Phillips Strike Ends With All Plants Open

The 20-day-old Phillips Petroleum strike in the tri-city area of Borger, Phillips and Buna Vista ended at 8 a. m. this morning after workers voted 943 to 144 last night to accept company proposals.

Search Continues For Two Crewmen Of Crashed B-29

ABILENE—(AP)—Searchers continued to look for a missing crew member of the B-29 which crashed near Merkel Tuesday night.

Walter Womack, farmer living eight miles South of Lake Sweetwater, told Kay Cople, driver of Wells ambulance of Sweetwater, that he heard two men calling for help in the region of the King Ranch 17 miles Northeast of Nolan and would search for them today.

Womack and his son rescued Sgt. Gregory Bussiere about midnight, after walking seven miles over rough terrain when attracted by a fire. Bussiere had built.

Womack's son walked back seven miles to an automobile and then drove 10 miles to Nolan to notify other searchers. Bussiere had a severe knee injury and was brought to Sweetwater Hospital early today.

He was one of 20 Army airmen who parachuted from the burning B-29.

Four suffered broken bones when they fell heavily in the darkness. Nine others were seriously hurt. The injured were treated at hospitals here and in Sweetwater and Merkel.

The plane, from the Army air base at Roswell, N. M., was seen in flames as it nosed over Sweetwater, Okla. The Civil Aeronautics Administration said that the pilot, Capt. Alfonso Camera of Stockton, Calif., reported the fire started in the No. 3 engine.

Police, firemen and citizens of the surrounding country-side immediately began a widespread search for the men, who began bailing out soon after the plane passed Sweetwater.

Master Sgt. Don Ellis of Paris, Texas, who suffered a broken right arm when he landed in a tree, said he bailed out at 8 p. m. and landed on a farm five miles South of Trent, Texas, 16 minutes later. He was treated at Badler Clinic, Merkel.

Ten men were treated at a Sweetwater Hospital.

Children Are Blamed For Train's Wreck

OAKLAND, Calif.—(AP)—Children were blamed by some investigators today for the wreck of the Western Pacific Railroad's Feather River Express at DeCoto.

None was killed but four crewmen suffered cuts and bruises in the wreck which occurred shortly before noon yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Al Ayers said he believed children had been in the rails the small concrete lid of a water meter box which wrecked the train.

Oregon Man Blames Legislature for Texas City Blasts

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas Legislators have been accused of all sorts of misdeeds and nefarious ill-doings but until this week nobody tried to blame them for the Texas City blast.

Representatives have received postcards from a Portland, Ore., man who asked: "Who are the ones responsible for Texas City Explosion?"

He answered his own question: "Why, the Texas House of Representatives, of course."

"Because on April 15 by a vote of 73 to 20 they chose sin (Satan) and on the day following the state began to reap the fruit of their actions," he wrote.

The House, in a frankish mood on April 15, voted down a resolution condemning sin. By Reps. George Nokes and Peppy Blount, the resolution was stricken from the record shortly afterwards.

Senate Group Approves Aims Of Merger Bill

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Chairman Gurney (R-SD) said the Senate Armed Services Committee "tentatively agreed" today to a provision setting forth the basic aims of President Truman's bill to unify the armed forces.

He hopes the committee will act finally upon it tomorrow, Gurney told newsmen after a committee session behind closed doors.

No specific amendments were actually adopted, he said, "but a clearer definition of the Secretary's power was quite generally tentatively agreed to."

The section of the bill under discussion deals with the authority of a proposed Secretary of National Defense, who would head up three separate branches: The Army, Navy and Air Forces.

Across the Capitol, the House Expenditures Committee sidetracked the unification issue to open hearings on two other, but far less controversial, Presidential plans for government reorganization.

And Chairman Hoffman (R-Mich.) of the House group told a reporter: "If anyone is blocking Army-Navy unification, it is President Truman."

"How does he expect us to get out a unification bill when he sends us a couple of these reorganizations we have to act on in a hurry? We've got to get them out before July 1."

The reorganization hearings have been scheduled to last a week. They might run longer.

