Clark May Sign Truce Without South Korea

Second Meet Set With Pres. Rhee

SEOUL, June 22 - UP - Gen. Mark W. Clark said Monday he was authorized to sign a Korean truce with or without South Korea and was believed to have so informed President Syngman Rhee in a secret, 70-minute conference. Clark told newsmen after his meeting with Rhee that the signing of a truce "depends on the Communists." He added that its success "would depend on the amount of co-operation received from the Koreans." Sources close to Clark in Seoul and Tokyo said he did not deliver any kind of "ultimatum" to the rebellious Rhee, but that he did seek a firm statement from the President on what he intended to do after an armistice was signed. Rhee apparently did not receive an answer Monday. Instead of returning to his Tokyo headquarters, the UN commander remained overnight at Eighth Army headquarters. He said he "probably" would meet again with Rhee Tuesday. Rhee called his cabinet ministers and top military leaders into session immediately after Clark's visit. Clark told newsmen the next meeting with the Communists will be held after he answers their questions on Rhee's unauthorized release of some 26,000 anti-Red North Korean prisoners. The Communists have demanded the recapture of all of the prisoners as a prelude to the armistice signing. Newsmen asked Clark if he would attempt to recover the prisoners and he replied he wanted to be careful what he said on this matter. He referred to a written statement which he already had released which said he would take "such measures as are practicable." Clark said he had "a friendly and encouraging conversation" with Rhee and although he warned against undue optimism he indicated the talk had eased some of the tension between Rhee and the UN. Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tae, however, said in an interview that South Korea was "prepared for the worst" and ready to fight for Korean unity after an armistice. Clark said that one of the subjects he and Rhee discussed was the reissuing of instructions to prevent any clashes between South Korean and other UN troops. The UN commander said he and Rhee had discussed the possibility that Rhee might withdraw troops from the UN command in the event of an armistice but that Rhee had promised to inform him in advance. "That time has not come," Clark said. Before Rhee went into conference with Clark, former U.S. ambassador to Japan Robert Murphy and Eighth Army officers, he announced he would withdraw his army of a half-million men if the current truce plan is adopted.

Sweetheart Slayer Faces Trial Today

VERNON, Tex., June 22 - UP - Walter W. Whitaker Jr., an Air Force cadet who dug up the buried body of his sweetheart for police, goes on trial Monday on a charge of murdering her. Whitaker, 21, of Hartford, Conn., admitted he strangled his sweetheart, Joyce Fern White, took off her clothes and buried her nude body in a field near Lubbock, Tex. The trial was moved from Lubbock to Vernon on a change of venue. The body of Miss White, a pretty 18-year-old Lubbock high school girl, was not found until Whitaker led police to her grave in a lonely spot 10 miles from Lubbock 20 days later. She disappeared from her home the night of January 8. Whitaker, who was transferred soon after to Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex., helped provide funds for radio broadcasts seeking her. He was arrested in San Antonio, but he made no statement until after he had dug up Miss White's body. He said he wanted to be sure he wasn't "just remembering a nightmare." Quarrelled About Girl He led police to her body. When an elderly officer took a spade to dig up her body, Whitaker took the spade from him and said: "Here, let me do that. That'll give you a good case of heart trouble." After he dug up the body, he led police to her clothes, which he had buried 100 yards away. Whitaker told police he quarrelled with Miss White over another girl he knew in Hartford, a Swiss girl visiting the United States. Lubbock County Sheriff Grady

Twenty-Four Die in Texas Jury Picking Starts Slowly In Rape Case

BY UNITED PRESS Violent deaths claimed at least 24 lives in Texas over the weekend, a United Press survey showed. Traffic accidents, including one in which a family of four from Dallas died, took 12 lives. Three persons were burned to death and one drowned as the accidental toll reached 18. Five other persons died in homicides or suicides. The weekend's worst accident occurred Saturday, when the Joe Wayne Bannister family of Dallas died as their car skidded into a Louisiana and Arkansas freight train. Bannister apparently was the train, six miles north of Winnabore and tried to stop, but the car skidded more than 100 yards, hit the train and burned. Mrs. Corene Lemley died in McAllen's municipal hospital about two hours after she was shot in her home west of Alamo. Authorities said the wound was self-inflicted. Unidentified Alien Shot Those who died Sunday included an unidentified alien who was shot by Hidalgo county patrolman near Mission. Patrolman Grover Navarro Jr., said he fired one shot in self defense when the man started toward him with a garden trowel. Mrs. Corene Lemley died in McAllen's municipal hospital about two hours after she was shot in her home west of Alamo. Authorities said the wound was self-inflicted.

