

To Fearful Of Rift With Friends In The West

The Pampa Daily News

Politicians are a set of men who have interests aside from the interests of the people, and who, to say the most of them are at least one long step removed from honest men. I say this with greater freedom being a politician myself.

Oil Progress Week Parade Slated Today

Beauties, bands and oil equipment were to be featured in the Oil Progress parade today, starting at 3:30 p.m.

Twelve beautiful girls—all students of Pampa High School—were to ride in convertibles, each seeking the honor of being named "Miss Oil Progress."

The winner, selected by three out-of-town judges, was to be announced following an address by Rep. Walter Rogers. The crowning of "Miss Oil Progress" was to be done by the congressman.

The parade was to move out from the starting point on West Foster—promptly at 3:30 p.m., according to Dan Gribbon, parade chairman.

He announced the following line of march: east on Foster to Russell; north on Russell to the Junior High School; around the school to Cuyler; south on Cuyler to Brown, from where the equipment units were to disband.

The convertibles were scheduled to remain in the line of march and move west on Brown to Hobart and then around to south lawn of the courthouse where Rogers was to speak.

Heading the parade was to be a color guard, composed of representatives of the Pampa National Guard unit, followed by bands from Pampa High School and Junior High School and Lefors High School.

The winner of the Miss Oil Progress contest will receive an all-expense paid trip to the State Fair in Dallas on Oct. 23, 24 and 25.

The winner and her chaperon will be flown to Dallas by Cap Jolly.

The 12 candidates are: Sophomores, Joan Robertson, Carol Henry, Shirley Keel and Anita Southard; Juniors, Peggy Cotten, Carol Foster, Nancy Harrison and Margie Roundtree; Seniors, Beverly Rogers, Leta Inmon, Su Stone and Gayle Nell Carter.

The $10-a-plate Oil Progress Week banquet was held Tuesday night at the Pampa Country Club, attended by 250 pet. team executives. Proceeds from the banquet will be used to finance the Oil Progress Week observance here.

County 'Drenched' With Inch Of Rain

An early morning rain today brought as much as an inch of rain in some sections of Gray county.

The official rainfall figure here, as reported by radio station KPND, was .53 inch.

Farmers in the southern part of the county reported rainfall of an inch or more.

Whether this moisture will be of much help remains to be seen, but agricultural men were of the opinion that the rain would be a great help to winter wheat that already has been planted.

However, they agreed that it would be of little value to wheat to be planted after this rain.

The rainfall was accompanied by and followed Tuesday's high winds.

The high temperature reported an electrical storm and wind here Tuesday was 88 degrees, while the low was 54 degrees. The temperature near noon today was 63.

White Deer reported nearly an inch of rain, accompanied by an electrical storm and high winds.

Greek Royalty To Visit U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—UP—King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece will visit the Southwest when they make a month-long tour of the United States, the State Department said Wednesday.

The itinerary of the royal couple, who will arrive in Washington Oct. 28, include the Grand Canyon, Nov. 18; Houston, Nov. 18, and New Orleans, Nov. 19-20.

Draftees To Leave

Ten men from the Pampa area are slated to leave for Amarillo Oct. 22 for induction into the army, according to a Draft Board spokesman. Five inductees will depart on Nov. 19.

Dressen Fired

NEW YORK, Oct. 14—UP—Charley Dressen who directed the Brooklyn Dodgers to two straight pennants, was fired Wednesday by President Walter P. O'Malley in a disagreement over the length of a new contract.

"The Brooklyn Dodgers will have a new manager next year," O'Malley said in a bombshell announcement. "Charley Dressen and I have different ideas about the length of a contract. I fully appreciate Charley's point of view, especially since other clubs seem to be hiring their managers for two or three years. I guess there is something about keeping up with the Jones."

However, the Brooklyn club will not deviate under any circumstances from its policy of one-year contracts. That is absolutely the only reason Dressen is not being rehired."

It had been reported that Dressen had been seeking a two-year contract at $50,000 a year.

There was no immediate indication who the Dodgers had in mind to succeed Dressen.

It marked the first time since 1928 that the manager of a pennant-winning team had been fired. Branch Rickey, then general manager of the Cardinals, ousted Rogers Hornsby that season after he won the National League pennant and the World Series from the New York Yankees.

Dressen had managed the Dodgers since 1961. They were beaten out of the pennant that year in a three-game play-off by the New York Giants.

He had succeeded Burt Shotton, whose club had lost the pennant on the final day of the 1950 season to the Philadelphia Phillies.

Dressen's first pennant winner with the Dodgers in 1952 lost the World Series to the Yankees in seven games, while this year the Dodgers lost to the Yankees in six.

OIL PROGRESS BANQUET — A highlight of the observance here of Oil Progress week was the Oil Progress banquet held Tuesday night at the Pampa Country Club, which was attended by some 250 oil executives and invited guests. Curtail Beef, Cattlemen Ask WATERTOWN, S. D., Oct. 14—UP—Cattlemen with strong congressional backing pressed the Eisenhower administration Wednesday to spend millions of dollars to curtail the abundance of beef available to consumers.

South Dakota livestock groups told the touring House Agriculture Committee Tuesday they want the government to trim "several million surplus" head from expanded cattle herds.

They asked that it be done through government buying of beef for shipment abroad with foreign aid funds. The object would be to bolster depressed cattle prices which have slumped by one-third during the last year.

Travels to Sioux Falls, S. D.

The committee, traveling by chartered bus, headed southward Wednesday toward Nebraska, stopping at noon in Sioux Falls, S. D.

It will meet with cattlemen at Norfolk, Neb., Wednesday night. Rep. Robert Harrison, (R-Neb.) said the committee probably will find considerable support there for stepped up government beef buying.

The committee last Saturday asked Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson to provide a support price for cattle. But it has found little backing for that from Midwest livestock groups, even from South Dakota farm spokesmen, who told the committee Tuesday government price guarantees for their products should be boosted.

The government beef-buying plan would amount to indirect price support for cattle. It would be in addition to the 225 million-pound government beef purchase program now underway to bolster cattle prices. Only $10-million of this beef is earmarked for foreign aid shipment.

Secret Documents Used By Commies

NEW YORK, Oct. 14—UP—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy said Wednesday that top secret government documents concerning radar and other vital matters have turned up in Russian East Germany and "were used by the Communists."

McCarthy's permanent investigation subcommittee is investigating the disappearance and possible theft of the defense documents from the Army Signal Corps laboratory at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

The senator said he had "completely convincing testimony" that the papers were found in the Soviet zone.

McCarthy refused to say how many documents managed to find their way into the hands of the Communists, but Sen. Everett M. Dirksen said Tuesday night that 26 of 57 missing documents were involved. Dirksen is a member of the subcommittee.

McCarthy refused to reveal how his investigators located the documents. He said, however, that the disappearance of the documents "definitely involves espionage."

The Wisconsin Republican opened the third day of hearings into security leaks at the secret Signal Corps installation by calling two former Fort Monmouth civilian employees, who were recently suspended as security risks.

The witnesses were Hyam G. Yamins, 43, of Newton, Mass., a radar specialist who acted as liaison man to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Harold Duocore, 34, of Long Branch, N.J., an electronics engineer. It was the first appearance before the subcommittee for both.

Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens, who sat in on the hearings Tuesday, returned Wednesday to hear more testimony about the "security leaks" at Radar laboratory.

Stevens said he was "intensely interested" in the testimony.

Three Affected Here By PMA Ban

The United Press report Tuesday to the effect that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson plans to abolish the Production and Marketing Administration came as a surprise to Miss Evelyn Mason, manager of the Gray County PMA office.

This was the first she had heard of the secretary's plans, she said. "It is usually about a week after announcements are made to the press before we receive official notification," she added.

Benson announced Tuesday that he plans to abolish the PMA and the Bureau of Agriculture Economics by assigning their functions to other existing agencies and one to be created.

The closing of the Pampa PMA office would affect three employees, Miss Mason, Mrs. Frank Thomas and Mrs. J. V. Young.

Crisis Rumored As Dulles Flies To Big 3 Meet

State Heads Say Meet Not Urgent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—UP—There was evidence of international crisis Wednesday — despite State Department denials — in Secretary John Foster Dulles' plans to fly to London for a Big Three conference.

Dulles meets Friday with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault. He will return Monday.

The State Department insisted the conference had no hurry-up aspect. But men on the lower departmental desks, who normally would know of such plans weeks in advance got the word only a short time before public announcement of the London flight.

It was learned the transatlantic exchange of messages which set up the meeting began only a few days ago.

Best judgment here was that the Trieste situation suddenly demanded more urgent and personal attention than had been expected, although other matters of greater long-range importance are sure to be discussed in London. Decision to permit Italy to occupy a portion of the Trieste area, disputed with Yugoslavia and maintained since the war as neutral ground by Anglo-American occupation troops, involved what is called a calculated risk. Such sometimes go wrong.

Marshal Tito's protests and threats were expected. But neither London nor Washington may have been prepared for the chance Tito might actually begin to move his armies if the Italians moved.

If the Trieste situation sparked the London meeting, it could be because Dulles and Eden are no longer sure Tito is bluffing. Some means of easing the Trieste crisis will be sought in London, well-informed persons here believed.