Asked whether he thought that might mean no unification legislation this session, Hoffman replied: "I think we'll get it, all right. But I don't know in what form."

That was the big question before the Senate Committee as it met behind closed doors.

"We are going to try to decide whether there is to be a super-secretary of national defense, and to my way of thinking the whole thing hinges around that," Senator Maybank (D-SC) told a reporter.

Strikers Against Government Lose Jobs, Back Pay

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Employees who strike against the government forfeit not only their jobs but work done before they walk out.

That was the ruling of the Civil Service Commission today. The commission ruled that employees who strike against the government or hold membership in an organization of employees claiming a right to strike against it.

Warren held that it is "immaterial" whether an undelivered check "covers services rendered prior, or subsequent, to the actual period of the strike."

Bradley, in asking Warren for the ruling, said the men stopped work on instructions from the business agent of their union, Carpenters Local No. 1266 of Austin, Texas, because non-union painters were employed on the remodeling job.

He said the men were told by a Warren held that it is "immaterial" whether an undelivered check "covers services rendered prior, or subsequent, to the actual period of the strike."

Mother Truman Given Chance For Recovery

GRANDVIEW, Mo.—(AP)—President Truman's personal physician today gave his 94-year-old mother a chance for recovery, if she maintains her present gradual improvement.

The presence of the President at her bedside, he said, has been an important factor in the slight improvement noted in the past 49 hours.

Crutcher in a news conference in nearby Kansas City, emphasized over and over again that he was "an optimist."

He said the elderly patient had a very tired heart and a generally weak body and that she was fighting a terrific uphill struggle against overwhelming odds.

He said that if the present rate of progress can be maintained for two or three days, the possibility of the President's return to Washington might even be considered.

However, he emphasized, the matter has not been discussed with Mr. Truman who is directing the affairs of government from his mother's home here and from a hotel suite in Kansas City.

The President did not take his usual before-breakfast walk, remaining in his apartment to work on official papers.

Despite her "very tired and weak heart," Mrs. Truman rallied early last night and ate fried chicken, gravy and mashed potatoes.

The presence of the President at her bedside kept national attention focused on the sickroom drama.

The critical nature of his mother's illness has brought about his decision to remain in Missouri indefinitely. Plans have been made for him to sign the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid measure—a key part of administration foreign policy—at Kansas City tomorrow afternoon.

The signing originally was scheduled for last Monday at the White House where an elaborate ceremony involving important congressional leaders, had been set up.

Convict Jailed Pending Decision

GREENVILLE—(AP)—William J. Isom, 22-year-old convict, who cheerfully surrendered to police yesterday after an intensive three-day hunt and two thrilling chases, waited in the Hunt County jail to do with his case.

District Attorney Eugene Brady said Isom, who has escaped from five jails, either would be held here for trial under the habitual criminal statute or returned to the Huntsville penitentiary.

Isom was alleged to have stolen several cars since he tunneled from the Rains County Jail at Emory, Sunday. At the time of his release from its custody, Isom was on the state prison system on a bench warrant he was under sentences totaling 22 years for theft and burglary.

The convict surrendered to Highway Patrolman Lewis C. Rigler and Royce L. Calvert of Grand Prairie on a muddy side-road five miles north of Commerce yesterday.

The patrolmen, two of 125 peace officers who participated in the search, spotted Isom about 2 p. m. as they drove along Highway 24 from Cooper to Commerce. Isom was going in the opposite direction. They wheeled around and pursued him.

To elude his pursuers Isom turned off on a muddy road. He went about a quarter of a mile when he became mired in the mud.

As the officers drove up, Isom, weary and mud-spattered, stepped from his car with his hands up and surrendered.

One Taken Into Court After 'Shovel' Incident

Earl O. Eckrodt, Pampa, last night was arrested by city police after he hit another man over the head with a shovel in an argument over a drainage ditch on East Locust St.

Eckrodt told police and reporters he was digging a drainage ditch along the street to let water run off when Joe Bell told him he didn't want the ditch dug in front of his house. Eckrodt continued, that Bell came after him with a shovel and "took a pass" at him. Eckrodt added that when he knocked Bell down he went over and helped him to his feet.