Russian Troops Reportedly Stoned By Rioting Germans

BERLIN, June 22 - UP - Soviet troops were reported stoned, new strikes crippled industry amid widespread sabotage and the Russians clamped rigid martial law on broad new areas of the Soviet occupation zone Monday, the sixth day of East German revolt against Red rule. Reports reaching West Berlin from behind the Iron Curtain said columns of marching Soviet troops were stoned in the streets of Luckenwalde, an industrial city 20 miles southwest of Berlin. West Berlin newspapers reported that Soviet troops with fixed bayonets occupied all public buildings in the town. Martial law and strict curfews have been extended to the country districts of Mecklenburg, Luekenwalde, Forst, Juelicher and Ludwigslunde, these reports said. The new repressive measures were said to have been taken by the Soviets after the rebellious populations refused to yield to earlier Russian back-to-work orders, staged new strikes and engaged in fresh anti-Communist demonstrations. The new crackdown was ordered by the Soviets soon after the East German communist party had openly admitted that German workers are resorting to "major acts of sabotage" in their violent revolt. The party announced sweeping

Verdict of 108 Called Lucas and Robertson were charged with murdering Smith at an all-night service station where he was attendant. Downtown Hugo Rocked By Series Of Blasts, Fire

HUGO, Okla., June 22 - UP - One person was killed and half block of downtown business buildings destroyed by a series of explosions and a fire Sunday. Fire Chief Homer Nash estimated damage at $300,000. Fire equipment came from Idabel, Durant and Antlers, Okla., and Paris, Tex., helped the Hugo fire department fight the blaze. A. M. Hughes, 58, owner of the Butter-Nut bakery, was fatally injured when the first explosion - believed caused by a pocket of gas in an oven being ignited by a pilot light - knocked him unconscious and set his clothing afire. He and his son, Mike, 21, were entering the front door of the bakery when the explosion occurred. The son, who received only minor burns, put out the fire around his father and took him to the hospital. The fire jumped from the bakery to the Choctaw County Abstract Co., then spread to a building used by Army reserve officers and to a grocery store. Heat was so intense it broke plate glass windows 100 yards away.

Rosenberg Funeral Attracts Thousands Of Sympathizers

NEW YORK, June 22 - UP - A funeral rite was conducted for the husband-wife spy team whose career in atomic espionage came to an ignominious end Friday night at Sing Sing prison. Mourner hissed a rabbi who urged them to "bear no grudge" against the government that sent the Rosenbergs to their doom. They sat in silence while defense attorney Emanuel Bloch denounced President Eisenhower as a "military dictator garbed in civilian attire" who was responsible for the "murder" of the couple. Crowds Held Back Scores of policemen held back crowds of sympathizers and curiosity-seekers at the funeral home and at Woodlawn cemetery on Long Island where the spies were buried. The "National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case," which conducted a fervent publicity and fund-raising campaign during the Rosenberg prosecution, handled arrangements for the funeral. An estimated 10,000 persons filed past the white-shrouded bodies from 8 p.m. Saturday to 1 p.m. Sunday in the funeral parlor. An "honor guard" of four men holding American flags stood beside the open caskets.

