WOMEN WORK

By INEZ BAKER

You will want to know how the work at the surgical dressings rooms is progressing. Well, we are a little disappointed as we expected to finish the quota of 34,200 in July. But a great deal has been accomplished. With the week ending last Monday 19,325 dressings had been made, leaving a total of 14,875.

Mrs. B. Webster, production chairman, and Mrs. W. C. Davis, surgical dressings chairman, are very much pleased with the work accomplished even though the attendance has not been high. But some of the women who are working every afternoon and doing every thing they can to finish the task called your reporter out because a statement of the facts and an appeal for more workers had not been made recently through this column. So these are the facts. And with a little more cooperation from all the quota can be finished the first week in August. Is there any woman or girl in Memphis who cannot give some time right now to the completion of this most vital work. Set aside at least one afternoon a week for the Red Cross.

It is up to the women and girls of Memphis to do this. We cannot expect the women from other communities to assist very much. Tires are wearing thin and gas is scarce but above all the women on the farms are busy. I have talked with many farmer-wives during the past month and they are working side by side with the menfolks. It is almost impossible to get farm laborers and the women are driving tractors, trucks, and hoeing cotton. I have never seen finer cotton, nor have I ever seen a better weed crop. Because of the nice rains and shortage of labor the weeds are having a holiday. Farm work is vital too. May I add, it is pretty cool in the Red Cross rooms, with electric fans and plenty of ice water.

The Salisbury Sewing club brought in Monday afternoon: 36 triangular bandages, 10 bedside bags, 3 pillowcases for fracture pillows, 1 wheel chair pillowcase, 1 small dress, 1 quilt. The quilt was sent by Mrs. McCullam, whose son, Cecil McCollum, is overseas. Mrs. McCollum lived here formerly and still likes to help the Red Cross. We are sure other clubs have sent in hospital articles but have not reported them to the reporter. Hospital slippers and triangular badges are needed most now of all hospital items. Let's finish the surgical dressings next week.

J. D. WEBSTER WINS PANTEX CHAMPIONSHIP

J. D. Webster, in past years one of Memphis best golfers, won the Pantex Golf Association championship tournament Monday at Amarillo, when he nosed out R. S. Phillips 1-up in 19 holes.

Webster put on an amazing rally. After being down at the turn, he blazed the back nine one under par figures to force the match into overtime. He showed steady nerves when he birdied the last two holes to even the match. On the 19th hole he took a par four, while Phillips could only get a bogie.

Maps drawn in the Middle Ages frequently show the earth as a flat disk with Jerusalem at the center.

The proudest title in the Army

IT CONSISTS OF two simple words.

Yet every soldier who's worth his salt covets it.

This title is simply:

"Good Soldier."

It isn't just happenstance that so many women in the WAC have earned this title—the proudest in the Army.

For wherever Wacs are working, both here and overseas, there you find a job well done. And done with a spirit so gallant and fine that high Army officers everywhere say of the WAC...

"They're soldiers. Good soldiers!"

the things I was taught then are different from the Naval system of correspondence, etc., but as I said, it all helps.

I might add that the knowledge and experience I have acquired since I have been in the Naval service, could not be obtained from me for any price.

I have been places and have seen things, that probably would have never been possible otherwise. Of course there are some things I'd just as soon not have seen, but since I fully understand it was in a good cause, I don't regret it one bit.

Well, granddaddy, I guess time has about caught up with me, so must go to work. (Can't beat the enemy playing you know.) Please write me soon and tell all the folks back home that you see, who remember me, I would be very happy to hear from them anytime and I promise a prompt answer at my earliest convenience. Until we come home gain, stay happy, keep smiling, and keep those home fires burning. Lots of love, your grandson,
HERBERT R. GARNER.

Lt. W. M. Day of the amphibious truck company of the army, somewhere in France, wrote the following letter to his wife.

July 7, 1944

I am sitting on the beach in the sunshine trying to think of something to write. Letter writing isn't in my line anyway. I am not so hot when it comes to thinking of something to say. Not much of interest happens here, the same old grind day in and day out. I am working fairly hard but it isn't the work that bothers me as much as the long hours I have to put in. Hope you will pardon the pencil but it is the only thing I could lay my hands on at the moment. Wish you could send me some paper and envelopes. That sort of thing is impossible to get here. I have visited several towns recently in this vicinity but there isn't much left of them. Our planes and guns really did a good job on the landscape. From all reports, we are doing good on all fronts. Maybe we can wind this deal up soon. I hope so, for I am sure wearing out my welcome here.

