Fateful Day

The tornado of April 9, 1947 destroyed several structures, as seen in this photo taken in Higgins in the aftermath of the storm.

Pampa's Beck remembers '47 twister

DAVID BOWSER
 dbowser@thepampanews.com

It was the afternoon of April 9 when Curt Beck was about to leave work at Cabot. He and his boss Dudley Steele looked out the window towards White Deer and saw a large white twisting column stretching down from the storm clouds above.

The year was 1947. "That was the first tornado I'd ever seen," Beck, now 88, said.

Beck was a 25-year-old engineer with Cabot, working at the plant on the west side of Pampa, when he saw the tornado near White Deer. That tornado, or one out of the storm that spawned it, would go on to wreak havoc along a corridor from the Texas Panhandle and across Western Oklahoma before dissipating near St. Leo, Kan.

At the time, most people considered it a single tornado. Today, weather scientists say the wreckage that early spring evening was probably caused by a series of large tornadoes from the same storm clouds as they moved northeast from White Deer, jumping Pampa, destroying Glazier and Higgins, damaging Shattuck, Okla., and devastating Woodward, Okla. "They always said Higgins was wiped out, but it wasn't," Beck said, sitting in the living room of his Pampa home earlier this month. "Glazier was pretty well wiped out."

In 1947, there were no warning sirens, Beck said. "What happened was I saw TORNADO cont. on page 3

Ambulances, LifeStar 'copters on display Saturday

DAVID BOWSER
 dbowser@thepampanews.com

The latest in ambulance technology will be on display Saturday afternoon at the Pampa airport.

Joe Anstey with Pampa EMS said medical helicopters from LifeStar in Amarillo and AeroCare in Lubbock will be on display along with the ambulances of Pampa EMS beginning at 2 p.m. Saturday at Perry Lefors Airport.

Anstey said there would be static displays and tours of the aircraft. "It'll be a hands on tour," he said.

Anstey said people can get up in the aircraft and the pilots and flight crews will be on hand to answer questions.

The helicopters will include a Eurocopter C-135 and a Bell 407 from LifeStar, he said.

AeroCare is expected to bring their new KingAir Super 200. "It's configured for two patients," Anstey said.

The KingAir, he said, can carry two patients on ventilators and heart monitors with medical flight crew.

"It can be configured for two completely separate neo-nat (neo-natal) teams," Anstey said.

The new larger helicopter from AeroCare can carry two three man medical teams and two patients.

LifeStar's medical helicopters will be on public display at 2 p.m. Saturday at Perry Lefors Airport. Hands-on tours of the aircraft will be available.

Lubbock Arts Festival starts next Thursday

Attendees at the 32nd annual Lubbock Arts Festival, April 15-18 in Lubbock, Texas, will be the first to enjoy "Art of West Texas Women: A Celebration," a book published by Texas Tech University Press and featuring 20 living artists from the Panhandle to El Paso.

In addition, a special gallery will exhibit selections of the artists' works throughout the festival, and guests attending premiere-night festivities from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday (April 15) at the Lubbock Civic Center will have the opportunity to meet with the authors and artists. Copies of the first edition will be on sale and available for autographing at selected times.

"Art of West Texas Women: A Celebration," the first survey of practicing women artists in the West Texas region, features 150 lavish color images of the artists and their works.

Following in the tradition of Georgia O'Keeffe, herself an early interpreter of the West Texas Plains, "Art of West Texas Women" celebrates women visual artists living and working in an expansive, rugged landscape — the vast western half of Texas, far from the dynamics of urban art communities and large national markets. Representing several of each artist's one-of-a-kind art works, the book also offers glimpses into the artists' lives and inspirations.

According to the Lubbock Arts Alliance Web site at www.lubbockarts.org, the Lubbock Arts Festival is the largest fine art and fine craft show in West Texas, drawing more than 23,000 visitors and participants each year. Admission price for all adult festival goers will be $2 and all children age 12 and under, accompanied by an adult, will be admitted for $1. The 32nd Annual Lubbock Arts Festival is made possible in part through a grant from the City of Lubbock, as recommended by Civic Lubbock, Inc.

