PISD school board to meet on Thursday

ARNIE AURELLANO
editor@thepampanews.com

The Pampa Independent School District Board of Trustees will meet in regular session at 6 p.m. on Thursday in the Carver Center Administration Office, 321 W. Albert.
On this week's schedule are the consideration and approval of monthly financial reports as well as the 2011-2012 appraisers and appraisal calendar, the quarterly investment report, 2011-2013 catalog discounts and the sale of delinquent tax property.
The board is also set to consult with its attorneys regarding the possible purchase of property and to consider possible action to approve bids for the Pampa Junior High School, Baker Elementary and Sam Houston Elementary properties.
Also on the agenda is the consideration of approval of the 2011-2012 Student Code of Conduct and the Pampa ISD Acceptable Use Policy, a document which could be of greater importance this coming school year given the new "1 to 1" Initiative which will provide a laptop to each student at Pampa High School during the 2011-2012 school year.

Kiwanis to help with MS 150

editor@thepampanews.com

It takes quite the cause to get Pampa and Borger to come together, but that's exactly what's happening this weekend.
The Pampa and Borger Kiwanis Clubs are uniting to lend a hand to the Bike MS: Wild West Ride 2011, a charity bike ride held by the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.
The annual ride, which begins at 6:45 a.m. on Saturday, will start in Amarillo and span two days until it reaches its destination in Canadian, a total of 152 miles. The ride is one of many to occur around Texas and nationwide; previous MS 150s have gone from Houston to Austin, Frisco to Fort Worth and Midland to Post.
Cyclists are required to raise at least $250 towards multiple sclerosis awareness and research.
For their part, the two area Kiwanis Clubs will be manning a rest stop at Clint & Son's parking lot in White Deer where cyclists can stop, rest and hydrate during the ride. The clubs will be working at the rest stop until 10:45 a.m.

"We have a patriotic theme with our American flags," said Pampa Kiwanis president Robert Jacobs. "We'll hand out water there for them, and we'll have food and there's also first aid for them if they need that."
This is the second year that the local Kiwanis will be participating in the MS 150, with Jacobs saying that last year's Pampa contingent enjoyed its role in the event.
"It's one way for us to help the MS society in all of their endeavors," said Jacobs. "This is a nationwide MS 150, and they're held all over and we want to help them in any way we can. We had a good group do it last year, and we're happy to do it again."
Even if they have to work with Borger to do it, agreed Jacobs with a hearty laugh.
"Oh, it's good to get together and team up and really bring the Kiwanis name out," Jacobs said. "It's for a great cause."

Perry downplaying remark

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Gov. Rick Perry is trying to downplay the religious connotations of his comment about feeling "called" to run for president.

Perry, an evangelical Christian, told The Des Moines Register last week that he's "getting more and more comfortable every day that this is what I've been called to do."

Asked about the comment Monday, Perry said there are a lot of different ways to be called. He said his mother may call him for dinner, his friends may call him for something.

Perry says he looks for signs or "good scripture that tells me how to live my life," but that the statement covered all kinds of calls.

The governor, who's hosting a prayer rally Aug. 6 in Houston, says he hasn't yet decided if he'll run for president.

Cocaine seized at border

EAGLE PASS (AP) — Agents have seized nearly $2 million worth of cocaine after discovering nearly 60 pounds of the drug in a vehicle at an international crossing on the Texas-Mexico border.

U.S. Customs and Border Protection said Monday the Dodge Durango driven by a 25-year-old San Antonio man was stopped for further inspection on Saturday at the Eagle Pass Port of Entry after officers saw discrepancies in the vehicle.

Authorities say they discovered 30 packages containing nearly 60 pounds of cocaine in the vehicle with an estimated street value of $1.9 million.

Customs officers at the Eagle Pass Port of Entry turned the driver over to immigration authorities for further investigation.

Airline founder faces porn rap

BROWNSVILLE (AP) — Federal agents have arrested the founder of a South Texas-based cargo airline on charges of distributing child pornography.

The U.S. Attorney's Office says 60-year-old Robert L. Hedrick shared multiple images of child pornography with undercover officers from Louisiana and Wisconsin in online chat rooms from September to November 2010.

Hedrick was arrested Monday at his home in Brownsville.

Hedrick garnered attention last fall when he announced the opening of Pan American Airways, an air cargo carrier that would operate 70 flights per month between Brownsville and Latin American cities.

The company website says offices are located in the old Pan American Airways building at Brownsville-South Padre Island International Airport.

A call to Pan American's offices seeking comment was not immediately returned.

Burn bans in 247 counties

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — The Texas Forest Service says the record number of counties with outdoor burn bans has reached 247 as the drought lingers.

An agency map Monday afternoon showed scattered areas in northern and southern parts of 254-county Texas as the only areas without burn bans during the hot, dry weather.

