Cyclone Squad Crippled Ready For 'Rockets'

Wounded by injuries on the eve of the decisive game of the District 3-A race, the Memphis Cyclone goes to town Friday night to tangle with the favored Skyrocks, with hope for victory considerably lessened from what it looked like a week ago.

With Captain Frank Smith limping from a sprained ankle, Curley Sanderson nursing a bruised shoulder and other members of the regular line-up still feeling the effects of a severe mauling at McLean last week, the Cyclone squad is still determined to give Wellington a run for its money—but fully appreciating its handicaps.

There were indications Wednesday that Tackle Jackie Blum might not be in the line-up, and doors were not certain whether Smith or Sanderson could play more than a few minutes of the game.

Wellington is the district favorite this season despite its loss to Childers in the opening game. The Cyclone as yet is undefeated but it has not met the stiff opposition that the Skyrocks have faced. The Wellington squad took Lefors last week 13 to 0 as Memphis was handing a 14 to 0 defeat to McLean.

The local pep squad will accompany the team to Wellington and as many fans as can get transportation plan to be on hand rooting for the Cyclone to continue its march toward a district title.

The Tigers gave the locals their toughest game of the season last Friday night and the game was marked by hard playing on both sides.

At the outset the Tigers took the ball on their own 30 and marched to the Cyclone 20 where Jimmy McElreath intercepted a pass and ran it back 60 yards. Sanderson carried to the Tigers one-yard line and went over on the next play.

The Tigers got to the Cyclone one-foot line in the second period when Robertson recovered a McLean fumble to end the threat.

Lamkin intercepted a pass in the fourth quarter on the Cyclone 25 and ran it to the 40, McLean drew a 15-yard penalty for unnecessary roughness, and Smith and Sanderson alternated in moving down field, with Smith going over for the final five. Sanderson again added the extra point.

Migus injuries and illness the Cyclone starting line-up Friday will be: Billington and Robertson ends; Blum and McMillan, tackles; Ballew and Monzingo, guards; Lamkin, center; Sanderson, Kilpatrick, McElreah and Smith, back field.

1,500 More Hands Needed to Gather Hall Cotton Crop

Extension Service Making Effort to Recruit Workers From Down-State Areas

The shortage of cotton pickers and others to help gather Hall County's cotton and feed crops is reaching the acute stage, reports County Agent W. B. Hooser.

Despite the fact that several hundred hands have come into the county in recent weeks, there is now need for at least 1,500 workers, Hooser said Thursday morning. Most of the workers coming into the county so far, he reports, are in large groups which seek out big farms.

"The small cotton grower is not getting any help," he said.

In an effort to recruit more workers Hooser has prevailed upon the Extension Service of A. & M. to designate one field man down state to "look out for hands for Childers and Hall Counties" and direct them to this area.

New Cotton Loan Plan Is In Effect

The new cotton loan plan, wherein farmers may place cotton in storage and receive 95 per cent of parity, is now in effect, and banks and other purchasers are expected to have the necessary forms late this month for handling cotton which farmers want to sell to the Commodity Credit Corporation.

The CCC this season is offering to buy the cotton at full parity and a meeting was held in Washington two weeks ago when plans were worked out for the handling of the sale papers through banks. T. E. Noel, president of the First National bank of Memphis attended this meeting as a representative of the American Bankers Association's agriculture committee.

Loans are made on net weight and purchase of the cotton is on gross weight. Cotton placed in loan, however, increases five points per month, which approximately offsets the storage charges.

Services Tuesday For J. C. Beeman

Last rites were held on Tuesday, October 17 at 4:30 p. m. at the high school auditorium in Turkey for Joseph C. Beeman, who passed away at his home in Turkey on Sunday. Mr. Beeman was 56 years of age and was a long-time resident of Hall County. He was the brother of Mrs. Isabel Cypert, district clerk.

Mr. Beeman was born in Geneva County, Alabama. He associated himself with the Baptist church at the age of six years and had been a long and hard worker in the church. He was married to Miss Minnie Peetree on December 24, 1916. Besides his widow and sister, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Otis Hill of Turkey; three sons, Sgt. Major improvements at the Memphis Compress, which will give greater fire protection and better care of cotton in storage, are now under way.

An automatic water sprinkling system throughout the plant is to be installed and contract has been let to W. H. Ladew of Dallas.

This fire control installation will involve the laying of nearly two miles of cast iron water mains, approximately 4,500 feet being eight inch and the rest of six-inch line, the erection of a water storage tank of 100,000 gallon capacity on a 100-foot tower, and thousands of feet of small pipe throughout all buildings at the plant.