Fellowship Baptist to celebrate 56 years

ARNIE AURELLANO
editor@thepampanews.com

Fellowship Baptist Church will be celebrating its 56th anniversary this Sunday during a 2 p.m. afternoon service. "It's a big day for us," said Gary Worden, the church's pastor. "I think it's been about 10 years since we've had an anniversary Sunday, so we want to make this one special."

The church was originally organized on April 4, 1954 at 119 N. Ward St. Gerald Martin was called as Fellowship Baptist's first pastor on April 15, 1954.

On April 15, 1958, the church property at 622 E. Frances was bought, with a new auditorium and gym being added later. Earl Maddox, who became pastor in 1957, helped open the new facility and would lead the Fellowship Baptist congregation for over 35 years.

To commemorate the anniversary, the church is bringing in Clarendon's Dan Hall as a special guest vocalist, and George White, father of former pastor Delbert White, will be the keynote speaker.

"We're very excited for (George)," said Worden. "He'll have some good things to say."

Worden said that the enduring Christian spirit in Pampa has helped Fellowship Baptist flourish for over half a century.

"Pampa is a strong Christian community," Worden said. "The faithfulness of the people here, it's great to see."

Texans swarm Appliance Rebate Program

AUSTIN — With more than 38 million Web hits and nearly 39,000 rebate reservations made, Texans swarmed online and phone reservation systems to grab rebates for energy efficient appliances from the Texas Comptroller's office.

There was unprecedented response to the reservation program — approximately 2,400 Web hits per second and about 1,000 calls per minute. The Comptroller had 550 people answering calls on the reservation phone lines. Due to the overwhelming popularity of the Texas Trade Up Appliance Rebate program and the extremely high volume of traffic on the Web site www.TexasPowerfulSmart.org, the Comptroller's office worked throughout the day with the company administering the rebates to alleviate delays related to extremely high demand on the Web site, as well as the phone reservation system.

"We understand the difficulties many experienced getting into the reservation system, and we appreciate the patience of Texans who tried to call in or go online a number of times before getting their rebate reservations," said Texas Comptroller Susan Combs.

The Comptroller's office will also investigate what appears to be a Web attack that may have flooded the online reservation system early in the day, using nearly 75 percent of the available capacity.

Texans reserved 38,864 guaranteed rebates; of that total, 32,283 reservations were made online and 6,581 over the phone.

"Regrettably, we were only given approximately $23 million to implement and administer the rebate program in a state of this size, and there were some people who were not able to get through in time to reserve a guaranteed rebate," Combs said. "We encourage everyone to take advantage of other rebates and incentives on Energy Star® products offered at the federal, state and local levels, including the state's Energy Star Sales Tax Holiday coming up over Memorial Day weekend."

Information to other rebates and incentives can be found at www.TexasPowerfulSmart.org/incentives.

Consumers have to be on the guaranteed rebate reservation list or the waitlist in order to print or receive the application forms necessary to mail in to claim rebates. Residents must mail in their rebate forms and a copy of the sales receipt, along with any other required documents, postmarked within 60 days of today's reservation date. Rebate applications mailed in from waitlist participants will be processed in the order received, pending available funds.

For further details on the program, visit www.TexasPowerfulSmart.org.

Tornado

it in White Deer when I was leaving the office," he said.

Beck said he and Steele were leaving work for the day when they saw the funnel.

"Dudley said, 'That must be a big one,'" Beck said. "We never thought any more about it."

Beck went home and went to bed. At the time he lived near the railroad depot in Pampa.

"All night long there were sirens," he said.

It turned out that they were from emergency vehicles going and coming from Pampa where the nearest hospital was located.

There weren't any emergency ambulances in those days, Beck said.

"At that time, the funeral home had the only ambulance," he said. "It was actually a hearse."

Beck said he woke up the next morning to radio reports of the damage.

"The radio was saying 'The little towns of Pampa, White Deer, Glazier and Higgins in the Texas Panhandle were destroyed,'" he said.

Beck drove from Pampa northeast on U.S. Highway 60.

"I just got in my car and drove up as far as I could drive up Highway 60," he said. "There was nothing blocked off."

He said the path of destruction went miles and miles and miles.

