WASHINGTON (AP) — The 93rd Congress opened today with Democratic majorities in both houses determined to challenge President Nixon on both the Indochina war and domestic spending priorities.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, re-elected the Senate's Democratic leader for a record seventh two-year term, launched the new year by calling on members to take whatever steps are necessary to end the war and reassert congressional prerogatives.

Prison Religion Causes Trouble

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — A nonsanctioned, prison-based religion which an associate warden thinks is aimed at making prisons nice places to be, is believed to be behind a work strike at San Quentin Prison.

although striking prisoners verbally abused those who went to work. He said officials have put extra guards on duty and are feeding prisoners in small groups.

Phil Guthrie, information officer for the California Department of Correction, said the department has refused to sanction the Church of the New Song as a legitimate religion, despite demands by members at Folsom and San Quentin prisons.

One of the demands circulated among prisoners during the work strike asked official recognition for the Church of the New Song and establishment of prison space for its activities.

The strikers also demanded public telephones, an end to indeterminate sentencing, conjugal visits within prison, minimum wages for convict workers and permission to join labor unions.

Victory May Be Near In Battle With Smallpox

GENEVA (AP) — Final victory seems near in the fight against smallpox, a disease fatal to more people than all wars put together.

The disease had reached spectacular proportions in Europe by the time of the Crusades in the 11th century. For hundreds of years after that, it swept nations with appalling regularity.

A major threat in many developing countries, about 30 in all. In Africa, most countries south of the Sahara were breeding grounds. In Asia, where smallpox mortality is highest, it was out of control on the entire Indian subcontinent and in Indonesia.

Snow, Freezing Rain Hits City Area Again

Pampa's feathery snow turned to freezing rain late Tuesday afternoon, then back to snow about midnight.

Winds up to 45 miles per hour pushed water from the Clear Creek channel into streets at Seabrook, southeast of Houston. Civil defense officials warned that water might rise into homes in Baytown's Brownwood section, where water pumping by industries and municipalities has caused the land to sink slowly, and along the Kemah bayfront.

Points where the mercury dropped to freezing or below in early morning included Dalhart 23 degrees, Lubbock 24, Amarillo 27, Midland 29, Childress 30, El Paso, San Angelo and Wink 31 and Abilene 32. Readings at other points ranged up to 47 at Galveston and 48 at Brownsville.

Tuesday afternoon's top marks went no higher than 26 at Marfa and 30 at Amarillo, both in the snow belt. Brownsville was the warmest spot in the state with a maximum of 31.

Snow grew deeper and ice thickened over most of the Panhandle-Plains sector in West Texas and raw, miserable weather maintained its grip on nearly all the rest of the state today.

Tickets Still Available For Briscoe Dinner

A few tickets still were available in Pampa today for the Pre-Inaugural Dinner honoring Gov. Elect Dolph Briscoe in the Amarillo City Coliseum tonight.

Young Man Charged In Death Of Priest

CHANNELVIEW, Tex. (AP) — A 24-year-old man was charged with murder today in the shooting death of a Roman Catholic priest whose body was found Monday night in his blazing parsonage.

The Rev. C. Laumer Schoppe, 41, was shot three times. Named in the charge was Alvin George Young.

Malone Named County Auditor

A.C. Malone, office manager and bookkeeper at Highland General Hospital since 1967, has been appointed County Auditor by District Judge Grainger McIlhenny.

The announcement was made this morning by County Judge Don Cain. Malone will be sworn in Jan. 15 and will assume the duties of the office at that time. He succeeds retiring Ray Wilson who has served the county 42 years.

Malone was educated in Skellytown and White Deer schools. He is a member of Central Baptist Church. His wife, Estelle, is employed as a teller at First National Bank.

The Malones have one daughter.

STATE BOARD ANNOUNCES

Homeowners To Pay Less Insurance

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Homeowners in nearly every part of Texas will pay lower rates to insure their homes this year, the State Insurance Board has announced.

The board ordered reductions ranging from 4 to 30 per cent Tuesday in rates for extended coverage and homeowners insurance, effective with policies written or renewed Jan. 1.

New fire insurance rates, with reductions on the order of 7.5 to 10 per cent, will be issued in a few days, the three-man board said.

The only part of the state receiving an increase was the 14-county Gulf Coast, which will have a 4 per cent increase in homeowners insurance rates, a far cry from the 22.4 per cent jump recommended last February by the board staff.

Extended coverage insures one's home against windstorms, hurricanes, hailstorms, explosion, riots, smoke and collisions by aircraft or vehicles.

Homeowners policies include fire insurance, most of the protection afforded by extended coverage, plus liability insurance and reimbursement for losses to burglars.

The new rates will be in effect for at least a year, the board said, with a possibility of some changes within rating territories later in 1973 based on the severity and frequency of hailstorms, which tend to be worse at high altitudes.

Here are the rate changes, by territory:

Extended Coverage (dwellings only):
Seacoast—4 per cent decrease for the 14 counties on the Gulf Coast and 18 per cent reduction for the 14 counties on the second tier back from the Gulf.

Central inland—8 per cent reduction.

North Northwest—30 per cent reduction.

Homeowners:

Seacoast—4 per cent increase for the 14 coastal counties and a 10 per cent reduction for the 14 "second tier" counties.

Central inland—7 per cent reduction.

North Northwest—20 per cent decrease.

The Central Inland Territory, the state's largest, includes Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, El Paso and Austin.

Included in the North Northwest Territory are Amarillo, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, Abilene and San Angelo.

Gulf Coast counties in the Seacoast Territory are Cameron, Willacy, Kenedy, Kleberg, Nueces, San Patricio, Aransas, Calhoun, Matagorda, Brazoria, Galveston, Chambers, Jefferson and Refugio.

"Second tier" counties are Bee, Brooks, Fort Bend, Goliad, Hardin, Harris, Hidalgo, Jackson, Jim Wells, Liberty, Live Oak, Orange, Victoria and Wharton.

"These rate changes are the result of certain changes in the formula applicable to rate making and to the last two years of experience which have been relatively free of storm losses."

the board said in a statement. No figure on how many millions of dollars the rate reductions would save Texas policyholders was available.

One reason for the reductions was a board decision to cut from 30 to 25 per cent the amount of the premium dollar allotted to such "acquisition costs" as agents' commissions and advertising.

Another reason was a U.S. Price Commission rule that chopped by 27.5 per cent the factor used by the board to keep rates abreast of inflation.

Until Tuesday, rates had been unchanged since July 1971. Last February, the board's staff recommended small reductions in homeowners and extended coverage rates for the North Northwest and Central Inland territories. The staff also recommended a 22.4 per cent homeowners rate hike and a 35.4 per cent jump in extended coverage rates for the entire 28-county Seacoast Territory.

But no rate changes were made last year, as the board put off a decision while it studied its ratemaking formula.

The legislature is expected to consider bills this year that would take the ratemaking power away from the board and let the insurance companies set their own rates.

Navy Joins Search For Clemente Plane

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — U.S. Navy divers joined the search today for the plane in which baseball star Roberto Clemente died and the bodies of the five men killed in the crash.

The Coast Guard cutter Sagebrush is searching an area about 1 1/2 miles off San Juan where the four-engine DC7 went down Sunday night. A spokesman said the Navy divers were asked to participate because civilian divers were unsuccessful in the search Tuesday.

Clemente, the Pittsburgh Pirates' 3,000-hit outfielder, and four others were killed when the plane, loaded with relief supplies for earthquake survivors in Managua, Nicaragua, plunged into the Atlantic just after taking off from San Juan. Clemente headed Puerto Rico's earthquake relief drive.

The Pirates' general manager, Joe L. Brown, arrived from Pittsburgh Tuesday and said 40 others from the team were coming Thursday to give personal expressions of condolence to Clemente's family.

Best Dressed List Revealed

NW YORK (AP) — Actor Robert Redford is back on this year's International Best Dressed list for men and women.

"I didn't know ski parks were in this year," said Redford, in a call from Utah.

"That's where all our fashion plates hang out," he said, adding that a hand cast was part of his wardrobe right now, as he'd recently had a skiing accident.

Redford joins 29 men and 29 women elected to the list by vote of some 2,000 fashion designers, fashion press and theatrical and social personalities throughout the world. The winners were announced today by publicist Eleanor Lambert.

Redford, who will star in the movie of F. Scott Fitzgerald's "The Great Gatsby," wears Borsalino hats, Indian jewelry, Sears blue work shirts, boots, tennis shoes, jeans and durable clothes from the 1930s.

He doesn't like helicopter, anything Ivy League, trendy clothes or clothes he can't move around easily in.

"I like clothes best when I've worn them for two or three years," said Redford, adding that he still wears a 15-year-old leather jacket and a tan suede jacket he got at a Paris flea market in 1957.

Those on the list of 12 best-dressed men with Redford are Mick Jagger, rock star; Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York; Richard Roundtree, film star in "Shaft"; and Robert Evans, movie executive.

Others include Gianni Bulgari, Italian jeweler; Billy Baldwin, New York interior decorator; John Gallier, international socialite; David Susskind, television personality; Fred Hughes, with Andy Warhol Enterprises; Armando Orsini, New York restaurateur; and David Mahoney, chairman of North Simon.

On the list of 12 best-dressed women are Miss Maria Berenson, actress; Baroness Thierry van Zuylen, Paris socialite; Mrs. Samuel P. Reed Jr., daughter of Mrs. Charles Englehard Jr.; H.R.H. Princess Salima Khan, wife of the Aga Khan; and Mrs. Henry Ford II of Detroit.

Others include Mrs. Reinhold Herrera Jr. of Caracas, Venezuela; Mrs. Ronald Reagan, wife of the governor of California; Mrs. Frederick McElbain, New York; Signora Giannini Gabetti, Milan, Italy; Mrs. Mick Jagger, wife of the rock star; Mrs. William Buckley Jr., wife of the author, columnist and television commentator; and Mrs. William Clay Ford of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Convict Asks To Be Freed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith lacked the "right" to commute death sentences to life imprisonment, claims a death row veteran who was convicted of the 1963 shooting death of a local high school football star.

Ralph Carl Powers asked that he be released in a writ of habeas corpus his attorneys filed Tuesday with the U.S. district clerk here. The writ was filed against W. J. Estelle, director of the Texas Department of Corrections.

Powers was assessed the death penalty by a Bexar County jury in 1964 in the death of Morris Weldon "Dicky" Renfro.

AP SURVEY SHOWS

Congressmen Receive $51,000 Compensation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fringe benefits for congressmen and senators are worth a minimum of $8,500 and push their total annual compensation to at least $51,000, an Associated Press survey shows.

The tabulation of fringe benefits for members of Congress, who start a new session today, includes such items as pension contributions and conservative estimates of special tax breaks and liberal travel allowances.

But it does not include some other benefits congressmen receive, such as unlimited leave and free surgery by military doctors, which are difficult or impossible to price.

The $42,500 in base pay and minimum of $8,500 in fringe benefits amount to a total higher than the income of 99.5 per cent of all American taxpayers.