The Texas Forest Service says the previous record, before this year's drought, was set in January 2006 with 221 counties having outdoor burn bans. That mark was passed last month.

GOP recruiting Hispanics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans hope to recruit 100 Hispanic candidates for legislative seats across the nation in 2012, looking to rebuild its bench of GOP officeholders.

The Republican State Leadership Committee says it plans to spend at least $3 million in hopes of sending more Republican Hispanic leaders to statehouses. It also hopes to make inroads with women voters and voters under age 30 next year and beyond.

In 2010, Republicans helped elect several high-profile Hispanic candidates, including Sen. Marco Rubio of Florida, Gov. Brian Sandoval of Nevada and Gov. Susana Martinez of New Mexico.

Hispanics accounted for more than half of the U.S. population increase over the last decade and Republicans say they need to adapt to the changing demographics to help the party in the future.

Toddler death under probe

GREENVILLE (AP) — A 2-year-old boy has been found dead in North Texas after two people caring for the toddler called 911 to report he had stop breathing.

The Hunt County Sheriff's Office is holding a news conference Monday afternoon in Greenville to provide further details.

Undersheriff Joe Knight told WBAP Radio that the caregivers called for help Sunday morning. Investigators say the boy was found to have suffered massive blunt force trauma.

No information was immediately released on whether anyone has been charged.

Knight says the death was reported in the Campbell area, about 50 miles northeast of Dallas.

County sees third quake

WAXAHACHIE (AP) — A small earthquake rattled the crockery in a mostly rural area just south of Dallas, but cause no reported damage.

The U.S. Geological Survey says the quake had a magnitude of 3.0. The epicenter of the 2 a.m. Sunday quake was plotted about 13 miles west of Waxahachie near the Ellis County farming community of Venus.

Geophysicist Paul Caruso says a quake with a magnitude of at least 5.5 would cause major damage.

He tells the Fort Worth Star-Telegram that "there might be some cracks in sidewalks and houses may have been shaking a little (but) we don't expect damage from this" 3.0 quake.

The quake was the third since mid-June in Ellis County. A magnitude 2.7 quake was detected June 12, and a 2.4 quake was recorded June 25.

The Savage
Truth
on money

There is one manufacturing business in America that doesn't worry too much about competition from Chinese imports. Makers of American Flags know their customers are patriotic enough to look for the "Made in America" label on their products. And business has been booming.

Janice Christiansen, president and CEO of J.C. Schultz Enterprises/The FlagSource, says there has been a mini-boom in American flags this year — perhaps in anticipation of the 10th anniversary of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks, or perhaps as part of the rebound in consumer spending.

Christiansen notes that patriotism is good for her business. After the 9/11 attacks, her company went full-time to making American flags, setting aside its custom flag and banner business for two years to keep up with demand. Then business settled back a bit, but has grown steadily.

Her company, which is privately held and does not disclose sales, is one of the largest U.S. flag manufacturers. Headquartered in west suburban Batavia, Ill., it employs 85 workers on a full-time basis — despite the fact that new machines do sophisticated sewing and assembly.

While competition from imports is not a huge factor, the flag business is definitely impacted by the global economic situation. Currently, the cost of all raw materials has been rising steadily. Flags are made of either cotton, nylon or polyester. Cotton prices have hit new all-time highs, while material needed for synthetic flags is derived from petroleum. Thus, while volume has increased, profits have been squeezed.

The company is a manufacturer and sells only to distributors. But you can view their products online at flagsource.com. They range from flags in all sizes to bunting and other decorative and patriotic themes. Many are used by the military, which buys not only American flags but also flags denoting pride in units.

Not so obvious is the "custom flag" business — used by corporations and associations. Think about the number of flags flown in front of corporate headquarters and hotels, for example. In its 90-year history, this company has had a lot of "firsts," including creation of the first McDonald's corporate flag, now flown around the world.

FlagSource stocks flags ranging in size from 2 feet by 3 feet to 30 feet by 60 feet. But the most popular is the 3-by-5-foot flag in nylon, with embroidered stars and sewn stripes. It typically sells at retail for under $25. Summertime is the big flag-selling season, as flags are needed to commemorate Memorial Day, Flag Day in June, the Fourth of July and Labor Day.

The flag draped over the Wrigley Building in Chicago for the Fourth of July measures 50 feet by 100 feet. Each star is 3 feet in diameter!

Although making American flags may give some immunity from global competition, they are still a manufacturing business. Christiansen serves as chair of the Illinois Manufacturers Association, the first woman in the organization's 116-year history. How do these companies, based in the heartland, view our economic prospects?

"There's guarded optimism," says Christiansen. "We're not sure if the uptick in business earlier this year was inventory restocking or a response to real end-user demand. All Illinois manufacturers are concerned about the recent tax increases. They got all that new money, and our state is still heavily in debt, with the most underfunded public pension system."

