Chautauqua booths up this year

"The day went great," said Sena Brainard, one of the organizers of this year's Chautauqua event in Pampa. "We went from 55 booths in 2008 to 82 booths in 2009."

Brainard credited the participants from organizations throughout the county, the Pampa Police Department, the Pampa Public Works Department, the Fire Department and Guardian EMS personnel with helping to bring off this year's Labor Day celebration without a hitch.

She noted that booth reservations are already being taken for next year's event with three new booths already reserved. For more information, contact the Pampa Fine Arts at 806-665-0343.

The one hitch in the festivities, Brainard said, was the thunderstorm which arrived at approximately 3:30 p.m. Despite that, she added, "I think everybody had a good time."

King trial in penalty phase

BY DAVID BOWSER
dbowser@thepampanews.com

Lubbock - Testimony in the Levi King case shifted today from the discovery of the family killed in Gray County to El Paso, where King was arrested as he came back across the border from Mexico.

Customs and Border Protection Agent Richard Reyes described in testimony this morning how King pulled too close to the car in front of him at the border crossing at El Paso, arousing Reyes' suspicion and how Reyes had King pulled out of line for questioning.

Reyes said King initially gave the border agent a Texas Department of Agriculture pesticide applicator's license when he was asked for identification. Reyes said subsequent answers were contradictory before King finally identified himself.

King was put in a holding cell at the border crossing. Reyes said, and other officials were called in to search the pickup truck he was driving.

One of the officials, Mark Parsons, searched the car with a drug dog, but found no drugs.

Parsons said he did find a Mauser rifle with a scope, an AK-47 and a 9 mm pistol. All the weapons were fully loaded.

King is on trial for murdering Brian Conrad, 31, school officials included a suggestion that students could compose essays stating how they could help support Obama — an idea the education secretary acknowledged was wrong-headed.

President

In his conversation with the Wakefield students, Obama said that not having a father at home "forced me to grow up faster."

One young person asked the president whom he would choose to dine with if he could make only one such selection.

"Gandhi," Obama replied. "He's somebody I find a lot of inspiration in. He inspired Dr. (Martin Luther) King" with his message of nonviolence.

"He ended up doing so much and changed the world just by the power of his ethics," Obama said of the inspirational leader Mahatma Gandhi. At another point, Obama told the students that "a lot of people are counting on me."

Obama proceeded later with the speech the White House had released a day early, virtually unchanged.

The school he chose as the setting for his talk — Wakefield — is the most economically and racially diverse school in Arlington County, according to the Department of Education. Nearly 40 percent of graduating seniors pass an Advanced Placement test. That's more than twice the national average.

"There is no excuse for not trying" he said in the speech. He said students must be individually responsible for their education, and that it's important to work hard, pay attention in school and complete assignments.

"Whatever you resolve to do, I want you to commit to it," Obama said. "The truth is, being successful is hard. You won't love every subject that you study. You won't click with every teacher that you have."

"At the end of the day, we can have the most dedicated teachers, the most supportive parents and the best schools in the world, and none of it will matter unless all of you fulfill your responsibilities," the president said.

Man charged with possession of counterfeit money

Carson County — A Highway Patrol Trooper seized $49,900 following an Thursday arrest at a Loves truck stop in Groom.

According to a DPS report, Highway Patrol Trooper working in Carson County at about 1:15 p.m. stopped to refuel at Loves truck stop located in Groom.

He was alerted by one of the clerks that a man was trying to purchase items with counterfeit bills. The trooper made contact with the man and found him in possession of four counterfeit $20 bills.

The report said the trooper identified the suspect as Ricardo Ramos-Castro 35, of Las Vegas, Nevada. During a voluntary vehicle search, the trooper found a false compartment containing 10 bundles of U.S. currency totaling $49,900. Castro was traveling from Las Vegas Nevada to Oklahoma City Oklahoma along I-40. The suspect was placed in the Carson County jail.

EPA to reject Texas air permit process

DALLAS (AP)— The Environmental Protection Agency says it won't approve portions of Texas' air-pollution permitting program that don't meet the federal Clean Air Act.

In a statement issued Tuesday, the agency announced its intentions to reject aspects of the plan. Final decisions about changes to the plan will be made soon under a recent agreement with Texas businesses.