This country is nice as far as climate and scenery goes but it hasn't much else to offer. There are a few French people in the locality but they are of the peasant type and sort of seedy looking. I have heard so much of the modern French I was rather surprised. They are definitely not the metropolitan type one reads about and sees in pictures. They are not overly clean either. I met a Frenchman who is quite a land owner here. He lives in a large castle near our camp. He was an officer in the French army before France fell. He showed me through his castle and it was really beautiful. Quite a place with its antique furnishings and architecture. Fellow spoke English after a fashion, so we got along fair. Most of the houses are pretty well gone. The Germans used them for billets while occupying the country. The French in this section had it pretty easy, for this is the farming part of France. They still have their cattle and farms and have no suffered as those who lived in cities. The Germans were demanding of the French but as far as I can see they were not treated too badly.

This place has the funniest weather of any place I have been. One moment the sun is shining, the next it is raining. And how it does rain. I have never seen so much in so short a time. It is raining now and it wasn't when I started this letter. We have a tent set up on the beach so fare pretty well. Our eats are on the up trend so I feel better, also I am now sleeping on a cot. I still have my foxhole but use it only when the bombs start to fall. And they even are not falling so regularly now. Matter of fact, it is almost peaceful now. Somehow I can't seem to realize we have been here a month yesterday. Time sure passes fast. It's been six months now since I left the States, and it seems years since I left you in Memphis. A lot of water has passed under the bridge since then, hasn't it? I have seen a lot of countryside since I left you. Had enough experience to last a lifetime. Was in on an invasion, saw action, and am still living to tell about it. Have endured a lot of hardships, but I think the cause was great enough, come any sacrifice we have had to make. My only wish now is to return home and be able to live normally again. To start a home of our own and to be free and independent of everyone and everything. We were fortunate enough to have had a little happiness before the start of this, and for that I am truly grateful. But when I get back it should be even better than before because the future won't be shadowed with uncertainty as it was before. Nothing will stand in our path. We can start a home and know it can be permanent. Live as we choose, no rules to govern our actions and can work as we see fit, go where we choose, be our own boss. All my love, your husband, WALL.

S. Sgt. Jimmie D. Holbrook of North 7th street, Memphis, is now serving with the Eastern Command of U. S. Strategic Air Forces in Europe, "somewhere in Russia," with a contingent of picked American troops that now staffs U. S. bomber and fighter bases in the Soviet Union.

S. Sgt. Holbrook, son of Mrs. Jim Holbrook, was among troops dispatched to the Soviet Union by the Army Air Forces, and with their Soviet Allies they built bases in what high-ranking American officers described as a "surprisingly short time." Now soldiers of the two nations jointly operate them.

Rogers passed an aptitude test and standard driver's qualification test, performed the duty of a driver or assistant driver for a minimum of three

Pfc. Chas. B. Coleman, U. S. Marines, wrote the following letter to his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brown. He is also a nephew of Roy Coleman. The letter is believed to have been written around May 1.

7 a. m. at Sea
Dearest Uncle Sam and Aunt Ida:
Just a line to let you know I still think of you. I'm at sea on my way to combat, that's the reason I've not been writing. I'll get me a Jap this time for sure. I sure hope the allotment is coming now. There is little I can tell you, aside from don't worry, I've trained two and a half years for this. Remember that Xmas, the last one at home, I was really ready to fight then. This won't be any snap but I'll make out, you bet your boots.

Uncle Sam, when you hear and read that the old 2nd. division is giving the Japs hell again, that's us. God bless and keep you, love to all.

Keep Up Fight Against Inflation

We're not hearing so much these days about the danger of inflation. But we'd better take a warning from the Chinese and be vigilant.

Here's an example of bad inflation in China has become. It's a menu from a restaurant in a Chinese city. Soup was listed at $40 a bowl. A steak was priced at $125 and chicken at $210. The Chinese report also that deflation can be just as dangerous. When the Burma road was cut by the Japanese, the buying power of the population was so decreased over night that prices dropped 50 to 75 per cent. Many merchants were ruined.

With price control functioning, such disasters aren't so likely in this country. But there are some things you can do in the battle of inflation. These suggestions for farm families come from W. B. Hooser, county agent. And here they are: First, buy all the war bonds you can. Second, pay your debts. Third, take the best possible care of buildings and equipment—don't waste anything. Fourth, buy only the things you really need. Fifth, produce as much of your own family food as possible. Sixth, produce your share of the nation's farm products.

Now here's the seventh, and it's worth remembering: Don't borrow money for non-essentials, bors and share your equipment and machinery and time. Ninth, do as much of your own farm work as you can without overtaxing your strength. And here's the tenth and last: Pay your taxes on time.

COUNTY RESOURCES TO BE SURVEYED

The state of Texas is seeking to find the mineral resources of every section of the state, and asks that a survey be made of Hall County.

