BUT LEAVES DOOR OPEN Shivers Reluctant To Announce Plans

AUSTIN, May 22 —UP— Gov. Allan Shivers won't say yes and he won't say no to a lot of people suggesting that he seek re-election to an unprecedented third term. "I have always said I would do what a majority of the people wanted me to do," Shivers said Thursday, plainly leaving open the door.

The nearest thing to an announcement by any potential gubernatorial candidate thus far came during a Shivers news conference.

At the same time, the governor lashed the Texas State Teachers Association for "arrogance" in sticking to its $2000 or nothing pay raise demand.

Shivers strongly hinted that failure of the teachers' salary boost—compromise of $300 a year which

The Ice Cubes? They Melted

NORMAN, Okla., May 22 —UP—Dixie Smith 'planted' ice cubes in her front yard as temperatures soared past the 100-degree mark.

Neighbors stared in disbelief. Each ice cube held a flowering cherry seed she intended to plant last fall but failed to do so. Someone told her to freeze the seeds and plant them later.

Tidelands Bill Signed By Eisenhower Today

States Gain Title To Offshore Lands

WASHINGTON, May 22 —UP— President Eisenhower Friday signed a bill giving coastal states title to offshore lands that may hold a billion dollar oil treasure.

Mr. Eisenhower thus made good on one of his 1952 campaign promises and wrote a new chapter in a bitter legal fight dating from 1945.

The House completed congressional action on the controversial measure last Wednesday by accepting the Senate's version. The Senate had passed the bill the week before after an historic five-week debate.

DR. T. M. JOHNSTON
Baccalaureate Speaker

High School Vesper Rites Set Sunday

Vesper services for Pampa High School's seniors will feature an address by Dr. T. M. Johnston, minister of the local First Methodist Church, at 5 p. m. Sunday in the high school auditorium.

Dr. Johnston has chosen "The Comprehensive Life" as the baccalaureate sermon topic.

Rev. Edwin L. Hall, St. Paul Methodist Church, will deliver the invocation at the service; Dr. Douglas Nelson, First Presbyterian Church, will give the benediction; and Rev. Dick Crews, First Christian Church, will present the scripture reading.

Music will be furnished by the high school A Cappella Choir, directed by Kenneth Baumgardner, and the high school band under the direction of Orland Butler.

Approximately 170 seniors will appear in the procession and reception of graduates during the service.

The new law gives coastal states title to submerged lands out to their historic boundaries. These lie three miles seaward for all states except Texas and West Florida, whose boundaries are recognized as 10 1/2 miles into the Gulf of Mexico.

Former President Truman twice in 1946 and again in 1948 — vetoed similar legislation. The Supreme Court has held, in a series of decisions, that the federal government, "not the states," has "paramount rights" in the offshore lands, commonly known as the "tidelands."

Mr. Eisenhower's signature was expected to touch off another legal battle in the courts. Even before the measure went to the White House, three states — Rhode Island, West Virginia and Arkansas — served notice they would fight it in the courts.

However, congressional advocates of state ownership, anticipating a new legal test, wrote a "court-proof" clause into the bill. Known as the "separability clause" it provides that even if state ownership is overruled by the courts, the coastal states still have the right to develop offshore oil, gas and other natural resources within the state boundaries.

Methodists Meet In Abilene Next Week

All local Methodist ministers and two lay delegates from each of the three Pampa churches will be in Abilene next week, Wednesday through Sunday, for the annual Northwest Texas Methodist Conference.

Dr. J. Edmund Kirby, superintendent of the Pampa District, left today for the conference city to serve as a member of the appointing cabinet with eight other district superintendents and Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas.

More than 500 lay delegates and 265 ministers from the Northwest Texas Conference are expected at the meeting. All appointments for the new year, beginning June 1 will be announced at the conclusion of the conference.

Ministers attending from Pampa include Dr. T. M. Johnston, First Methodist, Rev. Edwin L. Hall, St. Paul Methodist, and Rev. Raymond Dyeas, Harrah Methodist.

Delegates from the local churches are Bob Curry and Roy Bourland of First Methodist, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Shannon, Harrah, and Mr. and Mrs. Kit Autry, St. Paul.

Floods May Ruin Water

NEW ORLEANS, May 22 —UP— Contaminated water posed a new threat Friday to the flooded southern Louisiana city of Lake Charles as Texans slaved against time to fortify dikes before a mighty crest on the Sabine River pours into the coastal town of Orange.

A crest bore down the Sabine River in Texas upon the city of Orange. A main levee on the Sabine, which divides Texas and Louisiana, crumbled Thursday, causing the 740 residents of the town of Deweyville to flee.

Hundreds of Navy reservists in southern Texas and Lake Charles and Texas National Guardsmen were called out to help fight the rampaging Sabine.

Twelve persons have died as the result of the mighty storm and floods that have raged along the Gulf coast for nearly a week. Eight died in Louisiana, one in Texas, two in Mississippi and one in Tennessee.

U. S. Bests Russia On Atom Bombs

BONN, Germany, May 22 —UP— A West German government bulletin, quoting a "military expert," said Friday that Russia has produced "at the most" 100 atom bombs.

The United States is making an estimated 800 atom and hydrogen bombs yearly, the bulletin said.

The bulletin added that America is outdistancing Russia in the development of atomic guns and the use of atomic energy to drive motors.

But the official government publication said Russia, China and the Soviet satellites have a peacetime armed force strength of 6,438,000 men, including 174 divisions, compared to 3,178,000 men and 90 land divisions in the forces of the 14 North Atlantic Treaty nations.

The bulletin estimated the Soviet Union and satellites could muster 300 active divisions within two months after mobilization whereas the West could put only 180 active divisions in the field.

But, the bulletin said, the armed forces of Sweden, Switzerland, Spain and Yugoslavia must be added to those of the NATO countries in event of a new world war.

No explanation was given in the bulletin for including the armies of traditionally neutral Sweden and Switzerland. Government quarters said, however, they were included on the ground that it probably would be impossible for Sweden and Switzerland to remain neutral in another world war.

Robbers Flee With $1,000

NARA VISA, N. M., May 22 —UP— Three young, unmasked men brandishing a gun forced Mrs. Sarah Franck, a teller at the First National Bank, to hand over all her currency and fled with about $1,000.

New Mexico State Police Chief Joe Rosch said the men drove out of Nara Visa, near the New Mexico-Texas border, in a green 1951 sedan, Texas license R10-2018.

Mrs. Franck was alone in the bank when the robbery occurred late Thursday. She said the robbers all were young men.

Laborer Requests Top Job Openings

An estimated 70 jobs were available this morning in the local office of the Texas Employment Commission.

And, so far this month, a total of 128 persons have been found positions, according to Bill Ragsdale, head of the local office.

Among the jobs on Ragsdale's desk today were those for 40 laborers (at least 21 years old) and 10 persons for electrical assembly work (veterans, 18-26, no experience).

Tornado Relief Fund Now Up To $900

The local Red Cross-sponsored drive for the Waco-San Angelo Relief Fund totaled $900 today as the drive went into its last day.

A check for this amount, plus any more donations that might be received today, is to be sent through the Mid-Western Area Office of the Red Cross directly to the Waco - San Angelo Relief Board, according to Lewis Chambliss.

TAKING THE OATH of office, City Commissioner Frank Dial (hand raised) was officially seated at 9:14 a. m. today to finally complete the city's governing body. City Tax Assessor-Collector Aubrey Jones, shown reading the oath to Dial, conducted the brief ceremony. A few seconds after receiving the oath, Dial signed the paper declaring him a commissioner with a copy of the oath printed on it. (News Photo)

Belated Ceremony Installs Dial As New Commissioner

The Pampa City Commission was finally completed at 9:14 a. m. today when Frank Dial took the oath of office from City Tax Assessor-Collector Aubrey Jones.

The shirt-sleeved city officials met only to canvass the ballots of the May 18 run-off election and watch the new commissioner take his oath of office.

All pending and new business will be taken up at the Tuesday meeting.

"Now you may sit up close to the table," Mayor Tom Ross Jr. jokingly told Dial as he took his place following the swearing in ceremony.

Dial had been at the Tuesday meeting of the commission when lack of a quorum forced postponement of canvassing the returns.

So after more than two months without representation on the commission, Ward 2 finally has an official voice.

The ward's commission seal has been empty since former Commissioner Bob Thompson resigned to move to Amarillo late in February.

The April 7 city election failed to give Dial a majority over his opponents, Dale Pinson and A. J. Hindman. That was another 30 days or more for the run-off when Dial finally nosed out Pinson by five votes.

Commissioner W. B. (A) Neel, who was called out of town Tuesday before commission meeting, returned late Thursday night from Mineral Wells, and made the motion accepting the returns and declaring Dial elected. Commissioner Gene Fatheree made the second and motion carried. Commissioner W. D. Varnon, the fourth commissioner, has been out of town since mid-April. He expects to return around June 10.

UN Proposal Due Monday

MUNSAN, May 22 —UP— The text of the United Nations' "final" proposal for ending the long war prisoner deadlock was believed to be in this Allied truce camp Thursday.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief UN negotiator, will present the proposal to the Communists at Panmunjom next Monday when the eight-day recess in the truce talks ends.

Harrison was still in Tokyo conferring with Gen. Mark W. Clark and negotiators here refused to comment on terms of the proposal which is expected to resemble the Indian plan adopted by the UN General Assembly in New York last December.

