Lt. Lonnie D. Thompson Missing in Action Over Austria on June 26

Lt. Lonnie D. Thompson, son of Glynn Thompson of Memphis and Mrs. E. O. Patrick of Amarillo, has been reported missing in action over Austria on June 26, according to messages received by Glynn Thompson from the War Department.

Lt. Thompson has been serving as pilot with the 15th Air Force in Italy. More than a month ago he was awarded the United States Air Medal "for meritorious achievement in aerial flight while participating in sustained operational activities against the enemy," and had already completed 50 missions and was given several Oak Leaf Clusters to go with the Air Medal, also had citations.

He could have come home after the 50th mission, but chose to volunteer for further flying. He served as pilot of B-24 Liberator in a heavy bombardment group of the 15th Air Force.

Entering the army in 1939, Lt. Thompson received his training at Randolph and Brooks fields in Texas.

Details are lacking concerning his "missing in action," and it probably will be some time before information is received as to whether he crashed or was taken prisoner by the enemy.

Honor Roll Now Being Erected

At last the Honor Roll is being erected in Memphis.

The panels have been put in place, getting ready to receive the names of Hall County boys and girls who are in service.

The sign company expects to have the roll completed within a very short time.

The following donations have been received since last report: E. F. Lemons $1.00; and J. L. Rountree $2.00.

How to Hold Up Summer Milk Yield

Hot weather usually brings a slump in milk yield. Do not let the situation get out of hand, W. B. Hooser, county agent, says.

The slump may be due to insufficient grass or other roughage; lack of minerals; lack of shade for the cows; or insufficient or unpalatable drinking water.

Experience teaches that to produce at maximum dairy cows must have all of the roughage they can eat. When grass is good cows get their fill in an hour or two of grazing in the early morning and late afternoon.

They should have opportunity to fill on grass or other roughage at least twice daily. But when grass is short or sparse they cannot do so in an hour or two. In that case they should be given hay or silage or both, in a shady place. Cows are more likely to eat the required amount of roughage if the hay and silage are of good quality.

Water is essential to milk yield. Grazing on tender, green grass cows get a large part of the water needed, but when the grass matures or dries they have to drink more to maintain production. Cows should and will drink three times daily if the water is good, clean and easily accessible. In order to keep it cool it may be necessary to build shade over the trough.

And, speaking of shade—that's good for the cow, too. Anything which adds to the cows' comfort adds milk to the bucket. A good tree is fine. Otherwise it may pay to build a shade. It should be eight feet high to be cool.

Regarding minerals, Hooser says that if one-third or more of the grain mixture is cottonseed meal or wheat bran, or a combination of the two, two pounds of oystershell flour or pulverized limestone should be added to each hundred pounds of the mixture. If there is less than one-third of these ingredients, add one pound of bone meal, or one pound of mixture of 100 pounds di-sodium phosphate and 80 lbs. of oystershell flour or pulverized limestone. Dry cows and heifers should have access to this mixture, especially when grass is dry.

BOND QUOTA IS SHORT OF GOAL

Hall County has not attained its E Bond quota by some fifty or sixty thousand dollars, C. T. Johnson, county chairman, reports. The remainder of July will be termed a "clean-up period" for the 5th War Loan in order that any potential buyer may have an opportunity to buy and help swell the quota, it was announced.

The county has about reached its quota in the other series of bonds, and it is hoped that E bond buyers will continue to buy in order that Hall County may not fall down.

Contract is Let For Drilling of Water Well

Community Public Service Company to Add to Present Water Supply

A contract has been let for the drilling of a water well on the property of the Community Public Service Co. about five miles northwest of Memphis, within a few hundred yards of the present wells of the company. D. W. Robinson, engineer of the company, stated Tuesday.

It is expected the drilling machinery will be set-up in the next two or three weeks and the well put down. Recent tests by the company show a water sand of some 40 or more feet at the site of the proposed well. Company officials are hopeful of obtaining a plentiful supply of water at this test. It will be near their present pipe line and easily turned into the main, if it proves to be a good well.

Several tests have been made by the company in the area north of town, and the location was made from the showings of the tests, it was stated.

C. H. Wallace arrived in Memphis last week to be manager of the local office, taking the place of Ray R. Fultz, who recently resigned. Mr. Wallace comes from Gatesville where he was local manager of the Community Public Service Co. for a number of years. His family came with him and they are now residents of Memphis.

