DPS seeking current law enforcement officers for THP

For the first time in its 74-year-history, the Department of Public Safety will hold a special 10-week recruit school for current Texas law enforcement officers who are interested in becoming Texas Highway Patrol troopers. The recruit school usually lasts 28 weeks.

DPS has been exploring a number of ways to fill vacancies, especially in areas where it has traditionally been more difficult to place troopers. The modified recruit school will begin March 28, 2010, in Austin. The application deadline is Jan. 8, 2010.

"This is a great opportunity for current law enforcement officers who want to be Highway Patrol troopers but do not want to spend a lot of time away from their family while going through the Academy," said Steven C. McCraw, director of the DPS.

Graduates of the modified recruit school will be required to serve a two-year commitment in the border area where they are assigned.

While attending the recruit school, the officers will earn $2,982.25 per month. Upon graduation, they will receive $3,258.08 per month, and that salary increases to $3,935.08 per month after one year with DPS. Troopers who speak Spanish are eligible for an additional payment.

Potential troopers must have an active state peace officer license with intermediate certification and they must meet all other eligibility requirements, including being a U.S. citizen and be at least 20 years of age. Candidates must also pass a background investigation and submit to a polygraph examination, psychological examination and physical readiness test.

After gaining experience, troopers can compete for a variety of assignments in the Texas Highway Patrol, Criminal Investigations, Intelligence and Counterterrorism and Texas Ranger divisions.

Additional information is accessible on the DPS Web site, www.txdps.state.tx.us, and application packets can be picked up at any DPS office. Or, potential applicants can call a toll-free number, 1-866-TXTROOP (898-7667), that rings directly into the recruiting office at DPS Headquarters in Austin. DPS is an equal opportunity employer.

Potential towns for assignment include Alice, Alpine, Balmorhea, Beeville, Brackettville, Brownsville, Carrizo Springs, Cotulla, Crystal City, Del Rio, Eagle Pass, Edinburg, Edna, El Capitan, El Paso, Falfurrias, Fort Davis, Fort Hancock, Fort Stockton, Freer, George West, Goliad, Harlingen, Hebbronville, Iraan, Kingsville, Laredo, Los Fresnos, Marfa, McAllen, Ozona, Palmview, Pecos, Pharr, Port Isabel, Port Lavaca, Presidio, Raymondville, Refugio, Rio Grande City, Rocksprings, Roma, Sanderson, Sierra Blanca, Sonora, Tilden, Uvalde, Van Horn, Victoria, Weslaco and Zapata.

Texas drivers could face higher fuel taxes

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Some legislators concerned about how to pay for new highways in Texas suggested looking at increasing the 20 cents a gallon state fuel tax.

Members of the Texas Senate Transportation Committee, who convened in El Paso, said money is lacking to build new roads.

The chairman, Sen. John Carona of Dallas, said Tuesday that Texas is growing but having no money to build more roads and "no more debt that we can issue."

Carona said the state fuel tax has been the same since 1991.

Texas charges 20 cents for each gallon of gasoline pumped. Motorists also pay about 18 cents a gallon in federal taxes.

Rep. Joe Pickett of El Paso says it's too early to offer precise figures on how much the state fuel tax might need to be raised.

Music

taining a law practice and finds time to spend with his family, but he's also becoming more and more involved in the production side of music.

He's produced one album for Casey Berry and the Texas Mosquitoes and is working on another album for a different group.

Martindale's still writing songs. He wrote all the songs on his new album.

Sitting outside a coffee shop on an Indian Summer day, Martindale said he records a lot with his brother-in-law Charlie Shaffer.

Susan Gibson is on a couple of songs on the new album.

"Susan wrote 'Wide Open Spaces,' the Dixie Chicks cut," Martindale said. "She sang a couple of songs with me on this album. We've also written about three songs."

None of those are on this album, but Martindale said they would be on the next album.

"She's a really good friend of mine," Martindale said, "and a great writer and really just one of the coolest people in the world."

There are very few that are cooler, but his daughter is one. She was in Amarillo Little Theater's production of Pippi Longstocking, in fact she plays the title role. Consequently, Martindale was going to Amarillo Little Theater instead of Golden Light, a popular Amarillo nightclub, where Gibson was performing.

With a grin, Martindale said he'd probably swing by and say hello to Gibson, but he's got to get up early the next morning to travel to Tarleton State University to play a concert.