POPPY DAY TOMORROW—Mayor Tom Ross, above right, helps a disabled war veteran as he buys a poppy from Girl Scout Zeporia (Zippy) Hall. The poppy is one of approximately 5,000 to be sold in Pampa tomorrow under the sponsorship of the American Legion Auxiliary, Members of the auxiliary, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts will be in all strategic spots in downtown Pampa with the poppies. Headed this year by Mrs. Mike Roche and Mrs. J. M. Turner, the sale is an annual benefit for all disabled war veterans of America and all proceeds go for this cause. Twister Kills Five, Others Hospitalized

PORT HURON, Mich., May 22 —UP— Marine law was declared in neighboring Sarnia, Ont., Friday in the wake of a tornado which cut a 70-mile swath of death and destruction across southeastern Michigan and Ontario.

There were at least five known dead and 39 hospitalized, with hundreds of others slightly injured by flying glass and debris. Damage was estimated at $2 million.

The weather bureau at Toronto, Ont., said the tornado whirled eastward over Lake Ontario during the night and dissipated early Friday at Watertown, N.Y. It was Canada's third tornado since weather bureau records were started 75 years ago.

The black, funnel-shaped twister appeared at 4:30 p. m. Thursday near the village of Smiths Creek, Mich., 10 miles southwest of here.

It skipped across flat farmlands, picked up the rear end of a freight train and shook it like a toy, chewed up a residential section here nine blocks wide and 16 blocks long, then leaptfrogged across the international boundary of the St. Clair River and hit with full fury in downtown Sarnia.

The tornado then swirled eastward, tearing Canadian farmhouses, routing trees, knocking down telephone and power lines and smashing cars along a 300 to 400-foot wide path.

In Sarnia, Acting Mayor Clayton Sawyer read the riot act on the steps of city hall at an emergency session of the city council, thus officially putting the city of 35,000 under martial law.

About 250 soldiers from nearby Camp Ipperwash were called in to help city and provincial police and Royal Canadian Mounted Police patrol the streets and prevent looting.

Ike Hopes To Mold Unity In Big Three

WASHINGTON, May 22 —UP— The President Eisenhower will go to next month's Bermuda conference determined to harmonize American world issues before agreeing to a Big Four meeting with Russia, administration officials said Friday.

The word was that Mr. Eisenhower's primary purpose in getting together with British and French leaders was to put a quick stop to recent Trans-Atlantic name-calling and forge unity where dangerous splits are developing.

If Western unity can be achieved at Bermuda, the President will consider a Big Four parley later in the year, officials said. But the administration's dead end against Russia in a meeting in which the Russians could exploit Allied disunity and confusion.

Dispatches from Moscow said diplomatic sources in the Soviet capital were optimistic over the chances of an eventual big-four meeting but doubted it would be held in the near future.

The administration's cautious stand against advance commitments for a meeting with the Russians jibed with view of key members of Congress. They applauded the idea of Big Three talks as a starter; but warned against giving the Russians a ready-made opportunity to widen existing differences between Washington, London and Paris.

Thursday's sudden fall of the French government headed by Premier Rene Mayer cast a temporary cloud over the Big Three conference plans which had been announced less than four hours before.

Secy. Dulles Flays Soviet Aggression

NEW DELHI, May 22 —UP— U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said Friday he sees no point in new "Big Four" talks while Communist armies remain in Korea and Indo-China and Russia continues to block an Austrian peace treaty.

Dulles' statement appeared to throw cold water on high hopes of British and French leaders that the United States would agree to a new top-level approach to Russia as an early sequel to the Big Three meeting scheduled this summer in Bermuda.

USDA Purchases Beef

WASHINGTON, May 22 —UP— The Agriculture Department Thursday announced the purchase of 71,000 pounds of frozen boneless beef which will be given away to school lunch programs and other nonprofit institutions. Average cost was just under 40 cents a pound.

The department said it also purchased this week 150,000 pounds of frozen carcass beef for export to Greece at an average of 25.4 cents per pound.

Weatherman Sees Relief From Heat

LEONARD
THUNDERSHOWERS TODAY

A prediction of "partly cloudy with scattered showers today" was only promise of any relief from Pampa's heat wave which climbed to a blistering 95 by 5 p. m. Thursday.

The mercury climbed steadily all through the day and entered the nineties around noon. Still climbing, it hit the peak by close of business time to start dropping slowly but surely until it hit a low of 65 this morning.

Temperatures began the upward climb and by 11 a. m. today had reached 77. The Weather Bureau added that scattered showers were expected as a "slightly cooler."

Marine Planes Able To Lend A-Bomb Support To Infantry

DALLAS, May 22 —UP— Marine fighter planes have successfully carried atomic weapons in close support of ground troops and can soften up enemy forces 4,000 yards ahead of advancing Americans, it was revealed here Thursday.

Lt. Col. W. E. Crowe of the Marine Corps air arm said both the Banshee jet fighter and the propeller-driven Sky Raider can lend tactical atomic bomb support to fighting ground forces.

The Marine Corps also has evolved a joint attack with troop-carrying helicopters and the atomic bomb-packing fighter planes.

Crowe is commander of the Marine air detachment at the Dallas Naval Air Station.

Test Probe Safety

The atomic tests in Nevada proved atomic bombs can be safely dropped as close as a mile to ground forces, Crowe said, permitting the bomb to be dropped and troops to be rushed in immediately by helicopter.

The joint helicopter-atomic fighter attack involves sending out small troops in the "copters," followed by atomic bomb-bearing Marine fighter planes off decks of aircraft carriers.

Scribe Says Ike's Call For Big 3 Meet A Master Stroke

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst

The week's balance sheet between the good and bad news in the hot and cold wars:

THE GOOD

1. Both Britain and France reacted eagerly to President Eisenhower's call for a Big Three meeting. It was obvious that all parties hoped such a meeting would end recent bitter exchanges across the Atlantic and restore a common Western front in seeking peace in Korea and meeting the current Communist "peace offensive." But while Washington was silent on prospects for a later meeting which would include Russians, both London and Paris made it plain they would make demands for such a meeting the first order of business. Diplomatically, the President's call was regarded as a master stroke.
2. The West German parliament completed legislative action on the European army pact and the West German peace contract. There was optimism that Italy might be next and that Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg might follow swiftly. Such action by five of the six nations party to the agreement would, it was hoped, quickly also bring the French into line and make the long-sought goal of European unity a reality.
3. Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito said Yugoslavia would stick with the West, regardless of what the Soviets may do to win them with a peace offensive. Tito said the Yugoslavs "will never forget the help our Allies—America and England—gave us in the darkest hour of our history."

THE BAD

1. Korean truce talks, hopefully resumed last April 26 after an eight-month recess, again were in deadlock. An eight-point plan offered by the Communists had been rejected by the United Nations, and a 26-point program submitted by the UN met a similar fate at the hands of the Reds.
2. The four and a half month-old government of French Premier Rene Mayer fell on a no-confidence vote, based on Mayer's demand for extraordinary powers to deal with France's economic emergency. It left France leaderless at the very moment the United States, Britain and France were planning a Big Three meeting to deal with the Russian "peace offensive" and the Korean war.
3. Trouble leaped from spot to spot like forest fires scattered by the wind in the northern half of Africa. Egypt bristled with a pledge to fight to the bitter end to drive the British from Suez, by force if necessary. Nigeria was torn by popular riots arising from independence demands, and inter-tribal warfare threatened in Kenya where order already was seriously upset by the mounting ferocity of the Mau Mau attacks.

Senate Approves Lunch Bill

AUSTIN, May 21 — UP — A bill authorizing creation within the Department of Public Welfare of a central agency to handle distribution of surplus commodities allocated by the federal government for use in the school lunch program was approved Wednesday by the Senate.

TREAT TREES TENDERLY—Workmen erecting a canopy over coronation stands near Westminster Abbey (background) in London were too tender-hearted to trim off branches of trees around which stands were built. So they went to the trouble of "tailoring" the canopy to fit around them.

PHS Theatre Class To Present Play

Children's Theatre Class at Pampa High School will present a dramatization of "King Midas and The Golden Touch," Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

This announcement was made by Miss Billie Hutchings, head of the high school Speech Department. Admission will be 10 cents for the show, slated to run about one hour and 15 minutes. Leading characters are Don Sprinkle, playing the role of King Midas, and Marva Su Stone, who plays the part of Princess Tyra.

Miss Hutchings announced that the public is invited to the play, despite the fact that it was produced primarily for youngsters.

Chamber Of Commerce Preparing Brochure

Little folders boosting Pampa are to be printed by the Chamber of Commerce for distribution to cafes, motels, service stations and other places used largely by tourists, traveling men and others coming through the city.

The layout for the folder showing U.S. Highway 60 and caricatured nearby interesting spots, including the new Quinduno Field, has been completed but has not been sent to the printers.

E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth, manager of the Chamber of Commerce said no specific date has been set for its printing, but added it would be soon, possibly a week.

Joan Crawford At 45 Years Makes Comeback In Dancing

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, May 22—UP—Joan Crawford, dancing in pictures for the first time in 14 years in skit-like black shorts, decided today she's kept that slender figure by doing her own housework.

The one-time $30-a-week chorus girl, who won fame as a Charleston hooper, blossomed into a dramatic star during the last decade, and many a movie fan has forgotten she was a dancing queen of the '30s.

Today, at 45, the actress staged a spectacular dancing comeback in Torch Song at MGM. In a clinging dancer's leotard and long, black mesh stockings, she looked a sexy 25.

Miss Crawford confessed this is all due to a scrub brush and a cook book. "Tennis or gym work? Oh, no!" exclaimed Joan. "My exercise is scrubbing floors and doing the laundry."

