Floren plans to carry on where Welk left off

By JULIA CLARK Staff Writer

After playing the accordian for 32 years with the perennial favorite, Lawrence Welk, Myron Floren is planning a television show featuring a band of his own.

Floren appeared at the M. K. Brown Auditorium in Pampa last Friday night as part of the annual concert series.

He said that although Welk has retired, there is still a demand for the "wholesome, pure music" which was featured on the Welk show. Floren said he is negotiating with a sponsor for a television show to premiere next January, featuring the "big band" sound. He plans on "reactivating" the members of the former Lawrence Welk "family" for the show.

Floren said he took ten piano lessons when he was a boy, but decided the accordian was easier to carry around. He thinks he needs at least another 100 years to learn all there is to know about playing the accordian. One thing he knows now: not all accordians play the same.

ow; not all accordians play the same.

A few years ago when Floren was appearing in Beloit.

Myron Floren's determined to carry on the bubbly traditional music made famous by the Lawrence Welk orchestra. (Staff photo by Bruce Lee Wis.. his accordian was stolen from his car. He said he had to use a different one each of the next four nights. On the fourth day, he recived a call from a lady who had bought one for $60. When she saw the picture of his accordian, she realized her "$60 find" was his, so she took it to some nuns for safe keeping and then called him.

He was happy to have his accordian back because, "an accordian is like an old pair of shoes, you never find another that fits quite so comfortably. You have to break it in."

Floren said he works with a different band in each town he appears because it is too difficult to move so many people back and forth across the country for one night stands. The members of the bands range in age from 18 on up. Many of them are local college students and teachers.

He tells young people who ask him about getting into show business: "many are called: but few are chosen." He said it takes a combination of talent, persistence and luck.

However, he feels there is "nothing more rewarding. It is like looking forward to a short love affair, one never knows when it will end, so enjoy it while it lasts."

Preacher asked by state about political ads

By JEAN TIERNEY Of the News

WHEELER — The Texas attorney general's office wants Ricky Pfeil, pastor of the Wheeler Christian Center, to explain some apparently political advertising.

The Center's 1974 charter grants it tax-exempt status, but only if it keeps out of politics.

The attorney general's office in Austin said Tuesday it has

The attorney general's office in Austin said Tuesday it has asked Pfeil and the Center for information and copies of a particular film, letter and radio broadcast named in a complaint. The March 7 letter from Executive Assistant David R. Richards asks for a reply within 20 business days.

The complaint that Pfeil and the Center have not kept their hands out of politics was made by Wheeler movie house operator Ed Nall, who has been embroiled with Pfeil for almost two years now over the showing of R-rated films in Wheeler.

Nall, who said he filed his complaint with the attorney general's office in early November, said Tuesday that the two issues — movies and taxes — are not connected.

Nall said Pfeil and the Center did campaign for candidates in the November general election and that, thus, their tax-free status as a religious organization is a discount unfair to taxpaying private citizens.

"And, to me, it's a clear violation of their charter." he idded.

The letter from Austin asks Pfeil to provide a copy of a film apparently shown Oct. 30 in the 7:30 p.m. service at the Christian Center. An earlier advertisement in The Wheeler Times newspaper described the film as "from Lester Roloff about Governor Clements."

Another ad in The Times that week, marked "Pol. Adv. paid for by Ricky Pfeil," endorses Clements, Bill Meier for state attorney general, Mike Richards for comptroller, Jim Collins for U.S. senator and R.C. Porter for 88th District state representative.

"After investigation. I believe it would be the correct way to vote if you would vote for the following." says the advertisement.

The attorney general's letter also asks for a transcript of a 29-minute radio broadcast of Oct. 26 on Shamrock Radio KBYP which the station's log identifies as a political program entitled "Ricky Pfeil" and sponsored by "Christian Center." On the log, "Ricky Pfeil Treas." is hand-written in the sponsor's column above the typewritten name of the Center.

The attorney general's office also asks for a copy of a letter purportedly mailed by Pfeil to 165 people before the election, endorsing candidates.

Pfeil said today that he would not comment to The Pampa News on the letter "because of the position Mr. (Anthony)

Randles (the editor) has taken in his editorials against me."
Pfeil is attending a seminar in Fort Worth this week.

But he has said before, in court, that he and the Center are not one and the same. For instance, he testified in Wheeler's district court last fall during a hearing over the movie issue that he is not employed by the Center, that he is paid by tithe for his services as pastor. His actions, he said then, are not necessarily official actions of his church.

This week he told the Amarillo Daily News that he paid for the political portions of broadcasting time on KBYP and for the 165 letters from his own pocket. It was Ricky Pfeil endorsing candidates before the election, he said, not the Center

The Center received its charter as a non-profit organization in February, 1974, from the Texas secretary of state, listing four Wheeler and area men as its directors.

When the Center, which grew out of an Assembly of God Church in Wheeler, applied for its tax-exempt status, its directors stated they did not intend to engage in political campaigning.