He was arraigned before Judge Sherman White late this morning for setting of appearance bond.

Bell was taken to Worley Hospital by the Clegg ambulance, where he was treated for scalp wound and returned home.

ON HAND—Former Congressman Andrew J. May arrives at court in Washington to take witness stand in his own defense and relate, for the first time under oath, his version of his wartime dealings with the Garsson munitions combine.

May Says Money Went in Business

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Former Rep. Andrew J. May testified today in court that he had used money from the munition-making Garsson brothers and deposited to his personal bank account were used to pay expenses of a Kentucky lumber company.

The former House Military Committee Chairman is on trial on charges of taking $58,000 in bribes from his co-defendants, Murray and Henry Garsson, in return for official favors to the $78,000,000 Garsson shell-making combine.

The prosecution contends that May received a substantial part of the alleged bribes through Garsson financing of the Cumberland Lumber Company. May has denied getting any profits from the firm and has insisted he only acted as the Garssons' agent.

Questioned about a number of the Garsson checks to the Cumberland Company that wound up in his personal account, May said he could only explain that he sent the checks from Washington to his Prestonsburg, Ky., bank where he had separate accounts for himself and the company. The Garsson checks he sent bore his name as the final endorser.

"All of that money that went into my account was paid out for the Company's expenses," May said.

Shortage of raw materials for the paste has prevented widespread use so far.

Two Are Injured in Mysterious Explosion

FORT WORTH—(AP)—A mysterious explosion blasted windows from a Santa Fe "Jim Crow" passenger coach a few miles north of Ardmore, Okla., early today. Two persons were injured.

Flying glass cut Oscar Lett, 59, of Fort Worth, a news agent with the Fred Harvey System, on the chin and right leg. W. C. Brown, about 35, of Ardmore, suffered shock.

The two were riding in the rear end of a coach partitioned into three sections. Lem Thomas, special agent here for the railroad, said the blast apparently originated from the top of a water cooler built into a toilet compartment.

The coach had been picked up at Newton Kan., and was en route to Dallas. Instead, it was brought to Fort Worth where O. D. Child, division superintendent, called in FBI explosives experts.

Child said some "flash-type explosive" had damaged the coach considerably.

A third white man in the damaged compartment, a soldier was injured today.

George Williams of Cleburne, conductor with the railroad for 25 years, said he was riding in the front end of the coach with several Negroes who later were injured.

"I didn't know what happened," Williams said. "I stopped the train somewhere between Davis and Wynnewood, and then ordered it to proceed into Ardmore."

The coach did not leave the tracks, and the train was not otherwise damaged. The train was en route from Chicago to Galveston.

Thomas theorized the explosive might have been nitrogenous in nature in the compartment by seat crackers.

Denver's 20-Year Mayor Defeated By War Veteran

DENVER—(AP)—Denver's 20-year mayor, Benjamin F. Stapleton, was swept from office today by a ballot box revolt in favor of Quigg Newton, 31, a World War II veteran.

Thomas J. Morrissey, former U. S. district attorney, ran second to Newton with Stapleton a poor third to the 35-year-old attorney who won his first political campaign.

Trailing far back were District Judge William A. Black and William Dietrich, an avowed Communist.

The count in 407 of the city's 412 precincts gave Newton 78,388; Morrissey 34,829; Stapleton 17,335; Black 5,125 and Dietrich 399.

Late returns ran Newton's vote up to almost 60 percent of the total cast, which was the heaviest for any municipal election in Denver's history.

Only a plurality was needed to win and both the 77-year-old mayor and Morrissey, elected last night, within three hours after the polls closed when reports to their headquarters indicated a near-landslide for Newton.

Stapleton, who served in the Spanish-American war, has been mayor for five four-year terms, the last three consecutive, and was bidding for the next four-year term which begins June 1. Opponents persistently accused him of heading a worn-out, "do-nothing" political machine.

Newton, scion of a family prominent in Colorado since territorial days, hailed the victory as one for "non-partisan government."