"Sunday, for example, I got up, fired the cook, cooked breakfast, had my hair dyed, had a manicure and pedicure, cooked lunch, prepared dinner, kissed the children good-bye, packed my clothes and came to the studio. I've been living in my dressing room at the studio because of the work schedule."

"Thanks-to-my-home-activities, I haven't had one sore muscle from the dancing and rehearsals six hours a day. I reached my shoulder once on a turn, and got my sacroiliac out of hack four times, but I've never been sore."

Torch Song is another milestone in her first movie in color after all these years.

"Everyone will expect to see me with dark hair and eyes, but I have red hair and blue eyes," she laughed.

The picture also is the star's first at her alma mater, MGM, in 12 years. She got the part because she dropped in at the studio to appear in a short subject for the cerebral palsy fund.

"I don't care whether you're a newcomer or been around this business 20 years, they have to see you around or they forget you," she said firmly.

Miss Crawford, whose last musical was The Shining Hour in 1939, added from now on "I want nothing but musicals! This is the easiest picture I've done."

"This is the story of a dancer, completely enamored of her career self sufficient," she said. "Yet you see her crying herself to sleep. She turns out to be a lonely woman. What career woman isn't?"

Cities Service Employs Stage Picnic Thursday

Twenty-nine employees of Cities Service Oil Company (Delaware) are possessors today of service awards, following a company picnic held in Pampa.

Among those honored with awards were one company veteran with 30 years of continuous service, one with 25 years, three with 20 years, five with 10 years and 19 with five years.

Highlight of the picnic Thursday, the awards were presented by heads of the various divisions of the firm having employees in the area, according to Cities Service officials.

Attending from the company's main office in Bartlesville, Okla., were Frank M. Perry, vice president in charge of gasoline-chemical division, and Glenn Harsh, assistant general superintendent of oil production division.

ditionally been led to expect that labor is a crescendo of discomfort until at the dramatic climax when pain reaches an almost unbearable stage, the baby is born. Is it any wonder that a woman clamors for anesthetic relief, not from the pain which she is experiencing at the moment, but because of the pain which she expects in the future?

The old-time women have nourished the legend from generation to generation. It's time to know why. Women have been angry at men for a long, long time. Down the centuries, they've distilled the poisons of their personal emotional defeats into the promotion of childbirth agony as our punishment for the act of acceptance of Man, the Enemy.

One of these days, we're going to welcome birth with original, not third-hand feeling. When it comes, the child guidance clinics will lose a lot of business. For there'll be no more secret hate of children. There'll be no more demands for their lives in return for "what I went through for you."

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
The summer I was 13, I read Tolstoy's "Anna Karenina." But I didn't really know what had impressed me most in that great novel until the hour my baby was born, some years later.

Then, in the hospital delivery room, between gasps of gas and oxygen, I found myself muttering about "heavy artillery." I demanded to know where it was.

My doctor was a remarkable woman. She called to me, "Lie back, sweetie. It's O.K. Tolstoy was a mat. There isn't any 'heavy artillery.'"

In Tolstoy's novel, two lesser characters have a baby. Its birth is described in terms of a dreadful military assault upon the mother's body. At the age of 13, Tolstoy's descriptive genius had scared the wits out of me.

There is not one of us whose first pregnancy is not marked by the same unconscious struggle against the bombardment of propaganda on the mysterious, the unimaginable agony of childbirth.

It is one of the wickedest propaganda going. So I am glad to commend a new book to pregnant women. It is called "Naturally Yours." It is the work of a young mother named Catherine Schurr who wouldn't permit the propaganda to steal the creative experience of childbirth from her by surrounding it with a haze of other people's terror. Its point of view is summarized in a quotation from a pamphlet published by the Maternity Center Association which says: "For centuries mothers have tra-

White Deer Seniors Honored At Reception
WHITE DEER (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Huey Laycock honored seniors of White Deer High School with a recent reception held in McConnell Hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

Assisting the host and hostess in the receiving line were Miss Gertrude Golladay and R.Y. Corder. Mrs. Lawson Shaw registered the guests and Mrs. R. Y. Corder assisted by Mrs. D. V. Biggers and Mrs. H. T. Peacock, presided at the refreshment table.

Bette Fern Roles entertained with piano selections.

Skellytown Cub Scouts Entertained At Picnic
SKELLYTOWN (Special)—Dena Five and Six of the Cub Scouts in Park Number Nine had a picnic recently in the park at Pampa. The boys played baseball and other games before having their picnic lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heaton and Mrs. Miles Pearson sponsored the group of Cub Scouts.

Those attending the picnic were Joe Chapin, Carroll Dean Russell, David Pearson, Wayne Kreis, Mack McAllister, Allan Heaton and Philip Stevenson.

Oilers Home Tonight After Series Sweep At Amarillo

Rodger Aldridge On Hill Tonight

Winners in six of their last seven starts, the Oilers return home tonight to open a 6-day homestand, meeting the Berger Gassers in the first series starting at 8:15.

The Oilers made a clean sweep of their two-game series with the Amarillo Gold Sox last night at Amarillo, winning by a 9-3 count. The Pampanas had previously won the series opener, 20-17.

Rookie Roger Aldridge, who has shown lots of promise this season although he has yet to be credited with a win, is slated to be the starting Oiler hurler tonight. Aldridge has a blazing fast-ball and if his control is right, the Gassers are in for a rugged evening. Control has been Aldridge's main weakness this season but he has shown marked improvement in this department by the game.

In returning home tonight, the Oilers boasted a 3-1 road game trip that included a series split with Berger and the clean sweep from the Gold Sox.

Eddie Hughes went all the way last night to pick up his second win of the season. He had a neat 4-hitter going until the ninth inning when the Gold Sox reached him for four more hits and their final four runs that pulled them to within one run of catching up.

Hughes struck out five and walked six in his route going performance of the season.

Amarillo scored first in the opening inning.

Sonny Tims started things with a double but was thrown out at third on Dub Graves ground ball. Bobby Hobbs was walked, sending Graves to second, then Jim Matthews singled to drive in the heat-footed outfielder, katter from the Gold Sox pulled to 2-3 in the second on Travis Wiginton's base on balls, pitcher Jack Venable's infield ground out and an error by Doug Lewis on Tims' skidding ground ball.

Pampa picked up one run in the third on Lewis' line drive

Dodgers Fifth Victim In Row Of NY Giants

NEW YORK, May 22—UP—Leo Durocher was riding so high Friday on a five game winning streak that he was willing to manage two ball clubs at once—his Giants and the rival Dodgers.

Not that he was criticizing the way Charley Dressen was handling the Dodgers—not much. But in the wake of Thursday night's stirring 7 to 2 Giant triumph in which Al Corwin gained his third relief victory in the last for games, Durocher was asked 'Why don't you start Hoyt Wilhelm now that he's well rested?'

"Yeah, and if I did that I'd get in the same kind of trouble the Dodgers did in starting Joe Black," Durocher replied lippily. "You put your ace relief pitcher in at the start of a game and pretty soon he needs help."

"You look down at the bench and in the bullpen and you can't find Wilhelm because he's the guy out on the mound who needs help. So I'm not going to start the best relief pitcher in baseball because the chances are good I'll be needing him later on."

Durocher then pretended to be alarmed because Corwin, with his strong middle-inning relief work, was making Wilhelm out of shape from lack of work.

"When he doesn't work he comes to me and tells me he needs to get in a few innings to keep on edge," Durocher said. "But he's not going to get a start—not if I don't need him in relief again all season."

The Pirates also came from behind to defeat the league-leading Phils 7 to 2 with a seven-run rally in the sixth, while the Cards won a weird 11 to 9 victory from Cincinnati after trailing 6 to 0.

In the American League, the Yankees came from behind to defeat the Senators 6 to 5, and the Athletics blanked Boston 9 to 0 although Bobby Shantz was injured in the process.

In a sand-lot type of exhibition at St. Louis, the Reds took a 9 to 0 lead then after the Cards tied it at 6 to 6, Cincy scored three runs to go ahead 9 to 6.

The Cards rebounded in the same inning with four runs as pinch-hitter Peanut Lourey put them ahead for good with a cushion tally in the eighth.

There were no other games scheduled.

Thursday's Star: Hank Thompson of the Giants, who hit a homer and triple and played superbly in the field, starting the Cards tally in a 7 to 2 victory over the Dodgers.

Futures Meet Exes In Spring Grid Battle Tonite

The Harvesters' spring football training session will come to a close tonight when the futures meet the Exes in a regulation tilt at Harvester Stadium.

Kickoff time has been set for 8. About 45 boys will take part in the game for the Harvesters, twelve of the 13 returning letters men will participate in the clash, Bobby Wilhelm, out with fractured arm, will be the only vet missing the contest.

The starting lineup for the futures will come from the returning lettermen. However, the entire squad is expected to get into the game before the firing is over.

Probable starters for the futures will be as follows:

Ends — James Phippen and Bobby Holder.

Tackles — Don Prigmore and Charles Jordan.

Guards — Alton Flynn and Ronnie Elliott.

Center — James Hawkins.

QB — J. N. Wright.

HB — Ed Dudley and John Darby.

FB — Harold Lewis.

All of the above played at those positions last fall with exception of Elliott, who is shifting to guard from tackle.

No definite starting lineup has been named for the Exes. But a good guess would be as follows:

Ends — Lee Fraser and Jimmy Martindale.

Tackles — Buddy Cockrell and Richard Qualls.

Guards — Bill Phippen and Jack Traywick.

Center — Tommy Sells.

QB — Reggie Mayo.

