but not the Senate's, would:

1. Outlaw jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts. Jurisdictional strikes usually stem from disputes between unions as to which should do given work. A secondary boycott is a refusal by one union to handle the work of another.

(The Senate bill procedure on such strikes and boycotts is to make them unfair labor practices. This means the National Labor Relations Board could obtain an injunction when a union failed to obey an order to drop the practice.)

2. Ban industry-wide bargaining, but not company-wide agreements, in nearly all cases.

3. Rule out mass picketing and violence in picketing.

4. Authorize expulsion of Communists from union membership. Unions could not be recognized for bargaining purposes if any officer is ever has been or could "reasonably be regarded" as a Communist or sympathizer.

5. Prohibit the involuntary check-off system of collecting union dues—that is, employer deduction of dues without the worker's written consent.

6. Outlaw health and welfare funds administered solely by unions.

7. Prohibit any federal employee from striking or encouraging a strike under penalty of losing his job and all his Civil Service rights.

THE STORY: After a lifetime of drifting the world, the great actress Sophie van Eyck, comes home to the little Maine coast town where she was born. Her husband, who was a banker, she had lived comfortably on the Riviera until the war. In her party are Victoria, a young girl who was her friend, and Marcel Perrot, an elderly Frenchman who is her portrait painter. Sophie has bought the old Peabody house on exclusive Peabody Neck, and she has seen to it that all Madame's furnishings are in place before her arrival.

Godfrey was trailing clouds of vanished glory through the halls of a home for indigent actors.

THAT night, although she was in her own bed again and the air was as refreshing as a drink from the Fountain of Youth, Sophie did not sleep well.

At first she thought the trouble might be Lulu's dinner, which had been heavy and succulent, drowned in rich wine sauces. But there was no reason why gulyas and paprika should have made her thoughts run along in the same channels hour after sleepless hour, as endlessly as a radio serial.

There had never been doubts or regrets on Sophie's conscience. She would not have changed an action or thought of her private life—not though Sophie Callere had endured unimaginable struggles and disappointments on the way to becoming Sophie van Eyck. There had been the fight from Maine, the ignominy of failure in New York, the voyage to Europe as maid to a circus aerialist, the days without a meal in bitter Parisian winters, the humiliating jobs undertaken backstage—all before her feet had ever known the feel of the bottom rung of the ladder; all before the purposeful starving and studying that had begun after the meeting with Marcel.

No, there were no regrets on Sophie's conscience—only peace, contentment, and a sense of well-being.

He was still alive, she knew, though a source of heretofore untroubled peace of mind. He had been through the halls of a home for indigent actors.

Since coming back to America, she had thought of him frequently—sometimes with bitterness, more often with sorrow. Now she began to think of him with compassion.

True, it was he who had wronged her, yet she could not give him a chance to show he was sorry? He had always been selfish, arrogant, thoughtless. But was she not being all these things by failing to get in touch with him? He, too, was elderly by now; he must also, judging from his address, be poor. And here she was in a comfortable house, surrounded with all the good things of material life—thanks to dear Max—which she shared with Marcel, Sir Charles and, of course, with Vicky.

If with Marcel, why not with Godfrey?

There were still two or three good bedrooms unoccupied at Gray Shingles. How selfish to keep them so!

She would write to Godfrey in the morning.

ONCE a year—and it had been going on for a good many years now, in a good many countries—Marcel began a portrait of Sophie. However bored Sophie got with these recurring eternities of sitting

"Velvet and broadcloth!" exclaimed Sir Charles. "Good Lord, do want Madame to be roasted alive? By August she'll have to stop sitting in velvet and broadcloth."

"By August," said Marcel, "she will probably be wearing furs." He began talking half to himself, arms crossed under the shawl. "I loved her. What did I have to give her? Nothing. Only everything. My art. Did I count the cost? No! I could have been the greatest of the impressionists. I could have given my art to the world. Instead I give it to Sophie."

"This was a well worn conversation," grooved. "If you'd given it to the world," said Sir Charles impatiently, "it would have saved Sophie a good many tedious years of posing."

Madame's bedroom door was opened across the hall and they heard the magnificent, resonant voice, carefully placed to carry just as far as the studio and no farther. "Marcel! Are you ready for me?"

The two men stepped to the door and stood in anticipation, one on each side of it. "Do not give her the letter," Marcel whispered "until after she has sat for me."

She gazed down with gratification on her long gown of red brocade, girdled with gold. "Dear Marcel," she chanted, meeting the compliment halfway with outstretched hands.

"Good morning, Sophie," said Sir Charles, more restrained than the Frenchman and confining his compliments to the pride and pleasure in his face. "Lulu wants to know if you would like her to try a New England boiled dinner."

Sophie had moved to the window and stood, with one arm raised, in contemplation of the light house on the point.

"What did you say, Sir Charles?" "New England boiled dinner." "Oh, no! Marcel would hate it."

"When in Rome—" offered Sir Charles hopefully. The boiled dinner had been her own homelike idea, not that of the temperamental Hungarian cook.

But Sophie had dismissed food from her mind. She was confident it would be as she and Marcel liked it anyway: light at breakfast, subtle and crisp at luncheon, luscious and palatable at dinner. She turned now from the view. "Sir Charles, do I have a telegram?"

"No, Madame."

She sighed. Godfrey should have been more eager. He ought to have wired or telephoned in his intoxication from the knowledge he might see her soon, he chided. He should feel as she did—a little tremulous, infinitely tender, all forgiving. But of course he never had.

Why should he have changed? Perhaps he even preferred the Actors' Home.

Explosion

burning fitfully in the Monsanto plant.

From three to five other large storage tanks in the Humble tank farm were menaced by the fires there, but fire fighters were able to get in to work at the job of protecting the tanks, and optimism was general that they can be saved.