There are a number of other notable people on the album such as Grammy winner Lloyd Maines.

"He played on three tracks," Martindale says.

Another person on the album, John Michael Whitby on piano and keyboard, played with Asleep at the Wheel for 10 years. Even today, he's on the road with George Strait and with the Randy Rogers' band.

"He's a great piano player," Martindale said.

The album was recorded in Lubbock at Caldwell Studio.

"Don Caldwell owns that studio," Martindale said.

His son, Toby, engineered the album and helped produce it. Another Caldwell son, Todd, played on the album.

"Todd plays on the road with Cosby, Stills and Nash," Martindale said.

The album also has Bryan Wilson and John Spott on guitar.

The album is Martindale's in more ways than one. He wrote all the song on the CD, although some of his friends helped smooth things out.

The first cut, "Ain't Afraid," is an older tune that Martindale wrote when he was with Cooder Graw.

"It was one of the coolest songs to record," Martindale said.

The final cut, "Rags on a Princess," has special meaning for Martindale. It's about one of his daughters who always insisted on wearing the same nightgown to bed.

Taking a sip from his bottle of Crazy Water No. 3.

"It comes from Mineral Wells," Martindale said with a grin. "I play a lot of shows there."

Damage to Miami school estimated at $400,000

MIAMI, Texas (AP) — Fire damaged the only school in the Texas Panhandle town of Miami (my-AM'-uh) and forced classes to be canceled until Friday.

Supt. Donna Gill on Wednesday told The Associated Press that the fire was traced to an electrical problem in the school's concession stand.

Gill says an employee arrived before classes started Tuesday, smelled smoke and summoned help. Nobody was injured.

Gill put preliminary damage estimates at about $400,000.

Gill said the school, with 176 students, will have pre-kindergarten through 5th grades return Friday, in an area that was not damaged by fire. Sixth-graders through high school seniors are scheduled to resume classes Monday.

She says Friday night's football game between Miami and Amherst will go on as scheduled in Kress.

Geographical Survey, Texas AgriLife researchers and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Rod Goodwin, CRMWA's chief of water quality, reported that over 21,000 acres of salt cedar had been treated along the Canadian River and its tributaries. Total cost of the on-going project has been $3.055 million. About $1.7 million was provided by CRMWA, over a million dollars was provided by the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Service. Smaller amounts of funding were provided by the National Resource Conservation Service.

Goodwin said the costs this past summer were considerably less than previous years, and the program in coming years will concentrate on some tributaries and resprouts in areas that have already been treated.

The program is aimed at increasing the river flow by eliminating the invasive salt cedar, which tends to absorb much of the water available along the river.

Dr. Mark Murphy, the Canadian River Basin Manager for the New Mexico Interstate Stream Commission, reported that plans are proceeding to develop municipal water supplies from Ute Lake in New Mexico, upstream from Lake Meredith.

Arlene Wimer, Chief of Resource Management for the National Park Service, said their data this year showed a significant increase in the Arkansas River shiner in Canadian River above Lake Meredith, in spite of a lack of high water flows this year.

Mick Baldys, an hydrologist with the U.S. Geological Survey, said average stream flows in the Canadian above the lake have decreased significantly in the last 10 years.

Dr. Jerry Michels, a professor of entomology for the Texas AgriLife Research Division, reported on efforts to establish a biocontrol program for salt cedar by using imported beetles. He said he was optimistic about establishing the beetle to control re-growth of salt cedar.

Daniel Fenner, a U.S. Fish and Wildlife biologist, said a five year review of the status of the Arkansas River shiner in the Canadian River and North Canadian (Beaver) River is being performed. He said there are viable populations in the Canadian River and, to a lesser extent, in the Beaver River.

Because of the Arkansas River Shiner Management Plan instituted by CRMWA in 2005, the Canadian River in the Texas Panhandle has not been included in the critical habitat designation by the federal government, but Fenner indicated that there have been requests that other species, such as the peppered chub, be evaluated as a species of concern in the Canadian River.

Residents criticize proposed Bush library location

UNIVERSITY PARK, Texas (AP) — Some homeowners who live near where George W. Bush's presidential library would be built are critical of a traffic study commissioned by the Bush Foundation.

The Dallas Morning News reports University Park residents Tuesday night packed City Hall for a meeting on two unrelated matters, the library and a proposal to redevelop part of Snider Plaza.