"I will try to remember my pledge of a non-partisan, non-political government, based upon service to all, with special privilege to none," said Newton.

Usual Democratic and Republican party lines were split in the voting, which was on a non-partisan basis.

Service Called Necessary and Not 'Luxury'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—With the Senate ready to open debate on the House-approved $4,000,000,000 income tax cut, the telephone industry asked Congress to repeal the excise levies on communications.

This would save taxpayers another $400,000,000. The excise is levied on telephone, telegraph and other communications service.

The recommendation was placed before the House Ways and Means Committee in statements submitted by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, A. T. & T.'s associated companies and the United States Independent Telephone Association.

It was the first recommendation for a new tax cut in the committee's move toward general revisions of the tax structure, which Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) said should mean "substantial" tax reductions beyond the current $4,000,000,000 bill. The committee plans to write the general revisions into law next year.

The telephone industry asked that the communications excise repealer be made a part of the 1948 revision. The industry described this excise as a tax upon a necessary business and social service and not a "luxury" tax.

Meanwhile in the Senate, Senator Milliken (R-Colo.) predicted that opponents of a 1947 income tax cut will reach their "high water mark" on a postponement vote—but that the mark won't be high enough to block the tax slash.

The Finance Committee chairman offered the forecast as he made ready to present his opening arguments in favor of the bill today.

The legislation, estimated to trim $4,000,000,000 a year off individual income tax bills beginning July 1, was called before the Senate late yesterday by unanimous consent.

Milliken said the decision on a Democrat-sponsored motion to postpone consideration of the bill until June will be "the crucial vote." He also expressed perfect confidence that the motion will be defeated.

Possibility of Shrine Hospital In Pampa Seen

Possibility of a Shriners' Crippled Children's Hospital being located in Pampa was seen today with the announcement by Paul Crouch that tentative financial offers were made at the meeting of the Pampa Shrine Club Monday night sufficient to erect such a hospital here.

Crouch stated that he was leaving tonight for Atlantic City, N. J., along with Perry Powell, Wayne O. Keefe, and Fred Galie of Amarillo, to attend a meeting of the Imperial Shrine Council.

The group will appear before the Imperial Board, said Crouch, and ask permission for the local Shrine Club to sponsor building the hospital here. If such permission is granted, he added, the Imperial Shrine Council would equip and maintain the hospital.

Any child, regardless of race, creed or color, would be eligible for care and treatment in the hospital, Crouch declared. He added that it would be the 17th hospital of its kind in North America, and would serve all of Texas and parts of Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, and New Mexico.

Handle of the Pan Last Of Texas to Be Settled

(Editor's Note: This is the first installment of "Pioneer Days of the Plains and the Panhandle," an essay which won second prize in a research contest by William H. Bush Memorial. Amario, It was written by Mrs. C. D. Hobart, pioneer resident of Pampa.)

Do we stop to think that we are the Handle and the rest of the State the Pan and that the Handle was the last part of the State of Texas to be settled? And then to realize that our Panhandle is part of the great American desert, the "Staked Plains," or the Llano Estacado of our childhood days is almost breathtaking!

We find in the early half of the sixteenth century, just 20 years from the time Cortez captured the City of Mexico, that the fabled wealth of the Indian tribes of the Southwest excited the imaginations of the Spaniards, who a few years before had found great riches in the cities of the Aztecs, and believing that these Indian tribes were also rich in silver and gold, and excited by the reports, Coronado set out in search of the cities of gold—"The Seven Cities of Cibola."

With a well provisioned train, several hundred friendly Indians and 250 Spanish horsemen, he advanced into Texas. Coronado was the first white man, undoubtedly, to enter the Panhandle, and he wandered back and forth across the plains country several times. It is recorded that he endured hardships, perhaps never surpassed in history. It was a trail blazed with suffering and disappointment, accompanied by constant conflict with the Indians, and ending with starvation and disillusionment.

Although this was in 1541, the first people to really inhabit the Panhandle were the wild Indians, and back of the buffalo and Indians, this country was the home of the mastodon, the sabre-tooth tiger, etc.

