Location of an important war installation in Memphis, the development of an abundant newly-discovered water supply and a concerted effort to attract new industries to this community are the major objectives of the Chamber of Commerce for 1944.

WOMEN WORK

By INEZ BAKER

10,000 surgical dressings had been made up to Saturday night, January 22. This leaves 29,000 to be made in four weeks.

The Delphian club of Memphis has done a lovely, a gracious thing. They have sent a white satin wedding gown and veil to England for use of war-brides. First, we must remember that no article of clothing may be bought in England without ration stamps, and that there is no appropriate wedding apparel to be found there now. But was there ever a bride who did not long to be beautiful on her wedding day? Or what man does not like to remember his bride as lovely. For the small fee of $2.00 these wedding gowns, of which many have been sent from this country, may be rented for several hours. For a little while the wedding party may forget all of the ugly things that are happening outside their circle. Then the young husband goes back to his foxhole and the young wife dons her army or factory uniform—for all the women must contribute to the war effort in England. But they carry with them the memory of a normal hour spent in all this upheaval, and some of them will always keep a warm corner in their hearts for a certain club in a certain West Texas town.

Do you remember the ranchman's wife who kept a small bottle of perfume hidden in her dresser drawer? When the grass burned, or the waterholes dried up, or the blizzards came, she would get that perfume out and smell it.

The Delphian club has also given a year's subscription to the Reader's Digest, for the Children's USO.

The Mystic Weavers club sends $10.00 for local Red Cross production. This means more comforts for our wounded soldiers in the hospitals.

Does Dry Cleaners has given a large box of woolen samples and these will be made into afghans, quilts and other needed articles.

Mary Pickford's interest in children and their future as citizens finds a natural outlet in her position as Chairman of the Women's Division of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Her adopted daughter, Roxanne, with whom she is pictured above, gives Mary a poignant reason for her militant effort on the American Health Front. Miss Pickford, appointed by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, has selected leaders in the forty-eight states and in the territories to carry the women's fight against the children's enemy on the home front. The Annual Fund Appeal and "March of Dimes" in nationwide celebrations of The President's Birthday occurs between January 14 and 31.

NEWS

From County Men in the Armed Forces

This article appeared in the Sunday issue of the Amarillo Daily News, written by Staff Sgt. Milburn McCarty Jr., and is a story of the doctors and pharmacist's mates on Bouganville.

BOUGANVILLE—I watched a front-line Bouganville surgical operation. If there is anyone left in the states who is not at least buying war bonds to help the war, I wish he could have been with me.

On the operating table was a young first lieutenant, with his right thigh laid open by a foot-long incision. Somewhere down in the shattered home was a Jap bullet the doctors were groping for.

These doctors, who had been operating 12 straight hours, wore only shorts and field shoes. Perspiration appeared on their foreheads and bare stomachs.

"It's a tough one," said Lt. J. G. Virgil D. Shepard, medical corps, of Atlanta, who was doing the surgery. "He was wounded early last night, but because of the fighting they couldn't get him in here until this morning."

"Our job is to get the bullet and infection put a cast on, and send him back to a base hospital," explained Lt. Charles R. Goodwin, medical corps, of Lorain, O., and Port Arthur, who was assisting. "They'll re-operate there, and set the compound fracture."

The doctors agreed the first lieutenant would be laid up a long time, but they thought his leg would be all right.

Also helping about the table were Lt. Frederick Gordon Grant, medical corps, of Schenectady N. Y., who was administering the anesthetic; Lt. Herbert A. Smith, dental corps, whose official address is Clayton, Ala., who held an improvised operating lamp worked by a jeep battery.

Pharmacist's Mate Yeats of Memphis, "sterile nurse" who fed instruments and bandages to the doctor's, and Pharmacist's Mate Lawrence L. Gilbert of Dallas "floating corpsman," who stood by as an extra hand.

Pharmacist's Mate Yeats, a Ph. D. student from the University of Texas, told me the advance hospital was equipped for 75 patients, but many more than that were lying in the various tents nearby.

"This operating room has been going for 24 hours a day," he said, "but the Marines ran into trouble yesterday and they're sending them back fast."

"We get interrupted sometimes, too," he added, pointing to a couple of Jap bullet holes in the tent.

