Day Celebration Plans Should Be Adopted Soon

VE-(Victory in Europe) Day may not be far off.

It is time for Memphis to make plans for observing that momentous occasion.

Other towns and cities all over America are ready to celebrate the moment the news is flashed. Memphis should get ready, have all plans made and publicized, so there will be no delay or misunderstanding when the time comes. This is the belief of a number of business men and citizens who would like for the chamber of commerce or other organization to take the lead and get something done definitely now.

Shall the business houses close on V-Day? Why wait?

The plan adopted by others is as follows: If the surrender is announced before 12 noon business houses will close for the balance of the day. If it is made in the afternoon they will close the balance of that day and all the next day. If at night or early in the morning the firms will not open their doors. If the news comes on Sunday the firms will not open on Monday.

Bronze Star Medal Awarded to Corporal R. E. Vandeventer

Cpl. Robert E. Vandeventer, Infantry, U. S. Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Vandeventer of Memphis, was among those awarded a Bronze Star Medal on 28 April 1944 by command of Major General Beightler of the 37th Infantry Division.

The award was made to officers and enlisted men, Cpl. Vandeventer being one of the number and the citation read as follows:

"For meritorious performance of duty during the period March 9 to 13, 1944, inclusive, at Bougainville, Solomon Islands. The enemy attack of the American perimeter resulted in the establishment of their forward elements 75 yards from an infantry battalion forward ammunition dump, in the well cleared reverse slope of a hill which was thereby rendered subject to intermittent mortar and 90mm mortar fire at close range. The members of the Pioneer Platoon of the battalion realized the importance of the ammunition dump and the importance of keeping constant mortar fire upon the enemy avenues of approach, to the penetration they had made into our lines, they exerted themselves to the limits of their physical endurance to insure that a sufficient supply of ammunition was available to all weapons. In doing so, all were wounded to various degrees, but continued their work without delay, under continuous heavy mortar and sniper fire. On two occasions when a further penetration by the fanatical enemy seemed imminent these men aided in the defense of our perimeter and remained there, in the reserve line, until the intensity of the enemy attack subsided. During the lull in the battle these men voluntarily aided in the moving of the wounded from the front line down a very steep, slippery hill and carried them to the aid station, exposing themselves to enemy fire."

Cpl. Vandeventer has been in service 18 months, receiving his training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and has been overseas since September, 1943.

Your actions were an inspiration to your comrades in arms. You have reflected great credit on yourself and the military service."

Lakeview Youth Speeds Up Repair Of War Planes

M. SGT. EARL L. KNIGHT

Washington, August 25.—The ingenuity of American GIs in devising new ways of repairing planes, devising parts and working out time-saving gadgets has been of tremendous aid in keeping the U. S. Army 12th and 15th Air Force planes meeting combat schedules, the War Department announces.

Master Sergeant Earl L. Knight of Lakeview, Texas, a shop foreman in the 12th Air Force, saved planes from being grounded by devising a propeller balancing stand from several pieces of railroad track and parts from wrecked aircraft.

The following is from Knight's headquarters: Master Sergeant Earl L. Knight of Lakeview, Tex. didn't forget what he told him back home about "improvising in wartime" and so when the task of designing a propeller balancing stand was thrust upon him, he did his darndest. When the krauts wrecked rail tracks, they didn't know they were giving to Knight valuable equipment. He used this type of metal for framework and scrounged other parts from a salvage heap. Result: Ten propellers saved out of 13 that would have gone to a repair depot and cost much needed time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McIntire of Lubbock came Wednesday and will make their home here. They are pioneer residents of Hall County, having lived here until a few years ago.

Veteran of Three Invasions Here

CORPORAL J. C. LOCKHART

Cpl. J. C. Lockhart arrived on last Saturday for a visit of some 26 days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lockhart. He recently landed in the States from the Italian war front. Following his visit here he will report to California for further orders. He was released from his outfit in the Third "Marne" Division for a three-month furlough in the United States under the army rotation plan.