Murderer Pleads Insanity

LONDON, June 22 - UP - Welsh John Christie, who has confessed the sex murder of four women, Monday pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity to charges of murdering his 55-year-old wife. The mild-mannered British clerk, called London's most blood-thirsty sex killer since Jack the Ripper, had to be prompted by his attorney before entering his plea. He is accused of slaying seven other women. His defense counsel promptly advised the court that the defense would be based on a claim that Christie was insane at the time of the murders. Defense Strategy Revealed The defense strategy was revealed by Derek Curtis-Bennett, chief counsel for the thin-haired former air raid warden whose "house of horror" on drab Notting Hill yielded eight female bodies. Christie went on trial for his life at London's grimey Old Bailey for only one of the murders of which he is accused - that of his 55-year-old wife, Ethel. This is in keeping with British law. But Christie has admitted under questioning that he killed three other women, allegedly because they made excessive sexual demands on him. Scotland Yard authorities unearthed four additional bodies in the garden behind his shabby flat. Plea of Innocence Required At the opening of his trial, Christie pleaded innocent. Such a plea is required by British law of anyone accused of murder. But after the formality of the plea of innocence, Curtis-Bennett, famed criminal attorney, said the defense will acknowledge freely that Christie killed four women. He said he would examine witnesses in connection with all four deaths. The courtroom was packed for the opening of the sensational trial.

Summer Gets Warm Start

The first complete day of summer - Official Summer, that is - promised little change from the sweltering weather that has plagued Pampa for the past month. By 11 a.m. today the mercury had already crept up to 98 degrees in an attempt to reach the Sunday afternoon high of 104, highest since Tuesday. This morning the temperature managed to dip all the way to 73. Only compensating factor weather-wise was that a cooling breeze this morning kept pants-legs flapping - and a bit of dust in the air.

Panel Hits Defense Plan

WASHINGTON, June 22 - UP - The House committee on government operations voted Monday to knock out key features of President Eisenhower's proposed reorganization of the Defense Department which should increase the authority of the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Members approved - 14 to 12 and 12 to 11 - alternative measures to put the rest of the reorganization plan into effect but to strike out the controversial sections giving more power to the chairman. The plan's critics, including former President Hoover, had warned that this extra authority might be a step toward military dictatorship. The committee's recommendation is not binding on the House but will be influential as a reserve weapon the committee voted to take up Wednesday, if necessary, a resolution to kill the reorganization plan outright. Ordinarily a presidential plan to shake up one of the government agencies is not subject to amendment. Under a general reorganization law it goes into effect automatically unless vetoed by an absolute majority of House or Senate.

Cigaret Thieves Strike Again

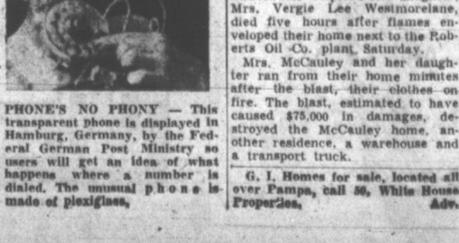

Some unidentified smokers are certainly laying in a supply of cigarettes for the summer months. And, what's more, they're beginning to think of their hair-lines. Taken from Buddy's Super Martine Sunday night was 30 cartons of cigarettes and some hair shampoo and accoutrements to city police. That break-in followed by two days another at the Suttle Grocery and Market, 407 N. Cuyler, in which 30-35 cartons of cigarettes and some change were taken. This time, though, the burglars - police think there were two - left change in the cash register. Entrance was effected by breaking a rear window with a 30-inch nail bar. Entrance was by the same way, police figure.

Truman Back In Washington, Happy With Nothing To Do

WASHINGTON, June 22 - UP - Mr. Harry S. Truman was back in town Monday, an ex-president with nothing to do and tickled to death about it. "No politics," he insisted to reporters and photographers who turned out to record his first visit to the capital since he moved out of the White House last Jan. 20. But old friends figured he could scarcely avoid some behind-the-scenes political discussion. They noted he plans to have dinner with some of his former Cabinet members Tuesday and lunch with Democratic senators Wednesday. He said the only business on his schedule for Monday was a mid-afternoon visit to the offices of the Truman Memorial Library Association, which is preparing plans for a library at Independence, Mo., to house the Truman papers. Mr. Truman breezed into town Sunday night just before supper time, driving his own shiny new black Chrysler. He was in his shirt-sleeves because of the sweltering first-day-of-summer heat. "One hundred and five in the shade," he breathed as he cooled off in an air-conditioned suite in the Mayflower hotel with Mrs. Truman, who made the twoday drive from Independence with him, and their daughter Margaret who came down from New York to make it a family reunion. Mr. Truman said he has no plans to visit President Eisenhower. "I see no necessity for it," he said. "He's too busy to see every Tom, Dick and Harry that comes to town."

