Santa Fe Man Faces 1st Degree Murder

BLOOMFIELD, Iowa, Nov. 22.—UP—The first degree murder case against Walter M. Mayer was expected to go to a predominantly farm jury of four women and eight men late Monday or Tuesday.

Mayer, 56, prominent rancher of Santa Fe, N.M., is charged with shooting John C. Wisdom, 51, Des Moines livestock man, in a dispute over a sheep deal on Wisdom's 900-acre farm near here May 2.

Mayer has pleaded self defense. He said Wisdom went into a rage when asked to pay a debt for some sheep and "charged at me like a mad bull."

The state ended its rebuttal Saturday after trying to discredit testimony by Glenn and Paul Davis, farmer brothers of Atlantic, Iowa. They had said they heard Wisdom threaten Mayer's life at Kansas City, late in March and at Ottumwa, Iowa, in April. Paul said he heard Wisdom make a third threat at Bloomfield.

The brothers said Wisdom threatened to shoot Mayer "so full of holes he'd look like a sieve."

The state offered 32 checks written by Wisdom in an effort to prove he was not in Kansas City late in March. District Judge Harold V. Levia allowed 17 of the checks admitted as evidence over defense objections.

Witnesses filed the 17 checks dated and delivered at places other than Kansas City on various dates in the last half of March. Judge Levia said he wants the case to go to the jury by Tuesday. He said he hopes the case will be ended before Thanksgiving. Since the jury is segregated, members would be separated from their families on the holiday if a verdict is not reached before Thursday.

PAMPAN

Other 10 towns should require about 25,000 acre feet per annum, leaving 40,000 acre feet surplus. If other towns or irrigation districts should claim the district or claim the other 42,000 acre feet of water, then there is nothing left for Pampa if it should grow and need more water.

"In this event," he goes on, "we would have to again resort to well production. Yet, we would have to continue to pay the interest and sinking fund on the $6,000,000 out of our water revenues or out of ad valorem taxes on both.

"If we didn't levy an ad valorem tax but look to the revenues from water sales alone to make the interest and sinking fund payment," he concludes, "the city would have to charge about 70 or 80 cents per 1,000 gallons."

2 Lone Star Teams To Play In Bowls

By UNITED PRESS

East Texas State will be armed with its third straight Lone Star Conference championship and a 29-game winning streak—longest in college football—for its New Year's Day date in the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando, Fla.

The loop runner-up, Sam Houston State, has an 8-1 record for its post season game against College of Idaho in the Refrigerator Bowl Dec. 6.

Both teams won their last games at the season last week. East Texas whipped Sul Ross in a conference affair, 27 to 7, and Sam Houston blanked Northeastern Oklahoma, 19 to 0.

Only one regular season game remains in the Lone Star Conference. Lamar State will meet Northwestern Polytechnic in Mexico City Saturday. That game was added last week.

In pre-season ratings, LSC coaches picked East Texas as a repeat winner, but figured Southwest Texas would come in second. Sam Houston topped Southwest Texas, however, to take over second spot.

Coaches also predicted Stephen F. Austin would finish just ahead of Sul Ross in the league cellar, but Sul Ross finished fifth, leaving the Austin in the basement.

Here are the final conference standings, with conference and season records in parentheses: East Texas (8-0, 20-0), Sam Houston (4-1, 8-1), Southwest Texas (5-2, 5-4), Lamar Tech (2-3, 3-7), Sul Ross (1-4, 4-7), and Stephen F. Austin (0-5, 1-8).

Wilson Trial Postponed Today

The trial of Billy M. Wilson of Canadian, scheduled to begin in Hemphill County Court today, has been postponed until the next county court session on the first Monday in February.

The postponement was granted in accordance with an appeal by Wilson's attorney, Ross Buzard of the Pampa firm of Gordon, Gordon and Buzard, on the grounds that he had just been retained Saturday afternoon and hadn't had time to review the case or subpoena witnesses.

Wilson is free on $3,000 bond for the charge of illegal sale of liquor and $3500 bond for the charge of threatening to kill his wife, Mrs. Melva Wilson, whom he supposedly beat severely on Nov. 1. He will be tried on both accounts in February.

No Clues Found In Child Slaying

TOKYO, Nov. 23.—UP—Army and Japanese investigators said Monday they have found no concrete clues in the strangulation slaying of nine-year-old Susan Rothschild.

"We have practically nothing to go on," an Army spokesman said as military and Japanese police searched for the killer who strangled the daughter of an American colonel and left her dying in a shallow drainage ditch.

Police have questioned Japanese houseboys and "all teenagers we could find," a spokesman said.

The brown-haired schoolgirl, described by her acquaintance as "tomboyish," was found dying face down in several inches of water by her father, Col. Jacques H. Rothschild, of Chicago, Saturday night.

Military police started draining the death ditch Monday afternoon in an attempt to find some trace left by the slayer, but the ditch probably will not be cleared of water until morning, a spokesman said.

Titans Seek Title Share With Aggies

By UNITED PRESS

The Detroit Titans and the Wichita Shockers collide Thursday in Wichita in the final Missouri Valley Conference game of the 1933 season and Detroit needs a triumph to share the championship with Oklahoma A&M.

Detroit kept in the running for a title tie by crushing Tulsa's Golden Hurricane, 35-0, last week. It was Detroit's second conference win against one loss.

Oklahoma A&M already has completed its conference play, ending with a 3-1-0 mark.

Two other games involving Valley members were on this week's bill. Oklahoma A&M has its traditional meeting with Oklahoma's Big Seven Conference champions in Norman and Arkansas and Tulsa collide at Fayetteville Saturday. Thereafter, only one game will remain—Houston vs. Tennessee at Houston, Dec. 5.

The Detroit-Wichita meeting shaped up as a real struggle. Detroit has beat Oklahoma A&M and Tulsa, but lost to Houston in previous conference games. Wichita defeated Tulsa, 19-10, but lost by 147 to Oklahoma A&M. Wichita does not meet Houston this season, and for that reason has been eliminated mathematically for any chance to share the crown with A&M.

Following the coronation, a fashion show will be presented with "Fashions Through The Years" as a theme. Models will appear in modish creations from the Colonial period to the present day.

A variety show will also be presented with music by the high school trio. The Chord Craftsmen barbershop quartet from Pampa, Coach Kenneth Livingston, "Humpty" Matheny from Pampa and others.

Benson Conferring With Ike Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—UP—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra C. Benson was called to the White House Monday to give President Eisenhower a first-hand report on conditions in the drought areas of the West and Midwest.

Mr. Eisenhower, who has expressed deep concern about the drought situation, scheduled a private conference with Benson at noon.

Elderly Man Killed At Street Crossing

HOUSTON, Nov. 23.—UP—Abe Lieberman, 82, was killed Sunday night shortly after 8 p.m. when struck by an automobile as he crossed a street to the home he shared with a younger brother.

A telephone call, which caused George Lieberman to leave his seat on a front porch from which he had been watching for the victim, possibly cost the man's life.

George Lieberman, 82, said he normally watched for his elderly brother, and helped him cross busy Memorial Drive. But the telephone rang and he was inside when the elder brother struck across the street.

He was struck by an automobile driven by Carman R. Brown, 41, who said he made a curve and suddenly saw Lieberman in front of him.

George Lieberman said the telephone call was a wrong number.

Last Rites Today For F. E. Leech

Last rites for F. E. (Ewing) Leech, long-time Gray County tax-assessor-collector, were to be held at 2 p.m. today in the First Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Leech, 61, of 412 E. Kingsmill, died early Saturday morning in his home. He had been an official in the county tax office since Jan. 21, 1925.

Officiating at the funeral services was to be Dr. Douglas E. Nelson, pastor, assisted by Dr. S. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

This morning a bouquet of white carnations hung in the Court House on the door of the office of the county tax assessor-collector. The offices of the county attorney and county judge were close to the public.

pallbearers at the last rites were to be Charlie Tull, Jack Beck, Ray Wilson, Robert Knott, Dick Walker, Noah Kite, Polk Valliant and E. L. Henderson.

Old Mailbags Shows People About Same

By JOHN MCCORMACK
CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 23 —UP—Peer into a 2,000-year-old mailbag and you discover people haven't changed much.

Twenty-five centuries ago people had many of the problems that perplex people today — and they liked to write letters about their troubles. Many such letters, penned on papyrus or carved in stone, are on display in the Cairo Museum.

Kidnapers Observe Monotonous Sked

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 23 —UP—Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Brown Heady enjoy neither privilege nor pity as they wait in solitude to die together for the kidnap-murder of Bobby Greenlease.

Life went on pretty much as usual at Missouri state prison Sunday, for instance. It was Sunday and inmates enjoyed special privileges. They have "yard privileges," when as Warden Ralph Eidson put it, they "just mill around and chat with each other."

with which to eat. Guards eye them 24 hours a day. They are "not very popular among other inmates," the warden admitted. Hall was paroled from Missouri state prison only eight months ago and is "well remembered."

"She has the washing machine, drier, dishwasher and TV; going full blast. Better not use the doorbell—you might overload the circuit!"

EDSON IN WASHINGTON

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Chambers Felt White Gave Little Of Value To Soviets

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The most valuable bit of information which the late Harry Dexter White allegedly gave to the Soviet government through the Washington Communist spy apparatus may have been a plan for the reform of the Soviet monetary structure in 1937.

There is no report on whether the Soviet government ever followed any of the recommendations of this plan. No copies of it are known to be in existence. But the whole story of how White came to prepare the plan is told in Whittaker Chambers' book, "Witness," published last year.

Scattered references to White all through this big book constitute the most detailed account now available of the former U.S. Treasury monetary expert's connections with the Communists. It constitutes the best open evidence now known in support of U.S. Attorney General Herbert Brownell's charges that White was a spy.