Here is a partial list of the personal benefits now received by members of the House and Senate and the value of these benefits.

Pension: Members of Congress aren't eligible for Social Security, but they may join a generous pension program. Nearly all do. It allows them to retire after as few as five years of service at 12.5 per cent of full salary, or at up to 80 per cent of full salary after 32 years' service. Members contribute eight per cent of their yearly salary, and the government matches this amount. Value: $3,500 per year.

Life insurance: Nearly all members participate in a group life insurance program that provides $45,000 term life insurance. Members pay $26.80 per month, and the government matches one-third of that. Value: $107 per year.

Additional insurance: Congress always awards to survivors of deceased members one full year's salary. This ironclad custom is, in effect, free additional life insurance worth $42,500. The AP tabulation estimated the probable yearly premium for this insurance by prorating the cost of the other group life coverage. The real cost probably would be much higher because of the advanced age of many congressmen. Estimated value: at least $405 per year.

Health insurance: Congressmen are eligible for the same group health insurance coverage available to federal government employees. The government pays up to 40 per cent of premium costs. Premiums vary, so the AP calculated the average government contribution for each congressman. Average value: $264 per year.

Free medical care: Congressmen and their families may receive free medical attention by a full-time staff of physicians and nurses at the Capitol. Services include free check-ups, free treatment, free medicine, free ambulance service and free electrocardiograms for each member.

Latest six-month figures show the government spending at a yearly rate of $19,757 for these services to 535 senators and representatives. Value: more than $224 a year.

Tax break: Because congressmen must maintain a year-round residence in Washington and a legal residence in their home district or state, they are allowed to deduct up to $3,000 from their taxable income each year for living expenses in Washington.

For a married congressman in the relatively low 30-per-cent tax bracket, this would mean $1,170 a year in tax savings. But the deduction is worth even more because he would have to earn $1,918 in taxable income to produce the same amount of money after taxes. If a congressman is single or in a higher bracket, the deduction is worth even more. Estimated value: at least $1,918.

Travel: Representatives are paid for up to 19 round trips home per year. Senators get up to 45. Committees also send some of their members on other trips, sometimes including globe-trotting junkets of questionable value to taxpayers.

Estimating the personal value of such travel to congressmen is particularly difficult, since they travel different distances and mix their business, politics and pleasure in different ratios. The AP assigned an arbitrary but nominal value to these liberal travel allowances. Estimated value: $1,000.

Parking: Senators get two free parking spaces near their Capitol office. Representatives

Induction Orders Canceled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Induction orders are to be canceled for draft-eligible men who were left over from the 1972 draft pool and have induction postponements due to expire in January or February. They still could be drafted in March, however.

Daniel J. Cronin, deputy Selective Service draft director in charge of operations, said Tuesday the action followed the decision not to issue a draft call during the first two months of 1973.

When there have been no draft calls in the past, practice has been merely to extend the postponements month by month. But Cronin said Selective Service wishes to remove the "uncertainty of a draft order" for the 1972 group.

He said the men will be placed in an extended-priority group and would be the first called if there is a draft call in March. But if there is no March draft call, all 60,000 in the extended-priority group will no longer be eligible for the draft.

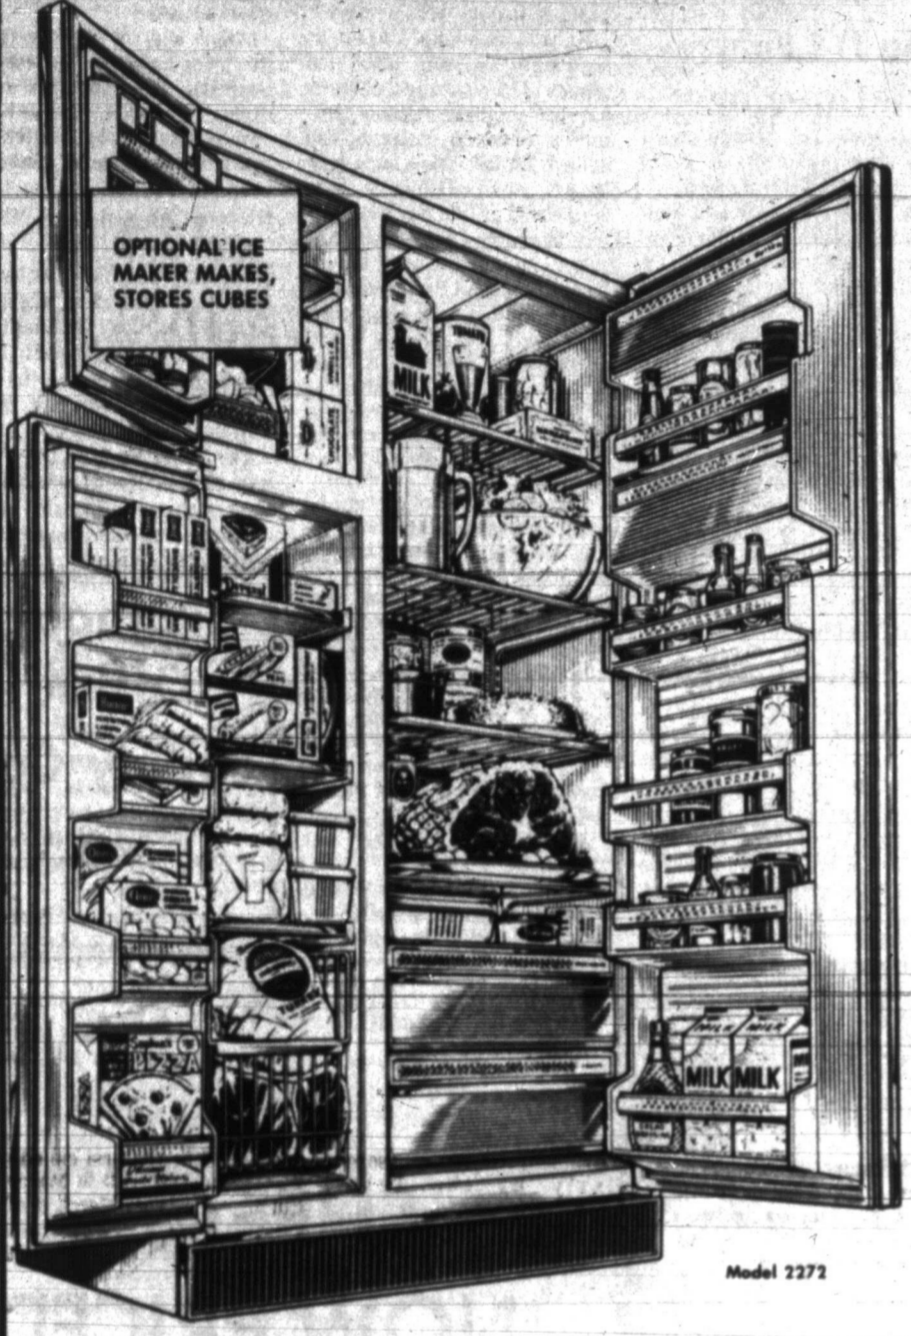

"We are hoping this workshop will shed more light on the revenue sharing program particularly. I feel the meeting will be beneficial," Judge Cain said.

The View from the Cockpit

Captain X Throws His Book at Our Air Safety

By DICK KLEINER

LOS ANGELES—(NEA)—Stan Freberg used to talk about those "sweaty palms" people had as their airliner was about to take off. Well, sweaty palms may be only half the story, when the public latches onto a new book, "Safety Last."

It's a nonfictional look at the quality of airline safety, as told by a working pilot. When he wrote the book, he called himself Captain X, and the picture of him on the dust jacket had him wearing a mask, so he couldn't be identified.

But now he's shucked the mask and stands revealed as Brian Power-Waters, a commercial pilot for 18 years, now with Allegheny Airlines. He showed his damning book to Allegheny's president, when it was in galley form.

"He wasn't too happy about it," Power-Waters says, "but he took no disciplinary action against me. I'm a bit concerned about what could happen, because I have four daughters under 10 years old, and I have to fly to make a living."

His book points an accusing finger at virtually every phase of commercial aviation, and you get the impression that you're gambling with your life every time you take off. Power-Waters has bad things to say about the FAA, about airlines, about maintenance practices, about instrumentation—and, to be fair about it, even says there are some pilots who are not so hot.

Understandably, many airlines are up in arms about the book, and one airline official, C. R. (Red) Stubben, vice-president of flight for Continental, says, with blunt simplicity, "I think he goes off half-cocked in many directions."

About the only point in Power-Waters' book with which Stubben agrees is that the greatest potential source of disaster is mid-air collisions.

"There were 35 mid-air collisions in '68," Power-Waters says. "We don't read about most of them because they generally involve private planes with only a couple of people killed. You don't read about minor accidents like that, accidents that happen in Bangor, Maine, when you're in Los Angeles.

"I've had to take evasive action to avoid mid-air collisions perhaps every few months. Every pilot has the same story.

"The first thing that should be done is to lower the ceiling for protected air space from 18,000 feet to 7,000 feet. That's no man's land, the area where private planes are not required to file flight plans."

Stubben agrees, in principle.

"Mid-air collisions," he says, "are the greatest source of danger—the 'see-and-be-seen' concept is obsolete.

"We in the airlines tend to forget that there's anybody else in the sky but us. There are others, and we airline people have to recognize the fact that others are using air space, and are entitled to it. It's like the highways—the trucks would like it if there were only trucks on the road, but cars have a right to use the roads, too."

Where Power-Waters says that the job being done by most people connected with commercial aviation is slapdash, at best, Stubben disagrees vehemently.

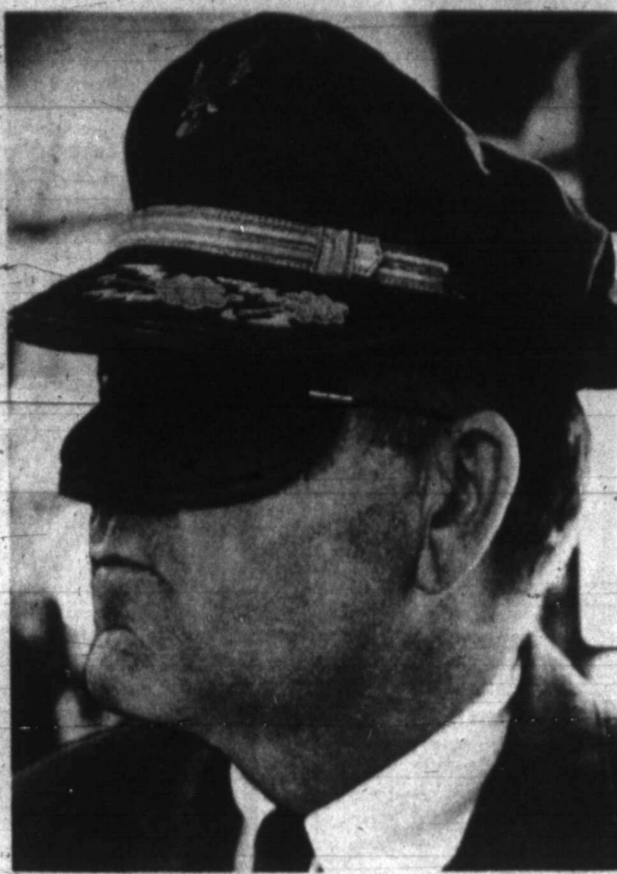

"I think," he says, "that pilots, airline people, traffic controllers and the rest are doing a good job. The safety record could be improved, of course, although it would be hard to improve on the '70 record, when there were only two fatalities."

