ARMY STANDS READY

USSR Celebrates Red Revolution

MOSCOW, Nov. 7.—UP—Defense Minister Nikolai Bulganin keynoted Moscow's celebration of the 36th anniversary of the Communist revolution Saturday by warning the West the Red Army stands ready to "guarantee the security" of the Soviet Union.

Bulganin, resplendent in his bedecked, gold-encrusted marshal's uniform, stepped to cheering millions jammed into Red Square to watch a four-hour parade led by goose-stepping Soviet marshals, generals and admirals.

Smartly uniformed security troops stood shoulder to shoulder around the square in front of the Kremlin. The rest of Moscow was studded with police lines. Correspondents had to show their invitations to Red Square a half dozen times before reaching the press area.

Gigantic Parade Follows
 The parade that followed Bulganin's speech included a gigantic column of Soviet motorized infantry and artillery and about one million gaily-clad Muscovite workers, athletes, students and scientists. The civilians carried banners bearing Red slogans and huge portraits of Lenin, Stalin and Soviet and satellite leaders.

Twin engine jet bombers and MIG fighter planes rocketed overhead in tight formations of three. But the parade lacked the tanks and cavalry prominent in previous anniversary celebrations.

Bulganin spoke to the crowd from a reviewing stand in front of the white marble tomb of Lenin and Stalin. Standing above the tomb behind him were Premier Georgi Malenkov, Foreign Minister Vycheslav Molotov and other Soviet civil dignitaries.

Cheer Roars Out
 A cheer roared through the square as they took their places. Among those to whom Bulganin then addressed his remarks were members of the foreign diplomatic corps and Soviet civil and military dignitaries.

Pampa Heads Due To Leave For Plainview

A number of Pampa officials and citizens are expected to be on hand for the only meeting of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority before the 12 participating communities hold their confirmation elections.

Get-together is scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday in the Hotel Hilton Plainview, according to C. A. Huff, authority president.

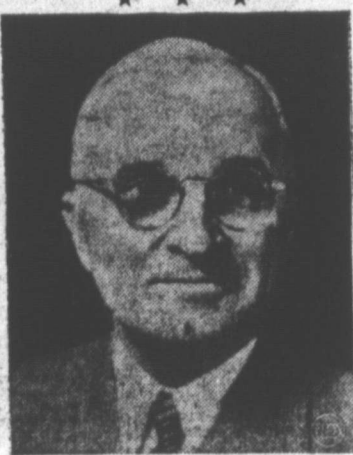

Purpose of the affair will be twofold: to show a film on the proposed $85 million dam near Sanford and to go over last-minute details in the confirmation election, slated for Nov. 24.

Among those expected to be present for the meeting are Huff; Fred Thompson, second Pampa on the board of directors; Clinton Evans, chamber of commerce president; Bill Waters, chairman of the chamber's legislative and national affairs committee; E. O. Wedge, worth, chamber manager; James Cowan, city director of public works; several city commissioners; and newspaper and radio representatives.

City-wide elections in the authority communities will be for the purpose of determining whether each of them wishes to remain in the authority. A second election will be held at a later date to determine whether each locality wants to spend the money on the project. A negative result in either case lets the community out of the project.

The new authority, which came into existence Oct. 6, is a legal entity, passed on by the Texas legislature and empowered to deal with the Federal Government or any private financing agency.

The 12 communities participating are Pampa, Amarillo, Borger, Lubbock, O'Donnell, Slaton, Plainview, Lamesa, Levelland, Brownfield, Tahoka and Littlefield.

HARRY S. TRUMAN
 "The More Lies They Tell..."

Harry Stands By Denial Of Charge

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—UP—Former President Truman may be summoned before Senate investigators to testify on the administration's charge that he promoted a known Soviet spy to a top government job.

Robert Morris, chief counsel for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee which is planning hearings on the case, said there are no present plans to quiz Mr. Truman but "of course, there is a possibility he might be called."

Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. charged Friday that Mr. Truman gave the late Harry Dexter White a government promotion — after the FBI had warned that White was a Russian spy.

A high source in the Eisenhower administration predicted new communism-corruption charges against Mr. Truman's regime comparable to Brownell's blast, which kicked up a violent political storm Truman and the White House over who is telling the truth.

Mr. Truman made it clear in Kansas City, Mo., that he is ready for whatever the Republicans produce.

"The more lies they tell," he said, "the more trouble they're going to get into."

Truman Sticks to Denial
 Mr. Truman stuck by his flat denial of Brownell's charge, made in a Chicago speech, that he knowingly promoted White to a high post on the international monetary fund despite two FBI warnings that White was a Russian spy.

"Mr. Truman insisted White was 'fired' as soon as he was found to be disloyal and accused the Republicans of trying to get 'a headline to offset' their recent election defeats."

The White House challenged him on that. Presidential Press Secretary Brownell said Saturday he will prove on Monday at a probable press conference that Truman had been told White was a Communist spy before he promoted White to a top government job.

Harry James E. Hagerty said the records showed White resigned and Mr. Truman accepted the resignation "with considerable reluctance."

It's "All Right..."
 Advised of this, Mr. Truman responded: "I suppose it is perfectly all right for an administration to do that."

U.S. And British Blamed In Riots

ROME, Nov. 7.—UP—Riot-torn Italy, with more trouble threatened for Monday, formally blamed the United States and Britain Saturday night for bloody demonstrations which erupted in Trieste and flamed from the top to the toes of the Italian peninsula.

Wild sympathy riots for the Italian killed in the outbreaks in the disputed Adriatic territory erupted in a dozen major cities of Italy Saturday, and the Italian government protested to both London and Washington against Anglo-American actions in Trieste.

Communist and rightwing labor groups joined in calling for a paralyzing general protest strike Monday in further protest against the Trieste killings.

Compromise Seen
 Informed diplomatic sources Saturday night said that Premier Giuseppe Pella is believed ready to modify his stand in the dispute with Yugoslavia over the Trieste territory. The informants said that Pella is prepared to agree to participate in a five-power conference if civil administration of Trieste is first turned over to Rome. No Italian troops would be moved in.

Rome's "hardest hit" in Saturday's rioting and for six hours 12,000 students and members of the Chamber of Deputies and Communist agitators battled police from the American and British embassies to the outskirts of Rome.

One student was reported killed and 80 policemen and 120 students badly injured in the rioting which surged once toward the American embassy and broke into heavy fighting near the British embassy when the infuriated mob used rocks and bricks against police clubs, and tear gas bombs.

Italy blamed the British-trained Trieste police force for the two days of bloody outbreaks in Trieste in which seven demonstrators were shot and killed. A formal statement said the Trieste police force mishandled the situation.

The Italian ambassadors in London and Washington were ordered to protest the incidents which created a wave of rioting in every major Italian city and attacks on a number of British consulates.

The decision to protest was made by Premier Giuseppe Pella and President Einaudi Luigi after British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden summoned Italian Ambassador Manlio Brosio to his office Saturday and warned him that Britain is taking a "very serious view" of the anti-British riots.

American Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce called on Pella Saturday night for an "important meeting" after a 90 riot police turned back an attempted attack on the U. S. embassy. Later the rioters stormed the British embassy with stones and paving bricks.

Threats Of Swiss Jeopardize Plans

PANMUNJOM, Sunday, Nov. 8.—UP—Swiss threats to walk out of the neutral nations repatriation commission threatened Sunday to wreck American plans for repatriating 22 "pro-communist" GI's to return home.

Both the Swiss and Swedish delegates criticized the Communist plans for their tactics, and Daeniker said the Communist propagandists violated the Geneva convention and the spirit, if not the letter, of the rules of procedure governing the interviews.

A Swiss withdrawal would destroy the commission and Allied explainers would be unable to interview their turncoat prisoners. American officers had hoped a long wait would weaken their acceptance of communism and have no started explanations.

Some UN officials expressed hope the Swiss would walk out "only partially" by refusing to referee interviews with Chinese and North Koreans while still functioning for Allied explainers.

Armin Daeniker, the Swiss delegate, threatened to withdraw unless the Communists change their tactic of mercilessly questioning Communist prisoners for hours at a time.

Maj. Gen. Jan Stenstrom, the Swedish delegate on the five-nation supervisory body, said he "holds little hope for the explanations to prisoners being resumed."

End of the repatriation commission would block American efforts to talk with 22 reluctant U. S. soldiers since the armistice agreements provide no other means of persuading the reluctant captives.

In addition to the Americans there are one Briton and 32 South Koreans whose fate would be left up in the air.

Plane Crashes Near Midland
 FORT WORTH, Nov. 7.—UP—A C-47 transport with nine airmen aboard crashed near Midland Saturday. None was injured.

The plane, en route to Walker Air Force Base at Roswell, N.M., made a perfect "belly landing" after engine trouble developed, a Carswell AFB spokesman said.

Republican Leaders Planning 'Bonus' Income Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—UP—The problem was underscored by new estimates from congressional staff economists, not previously published, that tax cuts scheduled under present law will cost the treasury $1.3 billion in the current fiscal year—the period from their effective date on Jan. 1 to the period's end on June 30.

In fiscal 1953, the 12 months beginning next July 1, these confidential estimates place the revenue loss at $7 billion.

Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.) of the tax-writing House Ways and Means committee is understood to be one of the group favoring more of an individual income tax cut than is now scheduled.

Reed declined to commit himself publicly on the issue at this time. He said his committee's first objective in the new session next January will be a major tax revision bill. It will be concerned, not with tax rates, but with correction of what many committee members of both parties consider inequities in both business and personal taxation.

Anderson and Schoepel were greeted by representatives from 24 counties. The senators met with farmers at Dalhart Saturday morning and were scheduled to hold a meeting at Clovis, N.M., Saturday night. They will wind up their tour Sunday in Tucumcari and Albuquerque.

"So far, the senators said, they found recent rains in Southwest drought areas came too late to provide feed on grass for cattle although the rain has improved what pastures. Sen. Schoepel said a 50 per cent freight rate cut for winter hay shipments on southern and western railroads to drought-stricken counties would be extended past the scheduled Nov. 30 deadline."

Both senators said the emergency drought feed program would continue as long as it was needed.

SENATORS ANNOUNCE Drouth Aid Plan Due To Continue

AMARILLO, Nov. 7.—UP—Federal emergency aid to drought areas will continue until next spring, two members of the Senate Agriculture committee told a meeting of some 300 high plains farmers Saturday.

During the two-hour hearing, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.) said he was convinced of the need for continued assistance and was sure Congress would appropriate sufficient funds to continue the program or to enlarge it if necessary.

The other member of the Senate team, Sen. Andrew Schoepel (R-Kan.), asked farmers for a complete report on their situation and need so that "we'll be able to present the situation to our colleagues in Washington."

Hamlin Woman Dies In Crash

STAMFORD, Tex., Nov. 7.—UP—Mrs. A. W. Knight, 35, of Hamlin, Tex., was killed shortly before midnight Friday when the pickup truck she was driving overturned west of Stamford.

Six other persons were riding in the truck, but only one of them, two-year-old Andrew Knight, son of Mrs. Knight, was injured. He was taken to a Hamlin hospital.

Gale Lashes East Coast

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—UP—Gale force winds and 40-foot Atlantic Ocean waves lashed the snow-blanketed East Coast Saturday, causing floods that forced more than 10,000 persons from their homes and swept resort piers and buildings out to sea.

At least 22 persons had been listed as dead and 18, some of whom had been feared dead, were rescued in storms that struck with unusual fury on the eastern seaboard and in the northern plains states.

Residents of Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas dug out from under an usually heavy blanket of snow which stranded hundreds of motorists in crowded hotels. But farmers rejoiced over the beneficial moisture for their drought-parched winter wheat.

Weather Mixed
 Easterners fought off first snow then rain and sleet and finally winds up to 80 miles an hour. These were coupled with unusual tidal forces that swelled tides to 20 to 30 per cent above normal, flooding hundreds of homes in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

Three men were rescued after their tug boat broke up and sank several hundred feet off Clinton, Conn. Six men were rescued from a stricken yacht a mile off the shore.

Five of the traffic victims were sailors who were killed when their automobile skidded on the ice, loaded New Jersey turnpike and crashed into a truck. One person was killed on a slippery Maryland road and four persons died on Kansas highways.

Second Part United Fund Drive Slated

The second portion of the Pampa community's United Fund drive gets underway at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday with a program that will amount to a carbon copy of the one a week ago in which the advance drive was kicked off.

This get-together will be for the purpose of kicking off the general fund drive which will be divided into three parts.

Slated for the Palm Room of the City Hall, the affair will feature music by Roy and Sue Johnson; a Pledge to the Flag; led by a Boy Scout and a Girl Scout; an invocation by Rev. Lytle Albright, Church of the Brethren; a keynote address by Hugh (Buck) Burdette; and two-minute talks by representatives of the seven participating agencies.

According to Paul Brown, overall drive chairman, there will be an estimated 150 volunteer workers, most of them women, who will be working the cards that day. For the advance drive there were only 70-75.

Making the talks for the agencies, Brown said, will be George Newberry (Boy Scouts), Ross Buzzard (Red Cross), Howard Vineyard (Salvation Army), Dr. Malcolm Wyatt (Hearst Fund), Mrs. Rufe Jordan (Girl Scout) and Ivy Duncan (Milk Fund). Brown will speak for United Service Organization.

Drive chairman for the day will be Newberry, for general solicitation; and Irvin Cole, for rural.

The fund drive is designed to include Pampa, LeFlore and the oil camps south and northwest Pampa.

Reporting on the results of the advance drive, Floyd Watson, chairman of that part of the drive, late Saturday said that he was well pleased with the response and figured some 40-50 per cent of the cards had been turned in.

Former Government Brass Under Fire

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—UP—The Justice Department said Saturday a federal grand jury will begin an investigation Monday of former government officials suspected of violating the "conflict of interest" laws.

A department spokesman declined to reveal names of former officials who are targets of the inquiry, but it was widely speculated that at least one served in a high Justice Department post during the Truman administration.

There was no indication when the grand jury investigation would be ready to rule on the evidence.

It is known that the Justice Department's criminal division has been preparing several cases involving apparent violations of "conflict of interest" statutes.

