SCS Men Ask Revamp Plans De Postponed

The Board of Supervisors of the Gray County Soil Conservation district today were awaiting the results of a telegram, which was sent late Thursday to President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, urging that Benson's reorganization of the Soil Conservation Service be postponed until Congress reconvenes next January.

The county board met Thursday afternoon in the SCS office here and voted to send the telegram after discussing the proposed reorganization plans.

Chairman W. E. Jackson of the board stated that the board agrees that reorganization of the service might be needed, but that it is feared that it "might become a political mess."

He stated that when the regional offices are abolished and the state offices are set up, the head of the state offices will be appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture and that civil service would be done away with in regard to this office.

"It looks like they are trying to railroad the SCS out of existence," Bill Waggoner, secretary of the board, said.

The identical telegrams to the President and Benson read as follows: "We respectfully request reorganization of Soil Conservation Service be postponed until Congress reconvenes in January." It was signed "Gray County Soil Conservation District Supervisors."

Similar telegrams, it was understood, have been sent from many other districts in this and other states.

Supervisors of this and other districts have been deeply concerned over the proposed reorganization of the service, particularly after receiving reports in recent weeks from Waters S. Davis, League City, Tex., president of National Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

In these reports, Davis revealed that on the afternoon of Oct. 12 the directors of the association were in conference with J. Earl Coke, assistant secretary of agriculture, at which time the group asked many questions regarding reorganizing plans. The majority of these questions, Davis reports

U.S. Drafts Request For Atrocity Debate

BANQUET SPEAKER — More than 400 persons heard William J. Bird, manager of the Southwestern Division of the United States Chamber of Commerce, Dallas, at the annual membership banquet of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Thursday night in the Pampa High School cafeteria. Seated to his left at the speakers table are Mrs. Lynn Boyd, wife of the outgoing president, and Rep. Walter Rogers. (See story on page 2).

Documents Show Fliers Subjected To Red Tortures

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 30 —UP—United States officials Friday began drafting an official request for debate on Communist atrocities in Korea before the United Nations General Assembly.

It was expected to be ready in final form for consideration next week by the steering committee of the General Assembly. Committee approval — expected next Monday — would send the matter before the full assembly.

The atrocity debate request was being prepared as the United States and Russia geared for a final exchange Friday on the earlier American charge that the Communists operated a Russian-phoned torture mill to extract phony germ-war confessions from captured American fliers.

The two main antagonists on the issue introduced Monday by Dr. Charles W. Mayo were listed to speak.

Mayo, an American delegate to the UN, produced documents to show that fliers were subjected to mental and physical tortures to induce them to say the United States engaged in germ warfare.

He was expected to offer new evidence Friday. The physician is a member of the famous family of doctors that founded the Mayo clinic.

Feeling on the new atrocity charges ran high as the United States and Russia prepared to offer arguments in the germ-war matter.

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said: "I can't find sufficient words to express my horror at what was done."

The documented report on Korean atrocities was released by the Army in Washington on Wednesday. The 87-page record of brutality, supported by photographs, was charged that at least 6,112 United States servicemen had been starved, tortured or murdered by Communist forces during the Korean war.

Congressional reaction to the report was widespread and bitter.

Sen. Lester C. Hunt (D-Wyo.) said he was "hopeful the UN would come up with a resolution of censure."

He added that Communist China has just put "another nail in her coffin" insofar as getting into the UN is concerned. But he said the atrocities do not justify reopening the Korean battlefield.

Communists Want Session On POWs

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Oct. 30 —UP—The Communists Thursday suddenly called a meeting of the Military Armistice Commission to discuss prisoner of war problems. The meeting was set for 3 p. m. (midnight Friday est) Saturday.

The Communists did not announce why they wanted to meet with UN military chiefs, but significantly the meeting was scheduled after Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya said defiant North Korean POWs have made uncertain promises they will end their strike against counter brainwashing Saturday.

Qualified sources felt sure the Communist move was decided after Thimayya announced he had won a promise from the 7,800 North Koreans to face Red political officers.

The Military Armistice Commission, which has not met since Oct. 20, is composed of Chinese, North Korean and UN military officers who supervise the truce.

Protests from either side regarding handling of POWs would be filed by the two commands through MAC.

The Communists asked for the meeting Friday night, several hours after Thimayya made his surprise announcement the violently anti-Red North Koreans would end their crippling resistance to the controversial explanations.

Thimayya said that—unless the prisoners change their minds and again refuse to leave their compounds— he proposes to send 500 of them to be questioned Saturday morning.

Under normal procedure, another 500 would be questioned in the afternoon.

Thimayya did not disclose demands the prisoners made as the price of resumed questioning. It was believed, however, that they insisted they would be questioned in groups by the Reds—not singly.

Soviet Gls Join Anti-Red Rebels

BERLIN, Oct. 30 —UP—East German refugees sources said Friday that scores of Red army soldiers deserted early this month and joined anti-Communist resistance groups or went into hiding planning to escape from the Soviet zone of Germany to the west.

The sources said that 1,000 Red army troops and Communist police were hunting the partisan bands and the Red army deserters.

The East German Communist government announced that it will issue new identity cards for the 18 million residents of the Soviet zone apparently in an attempt to round up anti-Communist rebels living in the underground.

Authoritative British sources Thursday said that there are several thousand anti-Communist partisans operating in the Soviet zone of East Germany and apparently working under a unified command.

Two of the top targets of the Soviet army and Red police manhunt are a band of Czechs shooting their way to freedom and a high Soviet army officer who broke for freedom three miles from the western border.

The East German sources said the mass desertions occurred from Red army units ordered to return to Russia. The sources said scores of soldiers took to the forest between Cottbus and Berlin.

Woman Dies Of Unseen Car Injuries

TEXAS CITY, Oct. 30 —UP—A 32-year-old divorcee died at the Texas City jail Thursday, two hours after she was treated at a hospital for a cut chin and taken to the jail to "sleep off" a drunk.

An examination showed the woman, Mrs. Georgia Boudreaux, suffered a punctured heart, punctured liver, fractured femur and broken ribs in an automobile accident and that these injuries had not been noticed at the hospital.

Administrator William Pigg of the Galveston County Memorial hospital in nearby LaMarque Friday said the woman was examined by a Greek immigrant practicing at the hospital in an interne basis and pronounced physically "okay" after she was brought there from the wreck scene.

A woman identified as Blanche Moye, 25, of Galveston, driver of the only car involved in the crash, was charged Friday with murder by motor vehicle. She was in John Sealy hospital in Galveston.

The women's vehicle rammed into a culvert at 8 a. m. By 9:15 Mrs. Boudreaux had been taken to the hospital, treated for a cut chin and cut finger, and taken to the jail. At noon Thursday she was found dead in her cell here.

Pigg said he had held an inquiry and had been told by the examining doctor that the woman looked "okay" although intoxicated when she was released from the hospital.

Mysterious Witness In Kidnap Case

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 30 —UP—A mysterious witness who refused to identify himself was hustled into a federal grand jury waiting room here Friday as the investigation into the kidnap-murder of Bobby Greenlease rapidly approached a climax.

U. S. District Attorney Edward L. Scheufler declined to name the tall, slender man who represented the first surprise element in the four-day probe expected to result in indictments against Carl Austin Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady.

Wearing a dark blue topcoat and a gray hat, the man suddenly appeared in the corridor of the federal building in the custody of Horace Kimbrell, assistant U. S. attorney.

Asked if he were a witness, the man ignored questions and strode rapidly into the waiting room, where the door closed quickly.

In a few moments, Kimbrell reappeared in the corridor. He asked again if the man were a witness and while Kimbrell said nothing, he nodded his head affirmatively.

Moments later, Scheufler and Kimbrell both appeared in the corridor, but all they would say was: "Ask the man."

The appearance of the man, who was a stranger to all newsmen who have been on the scene since the investigation opened, led to immediate speculation that a surprise development may be forthcoming.

Sergeant Queried On Missing Girl

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 30 —UP—Police disclosed Friday that they had arrested an Army sergeant for questioning about the kidnaping of 15-year-old Evelyn Hartley at LaCrosse, Wis., and found blood-stained clothes in a tourist cabin where she stayed with a girl.

But the sergeant said he picked up the girl as she was leaving Shreveport, La., Sunday night. He told police that she had told her she was from West Virginia, was 19 and had a three-year-old daughter.

The girl, whose first name is "Judy," according to the sergeant, is missing. He said he kicked her out of the cabin and last saw her at 9 a. m. Thursday. Police showed him a picture of Evelyn and he said "Judy" looked nothing like her.

Can't Explain Blood
He said he had no idea how the blood got on the clothes, which he said he bought her.

The sergeant was arrested late Thursday night in a green and gray automobile at the same drive-in restaurant where a carhop on Thursday said she saw a soldier and a girl who looked like Evelyn's pictures. The carhop said the soldier and girl she saw were in a green and gray car.

Police booked the sergeant for drunkenness and for questioning by the homicide detail. He said he was captured in Korea in May, 1951, while working with the Korean Military Advisory Group near the 38th Parallel.

Saw 600 UN Soldiers Killed
He claimed that he saw 600 United Nations soldiers killed, "mostly in a 'death march,'" and was himself beaten, tied up and shoved in a little cage for "not playing along with them (Communists)."

He said he was among 28 prisoners the Reds sentenced to two years' imprisonment, but was released after the truce. He said he returned to the U.S. last Sept. 20 and was returning to Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio from a 30-day furlough in Shreveport when he picked up "Judy."