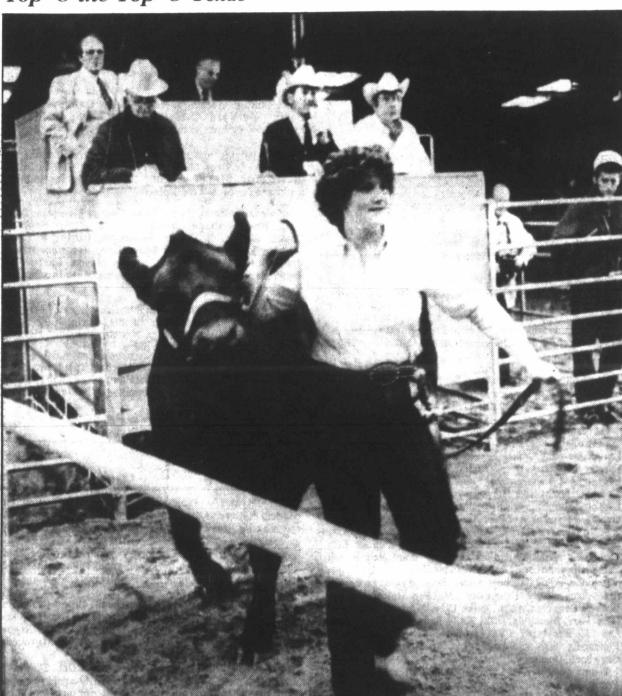

The articles of incorporation say "the corporation shall not participate in, or intervene in (including the publication or distribution of statements) any political campaign on behalf of any candidate for public office."

For the attorney general's investigation, the letter also asks Pfeil and the Center to send a summary of the Center

Miami house fire kills elderly man

By JULIA CLARK Staff Writer

MIAMI - A long-time Miami resident and businessman, D. H. Harris, died late Tuesday in a fire in his home on West Commercial Street

Witnesses said his wife, Cora "Code" Harris, discovered the fire and ran next door to get help. After alerting the neighbors, Harris ran back to her home to rescue her husband from the flames. She was severely burned in the futile attempt to save her husband who was killed in the fire.

According to a Lubbock General Hospital spokesman.

Cora Harris received second and third degree burns over 30 percent of her body and was listed in critical condition at press time.

Sheriff Eddie Brines said the Miami volunteer fire department responded quickly enough to contain the fire to the livingroom. He said the fire was apparently caused by a cigarette dropped onto the divan.

The Harrises built the Gulf Station on W. Commercial in the early 1940s and ran it until he retired, turning it over to their son, Bill Harris. Bill Harris operated the station until his death in 1975.

Yes, Virginia, it's snow; but no...it won't last for long...

By LORI-ANN D'ANTONIO Staff Writer

Three inches of snow fell in Pampa overnight, but by Thrusday afternoon it will all be melted, according to the National Weather Service (NWS) in Amarillo.

J.C. Wells at the NWS said we can expect light intermittent snow through this afternoon, and that temperatures would drop to near freezing tonight. Winds will be out of the north tonight at 20 to 30 m.p.h. and gusty. Wells said, but the snow on the ground will be too wet to blow around much.

Thursday's afternoon high will be in the low 50s, which should melt off any snow left by the storm. The snow came from a cold front passing through Texas that dumped snow from Denver, Colo. to Minneapolis, Minn. Stapleton International Airport in Denver was closed again Tuesday, with travelers holing up there for the third time this winter.

In Texas, a tornado hit Harlingen on the Gulf Coast, wrecking two frame houses and two mobile homes Tuesday equipment and injured three people, including one who was hospitalized this morning.

"It was a pretty rough little storm." Rickey Dailey, editor of the Valley Morning Star in Harlingen said this morning. The Panhandle shouldn't see any tornadoes today.

night. The storm also destroyed $50,000 worth of farm of the Valley Morning Star in Harlingen said this morning.

The Panhandle shouldn't see any tornadoes today, however, just a melting of last night's snow. Amarillo received one inch of snow, with three inches recorded in Pampa by 6 a.m. today, measuring out to 72 one-hundredths of an inch of moisture.

The overnight low in Pampa was 30, and Tuesday's high was 67. The forecast calls for cloudy and cold weather through tonight, with intermittent snow possible. Rain was reported in Wheeler, Canadian, and Shamrock this morning, with wet snow reported in McLean.

Absentee voting ends March 29 for election

Absentee voting in Pampa municipal and school board elections began Monday and will end March 29 at city hall and at the school district offices at 321 W. Albert.

By Tuesday afternoon Frma Hippar city secretary, said

By Tuesday afternoon, Erma Hipsher, city secretary, said eleven of the 10,995 registered voters in Pampa had voted as absentees, and Jerry Haralson, business manager of the school district, said 27 people of the 12,282 registered voters had voted absentee.

In order to vote absentee, a voter must expect to be absent from the city on election day, be employed at an polling place or be unable to vote at the polls because of religious beliefs or physical disability, according to state election law.

When a voter wishes to vote absentee, he must apply at the city hall or school district office, and vote in the office at that time. After a person has voted absentee, his name is put on a "strike list," which goes to the polling place in his ward on election day. This procedure prevents anyone who voted absentee to vote in the election on April 2 as well.

Qualified voters who are unable to go to the city hall or school district offices may have a ballot delivered to them by city or school district employees. Voters who are 65 or older and are ill are also eligible for absentee voting.

Voters may vote by absentee from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. at city hall or school district office. Voters who are incapcitated should call the offices for ballots.

Job Hunter column places five people

The Pampa News has helped placed five of its 20 Job Hunters in jobs since February 7, or one-quarter of the people were featured in the newspaper. The process is simple--an unemployed person comes into the News office, has a picture taken and gives a reporter a short description of past jobs and talents.

The description and photo are run in the paper where prospective employers can see the job hunter as well as judge the qualifications for a job.