Major J. C. Tranham said today that "it looks pretty good in the Humble area now. Most of the fires there, though still burning, are under control."

Oil Workers' Union in the Houston area and from as far away as Fort Worth have offered to send workers here to help with the work of clearing away the jumbled tangle left by the explosions and fires, the Mayor said.

Hundreds who were at work at Monsanto when it went up in the explosion are among those expected to be found today.

An advance party composed of States Public Health Service Unit, and Monsanto employees familiar with the plant layout moved in at 7 a. m.

Fifty firemen followed. With them was Dr. Paul H. Harris, Houston dentist designated by Mayor Tranham to direct the search, and his co-director, Robert Vance of Texas City, construction engineer. All wore asbestos suits.

Heavy construction equipment followed the firemen, including six cranes, a bulldozer, two picking crews, a dragline and four piling trucks.

The Red Cross canteen truck, a Salvation Army canteen truck, and two police cars moved into the area. First major job was the removal of scores of wrecked automobiles. The danger of any further major fire is now "just about nil."

At Austin, property losses in the Texas City explosion may be the second highest in United States history, Fire Insurance Commissioner Marvin Hall said.

He said he believed the loss will be second in value to that incurred by the San Francisco fire of 1904 which cost $250,000,000.

Hall said he had no definite figures yet, and that he could not make a close estimate while the fires continued.

"The Texas City loss is, without a doubt, the greatest from an insurance standpoint that this state has ever known," he said.

The concentration of industry, which he referred to as "millions and millions stacked up in one spot," would make the loss tremendous, Hall said.

Other estimates, all unofficial, have placed the property loss from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. And fires are still burning.

The major conflagration today was at the vast Humble Oil Com-

Tornado

However, the biggest worry expressed by the employment office here was "what will happen when the sympathy period cools off and the bricklayers, carpenters, and plumbers are actually needed?"

J. P. Fort, manager of the Texas Employment Service, said this morning, the rebuilding of Higgins cannot be done in a week. It takes time and full planning. The men going into the area must be housed and fed, and that battered community cannot absorb all of them at one time. However, plans for organizing groups of workers and equipment from Pampa and Gray County were being formulated this morning. The aid will be sent in about a week when definite plans are laid down—in other words rebuilding by placing first things first.

Several surrounding oil companies are sending trucks and men into Higgins to do any type work officials there ask of them. The companies are donating the trucks and equipment while the men are donating their time. Most of the companies could not be contacted today, but it was learned that Phillips Oil Company had two trucks, with drivers, in the area today and will send the flow of urine to help ease that burning sensation when you pass water... and bladder irritation that makes you get up nights. Caution: Take as directed. You'll say it's really marvelous.

Are These Fair Wages For Telephone People?

Because wages are at issue in the telephone strike, let's take a look at what operators and plant craftsmen are now getting. Almost all telephone people are in these groups.

The basic work week is a 5-day, 40-hour week. Scheduled employees are paid overtime for time worked over 8 hours a day, premium time for Sunday and Holiday work, and added money for evening and night work.

OPERATORS
A girl just out of high school, with no previous experience, starts at the beginners rate of $26.00 a week. But if she works after 9 p. m., she gets $27.50 a week, and if that week includes Sunday work, she gets $30.10.

The beginning operator gets a raise in pay ever six months during the first year. An operator with 12 months experience, for example, gets $28.00 for a normal 40-hour week. If it includes evenings and Sunday, she earns $32.30.

Periodic increases bring the operator to the top rate of $34.00 a week. If she works evenings and Sundays, her weekly earnings are $38.90.

But the Union wants to increase the beginner's rate of pay from $26.00 to $41.00—up $15.00 a week. Also, they would increase the top wages from $34.00 to $51.00—that is an increase of $17.00 a week.

PLANT CRAFTSMEN
Linemen and installers, starting in right out of school with no experience, begin at $28.00, for a basic 5-day week. In two years they are earning $35.50 a week. Periodic increases raise this basic rate to a top of $56.00 a week. Exchange repairmen—the men who

If excess acidity of your urine makes your back ache so you groan... so you get up 3 or 4 times a night to pass water, now be of good cheer.

Three generations ago a famous doctor noticed that hundreds of his patients had this backache. He developed a medicine made of exactly the right amount of 16 herbs, roots, vegetables, balsams—truly Nature's own way to relief.

Now millions have used it. The medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. WE, THE WOMEN

Mama's Restlessness Benefits Papa

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"My wife likes to go—you know how women are!"

Within a few days I heard two different older men make that remark. Both times it was said with a mixture of tolerance and pride, and both times it preceded an account of a trip the men would not have missed for anything—but probably would never have made if they hadn't been married to women who "like to be on the go."

Yes, women do like to get around and do things. And while men make a pretense of regarding that as deplorable, they're usually proud—especially as they grow older—that their womenfolk won't let them settle down and stay put.

That's a good thing for women to remember. If they listened to their men, took seriously their complaining about being dragged here and there and gave up trying to get them away from home occasionally, they both would grow old too soon.

Many a man would settle down contentedly and never go anywhere if left to his own devices, owes a good many interesting and enriching experiences to a wife who "likes to go."

DON'T GIVE IN, WOMEN

So don't back down, women. Don't let a stay-at-home-minded husband talk you out of that trip you want to take, those places you want to go, those things you want to do.

Keep right on being the kind of woman who "likes to be on the go"—and you'll keep both yourself and your husband young.

While he may never admit to you that your wanting to get around and do things has added zest to both your lives, some day there will probably creep into his voice a decided note of pride and satisfaction as he tells a stranger: "My wife likes to go—you know how women are."

In Hollywood

(Johnson on KPBN Monday thru Friday, 2 P. M.)
By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood is full of practical jokes, but Norm Shearer's rib at the expense of Ralph Morgan is still a classic. Ralph came out to Hollywood from New York to make his film debut with Norma and Clark Gable in "Strange Incident."