The sergeant said he bought her clothes and also presents for the three-year-old child she told him she had left in West Virginia. He said he reported to Fort Sam Houston Wednesday and when he came back to the tourist cabin found the girl gone.

He waited for her to come back, he said, and when she finally did, he got mad, took the clothes he had bought her and "kicked her out." He said he last saw her walking by a drive-in Thursday while he was eating breakfast.

Russians Questioned U. S. POW

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 30 —UP—Russian officers interrogated prisoners in Korea and Russians named anti-aircraft guns against United Nations planes, an ex-POW said Friday.

The former prisoner, Lt. Col. James R. Witt, said he was personally questioned by two Russian officers.

They "knew what they wanted," he said, and one of them spoke English fluently.

Witt said the Russians questioned him closely and persistently about secret electrical data, the electronic gun sight on U.S. planes, and about radar. He said he refused to answer.

Witt said he also saw Russian troops manning anti-aircraft guns in North Korea.

The Air Force officer was shot down and captured Oct. 21, 1951, while he was leading the 152nd Fighter Squadron on a strafing-bombing mission over North Korea.

"I was told to kneel. The leader placed a pistol against my head and pulled the trigger. Nothing happened. The leader laughed and said he would get me tomorrow," Witt said.

But, two days later, Witt was transferred to an officers' prison camp east of Pyongyang. The Russians questioned him there, he said.

After his refusal to answer, he said, about Communists began torturing him, meanwhile making charges of U.S. germ warfare.

USDA Ready To Launch Revamping

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 —UP—The Agriculture Department Friday appeared ready to bar White House intervention—to go ahead with its reorganization plans despite vigorous protests from some soil conservation leaders.

Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams Thursday promised an agrary group from the National Association of Soil Conservation districts that the White House will look into the situation "very carefully."

But Waters S. Davis Jr., NASCO president, commented following the meeting, "after all Benson is secretary of agriculture... if I got assurances from him I'd feel like a million dollars."

The group—which has raised $911,000 from 1.3 million farmer members for its "white chest"—is protesting department plans to abolish seven regional offices of the Soil Conservation Service.

They arrived in town Thursday to ask that the plan be dropped or postponed until Congress gets back to town. Davis said "there's a chance that we did accomplish something by coming but I just don't know."

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture J. Earl Coke gave the group "no promises" when he met with them prior to the White House session except that their recommendations will be considered along with all others. He said reorganization moves definitely would begin before Congress gets back to town.

Reds' Undersea Power Greatest

LONDON, Oct. 30 —UP—The United States is still first and British second in naval power but both rank far behind Russia in undersea strength, Jane's Fighting Ships reported Friday.

The new edition of the authoritative encyclopedia of world naval power said, however, the U.S. Navy's two atomic submarines are the first step toward moving America ahead of the huge Russian submarine-building program.

through a "small, tight, elite organization" and often have proved in politics that a small parliamentary minority can "succeed in a wrecking operation."

Wiley said that to underestimate the strength of the Communist world movement "is to be making not only a serious blunder of evaluation but is to be guilty of what could prove to be a suicidal blunder." He said this was especially true of Soviet military potential.

Masters at 'Holding Out'
Although Communist success has alternated with Communist failure, Wiley said, Red leaders throughout the world are "past masters at holding out during long periods of repression."

He said one of the "major impressions" left by the committee's analysis is the Communists' ability to "survive all sorts of adversity due to private and governmental opposition." The report showed that in many countries where the party is outlawed it is still active and dangerous.

Wiley said the committee's "limited review" did not attempt to estimate the number of fellow travelers who aid the Red movement indirectly.

Anderson Claims Disgruntled Farmers Will Vote For Demos

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 —UP—Sen. Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, former secretary of agriculture in the Truman cabinet, predicted Friday that disgruntled farmers will cast a heavy Democratic vote in next year's congressional elections.

Anderson, who headed the Senate Democratic Campaign committee for the 1952 elections, told a reporter he is confident his party is regaining its hold on the farm belt.

He said farmers in all parts of the nation are "generally dissatisfied" with the Eisenhower administration because "they don't see anything going on that promises them relief."

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said in a television interview Thursday night that the administration is "doing everything we can to stabilize prices," and has "no disposition to let the farmer down."

Benson said his objective is to see that farmers get 100 per cent of parity for their crops with a minimum of control and regulation. But he did not spell out how this objective may be attained.

Extends to Distant Clites
Anderson said the surprise Democratic victory in Wisconsin's recent congressional election was a striking demonstration of farm belt sentiment. He said the Wisconsin outcome doubtless will make a sufficient impression on congressmen of both parties to insure passage of a farm program next year that "will mean more money in the farmers' pockets."

Anderson Claims Disgruntled Farmers Will Vote For Demos

Sen. Earle C. Clements (D-Ky.) predicted meanwhile that the administration farm program, which President Eisenhower has promised to submit to Congress next year, will be nothing more than the old "Democratic farm price support plan" in Republican disguise.

Clements, a member of the Senate Agriculture committee, said he expects GOP "publicity experts" to bill the program as a "dramatic change" from Democratic farm policies.

Mavo Asks Leniency On 'Confessed' PWs

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 30 —UP—Dr. Charles W. Mayo, United States delegate to the United Nations, called on the American people Friday to "put themselves in the prisoners' place" before passing judgment on fliers who broke after long sessions of "confessed" to germ warfare charges in Korea.

"Everybody has a breaking point," said Mayo, a member of the distinguished family of doctors who founded the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

"It is difficult to realize the tortures these men were subjected to without having gone through them ourselves," he said. "But we must try to use our imagination. We must be somewhat charitable to those who were forced to break."

"The American people must put themselves in the prisoners' place."

Mayo presented to the UN Political Committee on Monday the case histories of eight American fliers who broke after long sessions at the hands of Communist torture experts and gave "confessions" of their alleged parts in a UN program of germ warfare.

He paid tribute Friday to those men and all the others who underwent the rugged ordeal of Communist "persuasion."

"It takes quite a guy," Mayo said, "to be a martyr all by himself—especially when he is alive or dead."

Sizing Up Communist Party

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 —UP—The Senate Foreign Relations committee reported Friday that the Communist party has about 24 million active members in nations outside the United States.

A detailed committee report surveyed the estimated party strength in 95 countries. In only three—Liberia, Saudi Arabia and Yemen—was it able to report no evidence of Communist activity.

By nations, the number of party members ranges from Russia's 6.8 million and Red China's 5.8 million to "almost none" in Libya and other countries.

Estimates Labeled Unreliable
The committee frankly labeled its estimates unreliable. And a foreword by Committee Chairman Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) cautioned against the "fallacy of numbers" in assessing world communism's political and military potential.

Wiley noted that the Reds prefer to operate in many places

Airport Board Meets Thursday

"Just routine consideration" of bills and other allied matters are on the agenda for the upcoming meeting of the board of directors for Perry LeFors Field.

Session is slated for 4 p. m. Thursday at the airport, according to Ed Simmons, board secretary.

Other members of the board are D. E. Holt, president; Hugh (Buck) Burdette, vice president; George Ingram and E. J. Dunigan Jr., both of Pampa; S. A. Cousins, McLean; and Fred Haiduk, Groom.

Baffled Cops Cling To Hope Baby Sitter Is Still Alive

LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 30 —UP—Baffled police refused Friday to give up hope that missing baby sitter Evelyn Hartley will be found alive, even though they admit they have hit a "stone wall" in the case.

Law officers have a few new clues to work on, but similar leads have faded out during the grueling six-day hunt.

Evelyn, an attractive 15-year-old college professor's daughter, disappeared last Saturday night while baby sitting at a neighbor's home.

Extends to Distant Clites
Spotches of blood described as "human" were found on the wall of an adjoining house. But the furling search for the girl, extending to distant San Antonio, Tex.,

City Officials Back From Meet

Chicago and to Wisconsin's chief city, Milwaukee, have failed to reveal her fate.

Authorities said their best current line of investigation is the search for a man who climbed through a window of a suburban Madison, Wis., home Friday night—the night before Evelyn's disappearance—and attacked a housewife.

The two cases were tied together by the presence of a tan-colored car bearing Illinois license plates reported cruising in the areas before both incidents.

La Crosse Sheriff Ivan Wright said there is good reason to believe the similarity is not coincidental.

City Attorney Bob Gordon and City Commissioner W. B. (A) Neel were back in town today after attending the three-day convention of the League of Texas Municipalities in Beaumont the first of the week.

Gordon spoke on the "Problems of Zoning Ordinances" during one of the city attorneys' panels held in conjunction with the affair.

Also on hand at the get-together were City Manager B. H. Cruce and City Tax Assessor-Collector Aubrey Jones, both of whom were due back in Pampa sometime today.

Panhandle Land Owners Excited Over Gas Wells

SPEARMAN, Tex., Oct. 30 —UP—Local land owners, with oil and gas leases about to expire in some cases, were talking excitedly Friday about two gas wells which blew in about 10 miles apart.

The wildcat wells, one about six miles east of Gruver and drilled by Humble, the other three and one-half miles north of Spearman and drilled by Texaco, produced about 6 million cubic feet of gas per day each.

Humble production was from the Douglas sand, while Texaco hit pay in Morrow sands at about 7,000 feet.

J. W. Buchanan, manager of the Spearman Chamber of Commerce, said that many leases were to expire within the next 30 days. He said that most people in the area said they were not expecting a real boom, but said there was already rumors that land owners would hold out for much higher prices on leases.