Activity Decreases Among Job Seekers

Though new applications for jobs in the local office of the Texas Employment Commission "dropped off slightly" the past week, there were 20 positions available late this morning.

Not a one of them was in the agricultural line, though there had been several earlier in the day, according to Bill Ragdale, head of the local office.

Still, Ragdale said, there were 18 agricultural jobs processed in the past week as contrasted with seven the week before.

Since May 25 there have been 140 placements through the local office, the local head pointed out, adding that there were 102 from April 26 to May 25.

Ragdale gave the obvious reason for the decreased activity on the job front — the hot weather.

Wrecking Truce Part Of Rhee Plan

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst

The headaches attendant upon Korea have been Syngman Rhee, the war, Syngman Rhee, the truce and Syngman Rhee.

The single-minded and persistent Rhee has been a buzzing gnat in the ears of the United States since 1945 when he first began to sense victory for his lifelong campaign for a free and united Korea.

Now Rhee, single-handed has torpedeed a truce which should have been signed by this week's third anniversary of the Korean war.

Followed His Policy

Actually, it should have come as no surprise.

Rhee has been defiantly consistent.

And even those who must pay for his rashness must also have a grudging admiration for this old man who desires Korean unification so passionately that he permits neither lives, promises or friendship to stand in its way.

United Press Manager for Asia Ernest Hoberrecht wrote from Seoul recently that Rhee cared only for his place in the Korean history books.

He wants those histories to say that he unified Korea. And for

Hearings Sated On Cotton Acreage

WASHINGTON, June 22 (UP)—Chairman Clifford R. Hope Saturday scheduled hearings for June 30 and July 1 by his agriculture committee on the sectional scrap over cotton acreage allotments.

The Kansas Republican said the committee will consider bills introduced by a group of western congressmen to repay the cotton acreage program for the 1954 crop.

In general the proposals would give states west of the Mississippi a bigger share of total cotton allotments at the expense of growers in other areas.

The government intends to use acreage allotments next year in an attempt to hold down production and avoid costly surpluses. Millions of dollars are at stake in the row between east and west growers.

The West Says It's Fair

Rep. Allan Oakley Hunter (R-Calif.) a leader in the western bloc, contends it is only fair to revise the acreage next year because cotton production has shifted rapidly west during the past decade. If allotments under present law are permitted to stand, he said, it would force western growers to make cuts of from 38 to 54 per cent.

He said Arizona would be hardest hit with a 54 per cent production cut since agriculture crop. If the state is deprived of more than half of its cotton crop, he said, its entire economy would be crippled and thousands of farmers and businessmen would face bankruptcy.

Opposition Stand Voiced

The opposition's stand was voiced by Rep. Thomas G. Abernethy (D-Miss.). He protested that the proposed bills protect "latecomers" in the cotton field who are largely responsible for surpluses.

The westerners' legislation would base allotments for next year's crop on planting during the three years from 1950 through 1952. They now are based on the 1948-52 five-year period.

Their proposals also would prohibit the agriculture department from cutting any state's allotment, more than 25 per cent below 1952 plantings.

Trotsky's Slayer Due For Parole

MEXICO CITY, June 22 (UP)—The killer of Bolshevik leader Leon Trotsky 15 years ago will be eligible for parole in six months, a federal district prison official said Saturday.

Frank Jackson, alias Jacques Mornard, who assassinated Trotsky in 1940 and was sentenced to 20 years in prison "is officially eligible for parole in December and will go before the parole board at that time, Secretary General of the prison Jose Farah said.

Jackson-Mornard earned his right to parole through "exceptionally good conduct," Farah said. He added it was unlikely the parole board would refuse his bid for freedom.

The killer has been a "model prisoner" and for the past several years has headed the radio repair division at the sprawling stone penitentiary. Prison officials consider him an "expert radioman."

Farah scoffed at published reports that Jackson may refuse parole because of fear of political enemies who may be waiting for him "outside." He said the prisoner "has said nothing about refusing parole."

Jackson has spent his prison life in almost complete seclusion.

