RECORD SALES SEEN

Air-Cooler Dealers Rushed By Heat-Conscious Pampans

Water consumption in Pampa Tuesday dipped proportionately with slightly lowered temperatures, but Top o' Texas weather is still sizzling above 100 degrees and hundreds of comfort seekers are unable to buy air conditioners today.

The city of Pampa is sold out of the evaporative-type coolers and only a few refrigeration systems can be bought as local dealers scour the entire area for new stock.

Shipments of new air conditioners are expected to begin arriving Thursday and several carloads are due in by the latter part of the week or first of next, but hundreds of calls during the past few days of record-breaking heat have had to be turned down.

More air conditioners have been sold in the area this season than in the past two or three put together, local dealers commented. The air-conditioning rush began, they said, this past week end as the mercury in Pampa soared to 107 degrees and to 106 the following day.

Joe Hawkins, local dealer, who says this is the biggest season ever for air conditioning in Pampa, Tuesday sold the only conditioner he could find since Saturday. Hawkins said he could have sold 50 more.

Norman Bryant, 308 Tignor, was the 49th person seeking an air conditioner Monday afternoon—after White's Auto and the only type in stock then, according to Ken Meaders, manager, was for trailer houses.

Meaders stated his company had delivered more fans and coolers since May than in both the past two years. The demand has gone so far above expectation it is a problem to find coolers enough anywhere to supply it. A new shipment is expected at the local store around June 19.

IT'S TOUGH ALL THE WAY AROUND thinks Lee Bennett, 314 W. Browning, above as he mops his brow and fans himself in lieu of an air conditioner which just can't be bought in Pampa today. He's waiting for all these new shipments of coolers local dealers are expecting this week end from distant areas. (News Photo)

THE LOCAL

Montgomery Ward store has contacted Kansas and expects a new shipment from there soon. And Don Foster, Pampa Furniture Company, is sending a special truck to Tucson, Ariz., as a third attempt to obtain new air conditioners.

Montgomery Ward has sold more coolers in past two weeks than in the past three years total, according to W. J. McNeill, manager.

Paul N. Brown, another local dealer, received and sold a shipment of 12 conditioners Tuesday. He is expecting about 25 the latter part of the week.

Other dealers receiving calls after selling out are Rinehart-Dosier and Hogue-Mills. Both think they may get new shipments next week.

Meanwhile, Pampans were hoping (See AIR COOLERS, Page 7)

Ike Favors News Flow

WASHINGTON, June 17 — President Eisenhower announced Wednesday a proposed new information security order which, he said, is designed to further the flow of news from the government to the people.

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference he is making public the proposed order before it goes into effect so the press can study it and recommend possible changes.

He did not promise that all such recommendations will be followed but said they will be given careful consideration.

The proposed new order would substitute for a controversial one issued by former President Truman in September, 1951.

Mr. Eisenhower's order would take away from 29 government agencies the right to "classify" information, thus keeping it from being made public. The authority to classify would be given only to the head of 16 other agencies.

Mr. Truman's order gave the classification right to all departments.

Anti-Reds Riot In East Berlin

BERLIN, June 17 — The Russian army clamped martial law on East Berlin Wednesday as mobs of more than 100,000 angry East Germans defied the Communist regime and battled police in the streets.

Soviet tanks and troops fired above the heads of the rioters with machine guns and rifles, and Red East Berlin police fired directly at the demonstrators.

Witnesses reported several persons were injured by the gunfire. Others were felled by clubs wielded by re-inforced Communist riot police.

Heavy Damages In Auto Crash

Damages have been estimated at $650 in an automobile collision outside Lefors, involving residents of Pampa and Shamrock.

According to sheriff's officers, Clyde A. Medkief, 50, of 1140 N. Starkweather, and a man only identified as Patterson were involved in a collision on Lefors-McLean highway, some two miles southeast of Lefors.

Mishap occurred about 6:45 p.m. Tuesday, officers said.

Medkief was crossing a bridge when Patterson started out around him, saw an oncoming car, pulled back in — but not soon enough to avoid hitting Medkief's left rear fender.

No charges had been filed by late morning.

Wheeler Grand Jury Returns Indictments

Five indictments have been returned by the grand jury for Wheeler County.

According to District Attorney Tom Braly, they included two cases of forgery, two of car theft and one of second-offense driving while intoxicated.

The grand jury closed up shop late Tuesday afternoon, Braly said.

ICC Okays Raise In Postal Rates

WASHINGTON, June 17 — The Interstate Commerce Commission Wednesday approved a $135, $25,000 a year increase in parcel post rates.

The rate increase amounts to about 36 per cent. It was asked by the Post Office department as one step in an effort to cut its heavy deficit on overall operations — estimated to be about $600 million for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

A Post Office Department spokesman said the new parcel post rates probably will not take effect Aug. 1.

The ICC took no action on a department request to boost rates on catalogs and other fourth class mail by about $7 million a year. It will hold hearings on this phase of the request on July 20.

The ICC said the Post Office's total deficit from fourth class mail was estimated at $171 million a year.

The ICC said the new rates "do not appear disproportionately high in relation to known increases in expense" since the last parcel post rate boost in 1951.

A surcharge, asked by former Postmaster General Jesse M. Donnell, which was to have gone into effect April 1, was incorporated into the rate boosts.

Local parcel post rates will go up from 15 to 18 cents on the first pound. In Zones 1, 2 and 3, they will be boosted from 17 to 23 cents for the first pound. Changes in first pound rates in other zones are: Zone 4, from 19 to 24 cents; Zone 5, from 21 to 26 cents; Zone 6, from 23 to 28 cents; Zone 7 from 25 to 30 cents; and Zone 8 from 27 to 33 cents.

Rosenbergs Granted Execution Stay Today

PEIPING RADIO SAYS

Cease-Fire Line Thought Settled

PANMUNJOM, June 17 — The Communist Peiping radio said Wednesday work apparently has been completed on a cease-fire line in preparation for an early signing of a Korean war armistice.

The broadcast said liaison officers Tuesday night were seen inspecting jointly what could be a site for the actual armistice signing ceremony next to the conference house.

Peiping radio said staff officers have greatly speeded their work. They worked 11 hours until almost midnight Tuesday and assistants were seen making tracings, the broadcast said. Then staff officers came together briefly to write on the maps presumably initialing them, it said.

The Chinese Communist radio recalled that the last time the truce teams drew a cease-fire line, in November, 1951, they agreed it would change according to actual battlefield positions if no armistice were signed in 30 days.

"This time," it added, "the fixing of the military demarcation line would mean the agreed line would be a cease-fire line along which fighting will stop 12 hours after the armistice agreement is signed."

Top-level truce negotiators held a mysterious 20-minute meeting Wednesday and recessed subject to recall by either side. Staff officers resumed their map work immediately afterward.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison of the United Nations command and North Korean Gen. Nam Il of the Communist negotiating team met secretly in the truce hut for the first time in eight days.

Harrison refused to disclose the reason for the meeting, but it was believed the two senior negotiators had initiated the final versions of all items in the armistice document except that which defines the line on which the shooting will stop.

Allied and Communist officers on two lower levels also conferred after the senior delegates had recessed subject to quick recall.

Liaison officers met for an hour and 40 minutes and two groups of staff officers continued working on their assignments.

Violent battles raged on the east central front prevented staff officers from agreeing on a cease-fire line.

But Communist propaganda loudspeakers on the now quiet western front repeatedly repeated that the armistice would be signed here on June 25, the third anniversary of the bloody war.

Major Gen. Chol Duk Shin, South Korean truce delegate, again boycotted the plenary sessions, and South Korea's President Syngman Rhee stubbornly opposing the armistice, remained silent.