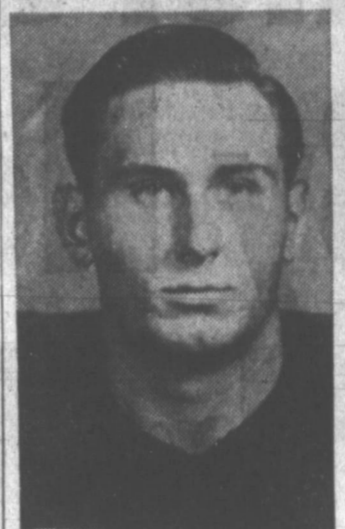

HB — David Enloe, Joe Tynes or Red Radcliff.

FB — Jimmy Keal.

Packers Sign Hoffman

GREEN BAY, Wis., May 22—UP—The Green Bay Packers announced Friday that Tom Hoffman, former Monmouth College center and linebacker, has signed a 1953 Packer contract. Hoffman, who weighs 222 pounds, made both the offensive and defensive All-Midwest conference teams last year.

The solid earth is the lithosphere, water is the hydrosphere, and air is the atmosphere.

RUGGED LINEMEN—Tommy Sells, left, and Bill Phippen, right, who played side-by-side last season as regulars on the Harvester grid machine; will again be at their respective positions tonight when they will be playing against the Futures in a regulation tilt at Harvester Stadium. Sells, a center, and Phippen, a guard, will receive their diplomas this spring and their absence next fall will be keenly felt in the Harvester forward wall.

Oilers Faring Well On Road Trips; Harvester Football Preview On Tap

IF THE OILERS CAN CONTINUE to win 50 percent of their road games this season like they have done thus far, they could vary in presenting the top spot in the standings when the firing ceases next September.

The Oilers have played 12 road games to date and have a 6-6 record in those tilts.

At home, the Oilers have won seven and lost four.

It is generally conceived that if a club can break even on the road, then their chances for a high finish in the standings is excellent.

The Oilers have made three road trips and only one was a disastrous one. They won two out of three in their first road jaunt into Albuquerque and Clovis; won only one of six on their second trip into Lubbock, Abilene and Plainview; and then won their first four in their just completed trip into Berger and Amarillo.

The saying over town these days is the Oilers certainly are making it hard on the fans' blood pressure.

Those close games in which the home club almost overtook the Oilers in the final stages left most of the fans breathless at the finish.

But, if it is agreed by all, so long as the Oilers manage to hold on until the finish that's all that counts.

Besides, the local fans got to have something to cheer about and we know of no better way of letting them cheer than by letting the home club almost catch up and then shut the door just before they do.

Two of the three players that Deck Woldt recommended to the Chicago White Sox organization. It is doubtful that the Oilers will get their services since they aren't in the White Sox organization.

A LOT OF GOLF IS scheduled for the week end for Top o' Texas as dufters.

Several Pampanas are taking off today for Amarillo where they'll be taking part in the Amarillo Invitation Pro-Amateur tourney.

Definitely going from here are Clarence McGinnis, Jean Duemel, Ed Ehrig, R.M. Samples, Randall Clay, John Formen, Groger Austin, Jr., and pro Johnny Austin.

Tomorrow, of course, is National Golf Day at the local course and about 100 Pampanas are due to turn out and try to beat national champion Julius Boros.

Tommy Only One To Best Par Bolt Leads Colonial With 67; Hogan Six Strokes Back

FORT WORTH, May 22—UP—Terrible tempered Tommy Bolt, who thinks there's no point in "flipping your lid" on a real tough golf course, was leading the $25,000 Colonial National invitation tournament by four strokes Friday because he practiced what he preached.

The Maplewood, N. J. professional had his bad moments on the opening round Thursday — such as blowing two 18-inch putts — but he choked off his normal tendency to break a few clubs and wound up with a flashy three-under-par 34-33-67.

That was good enough to give him the longest lead any golfer has ever held in this tough tournament at the start of the second 18-hole round.

Tough Weather

The 35-year-old Oklahoman was the only player in the field of 48 able to conquer Colonial's long, 6,552-yard, par 35-35, 70 layout in the face of 25-mile-an-hour cross winds, 92-degree heat and 60 per cent humidity that left everyone, including a gallery of 8,000, dripping wet.

His closest competitors — Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., and Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill. — were way back at one-over-par 71's.

Asked why he managed to keep his temper on those three-putt greens that gave him his only bogeys to offset his birdies, Bolt replied: "On a tough course like Colonial—and it's as tough as any I've ever played—a bogey doesn't cost you a stroke or two on the rest of the field like it does on the easy courses we usually play. You can figure your competition is doing the same thing somewhere out on the course."

National Golf Day Set Here Tomorrow

"Beat the champ" will be the cry of Pampa golfers tomorrow when they will pit their scores (plus handicaps) with the 1952 U. S. Open champ — Julius Boros.

The local golfers will join the nation in what has been declared "National Golf Day."

Pro Johnny Austin, of the Pampa Country Club has everything in readiness for all local dufters who would like a chance to beat the U.S. champion.

The course will be open all day tomorrow and anyone is eligible to compete in the tourney. Entry fee is only $1.

While golfers all over the nation are playing their own courses, Boros will be playing the Oakmont Course in Pittsburgh. Boros' card will be pitted against all invites throughout the country.

If a player succeeds in beating the national champ, he or she will receive a bronze medal with "I Beat Julius Boros" inscribed on it.

This is the second annual National Golf Day. The tourney was started last year with the nation's

Clovis, Oilers Pressing Hubs

The Clovis Pioneer, winners of the West Texas-New Mexico League last year by a wide margin, got off to a slow start this season but were in challenging position for the leadership again Friday.

The Pioneers, in last place 15 days ago, have won eight of their last nine games and were in the second notch one game from leading Lubbock.

Clovis' ninth win after the about-face was a 30 to 3 shelling of Abilene Thursday night. Buddy Yount and Ray Ramirez held the Blue Sox in check with seven hits while Clovis routed five Abilene pitchers, scoring nine runs in one inning, the third, and a total of 19 in the first three innings.

In other games, Lubbock stayed in front by beating Berger 7 to 1 on Bob Galey's seven-hitter; Pampanas edged Amarillo 9 to 8 to trail leading Lubbock by one game and second place Clovis by six percentage points; and Plainview beat Albuquerque 5 to 3.

Friday's schedule finds Albuquerque at Plainview, Clovis at Lubbock, Berger at Pampa and Amarillo at Abilene.

Scores by innings:

Abilene 9 10 100 0-3 7 4
Clovis 6 9 0 10-20 20 20 3
Urbana 6 9 100 10-1 7 7

The Great Fraud

The current agitation over Social Security would roll in the aisles some of us customers — those who have repeatedly spoken out against this fraudulent payroll tax — if by any stretch of the imagination you could label the subject a laughing matter.

For almost 20 years it has been considered politically safer to be in favor of sin than to oppose Social Security. It has been well nigh impossible to drive home the point that the economic immorality of the Social Security doctrine was a far more dangerous sin than some of the garden variety we hear condemned daily; that its corrupting influence could undermine the foundations of the body politic.

But currently there is a growing concern with Social Security among a goodly number of citizens, including congressmen as they ask, "What kind of a Frankenstein monstrosity have we created?"

Of course, at this stage the talk is only of "reform," dodging, as can be expected, the real issue which is that you don't cure a malignant growth by painting it with iodine. You cut the vicious thing out!

This Social Security doctrine was foisted on the people by Franklin Roosevelt, who lifted it bodily from the 19th Century bag of tricks of Germany's Iron Chancellor, Otto Von Bismarck, and sold it to a depression-minded America as a corner-stone of the New Deal.

Like all dispensations of free candy, the hangover comes after the binge.

The moral objections to Social Security are not causing the current dissatisfaction with the doctrine. As usual it takes the material threat to bring home the pain of the inevitable punishment for violation of natural economic laws.

The political figures of the country are realizing that the day of reckoning is approaching when Social Security outgo will vastly exceed income, and the cost of the program will have to be frankly financed out of sharply hiked current taxes.

And the common herd is beginning to discover that in all artificial gimmicks to legislate thrift or any other faculty of the individual the inequities are glaring and distasteful once the chocolate coating is licked away.

Furthermore, as attention turns to the cost of operating our out-sized governmental machinery, the spectacular levy for administering the Social Security program with its millions of individual payroll cards and employer returns is causing alarm. And these governmental costs do not embrace the extra charges that the productive economy has been carrying the last 15 years as a free service to the socialistic program.

Social Security was promoted as an "insurance" system when it was sold to the representatives of the American public. But insurance implies equal benefits for equal premiums and such is not the case, millions of citizens are coming to learn, with Social Security.

For example, a person coming under the program a year or two before retirement may receive the maximum benefits of $85 per month the rest of his life — the same maximum amount received by an individual who has contributed to the program since its inception 15 years ago.

Social Security discriminates against working wives in favor of non-working wives; against high paid employes; against wage earners in favor of the self-employed.

Like all so-called "humanitarian" programs imposed upon an industrial production in defiance of the rules of economics, the effect is rarely visible at the time of institution. To sell the scheme it was necessary to emphasize the fact that the employer would be taxed to provide an annuity for the elderly employe, and to de-emphasize the fact that the employe was also a payee. In actuality, the employe probably pays the total contribution since the share paid by the employer is merely an adjunct of wages.

In the end the employe pays a share of his wages for Social Security and a share of his taxes to administer the fund to keep it operating. The principle accomplishment is to make larger amounts of wealth available for distribution by the political machinery which is incapable of functioning on an equitable basis since it is inherently sensitive to political pressure for special privilege.