If it comes from a hardware store we have it, Lewis Hardware.

State Asks Death Penalty On Rancher

BLOOMFIELD, Ia., Oct. 30—UP—Walter M. Mayer, 56, prominent New Mexico rancher, listened quietly Friday as attorneys resumed naming a jury for his murder trial in the shooting of an Iowa cattle buyer.

The state indicated it will seek the death penalty for the Santa Fe rancher for shooting John C. Wisdom, 51, Des Moines, on Wisdom's 900-acre farm last May 2.

Mayer said he shot in self-defense after he tried to collect from Wisdom for some sheep and Wisdom "threatened to kill me."

Douglas Funeral Set In Shamrock

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Funeral services for John Hardy Douglas were scheduled for 3 p. m. today in the First Methodist Church, Shamrock, with Rev. Frank Besuchamp officiating. Burial will be in the Shamrock cemetery under the direction of the Clay Funeral Home.

Services were also held at 2 p. m. Thursday in Agua Dulce where Douglas died of a heart attack Wednesday.

A resident of Shamrock for 20 years, Douglas was employed by The United Gas Co. He was transferred to Agua Dulce in April 1952. He was the uncle of Mrs. Ray Thompson of Pampa.

Mud School To End Tonight

Today is the last day of the two-week mud school that has been conducted in the Clayton Husted garage, 219 White Deer manor.

Sponsored by the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors, the school has had two classes a day, taught by Odys Simmons, former mud control man now with the University of Texas.

The course has consisted of lectures, discussions and laboratory work in the analysis and use of mud in rotary drilling.

Last class is drilled for 7 p. m. today.

Benefit Dance At Skellytown

SKELLYTOWN — (Special) — A benefit dance will be held Saturday night in Skellytown's Odd Fellows Hall for a White Deer man who was injured almost a year ago as he was helping someone else.

Seriously hurt in January when he was struck by a truck in White Deer as he was helping tow another man's car out of a mud hole, W. S. Berry was in Highland General Hospital till July when he was taken to the McBride Bone Clinic in Oklahoma City.

Berry has been out of the clinic only a short time and will return in three weeks for another series of operations.

Juvenile Awaits Hearing On Theft

13-year-old Pampa boy was still in custody today awaiting a hearing before County Judge J. B. Maguire, Jr., on charges of car theft, which is slated for next Monday.

The youth admitted to Pampa police that he took an automobile from a local used car lot Wednesday night. He was picked up that evening after an off-duty policeman spotted the youth in the car and reported it to the police station.

The boy had previously been charged with the same offense and also had been arrested on two burglary charges.

Five jurors were chosen tentatively Thursday.

Selection of the jury from a panel of 100 persons, many of them farmers in overall, was expected to continue until the weekend recess late Friday and probably be completed Monday.

When the jury is completed it will be segregated.

County Attorney Charles Pettit asked all prospective jurors: "If the facts warrant capital punishment, would you be prejudiced against that penalty?"

He also asked jurors if they believed premeditation of murder could develop immediately before a slaying and if they are prejudiced against circumstantial evidence.

Since there were no witnesses to the shooting, circumstantial evidence is expected to play a big part in the trial.

Chief Defense Attorney R. E. White, Ottumwa, indicated he will try to prove Wisdom acted like a "wild man" and Mayer shot to save his own life.

Mayer's wife, Katherine (Peache) Mayer, 47-year-old brunette and a member of the New Mexico Republican state central committee, wept at the start but later composed herself.

Hunting Stamps Available Now

With the opening of the migratory bird hunting season only a few days away, Postmaster W. B. Weathered today warned hunters that they should obtain their migratory bird stamps.

The stamps are now on sale at the Pampa post office and sell for $2, he said. They may be purchased from any of the stamp windows.

The season opens Nov. 6 and hunters are required to have these stamps before shooting any migratory birds, he stated.

Black Mesa Bivouac Due To Open Today

Today is the opening day for the three-day Black Mesa bivouac in the hands of the National Guard Bureau, Washington, D. C.

According to Capt. Charles L. Robison, commanding officer of the Battery, 47th Field Artillery Battalion (Observation), the plans — once approved there — will be returned to Austin where the Board of Comptrollers will let bids on the project.

Potential contractors for the job will have 30 days in which to place bids once the bid-openings are announced, Robison said this morning.

B. R. Cantrell, local architect, drew up the plans for the surroundings for the stock plan of the building and forwarded them to Austin.

In the meantime, the service center at 819 W. Wilks that this National Guard unit has been using for its more-than-30 vehicles has been switched to the old Pampa City Bus Company barn where there is an apartment for other equipment, the commanding officer said.

Vehicles from Pampa, Dalhart, Dumas and Shamrock are kept there.

City Hall Painting Finished Next Week

That paint job on the outside of City Hall should be completed by the middle of next week, "if the weather holds out."

Glenn Redman, proprietor of the paint company that offered the low bid for the job, said this morning that the second — and final — coat of paint had been put on all the first-floor windows and half the second-floor windows.

Work on the west side of the building on the third floor was underway late this morning, he continued, adding that all the screens have been done.

Only hold-up that Redman could foresee, aside from the weather, was the washing of the windows before the screens are put back on.

Winning bid for doing the outside woodwork of City Hall was $1,025.

STUDY BENSON'S PLAN — Members of the Board of Supervisors of the Gray County Soil Conservation District are deeply concerned about Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson's reorganization plans for the Soil Conservation Service. Three of the district's five board members are shown above, with the district's auditor, as they studied the plan at a meeting Thursday. They are, left to right, Homer Abbott, Chairman W. B. Jackson, Secretary Bill Waggoner and Auditor R. E. Anderson. Ernest McKnight and Jess Graves, board members, were not present. (News Photo)

to the supervisors said, they received an "I don't know" answer.

However, the reports continued, a "new speed record for governmental thinking, studying and printing was hung up" between 4:45 p. m. that day, when the meeting adjourned, and 2 p. m. the following day.

"By then, less than 24 hours later, the 'I don't know's' of the day before were all resolved and 'Though Coke had not gone into any of the details of the intended reorganization on Oct. 12, by the next morning the Benson proposal was carefully spelled out with printed charts and time tables."

One item in Benson's proposed reorganization plan that conservationists are particularly concerned about is one that provides that next March arrangements "will be developed for obtaining technical guidance in agronomy, biology, woodland and range from state land-grant colleges."

Davis, in his report, told district supervisors that "this item 21, and the whole Benson plan is a long, first step toward turning the entire soil conservation program over to the Extension Services and County Agents."

The Gray County supervisors showed much concern, also, in the manager of the SCS office here, might be transferred when the reorganization program goes into effect.

Strawn, it was pointed out by Waggoner, has been here long enough to know what conservation about is and is needed in this particular area. "We are afraid that under the provisions of this reorganization plan that someone entirely unfamiliar with his area might be sent here to replace him," he added.

Four Boys Held As Burglary Suspects

Pampa police today were holding four boys — one 14 years of age and the others 13 — in connection with the Oct. 20 burglary of the Webb Driving Range office on E. Browning, according to Chief of Police Jim Conner.

Conner said that after a lengthy session in his office this morning, in which the boys were questioned by Roy Webb, owner of the driving range, and police, the boys finally admitted entering the office and taking several articles.

It is possible, Chief Conner said, that one or two other boys might have been involved.

Taken from the office in the burglary were some personalized blank checks, with the names of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Webb, Jr., imprinted on them; a Swiss make chronograph stop watch, a pen and pencil set, leather fly box case and other articles, most of which had been recovered today.

Conner said it was his opinion that these boys had nothing to do with the burglary of the same office last Saturday, since it is believed that the burglar or burglars used an automobile in this burglary.

Frankie And Ava Calling It Quits

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 30 — UP — Crooner Frank Sinatra and green-eyed film queen Ava Gardner "reluctantly" called it quits Friday only a little more than a week before the second anniversary of a marriage that began with fireworks and ended in exhaustion.

Neither the singer nor his wife were available for comment following Thursday's announcement that they were separating and that she would seek a divorce.

A brief Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio announcement said the couple had "reluctantly" exhausted every effort to reconcile their differences and could find "no mutual basis on which to continue their marriage."

Last Two Bodies Sought In Crash

HALF MOON BAY, Calif., Oct. 30—UP—Rescue workers searched Friday for the last two bodies of 19 persons killed when a four-engined British airliner shattered to pieces on a mountainside 25 miles south of San Francisco.

The other 17 bodies were taken to a temporary morgue set up in the armory at Redwood City, Calif. They will be identified there.

Rescuers worked long after dark Thursday night to remove the charred, mangled bodies of the victims. The two missing bodies were believed to be in the area where a stubborn brush fire touched off by the crash was burning.

The victims included William Kapell, 31, internationally-known concert pianist who was returning from a tour of Australia.

The airliner, a DC-6 sleeper operated by the British Commonwealth Pacific Airline, crashed shortly before 11 a. m. est Thursday, 12 miles from the end of an 8,600-mile flight from Sydney, Australia.

Aboard were 11 passengers and eight crewmen. Kapell was the only American. The others were seven Australians, two Englishmen and a Canadian.

Evans Installed President Of C-C At Annual Banquet

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce today was under new leadership.

President Clinton Evans, who was installed at a dinner Tuesday night received the gavel from Lynn Boyd, outgoing president, at the chamber's annual membership banquet Thursday night in the Pampa High School cafeteria.