Anyone who is unemployed is urged to come down to the News and be a job hunter. A person does not have to be out of a job for a specific length of time, be drawing unemployment compensation, or be registered with the Texas Employment Commission at Coronado Center to qualify.

All a job hunter needs is a desire to find honest work. If you are unemployed, and want to work, come to the News office after 1 p.m. and become a job hunter. You could be the next person we help place.

Randy Skaggs receives noted Frank M. Carter scholarship

Staff Writer

Randy L. Skaggs, recipient of the Frank M. Carter Agricultural Scholarship, was one of approximately 25 Future Farmers of America who were honored at the Top 'O Texas Livestock Judging Contest Awards Luncheon

Randy is the son of the late Bob L. Skaggs who taught vocational agriculture at Pampa High School for 25 years. Bob Skaggs was also the school's FFA sponsor. Chris Skaggs, Randy's older brother, won the scholarship in 1977. First alternate scholarship winner was Gary D. Moore and

The student must have participated, or plan to participate in, the Top 'O Texas FFA Livestock Judging Contest of the current year, must be a senior in high school and be eligible for graduation in May or June following the date of the contest.

After filing an application (including a transcript of his grades) with the contest officials, the student must submit a handwritten letter giving the reasons why a college education in agriculture will be of value to him.

Each FF chapter in Area I is entitled to submit one application to the management of the contest. These applicants are then interviewed by a committee of three, appointed by the management of the contest, who evaluate the applicant and select the winner, with a first and second

Lefors passes another fowl order

LEFORS - The Lefors City Council read its rabbits and fowl ordinance for the third time Monday night, making it law. The ordinance makes it unlawful to keep 25 chickens or rabbits over 10 weeks of age or 50 under 10 weeks of age within the city limits, and will go into effect June 14, 1983.

The ordinance also prohibits keeping "any fowl capable of crowing" within the city limits, or keeping chickens or rabbits for commercial purposes. It also outlines sanitary

City Council members also heard from Charles Buzzard of the Gray County Appraisal District, who spoke on new taxes that Lefors residents might pay due to reappraisal.

McLean pays off for new building

By LORI ANN D ANTONIO

Staff Writer McLEAN - The McLean Independent School District Board of Trustees voted Monday night to make the final building payment on the new Administration and Science Building and awarded a bid for work to be done on the roof of the elementary school building.

The final payment on the new building was made on the architect's recommendation, and the bid was awarded to Parsley's Sheet Metal and Roofing of Pampa in the amount of $23,820.

Board members set April 4, 1983 as the date for the eeting at which they will canvass election ballots, and oted to accept a tax settlement from the Chicago Rock Island and Pacific Railroad. The railroad had proposed to pay 90 percent of all taxes owed through 1981 and all of taxes conditions in which the animals must be kept, if at all.

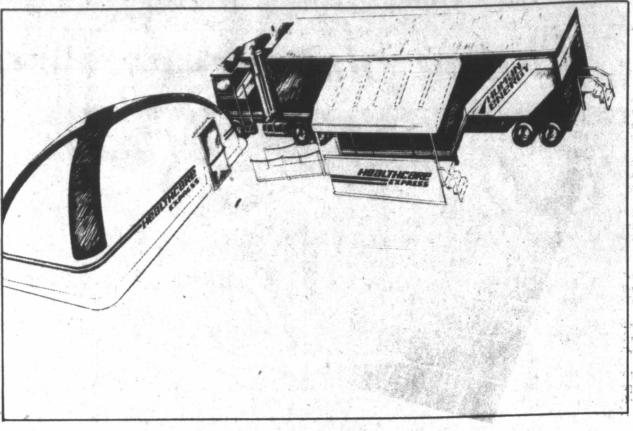

owed for 1982. The city will receive 90 percent of $19,940.75 and all of $1,812.18. The city of McLean was granted an easement by the school board on a piece of land owned by the school district which the city needs to build a service-access road for the new interstate 40 which will bypass McLean.

The board rehired all teachers in the McLean schools except Mary Lowder, fifth grade teacher, who will retire at the end of the 1982-83 school year. All teachers will be rehired at 1962-63 salaries. The board also approved the 1983-84 school calendar, and approved new textbooks for the schools

The exhibit will arrive aboard a specially designed 60-foot-long tractor trailer rig, with expanding sides, special participatory displays, a continuous videotape of the history of medicine, and other displays.

The five interactive "talking" computers will quiz visitors about medical terminology, healthcare statistics, primary health care and self care. In addition, there is one computer designed especially for children.

A four-foot high walking and talking robot will visit with children up and down the mall, chatting with shoppers and handing out baloons.

Five display panels along the walls invite visitor participation, showing the body's circulatory system, the brain, the respiratory system, and discussing physical fitness and nutrition.

Knox said special arrangements were being made to allow Pampa High School and Pampa Middle School science students to visit the exhibit.

CCH will also be setting up its own displays in conjunction with the Healthcare Express, showing visitors some of the newest equipment currently in use in the hospital as well as providing free health testing for high blood pressure. colo-rectal cancer screening, and urinalysis.

Accompanying the exhibits will be a continuous videotape entitled "The Wish," depicting the age-old dream of mankind to extend life by curing disease.

Gray County buys new bulldozer

By LORÍ ANN D ANTONIO Staff Writer

Gray County Commissioners bought a new bulldozer and signed two fire protection contracts at their regular meeting Tuesday morning.