One of Power-Waters' prime points is that some airlines put finishing a scheduled run ahead of safety. He says they force pilots to fly even though the pilots feel some maintenance work should be done on the aircraft or that weather conditions warrant a delay. He cites many chilling instances of this, case histories of tragedy.

Stubben disagrees with this, too.

"For airlines," he says, "a safe operation is the most economical operation. I've never known an airline to compromise on safety."

Power-Waters believes a great deal of improvement could be done now on instrumentation, on landing systems, on runways. He cites the recent disaster in Sacramento, when a private plane crashed into a crowded ice cream parlor at the end of a runway.

CAPTAIN X still loves flying.

"People were shocked at that," he says, "but I know a dozen airports with obstacles at the end of runways. I think there should be a mile of cleared area at both ends of every runway, and the runways should also be cleared on the sides, so that there is a cleared space a thousand feet wide."

Stubben feels that things are constantly being done in this area of instrumentation and equipment for safe landings.

"They're working on better lighting," he says. "For example, high-intensity, flashing white lights are

Worst Record

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The New Year's holiday period was the worst for traffic deaths since the Texas Department of Public Safety began keeping this type of records in 1966, a spokesman said Tuesday.

The department ended its count with a total of 60 traffic deaths from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday. There were 48 separate fatal mishaps.

Before 1966, the department combined the count from just before Christmas through New Year's.

The worst previous total was 56 deaths in the 1970-71 holiday. Last New Year's, the count was 34.

Col. Wilson E. Speir, department director, said many persons were trapped away from home when rain and snow moved in Monday, creating deadly-slick highways.

now being installed on all Continental planes.

Both men are in agreement, however, on the fact that they and their families travel on commercial airlines.

"My family travels all the time," Stubben says, "and I'm glad that they do—air travel is the safest way to travel ever devised, and the new 747 is the best and safest airplane ever built. Airlines couldn't stay in business if we shirked our responsibilities—we've got moral responsibilities as well as economic ones."

Power-Waters and his wife, a former stewardess, fly often for pleasure, too, and he has his own private plane.

"This book of mine," he says, "is a selfish book—I want to live to enjoy my retirement, and I think I'd have a better chance to make it if safety factors are improved. Besides, I love flying, even though I know what I know about it."

Texans Claim Daffy Dizzy Dean

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

The event occurred in late summer and was so soul shattering that only now have the old hands steadied enough to record it on paper for posterity.

It began as a talk show on the tube before a baseball game. The principal talker—and just about the only one, it turned out—was none other than Jerome Herman Dean.

If you holler "Dizzy" at him, he'll answer.

What happened was that Dizzy said, "He slid into third."

He didn't say "slid." He said "slid" just like any English teacher.

The world is coming to an end!

Dean's "he slid into third" was heard on the air for a long time after his baseball career ended tragically.

English teachers and parents trying to knock a little polish onto their offspring cringed when Dean took the microphone.

They knew their young ones were listening, fascinated more by the magic of Dizzy Dean than the game.

"He threw him out at first," and "they returned to their respectable bases" were part of his game descriptions.

A good many persons probably believe Dean is a native of Texas, and he did become a resident eventually although he now lives in Mississippi.

When he first hit the big time, he gave a different birthplace and birthplace on several occasions.

Accused of lying, he explained:

"I was helpin' the writers out. Them 'ain't lies—their scoops."

Eventually he pinpointed his birthplace, to a certain degree, as in the Arkansas hills about three miles from the town of Lucas. He gave the date as Jan. 16, 1911.

There is considerable reason for Texans to claim Dizzy. Available records are vague.

but he probably spent some time in Texas as a child. His family wandered here and there picking-cotton.

Jerome Herman Dean" is the name by which he is known but his real name is "Jay Hanna Dean."

Dizzy's father said, "We went visitin' once and somebody called him Jerome Herman. I guess he liked it and he's kept it ever since."

The reason Dizzy is considered a Texan by many is that he got his baseball start in this state.

He was discovered while pitching semi-pro ball for the San Antonio Power and Light Co.

Harold V. Ratliff, retired Associated-Press Texas sports editor, in his book, "I Shook the Hand," says a scout, Don Curtis, decided to sign Dizzy after seeing him pitch only four balls.

Dean reported to the Houston Buffs of the Texas League in 1930 and the first words of baseball history were written.

He was an instant success as showman, drawing card and pitcher. Dean packed the fans in for the highest regular season attendance Houston had known, 229,000. The stands were filled each time he was announced as that day's hurler.

A lot of Dean's wild walk was subtle, intended to upset the listener until he hit the punch line.

Such as this one, again quoting Ratliff, "My dog is a genuine cocker Spaniard. A friend sent him to me from Spain."

Or another one: "I was cut out to be a public speaker, but somebody musta sewed me up wrong."

The story is told of the time he went into the New York Giants' dressing room where the pre-game tactical session was being held—about what each Cardinal batter could and could not hit.

Dizzy launched into a discussion of the strong and weak points of his own team's batters, laughed and walked out. Turned out his information was the same as that of the Giants' scouts.

The confident Dizzy then beat the Giants.

Criticism of Dizzy's way of speaking never bothered him. "A lot of folks that ain't saying ain't ain't eatin'," he once commented.

He began his exciting six years as a member of St. Louis "Gas House Gang" in 1932.

His best year was 1934 when he won 30 games and lost only seven.

It was that year that a brother, Paul "Daffy" Dean, joined the Cardinals and himself won 19. Paul lives in Dallas.

Between them, Dizzy and Daffy won the 1934 World Series. Each pitched two games and that was enough for the Cardinals to take the crown.

Remember the myth of Achilles. He could be wounded only in the heel.

That same sort of seemingly minor injury did in Dizzy.

In the 1937 All-Star game, a smash off the bat of Earl Averill broke one of Dean's toes.

He changed his pitching motion to avoid undue pressure on the toe. This threw his shoulder out of alignment, his arm went bad and he never regained his effectiveness.

Which was the greatest thing that ever happened to Dizzy financially. He made a lot more money as a baseball commentator—he called it commutator—than he ever did from playing.

Pacifists Return

NEW YORK (AP) — Four American pacifists, including folk singer Joan Baez, who were stranded in Hanoi by American bombing, finally arrived in New York Sunday night to an emotional welcome by their families and friends.

The four reported they had met 13 prisoners of war during their two-week stay in North Vietnam and had brought out 600 letters.

Wall Street Observers Optimistic About 1973

NEW YORK (AP) — As January begins, a multitude of factors lend support to stock market prices and so, quite characteristically, Wall Street observers, forecasters and their tribe are optimistic.

First, of course, there is the expanding U.S. economy and the prospect that corporate profits will increase somewhere between 12 and 18 per cent. This offers probably the most substantial support of all.

The past year ended with a surge of activity at both wholesale and retail levels that many of the negative forecasts of a slowdown by midyear have been shredded and recycled more positively.

Foreign investors are expected to support the market as the U.S. economy, relative to their own, becomes stronger. Europeans now are undergoing a siege of inflation, and so their money is migrating to safety in America.

The big institutions, mutual funds excepted, also seem to be in pretty sound shape, and institutions, such as pension funds, bank trusts and insurers are of steadily growing importance to stock prices.

One characteristic that buoy the hopes of other investors is that as long as the money comes in, through individual and corporate contributions to pensions, for example, it must be turned out.

The most popular medium for investing these funds is in the stock market, of course. And so, even when prospects aren't very bright, some institutions may be forced to buy stocks so as not to leave their cash idle.

The mutual funds are not so fortunate. In fact, their fate in the past year has been precisely opposite to that of other institutions. They are being bled of investment power by 10 straight months of net redemptions.

A net redemption occurs when money paid out for shares turned in exceeds money received. In November, the latest month for which figures are available, redemptions exceeded sales by $258.3 million.

Most funds can survive these cash-ins for many months, and the industry in its entirety can also because it now has assets of nearly $60 billion. But redemptions cramp styles.

They deny a fund the freedom to take advantage of good investment opportunities.

Mutual funds, in fact, were net sellers of stocks during November, a result that no doubt can be related to the need to reimburse those fund holders who choose to redeem for cash.

But there are other factors brightening the outlook. Ordinary working Americans continue to build financial assets, despite inflation, and maybe they'll decide soon to return to the market. There is the prospect, anyway.

One of the big clouds in the forecast is Vietnam, although it has been a question for many months as to how much sustained impact an actual peace will have — or if much of the impact has already been discounted.

Martin Permits Proxy Marriage

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A Texas woman may marry a serviceman in Vietnam by proxy, the late Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said in an opinion written prior to his death.

His opinion had been requested by Jackson County Atty. San L. Gayle Jr., who did not identify the woman or the serviceman.

Martin said the Texas Family Code requires a marriage license applicant to make a personal appearance before the county clerk, but this provision may be waived by an order of the county judge.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

It's that time of the year again when people all over the country sit down to write their New Year's resolutions. Or if we don't do that, we at least think about ways to improve the quality of our lives and attempt to accomplish certain goals.

Texas health officials urge you to place "good health resolutions" at the top of your list this year.

Here's some thoughts on resolutions for you and your family, from the Texas State Department of Health.

Promise to give your body at least as good care as you give your car. Periodic examinations are the best way yet devised to detect bodily disorders while they can still be treated successfully. So let your doctor look you over thoroughly at least once a year whether you're ailing or not. Make it twice yearly if you're middle-aged.

Dental troubles may not kill you, but sometimes they can make you wish you were dead. So check in regularly with your dentist, too.

If you are putting on weight, resolve to start passing up the candied yams, boiled potatoes and the cream-filled tidbits which almost invariably spell extra pounds and perhaps an early demise.

Too much weight contributes to high blood pressure, and may be associated with hardening of the arteries and various forms of heart disease. Also, it means impaired vigor, greater surgical risk and greater danger from otherwise minor illnesses.

A good, approved exercise regimen will keep your body in shape, tone-up your heart muscles and put the spring back into your step. There are many pursuits which people of all ages may undertake in order to get the needed exercise.

While jogging might be all right for some, brisk walking may be recommended for others.

The statistics linking smoking to cancer and heart disease continue to pile up, and it is tougher and tougher to rationalize the habit. If you still smoke, now's the time to quit. Resolve also to impress the health hazards of smoking on the minds of teenagers in your home.

When driving, consider that every other car is being driven by a madman, and when walking trust motorists only as far as you can see them. Never mix drinking and driving. Most vehicle deaths stand far above accidental deaths of all other types.