Leaving the advance hospital, I caught a ride on a truck going down by our new cemetery. Covered up in the back of the truck was a Marine. He was dead when he was brought to the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Frank Smith of Eli received the following letter from their son, Pvt. Grady Smith, who is in North Africa with the U. S. Army.

North Africa December 29, 1943
Dearest Mother, Daddy and All: Will write you a few lines to let you know I am still well and doing O. K. Haven't received any mail since I came here, but hope you all are all well and enjoying life best of all.

Had my first pass a few days past and went into town. Can't mention the name, but it is a very large, modern city. Mostly run by Frenchmen. Nearly everything you buy here cost about twice as much as it does in the States. Souvenirs and etc. are very high also. I really did enjoy my first trip into the city, even though I am not accustomed to the foreign language and food they have.

Here our money is figured in Francs and gets very confusing at times, especially if you get a large bill changed and get back more paper money than you can carry.

One Franc is equal to two (2) cents and 50 Francs is equal to one dollar ($1.00) and of course anything from 5 Francs up is paper money. I am sending you a piece or two of it for a souvenir. One is a 15 franc and a 10 franc (or 20c). Now you can probably understand why you would have so much money if you changed a ten dollar bill.

Well, Mother, when you write, don't forget to tell me about Christmas, and how all the folks are getting along. Sure you would have enjoyed being there to see everyone, and especially to eat one of the turkey legs that I know I missed. We had a very nice Christmas dinner here, considering everything. We had turkey with cranberry sauce, also dressing. About the same as was Thanksgiving at Seymour Johnson.

And Santa Claus also came to see us. We received cigarettes, cookies, and candy from the American Red Cross. I am thankful for the great work they are doing for the soldiers overseas.

Mother, if I'm not putting you to a lot of trouble, when you have time and in town, wish you would look at some of the cameras that they have there and price them. If they are any good, also see if you can get films, if you find a good one. Please let me know and I'd gladly send you the money to buy it with and also a good flashlight. I've not managed to buy either over here, and probably won't. Please let me know when you write.

Had better close for now and write the other boys a line or so as I'm doing the writing now.

God bless you all,
GRADY.

SGT. B. L. VICKERS

The following letter was written from Sgt. B. L. Vickers, who is in England in Signal Corps of the U. S. Army, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Vickers.

Somewhere in England Dearest Mother, Dad and All: After a very delightful Christmas day, including a wonderful dinner, I shall complete my day by writing to the dearest persons in all the world. And what else could constitute a more beneficial ending for a perfect day?

We had a wonderful dinner consisting of turkey, dressing, potatoes, corn, cranberry sauce, ice cream, pie and coffee. The dining room was beautifully decorated and each table was covered with a white table cloth with candles as center-piece.

The weather has been nice today. Rather crisp and cold but otherwise nice. I took some pictures of some of the fellows that have been away on D. S. today. I hadn't seen some of them in over four months. All in all, I will say that a good time was had by all.

Our commanding officer brought down some canned goods, that his friends sent him this morning, so a bunch of us gathered around the fire in the orderly room and had sandwiches and coffee for breakfast. Some of his friends came down and we really had a session that lasted until time for noon chow. Since I was in the hospital in Pendleton last Christmas, I must say that this was the best Christmas that I have had in two years. I certainly hope that all of you had a nice time and everyone is making the grade O. K. I'm sure that by this time next year we will all be home so that a good old-fashioned Christmas can be enjoyed. I will say "by, now," so until again Love to all,
BEDFORD.

Wounded Service Men May Get Gas For Traveling Use

OPA Grants Request of War and Navy to Issue Special Gas Rations

To aid servicemen in recuperating from illness or wounds received while on active duty, the Office of Price Administration today announced that they may be issued special gasoline rations for use in traveling to and from their homes or their places of convalescence.

The action was taken at the request of the War and Navy Departments which said that the use of an automobile may, in some cases, aid greatly in a serviceman's recovery to health.

Today's amendment provides that this special ration covering the needed gasoline is to be issued upon presentation of leave papers to a local board, together with a letter from the attending medical officer certifying that transportation by automobile rather than by any other means, will materially assist in the recovery of the serviceman's health.

Kidneys Must Work Well—

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, seamy or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

NEWS about boys in the Service

The following letter is from Curtis Harrell, The Democrat "roving reporter" who is now stationed at Camp Parks, California, after serving 17 months overseas with the Navy seaboats.