Following Coronado, the Panhandle was practically undisturbed by white men for 300 years, and then came the early explorers, who in 1820, 1831 and 1832, pictured this country as unfit for civilization. Major Long, Josiah Gregg and Captain R. B. Marcy, who wrote that the Plains country and the Northern Panhandle were waste lands and uninhabitable desert too dry for agriculture and seemed only fitted for the haunts of the mustang, the buffalo, the antelope, and their migratory lord, the prairie Indian. However, Marcy was impressed with the healthfulness of the country and Gregg said that the great prairies were vast enough to afford pasturage for all the cattle of the United States.

The life of the Panhandle may be conveniently divided into four main periods, viz: the Indian, the buffalo hunters, establishment of large ranches, and the agriculturists or settlers.

The first period, the Indian stage, occupied a long stretch of time. They were positive this land in the Panhandle was theirs, the undisputed and uncovered home of the Plains Indians—happy people in their nomadic life and tribal wars, free as the boundless plains over which they roamed. They neither knew, nor wanted any luxuries beyond those they found in the buffalo and deer around them. In such ways they were provided with food and clothing and the covering for their lodge. Their diet was almost entirely meat.

Some of the Spanish horses had been lost or abandoned in Coronado's day and with later events had been transplanted to the desert lands of this new world. They flourished and increased rapidly. The Plains Indians soon imitated the Spaniards and caught up these wild horses or mustangs and learned to ride them. The inauguration of the Spanish horse among the Plains Indians completely changed their manner of living. When the Indians was once mounted he came to be an expert horseman. Every warrior had four ponies. His war pony was his treasure above every earthly thing. Then his buffalo pony, his distance pony and his pack horse. The mounted Indian was master of the Plains for three centuries and more, and for most of this period he kept first, the Spaniard, and later the Anglo-American from invading and occupying the Plains. These Indians became great horse thieves and this was regarded as an honor. Now the Indians might have been permitted to run at large for a few more years, but for the fact that some of them persisted in their old habits of raiding the frontier settlements. These visits were ordinarily made to steal horses, but the savages did not hesitate to kill white people and almost every raid they took away with them captive women and children, and left behind the mangled bodies of frontier citizens and the smoking ruins of ranch houses.

There were many tribes here in the Panhandle, but the Kiowas and the Comanches were the most powerful and the most feared. The United States government made its first peace treaty with the Plains tribes in 1853. Each side pledges certain things. This treaty was not kept by either of the two contracting parties.

Following the Civil War in 1863 these same tribes were again called together for a second treaty. For the first time a definite territory

England Out To Strengthen Her Empire

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
British military authorities in London disclosed that the projected withdrawal of England's main Mediterranean and Middle Eastern defenses to East Africa is to be accompanied by an economic, social and political development in Africa which will be "truly historic."

Hot on the heels of this momentous statement we see British, French and Belgian Colonial administrators meeting in Paris to discuss a program for intensive development in Southern, Central and equatorial Africa. They tell us that this great project is to be started at all this has been going on without a word of trumpet. India is only now we get a close-up preview of a vast enterprise that is calculated to strengthen a British empire which some gloomy prophets have said darkly was breaking up.

This prediction DEWITT MACKENZIE has been voiced more persistently since mighty India with her four hundred millions has been granted her independence, thereby removing one of the brightest gems from the Imperial Crown.

Winston Churchill said a few days ago that Britain would continue to play a leading role in world affairs, "albeit not in the full stature of former days." He added: "It is my unshakeable faith that if we do not hard times ahead—we shall come through the difficulties in the end."

I don't think we can quarrel with such an estimate, always provided as indicated in yesterday's column—England doesn't forget that her fate as a sovereign democracy is linked with America's.

The term "breaking-up" isn't an apt one to use in connection with the changes in the British empire. It is undergoing a metamorphosis which thus far has resulted in dividing it into two parts—the British Commonwealth of Nations (comprising sovereign states) and the empire (including the dependencies). These two divisions complement each other.