"It went through Miami," Beck said, "and did some damage there."

Then the tornadoes followed the railroad tracks north and east.

"Nobody knew anything," Beck said. "We didn't know what had happened."

The funnel was at times two miles wide at the base. "It looked enormous," Beck said.

When it struck Higgins, it left only the front wall of the First Christian Church there standing.

"It just cleaned out that church," he said.

Beck said there was nobody in the destroyed towns he went through.

"I never saw a person," he said.

The sky had been clear earlier in the day of the tornado, Beck said. Then it became cloudy and the storm began to brew.

"There hadn't been any rain or anything," Beck said. "The sky was partly cloudy."

All of a sudden, it blew up at White Deer that afternoon.

"It was about five o'clock," he said. "We were just leaving the office so it was about 5:15."

In 1947, there was no warning.

"No advanced warning whatsoever," Beck said.

The funnel cloud passed northwest of Canadian, but 17 people were killed in Glazier. There were 51 reported deaths in Higgins.

Lipscomb County reported 36 homes flattened. Hemphill County reported 83 homes destroyed and 116 damaged.

Six people were killed by the tornado in Shattuck, Gage and Fargo, Okla.

The worst damage was reported in Woodward, Okla. An estimated 107 people were killed.

"They don't know how many people were killed," Beck said.

The tornado destroyed 100 city blocks in Woodward.

The storm remains the deadliest in this area and the sixth deadliest in U.S. history with an estimated 181 people killed and 970 injured.

The tornadoes did over $100 million in damage in today's dollars.

"I think it's miraculous that Pampa was saved," Beck said. "There wasn't a single bit of damage done in Pampa."

Helicopters

involved, Anstey said the helicopter could carry family members as well.

The KingAir also has longer range.

"We can take that KingAir to Houston, Dallas or San Antonio," Anstey said. "It's got terrific range, terrific speed."

Tax

to the budgeted projections.

Citing receipts in March, which were $67,000 under budget, she said the April figures are an improvement.

"We are currently 3.57 percent under budget for the year," she said.

Bailey said it looks like Pampa's economy may have bottomed out. She's looking forward to next month's figures for confirmation.

Dear Abby...

By Pauline & Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: My sister "Carole's" husband died a year ago, and her oldest daughter passed away four months later. Carole now has her daughter's two oldest children, ages 10 and 14.

Carole has been going out with men she meets on the Internet, drinking and partying on weekends and neglecting the kids. The 10-year-old had been receiving psychological help since before her mom died and was on medication, but Carole has dropped all of this help for the child. The girl had been molested by a relative years ago, and now with her mother gone, she's not moving forward in school or in life.

Some of us are willing to take the children from her. She seems not to care what happens to them. She devotes all her attention to the next guy she can be with. She has left the kids alone all night when she was spending the night with men. I'm not supposed to know this, but my adult niece found out from the kids.

What can our family do to bring Carole back to earth and help these kids?—DEEPLY CONCERNED IN PENNSYLVANIA

DEAR DEEPLY CONCERNED: Bringing Carole back to earth and helping the kids may be two separate issues -- and you may not be able to accomplish both. It is possible that Carole would be open to others in the family taking in the children if you approach her as a group and "sympathetically" offer her that option.

Explain that you all can see the stress she's under trying to find herself as a widow and grieving mother.

It appears that she is in need of counseling -- if she's open to it. Make it plain that her children would be welcome to stay with you on a temporary or permanent basis. If she agrees, fine. However, if she doesn't, contact Childhelp USA, which can give you information about agencies that can help. Contact them by logging onto www.childhelpusa.org or calling toll-free: 1-800-422-4453.

DEAR ABBY: My son was killed in a car accident five years ago. His wife, who was pregnant at the time, gave birth to a beautiful baby boy a few months later.

Last month, I received a phone call from a woman we barely know who told me -- very politely -- that she had a "surprise" for me. She then informed me that I have another grandchild, a little girl! She claims my son got her granddaughter pregnant six years ago, and that she had the DNA checked to prove my son was the father. Needless to say, my wife and I were floored.

