socket hip joints.

Dr. Dean A. Clark, general director of Massachusetts general hospital, said in a prepared statement:

"Arthur Godfrey is being operated on today and is in the operating room at the present time. This is the first of two operations, consisting of reconstruction of the hip joints, creating new sockets which will allow greater mobility and relieve Mr. Godfrey of pain from which he has been suffering. The hospital will issue further bulletins."

Shamrock Student Wins TIL Contest

SHAMROCK (Special)—Betty Lou Conner, sixth grade student at Shamrock Junior High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Conner, has won the highest honors in spelling and writing in the State Interscholastic League at Austin.

Betty Lou's spelling paper was graded one hundred percent correct in both spelling and writing at the District Interscholastic League Meet held in Canadian. It was then sent to the State Department. The University Interscholastic League at Austin has notified Junior high officials and Betty Lou of her achievement.

Three Stooges Not Worried About Not Winning Oscars

HOLLYWOOD, May 16 — UP—The three stooges, the last of the old-time movie comedians, decided today they don't mind being the forgotten stars of Hollywood because they win their awards at the box office.

The Hollywood of the fan magazines, the plush nightclubs, the romances and scandals is the glittering town familiar to the public.

But at the "B" branch of Columbia Studio, these three homely, short comers, unnoticed and unsung are still battling out two-reel comedies as they have for 20 years.

Rita Hayworth, Jose Ferrer and the other stars of Columbia never see them. But Moe Howard, Shemp Howard and Larry Fine don't care that they don't win Oscars or local praise.

"Other comedians win academy awards, but we've got five plaques from the theaters," said Moe—she's the one with the bangs, and they're real, too.

"We've never been out of the first ten money makers in the comedy field. That's what counts with us."

Movie critics disdain to review their short comedies, and Moe is the first to admit even the moviegoers often raise an eyebrow at their antics. The stooges think most fans like low-brow comedy, but won't admit it.

"People put on a veneer of some kind but bring themselves down to our level when they see our short movies," Moe explained. "Then the lower level people love us because

KANSAS STUDENT GETS MATRIMONIAL REPLIES

LAWRENCE, Kan., May 16 — UP—A University of Kansas student who advertised in a Rome, Italy, newspaper for a bride has received so many answers that he made out form letters in reply.

He uses three forms: one for girls whose picture he liked, one and one for fathers who answered for their daughters.

At last count education senior Tom Donnelly had received 21 replies, not counting queries from coeds in Lawrence.

He says Italian girls are more appreciative than the American girls and would be satisfied with fewer possessions. "An Italian maid would be as happy with an electric iron as an American girl with a diamond ring," he explained.

Most of the Italian girls who answered the newspaper advertisement seem to be well educated, Donnelly said. One of the girls born in Boston said she was interested—if he could find a husband for her mother. Just couldn't leave her behind, the girl said.

Donnelly's ad said—"nice American boy 22 wants correspondence with good Italian girl age 16-20 with intention of matrimony." He plans to work for a year after graduation then go to Italy for a personal inspection.

The number of deaths in a single year in the United States exceeded 1,500,000 only twice, during World War II years 1946 and 1945.

Congress Sold On Gasoline Taxes

By WILLIAM M. BATES

WASHINGTON, May 16 — UP—The nation's governors appear to have a big sales job ahead of them if they hope to persuade Congress the federal government should get out of the gasoline tax field.

Congressional tax leaders take a cautious view of leaving the lucrative gasoline tax exclusively to the state governments. Federal government received more than $700 million from its two-cents a gallon levy last fiscal year and will top that this year.

The governors' conference has formally proposed that Washington withdraw entirely from this field as soon as fiscal conditions permit and many individual governors are enthusiastically talking up the idea.

Sen Eugene D. Millikin (R-Colo.) chairman of the Senate Finance committee said the proposal presents a "difficult" problem in view of the present "tight" money situation caused by heavy defense spending.