Texas has major air-pollution problems, thanks to pollution from power plants, industry and cars. Houston and Dallas have never been within Clean Air Act requirements for ground-level ozone pollution.

The EPA and Texas environmental regulators have long been at odds over the state's permitting process.

Supreme Court hears bonfire case

AUSTIN, Texas (AP)— The Texas Supreme Court has heard oral arguments on a construction company's motions for rehearing involving the 1999 Texas A&M University bonfire collapse.

Zachry Construction Corp. is attempting to make the university at least partly responsible in the remaining lawsuits arising from the collapse that killed 12 people and injured 27 others. The court heard arguments Tuesday.

In a detailed legal brief, Zachry argued Texas A&M was a "responsible third party." Texas A&M — represented by the state attorney general's office — said Zachry's argument is moot.

Texas A&M reached a $2.1 million settlement with several plaintiffs last October.

Families of some of the students killed and injured sued university administrators and construction contractors hired to help build the 59-foot-tall tower of logs that toppled.

Pampa Altrusa receives national award

Altrusa International, Inc. of Pampa was recognized at Altrusa International's 51st Convention in Indianapolis, IN for its award-winning project, the Children's Christmas Shopping Tour.

Kerrick Horton, Pampa's club president and co-chair of the project, was there to accept the First Place Mamie L. Bass service award and a $300 check.

On top of winning, it was divulged that all judges voted the project as number one out of 25 nominees.

Indianapolis was a fitting backdrop for Altrusa's Convention Aug 6-10, as it was the actual birthplace of Altrusa back in 1917 and the burial site of founder, Mamie L. Bass. Four hundred ninety-eight Altrusans and guests were in attendance, including Kerrick Horton, Kadda Schale, Eileen Kludt, and Immediate Past Governor of District Nine, Brenda Tucker from Pampa. Tucker was chosen to serve as the Credentials Chair for the convention.

tion, International officers were elected; International Nominating Committee members were elected; Altrusa International Foundation trustees were elected; the budget for 2009-2011 was passed; proposed bylaw changes were discussed and voted on; 191 deceased Altrusans (including three past International presidents) with 3931 years of combined service were honored at the memorial service; informative workshops were held and numerous awards were presented. The group was honored to hear a presentation from the founder of Camp Safe Haven, David Butler. Altrusa supports this camp for children affected by HIV/AIDS through their Club 21 program. Janice Baldes, creator of Bagolitas Handbags was the keynote speaker on Saturday, sharing the story of her company and announcing that she would be offering income to Altrusa International from of the sale of her products through her website.

At the awards luncheon, clubs whose projects had won in their districts for the past two years were nominated for the International award of the same name. Besides winning the coveted Mamie L. Bass Service Award, the club was also recognized for being named a Distinguished Club for both 2007-08 and 2008-09 club years by meeting certain criteria. The Children's Shopping Tour project was also a winner at Rotary International this year.

The upcoming Style Show on October 3, and Soup with Mrs. Claus on the day of the Christmas parade, provide the monies needed to keep projects like this one going.

President advises caution in what kids put on Facebook

ARLINGTON, Virginia (AP) — In a pep talk that kept clear of politics, President Barack Obama on Tuesday challenged the nation's students to take pride and ownership in their education — and stick with it even if they don't like every class or must overcome tough circumstances at home.

"Every single one of you has something that you're good at. Every single one of you has something to offer," Obama told students at Wakefield High School in Arlington, Virginia and children watching his speech on television in schools across the country. "And you have a responsibility to yourself to discover what that is."

Presidents often visit schools, and Obama was not the first one to offer a back-to-school address aimed at millions of students in every grade. Yet this speech came with a dose of controversy, as several conservative organizations and many concerned parents warned Obama was trying to sell his political agenda. That concern was caused in part by an accompanying administration lesson plan encouraging students to "help the president," which the White House later revised.

Obama preceded his broad-scale talk with a meeting with Wakefield students, where at one point he advised them to "be careful what you post on Facebook. Whatever you do, it will be pulled up later in your life."

Obama, accompanied by Education Secretary Arne Duncan, met with some 40 students gathered in a school library before the speech carried on ESPN and on the White House Web site.

"When I was your age," Obama said, "I was a little bit of a goof-off. My main goal was to get on the varsity basketball team and have fun."