Resolve to take full advantage of every advancement in medical science aimed at benefiting you and the family, but always on competent medical advice.

Start by checking the immunization records of your entire family as a safeguard against diseases and their complications. Remember, certain immunizations are now required by state law for all school children.

Getting plenty of sleep is another resolution which will be of benefit. In the rushed-up pace of modern living, an individual may overlook the importance of rest. But it is essential if your body is to recharge itself after a day of activity.

Nutrition goes hand in hand with proper rest. To provide your body with the essential nutrients to make it function properly and most efficiently, proper diet is necessary. Our stores are crammed with different, tasty and nutritious foods, so resolve to put the proper ones on your table.

Promise to obey local and state laws pertaining to health protection. For example, if your town has a dog leash law, adhere to it. It is public protective device and you are the public. If you own pets, be certain they are kept in good health.

Last but vitally important, give an occasion thought to such awesome problems as water conservation, pollution abatement, juvenile delinquency, drug abuse and the growing number of elderly people in our society. Lend your support as a responsible citizen to community efforts to solve them.

Your health should be of great concern to you. So get the good health habit by putting some healthful resolutions to work. You'll be happier, live longer and enjoy life more.

New Legislature Environmentally Aware

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The next legislature probably will be more environmentally aware than any in Texas history.

Not until the early 1960s did the legislature get into the fields of air and water pollution. Each succeeding legislature saw a gain in support for the ecology issues.

Fort per cent of the members of the next legislature who replied to an Associated Press questionnaire, say they want stronger pollution-control laws.

Some said the state needs a central agency to administer the laws. Sen. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas wants criminal penalties for willful pollution. Reps. R.C. Nichols and Ron Waters of Houston favor giving citizens the right to sue polluters.

Nichols said he favored the Environmental Protection Act that failed to pass in the 1971 legislature. That act would have permitted citizens to sue polluters.

Several legislators who thought present pollution laws are adequate called for stricter enforcement of them.

Asked what changes they supported in the Texas Water Plan, the lawmakers predictably split according to whether they were from West Texas or East Texas.

Texas voters rejected the first effort to implement the plan in 1969. Generally, it called for importation of Mississippi River water and movement of "surplus" East Texas water to West and South Texas.

West Texas legislators like the plan. East Texas legislators, either oppose it or call for more study.

"We just need more money for implementation," said Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake.

"The Texas Water plan is okay unless facts for minor changes are found," said Rep. E.L. Short of Tahoka.

But East Texas such as Sen. elect Don Adams of Jasper and Reps. William Blythe and Nichols of Houston said they oppose the plan.

On the dividing line were such lawmakers as Reps. Christ Miller and Tom Schieffer of Fort Worth.

"The statewide water plan must be supplemented by cooperative interstate planning for water needs," Rep. Miller said. "Water problems do not end with political boundaries."

"Texas definitely must continue development of a water plan," said Schieffer. "At the same time, however, ecological safeguards must be provided. I am confident that such a plan can and will be carried out."

Blythe based his opposition on what he called the plan's failure to "constructively develop our water resources so as to be beneficial to cut out state as a whole."

Britain Refuses To Pay More Malta Base Rent

LONDON (AP) — British authorities said Tuesday they have refused to pay higher rent for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization base facilities on Malta and might have to withdraw the 3,000 British troops from the Mediterranean island.

Government sources said the first quarterly rental for the Maltese base facilities was handed over New Year's Day, but refused by Prime Minister Dom Mintoff's government as inadequate.

The sources said the money remained available if Mintoff changed his mind, but that meantime the British would wait and see what the Maltese leader does next.

Throughout the long dispute over payment for the Malta base, there has been an implied threat the island's facilities could be made available to the Soviet navy.

Britain, however, was reliably reported to be firmly against any of the NATO allies offering Mintoff more money.

Britain agreed last March to pay Malta $14 million pounds a year for the base facilities. The figure was agreed after months of on-again-off-again negotiations which featured several increased demands by Mintoff.

At the time the rent was worth $36.4 million.

TREAD WEAR EXPECTANCY

Because of different driving habits and road conditions under which tires are used, it is impractical for Montgomery Ward, and consequently misleading to our customers, to guarantee any specific number of months or miles of tread wear. We can, however, indicate the wear potential we have built into our tires in terms of service in normal family use. If a tire's tread wears down to the tread wear indicator during the Tread Wear Expectancy, Montgomery Ward will upon presentation of the tire, and evidence of date of purchase, replace the tire for the then current price less the following dollar allowance:

What's in a name over the telephone?

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Offended in Houston" who doesn't like to give a secretary his name on the phone. I am a secretary and could not follow my bosses' instructions without asking names:
"Don't interrupt my conference unless Mr. X calls from New York. Don't accept any calls from Mr. Y in Seattle. He expects quotes on a contract for which I don't have the figures, and I don't want him to waste a call. If Mr. Z calls from Kansas City, tell him I'm in Europe. I'm tired of fooling with that character. If Mr. B calls from Chicago, tell him it's a deal."
My grandfather, who came over from Scotland, always said, "Never trust a man who will not proudly tell you his name."
ANOTHER SECRETARY

DEAR ABBY: "Offended in Houston" would be less offended if his secretary knew how to place a telephone call.
She should say, "Mr. Draykaup of Draykaup Nuts and Bolts would like to speak to Mr. Yourboss, please." That way Mr. Yourboss' secretary wouldn't have to ask who was calling.
But what really burns me is when Mr. Bigshot's secretary telephones and asks me to get my boss on the line, and then my boss has to wait forever until Mr. Bigshot finally gets on the line.
I now have a sure cure for that. When a secretary who makes a practice of doing this calls and says, "Mr. Bigshot wants to talk to Mr. Yourboss," I say, "Then please have Mr. Bigshot call him!" and I hang up.
ST. LOUIS SECRETARY

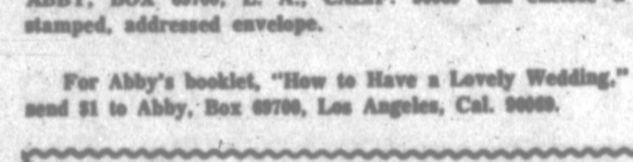

DEAR ABBY: Doesn't that idiot signed "Offended in Houston" realize that a busy executive doesn't have time to talk to everybody who calls him?
When I'm in a meeting or on another telephone call, I don't want to be disturbed, so I ask my secretary to find out who's calling so I can return the calls when I am free. Some calls I don't return at all because the caller is a pest and a time waster.
People who solicit funds on the telephone are a pain in the neck. I rarely return their calls, but I do give consideration to those who write letters.
BUSY EXECUTIVE

DEAR ABBY: I don't mind being asked by a secretary, "May I tell him who is calling?" But what really bugs me is having a child answer the telephone, and in a whining voice ask, "Who is this?"
NO PATIENCE IN MILWAUKEE

DEAR ABBY: When I make a telephone call, I say, "Hello, my name is Nicky Thompson." This establishes every thing from the start. And when I pronounce my name, I say it clearly. I am so annoyed when a person mumbles his name as tho he were ashamed of it. I don't mean to sound smug, but it is so simple to identify oneself and thus relieve the other party of asking who you are.

Philpott-Monds Vows Exchanged In Miami

MIAMI — In a double-ring ceremony Dec. 29 at 7 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church in Miami, Miss Janice Kay Philpott became the bride of Benney Wayne Monds of Amarillo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Philpott of Miami. Mr. and Mrs. James Ennis of Amarillo are parents of the bridegroom.

Rev. Lewis Holland, cousin of the bride and pastor of the Booker Methodist Church performed the ceremony before a twin setting of 12-branched arch candelabra entwined with greenery.

Mrs. Charles Loper, organist, aunt of the bride, of Colorado Springs, Colo., provided the traditional wedding music, and accompanied Shannan Flowers as she sang "More" and "Oh Perfect Love." "The Lord's Prayer" was repeated in unison by the couple and guests.

The bride, given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal, wore a formal gown of nylon over bridal taffeta fashioned with a stand-up collar, empire waistline and long sleeves. Lace panels enhanced the bodice and skirt front. The sleeves, sweeping train and skirt front were edged in lace, and sequins adorned the lace panels. She wore the traditional blue garter, a 1854 penny in her shoe, a gift from her paternal grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Kint Philpott. She carried a white Bible, belonging to her mother, which she carried in her wedding, topped with a bridal bouquet of white carnations with red streamers.
Her full circle headpiece was edged in matching lace and attached to a half-cap of seed pearls.

Mrs. Larry Bryant, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Other bridal attendants were Misses Lynn and Sharon Philpott, sisters of the bride, and Cathy Ennis, sister of the bridegroom, of Amarillo. They wore identical dresses of red velvet styled with a jewel neckline edged in white lace, an elevated waistline, long sleeves with full circle cuffs edged in white lace. Their headpieces were of white nylon flowers. The bridesmaids carried a single long-stem white carnation and the matron of honor carried a red carnation.

Serving his brother as best man was Jim Ennis, of Amarillo. Groomsmen and ushers were Alfred Onley of Pampa, Larry Bryant, brother-in-law of the bride of Miami and Dwight Jackson, brother-in-law of the bridegroom of Pampa.

Candelighters were Bert Loper, cousin of the bride, of Colorado Springs, and Wayne Williams, cousin of the bridegroom of Amarillo.

Ringbearer was Bert Loper, cousin of the bride, of Colorado Springs.
Marilyn White of Lubbock registered the guests at the wedding and Linda Loper registered at the reception.

Mrs. Philpott, mother of the bride, wore a navy knit dress with long sleeves, gored skirt and belted waist, and navy shoes. The bridegroom's mother wore a turquoise knit suit styled with a pleated skirt, sleeveless jacket and white crepe blouse with long sleeves, and tie edged in lace. Their corsages were of white carnations.
For the reception held in Fellowship Hall of the church

MRS. BENNEY WAYNE MONDS
...nee Miss Janice Kay Philpott

the bride's table was covered with a white cloth and centered with the bridal bouquet. The three-tiered cake was lopped with white doves and decorated with white flowers tipped in red.

Miss Vickie Beard presided at the silver punch bowl and Miss Rita Guill served the cake. Mrs. Dwight Jackson, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the silver coffee service.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a large red candle. The German chocolate cake was topped with a miniature couple in a love seat.

Serving the cake was Mrs. Jim Ennis, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, of Amarillo. Marsha Howard provided piano selections at the reception.

The bride traveled in a wine colored velour jump suit with a mauve colored blouse with long gathered sleeves, round collar and self material tie. She wore the corsage lifted from the bridal bouquet.

They will make their home at the Wellington Manor in Amarillo.

The bride is a mid-term graduate of Miami High School where she participated in all school activities. She is a member of the National Honor Society and Who's Who in American High Schools.

The bridegroom is a 1972 graduate of Pampa High School.
The bride was feted with a lingerie shower in the home of Miss Vickie Beard with the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church and was hosted by mothers of the members of the senior class.

