PEACE

Points in Debate When the truce talks were resumed Sunday, after an interruption since last Oct. 18, there were four points in dispute on prisoner repatriation, which is the last obstacle to an armistice.

1. Selection of a neutral country as custodian of prisoners who refuse repatriation.

2. The question where these prisoners shall be kept. The UN insists they be kept in Korea, the Communists that they be kept in the neutral custodian country.

3. Length of time the prisoners shall be kept in custody pending final determination of their future. The UN suggests 60 days. The Communists want to allow three months for them to get to the neutral country, then keep them there for six months while Communist indoctrination officers try to induce them to go home.

4. Final disposition of prisoners. The UN insists they must not be forced to go home. The Communists want their future decided by a political conference.

It is indicated there will be no more trouble over Point 1. The question where the prisoners shall be sent—Point 2—is a vital one on which there is complete disagreement. Nam said Wednesday was willing to negotiate Point 3. There is complete disagreement on Point 4, which involves the final issue of forced or voluntary repatriation.

No Kid Stuff, Either... DeMolay Youths Spend Day Running Business Of Pampa

The shape of things to come for Pampa was brought sharply into focus Wednesday afternoon when DeMolay boys voiced — unchecked and unbridled by adult suggestion — their views in a "city commission" meeting.

There was no kid stuff either in the way the boy mayor, commissioners, city manager, city secretary and city attorney went about holding the meeting. The only thing which marked them as juveniles was the obvious lack of seasoning by age and experience. Basically they were more marking than a lot of adults in "setting about to discuss a problem."

The "commission" voted to abolish left turns on Cuyler on Saturdays, Dollar Days, and any other day City Police may find necessary. Sign for the "No Left Turn" would be placed underneath the traffic signals.

The commission felt that left turns on Cuyler are extremely dangerous and choke traffic for more than a block. Some cars double parked on Cuyler are often narrowly missed by autos making left turns, the commission said.

Mayor Ben Sturgeon instructed City Atty. Walter Colwell to draw up the ordinance prohibiting left turns in time for the "next" meeting.

Making people more clean — up conscious was another big item on the commission's agenda.

City Manager Herman VanSickle suggested a special clean-up week program be instituted in the schools with every school — elementary through high — brought into program. The program would be actual clean-up and prevention of scattering trash such as used paper cups, napkins, and other papers everywhere but in a waste basket.

"After the week is over we can say we did it for one week, now let's keep it up."

The commission adopted the plan and later tabled deciding on construction of a swimming pool until a joint meeting with the school board could be had on the subject.

It was brought out during an earlier discussion on establishment of a Teen-Age Center that the swimming pool could be incorporated with such an enterprise.

Of course, none of the above decisions were official as of now, but it revealed what the younger generation is thinking about — and what just might be done by them some years from now should they or their fellow DeMolay members or fellow high school students be elected to office in Pampa.

Marvin Baer, Ward 1 commissioner, introduced a discussion (which wasn't on the agenda) on the possibility of increasing the speed limit or zoning speed limits along N. Hobart.

The commission contended that if the speed limit was raised to about 40 miles an hour north of Highland Cotton Hospital it would be respected, more than the present 30 mile-per-hour speed limit in force along the full length of the street to the city limits. Nothing was decided on it by the commission, but one suggestion was to keep the 30 mile speed limit in force around the immediate hospital vicinity and then raised further north.

The discussions of the various topics were recorded by City Manager B. H. Cruce who plans to play it back Monday night at 8:05 over KPND on the city "Know Your City" program.

Besides Mayor Sturgeon and Commissioner Baer, and City Manager VanSickle, other DeMolay boys attending the city commission meeting were: Ward 2 Commissioner Carl Blomkvist; Ward 3 Commissioner Gerald Richardson; Ward 4 Commissioner David Mullins; City Secretary Jerry Doggett and City Atty. Walter Colwell.

Cruce and City Commissioner Gene Fatheree and W. B. (A) Neel watched the meeting from the visitors chairs as did Acting Director of Public Works Fred Brook. None of the real city officials interfered with the meeting or discussion in anyway, but instead listened intently to the boys as they expressed themselves and acted on the items on their agenda.

During the morning the boys sat in with their real-life counterparts then went to lunch with city officials, drove around town to view city projects and made up their own minds on what kind of an agenda they would have for the afternoon meeting.