In general, however, Whittaker Chambers does not reveal a very high regard for the material which White contributed to the Communist spy network. White was the least productive of his original sources, Chambers declared.

Col. Boris Bykov, the Russian agent in New York to whom Chambers delivered his microfilms and documents, fumed at the small amount of material White turned in. Bykov accused White, through Chambers, of holding out material. Bykov ordered Chambers "to control" his source. But White was not a member of the Communist Party, and so was above its discipline.

Chambers says he agreed with Bykov that the material from White was of little value. In his early days as a courier, Chambers says he used to read the documents given to him for copying. He soon gave it up, however, and seldom glanced at what he was passing on because he came to the conclusion that diplomatic spying was a waste of time. Secret material was always vastly overrated. There was little in it that any intelligent man could not learn by study of the newspapers and openly known facts.

Take Burglar Alarm

LONDON, Nov. 23 —UP—Burglars raided a branch post office and escaped with the safe, stamps and saving certificates.

A witness who saw the thieves leaving said he saw a man with a "square object under his arm that was making buzzing sounds." Police said this was the burglar alarm.

Blind Driving

HAMILTON CITY, Calif. —UP—John Benson, 32, of Hamilton City, Calif., had a perfect excuse when arrested for driving into another car. He is blind. Confused officers found Benson was completely blind in one eye, had 11-200 vision in the other, was receiving total blind aid from the state, and was being supplied with a "reader" by the federal government so he could attend college.

Put It On The Dog

BOSTON —UP—The well-dressed dog coats his master a pretty penny these days. A Boston pet shop posts these prices: raincoat (choice of color), $2.50 to $5; shoes, $4; overcoats, $6 to $26.

"Remember, son, work hard and save your money! You can't tell when a rainy day will come along!"

No. 1 DOWNTOWN - No. 2 WEST ON FOSTER

WHAT'S GOING ON?—Well, for one thing, three-year-old Tony Scholfield is on the receiving end of a good scare in Steelville, Mo. The tot took off in pursuit of a gander which apparently got tired of being chased, and did an about face to do a little chasing on its own. Tony's sudden cries brought his dad to the rescue in time for this photo.

TAKING IT BIG—As it jumps from a three-foot ramp, this Cromwell tank leaps like a steeplechaser across a muddy ditch. The tank's mobility was being demonstrated at a tank proving grounds in Dorset, England, and it looks as if something's going to have to give when that vehicle lands.

DANGER SIGNAL?—The traditional footwear of the German army is back in use. Shown in Hamburg, the Federal Border Police will soon be wearing these, but rubber soles have replaced heavy leather for softer walking.

NOT FROM OUTER SPACE—Maj. Gen. James McCormack, Jr., of Baltimore, Md., vice commander of Air Research and Development Command, looks like an average human being after he gets out of this pressure suit. S/Sgt. Vernon Teems, of Cartersville, Ga., is lacing McCormack into the suit for an altitude chamber test at Carswell Air Force Base in Texas. The chamber simulates conditions at an altitude of 40,000 feet.

IT WAS EXPECTED—During the demonstration of a new British proximity fuse set to explode at a predetermined altitude, firefighters were on hand to spray extinguishing foam on an aircraft which burst into flames on schedule. Although the fuse was developed in England, the demonstration took place for members of the NATO countries at Sennelager, Germany.

BACK ON THE JOB—After learning to skillfully use an artificial left arm, George Sisk lost it in San Diego, Calif., and feared he would lose his electrician's job, too. Sisk loaned his car to a friend who then disappeared with the auto which contained Sisk's tools and artificial arm. But the car and its contents were retrieved and here's one electrician working as usual.

JUNIOR EDITION—A very young copy of mother's winter favorite—the jersey dress—makes a fashionable kindergarten beam with pleasure. The dress is made of caramel wool jersey, with a caramel, tan, and tangerine-striped bodice to give the illusion of a handsome two-piece costume.

SEVEN ALIKE—These Weimaraner puppies were just posing casually for their portrait, but the result won third prize in a contest for Col. Henry C. Coles, of Santa Barbara, Calif.

A MIGHTY HEAVE—A freak collision involving three trains occurred in Wichita, Kans., when a freight train struck the rear of a stationary train. The impact knocked a steel boxcar and a caboose onto another stationary train, tipping over one car. Three men trapped in the cars luckily escaped serious injury.

EXTRA SPECIAL EXTRA—After director Raoul Walsh had selected lovely Sue Casey as "the most beautiful extra in pictures today," it's no wonder she beamed so happily in Hollywood. During his long career, Walsh, a former actor, has directed about 80,000 extras, so his judgment ought to be authoritative.

HAPPY AGAIN—While he was arranging details of his exhibition in Manhattan, artist Francis Vandever Kughler had to neglect his pet cat, Cosmos. But now that the show is on, things are different: a model sits for a portrait, and Cosmos once again perches on Kughler's shoulder as work progresses.

MOTHER'S WHISTLER—When Mrs. William S. Gillespie was feeding her nine-month-old son, Billy, some breakfast, in Miami, Fla., she also did a bit of whistling. Much to her surprise, Billy followed her example; he puckered up his lips in imitation and gave out with a few sounds that his mother insists are whistles. Anyway, he's certainly trying.

Neighbors Greet POW In Virginia

By HERBERT CHESIRE
 CRACKER'S NECK, Va., Nov. 23 —UP—Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, his return from Korea greeted with joyous sobbing and "commotion," made plans Monday for hunting, feasting and quiet visits with the neighbors he once fought for communism.

About 50 neighbors and relatives who gathered at the four-room Dickenson farm cabin showed they held no grudge when young Dickenson arrived in a drizzling rain Sunday night for a month's furlough as a repatriated American prisoner of war.

Almost all the women were in tears. The men had nailed on the front porch a big plaque of roofing paper bearing a neatly painted sign, which glowed under a bare electric bulb: "Welcome Home, Ed." Blazing lights marked all the other homes dotting the nearby ridges.

No animosity
 There would be no parade in nearby Big Stone Gap as had greeted other returned prisoners because Dickenson's parents did not "want any commotion," but the family's minister, the Rev. Scott of the Beech Grove Baptist Church, gave assurance there was "no animosity."

Happiest was Dickenson's mother, Mrs. Van Buren Dickenson, who greeted him on his arrival by plane in Washington and accompanied him on a daylong journey by auto here Sunday.

"I knew God would send my Ed back to me," she cried. "I wasn't ashamed at all to stand in front of all those people in the airport in Washington and praise my God."

Boiled Ham
 After the visitors left the Dickenson home at midnight, the family celebrated with a boiled ham dinner. Dickenson's half-brother, Grover, had shot a deer for a venison feast later.

His hunting companion, Jim Chandler, told Dickenson, "I've been saving you a lot of squirrels back in the cliffs."

Dickenson also may pay a call on Kate Lane, 20, who Dickenson wrote he wanted "for my wife." Kate did not appear at the Dickenson home with other members of her family, but her teen-aged niece had an explanation: "Kate's funny. She's going to wait till Ed comes to see her."

Queen Juliana Sends 2,000 Tulip Bulbs To White House

By MERRIMAN SMITH
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 —UP—Backstairs at the White House: The White House lawn should be a riot of color next spring, thanks to Queen Juliana of The Netherlands.

Through the Dutch embassy here, the Queen recently sent 2,000 Dutch tulip bulbs to the Eisenhower. The bulbs will be planted in time to bloom in the spring.

The President's military aide, Lt. Col. Robert L. Schulz, was passing out cigars around the White House last week on the birth of his second child, a son. And what cigars? Individually packaged in blue-painted glass tubes.

Schulz was handing out the elaborately done-up cigars within a few hours after the baby was born. This led to speculation through the White House offices—did Schulz have an alternate set prepared in pink-painted containers in case the new arrival was a girl?

Mr. Eisenhower has been holding a series of weekly stag dinners for some of the most prominent figures in the nation—leaders from industry and education, labor and religion, publishing and broadcasting.

His invitations do not go out on his regular White House stationery. Instead, the President uses personal notepaper with a large gold-embossed "DDE" at the top.

The invitation letters are almost chatty. The President proposes a 7:30 p.m. dinner, then a "general discussion" after the meal.

In an effort to keep the affairs relatively informal, Mr. Eisenhower says in his invitations, "I shall probably be wearing black tie," but he goes on to assure his guests that this isn't necessary for them; that business suits will be perfectly fine with him.

The guests, however, take the hint—they show up in dinner jackets. Except the church leaders he has invited; they came in clerical garb.

The White House press office formally identifies Maxwell M. Rabb as "the assistant to the assistant to the President." This means he works for Sherman Adams, Rabb, however, is ranked by Maj. Gen. Wilton B. Persons (ret.) who is "the deputy assistant to the President."

Barnee Breeskin, the Washington orchestra leader, read in "Backstairs" that Mrs. Eisenhower's favorite tunes were "Down Beneath the Sheltering Palms" and "Tiptoe Through the Tulips."

Barnee was somewhat embarrassed because for years he had saluted Mrs. Eisenhower with either "The Old Spinning Wheel" or "One Enchanted Evening" every time she entered a place where he was playing. He had even described these as her favorite tunes in a magazine story.

He inquired at the White House to find out whether he was wrong. He was told that the President's wife likes all four of these songs takes precedence. It was popular when she and Mr. Eisenhower were courting in San Antonio.

Lighting accounts for nearly 400 deaths, 1,000 injuries, five per cent of the nation's fires and property loss of about $20,000,000 annually, the Illinois Rural Safety Council says.

Treasure Hunt Due

VENTURA, Calif., Nov. 23 —UP—Jeffrey Bergstrom, 9, made a discovery that may lead to a treasure hunt on Rincon Beach.

Jeffrey discovered a bottle of Canadian whisky in the sand. It apparently was bottled in Vancouver B.C., in 1931. His father, R. P. Bergstrom, found seven more.