More than 400 persons, including members of the chamber, their wives and approximately 100 out-of-town guests, attended the banquet.

Guests were present from Spearman, McLean, Borger, Miami, Perryton, White Deer, Amarillo, Lefors, Skellytown, Memphis, Shamrock, Mobeetle, Panhandle, Claude, Sweetwater, Abilene and West.

William J. Bird, Dallas, manager of the Southwestern Division of the United States Chamber of Commerce, was the guest speaker, addressing the audience on the subject, "Tasting Marshmallows while the Community Burns."

Participation in community activities is the answer to "our civic problems," the speaker stated. "Cooperation on the part of the businessmen is the only solution."

Speaking of ways participation answers various problems, he declared that industry is attracted only by a group of people working together; United Fund drives are a success because many people participate in the program through the Chamber of Commerce.

Mechanic Marries Mother Of Quads

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 30—UP—A mechanic vowed Friday he would be a "good father" to the survivors of the quadruplets of the woman he married.

The mechanic, John Van Alstine, 34, of Lansing, was married to Mrs. June Trollman Thursday in a hastily arranged bedside ceremony. He said he had been in love with the attractive divorcee for more than a year.

He said he had wanted to marry Mrs. Trollman "for a long time" but terms of a recent divorce prevented it. He ducked questions about whether he was the father of the quads.

Van Alstine said he would take his bride and the three surviving quads—two boys and a girl—to his home as soon as they are released from the hospital. One quad, a boy, who died Wednesday, was scheduled to be buried Friday. The remaining three all weigh less than three pounds but were reported "doing nicely."

Hilton 'Loser' In Wayne Case

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30—UP—Hotel heir Nicky Hilton calls himself "the only loser" in the double divorce awarded film star John Wayne and Mexican actress Esperanza Baur Wayne.

Hilton, ex-husband of actress Elizabeth Taylor, said he was not given a chance to refute testimony brought out at the Wayne divorce trial that he spent a week as the guest of Mrs. Wayne while the actor was on location for a film.

He said he stayed at the Wayne home at the request of his then fiancée, German-born actress Betsy von Furstenberg.

"I was the guest of Betsy, not Mrs. Wayne. Any talk that I was interested in Mrs. Wayne is ridiculous," he said.

ENTERTAINERS — A feature of the annual membership banquet of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Thursday night in the cafeteria of Pampa High School was the singing of Miss Vivian Walls, Amarillo television star. She is pictured above with her accompanist, Irving Akat, who also provided organ dinner music for the entertainment of the more than 400 who attended. (News Photo)

What do we believe?

One thing Episcopalians stand for is belief in something — belief in God and in Jesus Christ, the Son of God, as the Redeemer of the world. We believe in God, as revealed through the teaching and person of Christ and through His word, the Holy Bible. We believe that He speaks to us and guides His Church today by His Holy Spirit.

And we express that belief, simply and clearly, in each service of our church, by repeating together during the service one of the ageless affirmations of belief — the Apostles' or the Nicene Creed, each the summary of the teachings of Christianity. These historic Creeds contain the truths revealed by God. They are a statement of God's mighty works. They are the "Gospel," in summary.

At a Church Service the entire congregation stands, with the clergyman, and states what we think are the four most important words in the English language — "I believe in God."

When you join us in worshipping in an Episcopal Church you will feel as though you "really have been in church." We invite you to join us in the Episcopal Church near you.

No Obligation — The booklet "The Episcopal Church" will be interesting to you. Send for your copy today.

Dr. Logan Wilson Installed As President Of Texas U.

AUSTIN, Oct. 29—UP—Dr. Logan Wilson, 46-year-old sociologist and native of Huntsville, Tex., was installed Thursday at the 15th president of the University of Texas.

In traditional inaugural ceremonies, scores of capped and gowned educators and dignitaries, including U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, honored the former vice-president of the consolidated University of North Carolina.

State officials, members of the board of regents and university staff members joined some 300 representatives of various universities and colleges, as well as learned societies, in the colorful pre-inaugural procession.

Wilson succeeded Dr. T. S. Painter, who resigned last year to return to zoological research and active teaching.

In his inaugural address, Wilson chided Texans.

"We Texans are rightfully proud of Texas, its people and institutions. But for all the good things we have been content with something less than the best in education, the most important of all our collective endeavors," he said.

"It is doubly important that the very capstone of our whole system of public education, the University of Texas, should become—as was intended over a century ago—truly a university of the first class."

However, Wilson expressed confidence that, with public support, the university can advance from its present position among the 15 or 20 leading American universities to a place among the first 10.

"Within two decades, it should stand among the first five," he said.

Tom Sealy of Midland, chairman of the board of regents, formally installed the new president. Dr. Harlan Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, spoke on "The Role of the State University in Higher Education in the Second Half of the Twentieth Century."

Wilson, touching on the subject of academic freedom, said it was a "frequently misunderstood and abused concept" and described it as the "counterpart of free enterprise in the business and commercial world."

"Just as economic enterprise must be governed by law and ethical codes, so must academic freedom be coupled with full responsibility and accountability," he said.

Communism, he said, has "no place in this or any other American university. . . . Neither is there room for 'similarly unscrupulous enemies of the very principles upon which academic freedom,'" he added.

For the future, Wilson predicted student enrollment at the University of Texas "will level off at not more than 25,000 within the next decade or so."

Registration for the fall semester was 14,000.

"The principle of limits, if nothing else, will curb our size, but this principle does not apply to the nature of our task and our performance of it," he said.

"More of our citizens," he said, "must be made aware that a great university is not merely a place where average young men and women are trained in the arts and sciences of living and making a living. Texans must be convinced that their university is a place where exceptional minds have the best environment yet devised for intellectual discovery and invention, and for making additions to the vast storehouse of human knowledge."

Bricks are Beauty Test

CHICAGO, Oct. 30—UP—Mrs. Robert V. Johnson, the former Nikki Nicolai (Miss Prague of 1948), said "perfect legs or bust measurements don't count any more. Communist beauty judges are more interested in how many bricks a girl can lay in a day."

News In Balance

By PHIL NEWSON
United Press Foreign Analyst

The week's balance sheet between the good and bad news in the hot and cold wars:

THE GOOD

1. With France as the intermediary, the United States and Britain were reported hopeful they had the answer on explosive Trieste, Yugoslavia and Italy, the belligerents were reported "interested" in an Allied plan which would give Zone B of the Free Territory of Trieste to Yugoslavia and Zone A, including the demilitarized port of Trieste, over to Italian administration. Rights of minorities would be guaranteed.
2. Neither a change of government nor a purge had believed Communist headhunts in Hungary and East Germany, British sources with access to information from behind the Iron Curtain said anti-Communist forces operating in Soviet-run East Germany numbered between 5,000 and 10,000 men, apparently directed by a unified command, and were well supplied with small arms and ammunition.
3. Greece reaffirmed her position this week as one of the most enthusiastic members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and one of the United States' best friends. She promptly rejected a Russian protest against an agreement giving the United States the right to use certain Greek air and naval bases.

Employees To Meet

AUSTIN, Oct. 30—UP—Delegates from 56 chapters of the Texas Public Employees Association will hold their eighth annual meeting here starting Monday.

THIS IS A LEVELTRON—That's the way Ocie Weir (left), Celanese instrument engineer, and Harold Beckham, his assistant, began explaining this gadget at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Lions Club. Purpose of it is to demonstrate how a certain level, say, acetic acid is maintained in a tank. The vat to the right and the bottle in the center represent tanks, they told Lions Thursday noon. The cylinder in front of the bottle is a pump; behind it is a meter which Beckham holds. A geiger counter sits atop the amplifier which Weir adjusts. Lions left the demonstration, just scratching their heads. (News Photo)

Shirley Booth Not Concerned With Acting

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 29—UP—Shirley Booth, the Broadway actress who copped Hollywood's prized Oscar in her first screen role, said today she could give up acting tomorrow and be very happy about it.

Miss Booth, back in Flicker City to star again for Hal Wallis in "About Mrs. Leslie," can take or leave the acting business without losing any sleep.

"I'm blessed with complete independence of mind," she said happily. "I'm not like so many others in the profession who either die on the vine when they're not performing."

"For me, acting is not a compulsion. I can stay home and fill my life with many things that may not seem important in themselves, but spell contentment and happiness."

The actress relaxed in her Paramount dressing room between takes of her current picture, in which she plays a Beverly Hills rooming house keeper.

"I don't want to give the impression that I'm contemplating flinging away the whole job of acting within a few hours in an impetuous action," she said. "I fully expect to act until I drop, if audiences will have me. I just wish there were other things to which I could turn."

"Of course, this decision that I could renounce being an actress and still live has only come with maturity, I'm sure," Miss Booth said, her eyes twinkling.

"I'm positive that in my younger years I'd have turned green with horror at the thought of any life away from the theater."

Miss Booth also is lukewarm about a career limited to Hollywood.

"In the first place," she said, "I never pined away for a screen job because I was sure they didn't have room for a person like me—a character actress who had no resemblance to a movie queen. I'm still surprised."

The future calls for two more pictures with Wallis, to be made when both have agreed on the pictures. "I read scripts all the time," Miss Booth explained, "but it's becoming extremely difficult trying to find the right material for either stage or screen. But I'll try to divide my work."

"It's a good idea to have a bit of both. Then you never become stale. I feel the same way about my residence. I adore California, but I could never stay here all twelve months of the year. I have to spend some time in New York and at my home on Cape Cod."