Lakeview Boy Has Checkered Career As Paratrooper

Captured, Released, Twice Wounded, Now in U. S. A.

Twice wounded in action and once made a prisoner of war by the Nazis and then released is the part played by a Hall County youth in the European war zone.

Staff Sergeant Tommy Moreland, paratrooper, arrived first of this week at the General Hospital, Longview, Texas, for additional treatment. He arrived July 1 in the U. S. A. following hospitalization of three months from wounds received at the Anzio beachhead.

Sgt. Moreland entered the army February 5, 1942, landed in Africa in April 1943, and was in the invasion of Sicily last fall. He was captured by the Nazi army and imprisoned, only later to be released by Canadian soldiers. Rejoining his group in the fighting in Sicily, he was hospitalized for about a month in North Africa.

On March 10 this year he was again wounded when he as leader of a platoon of paratroopers was leading them in the invasion at Anzio.

Col. White Denies CAAF Will Close Soon

Col. John W. White, commanding officer of Childress Army Air Field, stated Wednesday that there is no truth in the rumors regarding the closing of CAAF in the near future. Col. White's statement follows:

"Information has reached me to the effect that rumors are quite prevalent regarding the possible closing of Childress Army Air Field in the near future. I desire to inform the citizens of Memphis and surrounding communities that so far as is known to me today these rumors are completely without foundation. Present plans call for the continued operation of Childress Army Air Field by the army and this operation will continue as long as the demands of war necessitate.

"It has been the policy of the army air forces to officially announce well in advance the date of closing of army air forces stations and I have every reason to believe that this policy will be continued in the future.

"In accordance with this policy I assure the people of Memphis that I will give them notice as far in advance as possible if and when a decision is made to close Childress Army Air Field."

I am not receiving my paper regularly and thought possibly you didn't have my new address. I do enjoy the paper and miss it very much if it fails to arrive. I believe the last issue I received was March 23.

Thanks to you and it is only natural that I hope to be back in the states before many more months. I hope everything is going along nicely in Memphis and Hall County. I am getting along fine out here.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Paschal received the following letter from their son Pvt. Raymond Paschal, who is somewhere in England: June 7, 1944

Dear Folks: I received your air mail letter of May 23. Was very glad to hear from you.

I am like Will Rogers, said: "I don't know of anything except what I read in the papers." Any way, they read very well just now. And you know as much news as I do. So, therefore, I don't know of much to write about.

I hope you make a big crop another year and this year also.

I haven't heard from Ike since May 12. But they have done some good work down there lately. I also heard from Bill today. T-Bone may not come over this way, however, he may. I hope he does not.

You know, I always thought there was no place like Texas but now I have changed my mind. And now I say just give me any place in the U. S. A. I'd be glad to be any place there. Any way, I realize more every day what we are fighting for. And let me tell you, it is worth every ounce of effort we put into it, because the States are second heaven.

I'll drop you a line now and then or as often as I can. Write when you can and keep praying for us all. Love,

RAYMOND.

Pvt. Paul E. Miles, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Miles of 416 N. 6th St., Memphis, is at Camp Walters for basic training as an infantryman. He has been assigned to a battalion stressing heavy weapons.

Writing from Italy where he is with a supply squadron, S. Sgt. A. G. Callahan explains to his mother, Mrs. J. J. McMickin, the army's plan of sending soldiers home on rotation. His letter:

My Dearest Mother: Things here are running very steady and everything is all right. We still have enough work to do to keep us pretty busy. I have been given more responsibilities of late mainly about four more classes to supervise and it has kept me pretty well on the go every day getting around to each warehouse and to keeping everything straight within them all. I have no complaints and life is very kind to us over here. I am in the very best of health and feeling better than I have felt in some time. The summer months are here and it is getting hot but our nights are always cool so that does not keep us from getting a good night's rest. This climate is a great deal like California's, especially around Bakersfield, so that will give you an idea of what it is like around here.

Our squadron has changed a great deal within the last year as many of the original boys are no longer with us having been sent to another unit or some of them having returned home. Most of the boys that I pal around with are still with the outfit and Lord knows how much longer we will be together. The only one of the old gang that is not with us now and that I miss is "Smitty" and he is better off at home with the condition his back is in now.