But Christiansen says manufacturers have another worry: finding qualified workers. That cuts across the board, she says, from manufacturing and the steel business to banking and other services that require an educated worker. The Illinois Manufacturers Association is involved in helping schools create trained and credentialed workers, noting that most young people don't realize manufacturing and other good jobs are all high-tech.

As you fly your American flag this summer, think about the fact that 40 years ago overt patriotism was definitely out of style. In fact, flag burning was in — as an expression of free speech, defined by the courts. Now that many flags are made out of nylon, Christiansen notes, flag burnings aren't so dramatic: "Nylon doesn't burn. It melts!"

You can't make millions of American flags without feeling proud and patriotic — emotions Christiansen says hit her every day she walks into her factory. "An ocean of red, white and blue makes you feel patriotic. ... I want my grandchildren to feel safe in America. ... The flag is a great symbol of all we stand for, and everyone in our company shares that feeling of pride."

Wave our flag this summer — on holidays and every day. Amidst all the discussion of debt defaults and economic woes, we have plenty of reason to be proud. And that's The Savage Truth.

No end to heat wave in sight, say experts

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — As temperatures climbed into the 90s Sunday in Steele, N.D., a small window air conditioner in Paul and Betty Smokov's ranch home just couldn't keep up.

"It's 82 in the house," Betty Smokov said. "The heat is really oppressive and sticky."

That observation could be made anywhere in the central U.S. Heat advisories and warnings were in place in 17 states, from Texas to Michigan, as temperatures and humidity combined to make being outside uncomfortable for millions. One National Weather Service forecaster called the heat wave "unrelenting" and said sweaty residents shouldn't expect any relief soon: A so-called "heat dome" over the region isn't moving much.

"The trend is not our friend right now," said Daryl Williams, a forecaster in Norman.

In Oklahoma City, forecasters expected another day of 100-degree heat Sunday, which would be the 27th day this year the city has reached 100 or above. The city is on pace to break its record for such days — 50 set in 1980 — with triple-digit heat possible through September.

It's even worse in western Oklahoma, where temperatures at 110 or above have been common in recent weeks. In Enid, asphalt at a major intersection along U.S. Highway 412 buckled Saturday night from the intense heat.

Justin Tinder of Weatherford and his family visited the Oklahoma City Zoo on Sunday, arriving at 9 a.m.

"By noon, we were headed out," Tinder said. "It was too hot for us to stand much longer. We decided to check it in and go find some air conditioning."

The heat also is adversely affecting wildlife. The Texas AgriLife Extension Service said last week that pregnant does are having difficulty carrying fawns to term and other fawns are being born prematurely.

Texas A&M University researchers determined the period from February to June was the driest such period on record in Texas, with a statewide average of 4.26 inches of rain. The next driest February-to-June stretch was in 1917, with a 6.45-inch rain average.

travel to Pampa to take part in the festivities.

"We're hoping to stretch our brand and stretch our marketing across the Panhandle," he said.

Others manning booths were delighted to be in the middle of things.

"This is my getaway," said Dolores Arreola of Mine and Yours Consignment, who sold handmade bows from her booth.

Tonia Veistle, who had a booth for preserves and other wares, also considered the celebration an opportunity for fun as much as business. "We go to these a lot, said Veistle. "It's fun to talk to people and to get out."

Megan Pirtle, the 2010 Rodeo Queen for the Top O' Texas Rodeo, also was happy to be out and about. "It's fun being out in the community," she said.

Jose Venegas of Fiesta Foods agreed. "It's been a privilege to get out here and support our community," he said.

Today in History

Today is Tuesday, July 19, the 200th day of 2011. There are 165 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On July 19, 1961, TWA became the first airline to begin showing regularly scheduled in-flight movies as it presented "By Love Possessed," starring Lana Turner, to its first-class passengers.

On this date:

In 1553, King Henry VIII's daughter Mary was proclaimed Queen of England after pretender Lady Jane Grey was deposed.

In 1848, a pioneer women's rights convention convened in Seneca Falls, N.Y.

In 1870, the Franco-Prussian war began.

In 1943, allied air forces raided Rome during World War II.

In 1969, Apollo 11 and its astronauts, Neil Armstrong, Edwin "Buzz" Aldrin and Michael Collins, went into orbit around the moon.

In 1979, the Nicaraguan capital of Managua fell to Sandinista guerrillas, two days after President Anastasio Somoza fled the country.

In 1980, the Moscow Summer Olympics began, minus dozens of nations that were boycotting the games because of the Soviet military intervention in Afghanistan.