The first day on the lot they said they wanted to test Ralph's voice. He was taken to a sound stage filled with electricians, prop men, sound and cameramen.

They led him to a microphone and told him to say with different intonations, "What am I doing here?"

Ralph started: "What AM I doing here? What am I doing HERE? What am I DOING here? WHAT am I DOING here? WHAT am I DOING here?"

Suddenly Norma Shearer's voice came from the sound booth. "Ralph, you're just making a darn fool of yourself as far as I can see."

PRO PERFORMANCE
Director Otto Preminger had some difficulty in teaching Linda Darnell the fine points of murder for a strangling scene in "Annie."

"Why are you so particular?" asked Linda.

"Well," said Otto, ducking, "you wouldn't know some fat who is a murderer writing in to complain that your technique was amateurish, would you?"

Leave it to the younger generation. Red Skelton was driving down Sunset in one of those fancy new station wagons when a "hot rod" pulled up beside him at a stop sign. "Hey," yelled the teenage driver, "when are you going to take that car out of its crate?"

Movie trick of the week: A special contraption built to make two-hump camels into the one-hump dromedary for a scene in "Atlantis." Isn't anything in Hollywood real?

RICHARD, THE DUKE
Paul Henreid's $100,000 Vienna estate, confiscated by the Nazis, will soon be restored to him. Henreid was one of the first to take part in anti-Nazi films, including "The Madman of Europe," the first directed against Hitler.

Richard Greene will play the title role in a historical technical-epic built around the Duke of Marlborough. Greene himself peddled the idea to the studio.

The play from which the Warners' "Wallflower" was taken was written by Reginald Denham, father of Angela Lansbury. His selection of the title certainly has nothing to do with Angela!

Short Takes: Aside to Judge Dockweiler: Laraine Day just got married again, to John Wayne for a scene in "Tycoon." . . . Dale Evans will reign as queen of the Pioneer Days, Diamond Jubilee celebration come June . . . Andrea King will be starred in a new Warner flicker, "Her Secret." It's a story about each girl's quest and how it got there. . . . Jack Parr, the GI comic, will do a series of 16-mm. comedy shorts a la Bob Benchley. . . . There's talk about filming "Fountainhead" again, with Clark Gable again perking up those famous ears.

Bears Leading Big State League Parade Easily

(By The Associated Press)
Texarkana's Bears rocked merrily along at the head of the Big State League parade today, checking up their third victory in a row with an 11-2 victory over Paris last night.

Big Frank Martin held Paris to four hits, while his mates collected 14 and were further aided by five Ted Pepper errors.

Two of the four hits Martin yielded went for home runs, by left fielder Jim Skidgel and Manager Lloyd Higgsby. A third run was good for a triple, by James Griffin.

Austin dropped its first game of the year, a 7-6 decision to Waco. Sherman blanked Greenville, 6-0, and Wichita Falls downed Gainesville, 7-1.

The victory of Wichita Falls was its first of the year, its previous attempt to open the season being washed away. When the Spudgers got a break in the weather they took advantage of it to the tune of 12 hits.

Johnny Appell's single in the ninth inning with the bases loaded climaxed a four-run rally by Waco that gave it its first win of the young season.

Veteran Pitcher John Whitehead kept nine Greenville hits well scattered while Twins' batters were murching hits in the first and fifth inning to pile up their lead.

Tonight the same clubs meet again at the same sites. This pits Austin at Waco, Wichita Falls at Gainesville, Sherman at Greenville and Texarkana at Paris.

It is estimated that the average U. S. motorist pays $133.74 in taxes to operate a new automobile its first year.

'Same Old Hank Greenberg' Is Cry Around Wrigley Field

By JACK HAND
The same old Hank Greenberg! That was the cry echoing around Wrigley Field yesterday as Big Hank, who was coaxed out of "retirement" by Pittsburgh, lofted a Hank Wynn pitch into the left field bleachers for his first National League home run.

With the help of Hank's second-inning clout and six unearned runs on two hits by Benny Burdette, the seventh inning, Billy Herman brings his Pirates home, tied for first place with Brooklyn and the Phillies. The Cubs' only run of the abbreviated series came in the ninth inning of yesterday's 7-1 defeat, at the hands of Preacher Roe.

Manager Johnny Murray's campaign to inject more punch into the defense-minded Cincinnati Reds paid off with a 9-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, giving them a 2-1 edge over the champs in their opening series.

Augie Galan, Ray Lamano, Clyde Volmer and Frank Baumholtz all hit home runs to back up freshman Kent Peterson's fine three-hit relief pitching. After Everett Lively had been pitched out in the three-run Cardinal first, inning, Peterson, who had pitched only one inning of Major League ball previously, stopped the Cardinals, giving them all six runs with two doubles and a homer in the Dodger's 12-6 win over Boston. A leaky infield put loser Mort Cooper on the ropes in the first inning and Kirby Hinkle, the winner, was flattened in a four-run Boston outburst in the sixth.

Dutch Leonard turned in a workmanlike job for the Phillies in his first start, recovering from a poor start for an 11-5 victory over New York as his mates pounded loser Bill Ayers. Larry Jensen and Woody Abernathy for 14 blows. Mel Ott's second straight loss was doubly discouraging because his rookie pitcher failed to hold the Phils in check.

The Boston Red Sox showed unmistakable signs of picking up where they left last season, dumping Washington with Joe DeLoach doing the honors. The veteran righthander was helped by sharp Fed Sox fielding while the boys bopped on Mickey Vernon for all four runs in the first two innings.

Floyd Bevens, the New York Yankees' "hard luck artist" of 1946 got a break in his first start although he had to throw a three-hitter at Philadelphia to win 2-1. Ferris Fain, boosted Larry Berra's grounder to let in the winning run in the eighth. Dick Fowler was the loser.