Under one such law, it is a criminal offense for a former government official, within two years after leaving government service, to represent anyone in a case involving the government if he had any direct connection with the subject matter involved while in federal service.

Violators of this section are liable, upon conviction, to a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine and one year in prison.

No one has ever been prosecuted under this law. But soon after he took office, Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., noting several apparent violations, ordered all U. S. attorneys to prosecute the law vigorously.

Another section of the law makes it a crime for a government official to accept any compensation for representing anyone before a government department or agency. Violators of this section are liable to a maximum penalty, upon conviction, of a $10,000 fine and a two-year prison term.

Mossadegh To Die?

TEHRAN, Iran, Nov. 7.—UP—Former Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, whose stormy rule of tears and terror brought this once oil-rich nation to the brink of economic ruin, is scheduled to go on trial for his life Sunday on charges of treason.

The 72-year-old Mossadegh and his former military chief of staff, Brig. Gen. Taqdi Riahi are charged with plotting the overthrow of Iran's young Shah, whom Mossadegh once swore on the Koran never to betray.

Mossadegh Prosecutor Brig. Gen. Hossain Azemoudeh said he will demand the death penalty for both defendants.

Site of Hearing Picked
 The trial is set for hearing in the salon of the swank officers club of the Saltanatabad military barracks, who use to stage fits of uncontrollable weeping and fainting when his policies were opposed by the parliamentary opposition he sought to crush, was described as "intensely nervous" Saturday night.

At Sunday's opening hearing he is to hear the prosecution read the lengthy indictment.

Interest Seen In Poll Taxes

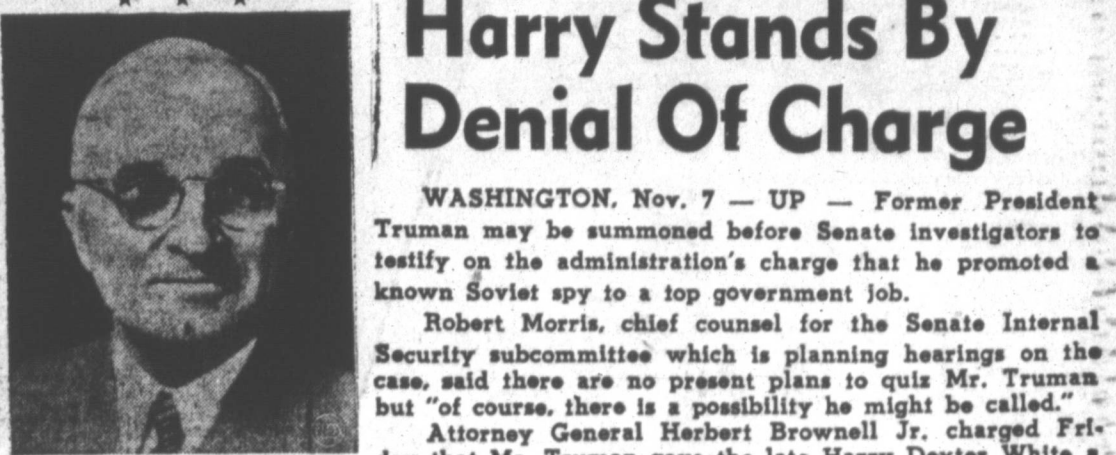

Even though this is an "off-year" for elections, a goodly number of Gray County residents are coming in to pay their poll taxes.

A total of 356 had paid their $1.75 poll taxes by the time the county tax office closed Saturday, according to Jack Back, chief deputy tax assessor-collector.

In addition, there were 192 persons who had filed for exemptions, he said, pointing out that that category includes those who are 80 or more or those who become 21 after Jan. 1, 1953 or who will be 21 before election day.

Deadline for paying poll taxes is Jan. 31.

Local Woman's Descendants Keep Aunt's Wedding Dress

By JANE KADINO
Tampa News Staff Writer
Fanny Hopkins Lovett will always be remembered by Pampans for making possible a new public library. But 12-year-old Virginia Hopkins has a more personal remembrance of her Great-Aunt Fanny—her wedding dress, complete with bustle and high-top buttons shoes.

"The wedding dress and a summer dress were left to both Virginia and her sister Martha," Mrs. James A. Hopkins explained. Martha is away at college so Virginia has the sole enjoyment of them right now.

"I just love it," Virginia sighed, stroking the soft folds of the dress. "I wish I lived then."

"I BELIEVE Aunt Fanny wore the dress around 1885," Mrs. Hopkins pointed out. "The dress is supposed to be a little shorter than it is on Virginia. I think they showed their ankles in those days." (However, the ankles were always encased in high-top buttons shoes.)

Although Virginia was only 7 when Mrs. Lovett died in 1949, she remembers quite a bit about "Aunt Fanny."

"Every Christmas she gave me a big doll," Virginia declared. "I still have them, too—that is, all those I didn't tear up when I was younger."

"Aunt Fanny loved children," Mrs. Hopkins added. "When the girls visited her, she had special dishes and special silverware for each one. She didn't believe in children eating between meals, so she always urged them to eat plenty at their noon meal."

"BUT WHEN SHE took us to the store, she always bought us popcorn," Virginia interposed.

"Virginia was her favorite," Mrs. Hopkins stated. "She was away

Kiwanians Hear Traffic Engineer

To have a successful traffic program in the city officials and the police department must have the cooperation of the citizens of the community, it was stated by Harold Miller, traffic engineer for the City of Amarillo, in an address at the luncheon meeting of the Pampa Kiwanis Club Friday in the basement of the First Methodist Church.

"Your chief of police can't do a thing toward regulating traffic unless you back him up," the speaker stated.

He said that 85 per cent of the people will be in favor of any reasonable regulation that is established.

He pointed out numerous problems his city has had to face in the past few years, because of its tremendous growth during the last 10 years.

Miller praised the City of Pampa for the fine job it has done in meeting the traffic problem. However, he stressed the need for the elimination of angle parking on the downtown streets here.

The speaker was introduced by John Wilkinson, chairman of the club's Public Affairs Committee.

Guests included Harry Wofford, II, Governor of Kiwanis Division VI, Wheeler; Huelyn Laycock, White Deer; A. M. Kirkpatrick, Amarillo, and Chief of Police Jess Conner and Patrolman Jess Taylor, both of the Pampa Police Department. President Clinton Evans presided.

When Martha was born, but was very much here when Virginia came. She thought Virginia looked like her daughter who died.

"Aunt Fanny always lived in the past," Mrs. Hopkins declared. "She had nothing to do with anything modern. She never had an old refrigerator. She felt the old ice box she'd always had was good enough."

Whenever Mrs. Hopkins and her husband would visit "Aunt Fanny," "she would sit us down and start telling us about things that happened. She loved to talk."

WHEN MRS. LOVETT and her husband first came to the Pampa area, they lived on a ranch, now located south of town. "Pampa wasn't here then," Mrs. Hopkins related.

"She'd tell us how she and Uncle Henry (her brother) used to roundup the cattle for branding. She was as good as any man in the branding pen. She road side-saddle for years, but finally bought herself a man's saddle."

Mrs. Lovett finally moved to town. (Her home was on Houston street, which will be the site of the public library.) "But she didn't change her ranch ways any," Mrs. Hopkins declared. "She always did her own cooking even though she could have hired a cook." And as most typical grandmothers, she did beautiful embroidery and was "always knitting or crocheting even when she couldn't see any more."

Virginia lifted her skirts a little to look at her high-top shoes. "She says they're real comfortable," Mrs. Hopkins explained.

"They're awful hot, though," Virginia added.

Californians Set To Battle In Elections

By ALEX KAHN
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7—UP—California Republicans, treating the election like a battle rather than a skirmish, girded themselves Saturday night for the last few days of slugging prior to Tuesday's special election in the 24th Congressional District.

The battle finds Republican against Republican and Democrat against Democrat in a four-way championship for the seat vacated by Rep. Norris Paulson when he was chosen mayor of Los Angeles last spring, less than six months after he was re-elected to Congress.

Victory in the election by the Democrats would increase their numbers in the House of Representatives to 216 against 218 Republicans and one independent.

The Republican candidates are both state assemblymen and both prominent in the district, with the rivalry between them as bitter or more so than their rivalry with their Democratic opponents.

The candidate with the largest plurality next Tuesday is the winner and Republicans, from National Chairman Leonard W. Hall down, are fearful the split in the GOP makes the job of the top Democratic candidate easier.

The Republicans are Glenard Lipscomb and John L. E. (Bud) Collier. Holding the more or less "official" party blessing is Lipscomb who was endorsed by the county central committee and reportedly is "favored" by the state central committee.

But Collier, just as staunch a Republican, bitterly disputes the endorsement of his Republican opponent as stacked, declaring a fact-finding committee which picked Lipscomb as the "official" candidate was increased in membership so its vote would go to his opponent.

The feud cheered the Democrats who were predicting victory for George L. Arnold, son of former trust-buster Thurman Arnold and son-in-law of Communist Drew Pearson. Arnold's Democratic opponent, Irving Markheim, has run in the 24th district several times against Paulson with little success.

He was not waging as strong a campaign and was not expected to swing many votes from Arnold.

Neuro Convicted In Narcotics Deal

BEAUMONT, Nov. 7—UP—A Negro physician (lasted sentenced Dec. 5 after jury deliberated six hours and found him guilty of three charges of narcotics law violation.

A second doctor pleaded guilty to similar charges Friday and trials for two other physicians were continued until a later date.

Dr. Blaise Lionel Dube, a Negro, was found guilty in the court of U. S. District Judge Joe W. Sheehy.

Dr. Thomas Calvin Brackeen, also a Negro, was fined $1,500 and given a two-year suspended sentence when he pleaded guilty on five counts of narcotics law violations. The judge said the suspended sentence was given because the man was so elderly.

Parents Urged To Pay Visit To Schools Throughout Week

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—UP—Parents were urged Saturday to visit their children's schools next week and look over the buildings, classrooms, teachers and supply of books.

William G. Carr, executive secretary of the National Education Association, said that if parents would evaluate all factors about their children's schools, "we would see some remarkable changes."

He made the statement in connection with the 33rd annual observance of American Education Week, starting Monday. Some 20 million parents are expected to visit local schools during the week.

The observance is sponsored by the NEA, American Legion, U. S. Office of Education and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Carr gave parents a five-point check list of things to look for:

1. What kind of teachers do your children have?
2. Are the school shelves well stocked with up-to-date textbooks, and is there a good supply of suitable films and records?
3. Do the schools provide adequate health services, such as school nurses, health examinations and regular health instruction?
4. Are the buildings good, well lighted, with proper ventilation and other essentials for good classroom work?
5. Do the school boards have able members lacking "personal prejudices and partisan considerations"?

Ace Photographer To Speak At Knife - Fork Club Dinner

Pampa's Knife and Fork Club will be host to Julien Bryan, America's ace foreign photographer, Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the High School cafeteria.

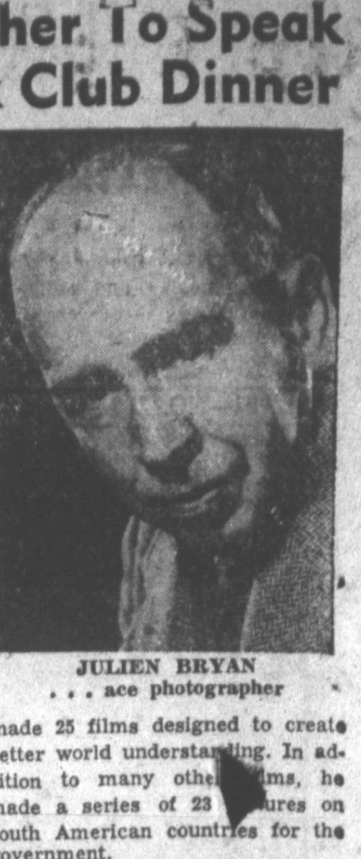

Bryan has just returned from a two months' trip to the Middle East where he "on-the-spot" photographs the people, their habits, their wants, their actions and reactions in countries that are so much in the news today.

After his visit to Yugoslavia, Bryan states that "every farmer and worker seems to have a relative in Chicago or Pittsburgh." In Greece, he spent five days in and near the famous Acropolis. In Turkey his photographs ranged from the life of the simplest peasant to one of the cultured families in Ankara. He visited Jerusalem and Biblical monuments, he photographed the tragedy of modern war.

Bryan not only brought back colored film of the Middle East, but he also gathered information on the political views and trends of the people and their countries, as the greatest documentary photographer in the world and is noted for his knack of being at the place where "history is being made."

A graduate of Princeton and Union Theological Seminary, Bryan scooped the world with his on-the-spot shots of dying Poland, later used in the motion picture, "Siege."

At one time, he headed the International Film Foundation, which

Rep. Rogers Claims Favoritism Caused Republicans' Loss

Rep. Walter Rogers broadly hints in his weekly newsletter to Texas' 11th Congressional District that "political favoritism" was the cause of the Republicans' downfall at the polls in the recent elections.

"The American people are wise, they know and have a full understanding and knowledge of what is going on," Rogers writes, adding that "they do not believe in political chicanery, four-or-five-per cent seats, influence-peddling, or any other practice that smacks of political favoritism."

Pointing out that "this age-old political disease" is not peculiar to one particular party, Pampa's congressman states with an obvious look backward at the recent elections:

"When that kind of government is not the order of the day, those in power can't expect to be re-elected at the polls. (Among other offices, Democrats beat Republicans for the New Jersey governorship, the New Jersey House seat and several mayoralty races.)"

Discussing the opening of Washington's social season at the White House, Rogers described the red snapper and roast turkey served and then added:

"Although I am sure Mr. Benson, secretary of Agriculture, would never complain about the food at the

Area Woman Hurt In Crash

A McLean woman was in Highland General Hospital Saturday night recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident Friday near Lefors.

Highway Patrolman E. J. Robertson reported that Mrs. Rosalie Hardy Henley, 24, of McLean, was injured when the automobile she was driving skidded on wet pavement about a mile east of Lefors and overturned. Her five-year-old son, Dickie, received minor head injuries. He was released from the hospital here Saturday afternoon.