The storage tank will provide the compress with a dual water system, with heavy pressure into the mains at all times from both its own system and from the Community Public Service company's pipeline.

The sprinkler system and other improvements being made at the plant, which include the placing of asphaltic cement floors in warehouse buildings and the re-grouping of the storage rooms, will represent a heavy investment. The cost of the improvements was not announced by the company but it is believed that it will be in excess of $75,000.00.

The new fire control measures which are being taken by the company will provide an over-all protection to cotton in storage and will result in a lowering of fire insurance rates.

New Legion Home As War Memorial Is Being Talked

Plans for a new Legion home in Memphis, which would be a memorial to veterans of World War II, and which also would provide a hall for meetings of a public and civic nature, were approved by the local Post last Thursday night and an organization is now being perfected to get the project under way.

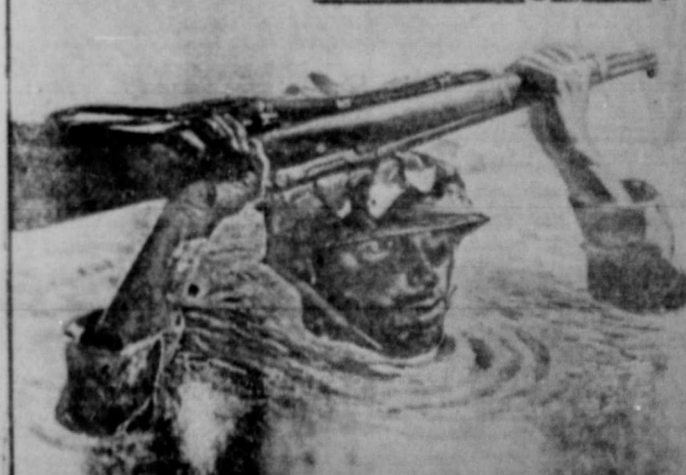

Charlie Meacham was named chairman of a special committee to handle the building fund and work out plans with the city council as to a site for the proposed new home. Plans for such a Legion home have been under consideration in Memphis for several months and the members now feel that the time is opportune for definite action.

A much larger building than the one now used will be necessary when World War II ends and the older members of the Post want to have the money raised and building plans completed by the time he men now in service return home. Mr. Meacham will have a general committee, with all communities in the county represented, and will announce the personnel of his group by next week.

His committee also will confer with members of the city council relative to a proposed site for the building on lots owned by the city, providing the Legion erects a building which could be used for civic and public meetings. Members of the council as individuals already have indicated their approval of such a plan.

On Mr. Meacham's committee, which was named by Commander Glynn Thompson, last week, are Dean Morgensen, O. V. Alexander and Jim Vallance.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT

BY UNCLE BOB

of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

Quite often, after you've puzzled over a way to solve some problem or other, when you finally get the answer it proves to be very simple. Keeping records of a dairy herd's production is rather a simple thing, but you'll be surprised at how many of your problems record-keeping will help you solve.

The cow-testing, or dairy herd improvement associations which have set up record-keeping on a uniform basis, have proved their value time and again in helping dairymen in a dozen ways. Purdue University lists these dozen helps in Bulletin 195, which discusses herd records and what they accomplish.

By keeping records, you will get information which can help place the herd on a lower cost of production. The records will show which cows are returning most dollars for the feed consumed. Accurate data on each cow's feed consumption and milk production will aid in using feed supplies to better advantage.

The information will be a valuable guide in deciding from which cows calves should be kept. You will know more about your high producers. Their calves, of course, are the ones to use for herd replacement.

Purdue Bulletin 195 discusses specific examples of how herd records aided the dairyman in changing his set-up so that he was able to operate on a better basis. I suggest you write the Extension Service at Lafayette, Ind., and get a copy of this leaflet.

Your county agent can give you information on cow-testing associations in your area and how you can join such a group.

The September issue of the Producers' Edition of the Kraftman contains a record-keeping chart and if you have not received a copy, write me at 500 Peshtigo Court, Chicago, and I'll mail you one.

A freight agent received a mixed load of merchandise one day, including a burro. He went over his list of items, checked his load, scratched his head and made out his report—"Short one bureau. Long one jackass."

If you didn't get around to checking over your buildings for any needed repairs during the summer, I'd like to suggest you go over them now. It would be really too bad to have a good part of your winter's feed supply ruined by a leaky silo or barn roof.

That barn door which hasn't been closing tight enough probably can be fixed with just a few minutes work. Maybe some windows in the barn, milkhouse and other buildings can use new panes of glass.

