

Kristy Pierce wins TV game show

A summer vacation of sightseeing and visiting relatives proved to be very rewarding for Kristy and Kurt Pierce of Lamesa.

While visiting Kurt's sister, Kay Ederly in California the two obtained free tickets to see the Price Is Right Tv game show. Following a brief interview with the shows producer, Kristy found herself as one of the first contestants on the show. She was one of the nine contestants chosen from the three hundred in the studio audience.

Kristys first win was a set of brass and glass coffee tables then after guessing three of four true-false prices she received a grass blower, childrens christmas book and a small set of cookware this entitled her to be eligible for the prize behind the curtain which she guessed in the first try, Mazda GLT car.

The big wheel came next where Kristy spun 95 which entitled her to be in the showcase. The first Showcase consisted of a snow mobile (which Kristy said shereally didn't think she could use in West Texas) an organ, living room furniture and carpeting, the second showcase was a trip to San Francisco, $1,000 cash, movie camera, and a Trans-Am car.

"I have challenged my opponent, Mr. Hobby, to a series of free wheeling debates on political issues, so both our views could be put before the people of Texas. We met in debate one tiem, in Houston. From all observers, Mr. Hobby lost and has announced that he will not debate again."

Also in his first column, Strake stressed the importance of the Lt. Governor's office, saying "It affects all our lives:" showcase worth $8,000 and bid $11,500 on the second showcase (she said she always thought 11 was her lucky: number) worth $12,300 a difference of $800 to win the second showcase. This is the first of what I intend to be a number of weekly columns from me, discussing various topics of importance to Texans. During the coming weeks, we will discuss such things as President Reagan's "New Federalism" proposal, the need for better laws dealing with drunk drivers, illegal aliens, the education of our children, and a host of other issues that will be on our political agenda.

I believe these columns will provide a unique opportunity to stimulate public discussion on these important issues. Indeed, this may be the only way. I have challenged my opponent, Mr. Hobby, to a series of freewheeling debates on political issues, so both our views could be put before the people of Texas. We met in debate one time in Houston. In the view of all observers, Mr. Hobby lost and he has announced that he will not debate again. So I have chosen this route to try to let you know my position on the issues. I feel you are entitled to know that before you make your decision in the November election. Additionally, I hope you will let me know your views. They are important to me.

The office of Lieutenant Governor is exceedingly powerful in Texas. It affects all our lives. In addition to presiding over the State Senate, the Lt. Governor appoints all Senate committees, their chairmen, and assigns all legislation to the committee of his choice. He presides over the Legislative Budget Board, which significantly shapes state spending. It is an office all Texans ought to be concerned about.

I hope you will watch for this column. Tell your friends and neighbors about it. Discuss the issues. Together, we can make a contribution to the political processes, and hopefully improve all our lives. Let me know your views on the issues I discuss in the weeks ahead. Just write me at 1213 W. 34th, Austin, Texas, 78705.

Teach Children How To Dive

A major public education campaign has been launched to reduce the risk of spinal cord injuries that are due to incorrect diving.

The National Swimming Pool Foundation (NSPF) has announced the campaign, following publication of its study of such accidents and their causes. NSPF plans to make a diving brochure available through participating members of the industry's trade association, the National Spa and Pool Institute. The Foundation will also produce a film for use in pre-teen classrooms. The film is designed to reach young divers before they enter the high-risk ages of 13 to 23.

An eight-year study indicates that a small fraction of serious spinal cord injuries result from diving in pools (less than 70 in 4,000). Nevertheless, NSPF is stressing the importance of using residential and institutional pools to teach pre-teen children the basic diving techniques.

The study's results showed that 75 percent of serious spinal injury from diving occurs in streams, lakes and other natural aquatic environments. It also pinpointed males between 13 and 23 as most likely to suffer injuries.

Among the diving tips NSPF lists are:

- When diving down, always steer up with the hands.
- Always keep hands in front of your head.
- Know the water depth before you dive.
- Make sure there are no submerged or floating obstacles.
- Plan your dive path before you enter the water.
- Don't dive too deep; keep your hands tipped up underwater, your head back and your back arched.
- Don't dive from the side of a diving board.
- Don't back dive.
 Don't run and dive.

Think Fall Gardens Now

Much of Texas is well suited to fall gardening, and while there is still plenty of hot weather ahead, it's time to start getting fall gardens in shape. Popular warm season vegetables such as tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, pole beans, potatoes, okra, cucumbers and squash can be planted during the coming weeks. And so-called "winter" vegetables such as broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, greens, parsley and carrots can be planted now for early harvesting.

ALTERNATIVE SOURCES OF PROTEIN

On a percentage basis, which of the following foods contains the most protein? T-bone steak, skim milk, or kidney beans.

If your answer is steak, guess again. Skim milk and kidney beans contain 40 percent and 25 percent protein, respectively. In a T-bone steak only 20 percent of the calories are protein. The rest 80 percent is fat.

Most of the foods we regard as primary sources of protein meat and whole milk dairy products are high in fat and calories. In fact, many of them contain more fat than protein. That is why you can gain steak, that much recommended "diet food."

Vegetables and grains, on the other hand, care lower in calories and fat, but can make a significant contribution to the daily protein requirement. Dried legumes and products made from whole grains are the richest non animal sources of this essential nutrient.

For examaple, one cup of cooked soy beans has as much protein as three hot dogs. A cup of macaroni cooked with 1 ½ ounces of cheddar cheese and served with a roll contibutes as much protein to the diet as a ¼ 1b. hamburger. Two-thirds of a cup of broccoli or a large potato has as much protein as a half glass of milk.

Another benefit to substituting vegetable proteins for meat, fish and dairy products is stretching your food dollar. Ounce for ounce, the protein from pasta, whole grains, legumes, and vegetables is far less expensive then animal foods.