Rookie Paul Lehner, a highly recommended prospect, came through with a pinch single with the bases loaded and two out for the St. Louis Browns' 4-3 edge over Detroit in the 10th inning. Jack Kramer went all the way to decision Paul Trout, who homered in his own behalf in the fifth.

The Majors stage their second openers today with the Cardinals entertaining Chicago at St. Louis, Brooklyn at New York, Cincinnati at Pittsburgh and Philadelphia at Boston.

The Yankees will be in Washington for the presidential opener, postponed from Monday. Other American League games will find Cleveland at Detroit, St. Louis at Chicago and Boston at Philadelphia.

Entrants in the Pampa Country Club 27-Hole Medal Play Golf Tournament may begin their qualifying round of nine holes tomorrow. Qualifying play will be carried out through Friday, April 25. Frank Baker, club pro, announced yesterday.

The final 18 holes of the 27-hole tournament will be played on Saturday, April 26 or Sunday, April 27, Baker said.

Baker pointed out that the previously scheduled medal play tournament must be played off so that play may begin in the Annual City Tournament.

Stores to Close For Oiler Opener

Local merchants will be requested to bring in the baseball season and get behind Pampa's West Texas-Nor Mexico League Champion Oilers, the sports committee of the Chamber of Commerce announced yesterday.

The Pampa Retail Trade Committee has asked that all business concerns in Pampa be closed at 3:45 on Wednesday, April 23, in order that all employees and employers may attend the Oilers opening game here.

Arrangements have been completed for a down town parade led by the Harvester Band at 3 p. m. The Oilers and the visiting Gassers will participate in the parade.

At the ball park appropriate ceremonies are being planned. Mayor C. A. Huff will pitch to the opening batter, who will be Frank D. Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce and L. N. Atchinson will be behind the plate.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK—(AP)—Fat Freddie Fitzsimmons, who hasn't grown any thinner since he quit pitching to become a football executive, was looking at Elmore Harris, who had just been signed to play for the football Dodgers. "I'd like to have his speed," Freddie said. "I'd be out there in the outfield somewhere. . . . Matter of fact, I think I could still pitch a couple of innings. At least I would be able to walk 'em. If you let them hit the ball there's eight other guys who have a chance to help you get them out." Harris, who tossed his chances for the Olympics into the ash can because he likes football better than foot racing, will continue to operate his Bronx tailor shop. "I'd like to get the cub's cleaning contract on uniforms," he confessed. "A slightly cynical reporter asked Harris if he turned pro to earn an honest dollar with much emphasis on the honest." Elmore flashed a big, white-toothed grin. "Man," he said, "you talk as if you know something."

Pampa News, Friday, April 18, 1947 PAGE 7

Three TKO's Feature First Night's Fights

Three technical knockouts, 22 decisions, and two classy exhibition matches all contributed to make the opening night of the three-day Inter-City Boxing Tournament a huge success. The Junior High Gymnasium was packed to the rafters and most of the tickets for tonight's fights were sold at last night's show.

Technical knockouts were scored by Pete Kilpatrick, 95 pounds, Pete Cooper, 126 pound division, and Billy Anderson in the 136 pound division. The latter two were well matched battlers. The first had a slight height and reach advantage over his opponent.

The Billy Anderson-Marvin Harvey fight was one of those that put the officials on the spot for it was the type of fight that most fans want to see finished. The boys were apparently evenly matched, however a stir left to Harvey's nose early in the first, started it bleeding profusely and after watching it continue through one minute and 25 seconds of the second round, the fight was stopped. The points were practically even.

Probably the most impressive fighter to appear on tonight's card was Pete Cooper, an exceedingly fast, rugged 126 pounder, who stepped out and blasted Jimmy Mealey with a TKO 50 seconds after the opening bell.

The other TKO was one of those things which unavoidably come up in every tournament and for which no one is responsible. Pete Kilpatrick, a boy who was tall and long armed, for his weight of 95 pounds, TKO'd Don Evans about mid-way in the third round. Evans was a game little boy but the tall Kilpatrick was too much for him.

Crowd pleasing fights were not confined to the TKO's by any means. In the 126 pound weight class, Doug Mills and Carroll Martin battled three hard rounds, with Martin, evidently a ringwise little fighter, for this competition, winning the bout.

In the 146 pound division, the Buddy Sawyer-Melvin Stanford battle was among the rougher fights. Sawyer is a clever, agile boxer and Stanford is one of those tall rugged boys who just keeps pouring in and trying to get the fight stopped in a hurry. Sawyer was possibly the better fighter, but Stanford got the decision, rightly, most fans believed, on his aggressiveness.

The crowd was treated to two exceptionally good exhibition fights. Sawyer really did it. Both boys handled themselves nicely. Cooper was up to his usual good form which is recognized throughout the Panhandle.

Clemmons surprised everyone by stepping in and giving Cooper two close rounds before playing out in the third. If both boys were in shape and really had a reason for battling, it appeared they would have a very close match.

Two local boys, Herky Lane and J. E. Wedgworth gave a good exhibition. Lane was a hard hitter and he had it all they had, and plenty of wild swinging and falling around the ring was the result. Lane seemed to have the edge most of the distance.

Results:
75-pounds—L. B. Coberly defeated Chas. Graham.
85-pounds—Billy Campbell defeated Robert Kelly; Dean Ward defeated Lewis Hayes; Roy Martin defeated Bobby Lobb; Jimmy Bennett defeated Jimmy Pitcher.

95-pounds—Jimmy Gilmore defeated Billy Coberly.
105-pounds—James Claunch defeated Ray Bailey; Robert Mauldin defeated Ronnie Samples; Jumbo Roberts defeated Bill Nolan; Jimmy Kenner defeated Max Scott.