Authorities believe the "treasure" was a cache from bootlegging days.

Efficient Cops

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 —UP—Mrs. Anna Balzarek rushed into a police station and reported two youths had stolen her purse.

"We know all about it," the sergeant at the desk told her. "We have your purse and the boys." The police said a patrol car spotted the boys driving the wrong way on a one-way street. When the boys were stopped one said: "Okay, here's the pocketbook."

Dummy Gets Ticket

CHICAGO, Nov. 23 —UP—Police hurried to investigate a report of a "dead man in a car" and ended up handing out a parking ticket.

The "dead man" was a clothing store dummy left in an illegally parked auto.

Floods Strike In Pacific Northwest

By UNITED PRESS
Storm-driven floods forced hundreds of persons to flee their homes in the Pacific Northwest Monday and cold autumn rains brought long-awaited moisture to parts of the Midwest.
A series of storms from Alaska swelled southern Oregon rivers to flood level and affected northern California. Highways were cut off and at least two areas were isolated.
Rain was still falling on the area early Monday.
The rising waters gained their worst power on the Coquille River system. Hundreds of ranchers prepared to evacuate as piled-up head waters began to roll down.
At least six inches of water covered highway 42 between the Oregon towns of Coquille and Myrtle Point and the river threatened to roll over the two-mile dike on which highway 101 runs into California.
Homes Under Water
More than 25 homes along highway 101 were under water. At Alleghany, Ore., 12 miles north of Coquille, from 50 to 75 families were evacuated. The floods isolated the Oregon community of Powers and the state's Lee Valley area.
Earth slides closed at least three northern California highways. Meanwhile, in inland Oregon, heavy rains bloated the Willamette River system and flood warnings were posted at Harrisburg, Coburg and Jefferson.
The rains sprang from a huge low pressure area centered in the Alaska Gulf which stirred up southeast gales up to 50 miles an hour. Far to the south along the Pacific Coast, the worst waves in six years forced some Seal Beach, Calif., families to evacuate and threatened to batter away their homes.
Rain In Midwest
Another rain band, the end result of snowstorms which raked parts of the Midwest earlier, moved out of the nation's midsection after giving much-needed moisture to parched farm and woodlands.
Murky Midwest weather Sunday may have been responsible for the deaths of two Minnesota men in a plane crash near Waukesha, Wis. Martin H. Imm, 51, St. Paul and his nephew, Robert Imm, 20, Mankato, crashed and were killed after cancelling plans to land at Milwaukee because of bad weather conditions.

Iceman's Ice Thought Best

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 —UP—If you've ever gotten hold of a bad piece of ice, you know what the man means.
Sometimes it'll even give you a hangover.
The man, in this case, is Paul H. Andres of Oklahoma City — the new president of the National Association of Ice Industries.
"I have nothing against the ice you make in your refrigerator," he hastens to add. "I have several refrigerators myself and they work fine. But when you are mixing a few drinks for company or fixing some ice tea—the iceman's ice is the best."
Andres claims that the "other kind of ice" melts a lot quicker, for one thing.
Picks Up Odors
"For another," he says, "it picks up odors more readily. Who wants a highball that tastes like limburger cheese? Or onions? Or kippered herring?"
All I have is the word of the iceman, who came here to attend the industry's annual convention.
"The reason we think our ice is better," Andres says, "is the treatment we give the water. Not that there is anything wrong with the stuff that comes out of the faucet. But we take all of the impurities out of our water before we make ice. Sometimes we even add some chemicals to neutralize the taste."
The head iceman says that most of the customers of the industry own ice boxes, but for certain purposes, they prefer the cakes and cubes that the ice man bringeth.
Little Experiment
"Try this little experiment," Andres suggests.
Take a chicken and pack it in

JACOBY ON BRIDGE 'Wrong-Card' Trick Baffles Player

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
There's a standard way of playing the cards in the sort of hand shown today. When the hand was actually played, South didn't know this standard method, and he lost his vulnerable game as a result.
West opened the queen of diamonds, and South won with the ace. He drew three rounds of trumps and then returned to the diamonds. He discovered that West was bound to win two diamond tricks, and a spade pushed through dummy's king gave the defenders two spade tricks. Down one.

South said that he was unlucky that the diamonds were 4-1. He was right. He said that it took more than a bad diamond break to beat him; for he would have made his contract if the ace of spades had been favorably placed. He was right again. But he was wrong in the way he had played the hand, for he should have made his contract despite both of the bad breaks.
South made his mistake when he drew three rounds of trumps. If the diamonds break normally a second high diamond can be cashed safely even before the trumps are drawn. If the diamonds break badly, it is important to leave some trumps in dummy to cope with the situation.
The right line of play is to win the first trick with the ace of diamonds and then to lead only one trump to dummy's king. A small diamond is then returned towards South's hand. If the suit breaks normally, South will take the king of diamonds, give up a diamond, draw trumps, and take at least 10 tricks.
When the low diamond is led from dummy, East may either ruff or discard. If East ruffs and returns a club, South wins, draws one more trump with the queen, and then cashes the king of diamonds. This gets by safely, and South can ruff a low diamond with dummy's jack to set up his last diamond. The rest is easy.
If East discards when the low diamond is led from dummy, South wins with the king of diamonds and gives up a diamond. He can easily regain the lead, ruff a diamond with dummy's jack of heart and take 10 easy tricks.

iceman's ice. Even after a few days, Andres says, the chicken will be in as good shape as it was when you packed it.
"But," he adds, "if you put that same bird in your refrigerator, like as not it will be dried out and discolored. And even worse, the ice cubes in the ice-box may have picked up some chicken odors. That's all right if you care for a chicken highball."
The ice people no longer cotton to the old-fashioned methods of cutting ice out of lakes and streams. No way to take out the impurities, according to Andres.
I asked the man how many highballs a man could get out of—a 500-pound slab of ice?
"Go ahead," he said, "you could figure it out easily by higher math."
We parted company on that one.

Steak Warning
BOSTON —UP—The menu at Durgin Park's, one of Boston's famed old restaurants, bears this warning: "We are not responsible for any steak ordered well-done." Charcoal-broiled steak so cooked is apt to be tough, a chef explained.

Fishing Rights Dispute Spurs Ill-Feeling Among ROKs, Japs

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst
In the present world alignment, it would seem that good political and economic relations between Japan and South Korea are an absolute necessity.
Strong forces, however, operate to make the gulf between them almost as wide as that between South Korea's President Syngman Rhee and communism.
At present the two nations are locked in a dispute over fishing rights off the South Korean coast. In the scramble for food, the fishing industries are vital to both. But the argument itself is only an outcropping of ill-feeling that goes back to the 40 years of Japanese occupation of Korea.
Host of Problems
A host of other problems has included Japanese claims on former property in both North and South Korea, and the Koreans' counter-claim of reparations for losses suffered during the period of Japanese rule.
Gen. Mark Clark, then supreme United Nations commander in the Far East, invited Syngman Rhee to Tokyo a year ago in a major effort to bring the two sides together. Rhee and the Japanese sipped tea together but parted on terms that were no friendlier than they had been before.

The fisheries dispute arises primarily from Rhee's one-sided claim that Korean territorial waters extend 60 miles off shore.
The Japanese reply, which seems to be the correct one, is that any such claim is contrary to international practice and therefore cannot be made to stick.
Go Inside Limits
Consequently, Japanese fishing

vessels regularly have been going inside the 60-mile limit, and Rhee's gunboats just as regularly have been seizing them and imprisoning the crews.
A recent softening of Rhee's attitude, in which he released 81 arrested fishermen and promised that 415 more would be released Tuesday, has been attributed in speculation to United States good offices, possibly a result of Vice President Richard Nixon's visit to Seoul.
The Japanese, anxious to establish working relations with the Koreans, also are reported to have softened their attitude, easing or abandoning their claims to former Japanese properties and possibly even going so far as to recognize the 60-mile offshore limit.

Even these concessions, however, may not satisfy Rhee, a man with a long memory.
Rhee fought the Japanese through most of his adult life and finds it difficult to change now.

Woman's Club Of Canadian Holds Costume Party

CANADIAN — (Special) — Mrs. W. M. Karr was hostess to the Canadian Woman's Club on Tuesday evening, Nov. 17, with Mrs. Jess Yorkley and Miss Daisy Childers as co-hostesses.

Bouquets of fall flowers were placed about the rooms, and as the guests assembled the scene was one from a past century. Members dressed in costumes of early American fashion, some dating back five generations.

John Alden and Frisilla, as well as Pocahontas and Minnehaha, were represented, and Puritan ladies, quaint grandmothers of pioneer days, even the 1920 flappers appeared in their respective styles.

Mrs. Morris Bennett presided, and the club collect was repeated, led by Mrs. Paul Bryant. Mrs. Taft Holloway gave grace. The meal was served buffet style, and consisted of dishes brought by the members and prepared by old-fashioned recipes.

Some of the interesting dishes were Indian pudding, fat-back and dumplings, French beans en casserole, ambrosia, fried pies, wild duck and cornbread dressing.

The refreshments were served from a tea cart, and included green spiced watermelon pickles, cranberry sauce and celery.

Apple cider was served from a glass decanter that had belonged to Mrs. Karr's great-grandmother.

All past presidents were seated at the oval dining table, and following the meal, Mrs. Ben Jordan told a Thanksgiving story. Roll call was answered by each member giving the history of the costume she wore and the recipe for the food prepared.

The theme for the meeting was "Thanksgiving." This holiday belongs to us alone; a precious heritage from those who came to till a wilderness and light the flame of freedom on our nation's first hearthstone. — Ethel Romig Fuller.