In the current phase of the Social Security program the discriminatory features of the doctrine are becoming obvious. The next step will be more painful. Usual banking procedure is to pay interest to the customer on thrift accounts. As Social Security settles down to business, the process will be for the customer to pay the government bank to keep his account. And the government will have one powerful advantage over the banks. It can send out its troops, not only to collect the interest, but the savings as well.

The 1953 Tax Bill

Who was your employer during the first four months of this year?

You'll say that you worked for yourself, or for some business or other. But, in a very real sense, you worked for the government! The nation's 1953 tax bill will be as much as the wages, rents, interest and dividends received by all of us during the January 1 to April 22 period that again — and then decide whether economic government and eventual tax reduction are in your personal interest.

Ex-School Teacher Comments On Brass Hats In "Education"

I want to continue to quote from a letter by Howard D. Selden of Colorado Springs on his opinion of what has happened in the public schools. Mr. Selden is an ex-school teacher. His sister and brother and father were all school teachers also.

In this installment Mr. Selden thinks one of the solutions is to get back to the Bible in public schools. It seems to me that Mr. Selden doesn't seem to understand that tax supported schools violate the Golden Rule. Any group of people who are violating these great moral laws, of course, have to exclude them from their curriculum to keep from being embarrassed and to save face.

From here on I am quoting from Mr. Selden:

"If ever we are to get back on the 'Road to Freedom' as suggested by Reverend Solitt in 'Faith and Freedom,' there must be some radical changes made, and IMMEDIATELY. This is a brave act of the N'th degree. Looking around, one must naturally ask 'Where are the brave' to initiate these changes?' Instead of 'The Land of the Brave' it has become a land of social-climbing 'apple-polishers' who know how to money, college degrees, social position and influence—losing their freedom to stand up and speak out for the RIGHT, by allowing themselves to become enslaved through the worship of these false gods; of their own choosing—and to their own destruction.

"Among those we have to thank for the degradation of our once rather efficient schools are those who lobbied unceasingly until their efforts were rewarded by the removal of the Bible from our schools. Personally, I'm of the opinion that these lobbyists knew what the result would be, their efforts quite deliberate, hoping the desired result might be realized within a reasonable length of time. With the Bible stressing the dignity of Man, his Individuality as a child of the Creator, his right to enjoy the fruits of his labor, etc., it was impossible to make any headway with the socialistic-munistic theories ('fronting' for Statism) that psychopathic minds were, and are, so intent upon installing into the impressionable minds of the young.

"The first step toward the 'Road to Freedom' is to put the Bible back into our schools, as Oklahoma has just done where it belongs. It was the inspiration of the Founding Fathers of our Republic, therefore the real basis of our new government. It should be the very basis of our educational system—the moral principles — character development—going hand-in-hand with the three R's from the first day of school onward. For those prone to 'pop off' with objections, may I remind them that putting the Bible back into our schools has nothing to do with the 'Church and State' question, because the Bible is NOT a man-made religion. It is a Textbook of Life—of character building—the most important and necessary of all textbooks. It is philosophical in its observations of what type thinking and the resultant conduct is best in the long run as indicated by the observed results. (Yes, it even tells how and where we may find that much-sought-after 'security' and legislative enactments are NOT mentioned.)

"The next radical move is to make a transition of NEW BLOOD — educational personnel who know the meaning of education, sincerely devoted to the well-being of our country through intelligent development of our youth. (NOT those who have gone into the teaching profession because of the tenure laws and pension system, afraid to try to make their own way in the business world!) This is a radical move — it is apparently impossible. We cannot get such personnel from our present teacher training schools, all of which are a part of and hence under the control of this Pedagogical Oligarchy that has practically ruined our entire public school system and seriously infected our institutions of higher learning.

"I am forced to agree with you that the public school got off to a bad start when, instead of confining it to a sphere of service among those unable to attend a private school, it was expanded to serve all. That opened the lid of the Pandora Box of Educational Ills with which we are cursed today. The first of the contagious diseases was the compulsory attendance law, which spread rapidly over the country. Had this law been phrased 'If no other facilities are provided for the education of the child or children of a household, then the parents shall arrange for attendance at the nearest public tax supported school.' But No! — Every child between the ages of six and 14 (or 16) SHALL attend — etc. — etc.

"Did the parents ask for that law? I'll say they didn't! It was lobbied for! And by Whom? By those who could see expansion of their institutions through training personnel to train other personnel to staff these public schools! Did you ever attend a teacher-training school? Do you know what kind of material they select to work on?

"Well, the writer did — was forced by his father who taught in one! Looking around it seemed that those who were favored by the faculty were usually a type greatly impressed with their importance and abilities, and of the opinion that they had the right to make every pupil conform to their own personal pattern. More plainly speaking — too many seemed to be going into the teaching

National Whirligig.. Solons Probably Will Not Act On Taft-Hartley This Session

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON — Although the amiable chairman of the House and Senate Labor committees — Representative Samuel K. McConnell of Pennsylvania and Senator H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey — have begun already to draft the 1953 version of the Taft-Hartley Act, it is probable that there will be no action on this controversial legislation at this session.

The demands of spokesmen for management and the unions are so irreconcilable that they are self-cancelling. Although the executives of the great corporations are relatively satisfied with the existing law, they have insisted on drastic changes in the twelve weeks of hearings in Capitol Hill.

But they have done so in a spirit of bargaining rather than in any expectation of achieving their ends. They simply countered opposition pleas for weakening the law.

LABOR PREFERS PRESENT SYSTEM — Although labor's official representatives cannot admit it openly, since they have denounced the measure as a "slave labor law" almost since its enactment in 1947, they indicate that they would prefer to operate under the present system rather than face law and unknown conditions of bargaining.

The unions' legal and organizing staffs have adjusted themselves to Taft-Hartley provisions and arrangements. And although they deny it officially, they have not been injured seriously by the six-point, With the inflationary movement apparently checked, they are as contented as they ever can be.

AMENDMENT RATHER THAN REPEAL REQUESTED — As the hearings reveal, it is extremely significant that the agents for the workmen and women seem reconciled to retention of the law in some form or other.

—Bowling to politico-economic realities, in view of the fact that so many union members apparently voted for President Eisenhower, they have asked for mere amendment rather than outright repeal.

The most vocal advocate of wiping out the law of the books has been John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers. Ironically, save for the fine which he and his organization could well afford to pay, his dictatorial and successful rule of 400,000 miners has not been affected adversely.

DURKIN SILENT ON ISSUE — Durkin House indecisiveness will be partially responsible for any legislative failure to revise the law. Although President Eisenhower promised in his State of the Union message that he would submit proposals for changes, no administration spokesman has appeared before either House or Senate committee. The executive branch has not carried out its pledge to "submit specific recommendations."

Ike's selection of Martin P. Durkin because it offered the opportunity of bullying those who were not of a size nor in a position to fight back! The poetic phrasing is — To impress one's personality upon the impressionable youth! (Refer to the Bible, and therein will you find many warnings against accepting or worshipping and being influenced by ANY personality, to the neglect of PRINCIPLES.)

Fair Enough...

Mr. Publisher Had It Easy; He Married The Boss's Daughter

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
(Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)
For a long time, in my quiet, desultory way, I have been making my own investigation of the American press and my impressions are pretty close to disturbing in spots. I have watched the rise of Arthur Hays Sulzberger, the publisher of the New York Times, to a position more influential than that of a mere editor and publisher. He actually operates his own foreign policy in the field of Europe and at home he pretimes to try to dictate the form and substance of education in the public schools and colleges. He does this through his own department of education, which is not a usual department of a newspaper.

Mr. Sulzberger's own career has followed the standard pattern of Horatio Alger, Jr. He married the boss's daughter. After that, there was no stopping the young genius. The boss was Adolph Ochs, who really was an editor. The marriage was in 1914 and the lucky boy entered the newspaper business in 1919 after an interlude in textiles which he mentioned in an address to the second annual convention of the Association for Education in Journalism at Columbia University last August.

Mr. Sulzberger gives an impression of self-importance, a trait easily detected in other editors and publishers, even as far down the line as Tucson, Ariz. In keeping with this personal quality, he opened his speech to the association with a monumental feat of name-dropping.

"Last June," he said, "I had an audience with the Emperor of Japan." I have examined this anecdote with care and find no excuse for it except that the boy who made good wanted them to know that he had met the Emperor of Japan. Well, I once met King George V of Britain and on another occasion I met his wife, Queen Mary, and I was on the town one night with the ex-King-Emperor, the Duke of Windsor, but all that has nothing to do with this case. I just thought I would see Mr. Sulzberger's Emperor and raise him one Emperor and one Queen.

Mr. Sulzberger seems to be of two minds about truth, accuracy, objectivity and reason in the presentation of news. At Columbia he said Mr. Ochs, his late father-in-law, had held his news columns "unbiased by the passions of the crusader," but admitted that he, in his turn, had decided that it was impossible to be strictly objective or to present the news without any bias. With this on his chest, Mr. Sulzberger confessed that when the second World War began he remarked with tears in his eyes that he wished they could print the Times in cordite instead of carbon so that the worst readers, accordingly, "Something new emerged, a new form of journalism shaped to fit the period."

"The time had come," he continued, "when news had to be explained, when interpretation had to go hand in hand with the statement of the fact itself, when the meanings of things that occurred had to be made clear if they were, indeed, to have meaning."

