Every U.I.L. event has it's place in the maze of U.I.L. competition. The entire struggle is to gain points toward the District Contest. If you have one more point than the other school then you are the winner.

We have received a letter from two of the U.I.L. participants in the One Act Play and is a good evaluation of how these students feel about UIL competition and what they receive from it.

The One-Act Play Company gave their final performance of The Crucible for the community. Because it is only possible for the community to see the one forty minute performance, sometimes it is hard to see the value of putting 75-100 hour practice. As in all U.I.L. competitions, the coach and students evaluate their season when it ends. To close out this play season, we would like to share from Kristi Stone, four year OAP participant, and Lynn Herridge, Three year OAP participant, their evaluations of this year.

"Now I think I see some shred of goodness in John Proctor," states John Proctor in the closing scene of The Crucible. This is one of the main things I learned while being a part of The Crucible that goodness is in everyone. OAP was a great experience, and I am extremely glad I was a part of it because of the relationships, education and inspiration.

All of the members of the company were one happy family. As in any family, love, trust and support were present. This provided a better basis on which to build the play. the family old friendships were strenghtened, and new relationships were formed. Being a part of a family made winning even more exciting and losing a lot easier to face and accept. I also broadened my education in OAP. learned historically of the Puritan life and culture. I learned about the Salem Witch Trials--that they were false and many innocent people were hanged, like Rebecca Nurse and John Proctor. I also have learned to appreciate acting and stage production.

I gained inspiration by playing the part of Elizabeth Proctor. I felt what it was like to be wrongly accused and to have a husband torn away from me. The feeling that came over me was unexplainable, but for forty minutes was Elizabeth Proctor. One must experience this feeling to understand it. was extremely upset to give the play for the last time, but I realized that Elizabeth Proctor will always be of part One-Act Play

One-Act Play is something that everyone should experience. Noone can imagine what all can be gained and the opportunities available through OAP. I will never forget how being a part of The Crucible enriched my life.

I wanted to venture to places where no one had ever dared to go before. I had this and more just participating in the One-Act Play. It offered me an entrance to exotic places in my mind. Therefore, imagination, experience and poise from involving myself in involving this beneficial U.I.L. event.

I had to imagine that I was another person. I needed to see if I could become as snotty, stingy, or prude as another person; if I could walk, run and skip like someone else by evaluating movements. I wanted to feel and be like that person from the mental picture I had.

By being in OAP I knew that I would have the experience I needed to be at ease in awkward situations. Since I have been active in OAP, I have had no problem speaking to a crowd, even if I don't recognize them. I feel I could have a personal interview with a major corporation president and be very relaxed because of my OAP training. By being a part of the OAP family, I have found myself with more confidence. I see myself believing in myself more and more. also see myself at ease in awkward situations. I have learned how to talk to Lastly. people more. I have learned dignity, OAP has taught me all In closing, I can see the importance of involving myself in OAP. Just for the fun and excitement of it, I dared to be different. I dared to be someone other than myself for just a few hours a day and see how they felt. My reasons for this were the outward flow of imagination, noticeable closeness of the group, and the dramatic knowledge of history. I could and did escape the worries of today's world for just a few hours each day OAP. during

PLANTING SEED

CONTROL BAGWORMS NOW!!

Bagworms are one of the major pests of junipers and other trees and shrubs in Texas. Spring hatch began early on the South Plains this year. Hatching is usually completed in about three weeks. Insecticide control is most effective in late May and early June bagworms are small. the

In the spring, bagworm larvae emerge from hatching eggs inside last year's bags and begin feeding on leaves. They soon begin to construct their own protective bag of silk, twigs and leaves, making them camouflaged and hard to see. As the larve and their bags continue to grow, control becomes more difficult.

Bagworms feed throughout the summer months, building their bags until the bags are about 1 1/2 inches long. In the fall, the bagworms become adults, mate and the females lay eggs inside their bags. They then overwinter in these bags in trees and shrubs. Each overwintering female bag on a tree contains from to 1500 eggs.

"Since the bagworm completes one generation a year and spreads very slowly from plant to plant, picking the bags off infested plants in the winter will help a lot toward controlling this pest. "But if bagworms were present on the plant last year and control measures were not applied, chances are very good that an insecticide will be needed this spring."