Earl Ferris, chairman of the development committee of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, wants samples of various kinds of rocks, clay deposits, brought to the chamber of commerce office in order that they may be tested to determine if there are any such resources worth developing in the county. He urges that all having clay deposits of any nature, or any rocks that could possibly contain any showing of any kind of mineral, to bring them in soon as possible.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

CLAUDE'S COMMENTS

By J. C. W.

If the regular election in November doesn't create any more interest than was shown in the primary election last Saturday in Hall County, most anything can happen. After the national Democratic convention selected Senator Truman of Missouri as running mate for President Roosevelt, there is little doubt about the outcome—the Democratic ticket will win. It is doubtful if it could have won had Vice President Wallace been nominated in stead of Truman.

People are more interested in winning the war than electing anyone to public office. Should the war not be won before the regular election time, President Roosevelt will be reelected because the people will not want to throw anything in the way of winning the war. If the war is won before election, the people will be too grateful and happy to change presidents.

Bill Phleuger of West Main street says he has heard that Darwin told about man's descent from the monkey, and wonders when the descent is going to begin.

My reader list is growing right along. Every day or so some one is kind enough to mention reading my comments. Most of them are complimentary in their remarks, whether they mean them or not.

A number of newspapers over the Panhandle seem to be up against help shortage like The Democrat. The publishers have to get by the best way they can, and are having to neglect their editorial columns. But, somehow, some way, they manage to get the paper to the readers each week. Last Thursday we missed getting the Democrats into the postoffice in time for city readers to get their papers before going home for the night—the first time in several years. By trading our beds off for lanterns that night the readers got their papers early Friday. Not making any promises for this week other than to do our best.

Matilda Upstart of East Noel street wonders why some women are afraid that a square meal will spoil their curves.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank each one for your kindness and loyalty since my accident. Everything that you did was greatly appreciated.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer sagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feet tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Bootleggers and Black Markets exist only where there are shortages—and a chance to make big profits by breaking ceiling prices.

There are no Black Markets in electricity, nor are there any shortages.

And far from pushing against price ceilings, the price of electricity has stayed right down on the floor. In fact, over the last 15 years, the average price to the average family has been cut just about in half. Of course, you probably have more electric appliances and use more electricity today than you did then—but you're getting twice as much for your money!

Your thanks for such a big bargain belong largely to your friends and neighbors who work with this company. They're doing a better job every year.

DOOS OF THE MOMENT BY UNCLE BOB of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service supposed to be pinned to dress uniforms, she says.

I don't know anything more discouraging than to see a lot of work go up in smoke. Maybe you've watched the results of spontaneous combustion in your haymow, with loss of hay and barn. Purdue has a suggestion of how to forestall such loss, simply by taking the hay's temperature.

Use a half inch pipe, with a pointed plug in one end. Drill a series of 3/4 inch holes in the side of the pipe, above the plug. Push the pipe into the hay and lower a thermometer into the pipe, leaving it in long enough to record actual temperature.

Purdue says at 150 degrees, the hay is entering the danger zone. At 160 degrees, inspect every four hours. At 175, stop all ventilation and call fire department for standby service. At 185, remove hot hay and have a fire department pumper ready to quench flames which probably will develop when air comes in contact with the hay.

Hay is almost sure to ignite at 210 degrees. I suggest you write the Extension Service at Lafayette, Indiana, for Leaflet 229 which gives a complete discussion of spontaneous combustion.

Probably we have not handed enough bouquets to the women for their part in the farmer's war job. We believe, like the Maine farmer, in giving credit where due. Someone told him that Andrew Carnegie came to America with 25c in his pocket but died leaving an estate of $250,000,000. "Must have married a mighty saving woman," the Downeaster commented.

You may be working on preparation of pastures now for small grains and for seedbeds. Wisconsin circular 338 has some helpful ideas on this subject. This bulletin says land which has been used for peas, soybeans, or cultivated crops need not be plowed but worked with a disc, spring tooth or field cultivator. A reasonably smooth seedbed, loosened to a depth of two or three inches, should be made for planting small grains.

Sods or areas badly infested with quackgrass need plowing now and should be worked immediately. The bulletin can be obtained from the University of Wisconsin Extension Service, Madison, Wisconsin.

*NOTE: There usually is a 5c charge for pamphlets mailed to non-residents of a state; but possibly your own state has a free pamphlet on the same subject. Ask your county agent.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH!

• We are in business for your health. Yes, that's literally true. To preserve and further your good health, is our first consideration. We do this through the careful compounding of your Physician's prescriptions. Here, you are assured the uninterrupted efforts of skilled registered pharmacists; the use of fresh, potent drugs at all times, and the knowledge that your prescription will be filled precisely as the Doctor directs.
 Finally, the price you are asked to pay is fair, based on accurate knowledge of controlled costs. Because of our large volume and correspondingly low overhead, it costs no more to give you a bottle of our prepared compounds here.