In 1990, President George H.W. Bush joined former presidents Ronald Reagan, Gerald R. Ford and Richard M. Nixon at ceremonies dedicating the Nixon Library and Birthplace (since redesignated the Richard Nixon Presidential Library and Museum) in Yorba Linda, Calif.

Ten years ago: Japanese prosecutors charged a U.S. airman with rape in an alleged attack on a woman in Okinawa.

Five years ago: President George W. Bush issued his first presidential veto, rejecting a bill that could have multiplied federal money for embryonic stem cell research.

One year ago: The Agriculture Department pressured Shirley Sherrod, an administrator in Georgia, to resign after a conservative website posted edited video it claimed showed her making racist remarks. (After reviewing the entire video, the White House ended up apologizing to Sherrod.)

Today's Birthdays: Former Sen. George McGovern is 89. Actress Helen Gallagher is 85. Country singer Sue Thompson is 85. Country singer George Hamilton IV is 74. Singer Vikki Carr is 71. Country singer-musician Commander Cody is 67. Actor George Dzundza is 66. Rock singer-musician Alan Gorrie (Average White Band) is 65. Rock musician Brian May is 64. Rock musician Bernie Leadon is 64. Actress Beverly Archer is 63. Movie director Abel Ferrara is 60. Actor Peter Barton is 55. Rock musician Kevin Haskins (Love and Rockets; Bauhaus) is 51. Movie director Atom Egoyan is 51. Actor Campbell Scott is 50. Actor Anthony Edwards is 49. Country singer Kelly Shiver is 48. Actress Clea Lewis is 46. Country musician Jeremy Patterson is 41. Classical singer Urs Buhler (Il Divo) is 40. Actor Andrew Kavovit is 40. Rock musician Jason McGerr (Death Cab for Cutie) is 37. Actor Jared Padalecki is 29. Actor Steven Anthony Lawrence is 21.

BRIGHT SIDES TO SHAMEFUL EVENTS IN AMERICAN HISTORY, BY MICHELE BACHMANN

Protect the kids — pass Caylee's law

The moment Casey Anthony walked out of jail in Florida, America will be a poorer place. This woman's negligence and apathy toward her precious 2-year-old daughter, Caylee, eliminate her as a responsible citizen. She's simply another barbarian who couldn't even be bothered to protect her baby.

Debate Anthony's acquittal on murder charges all you want, the woman is not innocent. She should not be walking free. Therefore, another adjustment must be made to serve justice in America and to protect the kids: Caylee's Law.

At this point, 18 states are pursuing new laws that would make it a felony not to report a missing child within a couple of days. Each state is deciding the timeframe. The intent of the law is to compel derelict parents like Anthony to alert authorities should something bad happen to their children. You may remember that Anthony told no one her daughter was missing for 31 days. If Caylee's Law had been in place, Anthony would be going to prison right now.

There are Americans who object to any new laws, believing the states already have enough power. But when it comes to protecting defenseless kids, that point of view doesn't wash. A few years ago, 9-year-old Jessica Lunsford was murdered by convicted child sex offender John Couey, who never should have been walking free. After that horrible crime, 44 states passed a version of Jessica's Law mandating long prison terms for convicted child rapists. The result: No longer is much of America plagued by misguided judges giving heinous child predators light sentences. You have to wonder why Hawaii, Illinois, New Jersey, Vermont, Idaho and Colorado have failed to pass Jessica's law. You also have to question why anyone would oppose Caylee's Law. There is simply no excuse for any parent or guardian not to alert authorities when a child under the age of 12 goes missing. And 12 is the age most states are targeting for the new law.

With the Supreme Court legalizing virtual child pornography, and the Internet providing child predators with the most powerful, perverse tool they've ever had, society must come to grips with the danger presented to all children.

Anthony is a narcissistic sociopath who got away with the death of her daughter. Whatever happened, she bears an enormous responsibility. There is no way this woman should be walking free, and all Americans should shun her.

The larger question of protecting kids remains frustrating. This week, 8-year-old Leiby Kletzky was walking home from day camp in a secure Brooklyn neighborhood. Authorities later found the little boy's dismembered body. Police believe the man responsible will be convicted of murder.

But that's what many of us believed about Casey Anthony. It didn't happen. So we must provide even more protection for the children of this country. Pass Caylee's Law now.

Violence Against Women Act needs rewrite

The Violence Against Women Act (VAWA), now up for reauthorization, is in major need of revision. Its billion-dollar-a-year price tag spent by the radical feminists to pursue their ideology and goals (known as feminist pork) make it an embarrassment to members of Congress who voted for it.

For 30 years, the feminists have been pretending that their goal is to abolish all sex discrimination, eliminating all gender differences no matter how reasonable. When it comes to domestic violence, however, feminist dogma preaches that there is an innate gender difference: Men are naturally batterers, and women are naturally victims (i.e., gender profiling).