112-pounds—Roy Bailey defeated Bill Compton; Max Robbins TKO'd Jack Kenner; Pete Kilpatrick defeated Don Evans.
126-pounds—Pete Cooper TKO'd Jim Medley; Carroll Martin defeated Doug Mills.

136-pounds—Bob Hinkley defeated Wesley Keith; Edward Turner defeated Dewey Cudney; J. D. Compton defeated Jimmy Crowner; Billy Anderson TKO'd Marvin Harvey.

146-pounds—Tom Chisholm defeated Cecil Link; Troy Ray defeated Floyd Medbery; Melvin Stanford defeated Buddy Stanford.
160-pounds—Kelsey Anderson defeated Frank Morrison.

Heavyweights—Leon Kelley defeated Maurice Lockhart; Glen Cary defeated Bill Runyon.
The officials were Jack Davis, Ham Luna, C. E. McGrew and Paul Hill.

Oklahoma City Is Leading in Texas League

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff
Oklahoma City found itself all alone on top of the Texas League today, thanks to a surprising upset by Houston.

The Houston nine jumped all over San Antonio last night, snapping its seven-game winning streak with a 9-2 victory and tumbling it into second place.

Jack Greel spaced five hits to himself! San Antonio while his teammates found the range of Ralph Germano, Ernie Bickhouse and Chili Wagener.

Dallas broke into the win column for the first time this year with a 4-2 victory over Fort Worth, and Beaumont ratched up its third win of the season, downing Shreveport 5-1.

Boasting a perfect record of four victories and no defeats, Oklahoma City led off on five Tulsa pitchers for 14 hits and a 16-8 triumph.

In last place at the end of the 1946 season, the Indians showed little resemblance to last year's doormat. They came from behind a three-run Tulsa advantage in the second inning and were never headed the remainder of the game.

Play! Spiel turned in a fourth-hit performance in eight innings to give Dallas its initial victory and Tom Pullig who relieved him, yielded just one.

Hal Hirschorn's double, Red Davis' single and a Fort Worth error put the Dallas club off to a two run start in the second inning.

Today San Antonio comes home to open its local season in a half-finished park. Its home for many many seasons sold for the site of a transit company garage, the Missions will have to play day games until lights are installed at the new plant.

Beaumont will furnish the opposition against the Missions. Dallas continues its series at Fort Worth tonight, and Oklahoma City does the same at Tulsa. Shreveport moves over Houston.

WOMEN'S GOLF
PINEBURST—(AP)—There'll be a replay of last year's finale when Little Louise Suggs meets Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page today in the semi-finals of the North and South Women's Golf Tournament.

This shapes up as likely to be a closer tussle than the day's other engagement between Laddie Irwin of Montclair, N. J., and Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias of Denver, favored to win this event after her string of 14 straight tournament triumphs.

Harvester Track Squad to Lubbock
The seven members of the Harvester track squad who qualified for the district meet at Canyon last Wednesday will leave early tomorrow morning for the Regional Track and Field Meet at Lubbock.

Those taking the trip are Bill Speer, Zeke Griffin, Bob Boyles, Kelley Anderson, Charlie Lockhart, Jack Williams, and Bob Hinkley.

Events that they will participate in are the high hurdles, broad jump, pole vault, shot put, discus throw, high jump.

The meet will be held Saturday. Motor vehicle registration in the United States during 1946 was about $2,511,000 compared with $4,383,345 in 1941.

Gibbons Received Neither Credit Nor Cash for Fight With Dempsey

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
Time was running out on Tom Gibbons when his manager, Eddie Kane, told an American Legion post to guarantee Jack Dempsey $300,000 for defending the world heavyweight championship at Shelby, July 4, 1923.

The challenger would take a percentage of what was left. At 34 and after 11 years of fighting, all he wanted was the crack at the crown. Shelby, while an oil boom town on the Montana plain, not far from Great Falls, was little more than a cross-roads.

A bank went broke paying off Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey. At that the show might have been a success had not Kearns bluffingly called it off the night before when Gibbons saw a right hand punch was not forth-coming. Many special trains were cancelled. Kearns finally consented to take what came in at the gate. That did not make up his guarantee.

Dempsey and Gibbons boxed 15 rounds like featherweights. It was too late to do anything else when Gibbons saw a right hand punch coming in the first round, so he crooped his head and took it on the forehead. As a result he has no memory of the first three rounds.

Some so-called experts hinted that Dempsey "carried" Gibbons. Nothing could be further from the truth. The Meeassa Man Mauler, then in full stride, took a million Sunday punches at the St. Paul veteran with impunity faith in himself.

But Gibbons gave the best and most skillful boxing exhibition of his career. His feinting and counter punches were superb. There were many who felt Tom was fighting two men, for he got all the worst of it from referee Jimmy Daugherty, a close friend of both Dempsey and Kearns.

And all this for nothing. Gibbons received neither cash nor credit—only a vaudeville tour contract. He accepted the offer during the bout.

In the 10th round Eddie Kane received a wire from Alexander Pantazes, owner of the Pantazes Circuit, whose offices were in Los Angeles, offering Tom a contract to appear on the circuit. Between rounds, when Gibbons heard of the offer, he yelled over to the wireless operator. "Accept that vaudeville offer for me."

ROD AND GUN CLUB Meeting Tonight
Dr. Roy Webb will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the McClellan Lake Rod and Gun Club to be held in the County Courtroom at 8 p. m. tonight.

Webb, who recently returned from a meeting of the Texas Wildlife Federation, of which he was elected a vice president, will speak on the activities the Federation plans for the preservation of fish and game.

All members are urged to be in attendance since a special attendance prize, a good rod and reel, is to be given free to one of the members.

"PLAN NOW TO ATTEND EVERY SERVICE"

Let this be our THANKSGIVING DAY! A day of worship, of praise, of prayer, of attendance, of gratitude to God for all His goodness to us and our Church, and for sending Bro. Harvey to us.