Corporal Lockhart was with the Third Division when it made the initial North African invasion Nov. 8, 1942, at Fedala, French Morocco. Later he became one of "Truscott's Trotters," when the "Marne" Division made its spectacular march across Sicily under Maj. Gen. Truscott, and took Palermo in record time.

Lockhart saw real action at the Anzio Beachhead in Italy. He was on this beachhead 63 days without relief, and his outfit never retreated a foot in all that time, yet they were under fire night and day. All the shelter they had were road ditches, a few houses. They couldn't dig and use foxholes because of water coming up in them.

One time on this beachhead he and some ten comrades took refuge in a house. The Germans shelled and completely demolished the house and he was the only one to come out alive.

In spite of all the hell he went through in the three invasions, Lockhart is looking well and feeling good, and is enjoying his visit at home after being absent nearly two years.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brookshier of Silverton and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Brookshier of Lefors spent Sunday here with their mother, Mrs. J. S. Brookshier. H. L. Brookshier's son, John C., who is with a fighter squadron overseas, has been personally commended by General Doolittle for the fine work he is doing.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Baker visited in Wellington Sunday with her sister, Mrs. George Scruggs, and mother, Mrs. A. D. McCrory. Mrs. McCrory returned to Memphis with them and will visit them for some time.

Producers May Set Ceiling Price On Boll Pulling

A series of meetings of cotton producers of Hall County are being held this week according to the following dates and places:

Lakeview, Sept. 12, at 8:30. Estelline, Sept. 13, at 8:30. Turkey, Sept. 14, at 8:30. Memphis, Sept. 16, at 8:30.

These meetings are being held to decide whether or not a ceiling price shall be imposed upon cotton picking and pulling in this area.

"Before a ceiling may be in effect on pulling cotton, 51 per cent of the cotton producers in an agricultural area must go on record as being in favor of the ceiling price," County Agent W. B. Hooser stated. "The purpose of the meeting is to give every cotton producer in the county full information on the subject so that he may decide whether or not he is in favor of it."

There are about 90 counties in this agricultural area, Hooser explained, and if a majority of the counties are in favor of the ceiling price, it will be in effect in the whole area.

Area meetings have been held in Paducah, Abilene and Lubbock in which the cotton farmers were called upon to decide for or against the ceiling price. The Paducah meeting, held Sept. 7, was attended by Mr. Hooser, Arthur Edeleman, A. Gidden, D. A. Nealey, Paul Montgomery, according to Hooser, the farmers in that district, with 29 counties represented, went on record as in favor of the ceiling price.

If these ceiling prices are voted in effect by the producers and exceeded, two penalties will be in effect as follows: a $1,000 fine and so many days in jail; and the producer will not be allowed to deduct any labor cost from his income tax.

A meeting was held at Lakeview Tuesday night and reports are that a large number of farmers were present and favored $1.50 as the ceiling price for pulling cotton.

Every cotton producer in Hall County is urged to attend one of the above meetings. No county may set a ceiling price, but it will be done in areas consisting of about 70 counties, it was said.

PROMOTED—Sidney W. Landers, a former Memphis boy, has been promoted from Lieutenant to the rank of Captain. He has been three years in the service, three months in India, and was with the Buick firm in Lubbock before entering the service. He graduated from the Estelline high school in 1936, and attended Tech at Lubbock.

Eagles-Mustangs, Cyclone-Yannigans Games on Sport Card for Friday Night

Football attendance will be divided in the Memphis-Lakeview section Friday night when the Lakeview Eagles meet the Wheeler Mustangs and the Memphis Cyclone takes on the Amarillo Yannigans in the opening game for both Lakeview and Memphis.

Memphis will be interested in the Eagle-Mustang game as the Cyclone will later meet these teams in conference play.

Principal Coach Denton is reported to have his Lakeview Eagles in good condition for the conference tilt with the Mustangs.

Lakeview has a smaller squad than in years past, but several of last year's lettermen are back in the lineup and the team should be in the running throughout the football season, fans believe.