There is a question of whether India will want to remain within the commonwealth when her independence has been formalized. However that may be, Britain has scattered around the globe many great and potentially rich colonies which are inhabited largely by primitive peoples. In the ordinary run of things these colonies must remain within the empire for many decades before they will be capable of self-government.

It is to some of the most important of these colonies that England is turning vigorous attention, judging from the London announcement. Within British East Africa, British West Africa and British South Africa are a large number of colonies, totaling hundreds of thousands of square miles and inhabited by many millions of Africans.

These possessions contain rich natural resources and there are great tracts which are prime for the growing of cotton, tobacco, rubber, peanuts, and many other products, as well as for cattle raising.

Thus when England has weathered her present economic crisis, and has set the wheels to turning in her richest colonies, she should do well for herself. As Churchill says, she will continue to play a leading part in world affairs.

SPORTS LINEUP

By Bob Bray

There has been some talk among the local railbirds that Manager Grover Seitz is considering turning southpaw Bob Bailey, currently working first and pitching one occasionally, into a full-time pitcher—that is, if the Oilers can find a first sacker to fill Bob's fleet shoes.

Provided a worthwhile first sacker can be located, it appears that the change might prove beneficial in view of the fact that Bob is a fair hurler and would doubtless improve considerably if given a chance to work steadily.

The outstanding feature of any such shift would be the fact that loop batters just don't seem able to hit a portlander. As long as a lefthanded hurler can throw them across, the chances of his being a successful pitcher are way above those of a righthander with the same stuff on the ball.

Double headers, which incidentally use up a lot of pitchers, are due to get underway here again. The Gassers, who at the last reading had won three games straight, two from Pampa and one from Lubbock, are scheduled to meet the locals twice—the first game at seven, the other immediately following. Both will be seven-innings.

There will be two games here Sunday, when the Oilers meet Clovis in the afternoon and again that night. By then, if the games are played per schedule, the pitchers will probably begin rubbing their arms.

About Berger's Gassers—we may be way off base, but we believe they are now ready to develop into a top bracket club. With their new first sacker, Leon Mitchell, hitting the ball with heartening regularity, and with the addition of Whitey Warren, probably the league's smartest catcher, to the lineup, this seventh place slot should be a thing of the future. That is, as soon as they've had enough games to average the columns a little better.

Seitz tried every way in the world to sign Warren, but couldn't make it worth his while, for Whitey has a good job. We are told that Whitey will keep his job under the Gasser contract and play ball at home, at Amarillo, here and in the tight spots.

Dallas Rebels Climb Two Steps On League Ladder

(By The Associated Press)

The Dallas Rebels moved up two notches on their comeback trail today and landed in the first division of the Texas League for the first time this season. Dixie Series champions in 1946 and picked as the team to beat this year, the slow starting Rebels have been in seventh and eighth place most of the season.

They advanced last night by defeating Tulsa's Oilers, 2-1. Port Worth took a double header from Oklahoma City, 2-1 and 4-2. Shreveport's game at Beaumont and San Antonio's tilt at Houston were rained out.

Fort Worth's 2-1 victory was a replay of a protested game of April 25 which the Cats won by the same score.

Tonight's game started with the score 1-1, two men on base and two men out in the last of the ninth inning, the point at which the Texas League office ruled that Port Worth catcher Anderson should have been called out for illegal batting.

Danny Ozark singled in the 13th inning of tonight's game scoring Irving Noren with the winning run. The victory gave Clarence Podbieln, who had pitched the disputed game, his third victory against no defeats. It was Calvin Dossert's first loss. He has won three games.

Dwain Sloat won his fifth victory in the nightcap, while Oklahoma City's Johnson was charged with his third loss. He has won two and lost one in the last three games.

Mark Heath and C. F. McGinnis will meet in the consolation of the championship flight and Orville Heiskell will meet the winner of the Ted White and Ed Givens play in the first flight consolation.