Commissioners awarded a bid for a new bulldozer to West Texas Equipment Company of Amarillo in the amount of $65,000 with trade-in. They also signed a fire protection contract which will net the Wheeler Volunteer Fire Department $125 per fire run into Gray County

In addition, commissioners also renewed their fire protection contract with the city of Lefors for $484 per fire run, the same rate as Pampa. The rate is up $59 from the old rate of $425. The commissioners also increased the county's monthly subsidy for the Lefors ambulance by $100 to $355 per month, as Lefors had requested.

The county disbursed $230,000 of school funds to various school districts within the county. The money, which is collected and disbursed annually, comes from oil and mineral leases in the area, according to County Judge Carl Kennedy, who presides over the commissioners' court.

Commissioners also allowed county tax assessor Margie Gray $3,860.50 to buy seven new typewriters to be used in the tax assessor-collector's office.

The county will join the Texas Association of Counties in Bush v. Viterno, a lawsuit brought by an inmate in a Texas incurred by the state's corrections board's, who is the defendant in the case. The suit disputes the state's right to Commissioners also voted to submit an application to the Texas Aeronautical Commission to ask for help in buying a pair of PLASI (Pulse Light Approach Slope Indicators) jail dealing with jail standards, commissioners decided.

They also voted to contribute $500 toward the legal fees to be lights for Perry LeFors Field on Price Road. The lights, which cost $44,500 for the pair, will let pilots know whether or not they are in the right slope to land safely.

They were requested by the Gray County Airport Board at a previous commission meeting. Commissioners tabled action on a request by District Attorney Guy Hardin for more office space because Hardin could not attend the meeting. They also tabled action on a the settlement of a bill with Computer Election Systems, which rented the county vote counting machines for the November election, because they did not have the necessary paperwork.

Commissioners were also shown a demonstration of a new vote counting machine by Hart Graphics of Amarillo, but took no action on buying or renting any.

The county also paid $151.610 in bills at the meeting, and granted a request from the Cabot Corporation to cross a

Judging contest yields new crop of judges, and more pig results

By JEAN TIERNEY

The young people showing their animals in the Top o' Texas Stock Show here this week got a chance to be judges

Dozens of the teenagers climbed into the show ring to prod and poke some lambs, pigs and steers and then match their opinions against those of experienced judges from West Texas State University's Department of Animal Science.

Some of the junior judges groaned as the university's judges later told them why this lamb was better than that, why this pig which looked so promising on the hoof would dress out light for the table.

The youngsters in the Future Farmers of America Livestock Judging Contest were looking for large-frame. efficient lambs, gilts with strong pasterns to thrive on concrete piggery floors, barrows with deep bodies and wide tops: animals that would return the most money at butchering. Look for total muscle volume, said the judges; watch out for too much fat.

When the experienced judges named the winners of the contest at the FFA Awards Banquet Tuesday, Sean Mason of Lazbuddie took first place in the individual competition and the students from White Deer took first place in team

The results are as follows: Individual winners in the overall contest: Sean Mason of Lazbuddie, first; Mike Clay of White Deer, second; Greg Parr of Memphis, third; Richard Nichols of White Deer, fourth: Todd Richardson of Pampa, fifth; Brad Monzingo of Memphis, sixth; Kirk Morrow of Canadian, seventh; James ODESSA. Texas (AP) - Authorities were waiting for a raging inferno above a ruptured because of heat, but have located what appear to be natural gas pipeline to subside in the predawn three bodies close to the fire, he said. hours today, in their search for five people presumed killed in a blast that injured five others.

An explosion, triggered when a drill pierced the pipeline. destroyed two trailer homes Tuesday and sent flames roaring 600 feet into the night sky 10 miles west of this West Texas city.

Ector County Sheriff's Capt. David Saunders said four members of a family of five were in one of the trailer homes when the pipeline was punctured at 7:30 p.m. They, along with one man on the drilling crew, are presumed dead, he said.

A nearby resident said the flames "cremated" the family's trailer. Officials said four of the injured lived in the other trailer. Two were . critically burned.

"If there was anybody in that trailer, I know for sure there's no way they made it." said Rusty Glover, a witness. Glover said he saw one man who was burned "from the waist up.

Another man may be trapped inside a pickup truck too close to the fire to reach. while a fifth plerson was overcome as he ran from the flames. officials said.

Sheriff's deputies and firefighters have been unable to get closer than 100 yards from the flames

But flames are dying down, fire officials said. We are bleeding it (the pipeline) and the pressure is off the line." said batallion chief Russell Wade. "But we are not putting water on it. There is a possibility in a couple of hours to get up there."

He said the flames had reduced in size to 150 feet. What we are hoping to get accomplished is to get a valve shut down along the pipeline," said sheriff's Sgt. Jess Aguilar. Workers "are trying to close it off to try to get the fire to extinguish itself. There are crews working on it right now. All we can do is stand by and let it burn itself out. Three deputies and 30 to 40 firefighters in nine fire trucks kept vigil near the flames, officials said. Saunders said the fire continued after the gas supply in the eight-inch pipeline was shut off.

We feel just real sure that we are going to have deaths in some, if not all, of the five we have missing." Saunders said. "It will be at least several more hours before we do know."

Glover, who lives about one mile from the trailers, said the explosion lit up his front yard and sounded like "lightning and thunder."

"That line is 1,160 pounds of pressure and they figure that it will be burning all night," he said. "It is 20 miles to the pump station from where it got punctured and all that gas has to escape somewhere.