As a matter of long-range tax policy however Millikin said it

Modern Machine Diagnoses Cancer

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 16 — UP—A University of Minnesota scientist will demonstrate a revolutionary new sound-wave machine next week which promises to permit the early diagnosis of cancer which is so essential to successful treatment.

Dr. John J. Wild, English-born physician and surgeon, said his "echo-scope" has been 100 per cent accurate in 21 cases of malignant breast cancer to date. He said it is ready now for full clinical tests on breast, vaginal and rectal cancer detection.

The machine will be demonstrated at the Minnesota Medical Association convention in St. Paul Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Then Wild will start clinical tests at St. Barnabas Hospital in Minneapolis.

Permits Early Diagnosis

"The big thing about the machine," Wild said, "is that it promises to permit early diagnosis—which is essential to successful treatment of cancer."

The machine's purpose is to detect location of malignant cancer inside the body without surgery.

High frequency sound waves are driven into body tissues in rapid-fire bursts through a tiny quartz crystal. The sound which bounces back from reflecting surfaces in the tissue is picked up again by the same crystal.

The crystal amplifies the echoed sound and records it as "blips" of light on a radar screen. When it bounces back from malignant tissue the echoes are louder and the "blips" are larger.

Wild who first announced his invention 13 months ago has perfected attachments—which are actually separate echo-scopes—which he used to detect cancers of the breast, vagina and bowel. He is working on other instruments to detect stomach and brain cancer.

"We believe we will be the first to get sound pictures from inside the body when we begin work with this summer," he said.

Perfect Record

The breast echo-scope has been used in a series of 21 malignant cases of breast cancer at university hospitals with 100 per cent accuracy. The breast echo-scope "listens" for cancer, just like a stethoscope is used to listen to the heart.

Wild said the echo-scope's accuracy in diagnosing breast tumors has been confirmed by Dr. Douglas H. Howry at Denver.

Wild has worked on the device since 1949. He has received approximately $45,000 for the project from the United States Public Health Service since 1951.

He hopes to get more money to develop a "mass breast scanner" which would enable a mass examination of women who don't even suspect they have breast tumors. Such a project he said would be comparable to the mass chest X-ray programs used in the fight against tuberculosis.

But he said much time and money would have to be spent before such equipment could be built or the program put into effect.

Supreme Court Nears Close Of Session In Dissension

By CHARLOTTE G. MOULTON

WASHINGTON, May 15 — UP—The Supreme Court is preparing to wind up its current term on the same note that characterized the last session—disagreement more often than agreement on questions of law and the Constitution.

Of the 81 cases decided so far this term, only 15 have failed to draw one or more dissents. And the present justices are telling off their fellow jurists just as their predecessors have done since the tribunal was founded in 1789.

Justice Tom C. Clark, who is not one of the most eloquent jurists, nevertheless colorfully took the majority to task for its March 9 ruling on union "featherbedding" practices.

Law by the Tail

"Today's decision twists the law by the tail," he said. "Under our system of separation of powers the court ought not so blithely mangle the congressional effort."

When the court upheld the conviction of a Jehovah's Witness who tried to speak in a city park without a permit, Douglas said the case "is one more in a series of recent decisions which fail to protect the right of Americans to speak freely."

Referring to a wiretapping judgment and previous decisions supporting it, Douglas said in another case:

"They impinge severely on the liberty of the individual and give the police the right to intrude into the privacy of any life."

Justice Sherman Minton, dissenting from a decision banning certain anti-Negro election procedures in Fort Bend county, Tex., said the majority ruling had a praiseworthy objective but "is not in accord with the Constitution."

Panhandle Oilfield Activity Stays On Par For Past Week

Panhandle oilfield activity remained on a par over the past week with 12 intentions to drill filed with the area office of the Texas Railroad Commission.

One of them was a wildcat in Roberts County, the Superior Oil Company's No. 4-166 Beulah Edge. Its potential depth was recorded at an even 5,000 feet.

Among the completions were five oilers and one gas well. Two plugged wells were also reported.