We cannot spell SUCCESS without "U." May our song of gratitude translate itself into deeds of love and service especially on this great day. "Yours for a great day, Edwin Spears."

Sayings About the Pastor

It has been a great joy to have the privilege of serving these past two years as a deacon under the leadership of Bro. Rudolph Q. Harvey, our pastor, and also of working with him the past six months as chairman of Deacons. The Lord has richly blessed us under his great leadership in these two years as our pastor. Bro. Harvey is a man that preaches the gospel in all its purity, without fear or favor to man, and how I do thank God for his earnest zeal and passion for the lost.

One of the most commendable traits a person may have is that of faithfulness to the work he has set out to do. I think there is no one in my acquaintance who more fits that description than our pastor and his wife. To profess to love the Lord and to prove that by burning our life out in His service is to show to the world that Christianity means everything to us. Surely no one could follow our pastor or work with him without being convinced that he works untriflingly in a spirit of sacrifice for the Lord he loves.

May we as a church follow his leadership as God continues to lead him, and may each of us pray for him and his family, and pray for me as I work with him that we both will lead as God would have us to lead.

Frederic Worley, Educational Secretary
Pampa, Texas.

God gave us through Brother Harvey the greatest Revival First Baptist Church has ever had in its history; we had so many adults saved, I believe the reason is that you are one of the few preachers who, under the leadership of the Holy Spirit, preach the gospel without fear or favor to man. Brother Harvey, our good pastor, is a better pastor, our deacons are better deacons, our church is a better church, and our town is a better town since God sent you our way to lead us in this great campaign for lost souls.

Congratulations to you and your good church on your second anniversary. It has been a great pleasure to know you, to work with you, and to see the ever increasing growth of your church as is reported week by week in your church bulletin. There can be no greater thrill than to witness the number of souls that have been saved during the two years of your ministry. Unless I am badly wrong it amounts to over 600. God is blessing you and your dear people in the work that you are doing. We know by the kind of revival we had when you were with us that you are a man called of God, and filled with the Holy Spirit having been saved by the blood of Christ. We know why God has blessed your work, people come out and hear this famous, talented, southern pastor-evangelist, the wonderful contractor preacher, because he holds spell-bound large audiences wherever he goes. We have worked in revivals with many men, but Bro. Harvey does more for the church and the pastor than any of the others. Our prayer is that God will give to you dear people and your pastor many more years together and during the coming year may we see you build a building that is worthy of the program that your pastor has put before you as a church.

J. O. Herring
Sunday School Superintendent and
Mayor of the City of Port Neches.

J. W. Sismore
Line Ave. Baptist Church
Amarillo, Texas.

Rev. Rudolph Q. Harvey is a man with a sincere desire to help his fellowman. His motivation is unequalled.

Frank W. Kelley, M. D.
Pampa, Texas.

It has been a real joy and privilege to have the opportunity to again enjoy the fellowship with your good pastor. To know Bro. Harvey is to love him. It was my privilege to be with him in Baylor and to know him as a man of God who leads his people to love and to serve God. I rejoice with him and with you in the phenomenal growth you have had in your Sunday School, and church program in this good church in Pampa. The increase in your growth has been remarkable and almost staggering in its proportion. It no doubt comes as a result of a wise and safe leadership of your good pastor, who knows the program and who keeps abreast of the times, and stays informed on the best methods for growing a great church and a great Sunday School. May God bless you as you follow your pastor, for I know he will lead you into a greater program that will build a mighty church for Christ, that will reach the lost people to your community.

M. D. Rexrode
Assistant S. S. Missionary, Dallas, Texas.

Some people depend upon their knowledge, others upon their strength, still others upon "pull," but I am glad to know that Bro. Rudolph Q. Harvey, although he could take advantage of any or all of these, depends wholly upon the Lord for His guidance and help.

Edwin S. Spears, Educational Director
Pampa, Texas.

I have known Bro. Harvey for the past eight or nine years. He has always been a hard worker along with his wife who never tires at the job. The Lord has blessed his ministry in all of the churches where he has pastored. There is no one that I feel like I will be able to work with more cooperatively than with Bro. Harvey. Although only being here a few days I have enjoyed every bit of it and feel as though we are accomplishing something.

Edwin S. Spears, Educational Director
Pampa, Texas.

Congratulations on your second anniversary as pastor of the Central Baptist Church. As one who has observed your work during these months, I marvel at your enthusiasm, your tirelessness, your spirit, and your power in the pulpit. God has abundantly blessed your ministry, and may health and strength be yours in the years ahead as you continue in the extension of His kingdom.

Paul Crouch
Lubbock, Texas.

I want to congratulate the Central Baptist Church, and especially Rev. Rudolph Q. Harvey because of the most unusual progress that you have made in the church life. I think of his being exceedingly aggressive and well informed with reference to every phase of your church life. We are confident that the future has even greater things in store for you and for your good church in the days that are out before us. Blessings on you.

G. S. Hopkins
Sunday School Missionary, Dallas, Tex.

Two years ago, under the leadership of God, the wife, Mildred Ann, and I left a large church in Houston to cast our lot in Pampa. God has been gracious to us in these two years, and to Him we give all the praise, honor, and glory for the success of these two great and eventful years. The people of this great church have been gracious, generous, and the greatest followers to be found. Opportunities for service have been limited only by our time, talents, and strength. We most gratefully praise God, and thank each of you for all you have done to make these two years the success they have been.

None of us know what the future holds, except that He who is the same yesterday, today, and forever will be there, and will not fail us.

Yours for souls,
Rudolph Q. Harvey.

Yours for souls,
Rudolph Q. Harvey.

Bro. Harvey presented "The People's Power Night" plan to the deacons and after having adopted it enthusiastically, they brought it to the church in regular conference and the church officially adopted to change the name of the midweek service to "The People's Power Night". The young people of the church furnish the choir and render all special music that night. Special songs and special numbers in music are rendered throughout the People's Power Night. There is a special time given for request for prayer for people all over the city, regardless of belief, and for those that are in the hospital. There is a special time for requests and prayers for all the lost that are mentioned.