Robertson said that Mrs. Henley apparently turned her car to the left in an effort to pass another vehicle, when she saw another car coming toward her from the east. He said she then apparently applied her brakes and turned back to the right, and in doing so caused the car to go into a side skid, overrunning on the south side of the highway.

Mrs. Henley was suffering from bruises and back strain, an attending physician said. She was cited for having defective brakes on her automobile, Robertson stated.

Frenchman To Build Super Jet

PARIS, Nov. 7.—A French engineer began construction Saturday of a stubby jet fighter plane with a motor of no movable parts that he claims will fly 3,000 miles an hour in level flight.

Rene Leduc took the wraps off his model for the new V-22 which he said will be able to crack the sound barrier even while climbing.

Leduc, whose previous V-21 prototype hit 600 miles an hour on the climb, has been heavily subsidized for his new project by the French government. The V-22 is being built at the modernized factory in suburban Argenteuil and is expected to be completed in 1955.

The engineer said his rocket-like plane, which can take off by itself, contains only a compressor, a fuel pump and seven successive chambers where the fuel is burned and expelled. Lack of movable parts in the motor will mean virtually no chance of mechanical trouble, he said.

The pilot will lie almost flat in the nose of the pipe-shaped plane. He will be able to see out of it only by a prism over his head that works like a periscope.

Since it would be fatal to parachute out of a plane at such high speeds Leduc has made the pilot's compartment separate so he can detach his whole cabin which itself has a parachute attached.

Warmer Weather Due In Panhandle

Continued cloudy and rather cold weather was forecast for the Pampa area and the Panhandle today but intermittent sunshine was expected to warm the area today and Monday.

Pampa was one of the coldest spots in the state early this morning, when the temperature dropped to 34 degrees, a new low for the season, according to the weather station at Radio Station KPDM.

The previous low, 38 degrees, had been recorded here on several occasions within the past week.

Saturday's high reading was 50 degrees, the station reported.

Accompanying the low temperature here Saturday morning was a strong south wind that had been blowing since Friday, causing Pampa residents to don their overcoats and to rush their automobiles to service stations of the city for a supply of anti-freeze.

City To Check Law Violations

Lawrence West, city sanitarian, is planning to make the rounds sometime this week in search of residents who are violating ordinances concerning horses, cows, dogs, goats, hogs and crowing chickens.

Quoting ordinances that state horses, cows and goats must be kept at least 50 feet from anyone else's lot and 100 feet from places where persons eat and sleep, West Saturday said he makes a practice of giving violators a 30-day notice.

West pointed out, that it does not concern a pet or two in a private home.

"Of course, there can be no hogs kept within the city limits at all," he averred, adding that the "crowing chicken population seems to have increased this year. Chickens that crow are not welcome," he said.

West will be accompanied by A. N. Thorne, milk inspector, as he makes his rounds, "probably about the middle of the week."

Pampa Held As Burglary Suspect

A 24-year-old Pampa man was held in the county jail here late Saturday night in connection with the burglary of the Hall and Pinson Tire company station No. 2, 415 E. Frederic, Thursday night.

William Thomas Pierce of the Orange Courts, who waived preliminary hearing in Justice of the Peace D. R. Henry's court Saturday, was being held on a charge of burglary. Late Saturday night he had not posted bond, which was set at $2,000.

Police Chief Jim Conner said the man, after considerable questioning, admitted burglary in which he entered the place of business by breaking the glass in a door to the grease rack. About $1.25 in coins was taken from the station, Conner stated.

Pierce, who was an employee of the tire company, was questioned regarding several other reported burglaries, but police were of the opinion that he had no connection with these.

Miss Seawright won over a field of eight other candidates in an election, in which students of the high school participated.

Other candidates were Su Stone and Life Immon, Seniors; Margie Roundtree, Nancy Harrison and Peggy Colton, Juniors; and Shirley Keel, Anita Southard and Joan Robertson, sophomores.

The usual carnival spirit prevailed at the affair, which featured numerous carnival games and slide-shows. Features of the event were the Horror Show, Can Can dancers, an old fashioned cack walk, and many others.

The honor of having the best booth went to the woodshop classes of the school.

Tax Payments Are Rolling In

And the taxes keep rolling in. Late Saturday morning, city tax records showed that $77,454.95 of a total $362,447.21 had been collected. Deadline for payment is Jan. 31.

Across the hallway of City Hall, school business office records indicated that $316,009 of $732,000 had been paid. Deadline there is Feb. 1.

In the Court House, the county tax office ledgers showed that some 80 per cent of $726,537.18 assessed for county and state had been paid. Deadline is Jan. 31; but the sooner the better, for a small percentage is knocked off the bill if paid early.

City, school and county officials indicated that this seemed to be an "early" paying year but it were keeping their fingers crossed.

WATERPROOFING MATCHES — Scout leaders of the Santa Fe Boy Scout district are learning many things — including how to waterproof matches — at a leadership training camp being held at Recreation Park. By soaking matches in wax, the matches were waterproofed, so that seven matches, tied together, will burn for minutes, even after being in water for several hours. Giving the demonstration in the picture are, left to right, Walter Elliott, Scoutmaster trainer for the Santa Fe district, Lefors; Jerry Rockwell, Troop 80, Pampa, who is dipping the matches in water, and Charles Moorehead, Troop 71, Canadian, who is dipping them in the wax. Korean Clothing Drive Approaches

Just two days away is the clothing drive for Korean civilians. Sponsored by Top of Texas barbershoppers, the drive is slated to last all-day Tuesday, according to Bunny Shultz, chapter president.

Shultz Saturday said he hoped he and his fellow barbershoppers would have the cooperation of all churches, Sunday School classes and civic clubs in the drive.

Present plans call for members of this chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America to man phones during the day in the KPDM studios. When someone calls, a barberhopper will pick up a car and drive out to pick up the clothing.

However, anyone wishing to donate before the actual drive gets underway can take the articles of clothing to the First Christian Church where Rev. Dick Crews has agreed to handle the situation, Shultz continued.

Originally, barberhoppers had planned to wait till after the annual parade of quartets but decided that the clothes might not arrive in time for Christmas. The parade is slated for 8 p. m. Nov. 21 on the stage of the junior high school auditorium.

Rodeo Association To Name Directors

Eleven new directors of the Top of Texas Rodeo Association will be elected at the upcoming association meeting.

There are 35 directors of the association in all. Each year 11 of them are elected for three-year terms.

KNOCKING' IT OUT — Cal Jones knocks out on the piano and sings, too, — a bit of "Pistol-Packing Mama" at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Lions Club. His barbershop quartet, the Top o' Texas Four, will be one of the local outfits to appear at 8 p.m. Nov. 21 on the stage of the junior high school auditorium for the seventh annual parade of quartets. His performance here was just a preview of things to come. (News Photo)

HE LOVES TO SING

Pampan Is Charter Member Of Top O' Texas SPEBSQSA

By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer
Cal Jones just loves to sing. That fact explains the way he spends much of his spare time and a good part of the reason for the success in these parts of the outfit with the overlength abbreviation S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A.

It all began some dozen years ago when Cal used to get together with John Sturgeon (now deceased), Jack Dunn and Carl Smith every Saturday night for "a little quaterning around."

"The girls'd play bridge and we'd sing," he recalls, adding that "we'd rather do that than anything else — than play bridge, anyhow."

THREE OR FOUR years later Cal Jones — now Dr. W. Calvin Jones, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist — was one of the instigators and charter members of the Top o' Texas chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America.

And come Nov. 21 the seventh annual Parade of Quartets will be held at 8 p.m. on the stage of the junior high school auditorium. Leading one of the three participating local quartets will be none other than Cal Jones.

It is only fitting, too, that the man who had so much to do with the founding of the Top o' Texas chapter will be in charge of the latest of the three Pampa barbershop quartets. It's the Top o' Texas Four, originally known as Doc Jones and His Sawbones.

Its composition illustrates one of the guiding principles — that anyone, regardless of occupation, can get together with three others to make up a quartet. The "Four" are Bob Parkinson, lead, a radio announcer; Porter Brooks, baritone, a minister; Del Hurst, tenor, a mechanical engineer; and Cal, a physician.

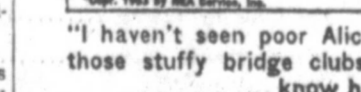

Other local barbershop quartets are the Squeaky Door Four and the Chord Craftsmen. In the first are Bunny Shultz, Mack Hiatt, Red Wedgeworth and Dude Balthrop. In the second it's James Evans, Hanford Ousley, Bill Haley and Barney McMullan.

Fifty-one years young, Cal is in firm agreement with the fundamental American principle of barbershop singing on which S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. was founded. And he believes 100 per cent that it is "the one privilege guaranteed by the Bill of Rights that has not been limited in some way."

"It is really here," Cal insists. And he should know. For he's been an officer of a local district and international organization. He had been secretary and president of the Texas chapter, past secretary and president of the Southwestern District (Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana) and on the international board of directors.

That last makes him an automatic member of the "association of discarded and decrepit past members of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. board of directors without voice and without portfolio, NOT incorporated." And he's in "good standing on crutches or otherwise."

HEROINE HONORED—Capt. Valerie Aimee Andre, of the French army, salutes after receiving the U. S. Legion of Merit medal from U. S. Air Secretary Harold E. Talbot, in Paris. A brain surgeon, Capt. Andre has served with the French army in Indo-China for nearly four years, is credited with saving the lives of more than 100 French fighters.

"I haven't seen poor Alice in years—she joined one of those stuffy bridge clubs that insist all the members know how to play!"

Cal, who lives at 900 Christine is a Pampa "youngster," relatively. He's only been here since 1935. Only a decade later he and 34 others became charter members in this chapter which was sponsored by the Lubbock chapter. Now they're a part of the 650 chapters and 30,000 members in the United States, Canada, Hawaii and Burgundy (France).

THE PAMPA pioneer — in barbershopping — likes to recall the days of the Melody Menders who sang in the district contest. In addition to Cal there were Harold (Red) Payne, oil-field harpist; C. V. Minniear, gas-tester; and Knox Barte, grocer.

An Oklahoma City attorney, O. C. Cash, founded the organization in 1935 when he invited 14 friends to "peaceable assembly for the enjoyment of the last remaining vestige of human liberty." Today Cal and his associates the world over keep alive that human liberty with the singing of "Dixie," "When It's Watermelon Time in Dixie," "The Great Smoky Mountains" and—of course—"Sweet Adeline"—he won't last long.

"We like to spread good-will and happiness," Cal says, but adds with emphasis that to be a barbershopper a man must like to sing, but if he's an incurable soloist or exhibitionist — he won't last long.

This barbershopping has really permeated his family, too. His daughter, Jo Ann, 13, is an avid fan of Arthur Godfrey's Chordettes on the radio. And his son, John, 15, has been trying to organize a teen-aged barbershop quartet among his friends.

Demo Victors Claim Voters Disappointed With The GOP

By UNITED PRESS
The two Democrats who won the only congressional elections so far this year said Saturday they felt the voters who elected them are disappointed with the Republican administration but still believe President Eisenhower himself.

Representatives — elect Lester Johnson of Wisconsin and Harrison A. Williams of New Jersey both thought the biggest issues in their campaigns had been local ones. However, they ranked dissatisfaction with the GOP regime high among the factors that produced Democratic victories in their normally Republican districts.

Johnson, a virtual unknown, defeated Republican State Sen. Arthur L. Padrutt of Wisconsin's Ninth District seat. Williams, who never had won a political race before, defeated Republican George Hetfield in New Jersey's Sixth District. Both districts had been considered "safe" GOP strongholds.

Cites Anti-Benson Sentiment
Johnson carefully avoided criticism of Mr. Eisenhower in his campaign. However, he said Saturday he felt Republican failure to halt falling farm prices and "the Republican attitude toward the Rural Electrification Administration" played a big part in his victory.

"My election reflects more sentiment against Agriculture Secretary (Ezra T.) Benson than President Eisenhower," he said. "Just today I talked to a farmer who sold three calves for $30 that a year ago would have brought him $180. He was still mad."

Williams said he thought New Jersey voters were disappointed "with the failure of the Eisenhower administration and Congress to perform on its promises of last year."

Reputation of GOP Old Guard
"I consider my election a repudiation of the boss-dominated Old Guard of the Republican party, but not of Mr. Eisenhower personally," he said. "Too bad he doesn't give them a little leadership."

Williams said the "developing power of Republican political bosses" in his district had irked the voters. He claimed Hetfield, his opponent was a "boss-picked candidate," which he said "went against the people in the Republican party who have worked within the party of this district."

The two new congressmen differed in their opinions of the nation's most pressing problem. Johnson, a farm state representative, said it was beef prices. Williams, representing industrial New Jersey, said it was "the business recession the country seems to be falling into."

Fair Makes $375,112
DALLAS, Nov. 7.—UP—The 1953 State Fair of Texas profited some $375,112 during its 16-day run and President R. L. Thornton, Sr., said Saturday the fair's board of directors had authorized a $114,500 payment on outstanding Cotton Bowl bonds. Bonds for $1,200,000 were issued in 1946 to expand the bowl and the latest payment on principal puts the fair eight years ahead of schedule. The fair cleared $307,877 in 1952.

"POP" MUSIC—Sally Sweetland, whose first love is opera, switches to "pop" music for a time. She celebrates start of a tour with a radio show to college functions across the country, by breaking a supper-club-type balloon.

Fifty-one years young, Cal is in firm agreement with the fundamental American principle of barbershop singing on which S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. was founded. And he believes 100 per cent that it is "the one privilege guaranteed by the Bill of Rights that has not been limited in some way."

"It is really here," Cal insists. And he should know. For he's been an officer of a local district and international organization. He had been secretary and president of the Texas chapter, past secretary and president of the Southwestern District (Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana) and on the international board of directors.

That last makes him an automatic member of the "association of discarded and decrepit past members of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. board of directors without voice and without portfolio, NOT incorporated." And he's in "good standing on crutches or otherwise."