The Bush Foundation wants University Park to rezone 15 acres of undeveloped land for the library which isn't scheduled to open until 2013. A study commissioned by the Foundation concluded that the existing transportation system can adequately accommodate the library at Southern Methodist University.

Some wondered if the traffic study considered all options for routing traffic away from residential areas.

Many of the speakers said the current library plan will create a tourist invasion.

Review into response delays in 4 deaths vowed

CLEVELAND, Texas (AP) — The sheriff of San Jacinto County has vowed a full inquiry into why it took seven hours to send deputies to a house where four people were found dead.

Sheriff James Walters said he and his officers are devastated, with "grown men out there and their hearts were broken" at the scene about 15 miles from Cleveland.

Walters on Tuesday declined further comment on delays answering calls about a man with mental health issues, who apparently stopped taking his medicine.

Investigators have said Oliver Bills Jr. fatally shot his girlfriend, her 4-year-old daughter and his adopted mother before killing himself Saturday night.

Capt. Carl Jones said deputies were responding to calls about a major traffic accident and an unrelated gunman incident. Jones said Bills just appeared to be ill, with no history of violence.

Today in History

Today is Wednesday, November 11, the 315th day of 2009. There are 50 days left in the year.

Highlights in history on this date:

1500 - France's King Louis XII and Ferdinand of Aragon secretly sign the Treaty of Granada for conquest and partition of Naples.

1528 - Margaret Hunt tells the Bishop of London the secrets of her "sorcery" — how she combines natural herbs and prayer to heal the sick. She is not prosecuted.

1606 - Peace treaty is signed at Zeitva-Torok between Turks and Austrians.

1620 - Forty-one Pilgrims aboard the Mayflower, anchor in Massachusetts and sign a compact calling for a "body politic."

'Private opinion creates public opinion that is why private behavior, and private behavior, and private conversation are so terrifyingly important.'

— Jan Struther, English poet

1673 - Poland's King John Sobieski defeats Turks at Korzim, Poland.

1778 - British forces take St. Lucia, West Indies, from French.

1831 - Former slave Nat Turner, who led a violent insurrection, is executed in Jerusalem, Virginia.

1836 - Chile declares war on Peru-Bolivia Federation.

1918 - World War I ends with

Germany and the Allies signing an armistice in a railroad car at Compiègne, France.

1921 - U.S. President Warren Harding dedicates the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery.

1938 - Kate Smith first sings Irving Berlin's "God Bless America" on U.S. network radio.

1942 - Tearing up the Franco-German armistice which established the occupied zone in 1940, Hitler orders German troops into Unoccupied France on the 25th anniversary of the World War I Armistice.

1951 - Juan Peron is elected for his second of three presidential terms in Argentina.

1964 - Food shortages in India provoke riots.

1965 - Ian Smith declares Rhodesian independence, and Britain says the regime is illegal. The African country is now known as Zimbabwe.

1971 - China's chief delegates to the United Nations arrive in New York City amid tight security arrangements; U.S. Senate ratifies treaty to return island of Okinawa to Japan.

1972 - United States turns over its big base at Long Binh to South Vietnamese, symbolizing end of direct U.S. participation in Vietnam War.

1973 - Egypt and Israel sign cease-fire agreement sponsored by United States and begin discussions to carry out the pact.

1975 - Australian Governor General Sir John Kerr dismisses Prime Minister Gough Whitlam and dissolves Parliament — the first time in 200 years the British crown exercises its right to remove an elected PM.

1987 - Boris Yeltsin, who criticized what he called the slow pace of Soviet reform, is removed as Moscow Communist Party chief.

1990 - China tells Saddam Hussein it will not veto a U.N. Security Council resolution authorizing military action to force Iraq out of Kuwait.

1991 - Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir vows not to give up occupied territories.

1992 - The Church of England votes to ordain women as priests.

1993 - At least 15 people are killed and 47 injured after 52 vehicles including six big-rig trucks are involved in a blazing pileup on a highway in western France.

1994 - A 72-page manuscript of Leonardo da Vinci's scientific diagrams and notes is sold at an auction in New York for a record $30.8 million.

1996 - Guatemalan President Alvaro Arzu announces a peace agreement with the guerrilla movement, ending 36 years of fighting.

1997 - An 8-year-old boy is killed when Israeli troops fire at Palestinians throwing stones to protest the opening of Rachel's Tomb in Bethlehem.