Members attending were Mrs. C. W. Allen, Miss Reita Austin, Mrs. Morris Bennett, Mrs. A. H. Breazeale, Mrs. Paul Bryant, Miss Daisy Childers, Mrs. J. L. Cleveland, Mrs. Erbin Crowell, Mrs. R. M. Hobdy, Mrs. G. M. Hoover, Mrs. Taft Holloway, Mrs. J. P. Hutton, Mrs. John Jones, Mrs. Ben Jordan, Mrs. A. R. King, Mrs. H. H. Marks, Mrs. R. N. Matthews, Mrs. E. H. Morris, Mrs. Charles Tubb, Mrs. Emory Vignat, Mrs. John Waters, Mrs. H. S. Wilbur, Mrs. Purman Williams, Mrs. J. L. Yorkley and the hostess, Mrs. W. M. Karr.

YOUNG FRENCH STUDENTS were entertained by their tutor, Mrs. William Coleman, 410 N. West, Saturday evening at a formal dinner. The small guests spoke French during the meal and sang French songs around the piano afterward. Mrs. Chester Thompson accompanied at the piano for a dancing contest and there were bingo games. "Royalty" attending were, top row, left to right, "Duke" John Weathered, "Lord" Jimmy Jamieson, Mrs. William Coleman, "Prince" Thompson, "Count" Thad Wyatt. In the bottom row, left to right, are "Countess" Sami Sue Cook, "Lady" Marion Nesloge, "Princess" Linda Coleman, and "Duchess" Sue Ann Thompson. (Photo by Smith Studios)

Quiet Manner Is An Asset

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Poise is essential to beauty.

And the time to begin its development is right now, teen-agers.

Don't wait until the time when you can no longer get away with them to attempt to discard childish mannerisms. By then, they will be rooted in your personality. Furthermore, they make you less attractive than you could be now.

Loud laughing, jostling of each other and other attention-getting antics contrast sharply with your efforts to develop an adult flair for clothes and cosmetics. It is a case of one thing laughing at the other.

You will notice that it is the quiet, assured, graceful movements of women that characterize them as charming. The really lovely ladies in public, whether in the theater or politics, do not make crash landings. But, as you well know, those lovely, quiet ladies get plenty of attention—the flattering kind.

The bell that signals the end of the day's classes is too often taken as a signal to release pent-up energy. One frequently sees students emerge shouting, giggling, pushing.

So be particularly careful at this time. Study your mannerisms and resolve to refine them. If your crowd will share your resolution, the road to poise will be much shorter. You can help each other to become truly attractive—well-groomed and poised.

MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

For her ninth birthday, Clare got a new dress of pale green organdy. It boasted a crinoline petticoat and a sash of green velvet.

When Clare opened its box, she forgot her ice cream and cake. She rushed into the living room, tearing off her old plaid gingham as she went.

When she had tied the sash of her new dress, she looked at herself in the mirror over the mantel and thought that she had never dreamed she could look so airy and beautiful.

She gave a happy pirouette to make the full skirt swirl and dashed back to the dining room. "Can I wear it to school tomorrow?" she asked her mother.

"No," she was told. "It is a 'best' dress."

But Clare could not accept this denial. The next afternoon, she began to agitate again for permission to wear the new dress to school. She expressed herself pretty forcibly on the "meanness" of the mother who had given a dress and then denied its own right to wear it as she pleased.

Clare's mother was cutting up grapefruit for salad. She did not protest the attack made upon her personal character or stigmatize her child's violence as "ingratitude."

She just said, "You cannot wear your new dress to school because I do not think wearing it would make you happy. None of the other girls will be wearing their 'best' dresses tomorrow. They would know that you had worn yours to 'show off.' So instead of getting admiration from them, you would probably get cold looks and envy. By the time you came home tomorrow afternoon, you would have lost your pleasure in your dress and be wondering if it was really so pretty as you thought."

She paused. "So you see I am saying 'no' not because I want to be mean but because I do not want you to make meanness between yourself and your friends."

When her mother finished, Clare sighed, "Gosh, mother, O.K." and went off to do her homework.

Reason, the dictionary says, is the "systematic relating of ideas." As children have more experience in feelings than in reason, we often have to do the relating for them, just as we prepare their dinners and sew on their buttons.

By using reason to solve her problem with Clare, her mother has shown her that she is not personally the obstacle to the wearing of the dress. Clare has seen that the limitation her mother has had to impose is not due to her mother's nature, but to the nature of the world she lives in. Thus Clare's emotions of anger at her mother subside and she stops regarding her as a personal antagonist.

Rebekah Lodges Hold Group Meet

The Panhandle Circle met recently with the Pampa Rebekah Lodge, Amarillo Lodge No. 145, and the Panhandle Lodge were represented.

Mrs. John Holt, noble grand, presided over the meeting. Members assembled a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family. Final nomination of officers was made and the election will be held the first Thursday in December.

A short Thanksgiving program was presented with Mrs. J. W. Brummett giving a reading of the first Thanksgiving. Miss Ramona Meadows sang "When You and I were Young Maggie" and "Silver Threads Among the Gold." She was accompanied by Mrs. E. B. Cartwright. Mrs. Ted Mastin gave a reading about embarrassing questions.

Refreshments of sandwiches, pie and coffee were served to about 60 members and guests.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Miss Friend

I read your column daily and I think it's wonderful that you are a friend to everyone and help people out with their problems.

I have a problem too and I hope you can help me with it.

I am just 18. I have been going with a young service man since June. The last of July he had to go away on an assignment and he promised faithfully he would write. But he never did. I waited and waited but no letters. Finally several weeks ago I started dating another boy who seems very sincere on what he says. Then this service man came back and he expected to still carry on from where he left off in July and he has taken it for granted that I'll marry him when he gets back from his next assignment next March.

I didn't give him a definite answer because I figure if he wants to marry me he should be better acquainted until he gets out of the service in about 15 months.

But this is my real problem. The other fellow I started going with has told me to make up my mind which one I want.

I did love the service man before he went away but I never heard from him for three months and when he did get back he had no explanation for not writing.

I admit I like both boys very much but do you think I should wait for the service man to come back even if he doesn't write this time or should I continue going with the second boy who is sincere and trustworthy.

Mixed Up

Dear Mixed Up

If you aren't sure which to choose in all probability you don't love either boy enough to marry.

No doubt you enjoy being with both and there is no reason why you should not date both of them. You shouldn't limit yourself to dating one boy unless you are truly in love. If you got tired waiting for the first one after three months' absence and if he didn't miss you enough to write in that time neither of you can be very serious about your romance. Why not continue on that basis. See him when he is in town but let him know that you are not taking the romance other than casually.

Tell the second boy that you enjoy his company and like to be with him but that you are not ready to take his attentions seriously.

When you finally meet the man you love and want to marry you won't have to write anyone for advice about it—you will know what you want.

Floy Patterson And James Lewis Wed

WHEELER — (Special) — In a double-ring ceremony solemnized on Thursday evening, October 29, Floy Belle Patterson, 923 Pierce, became the bride of A-2C James Thomas Lewis of Amarillo Air Force Base.

Rev. Clinton H. Blasingame read the service in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Pendleton, 2114 Fillmore, Amarillo.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey N. Patterson of Wheeler and the bridegroom is the grandson of Mrs. Frances Flatt of Gadsden, Ala.

The traditional wedding marches were played on the violin by Mr. Pendleton.

Miss Wilma Dene-Patterson was her sister's sole attendant and best man was A-2C Eddie Reamer of Amarillo Air Force Base.

The bride wore a white satin street length dress, a white fingertip veil and white accessories. Her corsage was of red rosebuds.

The bride's mother was attired in black and white with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception honoring the couple was held immediately after the exchange of vows. Punch was served by Mrs. E. L. Robinson. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. O. W. Pendleton and Miss Betty Roxinson.

Mrs. Lewis was graduated from Wheeler High School.

The bridegroom attended the Steele, Ala High School and has been in the Air Force for five years.

Airman and Mrs. Lewis are living at 923 Pierce, Amarillo.

US Winds Up At Borger Thursday

Battle On For Runnerup Spot In Final Standings

The 1953 football season will come to an end for seven District 1-AAAA teams this week when the gridgers wind up their regular schedules Thanksgiving Day.

The Odessa Broncos, already declared the '53 champs of this rugged district, will be the only team that won't be through after this week. The Bronco will meet Bowie of El Paso in the first round of the state playoffs next week.

Traditional battles are on tap in the district this week. Pampa's Fighting Harvesters will be at Borger, Lubbock will be at Amarillo, San Angelo at Abilene and Odessa at Midland, all to be played on Thanksgiving Day.

All that is left to fight for in the final standings is for the runnerup spot. Abilene has already clinched a share of the No. 2 spot behind Odessa. Pampa, Amarillo and Lubbock all have a chance to tie the Abilene for second place.

Abilene, however, would have to lose to San Angelo, which isn't likely, to allow the Harvesters, Sandies or Westerners to claim a piece of second place honors.

Should San Angelo defeat Abilene, the winner of the Lubbock-Amarillo game would tie the Eagles for the runnerup position along with the Harvesters, provided the Green and Golders get by Borger.

Lubbock defeated an injury ridden Harvesters team last week to knock the Pampans out of a tie with Abilene for the runnerup position. The Harvesters, with two regular backs on the injured list including the team's leading runner, Harold Lewis, bowed to the Westerners, 19-0, Saturday at Lubbock.

The other games in the district last week went just about as expected. Odessa whipped Midland, 29-13; Amarillo won over Borger, 26-14.

Following is the District 1-AAAA calendar:

DISTRICT	W	L	T	Pct.	Pts.
Odessa	4	0	0	1.000	187
Abilene	3	0	0	1.000	125
Pampa	3	0	0	.500	116
Lubbock	3	0	0	.500	79
Amarillo	3	0	0	.500	107
San Angelo	2	3	1	.417	114
Borger	2	3	0	.400	82
Midland	1	5	0	.167	79

Mobeetie - Paint Creek Regional Finals May Be Unreeled At Harvester Stadium

OURSELVES have heard lots of fans here say they would like to see a 6-Man game sometime to see just what kind of a game it is. With the championship favor thrown in, we are to reason why the Mobeetie-Paint Creek regional championship battle would draw a fair sized crowd here.