I realize that you worry too much about me and that you can not help it. I can not assure you any more of the safety that I possess than I have already given you. We are far from danger and are living better than the average soldier back home. Our food, quarters and facilities for working and for leisure is better than anyone could care to ask for on overseas duty. Sometimes we feel that we are so far from the thick of things that we actually believe that we will soon be branded as "home guards" ourselves. Mother, please do not worry about me any longer.

It is our privilege to get hold of newspapers from the States that are quite recent and they are noted for spreading things on pretty thick, more so when it is dealing with soldiers. We have noticed time and time again about the stories that they dish out to the public at home concerning the activities of soldiers having spent a certain time overseas being able to be returned home on rotation. The story that they present you people gives you thought to think that in a matter of days all soldiers being on active duty for a certain period of time will be back home.

What they write and what is actually the case is two different things which I will try to explain as best as I can. The fact is the truth that after a certain length of time overseas that a soldier is eligible to return to the states on rotation a month which is very little considering other things. The men taking priority on this is the condition of his age, his health, his ability to be replaced, his conditions at home, and the rank that he holds. Men in the first three grades, as I am classified, have no hopes for some time of reaching rotation because the rotation, you go from your present squadron to a port to await transportation home. You may wait several months before you leave for home.

God bless you and keep you forever in our hearts. Your youngest son,

A. G. CALLAHAN.

Fruit punch was served with the three-tiered wedding cake which carried out the bride's chosen colors of pink and white. Pink gladioli and ferns were used to decorate the reception suite. Approximately 200 guests were present.

Your Easter card was pretty. Well, Mother, I have seen some Japs and may have to kill them too. We are on out-post now, and don't know how long we will be here. Some of us were on patrol the other day and we saw ten Japs, and I think we got some of them. I have some Jap money which I will send you in this letter.

I got the letter that Zack wrote. He told me about army life. Wait until he is in the army about three years and then he can talk about it when he has to stay overseas away from his family.

I guess you have read in the papers that the boys on the front get the best of everything, but that is all not so, for we don't get much at all. Mostly what we eat is rice that we get from the Japs. From your son, ways, on our dairy farms, women and girls have had a day of chores to do... morning... seven days a week. But they are doing now would be essential to the winning war, and among the most important of these are the production of milk. In cheese, for example, important nutrients of milk are concentrated in a flavorful form for use in our fighting men, and in our allies around the world. The Government's requirement for this year is now set at 450 million pounds. (More than the whole nation produced in 1918 when the last war ended!) And over 500 million more pounds of cheese are needed for you and other civilians to share.

THIS ADVERTISEMENT, ONE OF A SERIES TO HELP ACQUAINT THE GENERAL PUBLIC WITH THE DAIRY FARMER'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE WAR EFFORT, appears in full-page size in The Saturday Evening Post July 1st and in Collier's July 15th issue

From America's dairy farms, into the Armed Forces, have gone many sons, brothers, fathers. Still there is the daily job of caring for the cows, the task of harvesting feed to store against the winter's need.

It means work, hard work over long hours... and calluses on the hands. Our hats are off to these heroines who unfatigably fight on the United Nations' food front!

Because of the tremendous demand, both military and civilian, you may not be able to get as much Kraft Cheese as you would like, or get your favorite varieties—Kraft American, "Old English," "Philadelphia," Brand Cream Cheese, Velveeta, and so on. But you may be sure, as always, that every cheese or cheese food which bears the Kraft name represents the very highest standard of quality.

Clementine, milk source on Midway Island in the Pacific, had an accident which hampered her fly switching operations, but the trouble wasn't too much for the inventive Seabees, who dry-docked her and secured a three-quarter inch manila rope to the stub of her lost tail. Thus repaired, Clementine does business as contentedly as before. Note the finishing touch, raveled end of the rope, so the flies won't know. (Navy photo.)

Attention! All Home Canners
 Before you begin your 1944 canning. Good Housekeeping Magazine advises you: use the boiling water bath method for tomatoes and fruits, only. Can all vegetables except tomatoes by the correct use of a pressure cooker to be sure of killing botulinus germs. In the last few years, cases of botulinus food poisoning have cropped up in widely different parts of the country. Buy, borrow, share a pressure cooker—but don't can low-acid vegetables any other way. If you want further information, write Good Housekeeping Magazine, 959 8th Avenue, New York 19, N. Y.

Miss Dorothy Montgomery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery, left morning for New York where she has accepted a position with the Associated Press. She will attend five weeks. She received a degree in journalism from Tech, Lubbock, last year.