The fire broke out after a crew drilling fence post holes began working in the area, he said. The fire was still burning out of control at 3 a.m., officials

Laverne Mann. nursing supervisor at Odessa Medical Center Hospital, said two people, including one member of the two-man drilling crew, were transferred to the burn unit at Lubbock General Hospital in critical condition.

They were Gloria Pena, 39, with second- and third-degree burns, and a 42-year-old man, who has not been identified, with second- and third-degree burns over 90 percent of his body.

Mrs. Pena's husband. 44-year-old Alvarado, and his son, 10-year-old George, were admitted to the Odessa hospital in stable condition with second-degree burns, Ms. Mann said. A second son, Alvarado Jr., 13, was treated for burns and released

Senators vote to crack down

AUSTIN (AP) - Sen. Bill Sarpalius had the statistics and the stories to persuade his colleagues to approve a bill that would increase penalties for Statistics: 100 DWI accidents a day in 1981; 1,082 people killed: 27,751 injured; and damages totaling -- $3.5 billion.

Stories: A 16-year-old boy who was DWI had a wreck that killed his best friend - "something you have to live with the rest of your life," said Sarpalius. Another 16-year-old DWI victim was paralyzed from the waist down, a 19-year-old in a coma for the rest of her life, a 21-year-old who had to learn to walk and speak after an accident.

'Keep your minds on the cries of your constituents who have been abused by drunken probation. drivers." said Sarpalius, D-Hereford.

Sarpalius' bill. the product of a two-year effort to get tough on drunken drivers, was sent to the House on voice vote Tuesday, with Sen. Craig Washington. D-Houston, voting "no.

Sen. Tati Santiesteban, D-El Paso, offered an amendment that he said "in essence would destroy Sen. Sarpalius' bill," but it failed 26-3.

Santiesteban said the major difference in his proposal was that it retained "deferred adjudication," which gives those convicted of DWI a chance to erase the conviction from their record. He said Sarpalius' bill would only crack down on the poor and minorities, because "rich people who can afford it" will hire a lawyer and get off. "This is not a proper bill for all Texans." he said.

Sarpalius recounted committee testimony of a Harris County prosecutor who said. "Deferred adjudication is a joke as far as DWI is concerned."

Under Sarpalius' bill, first-time DWI offenders would pay a minimum fine of between $100 and $2,000, face possible jail time between three days and one year, and have their license suspended for between 90 days and a year.

His measure, however, would authorize

A second offense would mean a minimum fine of between $300 and $2,000, jail time of between three days and two years, and license suspension for six months to two years.

A third offense would cost between $500 and $2,000, carry a possible jail term of 30 days to five years, and license suspension for six months to two vears.

Minors would not be subjected to jail time but would have to pay fines, and the provisions for suspending a driver's license would be more severe for them. For example, a minor convicted a second time of DWI could lose his license until he reached the legal drinking age, which is 19.

DWI suspects who refused to take breath tests could have their licenses suspended, whether or not they were ever prosecuted for DWI. The bill also would authorize insurance companies to impose a three-year surcharge on policies of those convicted of DW1. Sarpalius won an 18-11 vote on his amendment to require counties with a population of 25,000 or more to buy video cameras to tape a defendant's appearance "within a reasonable time after the arrest. Sen. Bob Vale. D-San Antonio, suggested that all counties should be required to have such cameras.

but Sarpalius said, "We need to start at the heart of

EVER STRIVING FOR TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Louise Fletcher

Anthony Randles Managing Editor

For one day there, anyway, eh?

Last Friday night a 13-year-old Pampa girl disappeared from the bull barn after brushing her steer for most of the day.

Twenty-one hours later she was reunited with her family after being found at a friend's house. The jaunt turned out to be a simple "running away from home" situation which had a happy ending. But for those 21 hours two things happened

The entire community was frightened out of its wits by her disappearance. And, while that can't be considered beneficial to any group of people, there was another side

For 21 hours, we, the people who live here in this corner of the world, were one.

Forgotten was all thought of personal gain. monetary expense, trivial rivalries, petty differences. The energy and activity of everyone involved centered on just one thing: "Find the girl." There was not only complete and total cooperation between law enforcement agencies, but cooperation between them and news media, and the general public. and private individuals. Anyone who showed up was given a job. The only photographs of the girl available were at the family's home eight miles east of Pampa. One family member went for them.

They were reproduced by volunteers, but the problem of getting them to the television stations in Amarillo came up. Both local radio stations, KGRO and KSZN immediately broadcast a plea for someone to take them to Amarillo so the Globe-News and the three television stations could use them. Within 15 minutes a volunteer came by to pick them up and take them to Amarillo.

The Globe-News saw to it the three television stations received their copies of the pictures.

There were volunteer aircraft owners and pilots who said "Hang the expense, let's go," and covered hundreds of square miles of country around Pampa looking for the Private volunteers drove hundreds of miles into the country, asking farmers and ranchers to check their property for the missing girl. And the farmers did.

Oilfield workers were alerted by volunteers, and they combed their leases for any sign of her.

Other 4H and FFA parents joined in the search east of Pampa with flashlights all through the night.