HEARING HER SON'S VOICE from Burtonwood Air Force Base in England for the first time in 21 months at 7 a.m. today was quite a thrill for Mrs. Maurice Roberts, 338 Murphy, above right, and her mother, Mrs. Eula Wilson, 209 Murphy. Besides inquiring about his family, his "old gang" and his 9-year-old son, Tiny, Mrs. Roberts' son, A-5c Maurice (Jumbo) Roberts, told his mother she might send him a couple of wool shirts — it's cold in England today, he said. Today's call was arranged through the New York phone company Tuesday, but the airman missed his dad who had to go to work with the Tripplehorn Drilling Company just as the call was completed. Latest Move Granted By Wm. Douglas

WASHINGTON, June 17 — UP — Atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg won a last-ditch stay of execution today from Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

The stay was granted just 28 hours before the husband-and-wife spy team were scheduled to die in the Sing Sing electric chair for passing U. S. atomic secrets to Russia.

In an eight-page opinion, Douglas said the stay of execution would be effective until one of the

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, June 17 — Rep. W. Don Wheeler (D-Ga.) announced Wednesday that he will introduce a resolution to impeach Justice William O. Douglas for granting the Rosenbergs a stay of execution.

Complex legal questions involved in the case can be determined in lower courts.

"Substantial" Legal Question

He said he did not decide whether the death sentence was properly imposed but merely that there is a "substantial" legal question open "which should be decided after full argument and deliberation."

"It is important that the country be protected against the nefarious plans of spies who would destroy us," Douglas said.

"It is also important that before we allow human lives to be snuffed out we be sure — emphatically sure — that we act within the law if we are not sure, there will be lingering doubts to plague the conscience after the event."

One of the legal arguments presented to Douglas was that the death penalty could be imposed under the atomic energy act only if a jury recommended it. It was argued that the penalty provisions of this act had replaced those of the espionage law under which the Rosenbergs were convicted.

"Serious Doubts" on Sentence

"I have serious doubts whether this death sentence may be imposed for this offense except and (See ROSENBERGS, Page 7)

Reds Employ Fresh Troops

SEOUL, June 17 — Communist troops attacked South Korean infantrymen with fresh fury at both ends of the "bulge" Wednesday, indicating new Chinese soldiers had entered the bloody campaign.

The Reds launched battalion-sized counter attacks southeast of Finger Ridge, which pins down the western end of the 15-mile bulge, and at "M-1" Hill, which holds down the eastern end.

Allowable Hike Seen

AUSTIN, Tex., June 17 — UP — Texas Railroad Commission Wednesday set the July oil allowance at 3,103,973 barrels daily, an increase of 2,842 barrels over current permissive production.

The commission, after a brief state-wide oil prororation hearing, set a 21-day producing schedule for the state in general and 18 days for East Texas.

The action meant a one-day increase in producing days generally, while the huge East Texas field was held at the present schedule.

The slight increase in allowable resulted in moving from a 30-day period to a 31-day month.

The commission set the Pantex Field at 16 producing days, Pickton 9 Hawkins 19, non-flaring producers in the vast Spraberry Field in West Texas 21 days and scheduled 21 days for the 14 fields connected to the Phillips Goldsmith plant.

The allowable increase was the third straight ordered by the commission after a series of sharp cutbacks.

The next oil prororation hearing was set for July 17 at Austin.

The increase was in line with a boost in purchasers' nominations for Texas crude oil in July of 42,637 barrels, raising the total to 3,106,971 barrels a day.

Rosenbergs Silent On Douglas Action

OSKISING, N. Y., June 17 — Atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg received the news at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday over the prison radio that they had been granted a stay of execution just 28 hours before they were scheduled to die.

Prison attendants said they reacted happily but otherwise made no comment. At the time the news was broadcast, Julius was visiting with his mother, brother and sister. Until then, as far as the Rosenbergs knew, their execution for passing atom secrets to Russia was scheduled for 9 p.m. east Thursday.

The Rosenbergs also will receive official notice of the stay in a telegram from their attorney, Emanuel H. Bloch, according to Sing Sing Warden Wilfred H. Denno, Denno first learned of the stay from the United Press.

No Change in Routine

Denno said there would be no change for the Rosenbergs in their routine on death row here, where they are kept.

Rosenberg's mother Sophie and his sister, and brother David also visited Mrs. Rosenberg. None had any immediate comment on the stay.

Pampanos See No Gas Price Hike

United Press dispatches reported today that price of anti-knock gasoline was boosted a half-cent per gallon at several cities in Oklahoma Wednesday, just 48 hours after most oil companies began paying 25 cents more per barrel for crude oil.

There is no increase seen in gasoline prices in Pampa, according to a survey taken this morning by the Ham Luma or Phillips Petroleum and there is a possibility of an increase in the future, but said no change in the gasoline prices is planned at present.

A report coming from W. S. Fannall of Gulf Oil Co. says that no change is seen at present but he is satisfied it will come eventually.

Lloyd Simpson of Skelly Oil; P. D. Grommon of Texas Co.; and Mrs. Barbara Austin of Sinclair reported they have nothing on a possible increase and do not foresee a change in the near future.

The half-cent price increase applied to gasoline containing ethyl but not to so-called "regular" grades.

Service station operators here and at Oklahoma City and Perry, Okla., said the price increase was ordered Tuesday. Increases in the wholesale price of ethyl were confirmed Wednesday by the Texas Co. and Mercury Oil Co. Jobbers in Oklahoma City and by Continental Oil Co. and Sinclair Refining Co. wholesalers here.

The price increases occurred at stations which have been selling the premium gasoline for 29 1/2 cents per gallon, a survey by United Press showed. Some stations in Oklahoma, including many operated by Phillips Petroleum Co., which first announced the crude price boost, have been charging 30 cents a gallon for some time. The prices include federal and state taxes totaling 8 1/2 cents per gallon.

The boost in ethyl prices was attributed by some refinery officials here as due to the increase in the price of lead used in the manufacturing of the anti-knock compound.

Shivers Signs 439 State Bills

AUSTIN, June 17 — UP — One third of the 1,342 bills and joint resolutions introduced during the recently adjourned 53rd Texas Legislature actually became law, a survey showed Wednesday.

Gov. Allan Shivers' office said the governor signed 439 bills and 11 constitutional amendments which will be submitted to the people in the general election of November, 1954.

Governor Shivers cleared his desk Monday of all remaining bills passed by the Legislature, beating Tuesday's deadline for signing or rejecting the measures.

Firemen Subdue Oil Well Fire

Co-operation between Pampa's fire department and the Lefors Volunteer Fire Department paid off with the restricting of an oil-well fire to the belts and wooden timbers.

Pampa's "booster" truck was called out at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday to the McSpadden lease, 22 miles southeast of Pampa, local firemen said today.

Major damage was to the timbers under the belt house and the belts themselves; but no monetary estimate of damage had been made by late morning.

Nabs Young Coyote

RABBIT, FOX, OR WHAT? — Bill Mullin, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. (Moon) Mullin, 1136 S. Dwight, wasn't sure what this animal was Tuesday morning as he scamped off across a field in Lamar School area after it. Having caught it in the middle of an open fence, though, he discovered it was a coyote — small, maybe, but with plenty of teeth as he found out. It was first sighted by Bill's brother, Donald Lee Mullin, 8, who let his older brother do the roadwork after it. Bill just grabbed it by the neck, took it back to the house and called for a photographer. He'll probably sell it. (News Photo)

Asks Red Book List

WASHINGTON, June 17 — UP — Mr. Eisenhower was certain to be asked at his news conference Wednesday whether he was making a general defense of intellectual freedom or aiming a shaft directly at Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

McCarthy's Senate investigating subcommittee recently demanded that the State Department remove from its overseas information libraries all books by "pro-Communist" authors and "controversial" persons.

The department complied — so enthusiastically that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles admitted Monday it should use more common sense in removing the books.

He also said that 11 books had actually been burned at Singapore and Sydney, Australia.

Jackson said he was drafting a letter to Dulles, asking that the department list the books it was banning and also what volumes were burned. "If a lot of books have been destroyed or burned, the public ought to know about it and why," the Washington Democrat told a reporter.

Meantime, McCarthy told reporters that Mr. Eisenhower "couldn't very well have been" talking about him in the Dartmouth speech because, "I haven't burned any books."

"I don't know exactly what (Mr. Eisenhower) was referring to," he said.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

There seems to be some confusion about the right of a player to add cards to a canasta. There is not and never has been any rule that limits a canasta to exactly seven cards. You need at least seven cards in a meld to make a canasta, but you are allowed to use more than seven cards.