THE LITTLE CARD he carries in his wallet, and treasures highly concludes with the statement that he is guaranteed no "molestation or derogatory remarks concerning his voice."

Asked how he'd gotten into barbershopping in the first place, the genial countenance insisted he'd always been interested, "though I never took any music." One would never guess, though, that Cal or anyone else in barbershop-quartet.

Longhorns Tumble Bay or From Undeclared Rank, 21-20

AUSTIN, Nov. 7.—UP—Texas fumbled Bayor from the ranks of the nation's undeclared football teams, 21 to 20, Saturday and the difference was a guard with a nervous toe.

The guard was Phil Branch. He kicked three extra points to provide the margin by which Texas beat the nation's third ranked team before 54,000 fans.

Texas turned back a fourth-period threat by Bayor and its powerful backfield to throw the Southwest Conference crown race into a deadlock between Texas and Bayor.

Texas struck with touchdowns in each of the first three periods, with fullback Doug Cameron cashing in from the two in the opening quarter, halfback Delano Womack plunging over from the one in the second, and a 23-yard pass from quarterback Charles Brewer to Womack in the third.

Branch, 206-pound senior, converted on all three occasions to bring Texas its victory, the first time in the last 17 years the Longhorns have dumped the Waco, Tex., school from the undefeated list.

Halfback L. G. (Long Gone) Dupre, a sparkplug of Bayor's backfield, counted all three Bayor scores, bouncing over the two-yard line in the first and the

TCU Snaps Losing Streak, 21 To 7

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 7.—UP—Texas Christian led by quarterback Ray McKown and Ron Clinkscale, struck twice within two minutes in the fourth period to break a half-time tie and defeat Washington State College 21 to 7 Saturday in an intercollegiate football battle before 18,000 fans.

McKown's dead-eye passing netted the Horned Frogs a touchdown to tie the score at halftime, but Clinkscale stole the show in the second half by setting up the tiebreaker with a dazzling 32-yard dash and then passing for the final score moments later.

The 170-pound junior from Dumas, Tex., who runs the 100-yard dash in 9.6 seconds, entered the game late in the second period and from then on the Southwest Conference entry threatened almost continuously.

Score Rapidly

His performance overshadowed that of Cougar fullback Chuck Beckel, who scored WSC's only touchdown. His teammate, halfback Wayne Berry, also sparked, racking up yardage consistently through the TCU defense.

The Frogs struck with lightning speed in the final stanza after they had been stopped by a terrific goal line stand. After WSC kicked out left end, dodged two tacklers and rambled 32 yards to the Cougar's seven yard line, halfback Mel Fowler scored two plays later and McKown converted for the winning points.

Immediately after the kickoff, end Byron Ingram recovered Berry's fumble on the WSC 24 then Clinkscale stepped back and calmly hit end Don Sanford in the end zone to register the final tally, McKown converted.

Ended Losing Streak

WSC's only touchdown came early in the second period. Halfback Jim Hagerly intercepted McKown's pass on the Frog's 43 and returned it to their 23. Hagerly picked up 12 yards and three plays later, Beckel scored. Guard Mel Thompson converted.

Minutes later, McKown pitched nine yards to Ingram and 34 yards to halfback Dan Sanford in the end zone to register the final tally. The victory ended a five game losing streak for TCU, playing

Cavazos Leads Tech Past Arizona 52-27

LUBBOCK, Tex., Nov. 7.—UP—The Texas Tech Red Raiders, with halfback Bobby Cavazos scoring four times, romped over Arizona 52-27 Saturday in a Border Conference home-coming attraction.

Tech now has only Hardin-Simmons left to play in the conference, and has a 4-0 mark in title play. The over-all season record for Tech is 7-1, with the lone loss being to Texas A&M.

The first two of Cavazos' touchdowns gave the Raiders a 13-0 lead early in the first period. Jack Kirkpatrick scored once for the Raiders, passed to Don Lewis for another tally, and kicked four extra points.

Arizona quarterback Barry Bleakley sneaked over for two wildcat touchdowns, Don Beasley ran 49 yards for a third and caught a 31-yard pass from Marty Lang for the other, Skip Corley kicked three extra points.

Cavazos' scores came on runs of five, 62, 22 and two yards.

The Raider first team scored 20 points in the first period and added 20 more in the third before letting reserves take over.

The talented Tech line held Arizona star Ken Cardella to 37 yards rushing before he left the game with an injured ankle late in the second period.

Ponies Gain Tie For SWC Lead

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Nov. 7.—UP—Duane Nutt ignored a cold rain Saturday and flipped a wet ball with abandon to pass Southwestern Methodist to a victory over outclassed Texas A&M and keep SMU in the thick of the Southwest Conference title scrap.

The SMU victory, its second against one loss to Texas, kept it within striking range of the lead now shared by Texas and Baylor after the latter's 21-to-20 upset by Texas at Austin Saturday.

Nutt, a 177-pound junior quarterback put SMU in front in the opening minutes with a 17-yard shot to end Ed Bernet and helped set up a fourth quarter field goal and touchdown with his running and passing.

In all, the chunky Corsican Texas, youngster, hit six of 14 aerials, five of them in a row at one stretch, averaged 36 yards punting a wet ball and picked up nine yards on the ground, two yards of it at a crucial point in the drive which set up the field goal.

Aggies Bottled Up

SMU's rugged defense kept Texas A&M bottled up in its own territory except for two unfruitful drives late in each half and capitalized on a host of Texas A&M mistakes to keep SMU constantly knocking at the door before a chilled crowd of 20,000.

But, it wasn't until the opening minutes of the fourth quarter that SMU could muster a 15-yard field goal by Sammy Stoltenwerck, a second touchdown on a four-yard smash by Frank Eldom and a one foot plunge by reserve fullback John Marshall to ice the game away.

Tulsa Outlasts Houston In Thriller 23-21

TULSA, Nov. 7.—UP—An underdog Tulsa team beaten in four previous games turned breaks into touchdowns Saturday night to upset favored Houston 23 to 21 before a homecoming crowd of 15,000.

The Hurricanes knocked Houston out of contention for the Missouri Valley crown with the difference being end Tom Miner's 11-yard goal in the second period.

Halfback Bob Holiday made two Tulsa touchdowns, one from the eight shortly after he had won the air, and the other on a three-yard buck following a 72-yard pass and run from Bobby Decker to Miner.

Decker accounted for the other Tulsa marker on a sizzling 57-yard scamper late in the second period.

Houston's Kenneth Stegall punched across one touchdown from the one, and Bobby Clatterback drove the same distance for another after a 78-yard march. The third Houston score was by fullback Paul Carr on a thrust from the Tulsa six.

The Cougars outgained the Tulsans and late in the fourth period missed a chance to win when a field goal attempt by Jackie Houston went wide. The kick was from the Tulsa 14.

Decker's brilliant 21-yard runback of a pass interception set up the Tulsa field goal which provided the margin.

Rice Overpowers Arkansas, 47-0

HOUSTON, Nov. 7.—UP—Scampering Dicky Moegle, operating behind a swath-cutting line, piled up 201 yards rushing in little more than a half Saturday night to lead Rice to an easy 47 to 0 win over inept Arkansas before 32,000 fans.

Halfback Moegle, fifth-ranked rusher in the Southwest Conference, scored one touchdown on a 23-yard run in the third period and set up two others with runs of 50 and 23 yards as the powerful Owls reduced the Arkansas defense to a rubble.

Rice scored the first time it got its hands on the ball early in the first period and after a brief puzzlement over the Razorbacks' single wing formation, took control of the game and never let go.

The Owls scored in every period—one in the first three times in the second, once in the third and twice in the fourth.

Score by periods:

Rice	7	20	13	47
Arkansas	0	0	0	0

Rice scoring: Touchdowns, Crawford, Johnson 2, Garbrecht, Moegele, Nesratta, Havage, Conversions, Fenestemaker, Johnson 2, Burke, Nesratta.

Notice they'll be a powerful contender.

Rice center Leo Rucka, guards John Hudson and Kenny Paul and tackle Dick Chapman and Max Schuebel rolled through the Arkansas forward wall like bowling balls through ten pins. Behind them even the third-string backs had easy going.

All told the Owls picked up an amazing 505 yards on the ground and another 78 in the air.

Johnson Gains 71

Davis (Kosae) Johnson, the conference's leading ground gainer, easily kept his lead with 71 yards in 15 tries before he too left the game early in the second half. He kicked two conversions for top scoring honors.

Lamar McHan, who sparked in last week's Razorback victory over Texas A&M, and the loop's top offensive leader, racked up 101 yards passing and made four rushing plays before he allowed him to keep the lead.

Hayes Hurt As A&M Bows To NMU, 28-6

LAS CRUCES, N.M., Nov. 7.—UP—New Mexico University turned three New Mexico A&M punts into touchdowns as it maimed the underdog Aggies 28 to 6 on a grid field before 3,300 hardy A&M homecoming fans Saturday night.

A&M, shy on reserves and badly outweighed, saw virtually all its hopes for an upset victory carried off the field in stretchers. Starting backs Al Hebert, Lawrence and Jimmy Hayes and starting guard Roger Sidall—who complained the great part of the Aggie talent—all were borne from the field. (Hayes is from Pampa, Tex.)

New Mexico end Bobby Morgan grabbed a blocked punt and ran 23 yards for the Lobos' first score. Halfback Bobby Lee ran a punt back 79 yards for the second New Mexico touchdown, and halfback Wayne Tucker scored on a 21-yard runback of a short Aggie punt in the fourth period. The other New Mexico touchdown resulted from an 88-yard ground march, with quarterback Bob Burns nominating himself to scamper the final seven yards.

A&M mustered enough spirit to move 84 yards for its only touchdown, scored by halfback Gary Walton on a seven-yard dash.

Neither team could pass successfully in the stiff wind. A&M completed two of seven passes, and New Mexico failed to complete even one of its nine passes.

Late Field Goal Wins For Trojans

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7.—UP—Stanford Trojans' 28-yard field goal in the final 13 seconds of play Saturday nullified the greatest passing exhibition ever seen here and gave Southern California a 23 to 20 victory over Stanford before 79,015 football fans in the wildest game in years at Memorial Coliseum.

But a fired-up gang of Southern California Trojans, led by halfback Aramis Nandoy and quarterback George Bozanic, would not let Garrett win the game with his passes. They came back in the final period for a touchdown and that all important field goal to throw the Rose Bowl race wide open with Stanford and UCLA in a tie with one defeat each.

The huge crowd was as fired up as the temperature, which stood at 106 degrees on the playing field at the opening whistle.

Although Tsagalakis' field goal was the winning margin, Ron Miller joined the Trojan heroes in the encounter as he intercepted a Garrett pass with only a minute and 15 seconds left in the game and raced 48 yards to the Stanford 20. Two plays later Tsagalakis' toe gave the Trojans their win.

Nebraska Outduels Iowa State, 27-19

AMES, Iowa, Nov. 7.—UP—Quarterback John Bordogna and halfback John McWilliams scored two touchdowns apiece to give Nebraska's Cornhuskers a 27 to 19 triumph over Iowa State Saturday in a Big Seven football battle.

Nebraska took a 7 to 0 lead in the first quarter, stretched it to 14 to 6 by halftime and added 13 in the third period to insure victory. Iowa State rallied for 12 in the last quarter.

Bordogna intercepted an Iowa State pass and ran 89 yards for a Nebraska touchdown in the third period for the highlight of the game.

Nebraska's victory gave the Cornhuskers an even 2-2 record in the Big Seven and tumbled the Cyclones to a 1-4 conference mark.

Bordogna opened the scoring on a one-foot plunge in the first quarter. Ray Novak converted.

In the second period, Iowa State's Bill Piantan took the ball on a triple-reverse play and scampered 19 yards to a Cyclone touchdown but he missed the kick.

Nebraska's halftime McWilliams pushed the Huskers farther out in front by skirting end for 11 yards and a touchdown. Novak converted.

Nebraska built up more steam in the third period. First McWilliams went around left end for a seven yard run and a touchdown and Bordogna followed it up by grabbing an Iowa State pass and racing 89 yards for the final Cornhusker score.

DETROIT, Nov. 7.—UP—Quarterback Bobby Layne rifled two touchdown passes Saturday night as the defending National Football League champion Detroit Lions came from behind to defeat the Baltimore Colts, 17 to 7, before 44,508 fans at Briggs Stadium.

Layne, who relinquished the starting role to second stringer Tom Dubinski, passed 10 yards to halfback Bob Hoernschmeyer for a second period score and duplicated with an eight-yard toss to end Leon Hart in the final period.

Halfback Doak Walker provided the other three points which actually were the margin of victory with a 14-yard field goal in the third period.

Baltimore marched to its lone touchdown the first time it had the ball. Halfback Tom Keane pounced on Dubinski's fumble after the opening kickoff on Detroit's 38-yard line. Seven plays moved the ball to the end zone with halfback Carl Taseff carrying the final yard. Buck McPhail booted the extra point.

State Schoolboy Spotlight To Be Focused On Pampa Saturday

Capacity Crowd Due For Game

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

The schoolboy grid spotlight will turn on Harvester Stadium next Saturday afternoon where the Fighting Harvesters will contest a first Odessa Bronco team which is setting a "hot" pace in the district 1-AAAA race.

The game will go a long way in determining the 1953 1-4A champion. It won't decide any title outright since both teams will have two more games remaining after Saturday's fracas.

However, the game is definitely a "must" for the Harvesters. The Harvesters have already suffered one 1-AAAA defeat and another loss would be disastrous.

Odessa will be distinct favorites to win Saturday's game. With Carl Schlemeyer in the fold, the Harvesters will be the most dangerous passing team in the schoolboy division.

Odessa has several fine players to mix with their passing game. The Harvesters and Broncos have two common opponents this year, and the Broncos hold the edge in both comparisons. Pampa defeated Amarillo, 20-14, while the Harvesters won the same ball game by 27-6. And the Harvesters defeated Abilene, 7-6, whereas the Broncos did a little better against Abilene, 19-14.