January 17, 1944

Dear Sir:

Yes, the sun shines in California, on certain occasions. I found a native boy, boy are they scarce, the other day and he said it would shine some next month.

The Navy department paid us 20 per cent extra for going to the New Hebrides, it should be 40 per cent for staying in California. This is really foreign duty and how. We are 25 miles from Oakland, and about 35 miles from San Francisco. Just sitting out in the country conversing with nature.

It isn't all that bad after you get used to it. We have good eats, a good bed, plenty of pool tables, bowling alleys, picture shows and table tennis.

Everyone is allowed every fourth night off from 5 o'clock to 7:30 the next morning. We are also allowed to have a couple of 36 hour passes every month and maybe a 48 hour pass thrown in on occasions.

Since returning to camp, we haven't done anything, but eat, sleep and wash clothes, however, it won't be long until we start doing a little "foot work" out in the nice fresh air of the California hills!

I would like to express my thanks to you and Mrs. Wells again for sending me the paper and for everything you did to make me feel that I was still part of the old gang around the shop. Right now, all I would like to have is another 30 day leave to spend in Memphis and surrounding territory! That isn't much to ask, is it?

Please keep the Democrat coming as I don't want to miss a single copy. Also drop me a line when you find time.

As ever,

CURT.

Appointed Last Year Has Made Good Record As District Attorney

The Democrat is authorized to announce the candidacy of Sam J. Hamilton for election to the office of District Attorney of the 100th Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

JUDGE A. S. MOSS WILL NOT BE IN RACE FOR JUDGE OF 100TH DISTRICT

Judge A. S. Moss, judge of the 100th judicial district last week stated that he would not be a candidate for re-election to that office.

In making his announcement, Judge Moss expresses his appreciation to the voters of this district for their cooperation and consideration during his terms of office.

"During this year the people of this Judicial District will again be called upon to select their District Judge for the next four year term. The question of my offering again for re-election for a third term has often been mentioned by numbers of good citizens of the District, they at all times assuring me that in their opinion I could be assured of the confidence of the voters. I am extremely grateful for these expressions and for this reason, and others that I need not mention at this time, I have taken the question under serious consideration and after doing so I have decided, that under the conditions as they confront me, not to be a candidate for re-election. There cannot, I am sure, be any public necessity for me to offer again and I am, therefore, following my inclinations as they dictate at this time, otherwise I should not do so.

"Believing that it was my duty to make this statement at this time, I shall go further to express my grateful appreciation to the citizenship of this District for the helpful and kindly consideration they have given during the time I have had the pleasure to serve them as District Judge."

JUDGE A. S. MOSS.

FIVE REASONS FOR GIVING

Five reasons for giving as outlined by Mrs. Elizabeth C. Morrow, widow of the late Dwight C. Morrow.

If you have thrilled over the heroic resistance of our Allies in this great war against aggression, you will give out of admiration.

If you have been shaken with sorrow by the sufferings of the oppressed countries, if the cries of little children, desolate mothers and tortured prisoners have rung in your ears, you will give out of pity.

If you have shoes on your feet, clothes on your back, food in your kitchen and a roof over your head, you will give out of gratitude.

If you have a husband or a son at the front, if you have faith in the American Army and Navy, the men who are enduring, fighting and dying for us, you will give because of that faith.

If you believe that the United Nations are struggling for a better world for our children and grandchildren, you will give out of wisdom.

"I suggest that we forget this talk about buying War Bonds. We aren't buying anything. We are only lending our money. All that is happening is that Uncle Sam wants to borrow some money from us, money that we will get back again. And lending our money in interest bearing War Bonds is better than having it taken away from us in taxes."—Al Smith, former Governor of New York.

ooOoo

Never before was science so full of new and wonderful ideas. Another year of scarcities, and it will be able to make anything from anything.

ooOoo

We always knew that money talks, and judging from recent releases from the Treasury Department, the stuff can stand up and shoot, too!

SELECTED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGE

I am getting so absent minded in my old age that it is really pitiful. I guess I got more subscriptions mixed up this past month than ever before. And the latest thing, is that Alton Steele gave me a want ad the other evening. I have misplaced it and for the life of me I can't think what he wanted. Anyway, it's paid for and that is the main thing. I guess he will be around and remind me.—Briscoe County News.