The Trieste trouble came after the free nations only recently had obtained some advantages in the Cold War. The greatest of these were the June riots in the Soviet Zone of Berlin, a shocker for the Kremlin.

British Prime Minister Winston Churchill plugged again last week for a Big Four meeting of heads of state — himself, President Eisenhower, French Premier Joseph Laniel and the Soviet's Georgi M. Malenkov. Churchill or Eden is likely to raise that again with Dulles, but the Eisenhower administration still is not convinced it would be good international politics.

Tito Fearful Of Rift With West Allies

BELGRADE, Oct. 14—UP—President Tito was reported concerned Wednesday about the prospect of a public quarrel over Trieste in which Yugoslavia would be aligned with the Communist nations against her western allies.

Russia's move to put the issue before the United Nations undermined Tito's attempts to settle the problem quietly in a four-way conference among Yugoslavia, Italy, the United States and Britain, an authoritative source said.

The source who is close to the government said the Russian move to debate Trieste in the Security Council has effectively halted Tito's overtures for a meeting among the four nations concerned.

Fear of unwelcome Russian support and consequent damage to relations with the West have made Yugoslav leaders hesitate in the past about taking the Trieste question before the UN, the source said.

Anti-western demonstrations and riots following the Anglo-American decision to turn Zone A over to Italy were reported to have embarrassed and worried Yugoslav officials.

Some of the largest crowds ever seen in Belgrade streets roared through the sixth day of protest demonstrations Tuesday against the Anglo-American decision.

Huge Party Honors Ike

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—UP—President Eisenhower was 63 years old Wednesday and bearing up well under the glittering burden of the most star-spangled birthday celebration in generations.

He scheduled a full day in his office, including appointments with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and the British ambassador, before starting out late Wednesday night on five-state speaking tour that will take him from Ohio to the Mexican border.

There was little inclination at the White House to hold a birthday celebration of any size Wednesday night. The extrava-ganza Republican staged Tuesday night at Hershey, Pa.

Unequaled in Recent Years

There was nothing in recent American history like the Hershey party for size, glitter and theatrical production. It had everything from a massed chorus of 1,800 voices chanting "I Like Ike" to golf pros chipping sponge rubber.

C-C To Install New Officers

New officers and directors of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce will be installed at a dinner meeting Thursday, Oct. 22, at 7:30 p.m. at the Pampa Country Club, it was announced today by Lynn Boyd, president.

The new officers will be elected early next week by members of the advisory board after the ballots for the election of board members are counted next Friday.

Installing officer will be Ben Blanton, executive vice president of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Boyd pointed out that the installation, which in the past has been held at the annual chamber banquet, is being held a week before this year's banquet to cut down the length of the program. "This is not to be confused with the annual banquet to be held on Oct. 29," he said.

U. S. Agents Figure Kidnapers Will Lead Them To Ransom

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 14—UP—Federal agents cling to their belief Wednesday that Carl Austin Hall or Bonnie Brown Heady would lead them eventually to the hiding place of $300,000 ransom money still missing in the Bobby Greenlease kidnap case.

The kidnapers, showing no remorse for their wanton killing of the six-year-old kidnap victim, persisted in claiming they don't know what happened to the missing half of the $600,000 ransom payment.

Airplane Crash Fatal To 48

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 14—UP—A twin-engine Belgian Sabena airliner crashed on take-off from suburban Rhein — Main airfield here Wednesday and officials at the field said all 48 persons aboard were killed.

Area Cotton Yield Said 'Pretty Good'

An estimated 20 per cent of the cotton crop in southwestern Gray County and in Wheeler County has been pulled and there is still a need for cotton-pullers.

Bill Ragsdale, manager of the local Texas Employment Commission office, early this week made a tour of the surrounding cotton areas and figured that the total crop will amount to about 15,000 bales of cotton.

Though cotton-pullers are needed in all the cotton area, the only urgent need is in Wheeler. Ragsdale said. The pay is $2 per 100 in the field.

Cotton gins in Shamrock, McLean, Wheeler and Twitty are running 12 hours and more each day, he reported, adding that cottonmen are getting one-fourth to one-third of a bale per acre — "pretty good for this section."

Emphasizing that "the cotton problem is not serious yet," the TEC official maintained that a "bad weather of any kind" after the cotton was completely opened would change the picture.

The 1953 cotton crop has been an odd one, Ragsdale pointed out. "It started out as a bad cotton

Shivers Names Eighth Justice

AUSTIN, Oct. 14—UP—Gov. Allan Shivers Wednesday announced appointment of District Judge R.W. Hamilton as chief justice of the Eighth Court of Civil Appeals at El Paso.

Hamilton, judge of the 70th Judicial district, succeeds the late Chief Justice P. R. Price.

Shivers named William E. Dradrick of Odessa to succeed Hamilton as 70th district judge, in a district comprising Midland and Ector counties.

Famous Artist Visits Pampa

Norman Rockwell, the famed illustrator, was in Pampa this week.

Famed for his Saturday Evening Post cover pictures, the artist stayed at a local hotel Monday night and told hotel officials that he was on his way to Denver, Colo., to establish a "famous artists' school."

Rockwell was accompanied by a representative, Henry Chamberlain. Rockwell checked in about 5:30 p.m. Monday and checked out sometime the next morning.

Conservation Of Oil Stressed By JayCee Speaker

Oil progress is oil conservation. Glen M. Stearns, Dallas, chief engineer for the British-American Oil Company, carried out this theme of Pampa's Oil Progress Week Tuesday noon at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce by listing five causes of oil waste. They are lifts between royalty owners and oil producers; too high a production rate; excess surface storage; depressed prices; and premature abandonment of a well. Introduced by Clayton Husted, Pampa, chairman of the American Petroleum Institute's oil industry information committee, Stearns insisted that "efficient recovery" is one of the best means of conservation, that conservation includes proper exploratory methods, proper refining methods and the best use of the manufactured product. Pointing out that the United States produces 6 1/2 million barrels of oil per day, the Dallasite stated that, actually, more than that amount is used because of imports. One trouble with oil practice today, he averred, is that the oil underground is not being replaced by nature as fast as it is being used. Says he: "We leave as much in the ground as we produce." Stearns concluded his talk to the Jaycees by giving detailed technical data on a typical oil field and its formations, plus an aside on the "legal complications" that can arise. Two other oilmen were guests of the Jaycees. They were C. I. Birdwell, Pampa, local superintendent; and Paul Kindsvater, Midland, district superintendent for the British-American Oil Company.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE Correct Finesse Will Help Game

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service.
A finesse is a finesse is a finesse, as Gertrude Stein might have written if she had ever taken up contract bridge. Nevertheless, all finessees aren't equal. It may be important to try your finessees in the correct order, as South discovered in today's hand. West opened the five of hearts, and declarer quite properly put up dummy's queen of hearts to win the trick. South heaved a discreet sigh of relief and counted his tricks: two hearts, a spade, a diamond, and four clubs. One additional trick was needed for the contract. South saw that there were lots of finessing possibilities, but he couldn't tell one from another without a formal introduction. Hence he got to his hand with a club and tried his luck at finessing the queen of diamonds. It didn't work. East won with the king of diamonds and returned a heart. South held up the ace of hearts until the third round, but this did him no good. He had to try a spade finesse in the attempt to make his ninth trick, and West took the queen of spades and the rest of the hearts to set the contract. South made his mistake when he put all of his eggs into the one basket of the diamond finesse. The correct line of play allows South to break more eggs—and to make his contract. After winning the first trick in dummy with the queen of hearts, declarer should lead the jack of spades and let it ride for a finesse. This loses to West's queen, and West leads the king of hearts. South holds off the second round of hearts, but wins the third. Now South tries the diamond finesse. This also loses, but South isn't beaten yet. He can still get to dummy with a club and try a second spade finesse. When that finesse succeeds, he makes his contract. There are three finessees altogether, two in spades and one in diamonds. South makes his contract if any one of the three succeeds, provided he begins by forcing out the spade entry to West's long heart suit. But if South tries the diamond finesse first, he can no longer rely on just one successful spade finesse.

Director Seeks Love Letters To Portray On Video Program

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 14 —UP—Housewives, don't tear up those old love letters you've got stashed away in the attic trunk—they may be worth money to you if you can build a story around them. There's a television producer in Hollywood named Martin Horrell who's looking for true confessions from housewives all over the country. He needs your stories for his TV Sound Stage program. "Every person in the world is positive that he has a story to tell," says Horrell, "and all he needs is the time to write it. As a matter of fact, the majority of these people are right. "Of course, a story must be put together skillfully and with a positive knowledge of dramatic impact before it's used. But that doesn't mean the story has to be a professional job when it's first sent in." Horrell said television uses up scripts and story plots as fast as a blast furnace devours fuel. This means producers have to look beyond the usual professional market.