Starting with its title, VAWA is just about as sex discriminatory as legislation can get. It is written and implemented to oppose the abuse of women and to punish men.

Ignoring the mountain of evidence that women initiate physical violence nearly as often as men, VAWA has more than 60 passages in its lengthy text that exclude men from its benefits. For starters, the law's title should be changed to Partner Violence Reduction Act, and the words "and men" should be added to those 60 sections.

The law should be rewritten to deal with the tremendous problem of false accusations so that its priority can be to help real victims. A Centers for Disease Control survey found that half of all partner violence was mutual, and 282 scholarly studies reported that women are as physically aggressive, or more aggressive, than men.

Currently used definitions of domestic violence that are unacceptably trivial include calling your partner a naughty word, raising your voice, causing "annoyance" or "emotional distress," or just not doing what your partner wants. The law's revision should use an accurate definition of domestic violence that includes violence, such as: "any act or threatened act of violence, including any forceful detention of an individual, which results or threatens to result in physical injury." Women who make domestic violence accusations are not required to produce evidence and are never prosecuted for perjury if they lie. Accused men are not accorded fundamental protections of due process, not considered innocent until proven guilty and in many cases are not afforded the right to confront their accusers.

Legal assistance is customarily provided to women but not to men. Men ought to be entitled to equal protection of the law because many charges are felonies and could result in prison and loss of money, job and reputation.

Feminist recipients of VAWA handouts lobby legislators, judges and prosecutors on the taxpayers' dime (which is contrary to Section 1913 of Title 18, U.S. Code), and the results are generally harmful to all concerned. This lobbying has resulted in laws calling for mandatory arrest (i.e., the police must arrest someone -- guess who) of the predominant aggressor (i.e., ignore the facts and assume the man is the aggressor) and no-drop prosecution (i.e., prosecute the man even if the woman has withdrawn her accusation or refuses to testify).

The feminists' determination to punish men, guilty or innocent, is illustrated by the capricious April 4 "Dear Colleague" letter issued by the feminists in the Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights. It's not a law (Congress would never pass it), and it's not even a regulation required to be published in the Federal Register -- it's just a peremptory order to scare colleges into compliance by pretending it's an implementation of the law called Title IX.

This letter orders colleges to use a "preponderance of the evidence" standard of proof in sexual harassment and sexual assault cases, replacing the traditionally accepted "clear and convincing" standard of proof. The new rule means that the feminist academics sitting in judgment on male college students need to be only 50.01 percent confident a woman is telling the truth (i.e., that the woman must be believed whether or not she has any credible evidence).

The way the Duke lacrosse players' reputations and college education were destroyed is typical of feminist control of university attitudes. The prosecutor who falsely accused the men was disbarred, but there were no sanctions against the professors and college administrators who rushed to public judgment against the guys.

The definition of domestic violence and the standard of proof are so important because about one-fourth of divorces involve allegations of domestic violence. Judges are required to consider allegations of domestic violence in awarding child custody, even if no evidence of abuse is ever presented.

VAWA should encourage counseling when appropriate and voluntary, as well as programs to help couples terminate use of illegal drugs. When the abuse is only minor, divorce and/or prosecution should not be routine or the first choice of dealing with domestic conflict. Minor partner discord should not be overcriminalized. VAWA should be subject to rigorous auditing procedures in order to curb waste and fraud and to establish accountability.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Tuesday, July 19, 2011:

This year, tap into your creativity more often. Detach, and you'll see unusual pathways and restrictions clear. Don't wonder; rather, just explore. Travel and education could play significant roles. Some of you might publish or become involved with a spiritual group. If you are single, you will meet someone who elevates your mind and soul. Decide if you want more. If you are attached, the two of you finally need to plan a long-coveted trip. PISCES illuminates your day.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
 ★★ A touch of cynicism will take you far. A proposal that seems unbeatable probably needs to be investigated with greater care and concern. Express your reticence in the most effective way. You don't want a strong reaction. Tonight: Listen to the whispers.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
 ★★★★★ You have a lot to smile about, but if you take someone for granted, you could be witness to a sore ego. Avoid a difficult situation, and deal with a money issue head-on. You might be right, but on the other hand, another person could be out of kilter, too. Tonight: Where your friends are.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
 ★★★ You have a style or way about you that sometimes attracts a lot of compliments. Do remember that you cannot control others, though you might give it a shot. Frustration is the only long-term outcome. Tonight: Till the wee hours.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
 ★★★★★ If you are in the mood, venture in a new direction and have a long-overdue conversation. Explore various options before committing to any path. More knowledge cannot hurt, and will only create options and depth. Tonight: Return calls.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
 ★★★★★ Extend yourself in the friendliest manner possible. You need to understand your limits — where they end and where they begin. If someone says “halt,” it is most likely because he or she means just that. Tonight: The only answer is

“yes.”