Special messages are prepared by our pastor, Rudolph Q. Harvey. The first series presented was on "How To Successfully Live a Christian Life." This series brought the attendance from less than a hundred to over two hundred. The present series is on "The Bible," taking a book of the Bible each Wednesday night.

The Sunday School and Training Union are being used in promoting "The People's Power Night"; much interest has been shown and these services are very spiritual. W. L. Ayers, their leader, stated, "The People's Power Night" services have helped me in my spiritual life more than any services that I have attended."

The Following Men and Business Firms Join Central Baptist Church in Honoring Rudolph Q. Harvey

Life History

To trace a river to its source that has blessed the land by bearing in its waters fertility for the soil and refreshments to man, is a task that has challenged and richly rewarded many an engineer. To follow to its beginning a life that has borne comfort to sad hearts, hope to discouraged ones and messages of salvation to lost men, is a work far surpassing this, as spiritual truth is superior to material truth, and help for human hearts is above all physical benefits. The life of Rudolph Q. Harvey, as lived out before his fellowmen, is such a one, and if traced to its source to find the springs from which it flowed is to discover at its headwaters the words of the Lord Jesus Christ. He that believeth on me, from him shall flow rivers of living water. Thus spoke He of the Spirit that they which believe on Him should receive. Outside the Bible, as well as within its sacred folds, God uses human lives as object lessons of His saving grace, patient love, guiding hand, and everlasting providence. Like Timothy, the unfeigned faith that is in him dwelt in his own Mother. His father, now deceased, Joseph Shell Harvey, a contractor, was better known as "The Messier Workman." To them was born two daughters, Agel and Grace, and one son, Rudolph Quinton, who was born in Greenbrier, Arkansas, reared in Conway, the County Seat of Faulkner County, known as the city of schools and colleges. It was here in the beautiful little city under the preaching of Bro. E. P. J. Garret in the First Baptist Church, that he became a Christian. He entered upon his career as a builder here in Conway, taking his first contract at the early age of thirteen. He followed the footsteps of his father as a contractor and became known as a real finish man.

Higher Ground for 1947

Rudolph Q. Harvey presented a stupendous program of achievement for the year of 1947, fired the enthusiasm of the congregation of Central Baptist Church, Pampa, Texas, to the highest ambition in the church's experience, and received an overwhelming response of endorsement at the close by a large congregation that rose to its feet in approval when asked for expression of acceptance.

Rudolph moved to Edinburg, Texas with his parents where he met and married Mildred Couch, January 4, 1935, the youngest daughter of the late Judge H. C. Couch.

The deacons, superintendents, teachers, Training Union Directors, sponsors and individual members of the church are planning to give themselves to the program outlined by the pastor; which will also include the great program of evangelism and soul winning that will keep our church dedicated to the main task of Christ.

Bro. Harvey surrendered to preach and was licensed on August 2, 1936 under the ministry of Rev. Dallas P. Lee, in the First Baptist Church of Edinburg, Texas. Bro. Harvey and his wife entered Baylor University in the fall of 1936. He was ordained at Seventh and James Street Baptist Church in Waco, September 22, 1937, and received his B. A. degree in 1942. Bro. Harvey was pastor of Third Street Baptist Church in Waco for almost six years. The church experienced one of its greatest growths under his capable leadership. He and Mrs. Harvey attended Southwestern Theological Seminary at Ft. Worth during his postorate in Waco.

"The Fourteen Point Program" with the theme song "Higher Ground for 1947" has gone out over the state of Texas and even to the Nashville Office. Many churches have written in over Texas for the plan, and are now using the suggested outlined plan by Brother Harvey. The complete text of the "Fourteen Points" presented by the pastor to the Sunday morning and night worship hours is as follows:

From Waco he and Mrs. Harvey went to Magnolia Park Baptist Church of Houston, where they adopted Mildred Ann, who was sixteen months old. From Houston they moved to accept the call of Central Baptist Church, Pampa, Texas, April 15, 1945. The church has experienced phenomenal growth under his leadership. He has not preached a message in the last two years that God has failed to send someone down the aisle.

The Proclamation from the pulpit, and the classroom of the whole word of God, with no questions, apologies, or compromises, in the fullest sense of our responsibilities to our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. A positive and extensive program of soul winning and evangelism with a goal of 500 additions for the year.

Phenomenal Growth

APRIL 1945 to APRIL 1947

We pay tribute today to our pastor, Rudolph Q. Harvey, who has been our under-shepherd for two years. Each of us can truthfully say that he follows the plan of our Saviour in caring for his flock. The progress of these two fruitful years is one that will inspire, thrill, and enrich your life. You will want to be present April 20, 1947, as we honor our pastor on his second anniversary.

Both of these workers come highly recommended to us and we feel that Central Baptist faces the future with the greatest challenge in their entire history. There has been an average of 6.3 people uniting with the church each Sunday for these two years or 32 people uniting at each service. Our pastor has averaged 16 visits a day for these two years. There has not been a single service that our pastor has preached that the Lord did not send someone down the aisle, and there have been very few Sunday nights that someone has not been baptized. The above facts give only a few of the blessings for which we are grateful, for many of our blessings cannot be written, but are stamped indelibly on each of our hearts.

Through the wise and capable leadership of Bro. and Mrs. Harvey, Central Baptist Church has made a phenomenal growth in these two years. Through his great prayer life, and deep compassion for the unsaved, the Lord has added 646 to the membership of the church in these two years, and 205 of these were conversions and were baptized into the fellowship of the church. Our church led the Association in baptisms last year. The membership has grown from 784 to 1321.