Scripts for that program I bought from a convict, a member of the Roosevelt family and from a hospitalized GI," he said. "Because television is a family entertainment medium, we want our stories from families who can recognize themselves in similar situations. If we can also help these people solve their problems via TV sound stage, so much the better." Rejection slips come sugar-coated from Horrell. No script goes through his editorial offices until it is sympathetically and carefully considered. If it is found unsuitable, a personal letter goes out containing suggestions. It takes more than jotting down a few disjointed ideas to sell to Horrell's show. But he doesn't want his contributors to go out and live dangerously. "The things that happen right in your family circle," he concluded, "usually prove to be more believable and dramatic than the south sea romance you dream up. Just think of the shows you like best on TV—then write your own story."

Brown Speaks To Red Cross Group

Main speaker at the Red Cross executive board meeting in the Schneider Hotel Tuesday was Paul Brown, United Fund chairman, who spoke on the United Fund as a community project, announces Mrs. F. W. Shotwell, executive secretary of the Pampa chapter. Reporting on the meeting she attended in Austin last week, Mrs. Shotwell explained that 52 chapters from five states were represented there and Walter D. Miller, Red Cross manager of the Midwest area, spoke on the current trend in fund-raising toward community united effort. Although the Red Cross has been unable to join such efforts as the United Fund in the past, Mrs. Shotwell pointed out, the chapters were given a one-year commission to do so at the meeting, while the Governing Board works on a feasible plan to allow them to do it each year. Following Mrs. Shotwell's report, the board named Mrs. Clifton High as Grey Lady chairman.

Third Barbershop Quartet Organized

A third local barbershop quartet has been formed. Tentatively known as Doc Jones and His Sawbones, the group was organized Monday night and will participate in Pampa's annual parade of quartets at 8 p.m. Nov. 21 on the steps of the Junior high school auditorium. Personnel for the new quartet are Del Hurst, Borger, tenor; Bob (Porky) Parkinson, lead; Rev. Porter Brooks, baritone; and Dr. Calvin Jones, bass. This brings to three the total number of local quartets. Others are the Chord Craftmen and the Squeaky Door Four. Indications today were that there might even be a fourth such organization formed before this year's barbershop shopping session. Sponsor of the event is the Pampa chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America. Bunny Shultz is president.

County To Buy Savings Bonds

Gray County commissioners have decided to plow $50,000 gathered from oil and gas lease rentals, school bond sales and matured bonds into U. S. Government bond, Series "K". Action came Monday afternoon in the second part of the county commissioners' court meeting at which County Auditor Ray Wilson and Floyd Imel, local banker, were present. Pointing out that Series "K" bonds pay 2 1/2 per cent interest (whereas Series "G" pay 2 1/2 per cent), commissioners passed a resolution authorizing County Treasurer Oll Gregory to purchase the bonds for the permanent school fund. In other action, the commissioners: Passed a resolution approving the construction of a dwelling place for M. K. Alford, the new Perry LeFors Field manager, costing $5,750. Lynn Boyd Lumber Company, Pampa, was the low bidder among eight for the job. Passed another resolution amending the previous resolution, to permit the spending of an additional $108 on the Alford home. Amended the Gray County budget to permit two new expenditures—$20, spraying the lake area; and $69, equipment for the farm agent. All four commissioners were present, though County Judge J. B. Maguire Jr. was absent. Next meeting of the court is Nov. 2.

Father Returns To Claim Child

VAN NUYS, Calif., Oct. 14—UP—A young father from Oklahoma City, who said he gave his six-month-old son to a Van Nuys woman on a bus in Texas because he was broke and ill, was here Wednesday to claim the child. Darel Lee Frazier, 22, arrived Tuesday to find Mrs. Phyllis Simons, 17, had turned the baby over to juvenile authorities and they would retain custody of the baby pending disposition of the case. "I just let Mrs. Simons have the baby until I could get to a hospital," Frazier said. "I gave her four dollars." Mrs. Simons last week told authorities Frazier gave the child, Donald Lee, to her at Amarillo, saying he could not afford the bus trip to California and would hitchhike to Bakersfield, Calif., and then get in touch with her.

Secret Service Paving Ike's Mexico Trip

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 —UP—President Eisenhower's trip this week through the Farm Belt and into Mexico follows long preparation by the Secret Service and other officials for his protection and comfort. Trained teams of advance men from the Secret Service and the Army Signal Corps have covered every stop on the trip in minute detail and sent their reports to Washington. These reports have been incorporated into a bulky secret timetable and list of persons with whom the President will come in contact from the time he leaves the White House Wednesday night until he returns Monday night. This elaborate planning and checking is standard for any presidential trip. If any unusual precautions have been taken, they concern Mr. Eisenhower's brief visit across the United States-Mexican border Oct. 19. As far as could be determined at the White House, there were no special orders for finger printing anyone at any of the stops. If the Secret Service followed normal precautions, waiters and cooks

Magician Show Tickets On Sale

Ticket sales are underway for the 4-H Club-sponsored Magician Show in the Junior High School auditorium, Friday at 7:30, according to Jerry Mobley, assistant county agent. Purpose of the show is to raise funds for judging teams, baking contests, the annual picnic and other 4-H activities. Arnold Furst, world-wide famous magician, will perform many remarkable feats, including decapitating a boy, sawing a girl in half and pulling a live rabbit from a hat, Mobley stated. Tickets may be purchased from a 4-H club student or in the county agent's office.

Mrs. Richard E. Jackson OF 2510 37th, LUBBOCK, TEXAS, LIKES
ELECTRIC COOKING!

Mrs. Jackson finds electric top-of-range cooking cool and clean. All the heat goes into the food to be cooked—none spills over to heat up the kitchen. She likes the even baking and economy of electric oven-baked cookies and other pastries, pies and meats. Meat shrinkage is at minimum with electric baking. Too, she likes the easy method of preparing timely meals. Before going out, Mrs. Jackson sets oven controls—meals cook electrically while she's gone.

She says -
"Some of the outstanding features I like about electric cooking are the cleanliness and the coolness of my kitchen, the easy method of preparing timely meals, the even baking and economy. For my family of four, it costs only a few cents a day to prepare the meals."

Pampa Greets Air Tourists

Many Pampans were on hand Tuesday afternoon to greet the 18 planes participating in the All Texas Air Tour when they arrived at Perry LeFors field for a 25-minute visit.

Approximately 60 planes, carrying about 150 persons, had been scheduled to visit here, but many of the lighter planes were sent directly to Plainview because of the high winds in the Pampa area, which made flying hazardous.

The first plane to land here shortly after 2 o'clock was that of Mrs. Josephine Allison of Dallas. Accompanying Mrs. Allison was Mrs. Doris Weller, Dallas.

Miss Evelyn Prine of Dallas, queen of the air tour, was among the early arrivals.

Heading the visiting flyers was Asa Burroughs, Austin, manager of the air tour, and Mrs. Burroughs.

The visitors were greeted in a short ceremony in the Cabot Com. pines hanging with Mayor Tom Rose giving the official welcoming address. Miss Prince and Burroughs responded. Short talks also were given by Frank Culbertson, chairman of the Aviation committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce; Lynn Boyd, president of the chamber, and D. E. Holt, a member of the Gray County Airport board.

Burroughs told the Pampans that the members of the tour had been served many different varieties of food, but that "this is the first time we have had watermelon."

Watermelon, donuts, coffee and soft drinks were served to the visitors.

Rep. Rogers' Itinerary

Rep. Walter Rogers today was scheduled to make two appearances in Pampa.

One was this morning before welfare officials in the office of John B. Hessey, state welfare area supervisor. The other was on the south lawn of the Courthouse, following the Oil Progress Week parade, slated to get underway at 8:30.

For the next two weeks, he said this morning, he'll be all over the 18th Congressional District. At 8 p.m. today he'll be in Claude at a Farm Bureau meeting. It will be the Shamrock Rotary Club at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Friday and Saturday Pampa's congressman will be taking care of appointments in Pampa and Amarillo. Monday he'll meet with the Amarillo Kiwanis Club at noon and a Baptist-Brotherhood get-together at night in Phillips. Tuesday he'll appear at a joint Rotary-Lions meeting in Memphis.

In Childers and Memphis Oct. 21, Rogers will be in Paducah Oct. 22 for a Lions Club meeting where he'll introduce Sen. Robert Kerr (D-Okla.). Oct. 24 Rogers will meet with the Wellington Farm Bureau.

Midnight Oct. 24 Pampa will switch over to dial telephones and the congressman expects to be here for some kind of ceremony in connection with it. After a meeting Oct. 27 with Amarillo Home Builders, the representative will be back in Pampa Oct. 29 for the annual Pampa Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Macaroni and vanilla were introduced into the United States by Thomas Jefferson, third President.

Mainly About People

Mrs. J. M. McCracken returned to her home southwest of Pampa Monday after a week's visit in Tulsa, Okla., with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Carl Morgan, and her now grandson, Kevin Carl Morgan.

The Westernaires will play for dancing at the Southern Club Wednesday, Oct. 14, Ladies Free.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Reed, 1132 Prairie Dr., became the parents of a boy at 2:40 p.m. yesterday in the Highland General Hospital. The baby weighed 7 lb. 13 1/2 oz. and is named Randall Wayne. Naomi Turner formerly with Orchard Beauty Salon is now associated with Modern Beauty Shop, and invites her friends to call 717.

A girl weighing 6 lb. 13 1/2 oz. was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Hayes, 2136 Coffee, at 10:39 p.m. yesterday in the Highland General Hospital.