1998 - U.N. personnel leave Baghdad, Iraq, and U.S. President Bill Clinton orders more warplanes and ships to the Persian Gulf after Iraq refuses to allow weapons inspections to continue.

2000 - A cable car being pulled through an Austrian mountainside to a glacier resort catches on fire, killing 155 skiers and snowboarders.

2002 - Microsoft Chairman Bill Gates pledges $100 million to fight AIDS in India.

2003 - At least six people are killed and 60 injured when police fire rubber bullets at rock-throwing protesters during a general strike that paralyzed the Dominican Republic. The demonstrators were protesting rolling blackouts and the rising costs of gas and food.

2004 - Palestinians at home and abroad weep in an eruption of grief at the death of Yasser Arafat, the man they consider the father of their nation, and quickly elevate his No. 2 in the Palestine Liberation Organization as their top leader.

Your input greatly appreciated

By EVAN SMITH
ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT,
PAMPA ISD

Lately, we have all heard organizations make statements about their future vision. However, many of us wonder how talking about vision can be helpful.

Commonly, a vision statement provides a blueprint of what an organization is and, more importantly, what an organization can become. The vision statement paints a picture of desired outcomes, which can energize and inspire people to work toward future goals.

Pampa ISD has a vision statement that we believe provides an important resource to help us progressively move forward.

Our district is in the process of reviewing our current system and working to refine our vision for the future of education in Pampa; we want to reflect the desires and goals of the entire community.

Our district is working through this process with the School Board, students, teachers, and school administrators. We recently had our first meeting with parents and community members who joined us in this in this very important and vision-

Where is education heading in Pampa? All of us are affected by the quality of education made available to our children and community. The future direction of Pampa ISD is an important question and might be one you would like to explore. If it is, we invite you to become a vital member of our team. This collaborative opportunity will provide a unique forum where input from our whole community will be expressed. This forum will allow concerned citizens an opportunity to identify areas of concern and to look for solutions. Collaborative input will help us develop the best blueprint to build a strong educational foundation and creatively meet the educational needs of our students and community. At Pampa ISD, we believe that, as a community, we are all stakeholders in this process.

In addition to working toward Pampa ISD goals, this collaborative forum will also consider the exciting possibilities that the future holds for our students and community. Looking to the future will help insure that students in Pampa are capable of meeting the demands of 21st Century jobs.

Pampa ISD is committed to building a strong school district that is reflective of the needs of our community. In order to facilitate this process, we are hosting a luncheon on November 16, beginning at noon in the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall, 203 N. West Street. Lunch will be provided for those who attend. This luncheon will focus on building opportunities for clear communication with the entire community. Future meetings will provide input to identify and prioritize areas of focus for Pampa ISD. We will be able to explore programs that already exist and discuss programs that will provide new and exciting educational opportunities and career choices for our students.

Currently, our students in Pampa have many opportunities to take part in a rigorous academic curriculum. This curriculum, taught by our outstanding staff, is instrumental in preparing our students for the challenges that they will face. Beginning with our elementary students and continuing through high school, Pampa ISD students receive a strong foundational curriculum with a menu of extra-curricular choices that prepare them for success after high school graduation.

However, we also believe that, with your help, we can make our schools and our students even more resilient and capable.

Pampa ISD believes that we, together in collaboration, can provide the best compass for our schools.

As a collaborative group of parents, community members, and district personnel, our meetings will generate rich dialogue and an exchange of ideas that will allow us to build a school system that is reflective of our wonderful community.

If you have any questions, comments, or would like to join us for lunch, please contact Sabrina East at 669-4700. Your input will be most graciously appreciated.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Save our rest areas!

To the editor,
I am mad as hell and I am writing in regards to the plans for the Texas Department of Transportation to close two roadside parks in Roberts County.

They are commonly known as the five-mile park and the seven-mile park. These parks are the only rest areas on this stretch of Highway 60 in Roberts county. The parks are frequently used by local residents, travelers from neighboring cities and truckers.

State employees empty the trash containers at these locations weekly, which shows that the rest stops are being used.

In 1935 the State of Texas placed a granite marker at the five-mile park in honor of the Texas Centennial. The land where the seven-mile park is located was donated by the Coffee family to be used as a park.