Other final and consolation matches: Second flight: Ernie Hardin vs Allie Barnett (final); Walter Fade vs Jimmy Howard (cons.). # Gold Sox Beat Oilers Again to Move to 1st

AMARILLO—Tom Spears set the Pampa Oilers down with three hits here last night and punched a base-cleaning double as the Amarillo Gold Sox won a 4-1 verdict.

All of the scoring was in the sixth inning. One hit, two walks and an infield bobbler let in Pampa's run. Amarillo came back with four on a walk, a hit batsman, two singles, and Spears timely two-base slash to the left field fence.

Bob Bailey, regular Pampa first sacker, pegged for the Oilers, permitting only seven hits, three of which were for extra bases. Bailey walked in the first run in the sixth, then tossed one too fat to Spears. Otherwise he was superb.

National Open Is Getting Back To Prewar Size

NEW YORK.—The National Open is fast getting back to prewar proportions, if the size of the entry list for the 1947 tournament is any indication.

When entries closed yesterday, the names of 1,305 golfers had been posted for the qualifying round June 2 that will sift out 126 for the championship field at the St. Louis Country Club June 12-14.

Another 45, exempt from the sectional trials to be held at 26 sites throughout the country, qualify automatically, bringing the total entry to 1,350—second largest in the 47-year history of the classic.

This is 175 more than last year—first of the postwar tournaments—and only 52 under the all-time record of 1,402 for the 1937 Open, according to Joe De, executive secretary of the U. S. Golf Association.

Eleven former champions are among those excused from the qualifying round. They include Lloyd Mangrum, 1946 titlist; Ralph Guldahl, winner of the 1937-38 and holder of the all-time National Open scoring mark of 281; Gene Sarazen, also a two-time winner, in 1922-23; Tommy Armour, Billy Burke, Tony Manero, Sam Parks, Jr., Craig Wood, Lawson Little, Chick Evans and Johnny Goodman.

Others in the exempt category are par-buster Ben Hogan, Jimmy Demaret, leading money-winner so far this year and 1947 Masters' champion, and Sammy Snead, British Open champion last year.

The sectional trials themselves should provide some good competition. The New York Metropolitan eliminations, for example, will see champion and Harold (Jug) McSpaden, winner of the 1943 unofficial National Open staged during the war.

New York Giants Wallop Reds 9-1 To Win Seven of Last Eight Games

(By The Associated Press)

The startling resurgence of the New York Giants is matched only by the almost incredible performance of its talented rookie phenom, Clint Hartung.

Last place finishers in 1946, the Giants today lead the National League and have won seven out of their last eight games.

The hard-hitting of Johnny Mize and Walker Cooper have figured prominently in the Giants' dramatic turn to the top but the talk among the Giants is all Hartung.

Hailed as a combination Bob Feller and Babe Ruth even before he reported to the Giants' spring camp, the likeable Hartung began the season as an outfielder but allowed more base hits with his inept fielding than he accounted for at the plate.

The Giants wanted to farm him out for seasoning but whenever he was placed on the waiver lists, he was claimed, so manager Mel Ott sent him to work out with the pitchers.

He turned in a startling relief job his first time out, limiting the Boston Braves to two safeties in six innings. In his initial start against Chicago last week, he was hit hard.

Called "Floppy" by his mates, Hartung last night turned back the Cincinnati Reds, 9-1 in a night game in the Rhineland, scattering eight hits, walking only two and fanning three. In addition, Hartung rapped out a triple and single as the Giants sailed into four Cincinnati pitchers for 15 blows.

The Cubs squeezed out a 3-2 11-inning decision in the Philadelphia Phillies at Chicago with pitcher Lonnie Frey breaking up the game with a bases loaded single. Harry Walker of the Phils had a perfect four for four to increase his league-leading batting average to .400.

Hank Greenberg knocked the Boston Red Sox out of a second place deadlock with the Cubs by singling eight hits, walking only two and fanning three. In addition, Hartung rapped out a triple and single as the Giants sailed into four Cincinnati pitchers for 15 blows.

The Cleveland Indians pulled to within two games of the Tigers by downing the Yankees, 4-2, in New York to sweep their three game series from the Yanks.