But, regardless of the previous results, a thriller-diller is due to unfold on the Harvester Stadium turf Saturday afternoon. Pampa holds a slight edge on the Broncos in total offense for the year. The Harvesters have averaged 339 yards per game in total offense (rushing and passing combined) for the season to 323 average yards per game. The Broncos are ranked fourth in the state in total offense with the Broncos close behind in fifth place.

But the Broncos hold a wide edge in defense. The Broncos are 11th in the state in total defense having allowed their seven foes to date an average of 203 yards in passing and rushing combined. The Harvesters don't rank in the top 20 in the state in defense. They have yielded 315 yards per game to their seven opponents.

All reserve seat tickets to the game Saturday have been sold for several days. There are still some general admission tickets left and they may be picked up in the week as they are prepared for the game from 8:30 to 5 any day this week.

FIRST MEETING — Cooper Robbins, left, Odessa Bronco coach, and Tom Tipps, right, Pampa Harvester mentor, will be meeting on the gridiron for the first time Saturday when the Fighting Harvesters take on the rollicking Broncos at Harvester Stadium. It will be Tipps' third time to send a team against Odessa but Julius Johnson was the Bronco coach on those occasions. Robbins is in his first year as the Odessa Coach.

Odessa 11 In Top Physical Strength

By SPECK GAMMON
Sports Editor

Odessa, Nov. 7 — The toughest game of the 1953 season is the attitude expressed by Odessa's Broncos as they prepare for their Nov. 14 invasion of Pampa. The "Cinderella Kids" of coach Cooper Robbins, who have surprised even their most ardent followers with their fine showing thus far, well remember the 14-7 setback they suffered in Pampa in 1951. They regard Pampa as the "hardiest" to beat on their home field of any foe on the 1953 slate.

Barring practice lot injuries this week, the Broncos will invade the Harvesters ballfield at top physical strength. All of last week was spent in blocking and tackling fundamentals and in sharpening their passing attack.

To date, Odessa has won five out of one and tied one. In District 1-AAAA play, they have four wins and no defeats.

The Red Hoses opened the season with a 13-13 tie with Port Arthur. The next week they dropped a 13-12 verdict to Waco and then stormed to five straight wins. They beat Highland Park, 34-21; Lubbock 27-7; Abilene, 19-14; Amarillo 27-6 and Borger 28-0.

Offensively, Odessa relies heavily on the passing of senior quarterback Carl Schlemeyer. The 6-2, 175 pound lad has completed 65 of 115 throws for 1,007 yards this year.

Four halfbacks — Johnny Crain, Troy Moody, Larry Mason and Jerry Tschauer — and fullback Dale Sherrod share the running burden. Crain is the leading rusher with 368 yards on 63 carries. Sherrod is next with 240 yards on 57 tries.

Sonny McLaughlin, senior end, is Schlemeyer's favorite receiver, having snared 27 passes for 368 yards. Crain has caught 14. Mason and end Gene McHugh nine each.

Odessa had great backfield material at the season's start, but the line material was short. Only tackle Pat Young and Guard Billy Fannin were returning lettermen.

The progress of the Broncos line play is a tribute to the ability of line coach Carl Cook. Cook, who worked with Robbins at Breckenridge, was lured here from Texas.

The Odessa club is virtually an all senior outfit. There will be 18 lost by graduation, including every offensive player except guard Ronnie Etheridge who is a junior.

Irish Sloues Penn, 28-20

By RUSS GREEN
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7 — UP—

Top-ranked Notre Dame, with all-time Coach Frank Leahy back on the sideline bench, was pushed to the limit by the first up Pennsylvania team on frigid Franklin Field Saturday but the Irish utilized the brilliance of Johnny Lattner to win, 28 to 20, and remain unbeaten.

Lattner, a dazzler on kick returns, ran back a kickoff 92 yards for a touchdown, set up two other scores by sparking returns and then snuffed out a fourth period Penn surge with an end zone interception.

While 69,071 spectators who braved a 7 1/2 inch snowfall sat in the stands — the stadium's 74,711 capacity was sold out three weeks ago — Lattner brought the Irish on even terms in the first period after Penn had started by scoring in the first four minutes of play.

Take the Half-time Lead — After that, Notre Dame went into a 21-7 halftime lead but the Quakers, 19 point underdogs, amazed the Irish by outrushing the Notre Dame first team all through the third period to score twice. But this burst by Penn went for naught when Lattner returned another kickoff 56 yards to set up what proved the winning touchdown.

For the opening minutes of the game, Penn looked worthy of meeting the best in the nation. Notre Dame had set itself in the hole by losing the first down for or 15 yard penalty at the kickoff and then were penalized 15 for clipping on the game's third play. The Irish punted to the Penn 38 and the aroused Quakers marched 62 yards in seven plays to counter.

The touchdown was a five-yard naked reverse scamper by Walt Hynowski. Ed Gramigna converted.

On the next kickoff, Lattner took the ball on his right near the sideline. The Notre Dame blockers set up an alleyway for him and he scampered to midfield, cut for the center and went the distance with Penn guard Jack Cannon in hopeless pursuit. Menil Mavrides converted to tie it up.

Then the Irish took command. Beginning on their own 32, they moved goalward on the ground with Neil Worden, Joe Heap and Lattner the work-horses. A pass gave Notre Dame a first on the 20 and Lattner took an aerial for 22 and the clinching touchdown although Penn recovered to march 77 yards for a touchdown when Worden and Lattner worked together.

Lattner set up the victory when he returned the kickoff 56 to the Penn 28. Guglielmi passed to Heap for 22 and the clinching touchdown although Penn recovered to march 77 yards for a touchdown when Worden and Lattner worked together.

Guerillas Win 1st Tilt; Clip Stormies

The Pampa B team Guerillas tasted their first victory of the season Friday afternoon when they charged past the Amarillo B team Stormies at Harvester Stadium, 28-12.

The vastly improved charges of Coach Weldon Trice and Orville Lewis were never behind in Friday's fracas although the Stormies tied the score at 8-6 on one occasion and trailed by only one point at halftime, 13-12.

But the Guerillas threw up a stubborn defense to hold the Stormies scoreless in the second half while picking up two additional touchdowns to clinch the victory. Russell Morrow was the big gun in the Guerilla victory. The Guerilla halfback scored three of the four Guerilla touchdowns on runs of 14, 35 and 18 yards. Tommy Darling scored the other Guerilla touchdown on a two-yard smash.

The Guerillas struck paydirt first, taking the opening kickoff and driving 80 yards against a strong wind without losing possession of the ball. Morrow, who made several good runs in the drive, clinched the march from 14 yards out.

Lefors Downs Bucks In Defensive Game

By WALT SWITZER
Pampa News Staff Writer

WHITE DEER — The White Deer Bucks and the Lefors Pirates battled here Friday night for three and one-half quarters to a standstill, but the Pirates finally crossed the enemy goal line to score a 7-0 victory over the Bucks.

Practically the entire game, played under very adverse weather conditions, was played between the two 35-yard lines.

A strong, cold south wind was blowing, mixed with a light drizzle and a muddy field, made the going rough for both teams and many fumbles resulted.

Neither team was able to penetrate the opponent's 20-yard line, until near the end of the fourth quarter, when the Pirates staged a 65-yard march down field against the wind for the line tally of the game.

Joe David Martin, left halfback of the Pirates, skirted left end for the touchdown. He also scored the extra point as he snagged a pass from Eddie Clemmons, Pirate quarterback.

In the waning moments of the contest, the Bucks moved the ball down to the Pirate 20-yard line, but lost the ball on downs. From then on until the final gun the Pirates held possession of the ball.

During the first half the Bucks held the edge in statistics, but the Pirates showed their superiority in the second half.

In first downs the Pirates held a big edge with 11 to the Bucks' five. Lefors gained 173 yards on the second half.

Lefors had a total of 187 yards, as compared to White Deer's 81 rushing and 55 passing for a total of 139 yards.

The high wind definitely played a big part in the punting department. The Bucks punted 17 times for an average of 25.1 yards, while Lefors averaged 30.8 yards on five punts.

White Deer fumbled three times, losing the ball twice, while Lefors lost the ball on each of their four fumbles.

Score by quarters:
Lefors 0 0 0 7-7
White Deer 0 0 0 0-0
Scoring: Lefors — Touchdown — Martin; point after touchdown — Martin (pass from Clemmons).

Mighty Phillips 11 Clips Irish, 42-12

By BUCK FRANCIS

SHAMROCK, Nov. 7 — Coach Chesty Walker's Phillips Blackhawks surged to a commanding first half lead here Friday night and then coasted in their seventh straight win, burying Shamrock Irish under a 42-12 avalanche in a District 1-AA tussle played before a sparse gathering of chilled football fans.

The Blackhawks, doing all their damage on the ground, raced to a 21-0 first-half lead and 35-6 halftime margin. The Hawks added ded their first tally in the third quarter on a pass while the Irishmen picked up their final score with 10 seconds to go in the game.

Quarterback Jack York of the Irish did give the home fans something to cheer about with his passing and running. York chucked 34 passes during the evening, completed 12 for 144 yards. In addition, York also up most of the 67 yards gained by the Irish on the ground.

York had a hand in both Shamrock scores. He fired a 10-yard TD pass to Gene George Hendrick

Paddy Young Wins By TKO

By MILTON RICHMAN
NEW YORK, Nov. 7 — UP—Midweight Paddy Young was swamped with offers for future bouts Saturday but his heart was not in them. Young, who won his two-round technical knockout over Sammy Giuliani Friday night.

For a fighter whose "thoughts were somewhere else," Young finished his work in a hurry at St. Nicholas Arena. He stopped the Irish, aggressive Giuliani at 2:54 of the second round in a scheduled 10-rounder which was nationally televised.

"I'm not thinking about any bouts now," he murmured despondently in the dressing room after his triumph. "The only thing I'm concerned about now is my father."

Young, a veteran 23-year-old New York campaigner, then explained last rites had been administered to his ailing father, Patrick Young Sr. earlier in the day.

Hardly Worked Up Sweat
There were immediate offers for three bouts following his triumph but the visibly upset Young said, because of his father's condition, he wasn't interested in any of them at the moment.

The offers that will have to wait are a possible London bout with Yolande Pompee, recent conqueror of Detroit middleweight Ray Barne; a main event shot against Gil Turner of Philadelphia on Cleveland Aren's annual "Christmas Show," or another main event chance at Madison Square Garden, Dec. 18.

Young hardly worked up a sweat in polishing off Giuliani, promising Stamford, Conn., 21-year-old fighter. He fought methodically in the first round while Giuliani flicked left jabs in his face and was content to let curly-haired Sammy do the leading in the second round until he slipped a cut over his right eye.

The Straight Knockdowns
Then Paddy opened up with both hands.

Boring is quickly, he ripped a hard right hand to the jaw that put Giuliani on the canvas for a five-count. The Connecticut youngster arose wobbly and tried to clinch, but Young straightened him up with a right to the stomach and then knocked him down again with a vicious left to the jaw that could be heard throughout the half-empty arena.

Giuliani gamely got up again at five and although given the benefit of the mandatory eight-count, he obviously was in little condition to continue. Referee Al Berl pushed Young toward a neutral corner and signified the bout was over.

Favorites Win In Schoolboy Grid Action

By DICK HARDWICK
United Press Sports Writer
Most of Texas' higher-regarded schoolboy football teams had little difficulty Friday night against district opponents.

Baytown beat Beaumont 28 to 7 and Port Arthur trounced Pasadena 44 to 14, further closing the gap between a showdown 8-AAAA meeting of the Ganders and Yellow Jackets.

Houston Lamar, the unbeaten 7-AAAA favorite, edged Houston S. F. Austin 20 to 13, and both Corpus Christi powers in 6-AAAA won district games—Miller over Austin 20 to 7 and Ray over San Antonio Jefferson 27 to 0. Fort Worth Poly staged a mild upset in beating Paschal 19 to 13 and Highland Park took a 14 to 7 non-conference victory over Cooper 8-AAAA.

Big Spring moved a step nearer the 1-AAA title by blanking Lamesa 39 to 0, while Breckenridge, the defending state AAA champion, rebounded from last week's 6 to 0 loss to Big Spring to defeat Sweetwater 27 to 14.

Brownwood was a rude host to Irving 33 to 19 and Sherman threw district 2-AAA into a muddle by beating Gainesville 25 to 14.

Texasarkana shutout Marshall 33 to 0; Temple bounced Palestine 32 to 20 and unbeaten, untied Edinburg outscored Brownsville 33 to 21.

The 7-AAA title was virtually decided Thursday night as San Antonio Edison defeated Harlandale 34 to 7.

Terrell, defending AA state champion, eliminated its last strong 13-AAA foe by beating Van 24 to 7. Oilton trounced Littlefield 48 to 14. Childress blanked Burk Burnett 19 to 0; Stamford edged Anson by a field goal 3 to 0; Monahans beat Crane 26 to 14; Comanche nipped Mineral Wells 18 to 13; Graha nipped Bowie 28 to 0; Henderson defeated Carthage 13 to 7; Navasota won over LaGrange 19 to 12; and Falfurrias defeated Taft 13 to 7.

In important Class A games, Hale Center upset New Deal 25 to 0; Whitehead handed previously unbeaten Cooper a setback; Hawkins squeezed by Gilmer 7 to 6; Gaston slammed Troup 47 to 6; Palacios beat Louise 28 to 7; Boerne defeated San Antonio San Houston 13 to 6; Hebbronville beat Benavides 20 to 6; Lyford whipped Rio Hondo 26 to 0.

Lubbock, the defending state AAAA champion, and Wink, state Class A titlist, were idle.

Spartans Clip Buckeyes

By HASKELL SHORT
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7 — UP—Leroy Bolden scored three touchdowns Saturday to help the Spartans in the Big Ten title chase with a 28-13 victory over Ohio State that knocked the Buckeyes out of the race.

A great Michigan State defense saved the day for the Spartans by twice stopping Ohio State on the 20 yard line when the visitors led 14-13 in the final period.

Bolden battled his way for 31 yards in five plays to cap the first touchdown drive with three yard plunge in the first period to put the Spartans into a lead they never relinquished. From then on, his sensational dashes electrified the 82,328 fans who, despite bone-chilling temperatures, stayed to the final moments of a bitterly-fought contest.