Here are the statistics:

Navy Suspends Oil Search In Alaska

WASHINGTON, May 14 — An unanswered question here Saturday is whether the Navy has come a $62 million cropper in its search for lush oil deposits in ice-bound northern Alaska.

Secretary of the Navy Robert B. Anderson, former Texas oil man, has ordered all exploratory operations in the Point Barrow area — Navy Petroleum Reserve No. 4 — suspended indefinitely.

They were started in World War II when German and Japanese submarines were making hash of the U. S. tanker fleet.

The House Armed Services committee ever zealous of the Navy's oil supply, has concurred, though some members did so reluctantly.

Cmdr. Matthew Carson, deputy director of Navy Petroleum Reserves at Denver, admitted that operations will be brought to a full stop by Oct. 1 and all men and mobile equipment removed. But he vigorously denied the $62 million had been "poured down the drain."

He said "the money was spent to good advantage." He said three oil fields were discovered, one with 20 million to 100 million-barrel prospects. Several gas fields were tapped, "some with large potentialities," and valuable geological information and cold weather training of personnel added up to the Nicholas.

In contrast, a spokesman for the House committee made these points:

1. Even if a field equal to that of Saudi Arabia was discovered it would be only five minutes from the bombs of Russian planes based in Siberia.

2. The oil discovered is low-gravity type and not in commercial quantities. It would take a 300-mile pipeline over two vast mountain ranges to bring it out. Even then because of the intense cold the oil would have to be pre-heated to keep the pipeline from clogging.

3. Halting the operation will save the taxpayers $20 million this year and next, and maybe many millions more if the Navy finally calls it quits. Anderson hinted in testimony before the committee he might favor that.

Fewer Oil Rigs Are Reported

DALLAS — A total of 2708 rigs were active in oilfields of the United States and Canada for the week of May 11, 1953, according to a report to American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors by Hughes Tool Company.

This compares with 2736 reported a week ago, 2674 a month ago, and with 3023 in the comparable week of 1952.

A comparison by principal areas for the past two weeks shows:

Pacific Coast, 167, down 1. Oklahoma, 349, up 1. Kansas, 173, down 15. Rocky Mountain, 224, up 1. Canada, 132, down 10. Ark-La-Tex, 121, up 1. West Texas & New Mexico, 476, up 12.

Gulf Coast, 609, down 7. Illinois, 11, down 10. North Texas, 34, up 10.

TRC Has New Way Of Filing Pressures

From now on, the area office of the Texas Railroad Commission will accept shut-in pressures on affidavits for all wells in the East Panhandle field.

These pressures should be taken prior to Aug. 15 and submitted no later than Sept. 1, according to TRC officials, adding that wells whose pressures are not submitted before Sept. 1 will not appear on the East Panhandle schedule.

Pressures taken on or after May 1 will be acceptable.

HANDY CYCLE—French inventor Charles Duval, above, thinks he's solved a big problem for cyclists. He claims that leg-muscle strain can be eased by switching to hand pedals which he has mounted on his bike's handlebars. Or, if you prefer to make like a jet, you can use both hand and foot pedals to increase your speed. The gadget is one of many shown at the annual inventors' exhibit in Paris.

Miami Prepares For Its Annual Old-Timer Reunion

MIAMI (Special) — The Old-Timers Reunion will again be held here this year on June 6, in connection with the annual Cow-Cowling Contest. Mrs. Mattie Shackleton will be chairman of the committee.

First on the calendar of events for the big day will be the registration of old timers at the American Legion Hall from 9:30 until 11:45 a.m. The hall will be opened at 4 o'clock, and transportation will be provided for all who do not have a way to the vicinities grounds on the Red Setz ranch at 6:00.

Each of Miami's five women's clubs is being asked to furnish a 15-minute program immediately following the lunch hour. Each club will be responsible for prizes for the event if sponsors. Clubs being contacted are Home Progress, Child Study, North Plains, 49ers and Meet Your Neighbor.

Old-Timers from all the Panhandle area are invited to be present. Pictures of the groups will be taken and prizes for seniority of residence will be awarded. The American Legion will furnish entertainment both Friday and Saturday nights.