THE PASTOR'S MESSAGE

The Sunday School has added eight new departments, forty-seven new classes, seventy-three teachers and officers and the average enrollment has grown from 437 to 1,041. The average attendance has increased from 256 to 519, and the average Sunday School offering has increased from $196.05 per Sunday to $423.89. We now have 14 departments, 80 classes, and 122 teachers and officers. The Training Union has added seven new departments, eleven new unions, thirty-five new officers. The average enrollment has grown from 187 to 500, the average attendance has grown from 131 to 242, the average daily Bible readers has grown from 58 to 134. We now have thirteen departments, 22 unions, 53 officers and leaders, enrollment of 500, and average attendance of 292. The Training Union has grown from one of the smallest to the largest in the city, and is paralleled with the Sunday School.

Two years ago, under the leadership of God, the wife, Mildred Ann, and I left a large church in Houston to cast our lot in Pampa. God has been gracious to us in these two years, and to Him we give all the praise, honor, and glory for the success of these two great and eventful years. We most gratefully praise God, and thank each of you for all you have done to make these two years the success they have been.

The church offering increased from $11,459.00 in 1944 to $27,941.76 in 1946, and an increase of $1,063.89 to cooperative budgeting in one year. The total offering for the first six months of this year is $14,090.36, or an average of $592.15 a Sunday.

None of us know what the future holds, except that He who is the same yesterday, today, and forever will be there, and will not fail us.

The back of the auditorium, the Young People's, the Intermediates, the Junior and the nursery departments have been completely remodeled. A new temporary educational unit that houses the Junior I and II, the Intermediates, and the Senior departments has been constructed. Every department is filled each Sunday including the auditorium with overflowing crowds. A new building committee has been elected by the church to make plans in the near future for added room. The latest record system "the Cardifier" has been added; the church office has all new equipment; a new public address system that includes the nursery, has been installed; the latest G. E. "Rad-alar" light that kills germs has been added to the nursery; the latest R. C. A. 16 mm. sound projector and auditorium shade was purchased; two 10,000 G. E. cooling units have been installed, over $900 of paving was laid to give more parking space; over $3,600 was spent on new chairs for all departments, four pianos were purchased for the new departments; the insurance was increased from $10,000 to $35,000; a new $1,000 lot was purchased for the new location of the parsonage; and also among our additions to the church is a full-time Educational Secretary, Miss Freda Worley, and a full time Educational Director, Bro. Edwin Spears.

Yours for souls,
Rudolph Q. Harvey.

It's Deep Sea Fishing Time on Subway Circuit--Boyle Begs Off

By Hal Boyle
NEW YORK (AP)—There is a strange fever this time of year that runs through this city of perit-up millions and seizes more victims than a plague in Calcutta.
It is the annual subway circuit urge to go deep sea fishing.
"Let's charter a boat," some busy-body suggests to helpless co-workers in ten thousand skyscraper offices. And straightaway the palefaces decide to go down to the sea again--To the lonely sea and the sky that have struggled on without them all winter long.

Two things the Lord never gave me were a rich uncle or a desire to go fishing. I think fishing is calm, healthy, harmless and fine exercise. I like fishermen too. I will listen to them tell tall tales for hours and never doubt a word.
But I have no desire to go fishing with them. And that brings up the only thing wrong with all the fishermen I know.
Sooner or later they invite me to come along. They love to inflict their sport on unbelievers. And you can't escape them.

So I know that some balmy morn soon I will have to subway out to Sheepshead Bay or catch a fisherman's special on the Long Island railroad and clamor aboard a rolling boat with a couple dozen other dining room whippers.

It happens every year when German submarines aren't off the coast. The last time I was trapped into a fishing expedition I didn't get seasick for fifteen minutes--par for Sheepshead Bay. The small sailing craft didn't smash through the waves like a sensible ship. It rolled and wallowed, pitched and bobbed, rocked like an uneven playground swing.

"What you need is something on your stomach," said a nature lover. He handed me a glass of warm sudsy beer and a mushy ham sandwich with pickle. That finished what the boat had begun.
The rest of the day I spent swallowing my stomach as it shuddered up and down my spinal column like a jerky elevator. U-U-P, down. Up, down-u-n. U-u-u-u-p, down-u-n.

HIS WAS FIRST
Richard Trevethick, of England, generally is credited with devising, in 1802, the first motor vehicle which could be operated. Improvements were made in his invention, and, by 1824, several steam vehicles were in operation between Cheltenham and Gloucester, England.

RECORD SWORDFISH
The record catch of a striped Marlin swordfish is 1040 pounds. The catch was made off the California coast by Zane Grey, the novelist.

WALL STREET STOCKS
NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP)—The stock market enjoyed a brief and selective late rally today following reports the telephone union had cut its wage demands, but there was no follow-through and trends soon reverted to early irregularity.
From the start dealings were sluggish. Activity picked up a bit at the beginning of the final hour when prices advanced. There were subsequent quiet periods. While gains of fractions to 2 points were notched at the close, losses of fractions to 2 were plentiful. Transfers dwindled to around 200,000 shares, the week's low.

Ahead at the last were Goodway, Pacific Western Oil on a bright earnings picture; Union Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, Pullman, Great Northern Railway, Woolworth, Sperry, Kenaco, Low Chemical, American Gypsum, American Tobacco "B", Reynolds Tobacco "B" and Standard Oil (N.Y.).
Casualties were Douglas Aircraft, off 3%; Bethlehem Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, Norfolk & Western, Anaconda, John-Manville, Allied Chemical, Eastman Kodak, American Woolen, Schenley, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, and Air Reduction. American Telephone was unchanged.

A certain amount of professional trading was credited to the thought that the market was in need of more of a technical revival. Numerous commission house customers aloof to await developments in labor, taxes, foreign affairs and business. The campaign for price reductions also served as a cautionary argument for bullish contingents.
Bonds were uneven.