Nightmare Every Night... Chandelier And Goose Remind Henry Of Down Under Country

By HENRY McLEMORE

When one thinks of Australia (as I did a few days ago when I read that the Aussies were definitely going to get the 1956 Olympic games) one is supposed to picture sheep stations, koala bears, boomerangs, aborigines, rabbits, and tough soldiers.

Yet when Australia comes to my mind I think of none of the standard items of the Down Under country, but of two objects, one animate and one inanimate.

The animate object is a goose — as big as a bass drum, and with combination honk-quack reminiscent of an old-fashioned rubber bulb automobile horn.

The inanimate object is a crystal chandelier — but first about that goose.

I made her acquaintance the morning following the night I arrived in Brisbane after several months on that tropical Turkish bath of an island, Bougainville.

Out for a stroll on Brisbane's main drag I stopped at a sidewalk bazaar being held by some charitable organization and began playing the Wheel of Fortune at a shilling a spin. The leather finger stopped on number 18, my number, and the young lady running the device slipped the end of a rope leash in my hands.

"On the other end of the leash, planted solidly on her size 12 web feet, was the goose."

"Oh, you lucky Yank you!" the girl said and walked away.

My goose and I caught a street car and went back to camp.

For the more sentimental among you I would like to be able to say that I had grown so attached to the goose during the street car ride that I had decided to keep her as a pet. But I hadn't, and I walked her straight to the mess sergeant and asked him how about it.

He said he would be glad to cook my goose, but only if I did the plucking. Remembering how it took me and my two brothers three days to pluck a goose for a Thanksgiving dinner years and years before, I stole down to the NCO club in the dead of night and released her in the game room. I never found out what happened to the goose, and I didn't dare ask.

Now for the chandelier:

Our camp in Brisbane was a giant public ballroom that had been converted into quarters for American soldiers. The only decoration that had not been removed was what must have been one of the most gigantic crystal chandeliers in the world. Its spread was that of a giant oak and it must have weighed a ton.

The building was flimsy to be gin with, and it was perched on top of a hill subject to all prevailing winds. With the wind blowing, and with hundreds of men tromping around in GI boots, the chandelier swung like crazy, occasionally showering down glass mentoses.

I don't know how many hundreds of cots there were in the ballroom but I'll never forget where mine was — it was directly beneath the mad chandelier. When I stretched out, the tip of the chandelier, a blob of glass as big as a lampshade, was exactly in line with my nose. A soldier boy's dreams are supposed to be filled with mother, sweetheart or wife, blueberry pie and hot biscuits, clean, crisp sheets and soft pillow, and the happy banter of the ol' pool hall gang.

Not mine. I had a nightmare a night, and it was always the same.

Crash! Bang! Boom! I was sent to Brisbane for a rest but I left there with streaks of gray in my hair, and even today "chandelier" is my idea of the very worst ten-letter word, and I never use it in polite company.

Young Dancer Says Sleep Is Important To Woman's Beauty

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY NEW YORK, April 28 (UP)—A young dancer who spends her days bending her body into pretzel poses says sleep is more important to a woman's beauty than exercise.

At 23, Julia Darvas can hook one foot around her neck with the ease of a cat, plus a few other feats, but she's completely in sympathy with women who never seem to find time to do a deep knee bend. "I am lazy," sighed Julia, just after a matinee performance at the Palace Theater where she and her step brother, Nicki, are billed as Darvas and Julia.

"I love to walk in the fresh air, but I think sleeping is better for a woman than a lot of exercise. Rest does wonderful things for a woman's face."

She had been suggested as an ideal authority for limbering exercises to help a woman get in shape for the bathing suit season that is approaching.

"I could suggest some very simple exercises that would help the muscles," she said reluctantly. "But dieting is the only way to stay slim."

She confessed that besides reluctance to exercise, she shared another problem with women like you and me. She gains weight easily. "I love to talk about my diet," the dancer said enthusiastically. "I have found the best way. You diet for five days, and then on weekends, you have a lovely time. You eat everything. Then you gain three or four pounds, and Monday you start losing it again."

ADVICE SIMPLE EXERCISES Julia packs 110 pounds (on weekdays) into her five-foot-three-inch figure. Nicki weighs 150. In one part of their act he holds her aloft on one hand and heaves her from a platform to land on the floor 15 feet below in the splits. Naturally he notices added pounds.