Abby, I don't know how to react. My wife, who is level-headed, told me not to react right now and to think things through. Do I go to this grandchild with open arms? It doesn't feel right. The child's mother has not reached out to us at all. I need your help. —MAN WITH NO PLAN IN NEW YORK

DEAR MAN WITH NO PLAN: Your wife is an intelligent lady. I, too, find it odd that you would be contacted -- five years after your son's death -- by someone other than the child's mother. The person you should go to "with open arms" is your attorney. If there is DNA evidence, your attorney can help you determine if it's authentic and what your next move should be. Because you have not heard from the mother, you should not approach the child unless you have first made certain your attention is welcome.

Today in History

Today is Friday, April 9, the 99th day of 2010. There are 266 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On April 9, 1959, NASA announced the selection of America's first seven astronauts: Scott Carpenter, Gordon Cooper, John Glenn, Gus Grissom, Wally Schirra, Alan Shepard and Donald Slayton.

On this date:

In 1682, French explorer Robert de La Salle claimed the Mississippi River Basin for France.

In 1865, Confederate Gen. Robert E. Lee surrendered his army to Union Gen. Ulysses S. Grant at Appomattox Court House in Virginia.

In 1940, during World War II, Germany invaded Denmark and Norway.

In 1942, American and Philippine defenders on Bataan capitulated to Japanese forces; the surrender was followed by the notorious Bataan Death March which claimed thousands of lives.

In 1947, a series of tornadoes in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas claimed 181 lives.

In 1959, American architect Frank Lloyd Wright died in Phoenix, Ariz., at age 91.

In 1965, the newly built Astrodome in Houston featured its first baseball game, an exhibition between the Astros and the New York Yankees. (The Astros won, 2-1, in 12 innings.)

In 1983, the space shuttle Challenger ended its first mission with a safe landing at Edwards Air Force Base in California.

Ten years ago: President Eduard Shevardnadze won a second term as leader of Georgia; Peruvian President Alberto Fujimori fell just shy of the majority needed to avoid a runoff for an unprecedented third term. Vijay Singh won the Masters, closing with a 3-under 69 for a three-stroke victory over Ernie Els.

Five years ago: Britain's Prince Charles married longtime love Camilla Parker Bowles, who took the title Duchess of Cornwall. Tens of thousands of supporters of a militant Shiite cleric filled central Baghdad's streets, demanding that American soldiers go home.

One year ago: North Korea's rubber-stamp parliament appointed Kim Jong Il to a third term as the nation's leader.

Today's Birthdays: Playboy magazine founder Hugh Hefner is 84. Naturalist Jim Fowler is 78. Actor Dennis Quaid is 56. Humorist Jimmy Tingle is 55. World Golf Hall of Famer Seve Ballesteros is 53. Actress-sports reporter Lisa Guerrero is 46. Actor Mark Pellegrino is 45. Actress-model Paulina Porizkova is 45. Actress Cynthia Nixon is 44. Rock singer Kevin Martin (Candlebox) is 41. Rock singer Gerard Way (My Chemical Romance) is 33. Actress Keshia Knight Pulliam is 31. Rock musician Albert Hammond Jr. (The Strokes) is 30. Actor Jay Baruchel is 28. Actor-singer Jesse McCartney is 23. Actress Kristen Stewart is 20. Actress Elle Fanning is 12.

Thought for Today: "The amount of satisfaction you get from life depends largely on your own ingenuity, self-sufficiency, and resourcefulness. People who wait around for life to supply their satisfaction usually find boredom instead." — William C. Menninger, American scientist, physician, engineer (1899-1966).

TEA keeps schools' eyes on the road

Have you ever been driving down the street and suddenly you notice a police officer is driving behind you?

If you are like me, I immediately check my speedometer, my lights, get off the phone, if I happen to be on one, and hold the steering wheel with my hands at 10 and two.

In that moment, as I run through my mental checklist, I am confident that I am driving perfectly. Now, I realize that we should all drive perfectly all the time; however, life happens; we get sidetracked; we get lazy. Sometimes, we need that police car to remind us of our accountability, to bring us back to perfecting our driving skills.