People called the police department, the sheriff's office, the radio stations, the newspaper office, volunteering to help...wanting to know if there was anything at all they could do. Then the girl was found and returned to her family, and the rest of us returned to a semblance of normal life again. But maybe not completely normal, we hope

Because that teenager unwittingly knit this collection of various enterprises and priorities into one cohesive community for the best part of a long day. We were one people. We had only one goal. We went all out, together, and welded ourselves once again into what we had really been all along ... a community

May we never lose that feeling

And when this last springtime's horrendous rains came to northern California - week after week - saturating the soil and the less stable sand of the Santa Cruz - the slides began. Minority is a prejudiced word

By OSCAR COOLEY

We all belong to minorities of one kind or another. A minority, according to my dictionary, is "a number forming less than half of a whole." For example, I belong to the minority of men who have no hair on the tops of their heads (assuming baldheads are in a minority). But whether one belongs to a certain minority is not, in most cases, significant. But it can be prejudicial, often unjustly so, expecially when the minority referred to is a race of people. Late years, the black or Negro race has come to be called a minority, and when the word is used in the plural - minorities - it includes the Hispanics, or Americans of Spanish descent. 'Minorities Seek Job Consideration' runs the headline over a story which indicates to the reader that employers in a certain community are not employing a "fair share" of minority, that is, black or Hispanic people. A fair share evidently is the same percentage that the minority people are of all the people

This story implies that more than a fair share of whites are employed merely because they are white, not because they are better fitted to do the work. In short, the employers are favoring people because of color, not because of ability. That seems hardly the way to get work done most efficiently.

In fact, the current use of the word "minority" to designate a race or nationality indicates racial prejudice. The same is true of the word "black" used as a noun.

We are all human beings, regardless of our race or color. Most people prefer to be judged by their character and ability, not by their complexion or the race they happen to have been born into. That the mayor of Detroit is black is of no significance; the important fact is that he is an able

Once, we had churches attended by Negroes only, others solely by whites. Today it seems to us a curious Christianity that would segregate people according to race. Private schools and clubs, too, especially in the South, were segregated, and some may be today, though the practice is surely declining. To the credit of the public schools, most of them have always been multiracial.

Will blacks always be in minority in the U.S.? If their numbers continue to increase in relation to the whites, there will come a time when they will be a majority. Then it will be absurd to refer to them by the word minority.

An alien - that is, a foreigner - may be an estimable individual but he lacks the rights of a citizen. This arises from the fact the world is divided into countries, or nations. each with its own government. If such divisions did not exist - if there were no governments - there would be no aliens. Compared to citizen, alien is a derogatory term.

Quebec happens to have been settled by the French, New England by the English. Later, many of the "Canucks" as they were called moved south into Vermont. Most of them were good farmers and workers, so they had our respect even though they spoke a strange language.

Industrial output up last month

By The Associated Press The 0.3 percent gain in U.S. production in February was a full percentage point less than the previous month's increase, but economists are still hopeful that recovery is continuing. Further evidence of industrial activity in February is due today. when the government is scheduled to release figures on how much of factory capacity actually was in use.

Sales of new domestic-made cars. meanwhile, rose 2.6 percent in early March compared with a year earlier. and OPEC's new price for oil of $29 a barrel already appears under

Production gains in February were recorded for cars and other consumer goods, for construction materials and for defense and space equipment, the Federal Reserve Board said Tuesday. Output of business equipment continued to decline, however.

Still, the February gain was the third straight monthly increase and Jack Lavery, chief economist for Merrill Lynch & Co., said the latest gain "reinforces the notion that the recovery is very much a reality."

Jerry Jasinowski, chief economist for the National Association of Manufacturers, said production fluctuations are typical for this stage of the business cycle.

But he added, "Manufacturers are not going to rapidly expand production until they see a substantial and sustained increase in sales. Most manufacturers are not yet convinced that the recovery is for real

In addition to giving new February figures, Tuesday's report revised January's 0.9 percent industrial production gain into a robust 1.3 percent increase. Output had risen 0.2 percent in December after declining in 14 of 16 previous months during the heart of the recession.

The five major U.S. automakers said they sold 160,617 cars between March 1-10, up from 156,505 in the year-earlier period.

But the daily sales rate showed weakness. The rate of 17,846 sales per day was the best for that period since 25.382 were sold daily in early March 1981, but was the fourth-worst for that period in the past 22 years.

Ford Motor Co., Chrysler Corp. and American Motors Corp. either reported or estimated gains

Five Marines wounded in ambush

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) -Five Marines suffered superficial shrapnel wounds today in the first grenade attack on the American contingent of Lebanon's multinational peacekeeping force. Marine commander Col. James M. Mead said.

Mead, of Boston, told reporters a grenade was lobbed at a Marine patrol from a second-floor window at the end of a street connecting Beirut international airport and the coastal road at the southern outskirts of the Lebanese capital.

Four of the injured leathernecks were evacuated by helicopter to U.S. Navy ships anchored off Beirut and one was treated at the Marine base in the airport, Mead

He said the Lebanese army arrested one suspect only 13 minutes after the 8:55 a.m. (1:55 a.m. EST) grenade attack on the 12-man foot patrol.

But Lebanon's state and privately owned radio stations said 30 more people were arrested by 10 armored Lebanese patrols dispatched to the Khalde and Ouzai seaside neighborhoods near the airport.

The two low-income neighborhoods have a predominantly Shiite Moslem population, including supporters of Iranian revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini and the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Mead said the Marines normally patrol the area where the attack occurred two or three times a day. He

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a busy businessman writing in eference to "Tired of Waiting," who had a long wait at he doctor's office.