"If you eat carefully, you can exercise only a few minutes a day to help the muscles," Julia advised. She recommended starting with a few simple exercises such as lying on the floor and raising up to a sitting position, "and no longer than five minutes at first," she said. "If you gradually work up to 20 minutes a day, that is plenty."

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE Throughout her childhood, Mrs. Y. was never permitted to distrust her father with an indignation, a fear or a doubt. When any problem arose, her mother would say, "Don't tell your father. He's got enough on his mind without your troubles."

Mrs. Y. didn't realize that her mother was defining men for her by this kind of talk. She didn't know that she was being taught that they are people who pay women's bills in exchange for emotional irresponsibility.

After her marriage, however, Mrs. Y. was aware that she was very unhappy. In comparison to the emotional responsibility of raising children, Mr. Y.'s job of paying the bills seemed an enviable perch. She never dared confide her need of help to him because of the training that had taught her not to expect it.

But her resentment of The Selfish Male pressed her so that she began to confide it to the only female available. Whenever a hard day, Peggy grumbled at a chore, Mrs. Y. would explode in great bitterness. "You're certainly your father's daughter!" she would cry. "The same selfishness, the same take, take, take, without regard to other people!"

Peggy is a very difficult, undisciplined girl. We really can't wonder why. Her mother's constant identification of her with The Selfish Male has orphaned her as effectively as though her parents had been killed. Peggy

Oilers End Home Stand Tonight; Aldridge To Hurl

Oilers Win Opener; Bingo Night Tonite

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa's Oilers moved into undisputed possession of second place in the West Texas-New Mexico League standings last night with a resounding 14-1 triumph over the Amarillo Gold Sox.

The Oilers went into last night's game tied with four others for second place which included the Gold Sox but all other games on tap in the league last night were postponed because of inclement weather.

The Oilers wind up their current homestand tonight by meeting the Gold Sox in the second and concluding game of the series. Rookie Roger Aldridge is manager.

It will be Bingo Night at Oiler Park tonight.

The bingo nights will be held once each home stand here. Doug Mills, Oiler president and owner, has announced.

Each fan attending tonight's game will be given a bingo card upon entering the gate. The fan will mark an "X" on the blank on what each player does at the plate during the game.

Awards of $25, $15 and $10 will go to the winners.

Ted Pawelek's pitching choice. Going for the Gold Sox will be Darlo Jimenez.

Game time tonight will be 8:15. Max Molberg carved out a neat 6-hitter last night to lead the Oilers to their victory in the series opener with the Gold Sox. The lone run off Molberg was unearned.

The Oilers pecked away at two G-Sox hurlers for 16 hits in last night's fracas. Pawelek featured the attack with a homer and two singles in three official trips to the plate.

Pawelek's homer climaxed a four-run first inning rally by the Oilers and the Oilers led all the way.

The Oilers extended their lead to 10-0 in the second inning at which time the starting Gold Sox pitcher, Bernie Heitner, was chased to the showers. Gus Voelkel, who joined the Gold Sox here last night, came on in relief and finished the game for the visitors.

The Oilers added two runs in the third and one in the fourth to hike their lead to 13-0. The lone Gold Sox run came in the fifth as result of a bad throw to first by shortstop John Sanderson that allowed Carl Harris to score from third. The error came with two away.

Molberg, in hurling his second complete game of the season, struck out eight and walked only two. Molberg also aided his own cause by rapping out three singles in five trips and driving in two runs.

Two other Oilers got three safeties. Pawelek and Sanderson, both coming in as many trips for a perfect night at the plate. Sanderson had a double and two singles while Pawelek added two singles to his first inning homer.

The Oilers waited little time in getting into the scoring act in the hello frame. Leadoff man Deck Woldt started it by getting line on Heitner's bad throw on a slow roller down the first base line. After Doug Lewis moved him to second on a groundout, Sanderson doubled to send Woldt across with

Crowd Falls Off As Oilers Turn In Best Performance Of 1953 Campaign

THERE WERE A LOT OF empty seats at last night's Oiler-Gold Sox tilt and it was a shame since the Oilers played one of their best games of the young season. The chilly weather, of course, was the blame for the small crowd. It was possibly the coldest night we've had since the season started.

However, it's supposed to be a little warmer tonight and it would be good for the fans to turn out tonight and give the Oilers a rousing sendoff on their first road trip.

After tonight's game with the Gold Sox here, the Oilers invade New Mexico for two-game series with Albuquerque and Clovis.