Insecticides which can be used to control baqworms include sevin, dursban, diazinon, malathion, dylox and orthene. The biological insecticide Bacillus thuriengensis can also be used. To obtain effective control, through coverage of the foliage is important. The addition of a small amount of liquid soap or surfactant to the spray solution will improve control because it helps adhere the insecticide to the treated trees and shrubs. Always read and follow label instructions when applying insecticides.

INSECT SCOUTING WORKSHOP 9:15-9:30-Sunflower and

Cotton, corn and sorghum producers in the Panhandle and South Plains are again receiving a special invitation to take part in the Plains annual High Insect Scout Training Workshop to increase the effectiveness of their pest management program.

The first of two workshop sessions will focus on early and midseason pests and will be held Tuesday, June 2, at the Hale County Agriin Center cultural The center Plainview. is on U.S. 87 Business Route south of the city.

The second workshop is scheduled for July 7 in Plainview and will cover mid to late-season crop pests.

The workshop conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, was first held in 1973 to train scouts in the pest management programs conducted by Extension, part of the Texas A&M University System.

In subsequent years, it has expanded to include scouts employed by consultants, aerial applicators and others, as well as producers who want to learn how to scout their own fields for insects. The workshop focuses on perfecting skills in identifying pest and making decisions which can proand tect investments yield, and hold down Downtown Gail, TX.

SPECIAL HAYING & GRAZING OF 1987 ACR

Borden County has been approved for special haying and grazing of the 1987 ACR acreage. Those producers that wish to hay or graze their 1987 ACR or wish to permit someone else to hay or graze their 1987 ACR MUST FIRST OF ALL notify the county office before you do anything else. There are several requirements that must be met in order to hay or graze your ACR.

- 1. You must first of all certify to the ACR acreage and verify land eligibility.
- You must notify the county office that you wish to:
 - a. Graze the area by:
 - 1. Your own livestock
 - 2. Another producers livestock
 - Mechanical harvest for feeding?
 - 1. Your own livestock
 - 2. Another producers livestock.
- 3. You must then sign a statement of "condition of special haying & grazing of 1987 ACR."

Some other do's and don'ts include:

- 1. Not charge for grazing ACR.
- 2. Not charge for the value of vegetative growth mechanically harvested when used by another producer.
- 3. Shall be permitted to recover normal and reasonable cost for other services if growth is used by another producer. (Cost of Bailing, Fencing, Water Facility, etc.)

MEASURING SERVICE

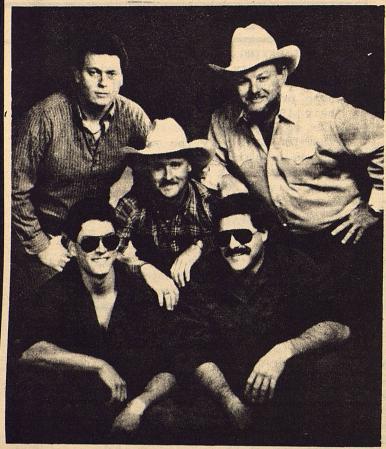

We realize that many of you are in the process of planting at this time and that certification of these crops is just around the corner. We would like to remind you that measurement services are available through the county office. We are more than happy to assist you in any way with measurements at the counter; but, these are not guaranteed measurements. On the other hand, if you apply for measuring service, and we notify you of the acreage measured, these measurements are guaranteed.

Producers wanting to apply for ASCS measuring services should come by the office to apply, be prepared to give us a sketch of your planting, and pay for the service. An accurate certification is a must! DON'T TAKE CHANCES, be sure of your report.

LIMITED CROSS COMPLIANCE

We again remind you of the limited cross compliance procedures for the 1987 Crop Year. These provisions limit the number of acres of a program crop that can be planted on a farm which is participating in a program For instance; I participate in the cotton program only, but have a wheat base of 20.0 acres and a sorghum base of 30.0 acres and am not participating in the wheat or sorghum programs. In order to be eligible for program payments for my cotton, I cannot have more than 20.0 acres of wheat planted, or plant more than 30.0 acres of sorghum.

Don't let this one slip up on you. This is one more reason to apply for measuring ser-

"The Parable of the Lost Sheep"

Matthew 18:12-14(NIV)

Jesus said, "What do you think? If a man owns a hundred sheep, and one of them wanders away, will he not leave the ninety-nine on the hills and go to look for the one that And if he finds it, I tell wandered off? you the truth, he is happier about that one sheep than about the ninety-nine that did not wander off. In the same way your Father in Heaven is not willing that any of these little ones should be lost."

To do what is Right and Just is more acceptable to the Lord than sacrifice.