I had the same problem and this is how I solved it, I and an appointment with a local physician who kept me vaiting for a very long time. The next time I had an appointment it was for 11 a.m., so I phoned the doctor's office at 9 a.m. with this message: "This is (), and I have an appointment this morning for 11 o'clock. I need o know if the doctor is on schedule. You see, I, too, am a ousy person and do not have time to sit in your waiting coom doing nothing, so if the doctor is running behind, I prefer waiting in my office rather than his. If you will please call me when he's ready, I can be there in 20 minutes. I know he doesn't think 20 minutes is a long wait since I waited over an hour to see him for my last

Well, Abby, guess who was ready for me when I got there? I rarely have to wait more than 10 minutes for this

NO WAITING IN OKLAHOMA

DEAR NO WAITING: Beautiful. But let's hear from a doctor's secretary:

DEAR ABBY: I work for two pediatricians, and try as we do to keep to a schedule, it's nearly impossible, and this is why:

Joe Jones calls. He must have a physical exam to continue playing basketball with his high school team. He's lucky. We're able to find a spot for him within a couple of days. His appointment is at 3 p.m. right after school.

He calls from school to tell us that his car won't start. A friend will bring him, but he can't get there until 3:30. Can he still have his checkup? Of course he can. We'll work it out somehow. But someone will have to wait.

Mrs. Smith called this morning. She needs an afternoon appointment because her child has an earache. She shows up with two children because in the meantime the other one has gotten sick. Will we see both children? Of course. But someone will probably have to wait.

Mrs. Anderson is bringing in her first baby. He's 6 months old, and she is nervous and has lots of questions for the doctor. Will he take the time to reassure her, to answer her questions and help her to deal more comfortably with the baby? Of course he will. But someone will probably have to wait.

Something like this happens nearly every day, but we cannot refuse to help our patients when they need us. I won't even talk about what happens to our schedule when emergencies come in, or when the telephone rings off the

DEAR ABBY: I can't believe you printed that tired old complaint from "Tired of Waiting," the woman who had to wait to see her doctor. Hey, "Tired," just calm down! Have you ever written to

Dear Abby to say you got in to see the doctor on time? Doctors' wives, let's unite and write to Dear Abby about the times we've waited and waited for our husbands who have been called back to the hospital to see "Tired of Waiting.

Broccoli and squash elegance

Interesting contrasts in flavor and color are combined in Broccoli and Squash with Nutmeg - Cheese Sauce. Microwaved in minutes, this vegetable dish will offer variety to family meals.

Microwave vegetable combo to perfection

Who can resist an elegant presentation of vegetables, lightly sauced with a hint of nutmeg and cheese? With the aid of a microwave oven, broccoli and squash with nutmeg - cheese sauce is cooked quickly after a minimum of preparation time.

The secret of microwaving several vegetables together is the arrangement and cutting techniques used. Fresh stalks of broccoli are cut through the thick stem end so they will cook quickly and the tender flowerets are placed toward the center. Yellow squash is cut in thick slices, so it won't be overcooked and placed between the broccoli spears.

An essential step in microwave cooking, to ensure good results, is covering foods. For large serving platters, cover with plastic wrap traps heat to provide tender vegetables and

Researchers see benefits to health from yogurt

By KATHY EYRE Associated Press Writer LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) -Instead of needing expensive doctors' prescriptions for antibiotics such as penicillin and terramycin, people in the future may eat yogurt and drink milk made with a bacteria strain developed by

Dr. Khem Shahani, professor of food science and technology, says in addition to being a natural antibiotic. his continuing research indicates yogurt and milk with the "Shahani strain" of lactobacillus acidophilus can help prevent and treat

a University of Nebraska

Shahani says he has been doing research for the past 35 years on the health benefits of yogurt and other fermented foods. The professor says the longer lifespans of people who eat such foods prompted him to investigate and isolate the components of the foods which promote good health.

"In general, in these Asiatic countries, the eastern European countries, their citizens achieve a greater longevity than we do in America, this despite the fact that their standard of living. their standards of hygiene, of medical attention are not as high as ours," he said.

Thus it follows - and I strongly believe this -that the widespread use of fermented foods in these countries does have something to do with this extended longevity.

But Shahani says beliefs have yet to be fully proven. despite extensive research in the past few decades at the University of Nebraska and elsewhere into the benefits of

Most yogurt and milk marketed in the United States lacks acidophilus, Shahani

The bacteria's health-promoting properties have been touted for years albeit its supposed cure-all properties have been viewed with skepticism by some.But it appears the skepticism is lifting as some dairymen report rising sales of milk and yogurt with acidophilus.

Shahani says his work in the laboratory with test-tube experiments and animals indicates his acidophilus yogurt and milk is particularly effective in combatting the bacteria which cause dysentery, cholera and diarrhea. It has also helped fight staphylococci and streptococci. he said.

However, large scale and prolonged experiments measuring the acidophilus' ability to act as an antibiotic for humans have yet to be

Shahani is now waiting for clearance from the World

Health Organization for his proposal to begin research projects involving hundreds of people for at least a few decades in Czechoslovakia, Uganda, Eygpt, Bangladesh and possibly India. He said University of Nebraska researchers would put the study's participants on diets with various levels of acidophilus milk and yogurt, then track their health

Shahani said not until such large scale, prolonged studies are done will researchers really know how effective acidophilus yogurt and milk can be as a natural antibiotic.

The study measured the effects of feeding regular milk, acidophilus milk and acidophilus yogurt on DNA repair during the initiation of pancreatic cancer in

Texas Showcase: Dimmitt's basketball program

Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) - The only unbeaten team - and perhaps the best - in Texas high school basketball plays its home games in a junior high gym and is led by a skinny, gum-chewing guard who wears contacts.