Miss Gloria Jay of Shreveport, La., is visiting with her mother.

Home Nursing Course Ends

In case of disaster or atomic attack, three Pampa women and four from Skellytown will assist those well-prepared to meet the situation, advises Mrs. F. W. Shotwell, Red Cross executive secretary of the Pampa chapter.

These women have just completed a home nursing course, taught by Mrs. Walker Noel, who was assisted in demonstrations by Mrs. Clifford Jones and in class arrangement by Mrs. Herman Jones and Mrs. Wallace Fahle.

Twelfth City In-Dam Project

And now there are 12.

C. A. Huff, Pampa, president of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority, has received word that Littlefield has appointed a representative to the authority and will hold a confirmation election Nov. 24 with the other 11 communities in the project.

Littlefield was the only one of the 12 not represented Oct. 5 in Plainview at the organization meeting of the authority.

Mainstay of the project is the proposed $85,000,000 dam north and west of Borger, near Sanford.

Other communities in the authority are Pampa, Plainview, Amarillo, Borger, Lubbock, O'Donnell, Slaton, Lamesa, Levelland, Brownfield, and Tahoka.

Nickel Coffee Disappearing

Thursday is the day when the nickel cup of coffee is supposed to make its exit from Pampa drug stores. To be succeeded by the 10-cent cup.

However, several of the drug-giants have changed their minds and are planning to keep the price down at the five-cent level.

Others plan to "try the ten-cent price for a while to see how it goes."

Druggists met recently to discuss the raising of the price of coffee and decided to put the price raise into effect on Thursday.

Junior Play Set Nov. 9-10

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," a comedy in three acts by Jean Kerr, will be presented by the Junior class of Pampa High School on Nov. 9-10.

This play is based upon the famous novel by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough, which was filmed into a successful movie starring Gail Russell and Diana Lynn.

The leading roles of Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough will be played by Betty Osborne and Charlotte Hoggart respectively.

Leading male roles will be played by Gary Griffin as Leo and E. Jay McVain as Dick. These boys are Harvard medical students, who also are going to Paris, France.

Glenda Dudley will be Mrs. Skinner and Tommy Lockhart will portray Otis Skinner. Others in the cast are: Margie Roundtree, Therese; Kermit Harmon, the admiral; Nancy Harrison, Harriet; Jan Smithiesler, Winnifred; Marchetta Hall, Madame Elise; D. I. Wilkerson, Monsieur de la Croix; and Norma Briden, stewardess.

Four roles were double cast for the two night performances. Don Fuller and Benny Cartwright were picked as pursers; Kenneth Van Sickle and B. D. Robinson, steward; Aveline Hogsett and Dorothy Johnson, inspector; and Robert Fleming and Lloyd Brummett, window cleaner.

Miss Helen Schafer, head of the speech department, will direct the play. Charles Wood was named stage manager, and Mary Ann Guthrie will be assistant director. Jo Tooley is publicity chairman.

Servicemen Due Packages From Red Cross Group

The only Christmas gifts many servicemen may have this year will come from Red Cross packages, states Mrs. Rufe Jordan, chairman of the present drive for gifts for the servicemen on the high seas.

Anyone may contribute one gift or many which should be brightly wrapped and presented at the Red Cross office in the City Hall. Mrs. Jordan pointed out. The deadline to do so is nearly here as time must be allowed for the packages to reach the men before Christmas.

Gifts which may be sent are a pencil with a clip, photograph folder, billfold, pencil-type flashlight, bottle opener, key ring, cigarette case pocket-sized novel, comic book, playing cards, oilskin pouch, ballpoint pen, gum or candy in a cellophane bag. Donors are urged to put their names on the packages or include a note, advises Mrs. Jordan.

OIL PROGRESS

was Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, who made a humorous address. He was introduced by Curtis Douglass, master of ceremonies.

Douglass also introduced several other prominent oil men and guests. Among these was Uncle Billy Frost, to whom Douglass referred as being the dean of all Panhandle oilmen. Frost, who is more than 90 years of age, was born in Pennsylvania. He worked in many oil fields in Pennsylvania, Oklahoma and Texas. He retired several years ago from the old LeFors Oil Corp. He now makes his home in Pampa.

Others introduced by Douglass were Rep. Rogers, George Cree, Sr., Gene Green, Gribbon, E. O. Wedgeworth, J. W. Graham, Jr., Clayton Husted, Fletcher Kennedy, Pete Birdwell, Pat Patterson and George Cree, Jr.

The week's observance will continue Thursday with a free dance at the Southern Club, beginning at 9:30 p.m., with the Mello-Aires furnishing the music. The dance is being sponsored by the Pampa unit of the Oil Industry committee of the American Petroleum Institute.

Canadian Event Attracts 225

CANADIAN — (Special) — An estimated 225 men of the area attended the annual Canadian Rural-Urban steak fry and get-together in the City Auditorium Tuesday night.

The steak fry was sponsored jointly by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and the Canadian Rotary Club.

Principal speaker at the dinner was Marshall Formby of Plainview, member of the State Highway Commission. Formby was appointed to the Highway Commission early this year and is the first commissioner to have been appointed from the High Plains area.

Tom Abraham, president of the Canadian Rotary Club, introduced the speaker with a short "boyhood history" stating that he and Formby had been students at Texas Tech in Lubbock together.

Formby praised the co-operation of city officials, the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club in their effort in staging the rural-urban get-together, then launched into an interesting history of the Texas Highway Department which was first organized in 1917. He named highways as one of the most important things for which public money may be spent, and backed up the statement with a comparison of the backwardness of communities, and even countries, that are lacking in good highways as to the progressiveness of areas that do have them.

Citing the 2,200-year-old Applan Way as an example of the permanence of well built roads, the speaker made a point for building well the highways that are to be built in our time.

Formby gave a few figures to show his listeners the magnitude of the investment in roads in Texas. He stated that 140 million is in the form of Federal aid. His solution to the problem of traffic accidents would lie mostly in providing safer and better roads.

The pressing problem, he said, is the need for the widening of 6,200 bridges and approximately 5,000 miles of highways that should be made into four-lane divided roads. He touched on the matter of toll-roads now under study in Texas and closed with a word of praise for the 9,000 employees of the State Highway Department, especially the maintenance men for their untiring work in time of blizzards and other storms.

Pampa Woman Dies Here Today

Mrs. Ava Bell Culbertson of 1036 S. Wells died at 12:25 a.m. today in the Highland General Hospital.

Born Dec. 19, 1914, in Young County, Mrs. Culbertson had been a Pampa resident for approximately 10 years.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Campbell, Breckenridge; a daughter, Mrs. Fern Berry, Pampa; five sisters, Mrs. Monte Haggard, Pampa; Mrs. Gladie Stokes, Howard, Colo.; Mrs. Pearl Dunham, Winters, Mrs. Odessa Painter, Amarillo, and Mrs. Elvin G. a l o w a y, Breckenridge; three brothers, Ernest Campbell, Hereford, Everett Campbell and Elton Campbell, Breckenridge.

Funeral services will take place at 2 p.m. Thursday in the chapel of the Dunkel - Carmichael Funeral Home with Rev. Ed Hall of St. Paul's Methodist Church officiating. Burial will be in the Fairview Cemetery.

City Studies New Disposal System

Pampa may be getting a new garbage disposal system.

Within two or three weeks, four or five city officials will probably travel to Clovis, N. M., for a look at that city's method of collecting garbage, according to City Manager B. H. Cruce.

Possibility of such a jaunt loomed Thursday noon following an appearance before the city commission of Sid Paterson, former Pampa, now representing Dempster Brothers, Detroit.

Paterson proposed to commissioners that they investigate the feasibility of purchasing "dempsey dumpsters," boxes — for holding trash — that can be hoisted up by a truck and carried to a disposal area. Estimating the cost at $14,700, Paterson said that would include a 2 1/2-ton truck, the hoisting equipment and 22 boxes, a number he recommended for Pampa. But the hoisting gear could be installed on any truck.

Cruce this morning said that he, Sanitation Superintendent L. B. (Eush) Haggard, City Director of Public Works James Cowan and one or two city commissioners would probably make the trip to Clovis, a city that employs the same system.

Commissioner Gene Fatheree, Cruce said, has already contacted Odessa City Manager Dick Pepin, former Pampa city manager, on the subject. Odessa uses the set-up, too.

Grey Ladies To Meet Tuesday

The newly organized Grey Lady group will hold its second meeting Tuesday, 9:30 a.m., in the Red Cross office, advises Mrs. F. W. Shotwell, executive secretary of the Pampa Red Cross chapter. Mrs. Clifton High, Grey Lady chairman, will be in charge.

The orientation meeting of the group was held Monday, stated Mrs. Shotwell, with Dr. Julian Key speaking on visitation in the hospital.

Oilman Speaks To Rotarians

Alvin Hall, representative of the Phillips Petroleum company at Bartlesville, Okla., was to be the speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Pampa Rotary club today at noon in the Palm Room of the City Hall.

His talk was to be along the same lines as his talk Monday night at a meeting of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute.