Last week, our Pampa school district hosted three very important guests. Three staff members from the Texas Education Agency (TEA) arrived in Pampa to meet with staff and visit our campuses. As a district, we were notified last summer of this visit, so we had plenty of time to prepare for their arrival. While we were confident that things were going well, the stress of this visit added a wee bit of anxiety, like having that police officer in the rearview mirror.

Arrival of our trio from TEA came at 2 p.m. on Monday, March 29, 2010. They were precisely on time, and they began their visit at Carver Administration Building. A carefully orchestrated schedule had been prepared, including campus visits, teacher observations, principal interviews, review of campus and district plans, meetings with specific groups of professionals, to name just a few of the planned activities. As with anything of this nature and scope, it was a very exciting, albeit stressful, time.

The TEA visit was triggered by low testing scores in one of our sub-population groups, our Limited English Proficient students. Limited English Proficient (LEP) students are the children in our community who, in their homes, have learned to communicate with a language other than English. These students have not yet learned to use English as their primary language. Their inability to communicate proficiently in English presents a significant obstruction in their quest for academic success. Our desire, as teachers, is to provide our students with the requisite tools to succeed. Teachers must work closely with their LEP students since they must have a proficient understanding of the language before they can grasp the greater lesson. During the visit from TEA, our educators were given an opportunity to show TEA what steps we have taken and what steps we will take in order to ensure academic proficiency for all of our student populations. Targeted instructional strategies centering on language acquisition have been enhanced to meet the needs of LEP students. TEA was here to monitor our progress and to ensure that no child is left behind.

By the way, our TEA visitors were welcomed by the warmth and vitality of our entire community. They felt at home from the moment they arrived, and they were warmed by the heart of our town. From the comfort of their hotel to the delicious meals served in local restaurants, from the hospitality of our friendly folk to the strength and common bond of a united school district, they were impressed.

Not a minute of their time, from point of arrival to point of departure, was empty. The three TEA staff members were busy gathering data, analyzing the data, and drawing conclusions based on the information they had gathered. In addition to LEP concerns, part of their visit was to inspect district facilities for compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act. As you can imagine, with this very full schedule, TEA officials were given an in depth and multidimensional perspective about many of the exciting things going on in PISD.

During the final exit meeting, TEA staff shared many positive experiences that they had while on their visit. They identified a few issues we should address and areas to improve upon as we continue to work to meet the needs of all students.

As with many bureaucracies, it will be some time before we receive a complete written report of their findings. Rest assured. We, at Pampa ISD, will not wait for the report before we begin to take positive action. Every single day, our staff works tirelessly to do everything possible to meet the needs of our students. We understand that by ensuring a high quality education for our children, we can ensure that our community has a successful and prosperous future.

Admittedly, our TEA visit did feel a little like having a police officer in the rearview mirror — this time with lights and sirens blazing. Yet, once we pulled over, we found that TEA, like the police officer, is a silent partner. Their presence is not meant to punish but to keep us focused on the task at hand. They remind us to constantly reassess our capacity. They challenge us to perfect our skills. Most importantly, they catalyze the opportunity to take a long look at the positive and exciting methods that are already in practice and seek out those that should be.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:
Because of the patronage of Pampa and its surrounding areas, the Tralee Resale Shop has a new home. It is a wonderful place and we know you will find it a pleasure to shop there. Thank you to the resale shop board. Thank you to all the volunteers who helped in the move, especially to Mike Buck and his trailer. He moved tons of clothes. Thank you to Frost Street Mission for loading and unloading the entire shop. Thank you to Rick Scott for helping to coordinate the move. Thank you Kay Harris for over 60 volunteer hours in this move. We are blessed to live in a community where there is so much concern for organizations such as Tralee.