Jackson won the confidence of Trotsky, an exile here in the late 1930s and became companion and secretary of the elderly Bolshevik, who was looked upon as the "number one enemy" of the late Russian Premier Joseph Stalin.

Working Mothers Watch House Ways, Means Committee

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
NEW YORK, June 22—UP—A certain group of women is paying more attention than usual to the complicated tax hearings held now in Washington, D. C.

These women work to support their children. Their lives will be simplified if the House Ways and Means committee untangles at least one of those tax complications.

"I can't do as much for my children as a man can who makes the same salary I do and who is married," said Mrs. Ruth Baker, 30-year-old widow with two children. She is typical of the women who would benefit from proposed legislation to permit working mothers up to $40 a week income tax deductions for care of their children while they work.

Agrees to Tell Story
Mrs. Baker agreed to tell her own story to show how others in this group of working mothers feel about a subject that is painful to us all—paying income taxes.

"My husband died three years ago before my daughter, Judith, was born," the attractive brunette explained. "Stewart, my son, was two years old then. Since my husband was a lawyer and had just started practicing, there were no pensions or no big savings to help out after he died."

Four months after her daughter was born, the young widow moved her family here from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where her husband had practiced law, and got a job working in the research department of Ford International.

Wrote Congressmen Letter
Her salary, which is less than $6,000 a year, pays for a $120-a-month two bedroom apartment in Forest Hills, Long Island, and a full time housekeeper to look after the children during working hours.

"I wrote a letter to the House Ways and Means committee two years ago," Mrs. Baker admitted with a smile, and produced a carbon copy of the typewritten letter. "I discovered that the tax provisions weren't fair for women like me, so I explained how I felt about it. They never answered."

"A man who is married can count his wife an exempt dependent, and besides, he doesn't have to pay the cost of a nurse or housekeeper. I feel it takes about 25 per cent of my salary to pay the housekeeper's expenses. It's important to have someone good. Children need security in those first five years."

MATURE PARENT
By MURIEL LAWRENCE
I am about to pick a bone with my friends in the National Association for Mental Health.

In the April issue of their magazine, "Understanding the Child," the leading article announces that it is discussing "Trends in Parent Education." But when I looked for mention of the only trend in this vital subject that I found, it buried in an obscure paragraph.

There the author writes: "When parents have insight into their own personalities, they are less tense and anxious in their relations with their children."

Such casual treatment of most important factor in the education of parents is what's the trouble with the education.

"Insight into own personalities" is insight into the personalities of children.

I have many friends in the field. In private, they will tell me that parent education is self-knowledge rather than little lectures and little pamphlets on how to treat tantrums and thumb-sucking.

In private, my friends will say, "If parents' self-trust and tenderness were not blocked by fears they do not realize, they would not need the radio lectures and little pamphlets."

But in public, few of them seem to want to say such things. They think we can't take the truth.

They think you and I will have nervous breakdowns if they say, "Fear of what your mother-in-law will say accounts for your anxiety over Mary's thumb-sucking."

They think we'll be panicked by the idea that we have fears and dependencies to outgrow that we'll get hysterical—and lose what confidence we have in ourselves.

I believe this is a tragic miscalculation of our strength. It is due to the long experience of my mental health friends with hysterical patients in clinics. Like the medical specialist in stomach disease everyone he meet, my friends order a patient who sees an ulcer see potential hysteria where they should be seeing hunger for the truth.

If they hadn't the truth to give it, they would be different. They have it. They can tell us why we depend on their pamphlets.

They can tell us why our hearts hammer when Mary falls on a lie. By telling us why they can also tell us why we depend on our mother-in-law's good will and why our hearts hammer at the idea of entertaining a critical friend of our husband's.

By exposing the fears and dependencies which affect our attitudes toward Mary, they can help us get on to those which affect our attitudes generally. For they are always the same ones.

"Insight into our personalities" is the beginning of our maturity not only as parents, but as people. To give it to us would be to treat us with trust and respect.

Ceramic Tile Makes Housekeeping A Lot Easier, Takes Wear And Tear

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer
Showing up in new places in the modern home, clay tile floors are the versatile and practical qualities for the homemaker who's concerned with easy housekeeping and minimum upkeep.