The Lubbock Westerners were fortunate in catching the Fighting Harvesters at their lowest ebb of the season, both physically and mentally, last Saturday. It gave the defending state champions a chance to regain the win column.

We can see now why the Westerners failed to defend the title they had won the past two seasons. They are a far cry from the team that won the title last year although we don't know why. They had 19 returning lettermen back this season including several stalwarts on last year's team.

The Harvesters Saturday just weren't themselves without Harold Lewis in there. Then the loss to Odessa the previous week took a lot of wind out of the Harvesters' sails.

It was similar to the Baylor-Texas-Owens situation. Baylor, as you'll recall, bowed to Texas one week and then went to pieces the next week to lose by top-sided score to Odessa.

Baylor, by rights, is at least a 30-point better team than Houston but the loss to Texas took the wind out of their sails, temporarily.

This game, as you probably know will decide the 6-Man Region 1 champion. Mobeetie advanced to the finals last week with a 45-41 victory over Bulah at Littlefield.

There are a lot of fans here who have never seen a 6-Man game and I'm sure there would be a good turnout here if the game is brought to Harvester Stadium. We at any rate, the date and site will be set in their meeting at Childress Wednesday night.

We talked personally with Supl. Reeves of Mobeetie and head coach Bynum Smith yesterday and they report that they are in dire hopes of talking Paint Creek in to coming to Pampa to play the game without a coin toss.

If the two schools can't agree on where and when the game will be played, then the toss of a coin will likely be used. It is believed Paint Creek wants to play the game in Haskell.

THE GREATNESS OF THE CLEVELAND BROWNS IS BEING SUSTAINED AFTER 8 YEARS BY THE AGELESS PASSING ARM OF OTTO GRAHAM

Graham Stars As Browns Near Title

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The undefeated Cleveland Browns probably, the most consistent team in the pro football history will be heavily favored to win their eighth division title in as many tries when they entertain the Chicago Cardinals next Sunday.

Otto Graham's passes, Lou Groza's place kicks and good defense play enabled Cleveland to defeat the Pittsburgh Steelers, 20-16, Sunday for its ninth 1953 victory. The Philadelphia Eagles made it six in a row by shutting out the San Francisco Forty-Niners to defeat the game behind Detroit by defeating the Green Bay Packers, 37-7.

The Washington Redskins scored 17 fourth-period points for a 24-21 victory over the New York Giants in the other contest Sunday.

Bowl Talk Spartans, UCLA To Play In Rose; Cotton, Sugar Unset

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—UP—Michigan State and UCLA were matched Monday to clash in the rich Rose Bowl game on New Year's Day, while the surprise tie-in on Notre Dame likely might be the title game if only major pro-record football team.

These were the biggest developments of the last big weekend of the 1953 season, which also saw Cornell crowned as the Ivy League champion and the races for Sugar Bowl and Cotton Bowl berths narrowed to a handful of teams.

Still ahead this week are a small program of games Thanksgiving Day and Saturday, with the big Army-Navy pageant on Saturday and the settling of the Southwest and Southeastern Conference championships the highlights.

Michigan State Picked
Michigan State's Spartans, hitting the golden jackpot in their first season as a Big Ten member, were picked as the league's Rose Bowl team by the league's athletic directors in a meeting at Chicago Sunday night. At least six ballots were required, the first five resulting in a tie between the Spartans and co-champion Illinois.

The official confirmation of UCLA as the Pacific Coast Conference representative in the Rose Bowl awaits a league vote Monday. But the Bruins reduced the vote to mere formality when they clinched the league title by beating Southern California, 13-0, in the nationally-televised battle on Saturday while contending Stanford was held to a 21-21 tie by California.

In contrast to the settled Rose Bowl situation, the Sugar Bowl competition has been reduced to eight teams and the Cotton Bowl race to six.

Still Considering
The president of the Sugar Bowl's sponsoring group said these teams still were being considered—West Virginia, Auburn, Texas Tech, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, Baylor, Rice, and Texas. The winner of the Baylor-Rice game on its 21-0 loss to Maryland, just as Mississippi was eliminated by the same team last week.

The race for the "visiting team" berth in the Cotton Bowl was believed reduced to three teams—West Virginia, Auburn, and Georgia Tech—and the committee had promised an announcement "within 48 hours."

Three teams still are contending for the "home team" berth, all tied for first place in the Southwest Conference with one game to play. Texas can clinch a tie for the league title, and force the decision to a vote, by beating the Texas Aggies on Thursday. And the winner of the Baylor-Rice game on Saturday will get at least a share of the crown. SMU was eliminated by its 27-21 loss to Baylor on Saturday.

Virginia, Auburn and Texas Tech smothered opponents Saturday in a major power display before bowl scoring. West Virginia won North Carolina State 61-0, while Texas Tech blasted Houston, upset by South Carolina the week-end before, roared back to roll up a major power display before bowl scoring. West Virginia won North Carolina State 61-0, while Texas Tech blasted Houston, upset by South Carolina the week-end before, roared back to roll up a major power display before bowl scoring.

Texas, Rice and Baylor are tied for the Southwest Conference lead with the winner going to the Cotton Bowl. However, it was believed that the runner-up had only a slim chance for a Sugar Bowl bid.

Poche said all other teams except the eight had been eliminated from consideration and added: "It looks like we'll have to wait until after this week to choose the teams."

Cotton Bowl Due To Choose Outsider Today Or Tuesday

By ED FITTE

DALLAS, Nov. 22.—UP—The Cotton Bowl hopes to name one of its New Year's Day teams Monday or Tuesday and unless its officials are going to gamble on next Saturday's games, West Virginia is the likely recipient of the $125,000 invitation.

The field was believed narrowed down to Georgia Tech, Auburn and West Virginia and the two first named still have potential defeat ahead of them this week in the form of traditional rivals Georgia and Alabama.

Selection committee chairman Leonard Green's statement that "we hope to have an announcement within 48 hours" apparently knocked Kentucky out of the running because the Wildcats have beaten Rice, which is still in running along with Baylor and Texas in the Southwest Conference host team. A rematch was highly unlikely.

Green wouldn't confirm that West Virginia had the inside track, but the circumstances lent a great deal of credence to that supposition.

The Cotton Bowl has gambled and won before, however, in picking a guest team before it had completed its season. It picked Tennessee for its 1951 game prior to the Vols' traditional season finale against a great Kentucky team and the Vols upset the Wildcats.

West Virginia, upset a week earlier by South Carolina, bounced back last week end to crush North Carolina State 61-0 in a big show for bowl observers. Georgia Tech downed Duke 13 to 10 and Auburn beat Clemson 45 to 19.

Texas can win a bowl berth by beating the Aggies only if Baylor or Rice can win it by beating Rice only if Texas loses or is tied by Texas A&M. Rice can earn the bowl berth by defeating Baylor regardless of how Texas fares.

8 Teams Being Studied For Sugar Bowl

By LYLE SCHWILLING

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23.—UP—Sugar Bowl officials said Monday that eight teams were under consideration for a bid to the New Year's Day classic, but it was believed West Virginia and Auburn, with a big IF, had the inside track.

Erwin Poche, president of the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association, which sponsors the game, declined to say which teams were headed the list.

He said only that Texas Tech, Auburn, West Virginia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, Baylor, Rice and Texas were still in the running for a bid.

But it was believed that West Virginia was a top choice for one of the teams with Auburn leading the running for the other spot, provided it gets by arch-rival Alabama Saturday.

Alabama, under consideration last week, was knocked from the list by Orange Bowl-bound Maryland, 21-0, Saturday while another team, Mississippi, was bounced from the list Saturday before by Maryland.

West Virginia, Auburn and Texas Tech smothered opponents Saturday in a major power display before bowl scoring. West Virginia won North Carolina State 61-0, while Texas Tech blasted Houston, upset by South Carolina the week-end before, roared back to roll up a major power display before bowl scoring.

Texas, Rice and Baylor are tied for the Southwest Conference lead with the winner going to the Cotton Bowl. However, it was believed that the runner-up had only a slim chance for a Sugar Bowl bid.

Davidson In SWC Pass Lead

By UNITED PRESS

FRAN (Cotton) Davidson of Baylor climbed back atop the Southwest Conference passing statistical column Saturday, as he did last week and apparently has clinched that honor as has Kossie Johnson of Rice in rushing and Lamar McHan of Arkansas in total offense.

By connecting for 15 but of 29 passes for 198 yards against SMU, Davidson ran his season total to 65 of 134 for 993 yards, 104 strides ahead of McHan and 113 ahead of Don Ellis of Texas A&M, last week's leader.

Johnson had another good day on the ground against Texas Christian to push his season total to 907 yards, 114 yards ahead of teammate Dicky Moegle.

McHan has 378 yards rushing to go with his 880 passing for an overall total of 1,267 yards, 248 steps ahead of Ellis, who has only 120 yards rushing to his credit.

These margins appear wide enough for the leaders to hold their positions during the one game remaining on each team's schedule.

Floyd Sagely of Arkansas held the running for the other spot, with a comfortable margin with 34 catches for 424 yards. Wayne Hopkins of Baylor was second with 18 for 307 yards.

McHan led the punters with a 38.9-yard average on 43 kicks, while Davidson was second with a 38.9-yard average on 29 boots.

Charles Brewer of Texas led the punt returners with a 28-yard average.

SMU's defense gave some ground against Baylor, but it still was tops on rushing (102.4 yards per game), passing (85.8) and total defense (188.1). On offense Rice led in rushing (264.7), Baylor in passing (151.6) and Rice in total offense (353.1).