The Michigan State junior from Flint, Mich., scored his second touchdown late in the second period on a 37 yard dash and added the clincher late in the final period with a 20-yard spring that left a half-dozen would-be Ohio tacklers sprawled on a sleet-strewn field.

Bolden put Michigan State in front the first time the Spartans got the ball. Ohio State battled back with Bobby Watkins turning in an amazing display of power running. He made 83 yards on four plunges to end a 73-yard Ohio march with a 15-yard blast for a touchdown.

Bolden hit again on his 37 yard run, leaving three tacklers in his wake to end a 61 yard drive in the second period to put Michigan State ahead 14-6.

But Ohio State, after coming from behind to win four of their five victories, roared back to dominate the third period. The Bucks threatened seriously to go ahead until Week's field goal attempt was blocked in the final period.

Score by periods: Ohio State 0 6 7 0—13 Michigan State 7 7 0 14—28 Ohio State scoring: Touchdowns, Watkins, H. A. G. Conversions, H. A. G. Michigan State scoring: Touchdowns, Bolden, 3, Duckett, Conversions, Slocac, 4.

Maroons Clobber Tulane, 21 To 0

By JACK GATES
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 7 — UP—Mississippi State, with gifted quarterback Jackie Parker leading the way, rolled over battered Tulane 21 to 0 in a weird fumble-infested Southeastern Conference football game Saturday before a slim crowd of 12,000 chilly fans.

The blond-haired Parker, who looks slow but gets where he's headed with ease, scored nine of Mississippi State's points, including a touchdown and three extra points. He passed to end John Katusa for the third State tally, and scored another touchdown that didn't count.

The game, played in a brisk 20-mile per hour north wind, saw Tulane lose the ball on fumbles four times and Miss State four. It also featured a fumble by Parker that was good for 40 yards rushing on his own 47, and it bounced to the Tulane 15 before Wayne Wall fell on it for the Green Wave.

Tulane's lone chance at a score came early in the game with Max McGee leading the way. Tulane moved to the States' 15. But McGee fumbled and center Harold Easterwood recovered for the Maroons to end the threat. Beyond that, Tulane failed to cross State's 30.

Score by periods: Mississippi State 0 0 0 0—0 Tulane 7 7 0 7—21 Mississippi State scoring: Touchdowns, Charles Evans, Jackie Parker, and John Katusa, Conversions, Parker, 3.

MUD SLINGING — Friday night definitely wasn't fit for football in Panhandle as the above photo will attest. The game which pitted the Panhandle Panthers and Canadian Wildcats in a District 1-A affair was played in the mud and cold temperatures. Dale Roselius of Panhandle is shown lugging the ball and is being tackled by an unidentified Wildcat. Canadian won the game, 21-7. (News Photo)

Canadian Keeps Title Hopes Alive; Clips Panhandle 21-7

CANADIAN, Nov. 7 — (Special) — Coach Johnny Cardinal's Canadian Wildcats were back in town Saturday fresh from a well earned 21-7 victory over the Panhandle Panthers in a District 1-A conflict at Panhandle Friday night.

The Wildcats thus retained their chances of winning the 1-A title while the Panthers were eliminated from the running. Canadian now has a 4-1 conference record. Memphis is leading the race with three wins and a tie. The Wildcats will wind up their season next week at Clarendon.

Canadian took a 14-0 lead at halftime here Friday and held it throughout the second half. Panhandle pulled up to 14-7 in the third period but the Wildcats iced the decision with a touchdown in the fourth period while holding the Panthers scoreless.

Dean Hoover got the Canadian attack going in the first quarter when he circled left end for 40 yards and a touchdown. Pat Tipps plowed over right guard for the extra point giving the Canadians a 7-0 first quarter lead.

Canadian counted again in the second period on a 45-yard pass play from Ray Ramirez to Clyde Cain. Cain gathered in the aerial on Panhandle 15 and scampered over. Tipps converted from placement to give the Wildcats a 14-0 edge at halftime.

Panhandle picked up its lone touchdown in the third quarter on a sustained drive with fullback Gene Bentley covering the final 30 yards on an off tackle play. Bentley also converted to slice the Canadian margin to one touchdown, 14-7.

Tipps sparked the final touchdown drive by the Wildcats in the fourth quarter. He broke loose on a 73-yard scamper only to be nailed down on the Panhandle two by Bentley. Tipps went over two plays later from the one and then converted from placement to make the final count read, 21-7.

Tipps and Hoover were the leading Canadian ground gainers while Dale Roselius and Bentley led the Panhandle offense.

First downs were even at 10-10 but the Wildcats held an edge in rushing and passing, netting 261 yards on the ground to 156 for Panhandle and 45 yards in the air to 16 for the Panthers.

Score by quarters: Canadian 7 7 0 7—21 Panhandle 0 0 0 0—0 Scoring: Canadian—Touchdowns—Dean Hoover, Clyde Cain, Pat Tipps, PAT — Tipps (3). Panhandle — Touchdown — Gene Bentley, PAT — Bentley.

Texas Deer, Turkey Stage Comeback From Long Drouth

AUSTIN, Nov. 7 — UP — Texas deer and turkey have staged a partial comeback from the prolonged drouth, but prospects are still only fair for the big game season opening Nov. 16, wildlife officials said Friday.

The annual hunt, under the general state law, continues through Dec. 31. However, there are special seasons for larger areas like west of the Pecos, the Panhandle and Pecosum Kingdom, as well as special seasons for the smaller areas.

Bag limits and shooting hours also vary. Hunters were urged to study their game law digest, or check with the local game warden for information.

Howard D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission, said an estimate of 190,000 hunters will be in the field.

The deer kill usually runs about 40,000, slightly higher than the 36,423 deer legally bagged last year.

The turkey harvest is expected to run close to 6,000.

Rains, beginning in late summer, have partially offset effects of the drouth on deer and turkey, Dodgen said.

Even in deep South Texas, the deer have rallied, although there was some die-off in the heat of summer.

Game warden supervisors Herbert Ward of Catarina and John E. Hearn of Cotulla said deer were on the upswing, but predicted some ranchers in their area will restrict the harvest to their own land.

Game Warden Supervisor G. M. Stricklin of Beville said deer were coming back in his area on the lower coastal plain.

McLean Stays In Race; Rips Broncs, 26-0

McLEAN, Nov. 7 — (Special) — McLean's Tigers won their seventh game in eight starts here Friday night with a convincing 26-0 win over the Clarendon Broncs in a District 1-A game.

Rickey Mantooth got the Tigers rolling toward victory when he passed to Rodney Gunn for 46 yards and a touchdown in the second quarter to break the scoring ice for both teams. Don Haslam converted to give the Tigers a 7-0 lead at halftime.

Then in the third quarter, Jack Hupp scooted 48 yards for a touchdown and Haslam again converted to extend the Tiger lead to 14-0 at the completion of three quarters of play.

The Tigers led the decision in the fourth quarter with a pair of touchdowns. James Smith dashed 20 yards for the third McLean TD and moments later Don Crockett plowed over from Clarendon's three to complete the scoring.

McLean led in first downs, 13-4. Coach Hap Rogers of the Tigers cleared his bench in the second half after the Bengals had put the game on ice.

A sparse crowd of shivering fans was on hand to witness the 1-A contest.

It was McLean's fourth win in five 1-A starts and the victory left them in the thick of the title race.

The Tigers meet Lefors at Lefors next Friday night in their next outing.

Ends Long Drouth K-State Edges By Jayhawkers, 7-0

LAWRENCE, Kan., Nov. 7 — UP—Kansas State ended a nine-year Jayhawk football reign by defeating Kansas University 7-0 before 25,000 shivering, snow-covered spectators Saturday.

A light snow fell throughout the game, causing numerous fumbles by both sides. The Jayhawks staged a last-minute rally that took them to K-State's one-yard line. But their hopes ended there when they lost the ball on a fumble.

The winning Kansas State touchdown was set up midway in the second quarter when Wildcat quarterback Bob Whitehead recovered a fumble by John McFarland on the Jayhawk 25-yard line.

Gridder Sets New Scoring Record

SGARLAND, Tex., Nov. 7 — UP—Kenneth Hall, Sugarland High School senior, set a new Texas schoolboy football individual scoring record Friday night.

The 17-year-old 198-pounder scored 37 points as Sugarland beat O'Connell 67 to 19 in a Class B game.

It gave him a total of 481 points in high school play to break his previous record of 464 points by Dick Todd, former Texas A&M and Washington Redskins star, while a Crowell High School in the mid '30's.

With two more games to play Hall should set a still higher mark. He scored 49 points against Houston Lutheran school earlier this year.

Hall, who runs the 100-yard dash in approximately 10 seconds, is a member of Sugarland's Class championship track squad.

The football team has won a regional championship the past two seasons, advancing as far as Class B team can go.

Home Builders Scolded For Stripping Trees From Sites

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—UP—FHA Commissioner Guy T. O. Hollyday Saturday scolded "hungry" home builders who wantonly strip trees from building sites to save an "extra dollar" on construction costs.

He said the practice that has made eye sores of many new communities is neither "wise" nor economically sound.

Architects, "enlightened" home builders, economists, and conservationists backed up the commissioner's statement. They agreed stripping land to make construction easier and cheaper was "false" economy.

Cites Trees Near Home
"They ought not to be that hungry to make an extra dollar," Hollyday said. "They ought to arrange to keep some of those trees."

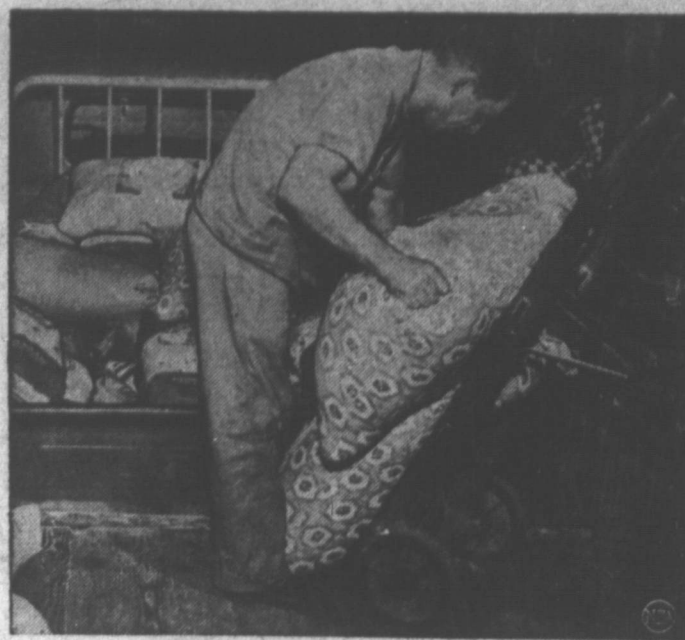

He cited a particular stand of beautiful trees near his home town of Baltimore. He and his friends had long loved these woods, but when a builder started a project there he stripped the land down to raw earth.

Builders have pock-marked landscapes in a similar way all across the nation.

Trees Add to Value
Hollyday said the builders should "maneuver" their construction operations so as to save the beautiful trees. These trees, he said, would add to the beauty as well as the value of the homes built near them.

Harry L. Banker, past president of the Arborists Association of New Jersey, recently warned home builders pose a major threat against trees in suburban areas.

Canadian Tax Cut Boon To Business

By DICK BROME
OTTAWA, Nov. 7—UP—Canada's tax revenues have increased steadily since taxes were cut last spring, government officials disclosed Saturday.

The country's total business receipts are up, too. One government official said the cut in the income tax, corporation and excise taxes played a part in the growing prosperity.

"The general reduction in all sorts of taxes... left people and firms with a little more money to spend and that undoubtedly has helped in raising the level of business and increasing tax collections," a high official said.

Another Tax Cut?
Some economists predict, if the treasury keeps swelling, Canadians will get still another dividend on their prosperity with a second tax cut next spring.

The Canadian income tax rate was cut by 11 per cent, effective July 1. This gave taxpayers an actual reduction of 8 1/2 per cent for this calendar year.

Other cuts were made effective Feb. 19 and April 1.

Corporation profits taxes were cut from 80 per cent on incomes over $10,000 to 47 per cent on incomes over $20,000 and 18 per cent below that figure.

Predictions Fall Short of Gain
Three cents were knocked off the tax on a package of cigarettes and a number of other adjustments were made in excise and nuisance taxes.

Despite a cut of $380 million in Canada's tax collection rate, Finance Minister D. C. Abbott figured the government would collect a total of $11 million more in tax revenues during the 1953-54 fiscal year than in the year before.

By Sept. 30, the half-way point in the fiscal year, income tax collections were more than $26 million ahead of those for 1952. Corporation income tax collections were up nearly $2.5 million and excise and other indirect tax and duty collections were up more than $5 million.

Sportsman Is A Good Sport

EL PASO, Nov. 7—UP—A sportsman making a practice run in the Pan American Road Race was sportsman enough to stop voluntarily when a highway patrolman gave him a $25 fine.

Highway Patrolman Bill Moore said he clocked racing driver Royal Russell, 24, of Albuquerque at 93 miles per hour over a Texas highway, where the speed limit is 60. "The only reason he was caught was because he was sportsman enough to stop when he saw the speedy car he's entered in the Pan American Road Race was sportsman enough to stop voluntarily when a highway patrolman gave him a $25 fine.

SPRINGTIME, SUMMERTIME, ANYTIME — It's not that they don't know winter has arrived; it's a symptom of the disease — this business of playing golf in all kinds of weather. They're gone on the game and with any sign of encouragement from the weatherman are to be found out on the links of the Pampa Country Club. The course is deserted only on days when inclement weather makes it practically impossible to make the rounds of the fairways.

RED BALL JR. — Glen and Ronnie Samples are serious about their game, too, and give it all the concentration their elders do (and concentrate as only little boys can). Glen plays too, with his own Jr. size clubs, but today he caddies for big brother.