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
 ★★ Once more, continue letting others assume the role they want. Understand what is going on beyond the obvious. Refuse to get caught up in a power play. Don't allow people and/or a specific someone to push your buttons. Understand when enough is enough. Tonight: Sort through invitations.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
 ★★ While others react to their lives and issues, stay centered knowing what has to be done. This attitude will get you far, very far. Realize what is going on with someone at a distance. You could be far more fiery and intimidating than you realize. Tonight: Take in news.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
 ★★★★★ When used well, your creativity solves issues, entices others and sometimes provokes a loved one. Be aware of this tendency to cause unnecessary problems. With the same creativity, you can prevent a problem. Tonight: Relish the moment.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
 ★★ Your stability might be an asset. You are trying to deal with an issue involving home and family that is difficult at best. Stop wondering just how far you can go — find out. Self-discipline proves to be necessary. Tonight: You cannot prevent someone from going up in smoke!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
 ★★ Use your strong sense or ability to verbalize. Plug in your energy, and focus it where it can and will make a difference. Extremes mark your decisions. Partners give you feedback. Tonight: You don't need to go far.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
 ★★ Your possessive side emerges, allowing greater give-and-take. Your ability to examine and touch base with real issues comes into play. A child or loved one is at best creating uproar. Know when enough is enough and say so. Tonight: Pay bills first.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
 ★★★★★ Focus on the positive, knowing full well your attitude could change the direction of a major venture. Be willing to state your feelings. Others have a strong reaction, which you shouldn't react to. Understand, but don't play into it. Tonight: As you like it.

CASH IN THIS WEEK ON ALL GOLD JEWELRY WHILE THE ROADSHOW IS IN PAMPA!

By Jason Delong
STAFF WRITER

"It's a modern day goldrush as precious metal prices soar due to the unstable economy—it's a seller's market" says Archie Davis, Roadshow representative.

Roll up your sleeves and get ready to start your spring cleaning early this year. The Treasure Hunters Roadshow continues today in Pampa and is looking for anything old. Remember those musical instruments you played with as a kid? You know, the ones that have been stored away in the attic for the past 30 years. Well it's time to dig 'em out, along with any other forgotten treasures. You might be sitting on a small fortune and not even know it.

TREASURE HUNTERS ROADSHOW HAS BEEN TOURING THE WORLD SINCE 2001. THIS YEAR ALONE, WE WILL VISIT 3,000 CITIES AND OVER HALF A MILLION PEOPLE WILL CASH IN!

Roadshow representative, Archie Davis, explains what the event is all about. "It's a chance to get paid today, on the spot, for your valuables. We host over 3,000 shows every year throughout the U.S. and Canada. Gold and silver, timepieces, war memorabilia, jewelry, fine art, coins and just about anything valuable can be sold at the Roadshow. This event is popular because it puts money in people's pockets. At a typical show, we will see hundreds of people during the event. We will see a few unusual items, but mostly we will see a lot of old coins, gold jewelry, and a wide variety of musical instruments and paintings." Last week at a show in Missouri, a retired dentist walked in with over 5 lbs. of dental gold fillings. "I would say that is pretty unusual, wouldn't you say?" commented Davis. The gentleman received over $31,243 for his gold fillings. He told Davis that over the years he would keep the extracted teeth when the owners didn't want them. He would throw them in a jar and over the years it added up to over 5 lbs. of gold. Now, not everyone has a jar of gold teeth lying around, but according to Davis, more than you might think have some sort of gold they can cash in. Davis says, "The Roadshow receives a fair amount of gold each day of the event."

Above—The Treasure Hunters Roadshow runs today through Friday this week in Pampa.

Broken jewelry, gold coins and dental gold have been the largest payouts so far with today's high gold prices. Archie Davis commented, "Other top categories at the Roadshow would have to be silver dollars and other coins, pocket watches and my personal favorite, military items." Davis told me a story about a visitor at a recent Roadshow in Iowa. "This elderly gentleman walked into the show and asked if we were interested in old war memorabilia. He explained that he had kept all of the uniforms, medals, flags and swords that he had collected during his service in WWII and that they were outside in his pickup. I walked outside, and to my surprise his pickup was full of the coolest militaria I had ever seen: beautiful swords and daggers, battle flags, patches and medals, uniforms, he had it all. We spent the next 3 hours going through his collection, and at the end of that day, he ended up walking away with over $8,000 for his old war memorabilia. His last comment to me was, 'Well, I hope someone else can enjoy these things now.'"

Whether you have 5 lbs. of gold or a single gold tooth, a pickup full of old military items or a single sword, you should visit the Roadshow this week. It's free, it's fun and it could put some money in your pocket, maybe a lot of money!