At Philadelphia, Bob Muncie turned in the Fort, Louis Browns' first win of the year over the Philadelphia Athletics in five games as the Browns supported his four-hit pitching with a 13 hit attack that resulted in a 1-1 decision.

The Chicago White Sox also remained within easy halting distance of the lead by turning back the Washington Senators, 7-4 beneath the lights in Washington.

The night game between Brooklyn and St. Louis at St. Louis was postponed because of rain.

INDIANAPOLIS.—(AP)—There was possibility today that the field may be opened for late entries in the Indianapolis motor speedway's 500-mile race, but holdout "name" drivers weren't at all sure they'd be in by May 30 lineup.

"The speedway has done everything except offer more money to get us in, but it will take money," said Red Mays, a driver in the hold-out American Society of Professional Automobile Racers.

Although none of the aspar holdouts has made a move to get into the race, the American Automobile Association's contest board has anticipated a reopening of entries when and if a last car owner agrees to a waiver movement.

How to Be Lovable

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"What makes a girl lovable?" asks a questionnaire in front of me. The poll is, of course, a publicity stunt—this one staged in the interests of a group of ready-to-wear manufacturers.

Abandoning the set questions of the poll—here is a list of qualities and attributes I'm sure will help to make a girl lovable.

1. The ability to make the most of whatever looks nature handed her.
2. Complete femininity—in her manner, her dress, her walk, her attitude and ambitions.
3. A happy-hearted, not too serious acceptance of men's attentions.
4. The ability to talk instead of chatter.
5. A live-and-let-live attitude toward other people—especially toward other girls.
6. Enough wisdom to keep her from ever acting possessive toward a man.
7. A good opinion of herself, resulting in a deep-rooted, unshakable self-respect.
8. Enough sex appeal to get a man interested in the first place and the good taste to direct it toward only one man at a time.
9. Warmth of personality, with nothing about her to suggest the bored dead-pan type.
10. A sense of humor to make her easy to get along with and fun to have around.

Fine Arts Program Presented at Tea

SHAMROCK (Special)—Highlighting the social affairs of the week was the tea given by a trio of hostesses for the Athenaeum Club Friday afternoon, honoring members of the Times Club.

The affair was given at the home of Mrs. B. F. Holmes with Mrs. E. K. Caperton and Mrs. William F. Holmes as assistant hostesses.

The home was artistically decorated with cut flowers. The tea table was laid with an exquisite cutwork cloth and centered with a bowl of sweet peas. Appointments were of crystal.

Mrs. B. F. Holmes greeted the guests as they arrived and Mrs. William Holmes and Mrs. Caperton presided at the punch bowl. As the guests assembled, Mrs. Lyle Holmes played piano selections.

Mrs. T. M. Tindal presided and introduced the guest artist who presented a fine arts program to a very enthusiastic audience.

The program opened with vocal selections "Gavotte" from Manon (Massenet), and "L'Amour-Toujours-L'Amour" (Rudolph Frlm), by Miss Delores Scott, who was accompanied by Mrs. Lyle Holmes.

Mrs. Gaston Harbour gave a sketch of the life of Lillian Hellman, playwright, and a brief review of her six plays: "Children's Hour," "Days To Come," "The Little Fox-

Continue Plans For Poppy Day

"Help and hope is the meaning of the memorial poppy to those who are paying the human cost of our world-wide victories," Mrs. Oscar Huff, rehabilitation chairman of Kerley-Crossman Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary continued preparations for the annual observance of Poppy Day, May 24.

"All the money contributed by those who wear poppies in memory of the war dead goes to aid the war's living victims, the disabled veterans, their families and the families of the dead," she explained. "The dimes, quarters and dollars dropped into the contribution boxes of the volunteer poppy workers are the principal source of support for the continuous rehabilitation and civil welfare work of the Auxiliary."

The Government does much for the disabled but the Government cannot do everything. There are many veterans and veterans' families which do not come within the legal provisions for compensation. There are many others whose compensation is too meager to meet their needs. There are many fields of service into which official agencies cannot reach and there the Auxiliary goes with aid made possible by the poppy contributions.