Girl Scout Meeting Scheduled Thursday

The Girl Scout Leaders Club will hold a reorganizational meeting Thursday at 9 a.m. The meeting which will last until 11 a.m. will be conducted by Mrs. Bob Andis.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

Oh, WHERE is my wandering ad tonight?

That's a fair question and deserves a factual answer. When you buy newspaper advertising you have an investment in every copy of the paper that carries your sales message because the circulation of the newspaper is also the circulation of your advertising. So, what you get in return for your advertising dollars depends on the newspaper's circulation. In order that you may buy space in this newspaper as you would make any sound business investment, we hold membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations,* well known to advertisers and publishers as A.B.C. Only publications with paid circulation — evidence that people want the paper — are eligible for membership.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office to make a thorough audit of our circulation records. The FACTS that he obtains as a result of the audit are published in A.B.C. reports which tell you: How much circulation we have; Where it goes; How obtained; How much people pay for our paper, and many other FACTS that you need in order to KNOW what you get for your advertising money.

It's never necessary for our advertisers to ask, "Oh, where is my wandering ad?" They get the FACTS from our A.B.C. report and KNOW. Ask for a copy today.

*The Audit Bureau of Circulations is a cooperative, nonprofit association of 3,450 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. established a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring circulation and methods for auditing and reporting circulation FACTS.

Leather Creations Provide Excitement In Season Fashion Picture

The leather creations which have provided a good bit of the excitement in the fashion picture this season can become part of the budget-minded girl's wardrobe. Silk fringe trims Spanish sash (left) which can be made in either suede or capeskin. The pouch bag shown with it can also be made at home. Braid, spangles and caviar beads combine to trim the bolero (upper center). Epaulettes are made from semi-circles cut from 10-inch circles. Waist cincher (lower center) requires three pieces of suede or capeskin. Feather bone inside front edges and at side seams do cinching job; braid squares or diamonds decorate. Versatile collar and cuff set, lined with silk or taffeta and edged with braid, has real dash and can be worn on any simple dress.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Have you been tempted to bustle after eyeing the lavish leather items that are now being featured on the fashion pages? You can keep your budget intact and have your leather fashions, too, if you know your way around a needle or sewing machine.

One sewing machine company has just introduced a noiseless machine that is designed to sew everything from crepe paper to leather without any adjustments or attachments. Said to be jam-proof, this machine features a set of picture windows which show the type of stitch before you start sewing.

One of the loveliest leather fashions is a spangled bolero that can be made in either suede or capeskin. You can use a regular sleeveless bolero pattern for it. Epaulettes are made from semi-circles cut from 10-inch circles.

For a really fabulous touch, line the bolero in black taffeta, sew narrow silk braid along the border and epaulettes and small squares or diamonds of braid to the front and along the back. Then dot it with spangles and round jet caviar beads.

A very effective fashion accessory would be an ascot made in suede or capeskin to match your gloves or handbag. You'll need a piece 33 inches long and 7 1/2 inches wide. Cut ends on a slant for pointed design and sew in two side for tapered effect.

A large Peter Pan collar can be made from a piece measuring 10 by 11 inches. Cuffs require a piece 19 by 6 inches. Line with silk or taffeta in matching or contrasting colors and edge with braid.

Three pieces of leather are needed to make a waist cincher. Front sections are graduated to four inches in depth at sides where they are sewn to ends of the back section. Sew feather bone inside front edges and at side seams and line the cinch in black silk or taffeta.

Sew braid along border and scatter braid clusters over the garment. A scrap of leftover suede or capeskin can be used to make a billfold. Place oblong of leather over back of billfold from five-and-dime store and sew their edges together. Border in black silk braid and decorate with braid squares or diamonds and beads or spangles.

To make a smart Spanish sash, you will need three sections. Two pieces, 7 by 24 inches, make the long sash ends. Upper edges of long ends are sewed to waist-band ends. Black silk fringe in any width trims lower edges of this sash.

You can even make the popular pouch handbag in leather. Start with a circle of leather 24 inches in diameter pasted to a 6-inch cardboard or buckram circle as the base. Yard-long leather drawing string is pulled through a narrow casing sewn at two inches from the leather circle's edge for ruffled effect. Fringe trims base.

Editor's Note: A booklet, "How to Sew Leather," may be obtained without charge by writing Sills and Company, 39 West 37th Street, New York, N. Y. Free instructions for making any of the articles mentioned above may also be obtained.

Mrs. Don Boyd Is Hostess To Members Of El Progreso Study Club In Home

Mrs. Don Boyd, 1504 Hamilton, was hostess to members of El Progreso Club Tuesday afternoon. Guest speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. E. W. Crews who presented program on "The United Nations Plus You."

Mrs. Crews gave a basic structure of the UN. Mrs. Crews pointed out that each member as an individual may help by learning about the purpose and set-up of the UN, following the activities and urging community organizations to sponsor programs on the United Nations group.

Mrs. Henry Gindorf, a new member, was introduced by Mrs. Sam B. Cook and Mrs. R. W. Rasmussen.

The next meeting of the group will be held in the home of Mrs. Harold Wright, Mrs. Rasmussen will give the program.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Boyd, Cook, Crews, W. R. Ewing, T. M. Johnston, Knox Kinard, J. Edmund Kirby, H. L. Ledrick Jr., Grundy Morrison, Carlton Nance, Dave Pope, Rasmussen, George Walstad, Harold Wright and Henry Gindorf.

Second "Neurosis" Program Is Given In Delphian Society Chapter Meeting

Mrs. J. G. Lyons presided at the recent meeting of the Gamma chapter of the Delphian Society held in the City Club Room.

The second program on neurosis was given by Mrs. W. R. Ewing, leader, Mrs. H. L. Gunter, Mrs. A. D. Hills, Mrs. Knox Kinard and Mrs. Azelle Loftus.

In the discussion it was pointed out that psychotherapy has valuable lessons for the normal person in how to handle the problems of his or her own life. It was also stressed that in recent decades pride of character and conviction about moral rules had become unfashionable. The program leader also added that it is a refreshing experience to learn that psychotherapy has come forward with a social wisdom embodied in the very same moral rules that have been so recently flaunted.

Zybach-Wright Wedding Party Honored At Dinner

CANADIAN — (Special) — A rehearsal dinner for the Zybach-Wright wedding party and guests was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burnett recently.

Assisting Mrs. Burnett with the dinner were Mrs. John Q. Davidson and Mrs. Albert-Bernson.

Other members attending were Mrs. Carl Axelson, H. H. Boynton, Sam B. Cook, R. W. Carr, J. D. Schroedel, Orville Thornburg Jr., and C. B. Thompson.

Next meeting of the discussion group will be held Oct. 26.

Pampa Art Club To Bring Exhibit Here From Museum Of New Mexico Art Gallery

The Pampa Art Club has completed arrangements to bring here a public reception at 4:00 p.m. for the second consecutive season a Museum of New Mexico Art Gallery traveling exhibition, Mrs. A. D. Hills, chairman, announced today.

The exhibition selected for the 1953-54 season, entitled "Southwestern Landscape in Color Wood Cut," is scheduled to open in the Public Library Art Room on Tuesday, with a public reception at 4:00 p.m. This colorful and interesting exhibit includes twenty wood cuts of southwestern landscape subjects by Santa Fe artist Gustave Baumann, nationally famed for his work in exacting medium. Mr. Baumann last year was named honorary Fellow in Art of the Museum of New Mexico, at the opening of a huge retrospective show of his prints in the Art Gallery.

The dinner was served buffet style. Guests were seated at quarter tables decorated with flowers in the bride's colors, pink and white. Favors representing the bridal party were of spoons dressed in crepe paper costumes. Those of the bride and groom were sterling silver in their chosen pattern.

Those present were Miss Louise Zybach, Gene Wright, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Tucker, Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Rowsey, Miss Nancy Alexander, Miss Dorothy Bernson, Miss Norma Bernson, Mrs. Emma McElreath, John Q. Davidson, Walter Burnett, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zybach.

Mrs. David Grayson Is Hostess To Club

WHITE DEER — (Special) — Mrs. David Grayson was hostess to the Venado Blanco Study Club when members met in her home recently, with Mrs. Jo Hysmith as co-hostess.

The public is cordially invited, said Mrs. Hills, to attend the opening reception and to view the exhibit during its two-weeks stay in Pampa.

One Act Comedy Is Planned By Group

WHITE DEER — (Special) — The Masquers of White Deer High School began rehearsals last week for their first production, "Antio Spring," a one-act comedy, which will be presented as an assembly program Oct. 21.

Lyda Spears and James Huffines, Thespians, will direct the play.

The story, much of it told in pantomime, deals with the incidents of a picnic excursion in the springtime.

The characters are: Ginger, the older sister, Claudine McCoy; Sam, a football hero, A. C. Malone; Gwendolyn, Sam's sweetheart, Cheryl Chance; Blorom, a noisy little girl, Carolyn Horner; Elbert, Ginger's younger brother, Buddy Smith; and Robert, a poetic young man, John Parsons.

Eagles, Broncos Dominate District 1-A Statistics

Lewis Among Top Scorers With 2 TDs

The Abilene Eagles and Odessa Broncos dominate the first week of play in District 1-A in offensive and defensive statistics, according to a release today by district statistician Cliff Wright of Amarillo.