A few years ago, the State Highway Department planned to cut down most of the trees in Hemphill, Ochiltree, Gray, Roberts and Lipscomb counties. County Judge Richard Peet appointed me to a committee opposing the plan and we were able to prevent this destruction of our natural resources by circulating petition, writing state representatives and the employees of the State Highway Department who were implementing the plan. A compromise was reached and our trees were saved.

Now they wish to take our parks away, the only safe place to pull over on this particular stretch of Highway 60. These parks are a scenic place to pull over and enjoy nature. They are also a place to dispose of trash in barrels rather than along the roadside.

I hope residents of the counties mentioned above will join together to help prevent the closing of the parks. It would be a tragic loss of natural beauty which is enjoyed by so many people. Please circulate a petition to save our rest area and write letters in protest to: Kenneth course, engineer, Texas Department of Transportation, Representative Warren chisum, Senator Kel Selinger, Roberts county Judge Judy Vernon cook.

Please get involved, we can make a difference. There are so few rest areas in the eastern stretch of Highway that to lose even one is a travesty.

Dear Abby...

By Pauline & Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: I am a 38-year-old business woman. I was single for many years until I met and fell in love with "Rory," who had been a long-time client. We were married a year ago.

Rory and I love each other, but we have a problem -- or, should I say, I have one. Rory has a penile implant and an insatiable sex drive. I can't keep up with him. He demands sex every night and sometimes a couple of times during the week at lunchtime.

I don't know what to do because above all I don't want to hurt my husband's feelings. Have you any advice for me? -- TOO MUCH OF A GOOD THING

DEAR TOO MUCH: Yes, you and your husband appear to have a communication problem, and the solution is to schedule some sessions with a marriage counselor. You are not the "one" with the problem. When a couple suffers from sexual problems, it's a problem shared by both parties.

I don't know how long Rory had erectile difficulties before he got his implant, but it appears he's using the device as a toy and doesn't understand the enjoyment must be mutual. And if it isn't mutual, you have the right to "just say no."

DEAR ABBY: My son is being married soon. It will be his first marriage and his fiancée's second.

Would it be proper to have a wedding shower for our side of the family? My daughter would host it. Also, do we invite the bride's mother even if it's a party for our side of the family? -- MOTHER-IN-LAW-TO-BE IN MICHIGAN

DEAR MOTHER-IN-LAW-TO-BE: A bridal shower for your future daughter-in-law inviting your side of the family would be a warm, welcoming gesture. However, it should not be hosted by an immediate family member of the bride-to-be or her fiancé -- which eliminates your daughter.

As to whether or not to include the bride's mother, although bridesmaids and mothers of the engaged couple are usually included, it isn't carved in stone that they must be. Example: If the party is given by the couple's contemporaries for members of their generation, the mothers would not necessarily be included. In this case, however, inviting the bride's mother so she can become acquainted with your side of the family would be a thoughtful gesture.

DEAR ABBY: My 16-month-old daughter loves visiting her grand-mom and grandpop. But there's a hitch -- Grandpop often meets us at the door dressed only in a T-shirt and briefs. I have heard my mother tell him more than once, "Come on, Grandpa, put your pants on!"

I have tried cajoling him to be more modest. He seems to think since it's his home, he can do and wear what he pleases. Any advice? -- UNDERWEARY IN NEW JERSEY

DEAR UNDERWEARY: Just this: If seeing "Grandpop" in his underwear bothers you, call before you take your daughter over for a visit to ask if he's "decent." He's right about being able to do and wear what he pleases in his own home. But there's no law that says you must be subjected to it if it makes you uncomfortable.

Second half run powers Lady Bulldogs past Pampa

aglover@thepampanews.com

The Pampa Lady Harvesters were outscored 42-14 in the second half, as they lost to the Plainview Lady Bulldogs 76-46, Tuesday in McNeely Field House.

Junior Taryn Eubank said they didn't come out in the second half with the same intensity they did in the first.

"We got on a roll at the end (of the first half) and I think we got cold," Eubank said. "We're not fast in getting back into the game that's something we have to work on."

Senior Andi Hutto thought the team has some first game jitters.

"We weren't executing our offense against them," Hutto said. "We were just losing our heads."

The Lady Bulldogs (1-0) got off to a quick start scoring the first eight points of the game. Emilie Troxell got the Lady Harvesters first points of the game with 4:01 left in the first quarter, hitting two free throws. Pampa would get within with five points of Plainview, but the Lady Bulldogs led 19-12 after the first quarter.