Let's take a few examples to answer some of the questions that people ask about this point. You make a meld of seven kings and aces. Later on, you get the eighth king and want to add it to the canasta. That is perfectly legal and proper. Go ahead and add that king.

Could you add a wild card to the closed canasta? Yes. That would change it to a mixed canasta, of course, and would entitle you to a bonus of only 200 points instead of 50 points for a natural canasta case. You have a meld that consists of four kings and one wild card for wanting to do so (such as card. You have two kings in your wanting to meld out; you would be within your rights in adding a wild card to the canasta.

Let's alter the canasta a trifle. Suppose that your canasta consists of five kings and two wild cards. Now what can you add to it? You can always add natural kings to it. There is no restriction on adding natural cards to a canasta, except that there are only eight kings in the deck.

What about adding wild cards? You are always allowed to add one case, since then the canasta will include only three wild cards. That is the legal limit. No canasta may include more than three wild cards.

You are always allowed to add one or more wild cards to a canasta provided that you don't thereby exceed the legal limit of three wild cards.

Let's take a slightly different case. You have a meld that consists of four kings and one wild card. You have two kings in your

The Game Gets 'Em Hank Says U.S. Golf Clubs Are Filled With Assorted Filberts

BY HENRY McLEMORE

My Washington golf operative, one Elton C. Midron, reports that the Secret Service has screened all the help at the Burning Tree Club, where President Eisenhower does most of his golfing, but has neglected to put the members through the sieve.

He thinks this is a mistake, and hand, with the discard pile frozen. The player at your right discards a king. What are your rights? You may put down your two kings, add the king from the discard pile. This gives a cascade of eight cards, which is perfectly all right. Don't give it a second thought.

First steel pipe was made by screwing on a musket barrel together in 1815.

a serious one, but I disagree with him. I doubt if there is a golf club in the country whose membership could stand a thorough screening and still wind up with enough members to keep the place going. Golf clubs, like good fudge cake, are filled with nuts of assorted sizes and shapes. Steady exposure to golf does something to the most rational of men, and a quiet daffiness goes with the game as surely as elastic goes with bloomers.

Name me another game in which the rankest novice sees nothing odd in his pairing with a champion and playing for a prize. A golfer who can't break 105 will all but break his neck to get a Hogan, a Mangrum, a Sneed, or a Middlecott as a partner in a pro-amateur match. Ever hear of any rank amateur baseball players sharing the catching with Campanella or playing the outfield alongside Mantle?

To turn a pack of Secret Service sleuths loose on a golf club membership would result in there being mighty few men present to dance with the girls on Saturday night. Most of the men would be under observation if their report cards were graded on their antics on and near a course.

The chairman of the greens committee is always slightly out of his head. His one desire in life is to have 18 greens so perfect that no one would dare desecrate them by walking on them. Given his way he would rope off the greens and have the members put into a bucket placed under a far-away hedge.

Another important member, the chairman of the handicap committee is almost always chosen for the job because of his round-the-clock hairiness. A man who had control over his senses for even as much as ten minutes a day wouldn't have the position, and would resign the second the buzzing in his head subsided.

To do a good job of screening, the Secret Service would have to eavesdrop on the political discussions that go on in the locker room and this would result in close to half the members being tossed out as being dangerous to the government. There never has been a club in which all the members saw eye to eye with the lawmakers and some of the things the boys say about them would lead a saint to believe he was listening to a bag of traitors who wanted to blow up the Statue of Liberty, blow the White House, and sprinkle arsenic powder in the President's office.

I wish I had space to list all the filberts I have met at golf clubs, such as the man who always wears an overcoat, even on the scorchingest day, to prevent his oversteering; the dilly who wouldn't putt until he pulled on a pair of cowboy gloves; the charlatan who always bound his ankles with tape before playing in order to have a good excuse for not breaking 80; the miser who never played except when the fruit trees on the course were bearing so he could get a free meal while going 18 holes, and who resigned the year a blight hit the trees; the man who always carried a .45 "d shotgun in his bag ever since the day a crow swooped down and flew away with his brand new ball; and the pay-as-you-lose fellow who wore a conductor's change dispenser around his waist, loaded with nickels, dimes and quarters.

The President will just have to take his chances if he insists on playing golf.

More than one half of America's proved reserves of petroleum and natural gas are in Texas.

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Behind the scenes, well, a doll can change her mind, can't she? June Allyson did about retiring from the screen to become the at-home Mrs. Dick Powell. Serious about the home and kiddie stuff as an MGM star, June's right back on a movie set now that she's a free-lancer.

"Really, I was serious about quitting work six months ago," she told me on the set of "The Glenn Miller Story" at U-I — a movie retaining her with Jimmy Stewart. "But they snagged me. It may be fun — I'll be making my own mistakes. But I doubt whether I'll make more than one movie a year. Big TV plans for June and Dick? "Could be," she winked.

Hollywood's 3-D boom keeps getting dire. "It can't last" predictions from film industry leaders. But every new depiction hits the box-office jackpot. The latest, "It Came From Outer Space," is U-I's biggest money maker in years. Six more films for the Polaroid glasses will be released in the next two months.

Fear of a lawsuit from the heirs of the real man caused screenplay writers to create a character called Caesar Carlton as the chef who invented Melba toast and passed Melba in the Patrice Munnell star, "Melba." Actually, it was Caesar Ritz, mildly in love with the diva, who named the groceries after her.

Short story: One of Hollywood's biggest agents got tossed out of the mansion of one of Hollywood's biggest studio executives for handing him a man-to-man line on the past of his foreign beauty signed by the biggie.

Preacher Hunting
Helen O'Connell and Marilyn Maxwell's ex, Andy McIntyre, won't get around to selecting the preacher until she returns from her TVing in New York. She replaces Perry Como on the picture tubes, beginning June 30.

Joe Castro, the Latin band leader, does a Mona Lisa when he's asked if he's the secret groom of Doris Duke. No YES, no NO, just a smile.

Beverly Michaels, tallest of the Hollywood beauties, will receive a hunk of fortune when the will of her ex-husband, former MGM producer Voldemar Veltugin, is probated. Her next film is "Bolted" for Russell Rouse — and then she and Rouse will wed.

Unfilmed drama:
Erle Krausz, who was married to Al Jolson, walks into a nitery with her new husband, Norman Krausz. Unaware of her presence, an MC begins the show by doing an imitation of Al. Erle bites her lip. Krausz reaches out and holds her hand. They applaud politely when the MC has finished.

Paulette Goddard fished a sexy negligee from her "Sins of Jezebel" wardrobe before hopping to New York. "To wear while watching TV," she explained. "Especially Red Buttons."

So if Red goes to pieces on his show, you know why.

In Hollywood, says Al Bernie, wedded bliss occurs when a couple agree on a divorce.

Star Is Born
The star spotlight is on perky, 20-year-old Joanne Gilbert — heroine of the year's most exciting "A Star Is Born" story in Paramount's film musical, "Red Garters."

Ten months ago, as an unknown just signed by the studio with one bit role to her credit, she made a singing debut at a movietown night club to the cheers of a tough professional audience.

No one knew it then but Joanne had worked for the first time only six weeks before — "I was so shy I thought I never could get up in front of people, ever."

Next day, at the studio, Joanne heard someone say, "I didn't know she could do ANYTHING!" But the next words she heard were in Studio Boss Don Hartman's announcement, "We're going to star you in your next picture."

While waiting for the camera to turn, Joanne repeated her nitery success in Las Vegas, New York and Florida night clubs to cheers as loud as Hollywood's.

Joanne was groomed for her night-club debut by her father, Ray Gilbert, a songwriter who has coached Frankie Laine, Betty Hutton and Dorothy Dandridge. But there's nothing Svengalish about their association. Papa hasn't been on the set since she started work in the film.

Baking cakes and cookies is glamorous Joanne's favorite hobby — "I should have baked a cake for you," she laughed at lunch. She's won stardom and now: "If I could only win a cake-baking contest," she beamed. "Oh, boy!"