The Eagles and Broncos furnish the leader in all but two of the statistical departments. Johnny Baskin of Berger leads in puntling with a 55.7 average on three kicks while Russell Rutledge of Midland and Lon Slaughter of San Angelo share the lead in scoring with 18 points apiece.

In the other six divisions of the statistical breakdown, Abilene and Odessa furnish the leader. Abilene leads in both team offense and defense. The Eagles combine their rushing and passing for 512 yards against Berger to lead in total offense while allowing the Bergerans 121 net yards rushing and passing, the best defensive mark compiled in the first week of play.

In team passing, Odessa is the leader with 11 completions in 15 attempts for 733 average.

Ronny McDearman of Abilene is the leading rusher with 204 yards gained on 14 attempts for a 14.6 average per carry. Rutledge of Midland with 191 and Ed Dudley of Pampa with 166 yards rank second and third in rushing.

Carl Schlemeyer of Odessa is well ahead in passing with 108 yards gained on 11 completions in 15 attempts. Schlemeyer also is the total offense leader. He gained 33 yards running against Lubbock which gave him 231 yards total offense.

Sonny McLaughlin of Odessa is the leading pass receiver with five catches for 107 yards.

At right is the complete statistical data for District 1-A (includes district games only):

Dudley Passes 400 Yard Pace

Ed Dudley upped his season rushing average to more than 100 yards per game for the full season in last week's Amarillo game according to The Pampa Daily News statistical figures on the Pampa Harvesters.

Dudley romped for 166 yards against the Sandies last week which gave him a season total of 425 net yards gained from scrimmage. Dudley has carried 49 times for a 8.2 average per carry.

Harold Lewis approached the 400 yard mark in the Sandie game with 392 yards gained which upped his season total to 279 yards. Lewis' net yardage is 259 in 44 carries, an average of 5.9 yards per carry.

Dudley retained his scoring lead with one touchdown in the Sandie game, giving him 33 points for the year. Lewis pulled into second place in the scoring with 24 points. He scored twice against Amarillo.

The Harvesters went through a 3-hour drill yesterday in preparation for this week's tilt at San Angelo. All hands took part in the workout. There was no contact work in the drill.

The Green and Golders worked on defense of San Angelo plays in addition to polishing up their own offense.

Following is the season statistical data on the Harvesters:

ANNOUNCING — the new 1954 Plymouth automobiles are three Pampa agencies, Pursley Motor Co., Plains Motor Co., and Cornelius Motor Co. Above is the six-passenger Belvedere sport coupe which typifies the new styling of the 1954 Plymouths. All new Plymouths are available with power steering and with Hy-Drive, a no-shift combination.

Miami Personals

MIAMI (Special) — Jack Tucker of the Phillips Chemical plant, Borger, was the principal speaker at the Men's Service Club's first fall meeting Tuesday. Tucker spoke on "Our American Way of Life." It was announced this week that Clinton Hayes has sub-leased the Miami Theater from Leon Craft, who had leased the business several weeks ago from D. J. Faggard. The Crafts are moving to Kansas City.

The American Legion Post is planning a steak supper for all veterans of World Wars I and II and the Korean War. The supper is to be held in connection with a current membership drive. Mrs. James Snyder was hostess last week to both the Wesleyan Service Guild and the Forty-Niners Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Christopher were hosts to a group of former Miami school teachers who still live in this area and correspond with each other recently. The get-together was the second of a series of annual reunions for the group, their meeting last year being held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Corse of Sunray. Present were Mrs. Tavia Wienboer and children of Borger, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Corse and son of Sunray, Mr. and Mrs. James Estes, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Petrusone and children of Amarillo.

Annette and Jean Carole Low spent the weekend in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Low.

David Bean, a student at Texas Tech, spent the weekend in Miami. Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Maddox returned home last week from a month's vacation in Mineral Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff White and son Tommy of Spearman spent Sunday in the W. H. Carr home. The Whites were returning from a football weekend in Dallas where they saw the games between S. M. S. and Missouri and the T. U. O. U. III.

FOR IKE'S EASE — John Furio displays a pair of golden slippers he made in his New York shop for President Eisenhower. The Italian-born cobbler made the shoes to "express his gratitude for being an American citizen." It took nine months to fashion the black velvet slippers which are size 10 1/2 D. The seal of the U. S. is embroidered on each toe, as is the green wreath of the seal of Texas, and a gold star, symbolic of the President's birthplace and Army rank.

Kidnap Loot Causes No Public Rush

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 13 — UP—Kidnap loot of $300,000 was not being hoarded in a public place, according to a report from the Missouri highway patrol, which keeps a close eye on the area, reported traffic normal since the reports were published.

Patrolmen said they haven't seen anyone out with a shovel digging for the loot. Belief that the ransom was buried or hidden in the Meramec valley area when it was discovered Hall was gone for four hours in a rented car with two suitcases of money last Tuesday.

When he returned to a Highway 66 motel to meet cab driver John Hager and a woman, Sandra O'Day, there was mud splattered over the car and the suitcases were gone. Hall had put 80 miles on the rented automobile's speedometer. A shovel and two garbage cans Hall had bought were also found. But Hall said later he had changed his mind about burying the money because he couldn't find a suitable place.

Stories of treasure caves in the Meramec valley caves are legend. There are hundreds of the caves, some of them extending back into the hills for thousands of feet. They were used as hideouts by guerrillas during the Civil War. The notorious Jesse James gang, according to legends, used the biggest of the caves, about 50 miles southwest of St. Louis, as a hideout for many years.

Lombardo Not Planning To Change Style

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 — UP—It's no trade secret television has done practically nothing for the popular orchestra, quite contrary to the tremendous effect radio had on the band field.

"They keep telling me," Guy Lombardo said, "that for television audiences a band has to have a gimmick. My managers keep telling me that if I only permit them to dress up my band with a gimmick, they'll have a sponsored television show for me tomorrow."

Stairs Are Faster
NEVADA CITY, Calif., Oct. 14 — UP—City firemen will scramble down the stairs from now on when an alarm is sounded instead of sliding down the traditional brass pole.

Tablecloth Champ
NASHVILLE, Tenn. — UP—A man moved in on feminine competition at the Tennessee State Fair to win first prize for a crocheted tablecloth. E. O. Moon, 64, a post office employee, said his wife taught him the art 39 years ago.

Clark Gable Says He'll Be Happy To Remain A Bachelor

By ROBERT MUSEL
AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Oct. 14 — UP—As happens occasionally even in the most loving of families, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Mature had a few words and the film star slumped moodily into a chair opposite Clark Gable, called for a drink and murmured something about problems.

Dim View Of Climbers
BOULDER, Colo., Oct. 14 — UP—University of Colorado officials, realizing the state they're in, heartily endorse mountain climbing.

Sympathetic Audience
SYRACUSE, N. Y. — UP—Judge William H. Bamerick asked persons in his courtroom to answer "yes" or "no" as to whether he should suspend the speeding fine of John McDermott, 17. They answered "yes." McDermott said he was speeding in his wedding.

Train Breaks Nose
BETHPAGE, N.Y., Oct. 14 — UP—Police reported Wednesday Robert Wanser, 40, broke his nose "pushing a train."

Investigation disclosed Wanser, an employe of the Long Island Railroad, was trying to move two freight cars by using a plank as a lever against one of the train's wheels.

The plank broke and a piece of timber flattened Wanser's nose.

A Colossal Fraud

Throughout the ages men and women worthy of their salt have provided for their own livelihood. Self-reliant, self-respecting individuals and nations with initiative have become great serving the needs of mankind. In so doing they have also prospered far beyond the limits of Social Security, without the disgrace and demoralizing effect of accepting charity or public aid.

In recent years, do-good social politicians, a new form of parasite living on the work of others who never have or could do a day's useful work or manage a business of their own, have appeared on the scene.

Through political legislation they have been allowed to usurp authority and power to manage the affairs and businesses of others, and with the natural disastrous results. The same politicians are always ready and willing to provide Social Security from the cradle to the grave, at public expense, of course, so long as someone is willing to vote them into some fancy and good-paying public office. Naturally they are not concerned about robbing Peter to pay Paul for the favors.

Since politics is the path that leads to corruption, crime and destruction, it is little wonder that two-thirds to three-quarters of the population has been contaminated by the disease.

Here are the cold, hard facts that ought to be faced by all of us, keeping in mind that starvation or privation except by those who sought it or did nothing to avoid it were virtually unknown in America before the advent of Social Security.

Social Security premiums are collected from individuals, so it ought to follow that each person should be credited with the exact amount of insurance for which he or she pays. This means that the benefits derived should vary for each person in accordance with the amount of premium paid. Naturally such a system is impossible under the Social Security fraud.

To have "A" pay the premium for insuring the security of "B" is obviously unconstitutional.

To compel "A" to buy individual insurance whether or not he is paying the premium for insuring the security of "B" is an equally obvious unconstitutional action.

The arbitrary and compulsory insurance of individuals by any social government is as unconstitutional as if a private insurance firm forced individuals to take out insurance or else be jailed. If such action is constitutional, so is picking pockets and robbing homes.