3 Teams Gunning For SWC Pennant

By ED FITTE
United Press Sports Writer

A tempestuous Southwest Conference gridiron campaign rolls to the finish line this week fraught with championship and bowl bid possibilities.

Defending champion Texas can win the title outright, or share it with either Rice or Baylor, or with both of them.

Rice or Baylor could cut undisputed claim to the crown, share it with Texas—or even share it between them.

It's a typical hectic finish for the wild and woolly conference race that sees four teams still in contention until last Saturday when Baylor finally knocked Southern Methodist into the background.

The feverish activity gets under way Thursday at College Station when Texas plays its fate on its 80th meeting with Texas A&M in a Thanksgiving Day setting at Kyle Field.

Argentinian Has Long Lead In Pan-American Road Race

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, Nov. 22.—UP—Argentina's Juan Manuel Fangio, racing for fame, fortune and a $10,000 side bet, had a toe-hold on all three Monday as the Pan American road race went into the homestretch.

The former world's champion race driver was so far in front of the handful of sports cars left in the man-killing speed test that apparently nothing short of a wreck could keep him from taking first prize money.

As the flag dropped at 11 a.m. (est) for the final 235-mile leg to the Texas border, Fangio held an eight-minute margin over runner-up Piero Taruffi of Italy, and no other competitor was in a challenging position.

Leads Stock Cars
Four Californians, nicknamed the "Rednecks" by sowed Mexicans, bowed the same happy condition in the stock car division of the $100,000 race that started five days ago near the Guatemala border and ends at Ciudad Juarez.

Ex-U.S. champion Chuck Stevenson of Lynwood, Calif., paced four Lincoln Capri sedans in the stock car class. Behind Stevenson's 18:32:00 clocking came Walt Faulkner of Long Beach, Calif., with 18:35:45, Jack McGrath of Los Angeles with 18:36:10, and John Bny with 18:37:51.

Their nearest contender was Jim Rathman of Miami, Fla., with 19:18:02 in an Oldsmobile.

Young Hans Hugo Hartmann of Germany, wheeling a Little Boreward roadster, led four Porsche speedsters that were the only remaining contenders in the junior sports car class.

Evans Leads Division
C. D. Evans of El Paso, Tex.,

the world's safest driver" likewise had a safe margin in the class for stock cars, under 115 h.p.

But the spotlight was on Fangio, who held the sports car leadership without having won a single lap, and who had a $10,000 side bet with an Italian millionaire that he would take one of the first three places.

"I'm not out for glory, I'm out for money," Fangio declared.

On Monday's sprint to the finish line at the airport outside Ciudad Juarez, across the Rio Grande from El Paso, two more records will be endangered in the race which has seen seven consecutive lap marks fall. Karl Kling of Germany averaged 135 miles an hour on the straight road into Juarez last year to establish a standard of 1:44:02 in the sports car class. Manis hung up a stock car mark of 1:59:34.

Tech, Cowboys In Title Tilt Saturday

WESTPORT, Conn.—UP—Tech 45-21 triumph over Houston that was expected to boost its bowl stock, and HSU's 14-10 edge over North Texas.

Two other league games are on tap this week, but they will have no bearing on the title race. Texas Western (2-2) plays West Texas (0-5) at Canyon Saturday afternoon, and Arizona (2-2) meets Tempe State (1-2) at Tempe that night.

Texas Western was idle last week, while West Texas was losing New Mexico A&M 19 to 10. Tempe was held to a 15-12 tie by Midwestern and Arizona played Kansas State to a 26-26 deadlock.

Despite the marked increase in retail coffee prices since 1935, the American homemaker now spends a smaller percentage of her budget for coffee than she did 18 years ago. Coffee analysts estimate that, based on nutritional income for the first seven months of this year, the average consumer will spend 6.85 per cent of his income in coffee during 1953. In 1935, the percentage was 6.76.

Tossing the caber, a 20-foot, 200-pound log is a Scottish Highland game. Holding it in locked hands, the tosser balances the huge log vertically and, running forward, heaves it end over end. The event may have originated with Scottish lumbermen who used this method of putting logs across steep valleys.

BALENTRUE TIRE SERVICE AVAILABLE - Cornelius Motor Co., located at 315 W. Foster, now offers to the motorists of Pampa, the new Barentue tire service. This method of balancing and trueing tires that are out-of-round, is available now at a very moderate cost. You can balance an egg, but it still won't be round. This system eliminates any knots or uneven places on the tread of your tire. Unless your tires are perfectly round, it may cause your car to wear unnecessarily in the front end. Stop by and get a free check-up on your tires and see if they are out-of-round. It takes about three minutes to check all of your tires and it may save you greater cost later on.

Cornelius Motor Co. Makes Egg-Shaped Tires Round

Cornelius Motor Co. at 315 West Foster announces the installation of a new machine which balances wheels and makes out-of-round tires round again, all in one operation. According to Mr. White, service manager of Cornelius Motor Co., "this new 'Bear Balantru' machine was developed to correct customer complaints about rough rides and mysterious vibrations in their automobiles." "Very often," Mr. White explains, "these troubles can occur despite perfectly balanced wheels. The reason in those cases is out-of-round tires." "You can balance an egg... To clarify this situation further, Mr. White compared tires to eggs, as follows: "It is conceivable that we could balance an egg, however, that still wouldn't make it round. It's the same with so-called "egg-shaped" tires. They can be in balance, yet they can continue to "thump" because they are not perfectly round."

"Thumping" more noticeable now When asked whether or not this out-of-round situation has always been present in our tires, Mr. White declared: "Yes, according to automotive scientists, out-of-round tires have always been with us, however, because car makers have steadily improved the riding qualities, steering ease and quiet operation of their models, car owners are apt to notice the tire thump more than before. Also, greatly improved highways and smoother black-top roads magnify the thump caused by an out-of-round tire condition. How Re-Truing Machine Works "Our new 'Bear Balantru' Machine makes 'egg-shaped' tires round again by a method of gently evening out the circumference of the out-of-round tire by buffing off or 'erasing' the high spots, one very thin layer at a time. We have found this method to be so accurate and perfected, that the tread or appearance of the rubber is entirely unaffected. The naked eye cannot tell a tire has been re-trued. Yet, it is amazingly noticeable in the improved riding qualities of a car with balanced tires. How Re-Truing Adds Tire Mileage "Amazing as it may sound," Mr. White continued, "in Tire Re-Truing we actually ADD tire life

Churches Of Christ Support Clean-up Of Slums In Nation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21-UP-The National Council of the Churches of Christ threw its support this week to a dynamic "non-segregated" program to clean up the nation's slums.

The church organization, representing 30 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox faiths, called for a slum rehabilitation program through strict enforcement of local, county and state housing laws. Its proposal closely parallels nationwide programs sponsored by the National Association of Home Builders and the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Federal Housing Commissioner Guy T. O. Hollyday disclosed recently his agency is studying ways to "invite" private capital into slum rehabilitation work.

In a special resolution approved by the council's 125-member general board, the group urged the 35 million Americans whom it claims to represent to back up its housing proposals. The resolution promptly was called to the attention of housing officials.

Federal Housing Chief Albert M. Cole plans to submit his own proposals for a new government housing program to President Eisenhower in the near future. Cole has had government and private experts working on the programs since July. In its resolution, the council said "millions of Americans dwell in indecent and overcrowded housing." In "congested slum areas" throughout the nation, it said, these people are deprived of the "elementary necessities for wholesome community, family and personal living."

It also called on its own churches and church members to look over "carefully" their own holdings in rental houses to see if they are "substandard." "Uninhabitable dwellings which are structurally unsound should be torn down at the earliest practicable moment," it said. The council also called for "federal aid" for housing research and "experiments" to improve building techniques and materials. Congress abolished the government's housing research program this year despite appeals for continued operations from both the Eisenhower and Truman administrations.

The resolution also urged "more and better housing" for minority groups. It said "ways must be found to increase 'non-segregated' use." "We appeal to all church members to support every sound and reasonable effort to put an end to the exclusion of any person on account of race, color, creed, or national origin or ancestry from equal opportunity to rent or purchase living accommodations," it said.

mentary necessities for wholesome community, family and personal living."

"This contributes to juvenile delinquency, crime, divorce, disease, alcoholism, narcotics addiction and a host of other moral and social problems," it said. The resolution was proposed by Charles Taft, brother of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio).

The council said the nation must "enlist all its potential strength to solve the critical housing problem." It called on the construction and banking industries, local, state and federal governments, and citizens' groups to "assume a share of responsibility" in solving the problem.

It also called on its own churches and church members to look over "carefully" their own holdings in rental houses to see if they are "substandard." "Uninhabitable dwellings which are structurally unsound should be torn down at the earliest practicable moment," it said.

We'll Be Listening

The "Question of atrocities committed by North Korean and Communist Chinese forces against United Nations prisoners of war in Korea," to quote the formal wording, has finally been placed on the agenda of the UN General Assembly. Fifty-three of the sixty UN members voted to hear the charges, while vigorous opposition came from the Soviet bloc, in whose behalf, Andrei Vishinsky labeled the charges as "falsification" and "flagrant lies," which were "designed to frustrate a peaceful settlement of the Korean question."

The favorable vote was surprisingly large since there were those saying "aye" who would just as soon not hear any more about the matter. We can only assume that these UN fat-cats rather like their soft assignments, and are beginning to realize that had they voted to ignore what the U. S. Defense department has officially reported as the massacre or torture of nearly 30,000 prisoners, 6-113 being American, public opinion in the free world might well have tossed them out and closed those expensive doors.

Real Security

Since the end of World War II, 30 million babies have been born in the United States. Due mainly to this post-war baby boom, the number of young people — under 20 — in the U. S. is now 11 million greater than it was in 1940. This is a growth equal to the combined populations of Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Detroit and Cleveland.