The important thing to remember is to lead a well balanced life. And in that respect, acting is just one part of my existence—something I could get along without."

Celanese Engineer Tells Lions Of Advantages Of Instruments

Pampa Lions this morning were still scratching their heads, trying to figure out what Ocie Weir and Harold Beckham were talking about at their weekly meeting.

Instrument engineer for Pampa's Celanese plant, Weir, Thursday noon told Lions of the technical and social aspects of instruments and what value they have in a plant such as that of Celanese.

Following a discussion of pressure, temperature, quantity and other allied subjects, the engineer mentioned some of the things that instruments have done for U.S. industry.

They include elimination of drudgery, betterment of working conditions, conservation of natural resources, decreased possibility of human error and making the operation safer.

His talk was followed by the showing of some colored slides taken in the Pampa plant and the

SPEBSQSA Sponsor Of Clothing Drive For Needy Koreans

Pampa Barbershoppers are going to help collect clothing to be sent to Korean civilians in time for Christmas.

Date of the drive has been slated for Nov. 10, according to Bunny Shultz, president of the Top of Texas chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America.

Announcement of the drive came Thursday noon at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Lions Club.

"We had planned to wait till after the Parade of Quartets," Shultz said today, "but we figured that it gets cold awfully early over there and the clothing might not get there till after Christmas."

The annual Top of Texas S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. show is scheduled for 8 p.m. Nov. 21 on the stage of the junior high school auditorium and will feature two headliners and three local outfits.

Emphasizing that barbershoppers hope to be able to complete the clothing drive in that one day, Shultz pointed out that his group hoped to have the cooperation of all churches, Sunday School classes and civic clubs.

Rep. Walter Rogers helped Shultz contact Robert Dolins, New York, executive director of the American Relief for Korea, to make plans for the drive. All local donations of clothing will be handled through A.R.K. auspices.

Current plans call for the clothing to be handled through Station KPDD at which S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. members will be manning phones, ready to go out and collect donations once calls are made.

TV Performer Teaches Kids How To Color

By JACK GAVER
NEW YORK, Oct. 30—UP—Only time will tell whether Jack Barry achieves a ripe old age or gets cut down in his prime by an irate parent.

You see, Barry is the fellow who has incited small children to use crayons on the screens of the television sets in their home.

Now, parents are well steered against finding juvenile murals created with all types of marking instruments on walls, woodwork and furniture, but as little research as possible reveals no artistic tampering with TV screens. Before Barry, that is.

In defense of the man, it must be admitted that in his new CBS-TV program, "Winky Dink and You" on Saturdays, he doesn't advocate putting crayon directly onto the face of the picture tube. For a nominal fee, a child can get a kit that includes special crayons and a transparent plastic sheet that fits over the screen. The crayoning is supposed to be done on this sheet, which can be wiped clean.

However, the time is bound to come when some enterprising mopey—or maybe one just too lazy to go get the plastic sheet—is going to be smitten with an idea that will make him feel like a latter day Columbus. He can crayon directly on the screen!

This, of course, will lead to complications. He'll dash away at the end of the program on some important mission and forget to remove the evidence from the screen. Dad will switch on the set that afternoon to watch the football game and will find himself looking at what is apparently a haywire picture or possibly no picture at all if Junior has crayoned the whole screen.

But seriously, Barry's latest creation is something new and entertaining for the kids. It mixes story-telling, animation, art instruction and items of general education in such expert fashion the child isn't conscious he's picking up a little knowledge along with the entertainment.

"I consider it as a program that brings 'audience participation' into the home, making it unnecessary for children to go to a TV studio to get into the act," said Barry.

Wrathful Mishaps

MIAMI, Oct. 30—UP—Stilas E. Parker, 36, was held Friday on charges of escape, petty larceny of handcuffs, reckless driving and leaving the scene of an "accident."

Parker admitted unswearing a bed to which he was handcuffed when first captured, but said his collisions with the 10 cars were not "accidents."

He said he had just argued with his girl friend and "felt like" smashing some cars.

Franklin Agog Over Tax Job

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 30—UP—Everybody in nearby Franklin borough is talking about the job that pays $50,000 for only about four hours work except the man most likely to get it.

Joseph Tomaskovich, who won both the Democratic and Republican nominations for borough tax collector in the May primaries, said Friday he prefers not to discuss his chances in the election next Tuesday.

If elected, Tomaskovich can set aside for himself approximately 2 1/2 per cent of the borough tax collections, or approximately $50,000 in four years. The jackpot in the collection from 247 property owners in the borough is the check from Bethlehem Steel Corp. The job is so easy past collectors have been able to discharge most of their duties in about an hour each year.

The steel firm's huge Cambria Works is located in the borough. Its borough tax bill is about $400,000 annually—about 97 per cent of the total collections.

"I don't want to talk about the job—unless I win. No comment un-

This luscious rice pudding is topped with a "new idea" for a meringue. Brown sugar is sifted over the beaten egg whites and the heat of the oven causes it to melt and bubble! Underneath is a wonderful tasting butterscotch rice pudding!

Here is a low - low cost dessert which looks and tastes like something very special and difficult to make. So don't divulge the secret that we made this sensational dessert in only a few minutes.

INGREDIENTS

- 4 eggs separated
- 1/2 cup dark brown sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups hot milk
- 3 cups cooked rice
- 2 tablespoons dark brown sugar
- Preparing The Fluffy White Rice: To make 3 heaping cups of white, fluffy, perfectly cooked rice:

1. Put 1 cup uncooked rice, 2 cups of cold water and 1 teaspoon salt in a 2-quart saucepan and bring to a vigorous boil.
 2. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover the saucepan with a lid. Do not remove lid nor stir rice while it is cooking.
 3. Leave saucepan over this low heat for 14 minutes. Remove from the heat.
- The rice is now ready to use.
- For extra convenience and economy of time and effort, cook 2 cups of rice, 4 cups of water and 2 teaspoons of salt — keeping the extra cups of unused ready-cooked rice in the refrigerator in a covered container. Use this rice as needed in quick, delicious and inexpensive soups, salads, casserole dishes, hot breads and desserts.

METHOD: Blend egg yolks, 1/2 cup brown sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Beat with rotary beater until light and smooth. Stir a small amount of hot milk into the egg yolk mixture. Gradually add the rest of the milk. Stirring constantly. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, about 10 minutes or until the mixture is thick and will coat a spoon. Do not overcook. Add the rice and mix well. Pour at once into a baking dish, 10" x 7" x 2". Cool. Chill about one hour or until custard is thick and surface is firm. Allow egg whites to come to room temperature. Beat until stiff but not dry. Drop by teaspoonfuls over the top of the chilled custard being sure to cover the custard completely. Sift the 2 tablespoons of brown sugar through a strainer over the egg whites. Place in a preheated 400 degree F. oven for 10 minutes or until the sugar melts and bubbles. This recipe makes 8 servings.

No Watchers

When she became queen, Marie Antoinette incurred the wrath of the French people because she refused to let them watch her eat. Frenchmen believed this pleasure was their inalienable right, as they long had enjoyed the custom of watching the king and royal family partake of meals.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Miss Friend:

I hear adults making long speeches, and writing long essays about why they are proud to call American their home.

Well, I am a ninth grade student and I want everyone to know why I am proud to call America my home.

AMERICA MY HOME

I think I am very fortunate to call America my home because I have freedom to obey the law. The freedom I have come from a harsh war.

This war enabled us to print what we want, tell what we think the government is doing wrong, just as long as we don't advocate the overthrowing of the government. That would be treason, and the penalty is death.

Freedom of religion is another one of the wonderful privileges we secured through the loss of many lives. Lives of people who believed that every man should worship in his own way. When we attend, (or when we are sent) to school, we not only unite with people of other religions, but also of other races. There we are taught a fellowship with others. When a person believes in something we can stand on it, without being persecuted or thrown in jail.

Speak what you may, criticize whom you may, no one has the right to persecute you. This is called freedom of speech. Keep this in mind, though, if you can't say something nice about someone don't say it at all.

I am sorry to say that our records have been marked with race riots of all kinds, but we can say some of the fights have proved helpful in helping one man to understand another. Some have just shown where our weaknesses are.

In America education is an important factor. Since the beginning of time the improvements and advancements have been made by men and women with cultured minds and high ideals. In America advancement is our motto.

Every living child within our boundaries has the chance for an education. In some communities two years of junior college are provided.

Small wonder any true American would be proud to call America his home. Education has helped us build a great democracy and education will help us retain our democracy.

Sincerely,
Maisee

Dear Maisee:

Continue to study the things for which our nation stands, not forgetting to read and think about the meaning of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. Read about the lives of the pioneers in all fields whose hard work and ingenuity have made so many luxuries available to us all.

As you grow older you will gain a more complete picture of what has gone into the building of this nation and why it grew so fast and so strong.

Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo Will Be Presented This Evening In Pampa Junior High Auditorium

The first in the series of Community Concerts opens here this evening at 8 o'clock with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo to be presented at the Pampa Junior High Auditorium.

This concert company is especially assembled to bring ballet to 500 American towns and cities never visited by larger companies.

The dancers, the costumes, the lighting and even the musical arrangements for this engagement are all fresh as new paint, but the four numbers in which they will be seen are proven favorites from the big repertoire of America's most widely travelled ballet company, which numbers such great dancers as Markova, Slavenska, Youskevitch, Danilova and Massine among its distinguished alumni.