Tonight will also afford the Oilers a chance to see one of the club's most promising rookie pitchers in action — Roger Aldridge. He will need everyone's support since this is his first start in the professional ranks.

SHORTSTOP JOHNNY SANDERSON is pressing Deck Woldt for the individual prizes offered the Oiler players by the Pampa Merchants in being the "first" in various phases of the game.

Sanderason has now won five prizes to Woldt's eight. The Negro shortstop won only two of those on opening day but has picked up three since then. His opening game prize of $5 cash from C&M Television was for starting first double play and he got one hit which was good for $1 cash from Tex Evans Buick.

Since then, Sanderason won a Beaver Dress or Western Hat from Addington Western Store for hitting the first homerun, $10 cash from Parsley Motor Co. for hitting the first homer with a man on base; and $10 cash from Plains Motor Company for being the first Oiler to steal home.

Sanderason's homer came in Saturday night's second game with Borger while his steal of home occurred in Monday night's series finale with Clovis.

Four other prizes have been won since opening day with Ben Felder getting two of those. Felder was the first Oiler to hit a double which he received two prizes for the feat. The two prizes for the first two-baser was $5 on a pair of gRand Shoes from Smith's Quality Shoes and $5 in groceries from Ideal Food Store.

Manager Ted Pawelek and Woldt won the other two prizes that have been won since opening day. Porky became the first Oiler to be advanced from first to third on a base hit, coming in Saturday night's game with Borger. Pawelek will receive a baseball undershirt from The Sportsman's Store for this feat.

Woldt became the first Oiler to beat out a bunt, coming in Saturday night's game. He will receive $5 cash from Schwartz Iron & Supply Co.

There are still four of the original 24 prizes that haven't been won. These feats and the prizes that go with them are:

First player to hit two consecutive homers during the 1953 season — a Telechron Kitchen Clock from Monarch Hardware; the first pitcher to enter a game with a man (or men) on the bases and retire the side with no further scoring — $10 cash from Culbertson Chevrolet; the first Oiler to hit a homer with the bases loaded — a pair of "Hobby Jeans" from Wanner's Men Store; and the first Oiler to hit a homer over the Roberts Inc. sign — a pair of shoes.

As soon as all these prizes are won we will pass along the entire list including the ones we have already mentioned.

MUSCLEMEN—Three happy reasons why the Yankees swept their first series of the season with the Red Sox are, left to right, Mickey Mantle, Gene Woodling and Yogi Berra. In the last of three games, Berra and Mantle homered, Woodling getting four straight singles. (NEA)

Mind your motor manners—and live! You'd be surprised how many accidents are prevented by highway courtesy. So, think of the other fellow—in passing, on hills, around curves. Drive among your neighbors as you'd have them drive by you! Chances are you'll live longer. And so will your neighbors!

Be Careful—the life you save may be your own!

CHALLENGE TO THE INDUSTRY

-the new GMC 400-27 that outpowers and outclasses its field

GMC's new 18,000 GVW hauler not only dwarfs trucks of 16,000 and 17,000 GVW, but overshadows—and underprices—those rated at 19,000.

In fact, the GMC 400-27 is designed to outhaul any truck up to 19,500 GVW. Its new engine of progressive design is stripped of excess weight, yet built stronger to absorb the stress of really high compression. It gives you brisker response, more power and mileage from regular gas.

It includes, as standard equipment, many features that are optional at extra cost on other trucks.

As a tractor—or as a truck—it can increase your hauling ability, give you impressively better equipment—and save you both purchase and operating money to boot.

120 GROSS HORSEPOWER—on money-saving single carburetion. Valve-in-head engine, 270 cubic inch displacement, 7.5 to 1 compression ratio.

3-SPEED ELECTRIC SHIFT REAR AXLE—15,000 pounds capacity, is coupled with a 4-speed Synchro-Mesh transmission, putting 8 forward speeds at the driver's command. (Single-speed axle available at a saving; 5-speed transmission optional—at extra cost.)

36,000 GCR—137" or 149" wheelbase in tractor; 161", 179" or 197" wheelbase in trucks (9- and 12-foot platform or stake bodies optional).

ALSO STANDARD EQUIPMENT—4.5cu' pound capacity front axle—Hydrovac-actuated brakes—Moraine M-400 main and connecting rod bearings—Tocco-hardened crankshaft.