No longer relegated to the bathroom floor, ceramic tile makes a handsome display in dens, children's rooms, entrance halls and on walls as well as floors. Bright colors in shiny or mat finishes, as well as subtle earth tones are permanent "built-in" interior decoration.

The flooring is popular with homemakers because it doesn't mar the surface. In one new home that I saw in Des Moines, Ia., a boy's room is equipped with both a tile floor and a tile wall where all his papers, maps and pennants can be pasted up without endless reminders to "be careful."

Offsetting some of these plus qualities (for me) is the high cost of installation. There's no doubt about it that, even though maintenance cost is negligible, the initial outlay for the installation of the tile is a major item in any budget.

One contractor estimated that in a new home a tile floor would cost at least 25 per cent more than other types of flooring. New tile designs and improved methods of setting it have cut the cost a little and highly paid tile setters can do the work with less fuss in a shorter time. Improved techniques also make it possible to tile a floor in an old home without tearing up the old flooring.

In many ways tile can make your home a better place to live, play and work in.

Oilers Edge Pioneers 2-1, Move Up in Standings

Oiler Queen Contest Beginning Tonight

BY BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

The Oilers won another thriller last night but it took 3:25 hours to accomplish the victory, defeating Grover Setts' Clovis Pioneers at Oiler Park, 12-11.

Clovis fought the Oilers right down to the wire, tallying two runs in the ninth to tie the score and set the stage for the Oilers' winning rally in the ninth.

A bases loaded single by Rookie Eddie Krewall drove in the winning run for the Oilers in the ninth.

The two teams will conclude their two game series tonight with Sam Williams due to take over the Oiler mound duties. Roy Parker, a former Oiler, is the probable Pioneer moundman for tonight.

Williams appeared in a relief role last night and got credit for the win. The lean Negro righthander came on in the ninth after one Clovis run was in and runners on first and third and one out.

Williams pitched to two men retiring both but Frank Benites, the first to face him, fled to center to score Parker from third with the tying run.

The victory was Williams' 12th of the season against three losses. Deck Woldt's consecutive game hitting streak which had reached 24 games was finally snapped in last night's tilt. Woldt drew two intentional walks that weakened his chances to keep his streak alive.

Big Jake Henson made his debut in a Pampa uniform last night and hurled the first eight innings before finally giving way to Ray Machado in the ninth.

Henson had two bad innings—the first and fourth—which saw the Pioneers score three and six runs respectively, and after serving up his fifth homerun of the night in the ninth, Machado came on.

Charlie Watta hit three of the Pioneer roundtrippers with R. E. Queen contest.

Each ceremony: tonight and tomorrow night, will begin at 7:45 and the game will start at 8:15 as usual. The girls will parade in view of the fans in open air convertible for the two-night contest and each girl will be accompanied by an Oiler player.

Five White Deer men will serve as judges. Neil Miller will be the master of ceremonies for both nights.

The contest winner here will bid for the West Texas-New Mexico League queen. The eight girls chosen by the eight member clubs of the WT-NM, will tour the league and will be judged at each city. The finals will be announced at the all-star game July 23 in Lubbock.

The girl who will be chosen as the league queen, will be entered in the National contest at Atlanta, Ga., in December, at the annual Minor League convention.

Following are the sponsors and their entries for the Pampa Oiler queen contest:

Carter Advances To City Golf S-Finals

Buster Carter, a member of the Harvester golf team last spring, continued his winning ways in the championship flight of the annual Men's City tournament yesterday with a convincing 4-3 win over Charlie Douglas.

Carter had previously ousted the defending champion, Max Hickey, in the first round. The young Carter will meet Henry Rose in the semi-finals sometime this week—probably Saturday.

Rose reached the semi-finals with a win over H. Maguire Saturday. In the lower bracket, Harry Wilbur, who has already reached the semi-finals, will meet the winner of Malcolm Douglas-C. F. McGinnis match to determine the lower bracket finalist. Wilbur won over Dr. J. F. Elder in the quarter-finals last week.

Conrad Erases 6-Hole Deficit To Win Trans-Miss Golf Title

Battling red-haired Joe Conrad of Denton, Tex., knew Monday that there's truth in the old saying "While there's life there's hope." Conrad, student at North Texas State College, was six down Sunday at the end of the first 18 holes of the finals of the 50th Trans-Mississippi Amateur golf tournament. But he staged a sensational finish to beat Jim Vickers of Wichita, Kan., two up.