No Congress, court or person has ever or will ever establish the fact that it is the duty of social governments to support the aged through inequitable compulsory insurance schemes. On the contrary, the laws of nature provide that each person shall be self-supporting. This is self-evident and even proven by the fact that the Social Security premium has to be collected from individuals before it can be refunded to them.

When the people of any state or nation fail in their duty to be self-supporting individually, then Social Security will be of no value because the premium will not be paid by anyone. The people are thus headed for degeneration, decay and death through the cancerous growth of political schemes.

Working in slave labor camps or being in jail also provides social security. However, these and other forms of compulsory security are nothing less than communism in actual operation in the guise of social welfare. The social welfare depends exclusively on the economic status of individuals, the improvement of which is impossible without a scientifically established economic order.

Do It Yourself

You are clear out of the swim today if you haven't been bitten by the "do-it-yourself" bug.

You might as well not show your friends that new room unless you drove every nail yourself.

Unless you can top your friends' loyal and enthusiastic "oh's" and "ah's" with, "Of course, we did all the inside finishing," you can't expect them to be really impressed.

And don't even bother showing off that "new" chest in the living room unless it was rescued from the attic or junk shop and you worked three months with sandpaper and paint remover on it.

Once women used to say, "You must see Helen's new house. Every bit of it was done by so-and-so, the high-priced decorator."

Nowadays you are much more likely to hear, "You must see what Mary and Jim have done to their house—every bit of it themselves."

At that, it is a pretty sane and sensible trend. It encourages men to take a real interest in their homes, and it keeps them home.

It teaches children that their parents are pretty smart people. A daughter may not be impressed by her mother's ability to bake a pie, but let mom pitch in and paint a room and her daughter takes a second look.

A son may not know much about dad's ability in his own business or profession, but is he proud when dad turns out a gun cabinet in his spare time.

"Education For 1948" Or The "Aimlessness Of Education"

I want to continue to quote and comment on the folder issued by the Foundation for Economic Education on "Education for 1948." It is a summary of Dr. Arthur E. Bestor Jr.'s, article on the "Aimlessness in Education," which first appeared in the Scientific Monthly in August, 1952.

Under the heading of "An 'Engineered' Consensus" Dr. Bestor writes:

"The Follow-Up Study is not an attempt to ascertain public opinion; it is a cynical effort to manipulate public opinion. It is obviously designed to manufacture the appearance of public support for curricular changes that professional educators have determined upon in advance. This purpose comes out stark and clear in the official statements explaining the questionnaires: 'Given the American tradition of the local lay-control of public education, it is both necessary and desirable that a community (patron, pupils, teachers) consensus be engineered in understanding support of the necessary changes before they are made.'"

"We approach here the real meaning of what these educators euphemistically describe as 'democracy in education.' It is the democracy of the 'engineered' consensus.

"The lighthearted prospectus of these curriculum engineers contains this exhortation: 'There are many ways of getting under way in a program of curriculum revision. The important thing is that we need to pry ourselves loose from the present situation. Maybe one lever will do the prying loose; perhaps, it may require several. Pick your lever(s) and let's get started.' The metaphor is apt. The kind of lever that one uses for prying things loose is sold in hardware stores as a wrecking-bar.

THE THREE R'S OUTMODDED
"Uncontrolled discretion will at last be vested in up-to-date school administrators like the author of the following remarks, which were addressed to the National Association of Secondary-School Principals and published in its official proceedings:

"Through the years we've built a sort of halo around reading, writing, and arithmetic. We've said they were for everybody—rich and poor, brilliant and mentally endowed, ones who liked them and those who failed to go for them. Teacher has said that these were something 'everyone should learn.' The principal has remarked, 'All educated people know how to write, spell, and read.' When some child declared a dislike for a sacred subject, he was warned that, if he failed to master it, he would grow up to be a so-and-so."

"The Three R's for All Children, and All Children for the Three R's! That was it."

"We've made some progress in getting rid of that slogan. But every now and then some mother with a Phi Beta Kappa award or some employer who had hired a girl who can't spell stirs up a fuss about the schools... and ground is lost."

"When we come to the realization that not every child has to read, figure, write and spell... that many of them either cannot or will not master these chores... then we shall be on the road to improving the junior high curriculum."

"Between this day and that a lot of selling must take place. But it's coming. We shall some day accept the thought that it is just as illogical to assume that every boy must be able to read as it is to assume that every girl must be able to perform on a violin, that it is no more reasonable to require that each girl shall spell well than it is that each one shall bake a good cherry pie..."

"When adults finally realize that fact, everyone will be happier... and schools will be nicer places in which to live..."

"If and when we are able to convince a few folks that mastery of reading, writing, and arithmetic is not the one road leading to happy, successful living, the next step is to cut down the amount of time and attention devoted to these areas in general junior high school courses..."

"One junior high in the East has, after long and careful study, accepted the fact that some twenty per cent of their students will not be up to standard in reading... and they are doing other things for these boys and girls. That's the straight thinking. Contrast that with the junior high which says, 'Every student must know the multiplication tables before graduation.'"

"Such a requirement attaches more importance to those tables than I'm willing to accord them." There is no doubt but what there are, as this "educator" contends, many children forced to go to schools who can probably never learn to read and write and figure. The late Albert J. Nock contended that it has never been demonstrated yet that it is to the advantage of society to have everybody read. Those who have the ability to understand natural law, of course, will want to read, but those who have no desire to understand natural law will only use reading to escape life and they probably would be better off if they devoted their energy to doing mechanical things.

It seems a wicked waste of human energy to compel those people who do not want to learn to read and write to devote a lot of time and energy to this task when they would rather be learning how to be useful in doing mechanical things. In other words, why should these people be compelled to attend school and why should these people when they grow up be compelled to pay taxes to help educate those people who have ability and the will to learn more and more of natural laws? If they have this ability, why should they not pay for their own education rather than have the man who doesn't want a schooling be compelled to pay? (to be continued)

Young Couple On The Ball

They Live Like Riley...

Society Gadabout Columnist's Job Is Best Snap On A Paper

By HENRY McLEMORE

Every now and then I get a letter from a young man saying that he has chosen journalism for his life work, and would I be so kind as to arise from my downy couch before ten some morning and advise him as to which branch of the fourth estate he should settle on.

Up until recently I have always counseled becoming a society editor or a boss handicapper, although I have been sorely tempted to tell the young man he will look far and wide before he'll find his job with more foam rubber in it than that of baseball writer or drama critic.

Here are four real good clichés: You can't beat a drama critic's hours, and for some reason a drama critic is always pictured as a man whose head is so full of erudition that he can scarcely pull his dress shirt over it.

The boss handicapper is the only self-admitted expert in the world who can be wrong three times out of four and still be rated as a while-doodle.

A society editor is in line to become a crashing smash by learning to identify the flowers that make up a centerpiece, learning to distinguish between an accordian and a garden gale, and always insisting that pictures of brides be given a thorough retouching job before being sent to the engravers.

The baseball writer deals with a subject he has known almost as well since childhood as the men who play and manage it, and he has the further advantage of working with men who usually are grateful to have him put their beliefs and opinions into words.

This gives him a great deal of freedom, which is a very highly rated commodity.

But in the future I will not name any of these newspaper positions to the young man who is poised to bust into our business until I suggest another.

Curious as to what that job is? Okay, here it is: Society gadabout columnist.

The boys and girls who are fortunate enough to have latched on to these jobs, live the life of Riley.

This is the way they say the alphabet: A, al fresco; b, bugatti or buffet; c, champagne or caviar; d, daiquiri; e, grouse; f, haut monde; g, hood terrapin; h, Jaguar; i, king and queen, duke and duchess, lobster thermidor; m, Maxim's; n, nouveau riche; o, opulence; p, pate de foie gras; q, rolls (stock market type); r, Rolls-Royce; s, sautees; t, Saks Fifth Avenue; u, Ubangi Charity Balls for Starving Ubangiens; v, VIP; w, Wall Street, x, that's got me; y, ditto; z, zillions.

They know the hoity-toity by name—in print, anyway. Liveried footmen carry their typewriters, and the only thing they carry is insurance against falling off a yacht. They are always on hand to drink the first punch, and to see the first one thrown.

They keep their youth long after most of us do. They associate with sub - sub - debs; sub - debs, plain debs, post - debs, and left - at - the - post debs, fraternity and sorority pins, dirty canvas shoes, crew haircuts, and honeymoons.

And they have such entrancing titles for their columns. "Across the Caviar," "Between Me and You and Jock Whitney," "Truffles and Trifles."

The merchant hastily wired his lawyer: "Appeal at once."

He — Why won't you marry me? There isn't anyone else is there?
She — Oh, Edgar, there must be.

Employee — May I have the afternoon off to go shopping with my wife?
Boss — No.
Employee — Thanks ever so much.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

The question of the composition of foods is often of considerable importance to those who are on a special diet and, fortunately, for this purpose, almost all foods have been analyzed.

Q—Will you please inform me as to the ingredients in beer and ale?

Mrs. B. L. A—Different brands of beer and ale will vary from one another somewhat. The average glass of beer, however, will contain approximately 4.5 per cent alcohol, 4.5 per cent extracts, and will provide about 125 calories. A glass of American ale runs around 6.02 per cent alcohol, 4.86 per cent extracts, and will provide about 155 calories.