The uproar over his speech followed him across the Potomac River, as his motorcade was greeted by a small band of protesters. One carried a sign exclaiming: "Mr. President, stay away from our kids."

During his meeting inside, one young person asked why the country doesn't have universal health insurance. "I think we need it. I think we can do it," Obama replied. The president said the country can afford to insure all Americans and that doing so will save money in the long run.

Obama is not the first president to give such a school-opening talk, but his plans seemed to almost immediately get plunged in controversy. Critics accused him of overstepping his authority, and school districts in some areas decided not to provide their students access to his midday speech.

Duncan acknowledged Tuesday that some of the prepared guidance for

statements last week that King, fleeing his home in Missouri - where he had killed a man and his daughter-in-law the previous day - had pulled off Interstate 40 before dawn that September morning, parked next to the Conrad's garage, and entered the home through a side door as the family slept.

Armed with an AK-47 submachine gun he had stolen from his father's collection, King fired at least two bursts as he entered the Conrad's bedroom, the

Pampa V-ball wraps up non-district

BY ANDREW GLOVER
aglover@thepampanews.com

The Pampa Lady Harvesters' volleyball team swept the Perryton Rangerettes (25-14, 25-15, and 25-18) Saturday in their final non-district match of the season.

Head coach Libby Garza said her team was in control pretty much the whole match.

"We finished an entire match without letting down," Garza said. "We only had a few times where they scored points in runs."

Senior Kara Stephens had seven kills, seven blocks, and 11 digs. Sophomore Kailyn Troxell had 10 kills, and junior Taryn Eubank had two kills, five blocks, three digs and 19 assists.

Garza said she was pleased with how everyone stepped up in the match.