Newly-Annexed City Areas To Be Prepared For Zoning

The stage is set for zoning both the Lamar Addition and the "island" in the northeast part of Pampa as residential areas as a result of talks Tuesday among members of the City Commission and the Zoning Board. A public hearing in the city commission meeting has been set for 10:30 a.m., July 7, City Manager B. H. Cruce said today.

The Zoning Board originally recommended a spot zoning of 80 acres in the Lamar Addition to include residential, commercial and industrial. However, the Zoning Board told the City Commission the recommendation was made primarily for the convenience of four or five property owners in the area who have already established businesses there.

Jimmy McCune, chairman of the board, told the commission: "However, we do feel the entire area should be residential."

Bill Fraser, local home developer, warned the commission that spot zoning and establishing semi-commercial zones ruins all chances for obtaining loans on residences. He recalled the time the zoning board several years ago attempted to zone B. Hobart semi-commercial and residents there protested vigorously and the street was zoned residential.

According to the spot zoned map of the area, two plots facing Hobart were recommended as commercial, another five acres facing McCullough, commercial, and one small plot facing Farley, n.s.e. Bond, zoned as industrial.

Fraser reminded the commis-ioners that zoning the addition purely residential would not interfere with present establishments, but would not permit them to enlarge or expand operations.

Both the commission and the Zoning Board readily agreed to zoning the "island"—brought into the city last week—all residential.

Since the Zoning Board has held its public hearing on the Lamar Addition, it is now up to the City Commission to accept the recommendation or reject it and zone it residential. But, the commission will also have to hold a public hearing before the ordinance is passed.

Work Progressing

Base work on the five-mile extension of U.S. Highway 66, west of Abilene, was rapidly nearing completion today, highway department engineers reported.

The state men reported the contractor is laying approximately 2,250 cubic yards of base material a day, adding the 12,000 cubic yards per day is considered excellent progress.

The portion being worked on now should be ready for its prime coat sometime next week.

At the same time, a few miles farther east where concrete work on the four-lane highway has been completed—workmen were almost three-quarters of the way finished with topping out the asphalt shoulders on both lanes.

About Red Teachers

The problem of communist teachers in the colleges is as delicate as it is important. On the one hand, is the cause of academic freedom, of the right and duty of the teacher to speak his mind and to deal with ideas which may be new, unorthodox and even revolutionary.

Those who are responsible for the operation of our universities have been devoting the closest kind of study and analysis to the communist problem. A result is a statement recently released by the Association of American Universities, and signed by the heads of 37 of these universities including such large and influential ones as Columbia, Harvard, Stanford, Duke, Johns Hopkins, California, Chicago, Yale, Princeton, and so on.

It begins with a discussion of the role and nature of the university. "Like its medieval prototype," it says, "the modern American university is an association of individual scholars... Free enterprise is as essential to intellectual as to economic progress. A university must therefore be hospitable to an infinite variety of skills and viewpoints, relying upon open competition among them as the surest safeguard of truth. Its whole spirit requires investigation, criticism and presentation of ideas in an atmosphere of freedom and mutual confidence.

To enjoin uniformity of outlook upon a university faculty would put a stop to learning at the source... The statement then goes into the subject of obligations and responsibilities of university faculties. Here, it makes this telling observation: "There is a line at which 'freedom' or 'privilege' begins to be qualified by legal 'duty' and 'obligation'.

At this point the statement is highly critical of the professor who takes legal refuge in the Fifth Amendment as an excuse to refuse to answer questions... "Above all, a scholar must have integrity and independence. This renders impossible adherence to such a regime as that of Russia and its satellites.

No Exemptions

The head of a southern power and light utility recently made a little analysis of one economic aspect of socialized electric development. He expressed his findings in these words: "The government, with an-seventh the capacity of the private companies, carries only one-sixth of the tax load.

Groups Affecting American Education

I want to comment today on that part of the book issued by a division of the National Education Association called "Forces Affecting American Education" under the sub-head of "Support of Schools From National Organizations.

Under the list of national organizations the book of course first mentions the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and the National Citizens Commission for the Public Schools. Both of these organizations are under the control of the National Education Association.

Of course, both the main labor unions—the C.I.O. and the A.F. of L. strongly endorse tax supported schools. Labor unions, like tax supported schools, are based on collectivism—that might make right and the end justifies the mean and that no individual has any inherent, inalienable rights that the majority need respect.

It seems to me that those who believe in tax supported schools should think it time to examine their own ideas when they are endorsed by such immoral groups as the C.I.O. and the A.F. of L. Remember the aim of the C.I.O. and the A.F. of L. is to take away from an individual his right to help establish laws—his right to use his conscience—his right to take pride in his accomplishments.

And this is the kind of an organization that the National Education Association seems proud to have endorse tax supported schools! They quote quite at length from a C.I.O. bulletin that "America will be free so long as her schools are free." But her schools are not free. The state insists on having the final say on what education is, just as the state did in the time of Socrates and Jesus Christ, and they killed Socrates and Jesus Christ because they attempted to educate in a different manner from what the state prescribed.