Most popular number is likely to be a worldwide favorite with audiences everywhere, "Cats' Pantomime." Designed by Leonide Massine to the music of Jacques Offenbach, this number recalls an evening in Paris of the 1860's at the Cafe Tortoni (for which the ice cream is fench, France's favorite composer).

Tricksters Hit United Nations

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 —UP—Leters addressed "Hallow'en, United Nations" have been clogging the basement postoffice at UN Headquarters.

Sometimes the address is "Trick-or-Treat, United Nations." This highly unlikely combination of a pranksters' holiday and a world organization is not generally known, even around the UN.

"We've been scalling it our best kept secret," admitted Mrs. Helena Pantaleoni, chairman of the U.S. Committee for the UN Children's Emergency fund (Called UNICEF).

STARTED IN SHEBOYGAN

The story was "concocted deliberately, but just because it developed so far beyond expectations that only the U.S. committee and the U.N. Post Office have kept pace with details.

"It started in Sheboygan two years ago," explained Mrs. Pantaleoni, a former actress who works full time at her job even though it is an unsalaried "volunteer" post. Youngsters in that Wisconsin town were urged to use "trick-or-treat" tactics for a worthwhile purpose. So they collected pennies instead of candy and shipped the money off to the UN children's fund.

Last year the idea spread to 500 communities. Some sent in boxes jammed with pennies and nickels amounting to $32,000. This year, four times as many towns have written the UN for Halloween kits.

LEARN ABOUT WORK

"We got requests from Canada and from Hawaii too," Mrs. Pantaleoni said enthusiastically. "It really isn't the money that pleases us the most, but the chance for families in so many towns to feel they're taking an active part in something here at the UN. They learn a little more about the work we do, and the UN doesn't seem such a far-off organization."

RUTH MILLET

A housewife with a college degree writes: "I was open-mouthed with astonishment the other evening when my husband, who is a college graduate, made the statement that a college education didn't make a girl a better wife or mother, unless she spent the four years majoring in home economics.

"I was amazed that he had never seen that my education had been a real advantage to us both in many, many ways.

"To point out just a few: My husband has never been fearful of the children and me if something should happen to him. I had a good job before we were married, and I could hold down a good job again.

"Nor has my husband's nose been kept eternally to the grindstone because we must keep up with the Joneses in order to be somebody. Thank heaven, my education gave me a better sense of values than that.

"My husband can enjoy a quiet evening of reading, because I, too, enjoy reading. He can discuss world news with me because I, too, am more interested in what is happening in Washington than in what is happening on some radio soap opera.

"For the most part we enjoy the same friends and are bored by the same people.

"As for our children, though I am far from a perfect mother, I have often been grateful for having learned in my psychology courses and in the further study they inspired the importance of keeping competition within the family to a minimum, of encouraging independence, of the wonderful power of praise.

"So please point out to men, though a wife may never have learned to bake an apple pie during four years of college, she is probably putting her education to use for the good of her husband and children every day of her life."

There's no need to write an article on the subject. That letter speaks for itself. It should be an eye-opener to a lot of men who take the benefits of their wives' education for granted.

Pampa Milk Fund Group Not Nationally Affiliated

Pampa's Milk Fund is another participant in the coming United Fund Drive. Comparatively new, it was founded by Ivy Duncan in December 1951, and is a completely local organization with no national affiliation.

"It came about through the human desire to share something with children," Duncan stated. "Its benefits last for years and years."

Designed to save underprivileged children from malnutrition, the Milk Fund's services are available to an child.

"It is one fund for which every penny is used to buy milk," Duncan pointed out. "There are no administrative costs connected with the Milk Fund."

The distribution of the milk is made partly upon the advice of the Salvation Army, although the two organizations are not related in any way. Other than referred individuals, another recipient of the Milk Fund's benefits is Pampa's Negro nursery.

"It costs approximately $47 per child a year to give him a pint of milk a day," Duncan pointed out.

Those responsible for the collection and distribution of the fund, other than Duncan, include Floyd Imel, A. A. Schuneman, Harold

Nervous Nichols Receives Back Seat Driver License

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 —UP— I was in a state of nervousness, so I went down and applied for membership in a society known as "State of Nervousness, Inc."

I now am listed as No. 21,144 in the society's Bureau of Insanity. The card I received for one claim entitles me to all of the privileges of a backseat driver. Since Mama does most of the driving in our family this is going to grant me "legal" liberties I never had before.

Passed Test Easily
I had to pass a nervousness test and I did pretty well. An experienced nerve expert put me in the back seat of his car and drove around a spell. This was B. C.—Before card, I wound up as usual a nervous wreck, fit for the crazy ward.

The blood pressure was up. I was putting. My heart sounded like Mickey Rooney playing rat-a-tat-tat on the skin of his snare drum. Having passed my exam with fluttering colors, I got my card which entitles me a license to "operate, dominate, imitate, or criticize the chauffeur from the rear seat."

Mama Doesn't Like It
So from the rear end of the Nichols hack I have been driving. Mama doesn't like it, but when I whip out my license what can she do—wheel me to the jailhouse?

The conversation coming down town this morning went something like this:
"I think I'll stir up an angel food cake this afternoon," said Mama. "Watch what you're about to stir up there in front," I said, card in hand. "You are too close to that guy on goodright. Stirred-up cars are no good."

Speed Limit 25
"Here there," this also from me. "You rushed a red light. Want us to wind up in traffic court?"

"Speed limit here is only 25 miles an hour, dear," said I peering over her shoulder from the rear driver's seat. "You're going 27 3/4 and I think there is one of those little black police cars behind us."

Mama starts to say something that sounds like "shadup" when I rush out the card again. I'm pretty happy about the best dollar I ever invested. Mama seems to be in a rather nasty mood these days, but what can the poor girl do about it? I'm licensed.

Cost Of Living Hike In September

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 —UP— The government Wednesday reported the cost of living crept up in September to a new all-time high.

It was the fourth straight month a new record was reached. Prices increased on all items except food. The Bureau of Labor statistics said prices of all "market basket" items increased by .2 per cent between mid-August and mid-September. The rise put the Sept. 15 index at a record 113.2 per cent of 1947-49 prices.

A decline of .3 per cent in food prices was not enough to offset higher costs for other items such as wearing apparel, rent, medical care, transportation and other items.

It was the seventh straight monthly increase in the BLS index. BLS officials noted, however, that fractional increases have limited the total rise since January to about 1.3 per cent.

Fleas Burned Out

MIAMI, Oct. 29 —UP— A. E. Reinhard cleared his house of fleas, but he almost burned it down. Reinhard, preparing the house for new tenants, lighted several sulphur candles. One set a bad fire. Firemen arrived in time to extinguish the blaze before it burned through the floor.

NWGBLGGHRRHLSL
LIVERPOOL, Eng., Oct. 30 —UP— A bank here cleared a check made payable to "NWGBLGGHRRHLSL."

Accountant Leonard Harris admitted he had to think a bit before he figured out it was made out to "North West Gas Board Liverpool Group, Group Headquarters, Radiant House, Bold Street, Liverpool, 1."

TEC Report

The second month of the two-month peak employment period for the Pampa area was about as busy as the first.

Bill Ragsdale, head of the local Texas Employment Commission office, this morning released figures on T.E.C.'s fiscal month, Sept. 26-Oct. 25, and added comparisons for the previous month.

A total of 135 new applications for jobs was made in the local office, Ragsdale said, adding that the figure for the previous month was 129.

There were 147 job placements in the September-October period, compared to three more the previous 30 days, he continued, emphasizing that those figures were for non-agricultural jobs alone.

Agricultural statistics indicate the condition of area farmland, Ragsdale went on. There were 12 placements this time, 17 the time before.

Sixty of the non-agricultural placements were for contract construction jobs. It was 32 the month before. Another 37 were for wholesale and retail positions, two more than the previous month.

Total number of man-weeks of unemployment compensation claiming was 288, down 73 from the month before. There were 48 new claims, 58 the previous month.

Jimmy Durante Serious About Goodnight To Mrs. Calabash

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 29 —UP— Jimmy Durante blushed self-consciously today and agreed to discuss the three women in his life—Helen Traubel, Margaret Truman and Mrs. Calabash.

The comedian, relaxing in his Beverly Hills home, grinned sheepishly and admitted he was hard put to choose a favorite.

"They're all real ladies," the long-nosed comic said, "and I love 'em more than I could hope to say. I don't know if the feeling's mutual, but I'm hopin' for the best."

The grin disappeared from Durante's face when he was pressed to reveal the identity of Mrs. Calabash—the woman to whom he faithfully bids goodnight on his radio and TV shows.

"It kinda makes me sore," he said "when people think my saying goodnight to Mrs. Calabash is a gag. It's a very serious thing, and I can't tell anyone who she is."

"But she's a real person. "It's an old personal relationship that goes back many, many years. Back to the old days in New York—and she's very close to my heart."

Durante said sadly, "but whenever she is she knows I'm thinkin' about her, and that I say goodnight everytime I'm on the air. She knows."

The nearly bald little man wrinkled his face and croaked his famous chuckle.

"Now with Miss Traubel and Margaret Truman, it's different," he said. "We've had lotsa laughs together. I didn't know either of 'em before they came on my show—but right from the first they hit television like it was made for 'em."

"It was me that first talked to Helen about doing a night club act. I'd love to have done a double with her, but it just couldn't work out that way. She'll be back on my comedy hour show on NBC, Dec. 6."