Probable starting lineup for the Lakeview game: Lakeview—Lawrence, lb; Gowdy, lb; Poyner, lb; Rumpy, c; Wolf, re; A. C. Sams, rt; Raymond Sams, re; Jester, back; Moreman, back; Montgomery, back.

Officials: Lieut. Tom Swope, Capt. Gray and Sgt. Warta of the Childrens AAF.

VANDIVER WRITES ABOUT AMPHIBIOUS WARFARE

Chief Petty Officer Ralph Vandiver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vandiver of Memphis, stated in a recent letter to his parents that some time ago he had written a course to be used by the amphibious force, and it must have proven a success as it is now in use, and he is teaching the course himself.

Some few years ago he was a member of a surveying crew composed of Navy personnel and civilians, most of them experts in their professions. For instance, he said, one was a fish expert who attempted to find out the different kinds of fish to be found in different parts of the oceans.

Dear Mother, Dad and All: Will write a few lines. This finds me well. Hope you are all doing fine. I got the Democrat and it said that the crops are ideal for this time of the year.

I still have not seen Ed Walls yet. He is quite a ways from me. You might remind Joe he hasn't written me yet. Had a letter from J. R. today and he said they were all well and working. I guess that Jeff is still up on the plains. Sure would like to see him.

Hope you get to send me the camera and lots of films. Say, Joe, if you ever go to Turkey stop in at a restaurant run by a fellow named Winn; his brother is a corporal in our outfit.

Haven't heard from A. J. in a long time. He sure hates to write. It is surely hard to write with a lot of arguing going on around you. Take care of yourselves and write when you can. Lots of love, LEON. Somewhere in France, August 24, 1944.

Dear Mother and All: Will drop you a few lines to let you know that I am all right. I am in combat now. Have seen a lot of towns that sure were flat. Some that didn't even have a building standing. Maybe this will be over before long. Do you know that I have not

They surveyed most all of the islands in the southern Pacific, taking note of the size and kind of coast and surrounding land, taking the depth of the ocean in all cases. They were told this information was to be used for navigation purposes. This, no doubt, aided in the success of the invasions of these islands and saved a number of lives and lots of material, Vandiver wrote.

Petty Officer Vandiver and his party were surveying the north end of South America at the time Germany was invading Norway. Vandiver wrote his parents and stated, "If I were in command now the first thing I would do would be to destroy the Japanese fleet, with or without an excuse for it is a sure thing we will have to do it sooner or later, and right now while we have nothing else to do, we could do the job. But if we put it off until we are engaged in other parts, it will not be such an easy job."

Stationed at Norfolk, Va., Vandiver is one of the teachers in the Navy deisel school at the Navy operating base.

MERLE DAVIS COMPLETES WAVE BOOT TRAINING

The following article appeared in the Wichita, Kansas, Eagle in August: A Wichita, because she lived here and worked for Boeing Aircraft before entering the Waves, Merle Davis, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Davis, Lakeview, Texas, much prefers the Navy to the assembly line, and wants to go into the Yeoman work.

Seaman Davis has been in the Bronx only two weeks, but she and her roommates are looking forward to their first liberty. They have a swear-box, into which are deposited nickles by every mate who has become particularly explosive about something and expresses herself with a suggestion of profanity. It isn't getting them any better tempers, Merle admits, but it promises a high time on their liberty.

Merle entered the Waves on July 27, and has just finished her boot training at Hunters College in the Bronx, New York. She has been promoted to Seaman second class, and is now in Stillwell, Okla. to begin her Yeoman work. She reports that she likes the Navy very much.

Mrs. Jessie Jones visited last week in Mangum, Okla., with relatives and friends.