Flag day, June 14, is the anniversary of the date in 1777 when Congress formally adopted the Stars and Stripes as the national flag of the United States.

The cored, 4093-4110'; drill stem test, 4095-110' open 3.5 hrs.; gas in 3 min., oil in 70 min., flowed 18.5 BO; gas oil ratio, 158:1; 15 min. shut in pressure, 840 lbs.; cored, 410-20'; drill stem test, 410-20'; open 1.5 hrs.; gas in 1 min., oil in 8 min., flowed 4.05 BO in 7 min.; gravity, 52.3 degrees; gas-oil ratio, 320-610 lbs.; 30 min. shut in pressure, 880 lbs.; hydrostatic pressure, 1400 lbs.; depth, 4120'; completed 4-9-53; pay, 4075-4120'; initial potential, 106.25 BO in 24 hrs.; tubing pressure, 171 lbs.; gas oil ratio, 585:1; gravity, 52.2 degrees.

White Deer High Elects Presidents

WHITE DEER (Special) — In a recent election at White Deer High School, all classes chose officers for the 1953-54 school term.

Next year's sophomore class selected A. C. Malone, president; Dean Foose, vice president; Carroll McCabe, president; Jack McCabe, secretary; and Julia McConnell and George Bagley, Student Council representatives.

Leading the junior class of 1954 will be Roger Barrett, president; Jack McCabe, vice-president; and Patsy Smith, secretary; Betty Freeman, treasurer; and Jerry Puckett and Anetta Burns, Student Council representatives.

ELIZABETH the Queen
By Marion Crawford
Former Governess to Her Majesty

PLENTY of romances have been written about the loves of Princesses, but the settings are foreign and strange, and the Princesses are nothing at all like real Princesses.

The story of the factory girl who is loved by a Lord and becomes a Marchioness can hardly thrill a girl to whom Marchionesses must curtsy.

The love of a real Princess is important not only to herself and to the man she chooses, but also to millions of other people. It is an affair of State.

And yet, as we have seen, it can be truly a love affair. It certainly is so with Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

In the days when Princess Elizabeth first questioned her about love and marriage, there was no thought in anyone's mind that she would ever be married to the young Prince of Greece and Denmark, who could speak neither Greek nor Danish, but was known to be a first-class cricketer and a keen yachtsman.

That the Heiress to the Throne would stay unmarried was unthinkable. The first Queen Elizabeth went unwed throughout her life, but times had changed since then.

So our Princess Elizabeth in due course of events would marry—but whom? The field could not be wide. Only a few can be considered when the question of choosing a husband for a future Queen arises.

There was a great deal of guesswork and speculation, but from my own observation I must say now that no serious effort was made to choose a husband for Princess Elizabeth.

The choice was her own.

Naturally, as any girl growing into womanhood does, Queen Elizabeth often spoke to me of love and marriage. Far from avoiding the subject, I welcomed it.

It seemed to me that at this time, long before her engagement, such a discussion would be of help to her only as it was then possible to talk of marriage as woman to woman detachedly and without the introduction of any personal bias.

Whenever she asked me questions, I tried to answer as truthfully and clearly as possible. In that and will help him every way I can.

The Princess listened attentively to these words. But she had read and heard there were homes without that atmosphere of love and affection which had surrounded her all her life.

"What, Crawfie," she would ask, "makes a person fall in love?"

"When I would try to explain to her the deep common interests that can not only first draw a man and a woman together interestedly, but hold them together for life.

"When you marry," I once told her, "you must not expect the honeymoon to last forever. Sooner or later you will meet the stresses and strains of everyday life. You must not expect your husband to be constantly at your side or always to receive from him the extravagant affection of the first few months.

"A man has his own men friends, hobbies, and interests in which you cannot and will not want to share. A man's life is built on the foundation of a happy marriage. A good wife realizes alone, without reasonable reflection, true love.

I tried to explain that the shortage of houses made marriage difficult for some people. It is hard for a Princess brought up in a Palace with endless rooms to appreciate that. But she tried to.