MEET THE OILERS

One of the youngest players on the current Oiler roster is Roger Aldridge, 19-year-old rookie pitcher from Miami, Florida.

ROGER ALDRIDGE

Aldridge, a right-hander, stands 6-1 and tips the scales at 180. He is married and his wife, who remained in Florida when Roger came west to join the Oilers, is due to have a baby in July.

Roger established quite a record for Redland High School of Miami during his senior year. He hurled three 1-hitters and the most hits any team ever got off his starts in one game was eight.

Aldridge pitched the Redlegs team into the district finals in the 1951 season.

Last spring, Aldridge played semi-pro baseball for the South Miami Merchants and had a big hand in the Merchants winning a spot in the National Semi-Pro tournament at Wichita, Kans. It was while playing semi-pro ball in Miami that the Oiler business manager, Jimmy Hamilton, signed Aldridge to a professional contract.

Aldridge said he didn't know Hamilton was in the stands the day he was contacted by Jimmy in regards to signing a professional contract.

Roger was a member of the Miami University freshman football team last fall where he doubled as a quarterback and halfback. After the 1952 grid season, Aldridge elected to pass up the remainder of his college eligibility to seek a baseball career. Hamilton got Roger on the dotted line last winter and the youngster was one of the first players on hand for the Oiler spring training camp at Sweetwater.

Aldridge, a very promising rookie, has got in one ball game thus far for the Oilers since the WT-NM race started, going in Monday night's game against the Cleveland Indians. He pitched a 1-0 game, striking out two batters and allowing one run in the bottom of the ninth.

While Aldridge's trade is a pitcher, he also totes a mean war club. He will likely be used as a pinch-hitter quite frequently this season.

Fists Fly . . . Tension Flares As Yanks Nip Browns

NEW YORK, April 29—UP—Fists could fly and blood could flow when the Yankees meet the Browns Wednesday.

And unless police intervene to curb the fans, somebody could get badly hurt by a flying pop or bear bottle.

There was close to a full scale riot at Busch Stadium in St. Louis Tuesday night when the fans acted as if they were in Busch Stadium and went wild in a 10th inning lullaballoo that delayed play 17 minutes before the Yankees finally won 7 to 6.

Umpire John Stevens suffered a shoulder injury, various players were marked with bumps and bruises, and the fans littered the field with bottles and other debris, narrowly missing players with their heaves. The St. Louis park is one of the last in the majors where drinks are dispensed in bottles instead of cardboard containers and the fans made the most of the empty missiles lying around.

Friday Fly
 Trouble started when Gil McDougald, who had doubled in the Yankees 10th, daringly tried for home on a force-out at second. He ran straight up instead of sliding and knocked the ball out of catcher Clint Courtney's hands for the tally.

Courtney, a scrapper, led off the Browns 10th with a hit to right and slid into second with spikes up, knocking the ball out of Phil Rizuto's hands.

That started the first-swinging as players from both teams stormed the field and delayed action for 17 minutes. Only a threat of forfeit by the umpires partially restored order as bottles came flying out of the stands.

Mantle Homers Again
 Earlier, Mickey Mantle hit another tremendous homer, a 330-foot drive over the left field stands regarded as perhaps the longest ever hit in St. Louis. It came with two on base. Hank Bauer also hit a two-run Yankee homer.

At Cleveland, the Athletics

Chuck Davey Starts Comeback Tonight

DETROIT, April 29—UP—Dancing Chuck Davey was favored to start his comeback campaign with a victory Wednesday night over young Sammy Giuliani in a ten-round bout at Olympia.

The fight will be televised nationally at 8 p. m. est over the CBS-TV network.

Davey has been idle since his defeat at the hands of Kid Gavilan Feb. 11 in a welterweight title match. It was his only loss since turning pro.

Giuliani, a 21-year old slugger from Stamford, Conn., could boost his stock considerably by stopping the former four-time collegiate champion who holds a masters degree from Michigan State.

Truman Salls for U.S.
 HONOLULU, April 29—UP—Former President Truman, named after a month's rest in the Hawaiian sun, sailed for San Francisco Tuesday night aboard the President Cleveland.

Midland Gains Tie For 1st In Longhorn

Midland moved into a first-place tie with Cleablad in Longhorn League standings by opening its home season with a 14 to 8 victory over San Angelo Tuesday night.

All other games were postponed because of bad weather. Some 2,000 Midland fans defied a sandstorm to see a slugfest, with 14 hits smashed out by each team. High winds twice held up the game.