Daily Horoscope

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Saturday, April 10, 2010:
This year, you will need time for thought and reflection. You are ending a 12-year cycle and clearing the way for a brand-new luck cycle. Be honest with yourself about what no longer works for you. You might want to let go or make an adjustment. If you are single, you could meet someone who is emotionally unavailable and not know it. Take your time dating. If you are attached, your relationship benefits from time away together. You could start acting like new lovers. PISCES could be your natural healer.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
*** Nothing seems as clear as you might like. Communication will excel if you listen to your intuition. A boss could be demanding, and your role also could be changing. Visualize more of what you want. A gesture comes back in multiples. Tonight: Play it low-key.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
***** Zero in on what you want. Somehow you feel powerless, which is far from reality. Through a foreigner or perhaps education, your perspective on critical issues transforms. Acceptance happens more easily. Tonight: Where the action is.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
*** Bring others together for a fun occasion. Your sixth sense kicks in with an older or powerful friend. You know the right words to get through to this person. Don't take another's actions personally. Tonight: Take a stand.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
***** Keep reaching out for someone at a distance. Your caring means a lot, as do your time and attention. Take time to create a fun happening, and invite those you care about and enjoy. What occurs could be interesting. Tonight: Let the music move you.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
***** A caring partner or friend reaches out to you. Accept an invitation from him or her. It is important to this person to be seen with you. Of course you might feel a little like you are participating

Lady Harvesters golf finish season sixth in district

aglover@thepampanews.com

The Pampa Lady Harvesters golf team finished the season sixth in district after the second round Thursday at Plainview Country Club. Pampa shot a 426 in the second round, 13 strokes better than their first round (439) for an overall total of 865. Randall won the district championship with a final total of 704, which was 78 strokes better than second place Hereford (782). Caprock missed qualifying for regionals as a team by one stroke with a 783. Dumas finished fourth with a 794 and Canyon fifth with a 796. The top two teams and top two individuals not on a qualifying teams advance to regionals, April 19-20 in San Angelo. Randall and Hereford advance as a team and Emily Neufeld of Canyon and Taylor Boren of Dumas advanced as individuals. Individually for Pampa, Liz Hoelting shot a 110 to bring her final total to 209. Lindsey Brown shot a 98 on the second day for a total of 211. Alison Alexander shot a 105 in the second round for a total of 220. Cori Cook shot a 113 for a final total of 227.

Taylor Morgan was ill and did not play in the second round. Head Coach Alan Segura said his team has improved but still has a ways to go. "We are a very young team and will only get better," Segura said. "I have 4 Freshmen girls, 2 Sophomores, and 2 Juniors that will all be back next year. Over the next three years we will be very competitive and should advance out of the District to the Regional Tournament." Segura said he hopes to see his team advance to state in two to three years.

McLean's Haynes and Coach Hausen earn honors

MIKE HAYNES

The honors keep rolling in for the McLean girls basketball team after the Lady Tigers finished second in the state in Class 1A Division II. Senior guard Sheri Haynes was one of five girls named to the Amarillo Globe-News Super Team for 2009-2010, and McLean girls coach Benji Hausen was named Girls Coach of the Year. Both honors cover all school classifications in the Texas Panhandle.

Haynes, 5-9, also was named the Class 1A Golden Spread Girls Player of the Year, and Lady Tiger Alexis Menefield was one of five players on the Class 1A Golden Spread Team. Hausen also was the Class 1A Girls Coach of the Year. Haynes "capped an outstanding high school career by helping the Lady Tigers reach the 1A Division II state championship game. She averaged more than 19 points and was the team's floor leader. Scored more than 30 points on a number of occasions during the season." Hausen was named Coach of the Year based on guiding McLean to the state title game. The Lady Tigers were ranked No. 2 in the state for much of the season and compiled a 29-5 record. McLean advanced farther than any other Panhandle girls team this season. It was Hausen's fifth year coaching at McLean. Menefield, a 6-0 senior, "averaged more than 14 points and led the Lady Tigers in rebounding as they reached the state championship game." Also named to the girls Super Team were Player of the Year Nicole Hampton of Canyon; Jasmine Patterson and Brianna Taylor, both of Palo Duro; and Caitlin Wallace and Alexius Dawn, both of Amarillo High. On the Class 1A Golden Spread team were Haynes; Menefield; Mattie Yanke of Gruver; Skylar Warrick of Wellington; and Ashlynn Knoll of Happy.

Correction
While The Pampa News knows how to write stories and take pictures, we aren't good at seeing the family resemblance in people. Yesterday's tennis photo on page eight, we identified as Brandon Gage when really it was Blake Chisum. We are running both photos again with the correct identifications. We regret the error.