Since 1940 the number of people aged 65 and over has risen by over four million. Thus the population in the essentially dependent age groups, young and old, has gone up 15 million, against an increase of only 13 million in the number of persons aged 26-64, the age group to whom the dependent population must look for shelter and the production of goods for their living necessities and comforts.

In 1940, people in the age group from 20-64 made up nearly 59 per cent of the total population. Today they comprise 56 1/2 per cent, and by 1965, if population factors continue at about their current rates, only 52 per cent of the American people will be in the 20-64 group. This will be approximately the same ratio as prevailed back in 1900, but at the beginning of the century there were proportionately far more young people and far fewer old people in the dependent-age group.

In 1900 only four per cent of the population were 65 or over, and 44 per cent were under 20. Thus there were 11 young people to every person of 65 or over.

Today the ratio is only four young people to each elderly person, and the proportion will be approximately the same in 1965, when on the basis of population trend estimates over nine per cent of the population will be 65 or more, and nearly 39 per cent will be under 20.

This points up the fact that the basic problem of achieving adequate social security for the future is not one of tax rates and government bounty, but of steadily increasing production per capita by the working-age group, who must turn out enough goods and services each year to provide for themselves and all dependents.

Aw, Come On, GE

Since we had always regarded General Electric as imbued with the normal business urge to sell its products, it is something of a shock to discover a group of them that are not for sale.

There's a midget FM broadcasting station, for instance, that really does fit in a vest pocket and beams its message about 70 feet. A battery of controls for use of a speaker perform such functions as focusing a projector in a booth, and raising or lowering the lectern to size. But all of these devices, designed only for the GE Research Laboratory auditorium in Schenectady, N. Y., one should be on the market. It's a clock at the back of the room, facing the speaker, which turns green a minute or two before the speaker's time limit. And when time's up, its face turns bright red — and blinks!

Come on, GE, have a heart! Why not give the rest of us a break?

THE NATURE OF COMMUNISM

No one should be surprised at the U. S. Army's report on the horrible Communist atrocities in Korea. The atrocities are shocking but not surprising. The fact that a great many Americans were surprised shows clearly how little our people know about the true nature of Communism and its diabolical conspiracy to conquer the world. Mass murder is the standard practice of the Communists. And yet many Americans still will not accept this fact. Inhuman torture is a standard tactic of the Communists. And yet the report that 6,113 American GIs died torture deaths in North Korea surprised even a number of Congressmen, according to news reports.

What actually happened in North Korea was a barbarous massacre of tens of thousands of civilians who refused to join with the Communists, and the unspeakable torturing of untold thousands of war prisoners, Americans and South Koreans. I have seen official documentary movie films showing thousands of Americans, including prisoners, hands tied behind their backs, bayoneted through the body and shot through the head.

SICKENING FACTS
Dr. Charles Mayo, reporting to the United Nations, described the brutal physical injuries inflicted upon American prisoners and also the "subtler, more prolonged torment intended to disintegrate the mind of an intelligent victim." The Army's report described the nature of the slaughtering of American prisoners of war as "bestial and sadistic. Atrocities horrifying even to war-hardened soldiers were related.

But the significant thing is not the sickening nature of these evil acts. The significant thing, which all Americans must at least recognize, is that Communists do not distinguish between good and evil. They consider torturing and mass murder as necessary steps in the process of Communist "progress." Thus butchering of innocent people is Communism in its true nature. It is a part of the Communist way of life.

ANTI-GOD "RELIGION"
Anti-God Communism, the Reds contend, is the vehicle of human progress, and anyone who opposes it or refuses to assist it toward the goal of a Communist world is obstructing progress and must be wiped out. In their creed, there is no such thing as morality, justice, or sin. There is no God, no hereafter, no recompense. Killing, 6,113 American GIs who refused to "cooperate," even after being given the opportunity through torture, was a necessary act in the minds of the Communists.

Bakunin, one of the first Russians to join with Marx in the founding of Communism, described it as a new "religion." "Brethren," he told the fanatics of the Russian underground, "I come to announce unto you a new gospel, which must penetrate to the very ends of the world: The old world must be destroyed and replaced with a new one. The Lie must be stamped out and give way to Truth. The first lie is God; the second lie is Right . . . You must accustom yourself to destroy everything, the good with the bad."

FACTS OF REPEATED
This fundamental truth about the nature of Communism has been repeatedly confirmed to the American people by leading ex-Communists and FBI agents who have, in disguise, worked their way into the top ranks of the Communist apparatus here. The central theme of Whitaker Chambers' book, Witness, was that Communism is a great atheistic world crusade that has become a "religion" to millions. Louis Budenz and Elizabeth Bentley emphasized the same fact. So have FBI counterespies Herbert Philbrick and Matthew Cvetic, both of whom lived nine years within the Communist conspiracy in America.

Matt Cvetic told me that 20,000-600 Chinese had been murdered since the Reds took over China and that the Red bosses had announced their intention of killing 100,000,000, or 25 per cent of the population. Cvetic said that Red leaders often expressed the belief that it would be necessary to murder one-third of the people of America if they were victorious here — to stamp out all seeds of opposition. "Mass murder," said Cvetic, "is a standard practice of the Reds."

Clearly recognizing the true nature of Communism since I first began to study it, I have always advocated the outlawing of this evil conspiracy in America. We are foolish indeed to give legal protection to these mass murderers who hope to make America their final great victim.

One of the most famous bromides is that, "It cannot happen here."

It can happen here—indeed, has already BEGUN to happen here! The Lenin-Stalin policy of inducing the United States to destroy herself through vacillating and indecisive foreign policy, through dissensions at home, setting articulate agencies and fellow-frontists against the very people who should be supported in their efforts to save America, through huge spending, impossible debt, and betrayal of the very principles on which we built our nation—that policy has made alarming progress.

Our own stupidity and gullibility have led us deeper and deeper into the quicksands of communist infiltration and encirclement.

Fair Enough! N. Y. Times Men Have 'Right' Connections In West Germany

By WESTBROOK FEGLER
Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.
NEW YORK — The Sulzberger boys, of the New York Times, have been inspecting their province in cooperation with the former political executive of the province who is now riding the cushions with the Ford Foundation.

The Sulzbergers were honored with a state luncheon recently by Chancellor Adenauer in Bonn. The gain was confirmed the next day when Adenauer again took time out from less pressing affairs of state to throw a luncheon party for Mr. Stone and John J. McCloy, who used to be the American High Commissioner but came home to succeed Winthrop Aldrich at the Chase Bank.

You may remember Mr. Aldrich as the genius of finance who secretly maintained a suite of rooms at the Hilltop Hotel in Chicago during the Republican convention for the purpose of distributing 19 tickets to persons who had contributed to the Republican Finance Committee of the State of New York. Mr. Aldrich is chairman of that committee and it was his duty to see that the contributors got the tickets to which they were entitled.

Cars always break down at the most inconvenient times, too. . . I drove three children into New York one Sunday afternoon for a show. . . At 5:15, with every repair shop closed, rain coming down in torrents and three tired, hungry children on my hands the starting spring snapped. . . It was a car which starts by pushing in the clutch, which hits a button on the floor. . . I couldn't roll it and start it, because cars were parked in front and behind. . . Modern cars don't have cranks, they don't even have crank bolts. . . I had to sit there until the car in front of me was driven away and then wait again until the car behind me was started and could give me a push.

Mr. McCloy's status in the tour of the Times' conquered province was not quite clear. As Hicogalorum he had assumed to some of us in Germany to be figurehead for Mr. Stone, on leave from the Sunday department. When I was there he was down in Bavaria leaping from Alp to Alp on skis and busting his independent Stone acted in his stead. On that visit I made a stout but futile effort to learn why McCloy had retained on his staff at Hicog one Benjamin Buttenwieser, of New York, who with his wife gave sanctuary to Alger Hiss and his wife between trials on charges tantamount to treason.

Nobody would speak for McCloy and the answer is not known yet. However, perhaps one should not get too inquisitive, for our betters go on in the matter of Communism. They are all rich and represent riches, but Aldrich served on the Carnegie Foundation with Hiss; Lehman stands to the left of Roosevelt and even of Eisenhower, and Arthur Hays Sulzberger proposed a few months ago that we forgive all the Reds as a peace offering. This proposition would grant absolute not only to Hiss but to practically all others because by 1945 the party had gone underground, its records had vanished and party cards could not be adduced against traitors because cards had been abolished.

Too Many Too Small Farms Described As Big Problem

AVERAGE SMALL FARMER — who ekes out a living from scant acres like this is a far cry from the farmer who runs a big, scientific operation and rarely gets his hands on a plow.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN NEA Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Too many American farms are too small. This could be one of the roots of the administration's farm troubles.

Since 1920 the trend has been toward larger farms. But a recent study by the Department of Agriculture indicates that it probably has not been fast enough.

In 1920 the average size of the American farm was 148 acres. Today it's 216 acres. Averages like this don't really tell the story, however, because farms vary greatly in most economic size depending upon what they produce.

The most revealing figure from the DOA study shows that one-half of all the country's farm manpower is employed on small, low-production farms. These farms have about one-fifth of the total land resources yet produce one-tenth of the farm products grown for sale.

The big, mechanized, scientifically-run farm is the one that makes the big money. The average of these has 565.5 acres actually, producing $58,085 worth of salable farm products per year.

The average commercial farm, including the big corporate type farms but excluding the residential farms, actually has 119 acres under cultivation which produce $5858 worth of salable crops per year.

The report advises that many of these small inefficient farmers "may do well to turn their places into part-time farms and to accept part-time work on other farms or in nearby industries." It also states, "some farmers may even find it better to leave farming and take jobs in town."

If The Canadian River Dam Is Built, How Much Water Will Be Available To The Cities Of The District?

DO YOU KNOW there is a Federal Law, known as The Canadian River Compact... and that our state law by its own terms is subject in all things to this Canadian River Compact?