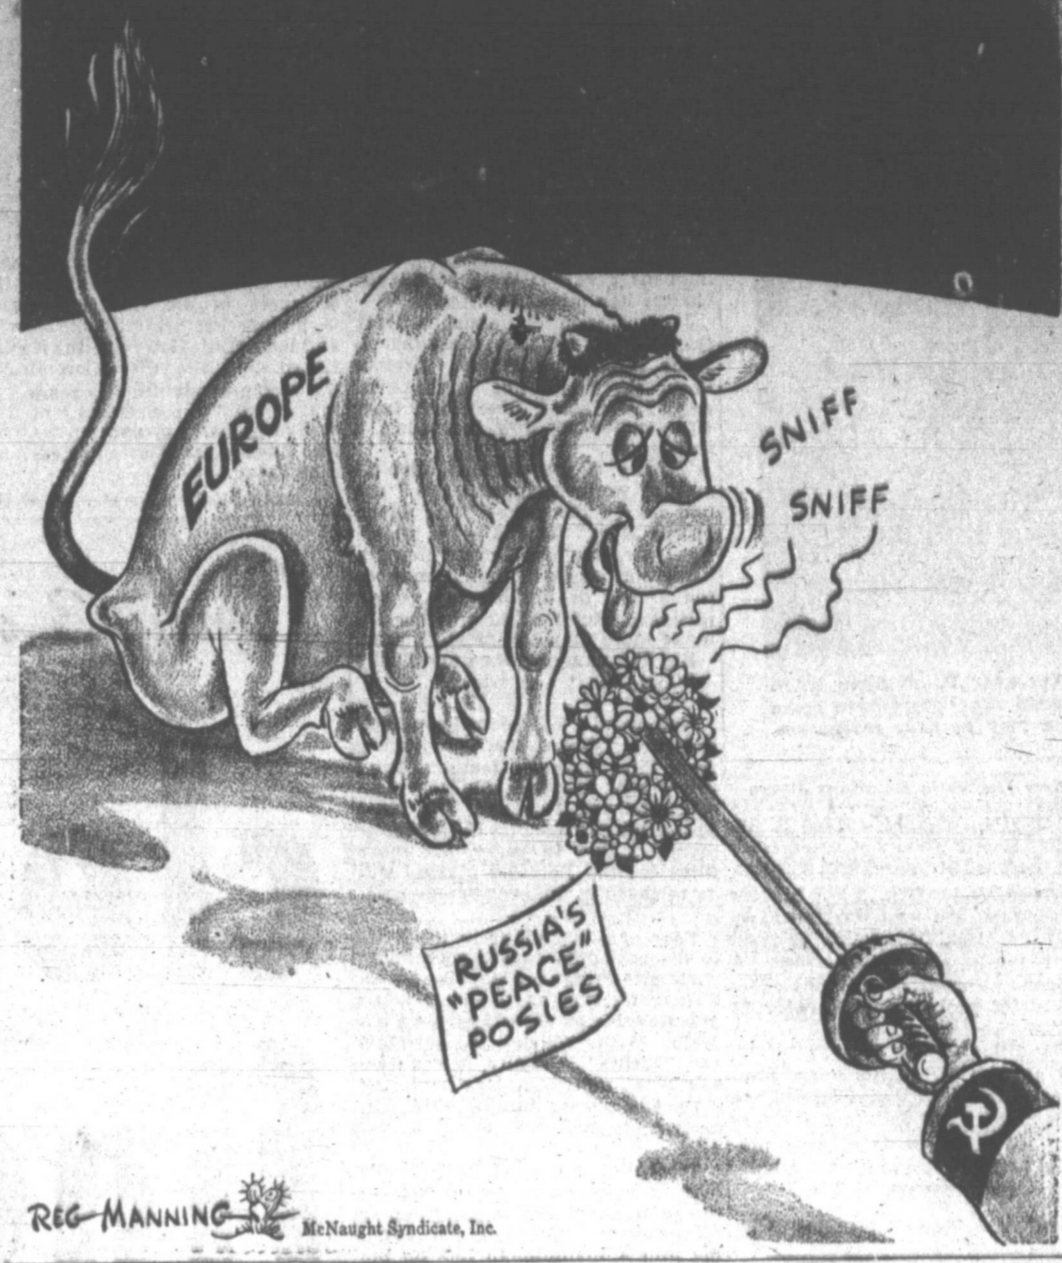

But Union Leaders and the leaders of state education are alike in one thing. They will not answer certain questions to determine whether or not tax supported schools and the labor unions are in agreement with the Golden Rule and the Coveting Commandment. They jump right over the fact that we cannot get results that will promote understanding and material well being and develop character from any organization that violates these great moral laws that govern human relations.

The book also mentions the National Association of Manufacturers and the United States Chamber of Commerce. But the NAM also endorses collective bargaining and the United States Chamber of Commerce favors tariffs and other things that violate the Golden Rule.

Many corporations and business organizations throughout the country dwindled that he was compelled to sell his radio station and withdraw from the Valley. The whole book is a smear against anyone who sees the tyranny of compulsory education and a eulogy for all those people who support it. The book lists various groups as supporting public schools and says: "It includes all those alert and dedicated citizens of this country who understand the relationship of the public schools to the maintenance of our system of freedoms in this country."

In other words, they are contending that those people who are opposed to tax supported schools are not alert and do not understand the meaning of freedom. But those people who they claim are not alert are sincere enough that they are willing to attempt to answer any and all questions on the subject of whether or not tax supported schools are in agreement with the Golden Rule, but the brass hats of the tax supported school system will not answer questions on the subject as they would before a court for $500. Every American who wants his children to believe in the principles of the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence should read this book and see how the National Education Association is indoctrinating his children in collectivism.

National Whirligig... Ike's Friends Favor Continued Extravagant Federal Spending

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — No president before Dwight D. Eisenhower had so much right to say that inaugurating a system of government economy is like trying to improve the weather. The two problems have a great deal in common from the fact that everybody talks about them, but nobody wants to do anything about them.

Until recently, Eisenhower thought that his economy pledges ranked with the Korean conflict and his anti-Communist purge promise as his major victorious issues. But now he has his doubts. For the very friends and interests most concerned over budget and tax reductions are the most insistent on continued federal spending and extravagance.

Although extending the excess profits tax for six months is essential to even a remote possibility of balancing the budget and reducing various tax burdens, it is opposed by two organizations which have frequently been assailed by the Democrats as annexes of the Republican National Committee, namely, the National Association of Manufacturers and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

SATIRIZED BY F.D.R. AND H.S.T. — Franklin D. Roosevelt used to be industry as "economic royalist" and "members of well-fed clubs," linking them with the Union League. Harry S. Truman had them in mind when he directed whistle-blowing postholes at the "predatory interests of Wall Street." It is, perhaps, no exaggeration to say that 99 per cent of their membership voted for, contributed to and campaigned for an Eisenhower victory.

OPPOSED TO TEMPORARY SACRIFICES — Although the most spectacular demonstration of its kind, the NAM and the Chamber of Commerce are not peculiar in their unwillingness to accept temporary sacrifices for long-term benefits.

Many corporations and business organizations throughout the country dwindled that he was compelled to sell his radio station and withdraw from the Valley. The whole book is a smear against anyone who sees the tyranny of compulsory education and a eulogy for all those people who support it. The book lists various groups as supporting public schools and says: "It includes all those alert and dedicated citizens of this country who understand the relationship of the public schools to the maintenance of our system of freedoms in this country."

In other words, they are contending that those people who are opposed to tax supported schools are not alert and do not understand the meaning of freedom. But those people who they claim are not alert are sincere enough that they are willing to attempt to answer any and all questions on the subject of whether or not tax supported schools are in agreement with the Golden Rule, but the brass hats of the tax supported school system will not answer questions on the subject as they would before a court for $500. Every American who wants his children to believe in the principles of the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence should read this book and see how the National Education Association is indoctrinating his children in collectivism.

Down South... Leaders Of Foreign Countries Don't Understand Constitution

By THURMAN BENSING

Southern States Industrial Council Nashville, Tennessee

There seems to be considerable concern and some criticism on the part of leaders and near-leaders of foreign countries about the way our government here in the United States of America, is run. In the first place, they don't understand our government. They can't see why the administration does not have full authority to commit the government in any way it pleases; or, failing to make good on another, why the administration does not fall and be subjected to a general election.

They don't understand our Constitution; they cannot see why either the administration or the Congress or both are not able to make good on another, why the administration does not fall and be subjected to a general election.

While this is going on, however, these same foreign leaders should never lose sight of the fact that our philosophy of government in this country is based on the dignity and freedom of the individual. That, if they don't know it, is why we have a Constitution—not to protect the majority or the minority but the INDIVIDUAL. There are certain truths that are fundamental and will never change, and our Constitution recognizes this fact.

It is to be suspected, therefore, that those who question our form of government and its effectiveness are also those who are not sympathetic to the right of the individual to carve his own future and decide his own destiny, as free as the other hand, believers in state control in one form or another—either socialism or communism or dictatorship or some other form of totalitarianism.

And the gates of Suez, Israel is necessarily a part of any Red expansion program. The Dulles concern over that is logical, but his call on Jew and Arab to bury their differences and become friends embodies wishful thinking.

Realistic Zionists have never been backward in asserting that the future of Zionism embraces a commercial empire stretching from the Mediterranean to the Euphrates and the Tigris. Realistic Arabs are not blind to that fact.

Here is the oath just taken by the new Secretary General of the United Nations: "I Dag Hammarskjold, solemnly swear to exercise in all loyalty, discretion and conscience the functions entrusted to me as Secretary General of the United Nations, to discharge these functions and regulate my conduct with the interests of the United Nations only in view, and not to seek or accept instruction in regard to the performance of my duties from any Government or other authority external to the organization."

The usual phrase "So help me, God" and the Bible were missing. We understand the latter, as many UN nations do not accept the Scripture, but surely all people believe in God. Of course the Kremlin tyrants do not, but the Russian people do.

Read again the last few lines of the above oath: "...and not to seek or accept instructions in regard to the performance of my duties from any Government or other authority external to the organization." "So help me, God" and the Bible were missing. We understand the latter, as many UN nations do not accept the Scripture, but surely all people believe in God. Of course the Kremlin tyrants do not, but the Russian people do.

It's a shame to say so, but it was better that way.

The Nation's Press

PRESENTS PROBLEM MINUS AN ANSWER

The Dallas Morning News

The Secretary of State's broadcast was a news report, not an editorial. Mr. Dulles outlines a problem. He gave no answer. For this particular problem there may, indeed, be no answer. This country lent itself philanthropically perhaps, but unwisely, to setting up the State of Israel against the wishes of the Arab states. That has been done. The situation exists. Everybody now would like for the Arabs to accept the fact, let bygones be bygones. But human beings do not react in that fashion, least of all human beings imbued with and constantly subjected to the emotions of nationalism.

But when an economy-minded administration and House of Representatives began to practice what he preached, the officials and lobbyists for the nation's greatest and smallest corporations began to bombard the Senate with protests. In person, as well as by telephone-telegram and mail, they insisted on Senate restoration of House cuts affecting their special interests.