Smooth Day One for Tri-State Seniors Golf Tourney

Judy Rice of Sunray focuses on her ball as she aims for the green during Monday's opening mixed scramble of the 2011 Tri-State Seniors Golf Tournament.

editor@thepampanews.com

Under a clear blue sky at the Pampa Country Club on Monday, Marco Garcia of La Vernia sat back in his golf cart and gushed about the first day of the Tri-State Seniors Golf Tournament.

"I think it's great," said Garcia, who is playing in his first Tri-State tourney. "There's a lot of great people in the tournament, and a lot of them are people I already know because of the fact that we play in another tournament later in the year. Everybody's been very friendly here, we've been welcomed with open arms."

It's that friendly atmosphere that's helped the Tri-State endure as the oldest senior golf tournament in America, said co-organizer Roy Don Stephens.

"It's all about awfully nice people coming here," said Stephens, who took the helm of organizing the tournament last year. "Good people, fun people, here for a good time. A lot of them know each other and travel around and do this all over the state, so when they're here, we try to show them a good time and what a good place this is to play golf."

There are 89 golfers participating in this year's event, down from over 100 last year. Still, the tournament remains a favorite destination for those who keep coming back year after year.

"It's the camaraderie," said Pampa's Elnora Haynes, who has participated in the tournament for 23 years (and played on last year's winning scramble team). "I just want to come and see the people every year for 20 years. It's just like a family reunion."

"We just have a good time," echoed Spearman's James Cunningham, a 30-year Tri-State veteran. "They just treat you well, and it's always fun to come here."

Festivities for the tournament started over the weekend, with about 130 attending a social at the Knights of Columbus building on Sunday evening. The tournament kicked off with a mixed scramble on Monday, with teams selected by handicaps.

The winning team, with a score of 60, was composed of Gary Bowe, Judy Bowe, Steve Stevens and Pat Johnson. In second place with a score of 61 were Danny Helton, Richard Peet, Gerald Rasco and Joe Donaldson.

Stroke play began this morning, with ladies' tee times starting at 7:30 and the men following.

Stephens was pleased with Monday's scramble and said he looked forward to the rest of the week.

"(On Monday), we had a good turnout for the scramble, and (today), we should have some fun in stroke play," Stephens said. "The luncheon's on Tuesday and Wednesday, and the big banquet's on Wednesday night."

"We have a four-man two low ball format for Thursday. Everybody's having a good time."

This year continues a comeback of sorts for the tournament after a down period that culminated in only 35 entries in 2008. Fortunately, Stephens said, the tournament has enjoyed a turnaround thanks in large part from help from the community.

"Our great sponsors (are) the reason this tournament has been a success the last three years," Stephens said. "We had 80 great sponsors again this year."

Stephens added that he is hopeful that the tournament can carry its upward momentum into the future.

With only one day in the books, Stephens can already count on one tourney fan returning in 2012.

"It's only the first day, of course," Garcia said, "but I'm already looking forward to coming back next year."

Ryan hospitalized Club execs to be briefed if NFL deal ratified

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas Rangers President Nolan Ryan is in a Houston hospital undergoing tests on his heart. The Rangers said in a statement Monday the 64-year-old Ryan is "resting comfortably and reports he is feeling better." He is expected to be released from the hospital in a few days.

Ryan had a double-bypass operation in 2000. Doctors at that time also discovered another, undisclosed condition. The team's news release said the discomfort began while at his home in Georgetown on Sunday morning and "is believed to be a recurrence of the heart condition which he has previously experienced."

Ryan had been expected to join the Rangers in Anaheim, Calif., on Tuesday night for the start of a three-game series between his AL West-leading club and the Angels, who are in second place, four games back. He was scheduled to throw out the ceremonial first pitch and to take part in a ceremony inducting Gene Autry, the Angels' late owner, into the team's Hall of Fame.

Ryan is a member of the baseball Hall of Fame, holding the records for most no-hitters (seven) and strikeouts (5,714). He's been running the Rangers since 2008 and became part-owner last summer. Texas went to the World Series for the first time last fall.

Two people familiar with talks to end the NFL lockout tell The Associated Press that if an agreement is ratified by Thursday, team executives will be briefed starting that day on how the deal's terms affect league business.

The people said the league's 32 clubs were told Monday that topics would include the rookie salary system and guidelines for player transactions. They spoke to the AP on condition of anonymity because the process is supposed to remain confidential.

Owners are scheduled to hold a special meeting in Atlanta on Thursday, when they could ratify a new labor contract — if one is reached by then. Club executives would be briefed in Atlanta on Thursday and Friday.

Any tentative agreement also must be approved by players, including star quarterbacks Tom Brady, Peyton Manning and Drew Brees and the other plaintiffs in a federal antitrust suit against the league.