In the second quarter the Lady Harvesters got going. Pampa went on an 11-2 run, with Eubank hitting two three pointers to take a 23-21 lead. The Lady Bulldogs matched Pampa's run with an 11-3 run to take a 32-26 lead. Pampa would again rally at the end of the half scoring six unanswered points. Liz Hoelting got a steal and passed to Kirsten Kuhn who tied the game at 32. Plainview led 34-32 at halftime.

In the second half, the Lady Bulldogs took control of the game. Plainview went on a 14-2 run to expand their lead to 56-38 in the third quarter. Pampa scored the last four points of the quarter with Cori Cook hitting two free throws and Kayla Hughes made a layup.

The Lady Bulldogs gave Pampa no chance to rally in the fourth quarter as they went on a 15-0 run, expanding their lead to 71-42. Kuhn got the Lady Harvesters first points of the quarter, making a short jumper with 3:01 left in the game.

Head Coach Gene Valentine said that was not the way he wanted to start the season.

"You never like to lose," Valentine said. "Effort and execution the first half was great. It was good as you can ask for. We got a little tired and mentally bent back a little bit."

Valentine liked his teams defensive intensity but thought the offense could have been better.

"Their defensive intensity looked great," Valentine said. "Mentally offensively we got a little slow, a little sluggish, a little out of sync."

Valentine said his team needs a little more experience to improve.

"We're going to come out tomorrow and do a lot of shooting," Valentine said. "We're just not in game shape yet. We got three volleyballers that just came in and they're a big part of our team. We just haven't played enough games yet."

The junior varsity lost to the Lady Bulldogs 60-47. Pampa had the lead early in the first quarter and half-way through the second. The Lady Bulldogs went on a run and took a 10 point lead at halftime. The Lady Bulldogs expanded their lead to 46-30 at the end of third quarter. Pampa won the final quarter 17-14. Coach Forrest Harding said his team played good for a half.

"We'll keep trying," Harding said. "We're just burnt out. We're not in shape. We haven't had much time with them. I hadn't had a lot of team time with them yet since we've been with the varsity. There's a lot of thinking instead of playing."

Lindsey Brown led the team in scoring with 13 points. Stephanie Allen scored 11, Danielle Savor and Delaney Clendening each scored eight.

The Lady Harvesters varsity and junior varsity travels to Frenship Thursday for a tournament lasting through Saturday.

Deer Season prospects shaping up after recent rains

AUSTIN, Texas — An early and abundant acorn crop, combined with new growth of native vegetation may force Texas deer hunters to stray from supplemental food sources during the 2009-2010 general deer season, which opens Nov. 7.

Reports from Texas Parks and Wildlife Department field biologists indicate above average mast crop production and an early acorn drop. Recent rains across much of the state have also helped generate forb production, adding to the availability of native food sources for deer.

"It's been at least three years since ground moisture has been this good at this time of year," said Mike Krueger, TPWD district wildlife biologist in Kerrville. "It looks like springtime in the Edwards Plateau at this time."

Krueger noted the warm-season plants have put on a final burst of growth and flowers and there is a flush of early growth of cool-season grasses and forbs. That will probably contribute to a slow deer season for hunters, especially early in the season and especially for those hunters that are dependent on hunting over feeders.

"There is an abundance of food sources for deer right now, and deer movements are reduced because they don't have to move as far or as often to keep their bellies full," Krueger added. "Deer don't appear to be coming to feeders as often or as regularly as they would if it were still dry."

The only consolation is that bucks are becoming more active due to the onset of the rut in the Hill Country, so they'll be moving around as they typically do during the rut, regardless of the condition of the range.

Although the range conditions are good to excellent right now, the rains came too late to help with this year's buck antler growth which is probably no better than average throughout the Edwards Plateau region, or with the fawn production that is also no better than average. But if it continues to rain throughout the fall and winter, the stage is being set for better antler growth and fawn production next year.

While recent rains have improved range conditions across much of the state, whitetails in South Texas are battling through an extended stress period that started with last year's rut, according to biologists.

"Last season the rut was later and more spread out than normal and this did not fare well for mature deer," said Daniel Kunz, TPWD biologist in Alice. "By the first of February bucks were extremely drawn down and numerous reports of early antler shedding were occurring; an indication that bucks could be in poor shape. This will likely affect antler quality."