His belief that this was something new in journalism suggests that Mr. Sulzberger is still a comparative stranger in the profession. The papers of Lincoln a time found a variety of meanings in almost all the news facts, and Mayor Gaynor, of New York, wrote that some papers had reached depths of falsehood and baseless news known anywhere in the world. Their proprietors, he said, were well known to have no moral sense, in respect to the truth and to be willing to forego the esteem of decent people so long as they could make gain out of falsehood.

I courteously call this passage to Mr. Sulzberger's attention as a warning that interpretation can get out of hand. Not that he needs telling, the same could be said to a host of other newspaper editors. Now, on the other hand, I find Mr. Sulzberger on the rostrum again speaking to Sigma Delta Chi, an insubstantial fraternity of journalists. This time he is saying: "The citizen has the right to be free press, one which welcomes criticism and which admits that the manner in which it presents the news is a matter of legitimate public concern." He also said some newspapers fell short of the need for eternal vigilance to see that the news columns were objective and unbiased.

The man who at Columbia had repudiated the objectivity of Adolph Ochs for the interpretation of Sulzberger now expressed concern over the going news, which he threw away all of its protestations of virtue and plays the news and writes the heads in a manner to suit the editorial beliefs of its publisher.

Well, darn me, if that isn't just what I thought he said he and the Times did when that "something new emerged, a new form of journalism shaped to fit the period."

I am glad Mr. Sulzberger welcomes criticism and believes he should communicate his noble sentiment to those of his brethren who have been acting as though it were heresy to the sacred constitution for Joe McCarthy to criticize or question any editor for anything. And this big ball-of-wads should bear in mind that distortion and deceptive coloration can be achieved by the negative process of suppressing material facts. I reminded him of this in a letter last fall. The example was a passionate political diatribe in the guise of a book review written by John B. Oakes, a member of the Times editorial board, which abounded in dirty insinuations and concealed from readers of the Times the controlling facts that one of the authors of the book was a professional snop for Drew Pearson and that McCarthy has kicked hell out of Pearson in a public place. The book was a trashy campaign blast against McCarthy.

Neither Sulzberger nor Oakes of his editorial board answered my letter of challenge. How could they? They were guilty of the very sin which the boy who married the boss's daughter condemned when he said some papers fell short of the need for eternal vigilance to see that the news columns were objective and unbiased.

By long legal tradition, some of whose roots go back to Roman law, a citizen charged with a crime is immune to prosecution based on certain types of evidence. Sometimes by statute, more often by common law decisions in the courts, our judicial system has come to recognize certain conversations as privileged; that is, they cannot be used as evidence against an accused: The words a man speaks in his confessional, for example, or certain conversations between husband and wife or between client and counsel. A man cannot be forced to testify against himself. In many instances a public confession cannot be used afterwards as evidence in a trial.

The law of immunities has always posed obstacles for public prosecutors. The constitutional protection against self-incrimination can be used as a broad shield to protect not only the man accused, but also his associates because he can use it to avoid testifying against them. The narrowness of the immunity can also be an obstacle, since witnesses will hesitate to testify against others if they would also incriminate themselves.

Periodically this frustration of the public and its official prosecutors in their efforts to run down evil-doers brings on a move to alter the law of immunities to fit what seem to be the needs of the day.

The frustration today is the parade of witnesses who have refused to testify before congressional investigating committees. They have refused to testify even against others for fear they would thus lose the shield against their own prosecution.

So there is now a bill in Congress, approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee, to allow congressional investigating committees to give to any witness a blanket immunity from prosecution as a result of any testimony he may give against others before those committees.

The impulse behind this bill is understandable, but the bill itself is dangerous.

From purely practical view, it would open the way for the worst of abuses. Under such a law it would be possible for those who have committed crimes to use a congressional investigation as an escape from accountability. For the unscrupulous it would be a temptation to connivance; for the vindictive it would be a temptation to bear witness as revenge. It is not enough to say these abuses would be guarded against. It is enough to say that those abuses would be made possible.

Nor is this answered by the arguments that at divers times men who have turned "state's evidence" have later been rewarded by lighter prosecution, for these doubtful deeds are done by individual judges and prosecutors; there is no blanket immunity even under present law, a witness who did testify before a congressional committee about himself and his associates would have his contrition weighed in the balance, with all other judgments when he later answered in court.

But the practical abuses that might arise in Congress are not the whole of the evil. This proposal misinterprets the reasons for the traditional immunities and, by setting a new precedent, would undermine the more essential doctrine that among free men each man is accountable in public court for his actions.

It is against the public welfare to tempt a man to perjury by demanding that he testify on his own crimes, or a wife that she testify against her husband, or a priest that he violate his allegiance to God. These immunities are granted not to facilitate the prosecution of crimes, but to prevent the law from encouraging crimes and to provide more safeguards for the innocent.

It is a dangerous temptation to alter this doctrine of immunity in a moment of public arousal to fit the passions of the moment. For it is quite a different thing to establish precedent for a doctrine that a man can absolve himself from accountability for his own crimes merely by denouncing those who participated in it with him.

BID FOR A SMILE

She — John, when we were first married you used to tickle my chin. Do it again.
He — Okay, which one?

John was confiding to a friend that his buxom wife was on a reducing diet. John — And believe it or not, this morning she actually touched the floor with her shin without bending her knees.
Friend — How did she do that?
John — She fell out of bed.

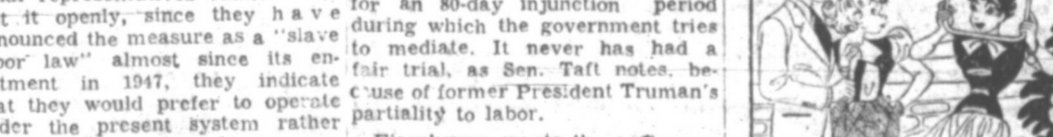

Bill — That fellow over there is my cousin.
Will — On your mother's or your father's side?
Bill — Oh, he keeps out of their arguments.

After Calvin Coolidge made it known that he did not choose to run again for the Presidency, he was besieged by newspaper reporters for a more elaborate statement. It seems one member of the fourth estate was more persistent than the others.
Reporter — Exactly why don't you want to run for President again, Mr. Coolidge?
President — (solemnly) No chance for advancement.

Dorothy — Where is Berlin?
Dorothy — In Hollywood, I guess, writing more songs.

just a cup of COLD WATER

What we do for self dies; what we do for others grows into immortality. A cup of water given in Christ's name shall not lose its reward. Mark 9:41. Rebekah gave water to a stranger... she became the wife of Isaac, an ancestress of Christ. An uneducated old man, with a verse of scripture, turned a youth to Christ... Charles Spurgeon. Florence Nightingale gave her cup of life, and changed nursing from a despised job to a blessed profession. A small boy gave his lunch, and Jesus fed five thousand with it. Attend your church and bring your cup, your life to God... He can make big streams of good flow from it.

You In The Church... The Church In You
 Form a combination for good. We should attend church regularly. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the CHURCH. Be faithful. Be a Churchman!

1. SINCE THEN COWBOYS DECLARED PEACE ON US, I'M MORE JUMPY THAN EVER.

2. LOOK! THE BONFIRE BOYS CAMP!

3. ANAAAAMPH! A COOKIN' POT WITH COOKIN' STUFF IN IT... YUM! LICORICE!

4. YOU'LL SPOIL EVER'YTHIN' BY GITTIN' CAUGHT... AN' NEVER THEY COME... HIDE!

5. HAMP! LUCKY WE GOT A PLENTY OF EVER'YTHIN' CAUSIN' SOMEBODY IS BEEN AT OUR TABLE, MR. MOLES.

Jackson Twins

1. I'VE GOT THE TRAIN TICKETS! I HAD JUNIOR TALKED SAM INTO GETTING WHITE CLOUD WITH HIM YET?

2. I DON'T KNOW! HERE HE COMES NOW.

3. WHEW! WHAT A JOB! SAM WOULDNT LISTEN WHEN I SAID WHITE CLOUD WOULD BE LONELY FOR HIM!

4. AN WHEN I SAID HE WAS TOO BIG FOR ME, SAM SAID TO GROW UP TO HIM!

5. SO I HAD T'MAKE UP A STORY THAT WED HARTA SELL HIM. TAKE HIM ON A TRIP TO THE SEACOAST WE WERE TAKIN' THIS SUMMER. THAT DID IT!

6. HMM... FUNNY YOU SHOULD THINK OF THAT! WELL, LET'S GET HAVEN'T WE HAVEN'T MUCH TIME?

Blondie

1. LOCK UP THOSE ZEBRAS--THEY'RE RUNNING WILD!

2. IT'S A STAMPEDE--CALL OUT THE MARINES!

3. WHY ARE YOU SLEEPING DOWN HERE ON THAT HARD SOFA WHEN WE HAVE THAT NICE, SOFT BED UPSTAIRS?

4. I GUESS HUSBANDS NEVER WILL UNDERSTAND WIVES.

Alley Oop

1. THE QUEEN, MY LORD, IS DEAD!

2. OUT-OUT BREEZIE! LIFE'S BUT A WALKING SHADOW, A POOR PREY THAT STRUTS AND PRETS HIS HOUR UPON THE STAGE, AND THEN IS HEARD NO MORE...