Opponents of all-state guard Kevin Cleveland call him "Squirrel." Dimmitt Coach Kenneth Cleveland calls him "Son," and says he couldn't be prouder.

Cleveland, a 5-foot-10 senior, is a whirlwind of energy on the court and runs the fast break about as well as any high school player in the state.

He and his father hugged as subs ran out the clock in Dimmitt's 81-54 victory over Van Vleck in an emotional family farewell to a perfect basketball season. In winning its second consecutive Class 3A championship, the Castro County team finished 38-0. and had only one close game. a 67-66 midseason tournament victory over 5A Lubbock.

Over two seasons. Dimmitt has won 44 consecutive regional meet.

Swimmers in state meet

Amy Raymond and Clay Douglass will represent Pampa a

the Texas High School State Swim Meet Friday and Saturday

Miss Raymond qualified for the state meet by placing second in both the 100 backstroke and 200 IM at the Class 4A regionals. Douglass qualified by winning the 200 IM at the games since losing a practice three fouls game to 4A Borger

"I had a lot of sleepless nights the past few days," Coach Cleveland said after the Saturday championship. "When you're undefeated. you think every time, 'Could this be the one?

Kevin, who averages nearly 23 points a game and zips left- and right-handed passes while leaping in the air or on the run, had tears in his eves as he came out with 40 seconds left in the game.

"I shook his hand and said. 'We did it, Dad.'" Kevin recounted.

"I'm very proud of you and everybody," Coach Cleveland responded

The championship was significant to others, too, including the Robert Smith family. The father played on the 1952 Dimmitt team that was undefeated and beat Plano 62-40 for the Class A title. His son, John, gave up his favorite 4-H activities to concentrate on basketball. and Coach Cleveland said he was greatly improved over

Smith scored 23 points and grabbed 17 rebounds in the semifinal and final victories, and was whistled for only

Dimmitt's team had the sort of balance coaches dream about as four of the five starters scored in double figures both games, and the fifth - defensive ace Fermin Gonzales - shut off the opposition break and chipped in with 10 points.

All but Gonzales made the 3A all-tournament team.

Dimmitt, a town of 5,000 population with a large farming industry, had won only one title and had lost in the 1960 and 1961 finals when Cleveland left Sonora to coach the Bobcats. "Dimmittwas a good basketball town long before I got there, and I've been saying my blessings ever since," he said.

The elder Cleveland had been a three-sport star at Coleman, where he used to sneak through a window to play basketball in the gym

after-hours, and was captain of the 1958 Texas Longhorn basketball team. After he had been 'at Dimmitt a few years, he was made athletic director, an indication, perhaps, of how seriously Dimmitt takes basketball. Both of his daughters. Vicki and Beth, were all-state in girls' basketball.

Cleveland's first championship team in 1975. which also defeated Van Vleck in the finals, was 35-3.

"The people support everything." Coach Cleveland said in a telephone interview. "So many people have told me the highlight of the year was watching us play basketball. But the same people who support basketball yell their lungs out at the football games.

The basketball squad will be honored Saturday at a

Cleveland said, "The whole town's been invited."

His one regret is that when money got tight in building the high school, plans for a new gym were scrapped and a much smaller "practice" facility was built, so Dimmitt plays at the junior high. which seats 1,200.

"Most people will agree that was the biggest mistake ever made in Dimmitt, Coach Cleveland said. "I've told people around here that I'll coach until I'm 99 if it takes that to get a new gym.

Hopefully, some day .. Nevertheless. Coach Cleveland couldn't be

This has got to be the most satisfying thing that could happen to a coach. Your own son and your adopted sons go 38-0. There's nothing else to

WASHINGTON (AP) - Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. Senate unable to reach a forecast that the promise on a $5.1 billion bill, is heading toward a ir of showdown votes on a resolution urging a "mutual oposed amendment to and verifiable" U.S.-Soviet peal the withholding tax on terest and dividends

Supporters of the nendment claim they have votes to force their easure onto the jobs bill spite a vow by President leagan to veto the bill if it entains the amendment.

A victory could trigger a Bibuster against the jobs bill Sen. Bob Dole. R-Kan.. nairman of the Senate inance Committee. That muld delay Senate action on he measure for two or three ore days.

After nearly a week of ebate, the Senate was ready vote today, first on Dole's ffort to block the mendment and then, if that bils — as Senate leaders expected it to - on a move by en. Bob Kasten, R-Wis., to ear the way for a vote on his withholding amendment.

Efforts to end the stalemate collapsed late Tuesday when Kasten refused to withhdraw his amendment from the bill. despite a promise by Dole and other GOP leaders that he yould have a chance to offer on separate legislation next month.

Also today, the House was scheduled to take up the nuclear weapons freeze resolution, and the Reagan administration acknowledged a-faced an "uphill battle" in efforts to rebuff the measure. Reagan's chief spokesman as well as House Speaker

New Mexico gets hig lease bonuses

SANTA FE (AP) - The New Mexico Land Office was paid bonuses of $2.61 million Tuesday at its regular monthly sale of oil and gas leases on state-owned trust lands

Land Commissioner Jim Baca said the highest bonus paid was $235,000 from Exxon Corp. of Midland. Tex., for a 480-acre tract eight miles northwest of Carlsbad in Eddy County.

Exxon acquired the lease during the oral bidding portion of the regular sale of leases within known oil and gas production areas.