Women In Service

Pvt. Frances Moore is the only W A C gate guard stationed at Fort Sill, Okla. She carries no gun but wears the MP brassard and white belt. She takes over the gates to handle special enforcement assignments or to relieve the regular guards. Private Moore served in the old WAAC as a driver and assistant dietician. She then became a civilian guard at Hill Field, Utah, for five months before joining the WAC May 24, and her present assignment is based on that experience. Her husband, also from Memphis, Cpl. Paul Moore, has been with the 5th Army in Italy the last 20 months. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Powers.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Rogers went to Lubbock Wednesday to take their son Thomas who entered Tech College. They were accompanied by Mrs. Claud Johnson.

Oren Jones was in Hartley last week-end. Mrs. Jones accompanied him to Amarillo where she visited Mrs. Jack Figh.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

AIRPORT SHOULD HAVE FIRST POST-WAR CONSIDERATION

In order that Memphis people may know something about what is required in establishing an airport the following is taken from the Tulia Herald concerning specifications for an airport suitable for the small town:

J. D. Church, engineer of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, with offices in El Paso, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Tulia Kiwanis Club, Tuesday at noon.

The Civil Aeronautics authority gave specifications for an airport that he deemed most suitable for communities of the size of Tulia. He said the proposed plan would call for approximately a section of land, that would accommodate two or three bladed strips for runways, 300 feet wide and at least 2500 feet long. He recommended that enough land be purchased at the outset so that the strips could be lengthened at anytime to accommodate larger planes. The proposed field would be suitable mostly for civilian planes, which he estimated would outnumber transports at the rate of 250 to 1 after the war. He said the number of planes owned by civilians would increase in the near future due to the act the army would place some 11,000 planes on the market for civilians, and that many more civilian planes would be in operation as soon as they were available.

He said the airport should by all means be as close to town as possible and should have a large hanger, at least 80x80 feet to accommodate large planes if necessary, with as many small auxiliary hangers as were needed.

THE WEEKLY'S CONTRIBUTION

The weekly newspaper throughout all American history has been the sire of the daily. From 1690, when the first newspaper, a weekly, was established in Boston, to 1784, when the Daily Advertiser began publication in Philadelphia, the American people depended entirely upon weekly newspapers for their information covering home, national and world events. Today 40 per cent of all the newspapers of the world are published weekly.

The weekly newspaper has played a more definite part in the development of the country than has the daily. It was the weekly that migrated westward with the movement of population. A pioneer editor set up his modest plant where a few families located. His efforts held the little community together er and attracted other families. He promoted community interests and created pride in the growing town on the part of its inhabitants.

"I'm homesick—mind giving me a sock on the jaw every time I break a plate?"

As towns grew in size, the newspapers grew with them. It was the newspaper leadership that was largely responsible for town growth.

It has been the weekly newspaper that has created on the part of the people, the demand for news. It made the daily paper possible when there were enough people to make the larger venture a financial success. In many instances the editor of the weekly changed to daily issue. If he did not and the larger field was left for others to occupy, they but profited from the demand the editor of the weekly had created. It had created a place for a daily by its aid in building a community and by the creation of a demand for news.

Shortly before his death, Victor Lawson told a group of Chicago business executives that for any worthy cause the rural press, per thousand circulation, could make ten votes for each one made by the metropolitan press. Victor Lawson was then publisher and editor of the Chicago Daily News.

So long as the rural town exists as a market place, a social and cultural center, the rural newspaper will continue as a worthy representative of its community.—Publisher's Auxiliary.

While their bodies are growing and their sight is strengthening, see that they have good light to read by. Know How...

274 Years of It!

Two hundred and seventy-four years in the natural gas business!

Think of it—more than two and one-half centuries of knowledge and experience. That takes us back to more than sixty years before George Washington was born... to a century before our nation was established in the name of liberty and freedom.

This extensive span of years represents the combined years of service in the natural gas business of the eleven district managers of our companies.

That's a long, long time! It accounts for the "know how" so necessary in maintaining dependable natural gas service. And now this experience and knowledge, united with that of all our employees, are dedicated to the war effort... protecting and making secure the liberty and freedom that are our American heritage.

Helping to win the war is STILL our No. 1 Job!