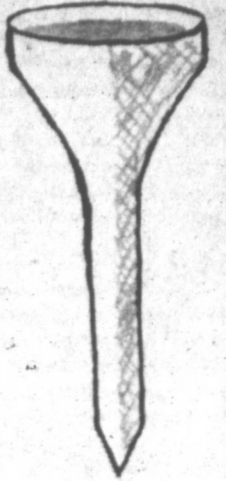

NINETEENTH HOLE — "After the Ball Is Over," there's always the 19th hole to look forward to. Coffee and chatter and notes to compare. Sometimes elated, sometimes in despair, a threesome frequently seen enjoying it, Oakalee Whittle, Miriam Luedders and Floy Heath.

PAMPA IS BECOMING better and better known for her art and her artists! Recently the Pampa Art Club sponsored its annual art exhibit in the City Library, which was widely attended and now another local artist is receiving much warranted notice. She's Mrs. Fred Sloan, who lives out west of town on one of the oil company leases. Wednesday afternoon, on Channel 4 TV, from Amarillo, Dord Fitz, a well-known artist now teaching some classes in this region, showed and gave favorable comment on a sculptured piece aptly named, "Panhandle Wind," which was done by Mrs. Sloan.

ANOTHER VERY INTERESTING person who has come to our notice lately is Mrs. Robert Payne, wife of the new high school A Cappella choir director. The last time we noticed her, she was sporting a very smart hair-do, short and neat, which must have come straight from gay Paris. Either that, or she knows some wonderful little out-of-the-way shop we've never heard of. There was a very nice turn-out at the tea given recently by the Civic Culture Club at which Mrs. Payne was the guest speaker. We love the accent Frenchmen give to our language! Something that all too quickly wears off.

We've also heard that the hard working Mrs. Payne is teaching a small class of students the fundamentals of the French language. We'd love to try that some day, but we remember all too well how we "Como esta usted?" in Spanish class. Perhaps there are those, though, who do better. Mrs. Payne should be very well qualified to teach French since she taught French to the American soldiers stationed near her home during the occupation. There's much more to teaching than one would suspect, we think.

NOTICED THAT Mr. and Mrs. Earle S. Heig are here visiting the Jack Curlesses for a few days to get re-acquainted with the new granddaughter. They're planning on leaving this morning for San Antonio but little Ellen Ann is to be christened this morning, so odds are nine-to-one that they'll be at least lunch until after lunch.

MRS. M. C. OVERTON JR. is planning on a short trip to Dallas in the near future, we hear. . . hope she has a wonderful time, though who wouldn't in that interesting town? We hope she makes the art exhibit at the Fair Grounds. There's a nice write-up in the new issue of "Look" listing several of the new pieces on exhibit. Dallas is listed right along with Los Angeles, Chicago and Philadelphia, . . . nice, eh?

HERE'S A NEW TWIST; We've heard of the bridegroom who was late to his own wedding, but here's one to top that. Here's a gal who missed her own party. Mrs. C. H. Schulkey and her daughter, Alberteen Triplehorn, gave a little party. . . for some of their friends. Just at the last minute she was called to Big Spring where her daughter Betty was ill. Alberteen stayed on for the party. . . since someone needed to be there. . . but quick, thereafter, she also left for Big Spring where she'll pick up Betty's two youngsters and return here with them until Betty is feeling better. . . which we hope is right away.

One little feature of the party we want to mention though, is this. Somewhere Mrs. Schulkey or Alberteen found some disposable molds, something we'd never heard of before. . . and which they used to make a number of grape clusters. Some were filled partially with grape gelatin and some with a touch of green for the leaves and then all were filled up with good home-made pineapple ice-cream. There's a really festive idea for you.

SPEAKING OF FESTIVE IDEAS, remember that there's less than two months until Christmas. We'd like to see every house decorated inside and out for that occasion this year and now's the right time to start doing something about it. It needs to be something pretentious. Some of the very prettiest we've seen cost very little but were long on ingenuity. For instance, start looking for interesting looking stalks, anything from a twig from a tree to a dead stalk of sun flower. An old split-open okra pod is wonderful, then make a base from mud, or clay, then spray the whole thing with aluminum paint, let dry and then pile with gay, brightly colored Christmas balls. Did you ever consider how much this little touch will do toward making your family merrier this Yule-tide season? There's little chance of over-doing it so put one in every room.

Substitute gum drops for the tree balls if you'd rather, or marshmallows on the larger stalks. Another cute twist is to cover a small twig with a flour and water paste. Before it dries, sprinkle it with the commercial tree snow and then watch it glitter and glisten in the light.

WE ARE ALL SORRY to see Mrs. E. E. (Lillian) McNutt planning to move to Houston, but that's the way life goes. We can only say how lucky her new neighbors will be. When we were saying good-bye and re-saying how much we would miss her, she turned the tables in a very touching manner when she said, "Don't say how Pampa will miss me, when the loss will be mine. It will be a great loss when I lose Pampa." A most touching remark, we think, from one who will still be remembered by all who knew her.

IF YOU'RE LOOKING for a good turn to do this Christmas, we'd suggest that you ask Mrs. Lillian Snow just how many new books she's going to need in the new library when it's completed and then do what you can about giving the library a few. She told us that she's going to need about twice as many books as she now has if she's to even make a good beginning on stocking the shelves. If every club member in town would make a special effort to give one book just think how far that would go. Try it, why don't you?

HOW MANY OF YOU attended the opera Thursday evening? A good friend of ours went and took his wife and son. . . but here's the catch, he took his wife and son to the opera, let them out, and then he proceeded to attend the wrestling matches. We won't mention names. . . could be embarrassing. There were plans for rolling out a white carpet for those who came in formal dress, so the gals wouldn't soil the hems of their gowns. We think they should have had a canopy, too, for the rains came on Thursday evening. We're hoping that more such things come to this region hereafter.

A FRIEND OF OURS is becoming famous for her pineapple upside-down cakes. They're very easy to whip up in just a little time and really add a festive note to an otherwise sometimes drab meal. We asked her and she very generously agreed to share it with us. . . so we'll just pass the recipe on to you:

First, you melt 1-3 cup butter or a substitute in a heavy skillet. Sprinkle 1-2 cup brown sugar over the butter and arrange 7 or 8 pineapple slices on this topping. Add some maraschino cherries and a few pecan halves to this to make an attractive design. Then mix the batter as follows:

Beat until thick and lemon-colored (5 minutes) 2 eggs, gradually beat in 1-2 cup sugar, and then beat in all at once 5 table-spoons pineapple juice and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Measure and sift together 1 cup flour, 1-3 teaspoon baking powder and 1-4 teaspoon salt. Add this flour mixture and beat in all at once. Pour it over the topping and bake in a preheated oven, 350°, for about 40 or 45 minutes.

Be sure you turn it out at once onto a plate. The first time we tried this, we let it cool for about 10 minutes and guess what? The entire topping stuck to the skillet. It's a good thing that our husband loves us dearly, he's even gentleman enough not to mention it to our friends.

IF WE HAVE A LITTLE SPACE next week, we might mention the caramel-butterscotch pie that Jackie Tynes is well-known for. That is, if she's willing. It's really delicious, though a little hard for a novice like us. Maybe you'll have better luck. . . so till then, we remain,

We of the League of Women Voters are striving to fulfill a need that has long plagued the local levels of living.

20th Century Cotillion Discusses Music

"Music A Friend For Life" was the program presented at a recent Cotillion meeting in the home of Mrs. Clinton McNeely with Mrs. Lee Moore as program chairman. She quoted from recent articles and a book by Dr. Spaeth and Polosky.

"It is advisable to give ringing and rattling musical toys to children at a very early age to accustom them to music in their homes. Mothers should sing to them often and even leave record player on during their naps. Music as a friend to adults refreshes the broken spirit and soothes out emotional wrinkles. Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Maryland, has a music room in which musical therapy is used to treat mental illness. One doctor prescribed Chopin waltzes to patients instead of sedatives.

"If we will dismiss from our thinking the philosophy of innate talent the world will be a better place to live in because it is our interest that determines our accomplishments and that is developed only with persistent effort."

Web of Deceit

"The hypocrite's hope shall be a spider's web," Job 8:13-14. The world is filled with deceivers. A slogan in ancient Rome read, "Let the buyer beware." This slogan is also very modern. A deceiver is like the spider's web; he robs you of everything and gives you nothing in return. The Bible best describes deceivers: "They love devouring words; They give their mouths to evil, their tongues frame deceit; Their mouths speak vanity, their right hand is falsehood; They profess to know God but in works deny Him." The deceitful man is by himself betrayed. Anything is false that robs one of honor, virtue, God, Prayer, the church or the Bible. "Take heed how you hear," Luke 8:18. Be a regular attendant at church.

One of Texas' Five Most Consistent Newspapers

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with truths expressed in such great guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the laws of Independence.

Should we, at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent with these moral guides.

Published daily except Saturday by The Pampa News, Atchison at Second, Pampa, Texas. Phone 466, all departments. Entered as second class under the act of March 3, 1879.

Censorship Matter

The Supreme Court, buttressed by that eminent jurist Earl Warren, is going to review the New York state statutes dealing with censorship of movies.

The case before the court involves a French film which the New York board of censors holds to be a messy affair calculated to throw New Yorkers into an orgy of sinful delirium. Precisely what the court intends to decide is not made clear in the United Press story. It is too much to hope that the court will make a clear-cut decision on censorship per se.

The high court is in the habit of dotting 'i's and crossing 't's while the bums in the back row make off with the collection; and it almost never makes a definitive ruling unless the administration forces one upon the justices.

The institution of censorship is worthy of a nice study by some university professor with a grant from one of those D's grandchilders or maybe one of the Ford boys.

The matter of censorship in our country grew up Topsy-wise and the finished product is a goat.

Everybody has gotten into the act — the courts, the Congress, the Post Office department, the lesser satrapies of the cities and the states and even the planning commissions have poked their long, blue noses into the rose.

Censorship is rather an insufferable bit of business, when you get to thinking about it. It presupposes that there are two classes of people: The Chosen Few and the Great Unwashed Boobery. The theory goes that the farmer are endowed by the Creator with superior talents and a concurrent responsibility to keep the latter from staying out in the rain or befouling their personal linen.

The genuine "reformer" (censors are reformers with a warrant) works on the pioneer principle that a good injun is a dead injun; and the force of law must be employed to keep the Boobs from injuring themselves by the injudicious indulgence of their tastes.

Books are banned in Boston with a regularity that suggests some book publishers are interested in prolonging the life of a gimmick that adds greatly to the sales-appeal of indifferently pornographic.

Some cities, notably Memphis, employ guardians who have it within their power to bar the showing of certain movies deemed to be deleterious to the morals of the community.

The Post Office exercises an avuncular regard for the Boobs and bars from the mails pictures of scantily-clad maidens and "solicious" literature.

Planning commissions, on somewhat a different string of the same harp, establish a pattern of esthetics that forbids advertising signs from exceeding a certain size; and, in one case, it ruled that every house in a town must be painted white.

The Federal Communications Commission sees that the advertising of intoxicating liquors — save only beer — is not permitted on radio or television, although a sustained diet of soap operas is tolerated.

Obviously, it is all a matter of taste and what drives a man to sin acts to induce nausea in another.

If there is any excuse for censorship, it should lie with the distribution of the most depraved of all literature—the totalitarian tracts of the Combies and their mousy cousins the "liberals."

But, even this garbage is within the rights of man to print and distribute; and book-burning accomplishes nothing but headlines and curiosity.

The idea of censorship — the right of a group to dictate what other Americans may or may not read or hear — is repugnant to freedom. Who but an irrepressible demagogue would accept a post of censorship? And who among us wants to be censored by a demagogue?

spy Rings In The U.S.

We are indebted to a former Soviet intelligence agent, who broke with the Reds in 1942 and is now a Turkish citizen, for the most comprehensive picture thus far of the organization and efficiency of Communist espionage in this country.

Testifying before an open hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee of which Senator William E. Jenner (Rep.) of Indiana is chairman, Ismail Ege, a former Red Army colonel, revealed that there were twenty-four or more Russian spy rings operating in this country during the Hitler-Stalin pact, and perhaps more during World War II. As former head of the fourth section of the operations branch of the Soviet Army, under the name of Col. Akhmedov, and responsible for getting desired armament information for Russia, he had at least four spy systems working for him, as did three other Red Army sections, the Red Navy and the famed Red police, NKVD. Since his time, said Mr. Ege, operations may have greatly expanded.

Interesting, too, is this reformed "super-spy's" explanation that the spy rings were of two types, "legal" and "illegal," and that each of the six Red Intelligence sections had at least two of each variety working for them. One ring were turned up by our sleuths, the others would carry on. "Legal" networks, the witness said, consisted of Soviet citizens in their embassies and consulates, the Amtorg Trading Company, Tass News Agency and other international organizations. The "illegal" rings, he said, were made up of U. S. citizens, some of them high in the government.

And you will remember that efforts by our more courageous public servants, from Martin Dies down to senators McCarthy and Jenner and Representative Velde to uncover these rats, both "legal" and "illegal," have been termed "witch-hunts."

Looking Ahead

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President Harding College
Searcy, Ark.

YOU ARE A STOCKHOLDER

As citizen stockholders participating in the management as well as in the earned dividends of the great enterprise called the United States of America, we should frequently open the ledger and study the balance sheet. What are its assets? What are its liabilities? We need to understand clearly the nature of the assets so that we can nurture them and expand their benefits. And we should carefully examine the liabilities so that we can guard against the dangers, and in time eliminate them.

The greatest asset we have in the American way of life which gives us freedom to worship God as we choose, freedom to own our own home, freedom to work at the occupation of our choice and for whomsoever we please, freedom to go into business and make a profit (or suffer a loss), freedom to associate together in common cause, freedom to make a contract, freedom to vote for the candidates who we think can best serve the welfare of our community and nation.

The liabilities are not so clearly seen. The heaviest and most dangerous is lethargy; not illiteracy, but the lack of concern among our literate citizens, the lack of consciousness of the facts of today's economic and political life.