We must remember now that a Royal Princess has nothing like the same freedom to fall in love and marry that most other girls have. Most of the romances she reads are about a woman that she does not and can never know, about people of different backgrounds who meet and part, quarrel and make it up again, as a Princess, trained to self-control, cannot do.

When I hear of Hollywood stars who complain that successful marriage is impossible for people like themselves, "Living in a goldfish bowl" and never having a minute to themselves, I stop and think of the much greater trials Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip have had to face in their marriage.

JOHNSON ★ IN HOLLYWOOD ★

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Ex-clusively Yours: Marlon Brando is bristling again about the gags and jokes in circulation about him. Labeling most of them untrue, he's growling:

"I came out to Hollywood and made the mistake of talking about my personal life. So they made me a local joke. I'm no angel. I was always robust in my fun. I'm no slouch with the g's, but I don't wear elephant-ear earrings and ride brooms."

Now it can be told that Johnnie Ray was hoping to get the role of Alf. Davidson opposite Rita Hayworth in "Miss Sadie Thompson." He even rehearsed the part frantically and hit a new high in waiting when Jose Ferrer landed the part.

Mario Lanza's career troubles apparently don't include money. He's paying $1500 a month for a Florida Springs manse with 12 live servants. . . . Hollywood home going and also maintains a home for his parents. . . . Betsy Wynn is telling pals that she's broke and needs a job. Ex-husband Kennan Wynn, who stepped aside when Betsy wanted to marry Dan Dailes, won't judge in his decision to fight her alimony demands.

Hollywood Agent Herman Bernie, brother of the late Ben Bernie, is on the road to recovery after surgery to correct a serious ulcer condition.

Other movie heavies may veto leading men who look as if they had started to shave only yesterday, but not Wanda Hendrix. Wanda, an ancient 24, is beaming over the chance to emote with John Derek and Richard Jaeckel in "Sea of Lost Ships," telling it:

"I've always worked with older men and older men made a young girl look too young and looking too young has lost me some wonderful roles."

Cantor-Jolson Mimic Keefe Brasselle's nightclub act will include impersonations of Eddie Cantor, whom he plays in the Warner filmography, and of Al Jolson. Keefe will break in the act at Las Vegas, where he made his professional debut as a drummer in a hotel orchestra.

As expected, June Allyson's first movie since her parting from MGM will be for hubby Dick Powell. Then she says she'll go home to the kiddies for good. Marilyn Monroe and Donald O'Connor were a surprise nightclub twosome. Which reminds me that Crooner Russ Landi defines a practical man as one who would marry Marilyn because she's a good cook.

Jerry Colonna's career blacked out for a time but he's back in Lady Luck's good graces. He has a Decca recording contract, a TV series in the planning and a nitery appearance in August. Bad management is blamed for the comic's decline since leaving the Bob Hope show.

After 16 movies, always-the-villain Lyle Bettger finally gets the girl, Anne Baxter, in "Carnival." . . . New tricks dept.: Cool, poised Jennifer Jones stands on her head in one scene of "Beat The Devil" opposite Humphrey Bogart. . . . Hattie McDaniel's secretary for years, Ruby Goodwin, will write Hattie's life story for Doubleday. . . . The Aga Khan's autobiography, due early in 1934, will touch on his memories of Queen Victoria. But the public, I'm sure, will buy the book for his memories of Rita Hayworth.

Television Talk Hollywood on TV: Red Skelton and CBS are having interesting financial talks. Red's heart belongs to NBC, but when the blue chips pile up, sentiment's usually for golden. . . . Marilyn Maxwell and Eva Gabor will star in two episodes of a telefilm series, "Paris Model." An at-home peep show's Paramount's watching. F'd Sutton's career for a possible movie contract. He was at RKO three years ago, but the front office said, "No talent."

A veteran traveler and lecturer listed Bangkok, New York, Paris, Rio de Janeiro, and Washington as five of the world's most fascinating cities.