ARTICLE IV

(a) New Mexico shall have free and unrestricted use of all waters originating in the drainage basin of Canadian River above Conchos Dam.

(b) New Mexico shall have free and unrestricted use of all waters originating in the drainage basin of Canadian River in New Mexico below Conchos Dam...

(c) The right of New Mexico to provide conservation storage in the drainage basin of North Canadian River shall be limited to the storage of such water as at the time may be unappropriated under the laws of New Mexico and of Oklahoma.

ARTICLE V

Texas shall have free and unrestricted use of all waters of Canadian River in Texas, subject to the limitations upon storage of water set forth below:

(a) The right of Texas to impound any of the waters of North Canadian River shall be limited to storage on tributaries of said River in Texas for municipal uses, for household and domestic uses, livestock watering, and the irrigation of lands which are cultivated solely for the purpose of providing food and feed for the householders and domestic livestock actually living or kept on the property.

maximum quantity of water in storage following each flood or series of floods shall be used; provided, that the right of Texas to retain and use any quantity of water previously impounded shall not be reduced by any subsequent application of the provisions of this paragraph (b).

(c) Should Texas for any reason impound any amount of water greater than the aggregate quantity specified in paragraph (b) of this Article, such excess shall be retained in storage until under the provisions of said paragraph Texas shall become entitled to its use; provided, that, in event of spill from conservation storage, any such excess shall be reduced by the amount of such spill from the most easterly reservoir on Canadian River in Texas; provided further, that all such excess quantities in storage shall be reduced monthly to compensate for reservoir losses in proportion to the total amount of water in the reservoir or reservoirs in which such excess water is being held; and provided further that on demand by the Commissioner for Oklahoma the remainder of any such excess quantity of water in storage shall be released into the channel of Canadian River at the greatest rate practicable.

In view of the provisions of the Compact law, the only drainage basin from which the Canadian River Dam would receive water would be that portion of the Texas Panhandle, west of the proposed Sanford site. There is only one "ravine" of any consequence, known as "Rio Blanco" and that is a "Dry Bed" ravine most of the time.

In View of the Facts, Does ANYONE Actually Know How Much Water Will Ever Be Impounded by The Canadian River Dam?

We submit from the actual facts AND THE LAW as it stands on the books that it certainly will NOT BE EASY to get out of this project if we get in... and it certainly will NOT be as hard to get IN later, if we stay out now.

Scribe Tells What Happens When A Guy Meets Marilyn

By VERNON SCOTT
 HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 23 — UP—
 What happens to a guy the first time he meets Marilyn Monroe?
 According to the luscious blonde, men react in different ways. Some are struck dumb, some blurt out inane questions and others make like big time operators. At any rate, most males don't act normal.

Visitors to Mount Vesuvius may ascend to the summit and view the famous crater safely and conveniently by means of a chair lift in five minutes, which carries 250 passengers an hour, according to the C.L.O. travel agency.

Seeing Marilyn for the first time is a study in pink and patinum which more or less makes a guy forget what he is about to say. A few mumble "how do you do Miss Monroe," the shy ones blush and bold ones bluster, but the average character just gulps.

We gulped when the curvaceous actress stood up to say hello. She was dressed in a light black sweater and a tight black skirt—even her shoes looked tight.

"Sit down," she said in the breathless voice she uses on the screen. We tried desperately to recall the subject of the interview. Marilyn looked a little bewildered when we finally explained we wanted to talk about how men react to meeting her for the first time.

"Gee," she murmured, "that's hard to say, usually they act as if they expect me to be aloof or something—and you can't get to know a fellow very well when he feels like that. It's a real disadvantage for me.

"I think it's sorta immodest for me to talk about myself, don't you?" she asked with a dazzling smile. Asked to try, Marilyn took a deep breath—a high point of the interview—and agreed to express a few opinions.

"Generally when I meet a shy man he gets all the more shy. The bold ones seem to get bolder. Men talk easier and are more brave in bunches, but when there's just one fellow, there's usually sort of a stutter," she said.

The pride of 20th Century-Fox tucked her shapely legs under her and tilted her silver head thoughtfully.

"Some funny things have happened, too, but you couldn't possibly print them. It must have something to do with the subconscious—you know, freudian impulses," she said with a straight face.

Marilyn said men are more apt to whistle at her if they don't recognize her. And unlike women, who make a head-to-toe study of the actress immediately, men are more subtle. Once they're able to tear their attention from her glowing face, they take in the rest of the Monroe scenery at leisure.

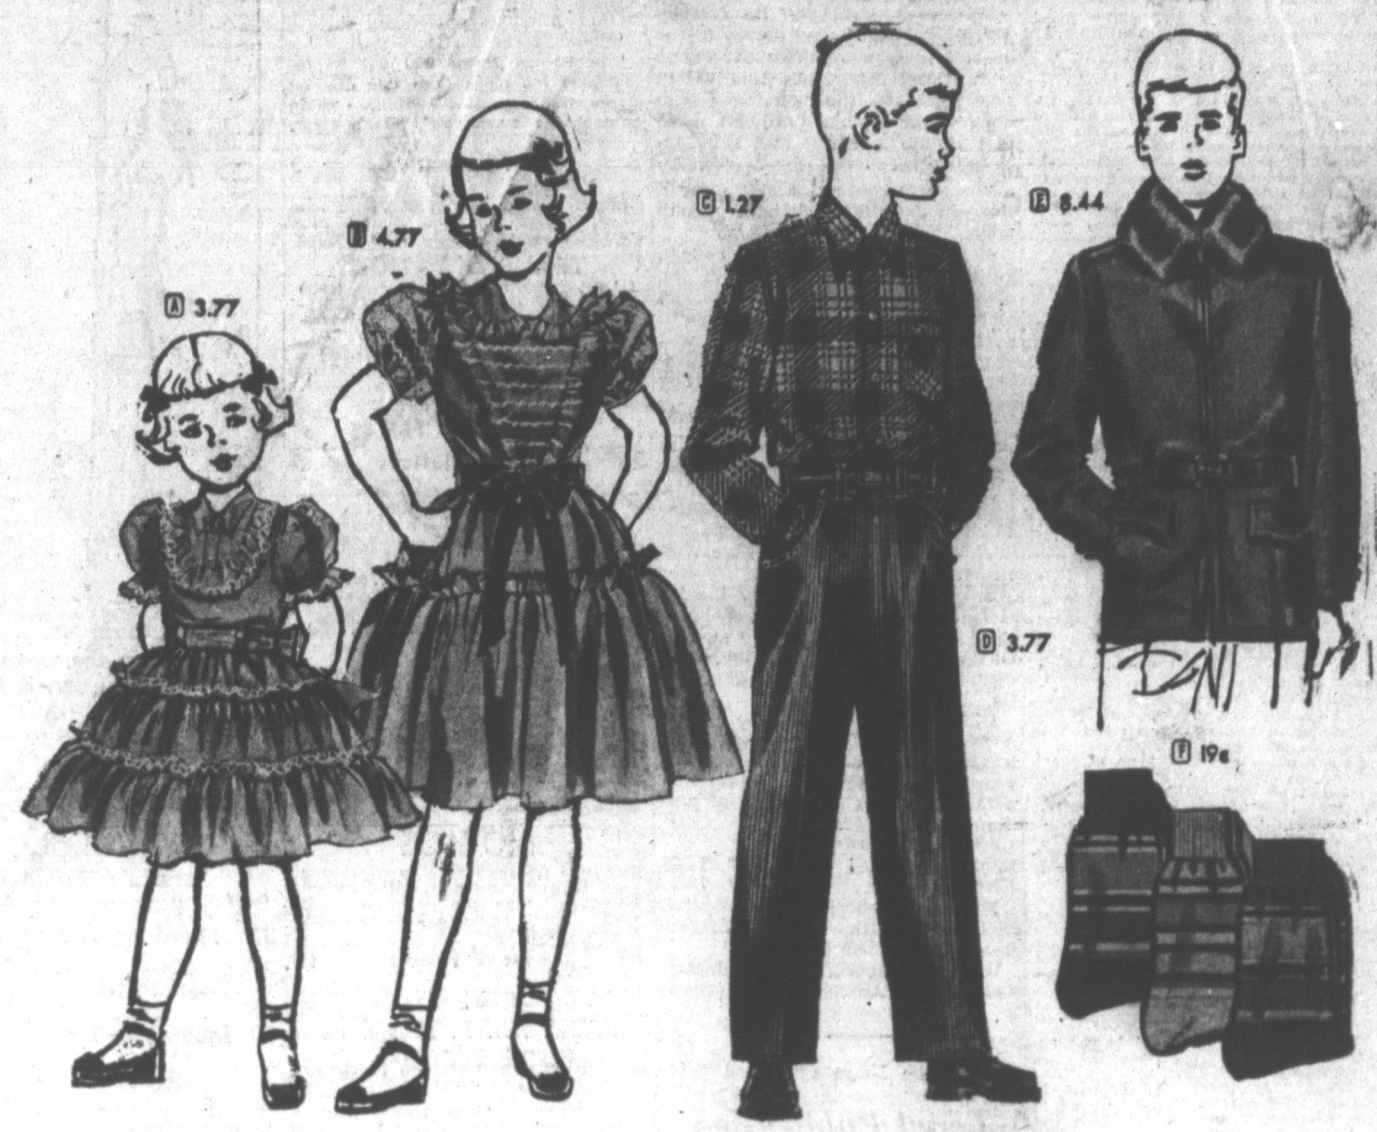

"I like meeting people," Marilyn said happily, "especially men. But honestly, I've never made a study of the reactions. I'm sure they interest me as much as I interest them."

A special telephone apparatus linking 20 inquiry clerks in British railway stations makes it possible to give instant replies to all questions about train services eliminating all queues.

By a 1644 order of the Massachusetts general court, workers at America's first successful ironworks at Saugus, Mass., were exempted from military training and "watching for Indians."