3. IT IS A TALE TOLD BY AN IDIOT, FULL OF SOUND AND FURY, SIGNIFYING NOTHING.

Bo

1. LOOK! LET'S STOP AND SEE WHAT THOSE FRESH VEGETABLES LOOK LIKE. IT MIGHT PAY US TO GET SOME--WE'RE NEARLY HOME--

2. OH YES--THESE ARE RIGHT OFF OUR OWN FARM AND CHEAPER THAN CITY PRICES--

3. THAT'S THE DOG IN THE SACHARINE SOAP--MY GOODNESS--WAIT TILL I GET MY DOG AND SHOW YOU WHAT--

4. I'M THROUGH WITH GETTING MIXED UP WITH THOSE SAPPY, SACHARINE SOAP FANS--WHOOO ON 'EM!

Buzz Sawyer

1. I WAN BE SURE YOU LOCK THE GATE AFTER LETTING THE GENTLEMEN OUT, OK, BY THE WAY, MR. SAWYER, HOW WAS THE FISHING YESTERDAY?

2. YES, JUST BELOW THE OBSERVATORY, SURELY YOU REALIZE THAT THE PURPOSE OF AN OBSERVATORY IS TO OBSERVE, WELL--GOODBYE.

3. FOOL! WHY DID YOU LET HIM KNOW? BESIDES, I TOLD YOU TO KEEP THEM AWAY FROM HERE!

4. SO I'M THE FOOL, AM I? AND WHOSE CLEVER IDEA WAS IT FOR ME TO CALL ON THEM IN THE FIRST PLACE? YOURS!

Chris Welkin

1. DON'T HOLLER, BABY AND YOU WON'T GET HURT... ALL I WANT IS THAT TAPE RECORDER!

2. YOU!... KENT!

3. I ASK MYSELF... SHOULD I FIGHT THE STRONG AND DETERMINED MISTER KENT... OR SHOULD I SMILE?

4. I'M NOT HERE TO FOOL AROUND... SHAME!

5. TAIN'T THE COAST-TO-COAST TURNPIKE, WELKIN, BUT IT REATS WALKIN' TO VENUS VILLAGE!

6. NOT BETTER, BUT FASTER ANYHOW!

Mutt & Jeff

1. HOW ABOUT THIS FISH? $2.53!

2. NO! TOO MUCH!

3. HERE'S ONE, LADY, BUT NO! STILL TOO MUCH!

4. I DUNNO, LADY!

5. WELL, HAVEN'T YOU ANY SOALES?

6. NO I DON'T HAVE ANY BUT THE FISH DO!

7. WE JUST LAV'EM DOWN AND THEY WEIGH THEMSELVES!

Bugs Bunny

1. UP T' GREET TH' ROSY-FINGERED PAWN AFTER A NIGHT ON YER PARK BENCH, HUH SILVESTER?

2. DELIGHTFUL MORNIN' ISN'T IT, GUYNOR?

3. HEY!

4. HOW'S THAT? IS SOMEONE CALLIN' I?

5. WHA'S A IDEA O' LUGGIN' THAT PARK BENCH AROUND ON YER BACK?

6. IT'S REALLY QUITE SIMPLE, SIRE!

7. ONCE A WEEK I ALLOW MYSELF THE LUXURY OF BREAKFAST IN BED!

1. IT'S A LONG FLY TO LEFT FIELD.

2. CARLYLE!! WHAT KIND OF NONSENSE IS THIS?

3. LISTENING TO A BALL GAME WHILE DOING YOUR HOME-WORK!!

4. YOU CAN'T POSSIBLY CONCENTRATE THAT WAY!

5. SURE, I CAN POP.

6. I CAN TELL YOU EXACTLY WHAT EVERY BATTER DID!

THE CONTRADICTION

1. I DIDN'T SHOW HIM A THING--HE DID IT ALL HIMSELF--IT'S A SCALE MODEL OF THAT 440-TON CRANE!

2. I'LL BET TH' BULL O' TH' WOODS IS WONDERIN' IF HE EXPECTS THE KID TO STEP OFF THAT TOY INTO A BIG JOB HERE, 'STIDPA GETTIN' INTO SOME OVERALLS AND EXPERIENCE ON TH' BIG ONES!

3. I DON'T KNOW WHY THEY BRAG SO LOUD ABOUT COMIN' UP TH' HARD WAY, THEN WORK SO HARD PUSHIN' THEIR KIDS UP TH' SOFT WAY!

4. HELLO, REG! FROM THE LOOK IN YOUR EYE, I GATHER THAT JOHNNY BULL IS UP TO SOMETHIN'... BUT BEING MERELY A POOR, YANKEE CRYPTOGRAPHER, I COULDN'T EVER FIGURE OUT WHAT!

5. I COME IN FRIENDSHIP--WITH A CODE THAT APPEARS TO BE POINTED TOWARD AMERICAN SOLUTION! YOU MAY HAVE THE KEY AT YOUR FINGERTIPS WHICH WOULD TAKE US A WHILE TO REACH, BY CALCULATION...

6. SO THE DEAD ESCAPEE FROM REP CHINA HAD THIS CODE MESSAGE IN HIS MOUTH! DOES IT SUGGEST ANYTHING TO YOU?

7. PICTORIAL SUBSTITUTION ALL THE WAY... IF I CAN REMEMBER WHERE THE SEEN THOSE SYMBOLS BEFORE, THEY JUST ELUDE ME, BUT... REY! I THINK I HAVE IT...

FLYING SURE BEATS SWIMMING

1. EGAD, TWIGGS! THANKS TO YOUR INGENUITY IN WRESTLING $1,000 FROM J. WELLINGTON SIMS FOR MY INVENTION, I CAN ACCEPT THAT BID TO THE CORONATION! UM! NOT MUCH TIME--SHOULD I FLY?

2. WHY NOT? THOSE PLANES ARE BIG ENOUGH NOW TO CARRY KING SIZE FREIGHT!

3. I'M SQUIBBLY ABOUT AVIATION MYSELF--NEVER COULD I PASS UP A CARNIVAL FERRIS WHEEL!

Steve Canyon

1. HELLO, REG! FROM THE LOOK IN YOUR EYE, I GATHER THAT JOHNNY BULL IS UP TO SOMETHIN'... BUT BEING MERELY A POOR, YANKEE CRYPTOGRAPHER, I COULDN'T EVER FIGURE OUT WHAT!

2. I COME IN FRIENDSHIP--WITH A CODE THAT APPEARS TO BE POINTED TOWARD AMERICAN SOLUTION! YOU MAY HAVE THE KEY AT YOUR FINGERTIPS WHICH WOULD TAKE US A WHILE TO REACH, BY CALCULATION...

4. PICTORIAL SUBSTITUTION ALL THE WAY... IF I CAN REMEMBER WHERE THE SEEN THOSE SYMBOLS BEFORE, THEY JUST ELUDE ME, BUT... REY! I THINK I HAVE IT...

Vic Flint

1. HOW DOES IT FEEL TO BE AN INFLAMMABLE PRIVATE EYE? YOU'LL KNOW WHEN THE FLAME COMES DOWN THIS ROPE!

2. A DOUBLE HOT FOOT, LADIES AND GENTS! I LIGHT A MATCH! I TOUCH IT TO THE END OF A NICE INFLAMMABLE ROPE--

3. THEN I MAKE A GRAND EXIT--AND YOU DISAPPEAR IN A PUFF OF SMOKE.

Little Doc

1. IS THIS YOUR NEW AUSTRALIAN BOOMERANG, L'L DOC?

2. YUP!

3. WHY DON'T YOU USE IT?

4. ARE YA AFRAID Y'LL SOIL IT?

5. NO--

6. I'M GOING NUTS TRYING TO THROW AWAY THIS OLD ONE!

Wash Tubbs

1. IF EASY'S GONE ON TO LONDON I'LL HAVE NO WAY TO REACH HIM! WE'S GOT TO BE HERE!

2. THEN ON A HILL SIDE AHEAD, PENNY SEES THE BEIRD WHITE HORSE OF LIFFINSTON.

3. A PRIMITIVE FIGURE ABOUT 500 FEET LONG, CUT INTO THE CHALK CENTURIES AGO BY AN UNKNOWN PEOPLE.

4. OH, DEAR! I DON'T SEE HIM YET--

Boots

1. GOODNIGHT, DAVEY!

2. YOU COPIED THAT FROM AN OLD PHOTOGRAPH, ROO?

3. YEP! VERY ROUGHLY THAT SHOWS THE SAUL KINDLY ESTATE IN 1865!

4. Y'KNOW, IF YOU STOP TO FIGURE IT OUT, THIS WHOLE THING COULD BE VERY CONFUSING!

Mickey Finn

1. THAT WAS WONDERFUL! SAY--IS HE GOIN' TO TRY IT AGAIN?

2. YES! THEY HAVE TO GO AROUND TWICE! HERE HE COMES!

3. OH, MICKEY--IF ONLY HE DOES AS WELL THIS TIME!

4. HE WILL, KITTY! DON'T WORRY! NOTHIN' GON' TO STOP HIM NOW!

Freckles

1. SEE YOU AT THE PROM, LINDA!

2. I SIMPLY LOATHE THAT VERN GRUGG! WHAT'LL DO IF HE PERSISTS IN ASKING FOR A DANCE THE NIGHT OF THE PROM?

3. WELL, SUPPOSE IT ISN'T?

4. SAY IT IS--AND LET HIM SEE IT ISN'T!

THE 150th Anniversary of the Birth of John Ericsson

The 150th anniversary of the birth of John Ericsson, inventor of the screw propeller and designer of the Monitor, will be observed on July 31 in Filipstad, Sweden, where the famous engineer is buried. Ericsson died in 1889 in New York, where he lived since 1839. His body was brought to Sweden on a U. S. cruiser.

Most widely read language in the modern world is English.

About three fourths of all the letters are written and half the newspapers printed in English. In Japan, the diner in a restaurant often cooks his own food in an iron skillet set on the dining table, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

"I told you it thinks like a man!"