"And Margaret Truman—she's a very charmin' person—will be back on the show, too. I'd like to have her father make it—sort of dignified appearance, just for a chat."

Asked where he'd like to go on dates with the three women in his life, the comedian rubbed his nose thoughtfully for a few seconds before answering.

"I'd like to go dancin' with Miss Truman, and I'd like to take Miss Traubel to a baseball game."

"And with Mrs. Calabash—I think we'd just sit in a quiet corner someplace and listen to soft music."

YOU'D BE SCARED, TOO—This terrified lad from a native village near Monrovia, Liberia, can't be blamed for refusing to believe his grotesque visitor is an agent of good will. But the black hood and yellow gown really masks a member of the American-trained spraying team conducting a hut-to-hut campaign against the malaria-breeding mosquito. The costume protects the sprayer from deadly insecticide he uses.

"Nonsense, son! The happiest years of my life were spent in school!"

Jane Wyman Plans Third Role Playing Handicapped Person

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 30 —UP— Jane Wyman, the pug-nosed star who began her career as a wide-eyed ingenue, currently is working in her third role as a handicapped person.

In "Johnny Belinda" she turned in an Academy Award winning performance as a deaf mute, in the International remake of the original Irene Dunne starrer, Jane pointed out playing this type role is not too different from belting out a popular song.

However, she explained, she is careful in creating a handicapped character to be absolutely true to life.

"I've found in thousands of letters written to me after releasing a picture of this type that handicapped people are anxious for the general public to understand their problems."

"They feel I do a great service in getting this over on the screen," she said. "They like to be treated as humans and not freaks and an honestly played character shows them as such. That's why I try to play these parts without too much saccharine and without playing for pity."

Because she's been successful playing unfortunate human beings, doesn't mean Jane intends to continue doing so. In the first place, she points out, there are few handicaps that can be successfully written into a character. Secondly good stories in this vein are few and far between.

"I'm still ready for comedy or tragedy, musical or melodrama," she said. "It's all show business to me, and the important thing is to stay in business."

"The tendency at first," she said "is to act all over the place, chew scenery, and, if you can't see, to knock things down and stumble over the furniture."

"The first thing I learned was to do just the opposite. I found the blind 'see' with their fingers, their hands."

"Sober As A Judge"
DENVER, Oct. 29 —UP— Reporter Jack Gaskie of the Rocky Mountain News, assigned to test the potency of 3.2 beer, tossed off eight bottles in three hours and reported: "I'm sober as a judge."

The conductors of the test said they'd have to wait on blood tests on Gaskie and Municipal Judge Duncan Cameron to be sure. The judge tossed off six bottles in four hours to determine its effects.

Cops Cite Chief
WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 29 —UP— Police Chief Chris Elnoid of suburban East Kildonan, visiting in Winnipeg, got a ticket for illegal parking.

"It's nice to see the city officers are on their toes," Elnoid said Wednesday as he paid a $1 fine.

Baylor Bears Ripe Target For TCU Frogs In Crucial Tilt

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

Texas Christian hasn't thrown its annual "shocker" punch in the Southwest Conference football race and apprehensive Baylor fans are fearful history might repeat itself Saturday as those two clubs meet for the 60th time in the loop's feature game.

Baylor's position atop the standings as well as the Bears' rating as the nation's No. 3 team offers a ripe target for the Horned Frogs, who only two years ago in a similar situation rose up to knock Baylor from its high pedestal.

While the Bears and Frogs are hammering at each other in Waco, Southern Methodist will be testing its new-found football fortunes against a crippled, but eager Texas team at Dallas in a game that will either boost SMU's stock considerably or keep a flame burning under the Longhorns' dwindling title hopes.

"down" a bit after last week's hard-earned squeak over the Aggies. And, too, Baylor appears weakest on defense against the forward pass, the weapon which TCU used to scare the daylight out of Michigan State and Penn State before losing.

On paper, however, Baylor's great all-purpose backfield of Cotton Davidson, Jerry Coody, L. G. Dupre and Allen Jones apparently has the punch to more than match any offensive fireworks TCU might concoct.

SMU, on the basis of its tight defenses, has been established a six-point favorite to keep its league record unblemished against a Texas team that slipped in the final seconds and lost to Rice last week and now must win or bow out of contention.

The Aggies, beaten only by a point by Baylor, appear to have too much spirit, hustle and scoring punch for Arkansas despite the presence of the Porkers' star triple-threat, Lamar McHan. The Cadets are seven-point favorites.

Turpin Given Top Rating For Middleweight Crown

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 —UP—Randy Turpin of England was still ranked top contender for the middleweight title Friday in the Ring Magazine's latest ratings, despite last week's trouncing by Bobo Olson in their championship fight.

Randy's ranking might occasion considerable surprise were it not for the fact Roland Lasterza of New York still is rated No. 1

Hogan Is No. 1 Golfer Of Nation

CHICAGO, Oct. 30 —UP—Bantam Ben Hogan Friday stood unmatched in the esteem of his fellows in professional golf.

Hogan, by a count of 803 out of 1,000 ballots returned, Thursday night was named the professional golfer of the year for 1953, in which he won the U.S. Open tournament, the Masters tournament and the British open.

The sturdy little Texan won the top annual pro honor previously in 1948, 1950 and 1951.

His recognition by his colleagues emerged from what the Professional Golfers Association termed "the greatest response" in any year to its annual poll of newsmen and the membership of 3,200.

Lew Worsham was Hogan's runner-up in the vote with a tally of 55 votes.

Hogan said, at his home, he was "very pleased" to have been chosen as the top man among the years professionals.

"I consider it a great honor, of course, and I'm very happy," Hogan said.

Previous winners of the title were Julius Boros last year and Sam Snead in 1949.

4th Quarter Disastrous Guerillas Bow To Amarillo Stormies

AMARILLO — Pampa's B team Guerillas came close to winning their first game of the season here Thursday but the Amarillo B team Stormies fought from behind in the final minute to down the Guerrillas held a 7-6 lead at the end of three quarters and they were well on their way to protecting that lead in the final quarter. But the bottom fell out for the Guerrillas in the fourth quarter when the Stormies pushed across two touchdowns for the victory.

The straw that broke the camel's back was a 50-yard punt return for a Stormie touchdown midway through the fourth to send the Stormies ahead and the Amarillos held the lead the rest of the way.

The Stormies held a 6-0 halftime lead as a result of a 32-yard touch-down scamper by Jimmy Cook in the first two minutes of play. The Guerrillas threatened to score several times in the first half, driving deep into Stormie territory on numerous occasions but they couldn't muster a scoring punch.

Coach Weldon Trice's lads started off with a bang in the second half and it was the third period that the Guerrillas picked up their only touchdown of the day and then go ahead on the point conversion.

The Guerrillas touchdown was set up when Ed Don Babcock intercepted a Stormie pass and returned it to the Stormie 26. Tommy Darling, on the first play, raced 25 yards before being pushed out of bounds on the one and then Morrow sneaked over from this point. Fullback Joe Cook ran over the extra point to give the Guerrillas a 7-6 lead.

The lead held up until midway in the fourth when safety man Jim Parr of the Stormies gathered in a Guerrilla punt at the midfield stripe and then raced all the way for a TD. Parr was nearly out of bounds on the 30 but he kept his balance and skipped down the sidelines for the touchdown.

A pass interception set up the final Stormie touchdown. Cook raced 33 yards for the touchdown. The Guerrillas led in first downs, 10-9, but the Stormies had the most yards on the ground, 202 to 145.

Johnny Claunch played a good defensive game for the Guerrillas. He intercepted one Stormie pass in the second quarter and returned it 40 yards to the Stormie 20. The Stormies, however, held and took over on the 17.

Score by quarters:
Guerrillas 0 0 7 0—7
Stormies 6 0 0 13—19

Edison, Jasper Step Nearer Perfect Season

By UNITED PRESS

San Antonio Edison and Jasper were a step nearer an undefeated season Friday as the Texas schoolboy football race moved deeper into the season, but 21 other perfect record teams still have to clear this week's hurdle.

Edison, rolling toward a showdown battle with once-beaten Harlandale in District 7-AAA, breezed by San Antonio Lanier 40 to 0 Thursday night, while Jasper romped by Kirbyville 61 to 0 in a District 17-AA game. Both teams now have won seven straight without a loss.

In other activity Thursday night, Fort Worth Paschal defeated Fort Worth Tech 27 to 0, Dallas Tech downed South Oak Cliff 27 to 14, Houston San Jacinto edged Houston Davis 21 to 14, Dallas Jesuit beat Carrollton 20 to 13 and San Antonio East Central nosed out San Antonio Northside 7 to 6.

Dallas Wilson had kept its record clear Wednesday night with a 31-0 victory over Dallas Adamson.

Headline games Friday night include Waco at Wichita Falls base-ball team was in the hands of local businessmen Friday after directors of the club said they would not operate the Big State League franchise next season.

The club finished first and won the Shaugnessy playoffs this year, but the directors said they lost money and had no intention of subsidizing the team again.

A meeting was called for Tuesday to see if businessmen would raise $40,000 in stock for a new operating company.

Rubber Match Lightweight Go Scheduled For Garden In NY

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 —UP—George Araujo of Providence, R. I., and Teddy (Red Top) Davis of Hartford, Conn., will meet Friday night at Madison Square Garden in a nationally televised and broadcast "rubber match" for the lightweight championship of New England.