Members of the NFL Players

Association's executive committee and representatives of every team were heading to Washington by Wednesday, in preparation for a possible vote.

NFLPA spokesman George Atallah said the players would be gathering "with the hope they have something to look at, and with the hope we can move forward on this."

Lawyers for the NFLPA and owners met Monday at a Manhattan law firm to work on ending the four-month lockout, the sport's first work stoppage since 1987. They were joined in the afternoon by the court-appointed mediator, U.S. Magistrate Judge Arthur Boylan.

"The lawyers are hard at work in New York with the language and some of the things we agreed to last week," Atallah said in Washington. "As for face-to-face meetings between the principals, we will do that as necessary."

One issue standing in the way of a resolution, according to one person from each side of the dispute who also spoke to the AP on condition of anonymity:

Players want owners to turn over $320 million in benefits that weren't paid during the 2010 season. Because there was no salary cap that season, the old collective bargaining agreement said NFL teams were not required to pay those benefits.

NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell and NFLPA head DeMaurice Smith spoke to each other on the telephone Monday and were planning to keep in regular contact.

At federal court in Minnesota, where the players' antitrust suit is pending, their lawyers filed a motion asking for a summary judgment that the lockout is illegal and that players are entitled to damages. The NFL, meanwhile, asked the court for a week's extension to file their formal response to the lawsuit; the original deadline was Monday.

Those filings were necessary, procedural moves — ones that would be rendered moot if an agreement is reached before the Aug. 29 hearing date in Minnesota.

Dear Abby...

By Pauline & Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: "Keeping It Real in Laguna Beach, Calif." (May 27), who is embarrassed by the dialects of his Southern relatives, should learn some Southern hospitality! Yes, we may say "Ma and Pa," "y'all," "yonder" and "I reckon," but we would not laugh or be embarrassed if a California relative came to visit. We'd be overjoyed and welcoming.

"K.I.R.," get off your high horse and get over yourself! If you visited, we'd show you around town, take you to see friends and relatives, and smother you with affection. We'd have big family gatherings, sit on the front porch and drink lemonade. We would never ridicule your different accent.

Come spend some time with us "hicks." We welcome everyone and are glad to have you. We'll serve you white gravy and homemade buttermilk biscuits, pecan pie and sweet tea. And when you leave, we'll give you a big, air-constricting hug and some "sugar" (Southern slang for kisses) and say, "Y'all come back now, ya hear?" — GEORGIA GIRL

DEAR GEORGIA GIRL: To heck with "K.I.R." — invite me! You'll be pleased to know your fellow Southerners came out in force against "K.I.R.'s" uppity attitude. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: "Keeping It Real" is living in a fantasy world — a sad one at that. Our country is made up of all kinds of people. How can he not see the charm in a simple, down-home accent? Using different regional phrases or expressions doesn't make a person stupid or uneducated — a fact "K.I.R." might understand if he were more educated himself.

I adore my Southern heritage. I love being able to tell the difference between the drawl of someone from the Carolinas versus the Cajun tones of folks from Louisiana. There's richness to those voices. You can almost hear the history by listening to someone speak. I'd much rather hear about "Ma and Pa" than be repeatedly subjected to words like "dude" or "gnarly." All I can say to "K.I.R." is — bless your heart! — PROUD BELLE IN ARKANSAS

DEAR ABBY: Why would "K.I.R." assume that because his Southern family doesn't live in an "uneducated" area, their accents are "fake"? His generalizations show how little he knows about the rich and varied Southern culture. He should read Tennessee Williams, Eudora Welty or Truman Capote, or watch a documentary about the South. In other words, educate HIMSELF to keep from coming off as embarrassingly shallow in front of his relatives. — SOUTHERN YANKEE IN TEXAS

DEAR ABBY: The late Lewis Grizzard, an accomplished writer and comedian from Georgia, talked about the differences between Northerners and Southerners in his comedy show. My favorite line about our twang was, "GOD talks like we do." — KARLYLE IN KENTUCKY

DEAR ABBY: I had lunch with the CEO of a major corporation. He is Harvard-educated with a doctorate from Berkeley. When he ordered "smashed taters with gravy" no one thought HE was a hick. — SMILING IN SEATTLE

DEAR ABBY: I'm appalled by "K.I.R.'s" pretentious attitude. Anyone spending this much time worrying about the use of "Ma and Pa" clearly has too much time on his hands. He should spend it more constructively, examining why he's so concerned with appearances. — DAWN IN CONNECTICUT

DEAR ABBY: I'm guessing the country folk are having fun with him. I have a master's degree in English and can quote Milton and Yeats. But around snobs like this, I'd go all "Jed Clampett" so fast he'd think he's been slogged without no young-uns. — BRIAN IN NORTH CAROLINA

DEAR ABBY: That fool can kiss my grits! — KAYE IN VIRGINIA