A great many of our people, in and out of school, are not consciously aware of the array of assets on our American balance sheet. They are not informed on the elements that go to make up the American way of life. Many citizens who are well informed on most things are nevertheless unaware that the American economic system has made possible a living standard three times as good as that of the major nations of Europe and five times better than the living standard in Russia's "Workers' Paradise." And many who are even aware of this advantage do not know why the private enterprise system is so productive; they do not know what makes it tick.

DEEP PENETRATION

This lack of awareness renders millions of Americans vulnerable to the cunning propaganda of the Communists and Socialists who, by shrewd methods, seek to wean our people away from, and even turn them against the basic American principles, one by one.

The Fifth Column in America hasn't been seriously injured. The U.S. Senate's Internal Security Committee warns the nation that it hasn't even been thoroughly exposed.

Its prime objective, according to the best authorities, is to undermine our people's faith in the economic and political principles which have given our nation its strength, its productive might, its unmatched standard of living.

To accomplish this, Communists have infiltrated government, religion, education, labor, literature, entertainment, and communications. This threat, cleverly disguised, is a greater danger, a greater liability even than Russia's military might, our eyes are only half open to the internal undermining.

DEMANDS OF CITIZENSHIP
The National Debt of $272,000,000,000 is a serious liability. So is the huge government bureaucracy that has grown up haphazardly and now takes a big share of the federal tax load which totals 25 per cent of the national income.

The debt constitutes a mortgage of about $6,800 on the present worth and future earning power of every family in America. And the taxes, from 25 per cent on the lowest net income to 92 per cent on the highest, are taking from our private citizens the ability and incentive to invest in new or expanding enterprises. And if private citizens don't, the government will declare that it must—and we'll have Socialism.

There are other liabilities but the foregoing are the most dangerous. How can we everyday citizens cope with them? By understanding the American way of life, and Communism and Socialism; by understanding Communist propaganda techniques; by becoming active in government; by striving constantly for spiritual growth so that faith in God is our anchorage and service to our fellow man our goal; and finally, by dedicating a part of our everyday life to bringing these citizenship requirements to the attention of everybody we can reach.

Living nearer to the possible field of battle, and recalling vividly their sacrifices and suffering from invasion and bombing in two conflicts, they are under pressure from the people, the press and the politicians to sound out the prospect for an enduring peace with the Reds.

Churchill and Bidault, who have not abandoned their hope of converting the Anglo-French people and politicians will be more likely to favor NATO and a common defense force, if further talks with the Russians prove useless. Whereas they now hold back for fear of higher taxes and military burdens, another hysterical battle with the Reds—like those in Korea today—might push them into all-out rearmament.

Thus, although none of the participants in these preliminary discussions will admit it openly, the principle difference consists of timing. The military insists on delay for the reason listed here, while the politicians want an immediate showdown.

As a result of the delays and discrepancies between them, it is

Vultures Home To Roost

International Whirligig... Ike Shuns Moscow Deal Until NATO Defenses Are Stronger

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's opposition to Prime Minister Churchill's latest suggestion for a high-level conference on world peace with the Kremlin is based on military rather than diplomatic considerations. It is, perhaps, the most dramatic example of the effect of Ike's professional background on his behavior as a civilian chief executive.

Eisenhower feels, and he has the silent support of the World War II commanders in Britain and France, that the West should not enter into any negotiations with Moscow until NATO's defensive power has been strengthened, and until Paris and London join with the German Republic's government in ratifying the treaty for a European Defense Community.

When these accomplishments show that the democratic nations have finally mobilized their resources, and solved their internal differences over the contributions, the command and the commitments of their troops, their ships, their airplanes and their atomic weapons, Eisenhower believes that it will be the opportune and strategic moment to sit across the table from Malenkov and Molotov, assuming that they are still alive and active at the Kremlin.

Then, and then only, in White House opinion, will the Western Allies possess the ultimate argument to which the Soviet bullock respond — strength!

The diplomats in Europe, as represented by Churchill, and Georges Bidault, French Foreign Minister, are less patient than Eisenhower, although they sometimes substitute the word, "stubborn," to characterize the American President's mood.

Living nearer to the possible field of battle, and recalling vividly their sacrifices and suffering from invasion and bombing in two conflicts, they are under pressure from the people, the press and the politicians to sound out the prospect for an enduring peace with the Reds.

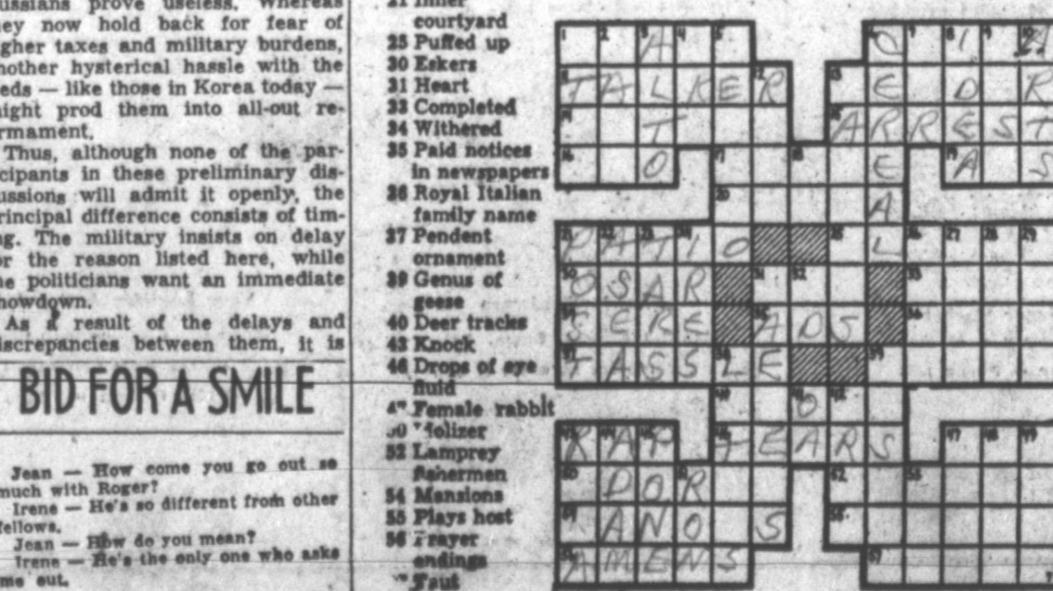

Churchill and Bidault, who have not abandoned their hope of converting the Anglo-French people and politicians will be more likely to favor NATO and a common defense force, if further talks with the Russians prove useless. Whereas they now hold back for fear of higher taxes and military burdens, another hysterical battle with the Reds—like those in Korea today—might push them into all-out rearmament.

Thus, although none of the participants in these preliminary discussions will admit it openly, the principle difference consists of timing. The military insists on delay for the reason listed here, while the politicians want an immediate showdown.

As a result of the delays and discrepancies between them, it is

Foolproof Picture Box... Hank May Be Forced To Pay Million Dollar Camera Reward

By HENRY McLEMORE
In 1949 I offered a reward of $1,000,000 to the first person to come up with a foolproof camera.

By foolproof, I meant a camera that (1) would get at least three legs and a portion of an ear in when the user took a picture of his dog, (2) didn't require a degree from M. I. T., and a valise of extra equipment to snap his mother-in-law standing on the front lawn, and (3) could be loaded without using too many wash-water-mouth-out-with-soap words.

I was quite a bit short of having $1,000,000 in my savings account (even with my Christmas Club thrown in) when I made the offer, but I had no dreaming idea it would ever be earned.

I announced the reward in Agra, India, just after I saw the developed results of some snaps I had taken of the Taj Mahal. They were nice, sharp prints all right, but the Taj was nowhere to be seen. I figured then and there that a foolproof camera, like a perpetual-motion machine, was just a dream and that I would be safe in offering a million, ten million, or fifty million dollars reward.

Now, so help me, it looks as though I am going to have to pay off — to a man named Edwin Elston. If my early tests of his camera are all they seem to be, piggy banks'll be busting all over my house, not to mention mattresses being ripped open, buried fruit jars dug up, sofa cushions shaken, trousers and coat pockets turned inside out, and vases emptied.

This camera not only is so simple that a monkey wearing boxing gloves can work it, but it also handles all the other messy things about taking pictures for you.

There's no loading it to start with. It comes as loaded as a pair of crooked dice. And there's no unloading.

When you have snapped 12 pictures you simply write your return address on the camera, yes, the camera, stick a six-cent stamp on it, and mail it to Mr. Elston's company.

In a few days you get back not only 12 prints all ready for pasting in your album, but a new camera all loaded and ready to go. This sort of thing can go on as long as you can find things to aim at.

Not for free, of course. But even when you have snapped 12 pictures you simply write your return address on the camera, yes, the camera, stick a six-cent stamp on it, and mail it to Mr. Elston's company.

The severity of an attack depends on where the clot is located and whether a large or small part of the heart muscle is deprived of its blood supply. During the time of its weakness the heart should be allowed to rest or it may not be able to maintain its function of pumping blood.

It takes quite a long time for good recovery of the heart muscle. If the injury was not too strategically placed or too large, and time enough is allowed, a kind of scar forms at the injured area. For this reason complete and lengthy rest is extremely important.

MANY RECOVER
In spite of the serious nature of this condition, many recover from an attack of coronary thrombosis with practically no ill effects and lead relatively normal lives for many years.

Most of these people who make good recoveries of this sort have also been good patients. They have taken the lengthy rest period without undue complaint and adjusted themselves to an easier method of living.

The cause or causes of coronary thrombosis are not all understood. Although prevention still seems to lie far in the future.

What, actually, is the sentiment in the farm country?

You can get a lot of different answers to that one.

Many politicians — the ones trained in the last 20 years of gimme politics — say, why of course the farmers want more and higher subsidies. Why wouldn't they? Everybody wants Government help.

Left-wing agitators of the ADA crowd — men like Jim Patton, president of the National Farmers Union — say the same thing. They are Socialists at heart, and always want more Government handouts.

But in this picture there are also men like Allan Kline. He represents one of the biggest and most respected farm organizations. He strongly opposes fixed, high-level subsidies. So likewise do the national leaders of the Grange, another potent farm group. So do a great many local leaders of farm groups. So do a great many local leaders of farm organizations, such as Chris Milus, president of the Nebraska Farmers Union, who vehemently disagrees with his national organization on this issue.

Don't sell such men short. They have a following.

A lot of men on the farm, calm and sensible men, have not given way to hysteria. They know you can't have fixed prices in a free economy. They know the only alternative to price fluctuations is slavery — the slavery of farmers working under the lash of bureaucrats.

There is a lady in Wayne, Pennsylvania, who sounds as though she has a vast wealth of common sense and she probably has. She licked a stray note out of a recent column and found the answers to two mysteries in my life. Actually, she found only one. But she answered two. I said I thought that Jerry Lewis was the funniest man alive. In my opinion, and counted that strange because so many thousands found him hilarious. I also said that I didn't vibrate to Arthur Godfrey, which was equally strange, since so many millions found him fascinating. This was, of course, before the Julius La Rosa event, a piece of dismissal from a job only slightly less comic than the first flight to Mars or the laying of the Atlantic Cable.

It is very simple, she says, explaining why I don't think this Lewis is funny. "His mugging and his manner of saying his lines are directly copied from the speech and facial expressions of retarded children. And no one of any sensitivity finds the congenital misfortunes of others humorous."

Nothing but nothing that the London critics, at the peak of their savagery, said about Lewis can equal that for gentle, incinerating, bruising and crippling comment. Nothing. It is the most exact example of dismantling that has come this way in a long time.

Her explanation regarding my defined chill for Godfrey is not as accurate. "The only thing that I can suggest is an unconscious masculine jealousy, because most of the women I've discussed it with are firmly of the opinion that he has the most satisfactory male-voice 'know'!"

I am jealous of Godfrey, ma'am. It is not in the wide department. I have a nice, coarse and candid love affair with money, an infatuation of long standing, and although I am not aware of being jealous because Godfrey takes in a large cut of the mint every year you may be right that I am totting around an unconscious jealousy and this jealousy would arise from resentment because he needs to hire trucks to carry his money home while an ailing hummingbird could easily fly mine to my doorstep.

I know maybe two dozen men in all walks of life who have a firm clutch on money in Alps-sized mounds. I don't hate any of them for it. Most of them raked together this loot the hard way and this side of the law. They are well-behaved, honest, self-respecting men who work at their jobs with becoming zeal. I am not in the least jealous of any one of them and I rejoice that these men have been able to make a better world for me and millions of others by judicious, sane use of that money. They are paying for improvements in science, industry, and the arts and they count it a privilege to pass this kind of money around to make things more pleasant for their fellow and less fortunate men.

I can't quite explain why I would cheer for these men and utter hoarse jeers for Godfrey, but if you insist that I am harboring a jealousy it must be because of his palls of money and not because of his voice. I am totally unaware of any such jealousy, but I repeat: if it exists it is remote from his voice or personality. Actually, I wasn't jeering at Godfrey. I was only saying that I didn't feel any enthusiasm for him and I wondered why. Millions think he is the greatest thing since orange juice. They must be right. It's no fun to be out of step with the regiment in this matter. But I am. I can go for a year without turning him on and never feel any loss. Nevertheless, I can't just write off such a compelling force in the entertainment field. His network doesn't pay him the sums it does for being bad. He must be good. He must draw, he must fascinate. I can't see it. For me. That doesn't mean a thing. He is of similar palls to other people. But jealous...why, ma'am!

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

Coronary thrombosis is a disease of the heart and is responsible for many sudden and unexpected deaths.

Without going into the technical details, it can be described as a clot which closes up one of the branches of the arteries which supply blood to the muscles of the heart.

Like every other muscle, the heart muscle must receive blood in order to function. When this supply of blood is cut off by a clot or closure of an artery, the heart muscle cannot keep contracting as it must in order to maintain life.

The severity of an attack depends on where the clot is located and whether a large or small part of the heart muscle is deprived of its blood supply. During the time of its weakness the heart should be allowed to rest or it may not be able to maintain its function of pumping blood.

It takes quite a long time for good recovery of the heart muscle. If the injury was not too strategically placed or too large, and time enough is allowed, a kind of scar forms at the injured area. For this reason complete and lengthy rest is extremely important.