DEMAND RETENTION OF RESEARCH FUNDS — Multi-million-dollar processing firm demand retention of funds to aid their research. The General Electric Company, among others, wants no cuts in appropriations for the census of business because the statistics are valuable in planning sales campaigns. Atlantic and Pacific coast interests say they are dependent on continued fish research by Uncle Sam.

Local members of commerce, summarizing sentiment of their communities, protest against limitation of projects for dams, bridges, irrigation systems. Commenced, by their governors and senators, insist on construction of multimillion-dollar dams branded as unnecessary by Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge and Interior Secretary Douglas McKay. Economies in the Labor and Agriculture departments, which would cut or reduce their production of data on crop and industrial prospects, wages and income, are opposed by great industrial and agricultural units. They have been robbed of their goods while the officers of the law look on. And even if there were no rampant nationalism in the Pan-Arab center, there would still be astute Russian agents to stress the point. Israel lies athwart the march of Russia to the continent of Africa.

Sweet Potato Fails To Keep Pace With Consumer Demand

What's happened to the sweet potato? That's a question many home-makers are asking these days as they search for this nutritious food which is relished by nearly everyone. Several things have happened and are still happening, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The main thing is that farmers aren't planting as many sweet potatoes as they once did. For example, in the relatively short period from 1946 to 1952, annual production has dropped from 61 million to 28 million bushels. During the past 15 to 20 years, 22 states supplied the market. Last year six states—Louisiana, North Carolina, New Jersey, Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia—supplied 70 per cent of the total crop. Noticeably absent from the large producing states are the once all-important areas of Texas, Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee. And production in Georgia isn't nearly as large as it was.

Mrs. Bob Rose, 621 Bradwood, was hostess to the Deborah Class of the First Baptist Church for the regular social and business meeting. Mrs. Rose Buzzard presided at the meeting and gave the devotional.

Mrs. Harvey Downs led the opening prayer. The class record for the month of May is presented by Mrs. Elysa Buck. A shower was given in honor of the hostess who is moving away from Pampa. Cake and ice cream were served to Misses Harvey Downs, Alice Largent, Ross Buzzard, Bryan Buck, Clara Smith, Marjorie Moore, Orville Lewis, Ted Atwood and the hostess.

RUTH MILLETT

Here is one woman's thumbnail sketch of what it's like to be 40: "At 40 a woman's overwhelming emotion is gratitude when her husband says: 'My, you look pretty.' The compliment doesn't really make her feel any younger or prettier but it does make him look better.

"Her homemade opinions fall on deaf ears. Her husband knows what she is going to say before she says it. And her children have already developed a convenient deafness for use around their own homes.

"She has reached the age where a mirror isn't a challenge but a verdict.

"At 40 a woman can still appear to be gay and carefree for a gala evening. But the back of her mind is busy thinking about tomorrow morning. She has been a slave to responsibilities for too long ever to be able to free her mind completely for fun.

TIME WHEN VALUES CHANGE

"She would rather have a husband who is a good handyman around the house than one who dances divinely. And she doesn't mind a bit that his hair is receding if he is good-natured in the morning.

"It is then a woman doesn't seek sympathy from her husband when she is feeling blue. She seeks a sure cure. She goes down town and buys a new hat or decides to do over the living room.

"At 40 a woman has quit trying to look pretty but is concentrating just as hard on looking chic.

"Because at 40 a woman knows all the things that would have done her a lot of good if she had only known them at 20."

For this reason, production this year may come up to 35 million bushels if acreage intentions are carried out and growing conditions are average or better.

However, with the growing abundance and variety of fresh and frozen foods competing for the consumer dollar and with shifts to other crops in many producing areas, it seems unlikely that sweet potatoes will regain fully their former importance at any time in the near future.

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Jack B. had a good IQ. He also had a father who had worked his way through college, educated a young boy in the law, and was a leading law practice. Often Mr. B. talked to Jack about the "hard work" which had produced these achievements.

"Hard work made your Dad," he'd say. "Why, then, I never ate a meal without a book propped up in front of me. If you want to be somebody, you must work hard in school, son."

Jack didn't take this advice. Nor could his father ever understand why the boy with the good IQ chose, not to study, but to amuse himself so extravagantly at every school he attended that he flunked himself out of all of them.

His reaction is not mysterious. Too much talk about the "hardness" of work had seared Jack off work. Pressed by ambition for him, Mr. B. forgot that while the "hard work" lay behind him, explored and conquered, it lay before the child, looming and still unknown.

Mr. B. never got on to the pride that betrayed him into so exaggerating work's difficulties that Jack just didn't dare test himself against such awful odds.

It's possible that this is the situation of the son of a reader who writes: "Or boy simply refuses to study in school. We can't understand it as he has a good IQ. He knows how hard his father had to work for his education. How can you get a child to understand that he has to work hard to get ahead in school?"

One way is to refuse to ever exaggerate the hard work for your own school struggles. No healthy person, child or adult, enjoys the prospect of agonizing himself to full ill someone else's ambition for him.

Such exaggeration is a form of bragging. As in all bragging, resentment is back of it. Or hard work has not paid off in genuine content and self-acceptance.

If it had, we'd think of the effort back of our success with gratitude, not resentment. We wouldn't present hard school work as anguish to Jack, but discuss it casually as a natural obligation of his learning experience.

Indeed, if we're really relaxed, peaceful people, we probably wouldn't discuss it at all. Feeling no threat in the hard work we've done ourselves, we wouldn't feel compelled to keep urging our child with the good IQ to apply himself, but simply let him free to discover for himself what we already know.

Constant talk to children about "hard work" at anything suggests that the "hardness" of it is much too present in our consciousness. It's no good, by far, for doing is to make school success appear so remote and unattainable that Jack says, "The heck with work. I'm going to have fun."

Oilers Strengthen Hold On Third Place With Gasser Win

Borger Bows 22-9 To Oiler Nine

BORGER, June 17 — (Special) — The Pampa Oilers made it two in a row over the Borger Gassers in a Friday night with a resounding 22-9 victory.

It was the third straight win for the Oilers and strengthened their hold on third place in the standings. The Oilers remained two games out of first and a half game from second but held their lead over fourth place Plainview by 1 1/2 games.

Deck Woldt led the 22-hit attack of the Oilers here Tuesday night. The fleet centerfielder collected six hits in seven trips and drove in three runs. He hit the first five times he appeared at the plate.

Two homers were hit in last night's game, both by the Oilers. Doug Lewis pounded out a three-run circuit drive while Manny Tames smashed a solo homer. Both came in the eighth inning.

The Oilers were never behind after piling four runs in the first inning. They stretched it to 7-0 in the top of the fourth and the Gassers came to life in the bottom of the fourth for five runs and narrowed the gap to 7-5. But the Oilers refused to give in as they scored once in the fifth and then got seven big runs in the sixth for a 15-5 lead. The Gassers never threatened to catch up after that.

Eddie Hughes went the route for the Oilers and notched his sixth win of the season. The final four Borger runs came in the eighth and ninth innings when Hughes was apparently coasting behind the big lead his mates had given him.

Letty Joe Borrego, who started for the Gassers, was charged with the loss.

The Oilers move on to Amarillo tonight for a two-game series. They return home Friday night to open a six-day home stand, meeting Borger, Clovis and Amarillo during the stand.

Lubbock scored four runs in the top of the 11th inning to beat Amarillo, 5 to 3; Pampa trounced Borger, 22 to 9; Clovis beat Plainview, 7 to 2, on Carroll (Red) Dial's five-hitter; and Albuquerque defeated Abilene, 4 to 2.

Lubbock still held a one and one-half game edge over Clovis while Pampa was two games behind. Plainview and Albuquerque were tied for fourth place, three and one-half games back.

Pawelek, Woldt May Be Approaching WT-NM Record On Hitting Streaks

TWO OILERS ARE CURRENTLY holding big hitting streaks, speaking of Manager Porky Pawelek and centerfielder Deck Woldt. Pawelek has hit safely in the past 22 games while the Decker has collected at least one base knock in the past 20 games. We are in the process of checking the league record for hitting in consecutive games. It could be that both Pawelek and Decker are nearing a record.