A little time spent now in repairs may prevent discomfort for both you and your cows when cold weather gets here.

Corn fodder is not the best roughage in the world, from the standpoint of food value, but it does have its uses in feeding. If you happen to be a little short of roughage, corn fodder can be used.

Purdue suggests you should either shred it or run it through a feed grinder or silage cutter, to chop it up. Cattle will like it better and it will have higher feed value if you can mix one to two pounds of molasses with four times the weight of water and sprinkle this on the roughage daily.

If corn fodder is used, the rest of your dairy ration should be high in protein. In the past few months, I have discussed a number of feeding guides which will help determine the amount of protein in your mixtures. Any one of those booklets mentioned in this column in the past will come in handy at this time.

Among these are Extension Service Circular 152, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala., and Circular 405, Extension Service, University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.*

Everyone has his own problems, like the farmer who was being complimented on his bumper crop, with good prices prevailing. "You haven't a thing to worry about this year," said a friend. "Well," came the reply, "these big crops are awful hard on the soil."

Most of the state colleges have made experiments on grinding grains and chopping hay before they are fed to cattle. The findings seem pretty conclusive that the cattle get more benefit when feed is ground than they do if it is fed whole.

Wisconsin offers Circular 286 on this subject and it goes into considerable detail as to what feed should be ground, and why, when and how fine it should be ground. You can get a copy by writing the Extension Service, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.*

Grinding helps the animal digest grain, makes it possible for more of the actual food to be absorbed. It saves feed. Ground grain or hay takes less storage space than if unground.

*NOTE: There usually is a 5c charge for pamphlets mailed to non-residents of a state, but possibly your own state has a free pamphlet on the same subject. Ask your county agent.

Dear Mother and Dad:
How is every little thing tonight? I'm doing fine except I am so tired I can hardly keep awake. I have been getting up every morning at 3 and getting to bed about 10 or later.

Day-before yesterday I flew. We went up about 38,000 feet, and brother, was it cold up there! It was almost six miles up and we used oxygen from 10,000 feet on up. At 28,000 feet if one does without oxygen for three minutes his goose is cooked. We have been making proper use of oxygen so there isn't anything to worry about.

This place is either desert or mountains. From 38,000 feet all we could see were mountains and desert. A river looked like a pencil mark. A large hanger on the air strip looked about the size of a pin point.

WHAT LANGUAGE IS THAT?

Prof. Tsk is a philologist. Words are his meat: Chinese, Sanskrit or Artec. He can even understand his freshman daughter and soldier son!

But the talk he's hearing now has him baffled.

You, too? ... Well, it's simply the everyday speech of the line crews who keep your home and community supplied with electricity—come what may.

A "shoo-fly," for example, is a temporary line built around a tree fall, washout or construction job.

These men don't coin curious words just for the fun of it. They use them, as a kind of oral shorthand—to speed their work and help bring you better electric service.

Lots of folks take the linemen's work for granted. But they are an essential part of the industry which—under experienced business management—has met every war demand for electricity—without shortage or rationing—at low prewar prices.

That's an accomplishment in any man's language.

*A "climbosome" is an apprentice lineman. A "gandidancer" is a laborer. A "how eye" is a dead-end tye. "Snoble gobble" is anything you can't remember by its name.

History points the way for Conservation

"THERE ARE SEVERAL, AMONG WHOM I MAY CLASS MYSELF, WHO ARE ENDEAVORING TO GET INTO YOUR REGULAR AND SYSTEMATIC COURSE OF CROPPING."

—George Washington.

Today, not several but thousands of farmers follow regular systems of conservation crop rotation that maintain and rebuild soil fertility. Rotations, carefully planned to meet the needs of each individual farm, are essential for profitable, permanent farming.

Conservation crop rotations in the Cotton Belt logically center around Cotton, the most dependable and valuable cash crop. Combined with legumes, cover crops, grains and other crops, Cotton in the rotation gives larger returns per acre and provides needed cash income, livestock feed and other products.

IF ANYONE still has doubts about tires built with man-made rubber, here's clear-cut performance proof by the most conservative estimate, essential drivers have already rolled over 3 billion miles on B. F. Goodrich all-synthetic Silvertowns.

Letters have come in from drivers all over the country reporting complete satisfaction. Most of them have expressed confidence that all-synthetic Silvertowns will give at least as much mileage as pre-war tires.

The 80,000,000-mile road test was the first proof that B. F. Goodrich could build high-performance tires with synthetic rubber. The test started almost two years before Pearl Harbor when B. F. Goodrich sold tires in which more than half the rubber was synthetic. They were the first synthetic tires ever offered for sale to the American public. Building and testing them gave B. F. Goodrich the valuable backlog of experience which is now showing up in the performance of today's all-synthetic Silvertowns.