Midland pitcher Ralph Blair went the route for the victory while Ben Bonine was charged with the loss.

Bums, Redlegs Are All Square

BROOKLYN, April 29—UP—After more than 33 years of battling, the Cincinnati Reds and Brooklyn Dodgers are all even.

By beating the Reds 5 to 1 at Ebbets Field Tuesday night behind Preacher Roe's eight-hit pitching, the Dodgers marked up their fifth victory over the Reds since 1906. The Reds have beaten the Dodgers exactly the same number of times.

The famous Douglas fir tree is not a fir tree. It is a false hemlock. Neither is the red-cedar a cedar. It is a true cypress.

Comic Strip Artist Utilizes Background Of Study, Travel

A talented young writer-artist makes his comic strip debut with "The Story of Martha Wayne" beginning Monday in The Pampa Daily News.

The new comic strip, drawn and written by Wilson Scruggs, is produced by NEA Service for more than 600 daily newspapers in the U.S. and Canada.

A background of intensive study and travel coupled with a sympathetic understanding and an appreciation of everyday problems enables Scruggs to create an intriguing group of true-to-life characters in a story filled with romance, drama and action. Devotion to detail in his drawings gives his characters accurate portrayals of the types they represent—their counterparts are to be found everywhere.

Scruggs centers his story around the town of Centerville—an average, typical American community. In the heroine, Martha Wayne, the artist has created an appealing young woman who was widowed by war, and forged to build a new life of her own. How she does it—the people she meets and the problems she faces—makes a powerful, moving narrative rich in human interest.

Typical of the intriguing situations which Scruggs writes and draws is the vicious scandal in which Martha becomes involved soon after her arrival in Centerville. Scruggs brings to the comic strip field an illustrative ability gained in recent years while working for such leading magazines as Life, The Saturday Evening Post, Collier's and Redbook. He studied illustration and portraiture under the late Harvey Dunn, one of America's foremost illustrators and teachers.

The NEA artist attended Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, and the Art Students League in Manhattan. During World War II, he served in the Topographic Branch of the Air Corps.

Born in Washington, D. C., Scruggs now resides in Florida with his wife, Elinor. Mrs. Scruggs is a former model, and when not engaged in housekeeping or other chores, serves as her husband's subject when he draws Martha Wayne.

Jerry Lewis' Wife Not Excited About Chances For Stardom Through Television

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, April 28—UP—A housewife with two children suddenly found today she's a new recording and television star. But she yawned she doesn't care whether her new career lasts.

This pretty singer modestly admitted she might not have found overnight fame if she hadn't been Mrs. Jerry Lewis.

Patti Lewis joined her husband in show business after she recorded a tune for his birthday, for family use only. Capitol Records heard about it and talked Patti and Jerry into waxing some regular records together.

owned employment office in Pampa, Mrs. Allred said.

She wound up with a role on his May 31 (NBC) television program, and she's coming movie offers out of her short brunette curls.

"I'll work only with Jerry," she said firmly. "I don't want to do anything on my own. If something comes out of all this, it would be nice, but I won't go looking for a career."

"I don't want a career, I don't need a career. But it's a great thing to prove to myself that I can do it. It's a boost to my ego."

This isn't her show business debut, however. She was an accordion player for 10 years as a youngster in Detroit, and switched to vocalizing. She was singing with Ted Flo Rito's band when Jerry, then doing a record-imitating act, met her in Detroit.

She married the celebrity-to-be and quit work.

"I was happy to be a wife and mother," she said. "I didn't sing again, for nine years, until Jerry put me in one of his home movies."

In this epic, "Come Back, Little Sheik," Patti sang, "He's Funny That Way." Then Danny Arnold, who writes Martin and Lewis movies, and Lou Brown, their pianist, wrote a special tune for Patti to sing on a home record for Jerry's birthday, "My Lover, My Hero, My Own."

"Jerry played the record day and night a Paramount," grinned his wife. "You couldn't help but hear it. The stenographers couldn't work. Jerry's record representative happened to hear it at the studio."

"If Jerry hadn't liked the idea, I wouldn't have gone any further," she added. "Basically, a home is what I want. But a little glamour never hurt anybody."

Being Jerry Lewis' wife, by the way, isn't the mad life you'd think.

"He's very quiet and serious at home," said Mrs. Lewis. "That is, when nobody's looking."