Hunters should expect a reasonable number of 2 1/2 year old bucks and 5 1/2 to 7 1/2 year old bucks as 2002-2004 and 2007 were good fawn production years resulting in good carry over, added TPWD biologist Dustin Windsor in Cotulla.

"Everything's greened up and deer aren't coming to feeders as readily because there's so much forage out there," said Alan Cain, TPWD district wildlife biologist for South Texas. "That might affect hunting success early in the fall but deer will still be there."

VETERANS DAY

NOVEMBER 11

Veterans Day

By Taylor Weinman

Representing the red white and blue
 The colors of our flag stand out proud and true.
 The white stars on blue background with red and white stripes
 Remind me of these veterans, who all risked their lives.
 Just so the people of the U.S. could all live in peace and be free
 These are the heroes that represent you and me.
 They stood up strongly, untied as one,
 And kept up the fighting until they were done.
 And although some have fallen, and lost their lives in war,
 We pray for each one of them.
 And now that their souls live on forever more,
 Above in God's hands.
 They watch over our nation,
 And give us strength to triumph over others with strong anticipation.
 So every year, when this day comes by,
 Think of all the veterans that while fighting, had to die.
 And remember that they were people
 With fire and passion embedded inside.
 They die for this country,
 So remember and honor them with pride

Daily Horoscope

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Thursday, Nov. 12, 2009:

This year, focus on your goals, and you will succeed. If you feel off center, simply look at your priorities, and you will become comfortable once more. What works for one person might not for another individual. Apply this thought when evaluating emotional and professional relationships. If you are single, a friendship could evolve into a lot more. At times you might regret this transformation. Do understand that this change was inevitable. Many of you will opt to move on and focus on a new person. A real friendship will be at the core of that relationship. If you are attached, the two of you benefit from weekends away together. Stoke the fires between you. Play out the old days of romance. LIBRA makes an excellent healer for you.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
★★★★ Your priorities swing midday. Though you prefer to deal with people, you might wonder about that choice. Perhaps a computer would be easier! An associate becomes reticent at best, and a boss becomes demanding. Remember, you don't have the control you might like here. Tonight: Join friends.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
★★★★ Others cannot help but support a good idea, and it just might not be yours. Express a willingness to join in with others, and make the right changes and proceed accordingly. Above all, focus on getting the job done. Tonight: It could be late by the time you get everything done.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
★★★★ Be sensitive to another person's interests. How you deal with someone might be quite open, until you discover it could be a distinct problem. Your way of handling an issue is difficult to mimic. Tonight: Getting into weekend spirit early.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
★★★★ Keep communication rolling, as you have a lot of ground to cover. You might wonder where a problem begins and ends. Ask more questions, knowing your limits. Remain optimistic and positive. Tonight: Where the action is.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
★★★★ Observe a tendency to go overboard and perhaps cause yourself some trouble, especially financially. Weigh a risk with care, understanding your limits and what is going on. The negativity of money stress might not be worth the risk. Tonight: Join a friend for dinner.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
★★★★ Use the a.m. to the max, and you'll achieve a lot more than you thought possible. By the afternoon, another issue comes forward that needs to be dealt with. You have lots of energy, and it might not be directed at work. Good for you! Tonight: Your treat.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
★★★★ Save key matters for the afternoon, when you have enough energy to complete nearly any task and enough charisma to convince someone that the Earth is flat! Be careful about any sense of negativity. Tonight: The world can be your oyster if you proceed properly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
★★★★ Schedule meetings for the morning, and more reclusive and/or reflective work for the p.m. Your spirit soars in the a.m., yet some time for yourself seems extremely important. Tonight: Get some extra R and R.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
★★★★ You need to take a stand in important meetings or situations. Investigate new ideas later in the day with like-minded people. A brainstorming situation has its own rewards. Listen to a pal. Tonight: Where the action is.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
★★★★ Attempts to get more information easily could backfire. Your idea of what you need could change radically. Stay on top of your vision, and understand that others don't have your insight. Tonight: A force to be dealt with.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
★★★★ How you deal with someone could change radically as a result of today. You find a person at a distance negative and/or difficult. Your questions hit the mark. Tonight: Choose something imaginative.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
★★★★ Defer to others with the full knowledge of what needs to happen. If you want to change gears, you need to work with a key partner. You ask yourself exactly what is going on here. Tonight: Dinner for two.