Q—I am 30 years old and two years ago had part of my thyroid gland removed. Will this cause an early change of life?

Mrs. M. A—Unless so much of your thyroid was removed as to give you an undersecretion of this gland (which is not countered by taking thyroid pills) it should not cause an early change of life.

Q—Is it true that two blond parents are unlikely to have a red-headed boy, but that one blond parent and one dark-haired one might have a red-haired child?

S. G. A—It is correct that two blond-haired parents would have only blond-haired children. A person with dark hair, however, may be carrying what is known as a red gene and, therefore, children of such a parent and one who is blond may or may not have red hair.

Q—What causes lymphosarcoma of the tonsils and is there a cure for it?

T. R. A—Lymphosarcoma is a kind of malignant tumor and no one can tell exactly what causes such tumors. In all probability the treatment would be removal of the tonsils, X-ray followed by radium or qu-rite treatment.

Fair Enough....

George Meany Visited Labor Leader In Sing Sing Prison

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

George Meany is president of the American Federation of Labor. Meany made two personal calls on Joe Fay, the labor leader in Sing Sing Prison where Fay was serving a long term, his second consecutive sentence in the same general mess of crime, for extorting money from contractors on the Delaware Aqueduct job, George Meany was one of the "labor leaders" and politicians of both parties who gathered round to "honor" Marty Parkinson, like Fay, a rotten crook, as Meany had every reason to know, in White Plains, N.Y., in November, 1940.

Parkinson also went to prison as a traitor to the cause of labor. As president of the AF of L, Meany presided over the recent convention in St. Louis at which Martin Durkin, the president of the Plumbers' Union, who had quit the cabinet job of secretary of Labor, accused President Eisenhower of lying about the proposition of revising the Taft-Hartley Law in compliance with the demands of Meany, Durkin and their associates.

Meany's "home" union, which he joined during that brief spell of his life when he actually worked for a living, is the Plumbers' Union. He later became president of the New York State Federation of Labor and after that secretary and treasurer of the AF of L. He rose to the presidency after the death of William Green, another consort of crooks and betrayers of labor who had flagrantly thrown down rank and file workers to protect criminals who were exploiting and terrorizing them.

Clothing Asked For East Germans

NEW YORK, Oct. 13—President Eisenhower has asked the nation's families to give clothing for the East Germans. And the woman who's directing the drive says hubbys is the one who should make the greatest sacrifice.

The biggest need in any clothing drive is for men's trousers, says Charlotte Owen, executive director, the American Council of Voluntary Agencies for Foreign Aid, which is coordinating the drive by 48 participating agencies.

"They talk about a man being so generous he'd give the shirt off his back," she said. "Better if he gives his pants, and I'm not trying to be funny."

European Men Wear Pants, Too

"It's almost impossible to get enough trousers in a clothing drive, because men will give away a coat or sweater if it's getting frayed. But pants they save to work around the yard or to paint in."

"American men must think men in other nations don't wear pants."

The council's aid to Germany is not new. But Mr. Eisenhower gave the drive his personal blessing after West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer appealed for "warm clothing, underwear, stockings, and shoes for the East zone."

The council has shipped food, clothing, and medicine to the depressed 50 countries in Europe and Asia for nine years. It's managed to get iron lungs to polio-stricken persons behind the Iron Curtain. It has helped displaced persons find relatives in Europe or America. It even helped a Czech

'Pitchman' To Try Acting

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 13—UP—A handsome television "pitchman" has decided to be a dramatic actor or because, said Richard Lewellen today, he learned to out talk almost anybody.

Mrs. Elizabeth Reiss, Miss Owen's assistant, estimated that from 1946 through June 1953, 211,281,834 pounds of clothing, food and medicine, valued at $75,500,000 had gone to German civilians.

There is a real cloak and dagger operation . . . and for untrained operators, they do pretty well.

"We cannot tell how or through whom we get behind the Iron Curtain," Miss Owen said. "Obviously if we did, we'd be cut off immediately."

Best rule in donating to the clothing drive is to ask, "would I wear it myself."

The council wants warm clothing for grownups and children, diapers and dark clothing rather than bright colors, because European women don't like flashy reds and greens. Low or medium-heeled shoes of the sturdy type are preferable. And yard goods—heavy cottons and woollens—plus sewing needs such as threads, buttons, and patterns also are acceptable.

"But no nylon stockings," Miss Owen advised. "And no silly hats."

Sniff For Clues
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14—UP—Police sniffed for clues Wednesday in the hijacking of Ed Alameda's trailer-truck. The cargo was 8,700 pounds of garlic.

War Not Expected In Trieste Matter

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst

Despite the sword rattling by Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito, there is no real indication he expects to go to war over Trieste.

And the fact that, for the present at least, the United States and Britain are standing quietly firm in their announced intention to turn their zone of disputed Trieste over to Italy, indicates they also expect the present clouds to blow over like a summer storm.

Tito's immediate intent apparently is to fight a delaying action. Thus his move to inject the dispute into the United Nations, and his demand for a four-power conference among the United States, Britain, Italy and Yugoslavia.

Tito Would Get Time

Either event would give him valuable time—to get the United States and Britain to change their minds or for him to prepare Yugoslav opinion for the next step, which in the end might very well be approval of the Allied plan.

For, as regards Trieste, and despite the vehemence of his protests, Tito himself walks on shaky ground.

The Trieste situation has many wheels within wheels.

To Be Free Territory

From the middle of the 14th century until the end of World War I, Trieste was controlled by Austria and was land-locked Austria's principal outlet to the sea.

Italy took it over in 1919 and controlled it between wars.

However, the Italian peace treaty signed by the United States, Britain, France and Russia provided Trieste should be set up as a free territory.

Until the free territory should be set up, the United States and Britain were to administer "Zone A," including the port, and Yugoslavia to administer "Zone B."

Then Come Disputes

Of the two, "Zone A" is largely commercial and is inhabited by 250,000 Italians and 50,000 Slovenes. "Zone B," while the larger of the two, is primarily agricultural and is inhabited by 80,000 Slovenes and 20,000 Italians.

In any event, the U.S. and Britain, and Yugoslavia, simply were caretakers until the free territory could be set up.

Meanwhile, however, came the long series of disputes between Italy and Yugoslavia, beginning with their failure to agree on a governor for the free territory.

At the same time, came the absorption of "Zone B" by Yugoslavia, including a gradual exodus of the Italian population, the distribution of Yugoslav currency in the area and the imposition of Yugoslav laws.

Victim By Mistake

NEW YORK, Oct. 14—UP—Two robbers invaded a home Tuesday only to learn their intended victims had moved four months ago.

Mrs. Charles S. Green, present owner of the house, offered to go to a nearby store to cash a check when the thieves found only $10 in her purse.

"Don't bother," they said. "We made a mistake. We intended to rob the Parkers."

That's Fair Enough

DETROIT, Oct. 14—UP—The following advertisement appeared in a Detroit newspaper Wednesday.

"To the party who left their car in my yard three months ago. If not claimed in seven days, I'm going to sell it."

Ironworkers End Strike
JOPPA, Ill., Oct. 13—UP—AFL ironworkers ended a four-week-old wildcat strike Tuesday at the Joppa steam electric project, under construction to supply power for an atomic energy installation.

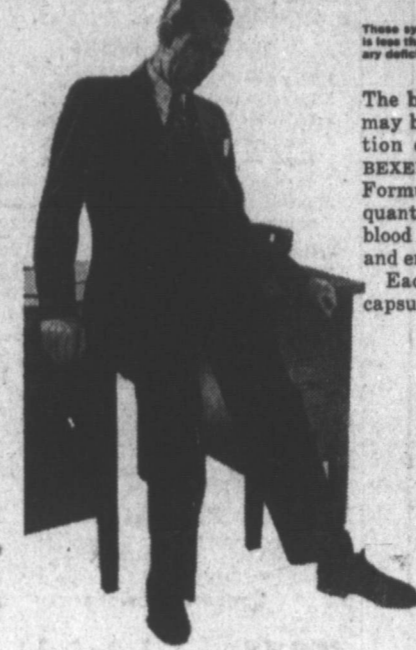

Earthquake Recorded
NEW YORK, Oct. 13—UP—A fairly sharp earthquake, apparently centered off Central America, was recorded on Fordham University seismographs early Tuesday.

DEAD ON YOUR FEET?

Do you suffer from fatigue, nervousness, poor appetite, digestive upsets, insomnia, constipation?

These symptoms if due to a vitamin deficiency occur only when daily intake of vitamins B1, B2, and niacin is less than minimum daily requirements over a prolonged period. In themselves, they do not prove a dietary deficiency as they may have other causes or be due to functional conditions.

The basic cause of your trouble may be iron-and-vitamin starvation over a prolonged period. BEXEL, the Special High-Potency Formula, supplies supplementary quantities of iron for rich red blood . . . pouring new strength and energy into your entire body.

Each wonder-working BEXEL capsule gives you more than 5 times the daily minimum requirements of blood-building iron; more than the daily minimum requirements of all the essential B-vitamins plus Vitamin B12 plus trace minerals.