Your Horoscope

By Jeanne Dixon

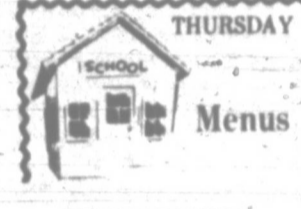

THURSDAY, JAN. 4
Your birthday today: Your circumstances can come out dramatically different long before the time is out, according to your approach.

Relationships are brittle, need care if you want to hold them. Today's natives have good heads for figures but always for practical application of what they know.
Aries (March 21-April 19): Abrupt changes of status are normal. If you leave a spot, be glad you have the chance of developing a better one, and get moving.
Taurus (April 20-May 20): Answers to long-existing mysteries come from unexpected quarters. Be alert and ready to move. Travels of any sort need extra time.
Gemini (May 21-June 20): The impulsive move you make today may indeed influence your long-range future, your access to the material riches of the world.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): You are in a special position to make chosen people very happy. Less organized individuals seek your example if not guidance.
Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): The duty you encounter may seem beneath your dignity, but there is much to be gained by doing some part of it well.
Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Bring your notebook, wherever, as the ideas you provoke in your curiosity and personal rebellions are worthy of precise record.
Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Comes a time when your convictions are shaken, reformulated in simpler terms, as you at last see things in larger perspective.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): A search for a sideline turns into a major project. You may be able to find what you need close to your base of operation.
Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Leave no stone unturned in your survey of opportunity, as it is now a time for innovation, the use of unusual resources.
Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Personal affairs thrive, altho at an uneven pace. Listen very attentively to the ideas of your mate or partner.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Your natural inclination is to retreat to your own familiar grounds and run another round of personal routine.
Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Once you have discovered several views about any situation of concern, you will find a solution nobody has suggested.

BETTY CANARY Maybe New Year Is Your THE Year

By BETTY CANARY

The difficult thing about having the New Year come around is that one has to do something about the Old Year, besides shuddering and being glad it's over.

If the Old Year was a good one, it is rather tempting to try keeping it around. But, that's a habit that turns us into the sort who is constantly reminding others that he hasn't had a good night's sleep since 1956 or she hasn't had a hairdo as pretty as the one she thought up in the summer of 1964.

All in all, the best thing to do with an Old Year is to regard it as preparation for the New Year. And, view the New Year as The Year.

The Year? Well, that's the one you've been waiting for. The one that will come Some Day.

Obviously, The Year can begin at any time. It is not a date on a calendar, but, rather, a state of mind.

This could be the year you finally take those guitar lessons you've talked about since sixth grade. Or, heaven forbid, you might take to working out on the balance beam.

Why wait any longer? This year can be The Year you: Clean out that dining room closet—the one where you think you lost last year's list of New Year's resolutions.

Put the first dollar into a special account for a trip to Paris.

Frame those snapshots you've had since the dark ages.

Stop eating candy bars every day.

Learn how to play chess.

Stop being afraid of your children.

Make an appointment to get a face lift.

Give up sighing over your face and write some poems.

Laugh at yourself. Of course you can!

A letter from Winnipeg reads in part: "I may be the local counterpart of your 'Hard Luck Joe.' Every time I can run into a bit of misfortune I do.

"Take this instance. I held 14 high-card points with 4-3-3 distribution. Certainly a perfect hand for a two-no-trump response to my partner's club opening. Anyone else would have no trouble making the game but my opponents had five spade-tricks in before I could start. Why am I so unlucky?"

"This reader is somewhat like Hard Luck Joe. Joe has hard luck but invariably his hard luck is brought on by his own error.

"This player held a hand that qualified as a two-no-trump response, but no good player would actually respond two-no-trump with it.

What's Happening To Coffee Prices?

A bad frost in Brazil this summer, destroying many coffee bean crops, plus the end of a U.S. coffee price freeze this fall are two major reasons why shoppers are paying more for ground and instant coffee.

These conclusions are drawn from a recent investigation undertaken by Super Market Institute, on behalf of its nearly 1000 retail food company members, to determine the factor behind rising coffee prices.

Brazil grows 36 per cent of the world's coffee beans. One U.S. coffee manufacturer went there in June and told SMI, "It looked as if they were going to have bumper crop."

But then a disastrous frost struck in early June, destroying much of the crop.

Richard Schindler, Vice President-Marketing of National Tea Company explains, "If the product is short and the demand remains constant or goes up, so does the price."

In August, as a result of the Brazil frost, the U.S. Price Commission froze the price of manufactured coffee. But on October 19th, they did grant immediate increases to three major producers.

The wholesale prices on ground coffee went up an average of six cents a pound, while instant brands rose 3/4 to one cent an ounce.

The extent of the increases will vary by company and by region, a spokesman said.

Coffee manufacturers reported to SMI that they are awaiting approval for increases.

Donald R. Keough, president of Coca-Cola's Food Division, says his company filed separate petitions with the Price Commission for each of its different brands of coffee.

However, one major mid-western supermarket spokesman says not all stores will raise their prices since some use low coffee prices as a means of advertising to bring customers in to their store.

Even with coffee prices increase, though, consumers will still be paying less than two cents a cup for coffee.

In hot weather, grass reflects heat, and in the winter absorbs warmth that may otherwise escape.

USC Unanimous Choice In Final AP Rankings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern California's unbeaten Trojans capped a season-long stay in first place today when they were named college football's national champions for the third time in 11 years. The vote was unanimous.

Southern Cal. only undefeated team in the country, capped a 12-0 season and nailed down The Associated Press Trophy and with it the 1972 national crown Monday with a 42-17 rout of Ohio State in the Rose Bowl.

The Trojans received all 50 first-place votes and a perfect score of 1,000 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters in The AP poll as they officially dethroned Nebraska's 1970-71 champs, who were seeking an unprecedented third consecutive title.

Southern Cal., eighth in the preseason ratings, shot to the No. 1 spot following an opening 31-10 rout of Arkansas, while top-ranked Nebraska was losing to UCLA 26-17. They were never headed as Colorado, Oklahoma and Alabama all took turns as the main challenger.

Oklahoma, unanimous runner-up to Nebraska last season, again finished second. The Sooners, who blanked Penn State 14-0 in the Sugar Bowl, were the second choice of 43 voters and received 872 points.

Texas, a come-from-behind 17-13 winner over Alabama in the Cotton Bowl, finished third with 667 points, barely edging defending champion Nebraska. The Cornhuskers demolished Notre Dame 40-6 in the Orange Bowl and wound up fourth in the rankings with 665 points.

Auburn's Cinderella Tigers, who weren't ranked in the preseason poll, climaxed a magnificent 10-1 season with a 24-3 trimming of Colorado in the Gator Bowl and finished No. 5 with 631 points.

Rounding out the Top Ten were Michigan, Alabama, Tennessee, Ohio State and Penn State. Michigan did not play in a postseason game while Tennessee outlasted Louisiana State 24-17 in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

LSU finished 11th, followed by North Carolina, Arizona State, Notre Dame, UCLA, Colorado, North Carolina State, Louisville, Washington State and Georgia Tech.

The preseason poll predicted that Nebraska would win the national championship, followed by Colorado, Ohio State, Arkansas, Penn State, Oklahoma, Alabama, Southern Cal, Washington and Michigan.

Harvesters Beat Monterey, 58-51

Pampa High School's basketball team travelled to Lubbock yesterday and came home with a 58-51 win over the Monterey Plainsmen.

The victory brought the Harvesters out of a slight slump, during which they lost several games by close margins, and raised Pampa's season record to 10-6.

"We didn't make mistakes at the end of the game that cost us the game," Coach Robert McPherson said. "It was a real sweet victory over Monterey in their home gym." He added, "very few teams beat them on their home court."

The Harvesters used their superior quickness to good advantage against the Plainsmen, who play a slow, methodical, ball-control type of game.

Randy Warner did an exceptional job on defense as did the whole squad. Warner held Monterey's big offensive threat, Dan Irons, to only 9 points in the game.

"It was probably our best team effort since the Hereford game," McPherson said. That was in reference to Pampa's 60-48 victory over the Herd in Harvesters Fieldhouse back in November.

Freddy Wilbon led Pampa in scoring with 18 points on eight field goals and two free throws. A.J. Brewer made 4 field goals and 2 foul shots for 10 points and Warner added 10 more on five field goals.

Billy Wilbon, a sophomore just recently moved up to the varsity made eight points. Bill Simon and Steve Richardson added six apiece.

Joe Davidson led Monterey in scoring. The 6'6" post man hit for 16 points. Irons, also 6'6" made nine and Alvin Wade added 10 points.

The Harvesters led at the end of every period. Pampa outscored the Plainsmen, 18-10 in the first quarter and led by 10 points, 30-20 at the half.

The Harvesters held a 44-29 lead at the end of the third period.

Monterey outscored the Harvesters 22 points to 14 in the fourth quarter, but Pampa's big lead was much too much to overcome.

Pampa next plays this Friday against Liberal, Kans. here. Liberal is the number three ranked team in Kansas with a 7-0 record.

Harris Wanted To Do Job

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Franco Harris said before his first season in the National Football League he just wanted "to do a job for the Pittsburgh Steelers."

"I have a very good feeling about the Steelers," said the team's husky, soft-spoken No. 1 draft choice at the start of 1972 drills.

The 230-pound Harris, commander of "Franco's Italian Army," cracked Pittsburgh's starting line-up at midseason and exploded for 10 touchdowns. The son of a black father and Italian mother rushed for over 100 yards in seven games, including six straight, tying Jim Brown's all-time pro record. He finished the season with 1,065 yards rushing.

In short, Harris ruled the field from goal-line to goal-line and for his efforts, gained recognition as The Associated Press Offensive Rookie of the Year in the NFL. Harris, who led the Steelers to the first division title in their 40-year history, grabbed 65 of 68 votes in the AP poll of pro football writers. The remaining three votes went to Green Bay placekicker whiz Chester Marcol.

"The season wasn't anything like I expected," Harris said.

John Hadl On The Block

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Diego Chargers have begun sifting through the wreckage of their 1972 National Football League season, firing assistant coach Phil Bengtson only three days after he rejoined the team and placing veteran quarterback John Hadl on the trading block.

Bengtson, 59, a former Green Bay Packers head coach, joined the Chargers as defensive coach in 1971 and became the team's pro talent director this year before being appointed interim head coach of the New England Patriots with five games to play.

After leaving the Patriots at the end of the season as planned, he rejoined the Chargers Sunday. Team officials announced the firing without comment Tuesday.

The Chargers also announced the firing Tuesday of equipment manager Tom Denman, who had been with the team since its birth in 1960.

Hayes Repudiates Man Bringing Charges

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Woody Hayes said the man accusing him of battery is not the man with whom he had an altercation on the sidelines before the Rose Bowl game.

The veteran Ohio State coach was accused Tuesday in Pasadena of battery on Art Rogers, a 33-year sports photographer for the Los Angeles Times, who claimed that Hayes pushed his camera in his face, causing double vision.