While there are minor details that may not be clicking perfectly due to the limitation of human nature most people have the feeling that this war, the greatest in which this country has ever engaged, is being well and efficiently handled.—Tulsa Herald.

Rev. A. R. Morgan, pastor of the Methodist church rushed into this Baptist's office Monday morning with the report that he had had a dream about us Sunday night. He said he dreamed that we came up to him after church that night and informed him that we would be happy to fill his pulpit any time he found it necessary to be away from his church. That wasn't no dream—that was a nightmare!—Saint Jo Tribune.

Without a close check I would say no less than fifty boys from Dalhart, now in the armed forces, once carried Texans. Many of them came from the best families in the community and 75 per cent of them did not have to earn their own living. And just checking on our present carriers I would say the percentage is much higher.—Dalhart Texan.

Perhaps I have allowed my personal reactions to enter into the observation but it has always seemed that political speakers enjoy their speeches more than anyone else.—Matador Tribune.

The administration floods us with oodles of advice about unity on the home front. The current cry is name calling and bitter feeling among high ranking government officials in Washington is a fine example to set for us common ordinary citizens. We have always thought it a pretty good thing to put your own house in order before you start straightening up the other fellow's abode.—Ochilree County Herald.

Recently we overheard a man say that he had bought no bonds. "I have sent a boy to the service and I feel like I have done my part toward winning the war," he said.

We told another man the remark and he blew up. "I have a son in the service but he is the one doing it and I don't feel like I have done a dam thing unless I buy bonds to help him get the equipment he needs. Who said a thing like that?" he yelled.

The attitudes of the two men fairly well exemplifies those encountered in any bond drive.—Quanah Tribune Chief.

Pin-up picture for the man who "can't afford" to buy an extra war bond...

YOU'VE HEARD PEOPLE say: "I can't afford to buy an extra War Bond." Perhaps you've said it yourself... without realizing what a ridiculous thing it is to say to men who are dying.

The very least that you can do is to buy an extra $100 War Bond... above and beyond the Bonds you are now buying or had planned to buy. In fact, if you take stock of your resources, you will probably find that you can buy an extra $200... or $300... or even $500 worth of War Bonds.

Sounds like more than you "can afford"? Well, young soldiers can't afford to die, either... yet they do it when called upon. So is it too much to ask of us that we invest more of our money in War Bonds... the best investment in the world today? Is that too much to ask?

Adequate Water—

An official report on these tests, findings and studies has been made to the Chamber of Commerce and city officials by the state board, which conservatively estimates that an additional supply of 200,000 gallons daily can be made available from three wells to the northwest of the city limits.

ling and development of wells not closer than one fourth mile a part and place the production of such wells at 70,000 gallons each.

Heaviest water sands were found on the T. J. Hampton farm 2 miles west of Memphis, the L. W. Thomason farm and on the Seth Thomason farm, the latter two being north of the railroad and these three tests were said by the engineers to be in the center of the heaviest producing area of the water-filled basin.

Other test wells were put down on the Kendrick place, on the Gerald Knight farm, the Grover Moss farm and a second test on the Seth Thomason land. A score or more of farm and ranch wells were tested and data gathered which gave the state engineers a thorough picture of the underground water supply.

The state report has this to say: "Conditions appear reasonably favorable for developing in the area a supply of the order of magnitude of 200,000 gallons a day. The chemical quality of the water from the present city wells northwest of town compares favorably with the quality of other public supplies in this region."

"Possibilities for developing considerable water may exist in other portions of the basin outside the explored area, the report continues. In fact, the engineers expressed the opinion that water of a better chemical content would be found to the west of the railroad, a area which was not tested except for the one well on the Hampton farm.

"In other words, when you buy Bonds, from any issuing agent you want to, the banks, post office or any other place, if you want the credit to go to the theatre and want an admission ticket, you will be given one. Be sure to keep these certificates; you are given, because you must have one to see the show. T. E. Noel will take applications for Bonds at the box office next Tuesday, but it will be well to buy your Bonds beforehand because he cannot handle too many at the office," stated Boren.

Mr. Boren bids fair to set a record for the rest of the state in the March of Dimes fund. He has given the effort a lot of personal time and will continue to collect funds through Sunday.