New York doesn't happen to be in New England, but the Massachusetts and New York Boxing Commissions have sanctioned the 10-rounder as a fight for the N.E. title—just as they did in 1927 when Jack Sharkey and Jim Maloney of Boston fought at Yankee Stadium for the N.E. heavy laurels.

In their third scrap, Araujo will try to wrest the sectional crown from Davis; and he was favored at 2 to 5 to succeed. Each won a previous meeting in New England. George outpointed Red Top March 25; but Davis reversed the decision Sept. 10.

Slender Araujo was favored because of his youth and speed. At 22, he is six years younger than Davis. Moreover, Araujo's record of but four defeats and one draw in 64 professional bouts is much better than Red Top's very spotty list of 46 defeats and two draws in an even 100 bouts. Araujo, though no knockout specialist, has stopped 30; Davis, only 18. Red Top has been stopped twice.

PHS Team In Midland For Tussle

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

MIDLAND, Oct. 30 —Pampa's Fighting Harvesters, still hoping for a first place finish in the District 1-AAA race, arrived here at noon today where they'll battle the Midland Bulldogs tonight.

Coach Tom Tipps, his assistants, Aubra Nooncaster, Ed Dudy, and a squad of 40 Harvesters were in the delegation arriving for tonight's meeting. The team spent the night at Lubbock last night.

The Harvesters, weakened by the loss of starting right half Jerry Cook, in tonight's game but the Bulldogs are primed for the Green and Gold.

Midland is building its hopes up on the fact they defeated San Angelo and Pampa didn't. The Bulldogs downed San Angelo, 27-21, while the Harvesters lost to the same club, 34-38. The loss to San Angelo is the only blemish on the otherwise perfect season for the Harvesters who have won five of six games to date.

The Harvesters, however, have the edge on the Bulldogs in comparing another common foe, Amarillo. Pampa defeated Amarillo 20-14 while Midland bowed to the Sandies, 7-34.

Coach Tipps isn't listening to odds makers on the game through and in tonight's game are going all out to have the Green and Gold's ready for the vital 1-4A clash.

The Harvesters are in their worst physical shape of the season. Darby is missing tonight's game due to a kidney injury. The Harvesters star was still in the hospital when the team embarked on the Midland trip yesterday.

Darby's running mate at the other halfback slot, Ed Dudy, is also ailing but will play tonight. Dudy's injured leg is not completely healed yet. He is also suffering from a slight kidney injury.

Dudley, however, will start tonight's game. Other members of the starting backfield will be Harold Lewis at left half; Bobby Wilhelm at fullback; and J. N. Wright at quarterback. Wilhelm moved in to the starting secondary when Darby was injured but Lewis is assuming Darby's halfback duties, Wilhelm taking over for Lewis at fullback.

The starting Harvesters line will remain the same. Bobby Holder and Jim Pippet will start at the ends. Bob Frigmore and Charles Jordan are the guards; Alton Flynn and Ronnie Elliott, guards; and James Hawkins, center.

For Midland, the starting lineup will be: Paul Davis and John Crowley, ends; Larry Crisp and Jerry Backles, Kenneth Schrum and Darrell Spivey, guards; Milton Jones, center; Willie Brooks, quarterback; Rusty Rutledge and Gerald Morris, halfbacks; and Clinton Noble, fullback.

The remainder of the Harvesters travelling squad consists of Jerry Neef and Dean Franklin, quarterbacks; Bill Fulenwider, Carl Blonk, Gene Emerson, Bill Edwards and Jackie Edwards, halfbacks;

Top Teams Hit Bowl Stretch

By JOHN GRIFFIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 —UP—The emphasis shifts sharply to bitter conference warfare in college football Saturday as the nation's top teams near the November home-stretch in the race for the bowl game "Pots of Gold."

Both almost all the "big names" will be out Saturday and first place in no less than eight major conferences will be affected by the results. These are the Big Ten, Pacific Coast Conference, Big Seven, Ivy League, Atlantic Coast Conference, Southeastern, Southwest, and the Missouri Valley.

Illini Favored by TD
Illinois, pacemaker in the Big Ten, is reckoned only a one-touchdown choice over Purdue, the in-pressed eleven that last week smashed Michigan State's 28-game winning streak. Odd thing is that if Purdue comes up with another, this time it will help Michigan

State—putting the idle Spartans back in first place in the league. In the PCC, front-running Stanford (4-0-1) is expected to win easily over Washington State, and second-place Southern Cal (3-0-1) is expected to do likewise against Oregon. But 90,000 fans are expected to jam the Los Angeles Coliseum to watch UCLA (3-1-0) battle California.

The only two Big Seven teams unbeaten in league play, Kansas State and Oklahoma, collide head-on with the Sooners 13-point choices in one of the most important games of the day and season.

Orange Bowl Foes May Emerge
Mighty Maryland, nation's No. 2 team, can tie Duke for the Atlantic Coast lead if it whips once-beaten South Carolina. The word from Dixie is that Carolina, which hasn't been behind in any game since its opening game loss, is ready to go, but odds-makers call Maryland a whopping 27-point choice.

So the Maryland-South Carolina and Kansas St.-Oklahoma games will go a long way to decide which

Dudley Slips From Top Spot In Punting

FORT WORTH — Walt Fondren, Houston Lamar's all-state candidate, took a big stride toward overhauling Curtis Reeves of Wichita Falls in the race for the 4A ball-carrying crown by amassing 248 yards on 16 carries last week against Milby.

Fondren's big night boosted him into second place behind Reeves, who was idle last week. Reeves has 894 yards on 133 carries for a 6.4 average. Fondren has 811 yards on 89 trips for a 9.1 reading. Larry George of Croster Tech is third with Raleigh Rutledge of Midland fourth as the season passes the half-way mark.

For the first time this season, Ed Dudley of Pampa slipped from the top spot in the punting department, Dudley, who got out of bed to play against Abilene last week, turned the leadership over to Morris Rose of Dallas South Oak Cliff, who has a 41.32 average for 40 kicks. Dudley has a 41.29 reading for 24 kicks. Abilene's Jack Oliver is a close third with a 39.8 mark on 11 punts.

For the second time this year, Sonny McLaughlin of Odessa replaced Poly's Robert Groom as the No. 1-4A receiver. McLaughlin grabbed seven passes for 51 yards last week against Amarillo to give him 229 yards on 24 catches this season. Groom is second with 315 yards on 25 receptions. Freddie Maples of North Side vaulted from seventh to third place. He has pulled in 13 for 304 yards.

Carl Schlemeyer of Odessa made giant strides in narrowing the lead of Billy Dube of San Antonio Jeff in the passing department. Dube ran into rain and mud at Corpus Christi last week and completed only 4 of 12 against Miller for a season total of 76 of 142 for 923 yards and a .525 average. Schlemeyer has 878 yards on 87 completions in 95 tries and the best average—600.

After five weeks in the lead, Corpus Christi Ray relinquished its team offensive leadership to Houston Lamar which has a 395.8 average. Ray's reading is 373.2. And in the defensive department, Baytown took over from idle Waco.

Leahy Released From Hospital

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 30—UP—Notre Dame Football Coach Frank Leahy has been released from St. Joseph's Hospital, but he won't be able to watch his Irish team play Navy Saturday, his doctor said.
Leahy was taken to the hospital last Saturday after he collapsed during the half-time of his team's game with Georgia Tech.
His personal physician, Dr. Nicolas Johns said Thursday that Leahy will "have to rest Friday and Saturday. Then I'll go over to see him Sunday and we'll decide when he can come back to school."
He said Leahy would not be permitted a direct telephone connection with the Notre Dame bench for the Navy game Saturday.

You Be The Quarterback

By WARREN GAER
Head Football Coach, Drake University
Colorado and Iowa State are 0-0 in first quarter. It is Colorado's ball on its 46-yard line, first down on the right hash mark.
The Buffaloes have run three plays. The first, around right end, made 11 yards. The second, on right tackle, made seven, and the third, again on right tackle, four yards. All three plays have been stopped by the Iowa State left halfback, who has come up faster each time to make the tackles.
As the Colorado quarterback rates these plays 1, 2, 3, 4 for this situation:
1. Slant off right tackle.
2. Flat pass to weak side (line up right, throw short to left).
3. Running pass behind the left halfback.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—UP—Mickey Mantle's chronic right knee ailment will be subjected to surgery at Springfield, Mo., next Monday in an operation doctors say is necessary to enable the brilliant young New York Yankee center-fielder to continue his career.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30—UP—Frank Stranahan of Toledo and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., tied off in the second round of the 25th Mexican National Amateur golf tournament Friday as co-favorites.
Stranahan defeated Bus Muller, 6 and 5, Thursday to win his first round match with ease. Maxwell, former U.S. Amateur titlist and his tourney's medalist with a 66 shot Wednesday, ousted John L. Salmon, 3 and 2.

Johnny Sain Quits Baseball

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark., Oct. 30—UP—Johnny Sain, Casey Stengel's "man with a heart," Friday announced his retirement from baseball to buy an automobile agency here.
The 38-year-old player who hurled one of the great pitching classics in baseball history, said he had informed the New York Yankee management of his decision in a letter mailed several days ago.
It was in 1948 when Sain was with the Boston Braves that he pitched a 1 to 0 World Series victory over Bob Feller in one of baseball's greatest mound duels.
16 Years in Baseball
Sain bowed out after 16 years in organized baseball with a notable relief job in this year's Yankee-Dodger series. He replaced Allie Reynolds in the sixth inning of the Series opener to go on and win the game, 9 to 8.