Hayes has admitted having an altercation with a photographer Tuesday night he was interviewed at a local television station and a tape of Rogers was shown. Hayes looked at Rogers on film, then said, "That's not the man."

Landry Plans To Do "Whatever It Takes"

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Cowboy Coach Tom Landry says he plans to "do whatever it takes to get us back" to the National Football League championship.

Landry has called meeting after meeting in the wake of Dallas' thorough 26-3 licking by Washington in the National Conference title game, pondering what went wrong.

He said the dethroned World Champions "never had a consistent team all year and you're never confident if you aren't consistent."

Landry added "There's definitely the possibility of some trades in the off-season. There are a number of things that need to be done but I'm not going to pinpoint them at this stage.

He admitted "We just didn't have the kind of team to go to the Super Bowl this year. We were good enough to get into the (NFC) championship game, but we really didn't beat many top teams. We lost our two big games to Washington."

The Cowboys hurt for a pass rush most of the season because of poor defensive end play and injuries to tackle Bob Lilly.

Cornback Charlie Waters showed his inexperience in the title game as the Redskins picked him apart.

Running back Calvin Hill, who became the first Cowboy to gain over 1,000 yards, has already volunteered his services as tight end next year.

"I'd love it," he said. Landry noted that the Cowboys "don't have great speed outside" and "I don't know that it hurt us in the title game although it could have."

Cornback Herb Adderley has announced he won't be back with the Cowboys and defensive end George Andrie and linebacker Chuck Howley, two mainstays before the demise of the "Doomsday" Defense, are doubtful returns.

Landry was asked if the Cowboy quarterback situation will be wide open again at camp in 1973 and he said "I'm not sure on the quarterback situation. I've got to measure everything. I'll let things settle down before I make a decision."

He said he "assumed" both Craig Morton and Roger Staubach would return for the 1973 season "until something different happens."

Rockets Guarantee Sports Arena Lease

HOUSTON (AP) — A $10.5 million indoor sports arena for Houston took a "step closer to reality Tuesday when the Houston Rockets of the National Basketball Association said they would sign a 20-year lease which would guarantee money for construction.

Mayor Louie Welch said the offer by the Rockets sounded good to him since it would mean the facility could be built without city taxes.

Ray Patterson, president of the Rockets, said the organization would sign a lease for 150 nights a year and agree to pay the city $525,000 a year, enough to guarantee that the city could sell $6.5 million in revenue bonds.

Kenneth Schriffler, managing partner of the giant commercial complex, Greenway Plaza, where the stadium would be built, has already guaranteed the city enough revenue from parking to retire the other $4 million in bonds needed.

Patterson said in return for the lease, all income from leasing by both the city and the Rockets for the first 150 dates would go to the basketball team. Any further money from leasing would go to the city.

In addition, the Rockets asked for all concessions income from the first 150 dates and office and ticket sales space at the arena.

The Rockets would not expect to share in Greenway Plaza's parking revenue. Patterson said.

The City Council had okayed the building of the arena, to be used for basketball and ice hockey as well as other events, but stipulated that no tax money could be used to finance the building.

Earlier, a committee of city department heads had said that without some outside source guaranteeing them, it was doubted that the city could sell revenue bonds. They recommended that the city back up the bonds with proceeds from the municipal hotel-motel occupancy tax.

But the council refused to go along.

Golf pro Jim King of Miami Beach won only $3,788 on the 1971 PGA golf tour. But in July he earned $2,500 with a 68 in the one-round Pinter Tournament of Stars at Colton Hill, Hauppauge, N.Y.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A reader of the Indianapolis News wrote complaining that boats are rented at a city park only from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m.

The problem is, the fish don't bite during these hours, the reader complained.

Earlier, a committee of city department heads had said that without some outside source guaranteeing them, it was doubted that the city could sell revenue bonds. They recommended that the city back up the bonds with proceeds from the municipal hotel-motel occupancy tax.

But the council refused to go along.

Csonka Repeats as Dolphins' MVP

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK (NEA)

Larry Csonka was named the most valuable player on the most victorious football team in National Football League history. The powerful running back was named by his Miami Dolphin teammates the NEA 1972 Third Down Trophy winner, symbolic of team MVP.

The Dolphins came through the regular season of the American Conference with a 14-0 record and Csonka led the way, gaining over 1,000 yards rushing for the second straight season. It was also the second straight season in which Csonka was named Third Down Trophy winner.

The other MVPs in the league as chosen by their teammates in poll taken by Newspaper Enterprise Association are:

BALTIMORE: Bob Vogel, offensive tackle, and Marty Domres, quarterback (tie). Domres, who took over for the estimable but aging Johnny Unitas, led the AFC in passing statistics for several weeks—as Vogel applied the necessary protective blocks.

BUFFALO: O.J. Simpson, running back. Despite a paper-buffalo line, O.J. finally broke into his own-leading the league in ground gaining.

CINCINNATI: Tommy Casanova, defensive back. A singular honor for a rookie, and for a rookie defensive player.

CLEVELAND: Mike Phipps, quarterback, and Frank Pitts, wide receiver (tie). A pip of a passing pair was Phipps to Pitts.

DENVER: Floyd Little, running back. He becomes the only man to win a Third Down trophy three straight seasons.

HOUSTON: Mike Tilleman, defensive tackle. An unusual repeater. He won the Third Down trophy in 1970 with New Orleans. Traded to Houston in 1971, he is now the top player for a second team.

KANSAS CITY: Jim Lynch, linebacker. The former Notre Dame All-American is now at the top of his game. Beat out Otis Taylor for the award.

NEW ENGLAND: Reggie Rucker, wide receiver. He tried almost single-handedly to plug up the Patriots' dime.
NEW YORK: John Riggins, running back. He combined with Emerson Boozer and Joe Namath to create one of the most exciting backfields in pro football.

OAKLAND: Fred Biletnikoff, wide receiver. The man with the steel-trap hands. A Third Down Trophy repeater.

PITTSBURGH: Franco Harris, running back. The rookie from Penn State led the Steelers to their first division title in history, and on the way tied Jim Brown's record for most consecutive games rushing for 100 yards or more, six.

SAN DIEGO: Cid Edwards, running back. Cleophus (Cid, for obvious reasons, is a nickname) was traded from St. Louis for Leon Burns this year. The Chargers never regretted it.

Clemente Honored

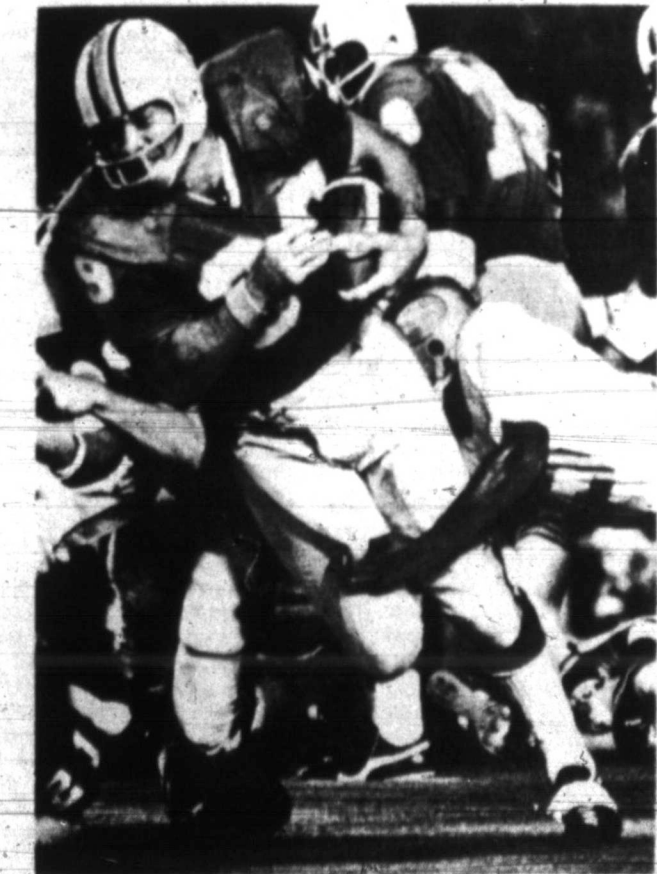

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Mayor Peter Flaherty has declared this Roberto Clemente Week in Pittsburgh, and in Harrisburg the State Senate has moved to have the late Pirate great inducted immediately into baseball's Hall of Fame.

"This will provide us all with an opportunity to pause and reflect on the many contributions Roberto Clemente made to this community both as a great ball player and humanitarian," the mayor said Tuesday.

He said Tuesday a portrait of the 38-year-old right-fielder would be placed in the lobby of the City-County Building for the duration of the mourning period.

The senate acted on a broader scale.

The Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the people of Pennsylvania sorrowfully join the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and the family of Roberto Clemente in mourning his tragic and untimely death.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Bourgeois And Press

Fewer newspapermen today are talking about freedom of the press.

Bad news? Not exactly. There's another side. For MORE newspapermen are talking about freedom of information. The difference in our opinion is significant.

Sure, the phrase "freedom of the press" serves a useful purpose, in one sense. It is a way of saying that the leeway to communicate is the cornerstone to the rest of liberty. If you can't talk or write to your neighbors, or are fearful of governmental retaliation, you and they are powerless to cooperate for any effectual restraint on political power. Caesar said, "Divide and conquer." The latter-day totalitarian says, "Divide men from one another by preventing communication." Both amount to the same thing. Blockage of communication, when accomplished, permits the central government to focus its power upon small segments of the population one at a time until the whole is subjected by degrees. So "freedom of the press" has a meaning.

On the other hand, the phrase is faulty because it seems to be saying something that it ought not to say. It seems to be saying that newspapermen have rights that other people do not have. It seems to be saying that because you own a press, or have access to a press, therefore, you have special privilege under the First Amendment.

As a consequence some newsmen and newscasters have developed a touch of arrogance. While boldly exercising their right to freedom of the press or of the other, they have taken the line that other industries and businesses should be regulated to death or socialized. This is what is meant, when you hear the term "liberal press"—newsmen who are advocating governmental solutions for problems that largely derive from politicians.

The hard and obvious fact is that ownership of a printing press will do you precious little good if you can't get the money to pay a printer. In other words, if other businesses cease to have the latitude to operate profitably so that they can place advertising, freedom of the press would become a legal fiction. Killing the free press by an assault upon the First Amendment is an awesome possibility, but killing other business is no less effective for bringing the press to a standstill.

For this reason, it is encouraging to find newsmen today who use the expression "freedom of information." This is a way of saying, "We aren't claiming any entitlement that other people don't have in equal measure." When they take the second mental step and find that they are in the same lifeboat as the butcher, baker, and shoe merchant, the bourgeois will gain a fairer presentation in the news media.

Way To Reduce Crime

U.S. Senate passage of legislation to compensate from federal funds the victims of crime strikes harder at the tax payer than at the criminal.

While the $15 million aid plan is relatively insignificant to a government dispensing billions, it does raise the question of whether tax payers should be responsible for acts committed by individuals.