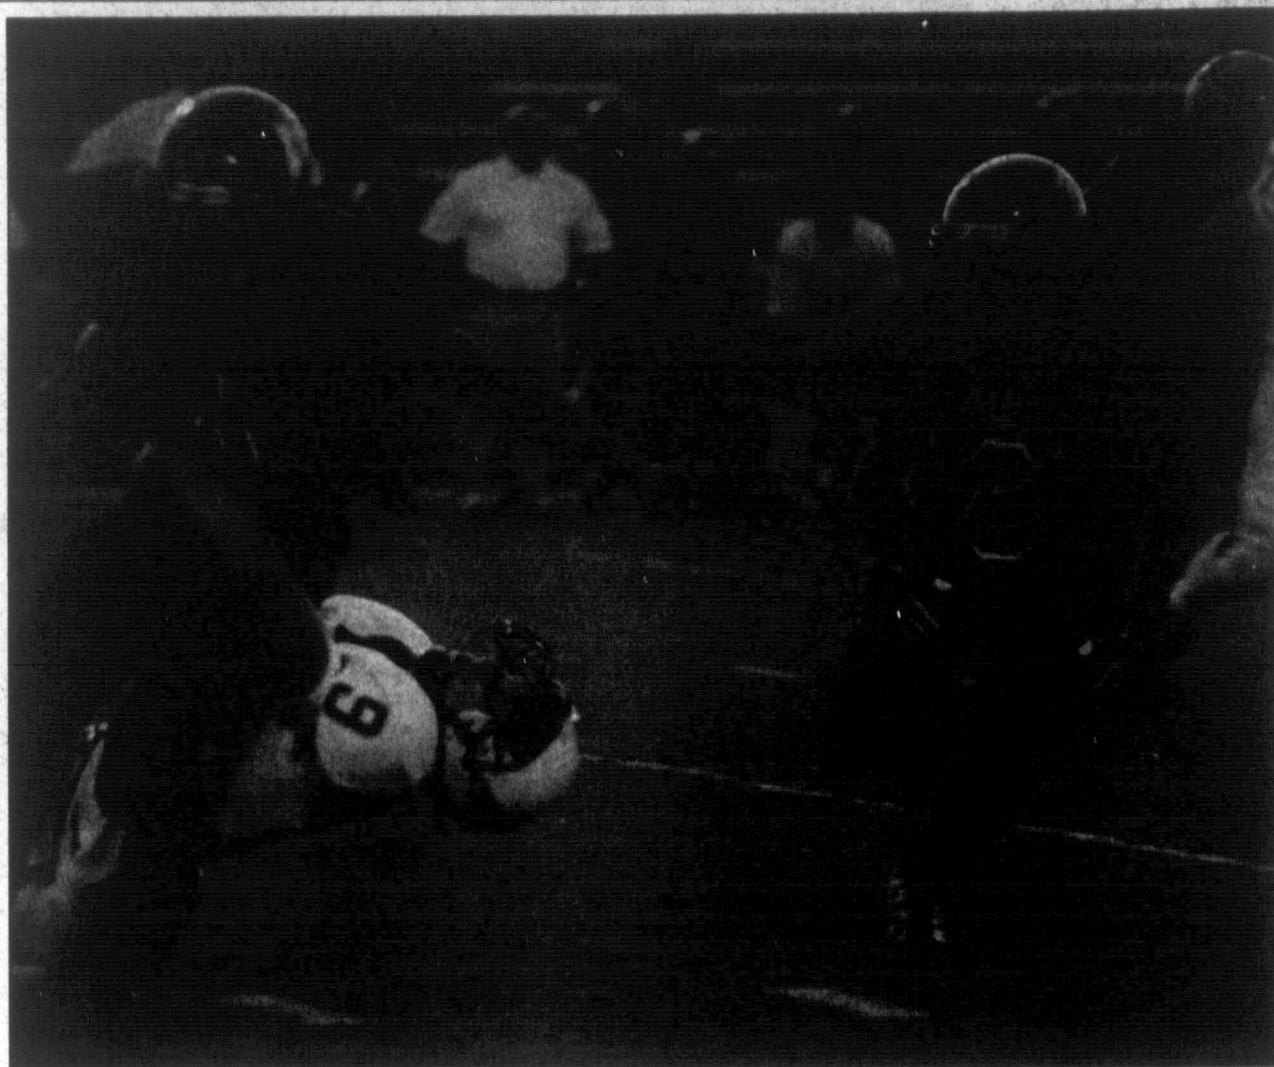

"I think that everyone contributed an equal amount," Garza said. "It always nice to see everyone step up."

The Lady Harvesters open district at Randall on Saturday. Randall is currently ranked No. 1 in the state.

The junior varsity was supposed to play in a tournament against Dumas, but it was canceled. Junior varsity coach Matt Embry said Randall will definitely be a tough test for his squad but thinks his team will be ready.

"If we can come together we have enough talent to give them a run for their money," Embry said.

The freshman team also played at Perryton and won. At press time, freshman coach Deanna Polasek was not available for comment.

Coach praises team's effort in loss to Lubbock Estacado

BY ANDREW GLOVER
aglover@thepampanews.com

Pampa head football coach Heath Parker said he was pleased with his team's effort last week despite losing to Lubbock Estacado 41-14.

Parker said momentum changed in the second quarter as Estacado scored 27 unanswered points.

"Big plays switched the momentum," Parker said. "It was like a fast break basketball game. For awhile we were trading possessions. Then we made mistakes and got penalties."

Coach was pleased how his team played in the second half.

"I felt bad for my offense, who got the ball down to the two, and weren't quite able to get it in," Parker said. "We started focusing on one play at a time and played a good second half."

Parker said that his players are wanting to be a good football team.

"We want things to change," Parker said. "We have plenty of things to correct from a technical standpoint. This team wants to get better."

The Harvesters (0-2) host Big Spring (2-0) 7:30 p.m., Friday at Harvester Field.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: WHEN YOU DON'T KNOW THAT YOU DON'T KNOW, IT'S A LOT DIFFERENT THAN WHEN YOU DO KNOW THAT YOU DON'T KNOW — BILL PARCELLS

BY JACQUELINE BIGAR

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Wednesday, Sept. 9, 2009:

This year, dive in and get the job done. Your efficiency is tested. Sometimes there is a backfire, perhaps with more frequency than in the past. You will have a lot on your plate, but you'll also have the energy to deal with all your projects, work, etc. If you are single, you easily could meet someone through work. Get to know this person completely before deciding you are in a relationship. He or she might be unavailable emotionally. If you are attached, the two of you benefit from more private time together. TAURUS helps you understand others.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
★★★★ You know how to indulge a loved one. When you express your feelings, approach a co-worker or potential partner with openness. Keep the display of emotions in check. This person prefers coolness. Tonight: Time to treat.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
★★★★ You are on top of your game. Stop worrying. You cannot orchestrate everything that happens. Trust in Lady Luck, who will play a significant role in your public image and work. Tonight: As you wish, especially as you are carrying a lucky rabbit's foot.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
★★★ You might want to get within or close your door rather than deal with distraction. Others clearly act out in an attempt to get your attention. The question lies in what happens if you don't give these people what they want. Tonight: Finally — a little downtime.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
★★★★ You know what is viable. Listen to someone who demonstrates unusual caring, though this person can be difficult if he or she doesn't get what he or she wants. Emphasize friendship. Others respond by being more adaptable. Tonight: Where the action is.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
★★★ Continue to take the lead. You have a naturally gracious manner that draws in others. You make headway where others cannot. Someone who could have been difficult simply falls right in line, delighting you and many others. Opportunities head your way. Tonight: A force to be reckoned with.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
★★★★ Keep reaching past the obvious. The end results could be delightful if you simply relax with associates and others in general. Good news comes in through someone at a distance or through a foreigner. You know what to do. What is stopping you? Tonight: Go to a baseball game or find some other easy adventure.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
★★★★ Deal with others on a one-on-one level, even if the intensity could be a little time-consuming. Your efforts will be paid back in multiples. By being so receptive, you could learn an important piece of information. Be subtle when this morsel drops. Tonight: Add more romance to your life.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
★★★★ Others are challenging, whether they intend to be or not. Don't challenge people right now. Be receptive to their ideas, but be clear as to where the responsibility for a flub-up lies, should one occur — certainly not with you! Tonight: Happily heading home.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
★★★★ Decide to get as much done as possible. You could be on overload. Simply focus on one task at a time. A meeting finds many supporters for a key cause. If you need someone to pitch in, just ask. Tonight: The theme is togetherness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
★★★★ Your imagination kicks in and delights many. You see a personal matter far differently than the other person involved. Accept the fact that you don't have the same opinions, and respect your differences. Tonight: Indulge a little. Let go of self-discipline for several hours.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
★★★★ Work from home if possible. You will get a lot done without distractions — and far more quickly at that. A partner could become unusually fastidious and irritating with this inclination. Simply accept it, as you cannot change it. Tonight: Order in.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
★★★★ Keep communication flowing at the same high level. Return calls and schedule meetings. A talk reveals another's true feelings. Consider the implications of what he or she is saying. Your sixth sense steps forward, pointing the way. Tonight: Join a friend for dinner.

Chautauqua Fun!

Clockwise from top right: The folks at the Pampa Police Department booth managed to have a little fun too. From left are Office Houston Gass clowning around with Jessica Roe, Ashley Jones, Jo Jones, Officer Stormy McCullar, Kolbi Furgason and Becky Fulton; enjoying the festivities are (from left) Pampans Gerald and Charlene Wright and Cheryl and Johnny Robichaux; Maren Potter (daughter of Drew and Kimberly Potter of Pampa) sports a face painted like a soccer ball; Marta Brown and "LS" of Panhandle Search and Rescue (PANSAR); an abrupt late afternoon thunderstorm quickly put an end to the festivities with people seeking shelter under any accessible canopy or overhang; Shawn Howard (of Branding Iron Designs) and Donna Prieb of McLean had some jewelry for sale at one of the booths; Romero Guerrero of Pampa could barely raise the sledgehammer at a booth offering whacks at a junk car; admirers and supporters of rescued greyhounds who stopped petting the animals long enough for a photo included (from left) Taylin Neff and Kylee Metts with "Prima, Bob Conner, Marian Jones and Kyle Jones with "Achilles," and Teresa Conner and Sage Romero (daughter of Ashley and Josh Romero of Pampa) with "Little Bug." The adults are with the Greyhound Adoption League of Texas; Guitarist Luis Martinez and Lead Singer Ramon Martinez of the Pampa band "Unspoken Rage" were among the talent on the stage during the day. The pair - along with drummer James Martinez - are brothers.

Perhaps you sent a lovely card, or sat quietly in a chair.
Perhaps you sent a funeral spray, if so we saw it there. Perhaps you spoke the kindest words, as any friend could say; Perhaps you were not there at all, just thought of us that day.
Whatever you did to console our hearts, we thank you so much
whatever the part.
A special thanks to Connie, Pam & Thomas.