Conrad, who won the Southern Amateur golf title this year, fired a three-under-par 67 on the last 18 holes. Vickers had a 75 in the afternoon after a morning round of par 70 to Conrad's 76.

Dukes, Oilers In Close Scrap For 2nd Place

BY UNITED PRESS

The Albuquerque Dukes and the Pampa Oilers moved up a notch in the West Texas-New Mexico League standings Monday. The Dukes to second place and the Oilers by a fraction of a percentage point behind the Dukes to third.

Albuquerque and Pampa won Sunday. But Clovis, which had been in second place, lost and Albuquerque romped all over Abilene, beating the last place Blue Sox 23 to 2. Pampa beat Clovis 12 to 11, and Plainview edged Amarillo 5 to 4. Lubbock and Borger were not scheduled.

The Dukes scored six times in the first inning, six times in the second and three times in the third. The fourth inning was the first frame in which they did not score. Three Blue Sox pitchers gave up 24 hits.

Burke Wins Inverness

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 22—UP—Curly haired Jackie Burke took a well-earned rest Monday and decided to pass up the coming Cleveland pro-amateur tournament after fighting the flu and 29 other top golfers in the 72-hole Toledo Inverness with a neat 272.

Burke, a Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., pro, shot a final round par 71 Sunday in 90 degree temperatures to win the 16th annual invitational, only two strokes ahead of Fred Haas with a 274 total.

Haas, of New Orleans, finished fast before a sweating gallery of some 10,000 fans as he sought to overcome a five-stroke lead with six holes to play. Burke, however, took a double bogey on the 15th hole and staggered in with a 37 on the back nine to qualify for the $3,400 prize money.

"I was just coasting till then," Burke said in the clubhouse, apparently pleased with his first winning effort on tour since the Miami Open last December.

Haas, who collected $2,400 for his runner-up effort, said he would take part in this week's Cleveland tourney. Haas hit a 37 on the first nine and then came back with a 34, exactly the opposite of Burke's card.

Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., and Doug Ford of Harrison, N.Y., turned in a 69 and 70 respectively in the final round to tie for third place at 278 and collect $1,650. Wall's score was important because without it, he would have finished out of the big money.

Jim Ferrer, of San Francisco, who won the best ball affair with Sam Snead last year, finished in a tie for sixth with three others in the medal play. Ferrer carded a 281 along with E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Armore, Okla., and Skelton Riegel of Tulsa. Snead was not entered this year.

This was the first year for the medal play. Previously the players were entered in twosomes with two champions decided.

Braves Retain 2 1/2 Game Lead Late Inning Rallies Keep Milwaukee Flag Hopes Alive

NEW YORK, June 22—UP—Old

Giants fans, who never die or even fade away, kept talking Monday about a possible "1953 miracle" but this time Leo Durocher has more than the Dodgers to worry about, as he found out in Milwaukee.

They're thinking in terms of their own miracle up there, even though there are signs the Braves may be coming back to earth after being out of this world for two months. But like all other so-called teams of destiny, they are so explosive in the late innings, no lead is safe against them.

Braves Rally, Win
Sunday, the Giants, leading 6 to 2 in the second game after winning the opener 5 to 0 on rookie Ruben Gomez' two-hit pitching, appeared that Larry Jansen would win his eighth game easily. But with the Braves' batting in the eighth and with the umpires ready to call the game at the finish of the inning, the Braves rallied, they battled uphill to gain a 6 to 6 deadlock which left them still 2-2 games in front of the second-place Dodgers.

But Jansen yielded a walk to Bill Bruton and singles to Ed White Sox batters came to life

Mathews and Sid Gordon for one run and, when Jim Pendleton walked, Hoyt Wilhelm took over. He walked Joe Adcock to force in Mathews and Jack Dittmer lashed a two-run single to tie the score. Al Corwin finally got the side out but the Giants then had to settle for a tie. They lost Saturday the same way, blowing a 3 to 1 lead as the Braves rallied for four runs in the eighth and a 5 to 3 decision. The bright spot was the pitching of Gomez, who gained his third victory in the opener as Al Dark took over in left field and Bobby Hofman hit a homer.