The amendment, sponsored by Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and attached to the omnibus crime bill, would grant victims up to $50,000 in compensation for losses incurred through criminal actions. And, in an apparent attempt to encourage private citizens to assist in police functions, "good Samaritans" who intervene and get hurt would be included. Victims could recover property damages as well as personal losses.

Advances knowledge that the cost will be reimbursed does nothing to deter crime. It seems, rather, to offer encouragement, although that is not the intent.

Aside from monetary considerations, the idea of compensation for victims and those who go to their rescue appears to be a tacit admission that government concedes the failure of anti-crime measures in advance. It seems to say we can't reverse the upward spiral of crime; we can only mitigate the results.

Unquestionably, the results are costly—to victims and to society. And the public, in one way or another, eventually pays.

But the most sensible way to reduce the bill is by good law enforcement. Nothing else will do.

Open Season Declared On Landlords

By PAUL HARVEY
Landlords are in trouble. Apartment house owners nationally are on the defensive.

Some of them asked for it. Some selfish, gouging, neglectful AWOJ owners and mercenary mismanagers planted the sour seeds; now everybody is reaping the bitter harvest.

It's now open season on owners of rental property. They are not being harassed and embarrassed and sued and snafued by a handful of loose-knit, harebrained radicals.

Their avowed enemies include some very smart, very decent people—and they're organized. And their organizations are well financed.

There are some recognizable, mercenary mismanagers among their leaders, professional troublemakers who don't care who gets hurt so long as they get theirs.

Others fight an honest fight for what they genuinely believe to be their rights.

You can decide which is which from among the National Tenants Organization, the National Tenants Information Services and the National Welfare Rights Organization.

Regionally, organizations of tenants are numberless.

Just in Washington, D.C., we have the United Planning Organization, Neighborhood Legal Service Program, Neighborhood Consumer Information Center and others, some of which are tantamount to "tenants' unions."

Some of which I know to have national co-ordination.

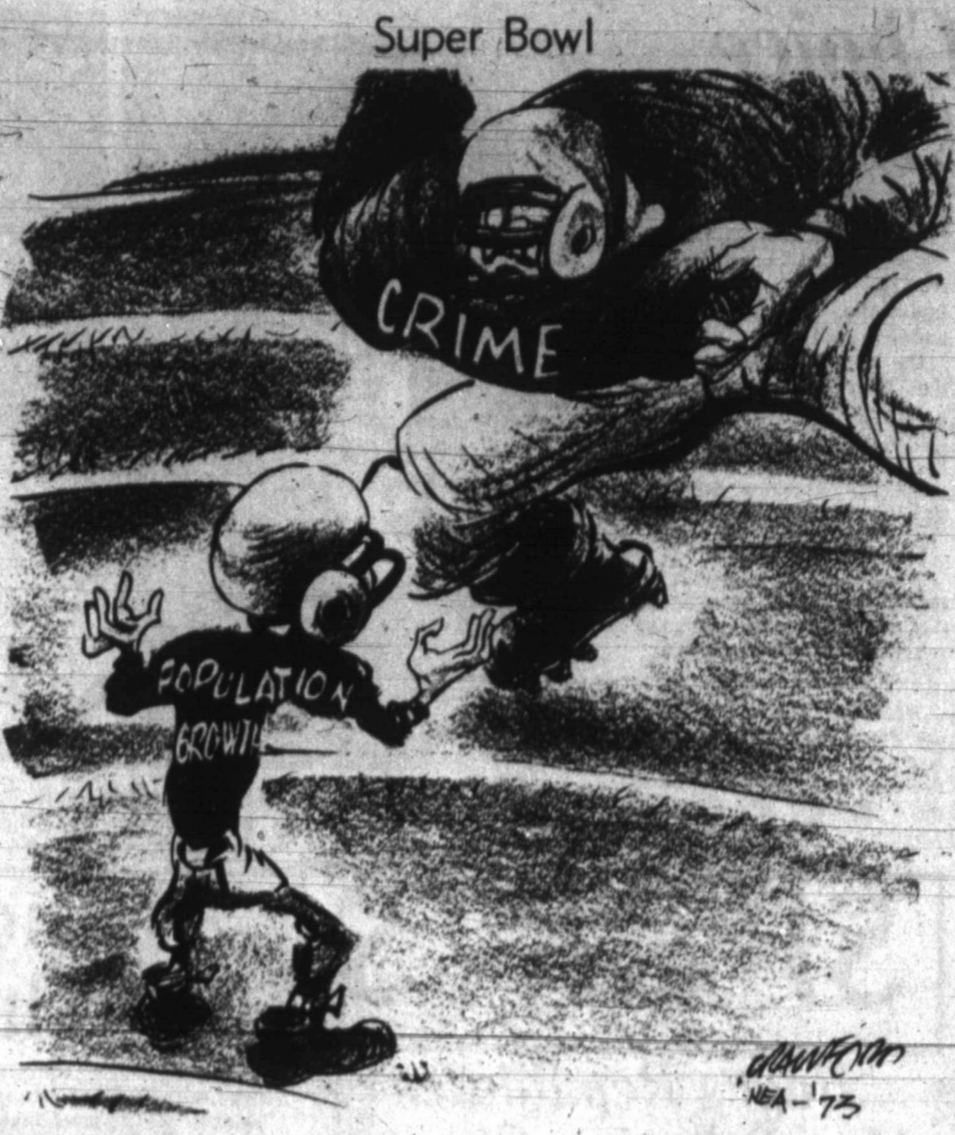

There is no mobilization of consumers to match this multiplicity of organized attackers.

They have direction, financing and legal counsel adequate to bankrupt any property owner should they choose to strike, to sit-in or to boycott.

The numbers are all in their favor. There are more tenants than landlords—and the name of the game among lawmakers is "numbers."

The potential for punitive laws is obvious.

Certain of the so-called consumer protection groups have acknowledged that they would prefer to see the apartment business indeed all rental business—made a public utility.

BRUCE BLOSSAT HST: Big Crises, Firm Decisions

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON, D. C. (NEA)—For all the lavishness of the eulogies heaped upon the fallen Harry Truman, many didn't quite capture the uniqueness and full magnitude of his accomplishments.

Left out of his country's highest war and foreign policy secrets before he took office in 1945, he plunged into the turbulence of World War II and its aftermath and gained immense stature as a "foreign policy president."

He was the first man ever to preside over the United States in an era when by circumstance his power was truly global.

The unconditional surrender of Germany and Japan gave him the unprecedented task of helping to govern two great enemy lands. He used the victor's resources, farsightedly, to rebuild them.

This went side by side with reconstruction aid to our western European allies, justly celebrated for its massive generosity. And with the picking up of burdens dropped by others (aid to Greece and Turkey).

Little remembered is the fact that Truman chose to damp down rising suspicions over our most potent ally, the Soviet Union, and extend the offer of help to the whole of Eastern Europe as well. The Kremlin spurned it, for itself and the lands its armies controlled.

H. L. Hunt Writes

NO APATHY THIS YEAR
Jokes about New Year's resolutions were not as popular this year as they once were, probably because we expected too many good resolutions to be broken not very many days or weeks after they were made.

This year, each of us should see that deadly apathy does not take over our minds and hearts. We must not permit Freedom and Republic USA to be destroyed by alien philosophies and collectivist enslavement.

It was Republic USA that taught men everywhere that Freedom was not just a dream for a few but, rather, reality for the many. If only enough have the courage and perseverance to earn Freedom. Until our own Republic was dreamed of, and the effort and devotion joyfully put forth to create it, almost no one really believed men and women could live free, without a master, king or tyranny, to go cold and hungry in winter and to see most of their children die of famine and disease or malnutrition.

Republic USA proved to the world that free men CAN feed themselves and protect their children better than can the enslaved peoples of collectivist-communist-socialist societies. Our children and grandchildren are the ones who will prove again that Freedom is best and remember the hard lessons of history that the Founders discovered. The choice is still to be made. We must all choose wisely, for Freedom and Republic USA.

Your Health

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

What Causes Bags Under the Eyes?

Dear Dr. Lamb—This may not seem important to you, but it is to me. How can you get rid of bags under your eyes? I've tried many things. What causes these?

Dear Reader—Directly underneath the eyelid is a small bag of fat. As people get older, unless they have remained very thin, this bag of fat increases in size leading to the typical baggy appearance that disturbs some people. Of course, with the enlargement of the bag of fat, the skin of the lower eyelid is stretched. The only satisfactory way of correcting this problem is by cosmetic surgery.

An incision is made along the rim of the lower eyelid just at the base of the eyelashes. With a little pressure beneath the eyeball, the bag of fat is literally popped out and excised. The excess skin is then removed and the incision sutured. It usually requires several months to regain full normal movement of the lower eyelid, since the muscles normally associated with the eyelid closure are attached to the skin in this region and are cut in the course of the operation.

Transitory accumulation of small amounts of fluid will also cause bags temporarily. This is more prominent in the morning and usually disappears by noon unless there is an associated medical problem.

Dear Dr. Lamb—My husband is a faithful reader of your column and would like to know this. He takes vitamin capsules and chews them. I have told him they will dissolve if he swallows them whole, and he will get the same benefit. He cannot accept that answer. He chews any pill or capsule and does not believe they can dissolve themselves, but that they go undigested through your system. Please explain the truth.

Dear Reader—Pills are designed to be dissolved in the digestive tract. The coating on them, including vitamin pills and capsules, is usually there to give you from having to experience their terrible taste. While it isn't true that medicines have to taste awful to be effective, it does seem to be true that a lot of good medicines taste pretty bad, including some vitamin preparations. Some pills are coated with a material to keep them from being dissolved in the stomach. This is because the types of chemicals in the pills might be destroyed by the acid digestive juices in the stomach, and it is desired that they be protected from this until they reach the intestine which is more alkaline. These are called enteric coated pills or capsules.

There are some pills that don't dissolve well in the digestive tract and might pass through without adequate absorption.

Some pills should be chewed, but usually the doctor will give you this instruction or they will be on the prescription, or it will be on the bottle if it happens to be something you can buy yourself.

Sponsors Bill to Deter Lawsuits Against Police
By ROBERTS ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Police and other law enforcement authorities throughout the country are increasingly being deliberately obstructed and handicapped by "harassment" and "nuisance" suits.

In the past five years, these impeding actions have soared an alarming 700 per cent.

According to the latest available statistics of the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts, the number of such fettering lawsuits zoomed from a few hundred in 1967 to 8,267 in 1971. Still-incomplete records for 1972 indicate this shocking trend is continuing.

Says Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., chairman of the House Internal Security Committee, who is sponsoring legislation to curb such hindering litigation:

"The number of frivolous suits is growing rapidly. Once rare, but no longer, their sole purpose is to block and deter law enforcement officers. These suits have become an increasingly serious impediment to efficient and vigorous law enforcement."

As explained by the veteran legislator, his remedial bill would:

Make it necessary for a plaintiff suing a law enforcement officer in federal court to file a bond with the court for payment to the defendant of reasonable costs of investigation and legal fees if the officer prevailed.