So, see us at once if you are eligible for new tires. If inspection shows that you need new tires, we will fill out and handle your application for these proven B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns.

Anyone Who Doesn't Believe in Work Of Red Cross Should Visit Wounded Heroes in Hospitals, Mixons Declare

By INEZ BAKER

In anyone has said, "I do not believe in the Red Cross. The boys never receive any benefit from it," they should talk with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mixon who recently visited their son, Pvt. Eddie Leon Mixon, at the McCloskey General Hospital at Temple.

Eddie Leon was wounded severely July 18 in New Guinea. He was given first aid on the field and triangular bandages, the same we have been making here, were used and saved his life. At the hospital in New Guinea he saw many things made by the Red Cross. Especially, he mentioned the bedside bags and surgical dressings. He was brought by plane to San Francisco with 20 other wounded men and they were attended by Red Cross nurses. On Sept. 3, he arrived at Temple and is now surrounded by every service and comfort his country and the Red Cross can give. Religious services and USO programs are given in the hospital.

Mrs. Mixon, who is an ardent Red Cross worker in the Salisbury Mothers Club, saw in use at the hospital many things, such as she had been helping to make. Afghans, house slippers, bandages, fracture pillows, and bedside bags. The families of the wounded men are furnished rooms free by the Red Cross for two days when the come for a visit. Volunteer workers look after their comfort. The Temple women also visit the hospital every day, bringing fresh fruit and other things to cheer the men.

The Mixons saw at McCloskey hundreds of wounded men in wheel chairs, but they seemed happy. They raced down the halls and across the porches, some saying, "Gang-way, here I come." One man on crutches was pushing a wheeled stretcher on which lay a helpless soldier.

Pvt. Mixon has been awarded the Purple Heart and the Oak Leaf Cluster. These he sent to his home together with his comfort kit bag which was made by the Red Cross. In the bag were many souvenirs, one of which was a Japanese billfold, which he took off of a Jap he had killed. It was stamped with the Japanese dragon and contained Japanese and Australian money, also what seemed to be a medal of some kind.

Mr. and Mrs. Mixon have two other sons in the service. Mrs. Mixon has already made more than 50 hospital articles this year and is determined to make at least 100. She said, "Some say they don't have time to work for the Red Cross. Neither do the boys have time to wait for hand-ages when they are wounded."

We have had two nice gifts the past week: $10 from Mrs. W. M. Hillyer from the sale of a red, white and blue quilt she made; Mrs. J. W. Molloy of Pleasant Valley sent in another pretty quilt of which we are very proud.

Hall County has made and shipped 255,000 surgical dressings. The present quota is under way and all who can should plan to give some time to this, for other work is coming.

Mrs. J. G. Kunkler left Friday for Calwa, Calif., for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Wilson. Mr. Wilson was injured several days ago while loading oil.

D-DAY IS HISTORY. And V-Day will be, by the time you read these words!

But as a recent editorial in the September 9 issue of Collier's points out: "If we don't baby our cars and tires along as carefully as we can, the ominous fact is that we can run into a serious motor-transport breakdown on the home front."

The blunt words of the editorial echo what Phillips and its service station men have been saying month after month, beginning even prior to Pearl Harbor.

We quote it because some few motorists may have thought that our insistent emphasis on tire and car care was motivated by self-interest rather than by our patriotic sense of duty. So again we say, in our country's interest and in your own, be frugal with your dwindling stock of tire and car miles. Visit your Phillips 66 Service Station at least once a week for tire and car-saving services.

Phillips Tire Saving Service includes checking air pressures... inspecting for nail holes, cuts, and bruises... examination of the tire carcass to warn you when re-capping is necessary and still possible... crosscrossing with the spare every 5,000 miles.

Phillips Car Saving Service includes inspection of battery, air filter, and anti-freeze protection... regular lubrication of every friction point specified by the maker of your car.

With tires for A-card motorists not promised before mid-1945... with cars wearing out and disappearing from the road at the rate of more than 5,000 a day... you must care for your car for your Country, to help prevent a crisis in domestic transportation.

Drive in at any Orange and Black 66 Shield, the sign of famous Phillips 66 Gasoline and Phillips 66 Motor Oil, and you will get the patriotic cooperation and aid of the Phillips 66 Service Man in making your car and tires go farther and last longer.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed by the country over. Insist on Doan's solid retail drug stores.