Cubs Win 3 to 2
Ex-Dodger Eddie Miksis hit a 10th inning homer for a 3 to 2 Cub decision over Brooklyn in which Bubba Church pitched a five-hitter and had trouble only with Roy Campanella who touched with Roy Campanella a double and single. Dee Fondy and Frankie Baumholtz homered for the other Cub runs.

Rookie Fred Baczewski pitched a steady eight-hitter to win 5 to 3 over the Phils and stop Cincinnati's losing streak at five games after Philly took the opener 5 to 2. Pittsburgh upset the Cardinals 5 to 2 in the other National League game.

The Yankees went 11 1/2 games in front in the American when they defeated Detroit 6 to 3, then lost 10 to 3, while second place Cleveland lost 5 to 1 at Washington. Hector Brown pitched Boston to a three-hit 3 to 1 victory, then Bobo Holloman did even better by pitching the Browns to a two-hit, 2 to 0 win. Harry Byrd blanked Chicago 5 to 0 on seven hits but to win the second game 9 to 4.

Shea Has Unbeatable Day
Cleveland encountered Frank Shea on one of his unbeatable days and the right hander with the chronic arm trouble pitched a three-hitter, putting only three on base as he gave no walks and faced only 29 men. Three unearned runs, set up on errors by George Strickland, ruined Art Houtteman's starting debut for Cleveland as he brought his hard luck with him from Detroit.

Dick Krayhok's two-run homer put Holloman over with his best effort since his no-hitter against the A's on May 6, even though

Phils Protest, Lose

The Phils protested Cincinnati's second game victory on a disputed double play situation, and promptly after Steve O'Neill lodged the protest, Gus Bell drilled a three-run homer to put Cincy in front for good. Jim Konstanty, helped by three double plays and an Earl Torgeson homer, skinned by a 10-hitter in the opener. Johnny Wyrostek also hit a second game Philly homer.

Two doubles by rookie Johnny O'Brien and one by Danny O'Connell which drove in two runs gave Murry Dickson all the offensive help he needed for his sixth victory at St. Louis. Stan Musial hit a St. Louis homer.

Stickey Mantle, Billy Martin, and Yogi Berra hit first game homers to provide lefty Whitey Ford with more than enough for his eighth victory, but the Tigers rebounded savagely with 11 hits to win the second game. Walt Dropo led the way with four runs driven in on a homer and single. He also hit a first game homer.

When it comes to retreading tires let a man who has been in the business for 32 years save you time and money. When a man is in a business that many years, he is bound to know that business pretty thoroughly. And H. Maddox, who owns and operates the Central Tire Works, located at 618 E. Frederic, knows the business of tire retreading. He can save you plenty of time and money by retreading your tires. The reason you save money is because the retreads, of course, don't cost as much as a new tire. But where you really save money, too, is that the retreads have just as much life as a brand new one does.

The Central Tire Works features the Bacon system of retreading tires. This is one of the newest scientific methods of applying a retread to a tire. They apply only the best of cold rubber and other materials to your tires, so that they will give you months of efficient wear.

You can also get your wheels balanced free of charge when you have your tires retreaded at the Central Tire Works. Properly balanced tires mean added safety precautions, so don't delay, but bring your tires in today for balancing and retreading.

Of course, by now, you know that retreads are a different process of applying the rubber caps to the tires, than recaps. Recaps are applied to only the top of the tire and retreads are applied to the sides as well as the top. This prevents the cap from slipping off the tire when on the road, traveling.

Maddox also stocks some fine used tires. He has nearly all sizes in automobile tires, and you can save again by buying the good quality used tires. You can pick up your tires and have them mounted and be on your way in no time at all.

The Central Tire Works also specializes in 24 hour service in retreading. All you need to do is bring your tires in to the Central Tire Works, and pick them up the next day, ready for that rush trip. And too, you'll be riding on safe, dependable tires that you know will stand up under the most rugged road hazards.

So you see, it's so easy to use No-Roach and so safe to use. And the economy is another important fact to remember.