"What else can I do? He won't let me take him out of the crib!"

ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford

Former Governor to Her Majesty

XV
THERE is a great deal of organization needed for a Royal visit. There is tremendous advance preparation. All the local dignitaries get out their robes or have their best suits pressed. Their wives are thrown into a frenzy of ironing and other activity.

Those responsible for the ceremonies of the occasion are busy too. Precedence of presentation to Royalty is a matter of great importance to them.

If the Princess was to arrive by train there was an official welcome to prepare, police arrangements to be made at the station, and then the planning of a day packed with visits, speeches, and drives.

This was the day of days for the town and its citizens; but for the Princess this was her life, day after day. She can look forward to a future of similar functions; the trip by train or car; the loyal speech of welcome; her gracious reply—everything falling into a set and familiar pattern.

Local newspapers filled their columns with descriptions of her smiles, her voice, the names of people who had been presented to her, the decorations in the streets, the crowds.

For every one of the many thousands who flock to see her visit of a Queen is a great occasion. But what of her, who must be somewhere else tomorrow, walking the aisles of another cathedral, listening to the Dean's reminiscences, inspecting more walls filled with paintings, and making bright and memorable remarks about them?

Surely the wonder is that she remembers any of the hundreds of people she meets in a week of such visits.

But she does remember. To keep names and faces in her mind is part of her task. And her memory starts working even before she comes to a place.

This may be her first visit to the town, but she knows that her father or her grandfather visited long ago. Perhaps he received a gold sash or some other memento.

Memento is for memory, and Queen Elizabeth is careful to recall the gift in reply to the Lord Mayor's loyal address. She knows his name and the names of other local notabilities who may be presented to her. And she will recall their names and faces if ever they come before her again.

No one who has seen her on one of these visits has felt for a moment that it was just routine for her. Because it was not so, really, it was meeting people—and she likes people.

I HAVE seen her stand for hours at the window of her apartment in Buckingham Palace from which but since wearing the right things she could see, through the lace curtains, Big Ben's face and look right-down the Mall to the Admiralty Arch. Then she would look down to the scattered sight-seers in front of the Palace gates. They would look up, asking one another which room is the King's, where the Throne-room is, trying to imagine what is behind each window.

She little thought that at the same time a Royal Princess was wondering about them!

It was the same in Canada, where Princess Elizabeth was undertaking the first State visit of her career, as the representative of her father.

To the King and Queen at home the daily news of the progress of their daughter's tour of the Dominion must have recalled vivid memories of their own visit to Canada and the United States in the summer of July, 1939.

News Service Restored By Argentine Government

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, May 21.—A new government directive enabled American news agencies this week to transmit world news again to newspaper and radio stations in Argentina.

The ministry of communications authorized the United Press and the Associated Press Tuesday to turn on private radioprinters, and the International News Service was told that its local wire distribution system would be restored.

There was no immediate explanation for the surprise action by Argentine government.

The government order nullified a May 12 directive which had deprived American press associations of facilities for receiving news from aboard for their client newspapers in Argentina.

The communications ministry had threatened to discontinue American news reports to provincial newspapers, but the action was postponed and the agencies were notified Tuesday morning that they would be allowed to continue serving newspapers in the interior.

American news services were deprived of their facilities in Argentina after President Juan D. Peron charged in a May Day speech that they were engaged in a campaign of defamation against Argentina.

At that time, Peron called for a congressional investigation of the three American agencies, but the government acted in advance by sealing the facilities of the press associations.

The effect of the government's action was to cut off Argentine newspapers and radio stations from receiving news of the world through American agencies. The British Reuters agency and the agency France Presse were not affected.

Legislature Splits Turbulent District

AUSTIN, May 21.—UP—A judicial redistricting splitting up the politically turbulent 79th Judicial District of Jim Wells, Starr, Brooks and Duval counties was voted out with a "do pass" recommendation by the Senate Judicial Districts committee.

The Senate committee measure was similar to a bill passed April 28 by the House of Representatives.

A major feature of the redistricting bill would be to re-align the 79th District and split up the traditional political territory of George Parr, the "Duke of Duval."

Jim Hogg, Webb and Duval counties would form the 49th District, according to provisions of the Senate bill; Webb, Zapata and Starr counties would comprise the 111th District; Jim Wells and Brooks counties would form the 79th Judicial District.

The House bill would form the 79th District of Nueces, Jim Wells and Brooks counties; Link Starr county with Jim Hogg, Webb and Zapata as the 49th District and Duval and Webb counties in the 111th District.

The Senate bill also called for a new district court, the 143rd, for Hidalgo, Cameron and Wilcox counties. The measure was in the form of a subcommittee report offered by Sen. Abraham Kazen Jr. of Laredo and adopted by full committee. Sen. William H. Shireman of Corpus Christi opposed it on the ground it was "not going to help the situation in South Texas."

THE INDEPENDENT—After one of the now-famous White House luncheons for senators and representatives, President Eisenhower and his guests form an animated, amiable group. That is, all but the legislator taking an independent stand at right. He is Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who won headlines by bolting the Republican Party during the convention to become the Senate's only Independent.

PTA Convention Told Five Factors Cause Delinquency

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 21.—UP—Juvenile delinquency "caused by alcohol, gangsters, lack of church influence, pinch-penny politicians and especially—parents, a panel of experts told a closing session of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers convention.

It's up to the PTA to do something about all five contributing factors, the panel agreed.

The three-day 57th PTA convention wound up Wednesday night after the congress adopted in harmony an 18-point platform recommending by its "findings" committee and aimed at better homes, better schools and better communities.

The full strength of the parent-teacher program was pledged to such goals as "observances that foster harmony among racial and religious groups," continuation of school lunch programs and prevention of delinquency by "developing the kind of inter-relationships that encourage the growth of integrity and strong moral fiber."

At the final session, William G.

Carr, executive secretary of the National Education Association, told 2,400 delegates attending the convention that "some of our sharp-tongued critics claim that the schools are indifferent to moral values."

Carr said "we must bring the misinformed and the uninformed critics into the schools to acquaint them with the facts."

Dr. William C. Menninger, secretary of the Menninger Foundation at Topeka, Kan., also reported to the PTA Wednesday that mental illness is the nation's "single most expensive health problem."

He said one of every 12 babies born this year will spend part of his life in a mental hospital—yet the U. S. allows research in psychiatry to "starve to death."

The panel of experts which discussed juvenile delinquency in detail included Dr. Martha M. Eliot, children's bureau chief for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare; Ralph G. Eckert of State College of Washington; Heman G. Stark, director of the California youth authority; Talbot Ellis, juvenile court judge at Birmingham, Ala.; and Larry W. Pultz, training director of the Houston police department.

Alcohol Causes Trouble

Judge Ellis said 90 per cent of his "business" grew out of excessive use of alcohol. "If it weren't for that, I don't believe we'd need juvenile courts."

Stark emphasized that parents must know what their children are doing and who their companions are.

"Gangsters in our counties are preying on our children," he said. "They're organized. We have to realize that little Nell is still going into the woods, and the woods are still full of wolves. We have to ride herd on our children and know what they are doing."

Widow Content To Live With Memories

PORTLAND, Me., May 22.—UP—Mrs. Robert E. Peary, widow of the discoverer of the North Pole, observed her 90th birthday Friday on a placid back cove of the ocean on which she and her husband sailed so many times to the Northland.

"I am content to live with my memories," she said with a wistful smile. "It was all so long ago that I almost wonder if those things really happened."

Mrs. Peary was the first white woman to accompany an Arctic expedition. She went north five times but was not along on the epoch-making 1909 trip when Peary first reached the pole.

In 1893 she gave birth to a daughter, Marie, the most northerly-born white person in the world—less than 13 degrees from the pole. The "snow baby" now Mrs. Edward Stafford of Washington, D. C., is staying with her mother and keeps her informed about the activities of her three grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

ADAM'S APPLE — Giuliana Gardini has two Adam's apples—one in the customary place and the other on the beach suit she displays at Monte Circeo, Italy. Called "Temptation" the outfit features an apple and a snake as decoration.

Austin Man Killed

AUSTIN, May 21.—UP—Aubrey Hill Bingham, 40, of Temple as killed Wednesday night when he was struck by an automobile while crossing an east Austin street. His death marked the city's fourth traffic fatality for the year.

Houston Lad Drowns

HOUSTON, May 21.—UP—Fourteen-year-old David O'Neal Parker drowned Wednesday while swimming with other school students at Hot Wells, a resort in the northwest part of Harris county. He was dead on arrival at Jefferson Davis hospital.

Narcotics Seized at Galveston

GALVESTON, Tex., May 21.—UP—Five pounds of Hashish, an East Indian narcotic which Customs Agent Al Scharif said "would be worth about $11,000 on the 'bootleg' market, was seized at a Galveston tourist court Wednesday. Merchant seaman Frank Dolcimascolo of Port Bolivar, Tex., was arrested and charged with possession and smuggling of narcotics.

Shantz May Be Shelved

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—UP—Bobby Shantz, beaten in his last three starts, may go to the bullpen if he doesn't regain his winning touch in Thursday's game against the Red Sox at Boston. A's Manager Jimmy Dykes said relief duty may be what hits Bobby needs to reclaim the form that made him the American League's most valuable player last year with a 24-7 record.

Farm Week Designated

AUSTIN, May 21.—UP—Gov. Allan Shivers Thursday designated July 19-26 as Farm and Ranch Safety Week and urged "that all members of farm and ranch families work together to reduce the safety hazards on their farms and ranches."