Such a safeguard, Ichord contends, would not interfere with anyone who seriously believes he has a legitimate grievance against police or other authorities.

"There is nothing in my measure that would deter those who honestly believe or have reason to believe," says Ichord, "they have been the victims of improper police action, or that their civil rights have been violated. But I do think it would make those who are interested only in harassing our police and courts hesitate to prostitute the legal process for their own purposes, whatever they may be."

Police, prosecutors and other officials with whom Ichord has discussed his legislation heartily approve it. Some would even go further.

He quotes Royall P. Terry, legal adviser to the Daytona Beach, Fla., police department as asserting: "Many of these suits are not only frivolous but the result of actual conspiracy to defame law enforcement officers and their agencies. Such conspiracies should be punished as crimes. Certainly punitive damages should be allowable against any organization or individual participating in a frivolous or malicious suit of this kind."

Most of these deliberately obstructive lawsuits are instituted under Section 1983 of Title 42, U.S. Code involving statutes relating to public health and welfare. The Section is as follows:

"Every person who, under color of any statute, ordinance, regulation, custom or usage, of any State or Territory, subjects or causes to be subjected, any citizen of the United States, or other person within the jurisdiction thereof to the deprivation of any rights, privileges, or immunities secured by the Constitution and laws, shall be liable to the party injured in an action at law, suit in equity or other proper proceeding for redress."

Federal courts' interpretation of this law has generally been of a broad nature. A study of these decisions shows the courts have consistently held the statute was not intended as a source for damage action by disappointed litigants against officers acting within the scope of their authority.

"Nor was the purpose of Section 1983," maintains Ichord, "to discipline law enforcement officers, nor to turn every defeat of a claimed states right into a federal right with federal remedy."

Another purpose of Ichord's bill, he stressed, is to deal with the "surprising fact" that law enforcement officials do not have "protective insurance" against nuisance and harassment suits. Few cities or states have measures to provide for costs involved in such cases.

Such expenses often run into thousands of dollars. Ichord cited the following striking instances:

—Los Angeles—In 1968, a suit was filed against the police chief charging "conspiracy to violate the civil rights of Negroes." This action, it was revealed, was financed with federal funds by the Office of Economic Opportunity—the so-called "anti-poverty" agency. After a long series of legal maneuvers and machinations, the case was finally dropped.

"Thus what amounted to no more than a nuisance suit," points out Ichord, "wound up by costing taxpayers more than $117,000 in man-hours alone."

—Dade County, Fla., which includes Miami—15 Section 1983 cases were filed there in two years. One cost more than $50,000 to investigate—before the plaintiff asked the court to dismiss it.

—Charlotte, N.C.—39 Section 1983 suits filed against the police department in a 12-month period by an American Civil Liberties Union attorney with one insignificant exception, every one of these cases concluded in a "no verdict" by the jury.

Contesting these suits was an ordeal for the defendants," says Ichord, "in one case, no less than 16 officers were sued for $170,000. It was a clearcut instance of harassment. The suit was brought by a Black Panther organization after their headquarters had been searched for weapons stolen from a National Guard armory."

Police and law enforcement officials throughout the country strongly favor Ichord's bill on the ground "there is a crying need for it."

"My purpose," he declares, "is to curb nuisance suits against law enforcement agencies."

POWs Issue Statement

TOKYO (AP) — North Vietnam said today that 30 American prisoners of war, including 20 crewmen from B52 bombers downed recently, have issued a joint statement urging the U.S. Congress to try to help end the Vietnam war.

The official Vietnam News Agency broadcast the text of the statement and the names of the 30 POWs. Hanoi had reported the capture of all them previously.

Road Captured

VIENTIANE (AP) — Communist forces have captured the strategic road junction of Sala Phoukhoun, 165 miles north of Vientiane, government military sources reported today.

The attack began late last week, was coordinated with smaller attacks on Muong Kassy, 17 miles southwest of Sala Phoukhoun, and an ambush on a relieving convoy just south-east of Muong Kassy.

The sources said four 106mm howitzers were lost. Sixteen military sources said the attack at Sala Phoukhoun was made by three dissident nationalist battalions plus a number of Pathet Lao soldiers.

No town is left at Sala Phoukhoun, but it is militarily important because it is where Route 7 from the Communist-held Plain of Jars joins Route 13, the road from Vientiane to Luang Prabang.

Western military sources said the government forces retreated three or four miles southwest of Sala Phoukhoun.

Ceiling Collapses

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sixty to 70 persons were injured, four seriously, shortly after midnight when a ceiling collapsed on a downtown ballroom packed with 500 New Year's Eve celebrants, police said.

Patrolmen Henry Cussons and Bruce Keldenhouse said 24 of the more seriously injured were taken by ambulance and fire department vehicles to Memorial Hospital but most suffered only minor injuries. They said none was in critical condition.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Janet's husband claims she is a sex maniac! But her extra marital erotic affairs are not due to any abnormal passion. They are the usual nymphomaniac's attempt to compensate for a fear of sexual inadequacy.

CASE V-587: Janet J., aged 25, is a sex violator. "Dr. Crane," her husband complained, "I think Janet must be mentally unbalanced. For she is a sex maniac! We've been married 4 years and she has been unfaithful at least 7 times that I know about. And because she is a chronic liar about such matters, I am sure she has probably had several other affairs that she doesn't confess. "Dr. Crane, she is a smart girl with a college diploma. "She is also pretty and such a convincing talker that she has got me to take her back these 7 times when I have caught her in the act of infidelity. "So what could cause such immorality, for she grew up in a good home, and her father was a clergyman!"

WHY NYMPHOMANIA?

Excessive erotic activity in the female is usually a camouflage for some basic sexual inferiority complex. "But, Dr. Crane," you may protest, "why should a beautiful, popular college girl feel sexually below par?" At first glance, it may not seem possible. But that adage concerning exaggerated erotic behavior in the female is reliable. So it didn't take 5 minutes of my time to derive the basic cause of Janet's promiscuity. She hadn't been married much longer than a year when she noticed a small lump in her left breast. So she went to her physician, who had a biopsy made of the tumor. The hospital pathologist diagnosed it as malignant (cancer). So the surgeon removed her entire left breast, plus the underlying pectoralis muscles of the left chest wall, and the lymph nodes in her left armpit.

Television And Radio

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Those of us who stayed awake in civics class probably have a hazy idea of how a bill gets introduced in Congress and wends its way to total oblivion or the President's signature.

If the memory fails you, wait until Congress returns to work this year. Then find a National Public Radio outlet in your city and stay tuned for a refresher course.

NPR reporters are going to pick a bill of high interest to the public and follow it through to the bitter end. I don't know if this has been done before, but they deserve an A for ambition.

And what is NPR? It's a non-commercial radio network begun in May 1971, operated with tax funds given it by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

It's linked to 148 public radio stations serving 42 states, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia. NPR and its 90-member staff is based in the nation's capitol.

All but 20 of the stations are on FM, the majority of those in college towns. The rest are municipally or listener-sponsored facilities.

So much for how it works. Now how is the NPR staff going to cover the travels of a proposed bill during the next session of Congress? For that matter, what sparked the idea?

"We do a lot of broadcasting of congressional hearings as it is, and we thought that there's no reason why we couldn't start on one bill at the very beginning," says an NPR spokesman.

The spokesman, Cleve Mathews, says the agency will take "a fairly simple bill, rather than a really complex one, and we'll probably pick something like no-fault insurance."

He said the coverage will start when the bill—or different versions of it—are introduced in both the House and Senate.

Then NPR will follow it through subcommittee and committee hearings, broadcasting the proceedings live when congressmen permit, and present capsule reports at night.

The reports, with taped highlights of the hearings, will be broadcast in 15- or 20-minute chunks on NPR's nightly "All Things Considered" program, a 90-minute general news show heard on NPR outlets at 4 p.m. CST Mondays through Fridays.

"Hopefully, our listeners will become familiar with all aspects of the bill," Mathews says. "We think that, during this process, they'll get a good understanding of it from start to finish. We want to explain the process of Congress in what I think is an interesting way instead of a dull civics book way by actually reporting on a bill all the way through."

10 Whooping Cranes Lost

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ten birds were missing when the carefully nurtured flock of wild whooping cranes migrated recently from the Northwest Territories to the Gulf of Mexico, it was reported Tuesday.

Ray C. Erickson, assistant director for endangered wildlife research at the National Patient Wildlife Research Center in suburban Maryland, said the flock contained only 46 adult cranes and five young birds on arrival at Aransas, Texas.

Fifty-six cranes were in the flock when it flew north to Great Slave lake last spring.

Priceless Wisdom Found In The Mail

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)

Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Most of the world's supply of ice is concentrated in the polar regions. Antarctica is the largest ice cube. If the Antarctic ice cap were melted at a steady rate, it would yield enough water to keep all the rivers on earth flowing for 750 years.

Mountain pioneers often turned to weeds and other plants for medicines. They thought jewelweed took the itch out of poison ivy, poke berries helped rheumatism, mullein was good for colds. Science now believes many of these home remedies really are helpful. A survey in 1967 found that, of the 328 million new prescriptions written in the United States, 25 per cent were for drugs derived from plants.

Sign on the door of a pro basketball coach's office: "I'm busy; but, if you can look over the transom, come in."

Quotable notables: "Only one thing has been lent to youth and age in common — discontent." —Matthew Arnold.

How it began: Louis Braille, the blind musician who developed the raised-dot system that has enabled millions of blind persons to learn to read, got his idea from an army captain. The captain had invented a set of night-writing symbols for use on the battlefield, one dot meaning advance, two dots to retreat and so on. Hearing of this, Braille developed the idea into his system for rapid reading by the sightless.

Executive signs: From the desk of Jules Podell, owner of the Copacabana night club: "The world changes so fast that a man couldn't be wrong all the time if he tried."

Polklore: It's unetiquette to wear a black dress to a wedding. If you send a girl a blue ribbon, it's a sign you love her; if you send her a green ribbon, that you hate her. Chinese copyists used to make period marks at the end of a sentence in red ink to keep evil spirits away from themselves and their readers.

Volunteer Killed FORNEY, Tex. (AP) — A young volunteer fireman was killed today while battling a pre-dawn blaze in the Forney Supermarket here in Kaufman County.

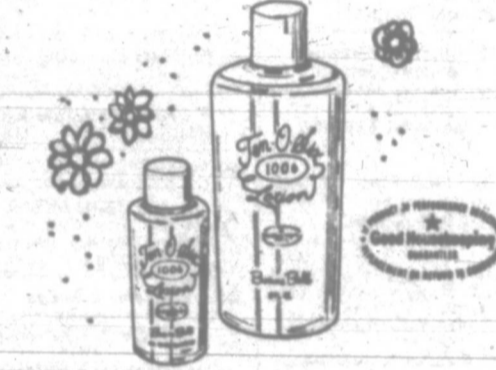

Authorities said Randy Moore, 19, suffered fatal injuries as an aluminum awning fell off the burning brick building.