Woldt has piled up a fine batting average during his hitting streak. He has collected 45 hits in 84 trips during the streak, a healthy .532 average.

Porky, 39, has hit his streak, a collected 33 hits in 88 trips, an average of .443.

ABILENE'S BLUE SOX, although they are currently resting in the West Texas-New Mexico League cellar, have a knack of spoiling special nights for their opponents' home games.

First off, the Sox handed the Oilers a 7-11 licking on Jackie Price Night here last Friday. Friday's crowd was the biggest of the season here and unfortunately the Oilers came up with their worst exhibition of baseball this season. The absence of two regulars, how-so-ever, attributed to the Oilers' downfall in this game.

Then Monday night, Albuquerque set aside that night as "Shriner's Night" which attracted another fine crowd but once again the Sox were the spotters, winning this one 10-2.

JACK HOLDEN, SPORTS EDITOR of the Abilene Reporter-News, has been having a time defending his Blue Sox around the editorial office at the Abilene paper this year, and only recently when the Sox carved out a 1-0 win over the Oilers, Jack's fellow workers still didn't show any mercy.

Following is a quotation taken from Jack's column of June 11:

"I had been watching the 21-7, 19- and 19-15 games for the past week or so and I was sure the Oilers would follow the 1-0 victory, he asked the score."

"Gazella pitched a 1-0 shutout," we answered.

"Why didn't you stay for the second inning?" he quipped.

Although His Game Is Suffering Ike Doing Wonders For Golfing Sport

By BILL JOHNSTON

DENVER, June 17 — President Eisenhower may do as much for golf as Babe Ruth did for modern baseball, but the White House has put eight strokes on his name.

The authority for the present sad state of the Chief Executive's game is old friend and fairway companion Dan Thornton, Colorado's governor.

Thornton, who's quite blunt about the fact that he'd rather play golf than stick around the state house, is one of the better amateurs in the Rocky Mountain area. His U. S. Golf Association handicap is three strokes — two, at Cherry Hills in Denver.

"The President used to shoot in the low 80s, and was marvelously consistent," Thornton said.

"I'm one of the longer hitters around these parts, but occasionally the President hits right out there with me when he catches one right. Sometimes he tries too hard off the tee, though, and that trick football knee he picked up at West Point slips out under too much strain."

Mr. Eisenhower gets better as the pin comes closer, Thornton said. His approach game is superb.

"Time and again, I've seen Ike take a short nibbler or wedge and drop the ball within inches of the cup, from 60 yards out," Thornton said.

Before he turned to politics, the Chief Executive was deadly on the greens, especially within the 10-foot circle, Thornton said.

KIWANIS SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Three games were played in the Kiwanis softball league last night. Two senior games were played. First Christian defeating Central Baptist, 11-6, and the Nazarenes chalking up a 13-5 win over Calvary Baptist.

In the only Junior League game, First Baptist defeated Salvation Army, 19-6.

First Christian rallied for seven runs in the fourth inning to overcome a 6-0 deficit and then went on to a win over the Central Baptist.

Allen Holtman and Jimmy Malone featured the fourth inning rally by the First Christians.

Gayle Trollinger was the hero in the Nazarene win over Calvary Baptist.

In addition to handling the pitching chores, Trollinger had a perfect night in the plate, getting a triple and two singles in three official trips.

The First Baptist Juniors, in winning over Salvation Army last night, moved into a two-way tie with Holy Souls for the lead in Junior League No. 1.

Johnny Campbell, softball director of the Kiwanis Club, revealed this morning that the age limit for the Junior Girls has been upped to 16. Any girl who hasn't reached her 16th birthday on June 1 is eligible to play, Campbell said. That is one year over last year's ruling.

Second round matches will be played today. In today's matches, Mrs. Duenkel meets one of the tourney favorites, Mrs. Gloria Ezell of Midland, while Lila was pitted against Mrs. J. R. Brown of Amarillo.

Four other Pampa ladies won in the lower flights. Shirley Austin dropped a 5-4 decision to Mrs. Benton King of Amarillo in a first round match yesterday.

All other Pampa entries won. Mrs. Orville Heiskell defeated Jane Farquhar of Amarillo, 3-2, in the second flight; Mrs. Mark Heath defeated Mrs. C. L. Duniven Jr. of Amarillo, 3-2 in the third flight; and Mrs. Fern Parker won over Mrs. Robbe Mason of Borger in the fifth flight, 2-1.

Mrs. Oak Alice Whittle drew a first round bye in the fifth flight.

Pampans Win In WT Golf

Jean Duenkel and Lila Austin, the two Pampa sharpshooters in the championship flight of the West Texas Women's Golf tournament now in progress on the Amarillo Country Club course, carved out first round wins yesterday.

Mrs. Duenkel defeated Mrs. Madeline Pomeroy of Midland, 1-up, while Miss Austin surprised Amarillo's finest golfer, Mrs. Chet Robertson, 2-up.

Michigan Is NCAA Winner

OMAHA, June 17 — Michigan University returned home Wednesday with its first national collegiate baseball title after smacking Texas 7 to 5 in the final game of the 1953 NCAA college world series here.

The Wolverines, pouncing on every opportunity, piled up seven runs on eight hits and five Texas errors, and batted down a last-inning rally by the Longhorns.

Texas kept the crowd of 5,303 roaring in the ninth, scoring a run and loading the bases while Michigan's catcher, Tom Jungman, pitched staff to stave off the rally.

Relievers Jack Corbett and Jack Ritter came in to preserve the victory. Wisniewski got credit for it.

Texas started Tom Jungman, a batting-practice hurler who was starting his first game. Jungman was knocked out of the box in the third, when Michigan got two runs on two walks and two hits.

Don Riefler relieved, but departed in the fourth when Michigan got three runs on two walks, two singles and an error by relief hurler J. L. Smith.

Smith limited Michigan to four hits the rest of the way, but three successive Texas errors in the eighth, let in two more Michigan runs.

The Tuesday night crowd boosted total series attendance to 31,900, about 6,000 short of last year's.

Smith, who relieved in five of Texas' series games, was voted the most valuable player of the meet by sports writers.

Yank Streak Snapped By Browns; Braves Regain Lead

NEW YORK, June 17 — UP — The Yankees thought they had every thing figured out right and then Duane Pillette, who specializes in beating them when they come home from another western trip with a four-hit, 5 to 1 victory, last year he varied the procedure a little by handing them a seven-hit, 4 to 3, defeat at St. Louis as they launched a western road trip.

The only consolation for the Yankees was in the pinch-single by Johnny Mize which drove in their only run and which gave him his 2,000th major league hit.

Vic Wertz with a two-run fifth inning homer gave the Browns their margin of victory and sent them to the lead.

down Ford with his only major league defeat as a starter.

However, runner-up Cleveland blew a chance to gain and stayed 10 1/2 games behind as Eddie Joost sparked a three-run eighth inning rally with a two-run single that gave Philadelphia its seventh consecutive win, 9 to 7.

Milwaukee went back in front by a game and a half in the National League race by coming home single in the seventh after they had pitched the Phils, 6 to 5 in 10 innings, and 3 to 2, as Brooklyn lost at St. Louis, 6 to 5. Cincinnati defeated the Giants 12 to 6, after losing 7 to 5, while Cubs defeated the Pirates 3 to 2 after Pittsburgh won the opener 6 to 5.

In other American League games the White Sox topped Washington 7 to 3 and Detroit topped Boston 5 to 3.

Rip Repulski put the Cards in front to stay with a run-scoring single in the seventh after they had blown an early 4-1 lead and the score was tied at 5-5. Roy Campanella hit his 18th homer for Brooklyn and Duke Snider got his 12th while Solly Messers hit No. six for St. Louis. The Cards went into third ahead of the Phils by winning.

Thomson's three run double. Cincy went ahead 5-3 in the second game on a three-run homer by Jim Greengrass, then scored seven runs in the sixth, three on a double by Gus Bell.

Howie Pollet pitched a five-hitter to top his recent Pirate team mates in the opener at Chicago, but Pittsburgh got a retaliatory five-hitter from John Lindell to win the second game. Randy Jackson in the opener and Dee Fondy in the second game hit Chicago homers.

Ray Boone playing his first game with Detroit at a new position—third base—hit a homer, double and single, and played flawlessly all day to pace the Tigers to victory in Boston.

Tuesday's Star: Big John Mize of the Yankees, who got his 2,000th big league hit, a pinch-hitter, that drove in the only run as St. Louis ended an 18-game New York winning streak 3 to 1.

In the 10th reliever Thornton Kipper walked Bill Bruton with bases loaded to force home the winning run. Max Surkont pitched seven-hit ball to win his ninth game in the nightcap. Milwaukee scored all its runs in the third.

Anti-Communist Sentiment Boiling in East Germany

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst

Things appear to be getting temporarily out of hand for the Russians in Communist East Germany. Walter Ulbricht, the Red "strong man" of Soviet-run East Germany called Tuesday for "criticism from below." There were demonstrations Tuesday against a factory "speed-up" plan, that appeared as phony as a three dollar bill.

But Ulbricht and the other comrades appeared to have underestimated the pent-up resentment of people rightly held down for seven years beneath the Communist yoke.

The Red idea seems to have been to encourage a little criticism from the ranks to prove that a Communist East Germany was, after all, democratic.

Western diplomats believe that the Russians act on relaxed controls in their effort to strengthen the hands of German socialists and correspondingly to weaken the hand of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Germany's champion of the west.

No Heat Relief Experienced From State's Thunderstorms

By UNITED PRESS

Thunderstorms tantalized West Texas late Tuesday night but brought no real rain as city after city reported mandatory water restrictions.

Nor did Texas get any heat relief. The state's maximum temperature reading soared past 100 degrees for the 26th consecutive day. It was 109 at Presidio.

Frank Baldwin, Houston public utilities director, said he would go before the city council Wednesday and ask it to impose a mandatory water rationing program in the state's largest metropolis. Baldwin said he would make only a general recommendation, but would submit a letter and "let the facts speak for themselves."

Voluntary Rationing Falls

Voluntary water rationing failed to work at Houston.

Laredo slapped on mandatory water rationing Tuesday for the same reason: nobody voluntarily gave up and quit flowing at Laredo for the second time in two weeks Monday.

The Rio Grande flowed only at Anzalduas, the International Water and Boundary Commission reported Tuesday, along the 200-mile stretch of the international stream between Laredo and the Gulf of Mexico.

The Anzalduas flow of seven cubic feet a second Tuesday, IBWC said, was nothing more than drainage from irrigation projects.

Crops are Parched

Crops were parched throughout the state. Jack Lewis, assistant Dallas county agent, said cotton farmers in the Dallas-Fort Worth area planted "hundreds of acres" in cotton that never came up.

Lewis said corn also was imperiled. "This is the time of year when corn has to have adequate moisture if the ears are to develop," he said.

The hot weather also was ripening wheat faster than farmers could harvest it and produced more demand for combines.

The thunderstorm activity in extreme West Texas late Tuesday night and early Wednesday was of a tantalizing nature.

Light Rain at El Paso

El Paso reported light rain at 11:30 p.m. and the Salt Flat weather station said it could see lightning to the west. Earlier in the evening, Salt Flat, Wink, El Paso and Maria weather stations said they could see lightning or hear thunderstorms in the vicinity. But by midnight, no measurable rain had been reported to the U. S. Weather Bureau at Dallas.

The Laredo city council adopted an ordinance providing fines of $5 to $100 for sprinkling lawns, washing automobiles or using air conditioning units which don't recirculate water.

Water already is being restricted throughout the Lower Rio Grande Valley, populated by 250,000 persons.

Dig Own Wells

Enough Fort Worth residents were reported digging their own wells, in order to provide water for lawn sprinkling, that the sanitation department was prompted to issue a special reminder that permits from the plumbing inspector were first necessary.

Dallas citizens kept breaking records for electric power use, using up to 375,400 kilowatts by 4 p.m. Tuesday, raising last Friday's record of 371,000 kilowatts. This despite the fact that Dallas escaped 100 degree-plus temperatures for the first time in six days. The high maximum reading was 99.

White Deer FFA Buys Show Hogs

WHITE DEER (Special)—White Deer's Future Farmers have purchased their show hogs to be used in the Dallas Fair next October. The Hampshire Barrows were bought by Wayne Howard, Alvin and Melvin Kalka, and Jimmy Hoskins.

Purchased from the McKnight Hampshire Breeding Farm, of Pampa, the hogs cost $15.00 each.

The local club has nine hogs they are feeding out for market. A booth will be used in the Tri State Fair at Amarillo.

Pampa Air Committee Agrees To File For Better Service

Details of the route are tentative and may be worked out later, Culbertson pointed out. No special airline is to be recommended.

Representing Pampa and other cities in West Texas on a 12-man policy committee for the southwestern organization will be William J. Smith, Pampa attorney, and W. A. Brooks, Lubbock.

The group agreed to cooperate with Dallas in filing petitions with the Civil Aeronautics Board for improved service to the communities with Dallas as the central location. Cities from Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Louisiana and Arkansas are to be included in the campaign. A committee plan for area has been designed with each community to be considered separately.

Pampa is to file a separate petition asking the CAB for reconsideration and study of airline service needs in the area. The route proposed by the James Buckley survey made for the Dallas chamber would begin at Amarillo, extend to Borger, Pampa, Childress, Vernon, Lawton, Okla., and terminate in Dallas.

White Deer Plans New Fire Building

WHITE DEER (Special)—Plans are being under way in White Deer for a new Fire Department building which will replace the old structure which was built in 1925. The new building which will be in the same location, will be constructed of cement blocks. Estimated cost will be $7,000 with Russell Hill local contractor, beginning construction sometime this week.

The front of the building will house the trucks; the central part will be used for meetings of the Department; the rear of the building will be a room 15' x 22' to be used for the White Deer Troop of Boy Scouts.

The newly purchased fire truck is due to arrive soon. The old truck will be kept at Ford Motor Company until the new structure is erected. Meetings of the Department will be held in the Masonic Building each Monday with every other Monday being for practice drills.

ROSENBERGS

unless a jury recommends it," Douglas said. "The Rosenbergs should have an opportunity to litigate that issue."

The Rosenbergs won the dramatic 11th hour stay from Douglas after failing in three separate moves before the full bench Monday to obtain Supreme Court intervention. On Monday the tribunal had refused a stay, turned down for the fourth time an appeal for a review of the case and denied a petition for a writ of habeas corpus that would have had the effect of delaying the execution. And last month, Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson also had denied a stay.

Douglas said the point about validity of the death sentence had not been raised in any of the five earlier petitions presented to the court.

First Reactions

"The first reaction is that if it was not raised previously, it must have no substance to it," Douglas said. "But on reflection it presents a considerable question. One purpose of the atomic energy act was to ameliorate the penalties imposed for disclosing atomic secrets."

He said Congress had indicated the purpose of the law was to protect the national defense and yet assure "sufficient freedom of interchange between scientists to assure the nation of continued scientific progress."

Their stay was obtained not by the battery of attorneys representing the Rosenbergs but by two outsiders representing a Los Angeles resident, Irwin Edelman, who had interested himself in the case.

FBI Credits Public

SAN ANTONIO, June 17—UP—J. Edgar Hoover's administrative assistant Charles A. Donelan, credits the public with playing a vital part in capture of the FBI's "most wanted" criminals.

Donelan told the 54th annual convention of the Texas Police Association Tuesday that 42 much-sought criminals have been arrested since newspapers, radio stations and television began widely publicizing its "10 most wanted" list in 1948.

Wanner Funeral Held Today

Last rites for Mrs. Esther M. Wanner, 55, of 800 N. Somerville, were held at 9:30 a.m. today in the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Wanner died Monday morning in a local hospital.

Members of the Pampa Rotary Club attended the services as a group.

Officiating at the services was Dr. Douglas E. Nelson, pastor of the church. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery.
